The people of the United States are in the throes of disillusionment. From the comments heard on the air, read in the newspapers, and made by acquaintances, one would judge that we are only now awakening to the fact that our allies—any of them—are not countries with lily-white souls and purely altruistic motives.

Only now is the American citizen emerging from his dream world—and in doing so, he is swinging the pendulum too far the other way. From ignorance of, or inattention to, the affairs of Europe and Asia, we have gone all out to solve them—our way.

A national magazine gave prominence recently to the mayoralty campaign being waged in New York City. A lengthy spread was presented, and pictures of the three candidates, Goldstein, O'Dwyer, and Morris.

The traditional American picture of an election is of the Democratic and Republican candidates battling furiously, with a minority candidate merely tagging along.

This is what meets the eye—O'Dwyer the Democrat, Goldstein the Republican, and Morris the leading minority candidate—but that's all.

The picture of New York is just one example—probably the greatest—of the way government is determined in the United States. The Hague machine and boss Ed Kelly are still around.

The camera was obtained by Floyd while he was serving in the army in Europe. He also gave the club some film to go with the camera. The club now owns two cameras.

EASTERN IS OUTSCORED, 7-6

Opposes Strong Catawba Team Here Tomorrow

Homecoming Nov. 17

The last game of Eastern's football season has been designated as the Homecoming game. On this occasion Eastern's eleven will play a team from Kirksville, Missouri.

All alumni and former students should come to this game to see for themselves that Eastern's athletes are still good, even if all but one of the mere freshmen.

After the game there will be a reception in the lobby of the Student Union Building. All of the alumni and former students are urged to come.

There will be room for some of the homecomers to stay on the campus.

This is the first post-war Homecoming, and there will be a good crowd attending it, but it must be emphasized that the Special Homecoming for graduates and former graduates who are still serving in the armed forces will be held next year.

Those chosen to appear in the 1945-46 publication of Who's Who Among Students are: Charlotte Ruth Berlin, Covington; Dorothy Benton Carrell, Buechel; Leslie Combs, Ary; Margie Lee DeVan, Covington; Frederick B. Lewis, Jr., Brooklyn, New York; Beverly Helen Moseley, Millersburg; Mildred Joyce Payne, Corbin; Elizabeth Lee Plessinger, Ludlow; Georgia Lee Ramsey, Whitley City; Frances Marie Riherd, Cave City; Robert Clements Ryle, Covington; Tina Marie Tyler, McRoberts.

Three persons who were selected last year are included on this year's list by virtue of their being on the campus. They are: Kathryn Jasper, Somerset; Elsie Jane Rigsby, Crab Orchard; and Herbert Searcy, Carrollton.

The Y. W. of Eastern will have the annual Fall Retreat, Sunday, November 4, at the Pond Christian Church.

The group will leave the campus early Sunday morning, hike out to the church and have Sunday School. A picnic dinner will be eaten at noon, followed by a recreational period.

In the afternoon, a business meeting will be held, at which plans for the year will be discussed, and purposes and activities of the organization will be explained to the new members.

After supper, the installation service will be held. This is an impressive candlelight service at which the officers pledge their loyalty to the duties of their particular office, and the committee chairmen, and all members of the organization are brought together by a single bond—that of Christian fellowship.

The Retreat will be held, rain or shine, and anyone who desires to go, may do so.

Margie DeVan, president of the Y.W.C.A., has announced the following officers and committee chairmen for this school year: Margaret Graham, vice president; Aldene Porter, secretary; Mary Wood Lee, treasurer; Helen Rice, chapel devotions; Marjorie Lea and Bessie Nolen, fellowship; Mary Langan, music; Rose Matthis, poster; Virginia Gooch, quiet hour; Charlotte Berlin, scrapbook; Doris Johns, secretary's committee; Margaret Ann White and Mildred Langan, special programs; Maxey Swinford, social; Jean Crutcher, social service; Lucille Brandenburg, student service; Margaret Graham, vespers; Miss Mary F. McKinney, sponsor.

Two more of Eastern's former faculty members will return this quarter to assume their positions here. Lieutenant Jack Allen, assistant professor of history, has been serving in the Navy for three years and has been in the Pacific for many months. He expects to be discharged soon from the training center in New Jersey.

The other faculty member who will return this quarter is Captain James Dorland Coates, associate professor of secondary education and supervisor of instruction in high schools. Captain Coates has been serving with the Army Air Corp for the past three years and is now stationed at Madison, Wisconsin, with the U.S.A.F.I.

The faculty and student body of Eastern are happy to welcome two more of their service men back to the campus.

Eastern has been fortunate in securing several excellent convocation programs for the fall quarter. These meetings are a vital part of the student's education and should be attended.

On Wednesday, October 31, Dr. James W. Clarke, Minister of the Second Presbyterian Church of St. Louis, Missouri, addressed the faculty and student body on the subject of "How Not To Become Extinct."

The Literary Science class will sponsor a program on the theme "Books Are Essential" for the November 7 assembly.

"Alaska," a travelogue in natural colors, will be presented by Mr. Edgar C. Raine, Seattle, Washington. This program will be presented on November 14.

Dr. Alberto Salomony Osorio from the Institute of International Education in New York, will address the student body and faculty on November 21.

Art Exhibit November 1-20

Dr. Fred P. Giles, head of the art department, announced that there will be an exhibition of water color paintings by Ivan Wilson, head of the art department of Western State Teachers College, Bowling Green, starting on November 1 and continuing through November 20. It will be held in the exhibition room on the second floor of the Fitzpatrick Arts Building.

Ivan Wilson is among the first water colorists in the nation. He has just had his works exhibited in the Nelson Galleries in Kansas City, a show in the Saint Louis Public Library, one in Indianapolis, one in Wilmington, and one is scheduled for a later date in New York.

An open house for art lovers will be given by the art department one day during National Art Week which falls on the week of November 1 to November 7. Further notice will be given as to the exact date and hour.

The art department is keeping up its record for enrollment; all classes are full and many students show ability and interest.

Dr. Giles presided at the art education section of the Association of Kentucky Colleges and Secondary Schools meeting in Lexington, October 26.

He will go to St. Louis November 16-17 to attend the Council and Program Committee of the Western Arts Association. This organization covers the arts in seventeen states of the Middle West and West. The convention will meet in Saint Louis April 11-14, 1946.

Educational Meet to Be Held On Campus

Mr. W. M. Slusher, superintendent, Mr. J. F. Knuckles, assistant superintendent, Mr. Charles Taylor, attendance officer, representing the Bell County school system, and Mr. F. N. McWhorter, superintendent of Lincoln County Schools, were on the campus Thursday, October 18, to meet with representatives from the faculty to formulate plans for an Eastern-Bell-Lincoln County Educational Conference to be held at the college, November 29-December 1, 1945. The conference will consider the characteristics necessary for the teacher in a community school.

This conference is part of a state-wide cooperative study on teacher education which has been in progress in Kentucky since 1943. Seven colleges and then experimental counties have been working since that time on ways and means of improving the quality of living in the community through the schools. Eastern has been cooperating with the Bell County school system since the beginning of the study.

Dr. D. Thomas Ferrell, head of the department of education at Eastern and coordinator of the Eastern-Bell County cooperative study is in charge of the program for the conference.

Camera Donated

The Photo Club, sponsored by Dr. H. H. LaFuze, has been given an expensive camera by Charles Floyd of Richmond, a senior at Eastern.

The camera was obtained by Floyd while he was serving in the army in Europe. He also gave the club some film to go with the camera.

The club now owns two cameras. The recent gift will enable the young ground-glass peerers to take practically any type of photograph.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges is an annual publication giving recognition to outstanding students in colleges and universities throughout the nation and making available to all business concerns in the United States and Canada a free service whereby they may receive desirable information or prospective employees. The purpose of the publication is to serve as an outstanding honor in which a deserving student, after displaying merit in college and accomplishing goals, is given recognition without having to pay some fee; and to establish a reference volume of authoritative information on the great body of America's leading college students. It is the only national means of recognition for honor students devoid of politics, initiation fees, and dues.

Membership in Who's Who Among Students is the appropriate climax of a student's career, summing up all the honors, scholastic or social, that he has attained. Requisites for membership are character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society. Juniors, seniors, and students in advanced work are eligible.

The delegates voted to hold the annual meeting at Ft. Thomas and to make the conference of delegates and sponsors an annual affair.

A luncheon was held in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building and the club sponsors were guests of Dr. Anna Schieb, state counselor, who was in charge of program arrangements for the meeting.

At three o'clock the meeting was adjourned, when the delegates and sponsors went to the recreation room of the Student Union for the social hours as guests of Dr. Schieb, where dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The installation of the officers included music, a ceremonial lighting of candles, and a declaration made by each officer, by the sponsors, and by the state counselor. The beginning and the progress made by science was symbolized by Miss Doris Deetch, playing softly a clarinet outside the conference room and Alfred Mattox entering, carrying a lighted candle. As the volume of music increased, Jimmy Refett entered carrying a lighted lantern, followed by Miss Deetch completing the composition as the lights were turned on.

The state officers are: Marian Friend, Ft. Thomas, president; Nancy Boston, Louisville, vice-president; June Gaar, Anchorage, secretary; and George Hembree, Richmond, treasurer.

The Science Club members of Model III, assisted by Mrs. John Whitlock, club sponsor, were hosts for the conference held by the sponsors and the delegates of the Kentucky Junior Academy of Science, Saturday, October 20 in the Administration Building on the Eastern campus. The state officers were installed, the awards for 1944-45 were announced, ways for improving the Junior Academy were discussed, and plans for the year's work were made.

Unable to complete a last-minute scoring thrust, the Maroons bowed to the Valparaiso University eleven by a score of 7-6 at Valparaiso, Indiana last Saturday afternoon.

Threatening once in the closing portions of the first half, once early in the second, and again with only one minute left in the game, Eastern was able, nevertheless to register only one tally—after a series of fumbles in the third quarter by both sides set the stage for a Kentucky push across from the Valpo five-yard line.

Valparaiso, a 21-point pre-game betting favorite, registered its single score in the closing minutes of the first quarter. After a successful pass from fullback Joe Larocco to Bob Taylor placed the ball on the Maroon four-yard line, Hoosier left halfback Paul Kuckahn plunged through to score. A successful placement by Bob Martensson provided the winning point.

A series of successful running plunges by Maroon back Proctor Stapleton brought the team up to the verge of success in the last two minutes of the first half, but the stalwart Hoosier line held and the end of the period found the ball on the Valpo two-yard line.

The Maroons scored early in the second half after fumbles by both sides left the issue confused and Eastern emerged with the ball on the Valpo five.

Preceding the tally, Eastern right end Tom Sheehan blocked a Hoosier kick on the Valparaiso 45, allowing Jack Hahn, 161-pound halfback and Chuck Miller, substitute fullback to prance to the Valpo 12-yard line on a series of running plays.

Unable to maintain the drive, Eastern lost the ball on downs, and Valparaiso kicked out into midfield. Persistently retracing its steps the Kentucky team pushed back to the Hoosier 12 where Ed Zoretic, substitute wingback, fumbled, losing the ball to Valparaiso.

Paul Kuckahn recovered for Valparaiso but the ball was lost on the next play when Harry Hines, Hoosier substitute fullback, allowed Eastern's Lana to recover.

Ed Zoretic drove across for the score, but the Maroons chance for a tie was lost when Bill Wilson's placement was blocked.

Both teams scored seven first downs. Eastern gained 27 yards in three out of nine passing attempts, while Valparaiso accrued 32 yards in two out of five attempted aeriels. Scrimmage netted the victor 80 yards as against 114 rolled up by the Maroons. Valparaiso was penalized 45 yards and Eastern, 30 yards.

Eastern substitutions: Born, Bucky, Creech, Curtis, Luse, Miller, Mancing, Orr, Stofko, Wilson, Wright, Zoretic.

Valpo substitutions: Zahralis, Pataluch, Freeland, Hines, Bromberg, Timer, Moore, Erickson, Hal-loway.

Major Harvey C. Blanton, of the 38th Infantry Medical Division, is en route home. Upon his arrival, he will accept the position of college physician. Major Blanton is the successor of Dr. Stefanie Young, the former physician of the college, who is now furthering her training at the University of Colorado.

Major Blanton has been in service for five years, two of which were spent overseas. He practiced medicine in Richmond for three years before entering the service. He is planning to reopen his local office in addition to the campus office in the Health Building.

Major Blanton is the son of Mrs. Harvey Blanton of Breck avenue, Richmond. His wife and daughter, Ann Clay, are now residing in Keenefield, Richmond.

A group of veterans attending school at Eastern, would like to schedule either regular or practice basketball games with nearby high schools. These boys have all played on either high school or service teams.

Any team desiring a game with these veterans are requested to contact Carl Scott, box 615 at Eastern.

NEWS ABOUT OUR FACULTY

During the next few weeks, representatives from Eastern will attend district educational associations in Somerset, Ashland, and Covington. On November 3, Somerset will hold its district meeting, and on November 9 and 10, Ashland and Covington will meet in their educational association conferences.

At Ashland, the alumni of Eastern will have a luncheon at the Henry Clay Hotel on November 9. A large number of Eastern's faculty will attend these educational meetings.

President W. F. O'Donnell of Eastern was in Dayton, Ohio, and Chicago, Illinois, on October 29 and 30 on business for the college. This was in connection with the disposal of surplus war material and houses.

The Industrial Arts Department of Eastern will receive during the next few weeks a large number of machine tools to be procured through government surplus. These tools will be badly needed in the future because of the expected increase in enrollment of the Industrial Arts Department at Eastern.

Among those tools to be obtained are lathes, planers, shapers, joiners, a milling machine, and a drill press.

Mrs. Elizabeth Greer, cataloguer in the library at Eastern, has resigned in order that she may join her husband, Major J. S. Greer, who has recently returned from Europe. Mrs. Greer's successor will be named at the November meeting of the board of regents.

On Wednesday, October 24, Dean W. J. Moore of Eastern outlined a program for the improvement of Kentucky's education system at a luncheon-meeting of the Lexington Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Moore spoke in the place of John Fred Williams, superintendent of public instruction, who was ill and could not be present.

Quoting Mr. Williams, Dean Moore said: "The results achieved by our educational program are pitifully inadequate. Kentucky has a higher percentage of illiteracy than any state except one. In percentage of students enrolled, we rank 48th in the percentage of our adult population (25 years of age or older in 1940) who have completed college, we rank 46th. We rank 47th in the percentage of the same group who have completed high school and 48th in the percentage of those who have completed one year of high school."

Dean Moore stated that in trying to correct this situation, the Kentucky Education Association and the state department of education have adopted a program which includes the following points:

"A minimum school term of eight months instead of seven; a minimum salary of $100 a month or $800 a year for each teacher; more adequate transportation facilities; improvement and expansion of the state department of education; adjustment of the school curriculum better to meet the needs of the students; and improved program of vocational educational education and vocational rehabilitation; more adequate school buildings and equipment; a larger enrollment of students and better attendance; and expansion of the program of higher education."

In closing, Dean Moore stated that this would mean the commonwealth per-capita fund would have to be increased.

The Kentucky School Journal for September, 1945, carries an interesting article on "Situations Peculiar to Teaching in Rural Schools" by Dr. D. Thomas Ferrell, head of the department of education at Eastern. The article points out that the rural situation presents many serious implications for rural teaching. The teacher in the rural-school faces a tremendous challenge, but with careful planning on the part of educational leaders and with teachers of vision and resourcefulness, many of the difficulties facing rural schools can be solved.

AS WE SEE IT.....

HOMECOMING

November 17 is Homecoming Day for Eastern's alumni. This is the first homecoming since 1942, and it will be our first opportunity to welcome back our returning service men as well as the graduates of the last three years.

However, we realize that there will be many graduates and former students who will not be present, since a great number of them are still overseas or are serving in the armed forces in this country and will be unable to obtain furloughs for the event. Therefore, this year's event will not be as inclusive as those of previous years. We are going to wait until next year, when, it is believed, more of the alumni will be able to attend.

Nevertheless those who do come back this year will find that they are more than welcome. The entire student body is going to do all that is possible to make the day a success. The football team guarantees a good game in the afternoon with the Kirksville, Missouri, team and expects the alumni to be in the stands cheering their efforts. It will be greatly appreciated if those who are planning to come will make arrangements for rooms in advance. The college will attempt to provide for as many persons as possible, but they must know, in advance, the number that is to be expected.

WHERE ARE OUR FORUMS?

During the last term of the summer session, a public forum was held in the Little Theatre and was received with much enthusiasm by the student body. In spite of the fact that it was a very warm night and the audience had no idea of the topic to be discussed the forum was a success. Requests for more programs of that type were made immediately, and it was assumed that more were to follow. However to date none have.

We need more of such forums, panel discussions, or whatever you chose to call them. They should be placed on the college calendar along with assembly programs and held at least once a month.

The large attendance at this summer's program is indicative of the fact that students are interested in such activities—maybe more than the faculty gives them credit for being. The college should pay as much attention to these extra-curricular activities as to athletics, dances, and the more familiar recreational activities.

The following editorial appeared in the Morehead Trail Blazer and seemed so applicable to the situation on our campus that we are using it with the hope that it will be heeded.

ARE YOU ONE?

One thing that should definitely stop on the Morehead campus is the wearing of high school letters. College is altogether different from high school and high school letters should have been worn in high school and not in college.

This is a disgrace to the boys who have worked so hard to earn their high school letters. How do you think they feel? It is practically the same thing as earning a letter at Eastern and then coming to the Morehead campus to wear it.

The proper place to wear your high school letter is when you return to your own high school events.

LET'S STOP IT NOW!

Homecoming Coming

You might as well start now by moving all of your furniture out in the hall, turning in all over-due library books, and packing your roommate in a laundry bag, to make room for the invasion of the alumni. They will demand more attention than a cowlick. From this year on, they will be as perennial as the income tax. None of them ever try to stay at the hotel; that is why they haven't Biltmore in Richmond. Speaking of hotels, we were in Chicago this summer standing in front of the Sherman Hotel—that's where we stayed—IN FRONT of the Sherman Hotel, when a bellhop came running outside shouting for a doctor to revive a model who had passed out on the twelfth floor and before we could get out of the way eight Ph. D.'s trampled us under foot. . . . This, in turn, reminds us of the story of the newsboy who went down the street crying, "Woman who was shot has bullet in her yet." What the devil is a YET? This item has wandered a far piece from the alumni, but maybe we'll wish we had in a couple a weeks. We still owe some money on the debts we incurred during our freshman year.

Hav-I Ben Lucky-

Come go along with me We'll hide behind that tree, Our last resort, for which it first was made; Little time is on our hand I heard a hole is planned, The moon shows but half; go slow; watch out; their plot is laid.

Now is the time to dare There is no "lune du claire" To cast shadows of guilt upon the campus. I even fear the thought What'd happen if we were caught By those, whose every act is one to campus.

If we get by this night We need have no more fright. The stroke of twelve will free us from their prey. A year will then be ours To walk among the flowers Before another Sadie Hawkins Day.

Pendantic Proverbs

- 1. Conscious existence has its origin in the fourth decade.
2. If there is no rebuttal proffered to your statement then you may assume that acquiescence reigns.
3. Looping the thread in a piece of material at the most opportune moment will prevent unnecessary labor.
4. The desire for pecuniary remuneration is the radical of unpropitiousness.
5. Cosmopolitan affection is extended to him who possesses a similar emotional concept.

Calling All Girls!

Get on the line! Get set! Go! There is only one day left to practice, for tomorrow is our Hallelujah day—tomorrow is Sadie Hawkins Day. Tomorrow is our last chance to get that man that we've had our eyes on ever since we arrived. Blonde, brunette, redhead, or whatever, we will have the same opportunity tomorrow. Brains and beauty are out. Only speed can aid us, so let's get started practicing now. Any girl who wishes to may use the path around Burnam after dinner tonight to get her speed up in running. Remember, we have one chance in three of getting a man so let's get in condition. Don't forget to polish your "bar" traps, girls. It has been rumored that the boys from Pennsylvania are pretty fast fellows, but I am sure we can catch them, too, if we put forth the effort.

This event will take place tomorrow evening in the recreation room of the Student Union Building. Everyone is invited. We extend a special invitation to all boys. We have been asked to inform you to please dress accordingly in L'il Abner and Daisy Mae costumes. There will be plenty of old fashioned music and dancing, so if you have been restricted from dancing because you can't jitterbug, here is your chance to show them that you do a mean Virginia Reel! Watch for an announcement as to the time. We might add that Marryin' Sam performs an extra special wedding for $2, but if you have only $1, he can give you a cheap wedding for 98 cents.

In gathering opinions of this sweet event, some of the following comments were made: George Maines—"I'm all for it. I'm not worried myself because I'm pretty swift on foot."

Ernestine Jasper—"I'll never get a man any other way."

Dick Scherrbaum—"If I have to be caught, I'd like to be caught over by the Health Building near the football dummies."

Charlotte Newell—"That's one way of getting your man."

Tom Sheehan—"I'm not worried. I'm a pretty fast guy."

Emma Bevacqua—"My racing days are over for a while."

Jimmy Cinnamon—"I'd kinda like the idea of being caught—if the right Daisy Mae catches me."

Leslie Combs—"I want to catch something that has never been caught."

Mary McKenna—"Remember, gals, you can't all have Glamour Boy."

Joe Henderson—"It's all right for slow people, but I'm too fast."

RHYTHM RIPPLES

By "MART" NOTERMAN

Howdy, keeds, the theme of ye ole Ripples this issue will be jazz. This month all waxings and magazines are featuring jazz and jazzmen because as more band-leaders hop into the spotlight from the service, jazz takes the lead.

For quality stuff on discs, we hear Count Basie with "Feather Merchant" and "Ain't it the Truth." . . . Our other 88 keyman, The Duke, plays "Every Hour on the Hour" and "Times a Waating." . . . Benny Goodman in only his style, gives us "I'm Gonna Love That Guy" and "It's Only a Paper Moon." . . . For good arrangements, Artie Shaw passes out "Yolanda" and "That's for Me." . . . Cootie Williams cuts down on his boisterous solos with "Everything but You" and "House of Joy." . . . Hadda Brooks at a tiny toned piano digs out some riffs on "Blue Mood," "Ridin' the Boogie," "The Man I Love," and "Rockin' the Boogie." . . . Betty Hutton is still herself on "What Do You Want to Make Those Eyes at Me for?" and "Doin' it the Hard Way." . . . Moody Herman gives us one of the weirdest and most original platters in "Bijou." The reverse, "Ring on My Finger" lets us in for Woody's singing. . . The Andrews Sisters take care of "The Blonde Sailor" and "Lily Belle."

Behind the Mike:

Abe Lyman is returning to band leading in December after several months of inactivity. . . Duke Ellington scores a new hit with "High Class Gal—Low Down Guy," his own composition. . .

Freedom By GEORGE S. BENSON President of Harding College Searcy, Arkansas

THE IDEA that certain rights are everybody's rights, and that no man can rightly deprive another man of them, is one for which the world is indebted to Christianity. Obedience to Christ is voluntary or it is not obedience at all, and being an everyday thing, Christianity lives and grows best in surroundings of personal liberty.

Opposing dictatorship, resisting infringement by a few upon the liberties of many, is a reverent act of fidelity to the source of all freedom. No government is perfect; no economic system is perfect. For that matter, no church is perfect. All are subject, more or less, to leadership by imperfect people. Nevertheless some principles are right and worthy of vigorous defense.

Jealous SAID Harry Emerson Tyndal: "One of the great hours in history struck when mankind ran into the idea that all the people should unite in making laws, which then all the people should obey. Behind our pitifully fallible experiments with representative government stands the ideal, worth everything our fathers gave for it and all that we can give—the democratic state."

One-man governments traditionally become jealous of their subjects' loyalty to God; covetous too, perhaps, of their free-will offerings, large or small. Rarely do totalitarian states bring to the church when they start cutting off people's liberties. They get around to it in the long run, however. There are about enough exceptions on record to prove the rule.

Regulate DICTATORS usually start their trespasses on freedom by presuming to say who shall engage in trade. It is the natural way to commence. Never do they find a large class in commercial pursuits, so they can begin grabbing power without antagonizing a majority. The next big strategy is to dominate the news. By this method a dictator can make his people think what he pleases.

With buying and selling pinched under government's heel, one emergency follows another, accidentally or by design; either way serves the purpose. Consumers, the class most hurt by government in business, never learn the truth if press and radio are under control. Selfish rulers snatch away comforts and dole out confusion and suspicion, the chains of serfdom.

Traditionally tyrants work this way; it has happened all along through history. With business confiscated and news agencies seized, the people are poisoned with sinful malice. Americans who value their religious liberty rightly defend representative government, free enterprise, free speech and free press. They can fight on the front line and win, or wait to fight in the last trench and lose.

Mildred Payne—"If Daisy Mae can do it, we can do it."

Charlotte Berlin—"I'll enter the race if I can ride Silver."

Going back to the idea Mr. Hawkins started so long ago in Dogpatch, we again resort to the same method of getting a man. We must at this time praise Mr. Hawkins because he left this helpful institution to posterity. He had no other ambition than to get his "dotter," Sadie, married. By providing Sadie with the means, he also did us girls a great service. —Tina Tyler

ODDS AND ENDS

by LEMA AKER

From the pens of other people we have collected some odds and ends for your entertainment—we hope!

Brief newspaper editorial: The atomic bomb is here to stay. But are we?

Never tell people how you are—they don't want to know.

Riddles: (answers at bottom of column)

(1) What asks no questions and yet requires many answers?

(2) What three letters of the alphabet will frighten a burglar?

(3) What is more wonderful than a horse that can count?

Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest.

He tried to cross the railroad track Before the rushing train. They put the pieces in a sack But couldn't find a brain.

Never explain—Your friends don't need it and your enemies will never believe you anyway.

Comment by an older person about his childhood "At times I found school very dull—which is exactly the way it found me."

Do unto others as though you were the others.

Definitions:

Hick town—one which, if you see a girl dining with a man old enough to be her father—he is.

Subtlety—the art of saying what you want to say and getting out of range before it is understood.

Paratrooper—Soldier who climbs down trees he never climbs up.

Temperament—Temper too old to spank.

Bank—an institution where you can borrow money if you can present sufficient evidence to show you don't need it.

Sailor—one who spends most of his life on water but never touches it when on land.

To a double-crossing friend: "I never forget a face, and in your case, I'll remember both of them."

The bigger a man's head gets, the easier it is to fill his shoes.

Thou wouldst be loved—then let thy heart From its present pathway part not!

Be everything which thou art, Be nothing which thou are not.

So with thy world thy gentle wamp, Thy grace, thy more than beauty,

Shall be an endless theme of praise And love—a simple duty. —Poe

Conceit is God's gift to little men.

"Great minds discuss ideas, Average minds discuss events, Small minds discuss people."

The optimist fell ten stories.

At each window bar He shouted to his friends:

"All right so far."

Take It Easy

Please don't fry my eggs in butter, Save the sugar, spare the cream; No, my wartime system's utterly opposed to steak supreme. Just two gallons, sir, not twenty; Four new tires would disconcert. I can't stand the sudden plenty Give me time to reconvert.

"Engaged to five boys at once!" exclaimed the horrified mother. "How do you explain such a situation?"

"I don't know, replied the daughter, unless Cupid shot me with a machine gun instead of an arrow."

In a certain school in New York there was a teacher, an energetic advocate of "Safety First," who opened his class each morning by rising and asking: "Children, what would you do if fire were to break out in this building?" The children would then reply in chorus: "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle, and march quietly out of the building." One morning when the children arrived at the school they found themselves honored by the presence of the well-known and beloved Dr. Henry van Dyke. The teacher stepped before the class and, instead of the usual fire drill question said, "Children what would you say if I were to tell you that Dr. van Dyke is to speak to you this morning?" Instantly from the class came the resounding chorus: "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle, and march quietly out of the building."

Yours for the Asking

As Told to ALLAN PENNINGTON

Throughout history the story tellers have been creating heroes who tell a maiden she is beautiful. The result of this statement is a follow up in the form of "I do" before the parson. Your "Inquiring Reporter," who is a realist, set out to ascertain just how true the story books are. Fortunately for yours truly, the only way the statement "I think you are beautiful" affects the girls at Eastern is easily seen from—the answers he got from the following question: What is the first thing to come to your mind after someone tells you that you are beautiful?

Bernice Rose: I think they are lying.

Fay Howard: No one ever told me that I was beautiful.

Wilma Jean Carroll: I don't think at all, I am too dumb-founded.

Marjorie Getty: I'd think they have "bats in the belfry."

Ruby Miracle: I think that they are looking at the wrong person.

Lora-Mae Williams: Miracles never cease.

Helen Parks: I think that he is a wolf.

Joy Rauch: That sounds good to me.

Jean Prise: Suits me fine.

Mary McKenna: Who, me? Wow!

Doris Johns: I think that my dreams are getting better all the time.

Anonymous: It could be true.

classified "excellent." She is a daughter of the high indexed sire, Lyons Mutual Duke, proved in the college herd. She has two producing daughters in the herd. Her eldest, Eastern Mutual Fayne, is doing her utmost to match her dam's high record. Thus far on her third lactation in 290 days, she has produced 15,263 pounds of milk and 598.8 pounds of butterfat, a little more than two pounds of butterfat daily.

Dr. James Clarke Speaks At Eastern Assembly

Dr. James W. Clarke, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, was the assembly speaker at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College Wednesday. His subject was "How Not to Become Extinct." Pres. W. F. O'Donnell presided and introduced the speaker. "We are chronic sufferers of the hardening of the intellectual arteries," Dr. Clarke stated. "We have more education and less intelligence, more knowledge and less wisdom, more facts and less philosophy than any previous generation. Eighty per cent of us would rather die than think. Our train of thought is often a string of empties." We are on the verge of extinction because we live in lack-luster indifference, accepting second-hand opinions, afraid of new ideas, new tasks, and new people, the speaker declared. All the arts of the human mind have again been turned to the arts of destruction instead of the art of learning to live together in the world as brothers and sisters, he continued. Because of the tremendous influence environment plays in the life of an individual, it is our responsibility to provide an encouraging environment for every person that comes into the world in our country, Dr. Clarke said. "I cannot impress upon you sufficiently the importance of being alive in your mind, in your spirit, in your body, alive to all things that are around you, to the opportunity that is now put into your hands to prepare yourselves for about the most significant profession there is," he told the teachers and prospective teachers in the college audience. "Whatever you are don't be a member of a joint stock company," he urged. "Own your own personality. Be energetic and industrious beings. Don't be carried around in other people's vest pockets."

Registered Cow Makes Excellent Record

Eastern Lyons Fayne 286948, a registered Holstein cow, owned by Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, has been credited by the Advanced Registry Division of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America with a 365 day production record, made at the age of 7 years and 10 months, with 24,614 pounds of milk and 807.1 pounds of butter fat. This very fine record surpasses her previous record made at the age of five years when she was credited with 22,102 pounds of milk and 724.5 pounds of butterfat. To those accustomed of thinking in terms of gallons, 24,614 pounds of milk equals 2,862 gallons or in other words this cow produced on the average for 365 days, 31 1/2 quarts a day. This would be enough milk to supply ten families with three quarts a day throughout the year and leave enough at home for the calf. Fayne is one of three Holstein cows in Kentucky that have been

News of Our Alumni and Former Students At Eastern.

The Alumni Secretary is endeavoring to keep in touch with the Eastern men and women who are returning from overseas, receiving releases from military service, and moving to new addresses. Any information received about these men and women, their addresses, or the fact that they have been released from service, will be appreciated by the officers and secretary of the Alumni Association. Such news should be sent to Miss Mary F. McKinney, Richmond, or Alumni Office at Eastern.

The Progress and News Letter is still being sent to active alumni, graduates and former students in the service, both in this country and overseas, whose addresses can be obtained.

Alumni in Japan

"The Inter-Nippon Association of the Eastern Alumni" has been formed by a group of Eastern men stationed in Japan. Lt. Jim Williams, '42, of Newport; Lt. Charles "Timber" Williams, senior in 1942-43, of Harlan; Pfc. Howard Bartlett, senior the fall quarter of 1942-43, of Allais, and Bill Cowden, of Loyall, sophomore in 1940-41. In a recent letter from Lt. Jim Williams, requirements for membership were given as being limited to those who are in one of the four main islands of Japan or who participated in aerial activity over the islands. "We are fortunate in not having to fight our way into the place and form our organization the hard way, but I think we can make an interesting thing of it anyhow," Lt. Williams wrote. He is at Wakayama, with the 586th Signal Depot Co., APO 660, San Francisco. Cowden is with the 58th Signal Battalion at Osaka, and Timber Williams and Bartlett are in the 25th Division at Nagoya.

Lt. Jim Williams, in writing of the Japanese people and their reaction to the coming of the Americans, said they had been greatly deceived by their warlords and believed that the United States had started the war, that almost every U. S. city had been destroyed, and had not heard that the Philippines or Okinawa had been taken by the Americans. The Japanese are completely under the influence of the emperor and would gladly die for him, Williams stated.

T/Sgt. Jack Merlino, '39, of Fallsades, Colo., is in Kumagoya, Japan, with the 743rd Ordnance (LM) Co., APO 43, San Francisco. He writes that his division landed at Yokohama on Sept. 14 and found things amazingly peaceful. They traveled from Manila by LST and when they entered Tokyo Bay the entire Third Fleet was at anchor there. His present location is in the center of an agriculture area, with beautiful farms.

Thirty-two veterans of the second World War have enrolled at Eastern for the fall quarter, and are receiving instruction in all departments of the college. These men are representative of all branches of the service and several of them have yet to receive discharges, being on inactive duty or terminal leave pending release from the armed forces.

cial guidance of a Veterans' Committee composed of faculty members, all of whom served in World War I. This group was established not only to counsel veterans with their problems but also to supply information on veterans' rights, credit acceptance, etc. The returning veterans, many of them former students of Eastern, have entered rapidly into all phases of campus life. They were welcomed with a reception held in Walnut Hall Thursday evening, October 18. A basketball team consisting of veterans has been formed, with Jack Talbott as playing coach. This outfit is attempting to schedule games with high school fives and also any unofficial college teams who care to play. The veterans are also represented on the Maroon eleven by five men.

More than one third of the veterans are married, and in view of this fact dormitories for use of couples have been made available in McCreary Hall. Since the number of veterans in school is expected to be doubled by January, the college has placed orders for several pre-fabricated houses, which are to be erected near the Health Building. Plans for the construction of apartments for veterans and their wives are also in projection. A club, consisting of wives of veterans is to be organized. The wives of the faculty members who compose the Veterans' Committee will serve as sponsors for this organization. The providing of social life and a homelike atmosphere for the wives of the veterans will be the purpose of the club. Eastern is proud of these men, both returning former students and those here for the first time, who have served their country well and are now furthering their education. Some are merely beginning their college careers, having realized the increasing necessity for education and having the courage to take up something new, although several years beyond the normal freshman age. In its tradition of being "the friendly college," Eastern welcomes them.

The regular meeting of the KYMA Club is held each week on Friday evening at 6:30, in the Little Theater, during the athletic season. Besides the regular meetings, a pep rally is held before each game.

Just before the Murray game a bonfire pep rally was held at the stadium. Coaches Rome Rankin and Tom Samuels gave short talks. This was followed by a snake dance through the campus to town. New cheerleaders were elected recently and this group is to be added to the varsity squad. These new members will serve a year as neophytes and will practice with the varsity cheerleaders. These neophytes will participate frequently with the varsity squad at games, both football and basketball. The varsity cheering squad ball. The varsity cheering squad consists of Eileen Lewis, Juanita Shepherd, Robbie Owen and Ruby Owen. The neophytes are Charlotte Newell, Isabel Webb, Laura Hurt, Nancy Blake, and Joe Kirkpatrick. Eileen Lewis, president of KYMA, is the chairman of the cheerleading group. KYMA has many activities during the year, and at present they are planning to sponsor an informal dance after the homecoming game. This club is sponsored by Miss Allie Fowler.

are: Bob Ryle, president; Negia Hamilton, vice-president; Alma Cochran, treasurer; Suzanne Malott, secretary. On Sunday evening, October 28, a social program was held in the cabin at Jane Reichspfar's home. The entertainment and refreshments were enjoyed by everyone. B S U The annual state convention of the Kentucky Baptist Student Union held their convocation at Campbellsville, Kentucky, October 26, through the 28. Beginning with a fellowship banquet, having Campbellsville College as host; the group went to the church where the service was opened and presided over by J. Chester Burham, of Louisville. Dr. Herbert C. Gabbart, pastor of First Baptist Church of Williamsburg, gave forth the spirit for each session with his program "Four Dates I Can Not Break." The main address, "Christ, My Imperative," was given by Dr. W. O. Vaught, Little Rock, Arkansas, on Friday. This was the foundation theme for the assembly throughout seventeen southern states. On Saturday, Dr. Marvin Adams of Middlesboro delivered "A Dare To Campus Discipleship," followed by Dr. Harry F. Morrison, who gave "The Supremacy of The Spiritual." This was followed by "Following a Triumphant Christ," by Reiji Hoshizaki. The climax of the sessions, was the campfire service on the campus, immediately after the address of Dr. H. Leo Eddleman, of Louisville, who gave the mission address. Miss Kathryn Jasper, Eastern, led in the organization and business activities, and committee reports, with Evelyn Kyle of the Bookstore in Louisville representing her field. Musical specialties were presented by Betty Lou Kersting, Georgetown, marimba; John Gabbert, Georgetown, at the organ console; and a vocal trio by Murray. Thirteen Kentucky colleges and universities were gathered in this youth movement. The height of the entire religious activities was fulfilled by the dedication of more than forty young people who have given their lives to further Christian work, either as religious workers, ministers or missionaries.

Dr. L. G. Kennamer Is Guest Speaker

The regular weekly meeting of the Richmond Rotary Club was held Tuesday night at the New Richmond Hotel. Dr. L. G. Kennamer, who was introduced by Fred Giles, program chairman was the guest speaker.

"Geography Grows Up" was the subject chosen by Dr. Kennamer. "Prior to 1900 few colleges or universities had a department of Geography," declared Dr. Kennamer, "but following the first world war many departments were added and it has grown as college subject very rapidly since and, of course, has taken on new significance and importance during the duration of world war II." Dr. Kennamer also spoke of the important writings of Ellen Churchill Semple, of Louisville, who is considered the leading woman geographer to date. Fred Ballou, secretary announced that all members of the Richmond Rotary Club and their wives are invited to attend a banquet to be given by the Lexington Rotary Club Saturday, November 10, when the president of Rotary International, Thomas Warren, of London, England, will be the guest of honor.

President Archie Duncan announced that as next Tuesday, November 6, is election day the local Rotary Club will not meet on that night.

Dr. Keith To Speak To Woman's Club

Dr. Charles H. Keith, dean of men and head of the history department at Eastern State Teachers College, will be the guest speaker at the general meeting of the seven departments of the Woman's Club, Friday afternoon in Harrodsburg it was announced today by Mrs. William Caudill, chairman of the study department, which will be host to the meeting. Mrs. J. W. McClellan, president, will preside at the business session before the program. A tea will follow the program.

College Red Cross The College Red Cross Unit held its first meeting of this year, Monday afternoon, October 22, in the Little Theater. At this meeting, plans were made to fill thirty buddy bags to be sent overseas. Other plans were made for the visiting of hospitals. The officers of this Red Cross Unit were elected last spring and are as follows: Jean Crutcher, chairman; Lucille Brandenburg, vice-chairman; Suzanne Malott, secretary.

Y W C A The Y W C A has begun the year with a very active program. During the summer, booklets were sent to the freshmen by their "big sisters" or the "Y" president. These booklets aided the new students in getting acquainted with the college. The "big sisters" helped the freshmen girls to get acquainted with each other and to find their way about. The Y W C A has charge of the devotional period held during the chapel programs on Wednesday mornings. Helen Rice is the chairman of this committee and selects different students to help with the devotionals. At each devotional, a scripture reading, poem, or special thought is brought forth, followed by a prayer. The subject for the month of October was "The Lord's Prayer."

Y M C A CONFERENCE The Y M C A of Kentucky held a meeting of the Y M C A Cabinet of the State of Kentucky, Monday, October 22, from 4:30 to 7:30 at the Y M C A office in the Student Union Building at the University of Kentucky. The purpose of this meeting was to plan the first student conference of this college year. Plans were made for a conference which will be held at Berea soon, and some of the subjects for discussion will be: One Brotherhood, What Constitutes a Good Y. M. C. A., What Christianity is Accomplishing In The World, and What Colleges Can Do In The Promotion of Christian Ideals. Following the business session, dinner was served through the courtesy of the University Y M C A. The representative of Eastern's Y M C A cabinet was Leslie Combs.

SPORTS NOTES

Upon glancing at the season's football records of the University of Kentucky Wildcats and the Eastern Maroons, a most surprising bit of information was found. By comparative scores our Eastern boys are a few points better than the Wildcats. Of course, this is pencil work. No one knows what the outcome of a game between U. K. and Eastern would be, and no one will know this year and maybe for a long time. It's something to think about though. Maybe U. K. ought to have the run of their own backyard before they try to whip the neighborhood. Proud . . . I'll Say So

Yes, students of Eastern ought to be proud of their football team. When a team the size of Eastern's plays the way they have, it's no wonder that their school should appreciate them. After looking over the weights of the team you will agree with me. The Maroon forward line has an average weight of one hundred and seventy-nine pounds. This is plenty small for a college football team. The backfield has an average of 159. That's on the light side, too. But what the team lacks in weight, they make up for in scrappiness and brain work.

You Can Sure Tell That the Vets Are Back

The football and basketball teams this year consist of a number of returned service men. On the football team is Bill Shannon, Bert Lana, Ed Creech, Junior Orr, Dick Scherrbaum, and Proctor Stapleton. The Vets on the basketball team are Jim Cinnamon, Capt. Fred Lewis, Jim Argentine, "Monk" Oldham, if Goebel Ritter attends Eastern, he will add another Vet to the team.

Outstand of the Vets are Bert Lana, Ed Creech, and Bill Shannon. Bert served in Europe with the Third Army. He was a Sergeant. Wounded by rifle fire, he was sent back home this last March. His division arrived in New York a couple of weeks ago. Ed Creech was in the Army for four years and released on the point system. He totaled 191 points. That's plenty. Hats off to all of these boys. We sure appreciate them.

We've Been Lucky . . . But—

Fans who attended the football game at Hanger Stadium a couple of weeks ago enjoyed fine weather. From the looks of weather reports, the next game might add a little discomfort to the spectators attending the game. To some this will mean staying in a nice warm room listening to the opera or just sleeping. For the loyal supporters of the Eastern Maroons, you will find them right there pulling for our team. It sure would be swell if that's the story for all of the students at Eastern.

To add to the spirit of the spectators, which was lacking at the last game on the home front, will be the band under the direction of Harold Rigby.

Shoot, Dribble and Pass . . . Instead

In a month or so a new lingo will be passing around the sports fans of Eastern. This means that basketball is on its way. Every night in the gym of the Weaver Health Building, you will find the hopeful prospects of Eastern's team for the coming season working out under the guidance of Coach Rome Rankin and Capt. Fred Lewis.

The practice has been progressing steadily and it won't be too long before the thinclads of the Maroons will be taking the floor against an opponent. There are several rumors about the first game. One is that the first game will be with Bowling Green at Cincinnati on Dec. 8. Another is that there might be a game with Berea on Dec. 1. Who knows? Just be patient and we will all know sooner or later.

Pictured above are four sets of twins that we have in school this year. On the left we have Ruby and Ruth Lowe, on the right are Mildred and Mary Langan, in the rear Ruby and Robbie Owen, and seated are Ben and Bob Graham. So if you are on your way to class some morning about half asleep and look up and think that you are seeing double, don't jump to the conclusion that you have been studying too hard, it will merely be a couple of our facsimiles.

Let's begin with Ruth Jeanne and Ruby Deanne Lowe from Delbarton, West Virginia. They are our smallest twins being only 5' 2", 20 years old and are sophomores. Both girls are majoring in elementary education and are members of the Kyma Club. If you don't think that it comes in handy to have a twin, just ask Ruby Jeanne the time Ruth Deanne recited her poem in class and when it was Ruby's time to recite, Ruth got up and said the poem over again for her.

Then we have a set of twins from Irvine, Mildred and Mary Langan. Like the Lowe twins they too are 20 years old and are elementary education majors. They are both interested in music and play the piano very well. In extra-curricular activities they belong to the glee club and are on the "Y" cabinet. Mary is on the Progress staff and House Council and both girls work in the library.

There hasn't been any comment made on this year's team as yet, so I proceeded to find out something that might interest all the basketball fans. At the time I started, Coach Rankin had left town, so I had a short talk with Capt. Fred Lewis. I don't believe he needs an introduction to the readers but just in case, I'll tell you a little about him.

All in all he's Mr. Basketball from Eastern. Last year with the Maroons, he scored 568 points. This was second highest in the nation. His game average was 22.72. He was voted the most popular player in the National Tournament at Kansas City. Also Fred was selected on the regular All-American basketball team last year. This goes on and on. Another honor was being placed on the National Inter-Collegiate All-American basketball team. He was Captain of this team. Ain't he ever satisfied?

Fred was injured on field maneuvers in the Marines and was given a discharge, so here he is.

Now something about the team he played with. In the 1944-45 season, the Maroons won 20 games and lost 5. Last year was the first time in the history of the school that Eastern beat Morehead, Western, and Murray all in one season. Of course, another little item was that they finished third in National Tournament at Kansas City. They were also voted the most popular team participating. Captain Fred was awarded the most valuable player award; too. Oh, that man!

Now to get back to where we started. Mr. Lewis states: "This year's team will have more experience, age, and height. I think it will top last year's team." There's going to be a lot of hot times in the old gym this season. Get set for a good one.

P.S.: Captain Fred also has been selected to play in the Sixth Annual Classic All-Star game at Chicago. The College All-Stars will play Fort Wayne, Indiana. Fort Wayne, by the way, was World's Champion last year. The game will take place Friday, November 30, at the Chicago Stadium.

A Look At Books By EMMA NASH BEVACQUA

ONE GOD—Florence Mary Fitch This is the story of the three great religions of America and the different ways we worship God in this country. It will help children see the relation of religion to their daily lives and help them understand and respect religions different from their own.

Puzzled parents and teachers will find in the text satisfying answers to the many questions that children ask about God, prayer, and the sacraments, ceremonies and festivals of churches and synagogues. Many things that are different to explain in the text are

They like the same kind of clothes, the same people, the same things to eat, and they like being twins.

Well, it seems as if West Virginia is a good a place for twins as Kentucky, for Ben and Bob Graham come from Parkersburg. This is their first year in college and the boys plan to spend most of it in the chemistry labs. The boys dress alike and don't have any trouble agreeing on their clothes. They choose as the things they like to do best—eat and loaf.

Last but not least, we have our twin cheerleaders from Leitchfield. The Owen sisters are 19 years old and are sophomores this year. This is their second year as cheerleaders for Eastern. Robbie is majoring in music and history, she plays the piano and is a member of the glee club and orchestra. Ruby's major is physical education, and she likes tennis, basketball, and swimming. She is secretary of the sophomore class and is a member of the Photo Club. Being the exception of the rule, the twins don't dress alike or like the same things. As Ruby puts it, "Most people say Robbie is the more reserved."

The one thing that we didn't find out about the twins was how to tell them apart. So we're leaving that up to you and if you do find a good solution, please let us know, because now we are more confused than we were when we started.

Slowly, Mona pieces together bits of the past—until the whole poignant, beautiful, and exciting story is laid bare.

ONE ANGEL LESS—H. W. Roden Sharp-faced Gregory Watson was in a state. His wife, he said, had never been ill in her life, yet Dr. John Mostish had confined her in his private hospital in Union City on the grounds that she was in a dangerous condition. Watson was inclined to agree about the danger—but he did not mean health! This is an exciting murder mystery and will easily keep your eyes glued to the pages until the very last one.

Maroons To Play At Kansas City

Charles T. Hughes, athletic director at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College has announced that Eastern's 1945-46 basketball schedule includes two games at Kansas City, Missouri, on December 28 and 29.

Two doubleheaders will be played in the Municipal Auditorium on these dates and Eastern will participate in them. The other teams playing in this four-team tournament are: Hamline University of St. Paul, Minnesota, National Intercollegiate Champions in 1942;

Kansas State College of Agriculture of Manhattan, Kansas, a member of the Big Six Conference; and Marshall College of Huntington, West Virginia.

The teams will draw for first night opponents. The winners of the games played the first night will play each other the second night; the losers of the games played the first night will play each other the second night.

Eastern played in the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament held at Kansas City in March 1945, and won third place in the tournament. They were regarded as one of the most popular teams to ever play in the tournament.

THE PEAR TREE—Elissa Landi

When Genevra Sorel, the American poet, dies at the height of her career, those nearest and dearest to her momentarily stop living from shock. Although they had known for sometime that she had a bad heart, her laughter, vitality and carelessness had made them forget it.

Days after the funeral, Mona Wilton, Genevra's protegee and close friend begins the depressing task of putting Genevra's personal effects in order. In doing so, Mona comes across some pillboxes with the prescription label made out to Miss G. Soomes, a name which turns out to be a pseudonym Genevra at times used. Upon investigating this, Mona is faced with the strong premonition of the truth—not only had the poet known she was going to die, she had been responsible for her own death. She had willed it.
