He has been principal of public schools in North Carolina for seven years, was professor of education and psychology on the summer faculty of East Carolina Teachers College in 1926, and served for two years as assistant in the Department of Education of Duke University. He has been associate professor of education at Eastern since 1927.

The acting dean holds memberships in many professional organizations and associations. He is a Horace Mann life member of the National Education Association and a member of the Department of Rural Education of the same organization. Dr. Ferrell is a veteran of World War I with a year's service in France with the 81st or famous "Wildcat" Infantry Division. He was in the Meuse-Argonne offensive of 1918, and after the Armistice served in the Army of Occupation in Germany for several months.

Since coming to Eastern in 1927 Dr. Ferrell has engaged in many activities on the campus. He organized and sponsored the Coates' Rural Life Club for many years and organized and directed the conference on rural education until it was temporarily discontinued in 1942 on account of the war. During the school year, 1943-44, Dr. Ferrell directed the Harlan County Educational Workshop and for the past two summers has been director of the Bell County Workshops.

Party Given For Burnam Residents

A hot chocolate party was given for the residents of Burnam Hall in the Burnam recreation room from nine until ten o'clock Sunday night. A musical program was arranged by Evelyn Tritsch, social chairman of the House Council, which sponsored the party.

Those on the program were: Marie Wiley, Carolyn Perkins, Dorothy Curtis, Jean Harrison, Jean Brooks, Betty Ferraut, Madelyn Wheatly, Carolyn Sanders, and the octet.

Dean Elect Will Speak At Faculty Dinner

Dr. W. J. Moore, dean elect of Eastern, will be the principal speaker at the faculty dinner on Tuesday evening, January 16. The dinner is being held on Tuesday instead of Wednesday as it was originally scheduled in order to avoid conflict with the basketball games.

Home Management House Relocated

The home management house of the Home Economics Department is now being housed in the residence next to Sullivan Hall. It was formerly located on South Second Street.

This house, which was recently occupied by Dr. W. C. Jones and his family, has many advantages over the old house. It is equipped with the heat, water and light systems that supply the other campus buildings. It is adjacent to the Arts Building in which the Home Economics Department is housed.

Much new equipment has been bought for the house. New curtains, rugs, living room furniture, and kitchen cabinets are being supplied.

MAROONS AND MURRAY MEET IN TOUGH TEST

Georgetown, Godman, and Arkansas Fall Victims to Eastern in Week's Contest

The swashbuckling, Eastern Maroon basketball team with nine smashing victories notched on their record against no defeats went through their final workout today before they square off against the highly formidable Thoroughbreds of Murray State Saturday night on the shining hardwood of Weaver Health Building. The tipoff is slated for seven-thirty sharp, and a full house is expected to be on hand for what should be the most thrill-fraught cage encounter seen here this season.

Coach Rome Rankin reports that his entire squad is in fine fettle for the Murray fray. The fiery mentor put the local boys through exceptionally strenuous drills the last two days, and from all indications the Maroons should be at the peak of their efficiency tomorrow night.

Since returning from the Christmas holidays the Eastern quintet has added three victories to their perfect record. Last Friday the Maroons were hosts to the fliers of Godman field, but were ungracious enough to send their guests home with a 51 to 37 licking. Captain Fred Lewis did more than his share in contributing 25 points to the team total. The Fliers played Eastern to a 19-all tie in the first half, but the Maroons came back in the last period to pile up a substantial lead. After the start of the second half the outcome was not in doubt.

Georgetown invaded Richmond on Monday night, and Rankin's men had little difficulty in pushing them over, 61 to 29. It was Eastern's game from start to finish, but the Georgetown crew had enough spirit to make the game more interesting than the score would indicate. Once again the remarkable Mr. Lewis was in the scoring van. This time his total was a semi-astronomical figure of thirty points.

On Tuesday night a far-ranging group from Arkansas State College in Jonesboro challenged the blood-thirsty Eastern Kentuckians, and in doing so subjected themselves to a humiliating 87 to 17 defeat. The score could easily have soared to the hundred mark, but the Eastern regulars were in the game only about twelve minutes. The Arkansas quintet simply did not have what it took to withstand the basket onslaught of the Kentucky boys. The whole Eastern team saw action in this one, and except for Fred Lewis' (that man again) 27 points, the scoring was pretty well scattered.

It may be observed that these three games served only as good workouts for the Rankinmen. Tomorrow night's battle will prove a real test of just how good these unbeaten Maroons are. Most commentators, including Coach Rankin believe this to be the finest material that Eastern has had in many years. The team has height, weight, speed, and perhaps most important of all every man on the squad has a good eye for the basket. Each man, down to the lowest sub can score with a high degree of efficiency. The scoring ace of the team, Fred Lewis, if he continues his blistering pace, is slated to take his place as one of the nations high scorers. As a matter of fact he even now ranks as perhaps the fourth high man in the nation. The team, in a rating published during Christmas, ranked as the ninth team of the South, but since then the Maroon record has been impressive and the team has probably risen to a higher standing.

By now you get the general idea. We believe that Eastern is on the road "to big things in basketball this year. Tomorrow night's test with Murray will do a lot to make or break us. Be on hand for the affair and show the boys you are behind them all the way.

EASTERN HAS NEW TERM IN FEBRUARY

The college is also offering a special workshop for holders of emergency permits. This workshop will be on the campus under the direction of Miss Mae Hansen and Miss Katherine Evans, members of the college faculty.

PROGRESS HAS WORLD WIDE CIRCULATION

The Eastern Progress cannot boast of a large on-campus circulation, but it can claim a circulation of about one thousand to Eastern men and women in service. Never before in the history of The Progress has it been sent out to so many corners of the earth.

It is really an opportunity to work with a publication which is received by men and women in every branch of the service. The Progress has been received by at least one person at every point on the globe where American men are fighting. Chaplains, assistant chaplains, men of the medical corps and the dental corps get The Progress, in addition to fighting men all over the world. Men of all ranks, from Privates to Colonels and Apprentice Seamen to Lt. Commanders, read The Progress. It has been read in foxholes on Leyte, in Belgium, and France.

The Progress is one of the few publications that can boast such a circulation.

By NORDEAN BURESS

The "Y" organization welcomes all new students and hopes that you will join its circle. To the returning students we hope that the "Y" has been and will be of service to you during the coming year. We hope that each of you will find your place in the "Y." It has a place for each of you.

The "Y's" main link is spiritual growth. Since this is the beginning of a new year, everyone of us should determine in our hearts and minds that we are going to extend our growth spiritually, as well as mentally, socially, and physically. In order to have a lasting peace, the world must develop spiritually. We must be enthusiastic about religion. Christianity isn't a drab, dull, or frowning thing. It's alive and interesting. Christianity offers to all peace, stability, friendship, happiness, and love.

Spiritual growth cannot and is not a "Sunday religion." It is daily Christian living and learning and learning for Christ.

KAT KOLUMN

Another day, another dollar—another day, four more classes finished by driving madly through the blizzards, winds, sunshine and rain, or what have you!

Several faces are missing on the campus these days. Seems everyone is practice teaching. What a blessing it is to us non-professionals to know we won't have to leave this beautiful campus for a quarter. Ain't that wonderful?

Ball games, movies, parties, and pep rallies. Seems the morale builder-uppers are on the beam this year. They want to be sure that if we have any spare time at all that we'll be able to enjoy it.

One of the biggest subjects of conversation these days is what who said at which faculty meeting about the library. Someone must have thought Crabbe was being neglected. This, however, is in the past. Her lengthy, dim corridors now hear the rhythmic tapping of tiny (?) feet at all hours. Someone surely is starting the New Year right.

One would think there is a matrimonial bureau on the rolling lawns and grasses—Why? Well, haven't you heard of the marriages and engagements that were announced over the holidays?

The House Council surely came out with an all right party in the Rec Room of Burnam Sunday night. Hot chocolate and pretzels were on the menu. At intervals we were highly entertained by some of the outstanding musical talent. Say, y'all these gals were really on the beam.

Jeepers—Whata ball team we have!! What with 60 point averages and stuff, it really is sum-pin! Something new has been added. Now they play basketball on the knees rather than in an upright position.

AND—these Northern Kentuckians have a brogue all their own, but, of course, the mountaineers do too. The team knows what we mean whether we yell "fite! team! fite!" or "feat! team! feat!" (If we yell.) But we like these Northern Kentuckians, anyway. (It says here.)

The frosh seem to have a sore spot when upperclassmen are mentioned. We're honestly sorry, but you should try to meet us half way. You know, maybe some have this opinion—

Pome
I wish I was a wittle egg
Away up in a twee;
I wish I was a wittle egg
As wotten as could be;
And when some upperclassmen
Would stop and yell at me,
I'd thoww my wotten wittle self
And spatter down on he.
Who's the local swoon-groomer this week? Why don't we find

We have another blonde who hails from Ashland, Kentucky, who has hazel eyes and is five feet five inches tall. She is Mary Lou Snyder.

Mary Lou, who is a Commerce major, is a good dancer and is fond of swimming and tennis. Her bright smile and pleasant manner has made her many friends and not the least of whom are men.

Mary Lou, who will do her practice teaching next quarter, has been in many organizations and clubs in the past years. Some of them are: The WHRO, the Sigma Tau Pi and the World Affairs Club. She, too, plans to teach after completion of college. We wish her the best and success wherever she goes.

ACTING DEAN

Ferrell has made trips to the Haltley school system in Alabama, to the Carroll county system in Georgia, and to the Vine Grove community school in Harlan county, Kentucky. He has also participated in three work conferences having to do with the study. He is chairman of the standing committee on rural education at Eastern.

Dr. Ferrell is a member and treasurer of the local First Presbyterian church, is married, and has one son, Lt. D. T. Ferrell, Jr., an Eastern graduate in the class of 1943, now stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

The acting dean is the author of several magazine articles and educational bulletins. The subject of his dissertation, published by Peabody College in 1936 is "The Relation Between Current Expenditures and Educational Efficiency in County and Graded-School Systems in Kentucky."

Commissioned
