Will You Be The Sweetheart Couple At Tonight's Sweetheart Dance?

The annual Sweetheart Dance will be held tonight from 9 till 12 in Walnut Hall. The admission is $1.50 and music will be furnished by Jim Hurt's Band. This semi-formal affair is sponsored by the Progress staff.

At the dance Eastern's Sweetest Sweetheart Couple will be chosen by a committee of students and faculty. The couple will be crowned by last year's Sweetheart Couple, Jane and Oris Johnson, and then presented with a box of candy by the editors of the Progress.

Registration Expected To Surpass Records

According to school officials, the second semester enrollment is now larger than it has been at any other time in the history of the institution. At the time the Progress went to press, registration was incomplete since students taking night classes were still registering. Second semester enrollment will also be increased by the registration of spring term students.

The official announcement of registration figures will be made at a later date when exact figures will be available.

Assembly Address By Dr. Stumpf Opens Religious Emphasis Week

Dr. Samuel E. Stumpf's address "Religion and Modern Man", in assembly Wednesday, February 15, will mark the high point of Religious Emphasis Week, February 12-18, at Eastern.

Dr. Stumpf, professor of Philosophy at Vanderbilt University, has been active as religious director in various fields of youth work and has a program designed to appeal to young people and students.

Included will be discussion periods in the Little Theater and a fireside chat in the lobby of Burnham Hall. During these sessions, Dr. Stumpf will dwell on "Freedom in Human Conduct", "Religion in our Own Culture", and "Modern Morality".

Religious Emphasis Week is an annual YWCA-YMCA sponsored event. Co-chairman of the committee for the event are seniors Mitzl Mueller and Charles Hansel. Advisors to the group are Willie Moss, home economics department, and William Stocker, agriculture.

A. L. Whitt, biology department, is a member of the advisory board who is working particularly with the group on the planning of this event.

Brief services will be conducted by the various campus religious organizations each morning at 7:00 in the Little Theater. The first service Monday morning will be conducted by Wesley Foundation. Tuesday morning the D.S.F. will have charge of the service. The Episcopal youth group has the morning service Wednesday. Wednesday night the services will be conducted by the B.S.U. Conducting the Thursday morning service will be the Newman Club; and Westminster Fellowship will have charge of the last service on Friday morning.

Dance Saturday Night

An informal dance will be given in the recreation room of the Student Union Building on February 18 immediately after the Murray basketball game.

The dance is sponsored by the Music Council. The admission charge will be $.25.

Basketball Queen To Be Crowned At Murray Game

The 1956 Basketball Queen will be announced at the half-time ceremonies of the Murray-Eastern game on February 18. Don Boyer, president of the "E" Club, will crown the queen and present her with a trophy inscribed with her name. The queen will have three attendants.

As in previous years, the queen will be chosen by a penny vote, which will be counted February 15 at 5:00 p. m. in Room 201 of the Student Union Building.

Candidates names, submitted to Don Boyer, and the organizations they represent are Phyllis Skaggs, Letcher County; Mitzl Mueller, Biology Club; Grace Ann Danner, Westminster Fellowship; Shirley Wiseman, Off-Campus Club; Beth Brock, Home Economics Club; Jane Elder, KYMA; Harriet Harris, Owens; and Yvonne Worth, BSU.

Accomplished Marimbist Presented By College

Miss Charmaine Asher, accomplished marimba player, will present a concert in Hiram Brock Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 16. This program is sponsored by the college, and admission is free to students, faculty, and townspeople.

A brilliant soloist on the marimba, Miss Asher's charming personality added to her technical proficiency and sound musicianship, make her recitals especially enjoyable.

She is a graduate with a master's degree from the Eastman School of Music, where she received her specialized training. Since she began her professional career she has received outstanding recognition and praise across the nation.

Miss Asher has appeared at Eastern before. Those who were able to attend the previous performance will certainly want to attend this one, and those who are just now having an opportunity to hear and see this accomplished marimbist will want to take advantage of this opportunity.

Gilbert And Sullivan's "Gondoliers" Invade Campus; Music Club Presents Popular Operetta

Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "Gondoliers" will be presented by Eastern's Music Club on February 16 in Hiram Brock Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. General admission will be 75 cents, reserve seats $1.00.

A matinee performance will be given Friday, February 17, at 1:00 p.m., primarily for the training school students; however, college students may attend this performance for the regular fee.

The "Gondoliers" is the story of two gondoliers of Venice, played by John Largent and Larry James. They have been reared together since infancy. Soon after they are married to Gianetta and Tessa, played by Mitzl Mueller and Frances Milan, Don Alhambra (Phillip Landgrave) appears on the scene. He tells them that one of them is the King of Barataria, an island kingdom. There is some confusion as to who is really the king and who is the gondolier. Unknown to the boys is the fact that the king was married in infancy to Casilda (Diana Miller), daughter of a bankrupt Spanish hidalgos, the duke of Plaza Toro. John Mayer is the duke, and Jerry Taylor plays the duchess, his wife. Their suite consists entirely of one person, the drummer boy, Luiz (Jimmy Tolliver), with whom Casilda is in love. In the final act the situation is straightened out by the location of the kings and the nurse-maid, who reveals who is really the king.

24 Voice Chorus
The nurse-maid will be played by some unknown public figure of Richmond or Eastern, and the audience will be told her identity at the end of the operetta.

The cast will be supplemented by a chorus of twenty-four members. Soloists in the chorus will be Freeda Waggoner, Pat Climmins, Margaret Butler, Bob Motel, Larry Looney, and Charles Pamplin.

Dance numbers in the operetta will be performed by Juanita "Boots" Whittaker, Joyce Blevins, Ray Davis, and Carol Kidd, members of the Drum and Sandal Club. Dr. Fred Giles, art department, will design the set, and the art department has been responsible for the preparation of posters.

Members of the music department in charge of the production are Vasile Venetozzi and Miss Frances McPherson. Mrs. Venetozzi is directing the chorus and soloists, and the staging and chorus dances are under the direction of Miss McPherson.

Campus-Wide Election For Top Honors

Miss Eastern, Miss Popularity, and Mr. Popularity, three recipients of Eastern's highest honors, will be elected within the next two weeks.

The election, sponsored by the Milestone staff, will be held in the recreation room of the Student Union Building. Nominations will be made on Monday and Tuesday, February 13 and 14. From these nominations the three people receiving the highest number of votes for each title will be the candidates in the final election which will be held the following week, Monday and Tuesday, February 20 and 21.

Popularity Qualifications
Qualifications for Mr. and Miss Popularity are outstanding personality, genuine poise, junior or senior classification, and general popularity with the student body as a whole.

Represents Eastern
Miss Eastern's qualifications are listed as outstanding beauty, a well rounded personality, genuine poise, and a junior or senior classification. Miss Eastern will be the representative of the school at the Mountain Laurel Festival, where, as a candidate for queen of that celebration, she will be judged for beauty and poise.

All students are urged to participate by nominating and voting in both elections.
Winners To Be Announced
The results of the final election will be announced in the next edition of the "Progress" on Friday, Feb. 24.

Pausing during a rehearsal of Gondoliers are Diana Miller, Jerry Taylor, John Largent, Mitzl Mueller, Frances Milan, and Phillip Landgrave, who have the principal roles in the operetta. Gondoliers will be given February 20 under the direction of Vasile Venetozzi and Frances McPherson, members of the music department.

Is Education A Virtue?

Socrates made the philosophical blunder of the ages when he declared, "Knowledge is virtue." It isn't! There is no virtue in the possession of knowledge. To know good is not to do good. It is only through the application of knowledge that it becomes virtuous. Yet, let it not appear that we are minimizing the importance of education, for it is rather to show its importance that this editorial is written.

We cannot over-emphasize the importance of education, for it serves as a cog in the wheel of ultimate success regardless of the profession one chooses. Hear these interesting statistics: Out of the one percent of American men who are college graduates have come 55% of our Presidents, 36% of the members of Congress, 47% of the Speakers of the House, 54% of our Vice-Presidents, 62% of our secretaries of State, 67% of our Attorneys General, and 69% of the Justices of the Supreme Court. Similar statistics can be compiled from the other leading fields in American life.

Let us who have made a beginning here at Eastern remain faithful to that vision that motivates us onward. Let us not become sidetracked by the enticing offers made to us. Let us day by day develop a true understanding of the purpose of education. As John Ruskin has declared, "Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shape of the letters and the tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their arithmetic to roguery and their literature to lust. It means on the contrary, training them into the perfect exercise and kingly continence of their bodies and souls."

An Explanation

Anyone can make a booboo. Newspapers are good at it. In the rush of getting a paper out, a number of things which are written so that they give the wrong impression slip into the type. Last issue, The Progress printed such an error. This is the statement:

"But, today's athletes have proven that they are the best leaders and have a wider range of education than most non-athletes."

The statement did not give the writer's intention. It was worded in an unfortunate manner. Therefore this explanation.

The intention was to say that today's athletes have a wider range of education than those previously, and that they make as good leaders as do non-athletes.

No comparison favorable or unfavorable was intended toward either athletes or non-athletes. Therefore because the statement was misleading and because it possibly may have raised an eyebrow or a temper in the student body, we offer this explanation of the intention of the statement and an apology to the campus family for having printed an erroneous statement.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

CHEERFUL THOUGHTS

"What are your eyes for?" the little child in kindergarten was asked.

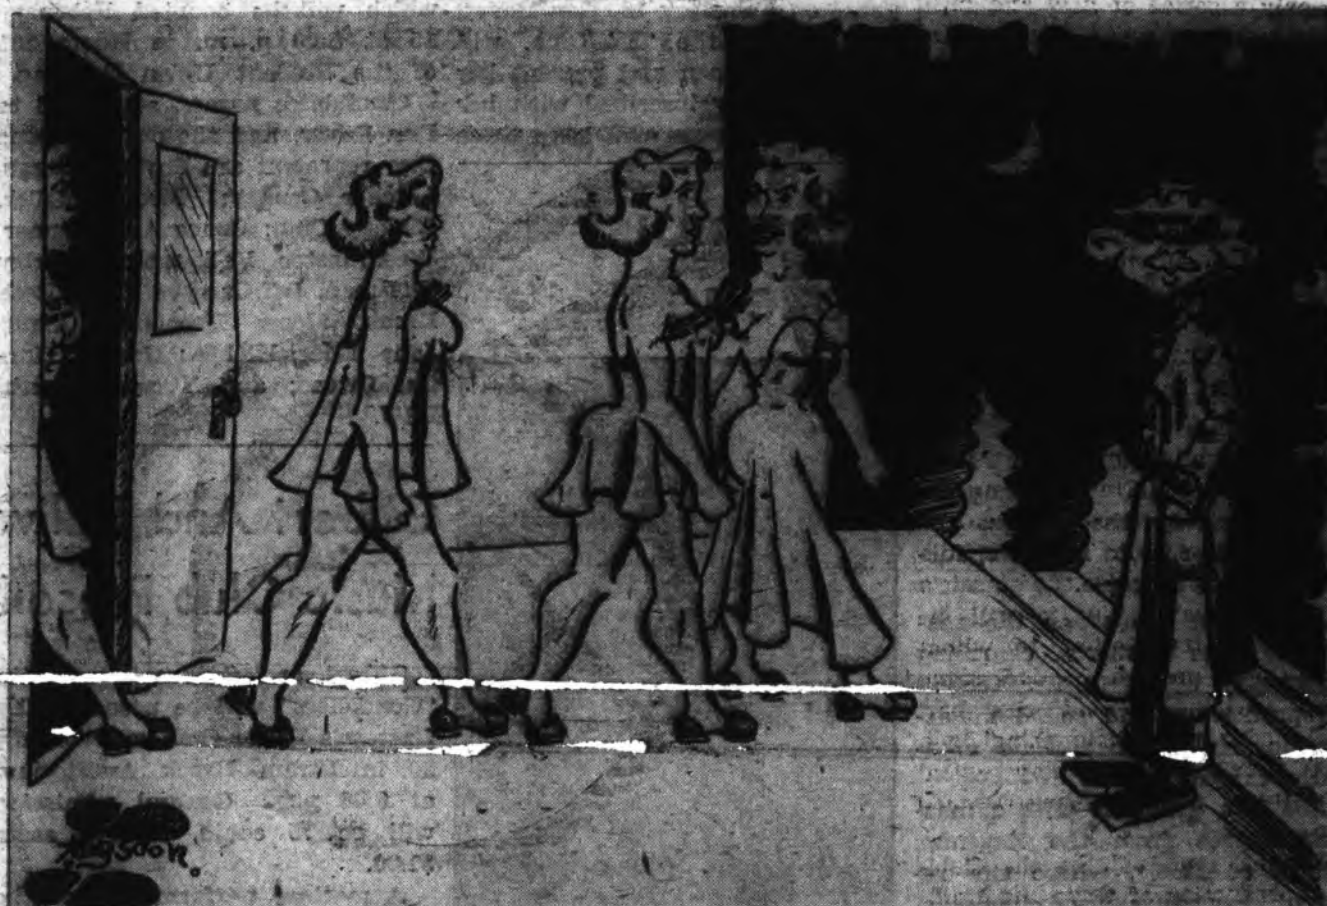

"To see with."

"And your nose?"

"To smell with."

And what are your ears for?" was the last question.

"To keep clean," the child replied.

The mystery still remains. The college wonders just who did ring that firebell in the night.

Peanut Butter Picnic

"Well, flip the record and pour the cokes and spread the peanut butter thick, because we are having the party to end them all."

"You don't have to sound cynical just because you don't like peanut butter. It is very nourishing," the other guy said. He was wearing a pair of frayed levis and a sunny smile.

"Your floor is dirty and I got dust on my socks." This came from a voice in a dark corner.

The first guy, who wasn't really cynical at all, but just sounded that way because it was fashionable and because he really didn't like peanut butter, said, "Look, I'm not running down your estimable peanut butter, but I resent being invited to a picnic and then being fed stale crackers with that miserable concoction on them. There must be more heroic ways to die."

The two gentlemen bowed graciously to each other and began to choose seconds for the picnic. The little brass plate on the wall began to blare blather on Tenth Avenue.

"If we ignore it," said the corner, "maybe it will fade away into the dust, already." He didn't really sound hopeful. But it did. Stopped in mid-bar.

One gentleman who had been sitting on the floor in the closet reading sonnets to himself aloud, emerged with his eyeballs in place and announced that the world would come to an end come Thursday next. The assemblage disbelieved in the most shameless fashion and one youth remarked that it wouldn't dare.

The end would simply have to be postponed until after his birthday because his friends were planning a brawl.

That seemed to settle that and the sonnet reader, feeling thwarted, fell into a deep trance for six hours, while time passed at its out.

appointed speed.

But at around three in the morning the picnic was spread. An illegal apparatus which we shall refer to once as a whatsit? was used to prepare some warmed foods—namely whole kernel corn, postum, and sardines, without chocolate sauce.

The group which defied countenance because it was constantly in motion gathered in individuals and small groups around the feast, as they liked to call it, and nothing other than the grinding of teeth was heard for twenty two and one-half minutes.

The picnic was interrupted by the arrival of the roommate who had been washing his car and then things proceeded to the logical conclusion at no great speed until the war over the sardines broke hours, while time passed at its out.

WHAT'S FOR LAUGHS

Entertainment can be anything, or practically anything, sometimes without half trying, such as this rehearsed scene which I overheard the other Sunday morning. I was awakened early by a none-too-awake sounding voice in the hallway. This gentleman was wandering up and down the hall repeating, "This is Monitor. Going places. Doing things. This is Monitor. Messing up. Going to h..... This is Monitor."

One good hearty laugh to start the day.

But the idea here is purposeful entertainment and what's new in that field. Speaking of Monitor, you can't go wrong in radio listening if you tune in your local NBC outlet station and pick up this program. A lot of time and talent go into producing a radio show which lasts forty hours. It is good listening about what's in the world any-time during the weekend.

Weeknights when assignments are very involved in doing so. If you can steal a copy of this one read it.

Just a short note on records. Georgia Gibbs is at her finest in a 45EP album called Under Paris Skies. Her I Love Paris is tops in popular music. And Mercury has just released a 12-inch 33 'sampler' called Living Presence, which demonstrates a new hi-fi process. This release has everything from The Flying Dutchman to Espana Rhapsodie.

Movie-wise there is much activity. As Hollywood carries on the fight to keep its audience out of the hands of television we get not only a series of new and bigger screen processes, but also a series of films in which the quality is rising.

Alfred Hitchcock's newest opus, The Trouble With Harry, has not as yet been advertised for the Richmond area, but it is about as funny a picture as you will see. The trouble with Harry, who is dead, is that the rest of the characters just can't keep him buried. He is about the most troublesome corpse who ever died.

Today and tomorrow the Madison is showing Universal International's The Second Greatest Sex. Released on the coattails of Oklahoma it lacks the classic's luster and verve, but is still diverting. Kitty Kallen, to whom little things mean a lot, does some good warbling behind the bar. And under the whole thing is a plot from a Greek play called Lysistrata, but it is pretty well buried.

Coming soon will be the Goldwyn production of Guys and Dolls. Sinatra and Vivian Blaine are perfectly cast as Nathan Detroit and Miss Adelaide, and although Brando and Jean Simmons are a little lacking on the vocals they look the parts perfectly. And, of course, the music is incomparable for musical comedy. You'll come away singing.

Printed humor is up a point or two right at the moment. The one-and-only Hazel from the Saturday Evening Post is out in a collection of new cartoons which rock the rafters.

Ballantine Books have also lived up the scene. Inside Mad needs no comment. It is more of the same as those before and just as funny.

Another of their volumes which will leave you in stitches is The Power of Negative Thinking. Besides lampooning the much cussed and discussed thesis on positive thinking, it contains a collection of satiric cartoons. The whole thing, they say, was written for people who just want to lie down.

Roger Price's newest from the same publisher is in the same vein. It is called In One Head and Out The Other. Not so funny as the Preston tome, but diverting. Perhaps the difficulty is that 146 pages are just a little too much of Price's off-beat humor at a sitting. The book's funniest pages are devoted to the famous Price charts and graphs, which never prove anything and

Motives for Furniture

$12,326.00 is a lot of money. That would keep a college student in Cokes for over a million years. And if 12,326 one dollar bills were laid end to end they would add up to $12,326.00.

This particular sum was spent by the college to install the movable furniture in Keith Hall. Lush is the word. The sofas and chairs in the lobby are leather upholstered in deep reds and greens. They make comfortable and pleasant surroundings.

The furniture and the decor are worthy of the finest care and attention.

President O'Donnell has expressed a definite motive in buying the finest for the dorm. He hopes to instill into the students who use the dorm a desire to have things of like quality in their future homes and offices and places of business.

Mood For A Morning In Spring

I kept thinking it was spring-time all day and yet I knew it wasn't. I just wanted to convince myself that it was. I walked without my coat; I listened for birds without seeing any; I sniffed the air for odor of new grass and flowers, and then I remembered springs that I have known before. I kept wishing for spring.

Spring brings back the vibrant youthfulness to everyone. Dogs bark, children smile, baseballs soar through the air with the ease of the returned robin, and even I can laugh again. It holds so much of what I want; spring-time enfolds so much happiness.

Even my thoughts have taken on the languid air and ease of early April; my thoughts are clear and smooth without the snags of ancient history and philosophy to mar them. I keep thinking in poetry. I keep mumbling soft, gentle stanzas of the unforgettable verses. Lastly my thoughts turn to you and even at the memory of you I can summon a smile as I plead for spring.

Figures Prove Officials Are Goofing; Maroons Perform Best Before Big Crowds

Probably a goodly number of you are wondering if all the griping over poor officiating the Maroons have been subjected to this season isn't exaggerated somewhat. And, a good many other people are tired of hearing "excuses."

Officials, in any sport, are only human and make mistakes. But, the figures are pretty good evidence that either the whistle-tooters in the striped shirts want to see an Eastern player commit a foul, or Eastern is the roughest team in basketball today.

We would like to offer a side of the story you haven't heard before.

Coach Paul McBrayer has been very disappointed with the officiating his cagers have been subjected to. He openly stated that officiating in Kentucky was getting worse with each game.

These accusations have caused quite a bit of wonderment among the sports writers and basketball experts. In fact, a Louisville newspaper sent a feature writer and photographer to Bowling Green Monday night to prepare a feature article on officiating at the Western game. The article will appear in Sunday's edition of this highly thought of paper.

We aren't trying to sell papers, but are simply leading up to our point of discussion.

This season the Maroons have committed one hundred and six more personals than their opponents and have lost over twice as many players via the too many fouls route.

Approximately 90 to 95 per cent of the fouls called in a game are called against the defensive team. For the season, the Maroons have attempted one hundred and forty-five more shots than their opponents, and have made twenty-seven more baskets. They have gotten 235 more rebounds than their opponents or an average of just under twelve per game.

With a little simple reasoning, one can understand that the team which has the most shots and gets the most rebounds, is the offensive team. We ask this question, then—How can one team commit so many offensive fouls if the average is only between five and ten per of all the fouls called in a game?

Well, there are the facts why such a rumpus is being raised, blasting officiating.

In the Maroons' outing against Tennessee Tech, which they lost 82-77, Eastern had 100 shots at the basket while Tech had only 61. The Maroons outrebounded Tech 77-46, and the locals made six more field goals than did the Tennesseans—but still they lost by five points.

"Under these conditions," comments McBrayer, "it's hard to understand why we could commit 25 personals and Tech only 13."

IT'S A PROVEN FACT that the Maroons play better before a large gathering. At spacious Chicago Stadium, exactly 15,254 folks turned out to watch the Maroons in action, and the locals beat Loyola of Chicago 77-71. Earlier this season, at Raleigh, North Carolina, over 13,000 were on hand as the Maroons came within nine points of mighty N. C. State.

The same Loyola team which the Maroons defeated, only last week downed a good Notre Dame team by ten points in the same Chicago Stadium. Potent Louisville, beat Notre Dame five points in an overtime. And, to continue comparing scores, the Auburn team which the Maroons downed handily 93-71, were beaten in the final ten seconds by Kentucky by one point.

GLENN PRESNELL, HEAD GRID COACH,

will again have a busy spring schedule facing him. The popular Maroon football chief will coach the track squad for the second straight year, as well as handle the football squad during spring practice. Fred Darling, line coach, who had coached the track squads, is working on his Doctor's degree at Indiana University and has obtained a leave of absence for the spring semester.

FOR THOSE OF YOU who read the poem in the last edition, and do not know who the "Mysterious Poet" is, we'll give you his name. Jack Rodgers, who performs very capably on the gridiron for the Maroons and also tries his hand at track and baseball, did the writing of the poem, "Futility of Love." We heard several comments about the poem—all good ones, by the way, but did not receive any written comments. Coach Presnell, after discovering that Jack wrote the bit of poetry, asked which book he copied it from. We can assure Coach or anyone else that Jack is the true writer.

AFTER TOMORROW'S GAME AT NEW ORLEANS, only two games remain on the slate, two of which are at home. On February 18, the Murray Thoroughbreds in, and on the 21, Louisville's powerful Cardinals are in town for a scrap.

FROSH BOAST 11-5 RECORD MEET CINCINNATI HERE NEXT

The Eastern freshman charges of Coach Shirley Kearns seek twelfth win of the season Tuesday night when they host a yearling squad from the University of Cincinnati. Tip-off time at Weaver Gym is 8 p.m.

The Eastern first year men boast a season slate of eleven victories against five setbacks, their most recent loss coming at the hands of Western's frosh last Monday afternoon at Bowling Green by a 71-65 score.

The "Baby Maroons" hold two wins over Campbellsville, Transylvania "B" team, Cumberland and Sue Bennett, and single wins over Georgetown "B" team, Western frosh, and Morehead frosh. They have been beaten by Lindsey Wilson, Morehead "B" team, Georgetown "B" team, Louisville frosh, and Western frosh.

After 16 games, Larry Wood, 6-2 frosh guard from Brooksville, Ky., leads the locals in scoring, averaging 19.2 points per contest. The second leading point producer is Jennings Martin, 6-1 guard from Hindman, with a 15.8 average, although he has appeared in only nine games. Dal Moore, 6-5 forward from Inez, Ky., has tallied 155 points for a 9.7 average, while Hugh Gabbard, 6-5 forward from Aurora, Ind., has scored 132 points for a 9.9 average.

WOOD

Kearns said that he was not sure of his starting lineup against the Cincinnati frosh quintet, because several men are on the injured list. Wood and Martin will open at the guard posts, with either Bruce Springate, 6-5 from Sinal, Ky., or Homer Proffitt, 6-8 from Northville, Michigan, at the center post. At forwards will probably be Moore and Jim Pike, a 6-6 yearling from Columbus, O.

Western Tops Maroons 93-92 McBreyer Pleased With Team

Forrest Able's 20-foot push shot in the final ten seconds of an overtime gave Western's Hilltoppers a 93-92 win over Eastern's Maroons in another typical Eastern-Western cage battle at Bowling Green on Monday night.

The contest was nip and tuck from the beginning with the lead changing hands nine times. The score was tied 13 times.

Coach McBrayer, whose Maroons have won six of twenty encounters, commented that he was well pleased with the performance of his charges in the defeat to the "Toppers." "I felt like we played as well as we're capable of playing," said the Eastern chief.

Eastern led by nine points at one stage of the contest, but the Hilltoppers quickly cut that lead down.

With less than a minute remaining in the overtime, the Maroons held a three-point lead, 92-89. But Able connected on two free throws to cut the margin to one point.

Attempting to hold onto the ball and victory, the Maroon front men were, literally speaking, "run over" by Able, who gained possession of the ball, setting the stage for his last second shot. With less than 10 seconds left, the 6-2 senior hit his winning bucket.

Bill Florence, playing his first game against the Hilltoppers, led the Maroons with 25 points. He was followed by Jack Adams with 23. Owen Lawson led Western with 23 markers, followed by Ronnie Clark with 21 and Bob Daniels with 20. Able chalked up 19 points.

The Maroons outshot Western from the field, 32-31, but the Hilltoppers made good on 31 free throws as compared to Eastern's 28 gratis flips. Eastern hit 10 of 86 shots for 37 per cent while Western hit 31 of 87 for 36 per cent.

Maroons Meet Loyola of South

Locals Seek 7th Win Of Year

Paul McBrayer's Eastern Kentucky Maroons, after suffering two disheartening setbacks in their last two outings, go again after victory number seven tomorrow night when they tangle with the Wolfpack of Loyola University of the South at New Orleans.

In their last two attempts for their seventh win, the Maroons were nosed out in the closing seconds by Tennessee Tech and Western Kentucky in loop competition.

Again, it was the gratis throws which spelled defeat for the local cagers, who have outscored their conquerors from the field in seven of their fourteen losses.

The Maroons left Louisville's Union Station this morning at 11:30 for New Orleans. They are scheduled to arrive in the Louisiana city tomorrow morning at 8:00, and will leave the city of the Mardi Gras Sunday evening, arriving back in Richmond Monday evening.

Eastern's record going into the Saturday tussle stands at six wins against 14 setbacks. The Loyola Wolfpack has a season slate of eight wins against 11 defeats on a rugged card. Some of their losses have been to such powers as San Francisco, the nation's number one team, Dayton, the number two club, Marquette, Cincinnati, Xavier of Ohio, and Oklahoma City. The Loyolans have beaten a couple of high regarded quintets this season also. They handed Louisiana State University a 71-85 beating and beat a good Bradley outfit by the same score.

Loyola will be out to avenge the humiliating 120-91 loss they suffered a year ago here. The 120 points scored by Eastern stands number of points ever scored against a Loyola team and the Wolfpack will have that loss in mind when the two teams square off in the Loyola fieldhouse.

A goodly gathering is expected to be on hand in the Fieldhouse in New Orleans, according to word from the Louisiana college.

Probable starters for Coach Jim McCafferty's Maroons will average six feet, four and a quarter inches. Pete Gaudin and Jim Hall, both at 6-5, will start at the forward posts. At the pivot

Baseball Meeting Set For Feb. 20

An organizational meeting will be held Monday afternoon, February 20, at 4 p.m. in Room 204 of the Health Building, for all persons interested in trying out for the baseball, announced Charles "Turkey" Hughes.

"Anyone interested in trying out for the team is asked to be present," said Hughes, the head coach and athletic director. Mr. Hughes is interested in getting all the details and vital information concerning the baseball hopefuls and it is important that all attend the meeting.

Practice is scheduled to get underway in two more weeks for the Maroon baseballers.

will be either 6-8 Dick Vavrick or 6-9 Bill Schweiberger, while 6-3 Charley Gallman and six-foot Crit Lorio will man the guards.

Coach Paul McBrayer's Eastern Maroons will average just under six feet, four inches, if he uses the same combination that opened the Western fracas. Jack Adams and Kenny Davis, both 6-4, are expected to start at forward; Bill Florence, 6-9, at center; and six-foot Ronnie Pellegrinon, and 6-2 Dick Culbertson, at the guards.

The Wolfpack will, undoubtedly, try double-teaming Adams, who set two Eastern records against them in last year's meeting. Jack poured through 40 points and grabbed 27 rebounds in the game a year ago. The All-American candidate has since set a new scoring record and tied the rebound mark this year with his 49 points against Union in the season opener.

The Maroons return home next week for a Saturday night clash with the Murray State Thoroughbreds, twice victorious over the Eastern quintet. Louisville visits Eastern's campus February 21 for a Tuesday night encounter, and the Maroons close their campaign at Cincinnati and Dayton, meeting rugged Xavier and powerful Dayton, respectively.

Maroon Mermen Lose Swim Meet

In Eastern's swim meet at Tennessee Tech on Feb. 4, the Maroon Mermen were defeated by the score of 51 to 33.

Ed Anderson, a newcomer to the local team, totaled 11 points to become high scorer in this his first competitive encounter. Varsity member John Payne was second highest point getter with 10 points in his winning feat of the 200 yard stroke.

Summary:
300yd. medley — (E) Payne, Anderson, Snodgrass, 2:48.5.
220yd. freestyle — (T) Zipperer, 2:47.
50yd. freestyle — (T) Beach 27.7.
200yd. ind. medley — (T) Ballenger 3:04.
100yd. freestyle — (T) Zipperer, 1:03.4.
200yd. backstroke — (E) Payne, 2:40.5.
440yd. freestyle — (T) Beach, 6:11.
200yd. breaststroke — (T) Ament, 3:05.
400yd. relay — (T) Ballenger, Zipperer, Hatmaker, Beach, 4:21.2.

In the fancy diving event Tech's Anvil and Parsons edged out the Mermen's Kolakowski and Begley by gaining first and second place respectively. The Eagle's total points were 348.75 as against Eastern's 287.8.

Coach Paul Love is looking forward to victory and is steeling his men for the coming return meet with Tech on Feb. 10.

Spring Grid Drills To Start Feb. 27

Spring football practice for Coach Glenn Presnell's Eastern Kentucky gridders is scheduled to begin February 27, weather permitting, it was announced this week.

Some fifty hopefuls, including 26 lettermen back from the 1955 outfit which completed their rugged ten game slate with a 5-4-1 record, are expected out for the drills. Missing from the roster will be Ernie Rigrish, Don Boyer, Bobby Lenderman, "Bozo" Castle, and Mathias Williams, all of whom played their final season for the Maroons last fall.

Jimmy Johns, a freshman guard, who earned a letter last fall, withdrew from school this semester.

According to NCAA rulings, spring drills are limited to twenty days and, once begun, must be completed within a thirty-day period.

With the addition of a few new prospects plus the 26 lettermen and squad men returning from last fall's team, quite a battle for positions is expected.

BILL FLORENCE'S RETURN TO THE MAROON TEAM has greatly strengthened the local charges. The 6-9 sophomore tallied 25 points and grabbed 18 rebounds against Western Monday night and will start at center against Loyola tomorrow night.

Fouls Hurt Eastern Leads Opponents In Statistics

Eastern's Maroons, with a six and fourteen record going into tomorrow night's game at New Orleans, have topped their opponents in every department except foul shooting, according to the latest cage statistics released this week.

The local cagers have outscored their opponents by twenty-seven field goals in their twenty games played. The Maroons have hit on 598 of 1630 shots for 36.7 per cent while their opponents have found the range on 571 of 1487 shots for 38.4 per cent.

Despite these statistics, the Maroons are far behind in the won-lost column.

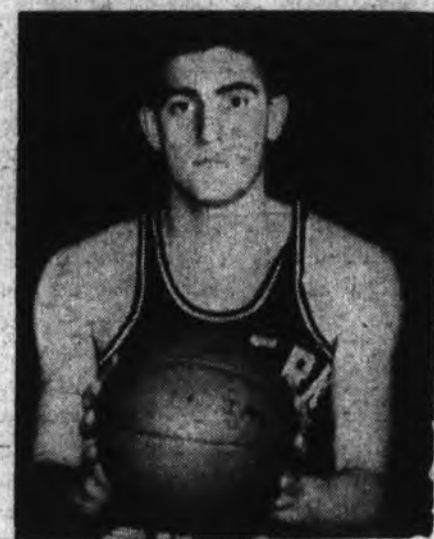

Eastern's opponents have cashed in on 523 free throws, exactly 110 more than the Maroons' 418 gratis flips. In seven of the Maroons' fourteen losses, they have outscored their conquerors from the field only to lose from the charity line.

Four hundred and sixty-six personal fouls have been called on Eastern while their opponents have had only 360 violations called against them. Thirty-four men have been lost by the Maroons via the personal and foul route and their opponents less than half that number, sixteen.

The Maroons have outrebounded their opponents this season 1211 to 976 or an average of 11.7 per game. They are averaging 80.7 points, and their foes 83.5 points per tilt.

Jack Adams, 6-4 senior from London, Ky., continues to lead the Eastern cagers in scoring and rebounding. Jack has tallied 430 points, nearly twice as many as the number scorer, for an average of 21.5 points per contest. Adams, who is the holder of ten Eastern records, has pulled off 291 rebounds for an average of 14.5 per outing.

Adams is followed in the scoring by Dick Culbertson, 6-2 senior guard from Columbus, Ohio. Dick has scored 215 points in nineteen games for an 11.4 average per game.

JIM KISER is the surprise find of the year for Coach McBrayer. The 6-3 sophomore, who has started most of the Maroons' tilts, has averaged nearly nine points per game and over six rebounds in performing far above expectations.

The number three scorer is Ronnie Pellegrinon, six-foot senior guard from Portsmouth, Ohio, who has scored 195 points in seventeen games for an 11.5 average.

The number four scorer and number two rebounder is 6-4 J. D. Brock, junior center from Lily, Ky. Brock has scored 192 points for a 9.6 average and has pulled off 137 rebounds for a 7.2 average per game. Brock is also the leading percentage shooter, having connected on 75 of 172 field goal attempts for 43.6 per cent.

Big Bill Florence, 6-9 sophomore from Lexington, who has just become eligible, has scored 50 points in four games for a 12.5 average. He has grabbed 43 rebounds for a 10.7 average per game.

Ceramics Shop Now Remodeled

The ceramics room in the Arts Building has recently been enlarged and improved and is now eagerly awaiting the acquisition of a badly needed new and large kiln to serve an increasing enrollment in the class, according to Professor Dean W. Gatwood, member of the Art department and teacher of ceramics.

The making of pottery as a course at Eastern was established by Mr. Gatwood eight years ago, soon after his coming to Eastern. It was housed in the Arts building basement in an improvised, fire-enclosed space, which has now been replaced by a twice-as-large room with genuine solid walls.

The ceramics court was originally designed to serve a maximum of 14 students. It is now re-equipped of Arts and Industrial Arts majors, and last semester had to squeeze 28 students into its overcrowded quarters.

The larger room will afford ample space for additional students, but satisfactory work will still be extremely difficult until the large kiln is installed.

Among interesting items of equipment of the ceramics shop are three pottery wheels, which were constructed by Mr. Gatwood.

Junior Class Announces Plans

According to Victor Venetozzi, advisor to the junior class, plans are well under way for the Junior Prom, a formal dance held each spring. At the present time several different bands are in consideration with a definite decision to be made in the near future. Faye Marcum is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. She announces other committee chairmen as Morris Ross and Douglas Robinson, art; Jerry Boyd, construction; Jay Kitz and Betty Brock, Lawrence, tickets; Beverly Sexton and Jerry Taylor, favors; and Lee Sanders, programs.

The class also plans to sponsor a movie. Tickets will be sold by the members of the class for one of the campus movies to be announced at a later date.

Chemistry Student Receives Award

Thornton Lipscomb, a major in the department of chemistry at Eastern, has been awarded an $800 research assistantship at Ohio State University for the year 1956.

Thornton is a senior, who will receive his bachelor of science degree in June. He has achieved a 5 standing in such subjects as chemistry, physics, and mathematics, and received the highest rank in his class in both his sophomore and junior years. For the past two years he has been a laboratory instructor in the chemistry department.

In addition to being an outstanding student, Thornton has been active in the Physics and Mathematics Clubs and in both sophomore and senior men's honorary fraternities.

He is a graduate of Clark County High School, Winchester, and a salutatorian of his class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lipscomb of Winchester.

Installation To Be On National Cardinal Newman Day

The Eastern Kentucky State College Newman Club will join with the 700 other Newman Clubs in observance of national Cardinal Newman Day, Sunday, February 26. These clubs, which exist to promote the spiritual, social, and intellectual welfare of the 300,000 Catholic students on secular campuses, are named after the English convert-Cardinal born 155 years ago.

High mass will be celebrated on this day at 9:30 a. m. at Saint Mark's Church. After mass, there will be a special communion breakfast for the Newman Club at the parish hall. Monsignor Poole and Father Pilger will be the guest speakers at this breakfast, after which is to be held the formal installation of the new officers for the coming year.

In the evening, from 7:00 to 9:30 the club is having an informal social at the parish hall.

Cardinal Newman attained eminence in the Church of England as the leader of the Oxford movement. He was received into the Catholic Church at the age of 45, and is best known as the author of "Lead Kindly Light," the idea of

Regional Festival Dates Announced

Each year the regional high school drama and music festivals are held on Eastern's campus. This year the first event will take place February 24 and 25. Glen Wilson, director of dramatics, will judge the drama events held on these days. The remainder of the speech events will occur March 22, 23 and 24. Then, on April 5, 6, and 7 the regional high school music festival will assemble on the campus. These regional events are preliminary to the state events held each year at Lexington.

Tryouts For Roles In "Silver Whistle"

Glen Wilson, English department, announces that tryouts for the Little Theatre Club presentation "The Silver Whistle" will be held at 7:00 p. m., February 22 and 23 in Roark 16 and Hiram Brook Auditorium, respectively.

Any student interested in taking part is urged to attend the tryouts. Participation in any of the Little Theatre Club presentations is not limited to members.

"The Silver Whistle," written by Robert McEnroe, is a delightful comedy. It was given on Broadway in 1949, at which time the lead was played by Jose Ferrer.

open house will be held in Keith Hall. The date of this ceremony will be set as soon as all the furniture and drapes have been received and are in place. Dr. Charles A. Keith, for whom the new dormitory is named, will be honored at this time.

President W. F. O'Donnell is in charge of all the arrangements for the open house, and assisting him will be the Men's Dormitory Council. All students, faculty, and staff members will be welcomed at the opening and completion of one of the newest and best dormitories in the South.

The Eastern Photo Club met 2 February 1956 and elected officers for the new semester. They are Beverly Sexton, president; Milton Beasley, vice-president; Betty Lou Hammons, secretary; and John Oschner, treasurer.

The club meets the first and third Thursdays of every month at 6:30 p. m. in Room 111 in the Science Building. Any student who would like to learn anything about photography is welcome to join the club. The next meeting will be 16 February and any interested students are invited to contact any of the officers or Dr. H. H. LaFuze, club sponsor.

It's Here . . .

Leap Year Dance Gives Girls Chance

Get ready, boys, because the girls will be asking you to a "Leap Year Dance" which will be held in the lobby of Burnam Hall on February 24 from 9 till 12. This semi-formal affair will be sponsored by Collegiate Pentacle, senior women's honorary.

Admission will be $1.00 per couple and dancing music will be provided by Jim Hurt's Band.

The "Man of the Year" will be selected at this dance. Three judges will choose four candidates and the final decision will be made by the couples at the dance.

Refreshments will be sold by the Collegiate Pentacle members.

Chairman of the dance committee is Shirley Pettit. Other committee members are Diana Miller, Betty Joyce Christian, Treva Butler, Dot Quisenberry, Shirley Dugger, and Freeda Waggoner.

Belles Letters

Attention all Eastern students! You still have plenty of time to turn in your contributions for Belles Lettres, the annual literary publication of the Canterbury Club. Poems, short stories, essays, and feature articles should be submitted to Diana Miller, Burnam 14 or C.P.O. box 506; or to Dr. P. M. Grise, Roark Building.

SEABURY PLANS FOR SHROVE TUESDAY

The Seabury Club, campus Episcopal organization, will have a communion and breakfast on Sunday, February 12, at the Episcopal Church.

On February 14 there will be a Shrove Tuesday pancake supper from 6-8 p. m. in the parish hall. All students are invited to attend.

Party Sponsored By Social Committee

An all-school party, sponsored by the College Social Committee, was held on Wednesday, February 8, from 8-10 p. m. in Burnam Hall.

In charge of the party were Barbara Jo Guinchigliani, Don Williamson, Sheila Campbell, Pete Northcutt, Shirley Dillow, Bert Bowling, and Shelby Crowe. Advising the group was Mrs. Emma Y. Case, dean of women. Dean Rubarts, graduate assistant, assisted in the planning.

Thursday Programs Stress Etiquette For Every Day

A discussion of "Table Manners" presented last night began the series of Thursday evening programs which are to be sponsored by Collegiate Pentacle, senior women's honorary. These programs will be held each Thursday from 6:30 until 7:00 in the lobby of Burnam Hall.

The discussion will be prepared and directed by members of Collegiate Pentacle. The program on "Table Manners" was presented by Shirley Dugger, senior home economics major.

The program on Thursday, February 16, will be under the direction of Freeda Waggoner. Her topic is "Manners for Public Places."

At a recent meeting, Dolores Samson, senior, was elected president of the group for the second semester.

Roundtable Schedule

Eastern's Roundtable over WEEKLY Sunday night, February 12, will discuss the question, "Should Leadership Training in Camping and Outdoor Education Be Included in the College Curriculum?" The five participants on the program will be Mr. Ferrell, Mr. Sprague, Mr. Martin, Mr. Cooper, and Mr. Binfell. Mr. Jagers, director of the Roundtable, will preside.

Two other subjects scheduled for February are: "How Far Have We Come Toward Freedom Since Washington?" (February 19), and "How Can We Implement the Program of Moral and Spiritual Education in Eastern Kentucky State College?" (February 26).

"What Should the Schools Teach?" was the Roundtable subject February 5. It was discussed by Mr. Moore, Mr. Carty, Mr. Coates, and Mr. Grise.

The January 29 question was, "What Are the Opportunities of Those Who Graduate in Art?"

The Roundtable programs are heard every Sunday evening at 6:30.

Honors for the match for over-all high gun were won by Eastern's ROTC Rifle team when they traveled to Cincinnati to meet Xavier on January 14.

The team scores were Eastern 1370 and Xavier 1367 out of a possible 1500. Last year Xavier beat Eastern 903 to 869 out of a possible 1000.

High Gun: Robert S. Schneider, veteran of four years on Eastern's rifle team. Top five for Eastern were:

Robert S. Schneider, 281
William L. Vockery, 274
William L. Ball, 273
Ira J. Begley, 272
Melvin E. Northcutt, 270.

Saturday, February 11, will see Louisville traveling to Eastern for a shoulder to shoulder match, and February 18 Ohio State will be here for another shoulder to shoulder. This will be the first time Eastern has met Ohio State since February 14, 1942, when Eastern defeated 1253 to 1240 with .22 pistols; so this match is eagerly awaited. This time the firing will be done with .22 rifles.

Superior Rating

Lt. Col. A. O. Hatch, PMST at Eastern, commended the supply sergeant, M-Sgt. Raymond E. Royce, and the signal sergeant, Sgt. Michael J. Mucio, on the superior rating received by the ROTC unit on a signal inspection conducted by Mr. Rolf, representative from Second Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, on January 17.

The ROTC unit, facilities, and class room instruction at Eastern were inspected January 20 by Lt. Col. B. H. Johnson, from the ROTC Branch, G3 Section of Second Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

Lt. Col. Alden O. Hatch, the professor of Military Science and Tactics, conducted Lt. Col. Johnson in the inspection and introduced him to the students. Lt. Col. Johnson addressed each class, emphasizing the advantages of ROTC relative to their future and the nation.

Military Ball Plans

The 18th annual military ball will be held March 9 in Walnut Hall from 9 to 1 o'clock.

Members of the Knights of Artillery, the Officers Club, have been working overtime planning for this event. Guests will be heads of departments of the college, military personnel, and members of the ROTC. Chaperones for the occasion will be Lt. Col. and Mrs. Hatch, Capt. and Mrs. P. E. Myers, and Capt. and Mrs. E. H. Morgan.

Chairmen of the committees are as follows: Music, Ben Hord; Favors, Bill Zimmerman; Programs, William R. Murphy; Tickets, Ronald Pellegrinon and Jack Adams; Decorations, David Senn and Robert Kolakowski; Flowers, Bill Baldwin; and Publicity, Don Feltner.

Job Opportunity

Southern States Cooperative, one of the nation's largest farm supply cooperatives, will have a representative on Eastern's campus February 23, to interview persons interested in beginning a training program to become business managers of retail cooperative farm supply stores in the Southern states.

Applicants should be planning to receive their degrees, and should have a good farm background.

World Affairs and 48 Are Eligible For ESC Degrees Eastern Center Sponsor Display

A panel display of material describing the activities of the United States Information Service will be shown in the lobby of the Student Union Building for the next two weeks. This display will be jointly sponsored by the World Affairs Club and the Eastern Center of International Relations. Twenty colleges and universities throughout the United States have sponsored similar displays in the past year. This is the first time this display is being shown in Kentucky.

The United States Information Service (USIS) has been in operation since 1953. It is responsible for reports and commentaries portraying the truth about United States policies and actions to other nations.

It supplies newspapers and magazine features, background kits on subjects of international interest—such as the peaceful use of atomic energy—and photographs and plastic plates, for use in thousands of overseas publications. Many of these are publications by the Agency itself.

As part of the audio programs, 75 daily radio programs in 39 different languages are broadcast around the globe 7 days a week and 24 hours a day. Newsreels and films are provided weekly on television programs around the globe.

In order to show some of the available films in remote areas, the Agency has mobile units equipped to generate their own electric power.

Those who completed the requirements for the Master of Arts degree are Willard Cooper, McKinney; Helen McMurry Moss, Versailles, and Hobart J. Wills, Boons Gap.

Those who will receive the Bachelor of Science degree are Alton G. Best, Springfield; Kenneth Bush, Irvine; Robert Byers, Lexington; James Caudill, West Liberty; Paul G. Collins, Mayslick; Betty Cureton, Seco; John Duvall, Winchester, Va.; Mrs. Kate Hall Gregory, Somerset; Joseph Hall, Myra; Calmer Hayes, Crab Orchard; William Hensley, Richmond; Raymond Horne, Richmond; James W. Humphrey, Georgetown; Mary Lear, Berea; Christine Lattle, Beattyville; Joy Frances McCreary, Waco; Roy Carl Maupin, Berea; Katherine Farley Miller, Lebanon; Dorothy S. Morgan, Hyden; Frank D. Oldfield, Mize; Jewell Parsons, Mt. Vernon; Raymond Polly, Whitesburg; Lucille Albright Purcell, Brodhead; Naomi Ruth Rice, Danville; Bobby Lear Rose, Winston; Bruce E. Smith, Harlan; Laura E. Todd, Richmond; Gene Ray Tompkins, Corbin; Lee Tyler, Beattyville; Fred M. Waters, Re-velo, and Byron Wiseman, Richmond.

These are just some of the many activities carried on by USIS to present the truth about our free country to nations around the world. These activities and others will be described in the display in the Student Union lobby.
