Freshmen Elect Class Officers Elliott Picked As President

Class officers were elected by the freshmen class last Thursday, October 18th, climaxing two weeks of campaigning activity by twenty-five nominees. This is the first year in the history of Eastern that class officers were elected after this type of campaign.

The four victorious candidates for the four top posts in the freshman class were: Ronnie Elliott, elected president; Gary Maynard, vice president; Gail Shivel, secretary; and Bill Allison, who will be freshman treasurer.

Ronnie Elliott is an English major from Harrodsburg, Kentucky. Ronnie was active in state speech work in high school and is known to the campus as the boy who did the Andy Griffith monologue at the freshman talent show. He was in the top 15 percent of his freshman class on the college entrance examination. He is pledged to Pershing Rifles and is a member of B.S.U.

Gary Maynard, the vice president, is a civil engineering major from Myra, Kentucky. He was one of the top students academically at Borton High School where he graduated as salutatorian of his class last June.

The freshman secretary, Gail Shivel is a music major from Ashland. She was a member of her high school Beta club for three years. Gail enjoys drama work and has received offers to sing professionally. She is also active in her church and has been a Sunday school teacher for several years.

Freshman class funds will be in the hands of Bill Allison, a commerce major from Lexington, Kentucky. Bill was active in student government and sports at his high school, Clover Park, in Washington, D.C. He spent two years in the army before he entered Eastern.

These officers, along with the executive board, will be in charge of steering the freshman class for 1960-61. Their class sponsors are Miss Willie Moss, Home Economics department and Mr. John Rowlett, Industrial Arts department.

Roads Council Head Speaks Here

James Stephen Watkins, president of the Kentucky Better Roads Council, told an assembly of students and faculty members Wednesday morning at Eastern State College that a "yes" vote on the roads and parks bond issue will uplift the welfare of Kentucky. Watkins said, "we will not have sufficient funds to match the Federal aid for better roads and parks. An adequate road system in Kentucky will bring incredible value economically. It will promote industrial development, help agriculture, by providing safer roads to and from the farms and factories, and it will permit our children to travel more safely to and from school."

Watkins said that nearly 4,000 people were killed and more than 70,000 injured on Kentucky highways in the past five years. "Some of these accidents were caused by inadequate and outdated highways," he said.

PROFESSOR PREDICTS RESULTS IF NIXON ELECTED PRESIDENT

An Eastern history professor predicted yesterday that three days after next month's presidential election, if Richard M. Nixon is elected, there will be troops in the streets and banks will be closed.

Nov. 11th, three days after the election, is Veteran's Day. This is a national holiday commemorating the ending of the World War I, and all banks are closed with reserve and veteran units parading in the streets.

Nixon Wins Election

Thursday, October 20, a mock election was held under the sponsorship of the Young Democrat and Young Republican clubs and with the help of Student Council acting as poll officials. After the final count was in it showed that Vice-President Richard Nixon had received 536 of the votes cast, a 58% plurality of the votes, this opposed to Senator John Kennedy's 390 votes which in turn gave him the remaining 42% of the votes.

The contest between senator Cooper and ex-governor Johnson found to be in heavy excessive favor for Senator Cooper. He received 634 opposed to Mr. Johnson 274. Election for representative was a very close one. After careful tabulation it was found that Mr. Watt had edged Mr. Dickey by an extremely small margin. The final count was Mr. Watt's 460, to Mr. Dickey's 435.

As was predicted the issue of Limited Constitutional Revision won by the largest majority of votes cast. It won overwhelmingly by a vote of 749, to 97 opposed. This gave it a 88% plurality the largest cast in the election.

Attention all Eastern Students! The paper will be running a women's page in their coming issues.

This page will contain all the news concerning the Eastern students. All couples engaged, newly married, or having news of this sort and wish to have it published, please contact Connie McKendrick, room 305, Burnham Hall.

Everyone that participated in the election generally considered it well run and what everyone thought of as a tremendous success.

CADUCEUS CLUB HAS CAVE OUTING

Thirty Caduceus Club members enjoyed an outing held last Monday at the cave on the Lancaster Jack Wette provided refreshments, and Doug Scouthfield added the humor.

L. T. C. Play, Sabrina Fair, Opens Next Monday Night

The Little Theatre Club, under the direction of Mr. Gerald Honaker, will present the four act comedy, Sabrina Fair, in Brock Auditorium, Monday, October 31, and Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, November 1, 2, 3.

The play concerns the daughter of a Long Island chauffeur who returns from France, where she worked for five years, to find out if she is in love with her childhood sweetheart.

The cast features a number of new faces, Leslie Sandford, a freshman, has the role of young Sabrina. This is the first major stage appearance for Miss Sandford.

Linus Larrabee, is also appearing for the first time in a major Eastern production. Chuck has appeared in a number of one-act plays on the campus. He is a junior Industrial Arts Major.

Ben Cook has never appeared in a campus production. Ben will portray Sabrina's father, Fairchild.

John Boone plays the younger son, David, John is a senior commerce major and has worked at Pioneer Playhouses and in several movies.

New Curtains Placed On Stage

Several thousand dollars worth of curtains are now being installed on the stage of Brock Auditorium. The auditorium curtains had not been replaced in twenty-five years.

The stage floor has been sanded and refinished. A drop cloth has been purchased and scenery painting will no longer be permitted on the stage.

Black out curtains have been installed throughout the auditorium that are compatible with the new stage curtains.

The L.T.C. is the first campus organization that will make use of this new stage facilities. The theatre club opens its production of "Sabrina Fair" in the auditorium on October 31.

Social Committee Reveals Plans For Huge Halloween Party

The social committee has announced plans for an open house in the Student Union Building on Halloween night, October 31.

The committee met Monday and formulated plans for a new type of party. In the past the grill has been open and doughnuts and cider was served. Noise-makers were passed out as favors. There was no cost to the student body.

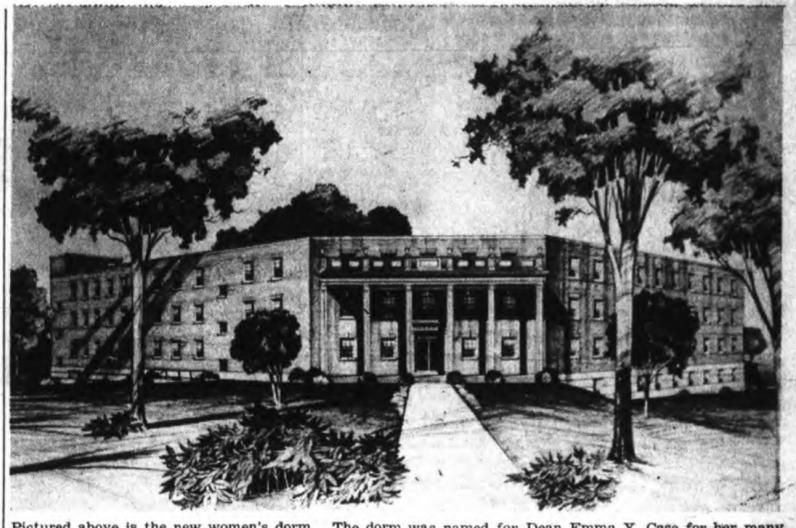

This year the S. U. B. will be open from 7:30 till 11:30 and a band will be hired to play in the cafeteria. Admission to the dance will be free.

A bridge party will be held the same night during the same hours in the grill and lobby. Any one who would like to play bridge has been asked to bring their own cards.

WESLEY TO SPONSOR PANCAKE BREAKFAST

The Wesley Foundation will sponsor a pancake breakfast on Sunday morning, October 30, at the First Methodist Church. The breakfast will begin at 9:00 and will cost .25c per person. Church school will follow the affair to which the student body is invited.

The organization will also hold a picnic on Sunday afternoon at the Pentacle near Berea, Kentucky. Transportation will be furnished for those people who wish to go. The group will leave from the front of Burnham Hall at 2:00. Fifty cents will be charged to attend.

Pictured above is the new women's dorm. The dorm was named for Dean Emma Y. Case for her many long years of service. The building will house 300 women thus relieving the over-crowdedness. When the dorm is completed it will have cost over $100,000.

35 Seniors Picked For Who's Who

Thirty-five seniors have been selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. The selection was made by a committee of faculty and students on the basis of scholarship, quality of leadership, and other factors contributing to the student's worth on the campus.

A CHRISTIAN ATTITUDE?

It is indeed unfortunate that at such a critical time as this year's presidential election some people are attempting to make the campaign for the presidency one fought on the basis of religious affiliation and beliefs. The anti-Kennedy movement has attracted some of the country's prominent Protestant leaders such as Norman Vincent Peale, who presided over a meeting of the National Conference of Citizens for Religious Freedom (and against John F. Kennedy), and Dr. Ramsey Pollard, president of the Southern Baptists. Dr. Peale has since repudiated the conference and denied any forehand knowledge of the conference's purpose. But many fundamental Protestant groups are still calling for the election of a Protestant president and stirring up the flame of religious bigotry and hatred. It is obvious that many of these same men are planning to mount their pulpits and turn this Sunday, set aside as Reformation Sunday, into a gigantic "hate rally" against John F. Kennedy.

An example of the inane attempts that these groups will go to in attacking Kennedy has reached our campus. A Lexington minister has had some of his harangues against Kennedy printed and distributed. Excerpts from this tract only illustrate the rabid attempts to discredit Kennedy by those who base their appeal upon the lowest levels of intelligence, emotionalism, and fear.

One of these bulletins states that "there are many reasons I could give why I am afraid of a Catholic President . . ." then the author proceeds to give the following reasons for supporting Richard Nixon:

"What must be my thought about Senator Kennedy—who believes—if he came into my church . . . and heard me preach the word of God—he would commit a sin and be compelled to confess to his priest to be forgiven."

"Senator Kennedy is forbidden to read any Baptist or Protestant books. In the even he was elected president . . . he would not be allowed to examine all the evidence before signing or vetoing bills. He would read only the evidence that was favorable to the Catholic Church."

"Senator Kennedy is a good Catholic; therefore, bows in subjection to the Pope. If he should be elected president . . . would he not kneel and kiss the papal ring? That kiss is not a lover's kiss, neither is it the kiss of a mother for her baby—but it is the kiss of subjection."

Both Senator Kennedy and Vice-President Nixon have stated that religion is not and should not be an issue in the election.

But many Americans want to cloud the real issues with hatred. It would appear that Adam Clayton Powell's statement that "the Klan has put aside its white robes for ministerial garb" is unfortunately true.

Americans must not allow themselves to be influenced by the cries of such religious rabble rousers. It is the duty of every one of us to combat such bigoted propaganda.

It would indeed be a crime against American democracy to say that John F. Kennedy was denied the right to lead our country when he was baptised a Catholic forty-three years ago.

The decision of who shall be our next president must be made by citizens well informed of the major issues involved not by those whose minds have been poisoned by religious bias and prejudice!

EDITORIAL POLICY

In order to clarify our position concerning the editorials, we wish to make this restatement of editorial policy.

It has always been a time-honored tradition of newspapers that the editorials are the personal opinions of the editors. They are not intended to reflect in any way the opinion of the administration or the student body.

If any one, either in the administration, faculty, or student body, differs with the editorials, they are urged to express their own views in the Letters To The Editors.

THE RELIGIOUS QUESTION

Dear Editors,
I visited the Republican headquarters in the Glyndon Hotel yesterday. I went there to purchase buttons, stickers, etc. in order to publicize my support of Richard M. Nixon. I went away appalled at the tactics being employed by the local Republicans.

In direct defiance of the Clean Campaign Pledge and public statements by their candidate, the Richmond G. O. P. is aiding and abetting the spread of malicious and bigoted anti-Catholic propaganda.

A "brother" Walker, the minister of a Lexington church, in a tract called the "Ashland Avenue Baptist," uses inflammatory tactics and out-right mis-interpretation of facts to incite and stir up the public to what he calls the "Catholic menace." I do not challenge "brother" Walker's right to print his opinions and circulate them. But I do doubt the wisdom of using the mechanics of the Republican Party to do so!

Is our candidate so lacking in merit that we must stoop to such tactics to defeat his opponent? Are his qualifications so poor that we must employ lies, bigotry, and prejudice to get him elected? I think that the answers to these questions are a vehement, No! and I urge all Republicans on the campus who feel the actions of the Richmond GOP are incompatible with their philosophy as Republicans and Christians to use any influence at their command to stop such practices, which will, if left to flourish unabated, give our party and its candidates a bad name.

Signed,
Barry Wade Brennan

On Nov. 8th. of this year America will face a very serious decision, the decision of electing a new president. I believe that we here at Eastern as students, Americans, and the future leaders of this great country of ours, should take an active interest in the presidential campaign, as well as the other issues on the ballot.

Now, I know that I cannot in this short statement convince anyone to vote a certain way. I am writing this purposely to express my views on the presidential race that will take place next month.

I was born into a Democratic family. I am happy to say that my family is not what you might call a "staunch Democratic family." I feel that I can, and must vote for the man that I feel is best qualified for the job and will lead America in the right way. I sincerely believe that that man is Senator John Kennedy.

In my opinion Senator Kennedy is as fine a man as America has to offer. He is a man of high morals, ambition, intelligence, and most of all, a Christian. Senator Kennedy's record, as a senator, a soldier, and an American citizen, is an outstanding one.

As a senator, he defeated Henry Cabot Lodge by 70,000 votes in the race for the U. S. Senate in 1952, he broke all vote-getting records in winning re-election by 873,000 votes, carrying every city and county in Massachusetts in 1958, and through his leadership and guidance many bills have been introduced and passed through the Senate.

Senator Kennedy was a decorated soldier in World War II, for his leadership and bravery.

As a citizen, Senator Kennedy has proven himself a valuable asset to our country, through his leadership and public service.

As a student at Eastern, I find that the greatest opposition to Senator Kennedy is his religion. This is tragic! I would like to make a few comments on this question, to clear up some vicious attacks on Senator Kennedy's religion.

With the students, I find that the main objective is the separation of church and state. I would like to quote Senator Kennedy's reply to this question.

"I believe as a senator that the separation of church and state is fundamental to our American concept and heritage and should remain so."

This, in my opinion, sums up the question of religion. If at any time anyone is interested enough in the religious question, and the above statement doesn't put their minds at ease, I would be happy to discuss it further with anyone.

I have only one other point that I would like to clear up before I close, and that is the oath that Senator Kennedy took when he entered the "Knights of Columbus". Recently while in a class here at Eastern, a fellow student made the statement to me, that he could not vote for any man that had taken the oath, even if he was the last man on earth. This statement was clearly made in complete ignorance of the facts. The oath he was speaking of is a fake oath and reads as follows:

"I do further promise and declare that I will, when opportunity presents, wage relentless war, secretly and openly against all heretics, Protestants, and Masons, as I am directed to do, to extricate them from the face of the whole earth."

This is the fake oath. A congressional committee, some few years ago, investigating unfair election practices, condemned the oath as a fabrication. A person using this oath in connection with election practices is subject to being charged with criminal libel. This past August a minister in Knoxville, Tennessee, was charged with criminal libel for using the oath in his pulpit.

The actual oath reads as follows:
"I swear to support the Constitution of the United States. I pledge myself, as a Catholic citizen and a Knight of Columbus, fully to enlighten myself upon my duties as a citizen and conscientiously perform them entirely in the interest of my country, regardless of all personal consequences. I pledge myself to do all in my power to preserve the integrity and purity of the ballot and to promote respect for law and order. I promise to practice my religion consistently and faithfully, and to so conduct myself in public affairs and in the exercise of public virtue as to reflect nothing but credit upon our Holy Church, to the end that she may flourish and our country prosper to the greatest honor and glory of God.

I ask you, can we hold this oath against anyone?
I suppose that I could go on writing for Senator Kennedy indefinitely if I had only the time. I can only say that I hope that we as Americans will not hold Senator Kennedy's religion against him on Nov. 8th, and will vote for the man best suited for the job. Remember the man elected on Nov. 8th will lead our country for the next four years. These four years could well prove to be the most trying years in our country's history. If you are completely satisfied with things as they are now, vote for the party in office now, if you are not satisfied, and want to see America progress and gain back its lost prestige vote the straight Democratic ticket on Nov. 8th.

Signed,
Tom Isaacs, President
Young Democrats Club

A BAND SUPPORTER

I would like to sing praises of a group on campus whom we all take for granted, the "Marching Maroons." They have shown more school spirit at the games than the entire student body. They are behind our team when we are on the losing side as well as when we are ahead. They not only play at football and basketball games; they find time to yell between songs. Not many schools can boast of such an organization, and I only wish the rest of the student body would follow suit.

Thank you, band members, for your support. It's people like you who give the cheerleaders hope that someday school spirit will be present at Eastern.

Finioning her to the bed, he covered her lips with impassioned kisses. "Let's make love," he whispered. "Oh, Bill," she sighed, as she . . . (asterisks denote censored portion).

The next morning she awoke with a start, thinking of the occurrence of the previous night. "Why did I do such a foolish thing?" She wondered. "I shall be ruined for life," she thought. Then she remembered . . .

"If only it didn't have such severe consequences," she thought. She shivered half in delight, half in fear, and half because her night gown was torn and she was cold. "I'm sorry I tore your night gown, but I couldn't help it," Bill had said. She didn't really mind. It was an old night gown and when Bill . . . she was actually delighted. Something like that didn't happen every day.

(Author's note: Sounds pretty wild doesn't it? I'll bet that just for—ahem!—intellectual curiosity you would like to read the story in its original unexpurgated form, so . . .)

Finioning her to the bed, he covered her lips with impassioned kisses. "Let's make love," he whispered.

"Oh, Bill," she sighed as she pushed him onto the floor. "We have been married for ten years and you still can't remember that we go bowling with the Smythes every Thursday night."

"What did you do with my Bowling Ball?" Bill asked from the depths of the closet.

The next morning, she awoke with a start, thinking of the occurrences of the previous night. "Why did I do such a foolish thing?" "I shall be ruined for life," she thought. Then she remembered the warning Bill had given her, "Don't sling the ball over your shoulder when it's your turn to bowl. You could kill somebody that way." And sure enough, she did hit a man 6 alleys away. He had survived, but he promised to sue. "Messing around is fun, if only it didn't have such severe consequences," she thought.

She shivered, half in fear, half in delight and half because her night gown was torn and she was cold.

"I'm sorry I tore your night gown, but I couldn't help it," Bill had said. She didn't really mind. It was an old night gown and when Bill told her that he had ripped it as he ducked under the clothes line in his hurry to find her to tell of his pay raise, she was actually delighted. Something like that didn't happen every day.

GUEST COLUMN
PROF'S ARE A PUZZLING LOT

Dear Folks:
Well I must say I'm enjoyin myself, I've been goin to classes for several days now and the kids up here are the friendliest lot I've ever met. We go into the class rooms and spread out real comfortable like. And we can talk and smoke (I prefer to chew) all we want to and the teacher never says a word (least ways none I can understand).

These teachers I have are a funny lot. They dress kind of like we do when we get to stop the hogs only they were ties. (They must buy their ties from the same place Hugo Samuels gets his cause they're green, orange, and polka dotted. Gosh, I never knew Hugo was that smart and stylish.)

Like I say these teachers are kinda funny and a little flighty, too. They have to be pampered like a new born colt. I learned how to treat them by just watching the other kids.

When the teachers tell a joke everybody hollers and laughs (even when it ain't funny). And when the teacher talks serious like, then all the kids look serious. The teachers really appreciate the kids actin like that.

All the teachers come to class late (ceptin the lesser teachers) but when they finally get there they make a grand entrance. They kinda look like Ed Simmons when he comes in to Ded's tavern on Saturday night after a tough weeks work. (You remember how ol' Ed use to throw some perfume under his arm pits and whistle Dixie while he stroled into the saloon actin like he didnt know nobody).

During class nobody sez nothin but the teacher ceptin every now and then the kids will remind him of a date in history, or tell him what the lesson is, or what day the class meets, etc. but not much else is said.

After class everybody rushes up to the teachers desk to tell him somethin. (One kid got hurt the other day in the rush). I kinda thought at first it was to congratulate the teacher on his lecture but I soon found out that he kids jus like o pamper and impress him. (they say it helps).

Im really worried about three of my classes cause some of the kids told me that the teachers werent any good. One kid said that the teacher I had was dumb and mean. The kid said the nut gave him a D. Another kid said the teacher was the smartest and sweetest guy in the world. (He got an A). Its kinda remarkable how a teacher can be smart and dumb at the same time.

Well folks thats about all I got to say. Tell everybody in Cedar Briar hello. Tell Lucy hello and make sure her trough dont freeze up when the cold weather gets her.

VIEWS ON THE NEWS
by Barry Wade Brennan

We have always firmly believed in the idealistic conception of democracy that we learned in our high school government and history classes. You are all familiar with this concept. You all know all about freedom of the press, speech, and religion, the right to peaceful assembly. Our schools would not be complete without the "four freedoms" of Rockwell, and our misty likeness of Washington.

We are encouraged to read and believe our Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and Bill of Rights. The equality of man and the dignity of the individual are also impressed on our formative minds. Our churches too, preach these same doctrines. Only they include brotherly love and charity. In short, that God preordains the equality of men.

How hard it is for us to believe then, that when an organization is conceived that proposes the advancement of the christian-democratic ideals to which we are all so fond of pointing, that it should be repressed and denied the right of existence on a campus that proposes to broaden the outlook of "the leaders of tomorrow."

We are not sure of the details, for they are shrouded in mystery and hard to obtain, but we have heard, from reliable sources, that local Negroes who wish to join an organization, advocating their civil liberties, have been visited by local officials and warned that such participation may be dangerous to them economically and, perhaps, physically. We don't know if this is true but we would like to.

We wonder, also, if there is any logic in permitting only one side of a question to be presented to the campus? Does the end justify the means, we wonder? Perhaps, but is this not the philosophy of Hitlers, Castros, and Stalins.

We wonder further, at the wisdom of denying controversy on our campus. Should we, as ostriches, stick our heads into a pile of academic sand and expect the evils of the world to vanish because we do not discuss them?

This writer is fond of many members of the administration, and respects their judgment and opinions. He is fond of the president too, and sees in him that spark of greatness present in so few. But if we are not permitted to search for facts and truth now, in college, then when? If we do not seek duty, right, and truth now, then when?

When we wonder, do we, as Christians, as democrats in the universal sense, begin to increase in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man.

HAVE YOU SEEN THIS MANY reports have come to our office that this man has been seen in the vicinity of the ravine, Burnam Hall, and Barnes Mill Road. Students are asked not to be alarmed! The man is believed to be a vegetarian.

Music Views

Anita Bryant, the beauty contest winner turned singer, has a new release for the Carlton label dubbed "One Of The Lucky Ones". This ballad is sung in big style by the little lady and the orchestration on the side is very good. It looks like another hit for the lass. The flip is "Love Look Away".

Clyde McPhatter, the voice that was heard on many of the earlier Drifters releases, has a new release on the Mercury banner entitled "I Just Want To Love You" and "You're For Me". The first is a ballad and the flip is a rocker. Both tunes were penned by Brook Benton and carry the million mark sound. You'll probably go for these two sides.

Of the four versions of "Battle Of The Alamo" released in the last two weeks, the money version looks as if it will be the Marty Robbins waxing on Columbia. The tune taken from the John Wayne-Frankie Avalon movie by the same name. The Brothers Four also have a new tune from the same flick dubbed "The Green Leaves Of Summer". It also looks like a winner.

If per chance there is any Fabian fan on campus, the news is in that he has a new release. If anyone would like a copy of this record, please write the "Progress" and tell us why you want it. I'm sure we will be able to get you one.

On the JAZZ scene, the word is out that Louie and The Dukes have another Dixieland package that is out of this world. Satchmo and the boys do a fine job on some of the great old jazz tunes that were penned around the earlier part of the Dixieland movement. The one number that stands out from the others is the hymn, "Just A Closer Walk With Thee". This is a great album.

If you like the more modern sound, you'll like the new Gerry Mulligan album dubbed "Gerry Mulligan's Concert Jazz Band". It's smooth.

MAROON ROUND-UP

with LARRY KNARR

EDUCATED TOE. David Hatfield, 230 pound junior tackle from Middlesboro, kicked three extra points in three extra points in three attempts in the Austin Peay contest to bring his season's total up to six for seven. "Hat" had a bad night on field goals, missing three of them in the first half. This probably constitutes some sort of a record.

DEFENSIVE DANDIES. A few words of praise are in order for the Maroon defensive brigade, which has been steadily improving. Defensive coach Glenn Gossett says that the defense has been doing a very fine job considering the fact that several key players have been shelved by injuries putting relatively inexperienced men on the spot. Through the first five games, soph guard Ken Goodhue was responsible for 59 tackles, leading the team by a large margin in this respect. Another sophomore, halfback Carl Howard has had a hand in 43 tackles. Others excelling on defense are freshman halfback Jim Chittum (41) senior guard Don Adkisson (40), and sophomore center Richard (Wally) Wallace (34).

EDMONS ROOKED? On the play in which Richie Emmons ran back a punt 95 yards for an apparent touchdown, several close observers swear that the Eastern end who judged to be off sides by the official jumped back in time. There were a few protests from the Maroon bench but the ref didn't change his call. Ref's are like that.

CRAY PLAY. In the second half at Clarksville, Austin Peay had the ball in their own territory with a fourth and nineteen situation facing them. Naturally the situation called for a punt. Then the fun began. Three consecutive offside penalties against Eastern made it fourth and four but still the Governors hadn't got a first down. They then sent a passer back deep Zfor a fake punt, and he completed a pass good for about fifteen yards and an apparent first down. When tackled, however the ball was jarred loose and Eastern recovered.

Another oddity occurred in the Eastern-Middle Tennessee game when the Blue Raiders were attempting a conversion after a touchdown. The ball was snapped and the kick was good, but MTSC was penalized 5 yards for being offside. They then tried a pass play which was also good. This time a fifteen yard penalty was marked off against them. So they passed again. Again it was good. Again there was a fifteen yard penalty. This put the ball way back on the 35 yard line from where they tried it again. This time they made it for real. No penalties. Eastern lost this particular game 14-12. That's what it takes—breaks!

HIGHWAY ROBBERY. Carl Howard's 48 yard touchdown on an intercepted pass was his second long run of the year. Against the Louisville Cardinals, Carl intercepted a pass two yards deep in the endzone and returned it 100 yards to the U.L. 2 before being caught from behind. A penalty brought the ball back to the midfield stripe but it was a fine run nonetheless.

WHAT A NIGHT! Ken Goodhue isn't likely to forget the night of October 21, 1960 for quite some time. In Eastern's winning effort against Austin Peay Ken played good enough to be named Eastern's player of the week. However, he sustained a head injury in the ball game and was forced to spend the night in a Clarksville hospital for safety's sake. After being released from the hospital, he found that a sport coat and several other items of his clothing had been stolen from a relative's car. Some people are just naturally followed by adventure. Right, Ken?

LANSDALE MAKES RECORD BOOK. Jerry Lansdale rewrote an old Eastern record by carrying the ball 22 times in the Austin Peay game. The freshman fullback from Mt. Sterling also scored his first touchdown in varsity competition. The new record replaces one set in 1956 by Ronnie Polty who carried the ball 20 times.

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD. Allen Hughes, son of Eastern athletic director "Turkey" Hughes, is making quite a name for himself at Annapolis. Overlooked locally, Allen is playing some bang-up football for the Middies who are ranked as the nation's number four pigskin overhorse. Hughes, who is everybody's All-American Joe Bellino, has scored several touchdowns already this year and played a major part in the Middies' 15-14 win over the Washington Huskies Rose Bowl champs. Hughes also plays a little baseball. He was a starter for the Middie cagers last year as a sophomore. This team was ranked among the top five defensive teams in the nation. This year, as a junior he is the captain of the Navy quintet.

Allen is following in his father's footsteps as "Turkey" was quite an athlete himself at the University of Kentucky. He is one of two men ever to win letters in four different sports in the school's history. Wallace "Wah Wah" Jones was the other one.

ROYALS ROLLING. The Cincinnati Royals, door-mats of the NBA for the past several years are out to win this season from all indications. The Royals picked up a new coach in Charley Wolf, ex-Villa Madonna mentor, and several sensational rookies, Oscar Robertson and Bob Boozer, and have raced to four straight wins without a defeat. There hasn't been a World Series played in Cincinnati for twenty years, but the Queen City seems to have an outside chance for a professional basketball championship playoff this year. Two attendance records have already fallen in the first three home games proving that the city is still chazy over the "Big O."

MURRAY LOADED. The Murray Thoroughbreds, whose surprising rise from the cellar is the talk of the Ohio Valley Conference, will probably be even tougher next season. Coach Don Shelton lists only one senior in his top 23 players.

ROUNDBALL FEVER. With basketball season just around the corner, we can't help being optimistic about Eastern's chances in the 1960-61 OVC race. Yes, we realize that Western is loaded but Coach Paul McBrayer seems to think, and with good reason we might add, that this Eastern quintet may be the best he has ever coached. We saw a lot of good basketball last year and we have every reason to shoot for the moon this year. A word of advice for Richmond merchants. Better be well supplied with red towels!

Maroons Ruin Austin Peay Homecoming; Stomp Governors 27 to 13

The Eastern Maroons played a fired-up brand of football in crushing the Governors of Austin Peay, 27-13, before a Saturday evening Homecoming crowd of 7,500 at Clarksville, Tennessee. The Maroons, in registering their second win of the 1960 season, completely dominated play, limiting the stymied APSC crew to only one first down in the first three quarters.

The Governors took the opening kickoff but were forced to kick after three unsuccessful thrusts into the hard-charging Eastern line. Richie Emmons, 155 pound dynamo from Ft. Thomas, gathered in the punt on his own 5 yard raked 95 yards for an apparent six-pointer. The long run was nullified by an offside penalty.

Undaunted, the Maroons of Coach Glen Pressnell took the next punt and rolled from their own 23 to the APSC 12 from where Dave Hatfield's attempted field goal was off the mark.

Two plays later, halfback Gilly Layman picked off a Governor pass on Eastern's 43. Layman then scooted 42 yards to the APSC 15. The Maroons gathered a minus 16 yards on the next three plays and Hatfield attempted another field goal from the 39. This time the kick was wide.

The Maroons stormed right back to the Governor 8, but Lansdale was thrown for a 19 yard loss on an attempted pass. On fourth down Hatfield tried for the third time to split the uprights, and this time the kick was short.

With 37 seconds remaining in the first half, Shannon Johnson climaxed a 59 yard drive by crashing over from the one. The key play in the drive that finally produced a score was an interference penalty on a Lanham to Johnson pass. Hatfield's kick was perfect. First half statistics showed the Maroons leading in first downs, 12-6.

The Maroons roared back in the second half, scoring their second quarter number three. Tony Lanham went over from the 4 on an option play. The Maroons covered 73 yards in 14 plays. Hatfield laced on the extra point, and Eastern led 14-0.

Howard Tallies Touchdown
 Sophomore halfback Carl Howard scored the Maroons third marker on a pass interception from the Governor 48. Hatfield added his third extra point and the scoreboard showed Eastern ahead 21-0 with 5:03 left in the third stanza. Freshman fullback Jerry Lansdale tallied the final touchdown for Eastern when he carried over from the 3 with 10:08 left in the ballgame. The Maroon drive covered 28 yards in 5 plays. A bad pass from center ruined the conversion try.

Maroons Prep For Western's Homecoming

The jubilant Eastern Maroons, raring to go after trouncing the Austin Peay Governors 27-13 last week-end, pack up their gear and travel westward Saturday afternoon. The state's most famous rivalry will be renewed with the Maroons seeking revenge on the Western Hilltoppers, who rudely ended a streak of 12 consecutive Eastern Homecoming victories at Richmond last season.

Saturday's meeting, the feature of Western's homecoming celebration, will be the 33rd meeting of the two cross-state rivals. The "Toppers hold a wide 22-10 edge in the series, which dates back to 1914. The Maroons, 2-3-1 for the season, will have their work cut out for them since the 2 p. m. clash will not only give the Hilltoppers an opportunity to please a homecoming crowd, but also to make amends for a 44-0 licking at the hands of tough Louisville last weekend.

The Maroons' surprisingly easy win over the Tennesseans was a result of a ferocious running attack against a reportedly strong Austin Peay defense which had throttled most of its opponents' running games in their first five contests. The week before, the Governors had beaten the same Jacksonville State team that had shut out Middle Tennessee 19-0, and did it by thwarting their running attack.

Coach Pressnell was highly pleased with his team's performance, both offensively and defensively, although mistakes early in the game prevented four other first half touchdowns and kept the game from being a complete riot. A rugged Eastern defense held Austin Peay without a first down until late in the third period. They garnered just six in all, five of which were by passing, as compared to the Maroons' twenty for the game.

The Maroons outgained the Governors in rushing, 240 yards to just 47. It was a last period passing attack that resulted in two touchdowns for the homecoming Governors. This same department is one in which the Maroons have been hurt all season.

In tall Jim Daily, the Hilltoppers boast one of the finest passers in the league and Pressnell has this in mind as his Maroons prepare for Saturday's Ohio Valley Conference battle. Singled out by Pressnell were freshman fullback Jerry Lansdale, of Mt. Sterling, who, incidentally, set a new Eastern record for the most carries in one game. The 190 pound yearling netted 79 yards on 22 carries. The previous high was 20, set in 1956 by quarterback Ronnie Polty.

Pressnell was smiling early Monday morning over the return to form of Shannon Johnson, and another good performance by Gilly Layman. The two seniors have been hampered all season with injuries. He also praised the play of the entire line for their tremendous play, both offensively and defensively. He was particularly pleased with the play of sophomore Ken Goodhue, of Covington. The Maroons should be at near top physical strength Saturday for the important conference tilt. Goodhue suffered a possible slight concussion and is a doubtful starter and starting tackle, Frank Tomaro, received a leg injury after he was clipped from behind. After six games, Layman paces the individual rushers with a splendid 9.2 average per carry. The 170 pound senior from Ashland has netted 303 yards on 41 carries. Jim Chittum, freshman from Lexington, Va., is averaging 7.2 yards on 245 net yards in 34 carries and Tony Lanham, junior quarterback from Corbin, follows with 163 yards and a 4.2 average per attempt. As a team, the Maroons are averaging 3.9 yards on 268 carries. Lanham was the passer, having completed 27 of 58 aeriels for 365 yards and four touchdowns. Senior Johnson paces the scorers with three touchdowns and 18 points. Incavido is out for the season with an injury sustained in the Murray contest a month ago.

Coach Mickey Vernon of the Pittsburgh Pirates was put on the active player list for the month of September and retired as a player when the season ended. He was listed as coach for the World Series. The 1959 Los Angeles Dodgers won the pennant with 88 victories, lowest flag-winning figure in National League history for a 154-game schedule.

New Magazine For Egghheads

The first bi-monthly issue of College magazine has gone on sale at bookstores and newsstands around campus. The magazine was started by David Preiss, formerly of the University of Wisconsin and the staff of Playboy magazine, and is subtitled "Entertainment and Enlightenment for College Egghheads."

Material in the first issue includes a guest editorial by Or. Robert M. Hutchins, an article measuring the educational benefits and drawbacks of the University of Chicago, a study of the graphic art of woodcutting with a reproduction of a woodcut by student artist Gopal C. Mitra of the U. of Minnesota, and a 16-page insert devoted to College's new cartoonist discovery, Clayton D. Powers. Powers has since received offers from Harper's and Esquire for his captionless cartoons.

There are also reviews, short stories, bridge and chess columns and non-fiction departments the magazine calls "academic," "aesthetics," "athletics," "poetics" and "CCC Camp." The last is a collection of news items and features of special interest or importance to college students, and these are compiled from items in the collegiate press and from material submitted by College Campus Correspondents (CCC's).

A large-scale, nation-wide student survey will be made during the month of November by College Campus Correspondents. Individual students will be polled and asked to list their preferences in music, art and literature, as well as fashions and other commodities. The study will be undertaken by CCC's for dual purposes of determining editorial and advertising facts for College. Results of this research will be made available to interested student, government and business organizations as well.

This next issue of the magazine, to be released November 15, will feature a guest editorial by David Dismann, author of The Lonely Crowd, and an article on lithographer Max Kahn. College is 50c at most campus bookstores and newsstands, and a charter subscription rate of $2 for the next five issues is currently offered.

Louisville, Ky., October 12: Carroll Hubbard, Jr., a 23 year-old junior at the University of Louisville School of Law, was elected state college chairman of Kentucky's Young Democrats at their convention last week at Louisville's Sheraton-Seelback Hotel. Hubbard will hold this position until the 1962 convention.

He will work with Tom Isaacs, a sophomore from Danville, who serves as president of the Eastern State College Young Democrat Club.

Hubbard, a graduate of Georgetown College where he was voted Mr. Georgetownian, has served as state college chairman for former Lt. Governor Harry Lee Waterfield in his gubernatorial bid, state youth co-chairman for Combs and Wyatt in their winning fall campaign of 1958, state youth chairman for former Governor Keen Johnson in his primary victory earlier this year, and as state youth co-chairman for this year's November election.

Student Council Begins Debate On Aftermath Of Snake Dance

A heated discussion arose concerning the replacement of the billiard balls taken by Eastern students during the snake dance and the action the Student Council should take to prevent this from happening again. Larry Wetenkamp suggested that the Student Council withdraw the money from the individual class treasuries to pay for the billiard balls. Larry Stanley, senior representative, argued that the junior and senior classes would not agree to this as they did not have as many members of their respective classes involved.

Another suggestion was made to the effect of taking the billiard balls from the grill and giving them to the downtown establishment. This met with disapproval as the billiard balls are in poor shape and would not be good replacements for the ones taken. Another suggestion was that a request be run in the paper requesting that the billiard balls be returned.

Some members of the council felt that punishment should be administered by the Student Council. Others felt that this would do more harm than good. The Ex Post Facto law was brought up by Mr. Lewis in connection with punishing the whole student body for the act of a minority when there was no previous law providing for this punishment.

Another suggestion for getting the money to replace the billiard balls was to have the Student Council buy new billiard balls. This entire check amounts to roughly $506. Phil Bryant suggested that the Student Council should find out the exact amount of the billiard balls and a committee was appointed to do this.

It was decided that the Student Council should have a disorderly conduct law incorporated in the constitution to take care of such cases in the future.

Several other matters of student interest were also discussed by the Council.

New Secretary
Bernice Darland former sophomore representative, has been appointed secretary of the Student Council. This office was previously held by Sandy Wilhoit who is now doing practice teaching in northern Kentucky.

Clubs Forfeit Deposits
It was decided, after much discussion, that the Laurel County Club would have to forfeit their $10.00 deposit with the Student Council as they failed to clean up the area they occupied while building their float. The Laurel County Club's opposition to this decision was that they went to clean up the area, however, the warehouse was locked on Sunday evening. The Student Council stated that the club should have seen to the matter before then.

No-Parking Rule Discussed
Bernice Darland, Joann Conley and Phil Brian met with President Martin to discuss the no-parking-in-front-of-girls-dorm-rules. Dr. Martin asked that they have a committee draw up the complaints, suggestions, and ideas of the students concerning this rule.

Mail Deposit Boxes
Leverly Rouse, junior representative, reported that Dr. Martin appointed Dean Keen to investigate the possibility of having mail deposit boxes in the area of the men's dorms. President Martin stated that he would like to have a branch of the downtown post office located at Eastern and mail boxes in Sullivan and Burnham Halls.

Math Club Initiates New Members
Three new members were initiated into the Math Club Tuesday, October 25th, in Walnut Hall. These members were Herbert Angel, Earl Johnson, and Kenneth Keama. The initiation procedure in the Math Club includes the member-elects giving a speech on a mathematical subject; wearing a sign that must be exactly 2"x4" and must read "2x2=5"; plus being prepared to give definition of "aculus and Derivative of a Function" to any old member at any time requested to do so.

The club in its business meeting, decided to visit a computer in Lexington, November 5th.

S.N.E.A. TO TAKE PART IN AMERICAN ED WEEK
The October 26, meeting of S.N.E.A. was a business one held in Walnut Hall at 6:30 p.m. Janet Smyth, S.N.E.A. president, opened the meeting and Jenny Lou Talent reported on the recent trip made by five S.N.E.A. members with Dr. Ferrell to a Kentucky Student Education Association Workshop at Western on October 22nd. American Education Week was announced to be November 6-12, and the Eastern S.N.E.A. decided to participate in the Professional Day Assembly honoring education on Monday, November 21.

Discussing the anticipated Democratic victory next week are from left: Dr. Paul Nagel; State Attorney-General John Breckenridge, and Tom Isaacs. Mr. Breckenridge addressed a rally of Young Democrats last Monday in the Little Theatre.

"E" CLUB PLANS DADS DAY NOV. 12

John Callahan, president of "E" Club, announced yesterday that Eastern's first annual Dad's Day will be observed on Saturday, November 12 the day of the Morehead-Eastern football game.

This will be first campus wide Dad's Day in Eastern's history," John said, "in the past only the fathers of football players have been recognized at the game."

This year the fathers of every student on campus are being invited to come to campus on this day. Each student will be contacted and will address the invitation himself.

Registration tables will be set up in the lobby of the Keen Johnson Student Union Building and all fathers who come should be brought there to register. The fathers will be given a lapel pin designating him as an "Eastern Dad" and will be admitted to the Morehead game free.

"We hope that the student body will cooperate in this," John said, "because only with the help of every one on campus can this day become an Eastern tradition."

The "E" Club believes that this event can become one of the highlights of the school year but can only be a success with every one's cooperation. If anyone has a question the "E" Club and they will be glad to answer it.

Dance Band To Play At Assembly
The Maroonliners, the college dance band which recently made its 1960 debut at the Halloween Party, will give an assembly program on Wednesday, November 9, at 10 a.m. for sophomores, juniors and seniors. Included on the program are arrangements by Stan Kenton, Glenn Miller, and Errol Garner. The program will be repeated Thursday at 1 p.m. for freshman only.

Appearing with the band will be Gail Shivel, a wonderful vocalist; the Black Notes, a new trio composed of Ruth West, Janice Fulkerson, and Judy Sands; and John Witt, a jazz singer. Mr. Nick Koenigstein, EKS band director and advisor to the Maroonliners will be master of ceremonies.

The band, led by Jim Layne, includes: saxes; Jack Horner, Bill Campbell, Stuart Carmen, John Witt, Joe Ball; trumpets: Arlie Noble, Mr. Dean Gatwood, Gary Holdsworth, Danny Eberlein, Barry Smith; trombones: Darryl Brown, Dwight Gatwood, Steve Stivers, Bill Cain; drums; Jerry Riches; boss, Arthur Evr; piano, John Rankin.

8 Housing Units Ready In Brockton
Four duplex apartment buildings, containing eight two bedroom units, in Brockton have been completed, and eight families will move into them during the week of November 7-12.

Priority in assignment to the new units was given to families who must be relocated because of new construction.

The other family housing presently under construction will be ready for occupancy by February 1, 1961. A priority will be given to families living in the Veterans Village and off-campus in Richmond for these units.

Specific priorities will be assigned later. Applications for the new apartment are being received.

Breckenridge Calls For Kennedy Win

State Attorney-General, John Breckenridge, last Monday night called for a Democratic victory in the general election to be held next Tuesday.

Addressing a partisan crowd of Young Democrats in the Little Theatre, Mr. Breckenridge stressed the loss of U.S. prestige during the last four years of the Republican administration. He stated, "It is not treason to state the facts about the country."

Mr. Nixon claims that he has been influential in making major policy decisions. If this is true, then he alone can be blamed for the retreat and retrench policy of the past four years.

Federal Aid To Education
Concerning federal aid to education, Mr. Breckenridge said that without it, our children won't be educated. "Without federal aid there wouldn't be an Eastern or a U. of K., and you don't see controls placed on them."

When asked about the religious issue, he said, "The constitution guarantees that there shall be no religious test required of a candidate for public office, and those opposing Senator Kennedy would be a lot better off if they would concentrate on the dangers of atheistic communism to the American way of life."

Also present at the rally was Carroll Hubbard, state college chairman of Kentucky's Young Democrats.

Nat. Science Grad Awards Offered

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council has again been called upon to advise the National Science Foundation in the selection of candidates for the Foundation's program of graduate and postdoctoral fellowships. The Foundation plans to award approximately 1,200 graduate and 150 postdoctoral fellowships in these two programs during the 1961-1962 academic year.

Committees of outstanding scientists appointed by the Academy-Research Council will evaluate applications of all candidates final selection will be made by the Foundation and awards announced on March 15, 1961.

These fellowships are open to citizens of the United States and applications are evaluated solely on the basis of ability. Fellowships may be applied to advanced study in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, and engineering sciences, including anthropology, psychology (excluding clinical psychology), and the following social sciences: geography, mathematical economics, econometrics, demography, information and communication theory, sociology and the history and philosophy of science. They are open to college seniors, graduate and postdoctoral students, and others with equivalent training and experience.

All applicants for graduate (predoctoral) awards will be required to take the Graduate Record Examination designed to test scientific aptitude and achievement. This examination administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on January 21, 1961, at designated centers throughout the United States and certain foreign countries.

The annual stipends for graduate Fellows are as follows: $1800 for the first year; $2000 for the intermediate year; and $2200 for the terminal year. The annual stipend for postdoctoral Fellows is $4500. Limited allowances will also be provided to apply toward tuition, laboratory fees, and travel.

Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington 25, D.C. The deadline for the receipt of applications for regular postdoctoral fellowships is December 19, 1960, and for graduate fellowships, January 6, 1961.

Biology Club Officers Chosen
Officers of the Biology Club for 60-61, are President-Judy Hendrickson, Vice President-Elmer Mullins, and Secretary-treasurer-Elva Dolwick. Dr. Harold Zimmack, assistant professor of biology, is sponsor of the club.

As a means of meeting, the biology majors and minors and meeting the instructors informally, the club journeyed to the woods near Berea for a picnic Thursday, October 27th. Games, singing, and food were the pro-

Eastern Upsets Arch - Foe Obtains Revenge From Western In 17-7 Victory

Coach Glenn Presnell's Eastern Kentucky Maroons turned opportunists last Saturday afternoon at all places, Bowling Green, to hand the homecoming Western Hilltoppers a 17-7 licking before an overflow crowd of nearly 7,000.

The win was sweet for the Maroons, especially since it was this same Western team that snapped a twelve year homecoming win streak at the Maroons' own battleground with a 14-7 win.

The contest was a typical Eastern-Western battle only in the hard-hitting, rugged style of play. It did not resemble games of the past involving the two famous rivals in that the Hilltoppers gave up the ball nine times to the aggressive

Maroons, seven times on fumbles and twice by timely pass interceptions.

The win was the eleventh for the Maroons in the ancient series that dates back to 1914. Western has won twenty-two times.

Tackle Dave Hatfield gave the Maroons a 3-0 lead in the second period on his beautiful 33 yard field goal. "Toppers came back and took the lead in the third period when halfback Buzzy Best bucked over from the one yard line. Tackle Jack Waff tacked on the extra point and Western led 7-3.

In the fourth, the Maroons took advantage of a pair of Western miscues and added two touchdowns with Gilly Layman and Richie Emmons scoring. Hatfield added both extra points to give the Maroons their final 17-7 margin.

As the horn sounded, the Maroons were on the march again and had driven to the Topper 4 yard marker.

An estimated 300 Eastern students and Richmond townspeople made the trek to the Hilltopper campus. Nick Koenigstein's 85-piece Marching Maroons turned in a tremendous performance that left the capacity crowd amazed by their precision and great halftime show. See Sports Page for complete game story.

Record Enrollment Reveals Geographical Variety

Enrollment for the fall semester at Eastern Kentucky State College is a record 3,452 students. This represents nearly a seventeen per cent increase over the enrollment of the fall semester last year.

Students from sixteen states, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin, as well as Kentucky, are enrolled this year.

There are 158 out-of-state students. The largest group is from Ohio, with 79 registered students. Indiana, is second with 31, and Pennsylvania has 10 here.

The four Kentucky counties with the greatest number of students are: Madison County, 397; Jefferson County, 168; Harlan County, 153; and Pulaski County, 136.

There are students from 79 other Kentucky counties too. Seven counties, Fleming, McLean, Monroe, Rowan, Spencer, Taylor, and Trimble have only one student each here.

The total enrollment figure does not include approximately 350 students enrolled in Eastern's training school program, or the several hundred enrolled in off-campus extension centers.

A breakdown of the enrollment shows 1,029 freshmen, 701 sophomores, 614 juniors, 768 seniors, 317 graduate students, and 23 special students.

Of the total, 1,829 are men, while 1,623 are women students.

HEAD OF U.K. GRAD SCHOOL TELLS OF FELLOWSHIPS
Collegiate Pentacle, senior women's leadership honorary society, held its regular meeting on Wednesday, November 3, 1960 at 6:00 in Room 201 of the Student Union Building. Students interested in graduate study were invited to attend the meeting. Miss Arlene Hatton, president, presided at the meeting and Miss Frances Dobbs, vice-president, introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Lyle Dawson.

Fellowships, scholarships, and assistantships were also discussed. Dr. Dawson said that some of these require service of the students and some are not service appointments. Some of these are given by the University of Kentucky and some are sponsored by outside agencies, especially by the Federal government; such as, the National Scientific Cooperative Fellowship.

Dr. Dawson said, "There is one thing that is close to my heart, and that is financial assistance is available for really capable students." He also said, "We need to encourage and provide greater opportunity for the capable students, and we are in need of more leaders in our country today."

KENNEDY WIN SEEN BY THREE LEADING NEWS MAGAZINES
Three leading news magazines have published surveys indicating enstator John F. Kennedy has a substantial edge over Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in the presidential race.

The surveys by Time, Newsweek, and U.S. News & World Report state that Kennedy entered the final week of the campaign in a good position to capture far more than the 289 electoral votes needed to win.

However, all three magazines agree that in many key states where Kennedy appears ahead the edge is so slight that the electoral vote could go either way.

Marine Recruiters To Visit Campus

On 8-9 November 1960, a Marine Officer Election Team will visit Eastern Kentucky State College for the purpose of interviewing undergraduates interested in obtaining a commission in the U. S. Marine Corps upon receipt of their baccalaureate degree. The team, headed by Captain J. F. Meyers, Jr., officer selection officer, and 1st Lieutenant Carolyn J. Aldridge, woman officer selection officer, will be located in the Student Union Building.

The Marine Corps offers five basic Officer Training programs; four for male applicants and one for women. Outstanding features of the male program are:

1. Freshmen and sophomores enrolled in the Pliatoon Leaders Class attend six weeks of training during two summer vacations at Quantico, Virginia.
2. Juniors attend one continuous two-week training course at Quantico, Virginia.
3. Seniors and graduates attend a ten-week Officer Candidate Course after graduation.
4. No drills, meetings, or other military activities during the school year.
5. Selective Service exemption.
6. Pay received during training.

OVC Coaches Pick Eastern - Western Basketball Playoff

If Ohio Valley Conference basketball coaches are right, defending champion Western Kentucky and senior-studded Eastern Kentucky will meet in a playoff to decide the 1960-61 loop title.

Ed Diddle's Hilltoppers and Paul McBrayer's Maroons finished in a virtual dead heat in a pre-season poll of all seven OVC basketball coaches. Cal Luther's veteran Murray quintet was a strong third while skyscraping Morehead edged out another sophomore-dominated club, Tennessee Tech, for the No. 4 spot.

Pictured above is the architect's drawing of the proposed Maintenance Building. Bids for the building are now being secured and will be opened the middle of November. Construction is then scheduled to start immediately.

ATTENTION ALL PROGRESS STAFF MEMBERS!

An important staff meeting will be held in the new Progress office in the Administration building on Monday, November 7, at 5:00 p. m. The new office is number 4, in the basement of the building.

An editorial staff meeting will be held at 4:00 p. m. the same day, in the same place. All editors should be present. Anyone who is interested in joining the staff will be welcome at the meeting at 5:00 p. m.

Men, Religion, And Politics

Picking up the mail the other day, we found several new sources against Kennedy for president because of religion. It makes us wonder if these people are cheapening their own religion by making it a tool for their own gains and jealousies. How can men of God go to such lengths to show hatred for another religion? Some of these men we respect, others such as Brother Walker, we are confident are trying to make themselves into pseudo-messiahs. As Protestants we were against persecutions in the Reformation, but here we are in the 20th century, persecuting the Catholics because they are Catholics and we are Protestants.

On November the 8th, Americans will go to the polls to vote for a man or a party. They will, we hope, not cast their votes for a Baptist God, a Methodist God, a Quaker God, or a Catholic God. We are not voting for gods but for parties and men, representative of these parties. Interested persons wanting to know more of this oncoming election would do much better examining platforms and leaving interpretations of Catholicism to Rome where it will stay, regardless of which man is elected.

These bigots preach to us not to vote for a Catholic because he will be under the strong hand of Rome. To begin with these men are doing the same thing that they are afraid the Catholics would do. They are trying to dictate to Americans, telling them whom to vote for in the election.

In conclusion, if any Protestant sect believes that they will be destroyed should a Catholic become president, we are sure they are right, but it won't be by a Catholic, but by their own hate and greed. I would like to quote a bit of scripture that these bigots use and I think is fitting. "To the law and the testimony if they speak not according to this word it is because there is no light in them." Isaiah 8:20.

TO THE STUDENT BODY

In a previous editorial, we spoke of the necessity of billiard balls on campus. There are certain people that prize these fished billiard balls. We can not see what any human would want an object as noxious as a billiard ball. However, I'm sure that these clever thieves have put their souvenirs to great use. We hear also that they make interesting paper weights.

Eventually, however, the school will have to pay for these souvenirs. This will mean that sometime this year we won't be able to have a dance or some other activity. The petty thieves do not realize that they are only depriving the rest of the student body. What do they care if others suffer only as long as they can have their clever little prizes.

Who are the people that steal billiard balls? Are they hardened criminals? Most of them are a little more immature than a juvenile delinquent. They are thieves, the worst kind of thieves for they have no reason for stealing. We ask ourselves, don't these people have some basic moral code that says that it's wrong to steal. Or are they so low as humans that they aren't capable of doing anything more than making braying mules out of themselves.

They talk of others doing them injustice, but yet they do injustice by being petty thieves. They gripe about strong disciplinary rules. Examine these rules and you will find they are not made for good students but for a low caliber of students who think that they can make themselves more mature by stealing silly things as billiard balls. Yes, this is why there must be rigid rules so that we can protect the rest of the campus from its high school spirited students.

GUEST EDITORIAL

The New York Times' Reasons For Endorsing Sen. Kennedy

Following is the text of an editorial from the October 27th issue of the New York Times in which the newspaper announced and explained its preference for Senator Kennedy in the presidential race:

The New York Times, speaking as an independent newspaper, today announces its support of John F. Kennedy for President. Two considerations have carried special weight in determining our judgment. One of these is a matter of foreign policy. The other is a question of assuring a unified direction of the nation's affairs at a difficult moment in history.

In the field of foreign policy we find it a cause of deep satisfaction that despite their sharp dispute over Quemoy and Matsu, the two candidates are in substantial agreement over a wide range of important issues. Both are aware of the nature and dimensions of the imperialist-Communist threat. Both want a stronger national defense and more effective aid to the under-developed nations. Both are prepared to resist, by force if necessary, any attempt by Soviet Russia to drive us from Berlin.

This large measure of agreement guarantees a continuity of the main lines of American foreign policy and offers welcome assurance to our N. A. T. O. allies and to the small nations which look to us for support in their efforts to safeguard their newly acquired independence.

Nixon Had To Be Rescued. As for Quemoy and Matsu, it is unfortunate that this issue has been brought into the campaign. When questioned about it, both candidates ought to have stood on the policy expressed by Congress in its joint resolution of January 29, 1955, a policy to which both of them have now wisely retreated after having taken more extreme positions in direct opposition to each other. There are far more important questions of foreign policy than Quemoy and Matsu, but the debate over the offshore islands did throw a revealing light on differences of judgment on the part of the two candidates.

Senator Kennedy made it clear that he would not go to war with Communist China solely for the "principle" of defending two islands immediately adjacent to the Chinese mainland, for to do so would be "unsound militarily, unnecessary to our security and unsupported by our allies." But the Vice President, who in a sense had to be rescued from his original position by the President, made statements—such as the one that we would not surrender "one inch of free territory" to the Communist—that carry implications reaching far beyond Quemoy and Matsu and, in fact, extending to the whole range of American foreign policy.

There are large areas of the world—particularly in Southeastern Asia—where ideological conflict between Communism and anti-Communism may break out at any moment into local warfare. Are we, as Mr. Nixon indicates, to use American manpower to prevent the loss of "one inch of free territory" in such areas? The choice is not so easy as Mr. Nixon implies. It involves the question of the intrinsic importance of each such area to the security of the United States, the question of Allied assistance, the possible cost of American intervention in terms of American lives. The over-simplification of Mr. Nixon's sweeping declarations in these matters is not reassuring.

Senator Kennedy's approach in this as in other matters of foreign policy, except for his momentary blunder suggesting intervention in Cuba, a position from which he quickly retreated, seems to us to be more reasoned, less emotional, more flexible, less doctrinaire, more imaginative, less negative than that of the Vice President. These are intangibles, and stem less from specific programs than from the breadth of vision of the man and of his advisers, but they are real and compelling nevertheless.

A second consideration persuading us to support the candidacy of Mr. Kennedy lies in the realities of the present political situation here at home.

There is every reason to believe that the next Senate, because of holdover members and the geographical distribution of the seats to be filled this year, will be strongly Democratic. There is almost equally good reason to believe that the House also will be Democratic. With international tensions running high and great decisions to be made, we cannot view with satisfaction the prospect of a continuation of the division of authority between Executive and Congress which has prevailed in Washington for the last six years.

With his personal warmth and widespread popular support, President Eisenhower was able to bridge this division to some extent. Mr. Nixon, we think, would be far less able to do so.

A resulting deadlock could be costly. Surely this is a time when the responsibility for leadership and action should be plainly fixed and no tug-of-war between opposite ends of Pennsylvania Avenue should be permitted to jeopardize the efficient operation of the American government.

We believe that with the prestige of an election victory, Mr. Kennedy could override reactionary Southern opposition within his own party and consolidate an effective majority behind a constructive program. We respect his readiness to take the initiative, his resourcefulness and the major purposes at which he aims.

While thus favoring the election of a Democratic candidate, we must state frankly that there is one aspect of the Democratic campaign which gives us concern. This relates to the question of fiscal policy.

A Prudent Democrat. We are not disturbed by the prospect of larger federal expenditures, as such. For one thing, both parties and both candidates agree that expenditures for national defense must be increased in view of the presumptive ability of the Soviet Union to launch a sudden nuclear attack. Moreover, quite aside from the question of national defense, we recognize that this is a growing country, with a quickened sense of social responsibility, and we have no doubt that the outflow of funds from Washington must keep pace with both the nation's birth rate and its conscience.

What concerns us, therefore, is not the strong likelihood that federal expenditures will rise, regardless of which party wins the Presidency, but rather the question of how such a program is to be handled. The Democratic Party's platform goes far beyond the Republican platform in making promises of large spending. Yet it calls at the same time for "no increase in present tax rates."

This is not a reassuring prospect, since it involves the hazards of inflation, but it is fair to note that in matters of fiscal policy Mr. Kennedy himself has been one of the more prudent Democrats in Congress.

In this election, as in all elections, there are points of strength and points of weakness on both sides. As always, the choice must be made on balance. On balance, our choice is Mr. Kennedy.

TOUCHE' by Dave Adams 35 Freshmen Picked For Midterm Expulsion

The following students were selected by a committee of faculty and administration from Eastern on the basis of immoral or unsportsman-like conduct; lack of originality, friends, money, or grades; violations of rules; and walking on the grass.

Belvedere Shirk was a chemistry major from Blue Slick, Kentucky. Bel was rejected by CWENS, SNEA, and the Photo Club.

Her activities include the spectator and the Circle Club. She was also instrumental in the construction of the Young Republican Club float.

Rodnick Roadnick, formerly a pre-engineering (hog-choo) major from Cusic, Kentucky, refused to join the Math Club or Theatre Club. She has appeared with Mozart in several one-act plays. Her best role was that of an inanimate object in "The Dog and The Fire Plug."

John Alice Burnam is a physical education major from Heirplane, Kentucky. She was active in F. E. Club, KYMA Club, W. R. A., F. R., and Cadet Officers Club. Her hobbies include wrestling, knitting, and inciting riots.

Ima Joiner, an elementary education major from Peasticks, Kentucky, signed up for the Band, Orchestra, Glee Club, student teaching, Math Club, SNEA, KYMA Club, 48 class hours and 36 other clubs. She eloped last week with that for which she was looking—a husband.

Stanley Brennan-Klone is a native of Bear Wallow, Kentucky. An English major, he is active in all eight Canterbury Clubs, CORE, NAACP, KKK, Nights in Columbia, and is in excellent health, as of now.

John Uramuther, a math major from Usicke, Kentucky, was one of the most active men on campus, being the campus representative for 3 dry cleaners, a liquor company, a drug concern, a bookie joint and Plowboy Magazine. John also considers himself somewhat of a treasure.

Lefty Oblique, a commerce major from LowBell Hollow, Kentucky, had the honor of being the first Eastern freshman to be officially drummed out of the Pershing Rifle Corps. He was the high point man on the demerit list for 3 consecutive weeks. He was branded as a traitor for he was Rotter to the Corps.

Lolita Ulrich, a French major from Alamo, Texas, a member of the Progress staff, was assigned to do a feature article on the basketball players' residence. She was last seen entering StateLand Hall.

Kenny McJames from Wilde, had not chosen his major. In his six years of attendance he earned 200 credit hours—all in Freshman courses.

MAROON ROUND-UP

with Larry Knorr

PROPAGANDA? Western's star quarterback Jim Daily listed as a doubtful starter in the Eastern-Western fray, managed to play practically the whole ballgame. Daily completed six of fourteen passes in the losing effort. Either Daily, who reportedly had a fractured right throwing wrist, turned in a superhuman effort; or the Western coaching staff was guilty of a little propaganda. Take your pick!

EX-TEAMMATES. Western center Ron Downard and Eastern center Wally Wallace each attended the same high school. Wallace was once Downard's understudy for the Newport Wildcat. Eastern's Richie Emmons and Western defensive specialist Denny McAtee were also teammates for Homer Highlands Bluebirds.

CHAIN GANG. Sammy Incavido, one of the O.V.C.'s stick-out performers before injuries shelved him for the season, is now working on the sideline yard-marking "chain gang." Sammy may be out of uniform, but he's one boy you can't keep off the football field. A salute to Sam!

THOMAS SPOOTS. Eastern sophomore John Thomas (a name popular among track stars) placed as the Eastern harrier's dropped a 32-25 verdict to Morehead at Morehead last week-end. Thomas, who is also one of the top distance runners on the Maroon track team, was edged out by Morehead's friend Solomon who set a new course record. The Maroons now have a cross-country record of two wins and three losses.

SHANNON SIDELINED. Add Shannon Johnson's name to the growing list of Eastern footballers who are out for the season. Shannon, who suffered internal injuries in the Western game, is the third Eastern starter and second senior to be forced to the sidelines permanently this season. Harvey Yearry, starting end, suffered a back injury in the Ft. Campbell game which ended his college football career, and Sammy Incavido bowed out with a groin injury in the Murray game.

GILLY GOES HOME. Gilly Layman, Eastern's star senior halfback, will close out his college football career at Ashland, his home town. The Maroons met the Marshall Greenies in the season finale at Putnam Stadium on Nov. 19 in Ashland's Shrine Bowl game. The Saturday afternoon game will probably find 8,000-seat Putnam Stadium filled to overflowing as 8,000 to 9,000 fans are expected to turn out. Tickets will be on sale at Eastern. Prices are $3.00 for reserved seats, $2.00 for general admission, and $1.50 for students.

GROUND ATTACK. The Maroons total offense yardage Saturday was 243 yards all on the ground. For the first time this year the Maroons failed to gain any yardage through the air. Western was held to 92 yards rushing and 72 yards passing. Like who needs passes?

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN. The Western Hilltoppers had possession of the pigskin on thirteen different occasions Saturday and only had to punt three times all in the second half. They punted the ball seven times on fumbles and twice on pass interceptions. And, oh yeah, they scored one touchdown!

OUTSIDE CHANGE. With wins in their final two O.V.C. contests with Tennessee Tech and Morehead, the Maroons could possibly finish in a second-place tie in the conference. However, Murray would have to lose to Western and Middle Tennessee and Middle Tennessee would have to lose to East Tennessee and Tennessee Tech. "I'm not taking any bets."

MODEL-LAFAYETTE. We'd like to see a game between two unbeaten, untied schoolboy teams, Madison Model and Lexington Lafayette. The two Central Kentucky powerhouses have identical 8-0 records. The Purples have outscored their opponents 300-66 while Lafayette hold a 270-25 advantage over their foes. Such a clash would really pack the spectators.

FLORIDA SCORING MACHINE. The all-Negro Florida A&M team has scored 177 points in its last two outings which they won by whopping scores of 97-0 and 80-0. Looks like they're trying their best to take competition out of college football. They haven't been scored upon all season. My guess is that they're lousy at blocking extra points!

HIGHLANDS AND LYNCH. We'd like to predict that Highlands and Lynch will win the state schoolboy titles this season in the AA and A brackets respectively. Louisville's illustrious Mr. Litkenhous picked three Louisville teams 1-2-3 in the state last week—Flaget, Male, and St. X. He picked Highlands fourth and Lynch seventh. Wonder if he's prejudiced?

SHORT LIVED RECORD. Jerry Lansdale stayed in the Eastern record book exactly one week. In last week's Austin Peay contest, Lansdale set a New Eastern record by carrying the ball 22 times. This record was in turn broken by Gilly Layman in the Western tilt. Gilly carried 23 times.

POINT TOWARD TECH—These two Eastern Kentucky gridders from Irvine will be honored Saturday night at the second annual "Irvine Night" game at Hanger Stadium as the Maroons host OVC leader, Tennessee Tech. A delegation of some 350 persons are expected to join the motorcade for the 21-mile trek to Richmond to pay tribute to Elvin Brinegar, and Shannon Johnson, both halfbacks. Johnson, however, will sit this one out, as well as the two remaining games, as he was lost for the season as a result of an injury sustained in last Saturday's 17-7 win over Western. Head coach, Glenn Presnell, left, is also pictured.

JOHNSON INJURED

MAROONS DIG IN FOR TOUGH TENN. TECH

A win over Western is a priceless gem in Eastern-land, but all is not roses for the Maroons after their 17-7 Homecoming spoiler. The price of victory came very high for Coach Glenn Presnell and his Maroons.

Shannon Johnson, the "Mister Consistent" on the Maroons' squad, received internal injuries and will be lost for the remaining three games, according to team physician, Dr. Hugh Mahaffey.

The hard-running senior halfback was injured midway of the second period as he leaped high for a pass from quarterback Tony Lanham. He was hit hard from behind by a host of red-shirted Hilltoppers and Dr. Mahaffey's report this morning advised that he end his college football career.

Johnson is to be honored, along with sophomore halfback, Elvin Brinegar, and former Eastern fullback, Hade Durbin, presently an assistant trainer, at Saturday night's important Ohio Valley Conference game with Tennessee Tech, by a delegation of fans and well-wishers from Irvine at the second annual "Irvine Night."

Last season, some 350 persons formed a convoy for the 21-mile trek to honor four Irvine gridders on the 1959 squad.

Johnson's loss, incidentally, marks the third starter this year who has been sidelined for the season as a result of an injury. End Harvey Yearry suffered a back injury in the season opener against Ft. Campbell that ended his competitive athletic career.

Senior fullback, Sammy Incavido, the third starter in the Murray game, suffered a groin injury that put him out of action for the remaining seven games.

"Shannon's loss will greatly hurt us," said head coach, Presnell. "He was perhaps our most consistent player and was just beginning to get back in top shape."

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Co-winners of Eastern's Player of the Week Award are halfbacks Richie Emmons and Gilly Layman. Emmons and Layman were a thorn in the side of the Western Hilltoppers. They each scored a touchdown. Layman carried 23 times for a total of 103 yards. Emmons also ran well and was lauded for his sensational blocking and tackling. Layman is a 175-pound senior from Ashland, and Emmons is a 165-pound freshman from Ft. Thomas.

important win. "Our running game again was the difference and Layman (Gilly) spearheaded Hatfield, not to be denied, made his second attempt good from the 23 to give the Maroons their final margin of victory, 17-7, with 9:07 left in the game.

Western wasn't through fumbling yet, however, as Hatfield's kickoff was again slowed to get away, the ballhawking Maroons recovering their seventh fumble of the day. Adding insult to injury, Elvin Brinegar intercepted a Jim Dalley pass and returned to the Hilltopper 20 in the closing moments. The Maroons were camped on the Western 16 as time ran out. It was a great victory for the Maroons and a humiliating defeat for Western.

Girls List Hockey Schedule

It's in the air again! That's right—hockey season is here and so is all the fun that goes with it. Each year, girls who join WRA are given the opportunity to learn the skills and rules of hockey, so don't let the excuse of not knowing anything about hockey keep you away from WRA anymore.

This year several games have already been scheduled with other schools. The schedule is as follows:

Nov. 5 Berea	1:30 Here
Nov. 7 U. of Cin.	4:15 Here
Nov. 12 Ursuline	11:00 Here
Nov. 22 U. of Ky.	4:00 Away

Come on over and give the girls your support. You'll find out that hockey is a thrilling and exciting game. Also you'll see that the men are not the only representatives of athletic competition from Eastern.

Maroons Topple Fumbling Hilltoppers 17-7 And Mar Arch Rival's Homecoming Day

The Maroons of Eastern Kentucky came storming from behind with a pair of fourth quarter touchdowns to turn the tables on arch-enemy Western Kentucky and spoil the Hilltoppers' Homecoming. The Maroons, eager to avenge the 14-7 Homecoming loss dealt to them by the underdog Hilltoppers at Richmond last year, led 6-0 at halftime but found themselves on the short end of a 7-3 count after three quarters.

Eastern threatened twice in the opening stanza, but the Maroons could get no closer than the Western 21 yard line. Defensive halfback Carl Howard intercepted a Jim Dalley pass on the Eastern 24 early in the contest, and the Maroons started a drive that ran out of gas on the Western 35. The Maroons, with Gilly Layman and Jerry Lansdale blazing the trail, rolled up three first downs in this series.

Faced with a fourth down and five situation, the Maroons were forced to punt. Gene Blackwelder angled his kick out of bounds on the Western 14. On the very next play, fullback Bobby Mitchell bulled through the Eastern defense for 10 yards before being jarred loose from the ball on a bone-crushing tackle by Eastern guard Tom Sharp. Senior tackle Frank Tomaro recovered the Topper fumble on the Western 24.

Pass Intercepted

The Maroons failed to take advantage of this golden opportunity as they were picked off by Western secondary-man Francis Paine, was downed on the Western 19. The Hilltoppers, on the strength of running backs Booker, Best, and Mitchell, chalked up two first downs in moving the ball to the 45 before Nash fumbled on the

Western Takes Lead

Boone caught the ball on the 20 and returned to the 30. From there the Toppers began a drive that covered 70 yards in 11 plays. Western garnered four first downs in the drive. Best climaxed the drive by busting over from the one with 3:29 remaining in the third quarter. Waff tackled on the extra point and the Hilltoppers led 7-3 despite their five fumbles.

The Maroons started a drive of their own late in the third quarter. The Maroons brought the Western kick-off back to the 30 and from that point began their first sustained drive. Lansdale, Emmons, and Lanham combined for a first down on the 40. After firing an unsuccessful serial intended for end Eddie Spenk, Lanham pitched out to Layman who rembled to the Western 47 for another first down. Emmons lost two yards on the next play, but Western was penalized 15 yards for a personal foul, giving the Maroons another first down on the Topper 35. Layman carried to the 30 as the third period came to a close.

The Maroons, with Gilly Layman doing almost all of the ball-carrying, picked up two more first downs before Layman finally plowed over from the one to put the Maroons back in the lead. Hatfield's boot was letter perfect and Eastern sported a 10-7 lead with 11:13 to go.

Western's fumble-tactics continued as they played patty-cake with Hatfield's kick-off. Guard Ken Goodhue smothered the pigskin on the Western 26, putting the Maroons right back into scoring position.

Lansdale ripped off five yards, and an offside penalty against the Toppers gave the Maroons a first down on the 16. After Lansdale bulled for two more, Richie Emmons glided around end for fourteen yards and another Eastern tally. Hatfield's kick was good, but a fifteen yard penalty was marked off against the Maroons offsetting the conversion.

WOMEN VS. MEN

The fairer, gentler sex of our humble asylum (or is the word "institution"?) has disappeared in a mass of slacks, men's-style blazers, hats, and shirts. Gone are the days of hooped skirts and frills. Now a typical college coed may be seen (at certain hours only) in the grill showing off her newest pair of fly-front britches.

quires care and the use of a comb, whereas, a quick "claw" through a pixie will suffice. Are today's females lazy? The majority are not exactly lazy, they just do not want to bother. Ask any man which he prefers, long or short hair. The answer will usually be long. "A woman's hair is her crowning glory" is now a trite phrase, as young moderns have little hair with which to be crowned.

Grandma's "smuggies" are today's bermuda shorts. Yesterday's pantaloons are now the latest in capri pants. High-topped shoes are strictly for kidsville, and the whalebone that squeezed a female of years past is now used in the whaling industry only.

Shorts can not get much shorter, skirts are popping their seams now, and a large handkerchief will do nicely for a dip. What will come next?

Spitting cobras have been known to hit their target—the eye of their enemy—at a distance of 12feet, although their normal effective range is about 6 feet.

Library Rolls Out The Tape

At a glance, it appears that Eastern's librarians have turned an age-old enemy into a useful form for the students that they serve and for themselves. Their red tape is the Scotch brand, however, and not the bureaucratic type.

Because of steadily increasing enrollment and consequent heavier circulation of books from the library, it became apparent some time ago that a faster, more efficient book charging routine would have to be initiated.

Different systems in use at other colleges were studied, but none of them quite filled the Bill. They either involved too much expense, or too much time needed to make the change from the old system to the new one.

It was that our librarians hit upon the idea of using colored Scotch plastic tape to form a new and better system of book charging. Here is how it works: As usual, the student, checking out a book, signs his name on the book card and returns it to the desk clerk, then stamps the book and the card with the due date.

Until recently the book card was next filed with other cards bearing the same due date. Each day a new date was used, and a new file was made. If a student wished to know to whom a book had been charged and when it would be returned the desk clerk had to search through several small files until he could locate the correct card bearing the desired information.

Now the book card is tabbed with a small piece of colored tape (eight colors are available) in a pre-determined position along its top. This combination of position and color represents the due date; thus enabling the librarian to determine the date of the card without pulling it from the single file in which all cards are arranged now by their Dewey Decimal number.

Here lies the greatest advantage in this system. With on file, there can be only one place to look for a card. Therefore, the location of a checked-out book can be determined in less than thirty seconds. Instead of a possible dozen or more places to look, there is only one.

If the librarian wishes to check for overdue books, he simply looks for cards with tabs representing past dates. These cards are pulled, and the "guilty parties" are sent overdue notices.

This system is definitely a boon to the student who wants the information we have mentioned and wants it in the usual hurry. It also allows more efficient use to be made of the library's resources. Quite often a student will find that the book he desires is due to be returned in time to be of use. In this case, he can ask the desk to reserve it, and he will be notified when it is available.

Trained librarians are on duty during all open hours. Suggestions from students and faculty for better services will be welcomed at all times.

Author Reviews LTC's 'Sabrina Fair'

by KEITH DAVIS

The audience is restless in hushed expectancy. The lights dim, now dim again. At last darkness and that still excitement peculiar to the theatre. Curtain time, and Sabrina Fair, Samuel Taylor's popular Broadway production, is launched in our own Brock Auditorium. With credit to Eastern's Little Theatre Club, on occasion one might actually have imagined himself at a Broadway production of the Long Island comedy.

Spurring one's imagination, certainly, is Mary Margaret Lewis's portrayal of gay though somewhat confused Sabrina, the chauffeur's daughter. Overcoming the Long Island "language barrier" with admirable skill, this young lady performed throughout with professional know-how and charm. Understandably, others were not so fortunate with the "barrier". A month is hardly time enough for Eastern Kentuckians to adjust convincingly to the demands of Long Island provincialism.

The portrayal of the cantankerous old financier, Linus Larrabee, was skillfully achieved by Barry Brennen, although at times the part was over-intensified we felt. Mr. Brennen injected life into the character with commendable effect, causing Linus to emerge as the most colorful personality of the play. Apparently, Barry too, won a victory over the "language barrier".

HAIR FASHIONS by Gretchen Wuederman

Hairdos are becoming stranger than fiction. Today a woman can and does arrange her hair in styles that resemble anything from a damp mop to an obstacle course.

The "Bell" is designed for long-hair. It is worn straight but poofed out on the sides and barely turned up at the ends. This gives a bell shaped effect to the hair and it is usually topped off with wispy side bangs combed in the opposite direction of the part. This bell effect can be easily set with clips and large rollers.

The Bubble is possibly the best known for campus wear and is suitable for hair of medium length. It lends a soft and airy setting for the face with its perfect poofed roundness. It is set entirely with wire mesh rollers all over the head. Although these bits of metal make for a lovely hair style, they are miniature items of torture to the scalp; and when wearing them one must be beware of lightning.

The Beehive arrangement looks exactly like its namesake and can only be worn by someone with long hair. Mademoiselle's tresses are twined around a small bristly cone and are held up by approximately one-half the contents of a can of spray net. It is a stunning coiffure but unfortunately it is good only for a one night stand.

It may be of interest to some that a survey of Burnam Hall's bobbie pin boxes showed that the number of hair clips alone, which make these hair dos possible, average out to be fifty-five per room. If all the hair clips in Burnam, excluding bobbie pins and rollers, were melted down, they would make approximately 15,212 campaign buttons.

In respect of this information, it is the opinion of the editors and myself that you should let your hair down and support the party of your choice!

HONOR SYSTEM IS SUSPENDED

Columbia, S. C. (IP) —Because "deliberate and persistent malpractice on the part of a minority" under the existing Honor Principle has led to a loss of confidence on the part of students and faculty in its workability, a special student-faculty committee has released a report recommending extensive modification of the principle on the campus of the University of South Carolina.

Dean W. H. Cawcutt, chairman of the committee, emphasized that the report is a "realistic adaptation of the Honor Principle (System) to present conditions."

"These conditions," he said, "are brought about in part by the expansion of class enrollments — in some instances from a normal of 20-25 class members to 100 or 150."

The committee's report states that this has led to a "loss of confidence on the part of students and faculty in the workability of the present machinery," with two main results: honest students are aware of breaches of the system but fail to report them; many faculty members have in fact abandoned the original principle by introducing such measures of vigilance as they feel to be necessary to protect their grades.
