EASTERN LTC REORGANIZES

Gwartney Serves As President

The Little Theatre Club at Eastern has organized for the coming year. At its first meeting Edith Gwartney, elementary education major, from Louisville, was selected as president. The club also has a new sponsor, Miss Frances McPherson, of the music department, who succeeds Miss Pearl Buchanan.

Other officers of The Little Theatre Club are Louise White, vice president; Herbert Searcy, secretary; and Leona Pennington, treasurer.

The club is planning an active program for the year. A three-act play will be presented during the winter quarter, and tentative plans are being made for a contest of one act plays in the spring.

A committee, composed of Patsy Newell, Martha Parsons, Tommye Ranin and Dorothy Carroll are working on a special program to be presented around Thanksgiving time.

The Little Theatre Club is well known both on and off the campus. It has been operating for a number of years and plans a really active program in spite of dormancy during the past two school years because of war conditions. Some Little Theatre Club hits in past years have been "Romeo and Juliet", "Our Town", and "Stage Door."

G. I. Joe Back To School At Eastern

By JANET WEST

Three ex-service men, advance guard of many more to follow, are enrolled this quarter at Eastern Teachers College under the provisions of the so-called G. I. Bill of Rights recently enacted by Congress.

Among these first returned veterans is Ralph Haddix of Richmond, former student for two years at Eastern, who has served nine months overseas where he fought through the battles of Cassino and the Rapido River in Italy.

Recalling his combat experiences, Ralph reports that at one time he had been within 100 yards of Clark Farley, a former fellow-Easterner, though neither knew of the other's nearness at the time, and that later in the hospital he learned that Clark was serving the same gun pit and sleeping in the same foxhole that he had left.

Other veterans enrolled at Eastern are Fred Lewis of New York, who served for two years with the Marines, and James Lewis Argentine of Ohio, formerly of the Army Engineers. Both of these men will be members of Coach Rankin's athletic teams.

The Listening Room

By LUCILLE BRANDENBURG

The music masters of the ages are at your command. Black, whirling, discs are ready to recall the lingering beauty of compositions from the time of Beethoven to Gershwin.

The Listening Room, 103 Student Union Building, affords an opportunity for the Eastern students to enjoy classical music. Here the student can choose records of symphonies, operas, overtures, ballads, and spirituals.

The entire opera "Faust" is recorded in this collection. Many outstanding arias from the scores of famous operas are also recorded.

The Listening Room is open on Sunday afternoon from 1 to 4 P. M., on Tuesday from 4 to 6 P. M., and on Thursday from 7 to 9 P. M. Miss Robbie Owen is in charge of the machine and records and will help you find the recordings of your choice.

In the fall of 1941 the Carnegie Foundation donated the machine and some records to Eastern. Since then many more pieces have been added.

The Messiah

By BETTY STILL

The Messiah, under the direction of Mr. Van Peursem, will indeed have a far-reaching effect on the surrounding community this year. With a group of faculty members, business and professional men from the city of Richmond, and also from the Blue Grass Ordnance Depot rallying to the support of the Music Department, the Messiah will be presented. They are making it possible for the college to keep up the tradition which started in 1931, when Handel's oratorio was first presented on this campus.

As in the past, members of the Berea chorus will aid us in the final performance, and we likewise, will send members of our chorus to Berea for the same purpose.

The tentative dates for the Messiah are on Sunday evening, December 10, in Richmond, and Monday evening, December 11, in Berea. The soloists have not been selected yet.

The above students have received informational and biographical blanks from the editor of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and will be included in that publication. These Eastern students were chosen by a secret committee because of outstanding work on the campus.

Eastern Students Attend Meeting Of State B. S. U.

A number of our students attended the Annual State Convention of the Baptist Student Union which was held at Murray State Teachers College, Murray, Kentucky, from Friday, October 20th to Sunday, October 22nd.

The sessions were opened by Dr. B. B. McKinney, the music editor of the Baptist Sunday School Board, directing the songs. The keynote, "The World Christ Supreme in My World," was given by Dr. H. Leo Eddleman, a former missionary of Palestine. Sessions lasted all day Saturday and closed with the Truth and Consequence Banquet. The closing message, "My Utmost for the Highest," was delivered Sunday by Dr. Ellis A. Fuller, President of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

YW And YMCA End Membership Drive

The YW and YMCA presidents announce that the membership drive for this year has been closed, and that the enrollment for the YWCA stands at 110 and that of the YMCA at 21.

The Y has already demonstrated some of its work in programs for the freshmen and fall retreat. There are many more interesting and inspirational programs ahead.

Faculty Hear Floyd Speak On Mexico

Miss Mary Floyd, college librarian, spoke to the Eastern faculty about Mexico at the faculty dinner held Wednesday evening, Oct. 18, in the Blue Room of the college dining hall.

As a feature of the program Miss Floyd introduced George Gumbert, college faculty, who showed an educational film on Mexican people and their customs. Roy Floyd, Eastern graduate, furnished Mexican music for the program.

Miss Floyd's talk was based to a large extent on a trip which she made to Mexico.

The dinner was served by the college cafeteria with the assistance of the Burnam House Council.

Mr. Ware gave a short outline of the goals of the Y for this year.

The speaker discussed Christian faith, racial equality, full employment, world organization, political effectiveness and religion in higher education. Mr. Ware pointed out that Christian faith involves the student personally; that racial equality has to do with freeing everyone from prejudice and providing opportunities for all, regardless of race; that full employment aims at a higher standard of living by giving to every person an open gate to making his own way; that world organization has an end a lasting peace, through orderly relations among the nations; that every person should assume active responsibility for political life in community, state, and nation; and that religion should be the center of higher education.

Eastern To Have College Unit Of American Red Cross

Science Conference Held At Eastern

Thirty-three science teachers and high school students representing the Kentucky Junior Academy of Science, attended a conference at Eastern Teachers College Library, Saturday, Oct. 28 with Dr. Anna A. Schried, State Councilor, presiding. Among the problems discussed were the plans for the year, and the recent honor received from the Kentucky Dental Association in the form of an offer of two twenty-five dollar war bonds for the best papers written by Junior Academy members on: "The Effects of Excessive Use of Sweets on Teeth" and the "Sources and Value of Fluorine on Teeth." The papers must be completed by April 1, and they must include what the respective schools are doing since the studies have been made. Professors Cox and LaFuze, Eastern Faculty, discussed briefly the need of Fluorine and the essentials of a good paper.

At noon the memers of the conference attended a luncheon given at the college. The Table Service Class of the Home Economics Department under the direction of Miss Mary Burrier, had charge of the table decorations. At three-thirty the conference adjourned and a social hour was enjoyed.

High schools represented at the conference were: Atherton, Louisville, Anchorage, Barbourville, Bellevue, Central High, Estill County High, Frankfort, Greendale, Harrodsburg, Highlands, Knox Central, Kirksville, Kingston, Model High, Morehead Training School, and Waco.

Faculty Vs. Students

The wits of the students will vie with those of the faculty in the quiz program which the Little Theatre Club is sponsoring Wednesday night, November 22. The Thanksgiving Eve Quiz will be held in the Little Theatre and will be a contest between four faculty members and an equal number of college students.

Complete plans for arrangements are in the hands of a committee, whose unique ideas for setting and costuming will not be revealed until the curtain goes up on the program for that night.

By NORDEAN BURRESS

Dreams do come true—if there are efforts to make them come true. For several years the Eastern "Y" has dreamed of a Chapel on the campus. When the war came along and spoiled this dream for the time being we began to dream of a substitute. Last year the idea of a prayer room was thought of. This year through the efforts of various cabinet members this dream has come true. In a few weeks the Prayer Room will be ready for use. It is in the basement of Burnam Hall. It's a small, quite secluded spot away from the chatter of dormitory life, etc. This week it is being painted. This is to be a place where every girl on the campus may go if she wants to be quiet and think, meditate, pray and have a closer communion with God. It's to be a place where one may go to worship and pay tribute and offer prayers for our boys in service—such boys as Tom Farris, who gave their all for their country. The room will be dimly lighted by electric candles and open at all times, day or night. There will be velvet drapes, a simple altar, candles, and a few chairs.

The girls are sorry that it won't be available to the boys but maybe they can have one similar to the girls, in their dormitory.

We were honored to have as our guests for dinner and Vespers Wednesday evening, Messrs. Henry Ward and Roy Cooper, Atlanta, Ga., Regional Secretaries of the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Ward spoke to the "Y" at Vespers. His speech was on the outlined National "Y" program. We hope that both Mr. Ward and Mr. Cooper will come again to see us. It was swell having two such grand persons on the campus at the same time.

Don't forget Vespers every Thursday evening, 8:15, in the Little Theatre or—Girls don't forget Quiet Hour each night at 9:15. Girls, by the way, let's try to be a little quieter at Quiet Hour. This is supposed to be a fifteen minute period of devotion and religious singing and we can't have spirit unless we are a little more reverent and quiet.

While Mussolini was conquering Ethiopia, Japan marched into Manchuria and the British failed to back up the United States in protesting Japanese aggression, Dr. Kennamer said. He related how the Nips had continued to take more territory from China and began their march to Hongkong, Singapore, the Philippines, and other lands, and stated that it was not until the Americans attacked Guadalcanal that an attempt was made to push the Japs back.

Friendship between the two countries grew, with the Japanese patterning its industry and commerce after the United States, until about 1906 when the exclusion acts caused the first coolness to arise toward this country, the speaker stated. The Japanese set up a port in their country named USA in order to stamp their cheap goods made in USA and sold the merchandise to Latin and South America, he continued.

Japan took Formosa and other islands from China in 1894-95 and in 1904 struck at Russia just as at the United States at Pearl Harbor, defeating Russia in this war but almost exhausting herself, Dr. Kennamer said. During World War I Japan became rich by carrying supplies for the Allies and had little fighting to do, the speaker continued, but took over the Marshall and Gilbert Islands from Germany.

ALL STUDENTS

A meeting of the Kyma Club, Eastern's pep organization, will be held in the Little Theatre Club, Monday, November 13, at 6:15 p. m. All students are invited to attend.

First Unit Of Kind To Be Established In Kentucky

A college unit of the American Red Cross is being established at Eastern. This is the first unit of its kind in the state, and is a branch of the Madison Chapter of the National Red Cross. Officers for the unit are being chosen.

The name of the unit is the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College Unit of the Madison County Chapter of the American Red Cross. It was organized following a meeting of interested students with Miss Rose Lammell, educational director of the Eastern Area, which includes Indiana, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and Kentucky.

Possibilities

Through the college unit plan it is possible to introduce Red Cross facilities in First Aid, Water Safety, Home Nursing, Canteen and Nutrition to the college program and to secure student cooperation and participation in the Volunteer Special Services, Disaster Preparedness, Fund Raising, Public Information, and in the Blood Donor Program.

Sponsors and Officers

Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Mrs. Lucille Whitehead, and Charles T. Hughes will sponsor the college unit. A chairman, vice chairman, secretary, treasurer, and committee chairmen will be elected from the student body. Marjory Boone has been appointed temporary chairman.

Program

The program of the College Unit comprises the regular authorized activities of the Chapters of the American Red Cross. The activities of the College Unit have a place in the regular program of the Chapter, but at the same time they are to be self-contained and conducted by and for the members of the College Unit.

Kennamer Heard In Chapel Talk

The Rising Sun of the East is being shadowed by great fleets from the air and from the sea, said Dr. L. G. Kennamer of the Eastern Teachers College faculty in an address at the college assembly hour this morning. His subject was "The Rise and Fall of Japan."

The Japanese have chosen the path of national suicide, Dr. Kennamer declared, and may be reduced to the rank of a fifth rate nation or annihilated. They have proved themselves unworthy to sit at the table of nations, he added.

Tracing the rise of Japan, Dr. Kennamer said we first hear of the Japanese in the 1200's when they defeated the Mongols. He related how Commodore Perry negotiated in 1853 without success and returned in 1854 with a fleet, forcing Japan to open its ports to other nations and to stop beheading shipwrecked sailors forced to land on the Japanese coast.

Friendship between the two countries grew, with the Japanese patterning its industry and commerce after the United States, until about 1906 when the exclusion acts caused the first coolness to arise toward this country, the speaker stated. The Japanese set up a port in their country named USA in order to stamp their cheap goods made in USA and sold the merchandise to Latin and South America, he continued.

Japan took Formosa and other islands from China in 1894-95 and in 1904 struck at Russia just as at the United States at Pearl Harbor, defeating Russia in this war but almost exhausting herself, Dr. Kennamer said. During World War I Japan became rich by carrying supplies for the Allies and had little fighting to do, the speaker continued, but took over the Marshall and Gilbert Islands from Germany.

THE PRICE WE PAY

For what price was glory bought and freedom won? Life was the price in some fields . . . Saipan and France. With what coin did we purchase the right to hold our ideals? Life, again, on foreign grounds. But what price did WE pay—We at Eastern? We crammed all night and passed a test—or failed it. We studied late, and drank a coke to stay awake. But somewhere, someone kept on, worn and tired, without sleep or even water to quench his thirst—for us. What price did we pay? Well, we gave a little money to the War Chest Fund, a little more to the Red Cross, bought a bond last month and would have this month only—, and, education is vital to the war effort. After all we have to look ahead to the postwar period when trained educators will be greatly in need. But isn't there something else we could do? Well, no, really, we have so much you see, so much studying, and—, well just everything. You know how it is. But how much time did we waste yesterday? Well—

Eastern is now making a very direct contribution to the war effort. Even at the present time a college unit of the local chapter of the American Red Cross is being established on the campus. We are the first Kentucky college to have a college Red Cross unit. This undertaking offers us an opportunity to help in the war effort.

But the organization of such a unit in itself is not enough. The proof of its worth will be in its accomplishments, and these accomplishments can be only so big as the students are.

Here is the opportunity that many of us have been awaiting, and it has been awaiting us. Here in our midst, working under our administration, is a convenient opportunity for us to pay our price for glory.

EASTERN'S EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR VETERANS

Eastern has a contract with the Veterans' Administration to offer educational opportunities provided for veterans under the "G-I Bill" approved June 22, 1944. All men and women who have served a minimum of ninety days in the armed forces after September 16, 1940, are entitled to at least one year of training. Those who were under twenty-five years of age at the time of entering the services are entitled to additional time equivalent to that served in the armed forces. Those over twenty-five years of age are entitled to additional time provided their educational program was interrupted by entering the service.

A veteran desiring to take advantage of the educational opportunities under the "G-I Bill" is required to make application on Form 1950 and present a copy of discharge from the Army showing that he or she was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable. Copies of this form may be secured by writing to the college or to the Veterans' Administration, Lexington, Kentucky. The application may be sent to the college or to the Veterans' Administration.

The benefits to veterans include a subsistence allotment of $50 per month for those without dependents and $75 per month for those with one or more dependents. In addition to this, the Government will pay the institution fees, tuition, and cost of supplies. The veteran will be free to select the institution which he will attend and the curriculum to be pursued.

Many of the faculty members at Eastern are veterans of World War I and have organized to assist veterans of World War II in getting all the benefits provided under the "G-I Bill" and to aid in extending every educational opportunity possible to those who enter Eastern. A special committee has been appointed. The members are Mr. Meredith J. Cox, Mr. D. Thomas Ferrell, Mr. Presley M. Grise, Mr. William L. Keene, and Mr. Melvin E. Mattox.

The Credits and Credentials Committee has given careful consideration to the problems of returning veterans. This includes the granting of college credit to those who have had special training that is equivalent to college rank while in service. It has adopted the Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experience in the Armed Services as a basis for granting college credit. This Guide was prepared in cooperation with the accrediting agencies of the nation. The Committee went on record as opposing the granting of blanket credit, which might endanger the standing of diplomas issued to veterans, but at the same time adopted a policy of giving the veteran every opportunity to establish credit. Any training not covered by the handbook may be used as a basis for credit provided the veteran can pass an examination showing sufficient knowledge to pass in the subject.

The educational opportunities at Eastern will be greater than before the war. Careful study is being made to modify the curricular offerings to meet the need of returning veterans and those who have been out of school working in war industries. This will mean the changing of some courses now offered to make them more functional and the supplementing of the curriculum by the organization of new courses when necessary. There will be a counselor for veterans who will assist in collecting evidence of all training and who will advise veterans concerning programs for the completion of their education.

The Veterans' Committee is working to enlighten the public on the provisions of the "G-I Bill." Members of the Committee will visit the various counties and discuss with the superintendents, service clubs, and the American Legion members the provisions of the "G-I Bill." The Committee holds that this is not a gift to the soldiers but a debt of the Government to them for services rendered for less pay than those who are not in the service receive. The welfare of the veterans and the welfare of the nation will be served by providing these educational opportunities for the training of leaders. The responsibility for making the educational program effective and functional is being taken seriously by those connected with Eastern. We already have in the college veterans who have served in this country and overseas and who have been given honorable discharges from the Army. This number is expected to increase with each subsequent registration.

The Committee will appreciate hearing from any of the people in service who are interested in going to college upon return to civilian life. In writing, it would be helpful if the veteran suggested the type of work he or she would desire upon returning to civilian life. Any suggestions as to what the college can do to make the offerings meet the needs of returning veterans will be greatly appreciated. Communications should be sent to M. E. Mattox, Chairman of the Veterans' Committee, Richmond, Kentucky.

Eastern's Orchestra

By JULIE HOFFMAN

We have everything here at Eastern . . . everything in the form of an extra-curricular activity or special program that you would want, unless perhaps you would be interested in something very special, and we have some of those very special things, too, as, for example, the orchestra that our Mr. Van Fuerson directs at orchestra practice every Tuesday and Thursday P.M. from four to five over in the Ad Building.

And we have every right to be proud of our orchestra, for in times like these, what with our present depleted student body and the usual ills of college life in wartime, it might be twice as easy if the responsible parties were to decide not to bother with anything as complicated or difficult as an orchestra is to keep going. Only they don't. There's a war on and there are difficulties but in testimony to the splendid educational tradition of this institution it is possible for those students interested in acquiring experience and practice in playing with others, who happen to be interested in learning how an orchestra is organized and kept going, to satisfy their desires in this special regard.

There are quite a few individuals interested, too. Enough individuals to really establish potentialities for the orchestra and whip it

NEWS LETTER

The News Letter, with The Progress, is mailed without charge to all members of the armed forces, both overseas and in this country. Information about graduates and former students should be sent to Miss Mary F. McKinney, Alumni Secretary. News should not be sent to The Progress staff. All work in connection with the preparation of the News Letter, filling and correcting of addresses, mailing, etc., is done in the Alumni office.

The Alumni Association wishes to express appreciation to five young college women who have rendered great service to the Alumni office in the past few weeks. Miss Geraldine Igo, Hazard, senior; Miss Caroline Willis, Loyall, junior; Miss Juanita Clinckinbeard, Covington, senior; Mrs. Nina Waggoner Shriver, Columbia, senior, and Miss Henrietta J. Miller, Ashland, senior, took over the folding, tying out, and mailing of The Progress-News Letter last week and expect to continue this work throughout the year.

In addition, Miss Igo and Miss Willis have been typing letters for the Alumni Secretary in an attempt to answer the enormous numbers of letters received from alumni and former students, both in the service and not in the service. The work done by all these young women is volunteer.

Security reasons prevent the listing of addresses of men and women overseas, but these addresses will be supplied upon request or letters will be forwarded if sent to the Alumni office.

The PROGRESS feels that perhaps some of the new students have as yet not become acquainted with one of the college's most dynamic personalities, the fiery spark behind the great Eastern athletic teams of recent years, Coach Rome Rankin.

Scholar, humorist, and fireball athletic coach all rolled into one, 190 pound ball, Rankin has a record as student, teacher and coach that Eastern may well hearken to with pride.

Now in his ninth year at Eastern, Coach Rankin's teams have triumphed in 80% of all games played. This year, with football not being played, Rankin is looking forward to what is expected to be a great cage season for his maroon-clad charges.

After graduating from Waynesburg College with an A.B. degree, Rankin went on to secure his Master's degree from the University of Michigan. But that wasn't enough for the Maroon mentor. He proceeded to begin work for his Ph.D., and has nearly completed that work. Few colleges indeed can boast of an athletic director who has advanced so far in the field of general education. He has studied the art of coaching under such old masters as the inimitable Knute Rockne at Notre Dame, Pop Warner at Leland and Stanford, Bo McMillan, Bernie Berman, and others.

Numerous professional honors have been heaped on Rankin's shoulders. He is former president and organizer of the Big Six athletic conference in Ohio. He is a former president of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Association, and a member of several national and state educational groups.

Coach Rankin is one of the most "sought after" authorities on coaching and physical education in the state of Kentucky. The groups that he has addressed, the committees he has served on, and the meetings he has attended would form an interminable list. It will suffice to say that Rankin knows his business, and his colleagues recognize and respect him for it.

There in brief are a few facts that may serve to better acquaint some new Easterners with the man who will direct the Maroon basketballers in their campaign this season. Rankin, however, has certain qualities, present in all really fine coaches, that the "vital statistics" do not bring to light. He has that effervescent spirit, that genuine affection for his "boys" that is so essential in a coach.

And what do his boys think of him? Just try throwing a curve at the "old man" when they are around, and they'll have to pick up your remains with a vacuum cleaner!

Tea For Eastern Women

Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Dean of Women, was hostess at tea honoring women students on Wednesday, October 25, 1944. The tea was held in the Walnut Hall of the Student Union Building.

Assisting Mrs. Case to receive were: Mrs. W. F. O'Donnell, Mrs. E. M. Stanton, Miss Eunice Wingo, Mrs. T. D. Chenault, and Dr. Stefanie Young. Also in the receiving line were the Presidents of various student organizations: Elois Tucker, Senior Class; Janet Wise, Sophomore Class; Evelyn Tritsch, Y.W.C.A., and Marjorie Boone, Burnam House Council.

Refreshments were prepared by the Home Economic Club under the direction of Geraldine Monhollon, President, and Miss Mary Burrier, Faculty sponsor.

Cabinet; Kathryn Jasper, Elva Marcum, Charlotte Berlin, Madeline Corman, Mary Lou Snyder, Grace Carol Meade, Beverly Mosely, Louise Shaw, Mildred McHenry, Tommy Rankin, Faye Jones, Lucille Brandenburg, Nina Mayfield, Martha Davis, Norma Raybourne, Norman Burress, Emily Mayfield, Blanche Coyle, Dorothy Moore, Lula Turner, Anita O'Hearn, Delrhea Stanley, Mary Wood Lee, and Margie DeVan.

The Halloween party, given in the SUB Recreation Room on the night of October 31st, was pronounced by all as the most entertaining party ever given at Eastern to celebrate that night when all the witches polish up their broomsticks and make ready for the gayest evening of the year.

The party began with a free movie, "Phantom Lady," starring Franchot Tone, which put everyone in a mellow mood. The students then proceeded en masse to the Rec Room to be met by a midget act, a fortune teller and various other spine-chilling characters. Mary Lou Snyder and Grace Carol Meade performed as midgets with admirable ability. The fortune teller predicted futures eerie enough to satisfy our wildest imaginations, and those daring individuals who were brave enough to invade the horror chamber emerged weak and trembling, mere shadows of their former healthy selves, for this alone was sufficient to make the Inner Sanctum Mystery Program seem but innocent prattle of children at play. Refreshments were served in the form of cider and doughnuts, boogie-woogie of a special variety was deftly rendered by the nimble fingers of Caroline Willis, and Dorothy Curtis, in her clear soprano voice, sang "Begin the Beguine."

We congratulate the Social Committee on the success of this party and thank them for an hilarious evening. The student representatives on the committee are: seniors, Gene Cannon and Mae Proffitt; juniors, Liz Plessinger and Neil Roberts; sophomores, Lema Aker and Jack Eaham; freshmen, Helen Parks and Virginia Yonce.

The Sophomore class held a wienner roast at the college farm on Saturday, October 28.

Arrangements for the affair were made by the Social Committee. The picnic was chaperoned by Miss Ethel Slade, a faculty member.

Plans are being discussed for a Thanksgiving hay-ride.

That section of the Sociology 10 class which meets on Thursday entertained the other freshmen and the members of the sophomore class with a tea on Wednesday afternoon, November 1.

Those in the receiving line were: Ruby Owen, Joe Hegenauer, Janet West, Betty Jo Barnett, and Dorothy Curtis. Those pouring were: Martha Parsons, Irene Moore, Suzanne Mallot, and Mildred Estes.

Ruby Owen was chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Dr. Anna A. Schieb, Professor of Education and Psychology, entertained all of her classes in her classroom in the Library on Tuesday afternoon, October 24. The gathering was for the purpose of getting acquainted, not only with each other, but also with the many interesting specimens which Dr. Schieb has in her room.

Refreshments of apples, cakes, cup cakes, and doughnuts were served.

Parties, parties, parties—the Social Committee really is doing a swell job keeping up the morale of the gals and guys of the campus. Saturday night parties are back on our must go list again. The quartet seemed to have the spotlight last week. Let's try that again some time. All the rest of the program was grand, too.

Then Tuesday night more spooks than a mink were running around. I believe that cider gets better every year. It surely was a treat to have a free show—specially since it's the last of the month add allowances are a bit on the slim side.

Results are already coming from the work done that first week of school—from the front we hear—"Will you be my buddy, bag?"

Say—did everyone enjoy the movie When Irish Eyes Are Smiling as much as I? Those old songs really sounded wonderful. Why don't we have an Irish jig?

The gals really must be gettin' desperate these days—now instead of hearing, "Does your cigarette taste different lately?" or "LS-MFT"—we hear—"Hey gal, have you learned to roll your own?" or "How does that pipe taste?"

There really have been some discussions in the dorm about the coming election. If the water should happen to get as hot as these discussions we'd all get a bath once a week. How about some more heat, huh, powerhouse?

Cpl. Bob Wesley honored us with a visit Monday. It's grand to have the guys back even for a few minutes. Kinda miss Jimmy but maybe he'll be back before too long.

If there should be a popularity poll taken now—without a doubt Jimmie O'Donnell, Jr. would take the prize without a close runner-up. He really has the eyes of all.

About that morale—it's a cinch nobody's gonna get a chance to get homesick or lonesome—the clubs are being organized to the nth degree, so if we attend the meetings we'll be so busy there'll be no time for meditation.

Say—won't we have a feather in our cap when our college Red Cross Unit is organized? Do you know that it's the first one of it's kind in the state? No other colleges have a unit. Let's do all we can to make a go of it.

Well—the mid-term exams aren't so bad—or are they? All in all the faculty members are very considerate. Thanks. Just remember—"The candle knows not that the flame it proudly bears slowly devours it."

The World Affairs Club

The World Affairs Club held its first official meeting October 17, at the residence of Dr. Kennamer. The club was organized, and officers were elected as follows: Jean Harrison, president; Jean Anthony, vice president; Ruth Rice, secretary; David Frey, treasurer; and Pauline Amburgey, reporter. Those serving on the refreshment committee are Elizabeth Plessinger, Henrietta Miller, and Joe Todd.

Dr. L. G. Kennamer, the club sponsor, gave a general idea of the function of the club. A discussion followed as to time of meetings and types of programs desired. It was decided that meetings are to be held every two weeks after Tuesday, October 24.

The second meeting of the club was held at Dr. Kennamer's home on Tuesday, October 24. The club had as its guest speaker, Mr. William Keene, of the English Department, who gave an interesting talk on the "Political Issues of the Present Campaign." A general discussion followed, but no one revealed his political affiliation. Mr. and Mrs. Clay Mars-teller of Sunset Avenue, who were guests of the club, also entered wholeheartedly into the discussion.

Refreshments were served, and all spent an intellectual as well as a delightful evening.

Photo Club

The Photo Club met Tuesday, October 17, for organization. Dr. LaFuze, the sponsor, explained the purpose and the aims of the club. It was decided that the club would meet the first and third Tuesdays at five o'clock.

The second meeting of the club was held in Room 101 in the Student Union Building. The club is not one of the formal organizations, but its members intend to get plenty of work done. Three officers were elected: Jerry Igo, president; Ruth Rice, secretary and treasurer; and Betty Jo Picklesimer, publicity chairman.

Membership is open to all except first quarter Freshmen. Membership was closed Tuesday, October 31. Each member is entitled to take ten pictures a month with the club camera.

You see, our aim is to make pictures of campus life—please cooperate with us!
