MAROONS DRAW HILLTOPPERS

FORMER GRAD GETS POSITION

Clyde Humphrey Appointed Member of U. of N. C. Commerce Faculty

ANDERSON GIVEN POST

Clyde W. Humphrey, a graduate of Eastern in 1930, has been made a member of the commercial faculty at the Women's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Mr. Humphrey, a major in commerce at Eastern, did graduate work at the University of Kentucky and received his master degree from George Peabody College.

Before his appointment at the University of North Carolina, Mr. Humphrey was the head of the commerce department at State Teachers College for women at Cullowhee, N. C. He has also been secretary of the Southern Business Educational Association for the past three years. Serving in this capacity he has been largely responsible for the 175 percent increase in membership of the organization for this year over last.

Taking Mr. Humphrey's place at the head of the department of commerce at the institution in Cullowhee will be another Eastern graduate, Ross Anderson. Mr. Anderson obtained his degree here in 1933 and has worked as Humphrey's assistant at Cullowhee. At the time of Humphrey's latest appointment Anderson was at the University of Kentucky doing work on a fellowship and had been awarded another fellowship at Boston University. He gave up both fellowships, however, to take Humphrey's place at the request of the college officials.

FENCES TO BE REMOVED

Committee of Juniors and Seniors Plan Project to Stop Campus Paths

HIGNITE IS CHAIRMAN

A committee composed of members of the junior and senior classes reports through its chairman, Don Louis Hignite, that the administration has given its consent to the removal of the wire fences when plans are taken to prevent the making of paths across the campus. The plan suggested by the committee, according to Hignite, is one that will require the support of every student at Eastern. It will be wholly a student undertaking.

A part of the plan suggested is as follows:

"All students on the campus will be expected to use the sidewalks in their regular activities. This does not forbid using the ravine in warm weather for studying or conversation, but it certainly forbids using the campus as a short cut in ordinary activities."

The committee insist since no penalty for transgressions is offered other than the censure of their fellow students are required, that "this will require very close, very consistent cooperation" on the part of the student body.

Band Members in Business Meeting

A part of the Thursday evening band practice was spent in a business meeting in which the band members discussed their pictures for the forthcoming edition of the Milestone. Joe Blunchi, trombonist, presided. Plans to raise money for the organization was discussed. Blunchi appointed, as an investigating committee, Raymond Stivers, Nancy Covington, and Mary L. Smith.

Director Henri Schnabl announced that the band group picture taken this year will appear in a leading southern magazine soon.

Several musicians had to withdraw their membership from the band this semester. Already their places have been filled, but more members are ever a goal for Eastern's band. Those who play an instrument or wish to learn are urged to go to the music department.

CATHOLICS ELECT SCHINDLER

The Catholic Club of Eastern appointed Miss Juanita Schindler as president in its last meeting. Mr. Robert Fanning, former president, was unable to attend Eastern this semester. Miss Schindler was formerly vice-president.

EAGLES PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Leaders of K. I. A. C. Have Suffered Only One Loss This Season

CENTRE HERE FEB. 15

The Morehead Eagles will arrive at the lair of the Maroons sometime today, confident to repeat a victory which they gained last fall on the gridiron over the Maroon eleven. At the same time the Maroons are just as confident that they will gain revenge on the hardwood for the "Hawg Rifle" defeat.

The Maroons, having dropped the last two games to Wesleyan and Georgetown, respectively, have not been clicking at top form lately but are expected to present their strongest and smoothest machine of the season when they go on the floor tonight against the Eagles, who are at present leading the K. I. A. C.

The Eagles have suffered only one loss this season, that being to the University of Louisville, who were defeated earlier in the year by the Rankinmen.

The Maroons will meet the Praying Colonels of Centre here Monday night.

R.O.T.C. PLANS DANCE DEBUT

Well Known Orchestra to Be Imported For Gala Event

CAPT. FORD IN CHARGE

From all indications, the First Annual Military Ball of Eastern's Reserve Officers' Training Corps, to be held March 6, will be the biggest and best dance ever held at Eastern. Captain Ford, Staff Officer assisting with the plans for the dance, said that no expense will be spared to make this one of the bright spots in the social history of Eastern. A well known "name orchestra" will be imported for the occasion and the dance will have many unique features never before used at Eastern. Dancing will be from 8:30-12:00 and refreshments will be served after the dance.

Many high officials of the state are expected to attend this dance as "Honored Guests." The dance is to be formal for those not wearing a military uniform and, since the number admitted will be limited, those who desire to attend the dance and are not connected with the R. O. T. C. are urged to see the dance committee in the near future and make reservations. James Hart is chairman of the dance committee and he is assisted by Marshall Arbuckle, Leslie Roth, Ralph Pendery, Ralph Forbes and Eddie Eicher.

Good-day, Susanne, Delibes; 'E'en as a lovely flower, Bridges; Old Mother Hubbard (set in the style of Handel, Hely-Hutchinson—Mr. Barnes.

How Beautiful upon the Mountains, Harker; Pale Moon, Logan; Sylvia, Speaks—Miss Arnold and Mr. Barnes.

Both Miss Arnold and Mr. Barnes are students of Miss Mary C. Murphy.

LTC SELECTS PRODUCTION

The Merchant of Venice Chosen by Club For Performance

LAST PLAY SUCCESS

The Little Theatre Club at Eastern has chosen for its annual spring production "The Merchant of Venice," one of Shakespeare's best works. The play will be under the direction of Miss Pearl Buchanan, sponsor of the club.

This year marks the third in a series of Shakesperian plays, which have been given by the Little Theatre. These plays in the past have met with great success and "The Merchant of Venice" promises to be even better than those in the past.

"The Late Christopher Bean," which was the first production of the Little Theatre Club this year was an outstanding success due to the fine work of the cast. Jack McCord, who played the part of the country doctor stood out for his interpretation of the character; Margaret Zaring portrayed the part of Abbey, the Doctor's maid, unusually well; Charles Warner did a creditable piece of work as Rosen the Jew; Susan Gragg, Geraldine Allen, Jane Case, Russell Childs, Hiram Brock, and Norbert Rechtin, other members of the cast, all played their parts in such a manner as to make the production a success.

An announcement was made that the Student Control Organization has taken as its project this semester the elimination of "short cuts" across campus, whereby the barbed-wire fences may be removed.

VIRGINIA ARNOLD

Miss Virginia Ruth Arnold, junior, will participate in the vocal concert to be given Wednesday evening in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. Miss Arnold is a mezzo-soprano.

TO SPEAK HERE

Dr. Paul L. Dengler, Austrian lecturer, will address the student body at the assembly program Monday, February 15.

Officers Elected At "E" Club Meet

At their last regular meeting the "E" Club elected officers for the coming semester. Woodrow Hinkle, president; Tommy Scott, vice-president, and Ottewell Rankin, secretary-treasurer, were chosen by the members attending.

The newly elected president appointed a committee to plan and arrange for the club to give several boxing and wrestling exhibitions. Arrangements are also being planned for a dance during the semester.

The rules and regulations of the club will be taken up and discussed at the next meeting. All students that have made a letter, and have their name on the records in the physical education department, are eligible to join the club.

ENTERTAIN FOR MUSICIANS

Dameron and Nash Given Farewell Party by Band Members and Leader

NASH TO TEACH MUSIC

After regular practice on Thursday evening, January 28, the band members and their director, Prof. Henri Schnabl, gave a farewell party to Kathryn Dameron and Gordon Nash, who are not returning to school this semester.

Mr. Van Peursem, head of the music department, and Nancy Covington, band sponsor, gave speeches which praised the two musicians for their outstanding work at Eastern.

Kathryn Dameron, of Maysville, a second semester freshman, returned to her home. Later she plans to continue her college work. An outstanding trombonist, a member of the Women's Madrigal Club, the presidency of the freshman class, and a high grade-point student are some of her many accomplishments.

Godon Nash, a senior of Eastern, has accepted a position to teach an elementary class and to direct the band of Evert School, Evert, Kentucky. Nash is well known on the campus for his musical talent. Especially is he noted for his skill on the cornet. He was also leader of a campus orchestra. Nash has been responsible for the swing music played at our various dances of the season. During the summer season he plans to finish his work for an A.B. degree.

Registrar Heard In Chapel Talk

"The popular belief is that there is an over-supply of teachers, and that you don't have much chance to secure a teaching position," said M. E. Mattox, registrar of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, in a talk on "Securing a Position" to the student body and the faculty of Eastern at the assembly Friday morning in the Hiram Brock auditorium. "There are good opportunities for securing teaching position if you are qualified above the average," he concluded this part of the discussion. "But," he admonished, "don't prepare to teach unless you want to teach."

EDWIN BARNES

Mr. Edwin Barnes, baritone, will take part in the vocal concert Wednesday evening, February 17. Mr. Barnes is a sophomore at Eastern.

TEAMS PLAY INITIAL TILT OF TOURNEY

11 Colleges to Participate In Annual Meet—Play Opens Thursday — Finals Saturday Night

TICKETS ON SALE NOW

The Eastern Kentucky State Maroons will play a dual role in the forthcoming K. I. A. C. basketball tournament, to be held on Feb. 25, 26, and 27. It was decided yesterday at the tournament drawing held in the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington. The Teachers will be the host team to the tournament, and at the same time will have the honor of playing the first game in the meet when they play their arch rivals, the Hilltoppers, from Western State Teachers College.

With this year's collegiate basketball race the hottest in the history of the conference, each session of the tourney offers an outstanding game to keep hardwood fans on their toes throughout the entire affair. The Eastern-Western tilt, scheduled to take place at 3:30 p. m., Feb. 25, will be followed by the Morehead-Union game at 7:30, and by the Centre-Berea game at 8:30. These three games will complete the first round of play.

In the second round on Friday, Feb. 26, the University of Louisville Cardinals will tackle Monk Simons' Transylvania Pioneers at 3 p. m., while Murray's Thoroughbreds will play the Georgetown Tigers at 4 o'clock. Kentucky Wesleyan, who drew the bye in the first round, will get its first taste of tournament play at 8 o'clock on Friday night, when the Panthers will take on the winner of the Eastern-Western fracas.

The tournament, the first ever held in Richmond, looms as one of the biggest things that ever hit the Madison county city. Already one of the largest hotels in town has had to turn away further reservations, and other hotels are reporting that their accommodations are rapidly being depleted. With the collegiate race as close as it has been so far this season, the consensus of opinion among sports writers, coaches, and fans is that any one of the eleven teams in the meet has a good chance to cop the title. So far this year, nine of the eleven members of the conference still have a fine chance to finish on top of the general standing.

Season tickets may be obtained from M. T. E. McDonough, tournament manager, at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College.

INCREASE IN REGISTRATION

College Enrollment Exceeds Last Year's Mark by Nearly 200

FLOOD INTERFERES

Although the floods have taken more than fifty first semester students from school enrollment, figures given by M. E. Mattox, college registrar, indicate that the new semester's registration would go beyond the second semester's registration last year by over 200.

Monday morning, February 8, was the last day to register for a full load and the enrollment then was approximately 1150, and increase over last year's total, 954, at the same date. Tuesday, February 23, is the last day to register for credit.

Mr. Mattox gave a statement that there was a higher percentage of juniors and seniors this year and that an increase in the number of graduates was indicated. There are 236 seniors at the present time, although all have not indicated their intentions to graduate.

Dr. Donovan, president, said in commenting upon the figures of the enrollment, "the increase in enrollment is especially gratifying, in view of the fact that a recent survey showed there were at least seventy-five students whose homes were flooded by high water. At least fifty of those students were forced to leave school and return to their homes to help in the rehabilitation."

MILESTONE SETS DEADLINE

The Milestone announces that March 1 has been set as the deadline for individual pictures and that March 10 has been named as the latest date for pictures of organizations to be turned in. The staff urges that all students have their pictures taken and that they pay for their space.

PROGRESS PLATFORM

A weekly school publication

 More school spirit.
 A greater Eastern.

Welcome

To you students who have been away from our institution while engaged in the teaching profession and to you who are coming to college for the first time a greeting of welcome is offered. It is hoped that you will find here the friendly atmosphere for which Eastern is noted. In the members of the faculty you will find friends who are eager to advise you concerning your problems; in the student body you will find those who will seek and who will cherish your friendship. Avail yourself of the opportunity of taking part in life's most enjoyable and profitable occupation—the making of friends.

Enjoy the advantages which college life has to offer you. Enjoy them in their entirety. Much is to be gained from the classroom and from the preparation for the various classes, of course, but you cannot become truly educated from these enterprises alone. The library with its many volumes offers a vast array of experiences with those about whom the books have been written. The way of spending your leisure hours need not cause you a great deal of perplexity. Linger in the library, browse among the books, the library, browse among the books,

The organizations and clubs on the campus help you to become acquainted with your fellow students and to learn to associate with them. It is in these extra-curricular activities that the qualities of leadership, personality, cooperation, and responsibility are immeasurably developed. It is in these that you carry on projects with those with whom you have a common interest; it is in these that you had better learn the rules of the game called "Society." Be alert, grasp your opportunity, enjoy your work and play, and feel welcome to the campus at Eastern.

A Student Project

The barbed entanglements which have been blemishing the natural beauty of Eastern's campus are to be torn down. The inauguration of this project by the members of the junior and senior classes was a step worthy of praise, and the cooperation which the student body as a whole is going to give to the undertaking will be a definite mark of the responsibility which can be entrusted to them. The administration gave its consent to the removal of the fences when a committee of students agreed to see that no paths would be made across the campus. It is the duty of the student body to demonstrate that the trust was not ill-founded.

Everyone who attended the last class meeting knows of the plans of the committee which has charge of the project. The purpose of the movement is not that of hazing one group of students or extending a privilege to another. Rather it rises from a belief that a majority of the upperclassmen of Eastern habitually uses the sidewalks themselves and thoroughly regrets the disfigurements caused by either the fences or the paths on the campus. The goal of the movement is to build up student opinion which will support the project rather than oblige obedience by fear of penalty.

The committee realizes that sometimes, because of extraordinary circumstances, a student may have to walk across the campus for some legitimate purpose, and in such instances he shall be expected to take care he uses no path which has already been formed. Even then he should be subject to the customary reprimand that should be given to all trespassers. Now that the movement is under way it is the personal duty of every student to see that the fullest cooperation is given to this task of confidence.

Class Meeting Attendance

Once again the four classes of Eastern have held their monthly class meetings and once again only a minimum per cent of the members of the respective groups was present. The attendance of the freshman and sophomore classes was poor but no poorer than that of the juniors and seniors. It appears that the value of attending class meetings has not been embedded in our student body. The students do not seem to realize that these are their meetings and it is to their own disadvantage as well as to that of the class, if they do not attend.

Many complaints are heard from members concerning certain actions that have been passed by their respective classes. Usually these knockers are among the sixty per cent who do not attend the meetings and who, therefore, have not expressed themselves. The class meetings are carried on in a democratic manner and anyone has the right to voice his opinion on any subject at any time. This fact is evidenced by some of the statements that have been made in the senior class meetings.

The officers of the classes desire to follow the wishes of the majority of the members of the class in all of their endeavors, but they cannot accomplish this purpose if only a minority are present to vote upon the issues. Every student is an integral part of some class. If he does not help to direct the activities of his class, he is losing one of his advantages of college life, and if he does not have interest enough to attend the meeting, surely he should have enough manners and judgement not to criticize the measures which his class mates adopt.

Respect

Few days during the course of a year offer a greater opportunity for men and women regardless of nationality, politics or belief, to pay respect to an outstanding character, than does February 12.

Abraham Lincoln was more than a liberator. He was more than a pilot of the Ship of State. "He became the type, flower, and representative of all that is worthily American." Lincoln had in him the commonest of human traits blended with charity and human wisdom. He inspired confidence, had a strong sense of duty, was fair-minded and affable, and above all was patient.

Great Americans of today respect and revere the Lincoln type. It is their sincere duty. It is their desire. It is a privilege that the thoughtful appreciate.

"ROVER BOYS" CONVENTION ANNUAL TOURNEY DRAWING

By BOB MAVITY

If you had dropped into the Phoenix Hotel in Lexington last week during the annual drawing of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference's basketball tournament merely as an onlooker and had not known the significance of the meeting, you might have thought the "Rover Boys" convention was in town. But, to the well-informed, this meeting was a diplomatic gathering of eleven of the fightingest guys in the state of Kentucky today. Diplomatic was right—each man in the meeting represented one of Kentucky's eleven collegiate basketball teams comprising the conference. Together they made up the biggest group of pessimists when talking about their own teams and the largest group of optimists when speaking of the other fellow's teams that ever assembled in one room, may, in one city. Each coach was waiting for the other fellow to make a break so that he could get his team together and go over and make said fellow eat his words.

Said Monk Simons, former Tulane great and now mentor at Transylvania, "Where is the book that tells you how to win basketball games? I've looked everywhere I know to look, but with no success."

George Ditto, of Kentucky Wesleyan, looking smug as a little teddy bear after knocking off Rome Rankin's Eastern Maroons the night before, wanted to get the drawing over with as soon as possible so he could go back to Winchester and start worrying and get through with it. "Anyone I draw will beat me anyway," he said, "so let's get it over with."

All Rome Rankin did was growl and chew up the end of his cigar when he heard the word "Wesleyan" mentioned. He will play host to the meet this year at Richmond on the 25th, 26th, and 27th of this month.

Ellis' Johnson wouldn't draw for his Morehead Eagles, but made Len Miller, his assistant, do the chore. Ellis thinks Len is his "lucky man." Bob Waddell of Centre and R. C. Quimby of Berea were congratulating each other on the fine defensive play which their teams had shown in their battle on Saturday night. Centre best Berea 60-50.

So went the chatter of these eleven fellows that have made the life of Gus Sportfan a much more exciting one and who have presented Kentucky with the hottest basketball season that the state has ever witnessed.

"Boy, Oh Boy," chimed in Bob Evans of Georgetown, "what a knock-down and drag-out affair this year's tournament will be." And he just about hit the proverbial nail on the head.

Today I shall present to you some humorous answers given by Library Science students on the final examination.

In the question the name of a set of books dealing with early travel in Kentucky was asked for. To this one person answered, "Pilgrim's Progress," and another, "Gulliver's Travels."

In answer to a query as to what magazine one would use if one had only enough time to look at pictures, read a poem, or glance at the advertisements Biological Abstracts was given, and also The Courier-Journal. New magazines, are they not?

The World Affairs Magazine was suggested as suitable to keep one posted on current happenings of the day—not a bad suggestion, were there such a magazine.

Still another mistake, which is easily understood, is that one student called our Kentuckians collection the John Filson Townsend collection, instead of the John Wilson Townsend collection, which seems to be a mere confusion of the names Filson and Wilson.

In the question A card catalog is to a library, one student filled the blank with the word essential. Quite naive, was it not?

The Literateur

Glamorous, quaint, charming, picturesque, heart rending, appealing; those adjectives apply to Camille, but they do not fully describe it. In Camille, one meets Greta Garbo and Robert Taylor at their best, and that best is laid in an elaborate French setting with an able supporting cast.

Nowhere does the cinema story of Camille differ significantly from DuMaurier's own story; rather, every cliché has been emphasized. This was certainly wise in Director George Zukor, or the story is packed with vital emotion which maintains the rapt attention of the audience by its classic intensity. Its effect is, also, enhanced by the music and costumes which are very well chosen.

JUNIOR CLASS MAKES INITIAL PROM PLANS

An outline of business for the new semester was planned by the Junior Class at their regular monthly meeting Wednesday, Feb. 3. Outstanding among the coming events planned by the class was the Junior Prom.

Members of the class were urged by Norbert Rechtin, president, to attend all meetings.

A very entertaining program arranged by Miss Evelyn Long. It included musical selections by Art Lund, baritone, Junior Muncey, pianist, and Cecil Karrick, cornetist. Readings were given by Dorothy Dorris, freshman, and Rose Hagen, a pupil from the training school.

A Word from the Y's

At the last bi-monthly meeting of the combined cabinets of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. tentative plans were discussed and made to give an amusement program for the entertainment of our unfortunate visiting friends from the flood stricken area. It is the aim of the Y's to furnish a few bright moments to the ones that are heavy laden. It is work like this that the Y's wish to do and they heartily invite each and every one that wishes to do their part to cooperate with them. To the new students of the second semester we welcome you and hope that you will see fit to join us and help spread the Christian atmosphere on the campus.

STUDENTS
Lest you forget, be reminded that jointly the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. cordially invites you to spend a half an hour in midweek worship each Wednesday evening at 6:15 in the University building auditorium. Come and enjoy the fellowship with the group.

Now that the new semester has started we should be able to keep the type hot with the new subjects to draw from.

We heard that DORA BONETA has threatened to KEEF someone if her name ever appeared in this column. (What are you trying to hide DORA?) The other night we were wandering through the hall trying to dig up some dirt when we found the following inscription on a picture in a seniors room:

"De quien siempre te amara."

The senior claims that he doesn't know the meaning of that little Spanish phrase, can some one help him?

The reports are that MARGUERITE O'MARA was certainly going strong at the Wesleyan game the other night. Two boys that she flirted with promised to come over to the tournament if she would give them her name, room number, box number. Miss MEBANE didn't mind being stopped by the soldiers that guard Louisville especially if they were tall with dark curly hair.

HERMAN FULKERSON says that he is through with women, that he is going to devote his time to training for athletics, but that he wants to get married someday. BUD LIMB has big ideas about catching MARGUERITE GRAY on the rebound.

WILLIE TURPIN thinks that R. D. LACEY is cute because he walks like a duck when he walks. She calls him "Goo-goo" because she used to have a duck that walks just like him. We heard that ALICE WALLACE returned a bus ticket for Los Angeles sent to him by a girl friend. He says he is going to college and bigger things. It seems that LEROY DAVIS and CARL YEAGER had to dodge into the pool-room the other night in order to get away from the high school girls that insisted that they attend their party.

Where was MR. RICHARDS when MISS MURPHY was seen up near Berea one Sunday night.

JUNIOR MUNCY is carrying the torch for KATHERINE CURTIS he cries every time he plays "Good Night My Love." CECIL KARRICK has written a song about MIDRED RICHARDSON. Has anyone heard the words to it? We can't find any-one that has.

Why do the girls call BOB HATTON Horseface? Who started calling MARGARET HUBBARD, Sweden and why?

What would BESSIE BAUM-GARDNER say if she knew how frequently Z. T. RICE is seeing MARJORIE ADAMS? BUD LIMB seems very happy these days. The reason that FRANCES LITTLE has returned to school JOHN ELLISON finally got that long coveted date with INEZ CASS. More power to him. Is FRANK HORNS interest in EVELYN LONG waning? He hasn't around, then he dates KATHARINE MCNUTT. It seems that BOB RUBY and BABE HARRISON have quarreled, BOB seems to be consoling himself with ROSE MC-CAULEY, while BABE enjoys BUDDY GRANT'S company. JANE DURRETT seems to have laid aside her fickleness and decided to treat MARSHALL ARBUCKLE right.

Will BILL BENNETT return to RICHARDSON as he has always done before? Or has BETTY STURM too strong a hold on him?

NANCY KING and ELMER DOUGLAS have become another pair of inseparables. MARION CAMPBELL and CARL DANN are enjoying each other's company. JESSIE RIVARD is devoting her time to BILL O'DONNELL since she and JONNY quit.

DICK (Pete) CANTER was kissed good-by by EVELYN PETERS when she left school. KATE BAGGS is having a tough time keep her various suitors from quarreling when they happen to drop in at the hospital at the same time. PAUL DE-

MOISEY seems to be trying to best

LEROY DAVIS'S time with MAR-

GARET HUBBARD. Does anyone know who the red-headed girl from town is that JOHNNY KILLEEN raves about? We wonder whether

TIGERS DOWN MAROON FIVE BY 31 TO 28

Eastern Team Drops to Third in K. I. A. C. Standing as Result of Defeat by Georgetown Last Nite

MAROON FROSH WIN

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Feb. 10 (AP) — Georgetown College's basketball team advanced to second place in the K. I. A. C. standings last night by trouncing the Eastern Maroons in a closely fought game by a score of 31 to 28.

In suffering their third loss of the season the Eastern outfit was relegated to third place in the standings.

Georgetown jumped into an early lead on a foul toss by Greene, and continued ahead until near the end of the first half when two successive field goals put the Maroons in the van 9 to 8. However, the Georgetown five came to life at this point and held a 14 to 9 lead at the half way mark.

Continuing their unerring shooting in the second half the Tigers maintained their advantage until only few minutes remained to be played when Eastern forged ahead 25 to 23. Eastern held possession of the ball most of the remaining time but bad passes proved their downfall.

Bridges and Neale were banished from the game near the end of the tilt via the personal foul route but played outstanding games until their rout. Scott was best for Eastern.

In a preliminary game the Eastern frosh defeated the Tiger freshmen, 43 to 16.

MODEL PUPILS WIN CONTEST

Donophin Burrus and Jimmy Chenault Present Best Sketches

USED IN WHAS PROGRAM

Donophin Burrus, twelfth grade, and Jimmy Chenault, ninth grade, were the respective winners of the contests for writing the best sketches from the lives of Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee which were conducted in Model High. Both of the winning sketches were used in Eastern's radio program over station WHAS.

Burrus' "An Episode from the Life of Abraham Lincoln" was presented by the Kentucky Club of the Model high school on February 10. Others who participated in this contest were Donald Richardson, Clay Brandenburg, Jimmy Chenault, and Billy Griggs.

Chenault's dramatization was divided into three parts and entitled "The Birth, Surrender, and Death of Robert E. Lee." It was presented by the Junior High School Dramatic Club of Model High. Billy Griggs and Clay Brandenburg were two others who entered contributions in the Lee Contest.

CHAMPS MADE—NOT BORN, SAYS DOWNING

By ESTILE SWAN

"Eddie" Downing, Eastern's gift to the pugilistic world as an amateur in the recent Golden Gloves Tournament at Lexington, deserves a lot of credit for battling his way into the finals. Out of his three fights Eddie won two and one of them was a coker.

"You may think that just because that they are classed as amateurs that your opponents are going to be soft, but there is where you are wrong," says Eddie. "I knocked one fellow down to his knees three times and he still came back for more and almost licked me, so you see that it is not such a soft thing after all," he added.

Eddie ran up against tough opposition in the finals and on top of that he was about in bed with an awful cold, so he could not have been in top condition.

Eddie is a very modest, quiet, young man from Corbin, Ky., and doesn't like to talk about his fights very much; but this writer would be willing to bet that if he were to have his last fight over again, it would be a different story.

Baby Maroons Lead State Frosh Teams

As a result of a smooth, clean, well-oiled attack, Coach Turkey Hughes' Frosh basketball team remains the only undefeated first-year quint in the state.

In the nine games they have played so far this season, the Baby Maroons have averaged forty points a game.

With Noll, Bryant, McWhorter, Sloane, Craig, Davidson, and Noland bearing the blunt of the attack, they have coasted thru most of the games, "turning on" only when they desired.

Recently the squad suffered a setback due to the loss of Wagers, who became a sophomore. Wagers could perform at either guard or forward.

MAROON QUINT BEATS BEREA

Extra Period Needed to Decide Close-Fought Contest

FINAL SCORE IS 44-37

Playing before the largest crowd in many seasons, the Eastern Maroon basketball team took control of an overtime period to conquer the Mountaineers of Berea 44-37, and to gain revenge for a previous defeat at the hands of the Mountaineer quint.

The contest started as if it were going to be a walk-away for the visitors, and they ran the lead up to a point which was not relinquished until after ten minutes of the second half had been played. King at that point put Eastern ahead with a beautiful one hand shot.

At one time during the first half Berea held a 21-10 lead, but this was evened up when King, Fulkerson, and Fritz entered the game. The Maroons were able to narrow the lead to 23-21 as the half ended.

It was Ottwell Rankin, who started in King's regular position at guard, that kept the Maroons in the scoring during the first half. Rankin scored the first six points for Eastern with shots far out from the floor.

The second half was one of the fastest and closest that the local fans have seen on the Eastern court. The teams matched goal for goal until near the final whistle when Eastern pulled out in front 35-30. With a minute left to play Clark made a side shot and two under the basket shots to again put Berea in the lead. Hinkle pushed in a twister to give the Maroons a one point advantage and what appeared the game, but Clark made good a shot from the free throw mark when King fouled as the game ended.

PROGRESS STAFF APPOINTMENTS MADE

Charles Warner, Raymond Stivers, Agnes Edmunds, and Mildred Abrams have been appointed as departmental editors of the Progress of news, sports, features, and society, respectively. All of the appointees are members of the junior class, have worked on the Progress staff as reporters, and are prominent in extra curricular activities on the campus. Warner is business manager of the Little Theatre Club; Stivers is a member of the band and the Canterbury Club; and Abrams is an active member of Sigma Tau Pi.

CATHOLIC CLUB ENTERTAINED

The Catholic students of Eastern were entertained Thursday night, February 4, at the home of Mrs. E. V. Elder. Special permission was obtained from Mrs. Case for the dormitory girls to remain out until 11 o'clock p. m. Whistling dancing was a feature of the evening, followed by an impromptu musical program by the guests. Miss Mary Murphy sang "Indian Love Call," accompanied by Jo Leeds on the violin and Mr. Henri Schnabl at the piano.

VARSITY DROP SECOND GAME

Wesleyan Panthers Forge Ahead in Second Half to Win 37-25

CAPT. DEMOISEY STAR

Coming from behind in the second half, after trailing 16-18 at the midway mark, the Kentucky Wesleyan Panthers handed the Maroons their second straight setback of the season 37-25 last Saturday night at the Winchester floor.

The Panthers took the lead at the start on fielders by Taylor and Compton and were ahead by 7 to 1 after five minutes of play. Eastern, however, through the uncanny goal shooting of DeMoisey forged ahead during the final few minutes of the first half.

The second half began with both teams playing on even terms, but Wesleyan soon pulled ahead late in the period with Reynolds, a substitute, leading the attack.

Late in the game DeMoisey and King of Eastern were banished on personals.

Madrigal Club in Radio Program

The Madrigal Club will give a radio program on February 24. The numbers to be sung are "Salutation," "Summer is a-coming In," "Coblers Jig," "Indian Dawn," "Bread of Life," (Soloist—Miss Dorothy Dorris) "The Swan," and "Slumber Song."

Due to flood conditions, Miss Murphy announced that it is possible that the club will not sing in Louisville during K. E. A. If such is the case, in probability the girls will go to Cincinnati and sing over WLW.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, the class was entertained by Art Lund, vocalist, Cecil Karrick, trumpet player, and Junior Muney, pianist. In order to obtain a large crowd, preferably Sophs, for our next meeting, President Brock has promised, as the feature events, a balloon ascension and a trained seal juggling three lemons.

GLEE CLUB GIVES DANCE

While many Eastern students cheered the "Big Reds" at the Wesleyan gymnasium Saturday evening, others enjoyed the annual dance sponsored by the Men's Glee Club. Bob Walker and his orchestra, composed of Eastern students, rendered swing music for the dancers. As an added feature, the glee club sang "Winter Song."

FIRST DEBATE SCHEDULED

The Eastern debating teams will engage in their first debate of the season, Monday, February 15, when they journey to Georgetown to meet the representatives of that college.

One debate will be held at 3:30 p. m. and the other at 7:30 p. m.
