Students Planning Bowl Game Trip Projects To Raise $5,000 Underway

More than one hundred Eastern students will attend the Tangerine Bowl game in Orlando, Florida, on January 1, representing various school organizations.

Plans are being made for the band, the R. O. T. C. drill team, the cheerleaders, and the majorettes to leave Kentucky on December 30 or 31, either by train or bus, for Orlando.

An estimated $5,000 to $5,500 will be necessary for these organizations to make the trip to the game. A large percentage of this total cost has been raised by the citizens of Madison County and Richmond, and Eastern students have also contributed a smaller amount.

The band and the drill team are combining their efforts to raise money for the trip by sponsoring various activities.

The proceeds from the Tangerine Ball given last Friday night in the cafeteria are to be divided between the two organizations for the expenses. A project was sponsored at the Blue Grass Ordinance to raise money, and the drill team is working on a school project to raise money. The cheerleaders sponsored a benefit bridge last night at the Madison County Country Club. Several other ideas for raising money are pending.

ALL STUDENTS INVITED TO "Y" PARTY SATURDAY

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. are jointly sponsoring a party to promote week end activities at the "Y" room in the basement of Roark Saturday evening at 7:30 for anyone who wishes to attend.

TANGERINE QUEEN CROWNED AT BOWL DANCE IN CAFETERIA

Highlighting the Tangerine Bowl Dance given in the college cafeteria by the band and drill team was the coronation of Miss Betty Bosshammer of Covington who will represent Eastern for Queen of the Tangerine Bowl.

The Pastels, a band formed by 15 Eastern students, provided dance music for the eighty couples attending. The $181.00 received from this activity will be used to send the band and drill team to the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando for the New Year's Day game.

Guests at the dance were President and Mrs. W. F. O'Donnell, Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Giles, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Keene, Miss Willie Moss, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whitt, and Coach and Mrs. Fred Darling.

William Tarwater, band director, wishes to extend his thanks for support given to the sale of tangerines in the grill. The proceeds from this activity amounted to $42.47 this past week. Thanks are also in hand for the use of the cafeteria for the Tangerine Bowl Dance.

BETTY BOSSHAMMER

First Presentation Of Cantata By Dr. Niles Here On Thursday

"Mary the Rose," a Christmas cantata by Dr. John Jacob Niles, composer and collector of folk music, will be presented Thursday evening, December 16, at 8:00 in Hiram Brock Auditorium. Participating in the premiere performance of the cantata will be members of Drum and Sandal, Modern Dance Club, and of Eastern's Music Department, Choir and Orchestra.

Director of the entire production is James Van Peurse, head of the Music Department, to whom "Mary the Rose" is dedicated. Dancers are under the direction of Miss Martha Williams of the physical education department. Miss Constance Conklin, member of the music faculty, will be soprano soloist.

NEW ORATORIC STYLE

This work represents a new departure in oratoric writing, in that it employs dancers as well as singers and orchestra. The masks and pageants of pre-Shakespearean England, which were given in churches or church-yards, involved singing, such orchestras as were available, speakers and a group of pantomimic dancers. The importance of the dance in early religious works is suggested by the fact that the word "carol" (which, to us means a song) derives from the Green and originally meant "dancing in a circle" to the music of the singing voice.

PASTORAL APPROACH

The lyrics are a tightly knit poem celebrating the birth of Christ, approaching the subject from the humble level of the shepherds. Those who have listened to rehearsals of "Mary the Rose" have concluded that the effectiveness of this work derives in large measure from the contrast between the humility of this approach and the loftiness of the music.

The score runs to 42 large manuscript pages, and there are 526 measures of orchestral accompaniment. It is scored for woodwinds, horns in F, brasses, celesta, harp, percussions and strings.

Eastern Dominates All-O.V.C. Team

Eastern's unbeaten Ohio Valley Conference champions dominated the league's 1954 All-Conference football team with six Maroons named to the first team and one on the second team.

The all-OVC Team was released this week by Kelley Thompson, conference public relations director. The squad was picked by a vote of the league's six coaches.

Tangerine Bowl-bound Maroons making the first team are Fred Winscher, end; Frank Nassida, tackle; Jerry Johns, guard; Jim Hanlon, quarterback; Don Daly, halfback; and Bob Muller, fullback.

Daly received the greatest number of first place votes and was designated captain of the squad.

Tom Schulte, outstanding freshman end, was named to the second team to round out Eastern's dominance in the voting.

Western and Middle Tennessee each placed two members on the first team and Tennessee Tech placed one. Hilltoppers making the team are Walt Apperson, end, and Tom Paterson, center. Middle Tennessee gridders making the select group are Joe Collier, guard, and Garner Ezell, halfback. Tech's representative is James Passons at tackle. Passons is the only player on the first team who was named to the 1953 all-OVC first team.

Eastern, picked to meet the University of Omaha's unbeaten Indians in the Tangerine Bowl on Jan. 1, was undefeated in OVC play to take the loop crown. The only blemish on the Maroons' 1954 record was a 13-13 tie with powerful Toledo as Eastern finished with a record of eight wins and one tie.

TWENTY-THIRD PERFORMANCE OF "MESSIAH" SUNDAY NIGHT

Over Two Hundred Fifty Join To Present Handel's Oratorio

The 23rd performance of Handel's "Messiah" will be given on Sunday evening, December 12 at 7:30 in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. The chorus made up of over 200 students and townspeople is directed by James E. Van Peurse, head of Eastern's Music Department.

SOLOISTS NAMED

The soloists in this year's presentation are Miss Constance Conklin, soprano, from our Music Department; Miss Lillian Knowles, Contralto, wife of Ifor Jones, director of the Bach Choir in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania; Monas Harlan, University of Louisville School of Music; and Fletcher Smith, also of the University of Louisville School of Music. The orchestra will be a combined group of Eastern and Berea musicians.

PERFORMED IN DUBLIN

Handel's "Messiah" is one of the mightiest compositions of the world. Handel had been invited to Dublin where three charitable societies had begged him to write a work to help raise funds. So he began his task. A friend suggested the scripture topic. In twenty-four days the "Messiah" was completed, and first performed in Dublin on April 13th, 1742.

Which do you recall of the many matchless airs that belong to "The Messiah?" Perhaps the most familiar are "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth;" "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion;" "For Unto Us a Child is Born;" "Glory to God in the Highest;" and the grand "Hallelujah Chorus."

STANDING A TRADITION

One of the greatest testimonies to the power of "The Messiah" is that at its first performance in London the whole audience with George II at its head rose with one consent at the "Hallelujah Chorus," and the custom has survived to the present day.

Walnut Hall To Be Decorated In Traditional Greens Sunday

This year's Hanging of the Greens will be the 25th annual presentation and during the program the lobby, ceiling, windows, and doors will be decorated with evergreen garlands and wreaths. The Y. W. C. A. has charge of the program. The Y. M. C. A. is making the garlands and wreaths.

COMPTON SPEAKS

The speaker will for the program will be Reverend Bruce Compton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Danville, Kentucky. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania at Princeton. His work since the Theological Seminary has been pastor of a church in Baltimore and in Philadelphia. Before coming to Danville, he taught at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Candlelighters for the program will be Ross Samson and Denyse Campbell; trumpet bearers will be Mary and Frances McMullen, and trumpet players will be Jim Hurt and John Largent. James Allender, Shirley Pettit, and Jack Forman will read the "Prophecy," the "Fulfillment," and the "Kingdom" from the scriptures and Jerry Wright will give the benediction.

Special music for the program will be provided by Ross Stocker, Patricia Van Peurse, John Mayer, Larry James and Joanne Van

REV. BRUCE COMPTON

Peurse. Mitzi Muller will sing a solo, "O Holy Night," by Adam. Pianist for the program will be Jane Nims. Elizabeth Gaither will play the chimes.

In charge of the arrangements are Dean Rubarts and Gether Trick.

Practices for the program will be held at 6 o'clock Friday evening and 1:30 Saturday afternoon in the Student Union Building.

64 PARTICIPATING

There will be 64 girls participating in the presentation. They are Ruthie Patterson, Jane Payton, Jerry Taylor, Carol Lang, Janice Treadway, Eulene Spence, Bert Bowling, Ann Quinn Lyle, Barbara Williamson, Joy Kitson, Jane Varble, Barbara Heathman, Mary Becker, Mary McCall, Edie Taylor, Rosalind Lewis, Mary Elizabeth Johnson, Peggy Knepper, Billie Griffin, Dorothy Thomas, Betty Lawrence, Delores Cooper, Peggy Baker, Faye Marcum, Doris Edwards, Dianne Miller, Grace Reynolds, Peggy Jo Spencer, Wanda Cox, Mary Alice Gash, Barbara Reliford, Phyllis Counts, Lois Samson, Wanda Wagers, Janice Campbell, Joy McCreary, Gayle O'Connell, Mickie Preston, Pat Watts, Sally Singleton, Sandra Hargan, Mitzi Slone, Guin Lewis, Thelma Arthur and Marilyn Mulvanity.

Training School Gives Program

The Cammack Training School Christmas program will present various arrangements of traditional Christmas music on Friday, December 17th, at 9:30 in Hiram Brock Auditorium.

The first, second and third grades will be under the supervision of James Van Peurse, head of Eastern's music department. Miss Jane Campbell, music department faculty member, will direct the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades.

An orchestra composed of string students from the six grades will be conducted by Edson Perry, violin instructor for the college.

The program is an unusual affair. The public is invited to attend the presentation.

The Spirit Of Christmas

Down through the years of a thousand yesterdays, a custom comes to us which was first celebrated in Bethlehem of Judea, under the brightest star in all the heavens.

There in a wooden manger, with only straw beneath his head, lay the Saviour who brought into our world the true meaning of Christian love. Oh yes—you remember now, don't you? Can you see Him there? It was He who brought us this most blessed season of all the year. There were wise men from afar, who brought gifts and laid them at His infant cradle. They were not bright toys, nor fine clothes, nor costly goods, but very simple gifts full of humility and true love. Now just what does all of this mean in the Christmas season that we celebrate in a twentieth-century period?

Would it be you who gives for the hope of receiving; would it be you who gives to be known to fellow man? Or do you wrap a package with the hands of duty? If you are among any of these, then truly your head should hang in shame, for this is far from what a real gift symbolizes. However, if you give with the love of giving, then this gift is the greatest of all, no matter how small it may be.

As our today and tomorrows bring us, more and more into a world of speed, suspense, social problems, individualism, and many other conditions familiar to our age, is easy to forget the true symbol of Christmas, and easier still to cast the real meaning aside and make it a holiday for wild fancies and moral pleasures. Christ was not born to make it thus, but to tell a story and show us that the Son of God became a man, so that men may become Sons of God.

Think about these things this year and remember them in all of the years to come. Become aware that it took Christmas to bring us an Immortal Light, who taught us that, at Christmas, no matter how great or how small our gifts may be, the real value is in how we give them!

A Parody On "The Night Before Christmas"

By BEVERLY WILSON

The next day was Christmas and all it was still, The stockings were hung expecting their fill. While the kiddies were dreaming I hunted for toys. But I crept around quiet and made not one noise. The big house stood lonely and as I slipped by pa's bed, I knew sugar plum visions danced through his head. Then not one moment later I heard a soft clatter. Threw open the curtains to see what was the matter. The old moon was smiling alighting the night, Bringing a little old driver quickly to sight. His deer pulled the sleigh and he called them by name, Listen to this, not even one dame! Now Dasher, now Vixen, now Cupid and Prancer, Whoa Blitzen! whoa Donner, whoa! Comet and Dancer. Through the chimney he bounded in only a twinkle, And to my surprise on his face not one wrinkle! His long thick beard was as white as the snow; He had round, rosy cheeks and his dimples did show. Circling his head came smoke from his pipe, And his laughter-filled eyes made the whole room bright. He was chubby and plump, but my what a belly! Yep, you know it too, it shook just like jelly. He looked like a peddler carrying a pack, For the squeeze down the chimney had made his suit black. First the stockings were filled, then he laid out the toys: Lovely dolls for the girls, fast trains for the boys. Soon he was finished and all ready to go. Believe me, my friends, it was all quite a show! Then placing his finger aside his nose, Telling old, faithful Rudolph to turn on the gleam. He went up through the chimney and as everyone knows.... He sprang to his sleigh and called to his team, Then he yelled o're his shoulder as he drove out of sight Merry Christmas! Happy New Year! and to all a goodnight! !

A Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor: In connection with your editorial on page two of the Nov. 19 Progress entitled "The Petty Complaint Department," I would like to state that there is a flag pole with an American flag flying, usually, in front of the R. O. T. C. department at the Health Building. Eastern is not really as unpatriotic as it seems to be. Yes, a little hidden, but patriotic. It would be better if there was a flag pole in the middle of the campus so all could see—

The Progress Salutes...

One of the busiest seniors during this pre-holiday season and the Progress Salute of this issue is Jane McDonald. She came to Eastern last year from Cumberland Junior College in Williamsburg, Kentucky, which is also her home town.

Jane is twenty years old and 5'6 1/2" tall. She will receive her teaching certificate in commerce this spring. Her ambition, however, is to study Religious Education at Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville. Her interest in this phase of education is clearly shown by her numerous activities in the B. S. U., of which she is the Devotional Vice-President. Other organizations to which she belongs are the Progress staff and Sigma Tau Pi, and she is treasurer of the Student Council.

Jane participated in the Student Night Program at the Baptist Church on December 5. On December 9 the B. S. U. held a chili supper and caroling afterwards. Jane was very active in arranging this supper. She is in the chorus of the Messiah, and on December 16 will aid with the Christmas Coffee of the B. S. U. Also, to increase the Christmas spirit on the campus, the devotional programs held in the Little Theater every night will carry out the Christmas theme, Jane says.

People, in general, are her "likes," and her favorite food is hamburgers. Her hobby is collecting demitasse cups. Jane also plays the piano and the flute.

Jane, a fine person and a good student, is certainly a favorite among her many friends and teachers, and deserves to be saluted.

The Ghost Writer

Well, looks like we didn't have a ghost of a chance to make the last issue. So we'll try to make up for lost time.

Wonder if Boots Whitaker spent Thanksgiving holiday in Martin, Kentucky since she wasn't seen in Richmond? Do you know, Doug? Seems like Joyce Blevins is seeing fewer letters and more of Jim K. Heard that a certain ballplayer got a good luck charm, is that so, Carl W.? Is it true that Jack Adams finally gave the girls a chance? Jim Floyd and Beth seem to be a pretty steady couple on campus lately. Wonder if there is something between Edie T. and Bobby S. very serious. Did you know that Kay and Roger are going steady now? I never do see Bobby D. without Julianne W. anymore. It must be serious.

The biggest thing we've seen on campus lately is Betty P's new diamond ring. The Ghost and Ghost, Incorporated, is sponsoring a contest to find the campus's cuddliest couple. Please send all

Dear Santa...

Dear Santa Claus,

Well, it doesn't seem possible, but another year has passed, and here we are again writing you our annual letter. All in all, it has been a good year for us, and we hope it hasn't been too hard for you, Santa.

This is our Christmas list of the gifts we would like to present our friends this Christmas. We know you may not be able to fill all of our requests, but all of us have tried to be good little boys and girls like you said to be, and we would really appreciate these presents.

For Coach Presnell and his hard-working team we would like the Tangerine Bowl victory all tied up with maroon and white ribbons. Along with that, you might just as well toss in the OVC basketball crown for the basketball team.

We think the girls in Burnam Hall have behaved pretty well this year. For them we would like 12 o'clock permission Saturday night, the right to wear jeans and slacks in the lobby and the grill, a television set, a place to iron on each floor and, if possible, please, just two girls to a room. Also we would like 400 Eddie Fishers to brighten up the rooms a bit.

Sullivan boys have requested Jane Russell to sit on the desk and answer the telephone in their lobby. If you could arrange that, Santa, we're sure the boys would be grateful. They could really use a new dormitory too, as we hear they are beginning to be just a little bit crowded.

For the music department, we would like a new, modern, well-equipped building, one of their own. The band, orchestra and chorus really add a lot to the school, and we know they deserve a new building. Speaking of the music department, Santa, what about a gift certificate for a year of free haircuts for the male music students?

For Mrs. Hagen we would like an enclosed porch so it won't be so cold when she has to go out and round up her flock.

Would you bring a brand new Student Union Building just for Mrs. Chenault, and some pictures nominations to the Eastern Press Box.

Vi Benge was seen at the dance with Ollie J. Could there be a story behind this? Sue S. and Johnny P. are seen together quite a bit in the grill lately.

Seems to me that Betty McLocklin and Jack Rodgers are powerful good friends lately.

other than westerns for the campus movie?

Mozart wants a shiny new collar and a giant economy size box of dog biscuits.

We would like an un-gaged Nick De Santis (or reasonable facsimile) for all the girls who swooned when he appeared in "The Male Animal."

And for everyone Santa, we wish a wonderful Christmas holiday season. May what is called the Christmas spirit exist between nations, as well as between men, all through the years to come.—By Doris Wilmer.

A Dog's-Eye View

By Sharon Brown

"Do you love me?"

I glanced up at the couple beside me. I didn't love either of them; they bothered me. I turned away; it was all disgusting.

I got up and walked around the pillar. There was another couple. I glanced up at the clock; it was five minutes until nine. Thank goodness it would soon be over! They were all over the place now, pressing me against the door and their ordering me away from the door. I slunk about amid the couples.

The girls leaned against the white pillars, soiling their sweaters and windbreakers. The boys leaned against the girls, kissing them.

"Darling, I love you."

The hair stood up on the back of my neck. How vile could people get?

One couple looked at each other shyly, and then took her, awkwardly, in his arms and hissed her. "Good night," he said.

"Good night," she breathed gently.

He was off into the darkness, and she came across the porch. She paused "Good night, Mo," she said.

I stared up at her; she went inside.

I could hear their soft murmurs now, and their gentle expressions of love.

Three girls came across the porch, slightly chagrined, and looking in neither direction.

The chimes began ringing; the boys tightened their grips on the girls.

"Don't leave me," one whispered.

They were becoming vile again.

I lay on the mat outside the door listening to their happy voices, and then "C-Sharp" sidled up beside me.

"Do you love me?" he asked mockingly.

Meet The Faculty

By JANE PAYTON

A certain student approached a professor and said, "Mr. V., I don't know nothing about writing this here theme."

"This statement and many similar ones always signal the beginning of another semester and its challenges." So says Victor Venetozzi, instructor of English.

A Boxer, Yet!

Mr. Venetozzi, born in New York, spent his boyhood in Pennsylvania. He refused a boxing scholarship at Pennsylvania State, and 16 years later received his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees at Eastern.

He began his teaching here as an assistant in 1952, carrying 14 hours and teaching 9 hours of freshman English.

Interestingly and oddly enough, when Mr. Venetozzi was a freshman here, his wife, Vasile, was working on her doctorate degree.

Mr. Venetozzi, previously, had been a self-employed building contractor. The year's 1941-1945 were spent in the service, where he had the opportunity to travel extensively throughout Europe with the 82nd Airborne Division. He regrets, he says, not having seen Italy.

Asked about his favorite phase of English, he emphatically replied, "discussion and debate, which are the primary tools of democracy."

Many Activities

With many other interests, he still finds time to be a freshman counselor, sophomore class sponsor, and debate team coach.

MR. VENETOZZI

His hobby is music. He modestly says, "I played with the band and used to be very good!" Another hobby is woodworking.

Teacher Family

"Mr. V.," as he is popularly known to students, came from a long line of teachers, but says he previously had no intention in carrying on the family tradition. Then he met Mrs. Venetozzi. "I married a teacher and she made me a teacher too," he laughs.

His father is a professor of music at Pennsylvania State, and his brother holds a Ph. D. degree and is head of a music department in Pensacola, Florida.

A scurrying sort of soul, a spunky spirit, and lots of humor are only a few of the likable qualities which "Mr. V." possesses—he's a perfect example of a person who lives by the maxim, "Keep smiling!"

Student Group Initiates 3 Projects

Three projects have been initiated this week by the Eastern Kentucky State College Student Association.

The Student Association has erected an aluminum sign at the entrance of the campus in answer to student suggestions that Eastern should have a sign on the campus to tell what the college is.

Another recent activity of the council was a discussion with President W. F. O'Donnell about the possibilities of student organizations holding dances in the cafeteria. Billy Roy Murphy and Ronald Coffman, were active in this project.

The Chime concerts originating in the Student Union Building each evening from 5:00 until 5:15 is a student association sponsored activity also. Mary Elizabeth Johnson, junior, presents the school songs, evening hymns, and Christmas carols in this evening program.

Winter Journey

By THOM McELFRESH

It began snowing just as the train north pulled into the station. It was only 40 minutes late. The town hall clock bell was just striking 4:00 a. m. when the puffing engine drew its line of coaches next to the windswept platform. There had been a bitter coldness in the air—the sharp clear prediction of snow to come. But with the coming of those first few flakes the edged wind dulled a little. With the fulfillment of the promise, the cutting necessity of the omen ebbed in intensity.

The yellow blobs of light along the platform went out of focus in the sudden veiling snow. Then they were matched by the suddenly lighted window glows from the coaches as someone turned the lights on in the train.

The conductor clapped his hands together as he swung down from the platform. He was muttering about flag stops in the middle of the night. And for one passenger, I didn't listen. I was asleep with waiting and more impatient than asleep. I was mumbling about inefficiency.

Inside the car, out of the cutting wind and scudding snow, into the stagnant steamy heat, the plush seats prickly and scratchy even through the heavy clothing, it was not to be a pleasant journey. At least the journey in itself was not pleasant, but at the end that home for Christmas feeling.

There was a young man in uniform with his wife and two children in the seat directly forward. They looked as though they had seen too much already of rails and coaches. The children were asleep, and I heard the woman speaking of Pittsburgh and the Christmas noontime.

Across the aisle an old man and woman were sleeping peacefully. Maybe bound to children's homes for the festival.

The car was so little like a Christmas time. The dusty littered coach—the becalmed, disheartened heat—the silence shattered by the hissing steam, the wheeze-breathing of the passengers, the surging bass song of the streaming train.

But at the end, the meeting at the station, the swift completion of the then happy journey, the whirling snow, settling on the brightly glowing tinsel-trimmed town. And a wreath of evergreening pine against the door of home.

The silent snow falling in the little stations and on the doorways and on the streets—a white blessing—a passing remark by the Divinity—a blessing to all our houses. The end of another journey.

And I'm home again for Christmas.

Club Holiday Festivities Brighten Social Curriculum

CWENS, Collegiate Pentacle Entertained at After Game Party

Wednesday, December 1st, after the basketball game the members of the CWens and Collegiate Pentacle were entertained with a dessert party by Dean Emma Y. Case who was assisted by Mrs. Nancy Hagen, Burnam Hall house mother.

Faculty Facts

Dr. Fred P. Giles has been appointed to serve on the Scholarship Committee of the National Kappa Pi, honorary art fraternity. Other members of the committee are Prof. Elmer Porter, of Indiana State Teachers College, and Dr. Pearl B. Heath, Oregon College of Education. The National Kappa Pi will give a scholarship to the outstanding art student who is in need of financial assistance and enrolled in the college having a chapter of the fraternity.

Dr. Fred P. Giles spoke to the Women's Club of Beattyville on Monday evening, December 6, on the subject "Eyes to See."

Dr. Janet Murbach, head of the Foreign Language Department, recently attended the fall meeting of the state teachers of French held at the University of Kentucky.

KAPPA DELTA PI INITIATES FIFTEEN

Fifteen pledges were initiated into Eastern's Delta Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, in Walnut Hall, Wednesday evening, December 1, at 5:00.

The initiates were James Alender, senior; Shirley Dugger, junior; Martha Flynn, senior; Mrs. Maxine Hines, senior; Nancy Lou Jackson, junior; Mary Elizabeth Johnson, junior; Mrs. Carol M. Kidd, junior; Mrs. Ann Quinn Lyle, senior; James R. Love, senior; Diand Miller, junior; Marylyn Mulvanity, junior; Shirley Pettit, junior; Paul W. Polly, senior; Robert E. Taylor, senior; Dorothy Thomas, senior.

Roger Stephens, president, led the officers, Edith Ann Taylor, secretary; Beverly Wilson, historian; Jackson Lackey, treasurer; and Thelma Park initiation chairman, and club sponsor, Miss Ida Teater, in the ceremony in which the new members pledged to fulfill the obligations of membership. The emblems, purpose, and history of the fraternity were reviewed.

Following the initiation service a banquet was given in honor of the new members at Boone Tavern in Berea.

This semester fifteen of the nineteen eligible accepted the invitation to join the fraternity.

WITH DON FELTNER

Mac Told Us So!

Well, Coach Paul McBrayer predicted that the Ohio Valley Conference this year would be the most evenly balanced in its 7-year history. Already so-called "upsets" have taken toll of the annual powerhouses of the conference. Western, last Saturday night, was defeated by a strong Morehead team and, last Monday night, who will ever forget that five overtime heartbreaker at Cookeville, Tennessee? A total of 65 minutes of actual playing time was required for the contest, which, incidentally, is believed to be the all time record for a college game. Anyone disagree with "The Big Irishman?"

This corner can't understand how in the world Tennessee Tech managed to get the ball up to midcourt, the point where Kenney Sidwell shot and scored from, in only three seconds. Jack Adams put the Maroons ahead by two points with four seconds remaining in the game. When the ball was thrown out of bounds, exactly three seconds remained on the clock. 'Nuff said.

North Carolina State, the Maroons' Saturday night opponent, will prove to be probably the toughest foe the local roundballers will face all season. In pre-season polls, the Wolfpack was ranked among the top five teams in the nation. In the latest Associated Press poll, they were number ten.

Jack Adams, brilliant junior forward, has gotten off to a great start in establishing himself as an All-American candidate. In the Maroons' opener against Centre, Jack tallied 23 points and pulled off 15 rebounds. Against Louisville, Jack broke the Armory free throw record set by Walter Dukes of Seton Hall a couple of years ago, hitting 17 charity tosses. He poured through 31 points and got 18 rebounds against the Cards and was the best player on the floor. Adams scored 22 points against Tech Monday night and got 16 rebounds to bring his three game total to 76 points and an average of 25.3 points and 16.3 rebounds per contest.

Some mighty fine boys make up this year's team and, with more playing experience, we believe the Maroons will be right in there in the conference race before the season is over.

J. D. Brock, cool-headed sophomore center, came through at the right times at Cookeville Monday night as he hit timely jump shots to keep the Maroons in the game until he fouled out in the third overtime. His total for the night was 14 points. Against Centre, he collected 12. The well-liked athlete from Lily, Ky., will be called upon for a lot of service for the Maroons this year, and should he keep up with his terrific scoring ability, he may be on the starting lineup before many games.

One particular freshman we would like to recognize is Larry Redmond, 6'2," guard from Newport, who has seen considerable action in each of the Maroons' three games so far. If there ever was an All-American prospect, Larry is the boy. He is as cool as any senior on the court and handles himself like a polished veteran. Against Tech, Larry scored 10 points and played 45 minutes. Larry tallied 7 points in the brief time he was in the game, his first college game.

Harold Fraley, 6'6" junior forward from Sandy Hook, started his first college game in the season opener against Centre. With only one year's high school experience, Harold came to Eastern and has developed into one of the best rebounders on the team. He displayed excellent potential scoring ability at Louisville as he hit 3 for 3 from the field and 6 for 6 at the charity line for a total of 12 points.

TANGERINE TALK

Although the basketball season is well underway, the excitement of Eastern's undefeated footballers and the January 1st Tangerine Bowl game lingers on.

"The Marching Maroons" band and the ROTC drill team are really working overtime in raising the funds to make the trip to Orlando. The townspeople and various clubs on the campus should be praised, as everyone has cooperated wonderfully in helping to raise the necessary "cash" to send these two very fine organizations to the southland to represent our school.

GOT YOUR TICKET

Members of the Tangerine Bowl Committee in Orlando report that advance ticket sales have been terrific and a record attendance is expected, come New Year's night. All students who plan to make the trip and do not have their tickets are urged to get them as soon as possible because they are in great demand in Orlando, and the ones that are not sold here will be sent down at a later date. Hinkle's Drug is handling all these tickets, and all orders will be taken there. Also, all alumni are asked to order their ducats before the team leaves, which will be the 23rd of December.

TURKEY SHINES

When the University of Kentucky defeated Tennessee at Knoxville three weeks ago, it marked the first time in 30 years since the 'Cats had beaten the Vols at the Tennessee city. Back in 1924, Kentucky, led by their ace half-back, "Turkey" Hughes, defeated the Volunteers by a 27-6 count. Of course, you all know that Turkey is our present athletic director and baseball coach.

This corner sneaked a peek into Mr. Hughes' scrap book during the past week and was really impressed by his athletic prowess. We knew that he was Kentucky's first four lettermen and that he was good in his playing days, but we never knew just how good. In His Prime

Among the many clippings that we saw, we would like to pass on to you good people one of these articles which best describe his athletic ability. "Kentucky has produced players that won places on All-American teams; baseball players who made high marks in the major leagues; track men that put their names in the record books and basketball teams that won collegiate championships. But, "Turkey" Hughes is the only athlete from that state who ever established such high marks in all four branches of sport."

Since this is the last edition until after the Christmas holidays, we would like to join in with the rest of the staff in wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year. . . See you in Orlando!

Eastern's Bowl Opponents Formidable Foe

When the Eastern Kentucky Maroons meet Omaha University's Indians on New Year's night in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Florida, they meet a formidable foe. Omaha boasts one of the most outstanding statistical records in the country.

The starting tailback on the O. U. single wing attack is a sophomore—But, what a sophomore! Bill Englehardt, 185 lb. second year man, is the nation's total offense leader, having gained 1645 yards in 243 plays. He is ranked 14th nationally among the passing leaders, having completed 56 of 104 aerials for 1061 yards and 12 touchdowns. Those 1061 passing yards, plus some 584 rushing yards, gives him the phenomenal total offense net of 1645. Englehardt scored 88 points this season to rank fifth in the nation in the point tallying department.

Emil Radick, senior tailback, who alternates with Englehardt, is ranked 20th in this same total offense department, having gained 988 yards in 143 plays.

As a team, Omaha is ranked 4th in the nation in the passing game. The Indians have completed 78 of 160 tosses for 1632 yards and an average of 181.3 yards per contest.

To round out their dominance the Indians are ranked ninth in team total offense. In 541 plays they have accounted for 3447 yards for an average of 383 yards per game.

The Eastern Maroons have no national leaders. As a team, they are not ranked among the statistical leaders. But, many observers around this section of the country who have watched the Maroons go undefeated, playing the toughest card in the history of the sport at the college, believe that the Maroons possess the most powerful, most evenly balanced small college outfit in the nation.

The Maroons boast five ball carriers who have gained over 200 net yards via the ground route. The Maroons' forward wall some 206 pounds to the man light gained a reputation this fall of being the strongest and fastest line in the history of the conference.

Maroons Swamp Centre In Opener, But Fall To U. Of L. And T. P. I.

By Wally Sullivan

The Maroons successfully opened their 1954-55 basketball campaign on the home court Dec. 1, by soundly trouncing Centre College of Danville 87-48.

Coach McBrayer, after much thought, opened with a line-up well balanced in height, speed, and shooting ability. Jack Adams and Harold Fraley opened at the forward posts, Dick Culbertson and Ronnie Pelligrinon at the guards, and big Jim Floyd at the center slot. Floyd brilliantly hooked his way to 10 of Eastern's first 13 points, and controlled both boards with the help of able 6-6 Harold Fraley.

The usual first game kinks were ironed out early in the second half, and gave Coach McBrayer an early opportunity to experiment in the way of combinations. Substituting freely early in the second half, McBrayer found that he has ample reserve strength at all positions. In fact, the center post, the one spot that was expected to provide trouble for the Maroons, was filled exceedingly well by Jim Floyd and J. D. Brock. Equally efficient in their performances were Dick Culbertson and Ron Pelligrinon. Top flight reserve strength was shown in Bill Baxter, Guy Strong, and freshman Larry Redmond. Captain Jack Adams came through with a sterling performance, leading the team to its opening win with 23 big points.

The Maroons showed many signs of being top contender for the O. V. C. crown, if they can develop much needed "team power" that seemed to be absent the better part of last season. This may very well be done earlier this year so far as the conference race is concerned, since they play only one conference foe in their next five games.

EASTERN LOSES TO U. L.

Eastern, picked as a twenty-point underdog to a tall, experienced U. of L. club, rated in pre-season polls as one of the top teams in the South, fought gamely for three quarters of the game before finally succumbing to the tremendous depth and shooting ability of the Cardinals by an 89 to 77 score.

The Maroons fought the Louisville club on even terms until the last eight minutes, when they were hit hard by personal fouls and lost five men in their efforts to stop the tall, speedy Cardinals.

Jack Adams took scoring honors for the night with 31 points, and in doing so, set a new free throw record at the Armory with 17 free throws from the foul line.

T. P. I. TIPS EASTERN

The Maroons, weakened by two well known enemies of athletic events, flu and injury, again seemed unable to take advantage of the team power they possess and fell at the hands of T. P. I. in one of the longest games in modern basketball, finally ending in five overtimes, 85-80. The regulation time ended at 58-58.

Ironically, it was two Kentuckians who spelled defeat for Eastern. Kenny Sidwell, a freshman, who made All-State at Caverna High School in Cave City, Kentucky, tied the game with a mid-court shot with one second remaining in the regulation playing time. Another Kentuckian, Marvin Reed of Stanford, Kentucky, teamed up with the cool-headed Sidwell to dribble and score their team into victory over the Maroons. Sidwell not only controlled the ball for minutes at a time, but pitched in needed points in the first three overtimes. It was then that the other half of the transplanted Kentucky duet took over. Mr. Reed, in that final fifth overtime, dropped in 10 of the 11 points scored by T. P. I.

Eastern fought valiantly for four of the five overtimes, but then the personal fouls began to show their effects. Capt. Jack Adams left the game with 22 points with 3:29 to go in the fourth, on fouls, and Coach McBrayer dug deeper into his already weakened reserves, as Adams made No. five. The game was decided from the free-throw line in the fifth extended frame, as Reed pitched in 8 free throws and added a field goal to end the game; T. P. I. 85, Eastern 80.

The Maroons were considerably weakened for the game by the loss of mainstay guard Ronnie Pelligrinon, and big Jim Floyd due to sickness and injury. Still, the game left many Kentucky fans wondering how two Kentuckians of the caliber of Mr. Sidwell and Mr. Reed ever slipped across the Tennessee line without being nabbed by the sharp eyes of Kentucky basketball mentors.

The next three games could easily make or break the Maroons, as they play three of the top teams in the country.

December 11 will find the McBrayermen in Raleigh, N. C., to battle a North Carolina State team which holds down the No. 5 spot in pre-season polls. The tall, fast, high scoring Wolf Pack probably has its best team since the days of Dick Dickey and Sam Ranzino. Last year they defeated the Maroons 83-60, but Eastern has given them a rough time in the other games they have played, and may surprise many fans as well as the Wolf Pack.

The Maroons play another tough foe in their next home game December 13, in Xavier University of Cincinnati. Xavier defeated the Maroons three times last year, 86-67 in the K. I. T., then 79-63, and 78-61 in regular season play. But the Muskies may find the road a lot tougher this season.

Winding out the trio of suicide games, the Maroons travel to Bristol, Va., December 20, to take on the highly rated University of Virginia Cavaliers, which has the nation's third leading scorer of 1953, in Buzz Wilkinson who averaged 30.1 points in 27 games last season.

For solution see paragraph below.

ACCORDING TO THE LARGEST and latest coast-to-coast college survey, college smokers prefer Luckies—and by a wide margin. The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. Thousands of students appreciate Luckies' better taste almost as much as the pair in the Droodle above, titled: Sweethearts attempting to kiss and enjoy better-tasting Luckies at same time. Luckies taste better for good reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, "It's Toasted" to taste better. This famous Lucky Strike process tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better—cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, enjoy the better-tasting cigarette . . . Lucky Strike.

TELFORD CENTER SCENE OF PARTY

The Community Service Committee of the Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a charity party December 16 from 3-4 at the Telford Community Center.

The party is being given for children from two to ten years of age. During the program the guests will play games, sing carols, and receive gifts and refreshments. Santa Claus will also put in an appearance.

Merchants of Richmond have been very generous to give a discount on the gifts and food necessary for the occasion. Funds for the party were collected at the campus movie last Tuesday night.

Members of the Community Service Committee are Jane Payton, Nellie Whalen, Yvonne Worth, Jane Gross, Joyce Hacker, Joyce Jenkins, Pat Johnson, Doris Marcum, Kathy Naylor, and Ginnie Durbin, chairman. Also assisting this committee have been Mrs. Paul Love and Mrs. C. E. Hurst, members of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors.

BURNAM'S FIRE SQUAD HAILS KEENE "CAPTAIN"

"Captain" is the latest honor given to W. L. Keene, member of the English department, as it only was this week that Captain Keene received his certificate of honorary membership as a fire captain of the Burnam Hall fire department.

This certificate, which was a surprise to Mr. Keene, was presented at a dessert party held in Dean Emma Y. Case's apartment.

Members of Burnam's fire department honored Mr. Keene with this title as a result of his assembly speech, "Safety First," given in auditorium, Wednesday, October 6, during the annual Fire Prevention week.

The purpose of the organized fire department in the residence hall is to provide effective fire prevention and safety practice in Burnam Hall.

Interested In Kentucky? Look In Library's Kentucky Room!

Facts, fiction, poetry—in fact, almost anything one wants to know about Kentucky or Kentucky literature can be found in the Kentuckiana book collection which is being accumulated in Eastern library.

Begun In The '30's

According to Miss Mary Floyd, librarian, the collection was begun in the early 1930's when Eastern purchased the collection of J. W. Townsend of Lexington. This collection was started when he was collecting material for his "Kentucky in American Letters" which was published in 1912. The collection was sold to Eastern with the idea that it is to be preserved for research and study through the years.

More than 500 Kentucky books including 10 shelves of Kentucky fiction are found in the regular stacks of library and are available at all times. The materials in the Kentucky room are not circulated but are available for research and study, when materials cannot be found in the other Kentucky books. People have come here from various sections of the country to study from these and other writings.

Collector's Items

A number of interesting articles can be found in this collection. Among them are a flute owned by Kentucky author James Lane Allen; the original manuscript of the poem, "In Kentucky," and the surveyor's compass used to lay out Madison County in the 1790's. Also included are copies of the local newspaper, some of which date back as far as the Civil War, a number of original manuscripts, a collection of exact copies of all the works of Stephen Collins Foster, and a copy of the first history of Kentucky translated in French and dating back to 1785.

Most of the 1700 volumes which were in the original Townsend collection include a letter to Mr. Townsend from the author and the author's autograph. Each book also contains a bookplate designed by Lexington artist Suddeth Goff. It contains in the design a replica of a medal that had been awarded Mr. Townsend by Transylvania College.

Materials are constantly being added to the collection as they are available. According to Miss Floyd, the important factor that is being stressed in the collecting is getting as much Kentucky data as possible. The main objective is a complete usable set of works on Kentucky or written by Kentuckians.

New Books

Fifty-three books were added to the Kentuckiana collection during 1953-54. Among these were two books by Eastern faculty members. They are "Pardon and Amnesty Under Lincoln and Johnson" by J. T. Dorris and "A Defense of Kentucky's Constitution" by Virgil Burns. A number of other books by faculty members are included in the collection.

Works of several outstanding Kentucky writers are represented in the collection. Among those writers are Barbara T. Anderson, Charley Robertson, Rosemary Kutak, Harlette Arnow, A. B. Guthrie, Jesse Stuart, Clark McMeekins, Hollis Summers, Janice Holt Giles, and James Steele.

County Histories Wanted

Miss Floyd states that the library is anxious to acquire histories of Kentucky's 120 counties for this collection and urges all students who might have access to any materials on their home counties or who know how material might be secured to give her this information. Histories of Pulaski County and Perry County were added last year. However, there are still a number of counties which have not been represented, and Miss Floyd is anxious to add histories of these counties to those already in the collection.

Christmas Party For Burnam Hall

According to Jean Walton, president of the Women's Residence Hall Organization, a coffee hour was given Thursday afternoon, December 9, from 3:00 to 4:30 in the lobby of Burnam Hall for the women of Burnam Hall.

The coffee hour was sponsored by the Women's Resident Hall Organization assisted by the new committees at Burnam Hall.

The officers of the Burnam Hall House Council this year are Jean Walton, president; Delores Samson, social chairman; Peggy Brown, vice president; Janice Burton, secretary; and Virginia Durbin, treasurer.

SENIOR PARTY IN BLUE ROOM

The Blue Room of the Student Union Building was the scene of the Senior Class Christmas dinner Thursday, December 9, at 6:00. Guests at the banquet were President and Mrs. W. F. O'Donnell and Mrs. Emma Y. Case, senior class sponsor.

Welcome was extended by president, Harry Stigall. Christmas carols were sung by the group.

Officers of the class are Harry Stigall, pres., Jimmy Winn, vice-president; Sue Appleton, secretary; and Chester Raker, treasurer.

The dinner was planned by the Social and Program committee of which Dean Rubarts and Faye Rountree are chairmen.

2 Wins; 1 Loss On Rifle Team Record

Eastern's R. O. T. C. Rifle Team has won two postal matches dropping only one this year.

A postal match is a contest in which the rifle teams that are competing shoot in their respective colleges and mail the scores to the schools against which they are competing.

Eastern has defeated the University of Virginia by 1,826 to 1,784 and the Jacksonville State Teachers' College by 1,826 to 1,746. The University of Dayton defeated Eastern's sharpshooters 1,826 to 1,771.

The five high scoring men for Eastern's R. O. T. C. Rifle Team in the matches with the University of Virginia and Jacksonville State Teachers' College were Ira Begley, sophomore, 370 points; Larry Vockery, sophomore, 368 points; Robert Schneider, junior, 366 points; Charles Brown, junior, 361 points, and Melvin Northcutt, junior, 361 points. Four hundred was the possible score.

A shoulder to shoulder match is scheduled with Western's rifle team in February.

Honor Group Of R.O.T.C. On Record Against Raid

Disapproval of the recent student raid on Burnam Hall was expressed by the Knights of Artillery at their regular meeting in the Weaver Health Building November 18. The R. O. T. C. organization, sponsored by Lt. Colonel Alden O. Hatch, declared its belief that every student should be instilled with school spirit and interest, but that college students are supposedly mature and educated individuals and should conduct themselves accordingly. Such action as the dormitory raid was considered below the standing that should be held by any college student.

Knights Of Artillery Sponsor Informal Dance

The Knights of Artillery held an informal dance in the little gym on Tuesday, November 23.

The music was by Chuck Carty's Band. President and Mrs. O'Donnell were guests of the Knights of Artillery. The chaperons were Col. and Mrs. Grubbs, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Hatch, and Cap. and Mrs. Morgan, all of Eastern's Military Science faculty.

Caroling and Chili On B.S.U. Christmas Menu

A chili supper was given for the Baptist Student Union Thursday evening at 6:00 at the First Baptist Church. Following the supper meeting the group sang carols for various shut-ins in Richmond.

CWEN Christmas Banquet To Honor Freshman Women

The fourth annual Freshman Women's Dinner sponsored by Cwens, national honorary for sophomore women, will be held on Wednesday evening, December 15, at 6:30 in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building. The dinner is for all freshmen women. The tickets, priced at $1.35, may be obtained from any member of Cwens.

Guests are to be President and Mrs. W. F. O'Donnell; Mrs. Emma Y. Case, advisor of Cwens; Mrs. Nancy Hagan, house mother of Burnam Hall; and Miss Eunice Wingo, member of Burnam Hall's housing personnel.

Appearing on the program will be Mitzl Mueller, singing "O Holy Night" and "White Christmas,"

Polish Paintings Exhibited Here

The exhibition of Polish paintings sent out by the Polish Embassy in Washington, D. C., is now showing in the Fine Arts Building Exhibition room.

Exhibited are the water color paintings of Stanislaw Noakowski, who was an outstanding architect of Baroque buildings in Poland. All students are invited to see this exhibition, which will be here until December 17. The show was brought here by the art department of Eastern.

Mrs. Carmichael, telling a Christmas story, and Kitty Piersall, leading Christmas carols.

The Officers for Cwens are Mary Becker, president; Joy Kitson, vice president; Rosalind Lewis, secretary; and Doris Wilmer, treasurer. The program committee is Joy Kitson, chairman; Mitzl Mueller, and Virginia Fugate. All the other members of the organization are also helping with the banquet.

Photo Club Gives "Pictorial Review"

The Photo Club sponsored "The Pictorial Review of Fall Activities" in approximately 120 slides Wednesday December 8th in the Little Theatre. The showings took place at 4:30 and 7:15.

The slides showed homecoming parade, queen candidates, crowning of queen, game, band formations, drill team, R. O. T. C., field day, fall scenes on the campus and general school activities. Tickets were sold by members of the Photo Club at twenty-five cents each. All proceeds went to the Tangerine Bowl fund.

Chairman of the show was the Photo Club president, Dave Nesbitt. Other officers were Jim Allender, vice-president; James Huff, treasurer; Beverly Sexton, secretary; and H. H. LaFuze, faculty sponsor.

No Filter Compares with L&M's for Quality or Effectiveness!

Miracle Tip

Actress Diana Lynn: This is the best filter of all—L&M's Miracle Tip. The smoke is mild, yet full of flavor.

Mr. and Mrs. Stu Erwin, stars of TV's great "Stu Erwin Show": As we say on TV, this certainly is the Miracle Tip. L&M's filter beats 'em all.

Mrs. Laddie Sanford, Socialite: I smoke L&Ms... so do most of my friends. Wonderful filter... fine taste!

Enjoy Much More Flavor—Much Less Nicotine

WHAT is it that makes L&M the most talked-about, most eagerly accepted, the fastest growing cigarette of all time?

Just this. It's the filter that counts—and none compares with L&M's Miracle Tip. You get much more flavor, much less nicotine—a light and mild smoke. That's effective filtration. No other cigarette has it!

Why wait to try L&Ms? Discover for yourself what more and more filter tip smokers are finding out every day: L&Ms are just what the doctor ordered.
