DEAN ISSUES CREDIT NOTICE

Unless Certificate from Accredited Hi School is Presented Entrance to be Withheld

BLANKS ARE FURNISHED

Eastern has in the past admitted an occasional person as a special student pending receipt of high school credits or other credentials. It has become increasingly noticeable that this practice was bad. Besides, high school principals are now so much accustomed to certifying credits that any delay seems to be unnecessary. It seemed best, therefore, to admit no student from this time on unless his credentials were on file. Accordingly, this policy was announced in the catalog of 1927, p. 46, for the information of all who expect to enter.

To avoid delay and disappointment all prospective students and all principals of high schools from which students expect to enter should take notice and pass the word to their friends that at the registration the second semester and at subsequent registrations no student will be registered in the college whose high school credits are not on file in official form in the office of our registrar.

If you think of registering decide the question now and get ready. If you decide only the day before registration do not blame anyone but yourself if you have trouble because of not being ready.

Blank forms for certifying credits may be procured by addressing M. E. Mattox, Registrar, Richmond, Kentucky.

HOMER E. COOPER, Dean.

16 MAROONS AWARDED 'E'S'

Henry Arnold, Student Manager and Harold Douds, Cheer Leader, Also Honored

GRID PROSPECTS BRIGHT

At a meeting of the athletic committee last week sixteen football men the student manager and cheer leader were awarded "E's." The following men received sweaters: Captain Jesse Moberly, Harold Moberly, Beckham Combs, Wallace Nard, Henry Triplett, Orville Hamilton, Wilbur Clifton, Tom Clouse, Swepton Clayton, Allington Crace, Fred Dial, Clyde Brock, Ralph Gentry, Albert Pieh, Shelton Saufley, Henry Arnold, student manager, and Harold Douds, cheer leader.

The football schedule for next fall is in the making. Home games with Kentucky Wesleyan and Western are assured. Centre will likely come here and Transylvania will be played but it is not known now if the game will be played here or at Lexington. Union College will be played at Barbourville, Ky., and Morris-Harvey at Barbourville, W. Va. The University of Louisville will likely be played at Louisville. The Eastern-Western tilt Thanksgiving will likely be made an annual affair. Morris-Harvey was met here last year and the University of Louisville this fall, but the Maroons have not met the teams on their own fields.

It will be noted that the above teams are among the very best in the state and adjoining states. Eastern has been going forward by leaps and bounds, in an athletic way, in the last three or four years, accounting for the better teams that are being scheduled. With most of the old men coming back next fall, and with new men that will be added, Eastern should have a much better team next fall.

Most flivver wrecks are due to tight nuts.

EASTERN'S NEW CAFETERIA

NEW CAFETERIA NEARLY READY

Will Be One of Best in State When Finished; Two Serving Lines Provided

ALL EQUIPMENT IS NEW

By the opening of the second semester Eastern will have one of the most up to date cafeterias in the state if not the best school cafeteria in the state.

When the cafeteria is finished it will have a seating capacity of 620, and two serving lines. Altho at present only one serving line and only part of the tables have been placed in the new room the students seem to be very well taken care of.

The administration has seen to it that everything has been made strictly sanitary. The interior of the cafe as well as the kitchen has been painted white, making the lighting very effective. Within a very short time a motor will be placed on the roof that will be connected with the ventilation system. This motor, working in conjunction with the heating system, that can be seen in the cafe, will make it possible to heat and ventilate the room by the latest approved methods. The air will be kept in circulation causing a complete change every three minutes.

New equipment has been placed in the kitchen. The two things that cause "Dee," the cook, the most happiness seem to be the new dish washer and a potato masher. The dish washer is one of the larger type handling all the dishes that are used. The dishes are thoroughly "cooked" before passing on thru the washer.

A small bakery is now being installed. It is not likely that the bread will be baked here, altho the oven has a 240 loaf capacity, only the pastry and rolls will be made for some time.

The storage rooms are cooled by a new frigidaire system, as well as the drinking water in the kitchen, cafeteria and reception room of Burnam. The storage system is in three units, one for general storage purposes, one for meats and the other for fruits. A small room, near the meat room, is cooled by the frigidaire. All the meat is taken to this especially equipped room to be prepared for cooking.

All the work, excepting the director and cooks, is done by students, furnishing them something to help defray their school expenses.

Miss Mae Kenny to Attend Meet

Arrangements have been completed to send Miss Mae Kenny to the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions Convention which is to be held in Detroit from December 28 to January 1. Miss Kenny will likely leave here on Monday, December 26, for Cincinnati where she will take a special train for Detroit.

The program committee has seen to it that a varied and interesting program will be given. Among the many noted speakers that will be there is Francis Wei, a Cantonese by birth. Mr. Wei received much of his education at Harvard. Because he would not go with the communists in China he became the victim of deep laid plots. It was necessary for him to flee for his life and after many thrilling escapes he managed to get to London where he is preparing for future work.

Other men of note in the field of missionary work that will be present are John R. Mott, internationally known worker; Sherwood Eddy, formerly a missionary to India; Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University, Washington, D. C.; Richards Roberts, pastor of the United church, Toronto, Canada, and many others.

STUDENTS MUST HAVE GEOMETRY

None to be Admitted Without All Entrance Requirements, Dean Cooper Says

It was formerly the practice in some of the institutions of Kentucky in which were maintained both a college and a secondary school to admit to the college students who had only fourteen secondary school units and permit them to enroll in the secondary school for the additional unit required for entrance to the college. Such was the practice in Eastern until this year. This year Eastern admits conditionally on fourteen units (see catalog p. 68), but does not assign the student a full load and expects him to satisfy the additional unit by examination within the year.

Beginning September, 1928, no student will be admitted to the college who has not met every entrance requirement.

About two students per hundred offer to enter who have no credit in geometry, although a full unit of that subject is required. You can not satisfy this requirement in a few weeks only. If you do not have credit for geometry and expect to enter Eastern as a college student next year, you should begin now to get the geometry requirement out of your way. You may take it by correspondence if you like. If you want to take it with Eastern by correspondence, address Fallen Campbell, Acting Director, Richmond, Kentucky.

HOMER E. COOPER, Dean.

County Teachers Meet at Eastern

The first of a series of co-operative teachers' meetings of teachers in Madison county schools was held at the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College and Normal School December 10 with nearly two hundred persons in attendance.

Of the 110 teachers in the county schools 105 were in attendance and approximately 75 students from county schools were also present.

The assemblage was divided into three groups for different instruction and discussion. The high school principals and teachers composed one group which occupied itself with the

DAWN

The world is waiting for the dawn,
In dew pearled quietness it lies still
And waits, a breathless pause to fill.
A little breath of wind soft drawn
Moves gently out across the lawn,
Nodding and swaying to its will.
The flowers dance a merr yreel,
A bird somewhere bursts into song.
A chanticleer calls from afar
To tell that day will not be long
Making its adieu, the last star
Fades slowly, but is scarcely gone
When in the east appears a bar
Of glorious color—the dawn.

Eastern Graduate Tries New Methods

Mr. W. R. Sebastian, former student at Eastern and principal of Verona high school, Verona, Ky., which is an A grade school, is carrying out original and practical ideas in the management of his school. Mr. Sebastian is doing all in his power to see that both the building and playground have the most modern equipment. He is doing this work as economically as possible, in which he is aided by the hearty co-operation of his co-workers and students, who assist him in making many of the playground accessories.

To the study of plant and animal life special attention is given by the Verona principal and school. The success of this work is due to the ambition and interest of Mr. Sebastian, which he imparts to his pupils.

Recently Mr. Sebastian presented to the school six small cases of mounted moths and butterflies, representing the types common in Kentucky.

study of methods of teaching English. Mr. Keene of the English department of the college was in charge.

The elementary group had geography for its subject and Miss McKinney of Eastern was in charge. The lower grade teachers discussed primary work, paying especial attention to busy work and seat work for their charges.

The children met in the gym for a number of games with members of the physical education class of the college acting instructors. In the afternoon the teachers met in the gym for instruction in games.

The all-day meeting was in charge of Miss Lelia Jane Harris, county superintendent of schools, assisted by

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS PLAY

"Foiling The Flirtations of Father" Received with Acclaim by Student Body

LAUGHTER PREDOMINATES

The senior class play, "Foiling the Flirtation of Father," was presented last night in the gymnasium. This play was the first given on Eastern's campus this year and the Normal senior class play has set a mark for the other plays which come on the rest of the year.

It was a laugh from start to finish with seriousness at intervals. It showed work and preparation on the part of the characters.

The characters represented were: Prof. John Risdon, of Westport College, Mannin Holcomb; Elinor, his daughter, Elizabeth Gabbard; Beatrice, his other daughter, Nola Ball; Dick Cunard, his brother-in-law, Norman Burke; Emma Blanchard, his sister-in-law, Mattie Helton; William Morton, his boyhood friend, Cloyd Wilson; Harold (stuttering Sammie), Merton's son, John Bailey; Harry Chalmers, in love with Beatrice, Henry Hill; Jack Denton, in love with Elinor, Alvis Lamb; Franchon La Vonde, the widow, Margie Atkinson; and Aunt Lize, the autocrat of the Risdon household, Grace Combs.

The scene of the play was at the professor's home in Westport, a few miles from New York City. Dick wrote letters to Lanchon, whom he had never seen, in the professor's name. Dick's wife left a will of $200,000 to him provided he writes or in get connected with any woman of love for three years. It leaks out when the professor received a special delivery from Franchon and his daughters open it and think it is for their father. They prepare to throw him and her off the track separately. They throw the lady off to Harold, then find out the details of the story.

The professor received the $200,000, while Dick received only $10.

The play was directed by Mr. Pearson, class advisor of the senior class.

Miss Anna Schlieb of the education department at Eastern.

Following adjournment the teachers attended the final game in the Madison county high school basketball tournament.

STUDENT LOAN FUND

The Progress is glad to note—according to a recent news article in this paper—that Earle Combs, star Yankee baseball player, has said that his first exhibition game next fall will be played in the interest of the Student Loan Fund.

In these days of "get more and better education" many students undertake the task without sufficient funds to carry them over a set time. Or many seek some sort of employment that will allow them to go to school for a part of the time at least. In view of these facts many schools have set aside—thru various agencies—a Student Loan Fund for the purpose of helping such students as need and are worthy of help.

Eastern within the last few years, has attempted to establish a Loan Fund and to some degree has succeeded. Every student should feel it his or her personal responsibility to help add to the Loan Fund. Make it one that the school will be proud of, make it large enough to be of some use.

Earle Combs is setting a fine precedent. Not many years ago he was a student here and found it necessary to do many odd jobs to make enough money to keep himself in school. Thru having to work like that, he realizes the necessity of such a fund and because of that realization he will attempt to add to it thru an exhibition baseball game next fall.

ROARK SOCIETY

What's that I hear each Thursday night And where does everyone go on Thursday?

It's the same old cry. They are saying, "Let's go to the literary society." No one hardly ever moves until the name Roark is mentioned and then they all go.

That's why the Roark Literary Society is the largest, doing the most work and has the finest program of any literary society on Eastern's campus.

Since the last writeup in the Progress the society had a debate, Resolved, that Al Smith should be elected president of the United States in 1928, was discussed thoroughly on the affirmative by Cloyd Wilson and Henry Hill, on the negative by John Bailey and Arthur Cross. The debate ended with a heated discussion. After several minutes the judges rendered a decision, two to one, in favor of the negative side.

We devoted one entire meeting night to parliamentary drill, conducted by Delmar Dalton. This meeting was full of fun, while at the same time it furnished a night of information and parliamentary drill practice. Several college students and faculty members who were present stated that they had never seen a college student direct a parliamentary drill and keeping things as straight as Mr. Dalton, a valued member of Roark Society.

Not only are we having debating and parliamentary drill, but our programs have been full of music, jokes, current events and every thing that goes to make up a literary society.

Come out on our next meeting night and you will be convinced that it has no equal or a society superior to it on Eastern's campus.

A. B. Y. P. U. MESSAGE

As we approach the end of the year we turn and look back on the scene that is forever gone. It seems only yesterday, we think of the good times which we have had in attending and taking part in the B. Y. P. U. We think of the acquaintances we have been able to make and the service which we have rendered to someone on life's long highway.

But as we near Christmas and are thinking in the terms of exchanging gifts it is indeed a happy time when we give and receive what the Yuletide season brings.

I think we have rather lost the significance of Christmas in that it is being commercialized until it is losing its real meaning and purpose. Yes, it is a splendid custom to exchange gifts. But in my way of thinking the greatest gift of all gifts is that child who was born some two thousand years ago. This Gift became the Savior of the world and we should give our gifts only in His name. With this in mind I wish you a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

CHARLES ALFRED,
 President B. Y. P. U.

CHAPEL NOTES
 THURSDAY

Dr. Payne, of Transylvania College, gave to the chapel attenders of last Thursday a very enlightening and delightful half hour. His subject was "The Holy Grail of Chemistry." The quest of scientific truth was compared throughout to the famous poem. The entire talk was given in such a conversational and intimate way that the listeners felt as though they had conversed personally with Dr. Payne.

FRIDAY

A delightful musical program was given during chapel hour Friday morning by Dr. Sory and Mrs. Sory. Mrs. Sory sang in her usual charming manner and made many new friends who had not heard her before. We are indebted to the committee who were so fortunate in securing Dr. and Mrs. Sory and hope that they will favor us again with such a pleasant half hour.

TWO ROSES

In the heart of the garden of life, I know

Two roses 'er white as snow,
 Which forever gleam with beauty rare
 Into a soul with endless care.

As fair as lillies in morning dew
 They lie beneath two eyes of blue
 To bloom through all of life and time,
 Serene and dainty, true, sublime.

As snow-capped mountain peaks they stand

Like sentinels brave to give command.
 Thus heaven and earth together vie
 Their shining purity to sanctify.

And when the large form of Love
 Is hid by storms that rage above,
 These flowers boldly ride the sea
 To keep their love in his verity.

In lonely hours of stifling stress,
 Of woe that brings but bitterness,
 These roses blush and then I see
 The light of love and purity.

O, Love, O, Love, thy cheeks are they,
 The roses fair that bloom each day,
 And may their beauty never fade
 Till life's long journey has been made.

Miss Adelaide Benton spent a very pleasant week end with her parents at Irvine.

Miss Esta B. Gillem had as guest this week end Miss Lucile Huffman.

JOHNSON-LANGFORD

The following announcement will be of interest to many students:

Mr. P. B. Johnson and Miss Sadie Langford were quietly married Saturday evening, Dec. 3, by Rev. R. H. F. Anderson in the Christian church parsonage. Mr. Elmer Williams, of London, and Miss Elizabeth Sparks, friends of the bride, were present as witnesses. After the ceremony the wedding party had dinner at the Sunset Inn after which the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon trip.

Mr. Johnson is the only son of Mr. J. E. Johnson and lives on Estill street in Berea, while Mrs. Johnson is the charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Langford, of Mt. Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson plan to make their home in Berea.

Student's Version

of the 23rd Psalm

Mr. Cox is my chemistry teacher. I fear I shall not pass. He leadeth me to express my ignorance before the class for the grade's sake.

Yea, though I study day and night, I shall learn no chemistry. 'E'en though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I shall get no comfort from my chemistry grade. Thy outline equation they troubleth me.

Thou preparest examinations for me, which thou knoweth I cannot pass; thou presenteth my grade unto the Dean, my reputation is darkened.

Surley "F's" and "D's" shall follow me all the days of my life and I shall pursue the course of chemistry forever.

EASTERN NET PRACTICE ON

Masculine and Feminine Fives to Meet Sue Bennett Soon

FIVE OLD MEN BACK

With the Madison county high school basketball tournament out of the way the net quintets of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College and Normal School are getting to work seriously for the first game of the year, a double header, to be played with Sue Bennett Memorial College at London Saturday or Monday night.

Both the boys' and girls' squads have had approximately 40 aspirants out for practice, but Coach G. N. Hembree has announced that the squads will be cut to 15 each by the end of the week.

While the schedule arranged for Eastern is not so attractive as Coach Hembree would like it to be, it will provide games with nearly all of the teams in Kentucky with the exception of the University of Kentucky.

Centro, Georgetown, Kentucky Wesleyan, Transylvania and Western Normal will appear on the net card, the last three for double headers. Georgetown was scheduled for two double header contests, but the Scott county school has announced that it will discontinue its feminine quintet.

Coach Hembree, who is handling both squads, has six letter men from last year for his boys' five but not a one of last year's Maroonette team returned to school, although several of the freshman girls appear to be good material for a first class aggregation.

The letter men who returned this year are Clouse, Gentry, Combs, Clifton, Douds and Hargrove.

CHAPEL ATTENDANCE

Some few weeks ago President T. J. Coates asked the Open Forum to devise some means of checking chapel attendance in an attempt to gather some facts that might be used in coming to some conclusion about our chapel exercises.

Many interesting things are to be noted from the figures compiled. Out of a possible 100 per cent attendance 85 per cent attended at some time during the four weeks the checking was carried on. The average daily attendance for the four weeks checked was 253 out of 553 or 47 per cent of the entire student body. Fifteen per cent of the student body didn't attend at any time. Twenty students, or less than three per cent of the entire student body, attended fifteen times, the number of times checked.

Thursday had the smallest average attendance with the other three days averaging about the same or about fifty more than Thursday.

Aim for a goal you have some chance of realizing.
