"Who's Who" Lists Twenty-Two Students

Honor Offices Elections Coming

By LAURA ELLIS

Who's that gal with the beauty, charm, and poise that you so admire? If you don't know her name, you had better learn it quickly, because you may want to nominate her for one of the Eastern honor offices. If she's a junior or senior, she may become Miss Eastern. This is an honor given to one of the campus beauties who will represent Eastern at the Mountain Laurel Festival held annually at Pineville. It is the highest honor that can be given to a woman student.

Miss Popularity

Now what about that other gal, the one with that friendly grin and cheery "hi," that girl whom everybody knows and likes? There is no other way to describe her but by the words "Miss Popularity." She is judged on such traits as beauty, personality, scholarship and leadership and is also a junior or senior.

Wait just a minute, fellas, there's a chance at fame for you, too! There is also a boy on the campus that everybody knows and likes, the one with a "How's it going?" or "What do you say?" He is also judged on such characteristics as personality, leadership, and scholarship, and just think, fellas, he might be you! This honor as well as the others is given a junior or senior through the popular vote of the student body.

George Varden, 1952 Milestone editor, announced that election of Miss Eastern and Mr. and Miss Popularity would take place sometime in February.

Xmas Time Finds Philippine Trio Far From Home

By KATHLEEN KENNEY

Three Filipino girls will be far away from home for Christmas this year. Teddy Corpuz, Minnie Duka, and Aveline Antonio, now attending Eastern, will probably spend Christmas vacation at the homes of their Kentucky roommates.

Comparing Christmas in the Philippines with Christmas in America, these girls feel that the details of their Christmas celebration at home may vary from American ways, but the basic principles are the same.

In the United States, the children go to bed early so that Santa Claus will come, but in the Philippines, the majority of them stay up all night celebrating.

Family Gatherings

The large family gatherings are as common at Christmas time in the Philippines as in the United States. Every home is prepared for a guest, invited or uninvited. Filipinos are noted for their hospitality and bountiful tables.

These girls are becoming accustomed to our food, but miss the fresh fish, fresh pineapple, the different varieties of bananas, and young coconuts. Aveline loves the "greens" we grow here. Minnie prefers cake and ice cream, while Teddy likes fried chicken.

"We do not have much difficulty," they agree, "in getting adjusted to the customs here, as the Philippines itself is one of the most Westernized countries in the Orient. The marriage customs and a few other details are really the only old traditions retained there."

They were amazed at the size of the American girls' feet. In the Philippines, girls are usually very small.

Larger Animals

There is a great difference in the size of the horses, too. American horses are much larger. In fact, they say practically everything Filipino is small.

In the Philippines rabbits are domesticated only. Aveline is still looking for her first wild rabbit.

"Kentucky weather, how different from the warm weather we have all the year around in the Philippines," they comment. "We have our gardens all the year around."

"Orchids are very common in our islands, for they grow wild in trees!" What the fellows here at Eastern wouldn't give for a handful of these costly beauties before one of the big dances.

Teddy, Minnie and Aveline are graduates of universities in Manila—Manuel L. Quezon Educational Institute, University of Philippines, and the Far Eastern University. They are working for their Master of Arts in education here at Eastern.

All three of the girls are enjoying themselves immensely even though they are far from home. Thanks to Kentucky hospitality and friendliness!

Danforth Foundation Offers Graduate Fellowships For '52

The Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, has announced the inauguration of a series of Graduate Fellowships for college seniors and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of teaching, either at the college or the high school level, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1952, for their first year of graduate study.

President O'Donnell has named Miss Mary Frances McKinney as the liaison officer to work with the Danforth Foundation on the selection of candidates. These fellowships will be granted on the basis of need with the amounts varying from $500.00 to $2,400.00. Students without financial need are also invited to apply, and if accepted will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation conference on teaching and the other activities of the program. The qualifications of the candidate as listed in the announcement from the Foundation are:

Evidence of superior intellectual ability in college record.

Good record of health and emotional stability.

Outgoing personality and the concern for people, essential for successful teaching.

Choice of vocation of teaching as form of Christian Service.

Deep religious convictions and growing religious perspectives.

(Foundation is looking for candidates who are seriously examining their own religious life, and are seeking a maturing faith and a social outreach.)

Any student wishing further information should get in touch with Miss McKinney.

Local Children To Have Play

A party with all the trimmings and even Santa Claus is promised for approximately 80 underprivileged children of the community under 12 years of age. The party will be held at the armory Wednesday, December 12 from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m.

The party will include a Christmas tree, games, prizes and refreshments with the climax coming when Santa presents each child with a gift. Gifts were bought with contributions received from the free-will offering taken Friday, December 1, at the campus movie.

Sophomore Mary Elizabeth Kearnes, chairman of the Community Service Committee, is in charge of this affair. Other committee chairmen are: Judith Saunders, refreshments; Mary Ann Ranken, games; Bill Park, obtaining a Christmas tree; Emily Bell, decorating the tree; Cecile Horn and Nich DeSantes, providing a Santa Claus, and Edith Ann Taylor, prizes.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

Monday evening, January 14, is the date set for freshman "open house." This informal party will take place in the recreation room of Burnam Hall from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m.

Norma Peters and Jim Allender, chairmen of the Social Committee, are in charge of this evening of fun. There will be dancing, refreshments and entertainment.

Messiah Chorus Presents Program

The annual Messiah was given Sunday evening in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. Soloists were: soprano, Mrs. Vasile Venetozzi, a member of the Eastern faculty; contralto, Miss Florett Blank, Eastern Texas State College, Denton, Texas; tenor, Francis K. Marshall, a member of the faculty of Georgetown College; bass, Mr. John McDonald, Chicago. Mr. Thompson and Miss Blank are new in the Eastern Messiah. Mr. McDonald and Mrs. Venetozzi have sung here several times. The chorus has a membership of over two hundred. It was accompanied by Miss Brown E. Telford at the organ and by the Eastern orchestra. Mr. James E. Van Peursem, professor of music at Eastern, is the director of the Messiah.

Eastern continues to cooperate with Berea College. They have been working together on the annual presentations of the Messiah for the past twenty years. Sections of each choir were somewhat augmented by members of the cooperating chorus, where needed for proper balance.

Frosh Committees Are Appointed

The freshmen committees recently appointed by the class officers and cabinet members are composed of the following: Fine Arts and Entertainment Committee, Joan Scholle, chairman, Phyllis Piper, Blanche Viall, David Caylor, and Jim Winn; Sports Committee, Ralph Ballard, Violet Barnatt, Don Utley, Betty Lou Walden, and Kare Bays; Public Relations, Grace Reynolds, Bill Hensley, Nancy Rickey, Roger Stephens, and Betty Jane Rinesmith; Publicity, Ann Hammons, Joe Leone, Sue Carol Lewis, Edith Ann Taylor, and Dot McPhail; Poster Committee, Sue Goebel, Joe Ann Goins, Fannie Lee Newby, and Barbara Hill; Ways and Means Committee, Alice June Cotter, Janice Treadway, Martha McGill, Pepper Marcum, and Roger Ladenburger. The Program Committee consists of Gene Jones as chairman, and Polly Jenkins and Jimmie Sue Bateman; Jim Allender is chairman of the Scrapbook Committee.

In the near future these committee members will meet with the officers and cabinet to discuss plans for the coming months.

The first project of the class is the making of a freshman bulletin board which will contain only news and notices for the frosh. This board, which is to be completed by the first of the year, will be placed somewhere in the grill, announces President Charles Correll.

WSF HAS GUEST

Miss Piret Koljo, an Estonian, who is the traveling secretary for the World Student Service Fund, visited the YMCA on the campus Monday. Miss Florence Childress, president of YWCA, announces that Miss Koljo took this as an opportunity for her to help the committee and workers for WSSF in their plans and orientation. Miss Koljo spoke to the group Monday afternoon in the Student Union Building.

Seniors Are Selected By Secret Committee

By ANN HULKER

Twenty-two outstanding Eastern seniors have been selected as members of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," for 1951.

'Greens' Ceremony Observed Sunday

Sunday, December 9th, at 4:00 p. m. the twenty-second annual Hanging of the Greens was observed in Walnut Hall. Approximately 60 girls participated in this impressive ceremony.

The Reverend Olaf R. Anderson, former minister of the Presbyterian Church in Richmond, was the guest speaker for the occasion. The Christmas Bible story was read by Ruth Ann Hulker, Jim Birch and Joe Rich.

The musical part of the program consisted of solos sung by Hannah Ketzner and Bill Baker. Patricia Powers and Mrs. Victor Venetozzi were the accompanists. Trumpeters were Wayne Pressley and Walter Russell. Elizabeth Caywood played the chimes. Music for the candle light procession was provided by Phyllis Piper.

Miss Mary Frances McKinney, alumni secretary, is sponsor of the Y. W. C. A., and Mr. William Stocker, sponsor of the Y. M. C. A.

Baptist Union Presents Play

The Baptist Student Union presented a Christmas play on Tuesday, December 11, in the Little Theater. The play, "They That Sit in Darkness," by Dorothy Clarke Wilson, is the Christmas story told in a unique way.

Miss Beth Hayworth, Baptist student secretary, directed the production. Those taking part were: Jeanette Bunch, Morris Freeman, Thelma Park, Joe Smith, John Dowdy, Patsy Kaigga, Harold Holderman, Gene Atkins, Bill Pickett, Richard Platt, Margaret Berryman, Martha McGill, Audrey Covington, Pat Spoonamore, and Roger Stevens.

Fellowship Hears Dr. Myron Hopper

Dr. Myron T. Hopper, professor of religious education at the College of the Bible in Lexington, spoke to the members of the Christian Student Fellowship of the First Christian Church at two of the Wednesday evening supper meetings in the Blue Room.

Dr. Hopper spoke on the subject: "World Order," a series which the group has been studying seriously since the beginning of November.

Dr. Hopper's first talk, "World Organization or Else," served as an introduction to the subject. The title of the second address was "How Do We Get World Organization?" Each talk was followed by questions and group discussions.

Other methods used by the group to enlighten the subject have been group discussions following a specific outline and a movie, "The World in Which We Want to Live."

The next series, beginning in January, will be on "Courtship and Marriage."

KYMA Sponsors Formal Dance

A few years ago it was the custom at Eastern to have a Christmas formal, highlighted by the crowning of a "snow queen." This custom was abolished in 1950 but is being revived again this year.

The formal dance will be held in Walnut Hall on Dec. 13. The event is to be sponsored by Eastern's service organization, the Kyma Club.

Music will be furnished by Eastern's own Burgoyne Moores. The "snow queen" for this year is Ann Gover, a senior from Somerset. She is a history major and is a 5-2 blond.

The queen was selected by a committee of boys, one from each class and club on the campus. She will be crowned as the feature of the dance. The other candidates were Jo Jarboe, Mary Dot Sidwell, Jean Walser, and Pat Rickey.

CHAMP TYPIST HERE

World Championship Typist Mr. George Hassfeld, 10 times winner of the world's typing championship with a rate of 140 words a minute, was guest at assembly November 15.

Mr. Hassfeld listed the five basic rules for improvement in typing, along with demonstration of typing extremes. He ended his performance by building his typing speed from 40 to 140 words per minute.

Members were chosen by a secret committee composed of members of the faculty and student body. To be eligible, each student must be a senior. Scholarship, leadership, general worthiness, and participation in school activities were qualities considered in the selection of candidates. A biographical sketch of each member will appear in the "Who's Who" yearbook.

"PEACE ON EARTH"

Christmas is coming again and that coming means vacation for the students; rushing to do Christmas shopping, decorating, entertaining, to dad and mom; better business for the merchants; candy, toys, and Santa Claus to the little fellows; parties, fun, and fellowship to the youth. But to all of us it means more. It is the time we, peoples of all races and colors around the world unite in the celebration of the birth of Christ.

Christmas tide turns the heart of the world to Bethlehem and what happened there almost two thousand years ago. The little children, with hearts so tender, the perfect expression of love; the youth and adults who are able to understand the meaning of the story of His birth and His infinite love to man, come with praise and prayer to worship and celebrate His birth—the birth of our Lord and Savior.

It is with a ray of faith and hope that we, the thousands of worshippers, this year and every year retell the story of His birth and sound the same note of "Peace on earth good will toward all men" in hopes that it will catch aflame around the world and produce a lasting peace.

Each Christmas comes and passes, and passing drops new opportunities at our door. Opportunities to say a kind word to a downhearted person, lend a helping hand to the unfortunate ones, to share with those in need, to help carry the burden of those oppressed, to unite in promoting "Peace on earth, good will toward all men."

Yes, as we retell the story of His coming we know he has come—He who is called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace—and reigns in our hearts.

Freshman Girls Are Feted Here

A Christmas dinner for the freshman girls of Eastern was sponsored by the Mu Chapter of Cwens. The dinner was given in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building on Monday at 6:00 p. m.

Jo Nell Harrod, president of the chapter, presided over the program. The program consisted of "O, Holy Night," sung by Joan Scholle, freshman; carols sung by the group and led by Peggy Hinton, secretary of Cwen; "The Real Christmas Story," presented by Mrs. Oliver Carmichael of Richmond; a violin solo, "White Christmas," played by Mrs. Harold Atkissin. The program was concluded with the singing of "Silent Night" by the group.

It is hoped by the Chapter that the Christmas dinner for freshman girls will become a tradition of Cwens at Eastern.

Cwens Executive Visits Our Campus

Miss Duella S. Stranahan, executive secretary of the National Society of Cwens, visited the Mu Chapter of Cwens of Eastern on November 13th.

The object of Miss Stranahan's visit was to see that the chapter's program is complying with national standards and to give ideas that might aid the program.

During the day, Miss Stranahan held conferences with the sponsors, Mrs. Emma Y. Case and Miss Cleo Stamper; the officers, Jo Nell Harrod, Ruth Ann Hulker, Peggy Hinton, and Wanda Smyth; and the chairmen of the various committees.

In the afternoon, an informal tea for Miss Stranahan was given in Walnut Hall.

Collegiate Pentacle Has Alumni Group

By EVELYN ROGERS
Plans for an Alumnae Association of Collegiate Pentacle have been started. Sunday morning, November 11, the alumnae of this organization met with the active members of Collegiate Pentacle for a breakfast in Mrs. Case's apartment.

The Cat's Meow

You know, this cold weather even gets under my thick fur coat these winter days. It's hard to catch anybody leaning against the pillars of Burnam Hall in this kind of weather. It seems they've forsaken the porch for the big couches in the lobby. I can't say I blame them. As I ventured through the lobby and dorms, I've almost been trampled to death several times, but I've managed to pick up a little bit of news. Here goes:

Bobby Elder seems to be quite a "Casanova" these days but it looks like Kay Wilson ranks pretty high on his list!

Peggy Hinton seems to like that slow drawl of West Spain's. Is it West or that boy who visits you all the time, Peggy?

Music is the language of love or so it seems to be for Pat Powers and Gordon Fleck. This has been going on for a long time!

Ohio U. certainly was surprised when they played Eastern. Congratulations, Maroons! It was a wonderful game!

When is Pauline Gill going to decide what she is going to do?

Bob Thompson has certainly been dating a darling girl. Of course, I mean Pauline Coyie!

What's this about Joyce Cook putting Howard Gracey's picture on the scales in the rec room. Could it be that she gets weighed a lot?

What a combination. They say birds of feather flock together, but just what kind of birds are Ann Gover and Walter Green?

Why do Geyer and Baechtold spend so much extra time at the gym? Maybe they like the new fixtures!

Mary Horan seems to be having a big time this year dating different boys, but I still think she's got her eye on Nick Tsangeos.

Lorraine McGlone has been seen around with Pudie Richardson. What happened to Dick? Are Dick and Pudie still bosom buddies?

One of Homecoming's different couples was Jackie Ritter and Bill Palahunich. Something new has been added.

John Dorman and Betty Maupin braved the cold weather for a Sunday night date not long ago. Maybe the weather was too much for Betty for he was seen standing on the front porch with Kitty Parsons a few nights ago. Maybe Hacksaw doesn't like cold weather either.

Nell "Queen" Wilson and C. J. are still together even though he is now at U. K. I'll bet he knows that road to Richmond by heart.

Another twosome that has been formed is Don Combs and Betty Herrold. Hey, Don, which is the "Wright" Betty?

Jim Bingham seems to have gotten a new girl. This time it's Ann McLeaster.

Quite a few old two-somes still remain this year such as Doris Lynn Smith and Hiram Snowden. Speaking of twosomes, much to everyone's surprise Bobby True has settled down to one man. And this time it looks as it'll be for life.

Laqueta Walters and Keith Brooks have decided that Laqueta also needs her degree. So as of Christmas, Laqueta will be known as Mrs. Congratulations to both of you.

I hear that Libby Harris has decided to move to Georgetown. She seems to be interested in 1% of the male college population.

Are Claire and "Stub" getting along O. K.? They were having difficulties in the not too distant past.

I don't see much of Charlie True around here on weekends. There must be some attraction at home, eh, Charlie?

Can you believe Dick Wilson made a touchdown in the Western game? Yes, students, that was most unusual!

Billie Ballard seems to have made Mathias Williams' heart go pitty, pat. Oh yes, love is really wonderful!

Gene Jones seems to have picked himself a girl. I think she's mighty cut little gal. Nice taste you have, Gene!

Has Roy Rogers found Dale Evans at last, in the form of Jayne Trivette?

Hank Romersa went all out for the Westminster Fellowship's float—and also for the queen, Peggy Chandler.

Barbara Ballou is having a time with her two favorite sports—basketball and football. Jud and Don seem to be the goal, but which rules will she play by?

It seems that Norma Tevis has her eye on an Eagle, and that doesn't mean a bird either!

It looks like Dean Rubarts doesn't know a good deal when she sees one. It seems that Roger Smith wants to go steady but she doesn't agree. Don't give him a hard time, Dean. Why don't you give it a try?

I think that Angie Pratt should break down and give Don Adams a break. I have it from a very reliable source that he has more than just a casual interest in her.

Well, it's time for a short catnap and I'd better leave you until the next issue when I'll be back again with lots more gossip. Remember that I'm a sneaky little character so you'd better watch out or your private life will be appearing in the PROGRESS. Meow!

Resolutions

With 1952 just around the proverbial corner, New Year's resolutions are being made all over Eastern's campus. These are a few which the members of the Journalism I class recently overheard.

Jim Dudding resolves that Jim Kirby won't outdance him next year.

Dr. J. T. Dorris, history department, resolves to add new collections to his museum on the top floor of the Administration Building.

Mr. Kerney Adams, head of the history department, resolves to record no more of his lectures for presentation to the next class.

Warren Tarven resolves to shave off his mustache.

Mr. Ballou promises to keep the coke machine in Burnam Hall in working order.
Ann Hackley, senior, Stanford, resolves to work for an "A" in practice teaching.

John Paul Jones, junior, Lexington, resolves that in the future he will discontinue the practice of memorizing the complete chemistry text.

Miss Ford, commerce department, promises to reserve all her patience for "my Dictation and Transcription class."

Students of Dr. Schneib's psychology class resolve not to regurgitate.

CHANGED PERSONALITY

A student once remarked, "Dr. Schneib, you sound happy."
"I'm not myself today," replied Dr. Schneib, shrugging her shoulders.

Thousands Enjoy "Perfect Homecoming"

Parade, Game, Barbecue, Dance Are Highlights

Ideal Weather Greet Eastern Grads

Eastern's 1951 homecoming was a "perfect" celebration enjoyed by thousands, including members of the alumni, students, faculty, and friends of the college. What made this gala day a perfect one? Ideal weather was the chief factor plus a well organized program by the Alumni Executive Committee and a hard earned football victory over Eastern's friendly rival—Western's Hilltoppers.

The float prize this year was won by a product of the combined efforts of two campus clubs, Sigma Tau Pi and Pi Omega Pi. Their float had a big kettle with Western players in it and the slogan, "Let's Make Mince Pie Out Of Western." Also showing a lot of work were the Music Club and Westminster Fellowship floats.

In the parade were a number of bands—Eastern's and Western's, of course, and two high school bands, Harrodsburg and Lee County. Directing the Harrodsburg band was Bill Gravelly, a recent Eastern graduate.

Nell Wilson Chosen
At a meeting shortly after the parade, a group of judges selected Miss Nell Wilson as our 1951 Homecoming Queen. Nell represented the newest club on our campus, the Chess Club.

Dedication Ceremony
Part of the morning activities included a tree planting ceremony in honor of Lt. Russell M. Childs, '38 graduate, who was killed in action during World War II. The tree, a red maple which was planted on the lawn of the SU Building, was given by Mrs. Walter Childs, mother of Lt. Russell. James Allander, a nephew, presented the tree to Pres. O'Donnell.

Evening Barbecue
Head chefs at the homecoming barbecue were the faculty members. Approximately 550 students and alumni were served.

It was a very informal affair held in the cafeteria of the SUB. Music was provided by Eastern's band.

Dance Finale
Music for the homecoming dance was furnished by Burgie Moores and his orchestra. Burgie is a student here. Another student, Shirley Spire, was vocalist for the orchestra.

Yes, 1951 had a "perfect homecoming."

MISS SINGLETON WEDS
Miss Betty Linn Singleton, Eastern graduate in the 1948 class, became the bride of Mr. Shipton Estes, Lincoln County, October 4, 1951 at Maryville, Missouri. Miss Singleton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pence of Lancaster, Kentucky. After her graduation from Eastern she took training in Louisville to become a technician. Mrs. Estes is medical technician in the Garrard County Memorial Hospital at Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Estes were visiting Mrs. Estes' aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tremaine of Savannah, Missouri at the time of their marriage.

The couple are residing in Lancaster where Mr. Estes is engaged in farming.

RUTLEDGES HAVE DAUGHTER

Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rutledge of Pikeville have chosen the name, Judith Ann, for their daughter, born November 13th at the Pikeville Hospital. This is their first child. Dr. Rutledge is an Eastern grad in the 1942 class and a former resident of Richmond. Mrs. Rutledge was Miss Nathalia Shake of Louisville before her marriage to Dr. Rutledge.

HOLBROOK BABY NAMED

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Holbrook, 650 Longview Drive, Lexington, have selected the name, James Lee, for their son born November 4th at the Patti A. Clay Infirmary in Richmond. He is their second child and second son. Mr. Holbrook is an Eastern graduate in the 1950 class. His wife is the former Wilma Bush of Waco.

PVT. JASPER IN KANSAS

Pvt. Earl Jasper, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arling Jasper, of Route 1, Science Hill, Ky., has completed processing at the 2053rd Reception Center, Fort Meade, Md., and is assigned to the 10th Infantry Division, Fort Riley, Kans., for Army basic training.

He attended Eastern where he majored in elementary education. He will receive 16 weeks of basic military training necessary for all soldiers. Fundamental military subjects such as close order drill, care of clothing and equipment, first aid, scouting and patrolling, and map reading will be taught.

EKEA Dinner Held At Ashland

The Eastern State College Dinner was held in the main dining room of the Henry Clay Hotel in Ashland on Thursday evening, November 8, 1951, with fifty-five people present.

The following program was given: Presiding, Wilma Jean Carroll, '49; invocation, Miss Elizabeth North, '26; "Eastern," Dr. L. G. "Green Pastures" Is Smash Hit Production

Eastern Players Present Colorful Production Here

"The greatest play ever given at Eastern," such was the opinion of many concerning The Green Pastures—the Eastern Players' latest offering on the Eastern college stage.

The play was masterfully directed by Mr. Keith Brooks, head of the Drama department. Mr. Brooks, in selecting this play for this semester's major production, accepted a challenge that few other colleges would undertake.

Certain aspects of a living religion in the terms of its believers—thousands of Negroes in the deep South—was the theme of the play. Particularly commendable was the skill in which the actors gave life to this play with all the reverence the author intended.

Rich Great

Joseph Rich, portraying the demanding role of "The Lawd," must be singled out for the outstanding performance of the evening. Of his work, Mr. Brooks said, "Rich's performance was the most professional job of acting that it has been my pleasure to observe on Eastern's stage—and I include both the professional and amateur productions that I have seen here since being a member of Eastern's faculty." Mr. Rich played his role with restraint and humility, great depth and tenderness and his interpretation was at all times convincing and reverent.

Another high light of the performance—marked at its conclusion by the spontaneous applause of the audience—was the scene involving Moses, now an old man gone blind having successfully lead his people for forty years until they reached the Promised Land. Everett Bickers, playing Moses, literally "poured out his heart" in his sincere interpretation of the lines of Moses.

Cast Named

Choir Adds Greatly

The choir under the direction of Mrs. Venetozzi added greatly to the theme and meaning of the play with their skilled rendition of the many negro spirituals. In the choir were Florence Childress, Hannah Ketzner, Joan Scholle, Patsy Spoonamore, Claire Wright, Elizabeth Caywood, Imogene Daniels, Betty Isaacs, Patricia Powers, Gordon Fleck, Keith Wiggins, Edward Burke, Douglas Gaiter, Henry Romersa, and Carol Shaver. Pat Powers was at the organ during intermission.

Much favorable comment has been made about the sets and the lighting, and justifiably so. Many of the scenes were breath-takingly beautiful. Mr. Eagle Doty was in charge of the lighting. He was assisted by Charles Proffitt, Harold Richardson and Loraine McGlone. The sets, conceived by Mr. Brooks and built under his direction, were constructed by Howard Gracy. He was ably assisted by Marty LeFevers and a score of other thespians who contributed their efforts as time allowed. The costumes were conceived and executed by Miss Fowler of the Art department and Miss Slater of the Home Ec department. They, indeed, contributed an artistic achievement. The painting of the scenery was done by Dr. Giles, head of the Art department. This scenery was described by many as "the best yet."

Others assisting backstage included Ann Phelps, Betty Smith, Irene Isaacs, Ann Hulker, Jim Burch, Margaret Barryman, Laquata Walters, Kay Wilson, Lena Denham, Joe Harper, Roger Geyer, Karl Kepler, Orville Miracle and Shirley Spires.

Mr. Brooks expresses his deep appreciation to everyone who worked on the production in any way and thereby contributed to making it the huge success that it was.

Eastern Graduates Are Doing Well In Chemistry Field

Dr. William Paul Griggs, son of Mrs. Bessie Griggs, Information Clerk at Eastern, is working in photographic plastic material with the Eastman Kodak Company. Dr. Lewis Fitzgerald now is employed as chief chemist by the National Distillers Company. Outstanding women who graduated from Eastern are Miss Virginia Held, who is working in the chemical research laboratory for Weidemann Brewing Co., and Miss Ernestine Park, who is with Carbon and Carbide Co. in Cleveland. Dr. Paul Goodloe, Ph. D. through research has increased the value of by-products of Socony Oil Co. of New York. Mr. Robert Terrill has recently published papers on the identification and extraction of fats and fatty oils. He is employed by the Spencer-Kellogg Co. of New York. Mattox, Registrar of Eastern, is working in the laboratory of Solvay Chemical and Dye Co. in Ohio.

Others Teaching

A few of the graduates have become instructors in colleges. Dr. James Stanfield is teaching at Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta. He is working, too, with organic metallic compounds. Dr. J. Herman Wood is professor of organic chemistry at the University of Tennessee. He has aided in securing fourteen scholarships for Eastern graduates to the University of Tennessee. Prof. Chester Alexander, who majored in chemistry at Eastern, is chairman of the chemistry department at Georgetown College. Dr. Edward Amis is professor of physical chemistry at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, Ark.

Dr. J. D. Fouts, also an Easterner, is in Washington state and is affiliated with the State Department of Health.

Dr. William Cox, graduate of Eastern in 1947, is in internship at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington. Dr. Cox is the son of Dr. Meredith J. Cox of Eastern's chemistry department.

Sixteen hopeful Mds. which are now in school in the University of Louisville are products of Eastern. Twenty students now on the campus are planning to enter the field of medicine.

Gridders Close Season With 7-3 Record

Whip Western, Ohio U.; Bow 26-14 at Deland, Fla.

Coach Tom Samuels' Maroon grid squad wound up their 1951 campaign with an outstanding record of 7 wins and only 3 losses in a rough 10 game schedule. In a late season drive, the Maroons staged a sensational second half rally against Western in the homecoming battle to down the Hilltoppers 31-7. A week later, Eastern upset favored Ohio University 27-13 at Athens, Ohio.

Finale In Florida

Playing in sunny Deland, Fla., the Maroon eleven dropped a 26-14 decision on Dec. 1 to strong Stetson University.

Now the grid togs are put away and the time has come for basketball.

Hilltoppers Downed 31-7

The homecoming triumph over Western added much to the gala 1951 celebration. Things looked dark at halftime for the Maroons in this one, for Western led 7-0. But Eastern struck back in the second half to rack up 31 points and give the Hilltoppers that "long ride back to Bowling Green."

It was senior fullback Chuck Hertzner sparking the Maroons in Upset Ohio U., 27-13 this spurt. Chuck, recently voted All-OVC, passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third one in the torrid climax.

Highly touted Ohio University fell to a powerful Maroon attack at the Athens, O., Stadium. Eastern featured three long scoring passes in the first half to coast to a 27-13 win.

Hertzner, Billy George and Roy Kidd tossed these payoff aeriels. However, it was Eastern's fine line play that stopped the Ohio eleven.

Drop Finale, 26-14

Using a powerful aerial attack and taking advantage of breaks, Stetson University's "Hatters" defeated Eastern, 26-14.

In the first two and one-half minutes of play, Stetson scored on a 31 yard pass. Before the first quarter ended, the Hatters scored again on an 81 yard drive, climaxed with a 39 yard pass.

Late in the second quarter Eastern struck back when Jack Bond went over to score from the one yard line after an 80 yard Maroon drive. Brian Gibbs converted for the extra point to make the score 13-7 at halftime.

Fumble Hurts

An Eastern fumble on the Stetson 29 showed the way for Stetson's third TD.

The Hatters' fourth tally came about as result of an interception of a Jim Hanlon pass on Eastern's 22.

Roy Kidd later narrowed the margin by tossing a touchdown pass to Howard Gracey. The play covered 68 yards. Gibbs again converted. Final score, Stetson 26, Eastern 14.

The season record:

- Eastern 31; Hillsdale 12
- Eastern 13; Marshall 6
- Eastern 0; Murray 9
- Eastern 15; Tenn. Tech 14
- Eastern 58; Erskine 0
- Eastern 6; Morehead 0
- Eastern 6; Evansville 7
- Eastern 31; Western 7
- Eastern 27; Ohio U. 13
- Eastern 14; Stetson 26

Swimmers Here Are Organizing

By BILL VENDL

Once again Eastern's pool has come alive to the cries and roars of a swimming team in training. "Go-go!" and "Beat that clock!" once more echo across the pool and through the locker rooms. After last year's unsuccessful attempt to recruit a team, the squad this year is well past the planning stage. Enough interested mermen have enlisted their support to produce a well rounded team, but new members are still urged to come out. Practice sessions are now being held every week day from five to six p. m.

Meets are planned with Berea and the University of Kentucky with talk of at least six additional meets, a telegraphic meet and possibly the A. A. U.'s. These plans are still in the early stage and as yet no definite dates are available.

Few Veterans

Although the tankers number over 20, the squad lacks experience with only four members, thus far, who have been in competition before. These "veterans" include John Nolan, free style, Huey Brooks, diver, "Flash Gordon" Fleck, back stroke and free style, and Bill Vendl, free style and utility man. Others on the squad are Bill McClanahan, Jesse Reed, D. Hibbard, Marvin Day, E. Dale, D. Rice, Tom Howell, Larry Roth, Jimmy Brooks, and Bob Roby. Most of these are free stylists, which should prove to be the strength of the team. Other men have signed up but as yet have not practiced during team meetings.

If any man is interested in swimming, there is still time to join the mermen of Eastern by either coming to a practice session or by contacting a member of the squad.

Phys-Ed Majors Are Now Coaches

By BILL McCLANAHAN

Many of the students that come to Eastern majoring in physical education leave after their four years and step into good coaching jobs. Some of the Maroons who graduated last year accomplished this feat and are now holding jobs at high schools throughout the state.

Bob Abney, the man that was such a great help in Eastern's run for the OVC baseball crown last year, is now athletic director and head coach at Athens High School, just outside Lexington. Another of the big "E" men of last year was the little man who quarterbacked the football team, Bill Emmett. Bill is now coaching at Middlesboro, Kentucky.

Pulawski Coaching

Evarts High School couldn't be satisfied with one Eastern man on their coaching staff so they had to get a second. Two of the regulars on the Maroon eleven last year, Carl Genito and Steve Pulawski, are helping handle football.

One of "Big E's" football graduates of last year decided to travel along the professional road. He is Ray Pelfrey who is now playing a lot of ball as a rookie for the Green Bay Packers.

Two At Hall

Another Kentucky high school that said that it would like to have two Eastern men was Hall High of Harlan County. The boys that got these jobs are Chester Mielcarek and his assistant, Roman Todoran. Carl Martin, one of the starting guards on the football team last year, has taken on the task of coaching and at the same time teaching biology at Jenkins High School.

To show that a graduating physical education major from Eastern does not have opportunities for jobs only in Kentucky, there is the case of Homer Rice who is coaching in Wartburg, Tennessee.

The man that had the job of helping develop last year's freshman basketball team, Joe Fryz, is now head coach and athletic director at Junction City. Joe, who was a main-stay on the Maroon's basketball squad, graduated in 1950.

These are only a few of the ones that worked hard for four years and then stepped into a job.

Marine Plantholt In Three Bowl Games

Carl Plantholt, Eastern's 1950 football captain and most valuable player, is now playing football at Camp Lejeune, N. C., as a Marine Corps private.

The Camp Lejeune team is playing in three bowl games this year. The first was the Electronics Bowl at Biloxi, Miss., on December 9. The opponent was Keesler Air Base.

Number two is played at Camp Lejeune on December 23. The second opponent will be the East Coast All-Stars F. M. F. Atlantic.

The big bowl game is the Cigar Bowl played in Tampa, Florida, against Ft. Houston.

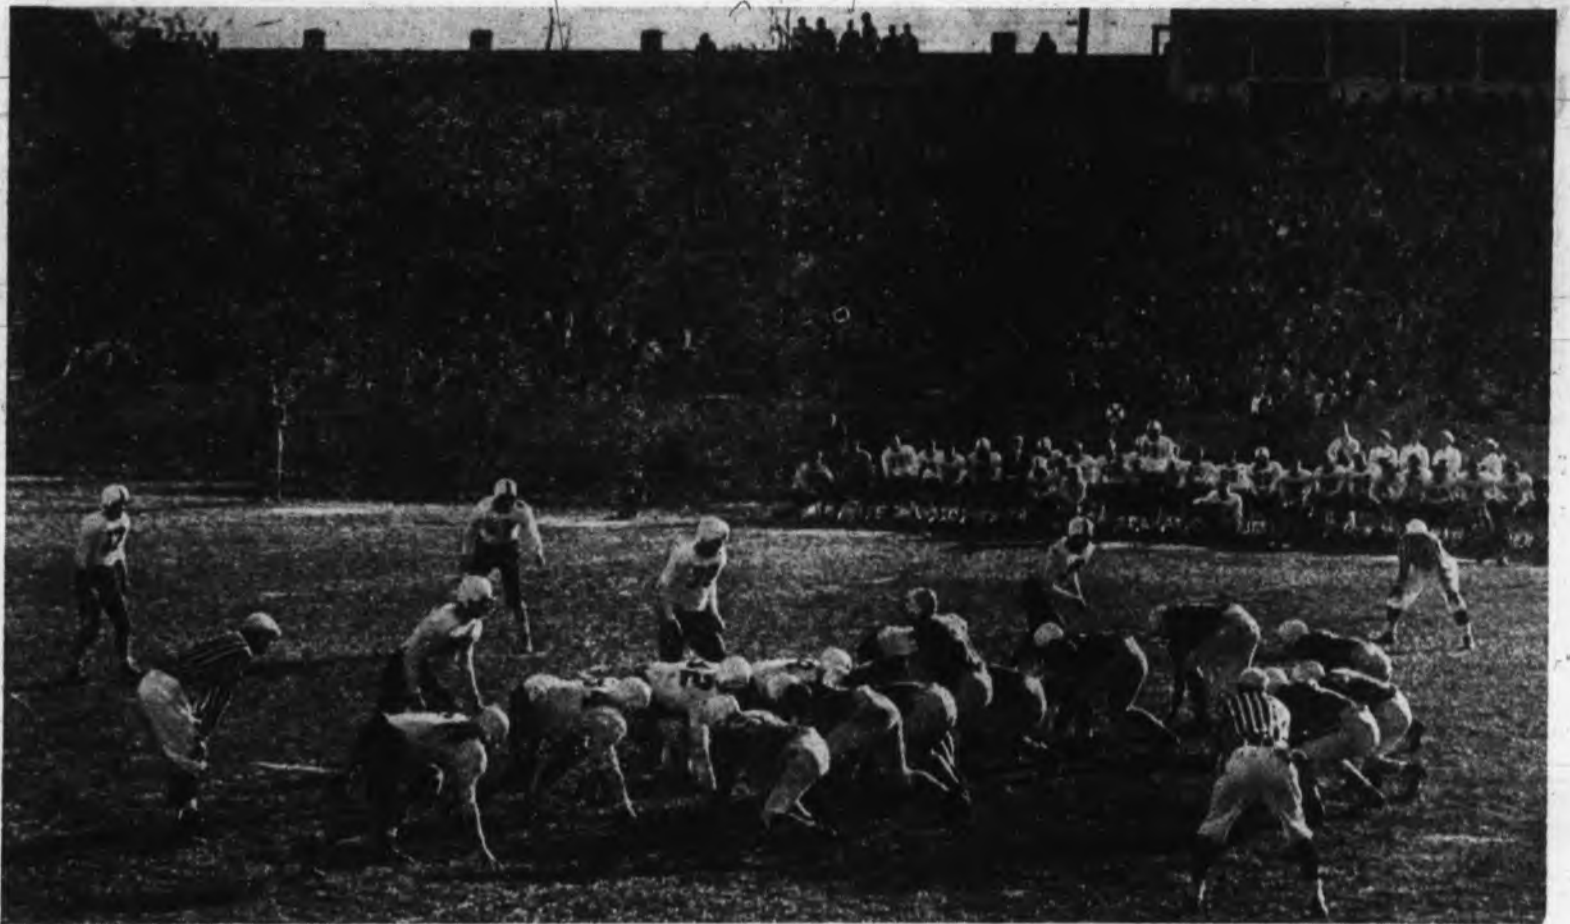

Private Plantholt is an Eastern graduate of 1950. He played four years of football at Eastern and was All-O. V. C. in '49 and received honorable mention in '50. He has been in the Marine Corps since last August.

TALE TOLD

Three polar bears were sitting on an iceberg, Papa Bear, "I've a big tale to tell." Mama Bear, "I also have a big tale to tell." Baby Bear, "Let's get off this iceberg, my little tail is told."

ANOTHER BIRD

Marriage is an institution that changes a night owl into a homing pigeon.

Four Maroons On All-OVC Squad

Chuck Hertzner, Brian Gibbs, Dave Rodgers and Bill Adams have been named to the All-Ohio Valley Conference football team. This honor squad was recently selected by the coaches of the conference.

Hertzner, Eastern's passing fullback, was named to the first team. Gibbs nailed down a second team all-conference end post with Rodgers and Adams also on the second squad. Rodgers was named to an all-conference guard post and Adams got the nod at center.

The first team:

- End—Flavious Smith, Tennessee Tech.
- End—James Swierczek, Marshall

Tackle—Gilbert Mains, Murray Tackle—Ed Wessel, Evansville

Guard—Marv Rammelsburg, Morehead. Guard—Marvin Satterly, Western.

Center—Lawrence (Butch) Gilbert, Western. Back—Hertzner, Eastern

A woman visiting the zoo asked a keeper whether the hippopotamus was a male or female. "Madam," replied the keeper, "that is a question that should be of interest only to another hippopotamus."

"Big E" Faces National Hoop Powers

Varsity Cagers To Meet U. of L., N. C. State, Toledo

The undefeated Maroons of Eastern play host to the unbeaten Cardinals from the University of Louisville here Wednesday night in what must certainly be labeled the nation's "game of the week."

In addition to being a game between two keen rivals this tilt is truly a battle for national supremacy. The victor in this meeting could well go on to becoming one of the top five teams in the country.

Maroons Win

The Maroons, conquerors of Xavier, Evansville, VPI and Marshall thus far, must stop a big, fast and sharp shooting Louisville crew coached by Peck Hickman. The invading Cardinals beat a highly touted Dayton University quintet in a 79-76 overtime thriller last week. Heading U. of L.'s attack are Bobby Brown, Bob Louchmeyer, Bob Nabor, Chuck Noobe and Chet Beam. They also feature a seven-footer in Bob Peterson, sophomore center.

After racing Louisville, Paul McBrayer's hard working crew leaves Raleigh, N. C., Saturday night to take on the Wolfpack of North Carolina State. Rounding out the December schedule, "Big E" plays Evansville here on Dec. 11 and then treks to Toledo, Ohio, on Dec. 22 to challenge a strong Toledo University squad.

XAVIER BEATEN 85-54

In the season opener at Hazard's new Memorial gym, Jim Baechtold paced the Maroons in an impressive 85-84 win over Xavier University. The "big cat," an All-American if there ever was one, tallied 25 points. Alex Stevens connected for 16 points, Bob Mulcahy added 15 although he played only in the second half, and Jim Bingham contributed 13. Guards Bill Bales and Roger Geyer did a fine job of running the attack.

ACES FALL, 71-45

Posting their first OVC win of the campaign, the Maroon and White cagers whipped Evansville College's Aces 71-45 at the semidark Armory in Evansville. It was Hoosier Roger Geyer who led the Maroons in this win. The little speedster notched 16 points. Jim Baechtold, already marked as the Maroon that must be stopped, connected for 10 free throws in as many attempts for a 14-point total.

Ready replacements, Mulcahy, Dick Culbertson and Shirley Kearns were a big help in the second half.

ROMP OVER VPI 95-43

The home opener saw the first team play mainly in the first half as VPI fell under a 95-43 attack. Bingham paced the Maroons with 20 markers although he did not see action after the halftime intermission.

EDGE MARSHALL 78-73

After taking a 22 point lead in the second quarter at 31-9, the varsity cagers fought off a fast Marshall College team for a 78-73 victory. Eastern protected its victory margin by retaining possession of the ball in the final 3½ minutes of play.

Two "big Jims," Bingham and Baechtold, were the big guns in this fray. Bingham notched 29 points in connecting for 7 baskets and 15 of 16 foul shots. Eastern's "court quarterback," Bill Bales, turned in a fine floor game. His sensational passes set up several tallies by Bingham and Baechtold. This was OVC win number two.

"Dear Santa... Please Bring"

Saint Nick time is drawing nigh, and every good Easternite is writing to the old fellow hoping he will heed to the pleas presented before him.

Beldy Massey, Somerset, tells Santa, "All I want for Christmas is my true front teeth."

Marianne Johnson, Danville, wants a mechanical brain to take her chemistry tests for her.

Pee Wee Miracle wants Santa to bring him someplace to spend his money besides games in the rec room.

Dr. Herndon, science department, wants an almanac so that he won't have to bother with all the weather instruments.

Dr. Roy B. Clark, head of English department, wants a True Story magazine.

Burgie Moores, Vet's Village, asks Santa for a new trumpet.

Mr. Keith Brooks, English department, wants Lacquata Walters for his Christmas present.

For Coach Paul McBrayer, three cheers and an invitation to a major post-season tournament for the Maroons.

Jo Nell Harrod, Frankfort, wants to see one guy named Mike from Guam.

Mrs. Barnhill, English department, would like to have a gift subscription to Reader's Digest.

WESLEY GROUP ATTENDS

The members of the Wesley Foundation were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Dorris at a buffet supper given at their home, Monday, December third.

After the supper a short devotional program was given and Dr. Dorris spoke to the group on "The History of the Methodist Church."

Voice of Eastern

Several hundred Eastern basketball fans attended the Maroon-Xavier season opener at Hazard two weeks ago. Making up this group were graduates, present students and many friends of the college. The Maroons' impressive 85-54 triumph over Xavier meant a lot to the northern Kentucky element of the college. For a long time they have been telling their Cincinnati neighbors that "big E" has some fine ball clubs. There shouldn't be any doubt now!

The Maroon-Louisville clash here Wednesday night is rated as one of the top cage attractions in the country! Both squads are currently rated in the top ten of the nation. In fact, the widely read Dunkel's ratings had the Maroons second in the nation in a story released last Friday. St. John's of New York was first.

After the Maroon footballers ended a long, hard season in DeLand, Florida on Dec. 1, they were rewarded with a day of relaxation in the sunshine state. According to reports on that trip—Ross Heron came out second best in a battle with the surf at Daytona Beach... Mrs. Tom Samuels' folks, who live in Florida, let the entire Maroon squad pick all the oranges they could carry... The gridgers sent back a big "thank you"... Fisherman Bob Shockley caught a big bass for his prize.

Ray Pelfrey, of the 1950 Maroon grid squad, is now quite a star with the Green Bay Packers, professional footballers. Pelfrey is seeing plenty of action offensively at end and halfback. Another Easternite in the pro ranks is Joe Hollingsworth of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Eastern-North Carolina State game at Raleigh next Saturday promises to be a real revenge battle for the Maroons who lost a "disputed" one point overtime thriller there last year!

MAROON DOZEN—These 12 Maroon cagers, Eastern's travelling squad, carry the college's basketball hopes this season. They face those all-important holiday games coming up. After Louisville, the Maroons play North Carolina State at Raleigh, Dec. 15, Evansville here, Dec. 17, and Toledo at Toledo, Ohio, Dec. 22. Coach Paul McBrayer is pictured in the center of the group. Left to right are: Tom Holbrook, Dick Culbertson, Bob Mulcahy, Kenneth Davis, Elmer Tolson, Stan Stanford, Jim Bingham, Alex Stevens, Jim Baechtold, Bill Bales, Shirley Kearns and Roger Geyer.

Frosh Cagers Win Two Tilts

By BILL VENDL

The Eastern freshman basketball team has successfully begun its 51-52 season with wins over Sue Bennett Junior College and Cumberland Junior College. Under the piloting of Joe Harper and Karl Kepler, both former players, the squad opened its season with an impressive 92-50 victory over Sue Bennett on November 28. Jim Floyd, at center position, was the leading scorer with 23 points to his credit. Paul Collins, starting forward, was injured in the first half and had to be taken out of the game. Steele Dudley replaced him as starting forward in the next game.

The game against Cumberland on December 5 placed another chalk mark in the victory column.

With Gene Cain pacing the scoring with 22 points, the Maroon freshmen tallied a final score of 72-66.

Games Planned

These are the only games that will be played until after the Christmas holidays, but other games are being booked for the remainder of the season.

The entire line-up shows some fine prospects, but the starting line-up is especially impressive. At forward positions are Roger Smith, Paul Collins, and Steele Dudley. At center is Jim Floyd, while at guards are Bob Disponett and Gene Cain. Others on the squad are Mike Short, Barry Brinkman, Harold Fraley, and Dave Riggs. Thus far, Gene Cain is the leading scorer with 37; Bob Disponett is second with 33 and Jim Floyd third with 32.

The squad has been fortunate in the injury department in that outside of Paul Collin's injury in the first game, no serious mishaps have occurred. The team's main concentration seems to be at tightening the defense. With other games coming up in the near future the team seems to be off to a successful season judging from the first two encounters.

Debate Team Plans Are Announced

By BILL STRONG

The art of debating is on the road to recovery at Eastern. Mr. Keith Brooks has been Eastern's "shot in the arm" to the often forgotten and neglected practice of debating.

All students, particularly freshmen and sophomores, interested in trying out for the debate team should contact Mr. Brooks immediately.

Eastern's first debate tournament try will be January 12th. The state tournament of debate among Kentucky's colleges will be held at the University of Kentucky. At the present writing, Eastern intends to enter 6 teams in the state tournament, the largest number entered by any college so far.

Centre, University of Louisville and Western are already on the debate schedule. Other schools are being contacted for more competition.

Again Eastern will participate in the collegiate invitational tournament held at Indiana University. At this tournament members of Eastern's debate team will encounter the best debaters in the mid-west and the east.
