Bell-Martin The marriage of Miss Ovalene Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Bell of Creelsboro and Lt. Robert T. Martin, son of Mrs. T. P. Martin of Louisville, was solemnized Tuesday evening, December 5, at Camp Bowie, Texas. The wedding was of military style. The bride was attired in a fuchsia wool dress with matching hat. Her bouquet was of orchids. The bride was given in marriage by Col. Edward Scott. The matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Arnold, Louisville, who wore a lavender wool dress with a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Following the ceremony, the bride and groom left for a brief honeymoon. The bride is a graduate of Lindsey Wilson College, Columbia, Ky., and has also attended Western State Teachers College and is now attending Eastern. She has been a teacher in the elementary schools in Clinton county for the past three years. The groom is also a graduate of Lindsey Wilson College. He graduated from the United States Military College, West Point, last June and has been in service since August. He was recently assigned overseas duty.

Colvin-Houchell The marriage of Miss Helen Colvin, graduate in the class of 1943, of Elizabethtown, Tenn., and Lt. Paul A. Houchell, U. S. Army, Nichols Hospital, Louisville, was solemnized Saturday, December 2, in the Nichols Chapel. Maid of honor was Miss Aline Dolan, Rushville, Ind., senior at Eastern. The bride's attendants were Miss Christine Hertlein (now Mrs. David Barnes) and Mrs. Bobby West Hatfield. A wedding dinner at the Pendants Club in Louisville followed the ceremony. Jim Rush, USN, was on the campus Saturday. He was a member of the basketball team until entering the Navy in December. He went to Murray to attend the Murray-Eastern game Saturday night. Pvt. William Earl Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, the former Miriam Kelfer, were recently on the campus. "Chuck" Shuster, a graduate, visited on the campus last week-end. He is coach at Dayton High School, Dayton, Kentucky. Lt. and Mrs. Gall McConnell, the former Ann Gately, were visitors on the campus last week. Both are graduates.

Pete Ruckle, USN, and Jack Esham, a former student, were on the campus last week-end. Miss Juanita Thompson, a former student, was the guest of Miss Madeline Corman this week-end. Pvt. Sam Hodges, who is stationed at Ft. Thomas, visited Miss Rose Matthis last week-end. Mrs. H. C. Snyder and little granddaughter of Ashland, Kentucky, visited the former's daughter, Miss Mary Lou Snyder, this week-end. Mrs. Cora Napier visited her daughter, Miss Jo Napier, this week-end. Miss Virginia Coates visited Miss Joy Wray Frazier this week-end. Miss Jean Harrison recently went to Camp Robinson, Kansas, to attend the wedding of Miss Helen Breen and Capt. Blaine Kidwell. Miss Harrison was maid of honor and sang at the wedding. Capt. Kidwell is a former student of Eastern. Flight Officer and Mrs. Russell Shadoan, both graduates, were on the campus Friday. Mrs. Shadoan is the former Annetta Simmons. Mr. Frank Lehmann, father of Pvt. Larry Lehmann, died at his home in Ft. Thomas. Pvt. Lehmann, a former student, is serving somewhere in France. Dr. O. C. Robertson, father of Miss Phyllis Robertson, Owensboro, and Mrs. J. Edwin Hewlett, St. Louis, formerly of Richmond, died at his home in Owensboro, Feb. 1. Miss Robertson graduated from Eastern in the class of 1941.

Sigma Tau Pi The Sigma Tau Pi held its first meeting in the Student Union Building Monday evening, January 28. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for this year. The following officers were elected: Mary Lou Snyder, president; Marie Riherd, vice-president; and Elsie Jane Rigsby, secretary-treasurer. The club held another meeting on Wednesday to vote on a number of candidates who will be initiated into the club in the near future. Invitations of the pledges will be sent to these new members before the next meeting. The Sigma Tau Pi is a honorary society for majors in Commerce. Miss Edith Ford is acting as sponsor in the absence of Dr. W. J. Moore, the sponsor of the club. The World Affairs Club The World Affairs Club held its first official meeting for the quarter, Tuesday, January 23, at the residence of Dr. L. G. Kennamer. The club had as its guest speaker, St. R. Oglesby, professor of political science at Berea College. Prof. Oglesby's speech dealt with Russia, Hungary, and Germany. He gave some interesting experiences of his own, having traveled throughout various parts of each of these countries. He told the story of his "hosteling" throughout England, and into other countries; and as a result the travel-struck members of the World Affairs Club have decided to do their postwar traveling via hosteling. A library committee consisting of Charles Norris and Betty Still assisted by Dr. Kennamer, was appointed for cataloging the books of the club. It is hoped that every member will take advantage of this little library of current editions.

Pendantic Proverbs 1. One should put into execution that which one urgently recommends. 2. It is impossible to be the possessor of a baked composition of flour, eggs, butter, sugar, and other ingredients and at the same time to use it for gustatory gratification. 3. Enter into the conjugal state with dispatch and take your time about feeling twinges of regret. 4. The man, who follows all others in expressing feelings by a series of spasmodic expulsions of breath, accompanied by jerky, inarticulate sounds, does so to the utmost advantage. 5. Single disposition to be kind or friendly is entitled to a similar act of kindness of generosity. When you find out what the above says, tell us!!!

"The day is cold and dark and dreary"—was what the great Longfellow said about a certain disappointment—but now it isn't the day it seems to be all days. Why, we're having Sunny California weather now. Don't worry kids—in spite of the fact that Mr. Groundhog saw his shadow the other day, we'll all feel better now that the mid-term exams are over, huh?

Please! We're gonna have a big election here this week—so won't everyone of you help by casting your vote? Please find time to write a name or two on the little paper—. We all want our yearbook to be a success so if all help all they can, it will be. Info Please I'd like to know a few things—will someone please tell me 1. What is it that Feets and Caroline are blackmailing each other about these days? 2. Of all the bluejackets at Berea, who do we see only two every Sunday? 3. Why do gals look through fashion magazines and get fantastic ideas for hair-dos? 4. Who is the hoarder who has all his (or her) friends buy fags for him (or her) and then has the audacity to keep them in his (or her) mailbox to tantalize the rest? 5. Who writes Over the Back Fence? (I'd like to meet him (or her) Down the Back Alley!) 6. What'll Tot Winter's Mother do to regain Buz Sawyer's affection for her dear Tot? 7. Why do certain gals tremble until House Council meeting has adjourned? 8. How many gals swooned when Van Johnson appeared on the screen Tuesday night?—Just think—he isn't even married!—And My Dreams Are Gettin' Better All The Time!!!!

OVER THE BACK FENCE

Before we incriminate anyone further, we'd like to make known to the readers of this column that anything appearing in Over The Back Fence is not strictly the opinion of the writers, that it is merely what we pick up in the grill, or here 'n there, and please, girls, let's leave this hair-pulling business out of it. If anyone objects to anything appearing here, make complaint to the Progress Office where it will be duly considered, filed in the wastebasket and promptly forgotten.

Sh-h, Don't Tell, But . . .

The flame went out of Shryock's torch for Eva Clark almost as fast as it appeared. We'd tell the reason but it would be censored by the editor, anyway. We understand that Robinson is taking up where Shryock left off. We were going to give you the low down on Bill Smith's early morning venture to Burnam Hall, but we heard Ryle made a scoop on that, so we'll just let it pass . . . there's still Castille, however, it isn't news that he's still putting up a struggle for an A priority on Juanita Shepherd's free time. We'd like to dedicate the following from Robbie Owens to Chicklen Rush, who was on the campus last week end.

I wanta be where you is Instead of where I be, Cause when I are where you are not, It ain't no place for me, I use to think the world was great, But now I know it isn't, For you have gone to where I ain't, And left me where you isn't.

SADDLE HORSES

By NEIL ROBERTS The American saddle horse originated in the hills of Kentucky, when people used heavy horses of slow gait to cover rough hill territory. In time, these first saddle horses were crossed with running horses from Virginia, to provide the present day saddle horse. Madison County, in particular, has a glamorous history in connection with the breeding and riding of saddle horses. Among the more famous saddle horses in this county in the past fifty years are: Chester Dare, Rex Peavine, and, more recently, Jack Twig. Last fall, through the generosity of Dr. O. F. Hume, member of the Board of Regents of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, our college received, free of charge, four very fine saddle horses; four geldings, all from three to four years of age, of superior blood line. The horses are quite well trained, but since labor is scarce, have not been exercised sufficiently in the few months past. During the few months the horses have been at Eastern, however, they have been ridden intermittently by college boys and some college girls; Coach Rankin and some members of the basketball team have ridden daily. According to G. M. Gumbert, in whose care the horses have been placed, it is quite likely that by the beginning of the spring term, the school can offer some instruction in horsemanship.—In this, Eastern is pioneering, and she can be rightfully proud.—At first, of course all students must learn the basic fundamentals of horsemanship, since an accomplished rider is not developed in a day. As for equipment, the school

In a world torn asunder by the ravages of total war, it is encouraging to see that so many organizations have and are recognizing their opportunity to help the men and women of the armed forces. It is particularly interesting to the "Y" supporters that the "Y" organization has and is recognizing its obligation to minister to the spiritual, social, physical, and mental needs of the people of the armed forces. It has been done not only in our own cities here at home but even to the extent of going on foreign soil. These "Y" centers offer to the service man or woman a place to enjoy himself leisurely in a home-like atmosphere. Here can be found many of the comforts of home; a place for fun; Christian fellowship; plenty of recreation; refreshments, and even lodge and board if you wish it. Everyone present at one of these "Y" centers can sincerely feel he is appreciated and welcomed. The world needs to show its appreciation to and for others. About ninety-nine per cent of the world's sorrow and unhappiness is the result of someone's selfishness. Selfishness seems to be the root of both petty and major disagreements, whether it's individual or world wide. Unless much of this petty selfishness is stamped from the peoples of the world there can never be a lasting peace. Don't forget Vespers on Thursday evening at 6:15. Discussions are being continued on the racial problem.

Eastern Beats Berea; Falls To Morehead

Eastern's Maroons took a crack at two traditional cage rivals last week and broke even in the process, nipping Berea in a 60 to 56 thriller, and losing a close 48 to 44 decision to Morehead...

The red hot sailors, hitting the basket with feebulous one hand tosses from all angles, surged ahead of the Eastern team in the opening moments of the fray, Cave, Lindsey, and Lewis of Berea pooled their efforts to push Berea into halftime lead of ten points that really looked big.

With the score 34 to 24 against them, Eastern came back desperately in the last half and pulled into a 40 all deadlock with ten minutes remaining in the game.

Fred Lewis' 34 points provided a major part of Easterns scoring. As usual the big fellow was popping them from out beyond the circle.

The battle with Morehead was another thriller, but this time the story did not have such a happy ending. The Maroons lost a game that they had all sewed up with only six minutes to play.

Bill Miller and Dick Moberley fouled out of the fray with only a few minutes to play, and this change at a crucial moment cost Eastern a ball game.

Lt. (jg) Glenn C. Shepherd, Paint Lick, senior in 1934-35, is Armed Guard officer of a Navy gun crew on a merchant ship. He entered Naval training March 1944.

Pasteurization Unit Installed At School

A milk pasteurization plant has been installed recently at the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College dairy to provide processed milk for use in the college cafeteria and grill.

The pasteurization unit has a capacity of 45 gallons a day. The milk is heated to a temperature of 146 degrees and held at that temperature for thirty minutes. It is then cooled and placed in cans to be bottled...

The process for pasteurizing is simple. The milk is first strained and put in a large vat that will hold 200 gallons. Between the walls of the vat is hot water heated by steam which comes from a separate boiler.

A reliable pivot man for the Eastern Maroons is lanky Jim Wade, who hails from Memphis, Tennessee. Better known to Eastern fans as "Memphis," Wade, playing a reserve role, has on several occasions come through for the Maroons in tight spots.
