Welcome

This issue of the Progress will no doubt find its way into the hands of many new students, students who have not previously been resident members of Eastern's student body. To those students we extend a welcoming hand. We commend you upon your decision to further your education that you may be better prepared to fight life's battles.

The Progress is the official publication of the student body of Eastern; it is expressive of the very spirit of the college. It takes this opportunity of welcoming you into the host of young men and women who realize that the time has come when the college degree is an identification tag. A degree will mean more in the business world in the future than it is possible to estimate.

You have come; now conquer. Stay with it. Get your identification tag.

America's Youth

Six hundred boys, all near the age of twenty-one, held a dance at Springfield recently. Nothing unusual about that, but the newspapers commented on one fact—it was a "dry" party.

Why is it that a dance given by a live-wire bunch of America's youth at which 400 girls were guests was noted for the absence of liquor? It would be presumed from the notice given by the press that when boys get together for a dance they have to drink in these prohibition times.

This is absolutely not necessary, as was demonstrated by the above party, which might have been any other organization. The dance was quiet, but everybody had a good time.

And from the leaders of this conclave came some interesting ideas which American youth holds on subjects which the older folks occasionally froth at the mouth and say the youth has gone to the bow-wows.

It is not too bold to say that the older generation feels proud when they know of a girl who doesn't smoke. The fad, and that's about what it amounts to, is becoming more prevalent, although we in the smaller centers do not see it so much.

One of the representatives of the above-named party, in expressing himself on the subject of girls, said, "I think most boys like what would be called a 'nice' girl. Although boys don't condemn the girls if they smoke or pet," he continued; but he gave expressions to ideals of American youth that most of us do not see. "There's a certain stage of youth when they seem a little wild, but they get over it."

The American youth still continues as fresh and vigorous and clear-minded as ever.—Maryville Forum.

Progress Platform

For the past two years the Progress has carried a box in the mast head with the heading "Progress Platform." In that box have been listed from time to time the planks which the Progress deemed as badly needed to make Eastern one of Kentucky's foremost colleges.

In that box has been listed—Beautify the campus, Better sidewalks to and across the campus, A stadium in the natural bowl back of the gymnasium, A new auditorium, More student jobs, A new gymnasium, and Extension of extra-curricular activities.

Glance back thru the list again. As to the campus, although greatly affected by the drouth, we have recently been reputed as having one of the most beautiful of college campuses. The long-sought stadium and football field is now nearing completion. The new Hiram Brock auditorium has been time and again praised as the best college auditorium in the south. More students are now working to help pay their expenses thru Eastern than ever before. The new Charles Weaver health building and gymnasium, a $190,000 structure, is now being built, and when completed will be one of the best in America. As to extra-curricular activities, Eastern now has during the regular term the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Milestone, the Eastern Progress, the Eastern Kentucky Review, the Men's Glee Club, the Madrigal Club, the Little Theater Club, the college orchestra, the college band, and four literary societies.

Apparently the student bodies of Eastern, thru their official organ, the Eastern Progress, have stood for what the college needed. Likewise, the administration has heartily agreed that these were necessary.

What could stop the progress of an institution whose student body knows what it needs, and whose administration not only agrees but sees that those needs are supplied?

Our Advertisers

The merchants of Richmond whose advertisements are to be found in the columns of the Eastern Progress believe in and back to the very last our college. They are reliable business men, worthy of your patronage and support. They are a select group of business men whose business policies have merited their ads being found in our paper.

When you enter a store to purchase something, tell the clerk that you saw their ad in the Eastern Progress.

The fact that a merchant's ad appears in the columns of the Progress tells you that that business man handles a brand of merchandise or renders a kind of service that may be relied upon.

Back the advertisers of the Progress, and in so doing you are backing the school.

Remember the slogan, "I saw it in the Progress."

Speak in Public

Gone are the days of Demosthenes, Cicero, and even the harassed college senior who had to orate for his sheepskin. Few tears are shed in the passing of oratory and the advent of public speaking.

Not so long ago it was reserved for the clergyman, the lawyer, the statesman, and the college professor alone to express opinions in public. No one else begrudged these men with tongues of silver such a privilege. For, indeed, the average layman felt that he would rather be shot than have to face an audience even so long as to introduce a professional speaker. This timidity has been handed down thru the ages and only now is beginning to cease attacking the average individual who must at some time or other say something in public.

In the college halls such timidity has been dealt a telling blow thru the practice of having students address mixed groups of faculty and students at special meetings. The demand for after-dinner speakers on inexhaustible subjects has become so great that no one is immune today from being called upon to make a speech.

To be able to stand on one's feet and express an honest opinion at a moment's notice should be an accomplishment of every student by the time he graduates from college. He owes it not only to himself, but to his audience. The world has suffered long enough from poor speakers and poorer speeches. Indiana Daily Student.

Fire and Water

With the increasing length of the drouth has come an ever-increasing danger of fire. The Progress wishes to caution the student body to be extremely careful and ever-watchful to prevent the great damage that would result from a fire at this time. Any outbreak now would probably do undreamed of damage before it could be checked.

The water situation, although serious enough now, would undoubtedly become so critical in the event of a sweeping blaze that the school and entire town would be instantly thrown into a water panic in addition to being razed by fire.

A serious fire at present might throw the entire town out of water until fall rains could refill the reservoir lake which is gradually lowering. Unless rains come soon, not much relief can be expected until the fall rainy season.

Be conservative with what water we have. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHER

We notice quite a change in the condition of the library floors this semester. The absence of torn up bits of paper and chewing gum wrappers is noticeable to everyone.

Quite true, your autograph may be priceless some day, but who wants to remove a section of the wall of the Administration building to get it?

We knew that sometime or other there would come to Eastern a student body who knew what waste paper baskets were for.

CAN YOU IMAGINE—

What will happen to championships when the wealth of Eastern's athletic material files out for business this fall and winter?

Anything so distressing as a chapel speaker who does not comment upon the magnificence of the new Hiram Brock auditorium?

Even a freshman thinking that the new waste paper cans conveniently located thruout the campus were mail boxes?

How any instructor with the welfare of the students at heart could conscientiously ask for leave of absence during the summer months?

The rejuvenating after-effects of a delightful dip in the new $8,000 swimming pool being built in the Charles F. Weaver health building and gymnasium?

What would be an appropriate punishment for the person who insists on asking "when you think it will rain?"

Any cafeteria without potatoes and beans on the daily menu?

NORMAL NOTES

Mr. Walker returned Saturday from Greenup, Ky., where he spoke to the Laurel county teachers at their annual meeting immediately preceding the opening of the school year in the county schools. The subject of his speech was "How the Teacher May Judge the Success of Her Work." He reports his trip "dusty," the Laurel county hospitality excellent, and the meeting very successful. Mr. Jagers, formerly connected with Eastern, now rural supervisor of schools with office at Frankfort, was also present.

Mr. Walker and Mr. Edwards have been working together to plan the schedule for the fall semester for the Normal School, which will be known as the "Normal Training Senior High School," after it is re-organized as a standard secondary school.

The enrollment of the Normal School for the second summer term reached a total of 94 students as compared with 100 last year at this time.

Mr. Grise, who taught in the Training School the first summer term, is teaching two classes in Social Science this term in the Normal School.

Mr. Bryant and Mr. Burns, who taught Mathematics and Social Science respectively last term in the Normal School, are taking a vacation this term. Mr. Grise is taking Mr. Burns' place and Miss Rush and Miss Hughes are teaching Mr. Bryant's subjects.

INSTRUCTORS ATTEND CO. SCHOOL MEET

Members of Eastern's Staff Attend Teachers Meet in Many Counties

Rural schools in many of the surrounding counties have opened or are planning to open soon. Teachers' meetings have been called by the county superintendents before the beginning of the school sessions.

Various members of Eastern's teaching staff have been invited to attend many of these meetings to offer counsel to the assembled group of teachers.

Mr. Charles A. Keith, head of the history department, attended the Breathitt county meeting at Jackson. Mrs. Gladys P. Tyng of the department of education addressed the Washington county group at Springfield. Miss Frances McKinney of the geography department journeyed to Mt. Vernon to speak to the Rockcastle county teachers. Mrs. Emma Y. Case, also of the field of education, went to Camp-ton, Wolfe county. Kerney M. Adams, director of extension, and James E. Van Feursem, head of the music department, were also invited to speak to county groups.

Instructors to Study Abroad

Miss Edna Zellhoefer, Miss Edith Ford, and Miss Jane Campbell, members of the teaching staff of the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, have been granted leave of absence during the fall term of the school year of 1930-31 to study abroad.

Miss Zellhoefer, of the English department, is planning to take work at the University of London, England, after a tour of literary points of interest of France, Germany, and Switzerland. She plans to sail from New York City on the Leviathan, August 30, to permit time for some travel over Europe before beginning work at the University of London. Miss Zellhoefer will be accompanied on her tour of Europe by Miss Sarah Branding, dean of women of the University of Kentucky. Miss Branding is sailing September 6, and will meet Miss Zellhoefer in London.

Miss Edith Ford, of the commerce department, and Miss Jane Campbell, of the music department, are to take work at the University of Paris. They plan to sail from Montreal, Quebec, on the Duchess of Richmond, August 30. A travel thru England, Belgium, France, Germany, and Switzerland will be made before starting work at Paris. They plan to visit Germany at a time when they can see the Passion Play.

All three of the teachers have been granted leave of absence during the first term of next year, and will return to take up work at the beginning of the second term.

COACH PORTWOOD WEDS

Assistant Coach Al Portwood was married yesterday to Miss Florence Rogers, of Midway, Ky., at the Midway Christian church.

The newlyweds attended high school together and were both students of the University of Kentucky from which Coach Portwood is a graduate. They plan to reside at the Goodloe apartments beginning August 15.

COUNTIES TO ORGANIZE FOR SHOE TOURNEY

Grant and Owen Take the Lead in Organizing for Peg Tournament

With the advent of sweltering evenings too hot for more strenuous exercise, and the inviting shades of the grove surrounding Memorial hall, has come an increased interest in the old favorite, "barnyard golf."

Much keen competition has been manifest in rival duals trying to eliminate each other in the struggle for leathers and wringers.

"Sundees" have been won, and "cokes" have been lost, but interest has so rapidly grown that county teams are being organized to participate in the tournament planned for the near future.

Records have been held by the "Midgets," Chas. A. Keith and Chas. A. Prettit; by the "Invincibles," George Carroll and Vance Dills; by the "Peggars," Floyd Gaines and Homer Roland; and by the "Congressmen," Senator Lusby and Representative Starnes. But all these have been broken.

As soon as the county units have selected their teams by elimination, the preliminaries will be scheduled for the official tournament to determine the year's record holders.

NEW BUDGET APPROVED AT REGENT MEET

Major Improvements Include $185,000 for Gymnasium, $25,000 on Power Plant

COMPLETE BUDGET

The Board of Regents of Eastern State Teachers College at the recent meeting held here adopted the budget of operating expenditures and capital outlay for the school year of 1930-31, as recommended by Dr. H. L. Donovan, president. All members of the board were present. They were W. C. Bell, state superintendent of public instruction, chairman; Senator H. D. Fitzpatrick, Prestonburg; Attorney General J. W. Cammack, Frankfort; Senator N. U. Bond, Berea; and Charles F. Weaver, Ashland.

Major improvements at Eastern provided for in the budget are the erection of the Charles F. Weaver health building to cost $180,000, and improvements at the college power plant estimated at $25,000. Contractors have begun work on the health building. Additions to the power plant include a 300-horsepower boiler of the most efficient type, coal bunkers, a new smoke stack 176 feet in height, and automatic stoker equipment for the new boiler. The present power plant equipment was installed in 1909 and is now inadequate on account of the recent addition of many new buildings on the campus.

Other improvements to be made at the college this year as provided for in the budget are the new football field and five-lap running track, now nearing completion, at an approximate cost of $10,000; additions to buildings estimated at $2,500; additional laboratory and class-room equipment, $12,500; and new books for the college library, $4,000.

The annual report of the business agent for the year ending June 30 showed the institution in good financial standing at the close of the year, and investment in buildings and other permanent equipment on the campus during year totaling $161,346.38. Book value of the college property, grounds, buildings, and equipment was $1,757,323.33 on June 30, according to the report.

LEWIS COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN

The Lewis county rural schools opened on Monday, July 21. Miss Anna Bertram, superintendent of schools, held a conference of teachers on Thursday and Friday before that date to prepare each teacher with information as to the aims of the schools and plans for routine of the work.

Miss Mary Floyd attended this conference and brought back a glowing account of the splendid work this group is doing. This county has advanced rapidly in the past five years in its building program as well as in its standards for teachers. Few counties have higher standards than high school graduation plus six college hours as the minimum. Many of their teachers have had two years of college or more.

Eastern is pleased to have had a part in the work of this county. Miss Bertram is one of her graduates and the following teachers in her conference are former students who send greetings to their Eastern friends:

MURRAY WILL HAVE INITIAL FROSH GRIDS

Entry on Probation in S. I. A. A. Demand Teachers College Have Official Squad

The football season of 1930-31 will introduce for the first time in the history of the Murray State Teachers College, Murray, Ky., an official freshman football team. The entry of the college on probation into the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association requires the school to maintain an official frosh squad.

At present four road games have been scheduled. To play these games the squad will have to travel approximately 750 miles thru Kentucky and Tennessee.

The grid schedule to date stands: September 26, Mayfield High School at Mayfield; October 18, Union University freshmen at Jackson, Tenn.; October 25, Franklin High School at Paducah; November 18, Austin Peay Normal at Clarksville, Tenn.

SMOKE STACK CONTRACT LET

At a meeting of the executive committee of Eastern State Teachers College held at the office of the attorney-general in Frankfort, August 1, contract was awarded to the H. R. Heinicke Company, Indianapolis, Indiana, for a 176 foot brick smokestack to be erected at a cost of $6,662 at the college power plant on the campus. The bid of the Heinicke Company was the lowest bid received. Six other bids were submitted to the committee. The new smokestack is being built to provide for the expansion of the power plant which is being made to take care of new buildings recently built on the campus.

Members of the executive committee are Senator N. U. Bond, Berea, Ky., Chairman, Attorney-General J. W. Cammack, Frankfort, Ky., R. E. Turley, Richmond, Ky., treasurer of the college, and Chas. F. Weaver, Ashland, Ky.

It was decided by the committee to defer installation of steel coal bunker in the college power plant which had been planned for this year in order that the swimming pool in the Weaver Health Building now under construction might be lined with tile rather than concrete as specified, funds not being available for both of these improvements this year.

The committee received a report of the business agent that the new athletic field and five lap running track had been completed by the Lexington Quarry Company, Lexington, Ky., and that 500 tons of crushed stone had been placed on the running track and the playing field sowed in grass and rye. Owing to the continued drought it was the opinion of the committee that the field would not be sufficiently settled to use for games this fall.

Clubcraft Class Visits Scout Camp

The class in Scouting and Clubcraft, Physical Education 114, under the direction of Mr. T. E. McDonough, head of the department of physical education of the college, journeyed to the scout camp near Lexington, Saturday, July 27, to get actual field experience of scout work.

They were accompanied by Dr. J. D. Farris and Mr. R. A. Edwards, each of whom has a boy who has passed the Eagle Scout test.

The daily program follows in part: 6:45, morning dip in river;

7:00, breakfast with the Scouts; 9:00, advancement period at which time instruction is given in leathercraft, making woven belts, fire-building by friction, cooking, life saving, first aid; 10:00, swimming instruction by Mr. Routhenberg of the University of Kentucky, life guard and swimming instructor at the Y. M. C. A.; 11:00, lectures on safety and life saving; 12:00, dinner. The afternoon programs are varied with the different troops. The Eastern boys demonstrated their athletic ability by throuncing the scouts in a game of playground ball after lunch. They were the first outside team to beat the Scouts. The final score tallied 6-4. Indian programs were rendered, and awards of silver and bronze buttons were made for years of service in the Boy Scout organization.
