'MESSIAH' TO BE PRESENTED

The 27th annual presentation of Handel's Oratorio, "The Messiah," will be given Sunday, December 14, by the Eastern Kentucky State College chorus accompanied by Miss Brown E. Telford at the organ. This year's chorus is one of the largest ever with 250 voices.

The soloists will be soprano, Vasile Venettozzi, Richmond, Kentucky; contralto, Phyllis Jenness, Lexington, Kentucky; tenor, Russell A. Hammar, Louisville, Kentucky; and baritone, Donald Paschke, Berea, Kentucky.

Mrs. Venettozzi, a member of Eastern music faculty, is a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College and the Eastman School of Music. She was a student of Arthur Kraft. In 1956, she was one of the finalists in the Metropolitan Opera Audition for the Southern District. She has been a member of the Eastern faculty for the past nine years.

Phyllis Jenness, contralto and voice instructor at the University of Kentucky since 1954, has had leading roles with Arundel Opera Theatre, Kennebunk, Maine; New Jersey Opera Company, and Greenwich House.

Her Oratorio experience includes contralto soloist in "Messiah", "Elijah", Pergolesi "Stabat Mater", and many more.

Miss Jenness, a native of Massachusetts, sang professionally in New York from 1948 to 1954. She is now director of the choir at Everybody's Church, Lexington, Ky.

Russell A. Hammar, assistant professor, Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, received his B. A. degree from Hamline University, St. Paul, Minnesota, his M. A. from Columbia University Teachers College, New York. He is very active in church activities. He has been director of youth activities, Emanuel Baptist Church, Ridgewood, New York; Director of Music, Park Baptist Church, St. Paul, Minnesota.

He had appeared on Voice of Firestone, radio and television programs. He is also the Symphony Orchestra Conductor of Seminary Male Chorale.

Donald V. Paschke, of the music department of Berea College, is a native of Marinette, Wisconsin. He studied voice with Mae Graves Atkins of the Chicago Conservatory of Music from 1947 to 1951, with Bruce Foote at the University of Illinois from 1954 to 1958, and received his Master of Music in 1958 from U. of I. He was soloist at St. Paul's Evangelical and Reform Church in Chicago and director of choir at First Baptist Church in Urbana, Illinois. He was very active in operatic and choral work at the University of Illinois.

Information On Federal Loans

President O'Donnell, Walter R. Gattis, member of the commerce department; Ralph W. Whalin, head of the Industrial Arts department, and M. E. Mattox, registrar, attended the meeting held by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Louisville Dec. 5th to discuss the provisions of the National Defense Education Act.

It is expected that the President's office will within a few days receive the forms which students must use in applying for loans under the provisions of this act.

The chairman of the Louisville meeting was Edmund Baxter, a native of Richmond who received his early training in the laboratory schools on Eastern's campus.

Thirty-Four Seniors Selected For Who's Who

Each year those senior students who have made outstanding contributions to their school are honored by being named to Who's Who in American Colleges. This year 34 seniors have received this honor.

Scottie Barnett, Jr., is a commerce major from Louisville, Ky. His activities include Eastern Cadet Officers' Club, Jefferson County Club, Student Council, Sigma Tau Pi, and Intramural sports.

Janice Begley, from Beattyville, Ky., is a music major. She belongs to the Music Club, Music Council, Kappa Delta Pi, Eastern Choir, and Messiah.

N. Scott Brown, Louisville, is majoring in elementary education. She was feature editor of the Progress, President of Collegiate Pentacle, President of Jefferson County Club, Reporter and Historian of Kappa Delta Pi, and Secretary of the Student Council. Other activities are the Little Theater Club and Big Sisters.

Lois Elaine Carter is an elementary education major from Louisville. Among her activities are B. S. U., Y. W. C. A., and S. N. E. A. She is also Chaplain of the Senior Class and freshman counselor.

Roy Franklin Crosthwaite, Cheviot, Ohio, is majoring in English. His interests include Canterbury Club, Sigma Lambda, and Kappa Iota Epsilon.

Beverly Dansby is a commerce major from Louisville. She is co-editor of the Progress and is active in Big Sisters, Kyma, Choir, and Messiah.

Charles Glenn Fields, from Cynthiana, is an English major. He is vice-president of the Student Council and sports editor of the Milestone. His other activities are: Eastern Cadet Officers Club, Kyma, Canterbury, Sigma Lambda, House Council, K. I. E., Harrison County Club, and Intramural sports.

Ben Flora, Jr., is a mathematics major from Bellevue. Ben has been class treasurer for three years, Math Club treasurer for two years, treasurer of K. I. E., and president of Wesley Foundation. He is also president of the Physical Education Club, treasurer of Kappa Delta Pi, and treasurer of Oaks. His other activities are

S. N. E. A., Physics Club, Messia-

Gus L. Franklin is a mathematics major and comes from Bellevue, Ky. He is president of S. N. E. A., president of Oak, and vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi. His other interests are: The Music Club, Physics Club, Messiah, Choir, and Men's Dormitory Council.

Virginia Ruth Gabbard, Aurora, Indiana, is an elementary education major. Her activities include: House Council, Choir, Cwens, Collegiate Pentacle, Kappa Delta Pi, College Social Committee and R. O. T. C. sponsor.

Edward A. Hatch, Richmond, Ky., is majoring in chemistry. He has been class president for three years. He is active in the Biology Club, Caduceus Club, Pershing Rifles, Y. M. C. A., Swimming Team, Tennis Team, Eastern Cadet Officers Club, K. I. E., and Oak.

Willa Louise Haughaboo is a home economics major from Maysville, Ky. Her activities are: Home Economics Club, Y. W. C. A., Pi Tau Chi, Westminster Fellowship, and Big Sisters.

Estil M. Hobbs is a chemistry major from Louisville, Ky. He is president of Eastern Cadet Officers Club, vice-president of the Math Club, secretary of Oaks, and vice-president of K. I. E. His other interests include Pi Tau Chi, Pershing Rifles, D. S. F., and Jefferson County Club.

The Progress is again sponsoring the annual ping pong tournament to be held around the third week in January.

All those interested in seeking further information concerning this tournament should see Beverly Dansby or Tommy Logsdon.

Gladden To Speak On Love, Marriage

Collegiate Pentacle, the Senior Women's Honorary, will sponsor a Marriage Conference January 7 and 8. Dr. J. W. Gladden, Professor of Sociology at the University of Kentucky, will address the students at the following hours: 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. and 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. on Wednesday, January 7, and from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. on Thursday, January 8. All the meetings will be held in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. Topics chosen for the discussion are "Immature Courtships", "Premature Marriage", "Love is a Many Splendored Thing", "What is This Thing Called Love?"

The conference has been arranged by Collegiate Pentacle, of which Miss Scottie Brown, Louisville, is president, through the cooperation of their adviser, Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Dean of Women. All students of the college are invited to attend the lectures.

Rehearsal scene for Drum and Sanday's Christmas program, Wednesday, December 17.

First row: W. Haughaboo, Maysville; J. Watson, Lexington; S. Brown, Louisville; P. Lohr, Lexington; B. Dansby, Louisville; J. Begley, Beattyville; Second row: G. Franklin, Bellevue; R. Crosthwaite, Cheviot, Ohio; C. Swauger, Bellevue; B. Thompson, Louisville; B. Flora, Bellevue; B. Pidcock, Covington.

Assembly To Be Xmas Program

Christmas is a two-sided affair, and that will be the theme for the Dec. 17 assembly sponsored by the Drum and Sandal. The modernistic dancers will interpret Christmas carols such as "Deck the Halls" for the gay side of the Yuletide season. Reverence will be depicted by the more serious songs.

AMERICAN SUPERIORITY

When Congress heard last summer that the Pentagon was conducting studies on tactical surrender, they not only stopped these studies but they stated that "The United States will never surrender in the next war." This statement is typical of the Hyper-superior attitude, we as Americans have assumed. Are we arrogant enough to think we will never be defeated, or are we foolhardy enough to continue fighting even after defeat is obvious? One attitude is stupid, the other dangerous! What is it that makes us think we're so superior anyway?

Granted that we have developed the greatest educational machine of all time. With all our landscaped campuses, we haven't raised our standards. Instead, we've simply increased the percentage of mediocre students in our colleges.

Granted that we have history's highest life expectancy, we also have a greater number of miserable old people than ever before.

Granted that we have the best food supply ever possessed by a race; all this nourishment hasn't made us stronger; it's simply made us fatter.

Granted that we've built the most practical and widespread mass entertainment media ever devised. Few of our citizens are entertained; most are bored.

Granted that we have more leisure time than any group before us, we're not using it for anything. Most of us are just wasting it.

Granted that we have a higher church attendance than any previous group. Our morals aren't any higher. Our divorce rate is.

America doesn't have much to be arrogant about. We have virtually no friends. With the possible exception of jazz, we have developed no art forms of our own.

Our only admirable goal in life is to be called a "nice" guy. The cliches of our age aren't particularly inspiring. They run something like—"I'll never tell," "I don't give a damn," "you don't know do you," and "what's that got to do with the price of eggs in China?"

In the next few years we're going to be sitting across the bargaining table from a lot of world powers. If we think we're "better" than they are, nothing much is going to be accomplished.

We call ourselves a superior race largely on the strength of the fact that we've produced more appliances than any other nation in the world. Actually we're not the greatest race that ever lived, only the most comfortable. If it boils down to the fact that we must give up our superior attitude in order to avoid annihilation, by all means, let's adopt an inferiority complex for survival's sake.

"IF THE SHOE FITS, . . ."

For some reason this year, the students have aired their gripes and become very outspoken about what they like and, particularly, dislike about Eastern.

This is fine. We, as students, should think for ourselves and know what is wrong with life on the campus.

What is not fine is the fact that no student seems to be taking any positive action in clearing up the gripes. Everyone is willing to talk about it; no one is willing to do anything about it. All the action and talk, so far, has been negative; similar to that childhood stage of saying "No" to everything.

The first question after the gripe is, "What is being done about it?" The answer is that, as students, we are taking no positive action; but in the Administration Building I find that much is being done for the students. (I learned this by asking.)

I stopped being on the receiving end of the question "What are we going to do about it?" as, better yet, "What are you going to do about it?"

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,
We are members of the Off Campus Girls Club, and we have been wondering why no one has formed an Off Campus Boys Club. Since there are so many boys who live off campus, we are certain that it would be easy to form this club. If it is possible this club could be started and the two clubs jointly could sponsor extra curricular activities. We think it would benefit Eastern more because most of the students attending Eastern are from Madison County. It would give us credit for attending this college and playing an important role.

Thank you. Off Campus Club

Indisputable

Do you ever get in a conversation with someone who disagrees with everything you say? To combat this type of person the Progress staff spent much time (7 1/2 minutes) in a foreign climate (Reserve room-library), searching out a list of indisputable statements. The next time you get in one of these lopsided conversations try one of the following statements and see if he can disagree with it.

1. Money is money.
2. Tomorrow is another day.
3. One hundred percent of all mothers are women.
4. You're not as young as you used to be.
5. Blood is thicker than water.
6. Whatever will be will be.

Anyone who successfully disagrees with all six statements should be presented with a complimentary one-way ticket to Western. Good riddance!

SHOW TALK

The students on campus will have the opportunity to see two very good movies before the Christmas holiday. On Friday and Saturday, Dec. 12 and 13, I Accuse will be playing. The Barbarian and the Geisha will be shown the following Tuesday, December 16th.

I Accuse stars Jose Ferrer and Viveca Lindfors. It is an interesting, splendidly acted drama based on the infamous Dreyfus case of 1894-1902. Jose Ferrer, who is stern and unyielding, but rarely sympathetic, portrays the bearded Dreyfus. Viveca Lindfors, who imparts great dignity and charms to the only feminine role, does a magnificent portrayal of her character.

The Barbarian and the Geisha captures the sheer beauty of the Orient in Cinemascope and De Luxe Color. The cast is headed by John Wayne, who performs as General Hattori, first United States Consul to Japan following the fall of the shogun, and then as the hero of a historical incident. Movies are better than ever—by far.

The Spice of Life

Larry Knarr and Mike McGrath

In the past few editions, the name "Knarr" has been consistently misspelled "Knapp." By this time Mr. Knarr has developed an inferiority complex. However, Mr. McGrath has always had his name spelled correctly (perhaps the typesetter is fond of that Irish name). In order to prevent any dissension between the writers of this column, we hope the typesetter will spell Knarr's name correctly and McGrath's incorrectly.

- Xmas presents we would like to see given: Dandruff remover to Yul Brunner.
- List of hiding places for WEKY's next treasure hunt.
- Autographed photograph of Lassie for Mozart.
- Pair of shoes which do not squeak for Mrs. Hewlitt.
- Arrow shirt for Robin Hood.
- Blue suede shoes for the Barefoot Contessa.
- Raincoat for Dick Nixon, should he ever visit South America again.
- One-way ticket to Red China for the campus cop.
- Album of Calypso music for Fidel Castro.
- Cigarette lighter for "Smoky the Bear."
- Seeing-eye dog for the typesetter.
- Pass to the Democratic National Convention for Ora Mae.
- Dean Martin LP for Jerry Lewis.
- Salt for "Rockin Robin" (put it on his tail).
- Engraved suitcase for the notorious suitcase of all times: John Foster Dulles.
- Nest of termites for the "Howdy Doody Show."
- The Hangman's noose, that killed Tom Dooley, for that crackpot who wrote "Thumbs Down" in the last edition.
- Last, but not least, a copy of "Peyton Place" for editors so that they may censor to their heart's desire.

In our last column we attempted to define a few terms and phrases. We did a poor job. In this column we would like to get serious (for a change) and define the word "hypocrisy." We should also like to present a few glittering examples of hypocrisy which we encounter in everyday life. Incidentally, the writers of this column do not claim to be free of hypocritical actions. According to the dictionary, hypocrisy is the assumption of virtues which one does not actually possess.

We know a student who makes A's and claims to be an intellectual. He's ingenious only in the sense that he knows (and practices) 67 different ways of cheating.

We see the Commonwealth of Kentucky spend millions on UK's coliseum while many of our citizens anchor their ship in the harbor of illiteracy.

We observe students who call themselves music majors found in a state of ecstasy while listening to a current rock and roll hit.

And then there is the student who writes to his parents explaining how much he is learning. (The letters he writes violate every rule of grammar.)

Of course we all know the parents who tans Junior's hide for getting caught cheating on an eighth grade arithmetic test. This same righteous parent cheats the government out of $800 yearly by filing a false income tax return.

We must not forget those "rational" college students who attempt self-destruction on the highways of Kentucky.

Have you noticed the students who are constantly requesting that the windows be opened because he wants fresh air? Well, we noticed him just after class nonchalantly inhaling the most impure air that exists—cigarette smoke.

"OH, SAY CAN YOU SEE."

To the immortal words of Francis Scott Key. We can at least answer "yes". We can see, and hope to continue seeing "Old Glory" wave over Eastern's campus.

She gained her post (or I might say pole?) in 1955, the gift of the Vet's Club. There she flew throughout the years of 1955 and 1956.

In 1957, two "foreign monarchs" challenged her throne atop the wind. Succeeding her seat of honor was a pair of lacy panties—these in turn giving way to an effigy of Coach Presnell.

At the request of the Vet's Club, Mr. Brock, Eastern's business manager, purchased a new flag this year. Thanks to our conscientious color guard, Betty Shance, student commander of the Marching Rifles, the flag again waves proudly over campus drive. We hope that she is back for a permanent stay.

Don Walters Directs One-Act

"From Paradise To Bath," a very entertaining one-act play by Robert French, was presented before the students and faculty in the Little Theater on Tuesday, December 2. It was a humorous story about a cowboy who decides he unexpectedly meets one of his go to Bath to become a miner again. He is ready to leave when he unexpectedly meets one of his wife's admirers from her younger days while he is buying his ticket in the train depot. The only thing he can think about after this is to get this man out of town as soon as possible. He accomplishes his mission and decides to stay at home because he has been made aware of what he will loose if he leaves.

Chester Buchanan made his first Eastern stage appearance as Luke, the depot clerk. The part of Johnny, the cowboy who was leaving town, was well portrayed by John Boone. Danny Ball, who has never done any stage work previously, did a splendid portrayal of Johnny's son. Lastly, Devey, the man who has come to town to find his childhood love, was played by Jay Hugely.

Each of the characters was vivid. As Don Walters, the able director of the production stated, "I've never known any group of actors under similar circumstances to do as beautiful job as they did!" The cast whipped the production up in less than two weeks. They Delores and Nellie examine the Milestone which they will edit next year.

Co-Editors Elected

Nellie Mike and Delores Niblack were elected co-editors of the 1959-60 Milestone in a Junior Class meeting Wednesday, Dec. 3. The girls who ran for the editorship were nominated by a board consisting of sponsors and officers put in a tremendous amount of work and got amazing results."

The next one-act will be "Foot-falls" and will be directed by Marita Matthews.

of the Junior and Senior Classes and the editorial board of the Milestone. This is the first year that Eastern has had the editors of the Milestone elected by the class in their junior year. They will serve as apprentices through this year and co-editors next year. The Milestone staff feels that through this system they'll be able to hand over the Milestone to an experienced group.

The Milestone staff is looking for juniors to understudy section editors for the positions for next year. Any junior interested, contact Della Warren. Also any freshman or sophomore interested in working on other portions of the Milestone, contact Della.

The Senior Class voted to dedicate the Milestone this year to Mr. M. E. Maddox, Registrar, who has served Eastern faithfully and well for 32 years.

Work on the Milestone is well underway and an early May delivery is planned.

Poem Accepted

The Board of Judges of the Annual Anthology of College Poetry announces that the poem, "Approved," written by Beverly Dansby, has been selected to be published in the 1958-59 Anthology.

The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by the college men and women of America, representing every state in the country. Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted.

More than 95 per cent of vehicles involved in fatal accidents on U.S. highways in 1957 were in apparently, good condition.

The Opposite Sex

Here are a few quotations which all of us girls would do well to read and to take into consideration. Evaluate yourself and see how you rate.

In the first place, let's think of our posture and poise. "Her stature tall;—I hate a dumpy woman." It does not matter if you are five feet tall or six feet tall. You can still carry yourself with grace and ease by not slouching.

"The woman pardoned all except her face." I do not agree with all of this line, but I do believe that the face is very important in one's personal appearance. Let's break the face down into several parts. There are interesting things to be said about each part.

"The reason why fond women love to buy Adulterate complexion: here 'tis read,— False colors last after the true be dead."

A moderate amount of makeup is sufficient. Wearing a lot of thick makeup never helped anyone's complexion; it certainly does not clear up those pimples—merely covers them for the time being.

As for the hair; it has been said, "A woman's hair is her glory." So much can be done with our hair if we will only take the time to keep it combed and straightened. It is easy in this kind of weather to obtain that wind-blown look, so be careful. And something else, the prettiest hair in the world is that which is left with its original color. If you do not believe me, look around you. I have heard that "Gentlemen always seem to remember blondes." Well, I say, if gentlemen do not like me the way I am, they can find themselves a blonde. There are plenty of them around, via the shampoo and rinse section of the drugstore.

Eyes fascinate most men. "Beauty lies in many eyes." That's very true, and with just a little dab of makeup you would be surprised what a lovely expression your eyes would have.

"Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee." This is a quotation from the Bible, and it strongly hints that we should listen to what we say sometimes instead of merely jabbering to hear our heads rattle. Also, let's watch the curse words. Sometimes I wonder who uses them more frequently—men or women. The female sex is giving the male sex a close race, I can tell you that.

I could not end without speaking of clothes. "It is the prime duty of a woman of this terrestrial world to look well. Neatness is the asepis of clothes." That needs no explanation. Our country is far ahead in this world, progressively speaking, and you need to do it justice by living up to its standards. This does not mean buying every new dress that strikes your eye. It means only to dress neatly, to wear your clothes and to use makeup simply, and to walk as if you were balancing a dictionary on your head.

The following is the most appropriate quotation I have ever seen insofar as we, being college women, are concerned. It sums up what we should be striving for.

"Learning is nothing without cultivated manners, but when the two are combined in a woman you have one of the most exquisite products of civilization."

Thumbs Down??

by Mike McGrath

It was a typical Tuesday night for me in room 115 McCreary Hall. The rain was pouring down, my roommate was snoring, there was no heat in the building, and the gentleman in the room above me was trying to dribble his bowling ball. I was sitting at my desk trying to decide whether the bed bug I had just captured was a male or a female. It turned out to be a Japanese beetle. My other roommate was whistling the song, "Sentimental Journey" while applying the 3rd coat of shoe polish to his suitcase.

At this time (midnight) the co-editor burst thru the door and cried, "Alas! Deliver me from the fangs of frustration, McGrath!" The deadline was 8:00 the next morning and he was in dire need of a 560-word article for the next paper. Since this was only my third night in a row without sleep, I was glad to oblige him. After a few moments of discussion, I announced that I needed something besides humor or criticism to embellish its pages. He agreed. (He was desperate.) I decided that I would like to write something that provoked thought. It was then that the immortal words which advocated the doing away with some of the people over 65 were written.

I did not believe the plan offered had any of the earmarks of sanity. In spite of this, after the paper came out, I found myself defending the article. Sometimes people are pushed into supporting a point of view which is contrary to their own. The most shocking thing about the whole mess is that some people (including instructors) agreed with the plan. One student claims that the following passages from the Bible might even support such an idea.

"Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them." (Matthew 5:1-7:29)

"But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away." (I Corinthians 13)

We must remember that this is one person's interpretation.

Now that the smoke has cleared, I still find notes pinned to my door that threaten my life. As a matter of fact, some of my friends are trying to obtain for me a life-time scholarship to the University of Moscow. But worst of all, my Grandma (69 years old) has stopped sending me her delicious, famous home-made cookies.

LARRY WOOD

DALE MOORE

BERNIE KOTULA

Know Your Team

Jim Williams

LARRY WOOD—Senior, Guard, 6-3, 185, twice all-conference, Eastern's leading scorer the past two years, one of the outstanding guards in the South. Great outside shot, terrific driver, and great playmaker. Wood has been selected by one of the leading national publications as one of the top ten players in the South. Wood suffered a severe ankle sprain in practice on November 9 and was on crutches for ten days. He returned to practice for light workouts on November 24, and, though not in top form, has already turned in two fine performances against Miami and Villa Madonna. Larry is from Brooksville, Kentucky.

DALE MOORE, Senior, Forward, 6-5, 200. McBrayer points with confidence and pride to his all-conference forward Dale Moore as one of the reasons he's expecting this ball club to chalk up a successful season. Probably the greatest shooter ever to perform for Eastern, Dale has a quick leaping one-hander that he pumps in from any place on the floor, and it is not unlikely that he'll break some scoring records this year. Moore put on one of the finest shooting performances ever seen in a game anywhere in Eastern's opener Monday at Oxford, Ohio, when he hit 11 consecutive outside shots and for the night connected on 13 out of 19 attempts for a sizzling 68.4 per cent. Against Villa Madonna he had 26 points and 18 rebounds.

JOHN RATLIFF, Senior, Guard, 6-0, 185. Ratliff has been the victim of injuries and plain bad luck throughout his college career and has never had a chance to prove himself during the season. In the Miami game last week, Coach McBrayer sent Ratliff in for the final few minutes when the Redskins were getting frantic and forcing the action, and John showed his usual poise and skill, keeping the Maroons under control. Again, as luck would have it, he suffered a knee injury the next day and will be out of uniform for some time. Eastern's student body proved its respect for him last spring by electing him President of the Student Council, one of the highest honors on campus. John is from Newport, Ky.

BERNIE KOTULA, Senior, Center, 6-8, 205. Kotula didn't get a chance to play much basketball in high school as he was competing with tested and proven performers, and was very inexperienced when he came to Eastern. He earned a letter at Eastern in his sophomore year and last season he got into 17 ball games for an average of 20 minutes a game and did a fine job. He was the second leading rebounder behind Moore, and had his best night against Morehead with 17 points and 20 rebounds. In the first game of this season against Miami, Bernie played the last 9 minutes and grabbed six important defensive rebounds which the Maroons capitalized on to pad their lead. An art major, Bernie is also skillful with a brush and has designed a beautiful cover for this year's basketball press book.

RAY VENCILL, Senior, Guard, 6-1, 179. Vencill and Wood received rave notices in 1957 as the best pair of sophomore guards around, but last year an injury kept Vencill out of action almost half the schedule and he had a disappointing year because he was never at full strength. This year, for the first five weeks of practice he looked terrific again, playing opposite Wood, and it was a cinch this pair would have them raving again, but the day Wood returned to practice after being off more than two weeks with an injury, Vencill was injured and he hasn't played since. Ray is exceptionally quick and fast, a fine passer and good jump shooter. Does a fine defensive job, too. Eastern fans can look for some blistering fast breaks when Vencill and Wood are ready to run again. Ray is from Elizabethtown, Kentucky.

Intramural Football Champs

Specks, on a 43-yard pass interception by Roy Woolum and a kick by Alan LaForce, grabbed the Intramural Touch Football Tournament championship from the Baptist Student Union, 7 to 0. Specks took the opening kickoff and drove to the B. S. U. 11 where they lost possession on an intercepted pass in the end zone. After neither team could move, the B. S. U. took the ball on their 88 yard line, first down and twelve to go. On the third down Woolum made his interception of Dave Downing's pass and scampered into the end zone for the score, and LaForce dropkicked the extra point.

The teams battled up and down between the 35-yard lines to no avail for the rest of the game. It was a terrific contest and a well deserved victory for the Specks club.

A total of 38,700 Americans were killed in 1957 traffic accidents.

Maroon Corner . . .

by Larry Knarr

By LARRY KNARR

With the 58-59 basketball season only two games old, the fans of the Eastern Maroons have every reason to get out and back their boys to the hilt. Everyone, as the saying goes, loves a winner. If this is true, then the current Maroon basketeers should go down in Eastern's history as one of the best-loved teams of all time.

Coach Paul McBrayer's team suffered many untold misfortunes last season and ended up in the Ohio Valley Conference cellar. With just a little bit of luck this year, however, the Maroons could blast their way to the conference title and ranks.

perhaps to a high spot in the national collegiate Miami of Ohio, champs of the Mid-American Conference for the past two seasons, was the first to feel the sting of defeat from the Maroons. Very seldom beaten on their home court, the Redskins have strung a total of fifteen consecutive wins in their conference, considered by many to be on an equal plane with the OVC. At one time during the game the Maroons led by 14 points, but a little of that first game eager-beaveriness kept Eastern from winning by a mere decisive margin. Incidentally, the Redskins were thirteen point favorites.

Unveiling a torrid, deadly accuracy from the field, the Maroons, after an ice-cold eight minutes, opened up on the Villa Madonna Rebels for a 93-65 victory. Eastern ended the night with a field goal percentage of 45.6 per cent—they hit an unbelievable 57.5 per cent the second half.

Speaking of the machine age, Dale Moore pumped in twelve straight fielders in the Miami game. He ended the evening with 13 of 19 and 29 points. He was also high man in the Villa game with 26 markers. If Dale continues at his present pace, he will have a fairly good chance of becoming Eastern's first All-American since Jack Adams. Dale Moore is Eastern's answer to the Big O.

The Villa Madonna game marked the first appearance of a 6-5 Roland Weirville, a sophomore pivotman from Cincinnati, Ohio. Weirville entered the game with eleven minutes remaining and distinguished himself by scoring twelve points while hauling down ten rebounds. He displayed a hook shot which is out of this world. Inexperience seems to be his only shortcoming, if any.

Rugged Jack Upchurch, sophomore forward from Wayne County, is proving to be Mr. Versatility for the Maroons. Not only has he been the leading rebounder so far, but he is also outstanding on defense. And for a forward, Jack has a patented 35-foot set shot which he very seldom misses:

Ray Vencill and John Ratliff continue to be plagued by injuries. Vencill, according to Coach McBrayer, has been tremendous during pre-season practice sessions. Ratliff, one of the finest defensive players ever to don an Eastern uniform, has been the victim of injuries ever since coming to Eastern.

Larry Redmond, sophomore from Newport, is attempting a comeback. As a freshman in 1955, Larry was one of the Maroons' top performers. He was voted as a member of that season's All-Kentucky Invitational Tournament team. Redmond dropped out of school after his first year and has been playing basketball in an industrial league. Since returning to Eastern he has lost about forty pounds and is beginning to round into form. If Redmond retains his former prowess, he could definitely prove to be a valuable asset for the Maroons.

Carl Cole, last season's scoring sensation of Coach Jim Baechtold's freshman team, is proving that he is of varsity calibre. Cole has tallied 19 and 20 points respectively in the Miami and Villa Madonna games. The name of Carl Cole is going to be a household word around Eastern for the next three years.

Maroons making their debut in varsity play this season are Cole, Upchurch, Weirville, Jerry Slayback, Phil Estep, and Rex English. All these boys are graduates of the Jim Baechtold school. Baechtold's 58-59 freshman squad is a far cry from last year's sharpshooters. Composed of only seven players, the team has understandably a hard time scrimmaging. The baby Maroons dropped their opening game to the Villa Madonna freshmen, 87-74. High scorers for the Maroons were Ralph Richardson with 23 and Bobby Hiller with 17.

The Maroons appear to be a second half ball team. In the first two contests they have scored a total of 96 points in the second half as opposed to 75 in the opening twenty minutes of play.

Future foes of the Maroons are Bellarmine of Louisville at home Dec. 15, Loyola of Chicago at home Dec. 18, and the University of Dayton away on Dec. 20. The Dayton Flyers are perennially one of the top teams in the nation and always one of the real toughies on Eastern's schedule. A win over the Flyers would definitely do much to put the Maroons in the national spotlight.

First conference game is not until Saturday, Jan. 3 at Bowling Green, where the Maroons will meet the Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky complete with pre-season All-America pick Ralph Crostwaite. Our boys are seeking to avenge the two losses handed to them by Eddie Diddle's crew last season.

Kotula, Upchurch, and Cole go after an elusive ball during the Eastern-Villa Madonna game.

Maroons Win Two; Lose Close One To Marshall

The Eastern Maroons having impressive wins over Miami of Ohio and Villa Madonna dropped a close one to Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va., Monday night 88-82.

The Maroons' first win of the season was over Miami at Oxford, the defending Mid-American Conference champions, by 78-73, a team that is very hard to beat on their home floor. The Maroons took the lead in the ball game, 2-0, on a jump shot by Moore but were quickly tied up by a jump shot by Thomas of Miami. After see-sawing back and forth for a couple of minutes the Maroons took the lead 13-11 on a lay-up by Carl Cole with 15:22 to go in the first half. The Maroons led at one time in the first half by 7, 34-27, but with just 6 seconds to go in the first half Rowan hit on a lay-up to put Miami ahead 38-37 for only the third time in the ball game and the half ended with Miami out in front 38-37. With less than a minute gone in the second half Cole hit on a one-hand shot to put the Maroons out in front 39-38. The score was tied at 48-48 all on two free throws by Wingard who had been fouled by Upchurch. Hamilton hit a jump shot to put Miami out in front 50-48 but Cole got a lay-up for the Maroons to tie it 50-50. Dale Moore hit a jump shot to make it 51-50 for the Maroons. Eastern led the remainder of the game and at one time had built up a lead of 77-66. At the end of the game which was the final score, 78-73. The Maroons were led in scoring in the game by forward Dale Moore who had 29 points. Dale hit a blistering 68.4 per cent of his shots from the field.

The Maroons' second game was with the Villa Madonna Rebels of Covington, Ky. The Maroons won over the Rebels 93-65. The Maroons and the Rebels had trouble hitting the basket in the early stages of the game. The Maroons led 15-2 before the Rebels hit a field goal with 8 minutes to go in the first half. The Maroons continued to build their lead and led at halftime 38-24. The Maroons kept on going in the second half and ended the game winning 93-65. The Maroons were again led in scoring by Senior Dale Moore who had 26 points. The Maroons hit 45.4 per cent of their shots while Villa Madonna was able to hit only 26 per cent of theirs. Coach Paul McBrayer was very well pleased with the defensive play of the team for the first 15 minutes until he made substitutions. He was very well pleased with the play of Sophomore Roland Weirville. Weirville played 11 minutes, got 12 points and grabbed 10 rebounds.

The Maroons with their lowest shooting percentage dropped a close decision to the Thundering Herd of Marshall College at Huntington, W. Va., Monday night 88-82. The Maroons hit only 31.3 per cent of their shots while Marshall hit on 43.3 per cent of their shots. Before the game the Maroons as a team had a shooting percentage of 46 per cent for the two games played prior to the Marshall game. Marshall took the lead early in the game but Larry Wood put the Maroons ahead 15-13 with 12:12 to go in the first half. The Maroons had a 5 point lead with 8:51 to go in the half then with 6:46 to go Leo Byrd hit a lay-up to put Marshall out in front 31-20. The half ended with Marshall shall leading. The Maroons in the second half were plagued by fouls, which seemed should have been called charging fouls against Marshall but were called as blocking fouls against the Maroons. The Maroons closed the gap to 6 points at the end of the game which ended 88-82 for Marshall. The Maroons outscored the Big Green from the field 34-29, but Marshall hit on 30 of 38 attempts from the free throw line while the Maroons got only 21 attempts and hit on 14 of them.

The Maroons' next game will be Monday, Dec. 15 here in the Weaver Health Building with Bellarmine furnishing the opposition.

Swim Team Begins Season

Coach Don Combs unleashed his swimmers last Saturday night in the first of thirteen swimming meets scheduled for this season. The Maroon Mermen were unable to overtake the swimmers of a Fort Knox Specialist Training Regiment and thus were defeated in a very close meet, 44-41.

Eastern's Ed Hatch scored 11½ points—most in the meet—by splashing to victory in the 100 yd. and 200 yd. freestyle events and anchoring the winning 400 yd. freestyle relay team. Denny Ball placed first in the 440 yd. freestyle, Bud Hatch, Jim Snodgrass, Bob Goes, Ed Anderson, Bob Parker, Bill Vasvary, Roy Leger, Bob Will, Angus Begley, Art Belmont, and Don Giles accounted for the remaining points with nine 2nd places, four 3rd places, and three 4th places.

Coach Combs felt that his relatively young team lacked experience causing them to look ragged in some spots. He said the team has been working and is in good shape but must work harder to be in shape to satisfy him.

The 1958-59 swimming meet schedule is:

- Dec. 18—U. of K. Away
- Jan. 9—Depauw Home
- Jan. 14—Union Home
- Jan. 16—Tennessee Tech Away
- Jan. 17—U. of Tennessee Away
- Jan. 24—U. of K. Home
- Feb. 7—Union Away
- Feb. 10—U. of L. Home
- Feb. 13—Vanderbilt Away
- Feb. 20—Berea Home
- Feb. 27—Sewanee Home
- Mar. 7—U. of Cincinnati Home

All home meets will be in Eastern's swimming pool. The public is welcome and invited to attend. Admission is free.

Daywalking was costly in the U.S. last year — 2,600 were killed. More than 21 per cent of 1957 U.S. highway deaths occurred on Saturdays.

Coach, Larry, and Dale appear ready for a winning season.

New Kappa Delta Pi Members Initiated

The Delta Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, held its fall initiation banquet at Boone Tavern, in Berea, on Wednesday, December 3.

Kappa Delta Pi was founded March 8, 1911, in Illinois, and the Delta Alpha Chapter was installed May 4, 1935. Throughout the United States and the District of Columbia, there are 215 chapters and a total membership of 116,000. In the Delta Alpha Chapter, there are presently 29 members from both the faculty and the student body.

At the banquet, Kappa Delta Pi was host to Miss Virginia Story, second grade teacher at the training school on campus, and Miss Ann Alvis, sixth grade teacher at the training school. Miss Priscilla Lohr, a senior from Lexington who is the president of the honor society, presided at the banquet and cordially welcomed the new members to Kappa Delta Pi.

Those initiated were as follows: Elizabeth Ball, Harold Bell, Lois Bergmann, William DePriest, Martha Bullard, Amelia Courtney, Marylynn Hansjergen, Dorothy Harrod, Edwin Hickman, Joy May, Marita Matthews, Betsy McGee, Lawrence Martin, Ross Mills, Shirley Murphy, Delores Niblack, Jean Patterson, Phillip Stubblefield, and Patsy Woodard.

CHRISTMAS TRADITION

The 29th annual "Hanging of the Greens," a traditional Christmas program at Eastern, sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA, will be held in Walnut Hall at 4:00 p. m. Sunday, December 14.

The guest speaker will be Reverend Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Reverend Dorsey was born in Shelby County and attended Eastern for two years. He received his A. B. degree from Kentucky Wesleyan College and received a B. D. degree from the Chandler School of Theology.

The chairmen of the Special Programs Committee, in charge of the service, are Patti Tucker and Reverend H. W. Dorsey to speak. The faculty advisers are Miss Willie Moss and Mr. Wilham Stocker.

we have been faced with several shocks. Among them are: awareness of the part oil plays in the economic role; our supply of iron ore which is slowly diminishing; discovery of the atomic bomb which started the search for many new minerals; the failure of the Monroe Doctrine; the hunger of a billion people (40 per cent of the world's people will go to bed hungry tonight); the double shock in the rise of communism; the splash of Sputnik's into space which comprises our big race today; and the awareness that communism is a continuing war which we must all fight."

In order to be aware of the role that past activities and present locations play in economics, we must study economic history and geography with much more emphasis.

One of the biggest problems we will have after graduation will be the accumulation of enough capital to give us, as educated individuals, the level of economic prosperity we desire.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Cayton announce the arrival of a daughter, Ellen Stephens, born on November 18. Ellen is being welcomed by Andrew Robert Lee, 4, Rename, 2½, and Amy Leigh, 18 mos.

Mr. and Mrs. Cayton are both graduates of Eastern, Mrs. Cayton (Vivian Pelley) in the class of 1951 and Mr. Cayton in the class of 1950. Mr. Cayton received his M.S. degree from Columbia University in 1951. He is Head of the Serials Division in the University of Cincinnati Library. The Caytons' address is 19 Sunset Place, Winston Park, Covington, Ky.

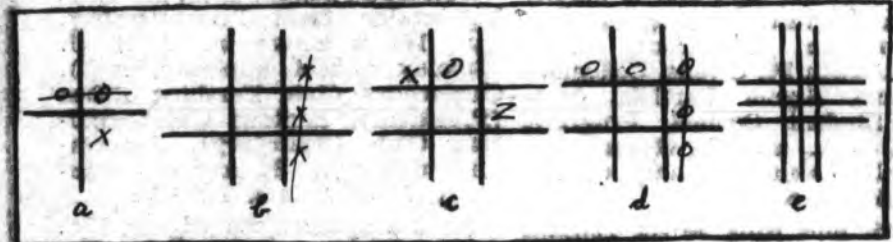

Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Singleton, Jr., are the parents of a baby boy, Timothy Owens, born June 9. The new arrival is being welcomed by Michael, 6½, and Sandra, 5.

Mr. Singleton has been Equipment Engineer with Western Electric Company, Chicago, Ill., since his graduation in 1955. Mrs. Singleton, the former Bunice Owens, was a member of the class of 1952. They may be addressed at 1539 N. Bell Avenue, Chicago 22, Ill.

Dr. Harold S. Moberly, Jr., has located in Winchester, Ky., for the general practice of medicine, associated with Dr. Hummel and Dr. Brashear. Dr. Moberly was graduated with distinction from Eastern in 1951. He then entered the University of Louisville School of Medicine, receiving his M.D. degree in 1955. He did his internship the following year at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Dayton, Ohio. He was commissioned as Captain in the US Air Force in October, 1956, and has been serving in that capacity in Oklahoma City, Okla., since that time.

Mrs. Moberly, the former Doris Anne Croley, was also a member of the class of 1951.

Tic Tac Toe — Now And Forever

Everyone plays this wonderful game. Of course everyone has their own conception of how the game should be played. It is hoped the accompanying drawing will prove, without a shadow of a doubt, that the preceding statement is nothing but fact.

The drawing labeled "A" is very obvious. It is for the beginner. The point is, of course, to flip a coin with your opponent in order to see who plays first. After the first play, the rest come easy.

If you are the aggressive type, you will enjoy drawing "B". Here once again, the point is to get the first play. If you do, simply move three times, draw your line, say you won, and if your opponent objects, don't play with the cheater. But then again if you don't get to play first, it's your own fault for not having a two headed nickel.

Drawing "C" represents the ever present eternal triangle. The "X" belongs to a beautiful girl, the "O" to a boy named Grayson, and the "Z" belongs to an intruder named Tom Dooley.

Since the Russians invented the game to begin with (ask any Russian), we should have their version too. Drawing "D" was stolen from the Russian Embassy by our slippery sleuth, Sad Sam Slippery-sleuth. It seems the Russian Premier had been playing with his servant, who might be a servant but certainly no fool. Notice how he cleverly used the same letter as his master to lessen his own chance of winning.

Drawing "E" is devoted to the damned intellectual who probably would have more sense than to play this stupid game anyway.

If It Hadn't Been For Grayson

On Tuesday, December 16, a freshman will be hanged from a white oak tree in front of Beckham Hall. No, his name is not Tom Dooley—his name is Malcolm Maroon. He has been found guilty of violating many of Eastern's traditions in the following ways:

- Cheering at the Villa Madonna-Eastern basketball game.
- Not suiting two week-ends in a row.
- Attending an assembly.
- Obeying the "No Smoking" signs in Roark.
- Raising his hand in class.
- Perhaps you do not know Malcolm Maroon—his face is not too familiar to most of us. You see, he spent most of his spare time in the library.

THIS IS THE ONE FOR WAGONS! 1959 CHEVY

Chevrolet's five stunning new station wagons for '59 are shaped to the new American taste with fresh, fine Slimline design. And they're beautifully practical—with roomier, quieter Bodies by Fisher, an even smoother ride, new ease of handling!

Wagons were never more beautiful or dutiful. From low-set headlights to wing-shaped tailgate, these '59 Chevrolets are as sweet looking as anything on wheels. They're just about the handiest things on wheels, too—from their overhead-curving windshield to their longer, wider load platform. Besides additional cargo space, you also get added seating room (4 inches more in front, over 3 inches in back). And you'll find such other practical advantages as new easy-ratio steering, Safety Plate Glass all around, bigger, safer brakes, smoother-than-ever Full Coil suspension and a roll-down rear window (electrically operated as standard equipment on the 9-passenger Kingswood). Your dealer's waiting now with all the details on why this year—more than ever—Chevy's the one for wagons.

A watch is to tell time

but without hands... you miss the whole idea of a watch

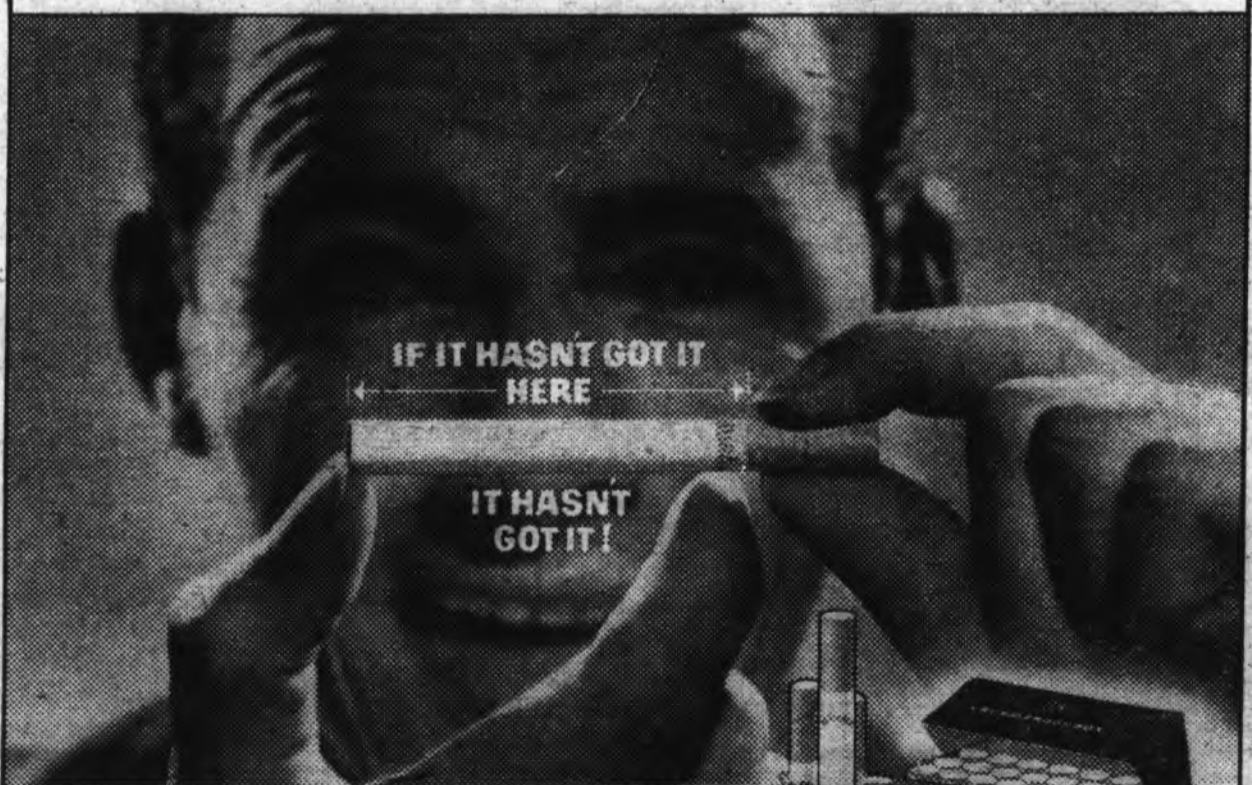

A cigarette is to smoke

but without flavor—you miss the whole idea of smoking

When it comes to flavor

It's what's up front that counts

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Up front in Winston is FILTER-BLEND

That's why WINSTON TASTES GOOD, like a cigarette should!
