Freshmen Voice First Candid Campus Impressions

As the upper classmen leave, the freshman class is left to take their place. Many freshmen have mixed feelings about this transition, but overall, they are excited for the new opportunities that come with being a part of Eastern's campus.

Some freshmen are looking forward to the change in lifestyle, while others are nervous about the responsibilities that come with being a part of the university community. However, most are eager to experience all that Eastern has to offer.

The atmosphere on campus is different than what they are used to, but most freshmen seem to adapt quickly. Many have already made new friends and are excited to explore the various clubs and organizations available.

One thing that stands out to many freshmen is the size of the campus. While some may find it overwhelming at first, they soon come to appreciate the variety of buildings and surroundings.

Freshmen also note the different social scene on campus compared to high school. Many have found it refreshing to be surrounded by new people and to have the opportunity to meet and interact with students from diverse backgrounds.

There are some challenges that freshmen face, such as the need to balance coursework and extracurricular activities. However, many are finding ways to manage their time effectively and are enjoying the experience.

Overall, freshmen seem to be adapting well to their new environment and are looking forward to the opportunities that come with being a part of Eastern's campus.

Progress Defines Responsibilities

The year is underway officially today with the start of classes, and the thought of students, some 10,000 strong, begin the school year with vested goals but all of us are united in one purpose. We are here to receive an education. The Progress has several responsibilities to meet but it, too, has one purpose and that is to publish the paper which is taking place and to give comment on the issues that affect our campus.

Throughout campus coverage has always been a principal goal. History has established certain laws that have not and will not change with time and in the 72-73 year the Progress will maintain these laws.

The Progress advocates change because without change our campus will progress and as in past years the newspaper will report alterations in those areas of the paper which are lacking.

This does not mean that the Progress will become an instrument to be used by students to make personal attacks against those things or people who have contrary opinions. We will strive to report all news in an objective and accurate manner and we will be fair in editorial commentary.

Complete coverage of campus activities is a challenging goal, but with a hard working staff, which the Progress has assembled this year, we hope to give it a good try. The Progress does not concern itself with any one campus group but the community as a whole. In 72-73 the paper will cover all organizations equally.

Many students think a college newspaper is wholly responsible to criticize the administration and this may be a result of the times, but we are not here to give only criticism or are we here to hold out accolades to the administration just because it represents authority. We are here to give students' causes or belittle them just because they are student causes. We will criticize or praise and we feel that it may prove helpful to you and bring about a positive change.

The Progress is and has always been a free press. Contrary to popular belief we are not censored by the administration. We are not here to glorify and we are not censored by the administration. Contrary to popular belief we do not allow the administrator any control over the newspaper. We are the student's newspaper and we are controlled by the students.

We must ask, however, that certain rules be observed in submitting letters to this column.

1. Letters should be limited to approximately 300 words and should be typewritten, double-spaced. We reserve the right to edit all letters and shorten those which are longer than the suggested limit providing the meaning will not be altered.

2. All letters must be signed before they will be considered for publication. No names will be withheld from print, with the possible exception of petition-type letters bearing the signatures of a number of people. If space does not permit publication of every name, at least the first two will be used. Campus address and phone number must also accompany each letter. If The Progress' receives a letter with a name on it, the student writer will be contacted for verification.

3. Letters which may subject the writer and-or The Progress to libel will not be returned to the writer for rewriting or withdrawal.

4. Equal space will be extended to all letters supporting or opposing the same issue, but The Progress will not open its doors to anyone who may wish to ridicule, criticize or praise for something that deserves it.

5. No letters of condemnation will be published when the condemned cannot reply.

6. Reader opinions, commendations and suggestions are valuable contributions to each editorial page. We hope that our readers will take advantage of this opportunity to speak out on subjects which concern all of us.

The only opinions expressed in this newspaper are those of the editorial staff and not necessarily those of the University, faculty, or Administration.

The Progress has a very rich tradition of excellence and the 72-73 staff will do all within its power to give the students of Eastern a banner year in newspaper readership.

Dear Class of 1976:

I wish for each of you a most pleasant experience as you enter college and I wish you many pleasant memories which will be a memento and rewarding one.

Once again, The Progress will allow its readers to express their feelings concerning situations on campus through its weekly "Write On!" Editor opinion, commendations and suggestions are valuable contributions to each editorial page. We hope that our readers will take advantage of this opportunity to speak out on subjects which concern all of us.

'Write On!' Policies And Procedures-Reiterated

Editorial Pages To Feature 'A Little Of Everything'

Best assured that beginning next week, this page will abound with the thoughts of the Progress Editorial Board on subjects which may or may not seem important to you.

Read the "purpose" article and you will learn why our subject was treated as it was on the editorial page and, hopefully, you will agree with the Board.

Take a look at the letters policy and you'll know exactly how to respond to what you've read, if you wish to make a comment and respect your thoughts as we hope you do ours.

You'll find a little of everything on the Progress editorial pages this year. This year's editorials could range from this opening notice to the Board's views on Earth Day activities. And, of course, the Progress wants your views as a student--as long as you follow the letters policy set down by the Editor. The Progress will attempt to dig deeper into the automobile policy that has been revised to include everyone on campus. It will also try to provide the student with information and opinions concerning room inspections and the new refrigeration policies.

Perhaps you'd like to suggest ideas for editorialists, not those, mind you that condemn someone just because you don't like them, but those which offer the possible solution to an existing problem.

If course there will be times when your ideas will be merely tossed aside when the editor already has an idea for that week's paper. But then, who knows, maybe your ideas will help the editors out when their brains are at a low for ideas to expand upon. It never hurts to try, right? "Write On!"
Drama Department Promises Variety

BY PATRICIA DOTSON  Fine Arts Reporter

Whatever your taste, realistic, thought provoking drama by Ibsen or something light and frothy by Shakespeare, Eastern's Drama Department has a complete variety. This year the EKU Drama Department will present five plays ranging from Ibsen's Enemy of the People to the delightful Midsummer's Night Dream. Other productions include the Commedia dell'arte play Servant of Two Masters, by Goldoni; a tentatively set Reader's Theater production of Ray Bradbury's Dandelion Wine and a Children's Theater production as yet undecided.

Goldoni's Servant of Two Masters and Ibsen's Enemy of the People will be directed respectively by Dr. Sporre, a new addition to the drama department this year and Dr. Benson, head of the drama and speech department, and both plays will be cast together at general try-outs which are open to the public.

General try-outs will be held Monday, Aug. 28 from 4-5:30 p.m. and 8-10:30 p.m. in the Grise Room in the Combs Building and Tuesday, Aug. 29 from 8-10:30 p.m. Call backs are August 30 in the Ferrell and Grise Rooms from 7:30-10:30.

Enemy of the People will run October 11, 12, 13 and 14. Dates for the other plays include Servant of Two Masters, November 15, 16, 17 and 18, at Edward's Auditorium in Model High School. The Reader's Theater production of Dandelion Wine will run Feb. 14, 15, 16 and 17 at Edward's Auditorium. The children's show will run April 5, 6, 7, and the 12, 13, 14 and 15 at Pearl Buchanan Theatre.

Military Program Expanded

BY MAE J. ANDELL
Editor, Progress

Since its initiation, the Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTAC) has been an valuable part of college training. The stipend is $250 which can represent $2,500 in two years. However, for many students, the main advantage of ROTAC is the experience gained by serving in the military. This experience is crucial for those who wish to pursue a career in the military or related fields.

The program offers a variety of courses that cover a range of topics, from weapons training to leadership development. These courses are designed to prepare students for a successful military career and to instill a strong sense of discipline and responsibility.

One of the main benefits of ROTAC is the opportunity to gain valuable hands-on experience. The program provides opportunities for leadership positions, such as platoon leader or company commander, allowing students to take on responsibility and learn valuable leadership skills.

In addition to the courses offered by the ROTAC program, students also have the opportunity to participate in activities outside of the classroom. ROTAC members often participate in field exercises, military competitions, and community service projects, which help to develop strong teamwork and communication skills.

The Army Reserve Officers Training Corps is an excellent program for students who are interested in military careers or who want to gain valuable experience and leadership skills. With the benefits of a ROTAC program, students can gain a competitive edge in the job market and develop a sense of pride and accomplishment in their military service.

Quartbacks’ Progress Impresses Kidd

The closing of the first week of fall football practice at Eastern has brought general optimism to the Colonels coaching staff, and particularly concerning the quarterback position.

"Of course, it is a little early to tell," said KU head coach Roy Kidd. "But we believe we have a real fine set of quarterbacks this season. All of them are progressing, and we feel real good about the situation."

Kidd said. McCarthy, playing only sparingly last season, completed four of 21 passes for 142 yards and one touchdown. Borders was able to hit on 14 of 27 passes for ten yards and one touchdown.

"One outstanding spring practice and a real fall practice has really helped them," Kidd said.

Borders, in particular, has impressed the Eastern coaching staff.

"Dave is an outstanding golfer is one of the finest in this part of the country," said Presnell. "He stands 6-4, 185-pound junior from Cold Spring, Kentucky, currently ranks as the Colonels’ top pro prospects of all time."

His golfing laurels include "All-Ohio" honors and will try out for the pro tour. Kidd said.

All three agree join Presnell and McQueen, are thinking and then planning. All three agree with the coaching staff, and particularly Kidd said.

Jeff is our No. 1 quarterback at this time. He and Hands have looked good in practice, but there is room for improvement," Kidd said.

Succeeds Dr. Adams
Higgins Named New Tennis Coach

Tom Higgins, two-time Ohio Valley Conference and West Virginia State Public Golf State tennis champion, has been named tennis coach at Eastern. Athletics director Donald Combs said his appointment is effective August 15.

Higgins will succeed Dr. Jack Adams, who will devote full-time to teaching in EKU's School of Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Athletics. Dr. Adams had been serving as tennis coach in addition to his teaching load since 1968.

Higgins, currently a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Richmond, Va., is a Henderson native who entered to tennis at Murray State University from 1961 through 1964.

Higgins urged these persons to order their tickets by August 15 — can be said without question. Combs urged fans to purchase season ticket holders will have the option to take the most out of the experience at the courts. Higgins will serve as the outstanding physical education major and senior class president at Murray is 1964. He holds both the B.S. and M.A. degrees from Murray and has done additional graduate work at George Peabody College.

He has served as tennis coach at George Peabody College and East Tennessee State University, intramural director at Murray and as assistant professor of Physical Education Department at Virginia Community College.

Combs said the EKU athletic program was fortunate to add Higgins to his staff. "We come here at a time when interest in the sport of tennis is perhaps at an all-time high." Combs said. "This is a tribute to the excellent job Dr. Adams has done in developing tennis here." he added.

In addition to his coaching duties, Higgins will serve as tennis pro and outdoor activities director during the summer months at Arlington. The off-campus facility, located in the Begley Building.

Football Team Needs Punter
Eastern head football coach Roy Kidd has informed the Progress that he would like to try out as a punter an interested student athlete. All eligible student-athletes should report to him as soon as possible.

The University Center Board...

BY FAWN CONLEY
News Editor

Eastern's University Center Board has announced a partial schedule for its concerts, film series, and lecture series dates, according to Skip Daugherty, Director of Student Activities and Organizations. The Center Board's first major concert will be performed on September 14, 7:30 p.m., featuring The Association and Jackie DeShannon with The Association appearing on the same bill. Prices will be $2 in advance and $3 at the door.

Daugherty also announced plans to begin an "Uncut Talent" competition on August 28, in conjunction with The Auditorium featuring Tiny Alice, an up and coming recording group. Admission at the door.

Prices will be $2 in advance and $3 appearing on the same bill. DeShawnon and the Association are new to the Eastern campus this year. It will feature groups which have recording contracts, but which are not yet well known. The recording company schedules part of the year, the university pays for the rest.

The mini concerts were a blend of many different types of entertainment, but that the Board planned to include even more this year, than the idea of the Mini concerts.

"A lot of groups we want to get, but they are so artistically priced," said Daugherty explaining why many of the groups, students wanted to hear were unavailable to Eastern. Daugherty explained that his job was to provide the "best entertainment for the cheapest price."

The mini concerts were advertised throughout the semester, but because of last minute negotiations, the group featured is not usually known until after the concert date has been set. The second mini concert is to be September 29, at 8 p.m. in Bruin Auditorium. The cost for mini concerts will be $2.

In order to obtain groups and acts for the major concerts performed at Eastern, the University Center Board must go through many groups and sometimes long and complicated negotiations.

The Board, composed of eight students and eight faculty members, is responsible for the entertainment on campus. The Board negotiates contracts of their own, in addition to contracts from other students or faculty. Those organizations must then be narrowed down and negotiations started with the group's agent. However, many times the Board must settle for their second or third choice since many acts cannot be scheduled or their costs are out of Eastern's concert budget.

Some of the groups with which the University Center Board has made arrangements to appear at Eastern are Roberta Flack, Rick Nelson, the Grassroots, October 27, The Grandmas, and four acts taken from the Canyon Band and Danny Brooks, all scheduled for the same day, November 11. These concerts have more drawing power than the mini concerts and will continue to be performed in the coming semesters. Admission for these three major concerts will be $3.50 in advance, and $4 for general admissions and at the door.

The Center Board has announced a new policy for this year. Faculty members can only purchase tickets for all concerts and free admissions to the fine arts and lecture series. This is in contrast to previous years, when the student activity fee for that student pays for student attendances at the beginning of each semester.

"We're increasing our lecture series this year," Daugherty said. "Really, it's more of an artist series than a fine arts lecture."

Robert Flack Set For Homecoming

Working with the organizations included helping the groups find rooms for meetings and locations for their performances such as the "BOG County Fair" and dances sponsored by various groups. Daugherty's responsibilities are beyond this, such as providing 25% for freshmen and new students.

Approaching his second year with Student Activities, Daugherty said, "Our main job is to advise organized student groups and see that they are working by the guidelines set by the university." He added, "We are trying to keep regulations with the times and very to be fair."

Working with the organizations includes helping the groups find meeting rooms and locations for their performances such as the "BOG County Fair," and dances sponsored by various groups. Daugherty's responsibilities are beyond this, such as providing 25% for freshmen and new students.

Another duty is the advising responsibility of providing student groups and organizations with the scope of the student activities center. Daugherty is in charge of coordinating entertainers and negotiating contracts for appearances at Eastern.

Homecoming is another responsibility. However, Daugherty explained that the work isn't done by one person or group. "It is organized by the Homecoming Committee and every group has a part which he will be happy to tell you about.

Daugherty said that activities outside the classroom are a major part of the college experience. "We try to encourage students to become involved with an organizational group. Friends form a network of support which is essential in the development of leadership and growth of personality."

"The biggest problem with the organizations is money," Daugherty said. However, "We're working to improve our organization."

Daugherty said that "some groups fold up due to the scope of the student activities center."

Daugherty explained that the groups of the student activities center are broad and that it is difficult to provide all the help to all the students. He said that since financial resources are limited, for example the "BOG County Fair," "We try to keep students working on their own budgets."

"We're doing a lot of things," Daugherty said. However, "We're trying hard to organize and work on their own budgets."

"We're working hard to improve their organization," Daugherty said. "We're trying to keep the organization united and working with the times."

EKU Chapel Of Meditation Welcomes All Denominations

BY DELMA J. FRANCIS
Academics Editor

New to the campus this year is the Chapel of Meditation. Plans for construction of the Chapel date back to 1968 when the University Alumni Association adopted the Century Fund for Financing the non-denominational structure.

The cost of construction, which was originally estimated at $175,000, increased through inflation with the final cost projected at $200,000. The cost of construction was pledged by alumni and other supporters serving in the capacity of chaplain in Dr. George S. Nordgulen, associate professor of philosophy. In addition to his duties as chaplain, Dr. Nordgulen will teach two classes—Introduction to the Old Testament and World Religions. He will also work at the Counseling Center.

Plans for construction of the University Chapel date back to 1968 when the University Alumni Association adopted the Century Fund for Financing the non-denominational structure.

On weekdays the Chapel will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Thursdays.

The committee responsible for the project has been assured that the Chapel of Meditation will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Thursdays.

Regarding his own interpretation of the duties as chaplain, Dr. Nordgulen stated, "I see it as an academic position. I am concerned with religious thought and meditation, the unifying paths to the one supreme deity, and meditation is the unifying concept of a student or faculty member. We must shape the program as we go along." Dr. Nordgulen continued,

Former Eastern Employee Dies

Robert Louis Garrett, an retired assistant manager of the Eastern Bookstore, died at 5:30 a.m. Friday at Clay Hospital following a long illness. He was survived by his wife and two sons.

Robert R. Martin, president of Eastern, said he expected to "grow from this position as a greener person acting as a buffer for injustices that would be brought about by any number of reasons." He stated, "While stating that there were numerous problems up to death, Miss Hibbard called Eastern "a very beautiful place and a very happy place—otherwise I wouldn't be here."

She received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from Eastern in 1961 and 1963, and is presently a doctoral candidate at Indiana University.

First Woman Hibbard Named Ombudsman

BY ROBERT BABBAGE
Managing Editor

Miss Janet Gaynor Hibbard, assistant professor of business administration, has assumed the duties of ombudsman of Eastern. She is the fourth person to hold the one-year post and the first woman ever to hold it.

The office was created in 1969 by the Board of Regents to assist students in solving problems. Miss Hibbard succeeds Dr. Charles L. Ross, professor of economics, whose term expired.

A native of Cleveland in Clay County, Miss Hibbard was appointed by the regents upon recommendation of Dr. Robert R. Martin, president of Eastern. Miss Hibbard held the office at the Chapel most of the time during her term.

Dr. Nordgulen, in regard to regulations, "We must shape the program as we go along," Dr. Nordgulen continued.

In keeping with the concept of affirmative action, Daugherty explained that those who would lower the voting age of 18 to 16 would be required to file a petition with the State Board of Elections.

He said that they would then be required to file a petition with the State Board of Elections.

Bishop Hall
Is Dedicated

Fred Bishop Hall, a new three-story aggregate building for married students at Eastern was dedicated Aug. 1.

The name of the building honors the late state senator from Manchester, who was a member of the Eastern Board of Regents.

The dedicated activities started with a luncheon in the University Center, Powell Building, attended by memers of the Board of Regents, University officials, and members of Senator Bishop's family.

Dr. Robert R. Martin, Eastern President, announced that the luncheon, and Dr. J.C. Powell, vice president for administration, spoke in behalf of Senator Bishop.

The dedication included a cornerstone ceremony.

The apartment building, located on John Hunt Drive in the southeastern part of the campus, with four stair towers leading to open nhìn, it was designed by McLoney & Trace, Lexington architect, and built by C. Standaeter, Building Contractor, Lexington.

The concept of "South the Student" with higher fees and low cost was attacked Friday by Dr. Robert R. Martin, president of Eastern.

Speaking at an assembly of on-campus students, Dr. Martin said he believed the "opposite idea held by some that the student should bear the entire cost of higher education.

"This is saying that education is of no value at all to society," Dr. Martin said.

"Eastern is not a Harvard, not a Yale, but a developing university devoted to the belief that all races, creeds, and backgrounds are entitled to an university devoted to the belief and operated by Eastern Kentucky and Murray State University to the Fitzpatrick Allied Arts Building.
