215 TO GRADUATE HERE MAY 28

'E' To Graduate Roy Rogers And Barbara Hutton

Did you know that Barbara Hutton will graduate from Eastern this term? And Roy Rogers, too! No, they're not the famous celebrities but just a couple of students receiving their sheepskins.

There are a number of other oddities in the names of our graduating class. Expressing the condition of the study-weary seniors are (Don) Alkin and (Ollie) Back. Coming down the (Norma) Home stretch after four (Joe) Rich years, the (Sue) Gaines (Martha) May be many, but (John) Miles (Roy) Moore will have to be traveled before the (Bill) Strong take their place in the (Harold) Hall of immortals.

Our cry when we go out into the cold cruel world to work will be, "There isn't any (Naomi) Justice," but although the situation is (John) Graves and gets (Jim) Ruffner all the time, we'll have to put on our (Doris) Schuh and head back to the (Walt) Green (Joan) Evans) Hill of Kentucky with (Mary Lee) Brooks, (Loy) White, (Bill) Barnes, and the (Anoma) Bray of the horses, where we can (Catherine) Park ourselves till we fill our (John) Graves.

'E' Med Students Have Fine Record

BY JAYNE TRIVETTE

Eastern's pre-medical students are doing very well in Medical School at the University of Louisville.

At a meeting of the faculty last week, President O'Donnell released some statistics on the Eastern pre-med students. Out of fourteen men, five are in their first year and therefore have not yet been rated. Nine men have been rated seventeen times. Eight have been rated among the top third of their class. Nine others have been rated in the middle third.

Registrar Expects 1250 For Summer

By AL BIANCHI

June will mean vacation time for most of the Eastern students, but for hundreds of others it will be just the beginning of the summer term, which starts June 9th and ends August 1st. The short term this summer will be from June 30th to July 16th. "This year we expect an approximate enrollment of 1250 for the summer term, which is about a hundred more than last summer," said Mr. M. E. Mattox, registrar. This rise is due to the number of elementary teachers returning to complete work for their Provisional Elementary Certificate, which will be a requirement for all teachers by September, 1953. There will also be a larger than average number of male high school grads, who will be trying to get in as much college work as possible before they are drafted.

This summer over 150 courses of study will be offered from all regular academic departments on the campus. There will also be lectures, exhibits, concerts, and other comparable affairs to round out the summer activities.

MODERN DANCE GROUP PRESENTS PROGRAM

The Drum and Sandal Club, under the direction of Miss Mildred Vance, presented its annual modern dance spring concert last Wednesday night. The program was highlighted by specialty music and various presentations of the modern dance.

New Buildings Planned Here

May Build Dorm, Music Structure

By BEN TURPIN

The enrollment at Eastern has increased to such a point that a new dormitory is needed to accommodate the increasing number of students. Eastern now has an enrollment of 800 men but has permanent housing for only 232.

Sullivan Hall, which was originally designed for women students, has been used as a men's dormitory for the past 6 years and has helped to alleviate the housing problem. This use of the dormitory has consequently left the girls without sufficient housing and enrollment of women has been reduced.

New Dorm Planned

Eastern has applied to the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency for a loan of $300,000 to be used in building a new dormitory for men. Some time will probably be required for the approval of the loan. Plans and specifications must be made and the building will not be ready for use before the fall semester of 1953.

The State Property and Building Commission will decide in the next meeting whether or not Eastern is to have a new music building. Plans have already been drawn and the entire project is waiting for this financial appropriation.

College officials have indicated that these two structures when completed will satisfy the housing needs here for many years to come.

Of these, twenty-one will be eligible for active duty after graduation. The rest will not graduate from Eastern until later. Four men will report back to Eastern June 15 to be sworn in for Regular Army Commissions. They are Robert E. Robertson and Clarence L. Heiss, Artillery Corps; William R. "Graduation Time!"

Seniors Offer Advice To All

'Plan Wisely,' Say Grads

"Advice to underclassmen," that's the survey made by the Journalism II class for this final Progress issue. Here are the replies received from our graduating seniors:

Dave Rodgers, Loyall, "My advice to college students is to establish objectives and characteristics which will enable them to be beneficial to the college and any way of life they may wish to lead. Also, choose your friends wisely."

Basil Seale, Ravenna, "Choose a major wisely and don't change it."

Donald Adams, Martin, "Try and make your curriculum contract out before your senior year. It is much easier working off required courses when you are in your freshman, sophomore, and junior years instead of loading yourself down in your senior year and taking a chance on coming up on the short end by graduation."

Ross Herron, Covington, "In making out a schedule one should pick the classes he needs, not the snap courses."

Jean Hawkins, Moorefield, "My advice to a freshman would be, stop and think about that first year because when you look back, those grades will be important. In other words—the freshman year counts."

Chuck Hertzler, Pittsburgh, Pa., "Start off on the right foot. Get down to studying at the beginning of the first semester."

Coleman Witt, Richmond, "Do the best job possible in your basic courses so that you can establish a good credit rating early in the game."

Mrs. Eunice Owens Singleton, Richmond, "Stick to your major and do not try to change it every time you are unhappy with it."

Jo Jarbo, Campbellsville, "Stick straight to one's major and get the contract filled out as soon as possible."

Ann Gover, Somerset, "Stay out of a certain corner in the grill and do not be a 'rah-rah.'"

Tom Meyer, Aurora, Ind., "If I were giving advice to a freshman student, I would tell him not to spend all his leisure time in the grill."

Bill Strong, Hazard, "School is what the individual makes out of it. You don't get any more out (Continued on Page Two)

Clyde Trask Is Prom Choice

The annual Junior-Senior Prom will be held at Walnut Hall in the Student Union Building, May 23, from 9:00 to 1:00. The prom this year, will feature the music of Clyde Trask, one of the mid-west's most popular orchestras.

According to the Eastern tradition, all senior students are admitted to the dance free of charge as a parting farewell to Eastern's campus. To all other students on the campus $3.00 will be the admission price.

Keith Wiggins, president of the Junior Class, who has directed the work on the prom, wishes to express his appreciation to all the juniors who have worked hard to put on this annual affair.

Progress Salutes

(The PROGRESS salutes these individuals and groups for helping make our institution a greater Eastern.)

Here's a big salute to our popular and efficient president, Dr. W. F. O'Donnell. Now serving his eleventh year as chief executive here, he has devoted his life's work to education. He is fair minded, treats all departments on an equal basis, and has seen Eastern's enrollment skyrocket to all time highs in his reign here. Our president always finds time for a friendly greeting to all and his door is always open to those young citizens faced with the problems of education and becoming our leaders of tomorrow.

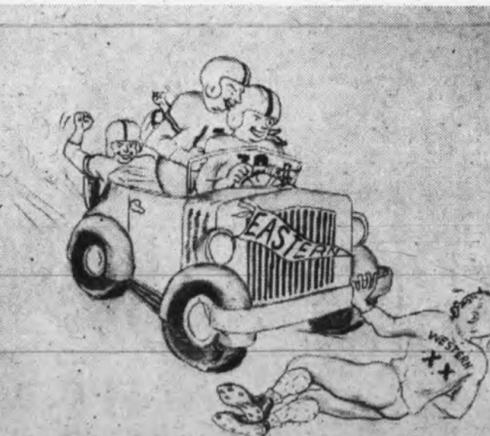

Hats off to one of the greatest athletes and competitors ever to wear an Eastern uniform—Jim Baechtold of Moon Township, Pa. This soft spoken 6-4, 200 pound giant has been a regular on the varsity basketball team for four years. He brought national recognition to the college by being selected to the United Press' All-America team and was chosen by many of Eastern's opponents as one of the outstanding players they had faced. After a few years at professional or AAU basketball, he hopes to return to Kentucky—to teach, and coach basketball.

Congratulations to the graduating class of 1952. May they contribute as much to our fine state and great nation as they have contributed to the college. No longer are they faced with lessons, tests, quizzes and term lessons. On the horizon are such obstacles as food, shelter, clothing, families, taxes and military service.

We Thank You

With this, the last issue of the Progress for the 1951-52 school year, we feel we should take advantage of our final opportunity to express our thanks and appreciation to the students, faculty members, printers, advertisers, and the many others who have contributed in any way to the success of the Progress. Many of those doing much to promote the Progress are never given credit on the masthead, but they are the people who have worked conscientiously with a ceaseless desire to help better the paper without any special recognition except gratitude. To list all these people would require more space than is available, but may they know who they are and feel that their efforts have been sincerely appreciated.—The Editors.

THE CAT'S MEOW

I thought for a while that if I was going to get any gossip for you this time I would have to hitch-hike to Boonesboro and that's a pretty hard job for a cat. But since the weather has changed, I've been able to find out a little bit by roaming around in the grill. When it changes again you may find a drowning cat in the river so be sure and drag him out. It will in all probability be me.

It looks like somebody has gotten into the Clay Moore-Betsy Otis act. Brian Gibbs seems to be claiming a lot of Betsy's attention these days.....A new couple we've seen together lately is Jo Jarboe and Sid Smith. When did all this happen?.....From all indications, Hacksaw's favorite song is once again "Sweet Sue.".....Jim Cox and Peggy Hinton are seeing a lot of each other lately. What happened to Bob?.....Wedding bells are not far off for Gene Jones and a former Eastern student, Marlene Readnow. It's to be the last of this month.....Those old bells will be chiming for Bradie and Paul this summer also. Good luck to all of you.....The ring has been slipped on Twilla Simpson's finger by Jake Hiale.....Whoops! I almost forgot to say that Joe Gill will soon become an old married man.....It looks like a few more couples have reached the going steady stage. Some of them are Ray Tingle and Peggy Kraus Jackie Ritter and Chick Johnson, Mary Lou Jones and Paul Hager, and "Lindy" and "Lampy.".....What's that pin that Lillian Marcum is sporting? It looks like it may belong to Mike Margaritis.....Another new pair I've seen is Bob Spicer and Janet Dameron....."Dutch" and Laura Lou seem to be still hitting it off o. k.....Is Carl Eagle really sick a lot or is there some special attraction over at the infirmary?.....The flip of a coin determines who will take Gay Sells out lately, Bill Bales, Howard Gracey, or Tommy McAnallen. Gracey seems to be winning. He must have a two-headed coin.....These Northern Kentucky people really seem to stick together. Just look at Edie Taylor and Joe Rich.....I wonder what new couple will be attending the Prom.....I overheard two little freshman girls wondering how Bob Faust would look with his hair grown out a little.....Peace has come at last to Charlie True. It has come in the form of a girl named Jane.....Charlotte Rees has a summer job at Cedar Point. That's up Camp Atterbury and Joe Mock way, isn't it?.....I might be mistaken but that certainly didn't look like Owen Hauck's mother with him on Mother's Day.....Barbara Hutton seems to be spending most of her week-ends away from Eastern. It must be Pete. How are the mumps anyway?.....It looked like Huey Brooks and Flossie were o. k. for awhile, but who was that girl he called for a date the other night?.....Ann, Roger, and Martin J. are all venturing to summer school this year. It might be interesting to see what happens!.....Here are two more new couples, Viv Wilson and Jake Rutledge and Betty Mayo and Charlie Hammons. Things certainly do happen around here in the springtime.

Testing

A certain professor bought a copy of his final examination to be mimeographed by his secretary. The girl read it and said to the professor, "Sir, this is exactly the same exam you gave last semester."

"Yes," replied the professor, "but I changed the answers."

CLUB NEWS

By EDITH TAYLOR

What's this? A new club on the campus? It seems that some initiative males joined together to organize a men's discussion club and named it Phi Iota. Professor Burns, Mrs. Barnhill, and Mrs. Chenault helped those interested in forming the organization which is similar to the coffee shops of Ben Johnson's time to meet the needs for informal exchanges of ideas. Officers are Darrel Winger, president; Gordon Cook, vice-president; Bill Howard, secretary-treasurer; and John Watson, program chairman. A different professor or other qualified person is the guest speaker of Phi Iota which meets every two weeks. President O'Donnell spoke to the group at yesterday's meeting.

Last Saturday certainly was the day of picnics. Math Club journeyed to Dr. Park's farm in Lincoln County to celebrate their year's work. Members and guests could join the fun.

Natural Bridge was the setting for the Biology Club's picnic on the same day. Members and guests were invited to attend. Fannie Newby, Glenn Brown, Lillie Mae Reed, and Mr. Hopp served on the food committee. Transportation committee was composed of Elmer Stewart, Bob Burkich, Mr. Whitt, and Mr. Hopp, Paul Bybee and Edwin Dale were in charge of reservations.

"Plan your work; work your plan" was the theme for the 22nd annual YWCA-YMCA retreat held last Friday through Sunday at Camp Patterson in Lee County. New officers of the YW for the coming year are: Wanda Smyth, president; Edith Ann Taylor, vice-president; Georgia Williams, secretary; and Pat Rickey, treasurer. Hugh Brooks is the newly elected president of the YM. Huey will be assisted next year by Chalmers Vineyard, vice-president, George McKinney secretary, and Buddy Cury, treasurer.

Betty Crank, Pat Rickey, Jimmie Sue Bateman, and Sue Goebel are the "big four" officers in the governing body of Burnam Hall for 1952-53. Steland Hall will be guided under the leadership of Thelma Benge, president, Ann Lowery, vice-president, and Ginny Durbin, secretary-treasurer.

Wesley Banquet Held

Wesley Foundation climaxed its year's work with a banquet at Benault Inn Tuesday evening, May 13. Following the dinner, newly elected officers were installed at a candlelight service at the First Methodist Church. Edith Ann Taylor was installed as president along with Jerry Wright, vice-president, Naomi Davis, secretary, Tom Grise, treasurer, and Jenny Lou Steil as program chairman.

Editors Repeat

Congratulations Kay and Ruthie! Kay Wilson and Ruth Hulker will serve their second year as co-editors of the "Progress." They have done a fine job. Keep up the good work!

The World Affairs Club's banquet was held Wednesday evening, May 14, at the Beaumont Inn in Harrodsburg. Approximately 20 members and guests attended the affair.

KYMA Club had its final affair of this year last night at the Benault Inn in the form of a banquet. Mr. Paul Duncan was guest speaker. President Bob Elmer served as toastmaster. Nineteen try-outs were taken into the club as members. Each was presented with a maroon "E." Three year members were awarded white "E." Clyde White was in charge of the reservations. Other officers for this year are: Ken Novell, vice-president and Bob Garrett, try-out manager.

Caduceus Club

Newly elected officers serving Caduceus Club for 1952-53 are: Paul Bybee, president; Bobby Gibbs, vice-president; Dot Ogden, secretary; and Hoover Perry, treasurer.

More news about those math people. Don Fields will be the Math club's president for next year. Other elected officers are: Jack Shell, vice-president, Grace Reynolds, secretary, and Doug Hibbard, treasurer. Senior George Hembree was the graduating member selected to receive a year's membership in the Mathematical Association of America.

The Music Council closed its year's activity with a banquet in the Blue Room, Thursday evening, May 15. Peggy Chandler, Mary Lou Jones, Juanita Thompson, and Evelyn Parks Rymer are the four officers elected to lead this club for 1952-53.

Alpha Psi Chapter of Kappa Pi initiated Martha Chambers, Larry Roth, and Eugene Lefebvre as new members into the club Tuesday. Cakes and cookies were served afterwards.

Schmidt Elected

Big man of next year's "E" club is Chuck Schmidt. Chuck was elected to succeed Ross Herron in the office of president. Bill Adams will serve as vice-president; Bob Mueller as treasurer; Elmer Tolson as secretary; and sergeant of arms will be Don Daly. This group will fill the vacancies left by Bob Shockley, Chuck Schmidt, John Dorman, and Walter Green respectively. Also at this meeting, a new bill stating that a silver "E" ring rather than a gold one will be presented to men lettering in minor sports, under the same conditions as those lettering in football and basketball was passed. In past years the club has given each graduating member a gold ring.

A boat ride on the Kentucky River ended a successful year for the Westminster Fellowship group. Sunbathing, picture taking, swimming, and singing added to the fun.

Class Of '52 Saw Many Changes

By ROSS HERRON

Four years ago a group of eager freshmen entered Eastern. On May 28, many members of this same group will be saying farewell to Eastern after working for their degrees. Many instructors and fellow students will undoubtedly make mention of the many changes that have occurred to this group but few will take notice of the changes that have occurred to the college while this group has been here.

Surely this graduating class will never forget the small, cramped gym in which they first saw the Eastern basketball team play, nor will they forget the pleasure of going to games after the Weaver Health Building had been enlarged to give it twice the floor space that it had previously.

Although this same group will not receive the benefits of the new Roark Extension, they most assuredly will remember it's beginning, and the months of tramping through mud that accompanied the installation of a new steam system.

Then there was the time everyone came back from spring vacation and found the direction of the campus drive changed!

Many Changes Seen
Aside from the many physical changes at Eastern, this senior class has witnessed many changes in the student body and their activities. When these present seniors started school here, they found themselves in the height of the G. I. bill student enrollment. Since then, the student body has gradually given way to the typical young college student, fresh from high school.

This will probably startle many freshman, but this senior class can remember when all underclass girls were required to be in the dorms at 7:30 p. m., because it was during their freshman year that the college inaugurated the plan of allowing these girls out to 9:00 p. m.

These people, too, remember the several attempts at student government which have appeared periodically on the campus, and they won't forget their relief when they learned theirs was to be the first class to enter Eastern that would not be subjected to "Hell Week."

Lastly, these people will look back fondly on the day that Mozart appeared on the campus and began his never ending vigilance of campus activities.

'Maytime'

By CHARLENE FARRIS

Just strolling through the campus on a bright and sunny day. It isn't March or April, for now it's really May.

Yes, May in all its glory keeping classes out of reach. And May with all its sunshine baking girls on Burnam Beach.

The outdoor theater is crowded with its fans.

While others are at Boonesboro lying on the sand.

May is quiet tranquil till that last eventful week.

When from every little corner the tests begin to peek.

The time is drawing nigh and May is almost gone.

Soon from Hiram Brock we'll hear Commencement Song.

Another year is over, some shed a parting tear.

And bid farewell to may—and Eastern—till next year.

Progress Tells Of 'Ye Olde Eastern'

By BARBARA HUTTON

Did you know that during the 1920's Eastern was an entirely different looking place than it is now? At one time an annual May Day was held on the campus and a May Queen was crowned. During the 20's there were various Literary Societies—Horace Mann, The The Excelsior, Washingtonian, and Utopian. The Men's Club, The We Lovers—Womer, Haters, and Open Forum Committee.

The literary was in the Elementary Training School Building and the gymnasium was a building that rather resembled a barn. One night every week the students gathered there for plays, games and folk dancing. This form of activity was gradually replaced by our formal dances of today.

Burnam Smaller

Burnam Hall was much smaller than at present and the dining hall was located in the basement of the building. The back of the dormitory was surrounded by beds or flowers. There were fox hunts on the campus as well as numerous other activities for student participation.

But, did you know that there are a good many of 1920's instructors still on the campus? These instructors that came to Eastern during the years between 1920 and 1930 and remained are Mr. R. S. Park, Mrs. Julian Tyng, Miss Mary F. McKinney, Miss Anna A. Schneib, Miss Pearl Buchanan, Mr. Virgil Burns, Mr. Meredith Cox, Mr. M. E. Mattox, Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Miss Brown E. Telford, Miss Mary Floyd, Miss Mary K. Burrier, Miss Cora E. Lee, Miss Edith Ford, Mr. Kerney Adams, Mr. W. G. Moore, Miss Ruby Rush, Mr. Samuel Walker, Mr. W. L. Keene, Mr. J. T. Dorris, Miss Jane Campbell, Mr. Roy E. Clark, Mr. Noel B. Cuff, Mr. Fred Engle, D. T. Ferrell, Miss Anna D. Gill, Mr. G. M. Gumbert, Mr. Thomas C. Herndon, Miss Gertrude Hood, Mr. L. G. Kennamer, Mrs. Janet Murbach, Miss Evelyn Slater, Mr. James E. Van Puersum, Mr. Charles T. Hughes, Mr. R. R. Richards, Mr. P. M. Grise and Mr. Charles A. Keith.

If you would like to find out more about Eastern and your instructors looked in the 1920's, visit the library and look at the annuals which date all of the way from 1922 to 1951, and there is also a 1910 annual called the Blue-mont.

Dr. Dorris Presents Gavel To Historical Association

A gavel made from one of the famous sycamore trees at Sycamore Hollow in Madison County, Ky., was presented to the Southern Appalachian Historical Association at Boone, N. C., last month by Dr. J. T. Dorris, Richmond, Ky.

Dr. Dorris, presented the gavel to Dr. I. G. Greer, president of the association, at a meeting on April 14 attended by more than 100 prominent citizens of northwestern North Carolina, East Tennessee and Virginia.

Dr. Dorris spoke on the interest of the people of Richmond, Boonesboro and elsewhere in Kentucky in preserving and dramatizing the rich historical resources of Daniel Boone's times.

Shakespeare Attended College, Says Writer Bates

By BRUCE BATES

Little is known of a seven-year period in Shakespeare's youth. It is my theory that during at least part of this time he went to college. Following are lines which bear out my assumption:
.....Shakespeare obviously got his inspiration for this passage after eating a bowl of cafeteria soup;
"Double, double, toil and trouble;
Fire burn and cauldron bubble.
In the the cauldron hold and bake

Eye of newt and toe of frog,
Wool of bat and tongue of dog."
—Macbeth, Act IV, scene 1
.....Making out schedule:
"Which of them shall I take?
Both? One Or neither?"—King Lear, Act V, scene 3

.....On registration day:
"What! will this line stretch out to the crack of doom?"—Macbeth, Act IV, scene 1
.....View of the faculty:
"What horrid image doth unfix my hair
And make my seated heart knock at my ribs?"—Macbeth, Act I, scene 3
.....Faculty's view of the freshmen:
"What are these, so wild in their attire
That look not like the inhabitants of the earth
And yet are on it?"—Macbeth, Act I, scene 3
.....Teacher, giving semester grades:
"To B or not to B; that is the question."—Hamlet, Act III, scene 1

In class:
"My spirits grow dull, and fain I would beguile
The tedious day with sleep."—Hamlet, Act III, scene 1
.....Beginning a test:
"O, what a noble mind is here o'erthrown!"—Hamlet, Act III, scene 1
.....Grading the test:
"Here are a few of the unpleasantest words
That ever blotted paper."—The Merchant of Venice, Act III, scene 2

Miss Ford to German class:
"Oh, were mine eyeballs into bullets turned
That I might shoot them at your faces."—Henry V, Act IV, scene 7
.....Roy Rogers, looking at his car:
"A horse, a horse! My kingdom for a horse!"—King Richard the Fourth, Act V, scene 5

Question:
"Can no man tell me of my unthriftly son?
'Tis full three months since I did see him last."—Richard II, Act V, scene 3
Answer:
"Inquire 'mongst the taverns,
For there, they say, he daily doth frequent."—Richard II, Act V, scene 3

Eastern Grad Runs New York's Largest Terminal

Lee Webb Bus Chief

Lee C. Webb, formerly of Science Hill and a graduate of Eastern in the class of 1932, was the subject of a feature article by Rhea Talley in her "Life With Father Knickerbocker" column from New York City in the March 23 issue of The Courier-Journal.

He runs the world's largest motor terminal, the Port Authority Bus Terminal on Eighth Avenue in New York. Twenty-eight bus companies use it and 200,000 persons pass through it daily.

"Webb is an easygoing, slightly grayed gentleman of 45 who looks something like President Truman," the article states. "On the walls of his office on the second floor of the spick-and-span building is a photograph of his wife, the former Hazel Brandenburg of Richmond, Ky., whom he met on a bus, and his children, Stephen, 11, and Linda, 5. He commutes from his home in River Edge, N. J., on a bus, of course."

Mrs. Webb is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brandenburg, formerly of Richmond.

After attending Eastern and the University of Kentucky, Webb continued his education and his part-time bus driving in Richmond, graduated from Eastern in 1932 with the intention of teaching biology. Since the teaching profession was hit by the depression about that time, he continued as a bus driver and received a series of promotions which led to his appointment in 1947 by the Port Authority of New York as superintendent of the bus terminal. The terminal was in the blueprint stage and was not opened until December, 1950.

Webb has been an active member of the Eastern Alumni Association for a number of years and visits the campus whenever he has the opportunity.

Dr. Black Gets Copy Of Patent Was Co-Inventor Of Apparatus

Dr. J. G. Black, chairman of the physics department of Eastern recently received a copy of the patent granted in 1951 as co-inventor of a device entitled, "Apparatus for Determining the Composition of a Substance."

The original purpose of the machine was to control the flow of chemicals for the production of synthetic rubber and was invented by Dr. Black and three other scientists of the Philips Laboratories, Irvington-on-Hudson, N. Y. The design arose from a request from the United States Rubber Reserve made through the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Black also holds a patent which covers five different models of a machine for instructional purposes in schools and colleges. He now has another patent under consideration by government attorneys, with license free privileges granted to the government but with possible industrial applications being retained for himself.

Other inventions made during many years of work in colleges, universities, and government and industry have been covered by eight patent disclosures in industry and four in government work, in addition to a large number recorded personally.

Work Covers Wide Range

Dr. Black's collegiate activities include pure research and instrument design in the department of physics at the University of Kentucky, results of which were published in the Physical Review of Scientific Instruments; research on atomic structure and Spectroscopy done in the physics department at the University of Michigan; several years in the department of engineering research at the University of Michigan, and numerous articles and scientific papers before societies such as The American Physical Society, Kentucky Association of Physics Teachers, Kentucky section of the American Chemical Society, Kentucky section of the Mathematical Association of America, and the American Association of Physics Teachers.

The work has dealt with a wide range of subjects, including atomic, thermal, mechanical, electrical, electromechanical, electronic and optical. Under consideration at present are designs of academic nature and other designs made in connection with consulting work for the Navy.

Dr. W. J. Moore Is Veteran Educator

By HENRY MAYO

"Today there seems to be a tendency for problems of higher education to be attacked on a national basis more than ever before. Some of the means of affording the attack in a unified way are the National Conference on Higher Education, the National Committee on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, and the American Association of Schools for Administrators." These are the words of Dean W. J. Moore of Eastern concerning education of today.

Dean Moore is one of the most influential members of the educational system of Kentucky today. This is shown through the following list of his activities which appeared in Who's Who. He has been a member of or is now a member of the American and Southern Economic Association, secretary of the Kentucky Tax Revision Commission, the Political Science Association of America, the American Society for Public Administrators, the American Educational Association, the National Tax Association, the Perry-Victory and International Memorial National Monument Association, past president of the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternities, Phi Delta Phi, honorary legal fraternity, chairman of the Advisory Committee to the Council on Public Higher Education in Kentucky, Director of Public School Finance Commission of Revenue for Kentucky, and a member of the Kentucky House of Representatives.

DEAN MOORE

Was Student Here

Dean Moore was once a student at Eastern. He spent two years on this campus before transferring to the University of Kentucky. It was there that he received his A. B., A. M., and Ph. D. He was a student in the College of Law for two years.

In 1928 W. J. Moore returned to Eastern as Professor of Economics and became head of the Commerce Department. Not many years later he achieved the position which he holds today. During this time he has been an active member of the Lion's Club and was at one time District Governor of the Lion's International.

Changes Cited

When asked how Eastern has changed since he was a student, he replied, "There has been a great change in the environment. The students of today are more inquisitive, that is, they have a greater knowledge of what goes on about them. They have more contact with the outside world and have become active rather than passive. The students now are more broadminded and are much more tolerant on most things." He is well qualified to judge the students of today for in no college is there a dean any more friendly or helpful to the students or any more interested in them. These are only a few of Dean Moore's qualifications which have endeared him to each and every student since the day he first walked into his own office in the Administration Building as the new Dean of Eastern.

Music Camp Plans Are Made

Will Commence June 15

By BILL McCLANAHAN

"Play is learning and learning is play," is the motto of the Stephen Collins Foster Music Camp which will be held here from June 15 to July 19 this year. High school music students from 27 states and Canada have attended the camp during its past sixteen seasons.

The camp in its seventeenth season will have as its nationally known guest conductor this year, Mr. Carl Fuerstner from the University of Utah. Aiding Mr. Fuerstner will be, as usual, the music faculty of Eastern, headed by Mr. James E. Van Peurse. Mr. "Van" will direct the band and orchestra which will give at least three public concerts a week in the college amphitheater, if the weather permits. The participants in the camp will have all the privileges that the college offers. They will experience dormitory life, eat in the school cafeteria, use the college hospital, and will have many recreational activities such as swimming, tennis and softball.

Over the past sixteen seasons that the Foster Music Camp has been in existence, many of its campers have become successful in the field of music, according to Mr. Van Peurse. Eleven professional symphony orchestras now have, or have had, former Foster campers on their rosters.

For information and application blanks write to Mr. James E. Van Peurse, Director, Foster Music Camp, Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, Ky.

Sigma Lambda Has Spanish Party Here

By ANN McLEASTER

Fiesta Time came to Eastern in the form of a Spanish pinata party on May 13. This surprisingly different party was the second of its kind given by the Sigma Lambda foreign language society at the home of Dr. Janet Murbach.

The Sigma Lambda Society, organized in 1928, was reactivated in 1951. This move was prompted by the desire of the foreign language students to share their common interest in language and to study the customs of foreign peoples. All students studying a foreign language are automatically members of Sigma Lambda. No dues are paid, but a project is sponsored to raise money for expenses and for contributions to worthy causes in which the club might be interested. In September, 1951, the movie "Joan of Arc" was sponsored by Sigma Lambda for this purpose.

Movies of life in foreign lands are the main attraction of at least three meetings each semester. Twice a year the club has a Sigma Snack, a social meeting. The officers of Sigma Lambda for the current year were: Eugene LeFebvre, president; Betty Mayo, vice president; Janet Dameron, secretary-treasurer; and Peggy Kraus, business manager.

W. A. Ault Now In 30th Year Here

By Jane McCord

Thirty years ago this month Mr. William A. Ault first assumed the position of superintendent of buildings and grounds. Eastern's campus in 1922 had only six buildings which were maintained by the school's own electric power plant. Since then the Student Union Building, Weaver Health Building and many others have been added to more than double his duties.

As superintendent of buildings and grounds, Mr. Ault is in charge of the interior and exterior of buildings, care of grounds, plumbing, heating and lights. In addition to his tasks on the campus proper, Veterans' Village is also in his care.

He is also an active member of the Masons and a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church.

Maroon Squads Complete Great Year

Gridders, Cagers Runnersup, Baseballers Win Division

Track Team Wins 12 Straight

"Anytime you face a team wearing Eastern uniforms, you're in for a real battle!" Those are the words recently spoken by one of the leading sportswriters of the south. With the end of another school year comes the end of another fine year of athletic competition for the Maroon varsity squads.

Maroons Runners-Up

In Ohio Valley Conference play, Eastern's football and basketball squads were runners-up in regular season play. Just a little break or bounce of the ball would have given the Maroons a championship in either sport.

Coach Tom Samuels' gridiron crew missed a share of the conference title by that heartbreaking 7-6 loss to Evansville. If you recall, Eastern had two touchdowns called back by penalties in the closing minutes of play in this game. The overall football record was seven victories and three setbacks.

Coach Paul McBrayer's basketball charges also copped the second spot in the regular season standings. Western, the winner, had a record of eleven wins and one loss while the McBrayermen won ten and lost two.

Hughesmen Repeat

In baseball, Coach Turkey Hughes' nine repeated as champions of the Eastern Division in the conference. The 5-0 shutout handed Marshall last Saturday gave the Maroons the crown and put them in the final playoffs with Western.

Track interest has been on the rise here in recent years mainly through the efforts of Coach Fred Darling. In the past two seasons, his teams have won a string of 12 dual meets before dropping the 13th encounter.

And there's tennis too. Last spring the Maroon netters won the OVC title. In the conference tournament last week, Don Augaback and Karl Jones won the doubles crown. That's the way Eastern's teams go. If you don't find them on top just look near the top and there they are.

Progress Mirror Recalls Memories

BY BEN TURPIN

Have you ever wondered about some of the events that happened on the old campus in days gone by? Here are a few things that happened only eight years ago when some of you freshmen were still struggling with your spelling in the fifth grade.

"Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Dean of women at Eastern State Teachers College, has been invited to meet with college women in Covington Friday to assist in organizing a chapter of the American Association of University Women."

Coach "Rome" Rankin, Tom Samuels and "Turkey" Hughes have turned their athletic thoughts this year completely to the task of whipping all men on the campus into real fighting shape, fit for any job to which duty might call them. Of course, the three coaches who were responsible for the great Eastern football teams of former years still have a soft spot in their hearts for that rugged sport, but due to prevailing conditions it is naturally impossible to schedule any games."

"The enlisted personnel of WAC branch No. 6, army administration schools, presented an informal WAC show called, "At Ease."

"Cecil Young's orchestra has been engaged to play for the military ball."

"Col. John R. Starkey, commanding officer of the ASTP-ROTC units at Eastern, will retire on completion of this year's duties."

"Dr. W. J. Moore, professor of economics and head of the division of applied arts and sciences at Eastern State Teachers College, has been given a leave of absence by the college board of regents, at a recent meeting, to devote full time to his work as state director of finances, department of education, Frankfort."

Eastern graduated only 43 seniors in this year of war but it seems that the campus life of 1944 was much the same as today.

LT. DOVE IN KOREA

Second Lt. Joseph L. Dove, whose wife, Mrs. Mary Spillman Dove, lives at 306 Ridgeway, St. Mathews, Ky., is now serving on the mud-bogged eastern front in Korea with the 25th Infantry Division.

His unit, with its attached Turkish brigade, has been holding down a battle line northwest of the Punchbowl.

Lieutenant Dove, (class of '51) a member of the 69th Field Artillery Battalion's Battery A, entered the Army in October 1951. He was previously stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.

These college men may be assured that they will not be ordered to active duty until they have completed the current college year.

An applicant for the NavCad program must have completed a minimum of two years of college. He must have reached his 18th birthday but not have passed his 27th; he must also be single and remain so until commissioned. In addition, each candidate must pass a physical exam and an aptitude test.

After 18 months of intensive flight training, a NavCad is commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve or a 2nd Lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve. The newly commissioned Naval aviator then spends approximately two and one half years with the Fleet. Following this tour of duty, former NavCads have the opportunity to make a career in the Regular Navy; but most return to their hometown areas and civilian jobs, and continue flying as members of Naval or Marine Air Reserve squadrons.

During the 18 months of training, a NavCad receives $105.00 a month, plus uniforms, lodging and board, medical and dental care and $10,000.00 orth of insurance. Upon receiving his commission as an Ensign or 2nd Lieutenant, his pay increases to $355.75.

Interested applicants are invited to write or visit the NavCad Procurement Officer, U. S. Naval Air Station, Columbus, Ohio.

PROGRESS PREDICTION

Don't look for Western and Louisville to meet in basketball next season. Insiders feel that Peck Hickman would like to play the Hilltoppers but towel-waving Ed Diddle may not be interested. Incidentally, Western has a two-year losing streak here on Eastern's floor.

Marines Offer College Students Officer Program

All Classes Eligible

Captain David Mixer of Marine Corps Officer Procurement in Cincinnati announced recently that all under-graduates, including seniors about to graduate, are eligible to apply for one of the two Marine Corps Officer training programs. The Marines offer an ROTC plan for freshmen, sophomores and juniors or an Officer Candidate Course for men who have graduated or who are about to graduate from college.

With an enlarged Marine Corps and with reserves being returned to inactive duty, the Marines want and need well qualified college students as officer candidates. Therefore, they have organized two programs to train men for current and future needs.

JUNE GRADUATES

All men who are graduating from college this spring, and who are subject to service immediately under Selective Service, are eligible to apply for the Officer Candidate Course which convenes on July 10th, at Marine Corps Schools in Quantico, Virginia. Upon successful completion of the ten week course the Candidate is commissioned as a second lieutenant in the reserve. He is then required to serve for two years of active duty. The first five and a half months of this tour of duty are spent in advance Officer training, Basic Officers School, also in Quantico.

Deferment For Undergraduates

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors, who are pursuing a full course of study for a baccalaureate degree, can apply for the Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class. Membership in this program grants the same deferment allowed for members of an ROTC unit through graduation from college. The training phase of this program is conducted in two six-week training sessions on two different summers. Successful completion of both training periods, plus graduation from college, makes the candidate eligible for commissioning as a second lieutenant. If the needs of the service require it, these newly commissioned officers will then be called to active duty for two years under the same plan shown above for current college seniors.

Qualifications For Application

To qualify for either of these courses a student must be taking a full-time, four-year course for a baccalaureate degree. He must be found physically qualified and be considered good potential officer material. In order to apply for either program students will have to contact the Marine Procurement Officer, Captain Mixer, either in his office in the Post Office Building in Cincinnati or through the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Lexington, Ky., on Wednesday May 14th.

Further information and application blanks are available through the Dean of Men's office. Captain Mixer indicates that he will be glad to answer any spe-

Swimmers End Fine Season

BY JOHN NOLAND

Closing the season this year, five of Eastern's mermen met some of Kentucky's best at the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool at Louisville.

The meet, held under the direction of the A. A. U., consisted of representatives from Eastern and the University of Louisville, and from Louisville's St. Xavier and Male high schools.

The outstanding attraction of the meet went to the women's events. The girls, representing numerous clubs and organizations in and around Louisville, put on a show for the near-capacity crowd and registered high tallies in their respective events.

Brooks Is Second

Taking second place in the highly competitive diving event for the men's position was Eastern's Huey Brooks. Brooks, hampered by a knee injury, received second honors only after being edged out by a U. of L. swimmer. Also receiving top honors was Eastern's medley relay team, consisting of Bill Vendl, Gordon Fleck, and Johnny Noland.

Several of the mermen received their letters this year after capturing the necessary points from scoring positions. Huey Brooks took two out of three diving events and scored a second. Noland placed first in five events followed by Gordon Fleck, the backstroke, and the two distance swimmers, Bill Vendl and Jesse Reed.

The team this year had good backing from the college. What the team lacked was material. Only a hand-full of swimmers reported for practice at the beginning of the season and several of these dropped from the team before the season got under way.

TODORAN MAY WED

Word comes from Harlan County way that Roman Todoran may soon be hearing wedding bells. Todoran, former Maroon griddler, has been teaching and coaching at Hall High the past year.

Questions either by mail at Room 242, Post Office Building, Cincinnati or in person. However, he urges all interested students to contact him as soon as possible, as both programs will be closing for applications in the near future.

Track Team Eyes Windup

OVC Meet At TPI

Coach Fred Darlings' track team, eyeing the O. V. C. meet at Cookeville, Tenn., Saturday, is working hard this week in preparation for the season windup. The Maroon and White thinclads ran their victory string to 12 straight in two seasons before bowing to the Tennessee Tech squad at Cookeville last weekend. The varsity track team could not overcome the jinx connected with nailing down the 13th dual meet victory. Tech's well-balanced squad scored a decisive 86-36 win over the Maroons. However, the Eastern team was minus the help of such leading runners as Jack Bond and Gordon Fleck who did not make the trip.

Maroon Hopes

Much of the Maroons' hopes in the conference meet will be riding on dashman Jack Bond of Lexington, and two hurdlers, Jack Jones of Danville and Donald Little of Millersburg.

Bond, the fleet footed Maroon halfback, is unbeaten this spring in the 100 yard dash. The former Lafayette High School speedster has been clocked under the ten second mark twice this spring.

Jones and Little have nailed down Eastern points in the hurdles this season. At the OVC meet last year, Jones set new records in both the low and high hurdles. However, Little has been giving him plenty of competition thus far.

In the distance events, the Maroons have John Paul Jones of Lexington in the one and two mile runs, and Gordon Fleck and Ralph Perry in the one-half and quarter mile events.

In the field entries, Jim Bingham and Clay Moore should aid the Maroons in the high jump. Chuck Schmidt, Tom Sammons and Bob Shockley are expected to garner some points in the shot put and discus throws.

MARCHING MAROONS TOUR

The Eastern Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Harold Atkinson, ended a successful year on May 12 and 13 on a tour of Southeastern Kentucky.

The fifty-piece music makers, better known in football season as the Marching Maroons, played five programs in 48 hours. Cities visited included London, Pineville, Barbourville, Corbin, and Middisboro.

Doubles Team Wins Crown

Eastern's tennis team made a fine showing in the O. V. C. meet last week with Don Augsback and Karl Jones winning the doubles championship. The Maroon netters won 6 of 9 matches in regular season play.

Augsback and Jones whipped Western's doubles team in the championship round in a thrilling 6-4, 8-10, 6-1 match.

In the past campaign, the Maroon netters won 2 matches from Berea, Tennessee Tech and Marshall while losing 2 close ones to Centre and one to Western.

Making up this year's squad were Paul Trieschman, Augsback, Jones, Bob Rankin, Roger Geyer and Harold Roop.

'Rebuilding Job' Says Grid Coach

BY BOB ELDER

"We have a large rebuilding job ahead of us next fall," says football coach, Tom Samuels. He explains further that although Eastern will have an experienced backfield the line was weakened considerably this spring by graduation.

During the spring drills the coaching staff was impressed with the work of, Jim Rice, Charles True, and Fred Wincher, freshman ends. With the graduation of four varsity ends this fall should see considerable action next fall. Coach Samuels was also pleased with the improvement of Clyde "Moon" Mullins, who did a commendable job of placekicking last season. "Moon" may be a regular guard playing offense this fall.

The 1952 schedule will be more rugged than last year with the addition of the University of Louisville and the University of Toledo to the regularly scheduled conference foes. The Maroon gridders will start fall practice on Sept. 1, in preparation for the season opener at Toledo on Sept. 20.

PARK IS HIGH

Walter (Cue Ball) Park, now in the Air Force at Keesler Field, Miss., was recently ranked second highest in his class of one hundred with an average scholarship grade of 92 per cent. This is his second phase of training. Walter's address is: Pfc. Walter H. Park, A. F. 15-466-645, 3391 Student Squadron, Box 228, Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

Dean Keith Recalls "E" Sports Stars

(PROGRESS reporter Bill McClanahan brings back sports memories in an interview with Dr. C. A. Keith, Dean of Men.)

BY BILL McCLANAHAN

Journalism II Many present day sports fans can recall the names of such stars as Jim Bechtold, Fred Lewis, Goebel Ritter and the Darling brothers, Frank and Ralph. How about the stars of years gone by?

Dr. C. A. Keith, spectator at many an Eastern game, now tells of some of his recollections.

He believes that Eastern's great athletes date back as far as 1909 when our college was a normal school.

Jim Park A Star

"About the first good all-around athlete was Jim Park, brother of Mr. Smith Park, a member of our faculty. Jim was exceptionally good in all four major sports which included football, basketball, baseball and track. After finishing up at normal school, he entered the University of Kentucky where he took part in these same sports. Most of Jim's interests were in baseball for he later pitched his way into a position with the St. Louis Browns."

Gumbert Played

"Another outstanding athlete of those days was Mr. George Gumbert, another present faculty member. Back about 1912, Mr. Gumbert was a star griddier and a good basketball player.

Combs The Great

"Skipping along a few years brings up one of Eastern's greatest, Earl Combs. He played baseball for the Maroons in the early 20's. In basketball he was an outstanding rebounder. As for baseball, he is probably the greatest ever to come out of the state. Earl left Eastern in 1922 for the Louisville Colonels camp. From there he went to the New York Yankees where he played along side such immortals as Babe Ruth and Lou Gherig. He was as good as the best of them."

Earl is currently the property of the Boston Red Sox and serves as a coach."

Other Greats

"Down through the years there were such fine athletes as Clyde Hatter, Spider Thurman, Burt Smith and many others."

In closing, Dr. Keith adds, "It's been a long time and no doubt I have left out many fine Eastern stars. But, at this time, these greats came to my mind."

Eastern Choir Serenades President, Dorm Residents

On the birthday of President W. F. O'Donnell, May 1, the Eastern Choir surrounded his home to serenade him. The song, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" was especially fitting for President O'Donnell.

A warm display of hospitality was given the choir, and the members were invited by President and Mrs. O'Donnell into their home for refreshments.

After leaving the O'Donnell home, the choir made rounds to Beckham, Sullivan and Burnam Halls to serenade these dorms. Mr. James E. Van Peursem, Choir Director and Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Dean of Women were in charge of the evening's serenading.

YOUR JUNIOR YEAR IS 'CONTRACT TIME'

For a number of years Eastern has followed the practice of requiring students in their junior year to prepare a curriculum contract. The purpose is to give guidance to the student and to prevent him from taking courses which may not be used for graduation. The contract is prepared through the cooperation of the heads of the various departments and the Dean's office. Previous record of each student is carefully studied when the contract is made and the student is advised on points of procedure. The student is expected to make application for a contract in the Dean's office during the semester that he becomes a junior.

SHEMELYA HERE

Ed Shemelya, former Maroon basketball star, is reported to have accepted the position as head basketball coach at Madison High School here in Richmond. Shemelya coached high school ball in Winchester, Va., last year.

Howard Coop Wins Oratorical Contest

The Eastern Oratorical Contest for Men was held last month in the Little Theatre. There were five contestants from the Eastern student body.

Howard Coop, a junior from Hegiza, received first place honors. He spoke on the subject, "Twentieth Century Civilization at the Half-way point." Roger Stevens, a freshman from Salyersville, received second place honors with his speech, "The Fight for Democracy."

Judges for the contest were Dr. Roy B. Clark, Mrs. Mary Barnhill, and Miss Pearl Buchanan.

The winner represented Eastern at the state oratorical contest for men held at the University of Kentucky. According to Mr. Keith Brooks, speech instructor, the winner will receive the Regent's medal for oratory at Commencement.

MRAZOVICH RETURNS

Chuck Mrazovich, former Maroon basketball great, visited the campus last week to confer with the former coach, Paul McBrayer. "Big Chuck" led the Wilkes Barre Barons to the championship in their league last winter up in Pennsylvania professional basketball circles. Mrazovich is undecided on future plans of returning to pro ball or coaching.
