Eastern Begins 55th Year With New Records

'61-'62 Editorial Staff Named To Publish Weekly News

Enthusiasm seems to be the byword as eight PROGRESS editors and their assistants start to work on the college newspaper for the coming year.

Jim Farris, a senior PE and History major from Lawrenceburg will serve in the position of Editor-in-Chief. Marian Bazzy, a sophomore languages major from Lexington will serve as Managing Editor.

Under these two positions will come the various editors of the different departments of the paper. Ronnie Wolfe, a junior English major from Falmouth, will serve in the capacity of News Editor. His assistant will be Mary Ann Nelson, a sophomore English major from Gray. Mary Ann will also be Women's Editor. Melva Groot, a sophomore English major from Louisville will be Club's Editor of the coming year. Doug Whitlock, a social science major from Richmond, will cover the sports events in the Progress for the next nine months. Harvey Turner, a senior elementary education major from Clinton, Tennessee, will cover all the military activities. Handling the task of Business Manager will be George Dopp, a senior commerce major from Erlanger, and Ed Odor, a junior pre-vet major from Williamstown. All members of the staff are under the direction of Don Felner, Director of Publicity and Publications.

Deadline dates have been set and each editor is in the process of organizing his particular department. Barring unexpected delays, the Progress will be circulated on Fridays.

New Faculty Members Added To Eastern ROTC Department

Nine new officers and NCO's have been added to the Eastern State College R.O.T.C. staff to handle an enrollment expected to be about three times that of last year because of a mandatory programming for all freshmen men.

Colonel Joe M. Sanders, professor of military science, made the announcement today.

The student brigade will consist of some 900 cadets, Colonel Sanders said. Last year, there were 330 enrolled in the R.O.T.C. program.

There will be 21 classes for freshmen. New classrooms are available in the first floor of the Cammack Building, recently renovated at a cost of $250,000.

Freshmen and sophomores will be included in the new mandatory program that was approved last spring by the college board of regents and the size of the student brigade is expected to number nearly 1,400 cadets.

Under the new program, all able male students are required to take the first two years of basic military science. Those students with high scholastic standings and qualified in other areas will be permitted to enter the advanced program. The advanced program is not mandatory.

The new officers on the Eastern staff include: Captain John A. Simpson, a native of Richburg, S. C., and a graduate of Clemson College, who will be a freshman instructor; Captain Donald H. Jordan, White Plains, N. Y., a graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, where he received a mechanical engineering degree, sophomore instructor; Captain Carl L. Espy, Columbus, Ga., and a graduate of Auburn, director of the basic program; Captain Edward L. Queoney, Schuylar, Mass., graduate of Boston College, instructor of seniors.

NCO's added to the staff include: M/Sgt. George S. Sumption, Belmont, Ohio, freshman instructor; SFC Carol R. Keeney, Ohio, sophomore instructor; SFC Viri F. Auterson, Irvington, Ohio, supply sergeant; SFC Rafael Arnaiz, Catano, Puerto Rico, assistant supply sergeant; Sgt. Willis Brickey, Salem, Mo., freshman instructor and rifle team coach.

Enrollment at Eastern has soared past 4,000. Classes began today but students will be permitted to enroll until next Monday.

Eastern Offers Graduate Program To Place Teachers

Eastern Kentucky State College is offering a graduate program of twenty-four hours above the master's degree that will place the holder of such certificates in Rank 1, top pay grade in Kentucky's school system.

This 24-hour program will place those holding the Standard Elementary and Standard High School Certificate in Rank 1. Holders of the Provisional Certificate for Principals, for Supervisors, or for Superintendents, with 24 hours above, will be entitled to the Standard Certificate for School Leaders and classification in Rank 1.

The 24-hour program above the requirements for the Provisional Certificate for Guidance Counselors and the Rank 1 classification.

Other expanded programs Among the other expanded programs that are offered at Eastern this fall are included: (1) the addition of two required courses in mathematics and two science courses to the curriculum of elementary education majors; (2) a broader program of political science; (3) a larger offering in speech and drama; and (4) a library science program, which began this summer, that will provide for the certification of public school librarians.

The compulsory program of military science for incoming freshman men is being offered for the first time this fall.

New evening classes are offered, for the first time, in art and industrial art. College officials studied plans for an adult education program in which many of the students have enrolled.

The regular night schedule of classes, which also has been expanded, are offered again by Eastern this fall.

U. N. Official Killed In Crash

Dag Hammarskjold, UN Secretary General, was killed Monday in a plane crash. He was on a mission to seek peace in the Congo.

The Secretary General was flying from Leopoldville for peace talks at a Northern Rhodesian copper mining center, Ndola, with President Mose Teshombe of Katanga.

Officials report that sabotage is a possibility, but as yet, no reports of such have been confirmed. Hammarskjold's plane got landing clearance at Ndola at 6:12 p.m. Sunday, then vanished.

We're Hoping!

Preliminary Plans Approved For New Eastern Dormitories

Preliminary plans have been approved for two new dormitories, costing nearly $3 million, at Eastern State College.

Construction is expected to begin in late fall for the two dormitories.

McGregor Hall, a women's dormitory to house 448 students, will be named in honor of Judge Thomas B. McGregor, Frankfort, long-time member of the Eastern Board of Regents. Construction cost for the six-story structure will be $1,958,500. It will be located just off the northwest corner of Hanger Stadium, the college football field, and between the Weaver Health Building and the Keen Johnson Student Union Building.

Architects are Watkins, Burrows and Mills, of Lexington.

Earle Combs Hall, named in honor of Earle B. Combs, Sr., Richmond, vice chairman of the college board of regents and ex-Yankee baseball star, will house 238 men students. Construction cost will be $999,000. Location of this dormitory will be in the general area of the other men's dormitories on the campus, and on the corner of Lancaster Avenue and Park Drive. It will be located on the site formerly occupied by tennis courts and Memorial Hall, an old men's dormitory that is to be razed.

These dorms will be ready for occupancy by the spring semester of the 1962-63 school year, it is hoped by President Robert R. Martin.

Circumstances have prevented the appearance of next week's Calendar of Events. Readers may look forward to the Calendar as a regular item included each week in the Progress.

Medical College Admission Tests Announced

The Psychological Corporation has announced that their Medical College Admission Test will be given on October 21, 1961. This test is designed for students applying for admission to medical college in the fall of 1962, and will measure general academic ability and understanding of modern science, as well as scientific knowledge.

The test will be given at established testing centers listed in the 1961 Announcement. All interested students should see Mr. M. J. Cox, professor of chemistry and medical advisor, for information.

The completed application and fee must be sent at least two weeks before testing date. The fee is $15.00 including reports for up to three medical colleges; each additional report costs $1.00.

Writers Needed

Persons interested in becoming members of the PROGRESS staff are urged to attend a staff meeting Monday afternoon at 4:00 p.m. Writers in all departments can be placed without delay. Persons are requested to come to the PROGRESS office for further details during the meeting.

Olexio Chosen Featured Twirler

Joyce Olexio, featured twirler of the Eastern band for the coming year was chosen Monday along with five other Eastern coeds to serve as majorettes.

Joyce is a junior commerce major from Dayton, Ohio. The remaining five girls are Jackie Ann Overly, an elementary education major from Somerset; Shirley Ruth Combs, a freshman elementary education major from Whitesburg; Glenda Holbrook, a sophomore commerce major from Louisville; Jo Ann Conley, a junior pre-med major from Paintsville and Dora Shields, a freshman PE major from Richmond.

These girls will be featured with the Marching Maroons and will twirl at all major outdoor sports events.

SPEAK UP

Enrolment Sky-Rocketing Above 4000; All Areas Of College Expanded

Eastern Kentucky State College began its fifty-fifth year last week with a zooming enrollment, the largest faculty, the biggest physical plant offering the most facilities in history, and the broadest curriculum ever offered by the college.

The enrollment, earlier anticipated by President Robert R. Martin as "over 3,500, and possibly 4,000," has already passed the 4,000 mark, an increase over a two year period of nearly 36 percent.

Registration actually began Saturday, September 9, when in-service Education students enrolled for Saturday and evening classes. Registering also on the same day were students taking advantage of Eastern's new adult education program.

(These new programs, and a story of new faculty, appear in this issue of the PROGRESS.)

Over 1,200 freshmen arrived on campus Sunday to begin their orientation program and classification tests which lasted through Tuesday. The first-year students registered Wednesday, September 13.

Sophomores registered on Thursday, juniors and seniors Friday, and graduate students Saturday. Classes began last Monday.

Expanded Curriculum The record number of students found, when they reported to the rapidly-growing campus, an expanded curriculum that includes (1) compulsory military training for all able male students; (2) new departments of political science and speech and drama; (3) a new foreign language laboratory; (4) added courses for elementary education majors to strengthen their background in science and mathematics; (5) a graduate program offering 24 hours beyond the M.A. that will entitle the teacher to advance to Rank 1, highest pay-grade in Kentucky's public school system; and (6) expanded offerings in most of the departments of the college.

The new adult education program, consisting of sixty semester hours and twenty-one courses, is offered this fall as Saturday and evening classes.

This quality program being emphasized by the college administration includes some forty new instructors added to the faculty, some of whom are occupying new positions.

New Buildings Two additional classroom buildings are occupied by college students this fall. The Cammack Building and the University Building, formerly used to house Eastern elementary and secondary laboratory students, were renovated this summer at a cost of approximately $250,000 each. Eastern's laboratory students will be housed in the new $2 million H. L. Donovan Building, regarded as one of the finest plants in the nation. Approximately 425 students, from kindergarten through the twelfth grade, were expected to enroll at the new plant.

Other classroom buildings were renovated during the summer and Stephen Collins Foster Music Building was completely air-conditioned.

Two new dormitories were completed during the summer. Mattox Hall, modern men's dormitory and identical to adjoining O'Donnell Hall, is now occupied by some 220 men students, and Case Hall by 211 women. An addition to Case Hall that will provide facilities for a total of 550 students in the dormitory, is

Big 'E' Cheerleading Squad Includes Four New Members

Weeks of anxious practicing and waiting received results Monday night as four girls were chosen as regulars and alternates for the 1961 cheerleading squad. Helen Doll and Lesley Sanford, both sophomores, were chosen regulars; Sandy Hoff and Mary Ellen Klotte, freshmen, were selected as alternates.

This season's choosing differed from previous years in that four of last season's varsity cheerleaders resumed their positions without the necessity of tryouts. Monday's tryouts added the two sophomores as regulars and the freshmen as alternates. Once chosen, the cheerleaders will remain on the squad if grades are kept up to standard and cheering is satisfactory.

Helen is from Louisville, and is an elementary education major. Lesley is an English major from Fort Thomas, Kentucky. Sandy is from Cincinnati, Ohio, and is also an elementary education major; Mary Ellen is from Danville.

Others of the pep team consist of Barbara Rose, Anne Stanley Johnson, Linda Wood, and Judy Sheehan. Barbara is a senior from Berea, and is an elementary education major. This will be her third year as a cheerleader. Anne Stanley Johnson is a senior English major and is also serving her third year. Linda Wood is from Austin, Kentucky. She is an elementary education major; this is her third year on the squad. Judy Sheehan, from Ashland, is a physical education major. She is in her second year as cheerleader.

The girls presented their yells and cheers in Wednesday's assembly and Thursday's pep rally. They will see their first action with the Maroons in the U. of L. game Friday at Hanger Stadium.

Candid Quotes Reflect Student Views

By Marian Bazzy

With the excitement of a new year come opinions and anecdotes to express the impressions and bewilderment of new students. With no exclamations barred, froth and transfer students make known their feelings.

Scanning the campus, the Progress attempted a cross cut of the strangers to Eastern. George Anderson, freshman from Elkhorn City, expressed a male view when he volunteered, "It's a lot of walking but it's alright. . . I haven't met anyone who wouldn't speak; they're nice and friendly here."

Speaking in a saucy Spanish accent, Alda Canessa, a graduate exchange student in education from Valparaiso, Chile, pursued the sentiment of friendship with, "The best thing is cordiality and friendship, especially with the professors." She added that registration was a task she couldn't have accomplished without help.

Traveling from her home in Parvati, India, Meena Bagwe another exchange student doing graduate work in home economics, expressed calmly an agreement of the preceding with stress placed consistently on, "Everyone has been helpful."

Anne Tate, freshman from Danville, bubbled with enthusiasm as she said, "People you meet, whether you know them or not, make you feel you already know them." In a continued thoughtful moment she added, "Even with all the construction, the main part of the campus has retained its beauty."

The enlightening session continued as the annual jokes based on freshmen errors were spilled by passers-by. The bearded football player merited a grin in a tale relating the following. Dr. Darling was approached by the athlete with the question, "Who is Dr. Staff?" The reply insisted that there was no such person; the boy retaliated with, "Yes, it's here

Meena Bagwe—"... helpful is by-word."

George Anderson—"... a lot of walking."

Alda Canessa—"... cordiality and friendship . . ."

Anne Tate—"... campus has retained beauty."

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Mirror of Eastern

With the publication of another year of the Eastern Progress, the continued promotion of this campus "New Look" acts as its guiding light. As the student implement for complete coverage of the campus news, the Progress of Eastern, this official student newspaper functions to endeavor to fulfill its purpose: to serve the community and to inform its readers in all phases of news through quality reporting and timely substance.

This is the second year of the weekly PROGRESS. With the help of the student body, each publication can serve as a mirror to the events and growth of Eastern in an optimum capacity. If the news is to be non-partisan, accurate and complete, the students must cooperate; the Progress reports—you read it. The campus is an outlet to the world; the students are the actors and audience; the Progress serves you. It will feature guest editorials from time to time, campus happenings completely, and off-campus reporting as means to a successful end product. The Progress is here and now... and there when it happens.

EASTERN IS MARCHING TOWARD THE HORIZON OF A GLORIOUS DESTINY

"Whoop-ee!!" Registration at Eastern Kentucky State College has passed the 4,000 mark. It was an Ohio man, Robert P. Brockman, a senior, who had the distinction of being the 4,000th student enrolled.

It was fitting that an exchange student, Miss Alda Canesse, from Valparaiso, Chile, should draw registration number 3,999 and that a Madison county man from Waco, Ralph McMaine, should have the distinction of being the 4001st student enrolled.

To the more than 1,300 freshmen, to the 40 new members of the faculty, we express assurance of a hearty welcome on behalf of the citizenship of Richmond. We think the students here for the first time made a wise choice in selecting Eastern as the institution in which to do their college work.

We extend greeting and friendly salutations to the 40 new faculty and staff members who have moved to our city. We are proud of Eastern. We hope you will be happy in your association with the school and with the people of our community.

Eastern is on the march—marching with accelerated tempo toward the horizon of a glorious destiny.

Creativity And The Teacher

By DR. FRED P. GILES

Head of the Art Department
(Ed. Note.—This article by Dr. Giles was written for the COLLEGE ART JOURNAL.)

It is not unusual to consider the meaning of the word "Creativity" to be a state of being in which objects can be brought into existence by the manipulation of materials in our hands which are directed by our minds. It is not to be thought of as one characteristic attribute of a person, but rather as an ability which permeates the very "woof and warp" of one's whole being. There is a sense in which the word means the creating of tangible things by manipulating various art materials into works which may be thought to be original and artistic—original, in that things created have no prototypes either in nature or in art. This is an interesting and useful meaning, but there is another connotation of the term as expressed by the activity of a person who works with people in the world.

To make people aware of their creativity may possess as much potentiality toward development of the aesthetic as creating objects of art from any kind of materials and putting them up for the gaze of the public.

If a teacher is aware of the art qualities evident in his own environment, he has at least one important element to be found in the creative person. Therefore, creative activity in all the arts seems to involve many related factors, another of which is the responsiveness to the experiences of living, where emotional receptivity and awareness play parts of high importance. This is not all, for we must possess an imaginative capacity which enables us to organize responses into new and significant patterns and relationships. We have eyes to see; and do we see? We have ears to hear; and do we hear? The great philosopher-poet, Goethe, said "Thinking is more interesting than knowing, but not so interesting as looking." So the creative teacher is forever urging the use of our eyes to see and know what we see in order to live a purposeful life.

How can I get closer to life? Life that is so full of rhythm, love, hate, rebuke, retribution, appreciation, fear, adoration—all these in their ramifications of the whole. I am the creative teacher when I sense those in the forms of my students and in turn, try to inspire them with my enthusiasm and my respect for each person as he seeks to solve his problems. For we all look for life wherever we can find it—the school room, the campus, the wild woods, in the ever-present moods of quietness, or in the rustle and bustle of the disquieting storms, the flight of birds, the sunset hour, the fleeting shadows of clouds trailing across hill, plain and valley. Again, to make students aware of the appeal of simple beauty in a lowly flower, a rock, or piece of broken glass is to be creative in a very strong sense of its meaning. We may look and we may see much, but unless we feel the eternal, inexplicable beauty so that we wish to remain silent the power of creativity vanishes. In other words, we can say appreciation of beauty is not taught, but caught.

True creativity, which means thorough and sincere understanding present a more educative climate for those who seek knowledge, and of people, among teachers of the arts and those of the sciences will appreciate. Certainly, we as creative teachers, have the obligation upon us to see that neither the arts nor the sciences are foes to each other, because it is inherent in our very philosophy that the arts are pertinent to the making sensitive and humane the applications of scientific knowledge. We believe that artistic activity can be dedicated to fuller development of universal human kind because art smacks of the spiritual, and therefore helps in softening the cold asperities of pure technology. Furthermore, the human spirit reaches out to touch a divinity which frees us from tensions, sets us to imagine and bring to form work that may be worthy of beauty, and yet may have been inspired and possibly controlled by science.

ROTC Program Explained; Facilities Expanded Here

"Why ROTC?" Many of the new men on Eastern's campus have been asking this question to many people. Before it can be answered, one must know the concept behind this program.

Historically, the Army ROTC had its birth at the American Literary, Scientific and Military Academy at Northfield, Vermont, in 1820. Captain Alden Partridge, a former Superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, must be given credit for ushering in the tradition of military training in civilian colleges. Captain Partridge wrote: "In every republic the due cultivation of a proper military information is indispensable to the preservation of the preservation of liberty."

Since 1820 the basic reason for military training has not changed. Today there are over 180,000 students in 241 civilian colleges and seven military colleges enrolled in the Army ROTC program of which Eastern is a member. The total ROTC program sends about 13,000 men into the Army every year.

ROTC exists for two purposes: the first is to meet the yearly quota of second lieutenants and the annual needs of the active army and its reserve components. In case of a national emergency, the U.S. Army will need many well-educated leaders who are trained for the Army and would be able to train and lead others. The program also offers regular army commissions to a limited number of distinguished military graduates who may make the Army a career. In short, the Army ROTC program directs its attention to both the obligations of American citizenship and the responsibilities of an Army commission.

Eastern men are required to take ROTC for the first two years, but at the beginning of their junior year these men will face a more rigid selection process. Among their requirements, a cadet must pass survey and general screening tests and be selected by both the professor of Military Science and

Letter To Editor

The Editors of the PROGRESS wish to extend a sincere invitation to the student body and to the faculty to submit letters to the editors on any subject of current importance or interest. Whether related to the campus, to the county, or to the country, each letter will be considered. A box in which to deposit the letters will be placed on the table just inside the door to the PROGRESS office. All letters must be signed!

"Top Cat" TV Fun Show To Start Sept. 27

"Top Cat," TV's newest nighttime animated film comedy series, will start Wednesday, September 27. It promises to set a new pattern for hilarious, all-family entertainment. A roomy trash can in a cozy alley is home for "Top Cat," the star. He is a witty mastermind, a natural-born leader, aggressive, and a "doer." But through it all he remains good-hearted. His followers—also animated felines—are "Benny the Ball," "Choo Choo," "Spook," "Brain," and "Fancy Fancy." A prominent, non-cat character is Police Officer Dibble who is constantly frustrated by the antics of "Top Cat" and his cohorts. Arnold Stang, Allen Jenkins, Maurice Gosfield, Marvin Kaplan, Leo De Lyon, John Stephenson and other well known actors supply the voices. Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera, who created Huckleberry Hound, Yogi Bear, Quick Draw McGraw and The Flintstones, are producers. Kellogg's of Battle Creek is co-sponsor.

Views On The News

By MARIAN BAZZY

With news emitted from the corners of the world, the "New Look" of Eastern begins to keep pace with the "New Frontier" of the nation. The workers are no longer striking; an enlarged Brocton appears. Eisenhower is distressed by Kennedy's indecision and vagueness in foreign indulgence; Russia continues nuclear testing after a three-year moratorium in spite of the West's proposals. Catastrophe, death, the United Nations, snakes (in Galveston), ambush, love... the leaves even bury their leaders in "Peanuts." Focus is left to individual discretion.

With coeds awakened by the sound of creativity (saws and hammers), their early look at the world promises future annihilation. With hurricane Carla priding herself for a job well done, the gulf coast shows signs of reconstruction and creeping activity as the moccasins and diamond-back rattlesnakes slither back to the swamps. Some feel that this event... the hurricane... was due retribution for a life illspent. After all, Russia doesn't have detrimental occurrences... the secret is purity and control.

As bombs explode over head and underfoot, the neutral nations hastened in their appeal for survival. On the same agenda they continue to blast the United States for maintaining a base in Cuba... for shame... the mongrel imperialists, capitalists, artists, scientists, adventurers... may beri-beri strike the navy of the merris!

A paragraph of silent mourning now.

Dag Hammarskjold has served diligently as the tie of the world. The United Nations must go on; Katanga must be calmed.

President DeGaulle of France escaped an ambush intended to deprive his nation of a year without elections. Caesar would have been proud... Castro resumed firing squad techniques... Quadros leaves his country to the pressurists... lost... man... the birds go South soon.

After Cumberland View, a noted Madison County landmark, was destroyed by fire September 9, Eastern became the center of interest to the area... 4,065 is the point of departure for the swelling enrollment. May it grow... and grow... until it can hold only a few more.

To Fort Polk, a salute... to Khrushchev, infiltration from east to West Berlin... to Maria Beale Fletcher, success as Miss America... to life, survival...

Annual Busy Bees!

Ultimate Goal Of 1962 Milestone: All-American

If you don't believe the description of the Milestone that appears in the college catalogue, just ask a member of the staff and you'll find out very quickly that it is an activity organization.

With a firm foundation laid and detailed plans formulated for the 1962 Milestone, the yearbook staff is making an all-out effort to get as near 100 per cent campus coverage as possible in an attempt to give the Eastern students a quality book.

Preliminary planning for the '62 Milestone began last spring. Since then, co-editors Carol Caldwell and Linda Cassaway, and other section editors, have organized plans in detail for the best book ever. Many of the section editors, and the co-editors were in summer school.

In July, the first annual yearbook workshop was held, with Perry Ashley, of the University of Kentucky School of Journalism, serving as the principal speaker Ron Wempe, representative of the S. B. Newman Company, of Knoxville, Tennessee, the publishers, also helped as the staff learned some of the "do's and don'ts" of publishing a good yearbook.

During registration week, the student body saw some of the Milestone staff members working in scheduling photographs for the class sections of the annual. Students also were well informed of a new service being offered by the Milestone this year, the offer of professional, re-touched bill-fold size portraits at a minimal cost. Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors having their pictures made this week, and next week, will be able to purchase ten photos for $2.00, or a lot of 20 for $3.50. This, according to current prices, is less than one-fifth the normal cost of most "specials" made by studios.

New Members Invited
The editors have issued an invitation for any member of the student body to join the Milestone staff. They may do so by contacting the Milestone office, in the Administration basement, or by contacting one of the editors listed below.

Editors are: Pat Burgin and Anna Merritt, art and layout; Don Dix, Phyllis Fister, and Lois Webb, class editors; Dottie Mathews and Mary Jo Radden, student life; John Prall and Suzanne Marcum, sports; Harvey Turner, military; Jim Barrett and Evelyn Craft, faculty and administration; Alan Walters, copy editor; Chris Montgomery, honors; Jim Stivers, organizations. Business manager is Jim Montgomery, the secretary is Jane Toppass, and typists are Ann Herron and Harriet Sessine.

The editors ask that those who failed to receive appointment data cards during registration may obtain one by contacting the Milestone office or by reporting to room 100 of the Student Union Building at the time their particular class pictures are being made.

The remaining schedule for class pictures is: Friday, Sept. 27—12-6 p.m., sophomores from I to Z; Monday, Sept. 25—12 to 8 p.m., juniors from A through K; and Tuesday, Sept. 26, from 12 to 8 p.m., juniors from L through Z.

September 27, 28, and 29 will be devoted to make-up sessions for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

Seniors and graduate students are being photographed at Stanifer's Studio.

Organization Participation Deemed Necessity For College Life

(Ed. Note: The following is an excerpt from the STUDENT HANDBOOK 1961-62. The PROGRESS intends to give complete coverage to the organizations as partial fulfillment of its purpose in keeping with the "New Look" pace.)

Your college life at Eastern is not complete unless you are an active participant in some of the organizations and clubs on campus. Student organizations fulfill academic, social, and religious purposes. You will want to study the activities and purposes of each club or organization before making a decision as to your membership. Student on academic or social probation will be limited as to participation in campus clubs.

On the campus are such organizations as county and regional clubs. The Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes each have organizations for the purpose of improving student life at Eastern. Your attendance at your class meetings, most important. Here, you can accomplish many things for your group when you and all other members of the group actively participate in the meetings of the class.

The following are authorized groups on the Eastern campus:

The Literary Societies are: Kappa Iota Epsilon, Omicron Alpha Kappa, Collegiate Pentacle, and Cwens.

The Departmental Organizations are: Home Economics Club, College Dance Band, Music Club, Music Educators National Conference, Freshling Rifles, Association of United States Army, Kappa Kappa Sigma, Women's Recreation Association, Physical Education Majors and Minors, Alpha Psi Omega, Canterbury Club, Little Theatre Club, Mathematics Club, Student National Education Association, Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Tau Pi, Caduceus, Pi Omega Pi, Biology Club, Industrial Arts Club, World Affairs Club, Physics Club Agriculture Club, and Alpha Alpha Psi.

Religious Organizations are: Young Men's Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association, Pi Tau Chi, Baptist Student Union, Wesley Foundation, Newman Club, Westminster Fellowship, Disciples Student Fellowship, and Episcopal Canterbury.

Activity Organizations are: Veterans' Milestone, Photography Club, "Eastern Progress," KYMA, and Varsity "E" Club.

The Student Association and Student Council was authorized in 1954 and is a continuing organization. It was organized for the purpose of aiding in the development of policies affecting student life. In addition to the officers of the Association, the Council is made up of elected men and women from each of the four college classes; and the President of the college serves as an ex-officio member. All undergraduate students of Eastern Kentucky State College have an opportunity to improve student life through their participation in the Student Association.

Federal Service Entrance Exam Open To Students

Applications are now being accepted for the 1962 Federal Service Entrance Examination, the United States Civil Service Commission has announced. This examination, open to college juniors, seniors, and graduate students regardless of major study, as well as to persons who have had equivalent experience, offers the opportunity to begin a career in the Federal Service in one of some 60 different occupational fields. A written test is required.

Applicants who apply by September 28, 1961, will be scheduled for the written test to be held on October 14. Six additional tests have been scheduled during the year. The dates are: November 18, 1961; January 13, February 10, March 17, April 14, and May 12, 1962.

Closing date for acceptance of applications for Management Internships is January 25, 1962. For all other positions, the closing date is April 28, 1962. Announcements and application cards may be obtained from many post-offices throughout the country, college placement offices, civil service regional offices, or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C.

Jack Spratt could eat no fat. His wife could eat no lean. I guess they must be strictly vegetarians.

Little Boy Blue come blow your horn—that is if you want to pass year. The dates are: November 18, the car in front of you.

Orientation Saw Long Lines, Parties, And Friendliness

A STANDOUT—Cwens and KIE sponsored a freshman dance Thursday night from 7:30 to 9:30. Informal attire and rock and roll music reigned supreme as freshmen and upperclassmen got acquainted. The dance was the climax of orientation week activities.

THE HIGH LIFE . . . Jim Work and his cute, but unidentified, companion had a final fling at the Cwens-KIE dance before studies began. The Pony Cha Cha accompanied regular dancing to entertain spectators as well as participants.

YOU'RE HERE—Shown are five of the 1,500 freshmen who arrived here last week. The regular dilemma of moving, new roommates, saying good-bys awaited each one. The first experience of college life is now a memory.

REFRESHMENT TIME—Eastern frosh go through the refreshment line at Monday night's get-acquainted party behind the Memorial Science Building. President and Mrs. Robert Martin were hosts.

"When you stop to think what percent of our total waking hours is spent bread-winning, you realize how tragic it is for any man to work at an occupation he doesn't enjoy. Besides frittering away life, it reduces chances of success to just about zero. I know . . . because it almost happened to me!

After college, I did what I thought was expected of me and joined a solid, Manhattan-based insurance firm. I soon found office routine wasn't for me. I lived only for lunch hour when I could walk to the Battery and mentally sail with the ships that stood out in the Narrows . . . and for the summer weekends when I could go sailing. Fortunately, the company I worked for is one of the leading insurers of yachts and after two years I was transferred to their Yacht Underwriting Department. Enjoyment and interest in my work improved immediately 100%.

After World War II, I started my own yacht brokerage firm and yacht insurance agency in Miami, combining my marine insurance background with an even closer relationship with boats.

My only problem ever since has been a feeling of guilt that my work was too easy. I love boats and boating people. That affection has paid me rewards way beyond the financial security it has also provided.

The moral's obvious. You have an odds-on chance for success and happiness working at what you enjoy most — what comes naturally! And if it's not just frivolous, your life's work could well be what you now consider just a pastime. It's certainly worth thinking about, anyway!"

Richard Bertram, while still in his early thirties, became one of the country's leading yacht brokers. Today he heads up eight companies covering yacht manufacturing, insurance, repair, storage, finance and brokerage. A resident of Coconut Grove, Florida, Dick became a Camel fan while still in college.

Eastern Meets U. Of L. In '61 Grid Opener

Tonight's Contest Last Of 21 Game Series With Cards

By DOUG WHITLOCK
Progress Sports Editor

The mighty Louisville Cardinals invaded the Eastern campus tonight for the last time, as they provide tough opposition for the Maroon's opening game of their 1961 grid card. Game time is 8:00 and the encounter will be held in Hanger Stadium.

Tonight's encounter with the Cardinals draws to a close a 21 game series between Eastern and Louisville in which the Birds hold a 14-6-1 edge. The last time the Maroons came out on top against Louisville was in 1954, when the "Big E" squad posted a 20-6 win. In that game Eastern held Louisville to 21 yards rushing, a record that still stands. In last year's game, Louisville, trailing at half-time by 7-6, came on to win 28-7.

U. of L. will field its strongest team in the past few years against the Maroons tonight. The Birds boast two of the biggest tackles in college football in John Finn and Ken Kortas, 255 and 315 respectively. Finn, Cardinal captain is a pre-season draft choice of the Chicago Bears and Kortas is his understudy. Returning to the Louisville squad is Ernie Green, fullback, who has led the Redbirds in ground gaining for the last two seasons. The quarterback spot has three top-notch men to fill it, John Giles, Danny Walker, and Bob Radinski. Giles has been the regular for the past two years and Walker his stand-in; but Radinski, a promising soph, will push both for playing time. The Louisville forward wall is their deepest and most experience for sometime; this along with a potent backfield cuts out a good night's work for the Maroons.

The Louisville starting lineup has Don Hockensmith, 200 pound, junior at left end. The right end position is filled by Bob O'Neal, 220 pound junior. The guard slots are manned by Charles Strich and Jerry Smith, both juniors and weighing 235 and 205, respectively. The tackles will be John Finn and Bill Sammons, each a senior and Finn the biggest with 255 to Sammons 225 pounds. The center will be Bob Cleveland, 220 pound junior.

In the backfield, John Giles, 175 pound junior, will guide the Cardinals from the quarterback position. The halfbacks will be Lee Calland and Tanny Phelps, both in the 180 pound range. Phelps is the only starter in the Cardinal offense that has not earned a letter. Winding up the backfield is three year veteran, Ernie Green at fullback.

The Eastern Maroons boast their most deadly backfield in recent years and possess a solid, but shallow, forward wall. Ken Goodhue and Tom Sharp, expected to be the top guards in the conference, anchor down a line back-

Doug's Sports Beat

with DOUG WHITLOCK
Progress Sports Editor

Eastern gets its 1961-62 sports year underway tonight at Hanger Stadium, when, at 8 o'clock the Cardinals of the University of Louisville help the Maroons to open a nine game slate and provide, possibly, the toughest opposition that will face the Maroons all season.

Eight other grid powers follow in the ensuing eight weeks. Then the nationally-renowned cagers of basketball and Coach Paul McBryer get another cage season underway. Spring-time sports in which the Maroons have gained status include baseball, track, golf, and this year a tennis team will be fielded. Throughout the year the swimming, rifle, and cross-country teams will be competing in inter-collegiate competition.

Too many "Big E" students fail to support their athletic teams. Our teams need and will thrive upon the loyal support of "Big E" students. All of us will be thrilled at the exciting action. This column joins other loyal "Big E" boosters in urging you to take advantage of the athletic program here and support the Maroons!

The U. of L. tackles facing Dave Hatfield and James Keller in Eastern's opener tonight will be, if not the best, certainly the biggest they will meet all year. Cardinal captain, John Finn, tips the scales at 255 pounds and has already been chosen by the Chicago Bears as a draft choice. His understudy is Ken Kortas, a 315 pounder who will draw pro scouts to Louisville games for the next three years. The other starting tackle is 225 pound Bill Sammons. The Louisville tackle spot is deep with a host of experienced men weighing well over 200 pounds.

When the Maroons meet Louisville tonight, they will be striving to redeem themselves from the 28-7 loss they suffered at the hands of the Cardinals when they played the 'Birds in Louisville last season. Eastern will field an interesting team this fall, with an explosive backfield that features the speediest backs to play here in several years and a potent weapon in its aerial game. The loss to Louisville last year could have very well been the key factor in the Maroons' losing season. In the closing seconds of the first half, Eastern was in possession on the Louisville one yard line. Lanham, elected to keep the ball on an option play, was apparently, on his way to the touchdown. Ernie Green shot over from the opposite linebacker post to halt Lanham on the goal line in what was termed by many as the greatest defensive play they had ever seen. This tended to demoralize the Maroons and in the second half they fumbled the ball twice resulting in two Cardinal touchdowns.

In last year's Louisville game, Carl Howard, who saw no offensive action, made the longest run of the year. Howard, Eastern's defensive specialist, intercepted a Cardinal pass in his own end zone and ran the ball all the way to the Louisville two yard line, where he ran out of steam and fell. A clipping promptly moved the ball back 15 yards, but the run still counted as a 98 yard pass interception return.

An interesting sidelight to Eastern students concerning the number one rating of Madison High School of here in Richmond is the fact that the entire coaching staff of the Purples attended Eastern. Head Coach Roy Kidd, line coach, Jerry Boyd, end coach, Bob Pike, and assistant coach, Jack Ison, all are Eastern grads. Kidd, a one time Eastern quarterback, holds several all-time records in Eastern football. This columnist takes this opportunity to wish the best of luck to the Madison Royal Purples and their all "Big E" coaching staff.

It wouldn't be out of place at this time for Coach Glenn Presnell to declare all four wheeled vehicles off-limits to Eastern gridlers. Earlier this year during the opening of fall drills, three footballers were injured at a go-kart track. More recently, Ed Spenik, first-string end, suffered a sprained ankle while dodging a baby carriage on Main Street of Richmond. Spenik, however, is still expected to open tonight.

Maroons' '61 Prospectus Calls For Explosive Offense, Little Depth

The 1961 Eastern grid squad, possessing its most explosive backfield in nearly a decade may find their traditional practice of relying upon a rockhard line defense reversed this season.

The combination of Tony Lanham and Elvin Brinegar at the quarterback post may prove to be the best one-two punch in the conference this year. Both are good passers and are equally adept as ball carriers. Lanham was the total offensive leader last season with 870 net yards.

The return of Bill Goedde, who lettered as a halfback in 1959, and Kent State transfer, Larry McKenzie, will supplement the returning monogram winners at the halfback slot, Jimmy Chittum and Richie Emmons.

The only other returning back with a letter is Carl Howard. Howard is Eastern's defensive specialist and will not see much offensive action, but will be used again as a wild card substitute.

The Maroon coaching staff is faced with the problem of a fullback position with absolutely no experience. Bill Elkins, the only fullback left from last year's team who lettered, was moved to end, where the coaching staff believes he will be of more value to the Maroons.

The center of the '61 line has more depth than the rest of the squad. The center post is the strongest with four returning lettermen from last year's team—Bob Goes, Steve Kibler, Dick Wallace, and Willard Davis. Ken Goodhue and Tom Sharp are expected to be the best guard combo in the conference with veteran Don McDonald and red-shirts Don Disney, Dave Grim, and Jim Whittis providing depth.

The weak positions in the line are the tackle and end spots due to lack of experienced men. Dave Hatfield and James Keller are the best bets for the starting spots in the tackle position, which were hard hit by graduation losses. Joe Laskowski, Glen Reidel and Larry Madox, along with a promising frosh crop, brighten the picture some.

The end slot has been bolstered by the return of Harvey Yeary, who has recovered from a serious injury. Bill Elkins, who lettered as fullback last season, has been shifted to end to join lettermen, Gene Blackwelder and Ed Spenik.

The Maroons have now been engaged in preparation for their opener since September 1, and since that date the unpredictable has reigned at the Eastern football camp.

The first surprise that met the Eastern coaching staff was the withdrawal of George Brauer, 9.6 sprinter from Maryland, who was expected to add break-away speed to the Maroon backfield.

Another withdrawal from the team, which will hurt more than that of Brauer, was Jerry Lansdale's decision not to play football this year. Lansdale was the only returning fullback from last year's squad after Elkin's having been moved to end. The fullback post will probably be filled with sophomore Tom Stapleton.

All of the surprises have not been unpleasant, however. The unexpected return of Harvey Yeary to the shallow end position after suffering an injury that was expected to prevent him from playing football again and the showing of freshmen at the troubled tackle spot have been bright spots, indeed.

Nevertheless, the 1961 Maroons will be an interesting team to watch. With a little luck and good breaks they should be able to snap back after finishing in the O.V.C. cellar with Western last season.

Pep Rally Held In First Assembly

Eastern's first assembly program on Wednesday in Hiram Brock Auditorium featured a pep rally.

Rev. William H. Poore, pastor at the First Methodist Church, gave the devotional. Following the devotional, Dean Moore made several announcements to the incoming freshmen.

Coach Glenn Presnell then introduced his staff and the members of the football squad. The introduction of the seniors was followed by juniors, sophomores, and freshmen.

The rest of the program was used as a Pep Rally. James Van Peursem, Head of the Music Department, led the assembly in the singing of the school songs. Following the musical session, the cheerleaders led the group in some of the yells that they will be doing at the football and basketball games. With the last yell, the freshmen's first lesson in school spirit was concluded.

Neil Wheelwright and Harold Haines, former Springfield College athletes, are on Coach Howdy Myers' football staff at Hofstra College, Hempstead, N. Y.

Former Murray Coach Assumes Duties; Howard Added On Staff

Jim Cullivan, who served as head coach at Murray State College for four seasons, was hired as assistant grid coach for the Eastern Maroons in late August.

Cullivan, a native of Paris, Tennessee, was head coach at Murray from 1957 through 1959. Since 1959, he has worked toward a doctor's degree at Indiana University.

He will replace defensive coach and track coach, Glenn Gossett, who has been granted a leave of absence to continue his work toward a doctor's degree at the University of Arkansas, where he will work under Frank Broyles, one of the nation's top grid mentors.

Following his graduation from Murray in 1949, he served as line coach at Fulton High School for two seasons. He then assumed the duties as line coach at Murray in 1951. He coached Covington, Tennessee, the next year before returning to Murray as line coach, a position he held until 1957, when he assumed the head coaching post.

He joins Fred Darling and Don

Daly as full-time members of Glenn Presnell's staff.

Howard is Graduate Assistant

Ledger Howard is serving this year as graduate assistant coach. Howard was a standout end for the University of Kentucky for three seasons, graduating from there in 1959 with a bachelor of science degree. He majored in physical education and biology.

He served as an assistant coach at Owensboro High School last year before deciding to enroll at Eastern as a graduate student.

Madison Ranked No. 1 Prep Team

The local high school football team, the Madison Royal Purples, have been rated as the number one school boy grid team in the state by this week's Courier-Journal Littleton Ratings.

The Purples possess the longest winning streak in the state, a 15 game skid that began in 1959 and have had their opponents scoreless in their last nine season contests.

The local Purples have rolled over Lexington Henry Clay, 40-0, and Cynthiana, 19-0 in their first two games this year.

Madison is favored to recapture the Central Kentucky Conference title again this season, along with Class A, Region Two Honors.

Thomas C. Robbins won the USCA Senior Amateur golf championship in 1958 when he won the title.

Sten Leonard of Vancouver, B. C., made golfing history this summer when he won the Canadian PGA championship for the eighth time. He turned in a 64-hole score of 203.

ESC Adds Adult Education Program

A new program of Adult Education, consisting of twenty-one courses to be taught in the evening and on Saturday morning, is now offered at Eastern for the adult student who wants to learn without enrolling as a full-time student.

Approximately half of these courses were added especially for the new program, according to President Martin.

A total of sixty semester hours will be offered in this division of the college curriculum.

Tuition for these courses are the same that is in force with full-time students. Undergraduate tuition is $4 per semester hour, while graduate students are paying $5 per semester hour. All of the courses, according to Dean of the college, W. J. Moore, may be taken without credit, if desired.

Included in the curriculum are courses in general bookkeeping and general crafts and a course in elementary landscaping. These courses college officials expect to be very popular.

A course entitled Geography of World Problems has been added, and courses in beginning typewriting and beginning shorthand are offered as evening classes.

Two art courses, three other commerce courses, four English courses, a geology course entitled, "Geography and Geology of Kentucky," a course entitled, "Government of Kentucky," two history classes, a music appreciation class, and a psychology course, are among courses included in the program.

Faculty Day Observed At ESC

Cooperation, patience, and an "honest day's work for an honest wage" were President Robert R. Martin's requirements as he addressed more than 400 members of the faculty, administrative staff, and other employees on Faculty Day, September 8.

Held in Hiram Brock Auditorium, the address was a highlight of the day's occurrences.

The president asked the faculty and staff to help project the image of Eastern, which he outlined as "one of growth and progress; one of friendliness; one of beauty; and one of quality. Eastern can only be great if we work as a team," he said.

Meetings of the college faculty and staff were held throughout the day and President and Mrs. Robert R. Martin were hosts at a 5 p. m. reception honoring 41 new members of the faculty and staff.

Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice-president of the University of Kentucky, climaxed the day's activities by telling the college faculty that the problems of education must be viewed, not as a calamity, but as a challenge to larger service, and service to even higher quality than we have rendered in the past.

Enrollment

scheduled for completion by January 1.

Several dormitories were renovated this summer, including Leckham, Miller, and McCreary Halls, for men, and Burnham Hall, for women students.

ATHLETIC PLANT

Six new tennis courts, lights for night play, air bearing equipment for student use immediately. A new practice football field, to be used also for intramural sports, is presently in use by the varsity football team, which is presently preparing for its first game tonight. By spring, an all-weather track will be completed, enclosing the new field.

Married students found modern one, two, and three bedroom efficiency apartments in location, the married student housing project that replaced old Vets village. Eighty units were completed last spring and sixty-four additional units will be completed this fall. The old frame dwellings that formerly stood in Vets Village have been disposed of.

Construction still under way on the Eastern campus is valued at some $9 million, and President Martin reveals that another $6 million was scheduled to begin this fall.

Major projects under way presently include an addition to the Fitzpatrick Arts Building, a new maintenance building, Martin Hall, a large dormitory for 500 men students, and Alumni Coliseum, the athletic-physical education plant that is scheduled for completion by December, 1962.

Projects planned to get underway this fall include a new classroom building, two new dormitories, and an addition to the Crabbe Library.

While much emphasis has been given to these expansion programs, affecting the physical plant, the curriculum, and the faculty, perhaps even greater emphasis has been given to quality at Eastern, said President Martin. "At Eastern, we are determined to have quality programs of instruction, a quality physical plant, and a faculty of the highest quality."

"Veep" And Romulo, Highlights Of Summer

Awe! . . . Vice-president Lyndon B. Johnson took time out from ground breaking ceremonies on June 1 to give Debbie Darling, daughter of Dr. Fred Darling of the Physical Education Department, a bird's eye view of activities. The Veep highlighted the spring commencement at which he was awarded Eastern's first honorary degree.

Dixon Barr, Director of Donovan Laboratory School, gets first hand impressions from two students, Roy Russell Watson, a sophomore, and his sister Mary Fred, a first grader. Part of Eastern's move to quality, the $2 million lab school was completed this summer.

IT'S THIS WAY—Governor Bert Combs addresses more than 2,000 persons at the second annual Governor's Day program at Eastern July 5. Combs reminded the audience of the importance of the school's tax program and praised Eastern's growth.

"You Americans must believe and practice that one line from your Declaration of Independence — 'All men are created equal' — and you need have no fear . . ." Carlos P. Romulo, world-famous statesman and ambassador to the United States from the Philippines delivered the commencement address to this summer's 429 graduates. The second honorary doctor of laws degree awarded by Eastern State College was conferred upon him at the 54th commencement exercises by President Robert R. Martin.

Record Number Here This Summer

A record 2,453 students, 220 more than the summer figure of last year, enrolled for the '61 summer term at Eastern Kentucky State College.

The figure, which does not include the training school enrollment for the summer, also does not include the college's one operating off campus extension center in Hyden, where 150 students were enrolled.

Madison County boasted the highest number of students, 284, while Harlan had 125, Clay County 113, Pulaski County 103, and Perry County 100. A total of 82 Kentucky counties accounted for all but 87 of the total enrollment while these came from 16 other states. Ohio had the largest out-of-state enrollment, 51 students, with Indiana second with 12.

Dr. Hubert Algea, Professor of Chemistry at Princeton University, runs an experiment during one of Eastern's summer assembly programs. Dr. Algea is considered one of the country's leading authorities on atomic energy.

A graduate of Eastern in the '60 class, the bride had been a home economics teacher in the Henry County School System.

Mr. Cole was a graduate in last year's class. He was a member of the basketball team three years, was the recipient of the Joe Bowles Memorial award in 1960 and 1961, and was given the WHAS basketball leadership award in 1961. Mr. Cole has accepted a position programming computers for the Phillips Oil Co. in Bartlesville, Okla. where they will make their home.

NEWS OF ALUMNI

Alex W. Stevens, head basketball coach at Danville High School for the past year, has been named head basketball coach and physical education instructor at Centre College for this year.

Stevens was coach at Winchester High School from 1957 to 1960 and coached in 1952-53 at Owen County High School. He graduated in 1952 from Eastern where he played four years as forward and center with the Maroons. At Eastern he earned the bachelor of arts degree, majoring in political science and physical education, and also earned the master's degree in political science and education with a certificate in school administration.

Stevens is married to the former Jane Garriott also a graduate of Eastern in the class of 1950. They have a daughter, Alexa, 8, and a son, James, 4.

ALUMNI NEWS

The following Eastern graduates received advanced degrees this past summer: Philip M. Stubblefield '59, M. A., George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn.; Jerry Wayne Willoughby '58, M. A., George Peabody College for Teachers; Robert James Dils '43, M. A. in Educational Administration, Marshall University, Huntington, W. Va.; James Lee Odle '54, M. A. in Educational Administration, Marshall University; Earl K. Teague '49, M. A. in Elementary Administration, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

Douglas J. Hines has resigned from the University of Kentucky coaching staff to take over as head basketball coach at Somerset High School. He received his B. S.

degree at Eastern in 1953 and his M. A. 1955. Mrs. Hines, the former Maxine Baugh, was also graduated in the class of 1955.

DEATHS

Chester Allen Rose, chief of the contact division for the Veterans Administration in Louisville and a former State senator, died unexpectedly at 2:15 p.m. on July 15 at his home, 2381 Valley Vista, Louisville.

Rose was born and reared in Whitley County. He was a former principal of Williamsburg High School and a former superintendent of the Whitley County School system. He was State senator from the 15th District from 1940 to 1944, representing Whitley, Pulaski, and McCreary counties. Rose joined the Veterans Administration in 1946. He was graduated from Eastern in 1932 and held a master's degree from the University of Kentucky.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ruth Ellison Rose; three daughters, Mrs. Dewey A. Bunting, Seattle, Wash.; Miss Mary Beth Rose and Miss Judith Allen Rose; two brothers and two grand-children.

Funeral and burial were held in Williamsburg.

Miss Julie Dixon, Blackey, a teacher in Letcher County schools for 35 years, died on Saturday, July 15 in a hospital at Hazard. Her illness, cancer, forced her to retire from the faculty of Letcher County High School January 1.

Her illness prevented her from attending her 25th anniversary celebration of graduation from Eastern at commencement time this year.
