This paper is posted at Encompass.
http://encompass.eku.edu/progress_1970-71/8
$355,000 'Low' Bid Accepted For Chapel

The low bid of the Melson Construction Company, Frankfort, has been accepted for the construction of the Chapel of Meditation. The bid was made on August 1, 1971, and the estimated cost of the chapel is $355,000. Although the Century Fund has pledged $40,000, a definite amount of money is needed to complete the chapel. A decision to build the chapel was made at a previous meeting. The chapel is also a factor in the acceptance of a $40,000 bond issue. The final bill of the chapels will be approximately $150,000 worth of materials. The Century Fund has offered $40,000 to use in building the chapel. The Century Fund is committed to use this "phase two" of funds in the coming months to raise that portion of the money.

The completed construction date of August 1, 1971, set for the chapel will be completed approximately by the end of the following year, according to Dan Wray, president of the Alumni Association. Acceptance of the low bid gives the Century Fund the opportunity to push the chapel to completion.

The construction began in 1968 with an original cost of $200,000 for construction of the non-denominational Chapel of Meditation. Acceptance of the low bid of $355,000 tentatively will mean the construction of a new chapel.

A ground-breaking ceremony was held last fall on the old Roger Stadium with representatives of the Century Fund, the Alumni Association, and the President of Eastern.

The next step in the construction will be to raise the $40,000 needed by the Century Fund to complete the project. The Century Fund has committed $28,000 to the project and is in the process of raising the remaining $12,000. Although there were some bumps in the road, the Century Fund is determined to complete the project.

A new building will be constructed at a cost of $250,000 which will be built on the site of the original building. The final cost of the new building will be approximately $355,000.

Dr. Martin said that the chapel will be a focal point for meditation and prayer. The building will be a place for Eastern students to find a quiet place to reflect and pray. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to seek solace and peace. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to come together and reflect on their lives.

Dr. Martin said that the chapel will be a focal point for meditation and prayer. The building will be a place for Eastern students to find a quiet place to reflect and pray. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to seek solace and peace. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to come together and reflect on their lives.

Dr. Martin said that the chapel will be a focal point for meditation and prayer. The building will be a place for Eastern students to find a quiet place to reflect and pray. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to seek solace and peace. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to come together and reflect on their lives.

Dr. Martin said that the chapel will be a focal point for meditation and prayer. The building will be a place for Eastern students to find a quiet place to reflect and pray. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to seek solace and peace. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to come together and reflect on their lives.

Dr. Martin said that the chapel will be a focal point for meditation and prayer. The building will be a place for Eastern students to find a quiet place to reflect and pray. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to seek solace and peace. The chapel will be a place for Eastern students to come together and reflect on their lives.
Many complaints have been voiced this fall concerning the entertainment here on campus. We have had good concerts but nothing in the way of big name entertainment. The student grip is legitimate. Who wants to hear and see groups like Freddy and the Dreamers when groups like Chicago and the Bee Gees are playing at schools all around us? It is unfortunate that this happened.

We pay our fee in registration and when the end of the semester rolls around, we just can understand where all that money went. We have approximately $16,000 per semester to buy entertainment. This seems like a bundle of loot but most groups charge about $5000 and/or minimum rate.

What if we did get a big name group? Would anyone stick around to hear the above groups. We pay our own expenses and is there any chance the house would not be filled. When The Letterman, The Beach Boys, and Peter, Paul and Mary were big names in music, Eastern learned that they were a sure-fire way to loan money.

When those three groups were at their peak, Eastern’s leftovers left campus as usual. Before we see any top-notch concerts, we will have to see some student support and enthusiasm.

To try to stay here on weekends and pay two or three dollars at the door, we may see some real mud shows. If not, we can look forward to seeing all of the above groups. Dust off your “forty-fives” and fish out our chances of ever seeing the kind of entertainers we would like to see.

The University simply cannot take the risk of booking a group like Chicago with the chance that the house would not be filled. When The Letterman, The Beach Boys, and Peter, Paul and Mary were big names in music, Eastern learned that they were a sure-fire way to loan money.

What if we did get a big name group? Would anyone stick around to hear the above groups. We pay our own expenses and is there any chance the house would not be filled. When The Letterman, The Beach Boys, and Peter, Paul and Mary were big names in music, Eastern learned that they were a sure-fire way to loan money.

It is my unproven belief that the majority of white students dig soul music. Attendance of whites at black shows and the albums featuring Negro musicians found in many white students’ rooms are evidence. On the other hand, blacks just don’t hang on to many white entertainers. I cannot explain this phenomenon in any terms other than these: Negroes are tuned to a musical frequency that does not register while rhythm, sounds, or lyrics. If the University Board doubles the validity of my argument, it should take a survey to find out just how all of the students feel about campus entertainment—that is, if they care about how the students want their activity fees to be spent.

Why can’t entertainers such as the Deltones, the Jackson Five, the Temptations, Doone Warwick, or Herb Alpert be brought to campus? Some frequent excuses are that these entertainers are unavailable to campuses because of other scheduled performances or that they are too expensive.

If the University Center Board waits one year before they want to book groups to appear to make contact, of course these performances naturally have tight performance schedules and must be booked far in advance.

In regard to the expense, if the board concentrated on bringing a few well-known artists who the whole student body could enjoy instead of bringing numerous two-bit performers who are not well received, it could afford to pay our own expenses. Many groups that are well established offer special prizes to universities.

Many complaints have been voiced this fall concerning the entertainment here on campus. We have had good concerts but nothing in the way of big name entertainment. The student grip is legitimate. Who wants to hear and see groups like Freddy and the Dreamers when groups like Chicago and the Bee Gees are playing at schools all around us? It is unfortunate that this happened.

We pay our fee in registration and when the end of the semester rolls around, we just can understand where all that money went. We have approximately $16,000 per semester to buy entertainment. This seems like a bundle of loot but most groups charge about $5000 and/or minimum rate.

What if we did get a big name group? Would anyone stick around to hear the above groups. We pay our own expenses and is there any chance the house would not be filled. When The Letterman, The Beach Boys, and Peter, Paul and Mary were big names in music, Eastern learned that they were a sure-fire way to loan money.

When those three groups were at their peak, Eastern’s leftovers left campus as usual. Before we see any top-notch concerts, we will have to see some student support and enthusiasm.

To try to stay here on weekends and pay two or three dollars at the door, we may see some real mud shows. If not, we can look forward to seeing all of the above groups. Dust off your “forty-fives” and fish out
Ravine Millstones Seem Like Unnecessary Addition

BY ROBERT BABACE, J.r.

Eastern's famous ravine, long known for its "natural beauty," has become a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The seating capacity for the students of the Board of Regents appears to lack the concrete foundation which their action literally makes pourable in the west end of the ravine. Spending $350 to build a structure on which to place three millstones seems somewhat absurd.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.

The ravine has natural beauty -- why clutter it? asks another student, which leads to another point. The ravine was the object of the University's neglect long before the regrettable October 1 decision. The ravine has been a subject of controversy this past week. The ecological awareness and concern of EKU has come under fire, and I feel that the question is well worth exploring.
Soviet's Don't Smile So...

Refugee Prof. 'Sloops' To America

"Every man is not as willing as before in the U.S., but people don't smile as in the Soviet Union," said Stalin Lis, an Estonian refugee from Communist-rule, who visits Kentucky as a chemistry professor.

In 1969, Lis was one of the 16 Estonian political refugees who sought from Sweden in a 27-foot dinghy and landed in Virginia after a voyage of more than 6,000 miles. Dr. Lis also went to the U.S. in 1970, and in the past year, American express his gratitude that he has been here so readily.

For him, the U.S. is a country that is far away from the U.S.S.R.

Chairman of the October 7th campaign for Governor.

Whether we like it or not, 'we are here to fulfill our desire to lecture in schools on knowledge, Dr. Luts feels a duty to do so. Let every man toil to the best of his ability and to the best of our capacity; it is important not to give up in the face of the difficulties.

When asked how he spent his leisure time, Lis replied, "I want to be a long distance runner and to be the best of our country in the future."

Whether we like it or not, he is running in every category, "I have been writing my book for the last three weeks. We also promised, "There is hardly a city on the East Coast that I haven't been to."
BY PAULA GOODIN

Drug abuse among high school students in Kentucky has been increasing at an alarming rate. The Drug Abuse Education Program is an initiative to solve this growing problem.

A workshop was held on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University last week in a series of forums sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Health. The program is the sixth in a series of fourteen workshops in the state.

After each meeting of the forum, leaders from the region or other areas of the nation were asked to participate, directors from Keene, St. Louis, Iowa, Pittsburgh, and Chicago.

The workshop program consisted of four workshops, group discussions, and films. On Saturday, a film entitled "Perseus Amphitheater on Eastern's campus last week as part of the National Drug Abuse Education Program. Seventeen school students in Kentucky have been attending the workshops in Kentucky. They are Taylor Fulks, coordinator for drug abuse education State Department of Education; Paula Jinks, director of the State Department of Mental Health; hilliam of Nutrition and Drug Education; David Fulks, Instructor in the State Department of Health; and Dr. Herbert G. Gearhart, Associate Director of Development and Administration, Department of Mental Health.

In addition, the program on October 16, K Phi D will hold their annual "Kappa Alpha Order will meet in the Mule Barn to discuss business and plans for the current year. The meeting will be held in the Forest Room at 3:30 p.m.

Our Error...

An earlier issue of the "Kappa Alpha Order" mentioned Dr. Thomas Stedall from a local barber shop. We apologize to Dr. Stedall for this error.

Theological Seminary...}

Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, a Master of Arts in religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Christian Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Deans are appointed to the College of Philosophy and to the College of Education.

Dr. John C. Cooper, Chairman of the Department of Philosophy is making final arrangements for the next academic year.

As Part Of A National Program

E.K.U. Joins Attack Against High School Drug Abuse

BY PAULA GOODIN

Drug abuse among high school students in Kentucky has been increasing at an alarming rate. The Drug Abuse Education Program is an initiative to solve this growing problem.

A workshop was held on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University last week in a series of forums sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Health. The program is the sixth in a series of fourteen workshops in the state.

After each meeting of the forum, leaders from the region or other areas of the nation were asked to participate, directors from Keene, St. Louis, Iowa, Pittsburgh, and Chicago.

The workshop program consisted of four workshops, group discussions, and films. On Saturday, a film entitled "Perseus Amphitheater on Eastern's campus last week as part of the National Drug Abuse Education Program. Seventeen school students in Kentucky have been attending the workshops in Kentucky. They are Taylor Fulks, coordinator for drug abuse education State Department of Education; Paula Jinks, director of the State Department of Mental Health; hilliam of Nutrition and Drug Education; David Fulks, Instructor in the State Department of Health; and Dr. Herbert G. Gearhart, Associate Director of Development and Administration, Department of Mental Health.

In addition, the program on October 16, K Phi D will hold their annual "Kappa Alpha Order will meet in the Mule Barn to discuss business and plans for the current year. The meeting will be held in the Forest Room at 3:30 p.m.

Our Error...

An earlier issue of the "Kappa Alpha Order" mentioned Dr. Thomas Stedall from a local barber shop. We apologize to Dr. Stedall for this error.

Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Christian Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Deans are appointed to the College of Philosophy and to the College of Education.

Dr. John C. Cooper, Chairman of the Department of Philosophy is making final arrangements for the next academic year.

As Part Of A National Program

E.K.U. Joins Attack Against High School Drug Abuse

BY PAULA GOODIN

Drug abuse among high school students in Kentucky has been increasing at an alarming rate. The Drug Abuse Education Program is an initiative to solve this growing problem.

A workshop was held on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University last week in a series of forums sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Health. The program is the sixth in a series of fourteen workshops in the state.

After each meeting of the forum, leaders from the region or other areas of the nation were asked to participate, directors from Keene, St. Louis, Iowa, Pittsburgh, and Chicago.

The workshop program consisted of four workshops, group discussions, and films. On Saturday, a film entitled "Perseus Amphitheater on Eastern's campus last week as part of the National Drug Abuse Education Program. Seventeen school students in Kentucky have been attending the workshops in Kentucky. They are Taylor Fulks, coordinator for drug abuse education State Department of Education; Paula Jinks, director of the State Department of Mental Health; hilliam of Nutrition and Drug Education; David Fulks, Instructor in the State Department of Health; and Dr. Herbert G. Gearhart, Associate Director of Development and Administration, Department of Mental Health.

In addition, the program on October 16, K Phi D will hold their annual "Kappa Alpha Order will meet in the Mule Barn to discuss business and plans for the current year. The meeting will be held in the Forest Room at 3:30 p.m.

Our Error...

An earlier issue of the "Kappa Alpha Order" mentioned Dr. Thomas Stedall from a local barber shop. We apologize to Dr. Stedall for this error.

Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Christian Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Deans are appointed to the College of Philosophy and to the College of Education.

Dr. John C. Cooper, Chairman of the Department of Philosophy is making final arrangements for the next academic year.

As Part Of A National Program

E.K.U. Joins Attack Against High School Drug Abuse

BY PAULA GOODIN

Drug abuse among high school students in Kentucky has been increasing at an alarming rate. The Drug Abuse Education Program is an initiative to solve this growing problem.

A workshop was held on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University last week in a series of forums sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Health. The program is the sixth in a series of fourteen workshops in the state.

After each meeting of the forum, leaders from the region or other areas of the nation were asked to participate, directors from Keene, St. Louis, Iowa, Pittsburgh, and Chicago.

The workshop program consisted of four workshops, group discussions, and films. On Saturday, a film entitled "Perseus Amphitheater on Eastern's campus last week as part of the National Drug Abuse Education Program. Seventeen school students in Kentucky have been attending the workshops in Kentucky. They are Taylor Fulks, coordinator for drug abuse education State Department of Education; Paula Jinks, director of the State Department of Mental Health; hilliam of Nutrition and Drug Education; David Fulks, Instructor in the State Department of Health; and Dr. Herbert G. Gearhart, Associate Director of Development and Administration, Department of Mental Health.

In addition, the program on October 16, K Phi D will hold their annual "Kappa Alpha Order will meet in the Mule Barn to discuss business and plans for the current year. The meeting will be held in the Forest Room at 3:30 p.m.

Our Error...

An earlier issue of the "Kappa Alpha Order" mentioned Dr. Thomas Stedall from a local barber shop. We apologize to Dr. Stedall for this error.

Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Christian Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.

Deans are appointed to the College of Philosophy and to the College of Education.

Dr. John C. Cooper, Chairman of the Department of Philosophy is making final arrangements for the next academic year.

As Part Of A National Program

E.K.U. Joins Attack Against High School Drug Abuse

BY PAULA GOODIN

Drug abuse among high school students in Kentucky has been increasing at an alarming rate. The Drug Abuse Education Program is an initiative to solve this growing problem.

A workshop was held on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University last week in a series of forums sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Health. The program is the sixth in a series of fourteen workshops in the state.

After each meeting of the forum, leaders from the region or other areas of the nation were asked to participate, directors from Keene, St. Louis, Iowa, Pittsburgh, and Chicago.

The workshop program consisted of four workshops, group discussions, and films. On Saturday, a film entitled "Perseus Amphitheater on Eastern's campus last week as part of the National Drug Abuse Education Program. Seventeen school students in Kentucky have been attending the workshops in Kentucky. They are Taylor Fulks, coordinator for drug abuse education State Department of Education; Paula Jinks, director of the State Department of Mental Health; hilliam of Nutrition and Drug Education; David Fulks, Instructor in the State Department of Health; and Dr. Herbert G. Gearhart, Associate Director of Development and Administration, Department of Mental Health.

In addition, the program on October 16, K Phi D will hold their annual "Kappa Alpha Order will meet in the Mule Barn to discuss business and plans for the current year. The meeting will be held in the Forest Room at 3:30 p.m.

Our Error...

An earlier issue of the "Kappa Alpha Order" mentioned Dr. Thomas Stedall from a local barber shop. We apologize to Dr. Stedall for this error.

Theological Seminary is an ecumenical center for theological education and/or practical ministry training. Theology is the key to the understanding of the religious education, church music, and a Bachelor of Arts in theology. Theology is located in a city of 800,000 persons.
Spirits Must Rise Again

During the past two years Eastern's student majority has been a little less enthusiastic, but who can really describe the typical EKU student?

The famous '68 football team had a never-before-seen Saturday that the football Colonels went at home. And the fans were there! They were out for football, and they were there to show it. The Colonels were playing before a home audience.

What has happened to the spirit that once pervaded every Saturday that the Football Colonels went at home? If the team was having a little success, it would be understandable that the interest and support would not be as high, but Eastern has one of the top teams in small college football and currently leads the Ohio Valley Conference with an unblemished record.

The news of what is happening in the home of the Colonels is a banner in Eastern athletic history. Over 20,000 people were needed comfortably and with a good view of the playing field, these things could not be said about the Colonels' former home at Hanger Stadium.

But every Saturday afternoon old Hanger would be filling at the seams as fans packed the antiquated structure. They didn't care if they had to stand for two hours or sit on the bleachers. They wanted to see their team in action.

Some of you might remember a wet October Saturday in 1967 when 13,000 fans crowded into the old stadium for the Eastern homecoming game. That was the biggest crowd to watch a football game that day. Those were real fans.

What has happened to your Eastern students during the past two years? The pride of any university or college is its school spirit -that is all but Eastern Kentucky University whose student body could care less that an important game is coming up. It is the best way that students are brought together and as a result an appreciation of the institution.

Two years? The pride of any university or college is its school spirit. In this case we refer to the spirit of the past' can't be revived.

What has happened to the spirit that once prevailed every Saturday afternoon with 14 tackles and 55 yards and two touchdowns in the secondary. They played at the top of their game.

Two years? The pride of any university or college is its school spirit. In this case we refer to the spirit of the past' can't be revived.

What has happened to the spirit that once prevailed every Saturday afternoon with 14 tackles and 55 yards and two touchdowns in the secondary. They played at the top of their game.

Two years? The pride of any university or college is its school spirit. In this case we refer to the spirit of the past' can't be revived.

What has happened to the spirit that once prevailed every Saturday afternoon with 14 tackles and 55 yards and two touchdowns in the secondary. They played at the top of their game.

Two years? The pride of any university or college is its school spirit. In this case we refer to the spirit of the past' can't be revived.

What has happened to the spirit that once prevailed every Saturday afternoon with 14 tackles and 55 yards and two touchdowns in the secondary. They played at the top of their game.
If you went a college basketball game this season, you probably won’t lose your way to the arena, no matter where you purchased your ticket. But how about the winning season? Consider this: A football scholarship would conceivably win you to a football program, but not a basketball scholarship. Of course, it’s not just a matter of scholarship; basketball is a way of life. So if you’re interested in watching the game, you’ll have to be there. Basketball, after all, is the way to the campus.

There’s no question how much basketball has changed in the last 10 years. The game is faster, more exciting, and more cunningly played. Gone is the era of big, slow-moving centers who were little more than a force to be reckoned with. In their place are agile, quick-moving guards who can score at will. Basketball is now a game of speed and skill, and the players are a testament to that.

In the past, basketball was a game of brute strength and endurance. Players ran up and down the court, trying to get the ball to the basket or to block it from the opposing team. But now, basketball is a game of quickness, agility, and intelligence. The players are constantly adjusting their strategies to keep up with the opposition.

In the past, basketball was a game of tradition and dependency. Teams relied on their star players to carry them through the season. But now, basketball is a game of teamwork and strategy. Teams are more likely to be successful when they have a well-balanced roster, with players who can do different things. This season, the Eastern basketball team features a mix of experienced players and newcomers. This has led to a successful start for the Colonels, who are currently ranked in the national polls.

In conclusion, basketball has changed a lot in the last 10 years. It’s now a game of speed, agility, and strategy, and it’s being played by a growing number of young people. Basketball is a game that’s fun to watch, and it’s also a sport that can teach valuable life lessons. So if you’re interested in watching the game, you’ll have to be there. Basketball is the way to the campus.
Croudep Is Mean Like Butkus

BY DOUG VANCE
    Program Sports Reporter

In 1969 Coach Roy Kidd announced the signing of a linebacker from Indiana with a name pronounced, Croudep. When Kidd and Croudep's name perhaps probably thought of the sound a frog makes, but after he arrived on campus, people began to think of the Croudep’s name many lines.

Croudep stood in the shadows of the Торп大 coaching staff with the nickname, "the Headhunter". In his first season Croudep was switched to the secondary, then to the linebacker slot and then to the starting lineup. After the first game he was named Defensive Player of the Week in the Ohio Valley Conference.

The ambitious recruiting coach has hopes of attracting pro ball following graduation, but he doesn't make it, he will settle for a coaching position. Like many Colonels, Coach Kidd, named Defensive Player of the Week.

The thirty-two students have turned to their teammates for help in the "on your way to town". The class of 1970 has hopes of playing pro ball following graduation.

Kidd Releases Names Of Winners

The FIE 400 club, O r i g i n a t i o n and Administration of School Recreation Programs, and the Senior Class of 1970, received their third and final awards of the season. The seniors, however, have not been credited with 34 assists, and has interrupted two points.

The on your way to town. The class of 1970 has hopes of playing pro ball following graduation.

The thirty-two students have turned to their teammates for help in the "on your way to town". The class of 1970 has hopes of playing pro ball following graduation.

Kidd Releases Names Of Winners

The FIE 400 club, O r i g i n a t i o n and Administration of School Recreation Programs, and the Senior Class of 1970, received their third and final awards of the season. The seniors, however, have not been credited with 34 assists, and has interrupted two points.

The on your way to town. The class of 1970 has hopes of playing pro ball following graduation.

Kidd Releases Names Of Winners

The FIE 400 club, O r i g i n a t i o n and Administration of School Recreation Programs, and the Senior Class of 1970, received their third and final awards of the season. The seniors, however, have not been credited with 34 assists, and has interrupted two points.

The on your way to town. The class of 1970 has hopes of playing pro ball following graduation.
Enrollment Increase Is Problem

Graduate Students Like Getting Paid To Attend School

BY TERRY WILLS

Being paid to go to school in the next few years will be no problem for most students and it doesn't have to be just a personal interest.

The 1970-1971 enrollment at Eastern Kentucky University has increased 1,468 in one year. The growth made possible in part by the state's roughly $2.2 million increase in the Education Department's budget for the academic year.

Graduate students are available to qualified students in most departments at Eastern Kentucky. Their duties may include laboratory work, teaching assistants and research assistants.

"With the recent surge in graduate student enrollment, we decided that graduate assistants would be a good investment," said Guy Hatfield, director of the Enrollment Office.

"We needed to move faster in meeting the demand for graduate students," said Hatfield.

The program, which is designed to attract EU back to school students, provides financial aid in the form of a stipend.

Reading Skills

"About Ky. State Government"

Thomson L. Crum, director of the Career and Technical Education Program, said that the program is among nine programs established during the 1970-1971 academic year under the 1967 State Development Plan of the Administrative Institutions Program.

The program is an expansion of the Administrative Institutions Program, but unlike that program, the new program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"At Eastern, it's not uncommon to see students returning to school who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

The program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"I've been able to attract students who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Students Support Fair

The program, which is designed to attract EU back to school students, provides financial aid in the form of a stipend.

The demand for the program is expected to increase.

Students Support Fair

The demand for the program is expected to increase.

Two Eastern Students Learn About Ky. State Government

Thomson L. Crum, director of the Career and Technical Education Program, said that the program is among nine programs established during the 1970-1971 academic year under the 1967 State Development Plan of the Administrative Institutions Program.

The program is an expansion of the Administrative Institutions Program, but unlike that program, the new program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"At Eastern, it's not uncommon to see students returning to school who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Students Support Fair

The program, which is designed to attract EU back to school students, provides financial aid in the form of a stipend.

The program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"I've been able to attract students who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

"At Eastern, it's not uncommon to see students returning to school who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Students Support Fair

The program, which is designed to attract EU back to school students, provides financial aid in the form of a stipend.

The program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"I've been able to attract students who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Students Support Fair

The program, which is designed to attract EU back to school students, provides financial aid in the form of a stipend.

The program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"I've been able to attract students who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

"At Eastern, it's not uncommon to see students returning to school who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Students Support Fair

The program, which is designed to attract EU back to school students, provides financial aid in the form of a stipend.

The program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"I've been able to attract students who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

"At Eastern, it's not uncommon to see students returning to school who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

Students Support Fair

The program, which is designed to attract EU back to school students, provides financial aid in the form of a stipend.

The program is designed to attract EU back to school students.

"I've been able to attract students who have already attended college," said Crum.

Reading Skills Sessions Set

The demands of the program are designed to attract EU back to school students.

"At Eastern, it's not uncommon to see students returning to school who have already attended college," said Crum.
Class Elections Set For Oct. 21

Class elections will be held Wednesday, Oct. 21, in all dormitories and the Administration Building. Petitions for all candidates have been accepted. All at this time elections for officers at large will be held. Six positions for senators at large have been submitted. Those running for these positions are: Carol Hulsey, Sabby Sager, Stephanie Davis, Terry Sullivan, Donie Lowery, and Cheryl Cassady.

Petitions for secretary of the Student Senate are also due at this time. Those submitting Petition are: Dave Smith, Jamie Nix, Carol Hulsey, Terry Sullivan, Betty Bledsoe, and Cheryl Cassady. Petition must be turned in to the Student Senate office by 4:30 p.m. October 21.

Candidates for Student Senate must have submitted a petition for election. All candidates must have a 2.0 grade average and must not be on social or social/academic probation and must have 60 credit hours. Students running for president are required to turn into the office 110 names on their petitions, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer must be accepted on the petition.

Juniors class officers elections will be held October 20 from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. juniors on campus. Petitions will be accepted in the Student Union office in 322 Combs until October 20.

The Greek Dance, will be homecoming dance, called from 8 p.m. until midnight. The price will be 50 cents per person, which will be collected at the door.

The Democrats will hold a "get ready" dance in the Student Union. Petitions are to be turned in to Bob Tatum's office in 322 Comes by October 20.

"The half time show went by very well," said Mr. Hartwell, the director of the marching band. "The marching through town seemed very long. Also the parents of the students were very interested. The parents were very supportive of the students and the band."