We Face a New Year

As the students of Eastern resume their life on the campus after the holidays, some are glad to get back to work, others consider their return a matter of consequence.

For those who have taken new heart in their work at the beginning of the new year, the coming four weeks which yet remain before the close of the first semester should hold no worries. Progress, on the other hand, for those who have not turned over a new leaf will not be much in evidence.

Dr. McLellan, from Winchester, in his address to the opening assembly of the new year emphasized the fact that we have passed out of the dark clouds of 1931 into a clear sky for 1932, which should not be again clouded with the sordid things of the past. We have been dampened considerably by the past two or three years' rain of depression. Many have become disheartened, and perhaps have taken the attitude of "what's the use?" Nineteen hundred and thirty-two should mark the dawn of a new era in which we should let the dead past bury its dead, and act only in the living present.

After all, as Dr. Donovan told us before going home for the holidays, we are living under the best of circumstances at Eastern. We have a job, and we are preparing for the opportunity that is inevitably knocking at our door to offer us a future of actual advancement, if we are only willing to realize our present possibilities by forgetting the past and pressing on whole-heartedly toward those things which will bring us culture, the true pathway to the one goal which all humanity seeks in life. That goal is none other than happiness.

Would it not be wise to glorify in the new year, to face tasks with a new attitude, searching for a desire to excel in our various lines of work? Why not have everyone begin the new year with a running start, not just those who already find joy in a worthwhile purpose in life? It is a well known axiom that the more we put into a thing the more we get out of it.

Senior vs. Freshman Intelligence

According to a report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, based on tests given more than 10,000 college students in Pennsylvania colleges recently, shows that the college senior has less intelligence than the freshman because of "ravages of forgetting" that the student experiences during his four-year stay in school.

"The senior recognizes only sixty-one out of one hundred words in familiar use by educated persons," the report said. "The effect of college on the word supply of the ordinary student, appears to be almost negligible and in some cases positively injurious."

"The school and college curriculum," the report added, "consists of little else but isolated packages of specific ideas, segregated for the time being in self-contained courses, elected semester-wise and cut off by examinations and credits from any other living conditions.—Student Life, Washington University.

GLEANINGS

To create an entirely new type of teacher for our civilization, to make in short the pedagogue more of a person, seems to be the major aim of the new undergraduate teacher training institution recently announced for next year by the Teachers College of Columbia University. The purpose of this plan is to train promising young college students to become super-teachers in the face of the present over-supply of mediocre teachers.

Those who qualify, fulfill the high requirements of this new institution, will be given an extraordinary training in life experience as well as in the class room. The chosen students will spend part of their time in the shop, factory, will go to the opera, to an outdoor camp, will be provided with parties, daily contact with philosophers. They will also study for a year abroad and do social work in the homes of the poor. Credit and course hours will be eliminated, while emphasis will be placed on the seminars and directed reading.

This forward step is significant of a new trend in education that has been gaining ground in America. More and more are colleges realizing that to provide an adequate training, a student must have a well-rounded, well-balanced education. The value of such a comprehensive training is inestimable.

College men prefer college women as life companions, according to the nation-wide poll of the College Stories Magazine. The poll revealed that men preferred college girls because they have "it," intelligence, and a knowledge of the higher values of life.

A statistician in Kansas revealed that figures show that the Kansas divorce rate is one to every five among non-college graduates, and only one to every hundred among college graduates. College people have ninety-nine more chances of being right.

"Five cents a week for twenty weeks" is the new slogan for the Student Loan Fund at the University of Omaha which is now being planned. This plan is estimated to net at least $1500.

A Young Voters' League has been organized at Temple University in order to encourage intelligent thought by prospective voters, and for those already in the voting public. Its members take an active part in the local polls as registers and inspectors.

Figuratively flying a banner inscribed 'Allied Youth,' representative students in the University of California at Los Angeles, California Institute of Technology, and Occidental College, joined together in a local law enforcement demonstration in Los Angeles recently, which is declared to be the greatest undertaking of its kind ever staged in Southern California.

At last the value of extra-curricular activities is being acknowledged. Among other colleges, the Milton College faculty has adopted a plan whereby worth while extra-curricular activities of the students will have official recognition with "service credits."

Princeton University has plans for a $400,000 university center for undergraduates. This building will have accommodations for the Athletic Association, the Graduate Council, student employment organizations as well as student publications. The purpose of this center is to afford a gathering place for students, the need of which Princeton has long felt.

Rural Life Club Hear King Speak

The Rural Life Club of Eastern held its regular meeting on Monday, January 4, in the high school auditorium. After a short business meeting the club was addressed by W. P. King of Lexington, Ky.

The subject that Mr. King spoke on was "The Personal Objectives of Teachers." He stated that teachers, in order to do their work artistically, must first learn to like and enjoy their work. They should not look upon their pupils as something to be bossed, but something to be guided. What pupils need today is a leader and not a boss. Teachers should have the right attitude toward the patrons of the school and must remember that they can do more for the school than anyone else.

Mr. King also stated that teachers should make the pupils happy and that to teach happiness was just as essential as to teach arithmetic. "Develop the ability to living example in many ways" he said.

Star Fools 'Em As Minister of Mirth

Preaching funeral sermons, performing marriages and visiting the sick would have been the lot of Will Rogers had his mother had her way. She wanted him to become a Methodist minister, but, instead, he became the biggest drawing card in vaudeville, a feature of the "Ziegfeld Follies" and, finally, the world's best recognized wit and humorist.

"Can you imagine the star of 'Ambassador Bill,' Rogers' new Fox picture opening Thurs. Jan. 14, at the Madison Theatre, preaching a funeral sermon? Those who know him best can vision him in this capacity, for Rogers is genuinely human and possesses an emotional quality of great depth.

What fun a bride and groom might have had being joined in the bonds of holy wedlock by the internationally known wit and philosopher.

As for visiting the sick, Rogers never neglects his friends, nor does he pass up any worthy charity, but he does these things so quietly that few know about his activities among the poor and deserving.

"Ambassador Bill" is heralded as one of the greatest humor-hits that Will Rogers has made in his whole career.

"Flunked in Latin, flunked in Math."

They heard him softly hiss. "I'd like to meet the guy who said that ignorance is bliss."

A FRESHMAN'S VERSION OF THE 23RD PSALM

Mr. Rumbold is my biology teacher. I fear I shall not pass. He leadeth me to express my ignorance before the class for the grade's sake.

Yea, though I study day and night, I shall learn no biology. Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I shall get no comfort from my biology grade. Thy outline equations, they troubleth me.

Thou preparatest examinations for me, which thou knoweth I cannot pass; thou presentest my grade unto the registrar, my reputation is darkened.

Surely "F's" and "D's" shall follow me all the days of my life and I shall pursue the course of biology forever.

MESSAGE IS TO BE BRIEF

Governor Will Outline Legislative Program to Assembly Tuesday

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 7 - Governor Laffoon's message to the Kentucky general assembly next Tuesday will briefly outline his legislative program, probably taking only fifteen minutes.

The chief executive intimated he would have other messages for the law-makers as the session progressed and that his program for the reform of the state's fiscal affairs would be administered in "small doses as it would be too stiff to give at one time."

While the governor has fairly well in mind what he desires to tell the legislators, he says the administration leaders "hardly have their feet on the ground yet" as to the legislative program and are still at work on it.

One of the biggest tasks faced by the legislature is to find new sources of revenue to supplant the reduction of the real estate tax demanded by farmers of the state.

The chief executive said he believed a $2,000 homestead exemption tax "hardly went far enough," and that he considered an income tax or a small gross sales tax would offer "more equitable relief."

Governor Laffoon said "it would be mighty nice" if the legislature decided upon a short session and then held a special session to take care of congressional redistricting.

There is considerable speculation at the capitol whether the senators and representatives will be willing to shorten the 1932 session. Senators and representatives receive $10 a day including Sundays and holidays and by accepting an abbreviated session they would be cutting several hundred dollars off their own pay.

Governor Laffoon is certain there will be "no useless appropriations" during the present session unless they are passed over his veto.

The following congratulatory telegram was received by Miss Buchannon, coach of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. production of the Christmas play "Little Town of Bethlehem."

Kind greetings to you and to all associated in the presentation of "The Little Town of Bethlehem."

May the light that shown on Bethlehem illumine the hearts of the players. May echoes of the celestial choir be heard in their speech.

Though present only in spirit I shared your joy in this beautiful contribution to peace on earth in your community.

GEORGETOWN EASTERN FOE

After Schedule to Bring Scott County Collegians Here

After taking a twin bill from Louisville Monday night to chart a victory in their first S. I. A. A. contest, the two Maroon squads of basketballers have gone thru rigid preparation for two conference duels with the Tigers and the Cubs from Georgetown tonight.

Due to a change in the schedule, the Georgetown contests will be played on Eastern's campus rather than at Georgetown as previously set by the schedule when it was first made out.

The Little Maroons made a good showing in their first contest, and are in excellent shape to go into the game with the Cubs tonight. Coach Portwood has put them thru heavy scrimmage since the Louisville game, and has patched up the defects which outcropped in the opening bout. Although no starting five has been announced, practically all of the players who saw service against the Louisville yearlings will get a whack at the Cubs. Adams, Green, Hale and Tierney are likely starters. Porter and Robbins should appear in the contest during some period. Carter, Clark and Robbins have worked well in scrimmage, and seem to be coming along rapidly.

"Al's" whole combination has established a good system of fight and rapid action in every department, and the frosh ought not to find much trouble in pounding out a well defined victory from the Cubs. The Cubs will place a good team on the floor as they are due to attempt a come-back after pre-holiday tussles. Louisville gave the Little Maroons a good start toward accomplishing equally as good a record as the team of last year, and Georgetown should prove to be another rung in the ladder for reaching another championship.

It is hard to tell just what arrangement will be made in regard to the opening men for the varsity battle with the Tigers. Dowell came up from the side-lines to such an extent in the Louisville game that he offers the possibility of being a real threat for any competition that Eastern may go against. He has been burning the nets all week over there in the Health building. McDaniels and Feback work in well with Zelds Hale and Ben Adams. Bill Melton has had a hard time getting around in his pro-fusion since injuring a left over sore knee from football season.

Reinforcements from last year's frosh stars seemed to outclass some of the veterans in the Louisville bout, and this week's practice sessions have denoted quite a bit of juggling in the line-up on the part of Coach Hughes, who has not yet worked out anything permanent in the way of a first string five. The Louisville game did not seem to be much of a task on the Big Maroons, but there were a number of difficulties which "Turkey" has been busy ironing out during the two heavy scrimmages which they have gone thru since the Cardinal bout.

Georgetown suffered a heavy defeat at the hands of Kentucky during the holidays, but Spicer has been busy over there in his camp preparing them for the Eastern game. However, Eastern is well in line to stand just a little better than a fifty-fifty chance to down the Tigers. At any rate, jungle warfare will be in order tonight, and the newly elected captain of the Maroons, Bill Melton, will be ready to lead a sturdy set of hide hunters onto the hardwood. When the fray is cleared there ought to be some Tiger whiskers strewn around, and about five good hides with which to decorate the Health Building.

EASTERN NET PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Eastern's net squads, both frosh and varsity, really have something to shoot at this year in upholding the records set by the teams for the past two seasons of '29-'30 and '30-'31.

With Melton and Herman Hale at the forward berths, Ben Adams at center, Zelds Hale and Henry Triplett at the guard posts, the first string combination for the season of '29-'30 billed ten victories out of fourteen encounters with the Association teams of the state. That schedule included two games with each of the seven teams opposing the Maroons on the hardwood. Wesleyan, Western and Georgetown fell in the Maroon onslaught in two contests each, while Centre, Berea, University of Louisville and Transylvania took one victory a piece in their series. Of the four games lost, there were no victories over the Maroons that succeeded more than four points.

In the first game of the state tourney at Winchester, Transy fell an easy prey to the Big Maroons, and Wesleyan had a hard time edging out a one point victory to eliminate Coach Hughes' men, after a contest that remained purely indecisive until the final whistle. The squad traveled down to Jackson, Mississippi, a week later, to take part in the big S. I. A. A. round-up there. Drawing Erskine, an undefeated Carolina team, for their first contest, the Maroons disposed of them by a score of 34-32, but suffered an unlucky set-back again at the hands of Wesleyan in a 26-24 encounter, which ended the net season for them.

However, the tournament eliminations had little to do with determining the success of the '29-'30 season, for the Maroons displayed unusual basketball talent in all of the regular scheduled encounters, and no team in the state could actually be said to hold anything over them. They established a good record.

The frosh quintette for that season set a good record also by winning four out of their eight Association games played. Coach Gumbert opened the frosh season with a group of green material that he got into excellent shape for varsity competition by the close of the year.

When Coach Hughes' closed his hardwood season of twelve games scheduled during '30-'31, the Maroons emerged with nine victories and an average percentage of .750. During the regular playing season, Western and Wesleyan were the only two teams to score victories over the Maroons, and again Wesleyan was forced to fairly squeeze out a victory when Eastern visited them on the home court. In the opener for the state tourney at Winchester, the Maroons followed suit in their draw with the one of the previous year and took on Transylvania. Ill fate seemed to hover over the Eastern stands that day, for after the Maroons were in a lead of twelve points at the half, the scene shifted and Transy, who had been considered the underdogs of the state all year, came out from under the barrage of Eastern goals to eliminate the Maroons with a final score of 28-26. This was one of the biggest upsets of the year to be witnessed on any state hardwood. Eastern was doped heavy to go thru the tourney with flying colors. The Maroons led the teams of the state in percentage thruout the major part of the regular season, and after dropping two tilts to Western on the Bowling Green court, they paid the Hilltoppers back, in Richmond, with a ten point victory.

Bill Melton and Herman Hale at forward, Ben Adams at center, Zelds and Lawrence Hale at the guard positions made up the first string five for the '30-'31 season. This quintette was reinforced by Howard, Qualls, Lea, Jackson, Ford, and Dowell. Down at Jackson, Miss., this bunch topped things off for the season by defeating Berea, the state champs, in the opening contest of the tourney there with an overwhelming score of 41-26. Then Centenary, who made runners-up in the big event, came along, and after a close tussle finally pulled away to a victory over the Maroons to eliminate them with a score of 29-20.

Coach "Al" Portwood took over the Little Maroons last season, and developed a championship frosh team, in which Eastern found much pride. In their regular schedule of twelve games they suffered only one defeat, and it was out of the state. They met all the frosh eleven in the state and defeated the Kentucky Kittens in two encounters to take the state title. A combination composed of Vest and Madden at guards, McDaniel at center, Guerny Adams and Feback at forwards led the frosh squad to the greatest season ever experienced by a freshman team to take the court in Maroon colors.

Eastern's squads this year have the best chances and the best prospects to go over the top of any previous squads. The schedule, which again includes two games with all of the Association teams in the state, offers an excellent opportunity for the squads to attain a percentage that will in the course of the season give them the lead in the conference. They should not only be able to attain that lead, but also hold it. The Maroons look plenty good enough to keep the dope in the state set in their favor thruout the net period of '31-'32.

When time for the net tourney at Winchester, rolls around, the Big Maroons will be able to realize their one outstanding chance to surpass all past records. There is plenty to shoot at, and plenty of goals to be shot, so let's all greet behind Coach Hughes' and Coach Portwood, and help to put Eastern where it rightfully belongs in the basketball world. All the scoring will not be done from the court, much of it depends on the support of the students. Eastern has a team in which confidence is assured—a team that is out to smash all past records. 1932 should be a "leap year" for the Maroon basketballers. Back these basketballers to the end of the season with all might and main, and then reap the harvest with them.

FROSH DEFEAT LOUISVILLE

Yearlings Basketballers Take Close Game by Score 23 to 20

LITTLE HALE'S DEBUT

Coach "Al" Portwood's new Little Maroon basketballers took a close but well played net game over the Louisville frosh in a preliminary bout to the varsity contest Monday night, which marked their initial opening for the season. The final score was 23-20 for the Eastern yearlings.

In the opening quarter of the contest, the Little Maroons mounted a 9-3 advantage over their opponents. One of Zelds Hale's little brothers opened the scoring for the Eastern yearlings with four points on field shots, and Green and Porter, with the aid of Ellis who replaced Roberts, summed-up a six point lead for the period. Leatherman and Parrish accounted for three markers for Louisville.

The second quarter was marked by closer playing than the first. Louisville tightened up in all departments. Owen and Parrish mounted six counters, while Tierney who replaced Ellis for Eastern, and Clark, who replaced Porter found the net for only a goal apiece. As the half ended, the Maroons retained 13-9 margin over the Cardinal frosh.

The third quarter brought on a rough and tumble battle. It was marked by a steady recovery of the visitors, and by a teeth and toenail struggle for the Little Maroons to hold a lead. Carter went into the Maroon line-up for Porter at forward and scored a crisp shot in the opening of the period. Tierney dropped another bunny, and Bud Adams sank one from mid-floor. Robbins replaced Carter for Portwood's five. Wilder took the place of Pence for Louisville, and he with Leatherman, Owen and Parrish struck up nine points for the Cardinals to end the period with Louisville trailing 18-19.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, Louisville threatened to tie the score, but Green and Hale disappointed them by sneaking thru the opposing defense for two craps. Eastern then formed a heavy barrier to all Louisville shots, and forced the visitors to fly wildly at the hoop. Allowing the Louisville yearlings two free throws, the Little Maroons sewed up the game in order with a final score of 23-20.

Hale took high point honors for the Little Maroons with six markers to his credit, while Tierney followed a close second with five, and Adams accounted for four points. Green showed up exceptionally well on defense, and marked himself as being one of the outstanding prospects of the Little Maroon squad this year. Owen and Parrish split the scoring bill for Louisville with six points each.

The line-ups and scoring follows: Eastern (23) Pos. (20) Louisville Roberts ..... R. F. (4) Leatherman Porter (2) ..... L. F. (6) Owen Green (4) ..... C (2) Pence Adams (2) ..... R. G. (2) Threlred Hale (6) ..... L. G. (6) Parrish Substitutes: Eastern, Ellis (1), Tierney (4), Carter (2), Robbins, Clark (2), Drew. Louisville, Wilder (2). Referee, Hansen (Kentucky).

MAROONS LOSE 2 OHIO GAMES

Basketball Team Defeated by Wittenberg and Wilmington

Coach "Turkey" Hughes and twelve varsity Maroons who toured into Ohio for pre-holiday contests with Wittenberg and Wilmington Colleges suffered an ill turn of fate, and went down to defeat in both battles.

Wittenberg put one of the best quintets on the floor of any college which has opened this season. Eastern held them to a close battle up until the final period, when the Northerners pulled away and mounted a lead which the Maroons could not overcome. Coach Hughes' men found trouble in finding the loop all thru the battle, but their floor work figured greatly in holding Wittenberg to a close range for the major part of the game.

Bill Melton, star forward from last year's team, was forced to leave the floor in the first few minutes of the game when his injured knee, sustained during football season, gave down. "Flash" Feback, one of the leading forwards from last year's Little Maroons, took high point honors for Eastern, and Jimmy Vest, star from Walton, Ky., ran second in points scored for the Maroons. The final score for the contest was Wittenberg 37, Eastern 29.

Following the Eastern game, Wittenberg met Vanderbilt University in a loosely contested game which resulted in a victory for Wittenberg by larger margin than the Eastern contest. Vanderbilt's tour in the north included Ohio State and Miami University for net contests in which Vanderbilt shared two decisive victories.

In the Wilmington fracas, Eastern fared somewhat better than in the Wittenberg game. The Big Maroons were downed by a score of 26-23, but they found less trouble in holding the Wilmington delegation to a close margin.
