193 Eastern Seniors Complete Week Of Student Teaching

Completing their first week of student teaching and final stages of their professional teacher-training program are 193 Eastern seniors stationed at 56 off-campus elementary and secondary schools.

In making the announcement, Dr. J. Dorland Coates, associate dean for teacher education, said that these students have completed six weeks of preparation this semester by observing and studying methods of professional teachers at the college.

They will teach, under the guidance of supervising teachers for ten weeks, Coates said. Of the total, 68 are performing student teaching at the elementary level and 127 in the secondary area.

The largest number of students, 27, completing their training at the secondary level are in the field of physical education. Business ranks second with 23, and social studies third with 21.

Another group of student teachers will leave the campus for similar training the spring semester. Professional degrees are awarded to those who successfully complete their student teaching and other required curricula for the bachelor's degree.

About 80 per cent of Eastern's 14,000 graduates have entered the teaching profession. Eastern has been the State's leading producer of teachers for several years.

Student teachers are presently located at these off-campus teaching centers:

Madison Central, Daniel Boone, Kingston, Kirksville, Kit Carson, Silver Creek, Waco, White Hall, Berea, Bellevue, Madison, Model and Richmond Junior, all in Madison County.

Beaumont Junior, Lafayette Senior, Bates Creek Senior, Bryan Station Junior, Bryan Station Senior, Leesport Junior, and Julia R. Ewan Elementary, all in the Fayette County School System.

Clintonville, North Middletown, Millersburg, and Bourbon County, all in the Bourbon County system. George Rogers Clark, Becknerville Elementary, and Victory Heights, in the Clark County system.

Durrett, Fern Creek, Seneca, Southern, Thomas Jefferson, Waggener, Ahrens, and Dupont-Manual, all in Jefferson County.

Other schools include:

Boone County, Breathitt County, Carrollton, Danville, Estill County, Frankfort, Garrard County, Highlands, Covington Holmes, Irvine High School, Irvine Elementary, Lee County, Livingston, McMorris, Monticello, Newport, Shelby County, Shelbyville, Somerset, Stanford, and Woodford County.

Dean Ambrose Elected President Of Registrars

Dr. Charles Ambrose, dean of admissions and registrar at Eastern, was elected president of the Kentucky Association of Registrars and Admissions Officers, at a meeting in Lexington last week.

Miss Pearl Anderson, registrar of Transylvania College, was elected vice president, and Mrs. Violette Shearer, registrar of Centre College, was elected secretary and treasurer.

Dr. Ambrose, a native of Pennsylvania, earned his A.B. at Transylvania College, and the M.A. and Ed.D. at the University of Kentucky. He began his teaching career in Kentucky high schools and became later an attendance and personnel officer in the Louisville public schools.

He has been registrar and dean of admissions at Eastern since 1961, after serving as an associate professor at Western Kentucky State College from 1960-61.

Dr. Ambrose is active in numerous civic groups, among them the census tract committee, City of Lexington, and he is a district commander of the Boy Scouts of America, and director of the Fayette County Infantile Paralysis Foundation and vice president of the Lexington-Fayette County TB Association.

He is honorary life president of the International Association of Pupil Personnel Workers. He has a distinguished World War II record in the United States Marine Corps.

Senator Cooper Addresses Assembly

Senator John Sherman Cooper chats with Eastern students, Miss Ann Stigall, left, Somerset, and Glen Baslin, Eubank, following an address in Hiram Brock Auditorium.

Cooper called the war in Viet Nam "in many ways more difficult than any the U.S. has ever faced."

Senator Cooper Addresses Assembly

"The war in Viet Nam is in many ways more difficult than any the United States has ever faced," declared John Sherman Cooper, senior United States Senator from Kentucky in a speech before the freshman assembly Wednesday.

Cooper explained that the enemy in Viet Nam seeks dominance in the world, and we are committed to fighting the North Vietnamese without taking on the Chinese and Russian Communists (despite their breach) and a thermo-nuclear war.

He traced for his audience the history of U. S. involvement to giving aid to the French 15 years ago when the French found themselves resisted by the same government that had resisted Japanese in World War II. In 1954 the French were defeated in Vietnam at the battle of Dienbien.

There was at the time Cooper said, "some talk" of U. S. entry, but the case was turned over to a Geneva commission which established a line between north and south and a demilitarized zone. A control commission was created to supervise the country, and free elections were planned for two years later.

Communist infiltration from the north precluded the elections and the United States sent aid under terms of a 1955 treaty of mutual assistance.

Cooper said he thought the United States had agreed to defend the South Vietnamese against the North Vietnamese, Viet Cong and Chinese Communists. Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy took that position and last year the Congress, after debate, gave President Johnson authority to use broad powers against the Reds in Vietnam.

Cooper said he did not approve of withdrawal because that "would violate the American commitment," and would leave the South Vietnamese at the mercy of the North Vietnamese. The latter have already executed or kidnapped some 5,000 South Vietnamese mayors and officials.

Neither did Cooper approve of drastically extending the war, which he said, would risk direct involvement of the Chinese Communists, Russian Communists (despite their breach) and a thermo-nuclear war.

The United States, he said, is interested in seeing Vietnam an independent nation. And so, Cooper concluded, the "United States must reject extremes," and pursue its present course, frustrating as it may seem. In this war, he said, there are no easy answers.

No Demonstrations Here - Senator Cooper was introduced by President Robert Martin who was pleased, he said, that Eastern had produced no anti-administration action on campus.

Devotions were offered by Mary Jo Rudd, senior from Burkhart. A musical program was presented by Miss Frances McPherson, associate professor of music.

Student Council Approves Committee

The Student Council has approved the formation of a campus-wide student sorority-fraternity committee. This committee will work in conjunction with the faculty sorority-fraternity committee. Any Eastern student is eligible to apply for membership on this new committee. Interested students should contact the Student Council office in the S.U.B. as quickly as possible because the committee members will be selected from the applicants next week. Six students will form the committee.

Dean Park, chairman of the faculty sorority-fraternity committee, has requested that this committee be established under the jurisdiction of the Student Council. Plans for a meeting of the two committees, student and faculty, are being made. A tentative date, December 7, has been set for the first meeting. The Student Committee will have three weeks preparation time before meeting with the Faculty Committee. This time is allotted for the committee's planning and organizing ideas pro and con.

Student Council President Hugh Burkett said: "I am confident that the conclusion in this matter will be unbiased. I am hoping that the student committee will make a favorable impact on the faculty committee. To make this favorable impact, students on the committee should state substantial and well-organized opinions. A diversity of opinions." (Continued on page 3)

Queen And Her Court

A perfect homecoming weekend was highlighted by the crowning of Queen Carol Ann Fritz, homecoming queen at pre-game ceremonies Saturday.

Miss Fritz, from Richmond, represented the AUSA. First runner-up was Miss Mithana Whaley, from Lexington, representing Kappa Delta Tau was third runner-up Miss Pat Taulbee from Campton.

Law Enforcement Degree Authorized By Regents

A proposed two-year associate degree program in law enforcement was authorized Saturday by the Eastern Kentucky State College board of regents with the expectation that it will later become a four-year bachelor's degree program.

To be called the Department of Law Enforcement and included within the framework of the School of Technology, the program is expected to begin the second semester of this year. President Robert R. Martin said.

It will be the first college-based program in Kentucky. The program came about as a result of a request by Glenn Lovern, State Commissioner of Public Safety.

Lovern, Dr. John Rowlett, dean of the school of Technology, and James E. Bassett, director of the division of state police, worked out details for the program. The curricula for the four semesters of concentrated study have yet to be approved by the Eastern curriculum committee and the Council on Public Higher Education.

Program Praised - Dr. Martin said that the program is one for which there is a great need in Kentucky. (Continued on page 3)

Ticket Sales Begin Monday For 'Look Homeward, Angel'

Tickets for "Look Homeward, Angel" will go on sale Monday at 2 in the theatre box-office, and they will be sold daily from 2 to 5 through the run of the show. The production will play nightly November 15-20, at 8 p.m. in the Pearl Buchanan Theatre. Tickets are priced at fifty cents for students and seventy-five cents for others.

"Look Homeward, Angel," a comedy-drama by Ketti Frings, adapted from Thomas Wolfe's novel of the same name, will be the first production of Eastern Little Theatre for the 1965-66 school year. The play, which won both the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Critics' award as the best play of 1958, has come to be regarded by many people as an authentic American classic.

Miss Frings has taken the essence of Wolfe's autobiographical novel and artfully translated it into the exacting medium of the stage. It is a very intense play, alternating in mood between sardonic humor and grief — both private and universal.

"Look Homeward, Angel" is set in Attamont (Asheville), N.C. in the fall of 1916. Most of the action takes place at the Dixieland Boarding House, where Eliza Gant has enclosed her family amid a group of transient strangers. And the members of the Gant family play out their lives in conjunction with the boarders for the attractions and concern of Eliza.

Furnishing the love interest are Judy Lawler, freshman from West Union, Ohio, as Laura James; and Betty Pennycook, a Stanton senior, as Mrs. Pert. Two Cincinnati freshmen, Frank Simons and Alan Aubrey, enact the role of Dr. Maguire and Will Penland. Candy Fawcett, a senior from Lewisburg, W.Va., is Madame Elizabeth.

The boarders are Lana Kress, Lexington, freshman, as Mrs. Penland; Randy Nolte, a freshman from Covington, Jake Chast, her son; Bonnie Goodpaster, Mt. Sterling sophomore, as Miss Brown; Sandra Schneider, a freshman from Cincinnati, as Mrs. Snowden; Silas Jones, junior from Ligon, as Mr. Farrel, and Susan Couch, Covington freshman, as Florry Mangie.

Director of "Look Homeward, Angel," is Joe M. Johnson, Assistant director is John Curran, junior from Harrodsburg; and technical director is David Bond, senior from Versailles.

Mr. Poister will give eight concert selections consisting of Widor, Bach, Brahms, Reger and Franck. The second program will be presented Sunday, December 6 by Mrs. Nancy Lancaster, organist on the college faculty. On January 16, 1966, Mr. Clyde Holloway of Indiana University will continue the series with a 4 p.m. program. Mrs. Lancaster presents the fourth concert on Sunday, February 13. Mr. Donald McDonald of New York City will be on the campus Sunday, March 13.

The series will be terminated with the sixth program on Sunday, April 3, with Mrs. Lancaster at the console. Students and the public are cordially invited to hear four of the country's most distinguished artists.

Thanks To The Workers

Homecoming Was Biggest And Best

HOMECOMING THIS YEAR proved to be one of the best and most exciting in the history of the school.

We would like to congratulate the team on a game well played and enjoyed by all.

Harty applause is due to the Homecoming Committee made up of Larry Rees, chairman; Becky Sizer, Dianne Hendricks, Peggy Carter, Jim Smith, Shirley Richardson, Jim Clark, Jeanie Gail Ashe, Mike Campbell, Sondra Tudor, and Jan Fisher as well as to all others who worked to make this an eventful and memorable weekend for all.

Apparently, the reorganization of Homecoming and making it an all campus responsibility rather than the responsibility of one organization worked out successfully.

The parade proved to be the best we have ever seen with much more work and interest shown in the work of the floats and smoothness with which the parade proceeded also pointed to efficient organization.

Although the election turnout was far from what it should have been for the Homecoming Queen finalists, it did give the students an opportunity to help in the selection of the Queen. We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Carol Ann Fritz for being selected as this year's Homecoming Queen, and to commend the other candidates for the excellent job they did of representing their organizations.

Congratulations are also in order for the winners of the float judging and the dormitory decorations, as well as to those organizations who worked so diligently to see that the other buildings were fittingly decorated for the occasion.

Again we thank all those involved in making this the biggest and best Homecoming in the history of Eastern.

Students Fight Image

(ACP)—A group of Yale students is setting out to combat the trouble-maker image of the college student by creating a nationwide opinion magazine, says the Daily Lass-O, Texas Women's University, Denton.

The magazine, Political, was introduced to show what students are really interested in.

According to the Christian Science Monitor, the editors hope to "present the most important national issues each month by the men who make them, the statesmen and political scientists."

"The students hope to show that most students are serious about their studies and are interested in helping solve national and international problems," the Monitor said.

Included in the first month's issue are articles by Secretary of State Dean Rusk; U Thant, United Nations secretary general; former Sen. Barry Goldwater; William P. Bundy, undersecretary of state for the Far East, and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, House minority leader.

As if the list of contributors isn't impressive enough, the magazine has received endorsement from the Luce publications, Life, Time, and Sports Illustrated, as well as $10,000 worth of credit from McCall's press.

The editors, two Yale juniors majoring in political science and philosophy, want their magazine to be "a clear, concise forum to bring closer communication between government and the public."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor: Last week the Progress carried an article stating that the Homecoming parade would be sponsored by the ACP. It was a great Homecoming parade was sponsored by the Homecoming committee, Larry Rees, Mike Campbell, Jim Clark, Sigma Chi Delta, and the Counterguerrilla Raiders.

I wish to commend Larry Rees for his organization of Homecoming and the results which he and his committee achieved.

Not So Beautiful Anymore

Students Are Ruining The Ravine By Playing Football On The Grass

WE HAVE OFTEN HEARD complaints from students about the construction projects scheduled to be placed in the ravine. The cries are heard far and wide that one of the most beautiful spots on campus is being torn up and done away with so that construction might move ahead. They often complain about the grass being torn up and replaced with concrete.

But students do not consider the damage they are doing to the same place by insisting on playing football in the ravine every afternoon. The grass is steadily being killed off and one of the most beautiful spots on campus is no longer beautiful anymore.

We do not say that it is wrong to play football. Some outside activity is necessary at the end of a day of classes. A football game is a perfect way to unwind.

But not in the ravine. There are numerous intramural teams which are open to any student desiring to play. Intramurals are run throughout the year, with games scheduled in all the major sports. These games are played on special fields set apart for that purpose.

Those who do not desire to join a league may still use these fields on which to play. These fields are designed for the sports and provide no complications such as students walking to and from classes, automobiles, trees, etc.

We suggest that these football fields be used for the purpose for which they were designed, and the ravine be used for the purpose for which it was designed, and that one is not allowed to interfere with the other.

That Seat Is Taken

Home Games Show Need For Larger Football Stadium

EASTERN'S FOUR HOME FOOTBALL GAMES have consistently pointed to the growing need for a larger football stadium.

The first home game this season played against Austin Peay showed results of the largest advanced ticket sales in the history of the school. The game against Marshall was viewed by no less than 6,000 people. The annual Band Day game played against Middle Tennessee produced a crowd of 10,000. Last week approximately 11,500 were on hand for the Homecoming game with Western.

All of these games have consistently left someone standing in the end zones, watching from dorm windows, sitting on the grass, and hanging over the fences. There have even been some who were obliged to sit out the first half of the games in the Student Union grill waiting until after half-time ceremonies to claim seats in the stadium.

We are glad to report this condition, for it shows statistically that interest in the team is growing, and that Eastern fans are not to be discouraged by a less than glorious record. We welcome our fans and are pleased by their interest and support of the team.

But these statistics also point to a more alarming fact. We need a larger stadium.

It is a rather distressing situation when Eastern cannot find seats for their own football game. The sections set apart for the student body are less than adequate to seat all the students wishing to attend the games. It has become almost imperative for students to arrive at the games as much as an hour and a half before the start of the game in order to be seated. Those arriving later often must return to their dorms, or sit in the reserved seats sections in the hopes that these seats will not be claimed.

It is estimated that by 1970 Eastern will have an enrollment of 10,000. The student body will by that time have taken over the present stadium leaving virtually no room for visitors.

We have all learned to accept and tolerate our crowded campus conditions. But only with the thought in mind that these conditions would somehow be relieved. Therefore, we must begin to plan now not only for crowded dorm and classrooms involving only students, but also for athletic events involving visitors and guests of the College as well as students.

It is almost impossible to fully enjoy a football game when you sit in seats that your seat might be taken if you stand to see a play. It is also impossible to watch a game without moving or showing some physical evidence of true spectator participation in the game.

References have been made of the possibility of a new stadium, and we all look forward with enthusiasm not only to the day when these plans are announced, but also to the day when we can watch a football game without fear of being crowded or crowding others.

Graduate School Offers New Programs

By NORRIS MILES
Managing Editor

Eastern accelerates its educational offerings through the Graduate School this academic year with three new Master of Arts in Education programs and long range plans for degrees in other fields.

The Graduate program, a fully-accredited program of graduate studies, is geared to serve the school people of Kentucky and to accomplish its historic mission of training qualified teachers for the Commonwealth.

The Graduate School is part of the reorganization of the College which went into effect with the beginning of the academic year.

Dr. Clyde Orr, who headed the old Graduate Division, remains Dean of the Graduate School. Dr. Dixon Barr, Dean of the School of Education with Dean Orr worked out MA programs for the School.

Dean Orr is a graduate of Lincoln Memorial University. He holds the MS degree from Tennessee and the Ed.D. from the University of Kentucky. He has served as director of the UK Ashland center, and has had extensive experience as high school principal in Kentucky and Tennessee before coming to Eastern.

Master of Arts degrees in Education are offered in Elementary Education, Secondary Education, Supervision, Guidance, Principalship, and specialized programs for both Elementary and Secondary Teachers in Reading and Library Science.

Sixth-year programs offered lead to Rank I certification for both Elementary and Secondary teachers. In addition, the College offers work at the Sixth-year level leading to the Standard Leadership Certificate for school leaders. This includes Supervisors, Principals, and Superintendents.

A Sixth-year program leading to the Standard Certificate for Guidance Counselors is also included in the broad area of graduate studies in the School.

The College has been authorized to grant the Masters in academic fields, for example English, biology, history, but President Robert R. Martin and the Board of Regents have deferred action until complete staff, physical facilities, and course offerings are ready. This readying is part of Dr. Orr's job.

Dean Orr commented that expanding the program to include degrees in other academic fields is presently underway by the Graduate Council which is working on criteria for teaching graduate courses.

The Graduate School has 249 part-time students enrolled and 49 full-time students. "We are hoping to encourage more full-time students to do graduate work instead of part-time," said Dean Orr. To attract top students Graduate Assistantships are being offered and others will be offered as the School grows.

Admission requirements for the graduate program are:

1. A graduate of an accredited 4-year institution eligible to grant the Baccalaureate Degree.
2. An over-all undergraduate point standing of at least 2.4 (based on a 4.0). A standing of not less than 2.25 may be considered (with reduced load) provided the student's standing in his last year of undergraduate study was at least 2.5.
3. Complete personal and professional data, filed by the student in the Office of Graduate Studies. A transcript of all college and secondary school credits must be filed with the Office of Graduate Studies and with the Dean of Admissions.
4. A grade of no less than "C" in student teaching at the undergraduate level.

Each graduate student is assigned an advisory committee which works with him throughout his graduate program.

Masters degrees are more insistently demanded by industry and education. Eastern is rapidly moving to grant more of them, with the emphasis on quality.

Law Enforcement Degree Authorized

 He called the program "a fine program for the college and a great one for Kentucky."
 The program, according to Bassett, "would be a major step toward upgrading future police operations and a prerequisite to professionalism."
 In a letter to the college, Bassett cited one of the most pronounced obstacles in Kentucky as "the lack of a supply of police recruits who have been educated to any degree in law enforcement."
 "To date in Kentucky," he said, "there has not been established and maintained either at the secondary level or college level a curriculum designed to assist those students desiring to enter the police field."
 "As a result, all personnel recruited for police service come to us without enough formal education or with an educational background tailored to prepare them for some other field of service."
 He added, "The establishment of an educational program within a state college to satisfy this need is imperative."
 President Martin said the college also plans to make short courses available through the program in the summer months for city and county personnel involved in law enforcement work.
 Rowlett said the curricula has been organized into four major areas of specialization, either of which would satisfy requirements for the Associate of Arts degree.
 They are: general law enforcement, juvenile law enforcement, corrections, and industrial security.
 All four areas have basic liberal arts courses included in their curriculums, including courses in psychology, sociology, and government, as well as such courses as criminal investigation, court procedures and mechanics, police organization and administration, traffic accident investigation and prevention, juvenile procedures, penology, prison security and administration, business and industrial security, and safety and first aid.
 In other action, the board accepted the retirement of three faculty members: W. L. Keene, professor of English since 1926; R. R. Richards, professor of business who has served here since 1929, and Mrs. R. R. Richards, associate professor of geography and former secretary of the Alumni Association, who has served since 1923.
 Appointed three new department chairmen in the School of Business: Dr. Alfred L. Patrick, business education; Dr. Donald Shadon, economics, and Claude Smith, acting chairman of the Department of Accounting.
 Approved a cooperative contract between the Department of Nursing and the King's Daughters Hospital in Frankfort. It will serve as a clinical facility, along with hospitals in Danville and Paris, for students enrolled in the nursing program.
 The board also adopted a resolution honoring the late Judge Thomas B. McGregor, long-time regent of the college. The resolution said that "the memory of Judge McGregor will be retained by the Eastern community and reinforced by the building (McGregor Hall, a women's dormitory) which bears his name."
 Attending his first board meeting was Senator Durham Howard of Pineville, who was named by the Governor to replace Judge McGregor.

CROSS-COUNTRY ELECTS CAPTAINS

The cross country team has named its captains for this year. Larry Wrasien, a senior from Euclid, Ohio, and Ken Anderson, a freshman from Sweden, have been elected co-captains for the 1966 season. Wrasien has had an outstanding track and cross country career as Eastern as he was the OVC mile champion in 1963 and 1965, while in 1964 he captured the 880 yard championship. Anderson, who hails from Sweden, has a time of 3:53 minutes for the mile and 1:50 for the 880. This is Anderson's first visit to America and he looms as one of the outstanding new members to the Eastern track and cross country program. He was also the Swedish Junior 1500 meter champion in 1963.

CARTER MOVES TO FOURTH PLACE

Herman Carter made the biggest jump of all the Easterners in the conference standings.

Carter, after holding down the number nine spot for two consecutive weeks, moved up to fourth place in rushing. He is averaging 5.4 yards a carry.

Malins moved into the top spot in punting as he is averaging 42.6 yards a kick. The Western game gave him a lot of extra yardage as he punted for an average 47.1 per kick.

Larry Marmie and Jim Guice are number eight and nine in total offense respectively. Marmie has amassed 580 yards in 131 plays, while Guice has a total of 573.

Guice and Marmie are also number 4 and 5 in passing in the league. Guice has the second best passing percentage of 65 per cent, hitting on 47 passes in 54 attempts, while Marmie has hit on 41 passes in 67 attempts for a fantastic 66 percentage.

Marmie is also third in scoring with 36 points. He needs only 18 points to break the all-time school scoring record for one season which is held by Coach John Sebest since 1957.

Walter Murphy is leading the kicking division with 14 extra points and 4 field goals to give him a total of 28 points. This total places him in a tie for the ninth position in the OVC.

In pass receiving, Fred Malins slipped to third place while Jim Ratliff, who has been out for two games fell to fifth.

Malins has 28 reception for 384 yards, while Ratliff has snagged 25 passes for 389 yards and three touchdowns.

The "E" Club of Eastern made an announcement concerning the wearing of high school letters and asked if they would be removed from jackets and sweaters. Some people still refuse to have these letters removed. These students should be reminded that the athletes do not appreciate their appearance on campus. These people are not in high school and should realize this fact.

It is a school policy that only Eastern letters are to be worn on campus and that action will be taken if these high school letters are still worn.

INDIVIDUAL SCHOOL RECORDS COULD FALL

Jim Guice needs only 14 completions to break the school record for most passes completed. Tony Lanham connected for 60 completions in 1961.

Fred Malins needs only one more reception to break the all-time school record which is held by Jim Rice in 1952.

Larry Marmie needs only two touchdowns to tie the Jimmy Chittum's record of eight set back in 1962 and 16 points to break Coach John Sebest's old record of 51 points.

MIDDLE TENNESSEE ON TOP

Middle Tennessee's Blue Raiders knocked off the Austin Peay Governors Saturday at Clarksville to give them undisputed possession of the top spot in the OVC. Middle Tennessee scored two touchdowns in the final period to take a come-from-behind victory from the Governors.

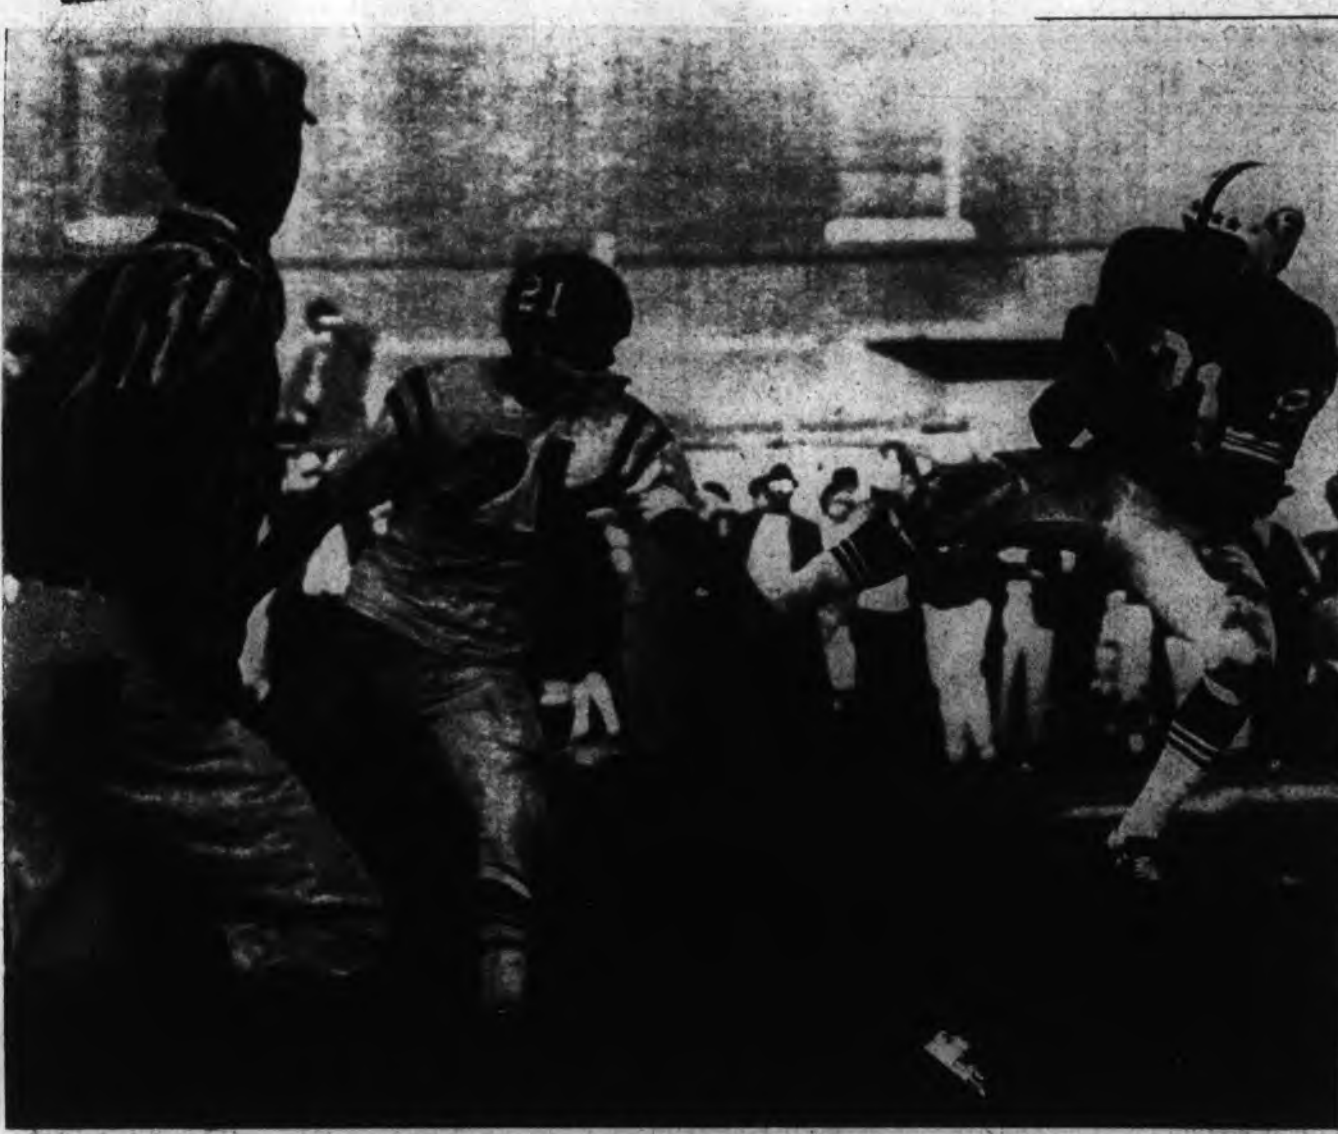

Middle Tennessee was down 20-10 at the half but roared back with a tremendous defensive effort in the second half. Middle Tennessee still has Murray, East Tennessee and Tennessee Tech left on their schedule, while Austin Peay must play East Tennessee and Tennessee Tech. Barring no upsets, Middle Tennessee should be the top team again in the OVC.

EASTERN COULD PLACE THIRD

The Maroons could pick up third place in the OVC this year if they defeat Tennessee Tech Saturday. This would be a big improvement on last year's seventh place position. The Maroons finished 2-4-1 last year in the OVC and right now possess a 2-2-1 record.

Injuries have plagued the Maroons thus far this season and this week has been no exception. The team has been doing nothing but light work, going out in sweat suits for the better portion of the week.

Aaron Marsh and Roger Prall will be out for the Tech game while Roy Evans and Miller Arritt will see limited action. Tech has been playing exceptionally good ball all year but still has to play Austin Peay and Middle Tennessee, so third place is up for grabs.

Ratliff Grabs Pass For Final Tally

Jim Ratliff catches a 32-yard pass from Jim Guice on the Western 5, setting up the Maroons' final score in the 28-12 win over the rival Hilltoppers Saturday. Western safety man Jim Sprinkle pulls Ratliff's foot, but after the Maroon split-end has made his 25th reception of the season.

Maroons Whip Western In Homecoming Game

A record-breaking crowd of 11,500 watched the usually pass-minded Maroons take to ground in their 28-12 win over Western.

The first time the Maroons gained possession of the ball a Larry Marmie to Jim Ratliff pass accounted for six points. The key play in the drive was a 16-yard run by Aaron Marsh.

The Toppers also scored in the first quarter as freshman sensation Dickie Moore ran 41 yards on a draw play. The try for the PAT was no good and the score stood 7-6. A scoreless second quarter sent the Maroons who were trying for their first win over Western since 1962, to the dressing room with a 7-6 halftime edge.

Herman Carter was the bright spot in the third quarter as he ran around, over, and through the Toppers on a 31-yard touchdown run after taking a pitchout from Marmie.

Maroons Journey To Tennessee Tech

Eastern's Maroons made their fourth and last homecoming appearance Saturday when they visit Ohio Valley Conference contender Tennessee Tech in Cookeville.

Winners of their own homecoming Saturday, 28-12 over arch-rival Western, the Maroons have split in road games against the enemies' old grads. They spoiled East Tennessee festivities 23-0, but lost at Findlay 34-3.

The Maroons, 2-4-1 overall, are out of the conference title race with a 2-2-1 league record, but can still finish as high as third in the standings with a sweep of their two remaining games against Tech and Morehead.

Tennessee Tech, 3-1 in conference play, lost 20-6 to tough Louisiana State Saturday, and must bounce back against Eastern to keep within striking distance of Middle Tennessee, 5-0, and Austin Peay, 5-1.

To beat Tech the Maroons must stop fullback Ron Reeves, who coach Roy Kidd calls a better runner than Western's league-leading Dickie Moore, who Eastern limited to 62 yards in 15 carries. Moore lost two yards in four tries in the second half.

Punter Praised by Kidd
Kidd credited Fred Malins 47.1 yard average punting which kept the Toppers backed in the hole for a key role in the win. He also pointed out that five of seven offensive linemen blocked 85 percent or better, and that six of eight offensive backs playing, blocked and ran 80 percent or better.

Malins, who got off to a shaky foot punting this fall, has kicked for better than a 45-yard average in the last four games to up his season mark to 42.6 yards-per-punt. He is also only one catch away from tying Jim Rice's 1953 record of 29 pass receptions. Malins has 26 catches for 354 yards. But close behind him is split end Jim Ratliff, who has 25 snags for 389 yards.

Leading the Maroons in rushing is freshman fullback Herman Carter with 359 yards in 72 carries for a 5.4 average. He exploded for 108 yards in 26 carries against the Toppers.

The Eastern passing combo of Larry Marmie and Jim Guice has accounted for more than 1,000 yards of Eastern's 2,066 seven-game total.

Guice has hit on 46 of 64 for 621 yards and six touchdowns, while Marmie has connected on 41 of 67 for 462 yards and one score. Wingback Malins has hit two of three for 31 yards.

Marmie, the leading scorer with 36 points on six touchdowns, is trailed by Walter Murphy, freshman guard, who has scored 26 points on 14 of 18 conversions, and four for four field goals. Carter is close behind Murphy with 24 points on four six-pointers.

Coach Baechtold Not Pessimistic Over Loss Of Key Basketball Players

Desire and willingness to work are dominating practice sessions at Eastern where Coach Jim Baechtold's Maroons are preparing for their Ohio Valley Conference championship defense this season.

Last season the Maroons were 19-6 overall and zipped through their loop card with a 13-1 record. But, they lost their top rebounder, 6-8 Bob Tolan, floor leader, 6-4 Lee Lemos, and defensive ace, 6-5 Dennis Bradley.

Many coaches might be pessimistic and speak of a rebuilding year after graduation losses of this magnitude but not Baechtold. He feels he has a solid enough nucleus in Eddie Bodkin, Bill Walton, and Jerry Bisbey to take a serious stab at the first successful OVC title defense in over a decade.

Bodkin, a 6-7 senior forward, is the finest offensive player over at Eastern. He averaged 22.4 points per game last year, ranks as the fifth all-time Eastern scorer and is almost a sure bet to move to the No. 1 spot this season.

A great outside shooter, and possessor of a dreaded hook shot, he developed his driving game this summer. Called "The Machine," by his teammates, he should be Eastern's first All-American since Carl Cole.

Walton, a 6-1 guard, was a key man in last year's title. Inexperienced at the start of the season, he averaged 12.3 points per game. The fastest man in the conference, he led the Maroon fastbreak and got back on defense to stop the opponent's running game.

Bisbey, a 6-8 forward-center with cat-like agility, was the league's best sixth man last season. As a reserve he passed up a lot of shots he doesn't miss in practice, but still averaged 6.8 points per game.

Likely successor to Tolan at center should be John Carr, a 6-9 marksman who played in Tolan's shadow for two seasons. Not to be overlooked, however, is 6-7 Garfield Smith, Eastern's first Negro cager, voted the league's best freshman center by the loop coaches a year ago, and 6-6 Jerry Jones, a burly red-shirt.

There's big battle waging for Lemos' vacated guard spot. Doug Clemmons, the third guard last season, is back, but there are a host of good players pushing him.

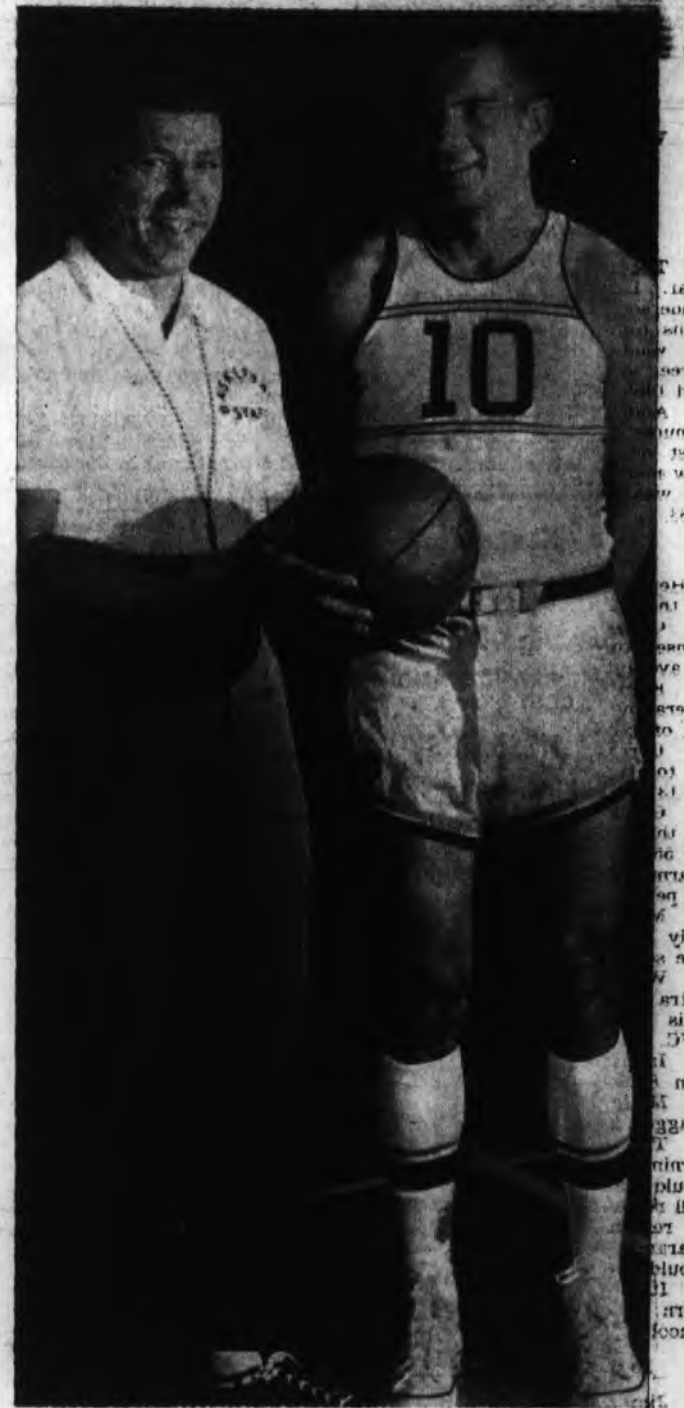

High-scoring Larry Hobson, who averaged 30.5 points per game in high school, and defensive performer Fred Johnson, both red-shirts last year, are ready for varsity play. Also, returning squadman Carl Westfield, last year's freshman team guards Joe Davis, and Joe Prats and Harold Boone, back at Eastern after a stint in the service, are in the running.

Pushing Bisbey for a forward assignment are juniors Dick Clark, an explosive scorer, and Don Granowicz, a good jumper with defensive ability.

Despite the loss of three of the top five scorers, representing 38 points of last season's 86.2 point per game record pace, Baechtold feels this group will be a better shooting and scoring team. Last season the Maroons hit 46.4 per cent of their shots for another record.

While Baechtold has more raw talent than a year ago, he says the one liability that must be overcome is a lack of varsity experience on the part of what should be key personnel.

The Maroons open their 1965-66 season Wednesday, December 1, when they host Transylvania. Saturday, December 4, Dayton's Flyers face them in Alumni Coliseum.

Bodkin Fifth Highest Scorer

Eastern Kentucky basketball coach Jim Baechtold has nothing to be sad about when he's with 6-7 senior forward Eddie Bodkin. Bodkin, a native of Harrodsburg, who averaged 22.4 points per game last year and is the fifth highest scorer in Eastern history, will lead the Maroons in their Ohio Valley Conference championship defense this season.

DENNIS BRADFORD
Headhunter of the Week

This week's defensive player of the week is Dennis Bradford, senior co-captain from Bellevue. He made 12 individual tackles and 8 assists and had several key defensive plays. Bradford has been going both ways (offense and defense) because of injuries to other centers, but Saturday he concentrated on defense.

HERMAN CARTER
Renegade of the Week

Herman Carter, freshman, Cincinnati, Ohio, is this week's winner of the offensive player of the week award. A 9.6 sprinter, Carter gained 108 yards in 13 carries to easily overshadow Western's sensational freshman halfback Dickie Moore, who gained only 62 yards in 15 carries. Carter scored one touchdown on a 31-yard run and set up another with a 40-yard run. He also displayed remarkable balance several times, remaining on his feet after being hit by tacklers.

BOB TARVIN
Renegade of the Week

Bob Tarvin roped in his second Renegade of the Week award. Tarvin has been playing exceptionally good ball this year and has improved greatly over last year when he served as a red-shirt.

Tarvin is a 218 10, freshman from Williamsburg, Ohio. He completed 78 per cent of his blocking assignments in the Western game.

BUDDY PFAADT
Headhunter of the Week

Buddy Pfaadt also received his second Headhunter award, and oddly enough he and Tarvin received them at the same time earlier in the season.

Pfaadt has been doing an exceptional job this year on defense. He leads the team in pass interceptions. He had 8 individual tackles and 10 assisted against Western.

CHUCK SIEMAN
Headhunter of the Week

Chuck Sieman did it again. He earned his third Headhunter of the Week award. Sieman intercepted another pass against Western and turned in his usual above average game.

Sieman is considered by Coach Kidd to be the best defensive end in the conference and if he does not place in the OVC first team defense this year no one should.

Co-Captains Elected

The cross-country team elected captains for the 1965 season. Larry Whalen and Keith Andersson are shown here with coach Smith.

X-Country Cops Perfect Score In Saturday Meet

Eastern's cross country team ran up another perfect score Saturday when they defeated Cumberland and Morehead 15 to 62 and 15 to 69 respectively. Iowa University has been the only team to score against Eastern this year and they were only able to pick up a 5th place.

Grant Colehour of Eastern was the winner once again. He was followed closely by John Woods of Eastern. Eastern also picked up the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th places. Jimmy Nichols, Kent Anderson, Jan Halth, Larry Whalen, and Jim Beasley finished in that order. Coach Smith said, "It was a great team effort and our frosh once again led the parade by gathering our first five positions. We were extremely pleased with John Woods and Himmy Nichols who both ran their finest race of the season."

Eastern is now facing the toughest three meets of the season. This Saturday Eastern runs against the 1964 NCAA champions, Kentucky State. The meet will end Eastern's dual meet season. Kentucky State is once again a powerhouse with Don Knox and Richard Ewing who finished 4th and 5th in their NCAA finals, leading the way.

Eastern has several outstanding runners to this already powerful team and feels that no one in Kentucky can beat them. Last year Eastern defeated Kentucky State 28-29 in a dual meet and a week later Kentucky State was crowned national champion. It was the first loss in 33 meets for Kentucky State. Once again Eastern goes into the meet as the underdog. It could be a great win for the Maroons if they could pull through with a victory.

This Saturday Eastern will take part in the U.S.T.F.F. meet in Louisville against Western and Murray. This meet should be a preview of the conference meet to be held at Morehead November 20. The Federation meet is an open meet for all college and high school runners in the state. At of now Western looms as Eastern's biggest rival for they defeated Murray 22-33 at Western last Saturday.

Eastern has one thing in its favor and that is they are coming into the meet as an underdog and have everything to gain and nothing to lose. The federation meet should provide excellent competition for all runners.

As of now Grant Colehour, freshman from Rockford, Ill., has been the outstanding and consistent runner on the Eastern squad. Colehour has been beaten only once, and that was by John Woods in the Illinois meet. Woods, freshman from Elmhurst, Ill., is rounding into condition, as in the race Saturday he finished only 4 seconds behind Colehour.

Coach Smith says, "If our other runners can bunch in behind these two lads we are going to be difficult to beat."

Student Killed In Argument

An Eastern freshman, 18-year-old Frank Congleton of Richmond, was shot and killed about two miles northwest of Richmond late Saturday night. Congleton was dead on arrival at the Patten A. Clay Infirmary at 11 p.m. that night.

Coronet Walter Todd said the youth died from a .22-caliber rifle bullet wound in the forehead above the right eye.

James Alvin Fritz, also from Richmond, was accused in the slaying. He was admitted to the Pope Hospital in shock, an attending physician said.

A warrant was issued Monday charging the youth in the fatal shooting of Congleton but it has not been executed because Fritz remains under sedation at the Pope Hospital.

Witnesses, who made statements, were quoted by Trooper John Nixon as saying the shooting took place following an argument between Congleton and Fritz at Jerry's Drive-In parking lot.

After the exchange of words at Jerry's, the youths drove away from town in separate cars to an electric power substation on Goggins Lane where the shooting occurred, witnesses said.

The trooper, quoting a witness, said both Fritz and Congleton got out of their cars and Fritz took a .22-caliber rifle from the trunk of his car.

The weapon was fired twice, witnesses said. One bullet struck Congleton; the other went astray.

He was the son of Mr. & Mrs. Frank Congleton, Sr., Lancaster Road.

Funeral services were held Monday at the First Christian Church by Dr. Frank N. Tindler.

Garvice Kincaid Underwrites Lecture Series

President Robert R. Martin announced that Garvice D. Kincaid, prominent Lexington financier, has underwritten an annual appropriation to establish a lecture series here.

Dr. Martin said that the appropriation would be sufficient to bring two or three distinguished lecturers to the campus each year.

The lectures, which would be held in Hiram Brock Auditorium are expected to begin this year, he said.

Kincaid, who received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Eastern last spring, attended the college for three years before receiving a law degree from the University of Kentucky.

He is a native of Madison County.
