LEADERSHIP PROGRAM UNDERWAY

Students Hold Workshop At Camp Daniel Boone

Students of Eastern are displaying a keen interest in good leadership this year. With the present school year only three weeks old, a large number of Eastern students have already outlined a fine leadership program and participated in a weekend workshop.

The workshop was held at Camp Daniel Boone the weekend of Sept. 29. It lasted from Friday through Sunday.

Headed by Miss Vivian Pelley, a senior from Covington, a group of thirty-two students attended. This group represented all of the classes and clubs of the college.

As a result of this weekend workshop, a central organization may be formed with representatives from all campus organizations. This plan will be placed before the clubs and classes in the near future.

Topics of panel discussions were "Art of Leadership," "Purpose of an Organization of a Club," "Ways and Means of Creating Interest," "Campus Policies and Social Events," "Proper Conduct of a Business Meeting," "Social Calendar and Events," and "Relations of Clubs to One Another, the School and Individual."

Recreation Committee Recreation was planned by Dolores Walker, Louisville, and Douglas Campbell, Bellevue. Mrs. Emma Case, dean of women, was faculty advisor. Dr. Fred Giles, head of the art department, and D. J. Carty, director of extension also accompanied the group to Daniel Boone.

Representatives Listed Following is a list of the organizations represented at this workshop: Alpha Alpha Psi—Sterling Parish, Alpha Psi Omega—Charles Purkey, Association Women Students—Mary Jean Binder, Baptist Student Union—Jamie Griggs, Biology Club—Roy E. McEndre of Caduceus Club—John Blackburn, Canterbury Club—Evelyn Rogers, Collegiate Pentacle—Betty L. Nordheim.

M. C. A.—Claude Bivins, Y. W. C. A.—Evelyn Power, Sophomore Class—Stanley Stanford, Senior Class—Clinton Helton.

Milestone Pictures To Begin Monday

It is the aim of the Milestone staff to have a picture of every student on the campus appear in the Milestone this year. To do this, each student should appear at the Milestone office in the Student Union Building the time and day assigned to have his picture made.

Seniors will have their pictures made first, beginning on Monday. Juniors, sophomores and freshmen will follow in order about three days apart. Notices will be sent to each student, giving time and day of appointment.

Class Officers Selected For '50

By CLYDE WHITE

Class meetings were held at the regular Assembly hour on Wednesday, September 27, for the purpose of selecting the class officers. To lead the most important class, the Seniors of course, will be Clinton Helton of Mt. Vernon. The Juniors chose Joe Rich of Covington to head their undertakings. Stan Stanford of Norwood, Ohio, was chosen by the Sophomores as their president.

The other class officers and committee-heads which were chosen by the members of each class are: Seniors—Doug Campbell of Dayton, Ky., vice-president; Vivian Pelley of Covington, secretary; Bill Ed Coleman of Knoxville, Tenn., treasurer; and Claude Bivins of Louisville, sergeant-at-arms. Juniors—Marilyn Ward of Harlan, vice-president; Mary Lou McManis of Carrollton, secretary; Bill Gordon of Shelbyville, treasurer; Laura Sturdevant of Berwyn, Illinois, Fine Arts & Entertainment; John Morgan of Crab Orchard, Student Union; Mary Jean Binder of Ft. Thomas and Kenneth Norvell of Danville, Library; Norma Brown of Louisville, Public Relations; Elizabeth Park of Richmond and Bill Strong of Hazard, Social; Alicia Ernst of Bradford, Rural Education; George Varden of Paris, Permanent Planning; Sophomores—Paul Brown of Boyd, vice-president; Marilyn Harrison of Covington, secretary; Ramona Fletcher of Ashland, treasurer; Pat Powers of London, Fine Arts & Entertainment; Nancy Curry of Richmond, Permanent Planning; Joe Turpin of Richmond, Public Relations; Barbara Asher of Straight Creek, Rural Education; Julia Ann Johnson of Williamsburg and Bobby Elder of Richmond, Social.

The freshmen have not selected their class officers. At their first meeting, Mr. Tom Samuels, their sponsor, divided the class into five sections. Each section selected its own officers. The class officers will be chosen from this group at their next meeting.

Find out where and when your class is meeting and attend. You may be helpful in many of the undertakings of your class. The Freshman class is holding meetings on the main floor of the Hiram Brock Auditorium. The sophomores are meeting in the Little Theater in the Student Union Building. The sophomore sponsor is Mr. W. L. Keene. The meeting place for the Juniors is Room 20 in the Roark Building and their sponsors are Dr. Cuff and Dr. Herndon. The Seniors, under Dr. Fred Giles, will meet in the upper balcony of the Hiram Brock Auditorium. Most class meetings will be held at that time. Notices will be posted on all bulletin boards giving information on special meetings for the various classes. Look for these notices and be sure you attend.

Enrollment Announced

The number of students enrolled at Eastern for the 1950-51 fall term is 1431, 54 less than that of last year. Of this number approximately 320 of these are veterans. There are 603 women and 828 men. The Freshman class leads the enrollment with 475 members. The Sophomore class has a total of 330, the Juniors have 278, and the Seniors number 270. There are 76 registered as Graduate students. The Training school has an enrollment of about 400.

Extra! Extra!

The PROGRESS, your college newspaper, still has openings in several departments for interested students. Reporters of news, features and special events are needed as well as cartoonists.

The staff meets every Thursday at 4 p. m. in Room 100 of the Student Union Building.

Pentacle Makes Plans For Women

By MARYLN HARRISON

"Prominent Women in Various Fields" is the theme for the programs to be presented during the year by the Collegiate Pentacle, senior women's honorary. To open the year's program Mrs. Mary Barnhill, English professor, and Miss Edith Ford, commerce professor, will talk to the members and their guests about the American Association of University Women on Monday, October 16, at 7 p. m. in the Little Theater. Guests of Collegiate Pentacle on that evening will be women of the senior class and members of the A. A. U. W. Following the program refreshments will be served in Walnut Hall.

During the year members of the honorary will present talks on prominent women in civic affairs, art, music, science, athletics, medicine, education, religion, and business. Some of these talks will be given for women of other campus organizations.

Officers for the year are: Betty Lee Nordheim, president; Vivian Pelley, vice-president; Mary Edmond Burton, secretary; Eleanor McConnell, treasurer; and Eula Lee Bingham, chaplain.

Committees for the year are: program, Betty Jane Hawkins, chairman, Vivian Pelley, Mary Edmond Burton, and Eleanor McConnell; finance, Eleanor McConnell, chairman, Mattie Gardner, and Eula Lee Bingham; social, Billie Smith, chairman, Barbara Stephenson, Betty Griffin, and Jane Wilhoite; scholarship and tapping, Vivian Pelley, chairman, Mattie Gardner, Jane Wilhoite, and Betty Griffin; and publicity, Mary Edmond Burton, chairman, Eula Lee Bingham, Billie Smith, and Barbara Stephenson.

Jesse Stuart Speaks Here

A near capacity audience of approximately 1,500 persons heard Jesse Stuart, Kentucky's favorite poet, speak at Eastern's weekly chapel program Wednesday morning in Hiram Brock Auditorium.

Mr. Stuart addressed this large audience made up of Eastern faculty and students, students from Madison county schools and many local friends, and told of his early school years and college days.

"The destiny of America is in the teacher's hands," he said, referring to the international situation. This famed author and poet also read some of his early works, including some from his book "The Man with the Bull Tongue Plow."

Eastern's New Faculty Members Announced

By CHARLES RICHARDSON

Several new faculty members have joined the Eastern staff. Additions and replacements have been made in several departments.

The following changes have been announced by President W. F. O'Donnell:

Ronald Carley, of Monaca, Pa., will teach piano, replacing Jess Casey who will be on leave to continue graduate work at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y. Mr. Carley is a graduate of Carnegie Institute of Technology and of Indiana University and has had a number of years of teaching experience.

William Tarwater, Jr., of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be the director of the college band and teach instruments. He has the B. S. and master of music degree from Peabody College, Nashville.

George B. Tindall, of Greenville, S. C., will teach in the History department. A graduate of Furman University, Mr. Tindall has the master of arts degree from the University of North Carolina and has completed the requirements for the Ph. D. degree from the University of North Carolina.

William Robert Gaines, of Lexington, Va., will teach general science and physics. A graduate of Washington and Lee University, of which his father is president, Mr. Gaines has the master of arts degree from the University of Virginia, where he has taught for the past three years.

Gerald S. May, of Swains, N. Y., is teaching in the commerce department. He is a graduate of Eastern and received his master's degree from Eastern in June. He has been a graduate assistant for the past two years.

Mrs. Mamie West Scott, superintendent of Estill county schools for a number of years, will direct the Rural Demonstration School. Mrs. Scott is a graduate of Martha Washington College and has the master's degree from the University of Kentucky.

Paul Duncan, of Ambridge, Pa., is Director of Athletic Publicity for the college. He received his bachelor's degree from Eastern in July and has been serving in a similar capacity for the past two years. Mr. Duncan will also serve as faculty advisor to the PROGRESS. In addition to attending Eastern, he studied at Columbia University in New York City.

Samuel French Morse, whose home is in Bangor, Maine, received the bachelor's degree from Dartmouth College, the master's degree from Harvard University, and has completed the requirements for the Ph. D. degree from Boston University. He has also studied at Oxford University in England and taught at Cummington School of Arts at Harvard. He will teach in the English Department.

Views Of Eastern

(The following article was written by Kate Clarke, a student who has just returned to the campus after a long absence.)

We are all pat to take things pretty much for granted over a period of time, so probably a newcomer could do a better job of extolling the beauties and charms of Eastern than I am able to do. At any rate it took a stranger to bring one of its many attractions to my attention. I was a Junior in High School the night I attended a Chamber of Commerce dinner and heard the after-dinner speaker—a man from the east—tell the people of Richmond how fortunate they were to have so many holly trees—and truly remarkable ones at that—on the campus of our college.

And then there's our Greek Theatre. During the summer it's used for concerts by the high school students who meet here as members of the Stephen Collins Foster Music Camp. During the spring and fall it is just one of the great open spaces on the campus. Some colleges are feviving the use of their outdoor theatres and I am living for the day when some enterprising group of Theatians at Eastern comes up with the same idea.

The huge open air theatres in ancient Greece where the tragedies of Aeschylus, Sophocles and Euripides were shown, were built outside the towns in natural rocky basins not unlike that of ours. The centre of the theatre was a circular orchestra two-thirds of which was surrounded by tiers of seats cut out of solid rock. Behind the orchestra on a kind of platform stood the stage built of stone and it formed a permanent background to the play. They used the open-air theatre as a means of educating the people. The Greek poets and musical composers competed for the honor of writing the plays and the actors wore masks and were put through difficult tests to show their ability to register sorrow, anger, joy, amusement and love by the different tones of voice. Some of those ancient Greek theatres held as many as thirty thousand spectators and often the performances lasted all day.

The Student Union building was built while I was in grade school and of course everyone knows it is considered the most beautiful building of its kind in the south. No visitor leaves Richmond without first making the grand tour of it. During my high-school days, I, along with several others, used to go to the grill nearly every day and nearly every day would be run back to the high-school building with the principal at our heels shouting something to the effect that we should remember the student union was for college students only.

I believe a section of the Men's Dormitory was built during my early days up here, too. And speaking of the Men's Dormitory—in case any of you freshmen are contemplating a life of crime I'd advise you to first consult with some of the upper classmen. There are a few who are in a position to tell you that Mr. Keith, the dean of men, who lives in the building, was not only a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford but was apparently also a member of Scotland Yard. So before you decide to lower the bomb on some unsuspecting professor by hitting him on the head with a bottle as he passes under your window, you should know that the Dean will probably have you in handcuffs before the bump rises on the prof's injured dome. I understand he does it mathematically, don't ask me to explain it. I'm a Sam Spade man myself.

Campus Vacuum Cleaner

By ARGUS

Slogan: We Pick Up All The Dirt
What with trying to make a good impression on my Professors and taking on a little nourishment now and then at the grille, I'm afraid I've missed out on a lot of personal goings-on around here, but don't start congratulating yourself, Argus, the Campus Walter Winchell will catch up with you.

Alex Stevens must think age has crept up on all the Eastern co-eds because he's wandered over to the high school building and is now helping some sweet young thing get her algebra.

I saw Bob Robertson talking to Charlie "The Rhythm Boy" the other day—could they have been discussing sports?

Flash! New fashion note for men! Pierced ears. If any of you boys are interested ask Gene Wells. By the way, Carolyn Camp would be glad to perform the operation for you.

The Argus is in a quarter on a pair of gloves for Doris Coy—that sporty engagement ring she's flashing is blinding all of us. Congratulations Raymond.

Dopey Smith is really keeping a weather eye on his future wife, Betty Webb, but it looks like he'd release her long enough to twirl the baton with the band at the football games.

And now a plaintive appeal to Carl Eagle. Since this is your last year at Olde Eastern how about giving the gals a break? Hmm?

Jim Baechtold and Joe Harper have been making a big play for a certain redhead from Whitesburg. Take it easy fellows, basketball season hasn't started yet.

Seems like an awful lot of girls have taken a sudden interest in physics this year—well, like I've always said, the teacher makes the class.

I certainly hope Dick "Whip" Wilson wasn't using a pay telephone the day he called a certain freshman girl ten times.

If Bill Ed Coleman would open his eyes and take a good look around, he might find some very pleasant company.

You didn't have to ask them to retouch your identification picture, Ben. We all think Ben Turpin is pretty, don't we girls?

Isn't it strange how thirsty Mary Claire Haynie and Joyce Goodrich become for a coke when two well known athletes take their stance on the steps by the grille?

Girls! Are you lonesome? Do you want a boy friend? If so, get in touch with Shirley LaFavers, Frances Rogers, Bonnie Clark, Carolyn Camp, Janey McCord, Fran Carroll, or Ginny Doyle, because they know "this boy who's just dying to meet you."

And in closing let us have a moment of silent prayer for our Tonk enthusiasts. Boys, what will become of you,

NEW ARRIVALS—These three fast-stepping majorettes are new arrivals from Ashland and have already made many friends here. Left to right are: Jennie Lee Chattin, Jollne Ridenour and Betty Ann Webb. Future issues of the Progress will carry pictures of the entire corps of majorettes heading the fine Maroon band. (Photo by Wallace)

P. S. In case any of you would like to give the Argus the low-down on some of the inmates—or, heaven forbid—demand a retraction of anything I've said, just address your communication to me, the Argus, and slide it under the door of Room 100 in the Student Union.

CKEA Meet Held Here

The 21st annual meeting of the Central Kentucky Educational Association, composed of 22 counties, was held at Eastern State College last Friday with 1,500 educators attending.

Elected president for the coming year was Miss Nell Davis, Stanford. She succeeds George Yates, superintendent of the Versailles City schools.

Ronald Conley, principal of Elkhorn School in Franklin County, was named vice-president; R. F. Flege, superintendent of Irvine City schools, was chosen secretary-treasurer, and Roy True, superintendent of Franklin County schools, was elected a director of the Kentucky Education Association.

Found 'Look of Despair'

The outgoing president addressed the morning session, describing conditions in postwar Europe which he recently visited. Yates said, "The food shortage exists only in Germany, where people wore old clothing and a look of despair on their faces."

The educator said, however, that an educational reformation was in progress and making some headway in Germany.

Commenting on socialized medicine in England, the speaker said it generally was approved by the people who wouldn't want to go back to the old private-practice system.

A panel discussion on "Our Schools' Public Relations" also was held this morning.

Speaking at the afternoon session of the one-day event was the Kentucky author, Jesse Stuart of Greenup county.

Eastern Host To Junior Academy

The sponsor-delegate conference of the Kentucky Junior Academy of Science was held at Eastern Saturday with the Model High Science Club and Dr. Anna A. Schnieb as hosts. Janet Harkleroad, Imogene Adams, and Carolyn Fawkes, members of the Model Science Club, assisted by the students of the adolescent psychology class had charge of the arrangements.

The installation of the state officers of the Junior Academy was held in the Hiram Brock Auditorium with the sponsors and the delegates participating. Preceding and during the installation a program of organ music was played by Miss Joy Lee, organist of the First Methodist Church.

Problems concerning the improvement of the work of academy were discussed and a blue-print of the year's activities was made. Club expansion and an increased number of articles for the Junior Science bulletin were selected as the objectives for the year. It was voted to continue The Kentucky Science Scholarship Search, to extend the privilege to all high school seniors, to renew the affiliation with The Kentucky Ornithological Society, and to accept the invitation of Morehead State College for the annual convention which is to be held April 21-22, 1951. Miss Jo Nell Harrod, college freshman of Frankfort and one of the winners of the science scholarship test, discussed the advantages of The scholarship test and urged the Junior Academy to continue awarding the scholarship.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session, Miss Tersita Bunag, and Miss Eva Duka, Eastern students from the Philippines, spoke briefly concerning native dress and home life. After the conference adjourned, apples and popcorn were served "on the wing." The sponsors were guests of Dr. Schnieb at a luncheon served in the blue room of The Student Union building. Seventy-two delegates and sponsors attended the conference.

Bandology

By JACK SNYDER
Say, don't all of you think the band looks pretty sharp thus far? Yes sir, this year's band is made up of students ranging from freshmen through seniors, from all over Kentucky and many "foreign" states.

Bill Tarwater, our director, heads the band roster. He hails from Tennessee. Other new and old band members come from North Carolina, Georgia, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York (Brooklyn, that is).

The band has already appeared at two football games and was well received for the colorful halftime performances. Its members are now looking forward with anticipation to going to either Morehead or Western. . . or both.

Yep, here comes the band, and it is your band as well as ours. How about displaying a little of that long dormant "big Maroon enthusiasm?" The football team needs a lot more of it and we could use a little too.

Insomni-Aces

Many famous men of history have suffered from insomnia. These include Aristotle, Napoleon, Frederick the Great, Virgil, Balzac, and Shakespeare. Cosmopolitan magazine says that it was Aristotle who regarded sleep as an evil, and its opposite, wakefulness, as a good.

Kyma Club Plans Parade

By PAT TERT
The KYMA Club will again sponsor the Homecoming Parade, one of the biggest events Eastern has.

The Nov. 18, Homecoming parade will start promptly at 10:30 a. m. and will feature colorful floats presented by the different organizations of the campus. Most floats will carry their candidates for the Queen. The Queen will be crowned just before the afternoon football game begins. Eastern's foe for that big day is Bowling Green University of Ohio.

The KYMA Club is to be congratulated for the fine job done last year on the parade. The KYMA president this year is Bill Horn. Elizabeth Parks is the vice-president and Betty Jo Williams is the secretary. Other officers are: Frances Stanley, treasurer, and trout managers Bill Strong and Jack Johnson.

Future issues of the PROGRESS will contain additional information on homecoming plans.

Arts Club Meets

By BILL HOSKINS
On Saturday, Sept. 28, the National Honorary Art Fraternity Alpha Alpha Psi of Kappa Pi held its first meeting in the Arts Building.

Sterling Parist, president of the organization, announced, "Plans will be made for the initiation of new members into the fraternity." Those who are interested in pledging the organization must be a second semester freshman or be an upper classman. They should have an art major or minor with grades not below a B in that subject.

Parish requests that those interested see Dr. Giles, sponsor of the organization. Further plans were made by the 14 members present for sponsoring a movie and having a creative right thus the meeting adjourned with expectations of the next meeting.

Industrial Arts Officers Named

An election of officers was held at the first meeting of the Industrial Arts Club on Sept. 27 in the Student Union Building.

Those elected are: Reed Elliott, president; Bill Tudor, vice president; Joe White, Secretary and Bobby Keen, treasurer.

Future meetings will be held on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month. Mr. Ralph Whalin is the faculty sponsor of the club.

Another Boy

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ley of Chauncey, Ohio, now have two little boys. The youngest, Robert Edward, was born on Oct. 3. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ley are graduates of Eastern. Congratulations!

Alumni Plans Winter Meet

Some members of the Executive Committee thought that the three annual meetings which the Alumni Association promotes—Homecoming, K. E. A. Breakfast, and Alumni Day at the Commencement Season—left too much time between the first two programs. They proposed an Alumni Basketball Game in mid-winter.

The choice was the home game with Western—of course. The date is February 3, 1951. The following plan has been worked out with the Athletic Department.

(1) Alumni who want Season Basketball tickets should order them direct from the Athletic Office at once. The cost of season tickets is $12.00 for 10 home games. The Athletic Office hopes to sell all seats for the entire season.

(2) Alumni who want tickets to the Western game only should send their orders, accompanied by check or money order, to the Alumni Office on or before the Homecoming date of November 18. If there are any single game tickets left after the sale of the season books, the Alumni Office will be given first choice of the seats for the Western game and will buy the best of these seats and mail yours to you. The cost of these tickets is $1.50 each. The Alumni Office will keep a record of the order in which orders are received and if there are tickets for some, but not for all, orders will be filled from this record. Your money will be refunded if there are no single game admissions available.

(3) Following the game there will be a "Coffee" in Walnut Hall for a Alumni and their guests, honoring the team and coaches.

Kuo Chou Wu Returns To China

Friends at Eastern have had messages from Kuo Chow Wu that he has arrived home in his native China. Mr. Wu, who came to Eastern as an exchange student in 1938, was a graduate student here for the past two years. He received the M. A. degree in 1949 and continued his studies the next year.

Mr. Wu is a most loyal and appreciative alumnus. Before leaving, he presented the secretary of the Alumni Association with a mounted copy of our Alma Mater translated into the Chinese, done with painstaking care with ink-stone and brushes.

His address is: c/o Hua-sing Hotel, Honkong, Putien, Fukien, China.

Shryock Named Coach

Hugh Shryock of Lawrenceburg has accepted the position as basketball coach at Caneyville, Kentucky, High School. Mr. Shryock has a B. S. degree with a major in physical education from Eastern in the class of 1950. He is a veteran of three years service in the Navy with time in both the Atlantic and Pacific areas.

Behind The Guns

The Pentagon in Washington, D. C. is the world's largest office building. It contains 17 1/2 miles of corridors, 2,000 clocks, 650 water fountains and 200 rest rooms. Ten thousand typewriters chatter away during daytime office hours and it takes a night clean-up squad of 450 people to keep the buildin gship-shape. According to Cosmopolitan magazine, the Pentagon is also the subject of thousands of jokes—about visitors who have lost their way in it.

"Years Ago" First Play

By BILL HOSKINS

The director of the theatrical productions on the campus, Mr. Keith Brooks, has announced his plans for his first production, "Years Ago" by Ruth Gordon.

This is a story of "Me" who is Ruth Gordon Jones, later to become famous as Ruth Gordon. Me is a young girl living with her retired sea-captain father, Clinton Jones, and her hard working mother, Annie Jones.

The plot of the story reveals the dreams of Me, played by Laura Ellis. Me wants to become an actress but is temporarily stopped by "My Father," Joe Rich, and "My mother" Leonore Noll. They think the acting business is a process of degradation and so how "Me" proves to them it isn't remains interesting and something to see.

Among the most important characters are; Clinton Jones-Joseph Rich, Annie Jones-Leonore Noll, Ruth Gordon Jones-Laura Ellis. Others in the cast are Dolores Walker, Ann Leveridge, Keith Wiggins, Bruce Bates, James Damonto, and Vivian Pelley.

Fish Brainfood?

Scientists at Johns Hopkins University recently investigated the notion that fish is a good brain food. Starting with the knowledge that fish is rich in phosphorus, they injected radioactive phosphorus into the body and traced it to the nervous system. Cosmopolitan magazine reports their findings that nerve tissue uses extra phosphorus when it has been damaged and is being repaired.

Injured Maroons Face Tech, Erskine

Varsity In Slow Start, Faces A Rough Road

Coach Tom Samuels' injury riddled Maroons, downed by Murray 19-0 last week, face another OVC toughie here Saturday afternoon in Tennessee Tech. The following week, the Maroon and White gridders trek to Greenwood, S. C., to face a rugged Erskine College eleven.

The Tennessee Tech game, the first afternoon tilt to be held here in several years, is scheduled to begin at 2:00 P. M.

BOW TO MURRAY 19-0

By JEROME YOUNG

The Eastern Maroons lost their first OVC football tilt to Murray's Thoroughbreds 19-0 at Hanger Stadium last Friday night.

The Maroons drove from their twelve yard line to the forty-six in the opening moments of the game. Then they had to kick. Murray took over on their own thirty and moved to the thirty-five by virtue of a five yard offside penalty against the Maroons. Murray punched to the Eastern twenty-one on a series of ground plays. Gene McDonald, 'Bred quarterback, passed to Bill Furgerson in the end zone for a touchdown. The conversion was good and Murray led 7-0.

This was the first time that a Murray eleven had scored on Eastern since Fred Faurot took over the Thoroughbreds three years ago.

Murray struck back again in the second quarter with a sixty-one yard drive. McDonald climaxed this drive with a quarterback sneak from the three. The kick was wide and Murray led 13-0 at the half.

In the second half Eastern came back with renewed vigor. The Maroons pushed to the Murray nine only to have a pass intercepted on the one. Eastern drove to the nine again after pouncing on a Murray fumble on the thirty-one but lost the ball on downs to end their last scoring threat.

With less than a minute to go the 'Breds tallied again. McDonald passed into the end zone from the ten. The kick was wide and Murray won 19-0.

MAROONS MAUL MARSHALL 34-0

The varsity chalked up its first OVC win at Marshall two weeks ago by whipping the Thundering Herd 34-0.

The invading Maroons romped to a 27-0 halftime lead and then coasted to a victory while a heavy fog blanketed the gridiron in the fourth quarter.

The fog was so heavy that it was actually impossible to recognize the players from the stands. Seven thousand fans sat bewildered in Fairfield Stadium. The fog appeared like a huge blast of steam throughout the final 15 minutes of play.

Eastern Opens Early

With five minutes left in the game, and Eastern leading 27-0, Maroon Quarterback Carl Genito gambled on a pass in this fog and hit George Pavlovich with a 3-yard heave. Pavlovich romped 17 yards untouched to give the Maroons their final margin of 34. Eastern started the ball game with a blast of power. They scored the first two times they had the ball.

After returning the opening kickoff to their own 43, the Maroons moved to the Marshall 35 when Brian Gibbs took a long pass from Chuck Hertzler. Hertzler was injured on the next play, attempting a line buck, and had to be carried from the field.

Two plays later, Billy Emmett moved Eastern to the Marshall 15 with a pass to Nick Tsangeos. Gibbs then took a pass from Tsangeos to give Eastern its first score. Semak Goes Over Minutes later the Maroons recovered a Marshall fumble on the Herd's 23 and marched to their second score with Nick Semak bucking over from the one.

In the closing minutes of the first quarter, Semak broke loose and dashed 65 yards for another Eastern touchdown.

Another pass scored for the Maroons near the end of the first half when Genito pitched a 3-yard pass to Howard Gracey in the end zone. At that point Eastern led 27-0.

Steve Pulawski kicked four of five extra points for the conquering Maroons.

HEIDELBERG 15, MAROONS 6

By JEROME YOUNG

Eastern dropped its first gridiron tilt of the current season to the Heidelberg Student Princes of Tiffin, Ohio by a count of 15-6 here on Sept. 22.

The Maroons tallied their lone touchdown early in the second quarter as Harry Sweesy climaxed a sixty-seven yard drive by plunging over from the two yard-line. Steve Pulawski's conversion try was wide. Minutes later Heidelberg tackled Ray Pelfrey behind Eastern's goal-line for a safety and two points. Eastern led 6-2 at halftime.

Heidelberg capitalized on two blocked kicks to score two times in the second half. Wayne Riley, Heidelberg guard, blocked an Eastern punt and galloped ten yards for a T. D. The extra point try was no good. In the fourth frame Heidelberg gained possession of the ball on Eastern's 24 yard line after blocking another Maroon kick. Joe Malsmur, quarterback, ran over for another Heidelberg touchdown. The try for extra point was good and the Student Princes led 15-6.

Eastern gained nine first downs. Heidelberg had six. The Maroons outrushed their opponents in the game 135 yds. - 80 yds. The Maroons flung thirteen passes and completed two and one was intercepted. Heidelberg completed four out of fourteen passes and had four captured. Eastern was penalized forty-yards, which Heidelberg was penalized thirty-five yards. Eastern recovered two of their four fumbles and Heidelberg regained their only fumble.

Basketball Tryouts Are Announced

Basketball tryouts open to all male members of the student body will be held Monday evening, Oct. 16 in the Weaver Health Building gym commencing at 7 p. m. Coach Paul McBrayer has announced that the tryouts are open to all college men interested. Candidates should bring their own gym shoes and trunks.

Sports Report

By TOMMY SMITH

(Notes on the Murray game).

Eastern's football team suffered a loss of 19 to 0 at the hands of Murray State College, but the Eastern State College Band scored a win in the hearts of every student at Eastern. The Eastern Band came on the football field last Friday night to win a game for themselves, which made every person attending the game sit up and take notice. The three majorettes from Ashland, put on a show that will never be forgotten at Eastern.

Just before the game started last Friday night, the band marched on the field to do a few formations. Most of the people present watched this group, then settled back to watch the game. At the end of the first half, as you all know, people felt the sting of Murray, and lack of cheering from fans, but just then the band marched on-the field, led by Fred Kelly and the majorettes.

The lights went out and everyone witnessed a performance to the fighting forces of Korea. The formations were for the Army, Navy, Air Corps, and the Marines. I could go on for ever telling how beautiful it was, but words could not express its beauty and meaning. The band did a wonderful job and they should be congratulated. Eastern lost the game, the crowd didn't support the cheerleaders, but the band did more than their share. Next time, I know the band will do a good job, but let's support the cheerleaders, back the team, make a good showing win or lose.

Swimming Hours

The following "plunge periods" have been announced by Mr. Charles T. Hughes, Director of Athletics. Male students will be permitted in the college pool from 3 to 5 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and from 4 to 5 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursday. College girls will have the pool from 7 to 9 p. m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Cage Squad Begins Drills

By TOMMY SMITH

The 1950-51 season for the Eastern basketball team started out of doors last week with exercises of running, calisthenics, and simple fundamentals of basketball. Coach Paul McBrayer wants his boys in good physical shape before practice starts in the gym. From past seasons records you know that Eastern will always be tops in fighting spirit, sportsmanship, and with a coach like McBrayer, tops in basketball.

After two weeks of the rugged out of door life the basketballers take to the hardwood to practice for such openers as: Indiana Central, December 1; Brigham Young, December 7; and Geneva College, December 9.

All of the games for 1950-51 will be tough, but with everyone backing the team, they will be on top in every department. Let's back them win or lose, have a season Eastern will never forget. Good Luck boys, it's Eastern All The Way.

WRA Seeks New Members

By SHIRLEY SPIRES

W. R. A., (Women's Recreational Association) is now open for new members. If you meet the eligibility requirements; that is, if your gender is female; here is the scoop. Just pick a day—any day—and come over to the hockey field between four p. m. and five. There you will find other girls engaged in playing hockey—oops—hockey, or, if it should be raining, a condition practically obsolete at Eastern, there will be volleyball in the little gym.

Although many other sports are offered later, hockey season is now in "full swing", so you too can go down swinging. An intersquad game, Friday, September 29, started the ball rolling, (which way, who remembers?) and immediately after, all old and new members went on a picnic. New members received their initiation into the club.
