TWENTY-FOURTH OPENING OF EASTERN

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

Fifteen Hundred Received Instruction by Mail; Kerney Adams Director

FORM EXTENSION CLASSES

The Extension Department, under the direction of Kerney Adams, has grown until it is as important unit of Eastern as any other department, reaching something like fifteen hundred students thru the mail and extension classes directed by members of the faculty.

For a time teachers in the various departments graded papers sent in by mail. The extension enrollment has become so heavy that, in addition to teachers in the various departments, two teachers, Prof. H. H. Brock and Prof. L. G. Wesley, have been added to the correspondence department to help with the grading of papers.

Last year one and part of the time two teachers conducted classes at Covington each week, one went to Georgetown and another to Falmouth.

It is not known just how many extension classes will be conducted this fall, but last Tuesday Mr. Adams, director of extension, left for Covington, where he spent two days in the interest of extension classes. On Saturday he was in Somerset for the same purpose. On Friday of the same week Mr. Moore met with and spoke to the teachers of Rockcastle county and on Saturday Mrs. Gladys Tyng was in Winchester in the interest of extension classes.

FRESHMAN COACH

Coach G. M. Gumbert will have charge of the freshman football team this fall. Coach Gumbert is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. He played football all four years he was in school there and also won letters in basketball. He was in instructor in the Normal School in 1922. After that he was coach at Harlan High. He came back to Eastern as an instructor in agriculture and assistant to Coach Hembree in 1925.

MODEL SCHOOL READY FOR USE

Building Is Located on Farm Adjoining New State-land

MISS CARPENTER TEACHER

In the past those students who wanted to do practice teaching in the rural school found it necessary to go out to Green Chapel or Kavanaugh, the two rural schools under the supervision of the college. Starting this fall those who want rural school practice will not have to go to these schools for that purpose.

Last June the board of regents let a contract to Jack Nelson, of Richmond, for the erection of a model rural school on the farm adjoining State-land Farm, within five minutes walk of the campus. The building will be ready for use by the opening of school this week.

It is built of brick and is considered a model for county superintendents to copy. Plans will be available to any county which desires them. Conditions as are found in most of the rural schools of the state were kept in mind in the erection of this building and an attempt will be made to give the prospective rural school teacher the same type of problems as she will come in contact with elsewhere.

At the same meeting of the board an appropriation was allowed for the purchase of a new bus to be used in transporting the children to and from the school.

Miss Katie Carpenter will be principal of the school.

Modern fiction, says critics, runs too much to love. Yes, and modern love runs too much to fiction.

Coach Charles (Turkey) Hughes comes to Eastern this fall as head coach to fill the place left vacant by G. N. Hembree, who is away in school.

Coach Hughes is a product of western Kentucky and the University of Kentucky. He is the only man to graduate from the University of Kentucky holding letters in four different sports. After graduating from the University he was elected coach at Harlan High School where he served for two years as coach and one as principal.

GRID PRACTICE IS UNDER WAY

Prospects Not So Good As Second Week of Session Ends; New Coaches in Charge

For the past two weeks Coach Chas. "Turkey" Hughes and his assistant, Frank Phipps, have been busy with the few boys that reported for varsity football.

To date prospects for the varsity team do not look quite so good. Only about eighteen men had reported by the end of the second week and two of that number have been forced from practice. It is expected that a number of men will report with the opening of school.

Eastern is fortunate in her coaching staff for the year. Charles T. Hughes is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, having won letters in four sports at that school. He is the only man to graduate from the university with that honor. After he had finished there he was at Harlan High as coach and later as principal. His assistant, Frank Phipps, is a university man also, being a star football player while there.

The freshmen will be under the direction of Geo. Gumbert, another University of Kentucky man. Gumbert finished at State some time ago and has been teaching and coaching since. He was at Harlan High for a time and just before Hughes. He came here in the fall of 1926, teaching some and helping Coach Hembree with football and basketball. Although he was somewhat overloaded with class work last fall for coaching he managed to get out for part time and help with the varsity.

The varsity coaches have been very busy with their men, giving them the same sort of work as if there were forty out. A lot of time has been spent on tackling, blocking, defensive and offensive playing and many other fundamentals. They are introducing a different system to that used here before and it is necessary for the old men to unlearn many things and learn the new system. Several of the sophomores have reported and more will report with the opening of school. Several of them have been showing up good and will likely make a fair showing.

The coaches will start something else new for Eastern with the opening of school. All of the varsity and freshmen players rooming in the hall will be quartered on the second floor of Memorial hall. The varsity will be placed in the rear or annex and the first year men will fill the remainder of that floor. Coach Hughes will room in the hall with them, seeing that they take the best of care of themselves.

Coach Gumbert will not start with his first year men before the second or third day of school. Although some schools have had their freshmen out before school opened this fall it has been a custom to wait until school opened before calling them out. Gumbert expects to have a likely bunch of youngsters to work with. Several high school players of note have signified their intentions of enrolling next week.

GOOD GRID CARD FOR RICHMOND

Nine Games on Eastern and Madison High Schedule to Be Played Here

NEW COACHES WATCHED

The followers of the grid iron sport of Richmond are in for a quantity of football during the next two and a half months if nothing else, for at least nine games will be played on the home fields by the Maroon varsity of Eastern Teachers College and the Royal Purples of Madison High with the probability of seeing the Little Maroons of Eastern in a couple of games.

The fans will have an opportunity of seeing a new coaching staff in action at Eastern. "Turkey" Hughes, the only four letter man to ever finish the University of Kentucky, and Frank Phipps, the only man to ever receive a broken neck in football and live to tell about it, will endeavor to place Eastern on a par with other Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association teams.

Coach A. L. Lassiter, of Madison High, will be at the helm again this year. Lassiter has never failed to come thru with a fair showing, at least, no matter how mediocre his material or how hard his schedule.

Three of the stronger S. I. A. A. teams of the state will meet the Maroons on the local gridiron, with the probability of two frosh S. I. A. A. teams making their appearance against the yearlings.

The University of Louisville, Kentucky Wesleyan and Transylvania College, will offer plenty of action for the Hughes-Phipps coached machine and plenty of excitement for the followers of the sport, while Georgetown, Lexington High and Millersburg Military Institute will offer similar action for Lassiter and his charges. Other contests are carded for here but of course the ones listed above will be the head liners and furnish the most opposition.

The Schedule of home games—
Sept. 21—Madison High vs. Clark County High.

October 4—Madison High vs. Winchester City High.

October 5—Eastern vs. Union College.

October 11—Madison High vs. Millersburg Military Institute.

October 25—Madison High vs. Lexington Senior High.

November 1—Madison High vs. Georgetown High.

November 2—Eastern vs. University of Louisville.

November 16—Eastern vs. Kentucky Wesleyan.

November 23—Eastern vs. Transylvania College.

AUDITORIUM TO BE READY SOON

To Be Completed Within Next Two Months; Roof Now Going On

Mr. G. M. Brock, business agent of Eastern, announced recently that the new Brock auditorium that is being built in back of the Coates building would probably be ready for use within the next two months.

The workmen are making ready to put the roof on within the next few days and then the task of completing the interior will begin. The concrete flooring has already been laid in the basement and the other floors will be laid as soon as the roof is completed.

Heavily upholstered seats have already been purchased from the Arlington Seating Company. Draperies and a Steinway piano have been purchased and will be ready for use as soon as the interior has been finished.

When the building is completed it will seat approximately two thousand. The main floor, on a level with the first floor of the administration building, will seat a few more than twelve hundred. The balcony and gallery will accommodate some eight hundred more. The platform is sufficient large to accommodate any play that the local dramatic club will wish to give or any company that may come as one of the lyceum numbers.

PRESIDENT'S GREETING

The editor of your paper has asked me to write a brief article for the first number of the Eastern Progress. It is a pleasure to comply with this request, for it gives me an opportunity to extend to you words of greeting. When I say we are happy to welcome you to Eastern I am not expressing a mere formality—we are genuinely pleased to have you as students of our college. It gives the faculty and administrative force great pleasure to see you here. The welcome which we extend to you is cordial.

It is our hope, it is our desire to know as many of you personally as it is possible. We trust that every student who enters the institution this fall will become well acquainted with at least a few members of our faculty. They want to know you. Do not stand back because of timidity; introduce yourself to them; show that you are interested in forming their friendship and they will be glad to reciprocate.

You who have been here on former occasions will be delighted at the many changes and improvements which have been made during vacation. The board of regents has spent thousands of dollars improving the campus and the buildings to the end that they may be more pleasing to you. Will you show your appreciation by helping to protect the property and keep it in good condition?

During this summer old Memorial hall has been decorated. It probably looks better today than it has ever appeared since it was a new building. These improvements have been made for your added comfort. This is a part of our welcome to the men.

You will find the library a more pleasant place in which to study. This building has been redecorated. It is certainly one of the most beautiful library buildings to be found anywhere.

The cafeteria will have a new appearance when you enter there. It has been artistically decorated until it looks like a new place.

Exterior painting, the construction of new walks and the building of new roads have been completed. All of these improvements have been made possible by a generous state that is interested in your intellectual development. We believe you possess those fine characteristics which will express your gratitude by properly protecting the property of the commonwealth.

There are many students who will enter this fall for the first time. I wonder if you fully realize the opportunities which await you on this campus. If you have ambition, courage, energy and character you will succeed at Eastern. These qualities, however, are essential here or anywhere else. Have you asked yourself—"Why am I going to college?" No matter what opportunities you have had previously you are facing here today the finest opportunities you have ever enjoyed. Look about you and see the beauty of the campus and the magnificence of its buildings. Walk into the library and view the books there that you may be stimulated and challenged by the opportunities for culture and scholarship which it offers.

You will probably receive a lot of advice during the next few weeks. Much of it will be words of wisdom which you would do well to heed. Unfortunately there will be in the group who enter a few who will not profit by the suggestions made by teachers. Sooner or later such students usually are unhappy and frequently drop out of college. The mortality of every Freshman class in any institution is high; the least fit fall by the way

EASTERN READY FOR FALL TERM

Registrar, Business Office and Dean's Office Ready for Registration

EXPECT BANNER SESSION

"The lull before the storm" phrase is very characteristic of the atmosphere around the administrative offices of Eastern Teachers College today (Friday) with the registrar, business office and dean's office set to take care of the fall enrollment.

Mr. G. M. Brock, business agent of the school, was not able to give any figures as to the number expected to enroll, but he is confident that a greater number will enroll this fall than was enrolled last fall, when there was something like six hundred students, exclusive of the training school.

According to the business office more applications for reservation of rooms had been received last week than had ever been received by the same time any year previous to this one. All rooms for girls on the campus have been reserved and it is likely that several will have to be placed in rooms in town. The school keeps a list of desirable rooming places in town and places all girls under the same regulations as those staying in the hall.

Not quite all rooms in the boys' halls have been reserved, but it is expected that they, too, will be filled before the first week of school ends.

PROF. JONES HONORED BY EDUCATION BOARD

Several Eastern teachers will be away during the coming year doing work on higher degrees. Professor W. C. Jones, principal of the Normal School, was especially honored last spring in that he was one of two scholars in the state to receive a fellowship granted by the General Education Board. The fellowship will permit him to pursue graduate study at George Peabody College, Nashville, during the coming year.

Mr. Jones has been a member of Eastern's faculty since 1926. He is co-author of a series of arithmetics for primary and upper grades, and joint author of a rural school survey.

The award was made without any application on the part of Mr. Jones and is one of a very few awarded each year. The fact that this honor has been given to a member of Eastern's faculty reflects much credit on the institution. Dr. Donovan said, in an interview shortly after the award was announced. No strings whatever are attached to the offer, Mr. Jones said.

side, the fittest survive. In which class will you fall?

The other day the mother of a young man phoned me asking if her son would be eligible to reenter college this year. This young man had failed on a part of his work during the past year. He was bright, intelligent and thoroughly capable of doing good work, but he loitered and loafed and made a poor record during his Freshman year. He has been unhappy and his family have been humiliated because of the record he made. May I suggest that such unhappiness can be avoided by proper application of one's time to the work before him.

Freshmen, here is a little free advice—remember that you are here to secure an education. Do not forget that there is no royal road to that goal. It is achieved through hard work. See that your studies are your first interest. Devote such time to them as they require and after you have made thorough preparation you may then be free to give the remainder of your time to extra curricula activities. This year is the most critical one in your life; you will either be marked as a success or failure during the next nine months. We want no failures in our college. We will do all we can to help you along the road to SUCCESS. If you get discouraged talk to the Dean, the Registrar, or some favorite teacher. The best antidote for homesickness is work. Drive, and drive hard during the first semester you are in college.

These are the words of welcome which I have for you. They are not idle words but emotions which come from my heart because of my interest in youth. May God bless you and use you during the year which is just ahead.

INTRAMURAL PROGRAM FOR FALL PLANNED

Will Include Fourteen Sports In Addition to Varsity and Freshman Athletics; Open To All Students

LACROSSE, HOCKEY NEW

A comprehensive physical education program which will include fourteen organized sports for intramural competition in addition to varsity and freshman athletics has been formulated for the coming year, Coach T. E. McDonough, director of physical education for men, announced today.

Games which are included in the program will be in addition to the regular physical education and gymnasium work and have been chosen for the purpose of providing physical recreational activity for every student in the school, Coach McDonough said. Competition will be among classes, gymnasium classes, students and faculty, and among other groups of the campus, and will be open to every student at the institution.

Sports included in the intramural program are touch football, intramural basketball, cageball, field cageball, soccer, hockey, lacrosse, volley ball, speedball, playground baseball, archery, horseshoe pitching, and tennis. Equipment for hockey and archery has already arrived, and that for the other sports has been ordered. Sufficient equipment for all the sports will be provided, but students desiring to provide their own equipment will be allowed to do so.

The adoption of this program makes complete the physical education system at Eastern, and the work is roughly divided into three divisions, the regular intercollegiate contests, which include freshman and varsity football, basketball, baseball, and track; the intramural sports outlined above, and the regular physical education work, which includes gymnastics, classic dancing, and activities of a similar nature.

Interest in playground activities and sports during the summer exceeded all expectations, Coach McDonough said, but attempts are being made to take care of the situation. Two tennis courts in the rear of Sullivan hall have been recently finished, he said, and are available for play. In addition the courts in the rear of Memorial and the gymnasium have been renovated, making available seven courts in good condition. More tennis courts will be built as funds become available, those in charge indicated.

DAILY SCHEDULE FOR MEALS

6:20-7:30 a. m. Breakfast (except Sunday).

11:20-1:00 p. m. Dinner (except Sunday).

5:00-6:00 p. m. Supper.

SUNDAY MEAL HOURS

7:00-8:00 a. m. Breakfast.

12:00-1:00 p. m. Dinner.

5:00-6:00 p. m. Supper.

When we think of necking we usually associate it with the present generation of flappers and cake-eaters. But the fact is that it antedates us by about 5,000 years. We read that when the Queen of Sheba visited King Solomon, he invited her into his place where he gave her wine and nectar.

Welcome

The Progress, the official organ of the student body, wishes to take this means of extending to you a word of welcome upon your initial entrance to Eastern. To those returning a most hearty greeting is extended.

In a couple of days the strain and worry of making your schedule will be over. By the end of the week you will have made the acquaintance of your teachers and be ready for real work. Your success as a student at Eastern will depend largely upon your ability to acclimate yourself during these first few days. While you have the advantage of a most sympathetic faculty, the impression made by you during these same days will be very lasting.

To the new members of the faculty the Progress extends a word of greeting. You will, we believe, find a fine group of co-workers and as fine a student body as it has been your privilege to meet. We hope and believe this will be the most successful year in the history of Eastern and that you, the students and the state of Kentucky will be helped greatly.

Eastern

More than twenty-three years ago a bill was passed by the general assembly creating two state normal schools. Shortly after the passage a commission appointed by the governor located one of the schools in Richmond and called it Eastern State Normal School.

The institution started with only three of the buildings now in use. By careful management on the part of the administration the school started a steady growth that has passed even the fondest hopes of many connected with the school until today fourteen buildings, some equal to any school buildings in the south, can be seen on the campus in addition to an excellent farm of 180 acres.

Until 1922 Eastern was only a junior college granting life certificates to teach and catering only to those interested in teaching. Now it is possible for one to receive an A.B. or B.S. degree in any subject offered in any liberal arts college and a degree in commerce.

Scholarship has not been neglected while other forms of growth were going on. Last year she was admitted to membership in the Southern Association of Colleges, insuring recognition by any college or university of the country.

The faculty, with the majority holding a master's degree or better, compares more than favorably with any in the state.

Extra-Curricula Activities

A number of students are entering Eastern for the first time. To you that haven't stopped to fully consider the many things she has to offer you will find it worth your while to do so.

First and foremost comes one's class work, but your outside activities, if properly selected, will add much to your college life and education in general. With such in mind, find some extra-curricula activity to your liking and enter into it wholeheartedly.

This is your paper. In a few days the job of organizing a staff will be under way. Make yourself known to those having to do with that work. The paper will be as good as you make it. All thru the year work on The Milestone will be under way, offering an unusual opportunity for those interested in such work.

For those oratorically bent there is the Horace Mann, Ruric Nevel Roark and Neon Krypton literary societies. The Little Theater club offers opportunity to those interested in dramatics.

Your musical ability can be used to good advantage in the choruses, the orchestra and band.

If you find you cannot fit into any of the activities already mentioned, there is a chance for you in some form of athletics. Eastern strives to offer clear, wholesome athletic rivalry in several sports.

Progress Platform

For the past year the Progress has carried a "box" in the masthead with the heading "The Progress Platform for Eastern." In that box is listed—Beautify the campus; better sidewalks to and across the campus; a stadium in the natural bowl back of the gymnasium; a new gymnasium; more student jobs; student government and extension of extra-curricular activities.

Not only during the past year but for several years the Progress has been a strong advocate of several of the things listed above. Some of the planks of the platform have been achieved, some will not be achieved, possibly, for several months yet, but the Progress is a firm believer in those in charge of the destinies of Eastern and it is that belief and confidence that gives reason for thinking that, in time, the full platform will be accomplished.

The Progress takes no little amount of pride in the fact that the repairing of walks, building of new walks and roads, repairing and painting of buildings and the planting of shrubbery has been hastened to some extent by the constant reminder, its editorials.

Athletics

This fall finds G. N. Hembree, who for the past eight years has given the best in him to further an athletic program at Eastern, away on a leave of absence. While he was never able to turn out a "wonder team" for the school, he has always produced teams known for their clean play and respected by their opponents.

Charles (Turkey) Hughes, a former University of Kentucky man, comes to fill his place with the able assistance of Frank Phipps, another university man. While they are new to the school, to the students and to the town folks, they are not new at the game of football or any other sports they will have charge of. They will be striving, with a limited squad, to produce a team that will make a respectful showing against other Kentucky teams.

At the same time Coach Gumbert will be busy with his freshmen in an attempt to get them into shape for their campaign.

The Progress hopes that every student and member of the faculty will get behind the coaches and their teams and support them to the limit. The school spirit at Eastern was better last year than at any time in the history of the school. It cannot remain the same. It is up to you to determine which way it will go.

Why waste your last year in senile decadence when we can put you next to youth and beauty? In one package. Our select list of instructresses are leading business men everywhere. Leading them astray. Don't wait—jump! Pick out any of the following co-respondent's courses:

1. LETTER WRITING. How to write a promissory note to a cutie-cute. Some letters written under our system have been worth $50,000 and up. Some have been worth $50,000 down.

2. CIVIL SERVICE. How to act when the Sheriff serves you with co-respondent's papers. What to do till your lawyer arrives. Attachments—how to form them and how to get them laid on you.

3. ALGEBRA. Letting X represent a written kiss, and other intricate mathematics.

4. TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT. A course no co-respondent can afford to miss. How to mix metaphors and dissolve partnerships with sweeties. A dozen good ways for getting into hot water.

7. CLERICAL WORK. Filing. Billing. Cooling.

8. GARDENING. How to get back a bunch of letters. How to coax back your carats.

9. MINING. Phone numbers and how to keep them busy.

Yes, and we have other good courses for antique men. Like:

WHITTLING. Cut out models for skeleton keys and make big money. Huge demand from the second-story working trade.

BOOTLEGGING and all its branches.

CHORUS PICKING and all its limbs.

SPECULATING. No brains required or wanted. Buy a thin margin and get all your broker's calls from the Old Folks' Home.

DETECTIVE. You furnish your own whisks. Be a neavesdropper. Great fun! Peek thru keyholes and get paid for it. Shadow criminals—no work on rainy days.

BRICKLAYING. No hard work. Strikes every week. You lay bricks for the eggs that rent their places to the golden geese.

ALFALFA RAISING. Big money raising stuffed mattresses a la king. Take a pledge you won't cut your whisks till Borah is satisfied with everything. Then let them grow at compound thickness. The House of David band is always combing the country for whisker tenors and saxophone players.

MAROONS FACE HARD SCHEDULE

Meet Five Kentucky S. I. A. A. Teams in Last Five Games of Season

The Maroon football squad of Eastern Teachers College faces one of the stiffest schedules in years, with five of the strongest Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association teams of the state appearing on the schedule.

The opening game will be at home, October 5, with Union College, an old rival of Eastern, furnishing the opposition. Union won from Eastern last fall, the first time she has ever been able to win a decision in football. The next game is away from home with Sue Bennett, of London, as the opponent. The third and final game with non-members of the S. I. A. A. will be on the following Saturday at Murray, with the Murray Teachers College acting as host to the Maroons.

With an open date after the Murray game the Maroons will have a chance to take stock of themselves and get ready for the long hard grind from there out with state S. I. A. A. teams offering the opposition. They will be called upon to face some of the best teams in the state within the little more than four weeks left to play.

The University of Louisville will be first and will appear on the home field. Last year the U. of L. squad was able to manhandle the weaker Maroons about as they pleased. There is hope of some revenge this fall. Right after the U. of L. game Georgetown will be met there. The Tigers and Maroons did not meet last fall. For the third S. I. A. A. game the Panthers of Kentucky Wesleyan will come here. Van Winkle's team was able to throw the local boys for a big loss last fall as were all other teams for that matter, but with a somewhat stronger team it looks as if a better game is assured for this fall. The last home game will be the following Saturday, November 23, with Coach Elam's warriors of Transylvania College doing battle with the local boys. The last game of the season will be on Turkey Day at Bowling Green with Eastern's traditional rivals of Western Teachers College as the foe. The Thanksgiving game of last year was cancelled because of the Maroons' being under a great handicap from many injuries.

The Schedule

- October 5—Union College at Richmond.
- October 12—Sue Bennett at London.
- October 19—Murray Normal at Murray.
- October 26—Open.
- November 2—University of Louisville at Richmond.
- November 9—Georgetown College at Georgetown.
- November 16—Kentucky Wesleyan at Richmond.
- November 23—Transylvania College at Richmond.
- November 28—Western at Bowling Green.

HATTER TRIES WITH COLONELS

Eastern Twirling Star Gets Trial With Louisville American Association Team

RESULT NOT YET KNOWN

Clyde Hatter, star portside twirler for the Maroon baseball team for the past year, has been getting a try-out with the Louisville Colonels of the American Association this week. It is not known at this time if he has made the grade or not.

Hatter came to Eastern in the spring of 1928 and immediately took up the mound duty with Jack Rader, another lefthander, to make a nice showing for his first try at college baseball. Last spring found him back with the Maroons and no one to help him with the twirling duties. He didn't seem to mind the extra work that came his way because of a shortage of pitchers, but instead seemed to relish it.

He pitched brilliant ball all spring and kept a club that was weak with the willow right up in the thick of the fight. His last three games were the best pitched during the spring season by far. He allowed only seven hits for the twenty-seven innings pitched. At Louisville against the University of Louisville he pitched a four-hit game but had the hard luck of losing 1 to 0. The next game was with the Colonels of old Centre College. He let those boys down with three hits and nothing that looked like a run. The last game he achieved what he had been working—a no-hit game. His teammates managed to bunch hits to bring him in ahead with a 2 to 0 count.

After school was out he went to his home near Somerset and pitched sensational ball all summer, winning all the games pitched and several of them by the shutout route. It was his brilliant work there that finally earned him a try with the Louisville Colonels.

DEPARTMENTS OUT

Many of the special departments have been left out of this issue of the paper because of students handling those various departments being away and in some instances it was not possible to get the necessary news to fill some departments. It is hoped that the staff will be fully organized by the next issue and that all departments will be fully restored.

Transylvania Dean is Taken by Death

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 12.—Dr. Thomas Benton Macartney, 54 years old, dean of men and three times acting president of Transylvania college and the college of the bible, died here yesterday afternoon. He had been ill for several months and spent last winter in the south for his health.

Born at New Castle, Va., August 16, 1875, he received his bachelor's degree from Milligan College, Tennessee, in 1895 and in 1902 a Ph. D. degree from the University of Virginia. He came to Transylvania that year as assistant professor of Latin and Greek and principal of the Academy, then in existence. In 1925 he became head of the department of economics and sociology.

He served as president from 1908 through 1928 following the resignation of Dr. Burris Jenkins, during 1921-22 following Dr. Corssfield's resignation, and was acting president when he obtained a leave of absence because of his health last year.

Dr. Macartney was a member of learned societies of the Classics and social sciences, was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and of the Kappa Alpha fraternity. For several years he was president of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

His widow, Mrs. Wita Smith Macartney, three sisters and two brothers survive.

MISS REID PASSES

Miss Mary Estelle Reid, librarian at Eastern Teachers College for the past eighteen years, was called by death on Friday, August 23. Miss Reid had not been in the best of health for some time but had been able to attend to her work until four days before her death.

She came to Eastern in 1911 and had been very active in the work of building a library for the school. For several years it was necessary to house the library in different buildings, at various times being in the Training School building, the Industrial building and other places until about seven years ago the present building was completed. Now, under the guidance of Miss Reid, Eastern has the best teachers college library in the state.

Miss Reid was graduated from Edmonton High School and Liberty College, Glasgow, Ky. Special courses were had in library administration at the University of Nashville and Carnegie Library, Nashville.

RICHMOND'S LEADING DEPARTMENT STORE

RICHMOND

ONCE Richmond was insular. Like thousands of other towns and cities it looked to New York and Paris, and maybe one or two other centers, for dicta on what to wear and how to do.

Today Richmond does no such thing. Nor do thousands of other towns and cities. Thanks to our colleges, to the magazines, to radio, to the movies, to the automobile and thanks to its merchants, with added thanks to manufacturers who have a new consciousness of their power and its responsibilities, Richmond and thousands of other towns and cities enjoy, shoulder to shoulder with former arbiters and mentors, the good things of life. We roam Fifth Avenue at ease and the Broadwayite is no longer lonesome on Main Street.

You're invited to make this store your store during your stay in Richmond as this is Richmond's style center and we hope to see you soon.

Mr. W. L. Keene, Mrs. Case and W. C. Jones will be doing graduate work at Peabody. Mr. Jones has a scholarship that will allow him to be in school for the next fifteen months. At the end of that time he will have completed his work for his Ph.D. degree.

Miss Anna A. Schlieb sailed on the 14th for Italy. She will spend some time studying there as well as other places in Europe.

FORMER STUDENT WEDS

It will be of interest to old students and former students to know of the following marriages of recent date.

Miss Maurine Patrick of Salyersville to Mr. Tom Deaton of Hazard. Mrs. Deaton was a member of the freshman class of Eastern last year. Mr. Deaton was a member of the freshman football team and the basketball team until the opening of the second semester. At that time he started playing with the varsity basketball team and later was a member of the varsity baseball team.

Miss Grace Sander of Harrodsburg to Mr. Hermon Horton of Grayson. Mr. Horton was a member of the junior class last year.

Miss Elizabeth Woodward of Mt. Olivet to Mr. Robert Guy of Mt. Sterling. Mrs. Guy was a student at Eastern during the past summer and during the 1927-28 school year. Mr. Guy was a member of the sophomore class of last year. He has played football and baseball during his stay at Eastern.

Gridiron Squad at Eastern is Small

By JAMES A. MILLER, JR.
The unknown in the equation of Eastern prospects for a semblance of a football team this year is quantity. Not such quantity as to allow the new coaching staff to pick and choose, but enough men to actually make up a team—eleven, and maybe one or two subs.

At the close of the second week of practice yesterday less than enough men to fill this prerequisite were present when Coach "Turkey" Hughes and Coach Frank Phipps called the roll. Even the captain-elect of the team has thus far failed to report for practice. A number of men who were being depended upon to add strength to the Maroon squad have failed to report because they are teaching school. Some of them will undoubtedly quit their schools and come one in but several of them probably will not. Just how many report by the beginning of the school term Monday will determine in a large measure whether Eastern will have a chance to win a game.

Those who are out are ready and willing. They admit they have learned more football fundamentals in the two weeks' sessions than they ever knew before. But there are just not enough of them out.

Backfield material especially is sadly lacking. Z. T. Rice, former K. M. I. star at an end berth, is the only varsity backfield candidate reporting with any regularity and for the past two or three days he has been ill, suffering from a stomach disorder.

One ray of hope that has come to the coaches is the rumor that Kenneth Canfield, Madison High School star fullback of 1927, will report for the varsity this year. He attended Eastern last year but did not play football. He is eligible and it is believed that he will decide to cast his lot with the Maroons. Should he do so and providing Bob Guy elects to return, Hughes will have three good backs and of course will be able to find a fourth.

Of the line and end candidates a number are light, but several huskies, including Tom Clouse, Grace and Hart will be fighting for positions. A bunch of raw material will probably report Monday and give the coaches more to work with than they have had.

The men who have been out for the entire two weeks have become fair tacklers and blockers. The charging of the line candidates has improved wonderfully and had there been enough men out the Maroons would have undoubtedly stacked up with any other state S. I. A. A. team from the standpoint of fundamentals.

Eastern's first game is here on October 5 with Union College, of Barbourville, Ky., providing the opposition. Reports from Union indicate that a large number of candidates is reporting daily but that they are lacking in experience.

Hughes and Phipps are somewhat discouraged by the failure of the men on whom they were depending to appear. Phipps said a day or so ago, with an expression on his face that might indicate he had lost his last friend: "Well, if we can't have a varsity team we can pitch in and help Gumbert with the freshman to earn our pay."

But then one doubts that it is as bad as all that.

The old fashioned woman who used to hold clothespins in her mouth and talk with her next door neighbor thru a knot hole in the fence now has a daughter who hangs out the window of a sedan and bawls out the traffic cop.

New Teachers on Eastern Faculty

As is common at this time of the year several new faces will appear on the teaching staff of Eastern and several teachers that have been absent for a year doing work toward a master or doctor's degree will return.

Among those returning after a year's leave is C. E. Caldwell, head of the department of mathematics; M. J. Cox, head of the department of chemistry, and N. G. Deniston, head of the department of industrial arts.

The new members of the faculty for the year will be A. D. Hummell, teacher of physics; Chas. T. Hughes, coach and director of athletics; Frank Phipps, assistant to Hughes; James E. Van Peursem, head of the department of music; Katherine Conroy, critic teacher in Miss Champ's place; Mabel Maddux, critic teacher; Anna Kate Lockard, critic teacher in Miss Mae Powell's place; Isabel Bennett will be working in the library; and Pattie Day Bach is taking Miss Newman's place in the library.

MISS SMITH IS MOREHEAD DEAN

Dean of Girls At Madison High Elected to New Position

WILL GO SATURDAY

Miss Curraleen Smith, dean of girls at Madison High School, was elected dean of women at Morehead Teachers College Tuesday at a meeting of the board of regents, she was notified today by President John Howard Payne. She accepted the position, which is recognized by educators as a desirable professional preference.

Miss Smith tendered her resignation from the Madison High faculty to the city board of education this morning, which was accepted. She plans to leave Saturday for Morehead to assume her new duties.

Miss Smith was graduated from Western College, Oxford, O., where she received the degree of bachelor of arts. She has attended Eastern Teachers College and done graduate work at Peabody College, Nashville. She taught in the schools of Panama one year. She has been a member of the Madison High faculty many years, is now serving as dean of girls, is faculty adviser of the Girl Reserves and has taken an active interest in community endeavors. She was one of the organizers of the Welfare League, has served as member of the executive board and treasurer. She organized the alumni association of Caldwell and Madison High Schools.

W. F. O'Donnell, superintendent of city schools, expressed regret that Miss Smith is to be lost to the city school system but congratulated her upon the recognition which resulted in proffer of the position. No steps have yet been taken to fill the vacancy.

CAMPUS DRIVES ARE REPAIRED

New Walk Made in Rear of Roark to New Administration Building

OTHERS ARE FIXED UP

When students of Eastern Teachers College report for the opening session this fall they will find many changes in the form of repair work and new work. Several hundred dollars have been spent in repairing sidewalks, making new sidewalks and in painting buildings.

A new section of walk has replaced the old walk in front of the administration building. After the building was completed the walk did not extend down far enough. The new walk comes onto the street farther north than the old entrance and it will be necessary to reset some brick pillars that one of the classes erected some time back. The walk in front of Cammack Hall is also being replaced.

A very necessary piece of work was the construction of the new road from the University building in back of Roark and on to the back of the administration building and the repair work done on the main drive thru the campus. The road thru the campus was repaired with asphalt retread, while Amieste, a road material made at High Bridge, was used to build the new road. All repair work on the drives and the new work was carried on under supervision of B. R. Myers, engineer in charge, and with the assistance of Chas. W. Wood, district engineer, of Winchester, both of the state highway department.

When the drive in front of Roark building has been repaired, all driveways on the campus will be in first class condition.

"THE PROWLER" WELCOMES ALL

Starts Regular Gossip Anent Football and Other Things About The Campus

COMMENTS IMPROVEMENTS

How-do-ye-do, folks! Gee, but I am glad to be back and to see all your smilin faces makes me wish he had never—well never gone away in the first place. You all—that's a fine old southern expression, isn't it?—have a grand and glorious summer? I did, and I think that's what made me so glad to get back.

You see, I came in here a little early to get the school goin, doncha know, and this confounded editor wanted to know why I couldn't write a line or two. Some day I am goin to break his neck—but gee, wouldn't that be fun if the editor should turn out to be a girl? I mean this neck business, you know. Any way I guess I am goin to have to give the old boy a little of the low downs on everything. That's a lot, tho. Then if I told you about everything you would know so much more than I do that it wouldn't be pleasant. I've never seen as much repair work in my lifetime—17 1-2 years—as is goin on around here. Repair work and buildin you know. You have a brand new walk along in front of the Administration buildin—over where the President, Dean and all of them hang out. Then that road around back of Roark, that was one of the finest pieces of work on the whole campus. Then they are puttin in some small sections here and there—mostly there. I wouldn't said anything about the walks but I was afraid you would walk rite over them and never see them. Then there's a lot of freshmen around here and they might take—no, not the walk—but they might take it for granted that the walk had been there for years and years. You know freshmen.

Then all the buildings on the campus have been painted inside save one or two. The editor will tell you more about that in some of his news stories. You see I am not a news writer. No, no, don't make the mistake of thinkin that again.

I saw somethin else around here that would have looked funny to me if it hadn't been—oh—a year or two already since it looked funny first. A group of boys have been here for some ten days or two weeks just bumpin the very, very thunder out of one another. They said they were practicin football. Goodness, that must be a tough game, cause those fellows have been crownin one another with everything from the goal post to the gymnasium door. Any way there is a fellow out there that answers to the moniker "Turkey" Hughes, and he has a guy helpin him that sometimes comes up to the waterin gap when you call Frank Phipps. They say—that is the boys under them—that we are goin to have a football team here this fall and no jokin. Now that sounds thrillin. I would advise you to make early reservations to the very first game that's to be played here in about three weeks. You will get a lot of kick out of it—and the boys out on the field will get a lot of kick, too, I bet, if what I have been seein the last couple of week is any indicator of what to expect.

I am sorta glad that you are back, tho, cause, now I will have somethin and somebody to talk about. There are such a few people around here now that haven't much to talk about, just a few workin you know. Then they wouldn't want me to be sayin somethin about them. No, the young lady whats been workin at the business office that got such a bump on the shin that she has had to go with it—the shin, not the bump—all wrapped up for some time wouldn't want me to be talkin about her. I wouldn't say anything about that tho, no, sir. But I do wonder if she has been playin football. Anyway I can't afford to talk about that bunch, you see they wouldn't enjoy the publicity.

But what I really have been thinkin about—sure and I think, even if this little mess of writin proves somethin else—any way I been thinkin that you old, new, secondhanded, well, all you students, are as welcome as can be. Just make yourself rite at home here in Eastern and Richmond. You are goin to find some of the best people in the whole country here—who knows you may find IT (him or her) rite here, some have. You will notice I said SOME have. This bunch of teachers is about the best that can be had. I would advise you to become acquainted with them too. You might have occasion to know 'em along about the end of eighteen weeks and it would be a little embarrassin in case you didn't, doncha know. The latch string is out, make your self at home.

Many Eastern Graduates Are Teaching; Others Take Advance Work

Many students of Eastern Teachers College, some graduates of the past year, will be teaching over the state while others will be at other work or in school.

Robert Smith will go to Jenkins as principal and David McKinney will teach science in the same system. Beckham Combs, a June graduate and one of Eastern's outstanding athletes, will be teaching and coaching at Whitesburg. Robert Davis, with a life certificate, will be teaching and coaching for Smith at Jenkins. Henry Hacker, another certificate man, will teach and coach at McRoberts. Alton Smith, graduate of June, is in the school system of Waco, and Ralph Gentry is teaching manual training in the schools of Somerset.

L. R. Staton, an August graduate, will teach commerce in a military academy at Gulfport, Miss. R. R. Richards, another June graduate, will be a member of the commercial faculty of Eastern for the coming year. Richards was part time teacher last year and taught penmanship last summer. R. K. Salyers, August graduate and former editor of the Progress, will start work in the advertising department of the Moore Brothers Company, stove manufacturers, Joliet, Ill., on the 16th. Henry Coates, graduate of last January and teacher in the Normal School for the past seven months, will be doing graduate work at the University of Kentucky. Wilbur Clifton, August graduate, will be studying medicine at the University of Louisville. Lelia Jane Harris will continue as superintendent of public schools for Madison county, a position she has held for the past three years.

Chester Alexander will be doing graduate work at the University of Tennessee. Hazel Calico is teaching school at Paint Lick. Swepton Clayton will be teaching in a graded school at Coxton, Harlan county. Norma Dykes is teaching in the Richmond city schools. Evelyn Ellison is teaching at Stone. Evelyn Ross is teaching in the city schools of Corbin. Mr. and Mrs. Forest Thompson are teaching at Red House. Thelma Wagoner is in the city schools of Catlettsburg, while Mildred White is in the city schools of Ashland, her home town. Mary Conington is teaching in the city schools of Richmond, and Stella Ward is at Finchville.

It was not possible to locate all the graduates of the past year. It is hoped that those not listed at this time will be located by the next issue of the paper.

MANY CHANGES

Due to the absence of several teachers it has been necessary to make several changes. Prof. Samuel Walker, teacher of Education in the Normal School and a member of the State Textbook Commission, will be acting principal of the Normal School this year while Professor Jones is studying at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

Prof. W. J. Moore, teacher of economics in the college, has been made head of the department of commerce. Mr. A. J. Lawrence, former head of the department, resigned last summer to be effective at the beginning of this semester. Mr. Lawrence came to Eastern in the fall of 1926 as head of the newly organized department of commerce. He will be doing part time teaching and some graduate work at the University of Kentucky this year.

Prof. M. E. Mattox, teacher of education in the college, will resume his work as registrar this fall. Professor Moore was acting registrar last year while Professor Mattox was away studying.

Miss Elizabeth Dunigan, stenographer in the business office, has been transferred to the registrar's office to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Isabel Speaks, secretary to the registrar. Miss Speaks will spend the fall and winter with her parents.

MUCH REPAIRS AT EASTERN

Prospects for Large Attendance Good; New Rural School Being Built

NEW TEACHERS ON STAFF

When the students return to enroll at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College Monday, September 16, they will be agreeably surprised at the many improvements which have taken place on the campus during vacation. Not since the school was established in 1906 has so much repairing and renovating of buildings been done.

Prospects for a larger attendance are very promising if we may judge from the number of requests for room reservations which have been made, President Donovan related in an interview Saturday. "It appears that we will have at least 600 students enroll," he said.

Among the faculty there will be several new faces. Professor James E. Van Peursem, of Oberlin College, will be acting head of the department of music this year. Dr. A. D. Hummel, of the University of Illinois, will be the new head of the department of physics. Charles T. Hughes and Frank Phipps are the new coaches in charge of athletics. Professor R. R. Richards, of Russell Springs, Kentucky, has been added to the faculty of the department of commerce. There will be three new teachers in the training school. They are Miss Katherine Conroy, Miss Myrtle Maddux and Miss Annie K. Lockard.

The students will also be greeted by several members of the faculty who have been studying during the past year at some of America's leading graduate schools. Professor C. E. Caldwell, who spent last year at Ohio State University, as returned and taken up his usual work as head of the department of mathematics. Professor N. G. Deniston spent the past year at Bradley Polytechnic Institute is again on the job directing the work in industrial arts. Miss Cora Lee who spent the year at Columbia University where she received the M. A. degree will return to the training school.

A new feature which is attracting much attention among educators is the one teacher rural school which has been erected on the college farm during the summer. This school is to serve as a demonstration school. It has been planned with great care and approximates as nearly as possible an ideal building for a one teacher school. The teaching is to be done by Miss Katie Carpenter, who is a college graduate and a specialist in rural education. The program of studies is the same as that to be found in any rural school. It is hoped the teaching will approach the ideal as nearly as it is possible to achieve such results. Students who are going to teach in rural schools will be required to observe the work of this school. They will learn what constitutes a good school plant and what represents artistic teaching.

ORIGIN OF LOOSE LEAF SYSTEM

King Solomon had long since given up showing any excitement over the arrival of an heir. So, this pleasant morning, as he sat in his throne room and a messenger came to announce the birth of another offspring, he nonchalantly turned to his secretary and ordered the birthday book be brought to him. He always entered new arrivals in it with his own hand because of the sentiment attached to the occasion.

A volume about the size of the Chicago directory was carried in. Solomon turned the pages by the handfuls until there were no more pages to be turned, and still there were no unsullied pages. A frown appeared upon his face. He closed the book and gazed at the lettering on the front.

"We will have to have more system wound here," he thundered at the secretary. "This is last year's edition!"

MEMORIAL HALL IS RENOVATED

Other Dormitories and Buildings on Campus Given Attention During Vacation

NEW FLOOR IN CAFETERIA

Under the careful supervision of W. A. Ault, superintendent of buildings and grounds, Memorial Hall, boys' dormitory, is fast taking on a new appearance.

Every room has been gone over and given a good cleaning. Practically every room in the old section of the hall has been replastered as have most of the hallways. After the cleaning and replastering the painters went over the whole interior, giving it a good coat of paint. All radiators and pipes have been cleaned and painted. Those window shades that could not be mended were replaced with new ones.

In the past Mr. and Mrs. Keith, dean of men and housekeeper, have occupied a suite of rooms on either side of the hallway on the first floor. The east hallway has been partitioned off connecting the two suites, making it more homelike for them.

Stalend Hall, another dormitory for boys, has been receiving its share of scrubbing and painting and will be ready for the boys when they return.

The old section of Burnam Hall, one of the girls' dormitories, has been receiving much attention. All of the north section is being replastered and painted. Window shades are being repaired and replaced. Screens are being placed on all windows, so when school opens all students rooming on the campus will be moving into first class rooms.

Other buildings on the campus have not been overlooked in the rush to get the dormitories in shape. The frame building east of the library, used by the Industrial Arts department, has received new coat of paint. The whole of the interior of the John G. Crabbe Library, Roark Hall and the cafeteria have been repainted. In addition to painting the cafeteria the floor is being covered with Tile-Tex resilient floor tile. The tile is made of a composition cut in foot square sections. It is said that it will fit or set itself to the contour of any floor. The flooring will not only add to the beauty of the cafeteria but will add much to the comfort of walking as well as do away with much of the noise of chairs on the concrete floor.

THE LIBRARY

The library is for the benefit of the entire student body, and we are urging everybody to use and enjoy it. This issue we are giving you a list of the regulations which will serve as a guide to the new students not now familiar with them.

1. HOURS—The library is open from 7:30 a. m. until 9:00 p. m. daily except Sunday.

2. CIRCULATION—General reference books including encyclopedias, gazettes, year-books, etc., found on the shelves of the reference room are reserved for individual study, and may not be taken from the library, and must be used in the reference room only. Other books put on reserve for special class use may be used in the reading room at any time during the day, and may be drawn for overnight use between 8:30 and 9:00 p. m. These books must be returned at 7:30 a. m. on the next day upon which the library is open. If this is not done the borrower is subject to a fine of 10c per hour for every hour after the time the book is due until the book is returned to the library. Books not needed for class use may be borrowed by students for home use, and may be kept away for home use. Books thus drawn may be kept for two weeks, but all are subject to recall at any time when needed for class use. The date a book is due to be returned is stamped plainly in the back of the book.

3. CHARGING—Books must not be taken from the reading room until at the charging desk. Books charged they have first been properly charged on reading room slips are to be used in the reading room only. If they are taken from the library they must first be returned to the charging desk, charged off the reading room slips and properly charged on the book card. Books charged on these reading room slips are not transferable, and the reader signing for them is held responsible for the safe return of the book.

4. ORDER—The utmost quiet and decorum is required of everyone using the reading rooms and the entire library. Serious offenses as mutilation and theft of books and periodicals are punishable by expulsion of the offender.

5. STACK ROOM—The stock room is open to the faculty only, except by special permission of the librarian.

6. ASSISTANCE—Readers desiring assistance will please apply freely to the librarian in charge.

7. SATURDAY NIGHT—No books may be drawn after 5:30 p. m. on Saturday, but may be drawn at any time on Saturday afternoon between 1:00 and 5:30 p. m.

Be sure you are right—then keep quiet.

There's just as much idleness among the poor as the rich.

The reason why automobiles kill more people is because the automobile has had more practice.

If you miss your teacher it has been suggested that you take better aim next time.

RICHARDSON'S SHOE SERVICE

SECOND STREET

STANIFER BLDG.

--- Yes! We are Collegiate ---

"THEY have what we want," has been voiced again and again in no uncertain terms, as the basic reason for Goldsmith's popularity with smart collegians.

All this talk of the "spirit of youth," and the "modern age," first had its inception in colleges, and style plays no small part in the upholding of this spirit of modernism. The college student who keeps pace with the newest in fashion (and who doesn't?) will find our fashions quite a step ahead of what others are showing.

And remember, it's smart to be thrifty, and thrift is a by-word at Goldsmith's. Whether you are a Freshman, or whether you have already scaled the gallant heights of a Senior, you'll approve most heartily of our consistently lower prices.
