PRESS MEET TO BE HELD HERE

Former Registrar Returns to Eastern

College Publications Organization to Convene at Eastern on March 1 and 2

TENTATIVE PROGRAM GIVE

On Friday and Saturday, March 1 and 2, the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association will hold its spring meeting at Eastern Teachers College. Delegates from the nine member schools will be present, and a large attendance is expected.

A feature of the meeting will be the announcement of the winners of the contests conducted by the association. A silver loving cup given by the Lexington Leader, will be awarded to the paper selected by the judges as the best generally, and a similar cup, donated by Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary journalistic fraternity at the University of Kentucky, will be given to the paper having the best advertising make-up. Papers to be judged have been in the hands of the committees for several weeks.

The tentative program, as arranged by the Progress staff is as follows:

Friday, March 1

Registration, 10 a. m.
Luncheon, 12, noon.
Addresses, 2-4 p. m.
Business, 4-4:30 p. m.
Banquet, 6:00 p. m.
Dance.

Saturday, March 2

Business session, 8:30 a. m.
Election of officers.
Presentation of Cups.
Discussion.
Reports of Committees.
Other Business.

The list of speakers will include several of the foremost journalists of the state, as well as members of the association. Details of the program are being arranged by the Progress staff and will be ready within the next week.

Members of the association who will be represented are Kentucky Kernel, Kentucky Wesleyan Undercurrent, Centre College, Cento, College Heights Herald, Murray College News, Asbury Collegian, Transylvania Crimson Rambler, Georgetownian, and Eastern Progress. The Progress became a member of the association at the meeting held last spring at the University of Kentucky, and so will celebrate its first anniversary at this meeting.

James Shropshire, business manager of the Kentucky Kernel is president of the organization, and Raymond Hornback, editor of the College Heights Herald, Western, is secretary.

ATTENTION ON NET TOURNAMENT

Kentucky Wesleyan Again Host to S. I. A. A. Basketball Quintets

EIGHT TO PARTICIPATE

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday will find the followers of basketball at Winchester or with their car turned toward that little city for news from the Inter-Collegiate basketball tilt for S. I. A. A. teams of Kentucky, Kentucky Wesleyan and the city of Winchester will be host to Georgetown, Centre, Berea, Eastern, Western, University of Louisville and Transylvania. This is the fourth renewal of the annual event. C. A. Webb, now basketball coach at Transylvania but in 1926, the year of the first meet, coach at Wesleyan, started the idea. It proved to be successful and the year 1927 found him repeating. Last year he moved over to Transylvania and made plans to hold the meet there but inadequate facilities prohibited. Wesleyan sponsored the tournament last year and at that time coaches voted to hold it there this year.

Officials have already been selected. They will include Bowser Chest, of Nashville, Tennessee. Mr. Chest has received much commendation for his excellent work in schools in Tennessee and tournaments throughout the south. He will be assisted by Gayle Mohney, University of Kentucky star of a few years ago and a popular official in this section of the state.

A great number of prizes will be for the last few years at the summer session at the University of Chicago.

M. E. Mattox, former registrar at Eastern Teachers College, and Mrs. Mattox, who was home economics instructor at Madison High School for several years, have returned to Eastern from Nashville where they have been attending George Peabody College.

Illness caused Mr. Mattox to lose so much time he was unable to complete his work for credit. He will resume his teaching at the college but for the present W. J. Moore will continue as registrar.

GREEN IS NEW AD MANAGER

Ruth Boxley and Minnie Lynn Evans Also New on Progress Staff

EXCHANGE, CLUBS EDITORS

Cy Green, of Owenton, Ky., member of the junior class at Eastern has been selected as Advertising Manager of the Eastern Progress for the second semester. He will take the place of J. G. Harrod, who resigned to accept a position in the Wayne county schools.

Mr. Green, who has had considerable experience in the field of advertising, is well known at Eastern, has been active in various organizations on the campus. He is a member of the Little Theater Club, and last spring had one of the lead roles in the "First Year", which that club presented, taking the part of Richard Loring, the "city slicker."

Ruth Boxley, who was a student at Western last year, and who resides on the campus with her uncle, President Donovan, as been made Exchange Editor, and fills the position left vacant by Jessie Bell Fletcher, now at Benham, Ky. Her sister, Mary, is at present Chapel Editor.

Minnie Lynn Evans, of Mount Sterling, Ky., will be Club Editor, taking the place of Mary Kathryn Burns, now at Ashland, Ky. She is a member of the freshman class, and of Sigma Tau Pi, commerce organization. All clubs of officers have been requested to get in touch with Miss Evans, and to keep her informed as to the time, place, and program of their organizations.

The names of these new staff members appear for the first time in the mast-head of this issue of the Progress.

Lecture Series for Members of Faculties

Dr. Reeves, professor of education, head of the bureau of school service at the University of Kentucky, will present a series of six lectures on "Problems of College Teaching" to the faculty members of the University of Kentucky, Asbury College, Georgetown, Transylvania, Kentucky Wesleyan, Berea and Eastern State Normal. The meetings will be held in the new lecture rooms in McVey hall on the evenings of February 14, 21, March 7, 14, 21 and April 4. The matter was brought up in the last meeting of the Kentucky chapter of the American Association of University Professors and it was decided to sponsor the meeting.

Doctor Reeves is presenting the course to graduate students in the regular school session during this semester and so many of the faculty expressed the desire to attend the class that the special arrangement for evening lectures resulted. The lectures will be open only to faculty members of the colleges specified.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, will attend the opening meeting and welcome the visiting educators to the lectures. An attendance of between 75 and 100 is expected, as representatives from each school that has been extended an invitation have expressed extreme interest in the course.

Doctor Reeves has divided his subject into six special surveys dealing with different phases of college teaching and will present one survey at each meeting in condensed form. The course has been given by Doctor Reeves

Library at Eastern Teachers College, where business sessions of the K. I. P. A. will be held.

Miss Champ New Critic Teacher

Miss Hazel Champ, of Lancaster, has been retained as critic teacher at Kavanaugh, rural training school, in charge of the first, second and third grades, it was announced. She began her work soon after the opening of the second semester.

Miss Champ, who obtained her degree from the University of Kentucky, is a sister of Miss Bernice Champ, critic teacher in the Junior High School, in the field of English and History. She has had considerable experience in rural teaching in her home county.

Due to illness, Miss Champ was unable to begin her work until a few days after the semester opened, but is now well established at the school. She has taken a room at the home of Rev. C. H. Buchanan on South Second street.

SIGMA TAU PI TO GIVE DANCE

Will Cooperate With Progress In Affair For K. I. P. A. Visitors

WILL BE ON MARCH 1

Sigma Tau Pi, commerce organization at Eastern, will cooperate with members of the staff of the Eastern Progress in giving a dance at the college gym on Friday night, March 1. The affair will be in honor of the delegates at the K. I. P. A. convention which meets here on that date.

Plans for the dance, which will be one of the outstanding social affairs of the semester are being formulated by Roy Staton, president of Sigma Tau Pi, and a committee from that group cooperating with the members of the Progress staff in charge of entertainment. They include special decorations and lighting effects, as well as splendid music and features.

Many out of town guests are expected, and all students at Eastern are invited. Students should make arrangements at once for friends at home to visit them on that date, and for any guests they expect to have. Further information may be obtained from members of either of the organizations sponsoring the dance. Complete details will appear on the bulletin boards within the next few days.

EASTERN'S CLUBS

Every student should be an active member in at least one of the clubs on the campus. There are clubs of interest to you by your tastes and inclinations what they will. The best students are hearty workers in student affairs outside the classroom, and which are so vital to school life, and which pay big dividends when one goes out to teach. Join a club, meet your fellow students, and live a full, joyous life while you are here at Eastern. Get the most out of college. E. G.

ICEBOUND TO BE L. T. C. PLAY

Campus Dramatic Organization to Present Davis Stage Success

GOOD CAST IS CHOSEN

On Thursday, February 28, the Little Theater Club, campus dramatic organization, will present as their first play of the season, Owen Davis's stage success, "Icebound". The play, which will begin at 8:00 o'clock, will be held in the Eastern gymnasium.

"Icebound" is a play that has had a long and famous career in the leading dramatic centers of the country, having been presented in motion pictures as well as on the legitimate stage. In 1921 it took the Pulitzer Prize—the highest honor that can be conferred on a literary production.

The play tells the story of a wealthy, but thrifty New England family, the Jordans. Mrs. Jordan, head of the family, and the last of the "old stock", is at the point of death while her children, gathered in the parlor, wait for her to die and speculate with a good deal of contention as to how the old lady has left her property. Having settled this question to their own satisfaction they await with resignation, and some degree of impatience, the announcement of their mother's death—and, incidentally, the reading of her will. However they are destined to a rude awakening, for the old lady, with her usual perversity, has left her entire estate to the last person in the world that her children would have expected. Even her youngest, and favorite son Ben, the "black sheep" of the family is seemingly left out though further developments show him to be more fortunate than he thought—in several ways. Of course there is a love story too, and although the "course of true love" shows its usual aversion to "running smooth", it all comes out right at the end—as all good stories should.

The cast, with those who are taking the parts, is as follows:

- Henry Jordan—oldest son, and temporary head of the family—Jack Bayer.
- Emma—wife, and permanent ruler of Henry—Mary M. Crump.
- Nettie—Emma's daughter by a former marriage—Mary Daniels.
- Sadie Fellows—formerly Sadie Jordan, now an impecunious widow—Minnie Lynn Evans.
- Orin—Sadie's bright, and rather outspoken young offspring—Jane Case.
- Ella Jordan—the unmarried sister, bitterly aware of, and anxious to end, her "single blessedness"—Frances Mason.
- Ben Jordan—the youngest son, and the "black sheep" of the family, who proves to be not so "black" after all—Oscar Graham.
- Jane Crosby—hitherto unpaid companion of Mrs. Jordan—Mary Alice Salyers.
- Doctor Curtis—the kind old family physician—Calloway Taubee.
- Judge Bradford—an old friend of Mrs. Jordan—James Cornett.
- Hannah—an old family servant—Virginia Williams.
- Jim Jay—the deputy sheriff—Allington Craze.

This play will be presented under the management of Miss Pearl Buchanan, club sponsor.

Fresh: I just took an intelligence test.

Soph: That was no test. That was a probe.—Exchange.

Library Bulletin for Students Issued

Early in the semester a library bulletin containing forty pages, prepared by Mary Estelle Reid, librarian at Eastern, was issued to members of the student body. Students at Eastern for the first time this semester have been especially urged to obtain and study a copy of this bulletin.

Besides views of the library the bulletin contains such material as history of the library, its purpose, arrangement, general regulations for its use, classification and arrangement of books, and a discussion of the different divisions with instructions as to how the student may best find material suited to his needs. The latter part of the book is given to the children's library at Eastern, which is the largest of its kind in the south.

In the foreword Miss Reid says:

"The purpose of this bulletin is to give information about our library. Its intention is, by explaining the various phases of its work, to help the students to understand the use of the library, and to help to familiarize them with the type of material which they may find in the library here, and how it may be found. The subject is presented in a very simple manner, and in all cases technical terms have been avoided so that the bulletin may be understood by students with no technical training. It is hoped that it may prove a real help to them in the use of the library."

Students interested in obtaining a copy of this bulletin should apply at the library desk. Members of the library staff are Miss Reid, Miss Frances Newman, Miss Elinor Foster and Miss Bess Moore.

MISS MACLAREN LYCEUM NUMBER

Play Interpreter Will Make Fourth Appearance at Eastern

HERE FEBRUARY 19

On Tuesday evening, February 19, at 8 o'clock, Miss Gay MacLaren, one of America's most popular interpreters of plays, will appear before students and faculty of Eastern. This number is the second which has been presented by the lyceum committee for this semester.

This engagement will mark the fourth appearance of Miss MacLaren at Eastern. In the spring of 1927 she gave one of her own readings entitled "Father and Dad", which was very enthusiastically received by the student body.

Miss MacLaren, who is an author as well as a dramatic reader, has been called the "girl with the camera mind", due to her brilliant interpretations and her wonderful gift of mimicry and memory. Her presentation of plays is vivid and correct, although she uses only the simplest stage settings.

On April 2, the leading attraction of the lyceum schedule for the year will be presented. The committee has been fortunate in securing the Farner-Steindel Duo, who will appear in a musical program on that date, and a rare musical treat is offered to students and faculty of Eastern.

FACES

Faces remind me of the Sphenewcomb pottery that is made in New Orleans, for just as there are no two pieces of that kind of pottery that is made alike there are no two faces that are alike.

I have studied the law of variation in biology, but never before I came to Richmond did I ever have the occasion to give it as much study, for I had never had the opportunity to apply it so well, but since September I certainly have studied this law in regard to people.

Since September it has been quite amusing to me just how many different facial expressions that I have seen, for there have been blank faces, as blank as an unwritten page, stern and gruff faces, smiling and pleasant faces, pretty and kind faces, practical faces, intelligent faces, reliable faces, and last but not least, artificial faces.

GIVE APPROVAL TO PROGRAM

Regents Approve Recommendation of Donovan, Contingent on Legislative Action

INCLUDE HEALTH BUILDING

In their meeting at Louisville last Monday the board of regents of Eastern approved the program recommended by President Donovan which contemplates construction of a $250,000 health building, repair of the University building, and an athletic field, contingent upon legislative appropriations. The board also rejected all bids for heating and ventilating the new auditorium, since changes in the plans had made new bids necessary.

The proposed plans include a health building, which will contain a gymnasium, as well as class rooms and laboratories where health physical welfare, and athletics would be taught; in conjunction with this building there will be a new athletic field, with concrete stadium to seat 4,500 persons.

The board also voted to remodel the University building, formerly old Central University, and to make it fire-proof, thus preserving this old landmark and providing extra space for class rooms which are needed.

Dr. Donovan in presenting his recommendations pointed out the need for a health building and suggested that the athletic field might be placed in the bowl between New Steteland farm house and Burnam hall.

"The need for this unit is imperative," said Dr. Donovan. "Colleges everywhere are emphasizing health, physical education, and athletics. Wholesome participation in athletics is a desirable part of the education of any young man or woman. This unit should be constructed with a view to taking care of the physical needs of our students and preparing them so that they may teach children of the state health, physical education and athletics."

In connection with the University building, summed up the repairs which should be made, and pointed out that the building was presented to the school when it was located in Richmond, and that it was a historic old structure and a beautiful building from an architectural point of view. He estimated that it would take $40,000 to $50,000 to do a thorough job, which would include the conversion of the present chapel into class rooms which are badly needed.

President Donovan suggested that the two projects be combined and the next legislature be asked to supply the necessary funds. The combined project would cost probably $300,000.

The meeting of the board of regents was held at the bedside of Judge J. A. Sullivan, of Richmond, who is ill at St. Joseph's hospital there. Members of the board are Superintendent W. C. Bell, Attorney General Cammack, C. F. Weaver, Ashland, J. A. Sullivan, Richmond, and Senator H. M. Brock, Harlan.

Sports High Spots

Seen from the Sidelines by Robot

Only a few more games on the schedule and then basketball will give way to spring football and baseball. Eastern varsity engages U. of L. and Wesleyan, then is off to Winchester for the tourney. The "Miniature Maroons," as one fan has termed the frosh, play Campbellsville there and then take on the iKtens from U. of K. These latter seem to be the chief stumbling block in the way of the state title, and the game should provide plenty of thrills. Nuf ced.

The situation in the S. I. A. A. race seems to be getting as tangled as the Gordian knot, and just who will come out on top at the tourney is a matter for speculation on all sides. Kentucky Wesleyan topped Georgetown from the top of the heap last Saturday by close guarding, and then Berea gave the dope bucket a very decisive kick by smashing Centre Monday in the Madison county city, thus establishing themselves firmly in the "dark horse" stable. Western and U. of L. must be

Birthdays

February has been called the month of birthdays. It is the shortest of all the months, yet its roster is replete with the natal days of many who have chisled themselves a niche in the history of this nation.

Now is the Time

As the basketball season approaches its climax, there comes to mind the time-worn phrase: Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party.

Only a few more games remain on the schedule. The varsity plays one more home game Saturday night, then journeys to Winchester to compete in the S. I. A. A. tournament.

At all of these games it is not only greatly desirable but imperative that every student be present and lend the utmost support to the charges of Coaches Hembree and McDonough.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party.

Student Government

In the Letter Box of this issue of the Progress there appears a letter from the chairman of the committee recently appointed by President Donovan to study some type of student organization for Eastern urging that students get in touch with its members and express ideas along this line.

It is to be sincerely hoped that students will comply with the request and make their wants and ideas known, since it is only in severance which have carried this way that the committee can these men far; it is better if we arrive at the proper decision.

The Press Meet

On Friday, March 1 and 2, Eastern will be host to the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association at its spring meeting.

Letters

At the beginning of the semester some few students, doubtless ignorant of the ruling of the student body that no high school letters must be worn on the campus, were guilty of violations of this rule.

individual on the campus; which this rule was passed for the each student must become a self-benefit of those new students.

The Progress hopes and feels sure that every student will do his share toward welcoming and entertaining the representatives of Kentucky colleges who will be present.

Advice to Lovelorn

MRS. MARGERY MIX the world's lowest paid woman writer
NOTE: It is the purpose of this column to give advice and assistance to all those in the Eastern student body or faculty who have problems.

Dear Mrs. Mix:

For years I have been a good student and have always made good grades, I had never a care in my life, and enjoyed myself to the fullest.

Dear Restless:

Your trouble is a common one, and yet you can easily get rid of your worries. Use Flit, or any good insect powder.

der. Live stock, not love shock, is your trouble.

Dear Mrs. Mix:

Some time ago I asked your advice on how to remove a couple of corns with which I was afflicted.

How foolish to sigh for those lost toes. Just think how comforting to know that you can never have corns on those toes again.

Y. W. C. A. MEETS

A joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. was held Sunday evening, February 10, in the University chapel.

Mr. Kindall also spoke under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., to the student body Monday morning.

IN THE TRAINING SCHOOL

Teacher: Which is farther away, England or the moon?

Teacher: England? What makes you think that?

Johnny: I can see the moon, but I can't see England.

Music Memory Test

be Held at Eastern.

The department of music at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College will soon inaugurate a music memory contest at the school.

In addition to these prizes a first and second prize, consisting of banners will be awarded to the two counties who have the largest percentage of students enrolled at the college in the contest.

A total of fifty records will be used in the preliminary hearings and from these twenty will be selected for use in the final contest.

Contestants in the finals will be graded on correct spelling, correctly stating the name of the composition heard and the composer.

The music memory contest is an effective method for increasing one's acquaintance with the world's finest musical literature.

Preliminary hearings of the records will be held at stated intervals in the chapel of University building and will be open only to students who have complied with entrance requirements.

The contest will be held under direction of John Orr Stewart, head of the department of music at Eastern, assisted by Misses Campbell and Telford of the music faculty and students from the department.

JOURNALISM HEAD TO CONDUCT TOUR

Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, acting head of the department of journalism at the University of Kentucky, will conduct a vacation tour of Europe during the coming summer.

Miss McLaughlin, who is acting head of the department of journalism during the absence of Prof. Enoch Grehan, has been connected with the university for several years and is well known in journalistic circles.

Persons interested in the tour may communicate with Miss McLaughlin at 226 East Maxwell street, Lexington.

During the week of February 18 a group of wood block prints, the finest in the country, will be exhibited here. They are the work of Miss Anne Keith, noted Scotch wood block designer.

Fresh: Did you fill your date last night?

Second Ditto: I hope so. She ate everything in sight.

CHORAL CLUB MEETING

The Choral Club of Eastern Teachers College met Wednesday evening, February 5, in the University building. A number of students was present at the meeting.

The Choral Club is an organization for students interested in music and chorus work. John Osborne is president and Prof. John Orr Stewart, director of music, is sponsor. The club meets at 7:15 every Wednesday evening and students interested in music are invited to attend. In addition to the regular activities the club plans several social events during the semester.

HORACE MANN LITERARY SOCIETY

Horace Mann Literary Society met in the University building Thursday evening, February 7. The meeting was called to order by the vice president. Candidates for president were nominated and Mr. Robert L. Smith was elected for the office. As he held the former vice president office, it became necessary to elect a new one. Mr. Amis was chosen.

The next meeting will be held February 21 at 6:30 o'clock in the auditorium. Students who wish to become members of this organization are urged to be present.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club gave a candy pull Thursday night for their new members. Quite a large crowd attended and much to our surprise the candy was a success???

From all indications the club will have a profitable and enjoyable semester ahead of them; enlivened by the enrollment of the new members. Who knows but what there'll be an initiation night rolling around soon?

SIGMA TAU PI MEETING

Sigma Tau Pi held its monthly business meeting Thursday night, February 7, in the basement of the library. The future success of this club was assured by the increase in attendance and interest shown by both new and old members.

A committee has been appointed to draw a constitution for the organization.

March 1 the Sigma Tau Pi and Progress staff have planned to sponsor a dance. This is to be one of the outstanding social activities of the semester.

SIGMA LAMBDA

On Wednesday afternoon Sigma Lambda held a business meeting in Roark Hall. Plans were made at this time for the initiation of thirteen new members on February 15 at Mrs. Murbach's home on the Summit. On Feb.

20 there will be an open meeting of the club at which time exquisite colored views of Spain will be shown and a talk on Spain will be given by Massie Stocker, Eastern Junior, and major in the language department.

STAFF MEMBER RESIGNS

Fleming Griffith, member of the Progress staff during the first semester, resigned recently to accept a position in the office of Miss Lelia Jane Harris, superintendent of schools of Madison county. He will continue to take some work in the college.

Mr. Griffith will handle the office work in the county superintendent's office, thus allowing Miss Harris more time to supervise the work of the schools in the county. Although he will still carry several courses in the college, Mr. Griffith stated that he felt he would be unable to continue work on the college publication. He is the fifth member of the staff to resign at the end of the first semester.

On Thursday evening President H. L. Donovan addressed the Rotary Club at Carrollton on the subject "Modern Tendencies in Elementary Education." Friday morning Dr. Donovan talked before faculty and students of the high school at Carrollton. Superintendent O'Donnell of the Richmond schools accompanied Dr. Donovan to Carrollton. Formerly he was superintendent of schools in that city.

The Roark Literary Society of the Normal School met in a business session Thursday evening.

On February 20 Charles "Turkey" Hughes is to visit Eastern to meet faculty and students here. Mr. Hughes comes to Eastern as head coach of athletics next year.

EXCHANGE NOTES

The Kentucky intercollegiate basketball tournament committee under the leadership of Dean P. H. Farrier of Kentucky Wesleyan College states that an extensive campaign of advertising will be carried out. Rubber stamps used in the department have been sent out to each of the schools to carry the message on the backs of outgoing mail and many large posters will be distributed to each of the colleges in the association. Large automobile banners will be sent to the advertising manager of each school within the next few days.

The Western Kentucky State Teachers College, Bowling Green, announces a campaign to raise $300,000 to erect what is known as a Kentucky building. The building will be made of Kentucky materials and of a design to fit the traditions and the ideals of the state; it is to contain class rooms for the teaching of Kentucky history, geology, etc., and a Kentucky museum. The money is to be raised by student contributions to the College Heights Foundation.

"What caused the explosion in the lab?"

"A smile lit up the flapper's face and set off the powder."

NOTE: It is the purpose of this column to reflect opinion by publishing letters written to the editor on subjects of general interest. The Progress does not necessarily concur with opinions expressed herein. Names must be signed but will be withheld if desired. Address Editor Eastern Progress, Roark Bldg.

Editor Eastern Progress, Richmond, Ky. Dear Sir:

Some weeks ago President Donovan appointed a special committee to consider the problem of a student organization that will meet the needs of Eastern during the next ten years. This committee has been making a thorough study of all the literature on student organizations and a survey of the councils of other colleges. But this procedure is a haphazard affair unless the committee ascertains the peculiar needs of Eastern.

Therefore, the committee desires that every student be urged to speak to some member of this committee about the need of a student organization and about the kind of an organization that will serve the college best. What organization will satisfy the college best? In what different activities should it engage? What problems should it solve? Answer these or other questions that there may grow out of this the best student organization for the best college in the state.

That the students may know the committee and speak to some one of the group about this great undertaking, I am listing the members of the committee as appointed by Dr. Donovan: Misses Neely, Pollitt, Champ, Montjoy, Broaddus, Ward, and Messrs. Clark, Alexander, Clayton and Kennamer.

Trusting that the students may take this real opportunity to render the college a service, and that out of their efforts a bigger and better Eastern will arise, I am,

Very truly yours,
(Signed) L. G. KENNAMER,
Chairman,
Special Com. of Student Organization.

MUSIC NOTES

The Ladies' Madrigal Club at Eastern is being reorganized during the first part of this semester and a number of former members who are back in school have re-entered the club. Tryout sars now being held to select students eligible for membership in the club.

The Madrigal Club is a chorus of selected ladies' voices and is one of the oldest choral organizations on the campus; each year the club has staged a music program; among their recent presentations have been a special arrangement of the Peer Gynt Suite by Grieg, arranged especially for ladies' voices; they also presented the opera "Lady Francis," by Carrington. The club is under the direction of John Orr Stewart, head of the department of music.

The Eastern Festival Chorus was reorganized at their meeting of the semester Wednesday evening, February 6, in University building. Membership is open to all students at Eastern who are interested in singing; there are no dues for membership and the music used is furnished by the department of music. The chorus meets each Wednesday evening at 7:15 in the back of outgoing mail and many large classes in choral work are in charge of the rehearsals.

The music memory contest preliminary hearings will begin the week of February 24, 1929. Students interested in entering the contest should secure an entrance card from Mr. Stewart, Miss Campbell or Miss Telford; after card is properly filled out please retain it until it is called for.

Madrigal Club tryouts are still in progress. Women students who wish to try out for this organization should see Mr. Stewart and arrange for an appointment. Former members of the club who are now in school are asked to meet Wednesday evening at 6:45 in Room 12, University building.

The Eastern Mixed Chorus meets Wednesday evening at 7:15 in University building; in planning the work for the organization and in purchasing music for future presentation it is necessary to know how many former and new members of the chorus can report each week for rehearsals; if for any reason you cannot attend regularly please let us know as soon as possible. Former members who are charged with "Gray Book of Songs" should turn these in this week at rehearsal.

Men or women students who are prepared to take up band work should see Mr. Stewart at once; an announcement of interest will soon be made concerning this work and if you are interested please let us know about it immediately.

LITTLE THEATER CLUB

GIVES VALENTINE DANCE

The Little Theater Club, campus dramatic organization, entertained last night with a Valentine dance at the Eastern gymnasium. More than one hundred guests were present at the affair, which was the first of the social season for the second semester.

The gym was beautifully decorated with the Valentine motif prevailing thruout. Music was furnished by Leon Elder and his Footwarmers.

Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Donovan, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Cooper, Miss Marie Roberts, Miss Maude Gibson and Miss Pearl Buchanan, club sponsor.

ANNUAL PICTURES

It will be necessary for all individuals and organizations to make arrangements for space in the annual and to turn in pictures within the next few days. David McKinney, business manager of the Milestone, said today. Those who have not yet had their pictures taken should do so at once and give them to members of the staff or turn them over to representatives of the various organizations of which they are members.

Many new features will be incorporated in this year's Milestone, Mr. McKinney said, and every attempt will be made to make it the best in the history of the school. Students who have not yet arranged to secure a copy should communicate with Mary Arnold, who is in charge of sales.

SYMPATHY

The Eastern Progress extends sympathy to Iva Estis upon the death of her mother last week at Owenton, Ky. Miss Estis has been a student at Eastern for some time, but will not return this semester.

ENTERTAINS SENIORS

Dr. L. G. Kennamer, faculty advisor of the senior class, entertained members of the class with a reception at on Oak street on Thursday afternoon from four to six. A large number of seniors was present.

You are building your own future. The mark you have set is the plan by which you work. The blocks with which you build are the present hours. An hour missspent today is a block that must be torn out and replaced tomorrow. An hour improved today is a block laid trim and true that may be forgotten but will stand the ravages of storm thru all the future.

TWINS CONFUSE "THE PROWLER"

Doesn't See Any Use for Twins Especially in the Same School

GRIPES ABOUT TEACHERS

You see about all I know is not what I read in the papers but what I see and hear on the campus. Can't say that I am getting along any better than last semester. These teachers just will insist that I work for them and their classes—I just can't see any reason why one should have to be bothered with such a thing as a class; they come at such unhandy hours, such as seven-thirty, eight-thirty, ten, etc., etc., and the power-to-be insist that they be attended, doncha know.

These students, even, are not as considerate as one might want. Like it isn't hard enough to tel lone person from another without a whole flock of them bein twins and makin the job many times harder. Somebody or another insisted once that if you don't succeed the first time try again. That may be good advice when you don't have to be in school with a number of sets of twins. I have been tryin for five months to tell which is Ruth and whic his Mary when I see the Boxley girls. Then theres the Osborn boys Jim and John. For nigh onto two years they have been walkin around here and I can't tell you which is the other when I see them together. But I am about to get them straightened out now. When I catch one of them talkin to this here Bodkin girl I know its not Jim—maybe. Last semester I got along very well while only one of the Higgenbottom girls was here but now the other is back and—we have two of them. To complicate matters the Hughes girls are back and you try and tell which is which—I can't. I don't see any need for twins any way, especially in the same school.

In about two weeks we are goin to have some twenty-five or thirty students from some seven colleges of the state her for a couple of days as well as several men and women of note. You don't know what the K. I. P. A. is? Well, well, make it your business to find out more about your school. Just about two years ago some of the leading colleges of the state met with Centre College at Danville and organized the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association. Just about one year from right now, we joined. Last fall the meetin was held at Western. We had three delegates there. Harrod, former advertisin manager, Misses Mary A. Salyers and Jessie Bell Fletcher, and now we have the next convention. See what good lookin girls can do? But the point to the whole story is, that you—that means YOU and YOU and YOU—see to it that these boys and girls are made to feel right at home and go away feelin that Eastern is the best school in the state, which it is.

Every body else is talkin about it, so guess I will too. On February 26—don't forget the date—you have a date with the freshman basketball team for the express purpose of thrashin the University of Kentucky freshmen—Kittens. Now the thing for you to do is to be there along with some one else and make a lot of whoopee. Give the first year men a lot of support. They have been playing a fine brand of ball all winter and are deservin of all the backin you have. Don't forget the date—FEBRUARY 26.

Eastern to Hold 2 Commencements

Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College will have two commencements each year from now on, according to an announcement made by Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the institution. A supplementary commencement program will be held at the end of the second summer term the latter of August in order to give those many students who finish their work toward degrees at the summer terms an opportunity to participate in the final festivities.

This plan was authorized by the board of regents at its recent meeting at the request of the president. The regular commencement programs will be held in June as usual with the college department and normal department holding separate programs.

Another reason advanced for holding the auxiliary commencement was that some students in the past have been allowed to take part in the ceremonies with the understanding that they complete their work during the summer terms and in instances such work has not been completed.

Campus Philosopher Says

Particularly apt was the comic strip just about the boy who phoned to call off his date with the best beloved. "I have ten good reasons," he said. "All right, let's have 'em" was the impatient reply. "Well, first," said the unfortunate male, "I haven't any money, and—" "that's enough. Never mind the other nine. Goodbye," says Cleopatra II. Would you call that "the way of a modern maid with a male?"

We had always thought that Dan Cupid was pretty firmly entrenched firmly entrenched here at Eastern, but judging from indications, and the decorations in Burnam Hall, he and St. Valentine are evidently going to work overtime this spring. Show early and avoid the rush.

February is one month, when the 14th is much more dangerous than the 13th.

One boy we know asserts that it was a woman who designed the calendar. He cites as proof Christmas, Valentine day, Easter, graduation, June weddings, all calling for suitable remembrances, each in its turn. And then there's St. Patrick's day if she's Irish. All of which may be true. And we wouldn't doubt but that she was aided by the florists, jewelers and candy manufacturers.

We wonder if a suitable inscription for a Valentine would be "I can't give you anything but love, baby."

The prize for the worst joke of the year is awarded to: "Who was that Judge I seen with last night?" "That wasn't no 'Judge,' that was my 'Life.'"

KNOW HER?
At last we found a co-od so dumb she thinks the Associated Press is a hug.

"ELEGY"
"The Song is Ended" "Because I Love You." "Here am I Broken-hearted," "I Can't Do Without You" "I'm Lonesome in the Moonlight."
"In My Bouquet of Memories" "Together We Ramble Along" "A Dusty Road" "Across My Bridge of Dreams" to my "Dream House."

"Beloved? "Are You Thinking of Me Tonight?" "Without You Sweetheart!" "It's Just a Memory" "Among My Souvenirs" from "My Ohio Home" "I'll Buy a Persian Rug" if you'll "Kiss and Make Up!"
"Some Day, Sweetheart" I won't "Always" be "A Melancholy Baby"—"That's Just My Way of Forgetting You," "Tu Sois!"
"After You've Done What You've Done" "Some Day, Somewhere, We'll Meet Again" and—oh!
"What Does It Matter"

Did you ever hear the one about the Scotchman who sat up all night to see where his wife's vanishing cream went.

A. A. U. W. RECEPTION AT BURNAM HALL

The Richmond chapter of the American Association of University Women held its February meeting at Burnam Hall, on Thursday, the seventh, when they entertained their friends with a beautiful Valentine Open House. The attractive fayer was elaborately decorated with valentine baskets of flowers, ferns and candles, and the valentine motif was carried out through the entire evening.

Miss Billie Sams, a lovely "live" valentine in bouffant crimson taffeta, met the guests at the door. Miss Virginia Wade and Miss Nellie Williamson, both of Ashland, presented a playlet and dance pantomime, "at the sign of Ye, Cleft Heart"—Miss Wade playing the part of the "Maiden" and Miss Williamson, that of "love"—which was highly praised by the audience. Mr. Thompson Bennett, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Sory, both of Richmond, sang "Sylvia" by Aley Speaks, and responded to an enthusiastic applause with "Coming Home." Misses Mary Arnold, Sarah Easley, Elizabeth Davidson and Margaret Telford, accompanied at the piano by Miss Hattie Irvine, all of Richmond, danced eth Minuet. The quaint costumes, the beauty of the young ladies and the courtly grace of the young "gentlemen" made this number doubly enjoyable.

Valentine refreshments were served by the young ladies in costume. The hostesses for the club were Misses Elinor Foster, Gertrude Hood, Elizabeth Newman, and Pearl Buchanan. Some sixty-five guests enjoyed the hospitality of the club.

And have you heard the one about the Scotchman who tried to send a night letter on the day there was an eclipse?

DR. DONOVAN SPEAKS TO EASTERN TEACHERS CLUB

The Eastern Teachers Club of northern Kentucky held their first meeting of the new year on January 24 at the Scott street Methodist church in Covington. Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of Eastern, was the honor guest and addressed the club. Professor and Mrs. C. A. Keith, of Eastern, were also guests at the meeting.

MILESTONE EDITOR LEAVES

Malcom Strange, member of the senior class, and editor of the Milestone, college annual, has been compelled to withdraw from school, due to illness at home. Arrangement for the publication will be in charge of the other members of the staff and Herbert Higgins, faculty sponsor.

Mr. Strange lacked only a few hours in order to complete the work for his degree, and will probably return later on. He was active in student affairs and was high in scholarship. His successor has not yet been appointed.

SYMPATHY

KENTUCKY WESLEYAN COLLEGE
Members of the Beta chapter of the Mystic 13 have announced their intention of establishing an annual award of a trophy cup to the boy and girl who shall be adjudged by popular vote as the best all-round students on the campus. Winners of the trophies, to be known as the "Thirteen Trophies," must be selected from the Junior and Senior classes, according to the measure in which they meet certain requirements of scholarship, athletics, moral leadership, participation in extra curricular activities, and personality. A committee consisting of the faculty advisor of the student body, the advisors of the junior and senior classes, the head coach, and the dean of women is to nominate candidates for the award, one boy and one girl then to be elected on the date of the annual election of student officers. It is hoped that this award will arouse interest in all-round development among Kentucky Wesleyan students.

Kentucky Wesleyan College will be in the field with debating teams this year, both mixed teams and strictly boys and girls teams. The girls' team will debate the Ohio Wesleyan girls' team February 9, opening the season for Wesleyan. Transylvania, Georgetown, Centre, University of Louisville, University of Florida, Asbury and Berea are also included in the schedule as now planned.

In a recent chapel service students of Kentucky Wesleyan College approved a resolution presented by Duke Payne, president of the Y. M. C. A., endorsing the eighteenth amendment, and authorizing the secretary of the student body to so inform President-elect Hoover by letter. This action was taken as part of a national campaign to enlist students of the country in the fight for prohibition.

Eight members of the senior class of Kentucky Wesleyan College have been named to occupy the "Hall of Fame," part of the feature section of the 1929 Porphyrian. Bruce Strother, president of the student body, heads the list. Michael Fuldol president of the Honor Council; Zearl Davis, president of the Booster Club; Albert Hance, manager of the college store; Powell Deacon, president of the senior class; Lyman Ginger, editor of the 1929 Porphyrian; James Cornette and Charlotte Duke, both outstanding in various college activities, complete the section.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE
Georgetown leads in the S. I. A. A. The Tigers have eight victories to their credit and one defeat. So far they have lost only to Wesleyan, and have met Wesleyan, University of Louisville, Eastern, Transylvania, Berea twice and Western twice. In the S. I. A. A. games Hawkins is the high point scorer of Kentucky.

Centre College has six victories and one defeat. Centenary College and the University of Chattanooga are defeated in S. I. A. A.

The Georgetonian has started two new columns which it hopes will prove interesting to its readers. One is a column dealing with the prominent alumni, telling something of their activities after graduation from Georgetown College and accompanied by a cut of the person featured in the story.

The other column takes up the history of the different social organizations on the campus. These histories are written by the members of the different organizations.

The American Authors' division of the library is continuing to grow. This division of the Georgetown College library is the result of a plan made in which all the American authors of note were written to, requesting them to contribute one or more of their works in commemoration of the centennial celebration of the college. At the present time there are two hundred and seventy-six books, most of them autographed, now being stored in the registrar's office.

ASBURY COLLEGE
The second number of the "Asbury Alumnus" has been distributed to the alumni of Asbury throughout the nation.

Franklin '03), Rev. Guy Wilson, Asbury's new Executive Secretary, and an editorial on "Asbury and Her Spiritual Life."
The cover attraction is a picture of the chimes, the gift of the class of '28.
Volume 1, number 1 of the Asbury Alumnus was published in October, 1928. The magazine is sent to every alumnus (degree holder) of the college and seminary. Besides the publication staff of Editor, Associate Editor, and Business Manager, there is a Board of Control composed of the executive committees of the National Alumni Association and the Local Club at Wilmore, Kentucky.

With Our Poets

NOTE: Poems appearing in this column are the work of Eastern students and budding poets are requested to submit their efforts to the Eastern Progress.

UNSEEN, UNHEARD

Lucy Frey
Mid the rumbling and jumbling of engines and cars,
Unseen are the sunsets, the twinkling stars,
Unseen are the rainbows of every hue,
The sunbeams, the shadows, the rain and the dew,
Unseen are the brooks and the rivulets fair,
Unheard are their rippling sounds on the air;
Unseen are the birds and their nests in the trees,
The mother bird feeding her young chickadees,
Unheard are their melodies, near or afar,
Mid the rumbling and jumbling of engine and car.

AN EMERGENCY

A College Girl
Facing the new year without a red cent
Not even a penny to pay room rent,
There are holes in my soles and runners in my socks,
And a big darned place in my best Sunday socks,
So I'm writing this poem especially for pay,
Can't do without money another whole day.
I don't guess the poem's worth a penny, by heck,
But if you think so, please send me a check.

LIFE

Blanche Evelyn Wimble
What is life without love?
What is a flower without rain?
What is a soul without sorrow?
What is a heart without pain?
It's the life with love that's worth living,
The striving from day to day,
The only path worth treading
Is the one paved with love all the way.
It's the sunshine and shower that make the flower,
The rainbow after the rain,
Life is never so very happy
It always remains the same.
It's the soul always touched with sorrow
That makes one sympathize,
The world lights up with a silvery light
When the moon begins to rise.
It's the understanding heart in our pathway
That helps us all along,
The right word at the right moment
That makes a frail heart seem strong.

A LETTER FROM HOME

Dear Sis:
Yore pa and me has been awonderin' if you got back to school an' got signed up all right. We shore enjoyed yore visit with us an' all them high-falutin' things you brung home with you. I don't know what we'll do with 'em unless we hang 'em on the wall an' look at 'em.
Ain't nothin' much happened since you left; that young spotted calf got her leg fas in the fence yistiday an' yore pa got all het up over it.
The folks here shore air acriticisin' that there new school teacher what come here last week. My, she wears the shortest dresses an' goes around 'thout no hat with her yeres ashowin' you'd think she'd get her death o' cold.
Now Sis, put on plenty o' clothes this cold weather, makes no diffrunce ef 'em gals down thar at Eastern air flappers, you jist show yore good common sense an' breedin' by wearin' them heavy clothes I put in yore suitcase.
What did yore teacher think o' them apples I sent her? Bet she was tickled.
It's time to feed the chickens an' help with the milkin'. Yore pa is still complainin' o' the lumbago.
Yore Ma.
P. S.—Look out for them city slickers. I hear tell of 'em takin' the gals ridin' in them auttomobiles. You better be careful.

Prosh: "You gave me a nasty look."
Soph: "Well, you nut, so did nature."

Beauty Hints

NOTE: This column will contain in each issue an interview with a Richmond beauty specialist.

CARE OF THE SKIN

Brisk, drying winds, cold, damp weather, too little sunshine, too much heat, constant change in atmosphere—and so one could go on enumerating an endless chain of reasons why one should care for the skin.
Your personality is judged by that which is visible, and the well kept face stamps you immediately with that charm and grace that is ever associated with the well groomed woman.
A dry skin especially has that unfortunate way about itself of making the young miss look twice her age, and the older woman look aged.
All of this brings us to the point that it is the privilege of every girl to awaken to the realization that the skin in order to look best must be nourished to counteract harmful elements and seasonal conditions.
First apply cleansing cream generously to the skin so every portion will be thoroughly gone over. Remove with a soft towel.
After this the skin is ready for an application of tissue cream which will build up the tissues and nourish them properly.
Then comes a good astringent which closes up the pores, therefore making the skin ready for the make-up.
Four "don'ts" in taking proper care of the skin:
1. Don't massage your face downward.
2. Don't use hot water on your face.
3. Don't use soap on your face.
4. Don't forget to consult a specialist occasionally.
EDITOR'S NOTE: The information above was secured through the courtesy of Mrs. Moody and "Mickey" McGuire of the Glyndon Beauty Parlor.

Chapel Notes

On Friday, February 1, the ministers from Richmond churches met the Eastern student body at the chapel exercises. Dr. R. L. Telford, Dr. Clyde L. Breland, and Rev. J. P. Strother represented the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist congregations. R. E. Turley, treasurer of Eastern, represented the Christian church, since it is without a pastor. Each made a short talk and invited students to visit the services of the various churches.
The use of the library was discussed by Miss Reid, librarian, at chapel on Monday. She gave the history of the library and told something of its purpose and regulations. All of the information is contained in a bulletin recently prepared by Miss Reid, and she urged all students to procure a copy of it.
Tuesday Prof. Keith spoke to the student body on Rhodes Scholarships. He explained the necessary qualifications for candidates and expressed the hope that some student at Eastern would aspire to attain this honor. He continued and finished his talk on Wednesday.
On February 7, Miss Sarah Hayes, of Washington, D. C., who is the Junior Red Cross representative for Central Kentucky, spoke on the work of the Junior Red Cross, exhibiting work done by children in this organization. Miss Hayes spoke under the auspices of the Open Forum.
Victor Boggart, Sr., of Lexington, addressed Eastern faculty and students Friday morning on the social work in Europe of the organization with which he is connected. This Mr. Boggart's last speaking engagement before returning to Belgium and his work there located in the Glyndon Hotel. More beauty hints will appear in the next issue of the Progress.

SKATING

A skating on the old mill pond,
Just me and Mike and Joe and Don.
The sun shines on the late fallen snow
And sometimes in sight a buck or doe.
But when time comes for home to go
It nearly breaks my heart, you know.
I just can't wait for the time that comes
For me to go and call my chums.
I am all distressed at hearing from you
That the nearest ponds have all thawed through.
The first of June is the very date
For all of us to hunt for bait.
Edith Margaret Denny.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Abraham Lincoln was born in Hardin county, Ky., Feb. 12, 1809. He was born in a log hut without any door or windows. When a small boy he learned to shoot a gun and was very skillful with an axe. His mother also knew how to shoot a rifle to protect her and her children from the Indians. Later Abraham Lincoln went to Indiana. It took them seven days to go. After they had been there a while his mother died and left a helpless household. Lincoln's father, Thomas Lincoln, married again and once more there was happiness in the home. Lincoln was sent to school and became very fond of books and would often walk miles for one. His stepmother also encouraged this. The Gettysburg address Nov. 19, 1863, was one of his most famous speeches. He died in Washington April 15, 1865.

MAROONS HAVE 2 MORE GAMES Eastern - Wesleyan Meet in Last Game

Meet University of Louisville and Wesleyan Before Season Closes

FROSH READY FOR KITTENS

Next Monday night will find the Maroons ending their regular basketball season against the University of Louisville, at Louisville. Saturday night, February 16, will be the last home appearance of the net men, when Kentucky Wesleyan comes here for their second game of the season.

That game will be Captain Combs' last home appearance for the local school. When Eastern squares off against an opponent at Winchester in the tournament Combs will be playing his last for Eastern.

With the going of "Beck" one of the most colorful football and basketball players ever to be turned out at Eastern will pass. When a football player of one of the colleges of this section of the state recently asked if young Combs of the freshman team was a brother to Beck and then went on the remark, "We know Combs" is indicative of the respect other schools hold for Beck.

The Little Maroons will continue to play ball for a couple of weeks yet. They will journey to Campbellsville on February 21 to play a return game with Campbellsville Junior College. The next week will find them bringing their season, and a most successful one, to a close with the University of Kentucky Kittens coming here for a return game on February 26 and the first year men of Kentucky Wesleyan coming here on February 28 for the last tilt of the season.

A few weeks ago the little Maroons, without much question, were referred out of a game at the University of Kentucky. One basket made after the referee's whistle had blown and one free shot made good from a foul that came as the result of the illegal basket were the only point the Kittens were able to make in the last twenty minutes of play to come out winners by one point. This defeat has not set well with the local first year men and are out with blood in their eye for a victory when the Kittens come here.

It is up to every red-blooded student—and you all are—to pack the gym to the last available space and pull for Ben Adams and his cohorts as you have never pulled before. It will be a ten to one shot that ever mother's son and daughter that followed the freshmen to Lexington will be on hand to back the hardest fighting, cleanest fighting bunch of first year men in the state—the Little Maroons. Then it is up to those of you that could not go to Lexington and those of you that were not in school to be out for this tilt.

NET TOURNEY

(Continued from Page 1) awarded. Silver loving cups valued at about $100 will go to the winning team and the runners-up. The most sportsmanlike team will be given a cup valued at about $75. In addition many individual prizes will be given, such as gold and silver basketballs, awards for most valuable player and the like.

Gov. Flem D. Sampson, who officially opened the tournament last year, will be invited to attend the games this year and officially start the scrap and a special box will be arranged for the governor and state officials as well as officials of the various schools.

The program will be one of the outstanding features of the turney. It will contain about 75 pages. It will contain a review of athletics in the state for the past year. Pictures of all teams taking part in the meet will be included as well as many pictures from outstanding high schools over the state.

The coaches made no change in the number of players that may take part in the meet. Each school can send 11 men, one of which is to be the coach, leaving ten players. Expenses are paid out of the proceeds of the tournament. The profits from the tourney are to be equally divided between the schools taking part in the meet.

The annual tournament brings together thousands of people from all parts of the state. It has become one of the outstanding events of college sports in the state. The winner and runner-up will represent Kentucky in the annual S. I. A. A. meet in Jackson, Mississippi.

NET SEASON IS NEARING CLOSE Victory Over Western High Spot of Maroon Five's Schedule This Year

The last home appearance of the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College Maroons will be against what is probably the strongest S. I. A. A. quintet in the state when Saturday night the Panthers of Kentucky Wesleyan College appear here at the Madison High School gymnasium.

The Maroons, after winning from their old rivals, the Western Teachers, have succumbed in rather uninteresting fashion to the University of Louisville, Berea College and Georgetown College quintets.

Only one more game after tomorrow night remains on the Maroon schedule before they go to Winchester to participate in the annual state S. I. A. A. meet. On Monday night they go to Louisville to meet Tom King's Cardinal five.

SPORTS HIGH SPOTS

(Continued from Page 1) reckoned with, and though Eastern has lost several games, fans must remember how they upset Kentucky Wesleyan very decisively in last year's consolation, losing to Centre by 3 points. If they are on they may provide somebody with a real tussle. Pick your own winners.

Crowds at the Eastern contests, most of which have been staged at the Madison gym, have been good, although Richmond is fast becoming a basketball town and games come thick and fast these days. And by the way, Eastern students who saw the Madison-Lexington game the other night were well rewarded for their time.

In the high school fields prophets are plentiful, but so are good teams. A sports scribe has pointed out that the regional tourney sponsored by Eastern has furnished finalists in the state meet for the past two years and may repeat. Ashland, London, all three Louisville teams, Male particularly, Danville, Covington and others have been mentioned in various quarters, but we won't venture a guess just yet. Then there's Hardburly to give somebody a little trouble. But let's put that off awhile.

Gossip centers around Eastern's net squads; all we know is what we hear. The Maroons use the gym's dressing room at Madison gym because there is a mirror, and Lea and Triplett don't have to comb each others hair before the game. Dick Richards has turned pugilist or something of the sort, so the referee said. Ben Adams has a new girl—or is it girls? When three or four of the boys were late getting to the gym for the Berea game it was feared that there had been another wreck, but investigation disclosed nothing more serious than "blond" interference. Fitz Gentry has a new manager. Several of the boys are having pictures made by the dozen to take care of the feminine demand. Girls, apply early.

Berea College Five Loses to Wesleyan

Wesleyan's Panthers upset the Berea Mountaineers for the second time this season in a hard fought game here Thursday night, the score being 34-21.

Especially was the game close during the greater part of the first half. For the first nine minutes of play neither team was able to get away for a field goal, the score at this time being 3 to 0 in favor of Wesleyan.

Gallagher broke the scoring with the first field goal, sinking a pretty effort from the foul circle. Kertis, then flipped in a long shot and the Panthers drew away to 13 to 7 lead at the half way mark.

Although Berea came back stronger in the second half, the Panthers, thru the sterling work of Gallagher and Wilson, were able to pull out to a substantial lead. Wyatt was the threat of the visitors, showing great ability to sink tries from afar. He hit the nets for ten points while Gallagher and Wilson, Panther aces, rang up twelve points each.

The game was the last scheduled home appearance for the Panthers this season. They will play at Eastern Normal Saturday night, returning home to rest up until the state S. I. A. A. tourney which begins here next Thursday.

Substitutions: Berea, R. Baker, Taylor (2), Bowman, Reynolds, Burton, Davis; Wesleyan, Kertis (6), Hummel, Strother.
Referee: Underwood.

FROSH STILL GOING BIG The Maroons will meet Kentucky Wesleyan here Saturday night and the University of Louisville at Louisville Monday night to bring an end to their basketball schedule and then make ready for the S. I. A. A. tournament for Kentucky teams at Winchester that is to be played on February 21, 22, 23.

While the Maroons have been able to win only one out of the last three starts, the win over Western a few nights ago was very desirable and one that everybody enjoyed. That was one of the best played games of the season and the five men that played, Capt. Combs, Triplett, Clifton, Lea and Deaton, just naturally rose above all former attempts and wouldn't let the boys from down Bowling Green way get going in close to the basket. Only once were they able to get thru the brick wall defense to make a crisp shot and that was near the middle of the first half and incidentally the only basket they were able to make during the first twenty minutes of play.

They came back strong in the last half and chalked up fourteen points while the locals were accounting for twelve points, but they were not able to take the ball thru the tight defense and had to be satisfied to take cracks at the loop from afar.

Berea came later in the week and carried off the long end of a 37-23 score. This was a good game altho not nearly so good as the Western tilt. The Maroon's defense worked to perfection from the foot circle back, allowing the Berea lads to ease thru for only one crisp shot, but the visitors seemed to be hitting from all angles from out in front with their long shots and just couldn't be stooped.

The next tilt was with the University of Louisville. It started out to be a nice game with the Maroons leading thruout most of the first half. Just about five minutes before the half was over the U. of L. boys went out in front to lead 17-13 at the half. The Teachers' defense was not working as it had in the two previous games and the visitors managed to work thru for several close shots that were made good especially in the last half.

The little Maroons have been having little trouble in turning back anything that got in their way. Captain Adams and Company have been making it so uncomfortable for all comers that the University of Louisville first year men managed to find something wrong with the date that they were supposed to appear here.

The first year boys have played only three games since the last issue of the paper. The Trans yearlings were met at Lexington a few nights ago in a return game. The little Maroons started something like they have all winter—slow. At the half they enjoyed only a one point lead. But they came back strong in the last half and allowed the Trans boys only one field goal and three free shots to lead 31-17 when the final whistle sounded.

A couple of nights later they went over to Winchester to engage the Wesleyan first year men. The Wesleyan freshmen had played the University a hard game just before the little Maroons played the Kittens and a hard game was expected. It turned out to be a hard game but the Wesleyan lads were out of their class and had to be satisfied with the short end of a 21-13 count.

The last home game to date was a walkaway for the local first year men. Campbellsville College offered the opposition. The boys started slow again as they have all winter long and didn't look so good. But in the second half things started popping. Gentleman Ben cut loose and accounted for ten points, two more than the whole visiting team could account for in that half. Z. Hale, H. Hale, Cobb, Fryman and McKee, the last three substitutes, accounted for two markers each in the last half while Melton came thru with one double decker. Coach McDonough used seven substitutes in the last half, but that didn't seem to slow up the scoring as all of them had their eye on the basket.

The girls have broken even with a win and a loss since the last issue of the paper. The Western girls came here with the Western boys and proceeded to hand the local lasses a terrible beating. But their last game of the season was a different matter. Campbellsville College girls afforded the opposition in the first game of a

MAROONS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL

Varsity Loses to Georgetown While Frosh Move Another Step Toward State Title

DEFEAT TIGER CUBS

While the Little Maroons were moving another step toward the state freshman title by defeating the Georgetown first year men 29-16 the Varsity was mothered by the Kentucky S. I. A. A. leaders by the top-heavy score of 44-10 in the college gymnasium at George Town Thursday night.

The Maroons played a listless game, missing many shots, and were unable to stop the onslaughts of Hawkins and his cohorts, who seemed able to hit the net from any angle. Georgetown used the fast-breaking offense which has carried them thru twelve games with only one defeat, while they employed their defense very effectively to keep the Maroons from the basket. These latter seemed badly off form on both defense and offense, and in addition missed most of their chances from the charity line, while the Tigers converted most of their free throws into points.

In the freshman game the Little Maroons had it all their own way after the opening minutes, passing in for crisps and smothering the shots of the black and gold frosh. All of the Maroon first year men played good ball, and when Coach McDonough threw in some of his reserve strength the good work continued, although Georgetown fought till the last whistle to stem the tide of Eastern baskets.

In the Varsity game Hawkins led the scoring with 15 points with Lawhorn and Judd next with 9 each. For the locals Combs and Deaton made three points each.

In the frosh contest Ben Adams was high scorer with 11 markers and was closely followed by Herman Hale, who collected 9 points.

double header the other night and had to be satisfied with a 21-13 loss. Nine of the visitors' markers were accounted for from the charity line while the local lasses were rolling in eight double deckers. Riley, Beck, Wood and Waggoner played the best for the home girls. A slow contest was also dropped to the Madison High School five by a 17 to 13 score.

And that's all for this time. Believe it or not. And finally, we thank you.

LESTER BELL

WHEN Rogers Hornsby went to the Cubs, it was thought that Lester Bell would follow him. Bell has always played a great game alongside of the Rajah, and seemed to need his inspirational effect. At St. Louis, after Hornsby went to the Giants, Bell's game fell down, and last year, when Hornsby went to the Braves, Lester was later brought along.

But there will be no Hornsby-Bell combination on the Cub team.
