ANNOUNCEMENT

Athletic Season Tickets
Students holding tickets for sections A, B, C, D, L, M, N, and P should enter the admission door nearest Lancaster Avenue at the rear of the gymnasium.

Students holding tickets for sections E, F, G, H, I, J, K, and O should enter at the front of the gymnasium through the door next to the Keen Johnson Student Union Building.

Students are urged to be seated before the games start. A number of students arrived too late to see the first game of the year and caused some difficulty in running the game by trying to get to their seats while the game was in progress. If this continues, it may be necessary to keep the late comers out until the half-time.

Game time is 7:30 o'clock. Students who do not wish to see a single game may let a non-student have his ticket, provided the person who is not a student pays $1.00 at the ticket window when he comes to the game. These people must enter the door by the R.O.T.C. office and pay $1.00 there.

A student season ticket, which is valid only when used by a student, may be exchanged for a non-student season ticket on payment of $5.10 at the office of the Director of Athletics, Room 202, Weaver Health Building.

DR. DORRIS ON PROGRAM

At Monthly Meeting
Of Chapter Monday

The first meeting of the new year for the Boonesborough Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution was held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the First Christian Church.

The guest speaker of the afternoon was Dr. J. T. Dorris, member of the faculty at Eastern State Teachers College. His subject was "The Loyalists of the American Revolution."

He described these patriots of that period as the conservative element standing by the established government of Great Britain and opposing the independence of the American colonists.

The bitter struggle portrayed was a graphic picture of suffering, the separation of families and the migration of many pioneers to other countries.

After his message, Dr. Dorris showed two rare copies, "The Present War of 1780 in America," James Murray, published on that date, and several photostatic copies of Revolutionary War commissions granted to George Washington and other officials.

Dean At Meetings

During the holidays Dean W. J. Moore attended the meeting of the American Economic Association in Chicago; spoke to the Lions Club at Newcastle, and participated in a panel discussion at the University of Kentucky.

Others on the panel were Dean W. S. Taylor of the University; State Superintendent of Public Instruction B. B. Hodgkin; Kenneth Gillispie, of Georgetown, and Superintendent Raymond J. Wesley of Nicholas county.

DR. W. J. MOORE, dean of the college, has been appointed governor of Kentucky District 43-Y of Lions International, it was announced recently. The district is one of four in Kentucky.

Dr. Moore succeeds the late John H. McKenzie of Richmond. The appointment was made by International President Fred Smith.

Dean Moore served several months as state revenue commissioner in the administration of Governor Simeon S. Willis, resigning to return to Eastern State Teachers College as dean. He has been a member of the faculty since 1928.

Leap Year Dance On Campus Saturday

A Leap Year surprise frolic, a "vice-versa" informal dance, was given Saturday night, Jan. 10, in Walnut Hall of the Keen Johnson Student Union Building. The sponsors were the women's organizations which include the Woman's Residence Hall Organization, Woman's Athletic Association, Home Economics Club and Protta Decca.

ROTARY HEARS COL. PASCHALL

Tells Of Experiences
In Philippine Isles

Col. William D. Paschall, commanding officer of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Eastern State Teachers College, was the principal speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the Rotary Club which met Tuesday night at Benault Inn.

Colonel Paschall told of his many experiences in the Philippine Islands, where he was located during and after the war. There are over 1,000 islands in the group, he said, with some nine principal islands, but most of these smaller islands have some habitation. "Transportation is slow, mostly by inter-island steamer, all of which makes government of the islands a difficult function," the speaker stated.

Colonel Paschall recalled the day when the Philippines were given their freedom, and although independence had been promised ten years previously, it still was a shock to the Filipino. The agreement, however, was one of so long standing that the Filipino government felt it should accept it although the times were and still are precarious.

H. H. LaFuze, club president, presided.

JOINT RECITAL

The Student Union Music Committee will present Miss Jeanne Murbach, pianist, and Miss Doris Smith, contralto, in a recital to be given at 3:30 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 18, in Walnut Hall.

CADUCEUS CLUB

Dr. Shelby Carr, Richmond surgeon, was the principal speaker at the Caduceus Club which met at 7:00 p. m. Wednesday, Jan. 14, in Room 11 of the Roark Building.

Battle Eagles Tonight; 'Breds Here Tomorrow

By PAUL DUNCAN

Riding high on the crest of a seven game winning streak, Eastern's resurging varsity basketball squad will travel to Morehead State Teachers College tonight to take on the dangerous Eagles of Coach Ellis Johnson. Tomorrow night the Maroons play host to another tough customer in the Thoroughbreds of Murray State Teachers College.

FIRST CHAPEL PERIOD HELD

Dr. Kennamer Speaks;
Students Welcomed

The first assembly program of the winter quarter was held at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Jan. 7, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium with Dr. L. G. Kennamer, professor of geography and geology, as speaker. His subject was "Looking into the New Year."

President W. F. O'Donnell presided and welcomed the students assembled at the opening of the new quarter. The invocation was asked by the Rev. Frank N. Tindler, minister of the First Christian Church in Richmond.

Dr. Kennamer discussed the unsettled conditions, both domestic and foreign, facing the new year. He spoke on the political situation in the United States, with the presidential election ahead this year, the feud between the executive and legislative branches, the hysteria in this country about communism, the increasing price spiral and greater shortage of meat, bread and other foods during the year.

"We are waking up to the fact that America has used up many of her valuable minerals and resources, particularly oil and coal," he declared.

He called attention to the great battle going on among the three blocs which are producing inflation—the labor group, industry and the farmers. Prices increased last year an average of 16 percent and are continuing to rise, he stated.

Discussing the foreign situation, Dr. Kennamer said, "we are in the midst of a cold war, attempting to stop Russia in her expansionist trend." The United States is backing Greece and Turkey to the extent of millions of dollars and the sending of troops there, he added.

He mentioned the struggles between French Indo-China, the war in China, the division of Palestine, the problem of control of Germany and other problems facing this country and the world.

In closing the speaker urged the students "to keep an open mind and keep informed about the trends and problems of the year."

Vets Administration To Discontinue Office In Richmond

The contact office of the Veterans Administration has been discontinued in Richmond it was announced today. A representative of the contact division will be at Eastern one day each week. The tentative plan is for him to be in Room 202, Student Union Building, each Friday. Veterans desiring information other than that about their educational program should see this representative. Chester A. Rose will continue to come each Monday to advise on educational problems.

Under the present ruling of the Veterans Administration the veteran who is changing from this institution to any other school or work under the provisions of the "G. I. Bill" must fill out Form 7-1905e and have it approved by the veteran counselor of the institution before he can get a Supplemental Certificate of Eligibility. Anyone desiring to get a Supplemental Certificate of Eligibility should see M. E. Mattox about this matter.

Any veteran who marries during the time he is in school should fill out Form 686c immediately and as soon as possible thereafter get a county court clerk's record of marriage for the Veterans Administration. The veteran will not be changed to $90.00 subsistence until the Veterans Administration has been notified officially of his marriage. The forms may be had by reporting to the Registrar's Office.

All students attending school under Public Law 16 must arrange to see Mr. Rose, veteran representative, each quarter.

Veterans who do not plan to return to Eastern for the next quarter and veterans who withdraw during the quarter must fill out Form 7-1908 before leaving the institution.

INJURY JINX

Coach Paul McBrayer's maroon and white cagers have been faced with the "injury jinx" since a week before the opening game in December. At that time it was Ed Shemelya of the starting five who was crippled up with a foot injury. Immediately after the Maroons dropped the season opener to Southern Methodist they were plagued with additional injuries to Joe Fryz and Chuck Mrazovich. In games that followed things developed for the worse as Goebel Ritter became the fourth victim with a foot injury. Then last week the circuit of the injuries to the starting five was complete when Paul Hicks banged up his wrist in the Kentucky Wesleyan tilt.

Win With Hurts

Despite the ever present physical injuries, Coach McBrayer's hoopsters have done well in the won and lost department against plenty of competition. To date the varsity has won eight games and lost only three. Their present victory string of seven games began when they surprised Villanova College with a 56-54 verdict. Murray was the next victim in a close exciting 46-43 battle on the Thoroughbreds' floor. Gaining strength, the Eastern five swamped the University of South Dakota 70-49 before flying to Tampa, Florida, to notch their second win over Furman University by the runaway count of 95-40. Returning to the Blue Grass country they drubbed Franklin 65-42 and followed with a 63-47 verdict over a surprisingly strong Wesleyan quintet.

Stop Valparaiso

In their latest conquest, the Maroons stopped a big squad from Valparaiso University in Indiana by a 58-53 tune.

In this encounter, Eastern jumped to an early 6-0 lead and built it to a 33-24 margin by halftime. Registering nearly fifty percent of their shots they maintained the lead throughout the game and tucked away victory number eight on a 58-53, count. Facing the scorers in this tilt was Senior Forward Goebel Ritter. The Richmond Rebel tossed in seventeen points with his one hand heaves. He was followed in the point making department by Joe Fryz with thirteen tallies and Chuck Mrazovich with twelve. Bobby Coleman relieved Mrazovic at the center spot and turned in a fine performance both offensively and defensively in addition to tossing in eight points.

WALSH TO BROADCAST

George "Looks 'em Over" Walsh, Kentucky's leading sports announcer, will visit Eastern's gym tomorrow night to broadcast the Murray game. Walsh is heard twice daily over station WEAS of Louisville and has a large following here in the Blue Grass area.

LITTLE THEATRE CLUB

PASSAGE OF BUDGET BILL

Kentucky's biennial budget bill, totaling $111,197,679, was put before the General Assembly by Gov. Earle Clements' Democratic administration Monday night. The Governor's budget recommendations were made before a joint session of House and Senate.

All of the state's institutions of higher learning were recommended for increases over their allocations for ordinary expenses two years ago. The suggestions, however, were considerably below the institutions' requests.

The budget calls for the following annual appropriations for the teachers colleges:

Eastern, $390,000, which is $78,000 more than previous biennium; Morehead, $315,000; Murray, $400,000, and Western, $480,000. Total recommendation for teachers colleges for the biennium amounts to $3,170,000. It compares to the $3,533,000 appropriated two years ago, including $585,000 of the capital outlay.

Wayward Buses

Someone once said that girls were like buses—if one passed you by, just wait for another would be by in a few minutes. Now the saying goes: Buses are like girls, you always have to wait for them. Seriously though, we hope the bus company will run the Eastern bus till ten at night and on Sundays. The drug stores should plug for ten o'clock buses since so many students suffer the pangs of starvation about 9:15 when the movie is over.

The Sunday buses just might increase church attendance. The unpleasant truth is that some students are so irreligious that they would rather stay in a hot, stuffy room, wasting their time reading the Courier-Journal or studying than rise and walk through the cool invigorating air to Sunday school and church.

One more improvement: Bus tokens would eliminate the fumbling in pockets for nickels and dimes. The bus company would even make money. We understand they are tired of counting Wallace buttons. One absent-minded person (student, not professor) handed the driver a cafeteria ticket.

The Ideal Paper

Every year newspapermen from all over the country are chosen to go to Harvard for a year's study on a Nieman Fellowship. There is no established course of study; the newspaperman is permitted to spend his time freely. Recently the latest harvest of Nieman fellows collaborated on a book explaining their ideal of the newspaper.

Feeling that this is a moment of historical importance, we now present the Staff's ideal Progress:

Sam Fife, Editor: Two pages of editorials and two pictures of Sam Fife.

Elizabeth Pennington: Four pages of "Belles Lettres."

Ed Carter, "Marooned": One whole column of "Marooned" (if somebody else writes it). It doesn't matter about the rest of the paper, though it could be filled up with photographs of the Little Theatre Club.

Bill Gravely, "For Cats Only": Three pages of Johann Strauss and an autographed picture of Miff Moel on the other page.

Bill Floyd, Business Manager: Six pages of ads (paid for). If any room remains, put in a column by Allan Trout.

On Movies

"Marooned" has been asked for its critical opinion on the movie, "The Great Waltz," which is to be shown in the Hiram Brock Auditorium on January 27. Critical opinion: We are sure the student body will enjoy this movie which is being sponsored by the World Affairs Club. The music is most delightful.

CAMPUS VIEWS—Roark Building has recently been completely repaired and redecorated. It provides excellent facilities for the departments of mathematics, chemistry, biology, physics, geography and geology. It was named in honor of Eastern's first president, Dr. Ruric Nevel Roark.

Intramural Cage Loop In Fine Start

Intramural basketball got off to a fast start this week with six games already in the record books. Comprising the men's intramural cage league this quarter is a list of nineteen teams formed by groups from dormitories, counties and other organizations.

Results of opening games show the Pulaski squad a big threat to the college championship which was won last year by the Mattoxville Maulers. The Pulaski quint set a current scoring record by trouncing the McCreary Hot Shots 52-21. Other scores are:

Mattoxville Maulers 46, Sullivan Hall Hasbeens 31; Miller Hot Shots 41, Sullivan Five 19; Maysville Goldfish 28, Stadium 19; North Central Kentucky Five 34, East Dorm Third Floor 13, and Corbin Club 37, Sleepers 24.

League Director Fred Darling announced this week that the men's intramural league play will continue at the gym on evenings when the floor is not being used by the varsity or Vets teams. Students are welcome to attend free of charge.

Near the close of the winter quarter a tournament will be held to crown the intramural basketball champions of the campus.

MAROON FIVE HAS BUSY CARD

Five Tough Games Await McBrayer-Men

After battling Morehead and Murray this weekend the Maroon cage squad will resume practice sessions on Monday for the coming games with the lucky Cardinals of the University of Louisville, the University of Miami from Florida and Kentucky Wesleyan.

On Friday, Jan. 23, Eastern's hoopsters will travel to Louisville to take on Peck Hickman's U. of L. squad. Then, the next evening, Coach Paul McBrayer will put the maroon and white into action against the University of Miami at the Jeffersonville Field House in Indiana.

Lucky Cards

The Louisville game at the Armory next Friday night should be a near sellout according to advance predictions. Once again Eastern will have to battle the highly-touted Cardinals and their "one-point luck" which they maintain over the Maroons. Louisville's one-point margin started last fall on the gridiron when they eked out a 14-13 victory over Coach Samuel's eleven. Once again, on December 17, 1947, they edged out a one-point win over the Maroons in taking a 56-55 verdict from the varsity cagers. This they did by shooting four charity tosses in the closing seconds of play. Coach Hickman's horseshoe must have been working that night.

Following the Card battle the Maroons will trek across the Ohio River to Jeffersonville, Indiana, to engage the sun-tanned hardwood performers of the University of Miami, Florida, on Saturday evening. A day of Sunday rest intervenes before the Maroons take to their third game in four days. This time against the speedy Kentucky Wesleyan five in Winchester, Ky. After this strenuous weekend, the maroon and white will return to the campus gym to prepare for that all-important game here on January 31—with Western.

The Spotlight

By FRED ENGLE

The Freshman Spotlight rests this time on Carl Eagle, freshman from Harlan, who has performed so well on the hardwood for Eastern's Maroons during his short college career.

Carl, who stands an even six feet and is twenty-one years old, played four years with the Harlan Green Dragons. He was chosen on the Cumberland Valley All-Conference team in football. In basketball he was All-District in 1944 and 1947, and All-Regional in 1944. He also was chosen on The Courier-Journal All-State teams of 1944 and 1947. The Harlan team of 1944 won the state championship. In 1947 Carl scored 389 points in 25 games. Also in '47 he received the National Star Athlete Award from Berkeley, California.

Carl spent two years in the Army. He was overseas nineteen months.

Coach Paul McBrayer has used Eagle quite frequently this year and under the Irishman's skilled hand the Harlan product should develop into an outstanding college player.

Veterans Five Wins Three

The Veterans Club's basketball team remained undefeated this week by winning three more ball games. The victories give the Vets floor squad a record of four wins against no losses.

Last Monday evening they downed the Berea Hawks 49-40 after a slow start. Then on Wednesday night the charges of Coach Ray Giltner copped a doubleheader at the Weaver Health Building with wins over Somerset High 50-32 and the Detroit Clowns 56-52.

In downing the Detroit pros the Vets were paced by West with 14 points and Morris with 12. Tiny Reichert, Detroit's giant 7-foot 9-inch center, scored two fielders in the short time that he was in action. The big "clown" was ailing and sidelined on his doctor's orders.

FLORIDA FLASHBACKS

Enroute to Tampa, Florida, Gerald Becker took over the pilot's controls for approximately half an hour. Becker had learned to fly while in the Navy Air Corps. He did quite well as a "Maroon pilot." . . . The Spanish cabbies in Tampa kept asking "Are you zee basketball players?" . . . The Hotel Floridiana had an ample supply of free oranges in the lobby at all times. To top that, they served orange juice in the morning to all guests as they stepped from the elevator . . . Captain John Horn, pilot of Eastern's chartered plane, stated before the game that he had never piloted a losing team on a trip. His proclamation held true too . . . Bobby Coleman and Paul Hicks spent their leisure time around Tampa on a deep sea fishing trip. Reports have that they almost had some big ones . . . Goebel Ritter visited his charming wife's relatives . . . Seven other Easternites rented a station wagon. Included in this group were Joe Fryz, Charles Spicer, Gerald Becker, Joe Harper, Chuck Mrazovich, Harold Moberly and your reporter . . . Another trio that "motored about" included Walter Reid, Carl Eagle and Russell Roberts. . . Unlucky Ed Shemelya was laid up with a bum leg and had to settle for a restful movie . . . The food in Tampa's Latin Quarter was excellent . . . At the alligator farm and wildlife zoo, Gerald Becker made an enemy in a wild baboon because he refused to give him a peanut. The baboon countered by screaming and attempting to break out of his cage. Joe Harper had a wildcat trying to break out of his cage . . . All in all, the Eastern cagers had a terrific time tampering in Tampa!

By PAUL DUNCAN, Sports Editor

That "flying excursion" the varsity basketball team took to Tampa, Florida, was truly "out of this world." It was a trip that was a success from any viewpoint. Not only did the Maroon cagers rack up their fourth consecutive win in a nine-day period, but they scored their fifth victory of the season and established a new single game scoring record at the Tampa Armory by stomping Furman of South Carolina 85 to 40.

To top all this, each member of the traveling squad (including ardent rooster President O'Donnell) had a fine time in the tourist areas of beautiful Tampa and St. Petersburg.

This "dream weekend" began when the Maroons walloped the University of South Dakota 70-45 in Louisville on Friday night, Dec. 26. Coach Paul McBrayer didn't use the first team for long because the second team took good care of matters while the regulars rested for the Furman game the next evening.

Following the South Dakota tilt, the Maroons had a light snack before going to bed at the Seelbach Hotel. They were up early on Saturday to board the dependable Black Brothers bus for a short ride to a Louisville airport.

At Bowman Field, a sleek silver DC-3 aircraft, outlined against a clear Kentucky sky, awaited the anxious and somewhat nervous Eastern squad. Many of them, including Head Coach Paul McBrayer, had never flown before.

Shortly before takeoff time, a Courier-Journal photographer bade the "flying Maroons" farewell with a few flashes from his camera. The door was sealed shut by Captain John Horn and Captain Robert Shelsner and all was in readiness. With a powerful twin engine roar, the big aircraft zoomed into the "wild blue yonder" as 21 Easterners peered out the windows and waved goodbye to their friends below.

For the first half hour of flight most of the passengers remained in their seats with straps buckled. Some kept an eye on small containers placed near each seat for "stomach disorders." But, thanks to "strong constitutions" and a carefully planned menu, no one found cause for use of the containers.

For the remainder of the four-hour flight south, the Maroon travelers observed the scenery five-thousand feet below and made picturesque memories of snakelike rivers, winding highways and miles of uninhabited swamplands down on the ground.

A warm Tampa sun greeted the twenty-one Kentuckians as they stepped down from the plane with useless overcoats on their arms. Boarding taxis the squad was welcomed by dark-haired, sun-tanned cab drivers who spoke with a Spanish accent of "Are you goeing to de' ceety?"

Upon checking in at Tampa's beautiful Floridan Hotel, the Maroons were surprised to find oranges and tangerines in the hotel lobby free-for-the-asking. Later a cellophane-wrapped basket of citrus fruits and nuts was sent to each room by the considerate hotel management. The atmosphere took on a "down to business" air following the afternoon meal as the ball players rested in bed for the coming game.

Early in the evening the varsity squad arrived at the spacious Tampa Armory after a short drive from the hotel along long streets lined with gently swaying palm trees. A friendly crowd greeted Coach McBrayer's cagers as they took the floor. That same crowd cheered the Eastern quintet when they left the gym sometime later with an 85-40 victory in the books. Those fans had just witnessed the Maroons establish a new single game scoring record on the Armory court.

With their mission completed, the "Richmond Raiders" focused their thoughts to recreation and relaxation the next day. A warm Sunday sun shone as the squad members took to the buses to "see the town" and nearby beach resorts.

What happened that day can hardly be described in the limited space of this column. Picture a happy group of Maroons with a day to spend in the area of Tampa and St. Petersburg, and you have enough material to write a book for Miss Floyd's library collection.

The activities of the squad members included bus rides, auto rides, boat rides, plain rides, deep sea fishing trips, souvenir hunts, delicious meals in the Tampa Latin Quarter, visits to beaches, visits to alligator and wildlife farms, and the consumption of gallons of citrus fruit juices.

Early the next day, the traveling party departed from the land of palm trees, bathing beaches and Spanish accents to return to a snow-blanketed airfield in Lexington. The travel for the day read: breakfast in Tampa, lunch in Lexington and supper in Richmond.
