Eastern adds twelve new faculty members.

Faculty Members Begin Duties

Fourteen new faculty members began their duties at Eastern with the opening of the 1958 fall semester. Even though it is one of the largest numbers of new faculty personnel to join the staff of the institution, it falls slightly short of the number last year, which was 18.

Miss Joan Dawson of Richmond, Kentucky has joined the commerce department. Miss Dawson received her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Eastern. She taught one year in Ohio and held a fellowship at Eastern last year. Miss Dawson resides on Barnes Mill Road.

Miss Janet Hibbard, of Cumberland, Ky. also of the commerce department received both her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Eastern. Miss Hibbard held a teaching fellowship at Eastern in 1957-58. She lives at 439 Breck Avenue.

Mr. Eugene Egnew, Maysville, also of the commerce department received his Bachelor's degree from Eastern. For the past year he has been working for a commercial firm in Maysville.

Dr. Aughtum S. Howard of the mathematics department is a graduate of Georgetown College and received both the Master's and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Kentucky. She has been professor of mathematics and physics at Kentucky Wesleyan College for a number of years. Her husband is connected with the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky. The Howards live at 119 Longview Drive.

Mrs. Inez B. Livingston, a graduate of the University of Kentucky and Ohio State University, joined the home economics department and became director of the college's Home Management House on campus. She comes to Eastern from the faculty of Union College.

Mrs. Malinda Parrish Tomaro of Madisonville, Ky. is a new member of the faculty in the department of health and physical education. Mrs. Tomaro is a graduate of Stephens College and of Eastern. Mr. and Mrs. Tomaro are residing in the Gibson Apartments on Lancaster Road.

Miss Pickhardt of Rochester, Minnesota, is a new member of the faculty in the art department. She is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and a former teacher in that state. She taught this summer at Eastern.

Mr. Walter R. Gattis, Jr., of the commerce department has the Bachelor's degree from Duke University and the Master of Arts degree from the University of Kentucky. He has done additional graduate work at the University of Illinois. He is a native of Durham, North Carolina and was on the faculty at Centre College, Danville, Ky. He has served as Budget Analyst in Ky. and Ohio. He is married and the father of two daughters. Mr. and Mrs.

Gattis live at 219 Langford Court. Mrs. Mary C. Baldwin has joined the English department. She has been teaching in the Mt. Vernon, Ohio schools. She was formerly a member of the faculty in the English Department of the Richmond City Schools. Mrs. Baldwin is a graduate of Eastern and of the University of Kentucky. Mrs. Baldwin resides in the Dunn Apartments on Lancaster Avenue.

Dr. Byno R. Rhodes of the English Department is a graduate of Vanderbilt University where he received the Bachelor's, Master's and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. For several years he has been teaching at Memorial University. Dr. and Mrs. Rhodes have four children and reside in the B. Homes, 30 North Street.

Mr. Frank Stokes also of the English Department has the Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Illinois. He has also studied at the University of Southern California. Mr. and Mrs. Stokes and their three children reside at 3 Cornwell Drive.

Miss Ruby Ball, of the art department, is a graduate of Berea College and of the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the art department at Virginia Intermont Schools. Miss Ball lives at 308 Westover Avenue.

Miss Janet Breeze of Covington is teaching the third grade in the Training School. Miss Breeze is a graduate of Eastern and for the past year has been teaching in Ohio. She resides at 439 Breck Avenue.

Miss Bettie McAdams is teaching the fourth grade in the Training School. She has been employed in the Louisville Public Schools. She is a graduate of the University of Louisville and is a graduate student at the University of Indiana. Miss McAdams resides at 204 Sunset Avenue.

KYMA Sells Bumper Stickers

In order to support their many activities the KYMA Club is now selling bumper stickers in the grill. They sell for fifty cents each. At this time, the KYMA Club is one of the busiest clubs on campus. KYMA stands for Kentucky Maroons. The most important function of the club is the extensive preparations on homecoming.

This year, the members of this club chose as their leader Jim Day. Those interested in supporting their school by supporting the KYMA Club can contact Jim at 116 Keith Hall.

ATTENTION

In the past years, the Richmond Board of Trade set aside a specified amount of money for floats in the homecoming parade. The money was equally divided among the various clubs which entered a float in the parade.

Jim Day, president of the KYMA Club, announced it is now necessary for each club to select their own sponsor. It enables the clubs to acquire more money through an individual business establishment. More information can be gained October 9, 1958, Thursday—6:00 p. m.—KYMA Room.

Warren To Head Milestone Staff

Della Ann Warren, a senior from Louisville, Kentucky, has been chosen by President O'Donnell and the Board of Trustees as editor of the Milestone.

Della worked two years on the Eastern Progress, serving as editor for one semester.

She has been on the executive board of her Sophomore Class, a member of the Little Theater group, Student Council, Owens, Collegiate Pentacle and she has sung in the Messiah.

Della hopes to use some unusual ideas in presenting more human interest in this year's Milestone. She asks that anyone with original ideas on themes, features or pictures will attend the Milestone meetings.

They hope to publish the Milestone early in May. Pictures are being taken in the Grill for Freshman and Sophomores and at Stanifer Studios for upperclassman.

Busy Easternites Prepare For Festive Homecoming

As another year rolls around, with another football season in progress, Eastern's students begin looking toward Homecoming with great anticipation.

Wherever you are—in the grill, waiting for a class to begin, or just sitting in the dorm—the topics of conversation sooner or later turns to Homecoming. Within a few short days, the air will be permeated with the aura of excitement and activity.

Preparations are already underway to make this year's Homecoming a bigger and better one than ever before. President of KYMA Club, Jim Day, announced at the meeting of club presidents on Thursday, September 25, that a number of changes had been made in the procedures this year. In order to assure a greater number of floats for the parade, it was decided that each club sponsoring a candidate for queen must enter a float in the parade. Convertible entries will not be accepted. The candidate for queen must appear on the float in formal dress. The only clubs for which it was not compulsory to enter a float for their queen candidates as they are honorary organizations, were the student council, Owens, Collegiate Pentacle and the club in charge of Homecoming, KYMA Club.

Since only a few organizations have selected their candidates for queen as the Progress goes to press, it is impossible at this time to list the names of candidates and the club sponsoring each.

Homecoming festivities will begin with the dance on October 17, at 9:00 p. m. Music will be provided by the school orchestra under the direction of Larry Kinser. The judging of queen candidates will start at 10:00 p. m.

Candidates will be judged on (1.) poise and personality, (2.) beauty, face and figure, (3.) posture and grace, and (4.) general appearance. The queen will be crowned during the half-time ceremonies of the game by President W. F. O'Donnell. A trophy will be presented to the queen, compliments of Kessler's Jewelry.

The parade will begin at 10:00 a. m. on Saturday, October 18, proceed down Lancaster Avenue and Main Street and return to the campus through Vet's Village. Floats are to be entered in two divisions. Division one floats will be judged on beauty, design and appropriateness; division two, on originality, cleverness, and appropriateness. A cash prize of $15 will be awarded the winning float in each division.

Other participants in the parade will be Eastern's band, the Marching Maroons and several high school bands.

The game will begin at 2:00 p. m. on Saturday afternoon where the Maroons play host to the East Tennessee Buccaneers. A pep rally for the game will be held in Hanger Stadium on Thursday night, October 16, at 6:30 p. m.

KYMA officers in charge of Homecoming are: president, Jim Day; vice president, Stan Bradbury; secretary, Pat Jones; and treasurer, Nancy Hammons.

Campus Gets Improvements

The major improvement on Eastern's campus during the summer was the complete remodeling and renovation of the north wing of Burnam Hall. Work included new floors and ceilings, new bathrooms, new wiring and lighting, and a beautiful paint job for the entire section. The old furniture which had been used for many years was replaced by new furniture. This section of Burnam is now probably the most attractive unit on the campus.

College authorities are planning to redecorate and refinish all of Burnam Hall within the next twelve months.

The work of installing a new boiler and the laying of new underground steam mains was completed, finally, during the summer. No longer should we see clouds of steam escaping from broken mains all over the campus. Some of the old mains had been in use for fifty years. The new boiler has sufficient capacity to provide heat for all the buildings on the campus. The old boilers will be used as standbys to take care of the load temporarily when and if it is necessary to take the new boiler off the line for a few hours.

The shrubbery on the campus has been pruned and all wild growth has been removed. While much of the shrubbery looks bare now because of the extensive pruning, shrubs should be really beautiful next spring.

A new parking lot is being built in front of O'Donnell Hall and should be ready for use within three weeks. It is hoped that an additional contract will be let to expand this parking lot to accommodate 200 more cars. This will require extensive excavation and fill, with much of the excavation being in solid rock. The fill in the middle section of the proposed parking lot will be approximately eleven feet deep, but if this project can be carried to completion it will greatly improve the appearance of the new dormitory and will also provide a badly needed parking area.

Space formerly used by the Music Department in the Administration Building is being remodeled and redecorated. By rearranging the division of the walls, three good classrooms will take the place of the two classrooms. Asphalt tile has been laid on the floor of the large room in the basement of the Music Building. The walls have been painted and heat and lighting fixtures have been installed, making it a very attractive classroom. The room has been equipped with new furniture for use by the Art Department.

With all these improvements the Eastern students will have a campus with which they can point with pride.

Columbus Boy Choir Opens Concert Season

The Richmond Community Concert Association opened the season with a presentation of the Columbus Boy Choir, in Hiram Brock Auditorium, Eastern Kentucky State College, on Monday night.

The Boy Choir, making its second appearance in Richmond, by special request, fulfilled every expectation of the audience. They presented a most difficult program, ranging from the polyphonic music of the service of the early Latin Church, to a medley of tunes from a number of musical shows by Cole Porter. They sang with ease and assurance, and, at no time did their voices seem forced, to get a big effect.

The high point of the evening was the performance of the one-act Christmas opera, Amahl and the Night Visitors, composed by Gian-Carlo Menotti, as a commission for a New York television show in 1951. The role of Amahl was beautifully sung by Cyrus Hall.

Mr. Howard Colyer, president of the association, announced the next concert, on November 20, to be given by the Medley Duo Pianists.—Jane Campbell.

APPRECIATION OF JOE E. BOWLES, JR.

By Bill Chenault (Sports Editor)

Shelby Sentinel

Thur., Aug. 28, 1958

I have written many times about Joe Bowles. It was always about his athletic feats on football fields and athletic courts. I feel compelled now to write about him again, not so much because of his athletic skills but because I later knew Joe as a fine boy, as well.

Yet the recognition that he had never affected him. To himself Joe was never a star but just another one of the team. He preferred that the group and not the individual should get the credit. This attitude drew to him a host of devoted followers that idolized him. This adoration is seldom found for many people. Joe's shyness made him a hard person to know unless a person was unusually close to him, but he was the type whose smile made you like him. There was something attractive about his quiet manner that I will remember.

It is much easier to write about the glorious moments in a person's life than to record the sorrow. Sometimes a person makes an impression that deserves to be remembered. Joe Bowles was that sort of youth.

Overcrowded?

In the past 10 years Eastern's enrollment has increased from 1400 to 2800. The growth of our facilities has not kept pace with the growth of our student body. Our classrooms are crammed to capacity, our grille is a daily riot, our cafeteria line frequently stretches over 6 flights of stairs, our dorms are bursting at the seams, and our rec. room is now aptly titled "the wreck room". Similar things are happening over the nation so we have every reason to believe this phenomenal rate of increase will continue. We are obviously going near ~~to~~ why should we struggle ourselves?

According to Dr. Jagers the generally accepted ratio of students to teachers is about 15 to one. Eastern's student-teacher ratio is 28 to one.

Of course if the state would put up sufficient funds we could lower this ratio, relieve all other overcrowding, and expand to meet our future needs. We are not, however, keeping pace.

Although we have one dorm under construction and are negotiating for two others in 1959, even this will not be enough to meet our needs. There is a common belief that we don't reject any students here at Eastern. Technically this is true. However, as Mr. Mattox stated, "In my opinion, if we had had suitable dorm space we could have had at least 200 more students here this year." The dorms were full and these 200 students were not able to find living accommodations in Richmond. So although we have technically rejected no one, we have effectively turned away more than 20% of the freshmen applicants. The dorm that is now under construction will not be used to house these extra applicants; it will be used to relieve the hopeless overcrowding in the other boys' dorms. And even if we do get two new dorms in 1959, we'll still have to turn down applicants or else continue the present overcrowding in the girls' dorms.

There are two commonly advocated solutions to this rejection problem. The first which is used by the University of Kentucky, is to accept all freshman applicants and then flunk out large numbers (frequently half) by the end of their first year. This is a merciless system. It wastes a year of the student's time and hundreds of dollars of his money. It also wastes the space it takes to house and teach him for that year. Finally it gives large numbers of our citizens a feeling of failure.

The second method is to have competitive entrance examinations. By this method people who make below a certain mark on the test simply aren't allowed

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Cheers Instead of Jeers

It seems as though there are a lot of people who do a school, instructors, and classmates, but when you ask them what they dislike, they are seized by an attack of acute laryngitis that is unknown to medical science. Well, I have not been stricken by this disease yet, so I'll attempt to discuss some of the nice things at Eastern.

The geographic location of the college is ideal; it is centrally located so that few of the students are more than 125 miles from home. Richmond is strictly a college town—which is most desirable—yet the students are only 25 minutes from the many diversions offered by Lexington.

There is a good balance in the number of representatives from each sex. Kentucky has long been famous for beautiful horses and fast women. Oops! I mean, Kentucky has long been famous for beautiful women and fast horses. I haven't seen too many of those horses in the classroom, but I have observed many lovely women. Men, the next time you see that orange growing in the orchard of beauty, pluck her—she's been looking for a Saturday night companion also. As for the coeds' point of view, I can tell you girls that I have been a member of the malesex for almost twenty years now, and I think we are the second greatest sex on the earth.

We are fortunate to have an administration that allows full use of the facilities of the gymnasium six days a week. Next time you have nothing to do, go to the Weaver Health Building and try something like boxing or weight lifting. You can make many friends there.

Yes, registration is quite necto register. This seems cruel at first, but actually it is more merciful to all concerned from the standpoint of time, money and space. Testing experts have now devised batteries of tests which can accurately predict whether or not a person can do college work. Some state college systems, including New York and California, are now using these tests.

There is a common belief on campus that there is some Kentucky Law against state colleges turning down students. This is untrue. Dr. Jagers stated, "It (accepting all students who wish to attend a state college) is a common practice, but as far as I know there is no law to this effect." In other words, if we set up a selective system it would be defying custom not law.

This year 200 students were effectively rejected because we didn't have sufficient housing facilities. These were average students. They included both bright and dull. If we are going to turn away 20% of the freshman class, wouldn't it make more sense to turn away the bottom 20%? Isn't the first come, first served basis of selecting those who will be allowed to go to school a silly and ineffective way to choose students? Wouldn't test scores be a better criteria for eliminating the 20% than promptness? And remember that as the years go by we're going to turn away more and more. We're obviously going to have to do something about this situation in the very near future. In the meantime, why should we struggle ourselves?

Were You There?

A football game is played on two fields. One in green with white stripes where twenty-two men are engaged in a contest requiring strength, speed and quick-thinking. The other is in the stands where a larger group of people are engaged in talking, drinking and greeting each other while watching the game on the first field.

It is often stated that this second group lacks "school spirit." Before this statement can be accepted, there are a few things to be realized. First, the college student of today is no longer the gay, completely care-free person he once was. This is a serious world we live in with grave problems. The college student knows of these problems and is learning to think of them seriously.

Second, the college student of today is more mature. Events happen so fast today that the student must mature quickly in order to keep up with the world. Many students assume adult responsibilities before and during college.

Third, the college student sets his own style and demonstrative school spirit is no longer the style. The cheering at a ball game is mainly to impress "outsiders" with the school spirit. School spirit today is mainly attendance at games. The very fact that the stands are full can boast the morale of the team because they feel that people care enough to come to see them play.

Do you care enough? Were you at the game this week-end?

of them in less than five minutes).

The next time you feel like complaining about Beckham, McCreary, Miller or Memorial, I suggest that you walk over to O'Donnell and watch the construction of your future home. Also remember that every 24 hours you pay only 36 cents for your room. It takes very little time and effort to make your room more like home. It's surprising what five or six pinups of Brigitte Bardot can do for a ceiling and four walls! The men living in these dorms are fortunate to have a fine man like Quentin Keen as Dean of Men. Dean Keen respects your intelligence and judgement to the point that he sets no curfew. He only requires that you act like a gentleman.

Let's not cry about the cafeteria. The meals are well balanced and delicious. Yes, you can make it an 50 cents a meal—many people before you have done it and are doing it now. The waiting line isn't too bad, is it? Have you ever been in line more than 15 minutes? Neither have I.

Do you intend to make full use of your ID card? There is nothing as stimulating as watching the better physical specimens of Eastern perform. Instead of suitcasing, take in one of the football games—you'll enjoy yourself.

As we all know, nothing can replace a letter from home. Let's applaud the people connected with the service offered by the wayscolleg post office. Two deliveries a day makes for expeditious service—not to mention that smiling face that always greets you behind the window.

Hold on to your hats because this will shock you. There are fifty, yes fifty, different clubs and organizations here at Eastern. This figure does not include the regional clubs representing various cities and counties throughout the state. These clubs always welcome new members—Get in the fun!

The opportunities for student employment are greater than most of us realize. This is not a select group that is chosen to work. Sit down and write a letter to President O'Donnell. If he thinks you deserve a job, I guarantee that you have employment when the spring semester starts. The many scholarships available are often overlooked. The student loan fund offers assistance to many who need it. There are also five different awards given to students for outstanding performance.

All of these things exist to make your stay at Eastern a more memorable one. But the obvious thing that has been overlooked is the fact that we are here to get an education. We have a wonderful faculty that includes an impressive list of degrees. These instructors will attempt to give you knowledge that will prepare you for professional, technical, and industrial careers.

Eastern Merry-Go-Round

By Larry Sampson and Frank Pearce

The placard simply said, "Suitcase used by Ulysses Columbus McNutt." So you ask, "Who is Ulysses Columbus McNutt?"
 We first became acquainted with McNutt on a dull Saturday afternoon last year. Having nothing better to do, we decided to visit the Museum. While gazing at the various objects in the glass cases, Frank happened to drop a penny, and being a very economical (tight) man, was wont to search for it. Now as chance would have it, the penny rolled into a corner, and when he stopped to pick it up, what should come before his eyes than the battered old suitcase.
 Our curiosity aroused, we set out with scientific purpose to investigate its rich history. This is what we found.
 A few years after the turn of the century, McNutt entered Eastern as a freshman. He was a quiet, unobtrusive fellow who had led a somewhat sheltered life. The first few weeks went well; McNutt was sublimely happy. Unlike his previous life, the big city presented many challenges. He had never seen so many pool halls in one town before.
 However, with the passing of time, McNutt began to be bored—the pool halls lost their magic attraction, and he was tired of professors' questions such as, "Mr. McNutt, would you explain to the class the principles of Group Dynamics?" In classes, his mind began to wander. He thought about all sorts of things, but most of all about Abigail, a typical, corn-fed country lass.
 Abigail Swartz was the girl McNutt had met the previous summer. While wandering through the meadows one day, he had unexpectedly come upon her when she was slopping the hogs, and as most love stories go, it was love Thoughts of Abigail became unbearable, and he longed to return to his pastoral paradise. One Thursday night he reached his decision—SUITCASE. For the next four years, he continued to return home every Friday evening.

 Though the name of Ulysses Columbus McNutt no longer echoes through these hallowed halls, and though his name be forgotten, the tradition which he established has lived on and has since become a way of life for Eastern's sons and daughters.
 Let not his name and memory be forgotten forever. We can preserve the memory of Ulysses Columbus McNutt by erecting a memorial statue in his honor.
 Tentative plans are to place it at the end of Campus Drive, so that he may bid a fond farewell to suitcases each weekend.
 Send all donations and suggestions to: McNutt Memorial Foundation, Box 641, C. P. O.

You have to funk a course to really appreciate college, or so say those with experience.

SHOW TALK

Nancy Morgan

The Little Theater was full to capacity when Eastern's Little Theater Club held its first official meeting of the 1958-59 season on Wednesday, October 1, 1958. A one act play, directed by Ralph Mills, was provided for entertainment. The play, "Moonshine," written by Arthur Hapkins is the most famous of his one act plays. "Moonshine" was a realistic farce-comedy.
 The action of the play took place in the mountains of North Carolina. Luke Hazy, played by Joe Paul Hughes, was a moonshining mountainer who had just captured a revenue officer, portrayed by Gene Kalokowski. This revenue officer manages to out-wit the moonshiner by convincing him that he is not really a revenue officer at all, but actually a person who wants to die but doesn't have the nerve to kill himself. He has planned to make the moonshiners angry to get them to do the killing. The poor unsuspecting moonshiner falls for this plan and forces the revenue officer to leave. It is only after the officer has gone that the moonshiner discovers that he had been tricked, but it was too late to do anything about it.

Joe and Gene gave an excellent presentation which was enjoyed very much by the audience.
 After the play, Bill Farthing, L.T.C. president, introduced the club officers, committee chairmen, and Mr. Honaker—director.
 Immediately following the refreshments that were served in Walnut Hall, tryouts for the first big production, Sold Gold Cadillac, were held.

Book Reviews

(of books that have never before been reviewed)
 New York Telephone Directory—Paper bound—1142 pages, $4.25 a month. The plot is rather thin in places, but the characters are very realistic. The first two chapters set up such a definite pattern that the ending is inevitable. Although this volume has sold millions of copies, the circulation has not been widespread, in fact not a single copy was sold in the state of Nevada. Except for the sketch on the cover this book contains nothing which could offend any member of the family.
 Diamond Match Book—Paper bound—2 pages—1c. Well worth the money if you happen to be a nicotine fiend. The main characters are sandwiched together a little too close for comfort. A run of the mill book, over all, but it has its fiery moments.
 Sears and Roebuck Wall Paper Sample Book—287 pages, 46c a roll. Wall paper bound. A very colorful volume!!
 Eastern Kentucky State College Catalogue—Paper bound, $700 a year, 189 pages. This volume contains extremely interesting descriptions of a group of wonderful courses which are not offered at Eastern.
 Literature in Translation—742 pages, $7.50. This so called work of art has the distinction of being hated by more college sophomores than any other one of its size. It contains the literary rubbish of 32 centuries and 17 countries. Optimetrists love this monstrosity not only because of its fine print but also because of its length which requires 30 page assignments.

About the nicest thing that can be said for this book is that its pages are numbered in consecutive order.

Priscilla Lohr and John Ratliff are the Progress Picks for this issue.

Progress Picks . . .

Jane Norris

For the first issue, Progress picks Priscilla Lohr and John Ratliff, seniors, to talk about.

Priscilla, called "Prissy" by her friends is from Lexington, Kentucky. Since her freshman year Prissy has majored in elementary education. She is now doing her student teaching in the first grade downtown at the Nazarene Church. She loves teaching and has been offered a scholarship to a university in Chicago to specialize in teaching deaf children.
 Prissy is an excellent swimmer. This summer she was a life guard and taught swimming at a pool in Lexington. Turning work into play, Prissy also taught water ballet at the pool. Here at Eastern she is a member of Kappa Kappa Sigma, the swimming club, and presided as president during her junior year.
 Prissy has taken an active part in the social side of school but she has also kept a high standing in scholastics. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, and was awarded an award for her work in Owens and her junk yard for Collegiate Pentacle. Last spring she helped with "Corousel" and proved her acting ability in portraying a gray haired woman "Mrs. Gallup" in the play "Loud Red Patrick."
 Looking forward to graduation, "yes" was her reply, but at the same time "sad to leave her friends that she has acquired in the past 4 years." Prissy loves college and if she had it to do all over, she wouldn't change a minute of it.

 John Ratliff, well known by his blond hair and funny antics, hails from Newport, Kentucky. John is certainly a familiar figure on Eastern's basketball squad, and a member of the Varsity. He is a member of the "E" Club and Sigma Tau Pi, Commerce Club. Because of his ability to cooperate with the faculty as well as his fellow students, John has been elected president of the Student Council. His job isn't an easy one, and he needs all the consideration and cooperation we can give him.
 Next to basketball, he loves golf and generally all outdoor sports. He likes people—especially friendly people and those who can take a joke. With a good disposition and very pleasant "crazy" personality, it isn't hard for him to make friends.
 John is looking forward to receiving his diploma but is certain he won't forget all the good times he had here. During his term with Uncle Sam, John is planning to go into selling with Black Decker, a power tool and machinery company. However, he has also considered a coaching and teaching position. He is anxious to be out on his own. Off the record, his future plans also include marriage.
 To the freshman, he says to take advantage of scholastics and social activities. "It is vitally important to learn how to live with others."

SKIPPIN' THE BEAT

Skip Gregory

Hi, music lovers and welcome to one more gig and a swinging year. In case you're raw here, this column is devoted to Jazz and the people concerned with it. This year I'm going to try to get some interviews of the big names in Music as well as the data on the latest records, literature, etc. Later in the year we will get an exclusive interview from the greatest of all musicians, Alfred E. Newman.

Through the summer many great events took place. The Newport Jazz Festival, in its fifth year running, brought 50,000 people out of their chairs with the greatest sounds of the biggest me in the business. The Newport L. P.'s have yet to be issued. I'll keep you informed as to the dates they will be out and the labels they will be on.

Another festival that was entirely new this year was the lick at French Lick (Ind). With their little Sheraton Hotel and two railroad cars, people slept in Buicks, Fords, tents and trees to dig Brubeck, Davis, Kenton and plenty more.

I have heard, via the grapevine, that Kentucky shall experience a Jazz festival in the next year, but just when and where I don't know. When the little birdie tells me, I'll let you know.

Ralph Materie was at Joyland

this past weekend, but I didn't know about the gig in time to get up there and talk to him. I'll be there next time.

We will probably have our own music makers on campus this year. Last year the dance band headed by plumber Larry Kincer maintained a nice sound so let's hope we hear him again this year.

Another Skippin' the Beat feature, will be the bop joke, for you neurotics and ex-musicians.

Chorus Sings At Lexington

On Monday, September 22, thirteen members of Eastern's music department traveled to Lexington, Ky., to sing at the Wives' Luncheon during the Governor's Conference. The occasion was the 24th annual Governor's Conference.

Majorettes and Twirler for the coming year are Angie Holbrook, Jeff Juet, Jerry Abner, Janet Warren, Helen Wilholt, Carol Brown and Joyce Bowling.

Opportunities

Welcome back to the campus, and to you lucky freshmen, welcome period. This is your column in which I hope to pass on to you interesting bits of information that you might be able to use. If the upperclass women will ignore me this time, I want to devote myself to you freshmen women and let you in on some facts which might prove necessary. Somehow these things never get said, and when I was a freshman I just wondered about them, and then did what I wanted whether it was correct or not—sometimes it wasn't. In my rambling way, I am trying to say that I am going to give you a general outline on what the dress is for different occasions on Eastern's campus. Believe me, girls, you will be wanting to know.

For some reason we wear flats to football games and shoes and socks to basketball games. For the approaching Homecoming game, dress up a little. Bring out your heels and a suit or a skirt and sweater. Make this occasion a little something extra; because after all, it is.

Throughout the year there will be a number of concerts and plays. Heels are predominant over flats, especially at the concerts. At these affairs you will see the female ushers in their formals, so heels fit the atmosphere quite well.

You may ask: "Just who do you think you are, telling us how to dress for teas?" However, there are some who may not know that to afternoon teas you don your bonnets and for "after five" teas you shed them. Of course, gloves go along for both.

That's it, girls. Just dress neatly and look your best. Always wear a smile, and it will go much farther than a new dress. Remember, it's what is in the dress that counts. See you next issue.

EASTERN FROSH SEEN AS FUTURE GREAT

The Eastern Maroons will reportedly unveil a new secret weapon in time for the annual Homecoming Game, which pits our noble athletes against the hated Buccaneers of East Tennessee. The new weapon is Josef Ockybar, a frosh transfer from the University of Istanbul. Those who have seen Ockybar in action claim that he is so deceptive that it is extremely difficult for even his own teammates to keep him in focus. A few of the Maroons were forced to admit that Ockybar is certain to become Eastern's first All-America since Red Grange. Believe it or not, but Joe can play any position on the team. Now all that remains for us to do is sit back and watch our gallant crew calmly and methodically destroy the enemy.

Going back a few weeks to the Louisville game, it was interesting to note that U. of L.'s starting line-up outweighed Eastern by 128 pounds or more than eleven pounds per man. Yet our boys led late in the game and never were out of contention until the waning moments. Eastern's backfield (which averaged 172) also racked up two more first downs than did Louisville's celebrated brigade (which averaged 187.) In the end, however, it was only their size and numbers which won for the Cards. From any angle, it was a fine effort by the Maroons and if the Louisville game is any indication of future performances, then we can safely predict that Eastern will be right in there fighting for this year's coveted OVC crown.

For those of you who wish to know a few facts about our Homecoming foes: Fact number one is that East Tennessee will be no pushover. Fact number two is that they trounced us last season at Johnson City by two touchdowns. Facts numbers three and four are that they have already notched wins over Murray (12-6) and Western (8-0) in the conference. Fact number five is that the Bucs possess an agile backfield which blends nicely with a line that is small and powerful and reportedly very scrappy. Fact number six is that they play Tennessee Tech's Golden Eagles Saturday night at Cookeville.

Kentucky's "high school football game of the year" could easily be played at the Rotary Bowl at Newport on November 15. This year's Rotary Bowl pits Louisville Flaget against Highlands. This game would undoubtedly increase in importance if Flaget would happen to upset St. X, whom they play the week before. St. X, Highlands and Flaget are currently ranked, one, three and five in the state ratings.

The following college grid teams should be among the powerhouses of the '58 grid campaign: Notre Dame, Wisconsin, Navy, Mississippi State, The so-called "Big Three," in my opinion, will be Army, Auburn, and Ohio State, in no special order. Eastern could possibly join this select group if their new phenom, Josef Ockybar, lives up to his press notices.

Touching the NFL briefly, I'd also like to venture a few predictions here. The Bears in the West with the 49ers stirring up considerable trouble also. The Redskins in the East with close contention from everybody in general, especially the Browns and Eagles. Nomination for future stardom: Rookie Mike Sommer of the Skins.

To those who are interested in attending this week-end football's game, the Maroons are challenging current OVC champs, the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee, Friday evening at Murfreesboro. Prerequisites for attendance are that you skip all of Friday's classes and are fond of extensive travel. From all we have been able to gather, the Raiders are still tough although they are not as strong as they were last season. We hope they're not, at any rate!

Tony Harris carries the ball at scrimmage with Sal Marchese doing the blocking while the coach looks on.

MAROONS ARE 1-0 IN O.V.C. AND 1-2 IN COMPETITION

The Eastern Maroons lost their opening football game of the season to the Toledo Rockets, 19-2. The Maroons were up against one of the best teams Toledo has ever fielded.

The Maroons defense was a bit shaky in the first half but found themselves starting the third quarter.

Toledo was stopped on the eleven yard line of the Maroons and then intercepted a lateral pass from Polly and raced over to hit pay dirt to go ahead 6-0.

Eastern received the kickoff and seemed to be moving the ball with success but they started drawing penalties and it stopped their drive. Harris completed a pass to Ronnie White for 33 yards but it was called back because of a holding penalty against the Maroons.

The Rockets blasted off again to get their second TD when the Maroons were forced to punt. The Rockets moved to the five and from there, Stolz Toledo's quarterback, passed the ball to the try for the extra failed again.

Eastern's two points came after Bishop punted and the ball rolled dead on Toledo's one yard line. First play from scrimmage, Tomaro, and Marchese found Toledo's Burt in the end zone and buried him for a safety. Toledo's final TD was made with a pass from Heffernan to Miklovic for 41 yards. This time the extra point was good and the final score was 19-2 in favor of Toledo.

In summarizing the game Coach Presnell said Eastern made too many costly mistakes and Toledo capitalized on them. He was very well pleased with the play of Layman Callahan, and Durbin in the backfield, their ball carrying and blocking, and the play of Captain Jim Patton and Dick Slukich in the line.

The Eastern Maroons were handed their second defeat Saturday night Sept. 27th by the University of Louisville 20-7.

The Cardinals won the toss and elected to receive. They found the Maroons defense too hard to handle and they were forced to punt. The Maroons also found a stubborn wall facing them and they had to return the punt. The Cardinals returned the punt to the Maroons 24 yard line and three plays later Barbato found a hole and raced 8 yards for the first score of the game. Young's kick was wide and Louisville led, 6-0. For the remainder of the first half the football change hands several times with neither team getting their necessary yardage. At the end of the first half, the Maroons were down 6-0.

Starting the second half Eastern received the kick-off and moved the ball to their own 38 and was forced to punt. Harris punted to Louisville's 25, where the ball touched one of U of L players and Eddie Miller fell on the pig skin and then Harris fumbled and U of L took over possession of the ball. In the rest of the third quarter neither team could move past the forward wall so they had to punt. Then in the beginning of the fourth quarter Eastern recovered a fumble on the Cardinals 25 yard line and Graybeal's kick was good and Eastern went from their own 20 in 9 plays for their second score and again the try for the extra point failed. The Maroons received the ball and drove to the Cardinals 2 yard line when they found that they had missed their first down by a couple of feet. From here U of L took and Porco got through the tough defensive line and ran 93 yards for their third score of the night. This time the extra point was successful and the score read 20-7 with U of L out in front.

Although the Maroons were defeated they had 232 yards rushing and Louisville just had 241, so see the Maroons made them fight to the finish for the victory.

Eastern Defeats Murray

The Eastern Maroons defeated a stubborn Murray team 14-6 to win their first game of the season and to win their first OVC game of the season.

Murray kicked off to the Maroons and they drove to the Thoroughbreds 24, but there they ran out of downs and had to give the ball to Murray. The Thoroughbreds scored with 4:56 left in the first quarter when they moved 55 yards on the ground. An attempt to run the extra point failed.

Late in the second quarter the Maroons started a drive from their own 45 and with 2:05 left, halfback R. G. Layman packed it over from the eight yard line. Jot Graybeal added the extra point by splitting the uprights and the Maroons led at half time 7-6.

Still anybody's ball game neither team could make any threats and with Eastern tightening up their defensive game along they held Murray from scoring through the third quarter.

The Maroon's final touchdown came in the fourth quarter when Eastern took the ball on their own five after a pass interception and marched the 95 yards for the score. Shannon Johnson carried the pigskin over from the one and Graybeal added the extra point to put the Maroons out in front for good 14-6 with 1:26 to go in the game.

Finding that they were behind, the Thoroughbreds came back strong with a passing attack and drove to the Maroons 20 before a penalty took them back to the 35. With one more play left in the game they tried a pass in the end zone and Eastern had them their first game of the season.

These people will be leading the cheers at the ball games, so let's all go and yell with them.

Cheerleaders Selected For Year

The K. Y. M. A. Club held its annual cheerleading try-outs Wednesday, September 24, at Hanger Stadium at 6:30 to elect six cheerleaders and two alternates.

Nelson Bell, Mary Kappas, Diane Williamson, Elaine Norris, Barbara Rose, and Johnson were selected on the following qualifications: (1) presentation of cheers, (2) appearance, (3) body movement, (4) poise, and (5) audience participation.

Returning this year for his second year as cheerleader of the Eastern Maroons, is Nelson Bell of Louisville, Kentucky, the only boy on the squad. Due to an error in adding points, he was first named as an alternate, but later was found to have placed second in points among the 27 tryouts.

Mary Kappas, a junior from Covington returns once again for her third straight year as Eastern's cheerleader.

Another girl re-elected to the squad is Diane Williamson, a junior from Ashland. This is Diane's third year on the squad.

Three freshmen girls were also chosen to the cheerleading staff. They are Elaine Norris, Barbara Rose, and Ann Johnson.

The alternates are Page Weddle and Helen Shaw.

The Admirable College Student

The college student has become an institution in these United States. He, with his imported briar that he can't inhale, and she, with her Chemise that hides the shape she tries so hard to perfect, have become what is known in the trade as—collegiate.

The college student is an artist, a master of his trade. Who else can actually get sleep in a bed full of Nab crums in the middle of two poker games and a blaring radio; have a cup of coffee and a Chestertide for breakfast every morning and lumpy mashed potatoes for the other two meals; check his mailbox three times a day for 37 consecutive days with no results; and sleep through three classes and a movie and wake up just in time to see a 88-22-37 twist down the aisle.

Yes, the college student is to be admired. He is neat, who else could wear the same pair of trousers for eight days in a row and still keep the crease in them or wear a different shirt every day with same shade of lipstick on each collar.

And the college man is thrifty. He can always make his two week treatment last at least eight days. Just because he spends five bucks a week for food and ten bucks a week for recreation is no sign of eccentricity.

Another amazing thing about him is the fact that he can spend $35.70 for new books, open them once or twice and still sell them at the end of the semester for $6.25.

Yes, the college student is an institution and our amazing per cent of them are eventually committed to one.

Parade Rest

Big E's sharp eyed riflemen placed first in firing competition with 950 cadets from 20 other colleges and universities at the six week Fort Knox summer camp period beginning June 21. Hugh Gabbard earned Eastern's top score and ten others from here fired expert.

Although it rained thirty of the 42 days, Eastern made a fine showing in all camp activities, which included training on everything from the 30 caliber Rifle to the hot dist water of K.P.

The Pershing Rifles under the direction of James Blackford did a fine job again this year assisting in registration. Although a record number of students registered, the confusion was held to a minimum by the P.R. guards.

Two new officers have been added to the Military Science Staff this year. They are Major Vernon Swindall, a graduate of V.P.T., and Captain William D. Smith, a graduate of the University of Mississippi. Major Swindall came here from duty in Korea, while Capt. Smith, a former member of Pershing Rifles, will advise the Eastern P.R. unit.

The corps of cadets is very large this year. Of the 239 Military Science students who signed up for classes 163 are freshmen.

HOBBS, Estel M. No. 1 in his Company (Co. "E"), and 2nd in his Battle Group, (200 in Company).

SHOUSE, Delbert F. Stood 2nd in his Platoon (50 in platoon).

PACE, Prewitt L. (graduate) stood first in his platoon of 50.

PIKE, James C. was winner of doubles tennis team at Summer Camp.

Eastern stood FIRST in Rifle Marksmanship of all colleges at Summer Camp.

Winners of the Freshman Talent Show are Linda Lassiter, Carol Brown, and Bob Bowman.

FRESHMEN EXHIBIT TALENTS

Miss Linda Lassiter was named winner of the 1958 Freshman Talent Show held in Hiram Brock Auditorium, Wednesday night, September 17. Her offering was a comedy monologue entitled "The Assembly Line."

Linda, who is from Tennessee, is quite interested in dramatics, but has never taken formal speech lessons.

Second place was copped by Miss Carol Brown, with a baton twirling exhibition. Carol hails from Whitesburg, Kentucky, and has been a majorette since the fourth grade.

Bob Bowman, singing "Remember You're Mine", won third prize. Butler High School in Louisville is his alma mater.

Dr. Harold Zimmack, freshman class sponsor, emceed the event and introduced each of the 15 freshmen who participated.

After the contestants had completed their acts, the YWCA and YMCA, who co-sponsored the event, presented three acts for the enjoyment of the large audience. The first of these was the winner in 1956, Miss Deanna Williams pantomiming "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun." The next act was a monologue by Mary Reynolds Lowe, who won last year's competition. Finally, Bob Azbill crooned "If I Loved You" preceding announcement of the winners.

Honaker Wins On T. V.

By Nancy Morgan

Mr. Gerald Honaker, English and Drama instructor, spent six weeks in New York City this summer which proved to be very interesting for him. As a contestant on the C.B.S. quiz show "Dotto" he won several hundred dollars.

Mr. Honaker also appeared on "Haggis Baggis," another quiz-type program. His quick thinking proved to be quite profitable to him because he won: a diamond wrist watch, a metal and glass dining room suite, and a wardrobe of clothing for his wife.

In addition to the above experiences, he had a substitute part in "Crucible," an off Broadway play.

Other advances expected in the near future include: the installation of restrooms, the installation of some new lighting fixtures, and the replacing of some of the draperies and curtains.
