The 'Big Cat' Is Gone, Maroon Star To Graduate

Jim Baechtold Eyes Pro Ranks

By HENRY MAYO—Journalism II

The "big cat" is gone. Eastern's Jim Baechtold, 6-4 forward stalwart has finished his career as a college basketball player as of the semi-finals of the 1952 OVC tournament.

In finishing, the 200 pound senior compiled one of the greatest records in the history of Eastern basketball. In 23 games this season he scored 443 points for a 19.2 average. He also hit 110 of 144 from the charity line for a foul shot percentage of 75.

For the second straight year he was chosen on the all-tournament team. Already named to Tennessee Tech's all-opponent team, he is expected to make many similar lists in the coming weeks. Last year, Baechtold was named "most valuable" by his teammates. Jim, who is from Moon Township, Pa., won a starting berth on the Maroon squad as a freshman and has been a mainstay on the team ever since. He has played mostly at the forward post, but has also been used at guard. Jim played excellent ball at either position. As head basketball coach Paul McBrayer put it, "He is the best all-around player I have seen in my 22 years of coaching."

"Gentleman Jim" is another name that can be well applied to Baechtold. He has a pleasing personality that has won him many friends on the campus. Only last week he was elected "Mr. Popularity" by the student body. Yes, the "big cat" is gone. He will be missed by many and long remembered by all.

Dean Case Tours State High Schools

Dean Emma Y. Case has visited nine Northern Kentucky schools in the months of January and February talking to seniors on the subject, "Going to College." Dean Case plans to visit Manual High School, Louisville, March 19 and 20. Other high schools on her agenda to visit in the spring are Eastern High School, Middletown, the city and county schools of Harlan county, and the Ashland High School, Ashland.

Mrs. Case speaks to the entire senior class first on "Going to College." Following this talk, those especially interested in Eastern assemble for discussions. Students are very eager to learn of the college's curricula and of vocations.

Schools visited in Northern Kentucky were Newport, Bellevue, Dayton, Highlands, Dixie Heights, Simon Kenton, Beechwood, Ludlow, and Erlanger. Shawnee and Atherton were the high schools she visited in Louisville.

"I found these trips very interesting and most helpful in working with freshmen," commented Dean Case.

HELEN BURKE WEDS

The former Helen Rhea Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Burke of Prestonburg, and Mr. Ralph Eugene Wells, son of Mrs. Nancy Wells of Winchester, were united in marriage Friday morning, January 25, at 9:00 in Harrison, Arkansas, at the First Methodist Church. The Reverend Earl Crane performed the ceremony.

"Down In The Valley" Is Music Club Hit Here

By FOU TANNER

Through wind and rain an enthusiastic crowd from Georgetown, Louisville, and Berea attended the two successful performances of Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley," presented by Eastern's Music Department. The setting was in the Appalachian Mountains with square dancing, familiar folk songs and mountain hymns.

VENETOZZI DIRECTS

With Mrs. Victor Venetozzi as director and Mr. Thomas Stone as conductor, the two casts presented the old-fashioned love triangle of the boy, girl, and villain.

The boy, Brack Weaver, is sentenced to die for the slaying of the villain, Thomas Bouche. Brack breaks jail to be with the girl, Jennie Parsons, who tells of her love for him. The story flashes back to the previous year when they first met and to the scene of the trouble. Bouche enters, breaking up a happy square dance and a fight between him and Brack occurs. When Brack and Jennie are seen again, Brack steps into the open to give himself up. Brack is still in jail awaiting his fate as the chorus sings the familiar folk song and theme "Down in the Valley."

Large Cast

The two casts included Florence Childress, Louisville, and Hannah Ketzner, New Albany, Ind., as Jennie; Huey Brooks, Corbin, and Keith Brooks, Richmond, as Brack; Joe Rich, Dry Ridge, and Carroll Shaver, Canton, N. C., as Bouche; Thomas Bonny, Berea, and Jim Winn, Litchfield, in the double role of leader and preacher; Bob Likins, Maysville, and Ed Burke, Prestonburg, as guard; Eli Ask, Red Bank, N. J., as Peters; Bill Greynolds, Loyall, as Jennie's father; Ed Burke as First man; Dave Caylor, New Albany, Ind., as Second man; Pat Spoonmore, Stanford, First woman; and Joan Scholle, Covington, as Second woman.

Members of the Music Club are sincerely grateful to the cast, to the Arts Department for its work on the scenery, to the physical Education Department for its contribution of records, and to Mrs. Venetozzi and Mr. Stone for unending patience during these past several weeks.

Wesley Group Guests At Berea

A trip to Berea as guests of the Berea Wesley Foundation was one of the main events that was experienced by Eastern's Wesley Foundation during the month of February. Twenty-seven members, accompanied by Dr. H. H. LaFuze and Mrs. C. E. Hurst, made the trip Sunday, February 10.

The program was given by Eastern in the form of a panel discussion in which was discussed "The Family of God." Bobby Grise was discussion leader and Jerry Wright, Blanche Viall, Edith Taylor, and Doris Lewis were members of the panel.

Monday, February 18, Dr. George Harper and Rev. William Swift of the State M. S. F. were visitors at the regular Monday night meeting. During the day, interviews were given the students by Dr. Harper and Rev. Swift.

The personal data cards collected show that there are several new Methodist students on the campus. All of the members of the Wesley Foundation invite these students to attend meetings held every Monday at 5:15 p. m. in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building.

Commerce Clubs Guest Speaker

By Elizabeth Cox

The Sigma Tau Pi and Pi Omega Pi held their annual banquet at Benault Inn on February 6. It was a well-planned banquet with decorations in a Valentine theme. The guest speaker was Dr. V. A. Musselman, head of the Commerce Department at University of Kentucky, who spoke on "How to Get and Keep a Job." He not only summarized the opportunities open for commercial students but also enumerated several mistakes to be avoided.

Present at the banquet were various members of the two clubs and the faculty members of the commerce department.

Math Club Seeks New Members

A membership committee composed of Morris Freeman, chairman, Joe Smith, and Don Fields, have been working hard recruiting new members for the Math Club. The committee recently had a program for the initiation of five new members: Polly Jenkins, Dale Woodson, Ann Phelps, Douglas Hibbard, and Gerwood Granett.

The Math Club is now working on a picnic to be held later this spring.

Miss Hood Enjoys 22nd Year Here

By ANNETTE JETER

How would you like Eastern if you had been here for almost 22 years? Miss Gertrude Hood of the Health and Physical Education Department, likes everything about Eastern and this is her 22nd year here. The main likes pointed out by Miss Hood are the friendliness of students and faculty, and the spirit of "being yourself" that prevails on the campus. She greatly enjoys her student contacts.

Miss Hood came to Eastern in 1928 from North Dakota State Normal and Industrial School, Ellendale, North Dakota, where she had taught one year. She is a graduate of Portsmouth High School, Portsmouth, Ohio, Ohio Wesleyan University, and received her master's degree at Columbia University. While at these schools, she was active in many different sports, but swimming was her favorite. While at Columbia she spent much time in studying and practicing dancing, both tap and toe.

Although Miss Hood has little time for outside interests, she finds time for sewing, being a spectator at Eastern's sports events, and various out-of-doors activities. She loves dogs.

Frosh Election For Class Veep

By EDITH TAYLOR

A new Veep for the freshmen! Bill Hensley, Harlan, was elected vice-president of the freshman class at the class meeting Wednesday, February 13, in Hiram Brock Auditorium. Gene Jones, Ironton, Ohio, who was elected vice-president at the beginning of the first semester is now presiding in the class's top office left vacant when the former president, Charles Correll, withdrew from school.

Although the election was one of the most important matters on the agenda to be discussed, other questions such as a freshman stag dinner, dues, class motto, and class color were settled.

A stag dinner for the freshman boys only is to be given in The Blue Room, Student Union Building, on Wednesday evening, March 12. Bill Hensley, chairman of the banquet, announces that the speaker for the occasion has not yet been chosen.

Scarlet and silver were chosen to be the colors of the class, and "Forward—Upward and Onward" was the motto selected. Class members were requested by President Jones to submit all suggestion of a class banner to any officer or cabinet member.

The motion of each person paying fifty cents a semester for dues was passed by the majority.

Dr. Cowan Heard At Assembly Here

By Howard Coop

Dr. T. B. Cowan, a native of Scotland and pastor of Everybody's church in Lexington, spoke at a recent assembly on the life of Robert Burns, a noted Scotch poet.

In speaking of Burns, Mr. Cowan said, "Bobbie Burns was the poet of the common man. That man knew how to write. Burns could become the poet of the common man because he was so human. Burns could look beneath the exterior of degenerate men and say, 'Man's a man for a that!'"

After quoting much of the writing of Burns, Mr. Cowan said, "The sincerity of the man! He told you whatever he did. He is not only the poet of Scotland, but the poet of the people."

Honor Offices Won By 'Two Pats And The Cat'

Pat Powers was elected "Miss Eastern," Pat Rickey elected "Miss Popularity," and Jim "The Cat" Baechtold was elected "Mr. Popularity" in the 1951 election of Eastern's highest honor offices.

BASKETBALL QUEEN—Miss Pauline Coyle of Richmond was crowned Queen of Basketball by the Varsity E Club in a colorful ceremony held at the final home game. Pauline won the crown by receiving the most votes in a campaign that lasted several weeks.

Pat Powers, a senior from London, Kentucky, as "Miss Eastern," will represent Eastern in the Mountain Laurel Festival at Pineville this spring. Pat, a music major, is a member of Who's Who, the Music Club, and is a cheerleader. She was elected "Miss Laurel County" in 1950.

Rickey Elected

Pat Rickey, a junior from Cincinnati and elementary education major, is a member of Y. W. C. A., Drum and Sandal, and is assistant editor of the Milestone.

Jim Baechtold, a senior and physical education major from Moon Township, Pennsylvania, is a member of Who's Who, the E Club, and has been a regular on the Maroon basketball team for the past four years.

The other candidates for "Miss Eastern" were Nell Wilson, Carlisle, and Shirley Spires, Elizabethtown; for "Miss Popularity" were Kay Wilson, Bellevue, and Laura Ellis, Ludlow; for "Mr. Popularity" were Lou Daniels, Portsmouth, Ohio, and Stan Stanford, Norwood, Ohio.

Cwens Announce Coming Events

By EDITH ANN TAYLOR

The Committee on the Legal Status of Women of the Richmond branch of the American Association of University Women will present six members of the MU chapter of Cwens in a symposium at the regular meeting on Thursday, March 6, in the Arts Building at 7:30 p. m. "Women in the Defense Decade" is the topic to be discussed.

Members of the committee on the Legal Status of Women for A. A. U. W. are: Mrs. Emma Y. Case, chairman, Mrs. Mary E. Barnhill, Mrs. John Cosby, Misses Ida Teater and Virginia Beachburn.

'Sweetheart Couple' Chosen At Dance

Miss Mary Frances Campbell and Kenneth Durham are the "sweetheart couple" of Eastern. This pair was chosen as the perfect Sweetheart Couple at the Sweetheart Dance recently sponsored by the Junior Class.

Miss Campbell was presented a heart-shaped Valentine box of candy by Mr. W. L. Keene, advisor of the Junior Class.

Music for the informal event was provided by the Double K Orchestra.

File Now For Next Selective Service Test

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1952 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration. Selective Service National Headquarters advised today.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 10, 1952. Early filing will be greatly to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

Flash! Males Join Modern Dance Class

By Carolyn Camp

During the years that modern dance had been offered at Eastern, the masculine members of the student body have considered participation in this fine art exclusively for the weaker sex. This semester, however, several skeptical males are enrolled in Miss Vance's Modern Dance Class. When Dutch Greene, Ross Herron, Roy Kidd, Ed Miracle, Carl Oakley, Larry Roth, and Bill Vendel attended the first meeting of this class, they were heartily welcomed by shrieks of delight from the other students.

In many colleges modern dance is equally popular with boys and girls. Being a relatively new course on our campus it has yet to achieve the prominence of such long established subjects as English, history and mathematics. Although these novices may consider themselves human guinea pigs their role is of the greatest importance. Their interest and success in this class may determine the future of modern dance at Eastern.

Time was when I was becoming very adept at pushing this pen around with my paws but that was before O. V. C. Since that weekend when I stowed away in one of the O. V. C.-bound cars and visited the Louisville hotels, I haven't even had the energy to try that stunt. All I can say is "Thank goodness, it only comes once a year!"

O. V. C. what memories!.....Who were the prohibitionists who would not "hit the bottle" but who invested in a box of Bourbon flavored candy?.....It seems that the American Legion in the Seelbach Hotel was a very popular place that weekend.....Eastern fans were very disappointed when a certain referee didn't make the all-tournament team!.....I don't think Thurman Hamlin made the O. V. C. this year, I guess he was too busy in the Eastern grill taking the place of Charlie Langston, especially in the hearts of all the co-eds.....

Bob "The Colonel" Faust seemed to be spending all his time chasing Annette Jeter. Does anybody know if he ever found her?..... Betty Jo Williams trapped George Hembree in Louisville. The fine paid to get out of that trap was a diamond on her third finger, left hand. Congratulations are in order there.....Jim Baechtold and Bill Bales must like Louisville! They didn't get back from the O. V. C. until Monday night. No, the truth of the matter was that they stayed to see Seton Hall eke out an 83-81 victory over U. of L.....

We hear "Hacksaw" wants an O. V. C. every weekend. Think you could stand it, Mr. Mason?..... Everything starts at O. V. C. Wonder what will develop from the Bill Skaggs-"Dece" Daniels and Peggy Hinton-Howard Gracey twosomes..... All that brightness you see on the campus is the medals the R. O. T. C. boys are shining up in preparation for the Military Ball..... We notice an old couple back in circulation are Ann Barker and Tommy Holbrook..... Taking Ann's place with Eddie McNaab we see Mavis Sandlin..... All we can say is if you ever need any help from the E Club, call on Lou Daniels. He's the old standby especially for escorting basketball queen candidates to the throne..... We were glad to see former Easternites Bobby and Helen Coleman showing off their son at one of the last Eastern games..... It's old news by now but we haven't congratulated the former Helen Burke, on becoming Mrs. Gene Wells..... Could U. K.'s basketball team have something to do with the ill-fated romance of Dean and Roger? Nobody seems to know what's going on there..... Gwenn Combs seems to be such a happy little gal now days. Looks like Arthur King might be the reason..... Tommy McAnnelin seems to be looking the girls over lately, when will he pick out that one lucky lucky girl?..... I want to nominate Helen Keen and Woolery Haynes for "the most perfect couple of the year." I've never seen two people so much in love..... Shirley Spires always seems to be getting her name in this column. The lucky fellow that is under her spell this time is Gene Jones..... Say, how do you like that flashy red coat that Ginny wears? Something new..... Why don't you people do something so I won't have to wear out my four feet in order to get the lowdown on a few of you. After that O. V. C. ride, my body is black and blue from being jolted around. I guess I'm just getting too old for this night life. How about giving me a break for the next issue, huh? Oh, my aching back! Meow!

Student Teachers Await Assignments
A host of 75 seniors will soon receive assignments for student teaching in various schools in the state. They will begin the actual teaching under critic teachers on March 10. The first six weeks of the semester will be taken up in observation.

Society Editor Covers Game

BY BRUCE BATES
Journalism II

(PROGRESS society writer, Bruce Bates, assigned to cover the Eastern-Western game here on Feb. 9, gives us his version of the Maroons' 73-62 win over the Hilltoppers.)

On the evening of February eighth, Eastern was host to students and the athletic staff of Western.

Although the celebration was not scheduled to begin until eight, most of the spectators had arrived by seven-thirty in order to participate in the pre-game festivities.

One of the high points of the evening was the entrance, unannounced, of Mr. Ed Diddle and Mr. Paul McBrayer, consultants to the Eastern and Western teams, respectively. Mr. McBrayer wore a pair of light gray trousers and a gray sportcoat.

Mr. Diddle was attired in a beige overcoat, plain pin-stripe suit, and a lovely cerise cravat, which, however, clashed frightfully with the shade of magenta with which his countenance became suffused as the game wore on.

At this point the activities were interrupted by the appearance of the Eastern five. Clad in beautiful white sweaters and maroon skirts, they made their way to the center of the ballroom floor and there began to yell encouragement to the delighted audience. These five are known as the cheerleaders.

Immediately preceding the game, all activity ceased for a moment of prayer, led by Rev. Carmichael of the Presbyterian Church.

The audience fell into a respectful silence as the game began. After a suitable length of time the intermission. The audience arose en masse and went into the parlor, where refreshments were being served. Although the orchestra played several appropriate numbers, few people danced.

During the first two acts, the participants in the game had, through some oversight, been shooting for the other team's basket. During the intermission someone must have taken them aside and pointed this out, for when they resumed the game, they changed around and shot at their own goals for the remainder of the evening.

Eastern's team perpetuated their lead through the third and fourth inning, until the final score stood; Eastern, 36½ goals; Western, 31 goals.

It was evident that Mr. Diddle had been anticipating a loss, for he had brought along a large towel into which he would occasionally bury his face and sob.

Maroon Band Is Popular Here

By Howard Coop
"Say, what is that I hear? Sounds like music to me."
"That is the band going to the basketball game. They never miss."

This is a familiar conversation that can be heard almost any evening when strangers come to Eastern's campus to see the Maroons on the hardwood.

And that isn't all. Everytime there is a game on the campus one thing is sure—there will be music by a portion of the marching Maroons to cheer the "big E" on to victory.

Every game the past season the fans have been entertained and the team cheered by the band. Mr. Harold Atkisson, director, has been there with the hard working members of the band to lend their support to the Maroons by giving the fans music, enthusiastic cheering to the team, and a lot of color to the entire event.

This portion of the marching Maroons does not go to the games just to blow horns and beat drums or even just to see the games. They go to make all kinds of noise. Their first purpose is to cheer with their music through the game but they do not stop with their music. They become one of the most enthusiastic cheering sections in the gym. They, when cheering lags, become the spark plug that puts life back into the fans.

The fans take the band and their contributions to the game for granted. It is easy to forget the other side of the picture. There is work in preparing for the games. The members are used to practice and hard work. There is always something else or even a date that is forgotten but come what may, the band is at the game giving plenty of support.

Western, 31 goals.
It was evident that Mr. Diddle had been anticipating a loss, for he had brought along a large towel into which he would occasionally bury his face and sob.

Intramural Fives Await Tournament

Ten intra-mural teams, playing under such assorted names as the Bulldogs, Dukes, Moonshiners, Gunners, and Jitterbugs, under the supervision of Coach Fred Darling, have been competing against each other since February 5. These teams will continue playing until a date for the tournament has been officially set.

When the last shot has been made during the regular season, the tournament will soon shift into full swing.

These teams do a fine job in building up the competitive spirit among the male students at Eastern.

There is still time for anyone wishing to join a team to do so. Contact any of the players or captains of the teams with which you desire to play and they will give you the particular details.

GREEN PLANS TO COACH

Walt Green, a senior from Portsmouth, Ohio, who has been an outstanding offensive guard for Eastern the past season, plans to join the coaching ranks next fall. Although Green has not made a choice yet, he has had several positions offered to him.

Letter to Editor

"It has been my opinion that the student body here at Eastern does not know enough about the school's pep club. Yes, the Kyma Club is very under-rated.

This worthwhile club is made up of about 30 members who have worked for at least a year to earn their "E's". The club is headed by Bobby Elder as president, and Bobby Garret as tryout manager. There are also approximately 30 prospective members, who have been earning points all year in hopes of obtaining enough to receive an "E" and becoming full-fledged members. The members and tryouts of this club are the

Magician Benjamin Working His Way

Everybody has met, talked with, or seen college students who worked their way through medicine, dentistry or the ethics of hog husbandry, selling oil stock, hopping bells, waiting on tables, stoking a boiler, or driving anything from a ten ton truck to a sport coupe for an address.

But when Eastern opened this semester, Benjamin (Ben Turpin) found himself in his junior year as a result of his tricky habit of pulling rabbits out of hats, swallowing razor blades, baking magical cakes, or talking with ghosts and hobgoblins.

Featured in his show are many new and baffling tricks such as the Floating Lady, the Daring Mail Bag Escape, the Mystery Rabbits, the Bathing Beauty, and many others. At each performance Benjamin gayly solidifies smoke rings into rainbow handkerchiefs, catches flapping goldfish on the auditorium floor, plucks lighted cigarettes floating in the smoky atmosphere and nightly sends his pet canary, Oscar, in brass cage invisibly, back home.

Benjamin, (Ben to you) is a graduate of Madison High School and is majoring in pre-med studies. This Richmond native hopes to continue working his way through school by using his spare time wisely.

ones you see slaving behind the counters selling cokes, candy and programs, at all the football and basketball games. The Kyma Club is the sponsor of the always-successful Homecoming parade. Also sponsored by the Kyma Club are several dances, pep rallies, and the popular Kyma Club picnic held each May at Boonesboro Beach. Does any other club dare challenge the Kyma Club for the "most active" title?"

Maroon Five Ends Campaign

King Basketball is gone. With regular season play ended, college and high school cage squads are winding up the 1951-52 campaign as the leading sport of the state once again completes another great year.

Eastern's Maroons, who finished the season with a 13 win and 11 loss record, had a good year despite the fact the record may seem un-impressive. Even in those eleven setbacks, the Maroons let their foes know they were battling one of the best ball clubs in the nation.

Rough Schedule

Look at Eastern's schedule and you will know that it was one of the toughest in the nation. It is the belief of the PROGRESS that the Maroons played more teams invited to the National Invitational Tournament than any other team in the nation. Look at the NIT lineup; LaSalle, Seton Hall, Dayton and Western. Eastern took on all these on one road trip. Add to that Louisville and you have the Maroons playing five of the teams picked as the best in the nation. What other collegiate crew in America can make that statement?

Eastern split with the Hilltoppers, dropped two to Dayton and UL, and bowed at Seton Hall and LaSalle. Dayton edged the Maroons 60-59 here and Louisville eked out a 72-70 verdict in Weaver Health Building.

Seven of Eastern's 11 setbacks this year came at the hands of teams now playing in the NIT.

It was a long and tough season sprinkled with joys and hardships. Probably the biggest triumph of the campaign was the 73-62 beating handed the Western Hilltoppers on the local court to avenge an earlier 69-63 defeat at Bowling Green.

Injuries Too

In addition to the bold schedule there was that old injury jinx along with the loss of two 6-5 regulars. In important stages of the campaign, injuries worked like clock-work in sidelining Elmer Tolson, Roger Geyer, Jim Baechtold, Bill Bales, Stan Stanford and Bob Mulcahy. Maroon mentor Paul McBrayer found it impossible to have any permanent starting lineup.

But the Maroon and White made the best of difficult situations. Always, a hard fighting, well coached team represented Eastern on the playing court.

WRA News

By BEVERLY WILSON

Basketball season is well under way for us athletic gals at the gym. Our practices have been leading us more and more towards the tough schedule that lies ahead.

Tuesday, February 12, we had a scrimmage game with the Model High School G. A. A. Our team netted 24 points while they scored only 12. The G. A. A. has a fine little team and it just seemed to be a bad day for them. Our gals are all on the ball, however. We are ready and waiting for the University of Louisville on the 8th of March, and also looking forward to the other eight games we have scheduled.

Our news is limited this time, but soon we will have more news, hot news, and bigger headlines for our fast moving team. Hope you will keep up with us in the issues to come.

"And so the farmer says to the salesman—"

Darling's Trackmen Await Season Meet

BY JIM BINGHAM

Seven non-conference track meets are being planned for Coach Fred Darling's Eastern Thinclads. These meets are home and home events with Union, a newcomer to Eastern's track schedule, Berea, Georgetown, and a single meet being held at Tennessee Tech.

The O. V. C. track meet will be held again this year at Cookeville, Tennessee. Eastern was undefeated last year in non-conference meets while finishing third in the conference meet.

Coach Darling plans to build the team around returning lettermen Jack Jones and Jack Bond. Jones set O. V. C. records last year in both the high and low hurdles and was a main stay to the squad. Jack Bond, speedster hailing from Lafayette High School in Lexington, was another point-getter for the Maroons in both the 100 and 220 yard dash events.

The following boys are returning lettermen on whom Mr. Darling is relying to give him his second undefeated season in a row. 100 yard dash: Jack Bond, Joe Harper. 220 yard dash: Jack Bond, Hank Mayo, Bill George. 440, Don Augsback and Jim Dudding. 880, Gordon Fleck and Jim Hanlon. 1 and 2 mile run, John Jones and Bill George. High Hurdles, Jack Jones. Discus, Shockley, Chuck Schmidt, Bingham. Shot Put, Shockley, Schmidt. Eastern lacks a veteran pole vaulter and strength in the distances. If Coach Darling can discover some new talent in these lines, he may have hopes of winning the conference championship.

WESTERN TO NIT MURRAY TO NAIB EASTERNITES TO AAU

That's the lineup of OVC basketball squads for the coming weeks. A crew of former Eastern Maroons, playing for an amateur team in the state, have won the state title and earned the right to represent Kentucky in the AAU playoffs soon to be held in Denver. On this team are Joe Harper, Jim Bingham, Walt Kinney and Bobby Moore.

Western's Hilltoppers, OVC champions, will be in the National Invitational Tourney in New York and Murray has decided to take a try at the NAIB in Kansas City.

Voice of Eastern

Another fine OVC basketball tournament has gone into the record books. Once again thousands of Kentuckians journeyed to the "big town" to see their favorite pastime. These thousands also enjoyed a pleasant weekend stay shopping, visiting and what have you. Long live the OVC tourney. It's a fine holiday for fine people.

TOURNEY ECHOES. . . Hundreds of fans and several coaches complained about the often booted men in the striped shirts known as referees. We all know that sometimes even the best officials doing a fine job will be criticized—after all—one of two teams in-involved in the game must lose! . . . However. . . why doesn't the conference go out right now and seek the best officials in the country for the 1953 tournament. Surely in these United States of America there must be four qualified unbiased referees that would get the approval of the six or eight coaches who may be concerned in the next meet. . . As a starter, this column suggests colorful and efficient Jim Enright of Chicago (he's the rotund whistle tooter that so many local fans enjoy). Then there is also Norris Ward of South Bend, Ind., and Bowser Chest of the SEC! Our tournament is not a financial failure. For a few more greenbacks the best can be had. Are you listening Mr.

Shively, Director of Officials! We will still give Eastern's Bill Bales the nod for All-OVC over some of those guards selected. Did you know that two of the seven conference coaches did not vote for the all-star squad. Why not select an all-conference team on regular season play and let the respective coaches submit their votes at the meeting just prior to the tourney?

Jim Baechtold has been voted the top spot on Tennessee Tech's all-opponent team. The "big cat" got 46 of a possible 50 points in the voting. Closest to him in the voting was Murray's Benny Furell. No doubt, Baechtold will make several more all-opponent squads as he did last season. . .

Swimmers Open Here March 10

Eastern's swimming team swings into action here in the Weaver Health Building pool in a meet with Berea College on March 10 at 7:30 p. m.

Additional home meets are planned with the University of Kentucky and Tennessee teams. Meets to be held in "foreign waters" are tentatively planned with these same schools in addition to the AAU meet to be held in Louisville.

The team is planning to function with a 10 man travelling squad. At present, two of these positions remain open for want of a breaststroker and backstroker to fill in the second position in the starting lineup.

Several other positions are open on the squad which lacks experience and reserves.

CALL IS ISSUED FOR TENNIS PLAYERS

Several members of Eastern's tennis squad of last year that won the OVC championship have been lost by graduation and the call to the armed forces. A call has been issued for all interested netters to contact Don Augsback. Plans are in the making for another fine team this year. Several positions on the Racquet crew are open for newcomers.

SPRING PRACTICE STARTS

Spring football practice this year, in accordance with the latest NCAA regulations, will be for 20 full practice sessions beginning Monday, March 3.

Coach Tom Samuels, aided by line coach Fred Darling, will be working a 32 man squad through the brief spring workouts.

The opening game next fall will find the Maroons at Toledo, Ohio, on Sept. 20 for a night game with the Toledo University Rockets.

At least 13 gridders from this year's team will be lost by graduation. Additional loss of personnel is expected by calls to the armed forces.

Spring football drills are here. That means the grill will be less crowded. . . Jim Dudding, Don Bales and Harold Kittrell have earned some "pin-money" this winter by officiating high school basketball. . . SCOOP—Watch for a story to break soon on "a certain" OVC school using ineligible baseball players!
