EASTERN WINS EASY VICTORY

Maroons Trounce St. Mary's Grid Team 32 to 6 With Reserves in Lineup

Eastern Teachers College football team easily defeated the St. Mary's eleven here yesterday afternoon by a score of 32-6. Coach Hembree played practically all of his second string men throughout the contest, and this coupled with the muddy field kept their score as small as it was.

The game was slow from start to finish and at no time was there any spectacular playing by either team, with the single exception of the 40-yard run made by Brock early in the fourth period which netted the Maroons a touchdown. Combs, playing tackle for the Teachers, and Pieh at quarter, played a good brand of ball. Jansen, who was at the quarterback position for the visitors, was their outstanding player. He gained practically all of their yardage thru the line and did some excellent punting, outkicking Pieh by several yards.

Eastern gained her first touchdown of the afternoon within the first ten minutes of play when after a march down the field at the expense of the St. Mary's line Morris slipped off tackle for about five yards and a touchdown. This was the only score in the first period of the game. The second quarter was filled with fumbles by both teams, the ball exchanging hands often, and it was not until near the end of the period that Morris, on his second attempt, was able to carry the ball thru the line for one yard and the second marker. The half ended on the kick-off and the score was 12-0.

At the opening of the second half both elevens started a passing attack, but the Maroons had more luck with theirs and after only a few minutes had been played Pieh tossed a 20-yard spiral to Morris which netted a touchdown. H. Moberly scored the extra point with a spectacular end run after he had attempted a place kick and the man holding the ball for him had fumbled. After this marker the Eastern team took renewed interest in the contest and kept the ball in the enemy territory near their goal line until the green team was forced to kick. A Maroon lineman broke thru and blocked the kick for another touchdown. Brock's kick for extra point failed.

It was near the first part of the fourth quarter that Brock made his run for 40 yards and a touchdown thru the opposing line and a pass, Pieh to Nard, netted the extra point, but this run seemed to strengthen the green team instead of weaken it and it performed better than it had all afternoon. St. Mary's attempted a pass which Pieh intercepted over the goal line and was tackled by a St. Mary's player before he could get out of the zone. The play was ruled a touchback with no points for either team. It was Eastern's ball on the 20 yard line. Eastern kicked to her own 40 yard line.

St. Mary's completed a pass for 20 yard. Two more passes followed and before the Maroons could realize what it was all about, with 30 seconds to play, the green team had completed its fourth pass which enabled the receiver to cross the goal line for its one and only marker of the afternoon. The kick for point failed and the game ended.

Eastern-Western Meet Turkey Day

The Maroon football team left for Bowling Green this morning to engage the Western Teachers College in their final football game of the season, the Turkey Day game. Western has been Eastern's traditional rival for several years. Because of this fact the Maroon squad feels that it is up to them to get down to business and bring home the pig skin. Twenty boys will make the trip and every one of them will go down there to win or give all in trying to win. Most of the time, since the University of Louisville game, has been spent in pointing for this game, and because the two teams are so evenly matched, the game will be a battle royal, a grand fight to the finish.

The writer has been instructed by members of the football team to express their appreciation for the hearty support that has been given throughout the season, that each individual is going to Bowling Green with the feeling that the entire student body is back of him.

Eastern's School Spirit is Lauded

The individual who said that a Teachers College didn't have pep, couldn't generate any pep and never would have any pep, didn't know what he was talking about. Pep, a school spirit, or what not, has surely been installed in the present student body. There isn't a more loyal student body in the state than the one at Eastern at the present time.

Various student leaders started the ball to rolling on Thursday night before the University of Louisville game. The climax was reached Saturday afternoon when the Maroon team faced the U. of L. team. The yelling that was done at the game would have done credit to or passed anything that the University of Kentucky, a much larger school, could have done. The fine thing about the backing Saturday afternoon, was the fact that it didn't falter when the Maroon team was behind. In fact it didn't falter as long as the game lasted, even when it was apparent that the home boys would lose.

Such spirit will not only make for a winning team but will make for a winning school. Such spirit will tend to cement the student body and make for a better and bigger school. Students will want to come here because they know that they will be attending a real school, a school that can do things. Such spirit will tend to set up traditions that will be cherished and carried on by students to come, traditions that will tend to make a better and bigger school. Keep it up.

FACULTY DINNER

The faculties of Eastern's three schools, College, Normal and Training School, met for dinner at Du Clynbe Inn Wednesday evening of last week. President Coates presided. Mr. Messner gave the address of the evening, discussing developments in five phases of psychology. About fifty members were present.

A similar meeting will be held monthly thruout the year, constituting one of the regular weekly meetings required. The other three meetings include a general business session, a meeting of separate faculties, and departmental conferences.

Cherniavsky Trio Heard in Concert

By JOHN ORR STEWART

The Cherniavsky trio consisting of Leo Jan and Mischel, violinist, pianist and cellist, gave one of the most entertaining musical programs heard at Eastern in recent years on Saturday evening, Nov. 19, in the auditorium of University building under the auspices of the lyceum committee.

To describe the loveliness of their music or their artistry is a difficult assignment. Masters they are indeed of their respective instruments and in their numbers played together they are equally as pleasing. Not only the music chosen had a great appeal because of its tunefulness, but in addition the way in which it was interpreted added greatly to its enjoyment.

The program opened with a trio by Mendelssohn in three movements which was followed by violion cello solos, a movement from the Sonata by Porpora, Dances of the Elfs and The Spinning Wheel by Popper, and as encore for this group Rimsky-Korsakoff's Song of India. The next group consisted of three piano solos, Nocturne and two studies by Chopin, Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsodie Number 6. Then came three solos for the violin, the Nocturne in E flat of Chopin, Variations by Corelli and the Spanish Dance of Sarasate; two encores were given in the Canebrake by Gardner and Fasquita by Lehar-Kreisler. The last group consisted of two trios, Glinka's Russian Romance and the Slav Dance by Dvorak.

The most striking feature of the Cherniavsky's work is their ensemble playing. There could not be greater unity, understanding and sympathy than is evidenced by their group numbers. As soloists they are most unusual; their technique seems flawless, the tone quality exquisite, and each makes his listeners feel the music with him.

MILESTONE STAFF

On Tuesday, November 15, the College Junior and Senior classes met in a joint meeting for the purpose of selecting officers for the Milestone.

The following were elected as members of the Milestone staff:

Robert Atkins, editor in chief; Jenny Ramsey, associate editor; Lawrence Wagers, associate editor; Henry Coates, business manager; L. R. Station, advertising manager, and Mr. Deniston, faculty advisor.

Other offices yet unfilled are the literary editor, two art editors, two snap shot editors and two sport editors. These are to be filled by appointment of the elected staff.

The time of meeting, as yet, has not been definitely decided upon.

The student body is to be commended upon this wise selection and may look forward to the best annual ever published at Eastern.

BOOK WEEK IN THE TRAINING SCHOOL

Book Week was observed in the Training School with a varied program, including the making of posters, book marks, and attractive individual booklets containing colorful sketches and illustrations of book favorites. Especially appropriate and interesting was the chapel program on Tuesday. Here the pupils of the Junior High School impersonated story book characters, appearing on the program in the regalia of such well-known individual as John Silver, Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm, and many others.

Eastern Student's Article Published

Last spring, Professor Clark, of the English department, encouraged the students of his advanced composition class to send their work to magazines and newspapers. Many of the students contributed to various newspapers and magazines with more or less success.

Recently the October issue of "Every Child's Magazine", published at Omaha, appeared on the campus. On the very first page was a story by Mattie Redmond. Mattie's story showed much thought and was very neatly done.

She chose friendship as the theme of her story. The setting was in a small college. Two girls, roommates and close friends, were, with a number of other girls, writing a composition for a prize. The composition of one of the roommates disappeared just a short time before they had to be turned in. The other roommate was suspected as having something to do with the disappearance of the paper. But, as all good stories go, the paper was found just in time to win the prize.

Miss Redmond is a senior in the college department, altho the story was written while she was a junior.

FALL FESTIVAL

Tonight, with the presentation of the rural life play by members of the Berea College faculty, will bring to a close the Madison County Fall Festival which started Monday. Monday was entry day, Tuesday was home, school and health day, and Wednesday was agricultural day.

The feature of the second day of the festival was the Blue Ribbon Contest. Blue ribbons were given to all babies three years old and under that passed a satisfactory physical examination. On Tuesday night the Exchange club boys' band gave a very delightful concert.

The last day, today, was agricultural day. It was the most interesting day of the three, from the spectators view point. Various kinds of agricultural products was shown, one of the most interesting being that of the poultry department.

On Wednesday night members of the Berea faculty gave a very interesting rural life play that has drawn considerable favorable comment from various sections of the county as well as state.

MAROONS LOOSE GAME 21 TO 13

Eastern Team Makes Good Showing Against Louisville Gridders

BROCK, MOBERLY SCORE

The University of Louisville football team had a hard time defeating the Eastern Teachers College eleven here Saturday afternoon, over whom they won a 21 to 13 victory. Although the Louisville aggregation was slated to win from the start, their plans were almost upset by the flashy runs of Maroon backfield men.

Less than five minutes after the game started Ford of the Cardinal team slipped off-tackle for the first touchdown of the game and it began to look like the affair was going to be a track meet instead of a football game. But this just served as a warning to the Teachers, for they played air-tight football from then on out to the end of the game. During the next few minutes the ball changed hands often and finally near the end of the first quarter Louisville managed to get the oval to about the Eastern 15-yard line and on the fourth down attempted a pass. Brock, Maroon halfback, intercepted the heave on his own 10-yard line and galloped 90 yards for a touchdown. Gentry's perfect block of a Louisville player saved Brock from being tackled before he reached the goal line.

Eastern kicked off to Louisville and the ball rolled over the goal line and it was Louisville's ball on the 20-yard line. Ford go 10 yards and first down off-tackle and MacDonald added eight more thru the line. Louisville attempted to pass, but the player was tackled behind the line of scrimmage before he could get rid of the ball. It was the fourth down and they kicked to Saufley as the quarter ended.

Louisville gained their second marker of the afternoon when after a drive down the field they completed a forward pass over the goal line. The kick for extra point was good. Following the scoring, Louisville kicked off to Eastern and the player was downed in his tracks on about the Louisville 12-yard line. After the line plays of Eastern had failed to gain them ground, Pieh, who had been substituted for Saufley, was called back for a pass. He received the ball and ran back over the goal line, but was unable to get himself loose from the oval before he was tackled by a Louisville player, which counted as a safety for the visitors and netted them an extra two points. The half ended with the score 15-6.

During the third period the ball changed hands often, but neither side was able to tally. The outstanding plays of the period were a pass, H. Moberly to J. Moberly, which netted the Eastern team 15 yards, in which the latter almost succeeded in getting away for a touchdown, and the intercepting of a Louisville pass by Combs.

Shortly after the beginning of the fourth quarter, Koster, who played a stellar game of ball for the visitors, got away for a 15-yard run, carrying the ball to the Eastern two-yard line, and on the next play he bucked it over for their third and last touchdown of the day. The kick for extra point failed. During the next few minutes of the period the ball exchanged hands often, with a 30-yard run by Saufley around

Service or Self

In these days of co-operative business organizations and attempts to bring about more pleasant living conditions, we hear very much of service. Clubs are singing, "We'll do anything we can, stand by you like a man." There are "service stations" and "information stations" all along the highways for motorists and tourists. Various national and state societies have special service bureaus. Health service and educational service are easily obtained. When one enters school, on every hand he hears, "If you want anything, if you aren't satisfied, just call on us."

We Americans grow so enthusiastic over a term that pleases us that we are very likely, as the saying of our grandfather goes, "to run it into the ground." So it is with this matter of service. We have heard and spoken of it until it is trite and meaningless. The truth of the matter is, "We render service, provided it is profitable and convenient to us," at least, this is true in a great many cases.

The town is not giving service when it fails to do what it can in the way of loyalty, friendliness, and helpfulness, for an institution without which its prosperity and progress would be greatly impaired.

A school is not watchful of the best interests of its students when it refuses to make adjustments in small matters which would make a great deal of difference to the student. An institution is not giving educational service when it takes care to ascertain whether or not the student has sufficient funds to more than cover all expenses before it permits enrollment.

Eastern is not giving the highest service when conditions are such that the property of students is unsafe in the rooms of the dormitories. Eastern is not serving her young women best when instead of instilling ideals of self-respect and honorable womanhood into them, she sets cops to watch and report them; when it becomes a daring triumph to "put one over" on the policeman and get out. She is not serving best when she cares, not for the welfare of her men and women, but that "the skirts of the school may be kept clean."

Scholarship

The primary aim of every school is to promote scholarship. Since this is true, the students of Eastern took it upon themselves last year, thru the Open Forum Committee, to assist in the promotion of scholarship in this school.

After careful consideration, it was decided that the students standing first and second in both College and Normal should be awarded. At the same time it was decided that the award should be a pecuniary one, even tho there are some objections to offering money wards for scholarship. If such a method will get and promote the desired results, the Progress has no fault to find with the method, in fact we consider it worth the money invested.

Since the plan made such a favorable impression last year and seemed to accomplish lasting results, it was decided to offer the awards again this year. Since the students see fit to make such an award, it behooves every student to do his or her best, not merely to win so much money, an incidental something, but to keep everlastingly at it in order that the major goal, scholarship, may be attained.

Y. W. C. A.

Continuing our study of Foreign Missionaries the topic for last Sunday evening was "Christianity in Turkey." The devotional was led by Carrie Kirk, after which prayer was offered by Louise Conrad. Two splendid and worth while talks were made, one on the Turkish Suspicion of the Y. W. C. A., by Geneva Morton, and the other by Miss Benton, concerning the Amazing Growth of Missionaries in Turkey. After the Missionary song the service was closed with the Mizpah.

We were very fortunate in having May Kenney, our president, represent us at the Student Volunteer Convention which was held in Louisville recently. At the service Sunday afternoon she gave an interesting review of her experiences while at the convention, which made us feel the "Spirit of the Movement," and in a measure regret that we were not there with her.

Sunday afternoon the service was opened with a song after which Louise Conrad read a selection from the Bible explaining with illustrations and applications its present day significance.

As an introduction to her report, May gave a synopsis of the origin of the Student Volunteer Movement. It seems that in 1884 a group of Princeton students, who were congregated with the purpose in mind to become foreign missionaries, God being willing, decided upon their life work. This group worked together and through their efforts awakened interest and inspired other students to join the movement. In 1888 the first executive committee of the council was appointed. At this convention the committee adopted "Evangelism of the World" as their slogan. This implies the sharing of one's knowledge and experience of Christ through personal testimony. Today, as then, those are the watchwords of our universal Student Volunteer Movement.

The time for Sunday Y. W. service which heretofore was 6 o'clock, has been changed to 4 p. m. We have made this change in order to give the girls an opportunity to attend the young peoples' services at the various churches on Sunday evening. This arrangement promises to be successful considering the goodly number in attendance Sunday afternoon.

The Y. W. president is making arrangements for entertaining Miss Carrie Goodwin, the traveling secretary for our section, who will be with us November twenty-eighth.

EXTENSION WORK AT EASTERN

In addition to the many opportunities being offered the students of Eastern through the Extension department, a class in Rural Sociology has been added.

Largely through the efforts of Mr. Jones, acting principal of the Normal School, this class was organized for the purpose of serving those teaching in the county. Several Madison county teachers are taking advantage of this course.

The purpose of the class is to enable those taking the work to better prepare themselves for teaching and at the same time it gives them a chance to put into practice the knowledge they have gained.

Any one teaching and in position to be here on Saturday, can take the course. It meets each Saturday from nine to twelve o'clock and gives three hours in college credit each semester.

Any one who can reach the campus on Saturday and desires to use his time to best advantage should take this class. Mr. Morris, acting head of the Agricultural department, teaches the class.

GYM WALL FLOWER

There's a big house on the campus That's commonly known as the gym, And every Friday evening A dance is held therein. And, oh, the pretty flowers That decorate the wall. They bloom in spring and summer, In winter and in fall. Oh, dainty little flowers, If you didn't come to dance, You ought to wear some little frocks Instead of coats and pants.—T.L.P.

BE A BOOSTER

I'd rather be a booster,
 The smallest one in town,
 Than be the biggest knocker
 Kicking everything around.

I'd rather be a booster
 And only boost a mite,
 Than be a knocker knocking
 At everything in sight.

I'd rather be a booster
 And wear a pleasant smile
 Than be a grouchy knocker
 Complaining all the while.

I'd rather be a booster
 With purpose good and true
 Than sit around a knocking
 Now, frankly, wouldn't you?
 —Luther Skaggs.

THE TEACHER'S PLEDGE

In all matters of neighborhood gossip and near scandal, I will keep my mouth shut. A bridled tongue will be my chief assistant.

I will be loyal to those above me, not because they are my superiors, but because it is my business.

I will tell my troubles to the superintendent and I will not tell them to anybody else. What I tell is what the community will finally believe.

I will not fudge in marbles or renige at cards and I mean this pedagogically.

The two main items of my daily program are preparation and wholesome recreation. Without the first I have nothing to sell; without the second I will not be able to sell what I have.

The "cat" of a teacher who is always jealous and spiteful with her colleagues is hard on the eye. Lets have her removed for the good of the service.

The good salesman does not mention the defects of his line—others do that for him. He emphasizes the good points. I will keep the good in the public eye and keep my mouth shut in all other things.

A LITTLE DIFFERENCE

A gum-chewing girl
 And the cud-chewing cow
 Are somewhat alike,
 Yet different somehow.
 Now what is the difference?
 Oh, I have it now—
 There's a thoughtful look
 On the face of the cow.
 —Orange and Blue.

Some people are pleasantly unhappy.

Aim for a goal you have some chance of realizing.

The truth is often ugly—that's why cosmetics are so widely used.

Even if we really aren't happy it's better all around to pretend that we are.

Interesting minds are far rarer than pretty faces, probably because they're less in demand.

It isn't words, but ideas, that writers lack.

What do you do with the time you save by the use of modern conveniences?

A little nonsense now and then will undo the best of men.

STYLE HEADQUARTERS

Fashion has again decreed that brilliantly colored scarfs will be worn by men who give appearance more than just a casual thought. Here they are—in new designs, colorful plaids, intriguing figures; soft silks and warm woolens; squares and reefers; all bearing that famous style and quality label of Wilson Brothers.

MISS KENNEY CHOSEN

Miss May K. Kenney, from Augusta, Kentucky, has been chosen by the women of the student body to represent Eastern at the Tenth Quadrenal Convention in Detroit December 28, 1927-January 2, 1928. Miss Kenney is a senior in College, also president of the Y. W. C. A.

The Tenth Quadrenal Convention is held every four years and is attended by representatives from colleges all over the world. It is under the auspices of the Student Volunteer Movement of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

There is to be a special train for the Southern delegates and Miss Kenney says she expects to take this train at Cincinnati.

THE LIBRARY

Watch this column! Hereafter we are going to have lists of new books and many more interesting things for the Progress readers about the library.

The library is for the benefit of the entire student body, and we are urging everybody to use and enjoy it. This issue we are giving you a list of the regulations which will serve as a guide to the new students not now familiar with them.

1. HOURS—The library is open from 7:30 a. m. until 9:00 p. m. daily except Sunday.

2. CIRCULATION—General reference books including encyclopedias, gazettes, year-books, etc., found on the shelves of the reference room are reserved for individual study, and may not be taken from the library, and must be used in the reference room only. Other books put on reserve for special class use may be used in the reading room at any time during the day, and may be drawn for overnight use between 8:30 and 9:00 p. m. These books must be returned at 7:30 a. m. on the next day upon which the library is open. If this is not done the borrower is subject to a fine of 10c per hour for every hour after the time the book is due until the book is returned to the library. Books not needed for class use may be borrowed by students for home use, and may be kept away for home use. Books thus drawn may be kept for two weeks, but all are subject to recall at any time when needed for class use. The date a book is due to be returned is stamped plainly in the back of the book.

3. CHARGING—Books must not be taken from the reading room until they have first been properly charged at the charging desk. Books charged on reading room slips are to be used in the reading room only. If they are taken from the library they must first be returned to the charging desk, charged off the reading room slips and properly charged on the book card. Books charged on these reading room slips are not transferable, and the reader signing for them is held responsible for the safe return of the book.

4. ORDER—The utmost quiet and decorum is required of everyone using the reading rooms and the entire library. Serious offenses as mutilation and theft of books and periodicals are punishable by expulsion of the offender.

5. STACK ROOM—The stock room is open to the faculty only, except by special permission of the librarian.

6. ASSISTANCE—Readers desiring assistance will please apply freely to the librarian in charge.

7. SATURDAY NIGHT—No books may be drawn after 5:30 p. m. on Saturday, but may be drawn at any time on Saturday afternoon between 1:00 and 5:30 p. m.

OPEN FORUM

Miss Schneib entertained the Open Forum Committee Sunday, Nov. 13, in Berea.

The committee, consisting of Misses May Kenney, Mary Catherine Wallman, Mildred Redding and Mary Hutchcraft, Messrs. Fred Dial, Herman Wood and Herbert Holbrook, met at Sullivan Hall at 8:30 a. m. and left by bus for Berea.

They attended chapel exercises after which they went to the Union church for services. Then a most delicious luncheon was served at the Boone Tavern.

In the afternoon they held their weekly meeting on the porch of the girls' new gymnasium overlooking the beautiful mountain scenery.

This brought to close a day which will long be remembered by the members of the party.

Motorist (who had just run into another car)—Why don't you put your arm out when you are going to turn a corner?

Sorority Girl Companion—What do you think I am? An octopus?

Dick R.—Officer, you can't arrest me. I'm a student.

Officer—But ignorance is no excuse.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING

(Russell County)

J. L. Story, Russell county school superintendent, sponsored a series of educational meetings last week that surpass anything of like nature that has ever been attempted in this state.

Mr. Story, a Western man, sent invitations to Western, Berea College and Eastern, asking that a representative be sent to his county for the meeting. Hamilton Tapp, of Eastern's English department, represented Eastern. Miss Kinnell, director of the training school at Western, represented that school. Luther Ambrose, of the science department of Berea College, represented that school.

Five meetings were held during the week. Starting with Tuesday meetings were held at the following places: Eli, Oak Grove, Denmark, Freedom and Jamestown. The Jamestown meeting was on Saturday and proved to be the biggest day of the five. Not only did the teachers of the county attend, but many of the patrons and children as well.

Every one in attendance, from the youngest school child up, was very much interested and enthused over the work discussed at these meetings.

Miss Kinnell attempted to demonstrate the very latest methods in grade work. She used children that were in attendance to demonstrate her work. She is to be commended for her contribution to the success of the meetings.

Mr. Ambrose discussed the legislative program as laid out by the K. E. A. He found that the people of Russell county are squarely behind the program.

Mr. Tapp discussed community problems. He found the same hearty response as had the other speakers.

Mr. Story and Russell county are to be commended for their wide interest in not only educational work, but any work that tends to forward their interest. The representatives of the three schools named were especially impressed by the hearty welcome extended by the patrons of that county.

Eastern wishes to take this means of expressing her appreciation for the way her representative was accepted and to extend an invitation to Mr. Story, his entire teaching force, any and all of the patrons that care to visit us. Since the new road is open, or soon to be opened, from Russell county to Danville, Richmond and Eastern will be very accessible to the people of that county, and it is desirable that you come to Eastern to school, to visit, or for help.

JUNIOR CLASS TO FURNISH USHERS

The Junior College class has been given the responsibility and privilege of furnishing ushers for all social events on the campus this year. The responsibility of selecting the ushers for each occasion has been given to the Secretary of the class, L. R. Staton, and ushers for any social event may be had by notifying him shortly before hand.

MALE QUARTET SINGS AT CHAPEL

The chapel program last Wednesday, November 16, was devoted to songs by Stephen Collins Foster, composer of My Old Kentucky Home and numerous other numbers equally as famous. Following a brief summary of the life of this composer by Mr. Stewart, the Eastern Male Quartet sang several Foster compositions, among them being a special arrangement of My Old Kentucky Home, Oh Susannah, Ring, Ring the Banjo and Old Black Joe. The quartet is composed of Tarter, first tenor; Dedman, second tenor; Bell, baritone, and Alexander, bass.

STRING TRIO TO PLAY WEDNESDAY

A string trio consisting of Miss Smith, violinist, Miss Campbell, cellist, and Miss Telford, pianist, will play at chapel Wednesday morning in connection with the music day program. Following the program by the string trio on last Saturday evening this type of music will be of special interest to the student body. Misses Campbell and Telford are members of the faculty in the department of music at Eastern and Miss Smith is a daughter of Professor G. D. Smith.

NEW EQUIPMENT SECURED FOR MUSIC CLASSES

The Seashore records for tests and measurements of musical talent have been added to the equipment of the department of music and have already been used in several of the music classes. These records-test for sense of pitch, rhythm, intensity and consonance and are in use in all the leading schools of music over this country.

MAROONS LOSE

It was getting along towards the end of the game and Eastern fans had just about given up hopes of seeing their favorite team score again during the afternoon, when, to the surprise of them, and evidently to the Louisville aggregation also, Brock tossed a pass to H. Moberly, who twisted, turned, reversed his field and did everything else in a football vocabulary for a distance of 70 yards and a touchdown.

Eastern kicked off to Louisville, who returned the ball to the 50-yard line before being stopped, then they attempted a pass, but Clayton intercepted it and it was Eastern's ball in mid-field. Saufley received the ball and ran thru the Louisville line for a distance of 25 yards as the game ended.

Although the game counts as a defeat for the loer' team, they have no reason to feel badly over the day's work, for in the face of odds they played a wonderful game of football. The work of H. Moberly, Saufley and Brock of the backfield is to be praised and Combs, playing a tackle position, was in every play. Koster for the visitors was the outstanding player of their team, making two of their touchdowns and gaining much of their ground.

CHAPEL NOTES

Two of the most interesting chapels, if not the most interesting, of the year was last week when Mr. Bassett, of Lexington, and our own Earle Combs, now a Yankee baseball star, appeared in chapel.

Mr. Bassett is a traveling salesman of Lexington. He came to us last year for a chapel period and was so interesting that it was necessary to have him back again this year. He told us many lively jokes to start with. Then he gave us an imitation of a band playing various numbers. To end his program, he gave us two or three selections on his mouth organ. Mr. Bassett is one of the best and most interesting entertainers that has appeared at our chapel this year.

Friday, students' day, was given over to an Earle Combs Day program. A very interesting program was arranged. Music was furnished by part of the school orchestra and a flute solo by Miss Land, of the college department. After the musical part of the program Earle was introduced. Earle talked for a short time on some of the things a ball player had to encounter. "My success," Earle said, "is due to the fact that I had determined to make good and in order to do so I worked."

Mrs. Deane, of the Normal school spoke for a few minutes on Earle as a student. Mrs. Deane praised him highly as a student. Mr. Hembree talked for a few minutes on Earle as an athlete. He reviewed Earle's climb from the Maroon baseball team to the Yankee stadium. After Mr. Hembree's talk, Charles Alfred, a Normal student, presented Earle a set of book ends, a gift of the student body. To end the program Mildred Redding announced that Earle had agreed to play his first exhibition baseball game next year in the interest of the student loan fund.

Doris—I can't stand Jack any more.
Jane—Why?

Doris—Why, last night I had to tell him to behave.

Jane—Oh! And he did, eh?

Tripp—Did you fill your date last night?

Cliff—I hope so. She ate everything in sight.

Augusta—Where would I go if I should fall off this cliff?

Mr. Keen—It depends on how you have lived.

John—Wake up. What's the noise down in the library

Oh, never mind. It's probably only history repeating itself.

Substitutions: Louisville—Weatherby, Roth, C. Brown, Drewry, Koster, Williams, Mayhall, Dotson, Elsler, C. Miller, Struss, Stoner, Dobbins.

Eastern—Nard, Pieh, Crase, Guy, Dial.
