by DOTTIE KENDALL

Attention!!!

Ladies and Gentlemen!

May I introduce to you Herr Wilhelm Von Rippenheiffen Hausenpfeffer, alias Joe Todd. He has a "heiss" haircut, Ya!! If you gals and guys aren't up on your "Deutsch" see Joe. Joe claims that the barber just didn't know when to stop—he must have really been in the groove.

Dottie:

I want to congratulate you on "your" Ben's conduct. Instead of going on first with all his fellow countrymen in uniform, who were getting to come home or having to go back to camp, he waited, shovled, pushed, and chowded on with the rest of the Easternites, just to have a place to stand on the bus for Lexington to see the Ky-Tenn. game. All of us love you, Ben.

The Special Programs Committee:
We really appreciate your fine efforts in providing entertainment for the study body on Sat-a-day nites. Some of the students who don't attend these are missing a lot of fun. So how about making a date for next Saturday—what's say????

All Greater Cincinnatians:

Ray Smith has decided to remain on the campus over the weekends now. Reason—It seems Ray discovered a G. C. (namely Treish) right here on our own campus.

Photo Club

The last two meetings of the Photo Club have been held in the SUB. A thorough study was made of negatives taken by the club. These negatives were projected on a screen and the good and bad points of each one were pointed out. We learned how to avoid such mistakes again.

Indoor picture making was discussed and now we'll be putting out professional jobs all the time. Keep your eyes open—this club is really going places.

World Affairs Club

The World Affairs Club held its regular meeting at Dr. Kennamer's residence, Tuesday, November 21 at 7 o'clock p. m. The students who attended the International Relations Conference at Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, carried on the program for the evening. Each student gave an individual report on the round table discussion that he attended while at the conference.

The discussion was concluded with plans for a more extensive and varied program in the club. They are making plans for its extension at present, however, it will not get into full swing until next quarter. In order to bring this about, they must have the full cooperation of the students, whether members or not, and also of the faculty.

Yes, I survived and am on the go again. Thanks, staff, for writing my column for me.

Rawley, Joe, you have experienced a sudden change, haven't you ole chap. Oh well, you can jolly well do that, we might enjoy a change!

Seems the campus is being crowded by brass hats (?) lately—Lts. Paul Houchel, Ben Sanders, and Edsel Mountz were here last week. She was grand to see some of the old familiar faces again. Come again boys, we love having you.

We've got a ball team! We've got a ball team! Hip hip hooray! Gosh, team, we're proud of you and we're backing you with all we've got. Keep up the good work!

Seems most of the students were in Lexington Saturday for the big battle between the states—U. of K. didn't come out on top, but it was a grand game anyway, huh, fellows?

The high school males really seem to have that "come hither" look—er sumpin—the "frosch" gals seem to be going for them in a big way.

The whole student body was shocked and very deeply affected at the announcement of your resignation, Dean Jones. We hate to see you go, but we wish you all the luck in the world with your new position. We don't know what we'll do without you so come back to see us often.

MAROONED

with GABBY PRATTLE

Marie Smith apparently has the Norris situation well in hand. No longer does she weep into her pillow nights—instead she is in there pitchin'. Action is always better than words, they say.

Virginia Yonce has her troubles . . . mercy, yes. She just can't make up her mind when it comes to choosing between "Wah-Wah" Jones, famed Harlan athlete who visited Eastern recently, and our own handsome (?) Wendell Robinson. Have you reached a verdict yet, Jennie?

Maybe you can tell us what happened to Joe and Laoma. Seems that there's a sailor . . . no, that couldn't be . . . but yes, that's must be it. We note, however, that she's still wearing Joe's watch, so cheer up, Hegenauer, where there's life, there's hope.

We're sort of disappointed that Harry Scalos didn't even get to first base with 'Cille Rose. Why don't you try again, Harry? Could be she's playing hard to get.

Via the grapevine we hear that Dotty Ellison is really and truly in love again. Is it possible? Who's the lucky guy this time, Dots?

Speaking of Rumor

Isn't this the truth?
"Who drinks of Rumor's ungent brew
Will never quench her thirst,
For she will crave succeeding cups
More spicy than the first."

Why Don't They . . .

Serve coffee in the grill for those lazy ten o'clock scholars who never wake up for breakfast? Make a walk, as the crew files, from the Administration Building to the Arts Building? Do away with the custom which makes it necessary to have term tests? Give us more records like the recording of "St. Louis Blues" now on the juke box? Extinguish all characters bearing a resemblance to Memphis Wade? The heartaches that man is causing!!

Parodies, Or What Have You

Lives of seniors all remind us
We can cheat our way so far,
And departing, leave behind us
Goose eggs on the registrar.

Breathes there a man
With soul so dead,
Who never to himself has said,
"Let's cut out the icky poetry!"

Not To Be Discouraging

But you know that there's only two more weeks of school left in this term, don't you? And one of these weeks will be just crammed full of exams. Now, don't you wish you'd studied more? It's mighty hard to cram into a head in one week all the book larnin' you should have been getting during the past ten weeks!

Gruesomest Gruesome Twosomes

Dorothy Hancock and whoever she happens to be dating these days.
Jim Argentine and the lucky gal who finally hooks him.

Yea-Maroons!

We don't want to give the appearance of a sports column since we already have a sports editor . . . after a fashion . . . but we do want to say that we're powerful glad about the way Eastern's basketball boys have started winning all the games right off the bat.

Maybe You Can Figure It Out

A big handsome basketball lad just draped himself over the chair and said, "In the next issue, give us some slocum waky gloopie glokie and a lot of friopky, mixed in with a little ricki akki sakkii." In other words, cook well for two weeks and stir well before serving. Be seein' ya next issue.

WAR BONDS in Action

Hey, Skinny, come on in, the water's fine. Only this is the real McCoy. These soldiers in partial state of undress are engaged in a serious business, that of taking communication lines across the Mosell River in France. Lines made possible by War Bond dollars.

OFF THE BACKBOARD

by JIM WADE

As you read these lines your basketball team will be resting from Thursday night's scrap with Lincoln University, and will be readying for tonight's encounter with Carson Newman. Tomorrow evening the bearers of the maroon banner will come to grips with Milligan. Including the tussle with Georgetown on Tuesday evening, the Eastern quintet will have finished a rather full week of basketball when they turn homeward Sunday. Four games in five nights is a feat that will test the mettle of any ball club. All concerned fervently trust that Eastern will not fail to bring home a goodly portion of north Tennessee bacon.

At the writing of this column, the Maroons had played only one game—a 61 to 26 rout of Wilmington College. It is felt generally, however, that the Ohioans were not equipped to put the local lads to a very thorough test. The trip which the team is now making should reveal a great deal.

You will have to pardon this department's enthusiasm over the outcome of the recent Tennessee-Kentucky game. We were anxious to see the Volunteers get that Rose Bowl bid, and get it they did. U. T. does not, in our opinion, have a great team this year, but it is a good team. They are aggressive, alert, and well drilled.

We thought that Kentucky's Wildcats lost no honor in defeat at the Vols' hands. The U. K. boys were in there fighting till the final whistle. They gave the game all they had. That last desperate touchdown drive showed that the Kentuckians had what it took to keep scrapping when they knew they were licked. Tennessee looked really great in brief spurts, and at times they looked rather inept. The first Vol scoring drive was a thing of beauty. Coach Barnhill evidently had told his boys to shoot the works for an early score, because the Vols went after those first seven points with a determination that would not be denied. Buster Stephens lived up to his advance billing by leading the Tennessee attack throughout the contest. He has blinding speed and tremendous leg drive for so small a man. He is a back that any coach could find a spot for. Big Mark Major got in the fray a short time, and was in the process of ripping the line to shreds when he re-injured his knee. His absence did a lot to weaken Tennessee's offensive power.

Big Wash Serini, who received All-Southeastern honors, did not look all anything Saturday. The burly fellow was taken out of the game in the late stages of both Tennessee scoring drives. The Vols were evidently unimpressed by his reputation, for they ran reverses over him on numerous occasions.

Maroons Defeat Wilmington 61-26 In Season's Opener

The Maroons of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College opened their cage campaign with Wilmington College of Ohio Saturday night, November 18, in Weaver gymnasium. It was the first athletic contest for Coach Rome Rankin's charges in two years, and the taste of victory was sweet.

The Ohio quintet sprung a mild surprise by throwing up a zone defense that slowed the Maroon attack in the first half of the game, but the Easterners found the key in the last stanza and began pouring in the baskets. The Kentuckians led at the half 24-18, but the final tally shows how they widened the margin in the latter part of the contest.

Wilmington captured the opening tip-off and racked up a basket to draw first blood. Eastern retaliated, however, with a quick score and with Guards Fred Lewis and Cecil Shryock pacing Eastern, and Bill Ramsey and Jim Hopkins leading Wilmington, the two sides battled on nearly even terms for the first half.

Coach Rankin's outfit came back from the half time rest determined to solve the Ohio team's zone defense, and they were not long about it. Forwards George Maines and Dick Moberley, and rangy mountaineer, Bill Miller, got their fingers in the scoring pie, and the green-clad Ohioans found themselves buried under a deluge of buckets.

Only two substitutes, Jim Wade, forward, and Ray Smith, guard, were sent into the fray by Rankin in the first half, but three more, Ben Johnson and Jim Argentine, guards, and Doyle Lovitt, center, saw action in the last period. Big Lovitt dropped in three quick baskets in the final two minutes. All the Maroons who got in the game scored at least two points.

Fred Lewis, New York sharpshooter, was hampered in his scoring efforts by a back injury but was able to register 12 points in addition to doing a first rate job of leading the Maroon team.

Summary:
Eastern Pos. Wilmington
Shryock, 10 G. 10, Ramsey Lewis, 12 G. Smider
Miller, 9 C. Hall
Maines, 8 F. Carter
Moberly, 8 F. Hopkins
Substitutes: Eastern—Wade, 2, Smith, 2, Lovitt, 6, Argentine, 2, Johnson, 2; Wilmington—Bakenhaster, 2, Mason, Curtis, Perry, Parker, Hoffman.

The Eastern Kentucky State College Maroons scored a 68-33 victory over Georgetown College last night in the opening K. I. A. C. basketball game for both teams.

Eastern jumped into an early lead and held a comfortable margin throughout the game. They led 35-12 at the half.

Lewis and Miller led the scoring for Eastern, making 16 points each. The game was unusually rough with 36 fouls being called, 13 on Eastern and 23 on Georgetown.

Coach Rankin substituted frequently and used his entire squad. The Maroons play three games this weekend, starting with Lincoln Memorial tomorrow night, Carson-Newman Friday night and Milligan Saturday night. All three games will be played away from home.

Real opposition is expected from Carson-Newman and Milligan as both of these schools have Navy V-12 units.

The next home game will be with Berea, Dec. 9.

The summary of last night's game is as follows:

Table with columns: Eastern (68), FG, FT, PF, TP, and rows for Lewis, Miller, Johnson, Doerke, Mains, Smith, Moberly, Shyroek, Lovert, Wade, Argentine, Totals.
