THE BYSTANDER

By NOSMO KING

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press," so reads the Constitution of the United States. And that is our privilege.

The darker portion of the above quotation, however, applies more to a privately owned newspaper than to a college newspaper. The news of a professional newspaper has to be selected with two main points in mind:

- 1. Reader appeal. 2. Financial influence.

However, in a college newspaper such as The Progress the sole duty performed by the staff is giving the students truth and diversified opinions about the truth. In an effort to obtain the sentiments of the student body in all strata, and the facts which might not otherwise be made known, the writer of this column will remain incognito. Thus the problem of obtaining accurate opinions and criticisms will be mitigated.

Since the chief duty of the reporter is not to the faculty or to "cliques," but to his readers, any fact, rumor, or comment upon such which may be of interest to the reader, will be made without hesitation and without restraint save only from the conscience of the writer himself. Else the press is not free, the readers obtain false information and are thereby propagandized, and the paper is a puppet, dangled from the hands of those puppet-masters who would bid it do their will.

There are those among us who would, knowingly or unknowingly, tear to the ground everything America has stood for, all in the hope of obtaining what they incorrectly call "a government of the people." I am referring to those blind followers of "The Pied Piper of Peace," that prophetic (Guru Letters) man of ideals, Henry Wallace. He has talked of peace saying that he, and only he, could sit down with Stalin and work out the seemingly insurmountable problems of two conflicting systems of government. Now he has altered his statement somewhat, saying in so many words, peace at any price.

Certainly the people of our nation want peace but not at the price the lunatic composer of the Guru Letters will pay. We do not want to live in a "fool's paradise."

The fellow traveler (a Communist without a card), whether he realizes it or not stands for a forceful overthrow of the government to which he usually gives feigned support. At every opportunity he drops a remark such as "What chance has the common man got?" or "There is no such thing as free enterprise." This is baloney.

Two years ago John Doe used the FHA and the GI Bill to procure enough money to build a grocery. His first year was so prosperous that he not only paid a good sum on his debt, but also began construction of a home. The other day I passed his house and his two children were playing in the front yard. They were laughing and their cheeks were rosy with healthfulness.

Awaken, fellow traveler! Break the charms of that frustrated, applause-starved Pied Piper. Know that you are not hungry and enslaved like the people of Russia. Know that you ride in cars made by capitalists and your country is yours.

The enrollment system which Eastern employs is obsolete and ridiculous. There is absolutely no feasible excuse for permitting the student to run wild for three or four hours all over that stately campus edifice, the Administration Building, in a panting and often unsuccessful effort to obtain the classes of his choice.

Said one transfer student, "My record is fifteen minutes. Here it took half a day." It is difficult for new students and transfer students to understand the advantages of a scramble-for-classes registering system. It is simple to see just why the new students cannot understand the advantages. There are none. The system is uncalled for. Inefficiency is the thief of time.

Now, students, don't think Nosmo is a griper. Far be it from him to run down and not advocate. Let's put on our thinking caps and see what we can do about it. For instance, why not have all enrollment facilities in one big room, the gym? Why not have a "U" of tables by which the faculty would sit. Then admit the students alphabetically and according to a schedule. Say, for example, A-F from 8:00-9:15 and so on. Have tables in the middle of the "U" where students might sit and work out a schedule problem or procure special advice. Around this arrangement of tables have the faculty seated according to departments, in alphabetical order. In short, have everything systemized. What about it, you all?

YOU NAME IT

By I. N. STEIN

The Progress is indeed fortunate to secure the services of Dr. Stein, noted author, educator, philosopher and former child prodigy. Dr. Stein disappeared in 1941 and until this month his exact location had not been ascertained. But three weeks ago the good doctor emerged from his seclusion with one of the greatest discoveries of all time. Some would argue that the wheel or fire should top the list of man's findings, but Dr. Stein's recent invention undoubtedly vanguards all the rest. As you have probably surmised, Dr. Stein is the brain behind the shmoo.

Dr. Stein will answer all questions and solve all personal problems which concern the Eastern students. If you are troubled or in any way perplexed, let the eminent professor help you out. Please make questions as concise as possible and address them to Dr. Stein in care of the Progress.

Q. Is it true that you are considered the world's most profound thinker? ("Curious")

A. That is correct.

Q. I am afraid that the contractors working on the gymnasium are going to tear out the side wall before our season ends? ("A Basketball Player")

A. Such training will be invaluable if you schedule games at Nome, Alaska.

Q. I am making poor grades, need money, am starving and have no place to live. What shall I do?

A. Try slashing your wrists in the wash basin.

Q. I have two boy friends. One has good looks, plenty of money and a car. The other has a nice personality. Which one should I choose? ("Perplexed")

A. Are you kidding?

Q. I have no ambition and lack any appreciable amount of initiative. Others consider me lazy. How can I be a success in life? ("Sorriness")

A. Try teaching.

Q. I am vitally interested in the presidential election. What is your prediction concerning it? (J. Stalin)

A. I firmly believe that the election will be held in November.

Q. My wife and I are getting a new car. She wants a blue sedan, but I prefer a red coupe. Which shall we purchase?

A. Get a two-toned convertible.

Q. In the recent local option here in Richmond I voted "Dry." I do some social drinking every day. Did I vote according to the dictates of my conscience? ("Chronic")

A. You're all wet.

Q. What happened to Hitler? ("Worried")

A. Rumors reaching me suggest that he is second-string tackle at Notre Dame.

Q. What is your opinion of the possibility of another world conflict?

A. Three countries hold the key to world peace. They are Siberia, Russia and the Soviet Union. (Editor's Note: Dr. Stein's latest book is entitled "How to Win Money by Influencing Gamblers.")

F. S. Anyone suggesting an appropriate name for this column for future use is entitled to a grand prize which will be announced and presented at a later date. (Probably 1963). Only human beings may send in suggestions. Freshmen need not apply.

Funeral Rites for Lieut. Parks Services for Lieut. Cyrus Curtiss Parks, whose body arrived in Richmond August 16 from Italy, where he was killed in action January 25, 1944, were conducted August 18 at the residence of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Parks of Kingston. The Rev. John Lucas, pastor of the Hays' Fork Church, officiated. Burial was in the Richmond cemetery, with military rites at the grave conducted by the American Legion. Pallbearers were his first cousins, Hugh Parks, W. C. Parks, George Moore, Jr., J. B. Moore, Edward Moore, and Robert Parks.

Lieutenant Parks entered the service September, 1941. The following year he received his wings and became a qualified paratrooper, leaving Fort Bragg, N. C., for England where he was stationed. He made the non-stop flight from there to take part in the initial invasion of North Africa.

He was commissioned while in Africa. Continuing on through Sicily, he was behind enemy lines at Avellino, Italy, and later in the mountains at Venafro. While at Venafro, Lieut. Parks was in charge of a mortar platoon and was killed early at the Anzio Beachhead campaign. He held the Purple Heart and the African, Middle East and European service ribbon with three bronze campaign stars.

Lieut. Parks was a graduate of Berea Academy and attended Eastern two years where he played on the football and baseball teams and was a member of the college band. In addition to his parents, he is survived by a sister, Miss Anna Lee Parks, a graduate of Eastern in the class of 1941.

Rites for Lieut. H. B. Wilson Funeral services for Lieut. (jg) Harry B. Wilson, Jr., son of Judge and Mrs. Harry B. Wilson of Irvine, were held at 3:30 p. m. July 15 at the grave in the Richmond cemetery.

lands, where he was buried at the time. He was in service 22 months, taking part in the bombing of air fields at Vila, Kara, Kanili, Ballali, Buka and Bonis, and was killed on a mission to Bouganville.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Miss Catharine Wilson, Berlin, Germany; Mrs. E. B. Roberts (Drucilla Wilson, '41), and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Roy C. White, of Richmond.

Lieutenant Wilson graduated from Irvine High School, attended Eastern and the University of Kentucky. He was 25 at the time of his death. He enlisted in December, 1941, received his commission in August, 1942, and was sent overseas in August, 1943, with Task Force 38.

Services Held for Lt. Sizemore James Louis Sizemore, who lost his life during the Saipan Campaign, was buried at the Somerset Spring Mills National Cemetery June 24. A lieutenant in the Marine Corps at the time of his death, he was killed July 6, 1944.

He had just received orders to have his outfit dig in for the night when the Japs opened up a fierce counterattack with heavy weapons. Lt. Sizemore told his men to retire to safer positions and stayed behind himself in order to telephone his commander. The position was recovered several days later and the body of Lt. Sizemore was found beside the telephone.

For his heroic deed, the Navy Cross and the Purple Heart were awarded posthumously. They were received by his mother, Mrs. Lou O. Sizemore of Hazard. Mrs. Sizemore is a nurse at the Mount Mary Hospital.

Lt. Sizemore attended Eastern and the University of Kentucky. He had completed two years of pre-medical training before entering the Marine Corps. He was on the U. S. S. Vincennes, on which Lt. Donald Dorris lost his life, 29 months before the ship's final voyage.

Besides his mother, he is survived by two children, James Louis, Jr., and Sandra Lou, and by one sister, Katherine Sizemore Casebolt, a student at Eastern.

Death of Taylor Infant Funeral services for the infant daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Eldred Taylor who died at the Pattie A. Clay Infirmary June 15 were held at the Rosedale Baptist Church June 17 with the Reverend E. N. Perry, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Reverend W. R. Royce officiating. Burial was in Owensboro, the home of the parents. MAROONSWHIP E. ILLINOIS, AND MARSHALL

By The Sports Editor

Murray State College's undefeated and untied gridders will be in town Saturday night seeking their third straight win of the current campaign. The unconquered Thoroughbreds of Coach Fred Faurot will, no doubt, be out to repeat a 21-13 victory over the Maroons of last year.

Maroons Can Win

Coach Tom Samuels' gridders can upset the winning ways of Murray by playing head-ups ball. After a sad 31-0 opening game defeat to Xavier, the Maroons got rolling and played improved football to cop a 25-14 home opener over Eastern Illinois State College of Charleston, Illinois. In this tilt, the varsity didn't play up to par during the first half and as a result "Big E" trailed 14-7 at the intermission. However, a revived Maroon squad took the field in the third quarter to knot the count, then move on ahead. Adding a final score in the closing quarter they stopped the Panthers of Eastern Illinois 25-14. It was the visitors' first loss of the year.

Eastern Scorers

Three of Eastern's TDs in that encounter came on aerial tosses of freshman halfback, Chuck Hertzler. End Bob Tankosh snagged the first and ran for a 35-yard tally in the second period. In the third quarter, halfback Harry Sweesy was the receiver twice in pay dirt. As a safety measure, zoomin' Ed Zoretic added a fourth quarter score by running 37 yards for a crowd-thrilling tally.

Marshall Upset

Last Saturday night the varsity upset the dopesters' appellation by trouncing the Thundering Herd of Marshall College 20-7.

Playing before an estimated capacity crowd of 10,000 in the Marshall Stadium in Huntington, W. Va., the "E" played near perfect ball that night. Neither team scored in the first quarter in a bitter battle up and down the field. Midway in the second period Eastern exploded with its aerial attack as Hertzler faded back and hit big Jack Bahlman with a heave on the three yard stripe. Bahlman made a beautiful catch and lunged over for the remaining distance with two tacklers hugging him. Quarterback Billy Emmett kicked the placement as Eastern led 7-0.

Emmett Stars

Following the intermission the Maroon and White took the ball midfield and marched to the 6 before losing the ball on a pass interception. At that time, the Big Green got rolling and with the help of penalties marched to their first and only touchdown to tie the score at 7-7.

In the fourth quarter it was Eastern on the attack again with signal caller Billy Emmett doing a fine job of outwitting the Marshall defenses. In a touchdown drive, the varsity marched down the field in completing 4 out of 5 passes. By this time the Herd's defense formation was spread out setting up a natural victim for a quarterback sneak. At the opportune moment, Emmett called just that play and did sneak 15 yards deep into enemy territory. On the next play he crossed the Big Green again by calling the same play and charging over for the tie-breaking touchdown. Following the TD he calmly booted the extra point to give the Maroons an all important 14-7 lead.

Zoretic Shines

Marshall threatened in the remaining minutes but with three minutes left to play they lost the ball on downs at the Eastern 28 yard line. On the next play Paul

SWIM HOURS ANNOUNCED

By JEROME YOUNG
Progress Sports Reporter

Swimming hours for the pool in the Weaver Health Building were announced this week by Charles T. Hughes, Athletic Director for the college.

All students who wish to swim in the college pool must get locker assignments and swimming privilege cards, if they have not already done so.

Swimming hours for high school boys (grades five through twelve) and men at Eastern are 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The periods for Tuesday and Thursday at 4 p. m. to 5 p. m.

All high school girls in grades five through twelve will be admitted to the pool on Tuesday and Thursday between 3 p. m. and 4 p. m. College girls will have an opportunity to swim on Tuesday and Thursday nights between 7 and 9 p. m.

If you can not swim very well, come and learn. Life guards will be present at each swimming session.

'E-CLUB' VOTES IN OFFICERS

The Varsity "E" Club, one of the leading organizations of the college, elected officers at a meeting this week placing footballer Joe Hollingsworth in the president's office.

Other officers elected were Bob Coleman, vice president; Dick Scherrbaum, secretary; Joe Yanity, treasurer, and Louis "Dad" Manning, sergeant-at-arms.

"Bud" Moore slashed around end for 30 yards only to have the beautiful run called back on a penalty. Taking the ball on the 21 yard line, halfback Ed Zoretic ran off tackle then cut back reversing his field to romp 79 yards for the game clinching score. The hushed crowd saw the kick for extra point was blocked with the Maroons way out in front 20-7.

(That same night Eastern's "cousins," the University of Kentucky, lost to Mississippi by the same score in Lexington).

Must Battle

Coach Tom Samuels' crew can upset the Murray eleven . . . if they hustle and play the caliber of football that they are capable of playing. Win, lose or draw, there will be a real battle in Hanger Stadium Saturday night.

Earle Combs, Big Leaguer, Is "Pride Of Eastern"

By PAUL DUNCAN, Progress Sports Editor

When the Boston Red Sox got off to a poor start in the American League race early last summer, many fans thought that the Beantown team would never get going in time to make a respectable showing in the pennant race. However, the Sox did get started and were in the championship race all the way up to the final day before bowing to the Cleveland Indians in a playoff thriller.

An important man-behind-the-scenes of the surge of the Boston club was Earle Bryan Combs, a former big league star and also a graduate of Eastern.

Combs, rated by many as one of the greatest outfielders of all time, is now a Red Sox coach. Earle is back with his old boss, Joe McCarthy.

Eastern Star

The colorful baseball career of Earle Combs reads something like a movie script. He was a terrific college star while playing with Eastern's varsity baseball squad. After piling up college batting averages of .596 in 1920 and .444 in 1921 and otherwise displaying all the assets of a fine outfielder, he was signed up in the spring of 1922 by the Louisville Colonels, American Association club.

COMBS OF EASTERN

Combs was a sensation with the Colonels; for he clouted a .344 clip in 1922 and jumped to a .380 average in the 1923 season. His fielding left little if anything to be asked for.

Becomes Big Leaguer

Earle Combs was headed for the "big leagues" after his highly impressive 1923 season with the Louisville Colonels. Not only had he batted .380 but also had scored 127 runs, made 241 hits, stole 42 bases, hit safely in 28 consecutive games and batted in seven runs in a single game.

The New York Yankee club snatched Combs immediately after the close of the 1923 season in a deal which found Louisville receiving two players and a reported sum of $50,000. With the Yankees at that time were such baseball immortals as Babe Ruth, Herb Pennock, Waite Hoyt and Lou Gehrig.

Combs stayed with the Yanks from that season through the 1935 campaign while compiling a great record and making baseball history.

The "silver-thatched Kentucky Colonel" had the greatest year of his 12-year major league playing career in 1927. That year he was picked as an All-American League centerfielder over the great Al Simmons who had outhit him. Earle compiled a .356 batting average, hit 23 triples to lead the league and got a total of 231 hits, surpassing Gehrig by 13. Baseball fans looked upon Combs as one of those players who put forth every ounce of effort into a ball game.

Combs Retires

He became a Yankee coach in 1936 and held that position with the Yank greats until he voluntarily retired in 1944. In 1947 he came back to baseball to join the St. Louis Browns as a coach. This year he joined the Sox as an aide to Manager Joe McCarthy.

Earle Combs will be remembered by baseball fans the world over as one of the greatest outfielders of all time. His great achievements and clean-minded sportsmanship manner are things of which Eastern is proud.

SPORT SHOTS

By PAUL DUNCAN, Sports Editor

Welcome freshmen . . . to the home grounds of the Eastern Maroons. Welcome to the battle grounds of the teams of "Big E." On behalf of Eastern's varsity athletic squads ranging all the way from football and basketball to girls softball we say—be a good sports fan. Stick with your teams through victory and defeat.

To the good loyal sports fan we say "hats off!" On the other hand, to the mediocre fan we say you should be penalized. What would you suggest as a penalty? Well, a stiff penalty one could sentence you might be something like making you enroll at Western or Louisville!!!

Another important group deserving a hearty welcome is the alumni. Welcome back old grads. We are happy to share our campus home with you-all!!

President O'Donnell's halftime talk at the Marshall game was warmly received by all. Our chief executive addressed the crowd at a colorful halftime ceremony and said: "Since we have such a long ride home we would be willing to call the game over at halftime!" Eastern was leading 7-0. However, the Maroons played terrific ball in the second half to register two more touchdowns.

Speaking of Marshall brings to light the fact that the Thundering Herd was slated to defeat "Big E" by a margin of 18 points. Wonder how those prognosticating authorities feel now.

The victory over the West Virginians was a special gift from the varsity to backfield coach Glenn Presnell. With continued shouts of "let's win this one for Presnell" the Maroon and White won an important tilt for the popular backfield mentor in his own backyard. Presnell hails from nearby Ironton, Ohio.

Morehead's coaching staff should be well informed on Eastern's style of play for the Eagles have scouted the Maroons in all three games played to date. Coach Ellis Johnson's crew was present at the Xavier game in Cincinnati, the Eastern Illinois game here and also the Marshall fray in Huntington, W. Va.

Eastern will battle Morehead for the "Old Hawg Rifle" there on October 30!

Indiana Central College has been scheduled to open the basketball season here on November 27. Coach Paul McBrayer's forces soon will begin regular practice sessions for the coming campaign.

The following "items" appeared recently in the Berea "Wallpaper," Berea College publication: "Eastern State's football team was reported hit hard by injuries. Bless their hearts."

In another issue of the same "grill room" of the Student Union school paper the following appeared: "We brushed them (Eastern) right off our (basketball) schedule."

In reply to these two slams, we

BILLY EMMETT, sophomore quarterback from Middlesboro, did a fine job in running the Maroons' attack against Marshall last Saturday night. In addition to carrying the ball for several important gains from scrimmage, he knifed through the center of the Big Green line for Eastern's second TD which broke a 7-7 deadlock in the fourth quarter.

say . . . "Listen bub, the last time our basketball teams met, our second team made quite an impression in trouncing you-all 94-46. Anytime you-all are ready for another shellacking, drop over and we-all will be happy to let you play our scrub team!"

JOKE OF THE WEEK: In the "grill room" of the Student Union Building, the pretty young coed said to him, "Have you seen Boo?" He replied, "Boo who?" She smiled and said, "If you are going to cry about it, forget it!"
