NEW CLASS OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

EDUCATIONAL MEETING

Held on Campus; Williams Speaks

John Fred Williams, state superintendent of public instruction, speaking before the annual meeting of the Central Kentucky Education Association, which met on the campus October 3, urged enactment of the three-point K. E. A. legislative program.

The program calls for an increase of $15,000,000 in the common school fund; providing every school child in the state with instructors having minimum training requirements; and a minimum school term of nine months for elementary children.

The increase in appropriation would guarantee a minimum average salary for state teachers of $2,000, as compared with the present $1,300. Better teacher salaries will encourage emergency teachers to go ahead with their training and also interest young men and women in entering the teaching profession in the state, he stated.

Superintendent Williams also advocated a measure to prevent the removal of college boards without cause, provision of increased financial support for the institutions of higher learning, and revision of the state constitution. He declared that an adequate system of public education can never be developed under the provisions of the present constitution and every teacher in the state should work diligently to see that the measure for revision be carried in November.

Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville, spoke on "Artists in the Classroom."

"You can't be anything better than a good teacher," he told the audience of teachers. "I don't like for us to think that anything else is more important than good teaching or being a good teacher. We have too long thought of the teacher as ranking below leaders in other professions."

Teaching is first a science and second an art, Dr. Hill stated. Making charts of children's age, height and weight is a science but encouraging the child to do something to improve his health is an art, he continued.

To become an artist teacher you must have a desire to excel in your field, build a foundation of science, but rise above and beyond science, check yourself against the best, Dr. Hill said. The tragedy is not, he continued, that a person may do so badly but that he could do so very much better if he only tried sincerely.

N. C. Kimbler, secretary of the state teacher retirement system, gave a report on the distribution of funds in the system and urged the teachers to take an interest in the provisions made for soundness of the fund. The legislature has failed to appropriate the amount required each year for the proper functioning of the system, he said. He pointed out that last year $1,276,000 was needed to carry on the work but only $956,000 was appropriated.

Roy True, superintendent of Franklin county schools, and president of CKEA, addressed the convention briefly and greetings were extended the visiting teachers and administrators by President W. F. O'Donnell.

The business meeting of the convention was held at 11:30 a. m. Officers elected for the coming year were: Kenneth C. Gillespie, superintendent of Georgetown city schools, president; Miss Nanalee Browne, Lexington junior high school teacher, vice president; R. F. Flege, superintendent of Irvine city schools, secretary-treasurer; and Sedley Stewart, superintendent of Lee county schools, member of the KEA board of directors. J. K. Powell, Harrodsburg, was named member of the nominating committee for the teacher retirement system.

A number of KEA and NEA delegates and alternates were elected to attend the meetings during the coming year.

The report of the finance committee was made at the business session by Mr. Flege.

Dr. W. J. Moore, dean of the college, made the report of the resolutions committee as its chairman.

Three departmental meetings were held that afternoon. Dr. R. F. McLain, president of Transylvania College, Lexington, led discussions in the meeting of administrators in the Little Theatre. Miss Brown presided at the meeting of classroom teachers in the Hiram Brock Auditorium, and Mr. Gillespie was presiding officer at the conference on supervision and curriculum development.

The general theme of the one-day meeting, which closed following departmental conferences was "Improving Kentucky Schools."

The Progress belongs to the students. It will record student activities and is the medium for expressing student opinion. It will be governed only by good taste, accuracy, timeliness, and self-imposed restraint.

I extend best wishes to members of The Progress staff and to all other student organizations. May the year be long remembered for constructive work.

A Word From the Y's

By ELIZABETH PENNINGTON

Eastern's freshman class was again introduced to college life with the aid of the Y's. During the past summer the Y girls wrote letters and sent pamphlets to the newcomers of Burnam Hall. When the girls arrived on the campus they found "Big Sister" girls acting as student counselors awaiting them.

As a diversion from tests and registration there was a pajama party in Burnam Hall. Saturday night, September 20, all the freshmen were invited to a party in the Student Union Building. On Sunday afternoon Miss Mary F. McKinney, YW sponsor, entertained in her home with a tea.

The Y's will continue this year's program with a membership drive which will begin about October 6. Every student in school who is interested in Student Christian work is urged to become a member of the YW or YMCA. The Y's have a place for every type of talent. Besides being of service to the school and community we feel that you will greatly enjoy being a part of this group.

So as to acquaint all new members with the organization and its program, the Y's hold a Fall Retreat each year. It is on retreat that one gets the spirit of the Y, therefore old and new members alike should plan to attend. The date for Fall Retreat has not been set but it will come in October.

A vesper program is planned for each Thursday evening at 6:30 in the Little Theatre. Let's try to attend.

Maroons Lose 7-6 Thriller to Marshall

Large Crowd Sees Opener

The Eastern Maroon gridders pushed a big Marshall College eleven around for three quarters but lost a 7 to 6 ball game in their season's home opener at Hanger Stadium last Saturday night.

The Maroons lost by the mere margin of an extra point as a result of a missed placement kick. Just one week earlier, Eastern had defeated Eastern Illinois by the same margin of an extra point in winning 14 to 13 at Charleston, Illinois.

Before a large crowd of approximately 5,000 fans, Marshall took an early 7-0 lead in the first quarter. Their one and only touchdown came as a result of an 85-yard drive.

Late in the first period the Eastern T formation offensive got going and the Maroons put the Big Green of Marshall on the defense. Quick opening and deceptive plays kept the Maroons deep in Marshall territory throughout the second quarter. Back by outstanding line play, Emmett, George Sweesy, Moore, Russo and Morrison rammed the Marshall forward wall continually for gains.

The maroon and white of Eastern marched from their own 30 yard line to Marshall territory. But as the first half ended, the visitors from Huntington, W. Va., had gained possession of the ball on down and commanded a 7 to 0 lead.

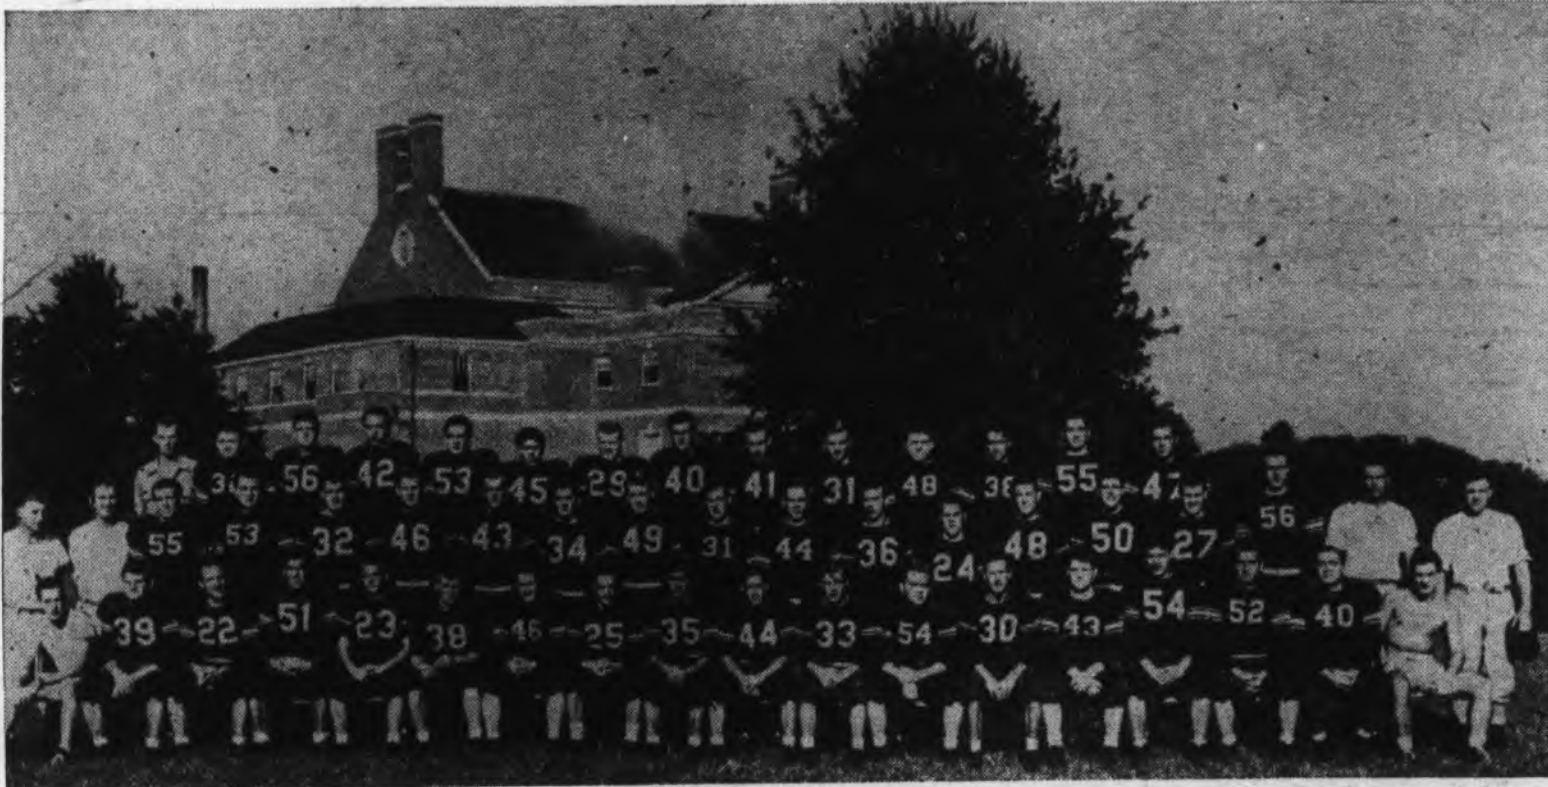

PAUL MOORE

Eastern came out strong in the third quarter. On a 70-yard march the Samuels-Presnell coached lads scored when Paul Moore smashed over from the one yard line. Trailing 7 to 6, the Maroons missed their opportunity to tie the score when Pete Nonnemacher's placement kick was low.

Throughout the final period Eastern threatened to score. But, a combination of a stubborn Marshall defense, a weak Maroon passing attack a few "breaks" enabled the "Marshall plan" to stay ahead. As the final whistle sounded, Marshall was in possession of the ball and stalling for time with line plays.

Basketball Tryouts Begin October 13

All men students of Eastern interested in trying out for the varsity basketball squad are requested to report to the gymnasium in the Health Building next Monday at 3:30 p. m.

Head Coach Paul McBrayer is building another great team this year. The popular Maroon court mentor has a terrific job on his hands building a team to defend the KIAC crown which his five won last season.

Fred Lewis to Coach Pro Team

Fred Lewis, of the National Basketball League's Sheboygan Redskins, has signed a two-year contract to coach the Birmingham (Ala.) five, it was announced yesterday.

While competing for Eastern State Teachers College in the 1945-46 season, he finished fifth among the nation's individual scorers, averaging 21.5 points a game. As a member of the College All-Stars against Ft. Wayne, Lewis earned the most valuable player award. He received his bachelor's degree here in June.

BROADCAST TONIGHT

The Eastern-Murray game will be broadcast tonight over radio station WKLX of Lexington at 8 o'clock.

Murray is Next Eastern KIAC Foe

Meet Thoroughbreds At Murray Tonight

The Maroons begin defense of their KIAC championship tonight, when they take on the Murray State Teachers College Thoroughbreds.

The 1946 champions from Eastern will travel to Murray for a night battle which begins at 8 o'clock. This important game will be Eastern's first conference game of the present campaign. Murray has already registered their first league victory. The 'Breds defeated Morehead by a 13-6 margin last week with their star, Bill Walker, scoring both touchdowns.

Murray Experienced Foe

In the game last year between Eastern and Murray, the Maroon gridders came out on top by a 26-13 score. Early in that battle Murray led 6 to 0 before the Eastern offensive got rolling. This year, Coach Jim Moore and his Murray squad will be out to avenge that loss.

Murray dropped their season's opener to Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, last week by a 28-14 margin. This loss will by no means dampen the spirit of the Thoroughbreds when they take on Eastern for they will probably be "up" for this tilt. No doubt, the Murray lads are still remembering the 26 to 13 beating of 1946.

Murray's entire first team will be playing its second year of college football and ten of the first string eleven are lettermen. Of the forty-nine gridders on the Murray squad, twenty-one players are lettermen. This all adds up to the fact that the Thoroughbreds are deep in reserve power.

Important Battle

Maroon Coach Tom Samuels will be "shooting the works" for a win in this, the first conference battle. He will be seeking his first KIAC victory as Eastern's head coach and will be striving to fill the shoes of his former boss—Coach Rome Rankin.

Marshall Outgained

Statistics of the game show that Eastern compiled 14 first downs as compared to 7 by the visiting Marshall gridders. In the passing department the Maroons outdistanced their foes by 56 yards. However, the local squad completed only 3 of 12 pass attempts in comparison to one incomplete aerial by Marshall.

Stiff practice sessions were in store for the Eastern gridiron maulers the KIAC opener tonight at Murray.

GLENN PRESNELL

Glenn Presnell, new backfield coach at Eastern State Teachers College, was the principal speaker at the Richmond Exchange Club's dinner meeting Monday night at the Glyndon Hotel.

Coach Presnell told of the intricate work of building a college football team. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, class of 1928, and was an all-America halfback in 1927. He played professional ball several years and was backfield coach at the University of Kansas in 1937. From 1938 through 1941 he served as backfield coach at the University of Nebraska and was head football coach when that team played in the Rose Bowl in 1941. During the 1946 football season he again served as backfield coach at the University.

Coach Samuels became Eastern's head football mentor this year when Rome Rankin resigned to accept a position at the University of Maine. If present indications of pep and hustle on the Eastern squad are any indication, the Eastern coaches feel certain the Maroons will give any of their opponents a real battle before the ball game is over.

EASTERN WINS GRID OPENER

Defeat Charleston (Ill.) Teachers by One Point

Eastern's Maroons won their season's opener at Charleston, Ill., on Saturday, September 27, by taking a 14 to 13 verdict from Eastern Illinois.

In Charleston, the Maroons had a tough battle in downing a big Eastern Illinois eleven. "Our boys" won by a slim margin of one point in a very tight game. Had the element of "breaks" gone a little different, the picture would have been altered greatly. Eastern suffered costly penalties from those men clothed in the black and white uniforms, commonly called officials.

An Eastern touchdown in the third quarter was called back on a penalty of "holding." In addition, several long runs by the Maroons were called back because of "rule infractions." Eastern was penalized more than a hundred yards.

The Illinois eleven scored in the opening minutes of play after recovering a fumble on the Eastern eight-yard line. The placement kick was wide, resulting in a 6-0 lead for Eastern Illinois.

Late in the second quarter, Eastern scored when Billy George smashed through the line from the five-yard line. Pete Nonnemacher kicked the conversion to give Eastern a 7-6 edge. The Maroons scored again when Ted Miller recovered an Illinois fumble on the Illinois 19-yard line. Two plays later, Dick Morrison scored from the six-yard line. Nonnemacher again kicked a perfect placement to give Eastern a 14 to 6 command.

Illinois came back strong in the second half. It was late in the third quarter when the big Illinois squad pushed over its second touchdown. Their try for the extra point was good, moving the count to 14-13.

The fourth quarter found the Maroons on the defensive for most of that period. The Illinois running and passing attack threatened throughout the final period. However, Eastern's stubborn defensive play held and the game ended with the Maroons leading 14-13.

SPORT SHOTS

By PAUL DUNCAN

A group of one hundred and twenty football candidates turned out for tryouts at Eastern in the hot summer weather of September 1st. This large group was under the direction of Head Coach Tom Samuels and his aides, Glenn Presnell, Fred Darling and Cliff Tinnell.

In the hot sun of early September, the Maroon gridiron aspirants began daily workouts which consisted of two stiff practice sessions. The first was a morning drill. The second was usually a grueling period of running, jumping, charging and blocking in the heat of mid-afternoon. Almost a month before the opening game, the Eastern football team was hard at work rounding into shape for the coming schedule of nine strong opponents.

About a week after the practice session began, the roster of candidates had been reduced to sixty-three men. As a final result of four weeks of stiff training, a squad of forty-five toughened and well-conditioned gridders remained. Yes, a squad of forty-five footballers have earned positions on the squad from an original group of one hundred and twenty. These lads on the team, by now, are in tip-top shape and are probably as "hard as hotel mattresses!"

They are the defenders of Eastern's KIAC championship. Tonight they go out to face the second team on their card which is one of the toughest schedules that an Eastern team has ever taken on.

The press box in Hanger Stadium was filled to capacity in the home opener last Saturday. All of the occupants were "authorized personnel" consisting of radio and public address announcers, spotters, Western Union messengers and newspaper sports reporters.

A play-by-play description of the game was broadcast by a Huntington, W. Va., radio station.

Last Saturday, the University of Kentucky's junior varsity traveled to the Annapolis Naval Academy and trimmed the Navy B squad by a 50 to 9 count.

Just a few weeks ago, Eastern battled the same U. K. junior varsity to a 7-7 tie at the Wildcat's stadium.

That is really a problem to figure out. We're not going out on a limb and compare the Maroons to the Navy Plebes. No sir, we'll leave that one for the math and geometry experts!

Backfield Coach Glenn Presnell sat in a private booth adjoining the press box during the first half of the Marshall game. From that position he called backfield substitutions and other information to Coach Samuels at the bench.

However, in the second half, Coach Presnell went down to the bench and carried on there.

It happened at the dance following the Eastern-Marshall game. Three young looking freshmen stepped up to the soda fountain in the Student Union. The first two ordered cokes. When the waitress asked the third freshman for his order, he said, "I'll have a glass of milk, I'm driving!"
