PROWLER IS BACK TO SEE OLD FRIENDS

Gets Kick Out of Freshman Triumph Over Louisville; Comments on Mystic Six Rules

NOTES IMPROVEMENTS

Hello folks! Just now came in from the gymnasium—the fine new two hundred thousand dollar build on there on the back side of the lot near the new home quarter—where there is pretty much of a dance comin' off. This Men's Glee Club is sure puttin on a grand drag. Yep, would say they are, and what a nice crowd, nice lookin and all. Boy, these fellers sure know how to pick their girls, or maybe they don't have to do any pickin, they just naturally grow good lookin like that. They would.

You know, 'tis just zactly like gettin back home to come in here on the old campus, around the old buildings and see so many of the folks that once was so closely associated with. Well, come to think, there aren't so many of the old timers around that was acquainted with, but about the same old gang as far as the teachers go. Sure and am glad to see them now, cause they can't say, "how's that, or that coming?" or, well, you know just now you don't quite care to be around where some of them are when the salin gets tough. But, now 'tis different and can shake their hands with about as much zip as any of the rest. No jokin, 'tis more than fine to have a little while back with the old folks and friends. Glad to be able to drop in. Come see me sometime.

Say, believe me, these here fresh seem to be havin a rite warm time and enjoying it. Not a bad bunch of frosh, tho, see how they walloped Louisville today. Whoo-oopee. But, you know, when I came to town, or at least when I crawled out this mornin and went over to breakfast I had about decided that some section of the dorm had caved in on a whole flock of the little co-eds. Well, it was like this: There were so many of them with at least faint traces of what turned out to be mercurchrome—now I ask you, is that big word spelled rite? Well, if it isn't spell it yourself—smearred around about the various exposed parts of their anatomy. No wall had caved in, neither had there been much of an earthquake but just a little "friendly" brawl betwixt the frosh ladies and the upper class, let me see, yes, classwomen. Yes, and frosh, I caught some of the upper class ladies red handed, and I mean read handed. Now for about two bits I will put you next to this Mystic Six. Then what we will do to them. But come to think about it I was invited to have a hand in givin some of the frosh a little reminder tonite, and young ladies at that. Oh, it seems that they didn't attend the football game this afternoon (Saturday). Would sorta enjoy attendin that but, you know, for some reason or other the Dean of Women doesn't seem to have the same notion about it all as I, and her notion counts in this instance, hucks.

Them rules set out by this here something or other that calls itself a mystic six, I ask you, would you really expect the tender young nings not to chew gum for a whole week? My goodness, they just must have something in to get some jaw action in class and that the simplest way, you understand. Believe I will come back Tuesday and see some of the s.y.t. (sweet young things, to you, if you please) without their cosmetics. Now wouldn't that be the time to get a real look at them? That rule number five isn't so bad. After a more or less extensive, yea, exhaustive study of the subject I have come to the conclusion that those were made to wear and the young lady's limb, yes, leg if you like, is just about as plain with them." Fact is, some of the—well, you have heard that one about the big leg trousers eliminatin the bow legged man's handicap. Nuf said.

When got in here the other nite saw a notice on the bulletin board readin, some-body-or-other 99, Eastern 0. You know, I stood on my head and tried to make that and then tried to forget it. But the dog-on thing was rite in the first place and the second place too. Well, those things just seem to happen and not even I can help it.

See there have been more or less alterin goin on here. One would hardly know the inside of the old University hall. Just completely remodeled. Brand new auditorium to be used by the Model High and everything. Well, sorta have fond memories of that old buildin. You see, when I first came here—and not so long ago—we, that is, the entire student body, used it as assembly hall and for class room purposes. Then, noticed that some decoratin had been goin on over in the girls' hall. Makes it rite nice and more comfortable like for the "serious minded" lads and lassies. But, you know, every time I managed to get rite interested over there, something would come along—and it wasn't the depression—and sorta

FORMER REGENT DIES

J. A. Sullivan, author of the bill creating Eastern and Western State Normal Schools, and member of the board of regents until two years ago, died September 12, 1931.

Born in Madison county on January 6, 1852, the son of Patrick H. and Catherine Sullivan, he attended Richmond city schools and Central University in Richmond, from which he graduated when 18. Later he graduated from the law school of the University of Virginia. After graduation from law college, he practiced law in Richmond.

After drawing the bill establishing the two normal schools, he ran for the Kentucky legislature with the avowed purpose of securing sufficient appropriations to establish Eastern Normal, and Western Normal at Bowling Green. He served in the 1908 session. Sullivan Hall, women's dormitory on Eastern's campus, was named in his honor.

On the Monday following his death, his body was taken to the administration building E. K. T. C., where it lay in state until 4 o'clock in the afternoon as many paid their respects to the man who for more than twenty years always had the interests of Eastern foremost in his mind and heart.

Northern Ky. Club Selects Officers

The first meeting of students from the five northern Kentucky counties, Kenton, Campbell, Boone, Grant, and Pendleton, was held Thursday evening, October 8, 1931. The meeting was for the election of officers and the selection of an appropriate name.

The students present voted in favor of "The Northern Kentucky Club" as a name, and elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Harold Prim, Bellevue, president; Vivian Bueckhorn, Covington, vice-president; Mary Jane Jackson, Erlanger, secretary and treasurer.

A social committee was appointed by the president for the purpose of preparing entertainment for the meetings. The committee consists of Estelle Heller, Lillian Casner, and Dorothy McKenzie.

The meetings are to be held the second Wednesday of every month. Aside from the regular stated meetings the club agreed to prepare a chapel program. George Miller was made chairman of this committee and is to be assisted by Jeannette Hunter and Nathalia Collins.

The plans made for the future meetings are enticing enough to make anyone want to join whether he has had a personal invitation or not. All students from these five counties should consider joining this organization and be at the next meeting. One meeting will be enough to make them look forward to the next one.

Senior Class Has Selected Officers

The Senior Class met Monday, October 11, 1931. Dr. L. G. Kennamer, sponsor, called the meeting to order. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the ensuing year.

The election of a capable president was readily decided upon. Hershel McKinley, the boy from Owensboro, was elected by an overwhelming majority. Many things were considered in selecting the president, among which were scholarship, leadership, capability, personality, school spirit, and the willingness to boost Eastern at all times.

Mr. McKinley headed the sophomore class of 1929-30 and the junior class of 1930-31. We are fully confident that Mr. McKinley will pilot the Senior Class of 1931-32 in the same capable way as he did preceding classes.

Mr. William Ramsey, of Hustonville, Ky., was elected to the office of vice-president. Miss Cecil Boyers of Boyd, Ky., was elected secretary. Mr. William Cheek of Louisville, Ky., was elected treasurer. Miss Mary Kathryn Burns of Ashland, Ky., was elected to the social committee. Miss Jean Stocker of Richmond, Ky., was elected to the chapel committee. Mr. Harold Hieronimus of Richmond, Ky., was elected as cheer leader and is to be the head cheer leader of the school.

Each of the above elected officers has done his entire college work at Eastern.

PROGRAM OF HEALTH GIVEN

Character of Physical Education Activities at Eastern is Shown

2500 SEE DEMONSTRATION

The first health program of its kind ever presented to the public in the state was given at the new Weaver Health building on Friday, October 2, 1931, at 7 p. m. Twenty-five hundred people witnessed the exercises and declared it to be one of the best developments toward building first class citizens ever inserted into the program of education at Eastern State Teachers College.

A number of nationally known sponsors of physical education were present. Some of them were: Dr. McCormack, president of the state board of health, Dr. D. Obertuffer, supervisor of health and public instruction of Ohio, and many others.

They were much surprised to find such a complete outline of activities to be carried on for development of the body. Both expressed belief that it wasn't being duplicated anywhere in the middle west.

While the different parts of the program were entertaining, it was not given for entertainment alone. The object was to give the teachers of the Central Kentucky Education Association an idea of the kinds of body building exercises that should be practiced in their schools, and to show the students and visitors what was actually being done in training the bodies of young men and women at the school.

Children Enjoy Work

An evolution of developments is started with the beginners in the training school and goes on thru the high school and college. The exercises are arranged to give each child a chance to do the kind of exercise he or she wishes to do. The students do not go into it with the idea that they have to work, but with the idea of play, thereby getting relaxation from duties as well as training.

The second, third, and fourth grade youngsters gave us their versions of three old time games Slap Jack, Shoemaker's Dance, and Round and Round the Village. All of these games are entertaining as well as physical developers.

Girl and Boy Scouts

Two of the foremost organizations in the school are the boy and girl scouts. They proved to us that they are able at any time to lend a hand at first aid. They know the art of tying bandages, putting a broken limb in splints and practically all other first aid help.

The fifth and sixth grade boys played games of the nature of Crows and Cranes, Third Man, and Beat Me. The audience was in an uproar all the time the Beat Me was going on. The fifth and sixth grade girls gave a dance.

Where is the junior high school boy who doesn't want to be able to do something that no one else can do? That is just what each tried. All kinds of jumping and jumping the stick and skimming the snake were tried. So versatile was their ability that they held an automobile race. The junior high girls gave a very graceful dance.

The senior high school boys carried the antics of the junior high boys a little farther. They performed feats more complicated. One acrobatic act was their building of pyramids which they did practically as gracefully as a stage troupe. The senior high girls danced the Arkansas Traveler.

The college women displayed their ability at cage ball. They also did a tap dance. This is a dance for those people who have cared for their physical structure. It is very tiresome to the legs and one must be in good condition to perform it with skill.

The college men showed more strenuous exercises. Those who have had the training for more than a year proved that training can give perfect control of different parts of the physical structure. The tumbling was one of the best events of the evening. Some one has to develop future Gene Tunneys or champions of the mat. In this field, one division of men gave a three-round boxing match and two more gave a wrestling exhibition.

There are many of the different major sports, including football, basketball, track, tennis and archery. These are going on at all times for the students who are interested in them.

Part of a physical examination was given by Dr. Farris and his assistant. A complete examination could not be demonstrated, but it is free to every student enrolled in the school, from the grades on up.

Music Teachers Meet

Officers of the Kentucky Music Teachers Association have announced the program for the 1931 convention which is to be held November 6 and 7 at the Brown hotel in Louisville.

James E. VanFurusem, head of the department of music at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, is first vice president of the association. Miss Josephine E. Mitchell, of Louisville Normal School, is president, and Miss Nell Moore, Cumberland College, Williamsburg, is secretary. The Kentucky Music Teachers Journal, official organ of the association, is edited by Mr. VanFurusem.

BEN GREET PLAYERS AT EASTERN

The Ben Greet players with a distinguished cast of eighteen actors under the personal direction of Sir Phillip Ben Greet, famous interpreter of Shakespeare, will give "Comedy of Errors" at 3:00 p. m. and "Hamlet" at 8:00 p. m. October 28 in the Hiram Brook Auditorium.

This will probably be Sir Phillip's last tour in America. He was knighted by George V in 1929 in recognition of his efforts toward the cause of drama in education. Sir Phillip will appear in each performance.

No one who has seen and heard young Peter Deering will not want to miss seeing an appearance of this talented young Shakespearian player. His diction is considered by many as perfect, and although he is a mere lad it is said that he is to take Sir Phillip's place as head of the troupe.

M. M. Frederick, advance agent for the Ben Greet players has visited many of the high schools of the city schools of the adjoining counties and reports that many students from their high schools and colleges are expected to attend these performances.

The interest shown in the Ben Greet players in indicated by requests for seat reservations which have reached Dr. J. D. Farris, Chairman of the Fine Arts Committee at Eastern from several nearby cities—including Winchester, Lancaster, Mt. Vernon, London, Irvine and Berea.

MRS. DONOVAN TO LEAD IN Y. W. SESSIONS

Dr. Farris, Dr. Moore and Mr. Mattox to Lead Discussions in Men's Group

AFTER VESPER SERVICE

The Y. W. and Y. M. organizations of Eastern have decided to devote four consecutive Sunday evening periods beginning November 1 to the discussion of questions which they believe to be of vital interest to every Eastern student.

The program chairmen, Miss Mable Kirkland for the Y. W. and Mr. Vernon Wilson, representing the Y. M., in conjunction with the other cabinet members and sponsors, after much deliberation, have announced the following subjects to be discussed: "Boys' Personal Problems," "Girls' Personal Problems," "The Student's Relation to His College," and "Dual Education." Mrs. Donovan has kindly consented to lead the girls in the discussion of their personal problems, and Dr. Farris has been asked to lead the boys in a like discussion. Dr. Moore will meet the group discussing "Dual Education," and Mr. Mattox has been asked to lead "The Student's Relation to His College."

The procedure will follow the usual vesper service. After the devotional meeting the group will divide, each person present going to the discussion group of his or her choice. It is hoped that many students, whether or not they are members of these organizations will avail themselves of the opportunity to help discuss these topics of live interest to all.

SIGMA TAU PI IS ORGANIZED

Ross Anderson Chosen President of Department of Commerce Organization; Richards Sponsor

Sigma Tau Pi, official organization of the department of commerce, held its initial meeting of the year Wednesday night, October 14. Prof. R. R. Richards of the department of commerce, faculty sponsor, presided as chairman until a president was elected.

Officers chosen for the year are Ross Anderson, president; Herman Moore, vice-president; Christine Gantly, secretary-treasurer; Mollie Hayes, social committee representative; and Mary Frances Bellwood, general program committee representative.

Plans were discussed concerning the activities of the organization for the year. Plans for the annual dance was the chief topic discussed. The club later voted on sending membership invitations to George Carrell, J. T. Turley, William Melton, and Clifton Dowell.

UNIVERSITY BUILDING IS RENOVATED

Improvements to Oldest Building on Campus Cost $25,000; Used to House Model High

WAS BUILT IN 1784

Have you noticed the improvement of University building? The University building is the oldest building on the campus, dating back to 1784. In 1906 it housed Walter's Collegiate Institute. It was once known as the Old Central University. Generation after generations have passed through this institution of learning.

The building has been repaired and remodeled inside and outside. New hardwood floors, celotex ceiling, doors, locks, plumbing, lighting and wiring fixtures have been added. A steel stairway replaces the old wooden one, over which many generations have trod. Boys and girls locker rooms have been added and are located in the basement. A room has been set aside and equipped for science with individual desks and tables. A girls' club room has been equipped and furnished.

The main part of the building, the assembly hall, has been refurnished with new seats, stage, curtain and cyclorama. It is amazing to see the improvement in this one room alone.

The University building is to house the Model High school. There are 186 pupils enrolled in the junior and senior high schools. The improvement of this building marks another milestone in the history of Eastern Teachers College.

NOE SPEAKS AT EASTERN

Kentucky's Poet Laureate Discusses Poetry, Reads Poems

HEARD AT ASSEMBLY

Kentucky's poet laureate, Dr. Cotton Noe, professor of education at University of Kentucky, annual visitor at Eastern, spoke to the students and faculty at assembly Wednesday morning, October 14.

In speaking of poetry he said, among other things, "Poetry is the bread of life." It cannot be manufactured, but is born of the soul. Poetry must express an emotional experience. Only feeling can produce genuine poetry. If the poet does not feel his poem, no one else can feel it. Poetry should be written for the sheer joy of writing and sharing it with another. But feeling alone can't produce poetry, it must be expressed artistically. Likewise, rhythm, music, and melody are necessary to perfect poetry. Dr. Noe also said, "God has no finer messenger of the soul than the mocking bird."

MEETING OF C. K. E. A. IS HELD HERE

Teachers Participate in Dedication of Weaver Health Building; Physical Education Stressed

HEAR NOTED SPEAKERS

The second annual meeting of the Central Kentucky Education Association was held on the campus of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, Friday and Saturday, October 2 and 3, to discuss and study the theme of Health Education, and to dedicate the new $200,000 Weaver Health Building annexed to the Eastern campus last May.

The session was conducted by the officers elected in the first meeting in November, 1930: H. C. Burnette, Nicholasville, president; Mrs. Luella Abney, Richmond, vice-president, and Kerney M. Adams, Richmond, secretary-treasurer.

Matters of business were referred to the board of directors composed of President H. L. Donovan, of Eastern; H. C. Burnette, Nicholasville, president of the association, E. F. Brekhead, Winchester; Mrs. Lucy L. Smith, New Castle; D. G. Bullock, Mt. Vernon; and Lee Kirkpatrick, Paris.

At the meeting of the board President Donovan presented the astounding facts concerning the practice of "gangsterism" in the schools of the state from a recent survey which he has made after interviewing and receiving information about the illicit employing of teachers from over two-thirds of the county superintendents. His presentation followed along the lines of his recently published articles in newspapers and educational journals concerning the buying and selling of schools by sub-district trustees.

The opening session of the association took place Friday morning at 9:10 a. m. with music by the Department of Music of the college, which was followed by the introductory remarks at 9:30 of Superintendent H. C. Burnette, president of C. K. E. A. The second address, by Superintendent J. W. Bradner, president of the Kentucky Education Association, presented the theme of "The K. E. A. and Our Educational Program." Dr. A. T. McCormack, Kentucky State Board of Health, talked on "The School Health Problems in Kentucky," and Dr. D. Obertuffer, supervisor of health and physical education, state of Ohio, concluded the meeting for the morning with an address on "Health and Physical Education in the Public Schools."

Friday afternoon two groups were formed for round table discussions. The elementary group, with Mrs. Lucy L. Smith, superintendent of Henry county, presiding, met in Hiram Brock auditorium to discuss the Problems of Health and Physical Education in Elementary Schools, and Courses of Study in Health Education for Elementary Schools. The former were introduced by Dr. J. D. Farris and Dr. D. Obertuffer. The latter were under the direction of the state rural school supervisors.

The High School Group met in the auditorium of the University building with Dr. H. H. Hill, superintendent Lexington city schools, presiding. Superintendent W. F. O'Donnell, Madison High School, addressed the group on "Athletics and Health" and a round table discussion on Problems of Health and Physical Education in the High School were introduced by Dr. Jay B. Nash, professor of Education, New York University, and Professor Thomas E. McDonough, of Eastern. The discussion on Health and Physical Education in the High School was the direction of Mr. Mark ... high school supervisor of Kentucky, closed the meeting of the group.

Friday evening, delegates were guests of the Physical Education Department at a program of varied entertainment including all the work of the department.

The Saturday morning program of the association ended with the dedication of the new Weaver Health building. In the afternoon, members were invited to attend the Eastern-Sue Bennett football game.

SIGMA LAMBDA

The Sigma Lambda Society in their first meeting of the school year decided to spend this year in a more profitable manner than before.

Besides trying to give programs of cultural interest, the members of the society will have a number of social events. Their first social event of this school year was a tea given them by the sponsors of their society, Misses Mabel Pollitt and Edith Ford. This was a get-together meeting in the recreation room of Burnam Hall. Several prospective members were present.

The following afternoon, the second business meeting was held in the same room. A few of the members had prepared a snack.

The officers for the year who presided at this meeting were:

President..... Florence Hamilton
Vice President..... Mabel Williams
Secretary..... Margaret Brock
Treasurer..... Dorothy Ross

Congratulations to Men's Glee Club

The dance held Saturday night in the gymnasium of the Weaver health building was, without a doubt, the best that Eastern has been able to enjoy in the past few years. A dance without undesirable characters, without need of faculty-police, and without the fear of being refused the privilege of having another, is one to be remembered among those that have been given in the past.

It has been the hope of the social committee that an ideal dance be given so that they might have an example to set up for other organizations to follow. The standard has been set and it is now up to the campus groups to equal and better it.

Our hats are off to the members of the Men's Glee Club for setting an example worthy of being copied by the entire student body.

A Goal to Attain

Well, we're at it again, ready to make the Eastern Progress of the year nineteen thirty-one and thirty-two the best we've ever had. Now we've taken quite a bit to chew in setting that as a goal with the record of last year's Progress staring us in the face. You know that we are quite proud of our paper's accomplishments. Undoubtedly you already know that last year the staff of the Eastern Progress was awarded a silver loving cup by the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association in recognition of its work in publishing the best all-round collegiate newspaper in the state. With such a record to equal, we have a man

LET'S ALL SWIM

How many freshmen have enjoyed a swim in the new pool? All the advice necessary to those who have not, is that you don't know what you've missed. The pool is fine, the water is finer, but that diving board is finest. If you are not far enough advanced in the art of swimming to be interested in the diving board, the enjoyment to be had from just splashing around in a pool such as we have here in our Weaver Health Building should be enough to have that pool crowded every plunge period.

Mayhap this idea of a physical examination being required before permission to swim can be received has a few frightened. Anyone, can tell by looking at Doctor Farris, that he wouldn't be too hard on anyone. What if he should make you stick out your tongue and say aw-w-w-w, or make you stop breathing for five minutes?—but he doesn't. The examination is very simple and requires little of anyone's time. It doesn't cost anything either—that's nice.

The plunge periods are from three to five on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. The pool is under excellent supervision of capable life-guards. The water is always at a temperature that makes winter swimming as pleasant as swimming in summer, and if the showers are used in the right way a cold will be a hard thing to catch.

These plunge periods are especially for the freshmen that have no class in swimming. The pool looks better, the laughter is louder, and more fun can be had when it is full of bathers. In other words, the more the merrier.

At the recent monthly court of honor in Lexington, Marshall Arbuckle, of the boy scout troop in the training school at the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, was made a star scout, it was announced by Prof. R. A. Edwards, scout master of the local troop.

At the same court of honor merit badges were won by William Moore, Tom Farris, Caperton Burnam, E. T. Wiggins, Marshall Arbuckle, Stephen Edwards and Henry Baigh, all of the training school troop.

At a local court of honor held in the training school here recently, Billy Farris passed the examination for a tenderfoot scout and William Moore and Paul Fife succeeded in winning places as first class scouts.

There are at present 15 organizations in the Training School of E. K. T. C. Each organization has elected a group of officers, who assisted by each group will carry out their work with the aid of a sponsor from the faculty.

These organizations are boy scouts, orchestra, girls' glee club, home economics club, junior high school dramatics, country gentlemen, hiking, flower, athletic, Latin, public discussion, girl scouts, excursion, press, and senior high school dramatics.

According to the plan in the training school each student is allowed to choose membership in two of the student organizations. The clubs meet twice a week and their physical-education classes twice a week.

Each class of the high school sized job in publishing a better Eastern Progress.

In the past few years Eastern has grown by leaps and bounds. With its advancement the Eastern Progress has made a successful attempt in keeping step. We don't want to be dropped from the ranks this year, so we must keep moving with Eastern's slogan of "A Better Eastern" by publishing a better college newspaper.

Are you willing to give us your assistance in carrying out our aim. This paper is not just the staff's, but Eastern's and yours. We need your help, cooperation, and encouragement. Are you going to help us? We're asking you to assist us in our attempt by telling us this and that, and giving us a boost without fear of hurting your conscience.

The Eastern Progress in its attempt this year to publish a better college newspaper invites the criticism of its readers, you included, assuring them that any suggestions that will make the paper a better one will be given consideration.

An Old Story But Still the Same

Advertisers in the Eastern Progress are entitled to the business of the students of the school. Business men who realize that newspaper advertising is a medium for making sales have purchased space in this paper with the knowledge of getting their products before the student body of Eastern. These men are assisting us in our effort to keep a paper at Eastern as much as we are getting their merchandise for sale before the student body.

Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College is proud of the Progress and you enjoy reading it. Isn't it only fair that you patronize those merchants who are buying advertising space? Yes, it is fair, and we are asking you to patronize our advertisers.

At Home in the Cafeteria

"To eat in eating places properly conducted by those who make the service of feeding people their primary vocation in life, and to eat in places where you feel at home" is the standard set by the cafeteria administration for its patrons.

It is desired that Eastern students and visitors feel at home in the cafeteria. Do you feel at home? Well, just make yourself at home and visit the cafeteria kitchen and bakery on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 to 10:00. See what goes in the soup and see who makes the pies.

A Note to the Men of Eastern

This should be the greatest year in our institutional life. Eastern is better organized, better managed, and has a finer get-away than it has had in any of the other eighteen years of my connection with it. The faculty is working harmoniously and with zeal. The student body, it seems to me, is at least a shade better than any of the past.

If "an idle brain is the devil's workshop," then a busily-employed mind in quest of right goals is the delight of the Lord. It is time now for each student to have reached his mental stride. Now is the time to be hitting the steady, winning strokes of studentship. One spirited effort, and nothing can stop us. We must have a great year.

My best wishes go for the highest attainment of each man in the college. If I can help, call on me.

Sincerely,
 (Signed): CHAS. A. KEITH,
 Dean of Men.

grades elects a representative to meet with the principal and arrange programs for the high school assembly which meets once a week on Wednesdays.

Results of Tuesday

More pillows appeared Tuesday than anyone imagined Burnam and Sullivan Halls could supply. Small heart shaped, long, round, from the size of a pin cushion to a bed pillow burdened the fair sex of the freshmen class. The darling freshman girls looked rather puny without their usual make up. And those freshman boys with their horses took the cake. Listen, did you see the big fight in front of the library? Some upper class girls tried to paint a freshie who was wearing make up and chewing gum.

Results? A few sore shins and a big red 6 on the Freshies face and a blistered—?

There are many ways of doing a thing, but only one way to do it right. The Mystick Six did it right when those poor fish (freshman) were dumped into the fish pond. Poor gold fish.

Say, are those freshmen polite? At least, some of them are. They tip their caps and get off the sidewalks for the "uppers."

Look out, freshies, you'd better obey rules for the rest of this week and on, and on, and on, or else you'll get ducked in the fish pond, where you belong, or a nice, big red six will suddenly appear on your face, and you'll be eating off the mantle piece for the next day or two.

A Freshman knows not and knows not he knows not.

EASTERN BAND REORGANIZED

Rules for Band Members Laid Down by Committee

The band committee, Mona Daniels, William Ramsey, Joseph Blunsch, Henry Lutes and Arthur Bowles met with Mr. G. M. Brock last Tuesday evening. The following rules were made for the band for this year by the committee.

1. At the next meeting of the band the Constitution is to be read by its director, Mr. Griffith, and thereafter strict enforcement is to be observed.
2. Each new member must have a try out before being admitted to the band.
3. No band member will be allowed to wear a band sweater except when the band is called on to play for an official occasion.
4. Uniforms are to be checked and those persons having uniforms who are not regularly enrolled shall be asked to turn them over at once.
5. At no time shall this band be called out to play except by the authority of the Executive Committee.
6. The Constitutional ruling stating that the Concert Band shall be made up of those who are capable of playing concert music and that the Field Band shall be made up of the entire band is to be observed.
7. New officers for this year are to be elected at the next meeting of the band.
8. All band members will be notified in due time as to the appearances of the band in public.
9. The band shall provide for a member of the band to represent the band on the Social and Chapel Committees.
10. There will be order in the band room during practice.
11. A motion was made and carried without a dissenting vote that this band should not play for outside functions unless the members had previously met and agreed. This does not hold true when the function is in the interest of the school.
12. The band will make any other rules that it deems necessary.

for the administration of business of this band.

Eastern's Band is one of the outstanding organizations on the campus. There are very few occasions of note that do not require the services of these students, who in the midst of the school work find time to contribute to the enjoyment of others as well as to further their interest in music.

Last year this organization had an enrollment of more than fifty persons, but with so many talented students coming to Eastern this fall it is hoped that this mark of last year will be passed by at least ten or fifteen.

All persons interested in becoming a member of the band, should see Mr. Griffith, director, for a try-out.

MEN AND BOOTS

There is more in a man's boots than he is apt to think—apart from himself.

Taking them as a whole, from the similarity of character which his boots bear to himself it would almost appear that there was really some affinity between them.

Boots go on feet—so do men. Boots have soles—so do men. Boots sometimes get tight—so do men.

Poor boots get run over—so do poor men. A boot will shine if polished—so will a man.

Some boots have red tops—so do some men. Some boots are imitation calf—so are some men.

Some boots can't stand water—neither can some men. When a boot is soaked it is a hard case—so is a man.

A boot when old gets wrinkled and hard—so does a man. A boot when well heeled always feels comfortable—so does a man.

tables were attractively arranged, and a delightful dinner course was served to the following guests: Miss Berta Ingram, Mona Daniel, Ruth Miller of Eastern campus, and Messrs. Maynard Bodie, Cincinnati, Ohio, Joseph Bender, Barbourville, Kentucky, Henry Lutes, Berea, Kentucky, and Arthur Bowles, Richmond, Kentucky.

Molly Green of Pineville, Kentucky, spent Friday and Saturday with her sister Laura Green.

Dora Hancock spent the week-end at home, and her sister, Mary, returned with her to spend a few days on the campus.

Those spending the past week-end off the campus were: Jerry Libbons, Corbin; Mary E. Arnold, Falmouth; Mary Marren, London; Mildred Emmons, Flemingsburg; Evelyn Newell, Covington, Mildred Baugh, Science Hill; Mary Evans, Middlesboro; Mary E. Smith, Berea; Margaret Conway, Carlisle, and Estella Heller, Bellevue.

Dear Mrs. Mix: It seems like every thing has gone wrong for me since I came to Eastern. I had been here only two weeks when I learned that my boy friend back home had married another girl.

The upper class girls now have it in for me over my Freshman cap. Will things change, or is my fate against me? DISAPPOINTED.

My Dear: You shouldn't worry over a friend like the one you mentioned. As for this freshman business, you will get razzed no matter how faithfully you wear your cap. Everything will get O. K. so don't worry. MRS. MIX.

Dear Mrs. Mix: Before I came to school I fell desperately in love with a man from my home town.

It almost broke my heart to leave—but he promised to come to see me real often. He works at the Western Union and as fate would have it, his office hours have been changed, making it impossible for him to get away long enough to come up.

I don't care about dating anyone else. What must I do? LONESOME LOVER.

Dear Lonesome Lover: Your case does deserve a bit of sympathy. The only chance I see for you to see this man is for you to go home as often as possible.

If he can't come up, I see no reason why you shouldn't have a date now and then. Just so you don't have too many dates with the same person. MRS. MIX.

Dear Mrs. Mix: Dr. Donovan just recently announced that there is to be no car riding at night. My best boy friend is driving down in his new car next week end. Would you advise us to go riding and risk getting his car shot up by Mr. Donovan's new sixty dollar shotgun? PUZZLED.

My Dear: It does seem a shame that in a car like yours you can't go riding. If I were in your place, I'd ask permission to go. If it isn't granted, I'd take the risk you suggested. MRS. MIX.

Maroons Prepare For Louisville

The Maroons open their Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association season Saturday afternoon when they meet the University of Louisville Cardinals at the Kentucky metropolis. This will also be the first conference game for the Cardinals.

Coach Hughes' used his entire squad against Wittenberg and the experience may be beneficial if the Maroons can get rid of numerous charley horses and sore muscles.

While the varsity squad went through a light workout at Portwood's frosh started getting ready for their engagement with the Henry Clay High School eleven, to be played either Thursday or Friday afternoon in Lexington.

The Lexington team is as hefty as the Little Maroons and a hard-fought battle is promised. Four members of Portwood's eleven have had plenty of experience against the Blue Devils, "Dog" Young, "Gum" Thorpe, Albert Cox and Doc Robinson having played against the Heber team while on the Madison High eleven, and Tartar has had experience with the Devils, having been a member of Heber's squad in 1930.

The Little Maroons, especially the former Madison stars, are determined to trounce the Lexington team as a sort of revenge for the Devils' defeating the Royal Purples here last Friday.

The Little Maroons took to the air to whip the University of Louisville frosh last Saturday afternoon on the local field, 20 to 0, and the Cardinals will be out to avenge this defeat by trouncing the Maroons in Louisville Saturday.

Despite the Maroons' overwhelming defeat by Wittenberg, Coach Hughes has a stronger team than he had last year and should be able to give the Cardinals plenty of opposition.

Well, well, well, here we are again and still up to our old tricks. Believe it or not (excuse us, Mr. Ripley) the Scandalette can give its readers more than one issue than they could secure in attending any two of these famous (or infamous) faculty coffee "clothes." Imagine being able to learn at one of these noteworthy functions, that Elmer Whitehouse sleeps in a night suit of the vintage of 1890; or that a certain amourosly inclined swain believes that all Mary Elston needs is a nice Sunday School necking; or that John Little (what a misnomer) and Elbert Meaders fought for one solid hour in an effort to decide which one of them lived in the toughest county. The contest was a draw at that, and the men of the Hall have concluded that Jackson and Harlan counties are both pretty tough.

We have it straight that the reason Keith Eoner didn't start in the Saturday game was because Portwood was saving him for the dance. Josh Cosby reports that the game at Wittenberg was a close contest—close to a hundred.

George Carrell told his roommate, "Cliff" Dwell that his corn hurt him so bad that he couldn't decide whether it was going to run or that Herschel McKinley was going to pay him a visit.

"Carina" Chinn has really been doing her Christian duty by the Freshmen and we consider it unfair that Mary Edelen should say that she was "horsey." "Big Bertha" has finally heeded the call and has kindly consented to answer the prayers of the young maidens. We saw him take Margaret Manning to the show. Wotta man! Lucky girl.

We think that "Red" Phillips would be doing the manly thing by confessing to Prof. Keith that he was the one who turned over the fire extinguisher on the third floor.

It wouldn't be news if we were to tell you what wonderful recuperative powers the human machine has—but it is a scandal the way Tallie DeWitt recovered from that fatal leg injury. Tallie was observed limping painfully along on a lit: red stick all day Saturday and to our amazement he showed up at the dance and outtrumped everyone.

Chlorine Painter's conscience ought to be bothering her something fierce due to the way she gives Glenford Carter the run-around every time that regular from Maysville shows up. Glenford says he wouldn't mind it so much if Curry Horn and the rest of the cafeteria force didn't rub it in so. Andy Hohnhorst reports that Curry Horn is a hog for punishment. We don't know just what Andy had in mind but Maude Cross might be able to shed some light on the subject.

Jean Stocker seems to have a tender thought in her heart for Mae's. It looks as though one Mae has lost and the blonde Mae is winning. Michael Denham is said to be so timid that he turns his girl's picture to the wall before he undresses. Perhaps that is why he hasn't asked Virginia Spillman, whom he greatly admires, for a date. Give him time, Virginia, give him time. Moon Mullins is a featured player on the Richmond Colored High School football team. Wonder what Mary Vaughn thinks of that?

We can't get the particulars concerning the scandal involving Annie Laurie Forsythe and Lucy Mitchell, but we know they pay Moon Harold Mullins hush money. Alma Best and Garvice Kincaid taught an old timer some new tricks last Tuesday night. You sho am a smart man, Mr. Kincaid. Remember how Kelly Wagers stole Ruth Miller's affections from Jennings Jackson? Well, Jennings has gotten revenge by crowding Kelly from Helen Stidham's affections. It is a long lane that has no turning. George Carrell was heard to say that several of the weaker sex were seeking an introduction to Prof. E. R. Richards, but that Levodis Holliday bought him off. Girls, it looks like you will have to take typing. That's the way Levodis met him.

Foyster (Big Boy) Sharpe said that if Harold Prim didn't cease playing that d— radio all night he was going to do some persuasive arguing with him. You better be careful, Harold, 'cause we know that Sharpe sent Clarence Ellison after some 3-in-1 gun oil Saturday. Jack Powell couldn't possibly have won that dollar for crowing if his freshman cap hadn't so closely resembled a rooster's comb. Jack ought to show his gratitude by buying the Mystix Six a soda. We have just come into a fresh bit of amazing scandal concerning a red headed lady who enjoys the reputation of making gentlemen of bad boys. Speaking of red-heads, Eugene Johnstone's pa and ma should be grateful that Oletta Parker went home this week end. If she hadn't, Gene wouldn't have had any time for the fond parents when they visited him this week end.

Everyone who was here Friday night, Sept. 18, would really like to know how Harold Hieronymous and Theodore Keith got to escort two of the college girls up to their room on the third floor of Burnam Hall. That doesn't sound like Miss Roberts was on duty, and it wasn't because Theodore was a professor's son and Harold a senior, but because the girls were part of the Administration staff.

"Moon" Mullins is surely turning on this year. Even though he's having a hard time getting dates with upper class women, he has been rating dates with Freshmen—that is when Bill Melton and Zelda Hale don't catch him in the act of making a date and beat him to it. The spectators in Burnam Hall Hall Lobby had a treat the other night when Herschel McKinley (Alias Little Mussolini) strolled in dressed in a dinner suit and ushered two prominent girls out. Some one asked James Patton how much longer he was going to hang around this place and he said he hoped he wouldn't be here long enough to see Mr. Van Furseem lose the rest of his hair. Lorraine Chinn has been trying hard to get Theodore Keith to enroll in Dr. Rumbold's class in Animal Behavior if for nothing more than his own personal protection. I wonder how Zelda Hale napped to be with one of the faculty members of the fair sex at the football game last Saturday, later I realized there was to be a dance that evening. To the girls on the campus who have been casting their eyes towards the "Post Office Boy" I wish to say, if Jo Mitchell makes many more trips over here, they're lost. Toddie Thompson, she may be back in January to stay, so do your duty now. "J. D. Turley has got plenty of nerve," that is what Lester McHargue would say if he saw how he is rushing Mildred Mayes. Paul Goodloe has taken a sudden liking to Cafeteria food lately, or perhaps it is his appetizer—Betty Baxter.

Eastern is quite fortunate in having a "Lady MacBeth" on the campus. Any Freshman can point her out for you. They all know Lucy Mitchell. Eabel Franks surely is fond of her bottle. She carries it around with her all of the time.

We wonder how Chinn ever found time to entertain a boy friend over the week end with all the girls to paint, but did she step out? Oh Boy! Well folks that is about all the dirt I can sling this issue, not that I don't know more, but the editor won't accept any more. So long until next issue.

Hear Edwards in Yorktown Address

The national celebration of the 150th anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis to Washington at Yorktown was commemorated locally in an address by Prof. R. A. Edwards, director of the training schools, before the students and faculty assembled at the Monday morning chapel.

Mr. Edwards spoke on the subject of "Yorktown and Colonial Virginia." He has twice traveled over the field at Yorktown, visited and studied there, and thus brought the knowledge of an eye-witness into his commemoration of the decisive battle of the Revolution.

During his speech Mr. Edwards described vividly the ancient town of Williamsburg, Va., and that part of the state known as "Tidewater Virginia." This small section of the state has furnished more leaders to the republic than any other similar territory in the country. A few of these notables enumerated by the speaker were Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, Patrick Henry, Richard Henry Lee, Robert E. Lee, John Marshall, John Tyler, James Madison, James Monroe, Zachary Taylor, and Woodrow Wilson.

C. C. C.—COLLEGE CAFE CLUB

Within the pastweek, students working in the college cafeteria organized the C. C. C. or the College Cafeteria Club.

The first meeting was held in the Cafeteria Club room on Thursday, October 15, at which time officers were elected and committees appointed. The officers are: Tom Evans, President; Mable Williams, Vice President; William Tolbert, Secretary. Plans are being made for the next meeting, which will be in the form of a party.

This organization is under the direction of Miss Edith McIlvaine, and hopes to become one of the most active organizations on the campus.

FORM STUDENT'S COMMITTEE ON WHICH ALL CLASSES AND GROUPS ARE GIVEN 1 REPRESENTATIVE

At the first meeting of the student body this semester, announcement was made by President Donovan that he wanted each class and each organization on the campus to select from their group, one person to serve with him on a committee, with the desire of arranging better and more beneficial assembly programs.

Last Wednesday evening, the president met with these students and after a conference of some fifty or sixty minutes, a satisfactory program had been worked out for this and next month. It was decided that each organization on the campus be allowed an opportunity to conduct one assembly program this semester. It will be remembered that last year the student body was given the most excellent opportunity of listening to several lectures upon the subject of student participation in programs, so this year the student body is being given that opportunity.

It has always been the policy of the institution to give to the students the best that can be had. The purpose of these assembly programs is to lift the ideals and moral of our students as well as to give instruction and entertainment. I consider this my class and am therefore doubly responsible to you and to the people of the commonwealth to provide such instruction that will prove most beneficial to the student in his life.

This is the purpose of our president in asking our co-operation that the students should respond is not a question, it is a challenge as to how well they will use this opportunity and the amount of dividend that shall be forthcoming.

This committee does not have a regular meeting date but meets on the call of the president. There are some few of the organizations on the campus that have not as yet selected their representatives to this committee and it is asked that they do this at their earliest convenience.

Persons serving on this committee and the class or organization that they represent are: Jean Stocker, Senior Class; Lillian Cox, Junior Class; Wilfred Gaines, Sophomore Class; Garvice Kincaid, Alpha Zeta Kappa; Sueanna Cheatham, Sigma Lambda; Gayle Starnes, Canterbury Club; Mildred Mayes, Y. W. C. A.; J. D. Turley, Y. M. C. A.; Virginia Moody, Home Economics Club; Mollie Hayes, Commerce Club; Dora Hancock, Little Theatre Club.

Little Maroons Trounce University of Louisville Yearlings on Eastern Field

SUPERIORITY IS SHOWN

Cosch "Al" Fortwood's grid-team showed what it was made of last Saturday afternoon on Eastern's new $10,000 field when it defeated the University of Louisville Yearlings by a score of 20-0 before a group of 500 spectators, mostly classmates, properly placed under the watchful eyes of upper-classmen.

The Little Maroons had the game well in hand from the very beginning, and the Louisville boys made little progress until the fourth period when two completed aerial heaves brought them a forty yard gain to mark their largest advance against Eastern during the entire battle.

The first quarter started with the Little Maroons kicking to Louisville. After making two attempts through the line, Gradmon punted the ball out on the forty-five yard line. The Little Maroons made one first down, and after being penalized fifteen yards, kicked the ball back into their opponents territory. It again became necessary for the visitors to punt, and Gradmon's toe delivered the ball to the Little Maroons' twenty yard stripe. From this marker, Portwood's boys started down the field for their first score. Two punts were made and recovered, after fumbles by Louisville's safety man, for a sixty yard gain. Robinson passed to Cox from the Louisville eighteen yard line to score the first touchdown. Robinson failed to make the extra point good from a dropkick formation.

Throughout the second period the Little Maroons succeeded in keeping the ball in Louisville territory. The visitors made several futile attempts at kicking the ball onto the other end of the field. Young, for Eastern, broke through the line twice in succession, and blocked punts of Gradmon's, who on his third attempt kicked the ball out of bound on his own thirty yard line. Robinson then hurried a pass at Brock, who apparently grabbed it from mid-air without expecting it, and sprinted twenty-five yards for the second score of the game for the Little Maroons. Robinson then place kicked the extra point to make the score 13-0 at the end of the half.

Eastern gained one first down in the third period by a fifteen yard penalty on Louisville for tackling the kicker after the ball had left his boot. Two firsts succeeded those by passes between Robinson and Tartar. Dykes took a third pass for the third Maroon touchdown, and Robinson completed another point on the place kick.

In the final period, the Maroons resorted to defensive play. Louisville made three first downs, and at one time completed a pass for a twenty-five yard gain, but they were not able to score over a score. The Eastern Fresh played good ball throughout the game, and its work was exceptional when more than once the Maroons sneared Louisville plays behind the Cardinals own line of scrimmage. Tartar and Young played good defensive games for the Maroon yearlings, while Baxter, former Madison High star, shined for the visitors.

The line-up and scoring is as follows:

Ohio Northern University Defeats Maroons 16 to 0 in Game Here

CANFIELD IS INJURED

The Eastern Maroons were losers 16-0 in their second game of the season when the Ohio Northern University defeated them at the Teachers College stadium on Saturday, October 10.

Ohio Northern received her first score as a result indirectly of one of those bad lateral passes. After an exchange of punts following the kick-off it was Eastern's ball on her own 36-yard line. Canfield hit the line for two yards and on the next play a lateral was tossed over Feeback's head and when he recovered it and was downed it was on Eastern's five-yard line. It was the third down and about 40 yards to go.

Canfield punted out of bounds on Eastern's 36-yard line. Archibald visiting fullback, made 32 yards to Eastern four-yard line. Here the Polar Bears required five drives before Allen, quarterback, finally plunged thru for the score. Archibald kicked for the extra point, making the score 7 to 0 in favor of the Ohioans.

On the following kick-off Vest received the ball and was downed on the 26-yard line. Canfield got over nine yards and again a lateral was called, which resulted in a loss of three yards, then a fumble lost two more yards, forcing the Maroons to kick. Porosky returned the kick to Eastern's 46-yard line, but Eastern's ends failed entirely in their tackling. The rest of the first half was momentarily threats by the Ohio eleven to reach the marker for the second time, but all of these were checked by the Maroons.

The second half was started by a kick-off by Porosky which went over the goal line and the Maroons too it on their 20-yard line. Hord passed to Campbell for 15 yards and a first down on the 35-yard line. Hord punted to Porosky on his own 40-yard line and the ends again failing to tackle, he brought the ball to Eastern's 45-yard line. The Bears punted to Feeback, who ran the ball back to his own 27-yard line, where he fumbled and Porosky recovered. The first down was on the 15-yard line. Porosky made eight yards and Allen made first down on Eastern's four-yard line. Archibald went over for the touchdown and Porosky kicked the goal, making the score Ohio Northern 16, Eastern 0.

Eastern had great determination to reach the goal from this point on, but was unsuccessful. They fought harder in the last few minutes of the game than they did at first and although not scoring themselves they kept the Polar Bears from further doing so.

Captain Kenneth Canfield, Eastern's fullback, late in the game suffered a recurrence of his old knee trouble.

Maroon Freshmen, Georgetown Tie

Eastern Freshmen and Georgetown Freshmen played their opening game Thursday, October 8, with a scoreless conclusion.

Due to previous showers the field was not suitable for a high scoring game and except for occasional drives by both team, the contest developed into a punting duel with Marshall Robinson of Eastern and Fisk of Georgetown getting equal rank in this department.

During the second quarter the visiting team threatened Eastern's goal line, this being the only serious threat of the whole game. The Tiger Cubs got into Eastern's territory on a nice runback of a punt to Eastern's 40-yard line. Two successive first downs with Fisk and Day alternating in totting the leather placed the ball on the nine-yard line with goal to go.

Five times the Little Maroons stopped the charge of the Tiger Cubs. But the gain by the Cubs was negligible.

Home Ec News

The Home Economics club entertained with a dinner for its members, Thursday evening at 5:30. This dinner party served as a means of getting the old and new members together. Several new members were added to the club.

The club has two meetings a month, one business or educational and the other a social meeting. A short time ago the girls enjoyed an outing, preparing their supper at a camp fire.

Miss Betty Stewart of Richmond is president of the club.

EXTRA - CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES SUBJECT OF ADDRESS BY JONES; MOST ACTIVE MAKE BEST GRADE

Eastern students recently listened, during the chapel exercises, to a report of a study which has recently been made in the office of the Director of Research. The survey was made to show the relationship between scholarship and participation in the extra-curricular activities.

The study was confined to the students at Eastern during the school year of 1930-31 and demonstrated in its final analysis that there is a slight trend for the students who participate in activities on the campus to make higher grades in classwork than for students who do not mix properly with their fellows.

During the first semester of the past year, Dr. Jones reported, 40 per cent of the entire student body belonged to one or more of the departmental and professional organizations on the campus. Studied from another basis, Dr. Jones found that during the same school period of the students who made a "B" average or better, 56.1 per cent, participated in extra-curricular activities.

According to the author of the report, these figures practically proved one or the other of two things: Either the best scholars are the ones who go out for student activities or the activities themselves help made the scholar.

The figures in the report told exactly the same story for the second semester last year and for each other school period studied as did those given above for the first semester.

Freshmen Grades Lowest
One of the interesting side-lights

gleaned from the study was brought out when Dr. Jones showed that of the four year-classes, the seniors made the highest average grades with the juniors next and that the freshmen made the lowest average grades.

From another viewpoint, it was found that freshmen who participated in student activities outside of classwork and belonged to one or more of the student organizations made higher grades than did the freshmen who gave their time to their studies exclusively. The same was true for the seniors and sophomores, but was not true for the members of the junior class.

One of the most striking phases of the report was the fact that for each school term studied the members of the freshman basketball and football squads made the lowest average grades of any group in the entire institution and there were four or five organizations which ranked below the average of the whole student body.

During the first semester of last year the organizations and clubs making the best grades were in the order of the highest, the staff of the Eastern Progress, publication; the Canterbury Club for English majors; Alpha Zeta Kappa; the staff of the Milestone; and the students on the social committee.

For the second semester the clubs making the highest grades were the Canterbury Club, the staff of the Milestone, Sigma Lambda, the staff of the Eastern Progress, and Alpha Zeta Kappa.

CANFIELD FIRST OVER

Eastern played their first game of the season Saturday, October 3, defeating Sue Bennett College with a score of 31 to 0.

Scoring in the first quarter after an exchange of punts, the Maroons could not make a sustained drive again until the last few minutes of the third period and as the fourth quarter opened they pushed over their second touchdown.

Captain Canfield got the honor of scoring the first touchdown of the season. Sue Bennett kicked off to Eastern to start the game and after a 15-yard penalty had been inflicted on the Maroons, Canfield punted to Sue Bennett's 35-yard line. Sue Bennett failed to gain and punted to Feeback, who was downed off his 25-yard line.

Two plays netted five yards when Feeback passed to Dowell for first down on Sue Bennett's 43-yard line. Canfield then went thru the line for 25 yards and first down on the visitors' eight-yard line. Four stabs at the line made it first down on the visitors' eight-yard line, where Canfield bucked it over for the score.

At the close of the third quarter Feeback reeled off a 30-yard run and on the first play of the fourth quarter made a 25-yard trip to Sue Bennett's 15-yard line. On the next play a lateral pass with the Flash totting the pigskin was good for a touchdown.

The next score came within a few minutes with Feeback leading to the 11-yard line. Four tries made it first down on the one-yard line and Feeback went around end for the score.

The next touchdown was the result of an intercepted pass which Vest took on Sue Bennett's 45-yard line and ran to the 30-yard line. Feeback made a 15-yard trip on a lateral pass and Canfield took it over in two tries. Burnette went over for the next score.

D. Cunningham, quarterback, and Moon Mullins, halfback, were the stars for the visitors, while Canfield and Feeback played offensive ball for Eastern.

NEW OFFICERS OF GLEE CLUB

Harold Hieronymus Chosen President of Men's Singing Group

TO GIVE DANCAE SOON

J. Harold Hieronymus, of Richmond, was elected president of the men's glee club of the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College at a recent meeting of the organization.

William Ramsey, of Danville, was chosen vice-president; Walter B. Thacker, of Lawrenceburg, secretary and treasurer; Taylor White, of Richmond, librarian; and Joe Dennis, of Millersburg, program committee.

The men's glee club at Eastern has its membership limited to 32 and has been operating on this basis very successfully for the past three years. It is fundamentally a student organization and is directed and coached by Prof. James Van Puersem, head of the music department at Eastern.

The first public program to be rendered this school year by the glee club will be in the form of a chapel program to be given here November 18 in the Hiram Brock auditorium.

OFFICERS OF THEATRE CLUB

Waller Thacker to be New President, Succeeding Thomson Bennett

Officers for the coming year in the Little Theatre Club, student dramatic organization at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, will be installed at the next meeting of the organization Tuesday night, October 20. It was announced today by Thomson Bennett, Richmond, retiring president.

The new officers are Waller Thacker, Lawrenceburg, president, and the following officers who are residents of Richmond: Harvey Blanton, vice-president; Miss Delilah Marie Coates, secretary; Miss Louise Rutledge, treasurer; Harold Hieronymus, business manager, and Z. T. Rice, stage manager. Irvin Eastin, of Jellico, Tenn., was elected sergeant-at-arms and Henry Lutes, of Berea, will serve as electrician.

There are approximately 25 active members of the Little Theatre club at present and they have formulated plans for giving several good plays this year. The citizens of Richmond will remember from former occasions that there is considerable dramatic talent and ability possessed by the members of the club and will probably look forward to viewing their plays this year as before. Miss Pearl Buchanan is the club's faculty advisor and the coach of the plays.

Members of the club have already made plans for opening the dramatic year on the Eastern campus with a one-act play to be given as a chapel program at an early date.

Try-outs for new membership in the Little Theatre club will be held Tuesday night, November 10, at a private showing and the best one-act plays as picked by the members of the club at large will be presented shortly afterward in a session which will be open to the public.

The club is exceedingly fortunate in having W. E. "Buddy" Becht for an honorary member this year, as he is much experienced in singing. Honorary Second tenors: Joe Den-produtions.

PROWLER BACK

break up the huddle. Funny how a feller wasn't allowed to keep his mind on his "education." But, have noticed that teachers and the like are just like that. I have had the hardest time rite here of most any place. Go to class, slip down on about the third section of my spine and proceed to be comfortable for an hour and doncha know, the teacher would have the nerve to pop some uncomfortable question rite at me. They have that habit. Just wouldn't let a feller get his rest at all. Wonder how they think a feller can keep up his obligations any way. After all I managed to live thru it all, so, maybe so can you. Looks like I have about wasted enough of the young commercial teacher's paper while he is out taking in this dance and passed the point where the editor switched the red light. So, will say, so long for a time and maybe I can get to you, even if from a distance.
