Maroons Conquer Murray, Morehead and Milligan

Take KIAC Lead With Twelve Wins

Eastern's mighty Maroons, undefeated in twelve consecutive basketball games, grabbed undisputed possession of the K.I.A.C. conference top spot last week when they knocked off two powerful foes, Murray and Morehead, they also added to their already glowing record by rolling over the Sailors of Milligan college.

The Easterners had little trouble in disposing of the Murray State Thoroughbreds. The tally was 62 to 43, and Eastern was never behind. Fred Lewis, point producer extraordinaire, led the scoring parade with 24 marks. Murray put up a spirited scrap and at one time in the last half pulled to within five points of the Eastern quint, but Coach Rome Rankin's boys simply had too much on the ball for they pulled away rapidly in the late stages of the game.

Only five Maroons saw action in the Murray fray. Lewis and Dick Moberley were at the forwards, Bill Miller was center, and Cecil Shryock and Ray Smith performed at guard. Carrot-topped Johnny Reagan was the big gun in Murray's attack, racking up 15 points, but his efforts were in vain for the rest of the Thoroughbreds were kept well in hand.

Moorehead came to Richmond with a perfect conference record, but that did not worry the local lads in the least for they plastered the Eagles with a 48 to 30 defeat. Fred Lewis and Bill Miller paced the Maroons with 26 points and 14 points respectively. Highly touted Warren Cooper of Moorehead was blanketed by Dick Moberley, and only managed nine points.

The Eagles put up the most stubborn defense encountered by Eastern this year, holding the Maroons to 48 points, their lowest total of the season.

Moorehead came prepared to stop Fred Lewis' sensational set shots, and they succeeded very well, but the indomitable Mr. Lewis crossed them up by breaking in for shots close to the basket. Fourteen of Lewis' points came via the foul throw route.

For the second time the Eastern starters went the full distance. The floor play of Eastern's scab-back guards, Smith and Shryock, was outstanding.

Milligan gave Eastern a battle royal when the two teams collided in Johnson City before Christmas, but this time a greatly improved Maroon team had things quite its own way. The score was 68 to 44, and Eastern was never pressed. Rankin's reserves took over for most of the last half.

Seven minutes had ticked by and the score was 15 to 0 before the Sailors connected with the basket. That's how easy it was. Lewis added 34 points to his amazing total of 231. That gives him 264 points, over 22 per game. The whole Eastern squad saw action in this one. It was the twelfth consecutive win for the local boys.

Exhibition of Art Now At Eastern

An exhibition of oil and pastel paintings by Alberta Eno of New York City is now being shown in the art gallery in the Arts Building according to Dr. Fred P. Giles, head of the Arts Department at Eastern.

The exhibition is another one of the shows sent out through the United States by the Studio Guild of New York City.

Miss Eno has shown her work in many of the well-known galleries of the country. Her portrayal of flowers in the Medium of Pastel is exceptional according to her critics.

The gallery will be open from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. daily, and all interested persons are cordially invited to view the exhibit.

Next month a very interesting exhibit of oil paintings by Celine Backland, widow of the late Leo H. Backland, noted scientist, inventor of Bakelite, will be shown in the Art Gallery at Eastern. Further detailed notice about this show will appear later according to Dr. Giles.

Kyma Club To Give Dance in February

To top the last engagement for the Eastern Maroons on February 17th, the Kyma Club will feature a sweater swing in the Recreation room of the Student Building.

The dance will immediately follow the game, lasting until twelve o'clock.

The sailors from Berea, as well as the Western and Eastern teams will be our guests. Also the men students on the campus are invited.

This is strictly a college dance, no high school students will be admitted.

HERBERT L. SEARCY, junior, of Carrollton, has been named editor of the 1945 edition of the school's Belles Lettres

Milestone to be Published

Picklesimer Edits 1945 Year Book

Betty Jo Picklesimer, senior commerce major from Whitesburg, Ky., was elected editor of the 1945 Milestone at a meeting of the senior class in the Little Theater on Monday, January 22. The other members of the staff will be selected by a committee composed of the editor, the president of the senior class, the president of the college, and the sponsor of the Milestone.

It was voted almost unanimously by the student body that Eastern should have an annual this year. Last year no Milestone was published, but the Photo Club's "Life at Eastern" was published for the seniors.

Work on the annual will begin immediately, as the book must be ready for the publishers by the end of the winter quarter. All those who are selected as members of the staff should begin work immediately. Photographs for the Milestone will be made by Stanifer's Studio, located on Main Street. Each person should have his picture made at the time appointed for him.

The Photo Club will have charge of the snapshot section. Every student, faculty member, and member of the administrative staff should be represented in the Milestone. Each club usually takes one page of the book. Other special features include athletics, snap sections, and dedication of the annual.

Meetings of the senior class will be for the purpose of making immediate plans for the Milestone. All members should try to attend all of them.

Dawson Is Teaching In Commerce Dept.

C. C. Dawson, who hails from Berea, is now teaching in the Commerce Department. He is not a newcomer to our campus, however; in the summer of 1942 he taught various and sundry commercial courses with accounting the most predominant.

He was a student at State Normal School and Bowling Green Business University, Bowling Green, Kentucky, for three years; received a B.S. in Economics at the University of Kentucky, a M. S. in Economics at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. He has done graduate work at New York University, Ohio State University, and University of Kentucky. He is now working for his Doctor of Economics degree at University of Kentucky.

Mr. Dawson has taught in several secondary schools, being athletic coach at some. He taught Vocational Rehabilitation to ex-service men at Western Kentucky Teachers College and in the College of Commerce, Bowling Green Business University in the summer of 1932.

He came to Berea College in the fall of 1932 where he was made Chairman of the Department of Business in the Academy until 1939, when this department was united with the Department of Economics. He then became Vice-Chairman of Economics and Business.

Mr. Dawson was a member of the Congress Debating Club at Western and Delta Pi Epsilon at New York University.

Westminster Group Leads In Forum

The Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church will conclude its forum on "Courtship and Marriage" with the topic "Divorce," Sunday, January 28. Rev. and Mrs. Olof Anderson will put forth their views on the subject. The forum, which has been presented each Sunday night starting with January 7, has included the following subjects and leaders: "Courtship," which was given by Rev. and Mrs. Rob McNeil of Lexington; "Marriage" by Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Weeks of Berea; and "What of Children" by Mr. and Mrs. Weise of Richmond.

The Westminster Fellowship is an organization consisting largely of college students which is held each Sunday night in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church at six o'clock. Supper is served. After the meal the college group remains at the table, and the program for the evening is carried on in an informal manner with Rev. Anderson, pastor of the church, presiding.

BALZEK HEARD AT ASSEMBLY

College Units of Red Cross Gets Charter

James W. Balzek, American Red Cross field representative who has recently been field director in the South Pacific spoke at Eastern's assembly last Wednesday morning in observance of the granting of a charter to the college unit of the Red Cross. The charter was given to Miss Madeline Corman, Covington senior, chairman of the Eastern group, by H. L. Duncan, on behalf of the Madison County Chapter.

Mr. Balzek told of the many activities of the Red Cross and stated that the need was great for continued support, for donations of blood plasma, bandages, and nurses. Each week 12,000 wounded men returned to the United States, not counting the German counterdrive or the invasion of the Philippines, he related, and sufficient nurses are not available to care for them. Fifty-four military units left the country recently without nurses, he said.

Mr. Duncan spoke briefly of the work done by the Red Cross and expressed appreciation for the enthusiasm of the college women in organizing the first unit of its kind in the state. Other Richmond citizens representing the Madison County Chapter of the American Red Cross were Mrs. Clark Ortenburger, C. F. Higgins, Ernest Boardman, and Dr. Charles J. Grubin, county health officer.

Faculty sponsors of the college unit are Mrs. Emma Y. Case, dean of women, Charles T. Hughes, director of athletics, and Mrs. Lucille Whitehead, assistant librarian.

The girls' octet composed of Miss Mary K. Jasper, Miss Mary Jo Curtis, Miss Virginia Van Hook, Miss Dorothy Curtis, Miss Betty Jo Barnett, Somerset; Miss Marie Wiley, Hazard; Miss Katherine Siphers, Benham; and Miss Jean Brooks, Corbin, sang preceding the program.

The devotional was given by Miss Nina Mayfield, Shelbyville senior. President W. F. O'Donnell presided.

"Together Again" At Eastern Auditorium

With a brilliant cast of distinguished stars headed by Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer, "Together Again," romantic comedy, will play two days at Eastern Auditorium beginning tonight.

Considered one of the best, if not the best, sophisticated comedies of the year the screen play crackles with new twists and bright dialogue. Nowhere is there a static moment. The film's electric pace is accelerated by its theme song, "Adios Muchachos," famous Argentine tango by Cesar Vedani. "Exciting as a stolen kiss," is Walter Winchell's comment on it.

Besides Dunne and Boyer, who established their romantic teamwork in "Love Affair" and "When Tomorrow Comes," the cast includes Charles Coburn, Charles Dingle, and two newcomers—Mona Freeman and Jerome Courtland. The story involves a small-town, career-busy New England widow who becomes a "stop-and-go" glamour girl by acquiring a new outlook on life along with some new millinery and other accessories.

On the same program are "Heavenly Music," a featurette, "Stork's Holiday," a color cartoon, and a newsreel.

MOORE SPEAKS TO FACULTY

"Some Lessons From Eastern is Topic of Dean Elect

Dr. W. J. Moore, dean elect at Eastern, spoke to members of the faculty at the regular monthly meeting held in the Blue Room of the college cafeteria on Wednesday night, January 17. The subject of his talk was "Some Lessons From Eastern."

Dr. Moore spoke from the point of view of an alumnus of Eastern and a citizen of Kentucky, in reviewing some of the history of the institution he spoke of and commemorated Dr. Nevil Roark, Dr. John Grant Crabbe, Dr. J. J. Coates, former presidents of Eastern; and Mrs. Deane, who taught English here until her death. He upheld and quoted from their policies of education.

He expressed the desire of making Eastern a better college and through it to improve education throughout the state. He emphasized sixteen points that should be carried out. (1) Eastern must put forth a strenuous campaign to increase its student body. (2) We should immediately have a comprehensive program covering the G.I. Bill of Rights. (3) Eastern's administrative set-up should be examined with a view of streamlining it and making it more responsible and functional.

(4) The curriculum of the institution needs to be given thorough and careful attention. (5) Members of the staff must interest themselves in the problems of state government, especially the problems of administering the state educational program. (6) Careful attention should be given to the scientific scheduling of courses with a view of releasing man-power which can be used more advantageously elsewhere. (7) Eastern must be on the lookout for the development of new projects which will bring honor to her and advantage to education. (8) Eastern should not hesitate to ask the state for larger support. Teachers' salaries should be increased through the years. More money will be needed for buildings.

(9) The in-service education program must be given more attention. Members of the faculty must enroll at other schools such as the University of Kentucky, Peabody College, the University of Chicago, Columbia, Harvard, and foreign institutions to get the best that those institutions have and bring it to this campus and share it with the students. (10) A program for limited graduate instruction should be pushed. (11) Every teacher should become thoroughly familiar with the problems of the public schools.

(12) Through the cooperation of Richmond churches some program should be offered that will give the student training in religious activities. After they have finished college they will be called upon to become leaders in the churches. (13) Eastern should anticipate the possibility of laxness and instability in the post-war period and have a program to offset these tendencies.

(14) Eastern must give more attention to research and publication. (15) Eastern must have the closest cooperation and perfect team-work of all its staff members, both administrative and teaching.

"The Steadfast Tin Soldier" Chosen As L. T. C. Production

Will Be Given February 16

NINA MAYFIELD, senior, of Taylorsville, has been chosen associate editor of the 1945 Belles Lettres

Staff Starts on Belles Lettres

Canterbury Club Announces Eleventh Annual Publication

The Canterbury Club announces that the annual publication of Belles Lettres is in progress. Belles Lettres is an anthology of student creative writing published annually by the Canterbury Club of the English Department, under the sponsorship of Dr. Roy B. Clark. This is the eleventh annual edition.

Poetry, short stories, essays, sketches, and other forms of chirography or word art are wanted for the volume. Students interested in contributing to the 1945 edition should begin preparation of their manuscripts immediately, as to give plenty of time for revision and publication. The deadline on acceptance is early spring; the exact date will be set later. Material should be submitted to any member of Belles Lettres staff, or any member of the Canterbury Club, or to Dr. Clark.

Herbert Searcy, a junior from Carrollton, was chosen editor-in-chief of Belles Lettres at the last meeting of the club last spring. Herbert is also president of the campus Y.M.C.A. and secretary of the Little Theater Club. This year he was chosen as a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

At the meeting of the Canterbury Club on January 10, Nina Mayfield, senior from Taylorsville, was elected associate editor, and Ann Miller, senior from Waco, was chosen business manager.

The associate editor last year received the Kappa Delta Pi award for the sophomore ranking highest in scholarship. She is business manager of The Progress, president of Canterbury Club, member of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

The business manager last year received the music scholarship offered to the student who had made the most progress in piano.

Methodist Students Organize

A new organization known as the Methodist Student Youth Fellowship of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, has recently been formed by college students here on the campus.

At the meeting held for organization in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building on Monday evening, January 15, from 5:30 to 7:00 Tina Tyler was named president and Betty Haddix was chosen secretary-treasurer. Herbert Searcy, Ralph Haddix, Aldene Porter, and Betty Haddix were appointed by the presiding officer, Tina Tyler, to draw up a constitution for the organization.

Regular dinner meetings will be held between 5:30 and 7:00 on the third Monday of each month that college is in session.

The membership shall be open to all students who profess interest in the purposes and activities of this Methodist organization as set forth in the constitution and the policies.

The main purpose of the organization is to promote greater fellowship among students and to create a greater interest in Christian work.

Mrs. Stephens is the church counselor and Dr. H. H. La Fuse is faculty sponsor.

The Little Theater Club of Eastern has chosen for its first major production Hans Christian Anderson's story of "The Steadfast Tin Soldier," as dramatized by Dorothy Halloway. The play will be presented February 16, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. Tryouts were held last week, and rehearsals are now in progress.

The cast is as follows: Lysa, the dancing doll, Phyllis Hemer; Popeye, a teddy bear, Betty Jo Barnett; Pidgeontoes, the other bear, Betty Still; Peter, a little boy, Dorothy Carrell; Raggedy Ann, a rag doll, Edith Gwärtney; Nellie, Peter's nurse, Patsy Newell; Mrs. Peters, Peter's mother, Martha Parsons; Garve, the terrible gollowog, Betty Perraut; Montey Mae, the Steadfast Tin Soldier, J. C. Thompson; Sergeant, a ferret, Herbert Searcy; and Soldiers, members of the R. O. T. C. class.

The play is being directed by Miss Frances McPherson. The following committees have been appointed: properties, Henrietta Miller; costumes, Glenna Frisby, Dorothy Hancock, and Carolyn Saunders; publicity, Alberta Long, Nordean Burress; stage set, Charles Boggs, Charles Spicer; prompter, Elizabeth Plessinger.

The play is a fantasy, and it tries to explain the age-old debatable question, "Do toys really come to life when adults are not around?"

The American Association of University Women is sponsoring the production. Their members are handling the ticket sales.

Immediate Objective Of Red Cross Unit

Our campus has recently been blessed by the formation of a unit of the Red Cross, which organization's best boast is that it is the first college organization of its kind in Kentucky, of which we can all be duly proud. Headed by Madeline Corman, as chairman, and Emily Mayfield, acting as vice-chairman, our unit is progressive and alert, contributing much to the glory of the Red Cross in the eyes of those of us on the campus who have become aware of its activities, which are wide and varied enough to have attracted the attention of people off, as well as on the campus.

For example, the chief venture of our campus unit at the moment is the waste-paper drive, to which everyone, who ever tossed aside a used sheet of notebook paper or an old newspaper or a gift wrapping, can contribute in a manner which requires little in the way of effort of the contributor. If ever in doubt as to the importance of your bit, see the newspapers and listen to the pleas of the boys overseas, for whom vital supplies have been held up at the shipment docks for lack of paper in which to pack the supplies. So, how about it? If you've just a little bit, give it! And if you seem to have more than you can handle, see Lucille Brandenburg, volunteer service chairman, and she will come to your aid. It's for the boys!

Also for the meetings of the campus unit, which have been set for the last Monday in every month in the Little Theater. And it doesn't matter if you're a member or not—if you're interested, come anyway. You'll be more than welcome.

Other plans of the unit include

EXCELSIOR

Eastern is our school. All of us love it. We know that it is a good college, but we want to make it even better. Already Eastern is rather well-known in other states of the nation, but our ambition demands that it grow to be one of the outstanding colleges of the nation.

We do not hide the fact that we are at low tide in enrollment; that the war has affected us greatly. But the war has not touched that thing which is commonly known as school spirit. There are a number of reasons that make us exceedingly proud that we are students of Eastern. We have a good faculty. Certainly the students know that. Our campus is beautiful; the buildings are among the very best. Those who have attended Eastern have made records that reflect its greatness.

People have to have confidence in themselves. A college has to feel that it ranks high in at least one field. Eastern ranks high in more than one field, but not much publicity is given to it. This year Eastern is outstanding in athletics. Eastern has won 12 games and lost one. We are proud of them and proud of Eastern. They have given us an even stronger school spirit, a greater school pride. These things are publicized, though perhaps not as much as they should be. Eastern is coming swiftly back to the place it held in the sports world in pre-war days. The thing that Coach Rankin, the team, and the entire school is striving for is an even greater name in sports than ever before.

Yes, we want to be recognized in sports; we want to stand high in sportsmanship; we want to maintain the high standards that have been set up in scholarship; we want our campus to keep all the beauty that it has and add more beauty, we want the publications of the college to be the best that the college can put out. But above all we want all Easterners to be conscious of the goal that they must reach for the college.

At the Morehead-Eastern game we saw a packed gymnasium. We saw students, faculty members, administrative staff, ministers, lawyers, doctors, and members of every profession in the city. They came to see a good game, and they saw it. The crowd at the game was larger than that at the Murray-Eastern game and very much larger than that at the first game of the season. People know that Eastern has a good team, and they come to see it play. Best of all we were glad to see the largest portion of the faculty there. Perhaps they do not realize how much the students appreciate their presence at the games. They are a part in the school spirit. By their attendance they show that they too are for Eastern in every activity it undertakes.

The members of the staff of the Eastern Progress have recognized the problems that face us in making of our college an even better one than it is. We have set up as our foremost aims—that we shall make each issue of the Progress better than the last; that we shall publish a paper that our present students can be proud of, one that carries their opinions, one that typifies their spirit; that we shall send out a paper that our former students can be proud of, one that will cause them to join in the pursuit of a greater Eastern. We also resolve to promote other forms of publicity for the college.

We challenge every student, every faculty member, every member of the administrative staff, every organization on the campus to strive toward a greater Eastern. Every citizen of Richmond, realizing the possibilities of the college, should give it his support. With the strength of these Eastern cannot fail.

WAR !!!

It is generally agreed that World War II started in Spain, in 1936. The battles there served as a proving-ground for the forces of the Axis. Thus, Spain was actually the first conquest or the German army and is today a German colony.

Spain has sent her mother country many tons of wolfram, coal, iron, copper and mercury. These are all materials, without which a country at war could not hope to survive. She has also sent men, who are fighting today against our army. It can readily be seen that Spain has given Germany something other than moral support. She has professed nonbelligerency and been belligerent.

Spain is not our only worry, however. There is a country in the Western Hemisphere that has, by its actions, taken the side of the Axis. That country is Argentina. Why, Argentina, in the midst of enemies of the Axis, should take side with it is not known. It is possible that the Axis seemed to have more to offer to a country that would "play ball." It is more probable, however, that Argentina has joined hands with a cut-throat nation because she, herself, is a cut-throat nation.

Argentina started out with a bang and has burned down to a fizzle. She showed more promise than any other American nation, at first. But she didn't turn out that way, and she lost some of her land. This land is today Paraguay, Uruguay, Bolivia, and southernmost Brazil. She would like to have these lost provinces back. The best way she sees to take them back is by the use of her growing armies.

There is a mistaken conception that her army consists of a bunch of gauchos armed with bolos and pocketknives. That is wrong. Argentina's army is very modern; it is modeled after the German army, which is by no means obsolete. If you wonder where Argentina procured the equipment for her army, the answer is easy: she manufactured it. The next question, "Who owns the factories that make it?" Answer, "German capitalists, I. G. Farben, for example. Argentina has been importing men and machines for the past few years; now she is almost ready for a war: World War III.

Unless we can make Argentina see the light, we may well have a new war on our hands, at a time when we are just recovering, or before we have recovered, from the present war.

We must not underestimate Argentina! She could be powerful, as one other nation was, and still is, powerful; that Nation is Japan. We probably know more about Argentina than we did about Japan, but it is possible, and not at all improbable, that her power surpasses our most pessimistic guesses. She might have a huge army hidden in the Andes ready to attack Chile at a moment's notice. It would surprise most people, if she didn't. There is always some kind of battle going on there, but there is no full-fledged war there, to my knowledge.

When Germany is defeated, Argentina might give up. However, we cannot satisfy ourselves with possibilities, we must make certain that she will. This should be accomplished by diplomacy. We must show her that it would be to her advantage to be cooperative with us, and if possible, change her form of government from a dictatorship to a democracy.

Two world wars are enough. We must not have another! Joe Todd.

ANOTHER MILESTONE!

The future grandmothers and grandfathers from Eastern will be joyful over the news that there is to be a Milestone this year. As they bounce their grandchildren on their knees they can endeavor to show them, by means of the Milestone, what college was like at Eastern way back in 1945. We spinsters can always peer at it and dream.

The Milestone is the name given to the Eastern yearbook. It contains pictures and data about students, the faculty, and college activities.

Last year when the A.S.T.P. and W.A.C. were stationed on the campus, it was planned to have the Army and Eastern sponsor the annual jointly. But due to the constant turnover of Army personnel, this plan was abandoned and there was no publication of any kind.

The Photo Club prepared a booklet of snapshots to redeem the absence of the Milestone.

Although this year may not be as full of excitement and fun as those of the past, it is, nevertheless, worth remembering and it seems that an annual should be an important part of our college life.

The students themselves proved this by voting almost unanimously "Yes" to the question of whether or not Eastern should have an annual this year. Voters cast their ballots in a special box in the Student Union Building on Friday, January 19.—Betty Still.

KAT KOLUMN

Once Upon a Time

A long, long, time ago, Joe College went to his daily classes and wrote letters on the back row 'cause there were so many in the class the instructor hardly knew his face, let alone his name. Also, when classes were over, Joe College came to the Grille—when he couldn't find a seat he walked nonchalantly to the counter in the Bookstore and said, "Gimme a carton of Luckies, Camels, Old Golds, (whichever was his favorite brand)." And, and what is more important, he got them. Hey, wait a minute—don't shoot yet, I said, "A long, long, time ago." So it is a fairy tale—well, I can dream, can't I? You can't lose anything by dreaming—or can you?

Also when Joe College entered the all wonderful SUB, he was minus his best Dobbs, his freshman beanie, or what had he, and that is more than the 1945 edition of Joe College does.

Yes

Of course I'll wait, It won't be long— Perhaps a year or two. Our love is sweet And much too strong To vanish with the dew.

I'll wait for you To say I'm still the same. I'll write real soon— Where is your camp, And dear, what is your name?

Jam Session

The jar on the shelf Was full of jam It isn't now— But I am.

The jar looked happy; I never knew That it felt queer— But I do!

And don't we all after a midnight snack in the dorm?

KYMA, TAKE A BOW

Actually Kyma means Kentucky (Ky) Maroons (ma), but to most of us it means an extra peppy organization that's behind the team one hundred per cent all of the time. Leading the organization in its yells are six pretty girls with lots of energy. Ruby Owen, the leader of the sixsome, and her twin, Robbie, of Leitchfield, Ky., make up one-third of the whole. Eileen Rensing Lewis, wife of Eastern's famed Fred Lewis and a native of Brooklyn, New York; Katherine Mullins, Mt. Vernon, Ky.; Phyllis Hemer, Covington; and Juanita Shepherd, Winchester, compose the other two-thirds of the super Maroon cheer-leading squad.

Active Program

After a year of dormancy, Kyma is carrying on a full-time program. A pep rally has preceded each game, and the organization is in charge of concessions at the games.

The big event of the campus social calendar for the quarter is the dance scheduled to follow the Eastern-Western contest on February 17. Kyma is sponsoring the party for the members of both teams, the Navy V-12 unit of Berea, and the college students.

Kyma's Sponsor

Not all sponsors receive all the laurels they should for the work they do, and all of Kyma agrees that Miss Allie Fowler, their sponsor, deserves a dozen or so arches, if for not other reason than because of the smell of onions which she endures while and after the chili sauce is cooked for the hot dogs at each home game.

The job of sponsoring Kyma is a continuous and endless one. It is not particular either into what fields it may lead one. From her special department of art when she makes posters to her equally famous field of cooking when a game rolls 'round, Miss Fowler works for Kyma. She digs in ice, tates furniture, and above all is right behind Kyma and the team.

We're saying publicly, Miss Fowler, that you deserve our praise for leading a Kyma that's all the way behind a one hundred per cent team.

At the End

After the season is over, Kyma will sponsor a dinner for the team. At this banquet the members of Kyma who have done work deserving recognition will receive an "E" with Kyma on it for their first year of work with the club; a Kyma pen for their second year; and a sweater for their third year.

Yells and Songs

Do you know Eastern's yells? If you don't, watch and listen carefully to your cheerleaders. You'll learn them.

Songs are a little harder to learn, though. Do you know the one that we stand and begin each game with. We sing it twice. Here are the words.

Yea Eastern

Yea! Eastern, let's win this fight! Rally, Maroon and White! We've got the spirit, and you've got the speed. These two with grit are all that we need.

So! Carry and pass that ball! Show them our boys beat all! Show them we're right with main and might. The way to win is fight! fight! fight!

—Words by Mary K. Burns —Music by Helen H. Lutes

There are others too:

Hail Eastern Maroons

Hail, hail, Eastern Maroons You're the pride of dear old Alma Mater

Hail, hail, Eastern Maroons, for You we'll give three rousing cheers. Rah! Rah! Rah!

On, on, Eastern Maroons, Loyal to thee we stand Ever fight for the right, we'll make Our school the best one in the land.

—Words by Frank Wilcox —Music by Henri Schnabl

Marching Song

Verse March on, oh Eastern sons And her co-eds so fair, For the glory of Eastern this song rings true; We shall go marching on the way for you.

Defeat or victory, to old Eastern this song we sing. March! March on, while singing our song, On and on together.

Chorus

Maroon and White is waving, And our joyful voices praise thee, On and on, our marching song Is fight, fight, Maroon and White, for we shall sing:

Oh, Eastern will shine tonight, Eastern will shine. On and on, for this is our marching song.

Maroon and White we love you. Don't give up until we conquer, March on together, march on forever,

For Eastern—March on, march on. —Helen Hull Lutes

And last of all we print our Alma Mater. If you don't already know it, learn it now. It is beautiful.

Alma Mater Hail to thee, our Alma Mater Faithful guide of youth, Holding high amid the darkness Duty, light, and truth; Still above, the skies attend thee, Still thy stately columns stand. Still thy sons and daughters love thee, Sing thy praises o'er the land.

All the earth's resplendent beauty Nature gathered here, Rolling lawns and trees and grasses On thy hillside fair; Happy days within thy shadow, Friends and comrades we have won, Fill our hearts with exaltation For thy work—so nobly done.

When, beloved Alma Mater, Memory recalls Other days of youth and laughter In thy gracious halls; When thy sons and daughters scattered Turn again to thee— Still thy lamp is brightly lighting Us afar that we may see. —Nancy Evans

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Live and let live, we've always heard, but who has a chance when the editor assigns something like this to write?

YES! REE THAT'S MY BABY!

Joe Hagenaur with a new one every week. We count four, Joe, have we overlooked anyone? That guy Argentine and Dotty Hancock . . . man oh man! Juanita Salyer and Her Sailor (our super-sleuths weren't fast enough to discover his name) . . . Phyllis and Bill (for further information, please turn to cartoon page), and let's don't forget to say something about the new team of Scalos and Ferraut. The last we heard, Harry had his eye on Kat Mullins, but looks like Betty changed his mind for him. These fickle men, you just can't win, girls. Pardon our curiosity, Waldo, but isn't Betty Joe supposed to be your brother's best girl? Aren't you ashamed of yourself?

Calling All Artists

We hear that Ray Smith has taken up modeling . . . he could certainly go places with that face alright. Marie Smith plans to put her finished portrait of him in the place of honor among the rest of her admirers.

Good Neighbor Policy, Or What Have You

Those V-Twelveers from Berea are certainly beating a path to Eastern's campus these days. The Berea girls want to know what the EKSTC Co-eds have that they haven't got. "Nothing," remarked one sailor, "but what the Eastern girls have is put together better."

Orchids To . . .

Faye Jones, for being such a swell all around girl. (We'll collect for that item later, Faye.) . . . Cordy, for always having a cigarette to give away . . . the KYMA Club for the handsome posters they made and the delicious hot dogs they hand out during games . . . the basketball boys for their good record and good sportsmanship.

Brilliant Remark of the Week

Sally Hoehandle: Isn't Health a fascinating subject? Betty McSpadden: Yes, but I still don't know my vertebrae from my Tarso bones.

Patriotic Item of the Week

Irma Beavin Davis, who was married during vacation, has put a service star on her door for her army husband. By the way, have you seen those beautiful rings?

Via the Grapevine

Wendel Robinson is apparently on the rebound, but there's Madeline Salyers, the Owen Twias and several others right there ready to catch him. We predict that Jennie will be back in the fight shortly.

Charlie Norris, after playing the field for a few weeks, has retired in favor of Schoony. They make a nice couple, don't they? Somebody hold Marie Smith back, please.

Shyrock, the fastest guard we've seen in a long time, has started the New Year with a bang . . . to be more specific . . . Eva Clark. We're wondering if it'll end with a bang.

We'd sorta like to be around if and when a certain upperclassman's suitors come to visit her at the same time. Should make quite a story.

Speaking of Upperclassmen

Reference is made to Kat Kolumn's poem, "I wish I was a wittle egg" of last issue. It's a cute "pome," but most freshmen don't think it very appropos anymore, since they don't consider upperclassmen to be so different from freshmen as they did last quarter. If the writer of the Kat Kolumn would make an effort to get acquainted with more of the freshmen we think she (or he, whichever the case may be) would find that most freshmen think the upperclassmen are a strictly alright bunch of people and not the stand-offish, catty older girls and boys that they thought they were last quarter.

CHEER UP, READERS, all bad things must come to an end . . . eventually; so rest in peace until next issue.

MAROONED WITH BOB RYLE

EKSTC

And we do mean ecstasy! After having the first column go into print incognito we expose ourselves. We were afraid we might have been horsewhipped with one of Dr. Hume's horses if we had revealed our identity at first. We didn't want a "fiet" on our hands.

P. S. To The News Letter

To all former students who are planning to return, we wish to make it known to you that there have been some changes made on this campus. One, in particular, should be told to you the day you enter the registrar's office. The lavatory in the basement of the Ad building has changed gender. We hope you will remember this. It might save you great embarrassment. We speak from experience!

Farewell To Alarms

Have you ever lain awake at night, And couldn't sleep at all And the snoring of your roommate Was echoed from the wall?

Well, I have a true solution And at this, please do not scoff, Lie quietly at the edge of your bed And before long you'll drop off.

The-Odd-I-See

Ulysses is not the only man who can boast of his travels and the things he has seen. We can do a little boasting also. We shall attempt to give you some rules by which rulers rule.

We had the occasion to talk with Mohandus K. Ghandi. "Moe" was rooming in a dormitory at the time of the interview. It was called "Tajma Hall." We had a very interesting conversation and learned many things about him and his people. We have decided that no one kindu what a Hindu kindu. Ghandi at the time was about three sheets in the wind. He formerly used towels for garments but now all his "Cannon" towels are shot so he has to rely on sheets. We learned from him that fasting was not a fast death but a slow one and not of his choice. He said he just thought it was the fashion to ration. His people don't have any "beef" coming anyway for he can't stand to see anyone "cutta-Cal." His people refer to him as Moo-handus. That's no bull either. As we departed he gave us this bit of Indian philosophy, or salesman-ship.

No head grows grogic With a "Yogi Stogie."

Scene About the Campus

The weather vane atop the Student Union playing catchers with the wind . . . The marking on the scoreboard fading into memory . . . Becksham Hall, with lights burning at 1 a. m., evidence of dormastories . . . The whistle at the beginning of the class hour amplifying the agony of the students . . . Gregarious squirrels seeking harbor in the arbor . . . The library, where Flaubert and Fosdick are sheltered by the same roof . . . The Training School, that habitual time bomb that is detonated at noon scattering shrapnel everywhere.

Pendantie Proverbs

In the Shadow of the Cross!

Wherever Christianity has brought the light of civilization to peoples living in the darkness of ignorance, medicine and pharmacy have stood in the shadow of the Cross, performing their particular service to mankind. This same spirit of cooperation exists on the busiest Main Street of America just as it does in a lonely outpost of darkest Africa.

RANDOM HARVEST

Congrats to the cheerleaders and to Miss Fowler for a swell job so far this season. . . Ruby, Robbie, Squirt, Eileen, Juanita, and Katherine have really pepped things up. . . Our good friend Dick Moberly sure made the fabled Warren Cooper seem impotent, didn't he? . . . Chuck Schuster, former all K.I.A.C. gridder, was here for the Milligan game. Chuck's Dayton High cage team has won thirteen in a row.

Roy Bezold, who used to write sports for the Progress, was on the campus last week. He is now an Ensign in the Navy and has seen action in the European theater. Roy graduated from Midshipman school with one of our best friends. . . We saw somewhere the most popular sport in England now is basketball. The cage game has been imported by the Yanks and is gaining in popularity among the Limeys. . . Those University of Tennessee Volunteers seem to have Kentucky's number. That 35 to 34 win that the Vols carved out last week to spoil the Ruppmen's record must have really hurt the Wildcats. . . Rupp no doubt was humming those "Groza Blues." . . . Kentucky's loss left the Maroons as the only unbeaten five in the state. . . Ray Smith reported for his army physical last Monday, but is not facing immediate induction. . . A. L. (Abraham Lincoln) Hammonds, Jr., received an overwhelming ovation last Saturday when he entered the Milligan game. . . The crowd was clamoring for a score, and Abe came through with a free throw. The long armed boy is a lot better ball player than some people think. . . Coach Rankin informs us that Eastern is definitely going in for baseball this year. The Eastern nine will take on service and independent teams for the most part. There is plenty of good material. Bill Miller, Ray Smith, Fred Lewis, Dick Moberly, Doyle Lovitt, Charles Spicer, and several others have had considerable experience on the diamond.

Coach Rankin got a very admirable write up on the editorial page of the local newspaper last week. . . part of which was reprinted in Earl Ruby's column in The Courier-Journal. . . Eastern has offered the gate receipts of the Lincoln Memorial game to the Polio fund being sponsored by The Journal. . . Speaking of the L. M. U., that team seems to have come a long way since they bowed to Eastern early in the season on their court. They tripped Carson Newman last week. . . Coach Rankin has been green with envy ever since he saw that shiny jacket worn by the Milligan coach.

Our Madison High neighbors seem to be possessed of a very fair cage team this year. . . Bill Miller vows, however, that they will go down in ignominious defeat when they meet his alma mater, Williamsburg. . . Have you noticed the number of Profs attending Eastern's games recently. . . ?

Wonder what the chances are for a golf team this year? Dick Moberly and your truly like to bat the pellet around. . . anyone else interested? And tennis too. . . we would like to see a couple of those clay courts worked up come spring. . . what do you think. . . If we all get in behind the right person maybe we can get at least one or two courts in shape.

A discussion on the racial problem has been started for the Vesper services. The last two weeks the students themselves asked questions and discussed them. Beginning this week several speakers will speak and discuss with the group the racial problem. Rev. Olof Anderson will begin this series of discussions on Thursday night at the regular Vesper time—6:30. He will be followed by two colored speakers and other interesting people, whose names will be announced later.

Another party has been added to the "Y's" list—a party was given Saturday night in the Recreation room of the Methodist Church in honor of the new students this quarter.

Given below is part of a letter written to our sponsor, Miss McKinney, by Capt. Ed Gabbard, a staunch "Y" supporter. He is a commander of a Quartermaster Corps in France. While he was here in college, he always took an active part in the "Y." Since he graduated he has continued to support it by his contributions and his general good will. This year being unable to help or attend the "Y" Christmas party, he with the aid of his fellowmen gave one for a group of unfortunate children in France. The letter is as follows:

"The time draws nearer to the season of the year that the Children's Christmas party is to be given by the 'Y.' Once again, due to world affairs, I am unable to be with you and the 'Y' for the very enjoyable event. My heart and best wishes are with you for the occasion, and I hope it is a big success. My company is also sponsoring a Christmas party this year—only our party will be for the unfortunate children of France who have one or both of their parents in this war. We are hoping to have about 250 children at the party. Even though our PX rations are very low, we are contributing the candy and gum from our rations for the month of December, along with a few things that we take from our Christmas packages from home, in order for these 250 poor unfortunates to enjoy their first Christmas in four years."

Thirteenth Game Is Jinx For The Eastern Maroons

The No. 13 jinx combined with a red-hot University of Louisville team proved to be a stumbling block for the Eastern Maroons in a game played in Louisville last night, and they came out on the short end of a 74-42 score.

The Maroons had won 12 straight and were leading the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, with five victories and no losses prior to last night's encounter, which leaves Western the only undefeated team in conference games.

The Louisville Sea Cards had dropped two recent games, but their season's record has been very impressive, as they have defeated most of their opponents by decisive margins.

Fred Lewis, the high scoring Eastern forward, was high-point man in last night's game. He hit the hoops for seven field goals and five charity tosses. Kupper and Hauptfuhrer made 18 points each and Kinker garnered 17 markers for the Louisville team.

The Eastern team seemed to have trouble in getting started last night and the Sea Cards jumped into a commanding lead early in the first half, which ended 47-12 in favor of the host team. The second half was played on even terms.

Eastern will play Berea at Berea Saturday night. Summary:

As if that weren't all they could handle, our live-wire campus unit plans to sponsor an unusual Silver Tea sometime in February, and they've tentatively advanced suggestions whereas they will be enabled to work with Dr. Grubin of the Madison County Health Department, who spoke on the chapel program which the Red Cross recently sponsored. All other plans will be announced later.
