Eastern Kentucky University will send a veteran team out on the volleyball court this season. Eastern welcomes back six starters, including the libero, from last season's squad. Six student-athletes are beginning their fourth season of play and a seventh has three years of experience in the program. Nine players total have at least two full seasons of play under their belt.

The 2009 Colonels won four straight matches to cap the regular season and earn a spot in the Ohio Valley Conference tournament. Despite starting last season with 12 straight losses, ECU finished with 10 victories, which was one short of equally the total number of wins combined during the 2007 and 2008 seasons. ECU was 6-2 in its last eight regular season matches.

"We have a core group that finished the season very strong last year," said head coach Lori Duncan. "That will continue to fuel that hunger to achieve, and they'll be well prepared to continue that."

The 2010 Colonels will build off that momentum. Eastern Kentucky was picked to place fourth in the Ohio Valley Conference this season in a pre-season poll of league coaches and sports information contacts. Two Colonel seniors – Abby O'Connor and Lauren Snyder – were selected to the 2010 Preseason All-OVC team.

"Every single year we've built on where we are," said Duncan. "In 2007 and 2008 we were decimated by injuries and not having enough experienced players. Now, we have a tremendous amount of upperclassman leadership this year. We're poised to take a big stride."

OUTSIDE HITTERS

Snyder, a 5-foot-10 outside hitter, will lead the offensive attack in 2010. After leading the team in kills and points and finishing sixth in the OVC with an average of 3.2 kills per set, Snyder earned second team All-OVC honors and was selected to the OVC All-Newcomer team. The Ft. Mitchell, Ky., native posted six double-doubles (kills-digs), had 10 or more kills in 19 of ECU's 29 matches and contributed 10 or more digs 11 times. She had a career-high 30 kills to go along with a .446 attack percentage, 11 digs and three blocks against Southeast Missouri State on Oct. 2.

She'll be joined on the outside by freshmen Ashley Edmond and Marissa Tashenberg, junior Amanda Fago and senior Chelsea Lee. Fago started the final 14 matches last year after missing the 2008 season with an injury. Duncan believes Edmond has the potential to make an immediate impact.

"With Lauren and Ashley, you're looking at one of the most dynamic outside duos in our conference," Duncan said. "Those two are as good as any outside combinations we're going to see in the conference this year. That is really important because we play in a conference where the ability to put balls away and being able to rely on the outside is very important."

MIDDLE BLOCKERS

Duncan will utilize three upperclassmen in pursuit of a consistent threat in the middle. Those three are senior Autumn Harms, junior Hannah Groudle and sophomore Toni Michalski.

Harms tied for the team lead with 62 total blocks and led the squad with 24 solo blocks. She finished third on the team with 244 kills, and 288 points. Groudle led the team and ranked ninth in the OVC with a .269 attack percentage. She tied for the team lead with 62 total blocks.

"Our middles will determine our success," Duncan said. "If our middles can be among the top two or three in the conference, along with our experience in the setting role and an outstanding outside combination, then we can be one of the top three teams in the conference."

RIGHT SIDE

Candidates for the right side include Fago, Michalski and Tashenberg. "There are a couple of different kids that can rotate through that role," said Duncan. "Whoever that person is needs to be a solid blocker and an offensive threat as well, then that gives us more options and balance."

SETTERS

Duncan believes one of the biggest strengths of her 2010 squad is in its senior setter Kate Hendle. Hendle led the team and finished sixth in the OVC with an average of 9.69 assists per set. In OVC matches only, Hendle ranked fourth in the league with an average of 10.63 assists per set.

"Kate as a senior understands the offense and the way we run things. That is a tremendous advantage for us," said Duncan.

Sophomore Jessica Mueller has a year of development under her belt and could see increased time on the court this season. Freshman Robyn Hench will have the opportunity to ease into action as she becomes acclimated with the collegiate game.

DEFENSIVE SPECIALISTS

In order for the team to meet its goals this season, Duncan believes her group of defensive players must continue to improve. Senior Abby O'Connor anchors the group of four. O'Connor, a 5-foot-4 libero, was a second team All-OVC selection last season after leading the league with an average of 5.56 digs per set and ranking eighth in the nation in the same category. She moved into sixth place on ECU's all-time digs list with 1,332 career digs, was a two-time OVC Defensive Player of the Week and registered double-digit dig totals in 27 of ECU's 29 matches. The Maineville, Ohio native had 20-plus digs 16 times. She tied her career-best with 32 digs against Southeast Missouri State on Oct. 2 and on the next day, she set a new career-high with 36 digs against Eastern Illinois.

The unit also includes senior Kelsey Rose, junior Jill Henneman and freshman Candice Biltz. Rose appeared in every set last season and totaled 223 digs and 17 aces. Henneman missed her sophomore campaign due to an injury and her absence had a significant effect on the team. She had 197 digs as a freshman.

"This is an area where we're really focused on improving," Duncan said. "Our ball control court defense the last couple of years has really suffered for several reasons. This is an area that we're going to get a lot better at. We've been drilling that really hard this preseason."

SCHEDULE

After opening the season at the Western Carolina Invitational, Eastern Kentucky will face Appalachian State, Valparaiso and South Carolina Upstate a week later in the Appalachian Invitational. The team will then fly west for the UNLV Invitational in Las Vegas on Sept. 10-11. The Colonels open with UNLV before playing Cal State Fullerton and Pepperdine.

Of the team's final 19 matches, 18 will be against Ohio Valley Conference teams. The league slate begins on Sept. 17 with a home-match against Tennessee Tech at 7 p.m. Five of Eastern's first eight OVC matches will be at home. Morehead State will visit McBrayer Arena on Nov. 4. The final non-conference match of the season will be on Nov. 6 against future OVC opponent Southern Illinois Edwardsville. The Colonels wrap up the regular season on the road against Murray State and Tennessee-Martin on Nov. 12 and 13.

The 2010 OVC tournament is scheduled for Nov. 18-20.

"The one thing this team needs is confidence," Duncan said. "They need to start the season with quality wins and be able to have accomplishments to feel good about. How fast we can get there will be determined by how good of shape we've come back in and how far ahead of other teams we are because of that."

Lori Duncan

Eastern Kentucky University, '84

2004 OVC Coach of the Year

The 2010 season will mark head coach Lori Duncan's 13th year at the helm of the Eastern Kentucky University volleyball program. Under her guidance, Eastern Kentucky captured a share of consecutive regular season titles in 2004 and 2005, winning the conference tournament in 2004 and earning the league's automatic berth to the NCAA Championships.

Four years ago, the Colonels finished with a 17-14 mark and advanced to the Ohio Valley Conference tournament for the sixth straight time, despite competing without several key players due to various circumstances throughout the season. During the 2007 and 2008 seasons Duncan's teams were bitten hard by the injury bug. Several key players missed significant time, including two starters who missed the entire 2008 season.

With a mostly healthy team in 2009, Duncan had the Colonels back where they belong, competing for the OVC championship. EKU more than doubled its number of conference victories from 2008, finishing with a 9-9 mark in the OVC. Duncan led the Colonels to four straight victories, including three wins in three days, to cap the regular season making sixth seeded Eastern Kentucky the hottest team entering the conference tournament. Only Austin Peay's three-match winning streak came close to Colonel's four in a row. Eastern won six of its last eight regular season matches.

The 2004 OVC Coach of the Year recorded three straight 20-plus win seasons at EKU after inheriting a team featuring all walk-ons in her first season (1998). During her tenure, Duncan has brought new life to a volleyball program that had previously won numerous Ohio Valley Conference championships and has returned it to prominence.

Eastern Kentucky advanced to the title game of the OVC tournament in both 2004 and 2005, winning the crown in 2004 for the first time since 1990 and making the program's first NCAA tournament appearance in two decades. That same year, Duncan led the Colonels to a school-record 15 conference wins and followed that with 14 conference wins the following season.

In 12 years on the sidelines for the Colonels, Duncan's players have earned numerous league and national accolades. In 2005, Liz Guard was named to the AVCA Division I All-Midwest Region team and was honored as an AVCA honorable mention All-American. In 2007 Brittany Nobilio earned her third OVC Defensive Player of Year award, was selected first team All-OVC and honorable mention all-region. Nobilio concluded her career as the NCAA record holder for digs per game and third on the NCAA's all-time career digs list. Duncan's players have earned All-Ohio Valley Conference honors 17 times and have earned spots on the All-Freshman/Newcomer teams eight times.

As just the second coach in the history of Eastern Kentucky volleyball, as well as a former all-conference player for the Colonels, Duncan has a deep understanding of the university. No stranger to Richmond, Duncan began her collegiate playing career at Eastern in 1980 under the guidance of former Colonel Head Coach Geri Polvino and played an intricate role on three straight OVC Championship teams and one NCAA tournament team.

During her four-year collegiate career, Duncan was a key player for three of EKU's seven-consecutive Ohio Valley Conference championship teams. While at Eastern, Duncan was a four-time All-OVC selection (1980-83), an OVC All-Tournament team honoree (1983) and an All-American choice in 1980 as an outside hitter. She was also chosen as EKU's Female Athlete of the Year in 1984 and won team awards for Best All-Around Player and Best Defensive Player following her senior campaign. Duncan still sits third among all Eastern players with a .271 career hitting percentage.

"To be back at my alma mater doing something I love is just fantastic," Duncan said. "Few people can know what it's like to come back and lead a program you once played for."

Duncan's collegiate coaching career began at Penn State-McKeesport where she led both the men's and women's volleyball teams for five years. She then spent five seasons as the head coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania (1993-97). Duncan has also gained coaching experience at the Junior Olympic level, leading teams to the East Coast championship during three years. At the junior level, she coached 10 athletes who furthered their education at such Division I schools as Penn State, Ohio State, Arkansas, North Carolina State, Kent State, Loyola (Md.) and EKU. Assistant Coach

Liz Guard

Eastern Kentucky University, '06

First Season • Willoughby, Ohio

Former Eastern Kentucky University All-American Liz (Guard) Sellers returned to her alma mater as the assistant volleyball coach in August. Sellers led the Colonels to back-to-back Ohio Valley Conference regular season championships in 2004 and 2005. She helped the team advance to the NCAA tournament in 2004 and garnered honorable mention All-America honors as a senior in 2005.

The Willoughby, Ohio native was a three-time first team All-OVC selection during her four-year career at EKU. In addition to earning All-America honors following her senior season, Sellers was also selected to the All-Midwest Region first team. She averaged 4.22 kills and 1.12 blocks per set in 2005. She finished second in the OVC for hitting percentage (.341). She also ranked third in the league in kills and blocks per set. As a junior she contributed 3.90 kills and 1.23 blocks per set, leading the OVC in hitting percentage (.387) and blocks per set.

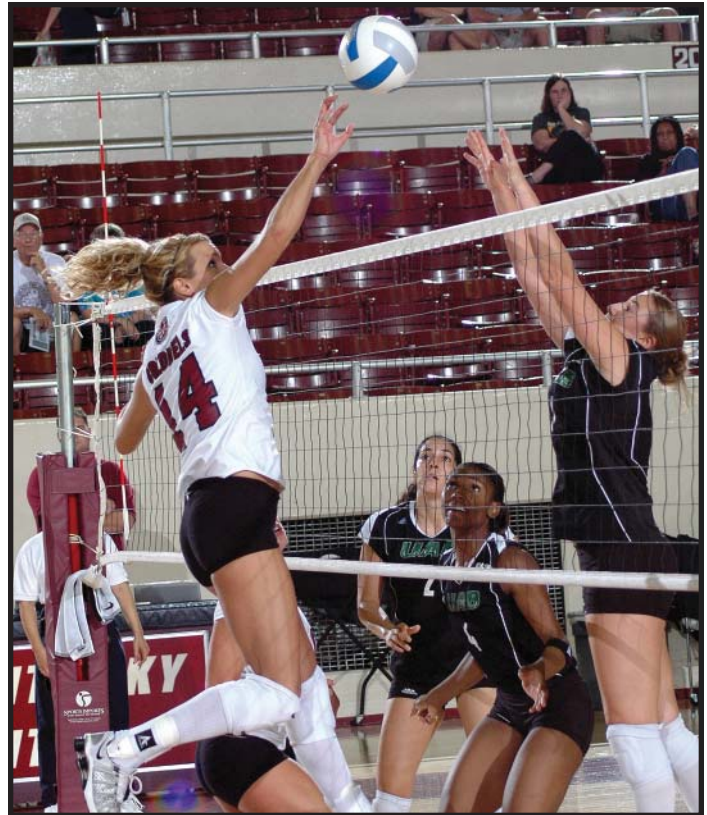

"I'm excited to have Liz back in our program," said head coach Lori Duncan. "Her experiences as a successful student-athlete and coach will be a great addition to our staff. As a former Colonel, Liz has a strong connection to this program. She's familiar with the history and tradition of EKU volleyball and will work diligently to continue that tradition."

"I'm honored and proud to be a part of EKU volleyball again," Sellers said. "I learned so much from coach Duncan and this program as a student-athlete here, and now I truly look forward to giving back to it."

Sellers began her coaching career in 2006 when she accepted the assistant volleyball coaching position at the University of Tulsa. In one season with the team, she helped the Golden Hurricane capture the program's first Conference USA regular season championship. Tulsa finished the season 27-6 overall and a 13-3 in C-USA.

After one season at Tulsa, Sellers returned to Ohio to be the marketing director for the National Association of Seed & Venture Funds. In September 2007, she accepted the marketing director position for Mind & Body Fitness in Beachwood, Ohio. That fall, Sellers stepped back into coaching, serving as the assistant coach at Beaumont High School.

A year later, in June 2008, Sellers became the program director at the Parisi Speed School in Brecksville, Ohio. Her duties included coaching athletes seven years and older using the Parisi Speed School training system. She also created a training protocol specifically for volleyball athletes. She held this position until rejoining the volleyball program at EKU.

While working at the Parisi Speed School, Sellers took over as the head coach at Solon High School, coaching the Comets in 2008 and 2009.

Sellers ranks high on numerous EKU records lists. She holds the program record with a .311 career hitting percentage. She has the third most kills (1,516) and third most solo blocks (169) in school history. She ranks eighth on Eastern's career total attacks (3,485) list and ninth on the block assists (292) list. She owns the top two single season hitting percentage performances – .387 in 2004 and .341 in 2005. Sellers' 449 kills in 2004 and 447 kills in 2003 rank seventh and eighth respectively in Colonel history. Her 57 solo blocks in 2004 and 52 solo blocks in 2005 rank sixth and ninth respectively.

Sellers earned a bachelor's degree in public relations from EKU in 2006. The former Liz Guard is married to former EKU baseball player Neil Sellers. Neil holds the school record for career hits and RBIs. He was drafted by the Houston Astros in 2004 and is currently playing in the Philadelphia Phillies minor league system.

Dr. Geri Polvino (inducted 2006)

Retired Eastern Kentucky volleyball coach Geri Polvino, who started the Colonels' volleyball program in 1966 and led the team through the 1997 season, was selected as a member of the inaugural class of the EKV Athletics Hall of Fame and in 2005, became the first volleyball coach inducted into the Ohio Valley Conference Hall of Fame.

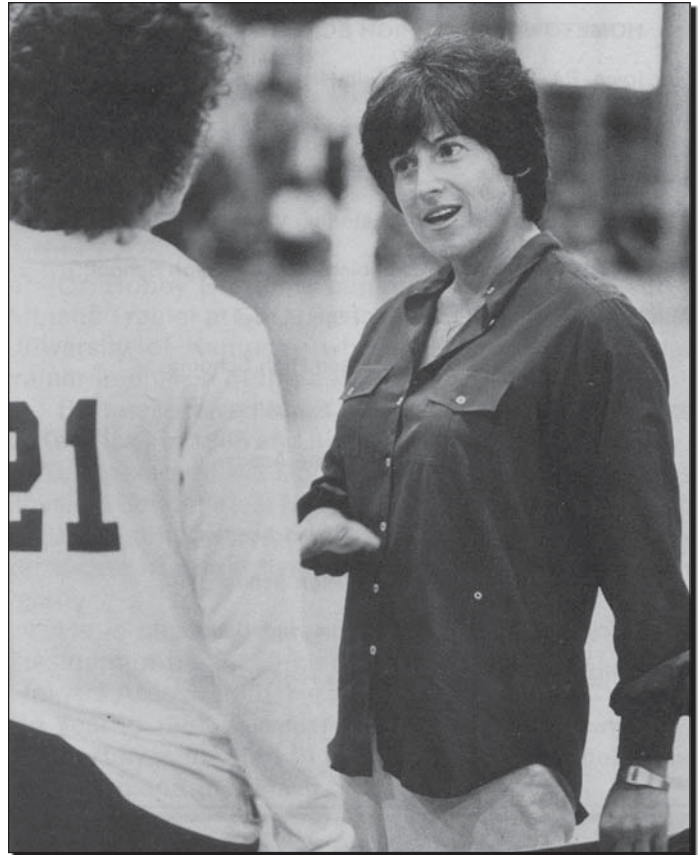

In her 32 years with the EKV volleyball team, Polvino compiled a 627-439 record while leading the Colonels to nine regular season conference championships and eight league tournament titles. During her tenure, she earned a league-record eight OVC Coach of the Year awards and pioneered the National Invitational Volleyball Championships.

Prior to joining the Ohio Valley Conference, Polvino led the Colonels to three straight KWIC (Kentucky Women's Intercollegiate Conference) state titles from 1971 to 1973 and gained national exposure after winning the 1971 AIAW Region II Championship. In a six-year span, Eastern won four AIAW Region II titles and advanced to the national tournament each of those years. In 1975, the Colonels made their best showing with a 14th place at the AIAW National Championships.

In addition to her work at Eastern, Polvino served as president of the National Association for Girls and Women in Sports Coaches Academy and chaired the CWS Volleyball Rules Committee.

As one of the sport's most respected authorities, she gained worldwide recognition when she became the first certified female instructor in the International Volleyball Federation. Polvino traveled the globe as she worked as a clinic instructor both in the United States and abroad.

Throughout the years, she served on the National Invitational Volleyball Championships Board of Directors and on the selection committee for the U.S. Volleyball Association's Men's All-American Team. Polvino was a voting member of the American Volleyball Coaches Association's weekly Top 25 poll and three times, served as the campus director of the IVBF International Coaches Course, attracting more than 200 coaches from around the world to the EKV campus.

"Because my volleyball experience at Eastern Kentucky was remarkable, I decided to pursue coaching as a profession. Dr. P taught us the value of TEAMWORK, LOYALTY, INTERGRITY and DISCIPLINE. She will always exemplify what makes EKV and our volleyball program extraordinary."
 – Head Coach Lori Duncan

On December 14, 2005, Eastern Kentucky University announced the creation of an Athletics Hall of Fame. The Hall of Fame's mission is to commemorate and honor student-athletes, other individuals and teams whose accomplishments have contributed to the esteemed tradition of Colonel Athletics and whose character has reflected positively on the University.

An extraordinary group of individuals, previously recognized by the University during the 1974 Centennial Athletic Awards Banquet, were inducted into the Hall of Fame on Nov. 3, 2006. This group of 25 is called The Founders. They were joined by an inaugural class of 13 members to make up the 2006 inductees.

Former head volleyball coach Dr. Geri Polvino was a member of the inaugural class in 2006. The 2010 class will include the first two volleyball student-athletes to be inducted. Angela Boykins and Deanne Madden-Scanlon will be inducted during ceremonies at the historic Keen Johnson Building on Oct. 8, 2010.

Colonels In The EKU Athletics Hall Of Fame

Angela Boykins (1983-86)

Angela Boykins lettered four seasons (1983-86) for coach Geri Polvino's volleyball team and was a driving force on all four Colonel squads as a middle hitter. She was a three-time All-Ohio Valley Conference first-team selection and she also was a three-time OVC All-Tournament team choice. Boykins was the 1985 and the 1986 OVC Co-Player of the Year and was named to the 1986 American Volleyball Coaches Association All-Region team.

She helped lead Eastern to the OVC tournament championship each of her four seasons with the Colonels and OVC regular season titles in 1984, 1985 and 1986. She is ranked fourth in the Eastern record book for career kills (1,497), career block assists (457) and career block solos (162).

Deanne Madden-Scanlon (1979-82)

Deanne Madden-Scanlon played four seasons and was a two-year starter for coach Geri Polvino from 1979-82. Chosen the EKU Female Athlete of the Year in 1982-83 and picked on the 1982 Ohio Valley Conference All-Tournament team, she was a member of Eastern's OVC tournament championship teams in 1981 and 1982 when the Lady Colonels finished those years with overall records of 36-11 and 34-15, respectively.

She is listed in the EKU record book with the sixth (.306, 1981) and seventh (.306, 1982) all-time best hitting percentages in a single season. She also has the top two seasons for single season block solos with 77 in 1982 and 73 in 1981, and she is listed with the third best single season total for block assists with 186 in 1981. Madden-Scanlon is also among the career leaders for Eastern in hitting percentage (.306, second all-time), block solos (150, fifth) and block assists (307, eighth).

Following graduation from Eastern in 1983, Madden-Scanlon, a native of Zanesville, OH, played on the U.S. Women's National Team and later spent a full decade as a player in the United States Volleyball Association, twice earning All-American honors.

Madden-Scanlon also played on a Women's Senior Division team that was national runnerup in 1993. She has spent the last 16 years as head coach of Grand Valley State University in Allendale, Mich., where she has compiled an impressive overall mark of 403-115. She has led the Lakers to 10 straight appearances in the NCAA Division II post-season tournament, highlighted by the 2005 team that went 32-6 and won the national championship. Madden-Scanlon was chosen AVCA National Coach of the Year following that season. She is married to Jim Scanlon who played baseball at Eastern. They have two children and reside in Jenison, Mich.
