The Spanish Situation At Eastern

By SUSAN BIESACK

Perhaps no other individual or group has attracted more attention than this quartet because they are attending school in a country other than their native ones. Rina, Juan and Luis came to Richmond from Puerto Rico; Hiram is from Cuba.

Miss Gonzales is in this country for the first time and has much to say about it. "I like this place very much, and the people too—they are so good to us," she told the interviewer. She sings like a true daughter of Puerto Rico, and enjoys the American music if it doesn't involve swing. The utility of bananas in salads is unheard of on her island home. While on the subject of food, the señorita expressed her dislike for sauerkraut—"all we of the Spanish group do not like it!" With impatient anxiety, Rina is awaiting a snowfall. She has never seen this performance of nature and is eagerly anticipating the sight of it.

Juan Marchand is Rina's brother and comes from Manati, Puerto Rico. Eastern is the second college Juan has attended in the United States. Baylor University in Texas claimed him last year. One of his most ardent interests is medicine and incidentally, he is a neophyte in the Cadeceus club. Juan has noticed one great asset this country possesses that his own does not—hamburgers. He finds it difficult to "shag" and "swing" American style, but thinks the tango is wonderful.

Sixteen years old and a freshman at Model High, Luis Carlos Boneta has begun to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious sister, Dora, who was at one time Eastern's Miss Popularity. Young Señor Boneta finds the college girls more interesting than his high school contemporaries. Luis is very helpful to his American friends in the matter of translating and improving their Spanish and sharing his native newspapers. He has a brother practicing medicine in McKee, Kentucky and admires him very much.

Havana, Cuba has given us Hiram Ruiz, senior at Model High. He finds his chief difficulties are in inability to express himself to the proper degree when talking to a little brunette he thinks interesting, and a peculiar (?) habit of overlooking financial laws. Don't worry, Hiram, lots of boys in this country and on this campus have the same troubles—it's universal. Football is his main interest and favorite sport.

The Spanish group (as Rina identifies them) enjoys being in this country and in Richmond. They feel at ease, and aside from the absence of their customary hilarity, tango and palm trees, find these United States delightful.

Campus

Editor's note: This is the first of a series of student contributions to fill the space left by our late editor of Campusology. If you have a desire to try out for the editorship of this column, leave your copy in the Progress office at least four days before the publication date.

I propose a bigger and better Campusology program. My platform is simple. Campusology—a recognized course of study. Students permitted to devote all the time needed for make-up to the exclusion of less attractive, more boring, repulsive duties.

You doubt my sanity? Blame it on my youth! In truth, I am but a "babe" in this game, a "Junior" member of the illustrious staff. But then, they were all junior before they became seniors. Seems as though it wouldn't be wise to put forth the same argument for election that another fellow was defeated on, does it? But this is different. If you win, you lose (your self-respect) in this game.

The department takes great pleasure in calling to your attention to the recent result of a romance begun here on this campus a few years ago. This and others give us argument for our just demands for recognition.

Why can't a petition be made and presented to Dr. Jones, suggesting that Campusology be officially recognized on the college curriculum as a course for which a student will receive a maximum of one hour credit per semester, with no grade points to be deducted for failure to abide by any of the bona-fide rules? This seems to be a practicable idea, insofar as no special teacher need be added for the class. We do very well with the ones we have.

We wonder—will the Campusology Department have a room in the new Arts Building? It certainly is an "applied art" on Eastern's campus. Spring days in October are all that's necessary to bring out the very best in us.

Overheard the other day, since we're not allowed out at night anymore, a faithful constituent raving over the warmth and friendliness of the beautiful sun as compared with the cold, distant, unyielding moon. Has it come to this? Rave on ye merry lads! The rapturous beauty of the trees, Nature's artistry perfected, will not long be with us. Then we "problem children" of the Campusology class will have to wear top-coat and gloves, and shiver and stutter, defiantly, as we plight our troth to the only one. Lack-a-day!

Hurry, scurry! Hustle, bustle! Pell, mell! "Where's the rush?" "Noon! Dinner-time! Gotta get ahead of that line!"

Met a freshman the other day. He was in the throes of a very bad case of nostalgia (home-sickness to you plebes). Couldn't do much toward cheering him up, in fact, wasn't doing anything, so I suggested lunch. Beholding the afore-mentioned, mid-day hegira, his eyes lit up and I saw a sign of relief. Puzzled, I asked the cause. To my surprise—

"Gosh, this looks just like home! See those chicks, I mean students, running along? Why, I can almost see Ma now, waving her apron—'Shoo, shoo! Get away from Tim's milk, you'll get yours later!' And Pa, he'd put a bell on a cow who'd cut out across the field like those kids are doing. Gosh! Just like home!"

I am chagrined! What is the sense in all this noonday rush? The thundering herd was never more real than it is on Eastern's campus as the whistle blows ending the fourth period class. If we could be see how we look to others! Incidentally, if we showed as much pep at football games, Eastern's cheer leaders would never be down in the proverbial dumps. And maybe, whoever had the tinkling instruments of the bovine variety at the game would care to donate them to be placed about the necks of the stragglers who cut across our campus. It would certainly seem more fitting.

The prize for goon-bunny of the week goes without a struggle to the would-be Tarzan seen giving an innocent feline creature an illustration of the technique of an airplane slam. For shame! A cat's tail wasn't made for a handle.

While on the topic of manners, who would be interested in starting a class for the benefit of the degenerates who can't sit through a movie without behaving in typical "peanut gallery" fashion?

Studies Abroad

Mrs. Janet Murbach, of the foreign language department of Eastern, has been granted a leave of absence from her duties for the school year 1938-39 to continue her studies abroad. Mrs. Murbach is working on a doctor's degree at the University of Toulouse in France which she has formerly attended. She plans to return to the faculty as a French teacher when she has completed her studies next year.

SOCIETY

Miss Margaret Ross, who is teaching in Danville, returned to the campus for a week-end recently.

Miss Sue Riley has been a guest of Miss Louise Parsons in Sullivan Hall.

Miss Marjory Sears was in Lexington for the Tobacco Carnival, accompanied by Mrs. Emma Case, Dean of Women. Miss Sears' parents joined them for a day and night during the carnival.

Misses Faye and Frances Eads were guests of Miss Helen Eads in Burnam Hall for the last week-end.

Miss Frances Cox had as her guest for the Western vs. Eastern game Miss Bessie Green.

Physical Education
Club Will Bring
Dancers To Campus

THIRD APPEARANCE

Ted Shawn and his eight men dancers will give their third program at Eastern, December 15. The dance group is sponsored by the Physical Education Club. Ted Shawn is the leader of interpretative dancing on this continent. His skill as a choreographer and technician are of world repute. The program he will present in "O Libertad" has been acclaimed as "something new," a distinct contribution to the art of spectacular dancing.

All of the dances have been created and taught by Shawn himself and offer a program of wide variety. Dances to be presented range from dances of barbaric splendor to abstract themes, with material drawn from various phases of Aztec and American history.

Now an internationally known dancer, he became the first dancer ever to receive an honorary degree from an American college when Springfield College conferred upon him the degree of Master of Physical Education at the school's 50th commencement.

The dancers' technical accomplishment belongs genuinely to dancing and is not a sublimation of athletics though it is wholly male in its aims and character. . . . a satisfactory translation of music into movement . . . showed astonishing resource and inventiveness.

The program which will be given in the Hiram Brock Auditorium is a dance-drama in three acts, which Shawn calls "O Libertad!" The three parts are called: Past, Present, Future. Obviously in a rhythmic biography of a country there is too much material to deal with adequately in an evening's performance, so Shawn has chosen significant periods in the history of this country that lend themselves to rhythmic treatment. He has dealt with them in a single line of development, believing that this line paralleled to a great degree the stages of history in other regions.

Famous Dancer

Case Is President Of Kentucky Ass'n Deans Of Women

Local Delegation Will Attend Annual Meet To Be Held In Lexington

NEXT WEEK

Mrs. Emma Y. Case, dean of women at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, and president of the Kentucky Association of Deans of Women, will head the local delegation of women who will attend the annual convention of the deans' association, to be held at the University of Kentucky on November 18 and 19.

The local delegation in addition to Dean Case will include Miss

MRS. EMMA Y. CASE

Katherine True, dean of women in the lower division of Berea College; Mrs. Mary A. Congleton, advisor of girls, Madison High School; Miss Nell Hogan Bray, advisor of girls, Model High School; Mrs. Charles A. Keith, housemother at men's dormitory at Eastern; Miss Eunice Wingo, secretary to dean of women at Eastern; Mrs. Harry Harry Blanton, housemother, Burnam Hall, Eastern State Teachers College.

Headquarters for the convention will be maintained at the Lafayette Hotel. The program will open with a luncheon in Boyd Hall on the university campus at 12:30, November 18, with Mrs. Case presiding. The luncheon speaker, Miss Mary P. Corre, director, occupational research and counseling division, Cincinnati public schools, will discuss "Occupational Counseling as an Integral Part of an Adequate Guidance Program."

Following the luncheon, the group will be entertained with a tea at the home of Mrs. Frank L. McVey. Miss Sarah Blanding, dean of women at the University of Kentucky, will assist Mrs. McVey as hostess. A well known authority on mountain ballads, John Jacob Nile, will sing ballads at the tea.

Dinner at the Lexington Country Club will conclude the first day's program. At the dinner meeting, Dr. Hilda Threlkeld, dean of women at the University of Louisville, will speak on "The Administration of Student Personnel."

The first session on Saturday, November 19, will be held in the Student Union building on the university campus at nine-thirty o'clock, when Miss Jeannette Scudder, director of residence halls for women, University of Kentucky, will discuss "The Development of Leadership Through Student Government." A business meeting for the election of officers and the adoption of resolutions will be held at 10:30 a. m.

A luncheon in the Student Union building will conclude the convention program. The final address will be delivered by Dr. Harriet O'Shea, associate professor of educational psychology, Purdue University, on the topic "Essential Elements for Counseling."

Violin Recital To Be Presented In Concert

November 28, 8:15, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium, Mr. Thomas Stone, violin instructor and concertmaster of the college orchestra, will give a violin recital. His program will consist of "Sonata in A Major," Handel; "Partita No. III," Bach; Concerto No. 2 in D Minor, Wieniawski; "Air," Goldmark; "Romanza Andaluza," Sarasate; "Rondo," Mozart-Kreisler; "Mairyland," Burleigh; "Sea Murmurs," Castelmo-vo-Tedesco-Heifetz; "Secilla," Albeniz-Heifetz; and Movements Perpetuels," Pauline-Heifetz.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend this recital. He will be accompanied at the piano by Miss Brown E. Telford.

Social Committee Sponsors Annual Autumn Party

While Halloween witches wandered and their friends the ghosts got around on the night of October 31, Eastern's sons and co-eds preserved the spirit of the occasion with a gala party, sponsored by the Social Committee. The group assembled first in the recreation room of Burnam Hall where they were divided into three groups. They then enjoyed the rounds of progressive entertainment.

Dr. Farris supervised the games par excellence. Relay games which involved lots of speed and energy proved exhilarating to the crowd, and with the added task of balancing paper hats and whistles, skill was the watchword.

Weaver Health Building was the scene of the second event on the docket. Miss Cherry was in charge of dancing in the small gym and games in the big gym. Fo tunes emitted, by a nickelodeon, a Big Apple was revived for the occasion.

The location of the next activity (and t'was really active!) was the basement of Burnam. Under Miss Dix's direction, an abundance of cider, doughnuts, and apples presented themselves to the delight of everyone.

Cornstalks, jack-o-lanterns, and autumn leaves lent a seasonal atmosphere to the affair and it is with real sincerity that we all acclaim, "It was a grand party, and thanks to the committee."

Dormitory Council Elects Officers; Toadvine Is Prexy

Officers of the Dormitory Council, composed of fourteen girls recently appointed by Mrs. Emma Y. Case, include Sue Toadvine, president; Helen Gaines, vice-president, and Frances Jagers, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the council from Burnam Hall are Ruth Catlett, Phoebe Colbert, Helen Gaines, Francis Jagers, Francis McCord, Mary Lida McIlvaine, Dorothy Pulliam, and Sue Toadvine. Sullivan Hall is represented by Faye Asbury, Mary Helen Caywood, Eleanor Coxon, Bernice Goodhue, Retha Lee, and Evelyn Marshall.

Although the club is late in organizing, a complete social program will be outlined in the near future.

Dr. Crossfield Talks On Russia To Chapel Assembly Here

One of the main reasons for the popularity of the dictators today is the fact that they are poor men having no ambitions for personal wealth, said Dr. R. H. Crossfield, president of Transylvania University, in an address on "Red Russia of Today" on November 4 at Eastern State Teachers College.

Russians do not have that sense of liberty which we prize more highly than anything else, he said, calling attention to the censorship of their literature and their lack of freedom of speech, conscience, and action.

One of the striking things about Russia, according to Dr. Crossfield, is the equality of the sexes. Great improvement has been made in the Russian system in the past few years with the speeding up of industry and more efficient management, the speaker stated.

You can blame it on the weather — unseasonably warm is why we offer this tremendous value!

Baby Maroons Score Once To Defeat Transy

Eastern Scores On Last Play To Get Margin Of Victory

FINAL GAME

By LOMINAC

Climaxing a hard-fought battle, the Baby Maroons of Eastern scored on a 12-yard pass on the last play of the game to tally a 6 to 0 victory over the Transylvania College Yearlings on the latter's home field.

The high wind was a handicap to the punters and it was the wind which set the Maroons in position for the deciding score.

Late in the fourth period, with the ball in Transylvania's possession on their own 10-yard line, Forston booted a fourth-down punt high in the air. The wind caught the ball and it bounced out of bounds on the Transy 8-yard line.

A line play set Eastern back to the twelve. Another line play failed to gain. Then Taylor dropped back and heaved an aerial down the middle of the field. Fred Darling, Eastern end, and two Transy frosh grabbed the ball and the trio fell over the goal line. When the heap untangled, Darling had possession of the ball inches over the pay-off stripe.

Just five minutes before the end of the game the Transy frosh opened an aerial attack on Eastern's 43 and marched to a first down on the Baby Maroon five, aided by a five-yard penalty. There Ochpinti smashed through guard for a yard. Keiser picked up two more on a reverse lateral, and then lost two. With the ball on the five and fourth down coming up, Transy attempted another reverse lateral to the left side of the line. Presznick took the ball and ran wide, but was smeared for no gain.

Eastern took the ball, and with the wind to their back, lifted a high punt to Transy's 20. Keiser took the ball and started around right end. With the exception of one Baby Maroon, who ran him out of bounds on the Eastern 40, he had a clear field down the sidelines. The Tenderfeet were penalized 15 yards for communication by a substitute, and on the next play a pass was intercepted by Perry, Eastern guard.

Eastern's next punt put the Pioneers in a hole which led to the Baby Maroons' score.

Eastern, which can credit most of its yardage gained to Billy (Whitey) Gregg, former Shelbyville luminary, opened an offensive late in the first half, but the whistle stopped the Baby Maroons on the Transy 33.

The chief reason the Baby Maroons did not run up yardage around the ends and had to rush their kicking and passing was a lad named Scotty Miller, of Gary, Ind. Miller, making his debut in the sport of football, plays end for the Transy frosh and made it tough for the Eastern yearlings all afternoon with his rushes into the Maroon backfield.

Keiser and Anderson did most of the ground gaining for the Transy team and were aided on the defense by the sterling performances of Forston, vicious tackler and quarterback. For Eastern, Fred Darling, left end, and Bill Gregg, fullback, played outstanding ball.

Wyatt "Spider" Thurman is one of the reason that Eastern has such a remarkable football record this season. Spider, formerly the "Benham Flash" comes from the mountain country and plays a brainy type of football that is a pleasure to watch.

Progress Reporter Interviews Billie Clark, Drum Major

By SUSAN BIESACK

Presenting Miss Billie Clark, the beat of our drums—and of lots of hearts. This business of "drum-majoring" isn't entirely new to Billie in that she has served in the same capacity while attending Berea (Ohio) High School. It didn't take so much of her time, however, that she neglected her academic life, because she can claim membership in the National Honor Society.

Music serves as Billie's hobby, pet love, and college major. In spite of the fact that she devotes the majority of the day to band and classical music, she rates swing music way up at the top of the list. Being a drum-major, one would naturally expect an ovation from her on the subject of football. She thinks football heroes are tops, and conversely, dislikes sissies tremendously.

This auburn haired, brown eyed co-ed of seventeen is a continuous source of fun to her friends because she is so full of wit, humor and pep. Billie loves to eat—especially olives, potato chips and steaks. Be warned in time, boys. Concerning Eastern, our snappy drum-major made this statement, "It's really got what it takes for success and happiness." Most every day finds her on the field, twirling her baton and marching with the band. Possessed of a luxuriant supply of energy, she enjoys her baton twirling more each time she does it, and her performances show just how great are her results.

She is proud to be Eastern's drum-major, and Eastern is equally proud to have you, Billie Clark.

Canter Is Elected President Of Out Of State Club

The first fall meeting of the out-of-state club was held at the home of Dr. J. T. Dorris, Sunday, October 30.

After an outdoor dinner, a business session was presided over by Richard Cantor, who was elected president of the organization last spring. Woodrow Lydey was named vice-president and Barbara Ann Butler will serve as secretary. Mr. Cantor appointed a committee composed of Betsy Caster, Mildred Lightner, Bill Tychonievich, and Douglas Cooper to finish the club's constitution. Dr. Dorris was asked to continue as the club's sponsor for the coming year.

YMCA Intra Mural Program Sponsors Basketball Games

Athletic Department Cooperates To Aid Further Intra Murals

SWIMMING NEXT

Because of the necessity for the varsity football team to practice on the regular playing field, the remainder of the scheduled intramural football games will have to be postponed indefinitely. The interest shown, however, has convinced the athletic department that next year an extensive program can and should be planned to include all sports for the men students who do not participate in varsity sports. This type of activity has so far produced a wholesome attitude toward competition and a physical benefit which would otherwise have been neglected.

At present basketball teams from thirteen counties have been organized and four games have been played to date. The athletic committee of the Y. M. C. A., along with Mr. McDonough, is arranging the schedules. All games are to start promptly at 4:15 with the stipulation that any team not represented on the floor at that time, loses by forfeit. Three or four games will be played each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Should enough teams be entered, the athletic department will arrange to have some of the games in the evening.

If sufficient interest is shown the committee shall begin immediately to make arrangements for intramural swimming teams. For those who enjoy ping-pong, new ping-pong tables have been ordered and will be available to all students for use in the afternoons.

For any information regarding the possibility of promoting any sport not mentioned, see either Jim Stayton or Rusty Wickland.

Madrigal Club Accepts New Members

Miss Blanche Sams announced the girls who were accepted in the Madrigal Club are Jayne Warford, Anna Gonzalez, Sara Brooks, Willanna Hendren, Ann Etta Simmons, Skippy Culton, Florence Champion, Lucille Bury, Alice Edelmeyer, Edna Mae Harrison, Josephine Edwards, Kathleen Clark, Peggy Denny, Mary Helen Caywood, Martha Eubank, Nita Creeger, Billie Clark, Vivian Weber, Sara Long, Flora Kennamer, Ruth Walker, Marie Hughes, Martha Cammack, Mildred Sovine, and Mary Gadberry.

Dr. Schnieb Presents Get Acquainted Party For Students

Students taking work with Dr. Schnieb met with her in Room 20, Roark Building, Friday evening at 6:30 p. m. for the purpose of becoming acquainted with one another and with many of the educational exhibits as well as with the pictures and pottery which are in the room. After an hour of interesting discussion, delicious doughnuts, apples, and candy were served by Messrs. Howard and Stanfield. The students left with a better understanding as to what should go on in a classroom as well as with a deeper appreciation for pictures and pottery.

Eastern Star

Karl Kemp, Louisville, is one of the outstanding players on the Maroon squad. Playing in the backfield, he can always be counted on for yardage. Although Kemp is on the injured list at present, he may see action tomorrow.

Science Club Holds Annual Initiation Dinner Meeting

On Wednesday, Nov. 2, the Science Club held its annual initiation banquet at the Glyndon Hotel. Those present were Drs. Park, Jenkins, Rumbold, Herndon, Miss Rice, Mr. Coates, Bob Dickman, Fred Mayes, Joyce Hermann, Mary Frances Lehman, Josephine Parks, Evelyn Hume, Jimmy Rodgers, Marvin Garrard, L. E. Roberts, Ray Huck, Owen Gribbin, Eddie Pierson, Wallace Brammel, Bill Lyons, Bill Keating, Leslie Roth, George Powers, Stanley Wilson, Carl Moore, James Stanfield, and the initiates, Douglas Cooper, John Robinson, Russel Greene, and Dick Cantor.

After the dinner interesting scientific talks were given by the new members. The subjects included refraction, defraction and reflection, peptization of colloids, statistical mathematics, and the metabolism of the blood. As quite a few of the statements made caused no little discussion, the club found it necessary at frequent intervals to allow the persons being admitted to the club to visit the electric morgue, a device arranged especially to produce shocking effects.

Leadership Isn't a Matter of Luck

It comes from a combination of qualities that just naturally push a person or a product out to the front. And that's the story on our new Curlee Overcoats—they have the qualities it takes to make a leader.

These Curlee Coats have style, created by Curlee's designers and built into each garment by expert craftsmen. They have wearing quality, assured because Curlee uses only the finest of selected materials. They're economical — priced right to begin with and low in up-keep because they wear so well.

We're featuring the new Curlee Overcoats in a beautiful selection of the season's newest patterns and a complete range of models and sizes. You are sure to find one you like that fits you — at a price you can afford.
