Homecoming Expands Into Two Day Program

Alumni Invade Alma Mater

At last the big weekend is here! For the past few weeks Eastern has been a hum of activity with plans for this Homecoming. Students as well as faculty members have spent many hours of their spare time to make the alumni have an enjoyable campus visit.

The Homecoming has been expanded into a two-day affair this year, beginning with the Annual Homecoming Dance scheduled for tonight in Walnut Hall from 9 o'clock until 12 o'clock. Tickets $1.50, "stag or drag". The music is to be furnished by Ray Tingle and his band.

Registration is in Walnut Hall beginning at 9:30 Saturday. All alumni are urged to register. Tickets for the remaining events, football game and barbecue, may be purchased at this time.

At 10 o'clock, the Homecoming Parade will leave the campus for a tour of the business section of Richmond. The Parade will be led by the Eastern's "Marching Maroons" followed by visiting bands and floats, on which ride the campus candidates. The floats are representative of the college organizations. Immediately following the parade, a Homecoming Queen will be chosen.

All alumni who wish to eat together in the Blue Room of the cafeteria are asked to meet in the Lobby of the Student Union building at 11:45.

The main attraction of the day will be the clash on the gridiron between Eastern and Western at 2 p. m. Preceding the game will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

Annual Barbecue

Alumni who haven't already register may do so after the game in the Student Union Lobby. From 5 o'clock until 6 o'clock, the Annual Homecoming Barbecue will be served by faculty members. Tickets are $1.00 and may be purchased at the Registration Desk.

Following the barbecue, the Alumni Association will be host to a large open house and informal party. This party is under the direction of Miss Ida Teater, first vice-president of the Association and assistant professor of English at Model High School, Richmond, and Mrs. Brack Maupin, statistical clerk in the management office of the Blue Grass Ordinance Depot, Richmond.

Planning Committee

The other alumni officers, besides Miss Teater, are: President Otwell Rankin, Public accountant with O. C. Rankin and Company, Erlanger, Kentucky, and second vice-president Norman McGuffey, principal of Highlands High School, Waynesburg, Kentucky. Mr. McGuffey also served as chairman of the planning committee which include Mrs. Brack Maupin, mentioned above, and Owen Floyd Cammack, assistant superintendent of Lexington City Schools, Lexington; Joe Shearer, sales manager of Belknap and Company, Louisville; Miss Rozellen Griggs, President of Northern Kentucky Club, teacher in Fort Thomas City Schools, Fort Thomas; Joe Keller, President of Louisville Club, accountant, Louisville; Kentucky and Kelly Clore, Representative at large, attorney from Pineville, Kentucky.

Tickets for "Our Town," a three act play written by American play-write Thornton Wilder, will go on sale Monday, November 9, and will continue until play time, Thursday, November 20. Members of the cast and of Little Theater Club will sell tickets, which cost 50c, student price, and 75c. Mary Jo Isaac heads the committee.

Campus-Wide Celebration For H. C.

Pep Rally Begins Activities; Dance Scheduled Each Night

This year Eastern's Homecoming is being expanded into a two-day program. Beginning the festivities will be a pep rally which is to be held tonight at 6:30 in front of the S. U. B. Immediately following the pep rally there is to be a snake dance to town. Both events are being sponsored by Kyma.

The Homecoming Dance will be held tonight from 9 o'clock until 12 o'clock in Walnut Hall. Music will be furnished by Ray Tingle and his orchestra. Freshman Angela Settle, Louisville, will be vocalist. Admission is $1.50 "stag or drag." The dance is to be semi-formal.

The Homecoming Parade, also sponsored by Kyma, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. It will be composed of homecoming candidates for queen, floats, convertibles, seven bands, and Eastern's color guard. The parade will leave the campus, tour the town, and return to the campus for the judging of the floats and of the queen. The floats will be judged on the field in front of the health Building, and a queen from the group will be chosen in Walnut Hall.

Preceding the game with Western tomorrow afternoon will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. Game time is 2 o'clock. Alumni and visitors may purchase their tickets at the Registration Desk in the Student Union Building.

Two events will take place tomorrow night. An alumni party will be held in the S. U. B. at 7 o'clock. The second event is a dance which is being sponsored by the four classes for students. This informal dance is to be held in the Little Gym from 8:30 until midnight. Music will be furnished by Harry Shoen and the "Big E" Quintet. Admission is 75c "stag or darg."

As chairman of the dance is Bill McClanahan. Other students on the committee are Denyse Campbell, Buddy Cury, Janey Robertson, Floyd Compton, Donna Tolliver, Tommy Clouse, Patsy Ruby, Paul Grabel, Bob Zweigart, Lowell Sallee, and Dean Rubarts.

Forty-Seven Piece Parade Heads Tomorrow's Events

Highlighting the Homecoming activities will be the annual parade scheduled for tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The forty-seven piece parade will begin on campus and proceed to "tour the town."

During the procession a committee from the Alumni Association will choose three winning floats to which money prizes will be given. Judging of the candidates for Homecoming Queen will follow immediately after all floats return to campus. The Queen will be selected by another Alumni Committee in Walnut Hall.

Station WEKY will broadcast the parade from their downtown station.

Religious Emphasis Week Planned For Early '54

The YWCA and the YMCA are planning to sponsor a Religious Emphasis Week on Eastern's campus tentatively scheduled for the first of the year. The purpose of this week is to give students an opportunity to rethink some of the basic questions concerning their life, and the relation of the Christian faith to it, on campus, and throughout life. It is to give students the chance to study with competent authorities such questions as religion and education, and the present world struggle.

Serving as co-chairmen are senior Wanda Smyth and junior Roger Stephens.

MR. OTTO TO TELL OF CIVIL SERVICE JOBS

Thomas A. Otto, Civil Service Representative from Cincinnati, will be on Eastern's campus Wednesday, November 11, to give students information concerning Civil Service positions, it was announced by D. J. Carty, Extension Director.

"Career Opportunities in Federal Civil Service" is to be the topic Mr. Otto plans to discuss at 10:00 a. m. in the Little Theatre. Seniors and other interested students are invited to attend.

According to Mr. Otto, in Civil Service there are scientific, professional, and administrative positions available for college graduates.

ESC Greet Alumni, Friends

Eastern welcomes you back, Alumni. We want to say that we'll do everything possible to help you enjoy your stay. We think that we should tell you about some of the changes that have taken place since last year. One of the first things you'll notice is the modern new Science Building Old Roark, scrubbed and newly painted, now houses the English department, as well as mathematics and geography. Oh, yes, the old taboo path for years in the ravine is now a modern paved walk.

Some of our favorite teachers are gone. Dr. Keith and Dr. Dorris have retired, Dr. Keith to continue as supervisor of men's dormitories, and Dr. Dorris to become curator of his beloved museum, now spaciouly housed in New Science basement facing the ravine. Mr. Brooks has gone to Ohio State to work on his doctorate. As many of you already know, Miss Fowler died last summer a few weeks before school began, after an extended illness of more than a year.

Some other changes are: single men are now living in Veterans Village; a $100,000 renovation job is being planned for Sullivan; and we use "ID" activity cards with unidentifiable pictures of ourselves as tickets of admission to campus activities. But the change we like best, and we imagine you would have liked it too, is that almost all Saturday classes have been eliminated.

Well, these are major changes. Basically, however, it's still the same old Alma Mater. We want to end our greeting by saying that the mat is always out to you and we're glad to welcome you back.

A Peek in the Closet

By DEAN FASHION

When you see Edie Taylor-tonight in the dress with a glow of glimmering red candy stripes breaking through a crisp background of navy blue, the homecoming spirit will be created. This love of a dress is extremely simple in style, but its simplicity reveals that it is more than just an ordinary dance dress.

The designer really knew how to catch a boy's eye when he accented the waistline with a red sash that ties either in back or on the side. A whirl of a dancing skirt is released from the sash. So striking is the half moon neckline that extends from one shoulder to the other. In this dress anyone would certainly captivate beauty.

Smart Velveten

Sophisticated the music must be to match the dancing mood of this dream of a dress. Soft, velvety, and utterly-luxurious from from head to toe is this little number. The standaway neckline tapers over the shoulders, and black velvet buttons march up the back to the string tie where the taper stops. The skirt, also, of glowing black velveten has a fashiony touch added over a full crinoline slip that is worn to create plenty of whirling. This swish skirt whirls out to a high dancing circle. There will be sweet talk to her face... sweet talk to her back... and every bit of it about her wonderful dress.

Pretty Jersey

Jersey new and festive for all glittering with a queen's ransom of pearls, gems, and gold. (Not real of course!) The pearls and gems are scattered about the boat neckline to give a charming design. Beautiful you will be in this dress. So pretty and as practical.

Game Outfit

Saturday afternoon you'll score extra points in fashion if your choice is this little speciality. This dress is done with a straight skirt except for the open front pleat. WONDERFULLY SLIMMING. Push-up sleeves, high-neckline, and stand away hip pockets make this dress noticed above all others. All a glow you'll be in this tapered dress in a sheer wool of dark and light grey tweed look. An extra touch of sparkle is added to the dress with red bows on sleeves and neck.

Wish I could wear them all!

The Progress Salutes —

One of the most outstanding events of the year on Eastern's campus is the Homecoming Parade sponsored by Kyma club. One of the many students that deserve recognition for her part in the organization of the parade is Betty Crank, Kyma secretary for this year.

Being responsible for the recording of the club's activities is Miss Crank's main Kyma duty.

Hailing from Harlan, Kentucky, this senior chose Eastern because, "I had heard about Eastern all my life and never wanted to attend any other college." This brought to EKSC a very enthusiastic and hard-working girl which was our campus's gain.

Betty is a commerce area major and started her teaching career last Monday at Central High School as a practice teacher.

Other activities include being president of Drum and Sandal, secretary of BSU, treasurer of the senior class, social chairman of W.R.H.O., co-editor of the Daily Life section for the Milestone, a member of Sigma Tau Pi, and chairman of a Y.W.C.A. committee.

Betty's favorite pastime is collecting and listening to records. "I always carry all of the records to school with me," remarks our miss. Nat Cole is her favorite leader, and "Ruby" heads her list of records.

Along with her music, Betty adds, "I love to dance and go to movies—drive-ins most of all."

Tennis and swimming rate first among her favorite sports as do football and basketball games.

This busy gal has as her ambition to be either a secretary or a teacher after graduation. Lots of luck, Betty!

to be always together is Suzanne Doyle and Pat Crawford... Both Katherine Akers and Mavis Curry seem to have their main interests at U. of Ky. ... Russ Zacham's interest seems to be away from Eastern too! Mary McMullen has been seeing lots of Allen Pipes, could this be getting serious????

If you've seen a beg smile on Cynthia Jones' face, it's because she has gotten that long-wanted date with Bill Baldwin... The basketball players look like they aren't going to be outdone. Paul Collins took the lead when he asked Peggy Hendrix to go steady... Could Wally Johnson and Barbara Isaac be thinking about this same thing???

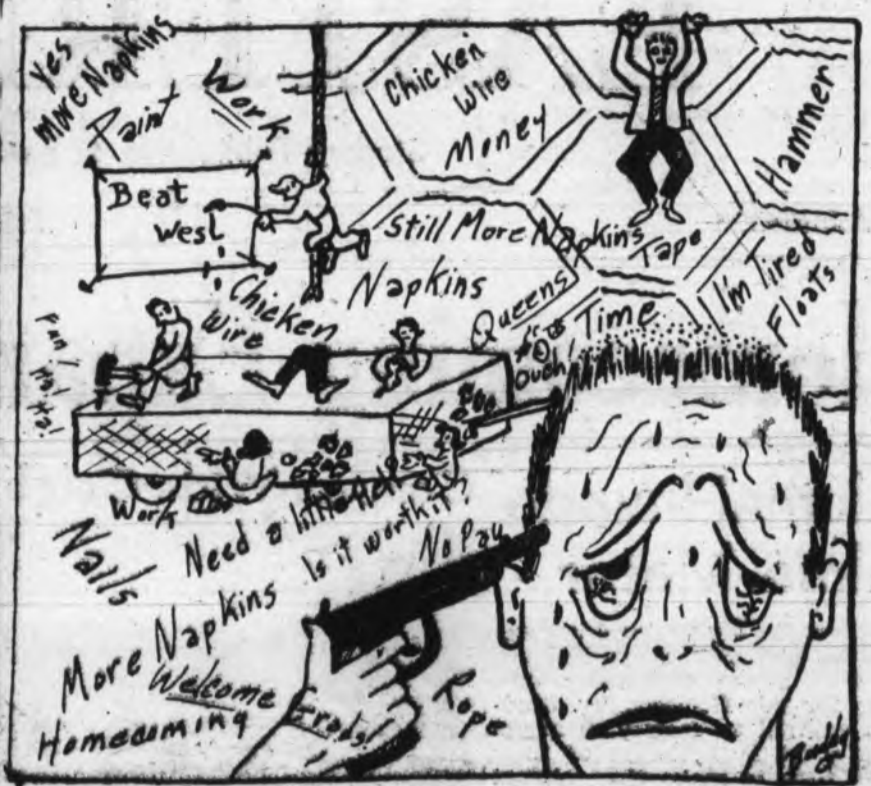

"Love me Again" to Chris Calias and Tack Baldwin

"Sweet and Lovely" to all Candidates for Homecoming Queen

"Again" to all returning Alumni

I gotta go now, so if you hear any news, slip me a note under the Progress door. I'll really appreciate it. See you -all Purr-ty soon!!

The Day Before...

Newest Building On Campus Open To Visitors Two Days

By MAVIS CURRY

On the outside, the new Science Building may look like any other building on the campus, but on the inside it has surprises! It's a house of magic and mystery. Visit it during open house and see for yourself!

Open house for the new building, which is built as an addition to Roark building, is being observed this evening from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock and tomorrow morning from 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock. This weekend has been chosen for open house in order that alumni, former students, and friends of the college will have the opportunity to visit the new building and to take part in the Homecoming activities. Citizens of Richmond and Madison County are especially invited to inspect the Science addition Friday or Saturday.

Building Occupied

Plans for the new building, which consists of three floors and a basement, were begun in 1948. Members of the science faculty spent one summer observing science buildings on other campuses to select the design that would be most suitable for Eastern's needs. The addition, which was completed this summer, is now fully occupied for the first time. It houses the chemistry, physics, biology, biological science, and physical science departments. The offices of nine faculty members are also located in this building.

The basement consists of a historical museum, a photo dark room, and classrooms. Off the landing between the first floor and the basement is the plant and animal room in which live plants and animals are to be kept. Also featured in this building are display cases built into the walls. In these various class experiments and numerous items are shown.

Biology Department

Besides its general features, the biology department also has a biology museum. This serves as a storage for models and materials used for class demonstrations. The offices in this department are located in a group at one end of the floor. This factor helps to promote easy communication between the faculty without loss of time. This arrangement of offices does not appear in any of the other departments.

Double laboratories are features of both the chemistry and biology departments. This arrangement allows the instructor to supervise two "labs" at once without difficulty. The chemistry department has analytical, organic, physical, and general chemistry laboratories. The general chemistry lab accommodates 180 students.

Historical Museum

The historical museum on the ground floor will be of particular interest to visitors. It represents 27 years of collecting by Dr. J. T. Dorris. The museum displays items from around the world—rare books, war relics, and antiques. Probably its most interesting display is a collection of sea shells.

"Eastern is going to have a museum that will be of national significance in a few years," comments Dr. Dorris. He also added that he hasn't yet quit teaching, but feels that he is teaching harder than ever through the museum.

"More Lab Room"

Other members of the faculty express their opinion of the new building like this: "I am more than pleased with the arrangement," said Dr. Hopp. "It gives more room for labs and more room for storage. It provides plenty of space in which to carry out experiments."

"The chemistry department spent 29 years in the basement of Roark," said Dr. Cox, "and moving over here was like moving from darkness into day. The enrollment of the chemistry department has increased 30% since it has been moved here."

"The new building allows a great extension of activities," said Dr. LaFuze. "I am especially pleased with the private laboratory in my office. Every instructor has one. These allow us to set up experiments that can run for a period of time without our having to tear them down before they are completed."

"Enjoy Work"

Student opinion is expressed by junior Wanda Matthews who is a chemistry-biology major. "The new building offers us greater opportunities. The labs are cleaner and much more pleasant to work in. The appearance has a lot to do with the kind of work a student does. I enjoy my work now."

'KAMPUS KATS'

Greetings once again guys and dolls! Here I am back with some more Eastern news. I hope you'll find out something you didn't know before you read this.

Congratulations to the committee for the fine Halloween party given free to all students last Saturday night. Seems as if Bev Wilson and Jim Kirby stole all "dancin' honors." These kats are gone...

Who was that cute little brunette Dick Lambert was with a couple of Sundays ago? Couldn't be a Morehead girl, could it, Dick? ... What's this about Jake Rutledge having a steady girl at home... Don't you like Eastern gals, Jake???

Seems as if Denyse Campbell is very fond of blue stationary, especially when the letters are from Ralph... Mary Helen Collins has diverted all her attention to the basketball players, her favorite being Ronnie Pellegrino... But Phyllis Edmonds still prefers her baseball player, Tom McAnallen.

Looks like WEKY has hit the campus with a bang. The "Jewels" of Burnam Hall really got a kick out of the dedications, right Winona??... I hear Harold Johnson's "even lovin' Petunia" is back in circulation again... Who are the two fan clubs who seem to think Carroll Shaver is tops???? Could Mary Elizabeth Johnson be president of these clubs???

Joe Osborne has been seeing a lot of Model High's Nancy Saunley... Another couple that seems

MEN ONLY: Welcome back, ALUMINUM! In other words, how have you been, old Pots? Suppose a lot of you are thinner now that you have had to leave Eastern and go to work, huh? Well, Eastern's still the same old place basically, and we're glad to have you back to reminisce, (incidentally, we enjoy looking at the finished product, too.)

LADIES EXCLUSIVELY: And thrice welcome, ALUMINA!—Miss Easterns, majorettes, and queens miscellaneous of yesterday. Yes, girls, students are still the same . . . We hate classes, we hate studying; but we love the ravine, we love Miss McIlvaine's home-cooked meals, and we love our air-foam mattresses. Yep, this is our home, as it was yours. So, Welcome Back, Enjoy Yourselves, and Thanks A Lot For Coming.

Last weekend a group of Eastern students journeyed to Columbus for Ohio State's Homecoming and a visit to Mr. Brooks, former drama coach. The football game, a play, and a tour of the campus were a few of the many things enjoyed by all. Yep, they said Ohio State's a pretty nice school as small schools go.

Say now, if you didn't hear the virtuous little old lady lecturer, you haven't lived. We never had it so good as we did during Prohibition, says she. No wonder, most of us weren't here, and the ones that were here, liked milk better. Regardless of what I say against her, I'm going to vote for prohibition, quit smoking, and cut out the "dope" I've been taking. If I'm successful in my undertakings, so will the undertaker be, for I'm going to commit suicide.

A couple of weeks ago on Saturday night, an innocent freshman (innocent of the facts at Eastern) put up a sign in the entrance to rec room that invited everyone to the Paddock. Swoosh, in minutes it was gone, a word of advice,—just because there is no activity on the campus is no reason for going to town to enjoy yourself; you're supposed to go to bed at 7:00 o'clock on Saturday nights. Remember this, for I myself don't think the students and faculty will ever wake up.

Starting (CENSORED), Eastern will be heard on the air every (CENSORED) minutes over Station (CENSORED). Dr. (CENSORED) is in charge of program planning. For more details, scan this issue of THE EASTERN PROGRESS. Doctors say that more Eastern students read the Eastern Progress than any other bi-monthly Eastern newspaper.

If there are any disagreements with anything I have said here, please don't see me; for I'll tell my Mom—she wrestles on TV. See ya next issue!

Jim Burch, junior: "To be a king, one must be either 'born great or achieve greatness.' Ernie has achieved greatness. So by all means let King Ernie reign."

Joyce Patterson, sophomore: I would certainly cast my vote for 'King' Ernie. In my estimation Ernie is tops in everything."

Donnie Jett, junior: "I've known him ever since I've been six years old, and to me he's not worth shooting, but I think he'd make a wonderful king of anything."

Mickey Peters, freshman: "Ernie has really done a lot for the school spirit through the Kyma Club. I think he would be our best bet for Homecoming kind."

"Mac" McDonald, senior: "Sure, but don't let the stars get in his eyes."

Dean Ruberts, junior: "Frankly, he deserves more than just being Homecoming King. He should be

Coach Samuels, All-Star Lineman, Predicts 'Best Game Of Year'

By MARY ELIZABETH JOHNSON

"The boys have worked hard and we are ready for the game. Practice during the extremely hot weather and a greater feeling of team spirit along with this hard practice make me think that the boys will play their best game of the year tomorrow." Tom Samuels, head football coach for the Maroons at Eastern, made these promising statements about Saturday's homecoming game in which Eastern will battle with Western. Since Coach Samuels has been head mentor for the past six years, Eastern has won every homecoming game.

Coach Samuels, who received a B. S. degree from the University of Michigan and a M. S. from the University of Kentucky was an outstanding lineman and a pre-medical student during his collegiate days at the University of Michigan.

His love for football and the study of bacteriology conflicted very sharply when he was selected to play in the East vs. West all star classic in California. At the same time a bacteriological experiment had to be nourished daily in the college lab at Michigan. Although the trip west would have taken only two weeks, the experiment had to be observed personally. Coach Samuels decided to stay with his experiment at the University.

This desire to study bacteriology was rewarded when his discovery of a previously proved immotile bacteria's ability to move was accepted as a scientific truth and printed in the "Bergey Manual" which is used internationally to classify organisms.

Mr. Samuels still enjoys the study of bacteriology and is very active in state and national public health work. He is now active on a national committee of eight men who determine how to better educate American communities for higher standards of public health. He is vice chairman of the state committee on Standards for the one to crown and kiss the queen."

Bill Robbins, freshman: "By all means, Ernie should be elected king of Homecoming."

Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. He is one of the thirty professors who met in Washington D. C. to plan a curriculum for college offering a major in physical education. Recently he has been nominated for National Secretary of Community Health Education. During the summer months, when he has spare time, he works as a pharmacist in a local drug store. This is his hobby.

"I'd rather be at Eastern here in Richmond than any other school I have seen during my traveling with the health committees and ball clubs from Los Angeles to Atlanta and from St. Petersburg to Washington, D. C.," Coach Samuels said. "I find that Eastern is nationally known for its high academic standing and outstanding athletic teams. All of our faculty and students should be proud of our college, Eastern."

This all star lineman who has become a story book football coach resides in a beautiful Richmond home with Mrs. Samuels and daughter Betty who attends Model High School.

MUSEUM RECEIVE JARS

Twenty very old, hand painted apothecary jars have been placed in Eastern's Museum by Fred E. Kluth of the Louisville Apothecary according to Dr. J. T. Dorris, curator of the Museum. These jars which are one of the rarest and most beautiful contributions to the Museum fill one of the newer cases. Mr. Kluth presented them to the College Museum last Sunday, November 1.

The Open-Mind Column . . .

By CHRIS CALLAS

Don't you think Ernie Durham should be crowned Eastern's First Homecoming King since he has worked so hard to make this week-end a success?

Bob Kolakowski, sophomore: "I 'homecoming king' would be believe that he should have the honor of becoming Eastern's first homecoming 'king,' because of his hard work in the Kyma Club and also because he's a right guy."

Ronnie Reaguer, sophomore: "Sure, I don't mind."

Doris Edwards, freshman: "I think Ernie would be a handsome king."

Tack Baldwin, senior: "Ernie deserves some honor and the first

Freda Fitzsimmons, freshman: "Yes, Ernie should definitely be king, I mean, you know."

Juliane Wisdekamp, junior: "That's great! Rags to Riches."

Clyde White, senior: "I certainly think he deserves anything and everything he can get. After be-

EASTERN PUTS DOWN EVANSVILLE, 59-9

Maroons Rush By Purple Aces Ground, Air Game Strong

By Dean Rumbold

The Maroons brought their season's total to five wins and two losses by completely swamping hapless Evansville by the score of 59-9. Had the regulars seen more than token action in the second half, the score would probably have bordered close on the century mark.

Bill Bradford took the opening kickoff and ran it out to the Maroon 33. A roughness penalty against the Purple Aces moved it up to the 48. Daly picked up 22 yards and a first down on the first play from scrimmage. Bradford carried twice more for another first down and Daly and Muller alternated plays, Muller going over from three yards out to put the Maroons in front 6-0. Oakley converted and the Maroons were never headed.

Evansville seemed determined to do the same thing and people began to wonder. They ran the kickoff back to the Evansville 38 and another roughness penalty, this time against the Maroons, put the ball down on the Maroon 47. Their next play cost them four yards but that mattered little when, on the following play, a Fisher to Parrish pass netted a first and ten on Eastern's 20. Evansville proceeded to lose four yards again and then lost the ball when Bradford pulled a pass out of the air and brought it out to Eastern's 27. The Maroons took the ball on a sustained march for 73 yards and their second touchdown of a game yet young. It appeared halted at one point when Fred Winscher's reception in the end zone was disallowed on the first of a healthy number of 15-yard penalties against the Maroons for such "odds and ends" as roughness and holding and other such minor infractions of the rules. Said penalties cost the Maroons at least three touchdowns in this game alone. It didn't matter here but they are known to come in handy in a few games during the season that don't happen to turn out as this one did. Nevertheless, it didn't matter as Bradford carried for 33 yards in two consecutive tries to put it on the five yard line of Evansville. Don Daly took it over on a straight buck, Oakley again converting. Eastern 14 Evansville. 0.

The Purple Aces dented the scoring column themselves immediately thereafter. They moved for 70 yards in six plays and brought the Maroons within eight points as their conversion attempt was blocked.

Eastern took the kickoff and got as far as the Evansville 45 before running out of gas. Each successive play lost yardage and the Maroons were forced to punt for the first time in the game. Evansville received and had marched to a first down on Eastern's 19 as the first quarter came to an end.

However, Evansville's offense died, too. They probably figured that they had nothing to lose at that point and gambled and lost on a fourth down pass which fell incomplete. The Maroons didn't get much of a chance to do anything as Roy Kidd's pass was intercepted by Tom Dillon of the Aces. Evansville's breathing spell was short-lived, however, as Ernie Rigrish came up with a recovered fumble to give it back to Eastern.

With Bond, Bell and Kidd carrying, the Maroons rolled to midfield. Jack Bond then thrilled the crowd with his 48-yard run from scrimmage. Oakley came through with his third straight conversion to bring the score up to 21-6.

First half scoring wasn't over yet, though, as the Purple Aces added to their total with a 12-yard field goal kicked by Scott. Their drive stalled on the twelve and Scott was sent into the game for the express purpose of attempting the field goal. Scott had been a starting guard earlier in the season until it was learned that he had played the last two game for Evansville with a fractured vertebra. While that made the score 21-9, still in Eastern's favor, that was all for the Aces for that day and they might as well have gone to their dressing room for all the opposition they put up for the remainder of the game.

Chuck Bell brought the fans to their feet again as he scampered 66 yards for the Maroons 27th point. The attempted conversion hit the crossbar and fell back to the field. On Evansville's first play after receiving the ensuing kickoff, Ed Miracle intercepted a pass and ran it back to Evansville's 42. He went over from the four several plays later but the play was nullified by an offside penalty against the Maroons. Bradford made up the five yards and carried it back to the four from which point Roy Kidd tossed to Charlie True for six more points just as the first half came to a close. At the half, Eastern 33 and Evansville 9.

The second half was entirely Eastern as Evansville was never in Maroon territory except briefly while they were on the defense. The Maroons kicked off to open the second half of play but a 15-yard penalty and the hard-charging line set them way back and forced a punt. Three plays later the Maroons had their sixth touchdown of the day as Bill Bradford ran eighteen yards for the score.

On the following kickoff, Eastern again got the ball and another T. D. as Frank Nassida parried the Evansville ball carrier into fumbling, Bradford recovering. Daly took a pass and ran to the Evansville 20 where, just before being hit, he lateraled to Muller who went on down to the 4. Muller into the middle of the line gained one and Daly drove over from the three for his second touchdown of the day. The extra point was through the uprights and Eastern lead 46-9.

Again Evansville was unable to do anything with the ball and had to punt. And, it was Eastern again as they marched for 66 yards with Bobby Lenderman calling the signals, Bell and Dutch Greene were the major workhorses on that drive with Dutch getting the nod and delivering from six yards out. The conversion was good and Eastern's lead rose to 53-9.

The third quarter ended with the ball in Evansville's possession on the E'ville 25. Changing ends of the field failed to bring them any luck and they lost the ball on downs up at their 48 yard line. However, the Maroons didn't fare any too well either and fourth down found them with 45 yards-to-go for a first down. They kicked and Evansville had the ball on their own 45, first and ten.

But, the starch was all gone and they had gained only three yards four plays later. The Maroons took over again on the Evansville 48 and moved on down the field in a succession of plays with Lenderman passing to Sonny White for the final touchdown. The attempted conversion was missed.

Evansville's play from here on out was nothing than a sickening formality and they punted to the Maroons. Chuck Bell again turned in the outstanding individual play of the game, if such a choice has to be made, when he grabbed the punt on his own 25 and raced 75 yards back up the field for the touchdown, only to have the play called back on a holding penalty against one of the Maroons. He was so tired that he could hardly walk and was taken from the game. And that's the way the game ended. The Maroons had taken the ball on down the field again and were on the Evansville 22 getting ready for their tenth touchdown of the day when the clock called a merciful halt to the agony. It was simply a case of an Eastern team that could do no wrong no matter what eleven was in there playing. For a change, everything worked and we only hope that some of the same will rub off on the boys out there tomorrow afternoon. Western won't

Hockey Team Beats U. K.

First Maroon Win In Years

For the first time in at least five years, the W.R.A. hockey team at Eastern are the victors over their long time opponents in inner-scholastic competition. Playing host to the University of Kentucky on Oct. 15, proved to be a challenge to both teams, the guests striving to maintain their grand record and Eastern full of determination to bring the title home.

The first half was fast and each team utilizing every skill and technique they had at their command. U. K. proved to be the better at offense as they often kept the ball deep in our goal zone, requiring continuous alertness and effort on the part of our defense to return it to forward line. The second half the odds reversed and it was our offense pressing hard down in their be nearly as easy a victim as Evansville proved to be but the end result will be the same. Final score: Eastern 59 Evansville 9.

defending end. Although we managed to get into their striking circle many times it was not until the last fifteen seconds of play that the decisive drive was made. A foul was called against the University for advancing. Right outside the striking circle Carol Melburg took the free hit, passing to Sonnie Burton who drove it through from the left side. Before the teams could resume their position for a center bully the time was up and the game was over. Eastern making the only goal leaving the final score 1-0, and gaining the victory for the year of 1953.

After the game the guests were given refreshments and relaxed in the gym for awhile before returning to Lexington. One thing I think the public should note about girl's athletics is the friendly attitude and good sportsmanship constantly maintained between the teams. Not only is there an opportunity to play, but a chance to meet new people, make new friends, and gain a deeper understanding of those in other schools about us. It is great to win, but the true purpose behind our organization is to grow, and there is just as much growth many times even though the victory is not ours. Very applicable to all phase of experience in everyday living.

We want to tell all of you girls who are interested in becoming a member of our organization just to come on over any afternoon, Mon. through Friday, between the hours of four and five o'clock. If you wish any information ask either Beverly Wilson, president, or Condra Burton, vice pres., or just any member of our club. We would be glad to have you. Our hockey season will be over soon and other activities, such as volleyball, tumbling, basketball etc. will be presented. Take one or all, its your organization, and it serves the interest of YOU. Any suggestions will be considered and included in our program, so be a part, and learn the arts with us.

MAROONS MEET 'TOPPERS TOMORROW

Old Rivals In Revenge Tilt Team Is In Tip-Top Shape

The Eastern-Western game is to Kentucky what the Army-Navy game is to the Nation. The rivalry between these two schools in all the athletic fields has been top flight for a long period of years. The competition has been more than keen in several contests, in fact you might even say say feelings ran high, especially in baseball and football.

Last year at Bowling Green, Western, led by their little All-American Jim Fiex, ran up a very convincing win over the undermanned maroons. It was a big win for the Hilltoppers, who were celebrating their Homecoming, but they did very little to make the Maroons feel at home as they had them selves a field day. Whistles went and the umpires were only little men with striped shirts that got in your way all the time. It's fun to tackle any body wheater

Co-Captains for Homecoming . . . It's like a page out of a story book that these two seniors should be chosen co-captains for their final wearing of the Maroon and White on the Haager Stadium field. Both boys are from Corbin where they made all-state. Roy Kidd was a all-state basketball and football player and Ox Oakley was one of the outstanding high school linemen in the state. Other seniors playing their last game for a home crowd are: Jack Bond, Ed Miracle, Dutch Greene, Bill Bradford, Dick Lambert, Jerry Johns, and Larry North.

Maroons Top Morehead

"Dad's Day" Game Here

For about a half hour the Maroon Pops watched the Morehead Eagles tear through their sons with surprising ease. Taking advantage of a couple of Eastern fumbles Morehead passed freely to force the Maroon defense to really dig in their own territory, for the first 30 minutes of the game. But a good punt return by Ed Mirche and a long end run by Don Daly burst the bubble and the Dads sat back to watch the "Chips Off the Old Block" go to-work.

The Maroons scored on five plays after Mirches punt return with Bill Bradford bulging over from the 2 yard line. Oakley's kick was no good and Eastern lead the O. V. C. cellar dwellers at half time 6-0.

The Maroons started the second half by driving from their 43 yard to score in five plays. The pay off coming on a Kidd to Hatfield pass, with Hatfield standing in the end zone all oy his lonesome self. Oakley's attempt added nothing and it was a 12-0 lead.

Roy Kidd and Bob Mueller accounted for the third T. D., with Kidd setting it up by some sharp passing and good running, and with 48 seconds left in the third quarter Bob Mueller scored his first touchdown after three years of varsity ball. Oakley's attempt No. 3 was no good; score...18-0.

Eastern took advantage of a fumble recovered by Jerry Johns to score their final touch down. Sparked by Eastern's "Internal Spark," Roy Kidd, they drove 84 yards to score on a 13 yard

Bond, Bradford, Bell Leaders In Maroon Scoring

The "Three B's" Bond, Bell and Bradford continue to pace the Maroon offense. Jock Bond is still on top of the heap with 5 touch downs and one extra point while Bill Bradford, coming to life in the last few games, is close behind with 4 touchdowns to trail by 7 points. Chuck Bell, The Mighty Mite, has three touch downs to follow close behind Bradford.

Although Bradford stands second in scoring He's on top in ground gaining. On 55 attempts he gained 358 yards for a 6.5 average it may not be a record but it's a darn good average for 60 minute football.

pass play, Kidd to Bond. Oakley's attempt No. 4 was good for Eastern's 25 points.

Morehead scored their only points on an intercepted pass on Eastern's 34 yard line. n 13 plays they pushed it over and circled end for the extra point.

For the Eastern Dads the 25-7 win was a night-cap to a fine evening in the hands of the Varsity E club.

Intramural Swim Meet

Plans have been completed for an intramural swim meet, open to all boys that have not lettered in swimming at Eastern. Under the leadership of Gordon Fleck, it will take place November 11 at 6:00 p. m. in the Health Building pool. It will also be open to viewing public.

The events will be 50 yard freestyle; 50 yard back stroke; 50 yard breast stroke and relay teams of 75 and 100 yards. In the 75 yard relay, three boys will swim 25 yards each in relay fashion, each boy will swim a different stroke, being; back, breast, and freestyle. In the 100 yard freestyle relay there will be a team of four boys with each boy swimming 25 yards freestyle. All relay teams must be formed by the entries.

Awards will be given to the first three places in each event, except in the relays. The winning relay teams will receive individual awards.

Remember; This meet is open to all student that have not lettered in swimming and are enrolled at Eastern. Entries should be in by November 9 and no later than November 10. For further information get in touch with Gordon Fleck or Nick De Santis. Entries may be slipped under the door of the Progress Room 100 in the S. U. B. or given to Gordon Fleck, Nick De Santis, Jesse Reed, or Hugh Brooks. . . Let's have a lot of freshmen and sophomores out there! See you in the pool! !

Are In Top Shape

After one of their finest offensive and defensive efforts last week the Maroons appear to be in good shape both physically and morally. What ever yardage the Evansville Aces did pick up was through Eastern soft spot, Pass Defense. Held to 40 yards on the ground they picked up 246 yards by tossing. Eastern fans can be very glad that "The Bowling Green Wonder", Jim Fiex, isn't around any more. That little man could toss a football in your lap from 50 yards out and when he wasn't passing, he was running with the same damaging effect.

astern On Air; Jagers In Charge

President W. F. O'Donnell has accepted an offer from WEKY, Richmond's new radio station, to broadcast a 30 minute program each week, beginning sometime within the next two weeks.

Dr. R. E. Jagers, faculty member, is in charge of the programs, which will be "Round Table" discussions on questions, problems, and issues of general interest.

Dr. Jagers says that the faculty, students, and administrative officers of the college will compose the discussion groups. "Leaders in business and professions in the town and region," he adds, "and, on occasion, state and national leaders who visit the community will appear on the programs."

Dr. Jagers announces that the discussions are not to be primarily entertainment, but they will touch the problems and interests of the people who listen to them. "Intervals will be musical and other types of programs. 'In short,' he says, 'anything that in any way a part of Eastern will be included on the programs.'"

Souvenir Plates On Sale

The late Miss Allie Fowler, Assistant Professor of art at Eastern, designed three souvenir plates for Eastern. All three plates have the same border, an intricate design weaving together the symbols representing each department and faculty of the College.

The center designs show (1) a front view of the Administration Building, (2) a front view of the Student Union Building, and (3) a view of the Student Union from the main Hall. The design is in black on white with a maroon border.

These plates are on sale at the

FALSE RUMOR, ENOUGH WATER FOR TEN YEARS

"Water, water everywhere and the boards did shrink; water, water everywhere and not a drop to drink."

"Shucks, I knew it was too good to be true."

The Progress heard the rumor that "if it doesn't rain within ten days, school will have to be dismissed," but after inquiring we found much to our dismay, that we not only have enough water supply for ten days, but also that we have, in our slangy terms, enough to last "ten years."

At the present, water is being pumped from both Lake Reba and the Bluegrass Ordinance to insure Richmond's supply. The Progress wishes to pass on the best of luck to those people who shall come to Eastern "ten years" hence.

J. C. CLUB ORGANIZING

Striving to gain foothold on Eastern's campus is the newly organized Jefferson County Club, composed of students from Louisville and vicinity. The purpose of J. C. Club is to bring about a closer relationship among the students from that county and to promote more interest toward Eastern's campus.

Officers elected are Ben Nord, president; Ronnie Sherrard, vice-president; and Mary Becker, secretary-treasurer.

Membership now totals twenty-four. Anyone from Jefferson County who isn't a member is invited to attend the next meeting, Thursday, November 12, in the Blue Room for supper. The club meets weekly.

Shaver, secretary-treasurer of the American Air Filter Company, Louisville, whose subject was "Basic Needs of the Office Workers;" and William Edie, office employment manager of the Girdler Corporation, Louisville, who was discussion chairman for a panel on cooperation between business teachers and business.

During the luncheon held in the Blue Room, a student quartet composed of Holly Chilton, Hugh Brooks, David Caylor and Jim Winn sang several selections. Miss Frances Milan was accompanist.

Four Students Receive F. H. A. Scholarships

Four Future Homemakers of American scholarship girls are attending Eastern this year. Freshmen Billie Rae Turpin, Doris Edwards, Betty Brock Lawrence, and junior Jean Turner are the home economic majors who are recipients of the award. Jean received her scholarship at the 1951 State Meeting at Morehead State College and the other three received theirs at the 1953 State Meeting held at Murray State College.

The scholarship are state F. H. A. projects. To be eligible for this scholarship, an applicant must have been active in F. H. A. activities in her school, and in her community. The girl's local chapter selects her as a candidate for the scholarship. Her application is sent to the state committee where it is put in competition with others from the state at large.

Six scholarships were given this past year and of this number, three came to Eastern.
