BY TODD

Generalissimo Josef Stalin informed a young man by the name of Roosevelt, that relations between the United States and Russia are not as bad now as they were formerly. Of course, that was a couple of weeks ago and in another week they can be just as terrible as is conceivable. At times we wonder why nations don't just ignore each other and settle down to the job of recuperating from a recent historic event.

Of course, that is virtually impossible when you realize that Russia is trying to make the world perfect, like Russia, and we are trying to make the world perfect, like us, and God only knows what Argentina is trying to do.

The French political picture indicates that she is infatuated with Russia's idea. The recent strike in Great Britain suggests that the Lion admires the Eagle's flight, but Argentina... how does one describe an anti-Communist five-year plan? We make reference to Juan Peron's recruiting of 250,000 workers in Europe to serve in Argentine industry... obviously, he hasn't heard one of our quaint saying about beggars: he wants skilled laborers who have political "correct" beliefs. We can't help admiring his plan of getting the workers, though. He got the Pope's blessing and concentrated his efforts in Italy... his recruiting agent: Father Sylva.

We have noted with great interest that archeologists (the boys that dig in deserts with exhumation in mind) are at work all over the world, looking for mummies and papyri. We hope they find what they are looking for. It must be fascinating work.

Eastern Meets Morehead Tonite

The Maroons will travel to Morehead tonight where they will face the on-again-off-again Morehead Eagles for the second time this season. In the first meeting the Maroons routed the Eagles 74-57 for their tenth victory.

The fans who traveled to Morehead last season will never forget the double overtime victory for the Maroons. Morehead and Eastern have always been two of the most bitter rivals in the conference and Eastern will be gunning for their sixth straight victory over the Eagles. Eastern's hope of victory will again fringe on the possibility of holding down spectacular Sonny Allen, the state's leading scorer, and Captain Jack Pobst. Pobst was an all-KIAC selection at guard for the Eagles and from his performances this year looks like a certain repeater.

In the first game this year Eastern was ahead at the half 29-22. Eastern came back strong in the second half but it was not until the last ten minutes that the Maroons really pulled away. At this point Mrazovich and Fryz caught fire. "Chuck" was high-point man for the evening with 25 and Fryz did a fine job in dropping in 14 while holding Sonny Allen to five points. Jack Pobst was high for the Eagles with 13.

O'Donnell Heard By Local Rotary Club

The regular weekly meeting of the Richmond Rotary Club was held Tuesday night at the Glyndon Hotel. President W. F. O'Donnell of Eastern, who was introduced by Rev. Frank Tinder, program chairman, was the speaker. Dr. O'Donnell spoke on the Veteran in American Colleges and Universities.

"Often you hear the rather loose expression of the veteran problem in college. On the contrary the veteran is not a problem but an inspiration," Dr. O'Donnell declared. "He is not only an inspiration to the students because of his well above average scholastic standing, but also to the faculty who find him more serious minded and more eager to obtain knowledge than the average undergraduate." College attendance by veterans also has surprised the lawmakers who felt that only a small portion of eligible veterans would avail themselves of the training offered in the veterans bill. There are now 1,073,000 veterans enrolled in American colleges and universities. Over one-half of the present near record attendance at Eastern State Teachers College, are veterans.

Eastern ROTC Camp To Commence In June

Eastern R. O. T. C. students will attend summer at Camp Campbell, Ky., commencing June 21, it was announced today by Major Frank E. Willard, PMS&T at Eastern.

The training is to be conducted at selected camps throughout the United States and is tentatively scheduled to last six weeks.

While attending camp, students will receive the pay of an army private, $75 a month, and will be paid for necessary travel at the rate of five cents per mile from the school to camp and back.

Dr. George D. Heaton Will Speak During Religious Emphasis Week

Dr. George D. Heaton, minister of the Myers Park Baptist Church of Charlotte, North Carolina, will open Religious Emphasis Week on the campus with the chapel program Wednesday morning, February 5th.

Dr. Heaton was born in Parkersburg, West Virginia, in 1908, and was reared in Louisville, Kentucky. He is a graduate of Denison University of Granville, Ohio, and of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville. Further graduate study was done at the College of the Bible in Lexington, Kentucky. In addition to the degrees of A. B. and Th. M., he received an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Georgetown College.

Dr. Heaton is active in religious, industrial, and community activities. His present pastorate is a new project in the Myers Park Community of Charlotte. The church has 800 members, and is undertaking many significant experiments in the field of religious education and music.

Dr. Heaton will speak each evening after the discussion programs. Discussion groups will meet from 6:30 to 7:15 in the Student Union Building on February 5, 6, and 7. Four subjects chosen by students of Eastern in a poll recently to be used for the discussions are: "Student Morals," "Marriage and the Christian Home," "Science and Religion," and "What About Immortality?" Discussion leaders will be ministers and faculty members. All students are urged to attend.

"Foods From Many Lands" Party Held

The Home Economics Club had a "Foods From Many Lands" party at their last meeting, January 21, in the Home Economics Department. Each of the dishes served was from a different country. They served Italian meat-balls, Mexican rice, Austrian salad, French bread, and ambrosia and cookies from America.

After supper, a very short business meeting was held. Following this, games representative of foreign countries were played. Several of the members of the club came in costume. There was an attractive Spanish senorita and an attractive American Indian present, to mention only a few of the characterizations.

Miss Edith Ford Now Stationed At Heidelberg

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 30—Miss Edith G. Ford of 226 Lancaster Avenue, Richmond, recently arrived in the European Theater to begin her duties as an instructor with the Army Education Program in Germany, according to information released from the Office of the Theater Chief, Information and Education Service this week.

Prior to coming to Germany, Miss Ford was Assistant Professor of Commerce at Eastern State Teachers College in Richmond. She has been teaching at the college since 1927.

She received her Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1927 from George Washington University in Washington, D. C., and in 1930 she received her Masters Degree from the University of Kentucky. She also attended the Universities of Columbia in New York City, Duke in Durham, N. C., and Stanford in California.

Miss Ford is presently stationed with the Heidelberg Consolidated School where she is instructing in Commercial subjects.

This school, located in the new University Building of Heidelberg University, was established under the Army Education Program for the purpose of providing the occupation soldiers with educational opportunities on off-duty time.

"Laugh and Sing" To Be Presented

An original musical comedy, "Laugh and Sing," will be presented in Hiram Brock Auditorium Thursday evening, February 6 at 8 p. m.

The script was written by George Cecil, English major, and Bill Kearney, art major. The music and musical arrangements are under the direction of Bill Gravelly, music major. The show is directed by Bill Kearney.

Specialty acts will include a comic pianist, a duet form "Pinafore," a piano jazz, several vocals ranging from jazz to classical, highlighted by Lois Reynolds' introduction of an original song by Bill Gravelly.

"Laugh and Sing" is a take off on radio broadcasting and will feature numerous side-splitting instances. Also entertainment will be further heightened by a swing combo.

The cast, all college performers, numbers about 35 members. The purpose of this show is to stimulate student participation in campus activities. "Laugh and Sing" is presented with neither faculty nor organizational supervision. There will be no admission charge.

New Violin Teacher Assumes Duties

Miss Kathryn Jackson of Austin, Texas, began her work as teacher of violin at Eastern State Teachers College Monday morning. She replaces Miss Mariette Simpson, who resigned to accept a position at the College of Emporia, Kansas.

Miss Jackson was graduated last week from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. She formerly attended college in California and at the University of Texas, where she was active in music organizations and in radio work.

Industrial Arts Enrollment is Increasing

"One of our main projects next quarter will be the building of a small, four-room cottage here on the campus," stated Mr. Ralph Whalin, head of the Industrial Arts department of Eastern, at an interview held last Monday in his office.

Mr. Whalin went on to say that the foundation has been laid for the cottage and that all work on its construction, with the exception of the plumbing, will be done by the 170 members of his department. The cottage will include a full basement, furnace, bath, and other modern conveniences. He pointed out that veterans will hold priority for its rental, but that the construction of others is anticipated for the near future.

The deep-voiced young professor of manual training is quite anxious that students at Eastern become better acquainted with his department and pointed out that "We have probably one of the largest and best equipped departments of its kind in the South." Constructed in 1939, the building is comparatively modern in every respect and has recently been furnished with approximately $25,000 worth of surplus property by the Army Air Corps. It consists of five shops and two drawing rooms, in addition to an extensive supply of materials and tools.

When asked about the courses offered in his department, Mr. Whalin replied that the course is split into three main divisions—drawing, woodworking, and metal work. His staff includes Mr. Frank Schroeter, a graduate of last year's class and instructor of metal working; Mr. N. G. Deniston, instructor of drawing; and Mr. D. B. Doty, carpentry instructor. Students majoring in Industrial Arts attend classes in Math, Sciences, English and others, but it is also required that they be present for actual shop work to apply their talents.

Mr. Whalin is very much impressed with the enrollment of 170 in the Industrial Arts branch this quarter for it is much larger than it has been in the past; but the department still has exceptionally good placements for many more students in this field. He pointed out that from last year's graduating class, all nine from his particular department entered immediately into positions at an average of $225 per month.

Students may become familiar with the type of work done by the department by viewing an exhibition which is to be presented near the end of this quarter.

Program Of Ballads Presented By Niles

A program of ballads from the southeastern mountain region was presented by John Jacob Niles, of Lexington, internationally famous collector and singer of American folk music, at the Eastern State Teachers College assembly hour this morning.

Mr. Niles played his own accompaniment on various types of dulcimers which he had made and described the materials and workmanship in the instruments. Among the ballads he sang were "The Frog Went Courtin'," "Prayer to Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, the Seven Joys of Mary, The Rag of the Black Jack Gypsies, The Little Mohee, Barbara Ellen, The Indian Prince, and others.

President W. F. O'Donnell presided and introduced members of the college board of regents who were on the campus for the quarterly meeting. Those present were H. Clay Kaufman, of Lancaster; Dr. O. F. Hume, Richmond; J. C. Codell, Winchester, and Everett J. Evans, Paintsville.

Rabbi Bertram Korn Heard At Eastern Assembly Program

Rabbi Bertram Korn, of Cincinnati, spoke at the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College this morning on the subject, "American Jewish Heroes." Rabbi Korn served with the U. S. Navy in World War II in the Pacific Theater.

The speaker was introduced by President W. F. O'Donnell. The invocation was asked by the Rev. W. A. E. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Preceding the address, Miss Eleanore Hire, member of the music department faculty, played several piano selections.

Rabbi Korn named four Jewish men who have served their country zealously: Asser Levy, of New Amsterdam, the first foreigner to serve in the U. S. militia; Rabbi Gershom Seixas, Revolutionary War hero and statesman; Commodore Uriah Levy, who served in the War of 1812 and sponsored passage of the Anti-Flogging Bill, and Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis who died in 1941.

Discussing accomplishments of each man, Rabbi Korn stated that Asser Levy, who died in 1861, organized a synagogue and helped other faiths get established in this country. Rabbi Seixas, who helped the cause of the Revolution, was minister to the congregation of the church established by Levy, served as member of the board of trustees at Kings College, now Columbia University, and interceded in behalf of Protestants in states problems measures.

Commodore Uriah Levy, third of Rabbi Korn's American Jewish heroes, was born in Philadelphia in 1792, served in the War of 1812 in all areas in which the Navy was engaged, and was commissioned a commodore in 1862. He purchased Jefferson's home, Monticello, which was later presented to the United States by his nephew, Jefferson Levy, a New England congressman.

The Board of Regents of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, in the regular quarterly meeting held in the President's office yesterday, approved plans for a new science building to cost approximately $400,000. The building will be located immediately west of the Weaver Health Building. Construction is expected to start sometime in the summer or fall. The first contract will be for the foundation, service mains and roadways.

The Board also instructed C. C. & S. K. Weber, the college's architects, to prepare plans for increasing the seating capacity in the gymnasium. College officials hope to be able to have the gymnasium enlarged before the opening of the basketball season next December. It was pointed out that the present seating capacity is wholly inadequate for Eastern's large student body and other basketball fans.

The present gym seats approximately 1,700 and college officials stated that when the plans are completed the gym will seat about 4,000.

The Board approved a leave of absence during the winter quarter for Mrs. Harry Blanton, and a leave during the summer quarter for Kerney M. Adams, who will teach at George Peabody College for Teachers.

The Board also approved a new contract with the Veterans Administration for the instruction of veterans under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Those who attended the meeting were Superintendent John Fred Williams, chairman, J. C. Codell, E. J. Evans, Judge H. Clay Kaufman, Dr. O. F. Hume, President W. F. O'Donnell, G. M. Brock, business agent, Miss L. Katherine Morgan, secretary, and C. C. & S. K. Weber, architects.

AS WE SEE IT

One look at Eastern's campus makes it very evident that a great number of the student body have not grown up. It is nothing less than a disgrace and a crime the way the campus is being absolutely destroyed by immature juveniles who insist on walking every place else on the campus but on the place provided—the sidewalks.

Stand beside the Cammack Building when classes are changing and watch the files of vandals cutting through the ravine, down by the fish pond, over the amphitheater, and across the Cammack playground.

This is not being done by the smaller grade school pupils but is the fault of the college students.

The veteran who was here before the war said the first thing he noticed upon his return was the utter disregard for the beauty of the campus.

There are not going to be any signs put up telling you to keep off the grass because this is your campus. Because it is your campus I am appealing to you to please stop this deliberate destroying of its natural beauty. The grounds and bushes are always full of cigarette packs, coke cups, candy papers, etc. There are at least five waste cans between Burnam and the Administration Building so why not use them?

There is a cement sidewalk leading to every building on the campus so why not use it?

The next time you see a person cutting across the campus point out to him and explain the purpose of a walkway. The next time your buddy throws an empty cigarette pack down, explain to him why trash cans have been placed on the campus.

Gripes, complaints, pleas, threats, etc., concerning the high prices charged in the college cafeteria have been offered by different groups and by different people since the opening of school in September.

One of their favorite expressions is "Why is it that the other state schools charge so much less than we pay here?"

Sunday noon I ate lunch in a campus cafeteria in a state school only a short distance from Richmond. My meal consisted of turkey and dressing (a smaller serving than the one you receive here), cauliflower, tomato salad, ice cream, cake, coffee, and bread. The total cost was 90 cents. The same meal in your cafeteria would cost approximately 78 to 80 cents. How much would you pay for that same meal in a downtown restaurant?

You are not being robbed and you are not paying for all the Student Union Building this year. No one is getting rich at your expense. After the food is purchased it must be processed, prepared, served, and someone has to do it. Operating costs must be paid.

A large percentage of the student body is not receiving free tuition, free books, etc., but they must pay these expenses in addition to the high food cost.

So you see, gripers, conditions could be rougher.

MAROONED

with LESLIE NORMAN

Despite tests, teachers, 8 o'clock classes and empty coke machines, we're all pretty fond of college life. We've never stopped to think just why we like it so, we just accept the fact and take it at its face value. If we ever stopped to analyze what we do or have that attracts us, we might come up with something like this:

Our days in college are very uncomplicated. The entire time is spent in two pastimes, loafing and contemplating newer and better ways of loafing. Of course, there are minor little interpretations such as classes and sleeping. Here it might be mentioned that sleeping, in some circles, is classified as a form of loafing and is indulged in to a great degree, while in others, it is considered a very poor form of loafing and is seldom indulged in save in cases of dire emergency. It is sincerely hoped that, in the interests and betterment of loafing, these two schools of thought will eventually come to some sort of agreement or compromise. Another similar problem, though not quite so grave, is that of eating. It has been pretty well agreed upon that eating three meals a day at the prescribed hours cannot be classified as loafing since it is far too much of a common thing. However, this may be gotten around by two methods: 1. Eating a meal consisting of cokes and hamburgers (coney islands are suitable substitutes). In doing this, you are not eating healthful food and therefore, technically, it is not a meal. 2. You may finish your meal of proper vitamin content but after finishing it, spend at least an hour sitting at the table just, well... loafing. Perhaps the advantage lies with the latter method, since in the long run, you may live longer and thus be of more service to the art of loafing. However, the really advantageous method of turning so bourgeoisie a thing as eating into an acceptable form of loafing is by the simple process of eating like mad between meals. The props are not hard to obtain: candy, cookies, hamburgers (or coney islands) cokes, etc. This form is heartily endorsed by some of the country's leading loafers. Not just anyone can loaf. Forsooth, it is an art. Good, really good, loafers are harder to find than a Webster's Collegiate. The game is full of novices and amateurs who all too soon are seen peering within the pages of a History book or some other instrument of non-loafer caliber. It isn't easy to become a good loafer, not if you have a conscience, but with the proper amount of adaption to the job (faith, and never use that last word if you want to become a good loafer) let us rather say the Art, with this adaption, you CAN become one of the experts.

The benefits reaped from loafing can easily be seen by the sheer look of enjoyment seen on the faces of those better loafers. It is during college that our best loafing days can be and it is thus that we enjoy college so much.

Though it is rather an unpleasant subject to be brought up, we do have those persons, even on our campus at Eastern, who simply won't loaf. Each morning they may be seen getting up at such unheard of hours as 6 and 7 A. M. mind you, and going to breakfast. They come back and go off to classes and arrive on time to their 8 o'clock appointments. They attend every class with homework prepared and come home and devote the evening to study. They set aside a certain amount of time to something they have the audacity to call loafing, but which is really just recreation from the daily grind. Furthermore, upon careful scrutiny, a look of utter contentment and hope can be observed on their faces. To the loafer, this situation is intolerable and all efforts are exerted to avoid such individuals.

However, all in all, both loafer and otherwise realize that it takes all kinds of people to make up the world and the same goes for Eastern.

KAMPUS KALAEDESCOPE

That little touch of zero weather we had... the anxious faces surrounding the mail boxes at about 8 in the morning and 2 in the afternoon... victims of the first quarterly tests... the excitement in the grill on the days when they have that droolable chocolate zig zag ice cream... Art 11 students scanning the campus for potential models... the new Bendix washing machine in the girl's dorm, for further information, ask Jody Evans... the debut of many hitherto undiscovered ballad singers better known as rockies... the puzzling question of which is the more prominent, the dogs or the students... the smoking guns and blood stained knives in the grill bridge games... those Miami-ites who torture us with their tales of January trips to the beach... the popularity of the Walnut Hall piano during the lunch and dinner hours... the prayers sent up for more pecan pie... the atmosphere of real friendliness, for which Eastern is so famous, maybe it's coming back.

A TRIP TO THE CITY

For most of the boys it comes in the form of a check from the government, for the girls, it's usually a check from home, but the important thing is that it's a check and by a simple process of getting it cashed, which is off' not so simple, it can be turned into good U. S. cash. Any Easternite can take it from there. But the fact remains that in about 12 to 17 hours, the money is gone. There are lots of ways that it can be spent, but no true Easternite needs any coaching on that. However, for the best results, the most recommended way is to ankle down to the fair metropolis of Richmond. From then on, just leave it up to the local merchants. There's that new lipstick that just has to be bought. And that lovely new shade of powder that our roommate recommended to us, that sharp necktie in the window, that smooth smelling after-shave lotion, but most important of all those droolable rom wafers. For that matter, any kind of food. After all no civilized collegiate is without a good stock of cheese and crackers and cake et al. We walk into the local grocery store and peer mercenarily around, but our thrift is soon smothered in visions of hotted ham on rye. Half a pound of ham, after all we have to have enough to go around. That rye bread looks good, but you can't eat it without anything, so why not get two loaves? Such lovely candy, of course seventy-nine cents is an awful lot to pay for one box of candy and not a pound at that. But how often does one buy a pound of candy? And this isn't quite a pound... and if you buy the candy, you wouldn't have to by the cake you were going to buy which cost all of 49 cents... but of course the cake isn't as expensive as the candy, in fact, think of the saving... you've paid 79 cents for the candy and if you'd buy the cake, you'd really save the candy which was so expensive and we mustn't be extravagant, so we'll take the cake to go with the candy. It's a simple case of pure logic. But cake and candy just aren't too good for a person. One should have some healthful food to go with the cake and candy. My, those apples are beautiful... mother would be mad if you didn't get them since she wants to know that you're getting healthful food. By the time you leave that den of iniquity better known as a grocery store, you are the perfect picture of penury. But your face is lifted brightly to the future, for tonight you shall have cake with your candy!

Land of Unions

By GEORGE S. BENSON, President of Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas

IN STOCKHOLM this summer I had a delightful visit with Mr. Gunnar Anderson, vice president of the Swedish Federation of Trade Unions. Mr. Anderson is a well-informed, intelligent man, who recognizes clearly the problems of both management and labor as well as the rights and responsibilities of each. He answered questions I put to him in a forthright manner, giving statistics and figures from memory.

Labor unions in Sweden have been operating for more than 50 years. The Federation is composed of 46 separate unions representing trades or divisions of trades. Membership totals 1,106,000, a most amazing number in view of the total Swedish population of only 6,000,000. The Socialist Democratic party, strongest among the ranks of labor, is also the controlling party in the government.

Outside LABOR-MANAGEMENT relations are excellent throughout most of Swedish industry. Disagreements and strikes are not common. One reason for this is the constant effort put forth by the Federation to improve understanding between employers and employees. When the need arises, "negotiation" committees attempt to reach an agreement, but if that fails the parties involved resort to "conciliation." Mr. Anderson stated that conciliation is preferred to arbitration because it keeps the responsibilities of the parties involved.

However, an important strike affecting 100,000 metal workers raged five months last year. "The strike was really unfortunate," said Mr. Anderson. "The strikers did not gain more than one-third of a cent per hour more than they were offered before the strike. Of course, that amount will never repay the 45 million kroner they lost in wages during the strike. I advised against the strike from the beginning." Later I was told that the strike was actually caused by Communist influence in the metal workers union.

Which Do MR. ANDERSON You Prefer? told me that labor fears the closed shop. Said he: "Our federation opposes the closed shop. We oppose it on the ground of individual freedom. We believe any citizen should have freedom to join a union or not to join a union and to work where he wishes. This plan has worked well in Sweden. Most of the workers recognize the value of the union and do join, but they are not compelled to do so."

The nationalization issue has been discussed extensively in Sweden. However, there is no intention on the part of labor to ask for nationalization, chiefly because private enterprise is, as Mr. Anderson pointed out, "doing all right." Labor has no reason to think it would fare better under nationalization, and it was Mr. Anderson's view that even the status of labor unions would be questionable under complete nationalization.

Growing thoughtful, Mr. Anderson continued: "Private corporations and government managed corporations could not be expected to compete. Government, through use of taxes and other methods, could always come out on top, so it is best to have either state management or private management, not a mixture of the two. We prefer private."

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

B. S. U. News During the week of January 18th the B. S. U. observed Vocational Emphasis Week. A choice of the proper vocation for each individual was the central theme of all the activities that week. To begin, the Sunday School program had as its theme "God Has Something Great For You." Each night in Evening Devotions students told why they were preparing for their particular vocation. The same theme was also stressed in Master's Minority.

To each of you Baptist students who haven't been attending the B. S. U. parties, you have missed something! The "Newspaper Party" during the first of school was a great success. Many of the new students were there, making themselves at home in the B. S. U. The next party will be on Saturday, February 1, 7:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church. This is a birthday party, not only for you who have birth anniversaries during the month of February, but for everybody. Plans for this party have been buzzin' about two weeks so it will be something to put on your "must" list. DON'T MISS IT! Baptist student, don't forget Sunday School and Worship Services on Sunday. We need you badly, and you are missed each time you aren't there. Baptist Training Union meets each Sunday evening. You are cordially invited to attend each of these services.

Mrs. Della Barrett, a graduate student who is on the campus this quarter, was guest of the group. It was agreed that the club members cooperate in selling sandwiches in the dormitories to raise necessary funds for the Milestone cut. A committee of four was appointed to work out the details. Following the business program concluded the meeting.

ODDS AND ENDS

By JOHN MAYHALL

While attending the game at the Armory on Saturday night about two weeks ago, I became very proud that I was from Eastern. Not only because of our team winning the game by such a wide score, but by the school spirit. After the Eastern-Davis & Elkin game everyone yelled for Morehead. It could have been the "spirit of Eastern" or the "spirits of Louisville" but we want to think it is the "spirit of Eastern." Let's continue a root for our boys like this and maybe they'll return the favor by winning for us.

The crowded folks in Heaven Must be a kindly race. If they can keep from hopin' We go some other place.

An eccentric person is one whose idiosyncrancies are different from yours.

"REMEMBER ME"

I hope your heart remembers me As I remember you Because your loving company Was wonderful and new.

No matter what the hour brought The day was never old, As long as you were every thought I had the right to hold.

As long as you remembered, dear, The promises we shared For every season of the year No matter how we fared.

No matter what adorned the sky Of any night or day, Or whether you or whether I Would ever go away.

And now wherever you may be May all your dreams come true, And may your heart remember me As I remember you.

A psychologist says there are only twenty-four types of women. Shucks, any one woman is more types than that.

Gravity seems to be inoperative with respect to currently high prices and strapless evening gowns.

A certain geography teacher stated in class that we were lucky. He says we have five rooms and a bath; in his day they had five rooms and a path.

Kilgus: "Woman's greatest attraction is he hair."

Gwen: "I say it's her eyes."

Kilgus: "No, on second thought, it's her teeth."

Redmond: "What's the use of you two sitting there lying to each other?"

Note to the girls: Many a man isn't worth using perfume at $20 an ounce to catch.

I think about the many tasks There are in store for me And when at last the day is done How weary I shall be.

And then it seems there is no end To what I have to do And even though I work for years My job is never through.

I know I must have food and clothes And I must meet my rent And I should have some luxuries To keep myself content.

And I know too, that I must toil To earn my daily pay But sometimes I would much prefer To stay in bed all day.

A Michigan professor announces that the perfect woman is "plump and well rounded." Shucks! We knew this long ago.

A prominent female educator announces that the average woman's legs are as straight as those of the average man. Well, after giving our classic props the once over, we are here to say that the educator isn't handing her sex much of a compliment.

Rhythm Ripples

Contrary to what would seem to be a logical conclusion for the absence of the Ripples in recent issues, your author has neither died nor left school (no comments, please!)

Assuming that everyone had a pleasant holiday and is off to a good start scholastically, let's see who's in the musical know—and who isn't.

With FOR SENTIMENTAL REASONS recently taking the lead away from OLE BUTTERMILK SKIES on the hit parade, there are a number of new numbers making a play for spotlight positions, too. Among them we find, I'VE GOT A RIGHT TO CRY, vocal by Hawkins, WHAT MORE CAN I SAY, a typical Lombardo number, and I'M AFRAID TO LOVE YOU, an adaptation of a hill-billy classic, by the Mills Brothers.

The late movie, "The Time, The Girl, and the Place," added several numbers to campus favorites, too, including, A GAL IN CALICO, WHAT DO YOU DO ON A RAINY NIGHT IN RIO, and OH, BUT I DO. (The King Cole Trio has waxed their version of this—strictly original.)

Listed with the latest jazz discs are Sammy Kaye's I USED TO WORK IN CHICAGO, Herbie Field's A HUGGIN' and A CHALK-IN, and UNCLE REMUS SAID by Tex Beneke with the Miller Orchestra, not to mention Sammy Kaye's ZIP - A - DEE - DO - DA. Vaughn Monroe has added another goeey sentimental album to his credit. A dream album covering a wide range of his famous dream numbers, such as, DREAM, DRIFTING AND DREAMING, and MEET ME TONIGHT IN DREAM-LAND.

Possibly some of us lost track of what our favorite musicians were doing while gaily flitting through the holidays, so, whatcha' say we investigate. Did you know that—

T. Dorsey has added an all-girl string section to his band for his current concert tour?

"Sugar Chile" Robinson has been signed for the new jazz production "New Orleans"? Louis Armstrong appears in the same picture.

Sammy Kaye is soliciting the aid of novice lyric writers?

Elliot Lawrence is employing some of the unusual instruments, French horn, oboe, bassoon, in his great new band?

Spike Jones recently broke a precedent when he premiered on wax, his other orchestra. A twenty-eight piece affair, it proved to be a well-rounded musical organization.

Stan Kenton and his band were recently booked to play a date in Hawaii, thus being one of the first U. S. groups to appear in the islands since the end of the war.

Well, THAT'S THE BEGINNING OF THE END and until next time her'e to more rippling rhythm.

The "Y's"

By ELIZABETH FENNINGTON

On January 20, the presidents and leaders of the numerous campus organizations met to complete the plans for Eastern's Religious Emphasis Week. The program for the week is given on page one of this issue.

Although Eastern has brought religious leaders to the students and encouraged their spiritual activities, it was just last year that a formal program for Religious Emphasis Week was initiated here. This was under the capable direction of Jane Johnston, a Danforth graduate.

Modern philosophers and thinkers have recognized four parts of a student's life that a college should help to develop. These are the academic, the religious, the physical, and the social sides. Many early colleges stressed the first two. Then gradually the physical and social found more and more attention. With the coming of many state supported schools, religion was put into the background. Because of this various colleges and universities developed programs for a week to be devoted to religious study. A week in which other activities would be put into retirement.

Every night, Monday through Thursday, Quiet Hour, a period of devotion from 9:10 until 9:20, is observed in the recreation room of Burnam Hall. Several girls attend these especially planned devotions but the other girls in the dormitory are urged to come and join them.

A word from the "Y's": "Let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

Van Peurse At Band Directors Meeting

An Ode To Onions And Stuff Like That

Never one to let a question go unmoled, the young population of our Alma Mammy has again brought up the touchy subject of this man's cafeteria. Figuratively speaking, that is. 'Twas an incident of the like that was aroused one cold and dreary eve, January 21 to be exact, as a group of text-weary vets mingled for their weekly meeting in the SUB.

With Jim Logsdon, our brand new president, presiding, the first issue of the evening came to the floor concerning a gap between the prices of down-town (Main St., Richmond) commodities and those served in the cafeteria. While not presenting a belligerent attitude toward the subject, a request was made to find just what the reason might be for this condition.

Many an eyebrow was raised as several factual comparisons were given by members of the club which again caused one to think if one had not already been thinking about it. Whether or not anything shall be done to gain lower prices (for a just amount of vitamins) is a thing yet to be sanctioned.

To L'ville And Back In Three Days

The weekend of January 17 found our new president with Abe Deeb and Bill Brewer in Louisville on a pilgrimage to the Kentucky Student Veterans' Conference. Starting on that Friday with a "I'm Joe Doakes from Skunk Run, and who do you think you are?" smoker, the boys laid a friendly platform upon which to carry out their forums.

The most interesting issue dealt with a current proposal to seek an increase to the vets' monthly subsistence checks. As it stands now, $60 and $90 for single and married vets. A raise to $90 and $125 respectively was finally approved by the body. This bill is to be presented to Washington for consideration.

P. S. Those interested might nonchantly mention this in their prayers.

Finale

After reports were made by various officers (total of two; secretary and treasurer), the chimes sounded 10:15, the entire body knelt toward the juke box, and the meeting was adjourned.

Eastern Handed First Defeat of Season by Breds

Eastern was the last Kentucky team to lose a game and it was a crisp from under the basket in the last ten seconds of play by Rex Alexander that broke a 43-43 tie and gave Murray credit with the top upset of the conference. The lead went back and forth in the first half but Eastern was ahead at the half 26-24.

Scoreboard for Eastern vs Breds. Lists players and their statistics: E M, Snow, a short shot 0 2, Hudnall hurt on play 2 2, Becker from side 2 2, Pearce, a bunny 2 4, Reagan, a free throw 2 5, West Virginia by the lopsided score of 91-38 Saturday night. The Maroons annexed their 11th consecutive victory and remain in the nation's unbeaten class.

Yea, Maroons!

DAVIS-ELKIN SWAMPED

Paul McBrayer and his Eastern Maroons continued to pace Kentucky college fives as they hit an all-time scoring record for the Louisville Armory by slaughtering a hapless Davis-Elkins team from West Virginia by the lopsided score of 91-38 Saturday night. The Maroons annexed their 11th consecutive victory and remain in the nation's unbeaten class.

The game was a runaway from the opening whistle with the Eastern sharpshooters hitting from every angle. Davis-Elkins held the vaunted Maroons to an 8-4 margin for about two minutes but from that point on it was just a question of how bad Eastern wanted to make the score. McBrayer quickly pulled out his starting five in an attempt to keep the score within reason but any combination he put on the floor continued to bombard the net with deadly accuracy.

Once the fans saw how the game was going the chant of "Make it a 100" was heard and though the Maroons failed to do so by nine points, it was not because they couldn't have. Those who saw the game wondered just what the score would have been had McBrayer let his first five go the entire route. High point man for the night was an Eastern substitute forward named Reid, who sank nine long tosses to collect eighteen points.

BEREA OUTCLASSSED Paul McBrayer's Eastern Maroons continued their victory parade last night as they ran roughshod over Berea on the Mountaineer floor 76-26 for their seventh KIAC win of the season against a lone defeat.

The Berea quintet jumped into an early lead but then the Eastern hoopsters found the range and once started they couldn't be stopped.

The Mountaineers received a blow when their star forward, Monroe Hall, was removed from the game midway of the first half with a gash in his head. The Maroons completely dominated the game, having height and reserve power which Berea could not match.

At the end of 12 minutes of play the McBrayer quintet led 26-6 and by half time had increased their margin to 43-14.

Eastern reserves played a large portion of the second half and with every man connecting the Maroons rolled on to an easy victory. The loss was Berea's seventh within the conference.

ROUT GEORGETOWN

The Eastern Maroons added Georgetown to their long list of net victims by defeating the Tigers 67-44 in a game played in the Eastern gym last night. This was the 12th victory for McBrayer's lads against one defeat, administered by Murray Monday night by a two point margin.

Gerald Becker started the scoring with a free throw and then dropped in a two-pointer from just behind the foul circle to put Eastern on top 3-0. Shemelya hit from the side to increase the lead to 5-0 before the visitors were able to score. A field goal by Lucas, Georgetown guard, and a free shot by Mrazovich made the scoreboard read 6-2 after five minutes of play. Eastern's lead was cut to two points midway of the first half, but they were able to pull away to a 28-20 lead as the first half ended.

The Tigers came back strong at the start of the second period and two quick field goals by Moore and Butler narrowed the Maroon lead to four points. Eastern at this point called time out and then came back to play heads-up ball and increase its lead to 12 points in the next five minutes. The fast pace set by the Maroons began to tell on the visitors in the final minutes, when they scored almost at will.

Georgetown presented a fine ball handling team but was unable to hit the basket, especially in the first half when the Tigers controlled the ball as much as their taller opponents.

Captain Shemelya was the only Maroon regular to see action in the second half as Coach McBrayer kept four of his starting five on the bench.

The scoring for the winners was evenly divided with Becker and Fryz making 11 tallies each, closely followed by Hudnall and Coleman with 10. Reid did not hit for a field goal but dropped in seven consecutive gratis shots.

WESLEYAN DEFEATED

Paul McBrayer's Eastern Maroons had a scare thrown into them last night in the Weaver Health building as the Kentucky Wesleyan Panthers fought them on even terms practically all the game before going down to defeat, 61-48.

The Maroons at times last night seemed listless and on more than one occasion muffed a scoring opportunity. The Panthers fought with a vengeance and more than one spectator thought the Maroons were going to be upset as the Panthers trailed by only five points with a little over eight minutes remaining in the contest.

Eastern drew first blood when Paul Hicks drove in for a crisp shot to give Eastern a 2-0 lead. Fairce Woods, Wesleyan's tiny guard and one of the state's high scorers, evened the count by slipping one through the net from the side of the court. Shemelya sent the Maroons back to the fore on a foul, but Woods tallied for Wesleyan to give them a 4-3 advantage.

The Panthers continued to play heads up ball and soon had increased their margin to 7-4. Then Ed Ehemelya and Joe Fryz picked up the tempo for Eastern and with five minutes gone the Maroons were out in front 8-7. After three more minutes had slipped by the Panthers were still hanging on for life, 10-9. The Maroons rallied and with Fryz, Shemelya and Mrazovich showing the way ran the Eastern margin to 22-10. Eastern continued to hold off the driving Panthers and by halftime were leading 31-28.

At the start of the second half Ed Shemelya started the Maroons off by dropping in a gratis toss, followed by "Chuck" Mrazovich sinking a medium toss before Woods sank two fouls for Wesleyan to make it 34-28 Eastern.

Woods made a charity toss for Wesleyan but Ed Shemelya came back for the Maroons sinking a medium basket. Reis and Woods then connected on a charity toss each to make it 48-41 Eastern. Wesleyan kept on coming with Reis tipping one through the net to make it 48-43. Eastern then took time out and when play was resumed took over and were never in danger again.

Becker and "Chuck" Mrazovich hit for Eastern to increase the Maroon margin to nine points. Snowden sank a foul for Wesleyan, again Mrazovich opened up for Eastern and with three and one-half minutes remaining Eastern led 56-44. The Maroons increased their lead to 58-44 before Woods cut loose again with a foul shot and a basket and Reis a foul before Mrazovich tipped one through the net for Eastern. Joe Fryz finished the evening's scoring by sinking a foul shot to make the final score 61-48 for Eastern.

Vets Win Two

Eastern's Veterans' team defeated the Mt. Vernon VFW team last week by a 47-46 count. The game was played on the Mt. Vernon floor.

Mt. Vernon hit 60 percent of their shots with most of them being made in a freakish manner. The game was nip-and-tuck throughout. With two seconds to play and the score tied 46-46, Jim Argentine was fouled and sank the charity toss to win the game.

Last Friday night Coach Fred Darling's Veteran team defeated the Kentucky Wesleyan Vets by a score of 65 to 32. It was the second win in three starts for the Eastern team which has rapidly been improving since dropping their opening game to the Shamrocks of Lexington.

Nelson, the Vets' all-state forward from Richmond, led the victors with 16 points. The Eastern team played smooth ball all evening and had no trouble turning back the boys from Winchester.

Maroons Battle Hilltoppers in KIAC Contest

The Eastern-Western battle of February 5 will probably draw more attention than any game that has been played in the state in a number of years. Western dropped its opener to U. of L. and then was nosed out by Bowling Green of Ohio by one point. Since then they have taken everything in stride with the exception of a 47-41 defeat at the hands of Georgetown University in Uni Arena, Washington, D. C. Some of the top teams of the nation they have run over are St. Johns 61-54, Canisius 52-50, St. Joseph, Philadelphia, 56-50. The Hilltoppers also ran up one-sided scores in two games played against Brigham Young as well as two very decisive victories in return engagements with Bowling Green of Ohio and U. of L. The U. of L. score was Western 77, Louisville 34.

Coach Ed Diddle has nine men from his famous squad that went to the finals of the national tournament and lost by one point to West Virginia in 1942. Mr. Diddle is not one to boast but feels he has the best team he has ever had in his long stay on the Hilltop.

Dick Dunkel, nationally known expert, rates Western seventh in the nation. Dr. Litkenhous rates them thirteenth and the Ajax rating has them third. In the Ajax rating Western is topped only by U. K. and the Oklahoma Aggies. However, it is felt throughout the state that Western will have to be in top shape when they meet Eastern.

The Hilltoppers leading scorers are Odie Speers, 202; Dee Gibson, 145; Don Ray, 131; Chalmers Embry, 116, and Johnny Oldham, 111. Oren McKinney, an All-American before the war has been off his shooting game and has only dropped in 66 points this season but those who have seen Western play say he is one of the finest ball-handlers in the game. Coach Paul McBrayer will take his high-powered Maroons to Bowling Green Tuesday where his defending KIAC champs will establish headquarters in the Helm Hotel where they will rest up for what will be the most important game in the nation Wednesday night. Good luck, Maroons.

The Sporting Thing

By JACK TALBOT

When Eastern was dropped from the 13 major undefeated teams in the nation they lost little prestige as the following week they were lifted considerably on the "Dunkle" rating sheet. (Looked upon by many as the top dope sheet in the country.)

Eastern shattered another Army record when they dropped 91 points through the hoops against Davis and Elkins. Eastern has scored 871 points in their first 14 games for an average of 62.2, while holding their opponents to 576 points for an average of 41.1.

It certainly was good news when it was announced by the Board of Regents that they had approved a plan whereby they had approved a plan to increase the seating capacity of the Weaver Health Building to 4,000 by next basketball season. Here is hoping that the college architects find a way to push the seating up around the 5,000 mark; this would make Eastern's gym the largest conference gym and might give Eastern a chance to regain the K.I.A.C. tournament that was held here before being moved to Louisville two years ago.

The pleasant weather of the past few weeks has given some 15 or 20 boys a chance to limber up on their golf game, who hope to be in tip-top shape when golf try-outs are called in the very near future.

Last issue this column mentioned the good job Vic Nash was doing as coach at Bald Knob, but we think it is worth repeating. William Vest who early in the week scored 55 points in one game is one of the reasons for Vic's current success.

Several Eastern students are busy officiating basketball games throughout the state. T. C. McDaniels, Bob Rankin, Wendel Tackett, Pete Nonnemacker, Bill De Venzio have been working big school games and T. C. McDaniels has been working college games as well; Mack officiated in the first Georgetown-Eastern game.

Speaking of officials, the two men who worked the last Georgetown-Eastern game were former All-Americans, DeMoisey in basketball and Shively in football.

There were a lot of Murray fans at Murray the night Eastern played them but the two fans that bothered our boys most were Murray's two fan-shaped bankboards.

That very strong aroma of smoke that blanketed the rec-room of the Student Union Building one day last week was laid down by the cigars Casey Nowakowski (former Eastern halfback) was passing out. It that little is half as strong as the cigars were, she should be able to walk in a week or so.

The schedule:

Faculty Notes

Dean W. J. Moore spoke to the Parent Teachers Association in Ravenna, Kentucky, Tuesday, January 21.

Four Eastern professors are serving on committees selected by the Council on Public Higher Education for revising the curricula for certificates. They are Dean W. J. Moore, Dr. D. T. Ferrell, Dr. J. Dorland Coates, and Dr. N. B. Cuff. Dean Moore is chairman of the Committee on Elementary Curriculums for Certification. Dr. Ferrell is serving on the Committee on Secondary Curriculums for Certification; Dr. Coates, Committee on Administration and Supervision Curriculums for Certification, and Dr. Cuff, Committee on Curriculums for Attendance Officer Certification.

These committees have been holding meetings at Lexington and Louisville this week.

A conference of a committee selected by the State Department of Education for the preparation of a bulletin relating to health education in the secondary schools was held on Eastern's campus Friday, January 24. Eastern faculty members on the committee include Dr. Noel B. Cuff, Miss Gertrude Hood, Mr. Charles T. Hughes, Miss Margaret Lingenfeller, Miss Jane Oldham, Mr. Rome Rankin, Mr. Tom Samuels and Miss Elizabeth Wilson.

Dr. Moore will be in Chicago from January 30 to February 1 to confer with Dr. Ernest V. Hollis, an official to the War Assets Administration concerning surplus property for the college.
