'Christmas Carol' Reading To Open Yule Festivities

EDIE TAYLOR

The reading of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" will be given by Glen Wilson, member of the English department faculty, in the Little Theater Sunday, December 5th, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

According to the tradition of Eastern's campus this is the first activity of the Christmas season and is the opening event for other festivities.

Mr. Wilson, a native of Rock Cave, West Virginia, holds an A. B. and a master's degree earned at West Virginia University. He has also done two years' work toward his doctorate at Ohio State University where his major interest was drama. This is Mr. Wilson's second year as a faculty member at Eastern.

Miss Pearl Buchanan, member of the English department faculty, who gave this reading for a number of years and established it as a tradition, is unable to give the program this year because of poor health.

"A Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, is the delightful story of Scrooge, the hard-bodded, tight-fisted businessman, who found what the spirit of Christmas means through the help of the ghost of his dead partner, his nephew, Tiny Tim, and the spirits of Christmases past, present, and future.

STATE KNEA CONVENTION HEARS ABOUT YEAR'S TRIP IN DENMARK

Miss Madge Gambill, Eastern student who has returned to Kentucky after studying for six months in Denmark, spoke today at a luncheon meeting of the College Division of the Kentucky Home Economics Association in the Brown Hotel in Louisville. She spoke on her trip to Denmark.

Others from Eastern attending the meeting are Nancy Stone, vice-president of the College Division of K. H. E. A.; Shirley Duggar, junior home economics student; and Miss Willie Moss, res Cooper, sophomore home economics student; Thelma Arthur, freshman home economics student, and Miss Willie Moss, state advisor to the College Division of K. H. E. A.

Miss Frances Urbin Lyle, field secretary for the American Home Economics Association, was the principal speaker Thursday after noon. Her subject was "Helping the College Girl Gain a Professional Attitude."

Colleges represented at the conference are Murray, Morehead, University of Louisville, University of Kentucky, Centre, Western, Georgetown, Nazareth, Bethel, Campbellsville and Eastern.

Eastern's delegates will remain in Louisville through Sunday for the annual meeting of the Kentucky Home Economics Association which begins tonight. Dr. J. W. Gladden, University of Kentucky, will be the main speaker for this session. His subject will be "Family Relationships."

Council Hears 7 Resolutions

COMMITTEES START INVESTIGATING FACTS

Seven resolutions which have been submitted by members of the student body were presented to the Student Council Monday, November 1, by Roger Stephens, senior.

These resolutions are:

1. Resolved that the current parking problem be investigated and alleviated if at all possible. Be it further resolved that the librarian have a permanent parking place reserved for her.

2. Resolved that the women on the campus be permitted to wear anything at their discretion in the way of a fad or otherwise as long as it remains within the bounds of common decency.

3. Resolved that the Student Union Building be kept open to fit the needs of the students. This might be accomplished by means of a campus vote.

4. Resolved that prices on recreational equipment in the Grille be investigated and lowered if at all possible. For instance, pool prices are outrageous.

5. Resolved that a public address system be installed in the cafeteria.

6. Resolved that menus of the cafeteria be posted in the Recreation Room in advance and in the Progress if at all possible.

7. Resolved that Grille equipment be improved with the addition of ash trays and such and that reasons for misuse of furniture be investigated.

Editors Note: Since these resolutions have been presented personnel of the administration staff have taken definite action to improve conditions described in these resolutions. Those conditions now being investigated are the parking problem and women's dress. Equipment rates in the Grille have already been lowered 25 per cent.

VETERAN'S CLUB LISTS HOLIDAY ACTIVITIES

The newly organized Vet's Club is progressing rapidly. Their meetings are held monthly at an appointed hour, usually in the Little Theater. The actual membership of the club is 110, but the possible membership is 295.

A dance, which will be given "on campus," is being planned for sometime between the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Presnell's Happy "We Made It!" Starts Campus Jubilation

By DON FELTNER

The hopes and dreams which have been in the hearts of our Eastern Maroons all season, became a reality Tuesday afternoon when Coach Glenn Presnell walked proudly, behind his lovely wife, who was beaming all over, into the athletic office, after returning from Orlando, Florida, and spoke the following words: "We made it!"

No more than two minutes after the coach arrived in Richmond, the entire student body and nearly all the town people knew that the Maroons had gotten the bid to play in the Tangerine Bowl Classic at Orlando on New Year's Night.

The gala mood that was created on Eastern's campus and around the town of Richmond continued until the waning hours of the next morning, as students staged pep rallies and began making their plans for a wonderful Christmas vacation in the deep Southland.

The decision to select Eastern was reached Monday night after a nearly all night debate by the committee.

"Eastern Kentucky was chosen over several other of the eligible colleges and universities because it has always been the policy of the Tangerine Bowl committee to select the two best small colleges in the nation," Ed Mayo of the committee explained.

The Maroons' closest rival in the mad chase for the second berth in the Classic was Florida State University, but the committee felt that FSU should no longer be considered in the small college class. Also, they felt that it would be better to get an out-of-state team.

Four hundred tickets are scheduled to arrive in Richmond today. Priced at $4.75 and $3.00, they will be on sale at the athletic office and at Hinkle Drug as soon as they get here. All Eastern alumni are asked to order their tickets from the Eastern athletic office in order that all Maroon fans can sit together.

The Maroons will be facing one of the two teams in the nation with nine wins and no defeats. Besides leading the country in victories, Omaha has a 13-game winning skein over the last two years. The Maroons' Tangerine Bowl opponents are also the leading scoring team in the nation, having scored 353 points.

The Maroons will begin practice about the second week in December in preparation for the Tangerine Bowl tilt. Coach Presnell announced that his athletes would

Education Honor Frat Pledges New Members

Eleven juniors and four seniors have accepted invitations to become members of Kappa Delta Pi and will be initiated into the Delta Alpha Chapter, the local group, on Wednesday December 1st.

Juniors who were tapped and have pledged the honor fraternity are Nancy Lou Jackson, Mary Elizabeth Johnson, Carol M. Kidd, James R. Love, Diane Miller, Marilyn Mulvanity, Shirley Pettit, Paul W. Polly, and Robert E. Taylor. Seniors accepting membership were Maxine Hines, Ann Quinn, Dorothy Thomas, and James Alender.

Membership in Kappa Delta Pi is by invitation from the local chapter to junior, senior, and graduate students who plan to teach, who have a scholastic standing in the upper percentile of the institution which they attend, and who have outstanding qualities of personality, educational ideals, and leadership.

A banquet in honor of the initiates given by the members of the local chapter will be held at Boone Tavern, Berea, following the initiation service on the evening of December 1st.

CHESS FANS FIND FUN IN ORGANIZING CLUB

The Chess Club has reorganized with the sponsorship of Dr. Paul C. Nagle, history department faculty member, and elected Roger Alexander, junior; and Warren Perez, sophomore, co-presidents. Connie McCormick, sophomore, was elected secretary.

The purpose of the club is to give those who can play chess the opportunity to play, and those who cannot play the opportunity to learn. The membership is now large enough for five tables of chess. The club meets every Thursday night from 7:00 to 9:00 in room 202 of the Student Union Building.

HEARTFELT THANKSGIVING IS DEMONSTRATED

Thanksgiving is almost here, and the place on campus where this is most evident—and has been since Hallowe'en—is the Elementary Training School. Here saying their prayers (which probably include something like, "And please God, don't let Miss Rubarts spank me for putting that frog in her coat pocket.") are Nancy Jane Wilkinson and Kay Moberly. Both children are in Mrs. Mabel Jennings' first grade class. Supervising the prayers—and also keeping both eyes open for a sudden giggle or a swift kick under the table—is student-teacher Dean Rubarts, senior. Innocent and angelic as Nancy and Kay may appear while they are saying their prayers, it soon became obvious that they have other things on their minds—such as Thanksgiving dinner. But who knows what a child is thinking?—perhaps they think the bright-colored turkey they are putting up on the bulletin board is too pretty to eat!

Let Us Give Thanks . . .

It is almost the season of the year which we call Thanksgiving. And it is a season of happiness, of joy, of good times. It is a season in which to give thanks. We here at Eastern have many, many things to be thankful for.

Let us give thanks for the wonderful weather and the beautiful landscape on campus which have made this autumn at Eastern one of the brightest seasons of the year . . . . . for a good season in football, which has done a lot for Eastern this fall . . . . .

. . . for the wonderful spirit on campus this fall that makes everybody yell just a little louder and smile just a little broader . . . . .

. . . for a Homecoming no one will ever forget . . . . . for a Student Council which is doing a great job, considering that this is just a trial year . . . . .

. . . for just being able to go to college, when we know so many, many people who can never have this privilege . . . . . for the classes we hate, and those we like, because we are learning something in all of them . . . . .

. . . for the parties and dances and good times Eastern has had this year, because they are an intricate part of college life, and make us feel that we are really a part of a school . . . . .

. . . for the right to come and go as we please, and to state our opinions as we please without fear of anything or anyone . . . . .

. . . for one of the friendliest campuses anywhere . . . . . and for four years of our lives which we will never forget.

. . . And Offer Up Prayers

Thanksgiving is also a season in which to pray for many things—things not only for ourselves but for others. In any season, or at any time during the year, we can pray, and we should pray, for things, but this holiday season is a special time to offer up prayers.

Let us offer up prayers that some of us can do a little better at the end of the year than we did at mid-semester, in our grades . . . . .

. . . that the seniors all live through practice-teaching without too many headaches and nervous breakdowns . . . . . that our basketball team can do as well as the football team did . . . . .

. . . that we may learn something in our courses this year, regardless of whether it has to be pounded into our heads or sinks in easily. . . . .

. . . that the many people on campus who are not really a part of Eastern in their social life—especially on the weekends—may feel, by the end of the year, that Eastern is really their school . . . . .

. . . that we can all learn a little about things besides psychology and history while we are in college . . . . . that the rest of the world can be as peaceful, on the outside, anyway, as this country is . . . . .

. . . that some day every young person in the world can have the same opportunities that we do . . . . . that Eastern may keep expanding and growing as much as it has in the past several years . . . . .

. . . that Eastern may keep the warmth and friendly spirit that it has now . . . . . that no one here may ever forget how to have a "ball" . . . . .

. . . that no one may ever forget how lucky he is to be here . . . . . and that everyone may have a wonderful Thanksgiving!

. . . that no one may ever forget how lucky he is to be here . . . . . and that everyone may have a wonderful Thanksgiving!

. . . that no one may ever forget how lucky he is to be here . . . . . and that everyone may have a wonderful Thanksgiving!

The Petty Complaint Department . . .

Eastern is one of the most unpatriotic-looking schools in the country.

Well maybe this is a rather broad statement, but it may be true. You can look this campus over, that is, outside the buildings, and not find an American flag. More than likely many other schools in the United States do not have an American flag flying on the campus, but is this any reason why Eastern shouldn't?

One of the best investments Eastern could make this year would be a flag. Then we can walk across the campus and perhaps feel that Eastern is what it is meant to be—an intricate part of a great American system of education.

The Progress Salutes . . .

Ginnie Durbin

Eastern's "Miss Popularity" needs no introduction. Ginnie is a beautiful 5' 5" senior elementary education major with brown hair and blue eyes, from Lexington, Kentucky. She is well known by everyone on campus for her charming smile and friendly "Hello."

This semester you will find that most of Ginnie's time is occupied by the second grade in the Elementary Training School, since she is doing her student teaching under Miss Story. Next fall Ginnie hopes to be teaching the second grade.

Ginnie is a very active member in every organization to which she belongs. She was the Homecoming Queen candidate from Kappa Delta Pi; vice-president of Collegiate Pentacle; treasurer of Burnam Hall House Council; fire chief of Burnam Hall; co-chairman of the Daily Life Section of the Milestone; chairman of the Usher Committee; a cabinet member of the YWCA; a member of the Big Sisters Club; and during her sophomore year was the president of Cwens and during her junior year was junior-advisor of the group.

Southern ham and jam cake are tops with Ginnie. Her hobbies are reading and trying out new recipes. Also, Ginnie has musical talent. Her roommate insists that Ginnie really has a very good voice; in fact, many times she wakes up to her songs! After some questioning Ginnie also admitted that she could once play the Hawaiian guitar. Ginnie's pet peeve is "people who are always complaining or griping."

Ginnie is one of the sweetest and most willing workers on the campus and well deserves to be saluted.

COMING ATTRACTION! VOLLEYBALL SEASON

Now that the cold out of doors is behind us attention will be focused on a little white ball and a seven foot net. That's right! Volleyball!

There are many who might be interested in playing on a team. If so, come over to the gym and present yourself. There are about 14 teams from which to choose your membership. It isn't necessary to be a W. R. A. member. Volleyball is a game that everyone can enjoy. It's a team game where no individual holds the limelight, and where no individual is at fault for a mistake that has been made.

We would like to see a lot of you over at the gym, so see if you can't forsake dear old Burnam, or the Grill for one or two afternoons a week from four to five o'clock. We guarantee a good time if you are really looking for fun and relaxation. After all, with all of the hours college students put in on studying in this 20th century, there is definitely a need to tear away and think of other things some of the time!!

Maroonettes Lose To Reds

The W. R. A. met with its first loss of the season in the University of Cincinnati on our home pitch. Eastern has never beaten these big gals from the north and, although the Maroonettes put everything they had into the game, the Reds just outplayed the Maroon team.

This was the last hockey game of the season and the last inter-collegiate game for three graduating seniors, Bev Wilson, four years as left inner; Nan Langford, two years as wing; and Maxine Hines, first year member.

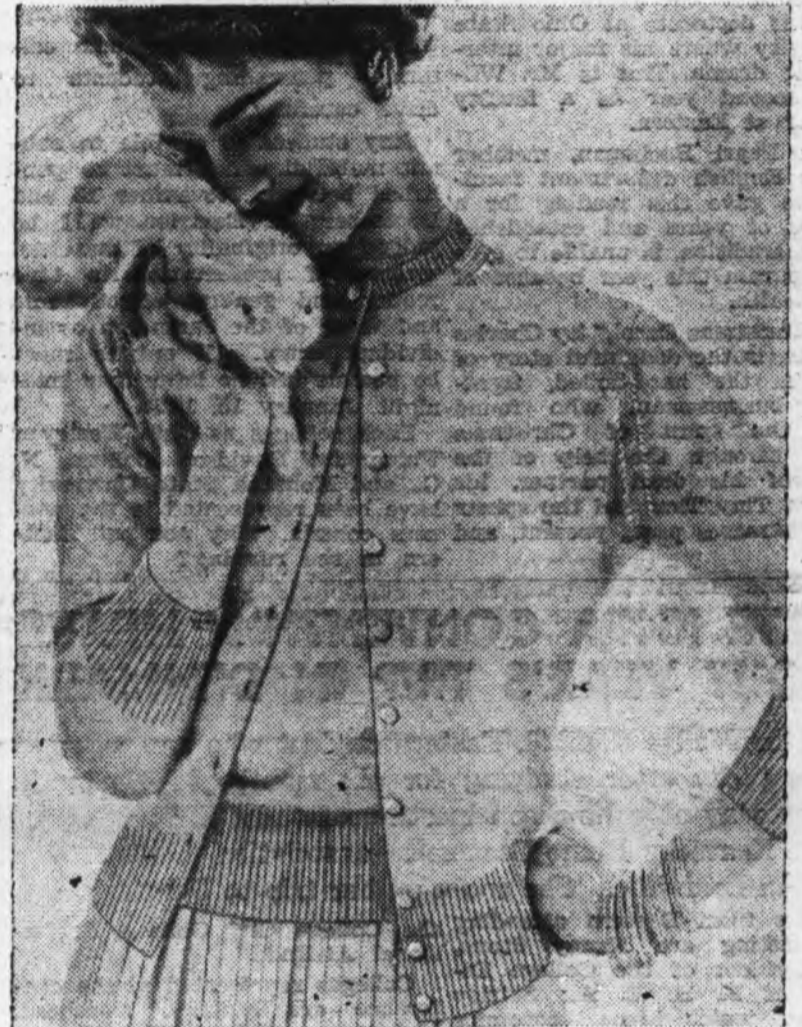

The first half was an even match. Both teams were on the offense in turns, and, although the backs from Cincinnati were really on their toes, the score was kept down to a tie of one to one when the period was over. Bev held down so well.

Wilson scored for Eastern with a drive from Florene Conn, right wing, after a corner was taken.

The last half told quite a different story when Cincinnati came back so strong against Eastern's team. It seemed as if the breaks were all against the Maroonettes as the Cincy team tore through to Eastern's goal zone with beautiful passing and terrific drives. Early in the period two more goals were chalked up in favor of the foes and near the end the visitors came through with three others. Eastern's girls were tiring out since they are not accustomed to the conditioning which U. C. players go through.

The game ended with a score of 6-1 in favor of the Reds, but as U. C. are definitely out of E. K. S. C.'s class, the Maroonettes thought it was a wonderful game and had loads of fun. U. C. played big schools in the north that have terrific teams, and after the discovery that U. C. had defeated the Dayton (Ohio) Hockey Club, the backs from Cincinnati were a semi-pro group from the Great Lakes section, Eastern's players thrilled to know the Reds were when the period was over. Bev held down so well.

Meet The Faculty

By JANE PAYTON

"I love school and shall continue to do so. Particularly I love Eastern, since I'm one of its 'products'. I feel that I owe something to this institution after having spent all my life on this one campus." Mrs. Mabel W. Jennings, assistant professor of elementary education, made these statements in a recent interview. She says she gets much personal satisfaction from teaching.

MRS. JENNINGS

A native of Williamsburg, Kentucky, Mrs. Jennings moved to Richmond when she was only four years old. She was graduated from Eastern with a B. S. degree in education and also received her master's degree here. In fact, she is the first teacher to begin school at the elementary training school, then graduate from Model High School, receive a degree at Eastern, and then receive her master's degree here and teach in the training school.

Mrs. Jennings' husband also graduated from Eastern and is now a United States postal clerk in the local post office in Richmond.

Taught Here Nine Years

Mrs. Jennings has taught for nine years in the training school. Prior to these years she taught for two years in the Richmond City School System.

Her hobby, and one she dearly loves, is playing bridge. She also likes to watch television. Her favorite food is country ham.

She likes to refinish old furniture. She laughingly says, "all the old furniture that I refinish usually has to be refinished again after I get through with it, but I enjoy doing it!"

Likes Sports

She enjoys sports, as an observer. Her most active exercise and "enjoyment," as she calls it, comes from chasing the first-graders around her classroom.

This classroom is something to see, too. It really proves that first graders are as smart as anyone. The walls and bulletin board are full of samples of the children's work, and also in evidence is the work of several of the practice teachers.

Never Dull

Asked about the patience required for disciplining the children, Mrs. Jennings would only reply, "There's never a dull moment."

Although very much engrossed in her work at the training school, Mrs. Jennings is still interested in campus events. In previous years, she has been a faculty sponsor of the YWCA and a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

Her father is also a member of the faculty of Eastern. He is Dr. Samuel Walker, assistant professor of mathematics.

After nine years of teaching here, whether by choice, chance, or inevitability, she still feels that she owes something to Eastern, and one cannot help but feel, while watching her tell the first graders a Thanksgiving story and seeing their eager little faces, that Eastern owes something to Mrs. Jennings, too!

A winning smile and a glowing personality are very descriptive characteristics of Mrs. Jennings, a believer in the maxim, "Out of the mouths of babes oft times come thoughts. . ."

Faculty Facts

President O'Donnell, Mrs. Seever, Miss Moss, and Mr. Carty attended the annual dinner meeting of Eastern alumni in Ashland November 4 during the Eastern Ky. Education Association meeting. President O'Donnell spoke to the alumni of that area at the dinner.

Mrs. Richards, alumni secretary, and Mr. Richards and Dr. Keith attended the alumni luncheon in Newport November 5 which was held during the Northern Ky. Education Association meeting.

Mr. Whalin, head of the industrial arts department, attended the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Industrial Arts Association in Chicago last week.

Dr. Dorris, curator of the college museum, was in Columbia, S. C., last week for the meeting of the Southern Historical Association.

Miss Burrier, head of the home economics department, and the other members of the department, Miss Moss, Miss Regenstain, and Miss Slater, are attending the meeting of the Kentucky Home Economics Association in Louisville today. Miss Burrier will remain over Saturday for the meeting of the State Dietetics Association. Miss Regenstain is state secretary of the Home Economics state advisor for the college clubs.

Representing Eastern at the state meeting of college clubs Thursday were Miss Nancie Lee Stone, senior, who is vice president of the state home economics college club; Miss Madge Gambill, of Thelma, member of the senior class; Miss Shirley Dugger, junior, of Corbin; Miss Thelma Arthur, Dover, freshman; and Miss Dolores Cooper, Ft. Thomas, sophomore. Miss Gambill has just returned from Denmark, where she has been serving as a member of the Kentucky FHA delegation. She was the luncheon speaker at the club meeting Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Tarwater and Dr. Fred P. Giles attended the art section meeting of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Lexington, Kentucky. The program was built around the subject "Enriching the Child's Experience and Knowledge Through Improved Art Program in the School."

D. J. Carty, public relations director, is in Louisville this week to represent Eastern to the seniors of all the Louisville high schools who are attending a college-vocational guidance conference in that city. Mr. Carty will return tomorrow.

ROTC ELECTS QUEEN, SPONSORS FOR CORPS

The unit sponsors for Reserve Officer's Training Corps were recently elected for the current school year by the members of the corps and the Knights of the Artillery.

The corps sponsor for this year is Julianne Weidekamp, who was elected by the Knights of Artillery. The corps sponsor, who must be a senior, will reign as queen of the Annual Military Ball and will be the R. O. T. C. candidate for the Homecoming Queen.

The battalion sponsors are Janice Burton, 1st Battalion, and Carlene Babb, 2nd Battalion. They are also elected by the Knights of Artillery.

Roundtable To Feature Arts and World Affairs

Dr. R. E. Jagers, a professor in the Department of Education, has announced the following programs to be presented over Station WEKY, Richmond, Kentucky. These programs, The Eastern Roundtable, are broadcast at 6:30 p. m. each Sunday evening.

On November 21 the World Affairs Club will present a program on the United Nations. The panel will be led by Miss Pattie Poyma, a senior student at Eastern.

Dr. Fred Giles, head of the Art Department, will present a program entitled, "The Field of Fine Arts," on November 28.

What's Your Opinion?

By JANET HARKLEROAD

Since it's so close to Thanksgiving, what do you think Eastern has to give thanks for most?

Betty Lucas—freshman, "We should be thankful for our freedom and friendliness that dominates the campus."

Sandy Sharpe,—junior, "Eastern can be thankful for their wonderful football season and that we haven't had any serious injuries."

Doris Marcum—senior, "By going to Eastern you can experience sincere friendship, and I think that's one of the many things we have to be thankful for."

Phyllis Holt—freshman, "We should be thankful for the O. V. C. championship."

John Barrett—junior, "We've got a lot to be thankful for, really, this year—O. V. C. and possibilities for a basketball season like the 'good old days.'"

Bob Joyce—freshman, "We should be thankful for our nice campus and friendly students. The atmosphere on the campus makes the students feel energetic and want to make something out of themselves."

Maxine Hines—senior, "We should be thankful for all the improvements that have been made on the campus in the past year. And along with complimenting the students on their friendliness, I think we should be grateful for a very understanding faculty."

Tom Gill—freshman, "I think we should be thankful for winning the O. V. C."

Ernie Arnsparger, junior, "I think we should be thankful for all the swell people we meet at Eastern."

WHY COLLEGE STUDENTS GET GRAY . . .

Burnam Tries To Burn, Everyone Decides To Go To Florida, And The Boys Stage A Raid—All In One Day!

At approximately 5:45 a. m. Tuesday morning, Burnam Hall was one of the most peaceful of places. Everyone was asleep except one rather bored mouse, two parakeets, and Mrs. Bales, the night supervisor. The only sounds were innumerable peaceful snores and two leaky faucets. Burnam had probably never been so quiet.

Then Mrs. Bales smelled smoke. She searched for the source, and when she couldn't find any signs of fire, she went downstairs to the basement to find an old reliable friend to get her to help look for the fire. "Old Reliable" was dead to the world and nothing short of an earthquake or a swift kick in the ribs could rouse her. Mrs. Bales dragged her roommate out into the hall and together they knocked on a few doors to see if someone's waste paper basket was burning.

What A Heck Of A Time!

Mrs. Bales, now really getting worried, set off the fire alarm, called the fire department, and began wringing her hands. Approximately four hundred girls woke up and thought, "What a heck of a time to have a fire drill!" and then turned over to go back to sleep. But the darned fire alarm just wouldn't stop buzzing, so somebody finally realized that there must be a fire somewhere in the dorm. The girls charged out of bed, put on their raincoats, wrapped towels around their heads, and ran to the lobby. There several remembered that they had left their roommates asleep, and that the poor things would probably burn to death. So, like good roommates, they all went back upstairs to drag the sleepy innocents out of bed.

Prized Possessions

It is simply amazing the things girls will take with them when they think they may not be able to save anything else in a fire. In the lobby that morning were girls carrying their boy-friends' pictures, checkbooks, two parakeets, one bathing suit, a lesson-plan for practice-teaching, a portable radio, two orchids left from the homecoming dance, one black party dress, two fur coats, and one rather battered teddy bear. Everybody else was too sleepy to bring anything but themselves form their rooms.

When the girls finally learned that the fire was probably from a motor in the basement somewhere, everybody looked at their watches and decide to go to the cafeteria for breakfast. Tuesday morning's cafeteria records show that there was a great boom in business. Rumor has it that Miss Melvaine, the cafeteria supervisor, is going to set off the alarm in Burnam every morning if it will bring in that much business.

More!

The dorms, just before supper, are filled with tired, hungry students who are just sitting around talking over the day's activities and listening to WEKY on the radio. Tuesday afternoon, shortly after four o'clock, the radio suddenly blared out the announcement that Eastern had accepted a bid to play in the Tangerine Bowl game on New Year's night. Then the whole campus looked like they were running to or away from—a fire. In five minutes, everyone knew the news, and an impromptu pep-rally and snake-dance were being staged. Everybody at Eastern with a car which just might be Florida-bound during Christmas vacation suddenly became extra-popular with the other students.

Don't Tell Him!

One enterprising boy is planning on building a raft and floating down the Mississippi to the game. No one has had the heart yet to tell him how far Florida is from Mississippi River.

And Still More!

Burnam, after nine o'clock, is a scene of great activity, in the form of hair-rolling, bath-taking, and nail-polishing. About ten o'clock, when nothing much was going on, someone happened to comment, "Gee, hasn't this been a day and a half! A fire scare and a bowl bid, all in one day!" Then she glanced out the window and suddenly screamed, "My gosh, it's an invasion from Mars! Either that, or . . ."

It turned out to be "or". Outside were fully half of Eastern's male population, intent on raiding Burnam. They were coming from all points on the campus, streaming toward the dorm.

The Sound Effects:

And inside? Well, it sounded something like this: "Lock the doors!" "No, open them!" "No, lock them!" "Let's go down to the lobby!" "No, let's stay here!" "Joan, take down that washing from the line and hide it, quick!" "Oh, I just know Jim is right in the middle of that crew!" "What'll we do?" "Ann, for heaven's sake, get out of the bathtub!" "I can't help it if you've got shampoo on your head—put on some clothes!" Things were a little noisy, but it was all in fun, and everybody was having a good time. The boys stayed in the dorm only a few minutes—but when they left, they took a few souvenirs with them.

By 11:00 things were quieting a little and everyone settled down again. Once more the boys gathered in front of the dorm, but if they had come in they would have found several girls holding fire hoses in the lobby waiting for them, just hoping to give some unsuspecting male a free shower.

Peace Again!

After so much excitement, the girls just threw their books in a corner somewhere and went to bed. Lights went out here and there, as Burnam Hall settled down for another night of peaceful sleep. The now not-so-bored mouse came out of hiding, and the leaky faucets began to drip quietly. A few peaceful snores were heard. Another day, another dollar!

Let's Talk Sports

WITH DON FELTNER

Amidst all the uproar and excitement of the possibilities of the Maroons receiving a bid to the Tangerine Bowl, we will try to pass on all the latest dope and news that is happening or has happened in the sports light the past couple of weeks on and around Eastern's fair campus.

It certainly has been hectic these past two weeks. Excitement galore built up for the Western game two weeks ago, and then the homecoming celebrations provided all the color and excitement one could hope for as we all had a wonderful, but busy weekend in making this 1954 homecoming the best one ever. After the Maroons' decisive victory over U. of L. ended an undefeated season, the Tangerine Bowl Classic was the topic of interest around this section of the state. Everyone got all enthused over the chances of Eastern being a participant in the "Small College Orange Bowl."

We think that O. C. Halyard, whom, undoubtedly, all of you have heard giving his very accurate play-by-play descriptions of all the Maroons' games, both home and away, should be given a pat on the back by all of us for the terrific job he has done in encouraging the town folks to support the Maroons. If any of you heard his sports program last Friday evening, you know exactly what we are talking about. Mr. Halyard devoted the entire program, appealing to the public to send telegrams to Orlando, Florida, and let the Bowl Committee know we are 100 per cent behind the Maroons. In view of all O. C. has done for the school and the team, we would like to take this opportunity to say to the popular sportscaster "Thank You" for a job well done.

Halyard

This corner would like to thank the student body and everyone that has been responsible for all the wonderful school spirit here at Eastern the last two weeks. Honest to goodness, it has been the best exhibition of loyalty we have ever witnessed. Do not think for an instant, that the school officials and the football team are not appreciative of the backing you, the student body, has been offering. If the Tangerine Bowl Committee could only have heard the pep rally that was held in the auditorium Monday afternoon, they would have reached a decision in Eastern's favor a lot sooner.

In order to recognize all the persons who have been responsible for the great season our Maroons have enjoyed, we would be writing a book instead of a column. However, we will do our best to do as good a job as possible in the space allotted us.

The Maroons really did a bang up job of soundly thrashing Western. Not only do we know that, but also the sports writers who covered the game for their respective papers. Harry Bolser of the Courier-Journal was high in his praises of the Maroons' victory over the Hilltoppers. The friendly sportswriter described the outcome of the game in the following words: "The festival mood that swept the 'Hilltop' campus as the homecoming celebration got underway, died as the shadows lengthened over a crushed Western team in the fourth period. Tonight, the old 'Hilltop' was silent as a mountainous Maroon-hued 21-0 was emblazoned across a star-lit sky." He added the following sentence. "Eastern, playing like champs, committed few errors and flashed a versatile attack."

Bert Borrone, sports editor of the Park City News, Bowling Green's chief paper said of the Maroons' win: "Western, in its 40 years of football, has been whipped far worse. But this reporter seriously questions that Western, in all its 40 years, has ever been more sorely pressed or challenged with such severity for the full 60 minutes as yesterday (Nov. 7)."

Jim Hanlon, senior quarterback who has led the Maroons to their campaign, played an All-American caliber of football against the "Toppers. The popular field general figured in all the scoring, throwing two touchdown passes and scoring the third on a punt return. He far outshone Western's highly publicized Jerry Nassano, as he has outshone every quarterback in the conference this fall.

Hanlon

This corner is anxiously awaiting the selection of the all-conference team that will be released in another month or so. We, honestly, do not see how the committee can overlook at least six of our Maroons. Frank Nassida is definitely the best tackle in the loop. We think that Karl Bays ranks a close second, with Western's Jerry Passafiume third.

But, we'll pick Nassida as a certain first team selection. Jerry Johns is one of the top two guards in the conference and Jerry Boyd is, in our opinion, the top center. Don Daly is a certain selection, as is Jim Hanlon, at quarterback. Hanlon's closest competitor will be Western's Nassano. Although Bob Muller missed three ball games, we think the selection will go to Bob. Either of our two ends, Fred Wincher or Tom Schulte, should be named on the first team. We'll just have to wait and see, so we'll let it go with this before getting into a lengthy discussion.

Don Daly is the rushing leader for the season. The hard-running halfback carried the pigskin 110 times, gaining 716 yards, while losing only 17 yards to give him a net gain of 699 yards or an average of 6.35 yards each time he toted the leather. Chuck Bell was second, with 377 yards in 55 carries for a 6.13 average. In the passing department, Hanlon completed 29 of 64 passes for 471 yards and 9 touchdowns. Tom Schulte, frosh end, and senior Fred Wincher were the leading pass-receivers. Schulte gathered in 10 aeriels for 161 yards and four touchdowns as Wincher snagged 10 aeriels for 149 yards and 3 scores. Horace Harper, sophomore halfback from Elberton, Ga., averaged 36.7 yards on punts to lead in that department, while Daly and Hanlon were tied for the scoring leadership with 5 touchdowns and 30 points each.

Bob Snively, swimming team coach, asked us to announce that all who are interested in trying out for the swimming team, meet with him in the locker room at 4 p. m., Monday, Nov. 22. Meets have been planned with teams such as Tennessee Tech, Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Berea, and Louisville. Contact Bob or Richard Fleck if you are interested.

Coach McBryer asked us to pass on this information concerning your I. D. cards for the basketball season. The "Big Irishman" said that all students must present their cards before they could get in the games. No receipts or excuses would be accepted.

HANLON TO HARPER—Eastern's Horace Harper grabs a pass from Jim Hanlon good for 6 yards in the third quarter of the Maroon's homecoming tussle last Saturday. Number 34, Louisville's George Cain, comes in for the tackle.

Season's Final Game

Maroons Top Cards 20 - 6

The faint smell of Tangerine blossoms that has filled the atmosphere around Eastern's campus the past two weeks grew stronger after the Maroons ended their great season by trouncing Louisville's Cardinals by a 20-6 count to become only the second Eastern grid team to go undefeated.

One of the largest and most colorful homecoming crowds ever to appear at Hanger Stadium watched the Maroons employ their powerful running attack to gain yardage almost at will and run up a quick lead over the Cardinals. The Cards, however, were not to be conquered without a battle, as they came back immediately after the second Eastern touchdown to narrow the gap 13-6 on a 101 yard kickoff return by halfback George Cain. From this point on, the Cardinals fought for a losing cause the remainder of the game. They were a fighting crew, though, and were scrapping until the final whistle sounded.

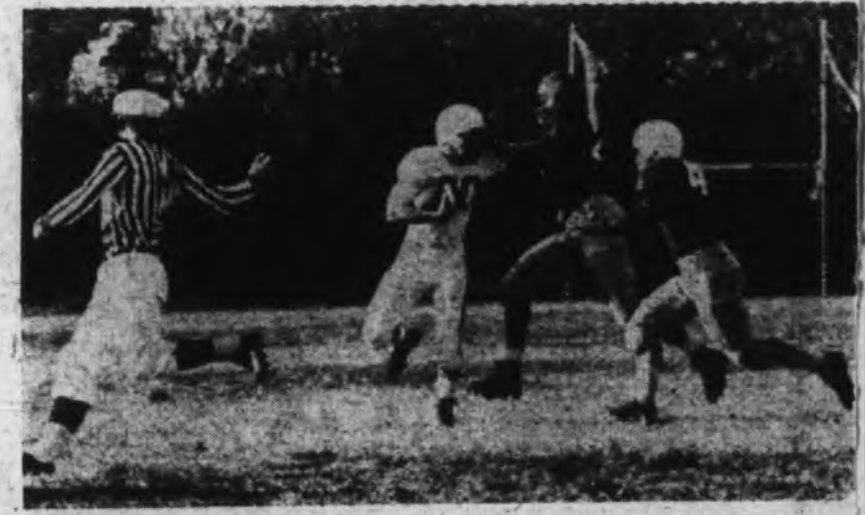

The Maroons scored the first time they had the ball, driving 52 yards in 7 plays. Don Daly, with spurts of 3, 15, and 23 yards, led the drive that carried to the 5 yard line. From there, fullback Bob Muller, on two line thrusts, plunged over for the score. The scoreboard clock read 9:20 remaining in the first canto when Don Hortman's kick sailed between the uprights to give the Maroons a 7-0 lead.

The Maroons advanced as far as the 12 yard line late in the first period but a pass interception ended this threat.

With 10:28 to go in the second quarter, the Maroons drove 59 yards in 10 plays to tally their second marker of the afternoon, with Jim Hanlon's 9 yard payoff pass to Fred Wincher climaxing the drive. Ernie Rigrish's extra point kick was wide and Eastern led 13-0.

Louisville fans began to come alive as speed-merchant George Cain, a freshman halfback, pulled in Don Hortman's long kickoff a yard behind his own goal line, and raced down the north sidelines 101 long yards to score without a hand touching him. Pete Tomerlin's kick was blocked by Fred Wincher and the Maroons led 13-6 with 10:11 left in the second period.

Horace Harper, Maroon sophomore halfback brought Eastern followers to their feet late in the second period when he got loose and skirted 43 yards to get to Louisville's 49 yard line before D. Hortman, 2, placement.

BELL PICKS UP 7—Chuck Bell picks up 7 yards against U. of L. Cardinal guard John Noon and fullback John Sowa bring the speed; Bell down on Eastern's 40 yd. line.

Game Ends 21 - 0

Maroons Defeat Hilltoppers

A fighting and determined band of Eastern Maroons played as perfectionists Saturday, Nov. 6th, to hand their arch-rival Western Hilltoppers their first setback of the season and bring the championship of the Ohio Valley Conference to Richmond before a capacity homecoming crowd of nearly 7,000 fans at Bowling Green.

It was an ideal day for homecoming in Bowling Green and the huge, colorful gathering at Western Stadium occupied every seat in the stadium and anxiously awaited the opening kickoff in this 27th chapter of the rivalry between the two conference powers: Eastern vs. Western.

Both teams went into the game with the most outstanding records in the history of the rivalry, which began way back in 1914. Eastern was undefeated in 12 games and Western was unbeaten in 9 games. The championship of the conference was at stake and both teams were definitely fired up for this clash. The story, however, was a matter of the Maroons, of Coach Glenn Presnell playing flawless ball, completely outclassing the "Toppers," and taking full advantage of Western's mistakes.

The loyal throng of Eastern followers gave the Maroons their complete backing and provided that extra punch to the local gridders. These faithfuls who followed the Maroons to Bowling Green made up part of the crowd that was described by Kelly Thompson, public relations director and assistant to the president at Western, as the largest gathering ever to witness an athletic event at Bowling Green.

Practically the entire game was played in the Western's territory as the Maroons put on a sustained drive almost every time they had the ball. The deepest Western was able to penetrate into Eastern soil was the 40. On only one other occasion did the Hilltoppers advance past the midfield stripe; that time getting to the 43.

Western won the toss and elected to receive. Jimmy Aurs returned Don Hortman's kick from the 5 to the 27. Jim Gunnel, right half, got 5 and Aurs got the first down on the 39. Gunnel made 3 and Nassano's pass intended for Sparks was incomplete. Gunnel lost 2 and fumbled with Karl Bays, Maroon right tackle, pouncing on the pigskin on the Western 40. Three rushing plays netted only 4 yards and Dutch Greene punted to Western's 5 yard line, with Aurs getting back to the 14. Aurs got to the 16 and a Nassano pass failed. Nassano, attempting to pass, was thrown by Maroon right end Fred Wincher, back to the one yard line. Aurs punted 27 yards to the 28. Eastern drew a 5 yard penalty back to the 33. Two Hanlon passes failed and the third attempt, the senior quarterback hit Tom Schulte, freshman flankman, for the score. Hanlon passed for the extra point, hitting Greene in the end zone for a 7-0 lead with 8 minutes remaining in the initial period.

Late in the first period, Eastern drove 65 yards in 13 plays to Western's one yard line only to lose the ball on a fumble.

Eastern's next score came with 2 minutes remaining in the first half when Bob Muller set the scene by intercepting a Nassano pass on his own 45 and racing down the sidelines to Western's 30. Daly got 14 to the 16, Muller got one and Greene added 7 to the 8 yard marker. Hanlon, faking nicely, tossed to Greene, who grabbed the ball in the left flat and went over unmolested for

SEASON OPENER SET FOR DEC. 1

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT FOR A GREAT BASKETBALL CAMPAIGN

The sport limelight is slowly, but surely, being shifted from the grid to the cage game as college basketball teams around the nation are preparing for their nearing 1954-55 seasons.

Here at Eastern, the Maroons of Coach Paul McBrayer are hard at work in prepping for their season opener with Centre College on December 1st.

In an interview with Coach McBrayer, the "Big Irishman" stated that he was expecting a highly improved team over last year's outfit. "Last year we had only two lettermen with which to mold a team, and those two men were not regulars the year before. This year we have seven men who lettered last season and that much experience will be the difference," McBrayer further commented: "I have been highly pleased with the practice sessions so far as the boys have shown plenty of desire and hustle."

The biggest problem McBrayer has is to find the right man to hold down the pivot post and the forward opposite Jack Adams. Adams, a top-flight sophomore performer last year, who was named to the all-Conference and all-KIT team, is a sure starter, while the other forward and the center positions are wide open.

Guards Strong

When Coach McBrayer was asked about the prospects of the guards, we caught a glimpse of a gleam in his eyes as he spoke with nothing but optimism in his words. Ron Pellegrinon, Dick Culbertson, and Guy Strong are all excellent boys and will all three be the regular guards. Pellegrinon, a 5-11 junior from Portsmouth, Ohio, is the only one of the trio who was on last year's squad. Culbertson, a 6-2 junior from Columbus, Ohio, was a member of the 1950-51 and 51-52 teams before he entered the service. He is greatly improved since last playing for the Maroons and is heavily counted upon for this campaign. Guy Strong, 6-2 from Irvine is expected to come through in top style to be a mainstay at one of the guard positions.

One of the four big men will be counted upon to man the two remaining "hole" positions. Jim Floyd, 6-8 senior from Carrollton, Ky., J. D. Brock, 6-4 sophomore from Lily, Ky., Bill Baxter, 6-6 senior from Glasgow, Ky., and Clay County, are mighty fine looking forwards and Larry Redmond, 6-2 and John Ratliff, 6-00, both from Newport, and Jim Kiser, 6-2 from Carter, Ky., are excellent guard prospects. In addition boys like Brooks, Sears, and Woolum look good.

Last year the Maroons were 11th nationally in field goal shooting percentage, hitting on 40.2 per cent of their shots. In scoring they were 23rd with an average of 76.7 points per game. But still, they won only 7 of 23 games. Coach McBrayer, with the same tone of voice that characterizes leadership in every phase of the word, pointed out two weaknesses of last year's club: No. 1—Terrific defensive weakness, due to inexperience and lack of team speed and, No. 2—The fact that Eastern led the nation in the number of personal fouls committed. They averaged 28.4 infractions a game to gain that undesirable distinction.

Among the Maroons' 19 game schedule are teams such as the University of Louisville, rated among the top three teams in the South, North Carolina State, picked among the top five nationally, Xavier U., always a strong team, the University of Virginia, which boasts a boy by the name of Buzz Wilkinson, who last season was third nationally in scoring, averaging 30.1 points in 27 games, the University of Toledo, winner of the Mid-American Conference last year, who participated in the NCAA Tournament, and Loyola of the South, one of the Sugar Bowl teams this year.

"The conference," McBrayer pointed out, "will be the strongest since it was organized." Morehead, Middle Tennessee and Murray have practically the same personnel back, while Western will again have a good outfit. In fact, one newspaper in western Kentucky read something like this: "Ed Diddle could start a fivesome whose overall speed very likely would be the greatest in the country. He could start another unit averaging 6 feet 8 1/2 inches! He could integrate these two and two-platoon a lot of enemies into exhaustion." With the foregoing in mind, we can expect the conference to be one of the strongest in the entire country.

MAROON MAINSTAY — Jack Adams, talented 6-4 forward, will be the backbone of the Maroon attack this year. He was chosen on the all-conference team last season as a sophomore, and also on the first Kentucky Invitation Tournament team.

Weddings

HALLIDAY—PRESLEY

The marriage of Miss Janice Halliday of Louisville and Ernest Presley of Canton, Ohio, took place Saturday, August 28, at the Portland Avenue Presbyterian Church in Louisville.

The couple was married by Rev. C. R. Gleason. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, E. C. Halliday, Jr.; her only attendant was Miss Margaret Ann Roberts. The groom's best man was his father, E. D. Presley.

Mrs. Presley is attending Eastern; Mr. Presley received his B. A. degree in June from Eastern and is now serving in the U. S. Army.

MAUPIN—HLADD

Miss Betty Lee Maupin, Berea, Ky., was married to Michael

Thomas Hladd, Dequesne, Pa., Friday, November 5, in the Louisville Shawnee Presbyterian Church at 8:00 in the evening. Both Eastern students, Mrs. Hladd graduated at the end of the 1954 summer term and Mr. Hladd is now completing his work.

After a short wedding trip they returned to Lexington, Ky. where they are residing at 203 Sycamore Road.

YOUELL—BROCK

Miss Susan Youell and Wade Brock were married at the First Baptist Church in Richmond on September 26. The bride's attendant was Mrs. Nancy Allison; Reed Brock was his brother's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock are both attending Eastern.

CAYWOOD—GAITHER

Miss Elizabeth Ann Caywood of South St. Michell became the bride of Douglas Gaither of Detroit, Michigan, on May 30 at the First Presbyterian Church in Richmond, with the Rev. Oliver Carmichael and Donald Hopkins officiating at the ceremony.

Mrs. Gaither is teaching music at Eastern and Mr. Gaither is in the U. S. Army.

MUSGRAUE—KOLAKOWAKI
Miss Doris Musgrau became the bride of Robert Kolakowski in Frostburg, Maryland, on July 24.

ENGAGEMENTS

Miller-Turner

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Miller of Carrollton, Ky., announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Kathryn Miller of Cincinnati to Mr. William Thomas Turner, Jr., of Owensboro, Ky. Miss Miller is a graduate of Eastern in the class of 1950. Mr. Turner, a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, received his Master's degree from Illinois Institute of Technology and the Institute of Gas Technology. The wedding will take place December 4.

Bottom-Lee

Mr. and Mrs. Hughey E. Bottom of Mackville announce the engagement of their daughter, Ina Jewell Bottom, to Robert Louis Lee. Miss Bottom was graduated from Eastern in this year's class. Mr. Lee served with the Air Forces during World War II. The wedding will take place November 27.

Junior Alumni

Mr. and Mrs. Deward Eades announce the arrival of a son on October 9. He has been named Erik Deward and is being welcomed by a sister, Enid Marie, age 3. Mr. Eades graduated from Eastern in 1949 and received his Master's degree in 1951.

Lt. and Mrs. Robert Spicer are the parents of a baby daughter, Janet Marian, born on June 19. The parents are both graduates of Eastern in the class of '53. Lt. Spicer is with the 9th Infantry Division in Germany.

A daughter, Debra Susan, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bob McHenry on September 7. The new arrival is being welcomed by two brothers, Bobby, age 8, and Tommy, age 5. Both Mr. and Mrs. McHenry are graduates of Eastern: Mrs. McHenry in the class of '45 and Mr. McHenry in the class of '48.

Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell have chosen the name, Anne Clare, for their daughter, born August 6. Anne is being welcomed by a sister, Joy, and a brother, Ned. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are both graduates in the class of '50. Mrs. Campbell, the former Jeanné Murbach, is the daughter of Mrs. Janet Murbach of the faculty at Eastern.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Clark are the parents of a new daughter, Kelly Anne, born on August 16. Kelly Anne is being welcomed by a brother and a sister, Michael Alan, age 2, and Candace Lynn, age 4. Mr. Clark was a member of the class of 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Parrish announce the arrival of a daughter, Valerie Ruth, on October 11. Mr. and Mrs. Parrish have two other children, Mark Jean, age 3, and Gregory Alin, age 16 months. Both Mr. and Mrs. Parrish were members of the class of '51.

300 Easternites in Dance; Rally

"Hail Eastern Maroons" was the spirit of a pep rally on Thursday November 11 which ended in Snake Dance through the campus and down town area of Richmond. The school cheers and the songs were enthusiastically yelled and sung by over three hundred students who participated. The rally began on the steps of the Student Union Building here Coach Glenn Presnell, head football coach; Coach Fred Darling, assistant coach; O. C. Halyard, manager of Richmond's radio station, W. E. K. Y.; and many of the football team gave rousing talks on the undefeated season, the O. V. C. championship, and the homecoming game.

Attendance At H. C. Sets Record

According to Mrs. Mary Richards, faculty field worker with the Alumni Association, approximately 1500 alumni returned to Eastern's campus to attend the Homecoming activities.

Thirty-two of the 1954 graduates registered with the alumni office. The class of 1916 was the earliest class represented.

Four hundred tickets were sold to the alumni for the bar-b-que held in the cafeteria following the game.

An estimated 350-400 people attended the dessert party in Walnut Hall following the bar-b-que, according to Mrs. Richards.

Mrs. Richards also states that this was one of the largest homecomings in relation to alumni attendance on record.

Kappa Delta Pi's At National Meeting

A delegation from Eastern's Delta Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi will be among the representatives attending the regional conference of Kappa Delta Pi to be held at Miami University on Saturday, November 20th.

Those attending from our college are Roger Stephens, Jackson Lackey, Margie Ann Ramick, Beverly Wilson and Miss Ida Teater, club sponsor. Some of the topics for the day include "Some Aspects of Leadership," "The Problem of Communism in Our Schools," "The Place of the 'Arts' in Our Schools," "Education vs. Atom Bombs for World Understanding," and many others vitally important to students throughout our country.

Betty Pack Queen For Homecoming

Miss Betty Pack, Paintsville junior at Eastern State College, was crowned Eastern homecoming queen in a ceremony before the Eastern-Louisville football game Saturday. She was sponsored by the junior class of the college. Don Jett, Richmond, president of the KyMa club was her escort for the coronation, and Dr. W. F. O'Donnell, Eastern president crowned her. She was given a trophy presented for the Eastern Alumni Association by its president, Owen F. Cammack, Lexington. It was announced at the game that the Harlan County float was judged first in the Saturday morning parade.

TEN STUDENTS HONORED IN R. O. T. C. REVIEW

In accordance with the provisions set forth in current Army Regulations Colonel N. Y. Grubbs, the PMS&T at Eastern State College, and with the concurrence of President W. F. O'Donnell, ten ROTC students were designated Distinguished Military Students at a Review held Friday morning, October 29, at Hanger Stadium.

These students are:
Cadet Colonel Ronald H. Smiley, Corps Commander, Prestonsburg, Ky.

Cadet Major James A. Snow, Corps S1, Richmond, Ky.

Cadet Major Jesse A. Keltner, Corps S3, Somerset, Ky.

Cadet Major Baldwin L. Brutscher, 1st Bn Ex Officer, Louisville, Ky.

Cadet Major Glenn S. Morris, 2nd Bn Ex Officer, Hamilton, O.

Cadet Major Harold J. Fraley, 2nd Bn S3, Greene, Ky.

Cadet Captain Thomas R. Howell, CO, Battery B, Richmond, Ky.

Cadet Captain William R. Hensley, CO, Battery C, Richmond, Ky.

Cadet Captain Robert L. Roby, CO, Battery D, Shepherdsville, Ky.

Cadet Captain Harold L. Johnson, CO, Battery F, Pikeville, Ky.

This distinction comes to these students by reason of their demonstrated qualities of military leadership, moral character, aptitude for military service and excellence in scholastic accomplishments during the year of training just completed.

By maintaining these high standards of leadership and accomplishment until graduation they will then be eligible for designation as a Distinguished Military Graduate and upon their application, eligible for consideration for permanent appointment as a commissioned officer in the Regular Army.

the score. Ernie Rigrish kicked point and the Maroons led 14-0 as the half ended two minutes later with Western in possession on their own 33.

Dutch Greene, turning in one of his best performances, largely was responsible for the final Eastern marker when the senior half-back's punt rolled dead on the 5 yard line of Western midway in the third period. Western, after three rushing attempts, found themselves on their own one yard line, and the Hilltoppers were forced to punt. Don Neimier booted a low end-over-end kick and Jim Hanlon hauled the pigskin in and cut for the sidelines to go all the way, without a hand being laid upon him. Ernie Rigrish's kick sailed between the uprights and the Maroons led 21-0, with 8½ minutes remaining in the third period. The Maroons threatened again in the third canto, as the conference champs drove 74 yards in 13 plays to get to Western's 6 yard line. A pair of Hanlon passes were broken up by Western's disturbed defenders and the threat ended on the 6.

The situation looked gloomy indeed for the Hilltopper fans throughout the contest, with the exception of one play, which was nullified because of an off-sides infraction. Jim Chambliss, Western halfback, got loose on his own 40 and scooted 55 yards before being caught from behind by Chuck Bell on Eastern's 5. The play, however, was called back because of over-eagerness on the part of Western's line.

As the game ended, the Maroons, with second and third stringers in, had moved the ball to Western's 10 yard line as time ran out.

Coaches Presnell and Darling were carried off the field on the broad shoulders of their boys after the Maroons had soundly trounced the Hilltoppers and won their first Ohio Valley Conference championship in the 1 year history of the loop.

Eastern ran 71 plays and gained a net 305 yards in the total offense department as compared to Western's 108 yards in 48 plays. In the rushing department Eastern led 224 to only 54 for the 'Toppers and led in first downs, 17-4 to completely dominate the statistical standpoint.

Scoring by quarters:

Eastern	7	7	7	0	21
Western	0	0	0	0	0

Eastern scoring: Touchdowns: Schulte, Hanlon, Greene. Extra points: Greene (pass) Rigrish, 2 placements.

Pre-Meds Elect Bickers President of Caduceus

The Caduceus Club organized for the year 1954-55 recently elected Everett Bickers as president, David Eversole as vice-president, Mary Helen Collins as secretary, and Ramona Fletcher as treasurer. Mr. Meredith J. Cox, member of the science department, is the advisor for the club.

They have a total of twenty members, including former and recently added members. Requirement for membership in the Caduceus Club is a scholastic standing of 1.5. The purpose of the club is to bring together the students who are planning to study some phase of the medical sciences such as pharmacy, medicine, or physics.

The programs consist of lectures by specialists from Berea, Lexington, and Richmond. The club also sponsors educational films.

The Caduceus Club meets on the first and third Mondays of every Building. Six former members of the Club are practicing medicine in Madison County.

CONVENTION HIGHLIGHTS RECALLED BY B.S.U.'ers

Twenty-five Eastern students and their B. S. U. director, Miss Marie Claypool, attended the Kentucky Baptist Student Convention the weekend of November 5-7 at the First Baptist Church in Hopkinsville, Kentucky. Bethel College was the host school. Approximately five hundred students from other colleges attended the convention.

The general theme of the convention was "Toward Twentieth Century Discipleship." Some of the outstanding speakers were Robert S. Denny, associate in the South-Wide Department of B. S. U. work, Nashville, Tennessee, Rev. and Mrs. Bill Dyal, missionary appointees to Guatemala, Dr. C. Oscar Johnson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, St. Louis, Missouri, and Dr. Ralph T. Overman, chairman of the Special Training Division, Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

In the words of Floyd Bryant, Eastern's B. S. U. president, "The convention was the most inspiring one I have ever attended. If I had been able to attend only one session, the trip would still have been worthwhile." Jane McDonald, devotional vice-president said, "Of course the speakers were marvelous, as always. And I wish everyone could have heard the music at the convention. Dr. Ira Prosser, who led the singing, really did a grand job."

The students who attended the convention are Jane McDonald, Shirley Dugger, Sarah Joyce Clark, Wanda Cox, Diana Miller, Jack Forman, Harold Smith, Betty Thompson, Nancy Jackson, Floyd Bryant, Lou McNabb, Yvonne Worth, Kathy Naylor, Jimmy Winn, Jackson Lackey, Frances Milam, Betty Tarkington, Frances Hackworth, Darrell Winninger, Biddie Worley, Mary Frances Thompson, Betty Lou Hammons, Sandra Hanks and Ken Scrogam.
