W. S. S. F. WILL HAVE SECRETARY ON CAMPUS

Alicia Coffin Will Visit Campus For Conferences And Special Vespers, November 23

DANFORTH FELLOW

Miss Alicia Coffin, a traveling secretary of the World Student Fund and a Danforth Fellow will be at Eastern on Wednesday, November 23. She will be on the campus all day, and any students who wish to do so may talk with her. Miss Coffin will meet with the students for a supper meeting that evening and will be special speaker at a vesper program.

Miss Coffin is a graduate of the University of Maine in the class of 1943, and last year was a Danforth Fellow at the University of Nebraska. In college she was very active in the Christian Association. Newspaper work is one of her talents.

Miss Coffin will bring to the campus most recent news about the work of world student relief. She will describe student life in China, the problems that refugee students face in Europe, and the needs of prisoners of war.

LTC Will Present Thanksgiving Quiz

The Eastern Little Theatre Club will present a Faculty vs. Student Quiz in the Little Theater Wednesday evening, November 22, at 7:30 p. m.

"SADIE HAWKINS' DAY" IS CELEBRATED IN GRAND STYLE

SADIE HAWKINS' DAY! Aha, all, let us gather 'round for the purpose of extolling the virtues of what is supposedly classified in the mind of every red-blooded Dogpatcher member of the feminine type as "Der Tag," of the year. Discussing the virtues of the day:

When men are then free, hooray, to employ drastic means of catching their men; i. e., on that day a race is held wherein the men-folk start first a-runnin' and then the wimmen-folks start and any man a woman catches is her-uns. And of course you all realize that no man is allowed to be absent from the premises on that day and that any means the gals employ is legal, and that THE DAY was celebrated in such fashion come Saturday, Saturday night especially, for at seven on November 11th the race began from the Student Union Building, ended at the same place, and a goodly number of the quarry were reportedly captured by some of the more fleet-footed gals! Of course, it was dark then and a goodly number of the men-things escaped, but not all of 'em, by gum! (For further results, see the Colym "Marooned.")

PHYSICS CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College Physics Club was organized on October 13. Dr. Maizlish, physics professor, is sponsoring the club.

YW and YMCA Will Give Thanksgiving Vesper Program

- Nov. 23—Thanksgiving. No classes. "Y" special program.
- Nov. 24—Show, "Shine On Harvest Moon."
- Nov. 25—SUB Party.
- Nov. 28—Show, "This is the Life."
- Dec. 1—Show, "The Impatient Years."
- Dec. 8—Formal Ball, Walnut Hall.

Corman Heads College Red Cross Unit

Madeline Corman, Eastern senior, was chosen as chairman of the newly organized college unit of the American Red Cross, and Emily Mayfield was elected vice chairman at a meeting of the Red Cross members Monday, November 13, 4:00 p. m., in the Little Theater. Suzanne Malott is the secretary.

The officers were presented by a nominating committee, composed of Evelyn Tritsch, chairman, Tommy Rankin, and Herbert Searcy, and were elected by the members of the group. Marjorie Boone, temporary chairman of the organization, presided at the meeting.

Seven committee chairmen, who, with the officers, will serve as an executive board, will be appointed by the chairman.

SAILOR SWING

Sailors, sailors everywhere—Eastern coeds were given a grand rush at the dance held on November 4 from 7:15-11:00 p. m. Sailors of the Berea V-12 training unit were guests at the dance in the Rec Room under the sponsorship of the senior class.

At 7:15 a famed Black Brothers Band deposited the men in Navy Blue at the SUB. Sweet melodies were furnished by whirling black discs for 225 minutes of rhythmic swaying.

Refreshments were served by the faculty wives. Miss Edith Ford, and Mr. and Mrs. Meredith J. Cox were special guests.

Home Ec. Club Holds Banquet For New Members

On November 10, 1944 the Home Economics Club of Eastern had its annual banquet for the initiation of the new members.

The tables were decorated with candles and flowers. The Betty Lamp which is the symbol of Home Economics was the inspiration for the place cards.

After the dinner the group went to the Little Theatre for the remainder of the program. Miss Elizabeth Plessinger sang "The esert Song" and "Summer Time"; she was accompanied by Miss Betty Still.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Sara Triplett Campbell, Home Demonstrator Agent of Madison County. The theme of her speech was the "Six D's, DECIDE, DO, DEVELOP, DISPLAY, and DETERMINE".

Maroons Meet Wilmington, Ohio, in Opener Here Saturday Night

shape for the long-awaited opener, except for big Doyle Lovett who is slightly ill with a throat infection. The Maroons will no doubt feel the loss of Jim Rush who was called to the Army last week, but the local lads are more than ready for tomorrow night's encounter.

Kyma Reorganizes; Meets Tonight In L. T.

Kyma, Eastern's pep club, is being reorganized. Approximately seventy-five students interested in becoming members met in the Little Theater of the Student Union Building on Monday, November 13, at 6:15 p. m. Kyma will have its first official meeting tonight in the Little Theater at 6:30.

At this meeting cheerleaders and officers will be elected. Officers are president, vice president, business manager, and secretary. Committees to be filled are the poster committee, program committee, and social committee.

Kyma represents the spirit behind the team in all of the school's athletic contests. The first game of the season is on Eastern's own floor tomorrow night when the Maroons meet Wilmington College of Ohio.

Freshmen Present Book Week Program

The freshman class presented the regular chapel program Wednesday, November 8th. The program honored Book Week, and was called "United Through Books", which is the theme of the national Book Week for 1944.

Those students who took part in the program were Dorothy Hancock, Ruby Owens, John Roberts, Lula Thurman, Lucille Burdette, Margaret Kyle, Edna Truesdell, Dorothy Conley, Marilyn Truescham, Jane Hester, Alma Jean Marcum, Nora Grubbs, and Glenna Frisby. These students gave excerpts, reviews, or summaries of outstanding books such as Tom Sawyer, Mrs. Mirerva, Madame Curie and others.

By NORDEAN BURRESS

The rich young ruler obviously possessed all the traits of a good man. He was a good, just, honest, law-abiding citizen, and morally clean, but he lacked one thing—God. So many people are like the rich young ruler: They possess the qualities of a good person, but they fail to have the all important link—Christ.

In the "Y" we stress a four-fold development, physical, mental, social, and spiritual. If we develop physically, mentally, socially, but fail to have the love of God, our lives are as nothing. It's like a link missing out of a chain. The chain possesses everything towards making it complete except one thing—the missing link. Unless we have the spiritual link—Christ—in our lives, these other traits which are important and necessary, are swallowed by the vast vacuum of the world into nothingness.

Six Members World Affairs Club At Meet

Capital University Is Scene Of World Affairs Conference

NOVEMBER 10 AND 11

Six Eastern students, delegates of the World Affairs Club, attended the Ohio Valley Regional Conference of International Relations Clubs which met Friday and Saturday, Nov. 10 and 11, on the campus of Capital University in Columbus, Ohio.

The Ohio Valley Region includes Kentucky, West Virginia, and Ohio. There are fifty-two active organizations and each year a conference is held at one of the colleges or university campuses of this region. There are twelve such regions in the United States, each holding an annual conference. One hundred and eighteen colleges and universities were represented at the Regional Conference this year.

Those delegates attending this conference from our local World Affairs Club were: Henrietta Miller, Jean Anthony, Pauline Amburgey, Jean Harrison, Jack Esham and Charles Norris.

The conference consisted of three student round table discussions: Treatment of the Defeated Countries, Economic Prerequisites for Post-war Security and National Welfare, and World Order. The students, consisting of several different races, nationalities led and participated in the round table discussions.

The Banquet address Friday evening was made by Dr. Pittman B. Potter who was recently a member of the faculty of Capital University. His subject was: "The Dumbarton Oaks Proposals in the Light of League of Nations Experience." Dr. Potter believed that the Dumbarton Oaks Proposals, although not perfect, would do much to sponsor a lasting world peace.

The annual installation of the Burnam Hall House Council was held in the lobby of Burnam Hall Thursday evening, November 2, at 9:30 p. m. Fourteen officers and all the residents of the hall were installed in a candlelight service.

Elizabeth Blessinger, accompanied by Betty Still opened the service by singing "Star Spangled Banner" and Madalyn Wheatly sang "The Lord's Prayer". The devotion was read by Norma Raynourne. An octette, composed of Marguerite Hunter, Kathryn Siphers, Betty Jo Barnett, Virginia Van Hook, Jean Brooks, Dorothy Curtis, Jo Curtis and Marie Wiley, sang "America The Beautiful".

JUNIOR CLASS HAS PICNIC

Friday, Oct. 27, the Junior Class met at 5 o'clock in the evening for a picnic. The party started with a zesty Scavenger Hunt, with Elsie Rigaby in charge. This, caused much rustling around, and ended with Marjorie Lea, Margie De Van, Jean Harrison, and Henrietta Miller, the members of the winning team, which was presented with one dollar, to be used for tickets to the movies.

Dr. Giles, the class sponsor attended the party accompanied by Mrs. Giles and their two sons. Misses Elva Combs and Allie Fowler were special guests, and they also helped to make the very delicious Coney Islands possible. During the scavenger hunt, Jerry Igo went to Dr. Giles home, desperately seeking a Barred Rock Chick, to secure a feather, but much to Jerry's sorrow, the chicken could not be found. Might it have known the procedures taking place? ... Eileen Rensing hopefully claimed that a pedal was lost from her former four leaf clover, as a four leaf clover was needed to help complete the scavenger hunt. ... A couple of couples came in late for the hunt, but, at least, they did get there. The younger member of the Giles family, using their boy scout tactics, very successfully built the fire. ... Neil Roberts opened all the beans, and not forgetting patriotism, fixed the cans for salvage. ... The Juniors were happy to have Eleanor Hopkins, former Easterner now at U. K., join in class functions again.

Members of the committee on arrangements were: Dorothy Carrell, Emily Mayfield, and Billie Miller. The Juniors are planning another party in the near future. The president, Patty Newell, will post the time and date.

Coach Rankin Speaks To Students

Sportsmanship was the subject Coach Rome Rankin spoke on last Thursday evening at the Vesper Program in the Little Theater.

SOCIAL SUMMARY

by NORDEAN BURESS

Cook-West

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cook, London, announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Homer West, Gunner's Mate 2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer West, Sr., Bardstown, Kentucky. The wedding took place November 2, at Lexington, Kentucky. Mrs. West is a member of the sophomore class at Eastern. He has just returned from duty in New Guinea and at present is stationed in San Francisco, California.

Burnam Hall Reception

The Monday and Tuesday sections of the sociology ten, college orientation, classes gave a reception in the lobby of Burnam Hall on Wednesday evening, November 8, from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock. Members of the faculty and their wives, administrative staff, and all students were invited. The lobby was decorated with leaves and seasonal flowers and a fire in the fireplace added warmth to the atmosphere. Phyllis Hemer and Aldene Porter were co-chairmen of the committee on arrangements, and with the full cooperation and help of the other members of the classes it was very successful. Full credit is given to the members of the various members who assisted.

Mrs. Graham Hancock and Mrs. L. R. Clarke visited their daughters, Misses Dorothy Hancock and Eva Clarke, over the week-end. Misses Helen and Pauline Park had as their guests over the week-end, their sister, Miss Evelyn Park, and Miss Georgia Lee Root.

Misses Mary N. Crockett and Helen Walker of Lexington, visited Miss Jane Hester this week-end. Dr. and Mrs. Roy B. Clark, Misses Betty Perraut, Aldene Porter, and Betty Jo Barnett, attended the concert at the Henry Clay High School Friday night. Two Naturalized In District Court

Two persons were naturalized in federal district court here yesterday afternoon, Dr. Stefanie Young, physician at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, and Pfc. Mario E. Boz, who is stationed at Darnall General Hospital, Danville.

Dr. Young was born in Vienna, Austria, and received her medical training in Vienna. She came to the United States in 1938, accompanied by a brother, who is now serving in the United States army.

Private Boz was born in Montreal, Canada. His parents are Italian and have returned to Italy. He came to the United States in 1935.

At the morning session of the court, the case of Earl Harrison, charged with stealing a car, was continued to the next term.

KAT KOLUMN

by PIC

In the absence of Betty Jo Picklesimer, who is marooned in Ashland with a cold, the members of The Progress staff are pinch-hitting in attempting to get out a Kat Kolumn worthy of Pic. We hope she'll soon be well, but until then we still have a column to write.

In view of the past election and the heated arguments concerning it that were engaged in here and there on the campus, we certainly should not lack for material, but our party affiliations are so varied that the controversy (which all of us sincerely hope is quietly settled for the next four years) might be opened again. So we won't go into that.

Low Down On The High Ups???

So Hank finally has gotten the attention of "my dream man." Well, we're glad. But Betty Jo Barnett is sighing for a new "dream" ----- period. Robbie is carrying the colors for the Army since "Chicken" Rush left last Thursday. The best of luck to you, Jim. We do wish Dottie and Eva would make up their minds. It's slightly difficult to keep up with all their flames. What's the matter, Feets? Can't you make a choice from all that following of admirers?

Getting It Off Our Chest

This is the first of a new series of columns being written anonymously for The Progress. All commentaries or questions may be submitted to Reporter "X" of The Progress. There will be a new target for these verbal arrows next week.

Soliloquy by a Self-Styled Madonna:

"I am a wonderful woman. Just ask anyone who does not know me. I am the spirit of kindness and trust. Drop your innermost thoughts into the well of my heart, and I shall hasten to publish them on the nearest bulletin board. The knife that I will thrust into your unsuspecting back will hurt me worse than thee." (But with less fatal results, O, Madonna.) "I am the spirit of feminine independence and democracy. I take it upon myself to nominate fine young women for the choice offices of the college. Are they always elected? Of course, does not always the will of the majority rule?" Ah, but does it, Madonna . . . that is the question . . . Well, there, students, is our "case" for today. What do you think? . . .

Some Parodies

Georgie-Porgie, scotch and rye. Kissed the blond and made her sigh. But when West Va. came down this way, Georgie-Porgie squirmed away. (or did he?) Frankie, Frankie, quite conceited, How does your hamer grow? With blonds, brunettes, and auburn heads, Three pretty maids in a row. Notice: Any resemblance to persons living or dead is purely intentional.

Hot Stuff Just Off The Press

From a confidential source we understand that Tina Tyler and

Jean Buchanan have gone all over for the Navy. You certainly fall fast and hard, don't you, girls? . . . Say, Wade, who's the mysterious woman in your life? Just passed the door—Sue Parks and Johnny Roberts . . . Wonder if there's any interest there. Especially Gruesome Twosomes Laoma Cooke and Joe Hegenauer "Virginia O'Brien" Rose and Harry Scalos Caroline Willis and Neil Roberts

Commentary From the

Commentators

If you do not want your name to appear in this column, we can be bribed—at a price, except when under the influence of morphine or opium. For those inclined to be murderous, we advise you that we keep an armed guard posted in the office of The Progress staff. No one is immune to the sting of this column.

EYES AND EARS TELL US

by DOTTIE KENDALL

NOTICE ALL EASTERNITES:

Before I begin this simple and foolish chit-ta-chat I want to extend my deepest apologies to Harry Scalos. The other day Harry encountered me in the S. U. B. and informed me his name is spelled, SCALOS and not SCALIS as it appeared in the last edition. I hope I am forgiven for this and assure you, Harry, it will not happen again.

Get out the rope! Bring the bear-traps! Oh! I'm sorry. I mean turn on that charm and personality all you wolverines—add another eligible wolf to your list—none other than Richmond's own Ben Johnson.

Incidentally Dotty has gone, "South of the Border."

It's more confusing than amusing why some of our fair damsels can have three men a week when the rest of the poor unfortunates (like yours truly) can't get one a quarter.

I caught a glimpse of a few girls wearing bow-ties recently—Say, Wade, you better watch them. It appears their stealing your stuff—and take my word for it—one them it looks good.

Congrats to Georgie—we can all breathe a sigh of relief—he finally found that girl.

Bobby Williams wandered in Burnam Hall one moonlight night, looked through the box of cards at the desk and turned away in disgust—Gee!—but I'm sorry you didn't find the one you wanted. Good luck and best wishes to you Cookie, pardon me, I mean Mrs. West.

IMPORTANT!!!! Do you want to travel????? Join the World Affairs Club. Travel by car, bus, or foot. Arrive either morning or night. Become well-informed at football games. (Oh! yes you have to attend conferences, too) Anyway a good time was had by all—SAD STORY.

In closing here is an unanswerable question. Where did Patsy learn to drink straight from the jug???????

OFF THE BACKBOARD

by JIM WADE

It is the hour before the dawn. It is that ghostly interim between the patterns woven by imagination and ambition and the stark reality of fact. . . . There is some chance that the reader has not yet seized upon the delusive phantom, that is our point. In more prosaic terms, here is what we mean. . . . Eastern, on this very Saturday night opens fire with all its basketball artillery. The target of the first Maroon salvo is Wilmington College of Ohio.

For the past month or so the Eastern cagers have been laboring with great diligence under the eyes of Coach Rome Rankin. The team has expended a number of pounds of good sweat, and Mr. Rankin has no doubt incurred more than one healthy headache. The purpose of all this activity has been to fashion for this college a first rate basketball team. To what extent the aforementioned effort has succeeded will be, to a great degree, brought to light—come Sat. nite. We (the players) and Mr. Rankin (the coach) believe that our labors have not been in vain. . . . What do you think?

While we are on the subject of basketball. . . Eastern lost a good athlete and a great guy when "Chicken" Rush was called to the army last week. All the luck to you Private Rush. We miss you.

A myth was rent asunder last Sturday. A reign of athletic tyranny that has lasted to these many years was smashed last week when a big, tough, power laden Army football team hauled off and beat the hell out of Notre Dame.

The Irish have taken plenty of lickings in their time. But for the most part they have been close things, bitterly contested. Yes the big Green always was tough to beat. And most of the time they won. It had become a habit. . . . Two weeks ago Navy beat Notre Dame rather decisively, but no one spoke of the game as a rout or a slaughter. But last week a veritable mob of great Army backs hacked the Irish to ribbons, drove them to the floor with body punches administered by a brute of a fellow named Blanchard, and two will of the wisp ball carriers called Davis and Kenna. Army humiliated the Irish with nine crushing touchdowns, while the ever gallant South Benders couldn't muster a point. . . . One could not help feeling sorry for Bob Kelly, Notre Dame's fine half-back. He played the game up to the hilt. It was the worst defeat ever suffered by a Notre Dame football team.

The University of Kentucky was lucky enough to play in one of the nation's finest cities a couple of weeks ago, Memphis. But even in that wonderful environment the Wild Cats still could not win. Seven fumbles, all recovered by Miss. State cost UK a game they could have won.

Our ex-editor, Dave Bloom of the Commercial Appeal said that Wash Serini was a great tackle. And Bloom knows what he is talking about. He was lavish in his praise of the rugged Wild Cat. And this department is quite in agreement.

Kentucky takes on West Virginia this Saturday and on the twenty-fifth comes the return engagement with the unbeaten Volunteers from Tennessee.

Well I guess that's about 30.

ding his dues for active membership in the Alumni Association, sends his best wishes for his Alma Mater "from the wide open spaces in Southwest Texas." Mr. Davis has been an active member of the Association for a number of years.

Miss Francis Mason (30) Richmond, has accepted a position as assistant librarian in the Research Department of the Eli Lilly Pharmaceutical Co., of Indianapolis, Ind. She began her work there Nov. 1. Since July 1943 Miss Mason has been librarian at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. She was formerly an assistant librarian at Eastern.

Miss Virginia Marz (40), Ft. Thomas, is teaching commerce at Dayton high school. Her address is 835 N. Ft. Thomas Ave., Ft. Thomas, Ky. She sent news of Mrs. John Lonneman (Mary Purdy '39), and alumni dues for both of them. Mrs. Lonneman and small daughter live at 53 Tower Hill Road, Ft. Thomas. Sgt. Lonneman is stationed in India.

Mrs. Howard Titworth (Blanche Cheatham, '42), 1253 Bardstow Road, Louisville, is teaching in the second grade in a Louisville school. She writes that her husband is in the same class with former Eastern students Rodney Whitaker, Charles Lake and Paul Webb at the University of Louisville School of Medicine.

Miss Frances Little (40) Southgate, who has been an American Airline hostess for the past year, is studying Spanish and expects soon to fly the Mexico City run in addition to her El Paso run. She lives at La Leyanda Apt. 403, 1737 Whitley Ave., Hollywood 28, Calif. Miss Little sent in the address of Cpl. Guy A. Warming, of Jellico, Tenn., a sophomore in 1940-41, who is with the Army somewhere in the Pacific area.

Miss Margina Stevenson (43) Charleston, W. Va., is teaching history and English in Benham high school. She writes that Miss Sara Brooks (43), Corbin, is teaching music in the same school and Miss Roberta Lou Stevenson (43), Charleston, is working at Patterson Field, Ohio, in aircraft instruments. Her address is General Delivery, Fairfield, Ohio.
