Vox Veterani

By ALAN WHITE

The weekly meetings of the Eastern Veterans Clubs are still being carried on per usual, and the February 4 issue of the same was a dandy. The meeting time being moved up to 9:15 p. m. (a fifteen minute lift caught the boys in one swoop on the rebound from Burnam Hall. Everybody asked everybody else if he thought that was a better time, and usually "he" sneered and said he did.

Now that the formalities are out of the way let us turn our heads to a few toes which have been trod upon. Here's the deal: it seems as though certain elements existing on our campus consider the Eastern Vet a perpetual complaint-finder, and a feeling of the same came out in the last issue of this paper. The Vet, however, sincerely frowns upon things of this sort.

At this February 4 meeting, the first issue brought to the floor concerned a statement appearing under the heading of "As We See It" (or moreso, "As I see It"). We quote: "You are not being robbed and you are not paying for all the S.U.B. this year. No one is getting rich at your expense. After the food is purchased it must be processed, prepared, served, and someone has to do it. Operating costs must be paid.

"A large percentage of the student body is NOT receiving free tuition, free books, etc., but they must pay these expenses in addition to the high food cost. So you see, grippers, conditions could be rougher."

It seems mighty, mighty funny that this obituary appeared in exactly the same issue of The Progress as did this section of our last report... "the first issue of the evening came to the floor concerning a gap between prices of downtown commodities and those served in the cafeteria. While not presenting a BELLIGERENT attitude toward the subject, a REQUEST was made to find just what the reason might be for this condition."

Suppose we put it this way... the Vets Club is not complaining about the condition, but merely asked the Steering Committee to investigate a problem of which they were a bit leary. As for the remark that conditions could be as rough as they are in other schools; well, it seems as though they are taking their "problem" in a prone position. It is possible, you know.

Students Profit by Religious Emphasis Week Program

For the second consecutive year a week of Religious Emphasis was observed on the campus of Eastern, February 5th through the 9th. This year the discussion groups were larger, and more people participated in all phases of the meeting.

Religious Emphasis Week is sponsored by the Inter-Faith Council of the college composed of the various ministers of the churches, the sponsors and presidents of the Y. W. and Y. M. cabinet members, director of personnel of the college, president of the college, and other members of the youth groups of the local groups.

Dr. George Heaton, a Baptist minister from Charlotte, North Carolina, was the very able and competent speaker for the entire Religious Emphasis Week. Religious Emphasis Week opened with an assembly program, Wednesday, February 5th at which time Dr. Heaton spoke on the "Plight of Man".

Discussion groups were held each evening from 6:30 to 7:15. The students were divided into four groups with a local minister leading each discussion group. The topics discussed were: "A Student's Morals"; "Christian Marriage and the Home"; "Science and Religion"; and "What About Immortality?"

Following the discussion group each night, vespers were held in the Little Theater, with Dr. Heaton speaking at each service.

On Saturday evening a movie entitled, "Who is My Neighbor?" was shown in the Little Theater. Following the movie an informal reception was held in the lobby of Burnam Hall.

Sunday, February 9th, was go-to-church Sunday for all students. Students were urged to attend the church of their choice.

Religious Emphasis Week ended with an impressive candle light service in the sanctuary of the Christian church at 5 p. m. Sunday afternoon. The youth groups of all the local churches attended the meeting.

Prota Decca Honors Two Members

Prota Decca Sorority entertained with a tea honoring Miss Niffa Sue Herndon and Mrs. Julius Sizemore, nee Willie Gooch, on Wednesday evening, February 5, in Walnut Hall. The tea was in honor of the Christmas marriage of Mrs. Sizemore and the forthcoming marriage of Miss Herndon.

HILLTOPPERS HERE SATURDAY

Eastern Revives Intercollegiate Swim Program

Eastern's revived Mermen, dormant for five years, are now approaching the height of practice and soon will be ready to take on all comers.

The swimming team is under the supervision of student-coach, Paul Love, who may also participate in the meets, depending on the way the team finally shapes up.

Daily practice sessions have been continuing for the past month in the Weaver Health Building.

Starting with assorted calisthenics, these developing natators have now almost reached the peak of training and intercollegiate competition may soon begin. The first opponent will probably be Berea College, and other potential opponents are Morehead, Centre, University of Louisville, University of Kentucky, and Maryville College in Tennessee. Most of the meets will be on a home and home basis.

The aquators themselves, largely without competitive experience of any kind, are all freshmen and sophomores, and will furnish formidable opposition to any college in a year or two.

The Mermen, in addition to Love, are Jack Kerley, Dick Bachmeyer, Ralph Sensel, Ralph Elliot, Russel Scalf, Roy Robbins, Lynn Nichols, Lee Gentry, and Steely McHargue.

These boys have been reporting for practice every night from 5 until 6 and Saturday mornings from 9 until 11; and are working hard to reduce their best marks for their respective events.

The meets will include the following events:
400 yd. Freestyle Relay
440 yd. Freestyle Race
220 yd. Freestyle Race
100 yd. Freestyle Sprint
50 yd. Freestyle Sprint
150 yd. Backstroke Race
200 yd. Breaststroke Race
300 yd. Medley Relay
Diving Competition

Eastern Girls Plaster U. K. Gals, 32-31

At 3:30, January 29th, 1947, in the girls' gym at the University of Kentucky, the girls' basketball team of Eastern gave U. K. a going over which they will not forget for quite sometime.

The game was "nip and tuck" all the way, but with the excellent shooting of the forwards and the well-executed passes of the guards, Eastern managed to stay ahead through the entire game. The score at the half was 16 to 11.

In the third quarter the Easternites pulled away and at one time six points were gained on U. K. The fourth quarter was really the "Battle Royal" with the difference in the score only varying from one to three points. The final score of the game was 32 to 31 with Betsy Tandy as the high point player.

This was the first lost for U. K. in six years and more points were scored against them than in any other game in which they had played. In spite of their height and experience the winners outplayed them in every way.

The girls who went to Lexington were:

Forwards: Betsy Tandy, Virginia Strohmeier, Ruby Owen; guards: Kathryn Siphers, Gerry Mullins, Pauline Phillips; substitutes: Jo Glover, Flossie Johnson, Nina Hellard, Beckie Gopher.

Former Richmond Boy Atlanta Tank Star

Tommy McDonough, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McDonough, of Atlanta, formerly of Richmond, is regarded as the best swimming prospect in the entire south in his specialty, the 100-yard breaststroke.

Tommy will participate in the Southern Interscholastic swimming meet to be held February 14 at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hills.

If he wins at Chapel Hills, his swimming coach, Ed Shea, thinks Tommy will be chosen on the All-America interscholastic team, an honor never attained by a Georgia boy.

His father is physical education director at Emory University in Atlanta, the same position he formerly held at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College.

Sweethearts' Ball Set For Tonight

The annual Sweethearts Ball will be held Friday evening, February 14, 1947 in Walnut Hall. Hours of dancing will be from 8:30 to 12:00 P.M. Burgoyne Moores and His Orchestra will supply the music. Dance will be formal. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

The Women's Residence Hall Organization is one of the most respected and esteemed organizations on the campus. The purpose is to provide for the government and the social direction of the residents of the hall and to promote better fellowship, scholarship, and citizenship at Eastern. The officers and representatives are: First row, left to right: Margaret Anderson, Nancy Ransdall, Anita Morgan, Velma Burger. Seated, left to right: Minerva Murphy, Isabelle Green, Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Audrey Combs, Margaret Martin, Frances Jackson. Standing: Carolyn Sanders, secretary; Mildred Payne, president; Viola Campbell, vice president; Mary Wood Lee, treasurer.

HERE THEY ARE:

Financial report from July 1 to December 31.

CAFETERIA REPORT: There were 160,004 meals served with the total net gain from operation for the period of $1,287.00. The average profit earned on each meal was .008 cents or 8 mills. This percent of profit is 1-9/10%.

Operating costs of the cafeteria did not include charges for electric service, heating, steam used for cooking, and water consumed.

GRILLE REPORT: There were 81,000 individual sales made with a total net profit of $277.46. The average profit was .003 or 3 mills. The percent of profit was 2 1/4%.

"LAUGH AND SING" WELL RECEIVED BY STUDENT BODY AND FACULTY

Several students, of their own initiative, got together and decided the college would enjoy a little extra-added entertainment. Students volunteered their participation, and the result was a Variety Show that went over with "a bang."

"Laugh and Sing" directors and scrip writer were Bill Kearney and George Cecil. Sandy Weiler and Louis Kilgus did good jobs as announcers and kept the show moving at a rapid pace.

The opening number was a vocal, "Guilty" by Eloise Gilbert. She was followed by Jo Everling, Comic Pianist, who played from a sitting position on the floor, back to the piano, and hands crossed above her head.

Sylvanus P. Potbister, Joe Keller, and Tessie Turtledove, Curtis Smith, were characters from way back in "the good old days." After much stuttering and stammering, Sylvanus finally got Tessie's consent to—yes—help him with his arithmetic.

A very, very Southern Gentleman, Mr. Hornby, James Litsey, announced that, "You all would do well to use Swills Soap." You've heard of Mortimer Snerd? Eastern presented it's own Francis Mortimer Blemange in the person of Maurice Mitchell.

There was quite a jazz session, accompanied by many tapping feet and nodding heads, when the Combo Specialties really did "swing out" with the "hep music." Talent was certainly displayed by Jo Everling at the piano, Bill Gravely on the trumpet and trombone, Owen "Flat Top" McPeck on the trombone, and Bob Rush at the drums.

Regina Maria Rene, a French aristocratic lady, Lois Reynolds, sang "Together," accompanied by Dewey Hogue. The way it turned out, however, was that Dewey did most of the singing.

The audience had laughed so much by this time that they welcomed the ten minute intermission to renew their strength. After this 10-minute relaxation period, Buell Mills, Bass and Hobert Branscum, Baritone made a grand entrance. Kathryn Jasper accompanied them. "Kind Captain, I've Important Information" from H. M. S. Pinafore was the number and the audience called for more, but the show had to go on.

Lois Reynolds then performed a vocal selection, "Zipa-De-Do-Do." Professor Philpot, John Mayhall, arrayed in cap and gown gave a discourse on the modern student. He was overcome by his topic, and had to be taken huba, hubyng from the room.

Eloise Gilbert "gave out" with "Sooner or Later." Her solo was interrupted when after singing "He's Gonna Knock On My Door," a voice boomed out, "Open that door Richard." She continued, however, several minutes later when she could again be heard above the laughter.

A problem arose when the two announcers called on Cecil Craig and Maurice Mitchell at the same time. They compromised and had them play a piano jazz duet. What does Eastern need for school improvement? Vivian Ratliff gave in a very humble, timid voice five methods of improvement, one for instance, was that the girls might keep their finger nails cleaner if they would use the shovels placed by the back fence, instead of their hands, while making their belated entrances.

A clever cheer was given by Clara Bob Taylor, coed, and "Flat Top" McPeck, followed by the whole group singing an Eastern song.

Throughout "Laugh and Sing" short added attractions passed back and forth across the stage. In a crap game Jean Cloyd won money and clothes from Roy Redmond and John Mayhall. Poor John Finnegan is probably still stiff from standing in a bending, listening position waiting for his bowling balls to hit. Jimmy Cox was a magician who was aided in his act by Jerry Childers.

A quartet, Bill Gravely, Carter Still, Dewey Hogue, and Owen McPeck presented many clever commercials at different intervals during the show. The climax of this "Guardsman Quartet" was when they were all shot for hitting sour notes except "Flat Top" who aimed at and missed himself. Sound engineer was Charles Tudor and Musical Director Bill Grayley.

W. A. A. Playday

At 10:45 Saturday Morning, the Eastern girls began the battle with the Nazareth Junior team for a place in the basketball tournament held at U. of K. on February 7 and 8. Eastern led in the first half by a score of 11 to 3. Then with the opening seconds of the second period, Nazareth turned on the heat running the score to 11 to 9 giving the little Maroons only a two-point margin. Virginia Strohmeier increased the lead with a goal from the side. Both teams continued to fire at the hoop and when the final whistle sounded, the game was tied, 17 to 17. With a six-minute overtime, in which Eastern outplayed Nazareth, the Eastern sextet piled up a total of 25 points to Nazareth's 22. Virginia Strohmeier was high point for Eastern with 13, followed by Betsy Tandy, with 10 points.

This victory put Eastern in the semi-finals against the big team from Nazareth. Virginia Strohmeier blazed a path to the basket with a field goal followed by a foul shot. Nazareth scored a foul shot and Betsy Tandy came in for a crisp putting Eastern in front by a score of 5 to 1 in the opening minutes. Strohmeier hit the hoop for three foul shots while Nazareth chalked up three field goals. At the beginning of the second half, Ruby Owen sank one for the little

Western and Eastern's Mighty Maroons To Battle For "Survival of Fittest"

"Persia" Was Topic Discussed by Dr. H. Reiben

On Tuesday evening, February 11th, Dr. H. Reiben, former missionary to Persia and Africa and now teacher of French at Berea College, spoke to the students at Eastern on the culture, climate, customs, and people of Persia.

Dr. Reiben, who was brought here under the sponsorship of the World Affairs Club, was forced to leave his station at the outbreak of the war because of political convictions, and was then re-assigned by the Presbyterian Mission Board to Africa.

According to Dr. Reiben, the climate of Persia is very much like that found in the southwestern part of the United States, however it is much more steady than the unpredictable weather of Kentucky. Persia experiences the same cold and heat as we do, but the changes are not marked as in this state.

In Teheran, which has a population of one-half million, the average temperature from May until September is 84 degrees F. and seldom does the thermometer register over 100 degrees. However, in southern Persia at sea level, the weather is much hotter.

The people of Persia belong to the white race. Many of them are very dark but they belong to the same race as the whiter Persians of the North. There is no color bar or race discrimination of any kind because of this darker group. The two main religious groups of Persia are the Mohammedans and the Zoroastrians. The latter is the most advanced minority and possesses some of the most successful business men. The Christian church is making progress in spite of the many obstacles which must be overcome such as the many nomadic tribes and the superior feeling of the Persians toward their own religion.

The standard of living of the Persians is very low and the main diet of the workers and their families is bread, cheese, and tea. However, as long as there is enough bread, cheese, and tea, the people are happy.

Until 1935, the women were completely veiled. At that time, the head of the government ordered all of the veils to be taken off and for the women to dress like the Europeans. If a woman appeared on the street with even a scarf on her head, she was forced to remove it.

The Persians are very eager for the schools, which were under the direction of the Christian groups, to be re-opened. Because of her strategic position, Persia will assume a new place of leadership in the world of tomorrow.

College Grocery Store Now In Operation

Something new has been added—a college grocery store—commonly known as Fred Ballou's "Jot 'em Down Store."

This new Student-Union-Building project is the idea of and managed by Fred Ballou, head of the book store and grille service. Bob Yeager, a graduate student, is serving as clerk.

The store is located in the room which formerly served as store room for the grille and adjoins the Listening Room. The hours are four until six on week days and on Saturdays from ten until twelve and one until six.

The store is being operated for the convenience of the students living in the residence halls and also the wives of the Mattoxville vets. Any grocery commodity except fresh foods is in stock. Canned meats, fruits, vegetables, etc. are purchased by the housekeepers but the best sellers are crackers, cheese, and peanut butter—that famous dormitory diet.

Prices in the college grocery store compare favorably with the downtown independent grocers. The future of the store will depend on you—so why not support it?

Spring Cleaning Time at Library

When the painters have finished, the floors and windows will get a good polishing and things will be ready for inspection. THAT IS, on the inside. But the $64-question is what to do about the coke bottles, straws, ice cream cups, candy wrappers, empty cigarette packs, scrap paper, choppy little paths and ugly, packed down, earthy borders along the walks on the outside? Wanted—an idea!!

Coach Paul McBryer and his "First Year Wonder Boys" will take the floor with a vengeance Saturday night when they come up against Ed Diddle and his highly respected Western Hilltoppers. The Maroons will be out to maintain their present conference championship which they can do by dropping their colorful visitors. If our boys come out on top they will have a conference record of 12 wins against two setbacks, while the best the Diddlemen will be able to show will be a six-two count for the season. Victory will also give Eastern a two-year winning streak which has never seen an Eastern team lose on its home court.

Lloyd Hudnall and Joe Fryz will take the opening forward spots for the "champs." Hudnall is considered by many as the best bank-board man in the conference and hard driving, high scoring Joe Fryz is always a dangerous threat. Big "Chuck" Mrazovich will be in the pivot slot, and "Tousle Headed" Ed Shemelya and "Lanky" Paul Hicks will go at the guards in the all important game.

For the Hilltoppers will be "Slugging" Odie Spears and "Jumping" Don Ray at the forwards. Spears has the reputation of being one of the finest forwards to play in Madison Square Garden this season. In the center will be Oran McKinney, a master when it comes to handling the old roundball, and at guards will probably be seen Dee Gibson and Chalmer Embry.

Both teams average over the six-two mark where height is concerned and barring no mishaps we believe Ed Diddle and his red towel will have forty rough minutes before they leave the Weaver floor as our boys have "blood in their eyes" and will go on the floor with one thought in mind—WIN!

Take this to the Big Game You can't tell a player without a score card

Dr. Keith Speaks at Weekly Assembly

Dr. Charles A. Keith, professor of history and government and Dean of Men at Eastern, spoke to the student body Wednesday morning on four phases of Abraham Lincoln's character which helped to make him great.

The first phase was statesmanship. Dr. Keith stated that his actions were almost superb in all of his political duties. The only person who can be compared with Lincoln in the next phase, that of clarity of expression, was Oliver Cromwell. Lincoln quieted the sneers and scoffs of the crowd after he had spoken the first sentence of his Gettysburg address and Horace Greeley wrote that it was the greatest political address that had ever been delivered.

Lincoln's humor carried him through many rough spots. The humor was innate and with one humorous expression could turn an insult into a compliment. The last point mentioned by Dr. Keith was the patience of Lincoln. He had to contend with aspiring generals, disbelief, lack of faith, and many other things which would have broken a man who lacked the patience of Abraham Lincoln.

"Abraham Lincoln should be an inspiration to every boy and girl, man and woman, both here in America and in all parts of the world."

AS WE SEE IT

There have been quite a few repercussions concerning the editorial in the last issue of the Progress. Naturally, I would not have "stuck my neck out" had I not known what I was writing and had I not meant just that. However, most of you vets have misinterpreted what I mean by this phrase: "A large percentage of the student body is not receiving free tuition, free books, etc., but they must pay these expenses in addition to the high food cost."

Most of you interpreted it that I was being very cynical and bitter over the fact that you were receiving an allotment of $65 a month and free tuition and books. Personally, if the Federal government wants to pay you $65 a week I am one-hundred percent behind it and I am more than willing to pay my part of the taxes to give you that allotment and an education. Too many people have already forgotten and too many more are forgetting what you experienced and sacrificed such a short time ago. I am behind you, I am for you, and nobody appreciates you any more than I. However, the point I was trying to prove in my editorial was this: There are so many people on the campus who have less than that $65 a month who are also having to pay so many expenses in addition to those connected with the habit of eating. Yet, these students realize that costs are high and wages out of proportion—so there is no need in trying to buck the whole economic set-up of the nation.

These students are also trying to improve conditions at Eastern by doing something positive rather than something in the negative. So until we can offer some definite proof of all the violent accusations we have been hurling forth all year, what do you say we do something really constructive to help Eastern? What about a repeat of the Vet-sponsored clean-up campaign of last year.

Let's make those vandals who are still making paths all over the campus conscious of what they are doing. You vets can do it; what do you say? *

Quite a few requests have been received for a gossip column to be started as a regular feature in the Progress.

I think most of the students already understand why a gossip column is absent from the school publication. The main purpose served by such a column is to keep the students informed on the love life of a certain group of couples—the columnist's circle of friends. It also helps create ill-will toward the paper itself and the staff.

A college newspaper is supposed to be mature enough to present something to its readers besides petty cracks concerning who's going with whom.

So just in case you've been wondering who's dating that nice-looking blond you've got your eye on, you'll have to find out through some other channel than the Progress.

THERE WILL NOT BE A GOSSIP COLUMN IN THE PROGRESS THIS YEAR.

MAROONED

with LESLIE NORMAN

Upon arriving at dear old Eastern, each student is assigned living quarters more commonly known as a room. The student is expected to treat this room as he would his own room at home. And here is where the trouble begins. The first day of school, that room is more messed up than an accounting 10 test paper, but soon the student immaculately cleans up. About the third day, the room is the epitome of cleanliness suitable to the taste of the most strict housekeeper. Why, the room is sanitary to the point of being a sanitary-um. But the days pass by and the student begins to learn life. He gets up at 7:57 for his 8:00 class and rushes out of the room faster than he rushes out of last period class. Of course, the bed is unmade and clothes are strewn all over the room. Perhaps he has second period free but with all respect to the academic life, he must devote some time to the more elevating things of life, i. e. social development at the grill, valuable reading material (True Detective, etc.) and outdoor exercise for the health. The next free period must be devoted to eating food. By the end of the day he has done absolutely nothing in the way of straightening his room. By the end of several weeks the room is inspected. Upon entering the room, the inspector is greeted by two unmade beds, on the desk are several empty, ahem, coke bottles, the jar of cheese is open and a knife hangs out of the open cracker box at a very gay angle. The lamps are knocked over on the floor from the night before exercises. The inspector takes one look and leaves the room an embittered soul. Sooner or later, we are forced to clean up our room, but the sheer joy of messing up a room is not to be easily forgotten. Furthermore, with the room all clean again, we can have the fun of tearing it up all over again. There is a bright side to every story.

KAMPUS KALAEDESCOPE

"Courage of Lassie," put on at Eastern Auditorium by popular demand of the dogs... requests for more bottled cokes at the grill... students coming out of the grocery store with canned beans, soup (to eat cold, of course, ahem)... bridge addicts looking for a fourth fiendishly approaching Eastern Innocents... daring co-eds entering classes in slacks... Easternites telling Byrd's Polar Expedition Veterans just how cold it can get... students crawling to the cafeteria at 7:59 only to eat a breakfast of donuts and coffee in the grill... the Anniversary Waltz and grill, synonymous... the condescending looks given to 1st quarter frosh by second quarter frosh... the inferiority complexes produced by Milestone pictures... the sweater season, the only time when males voluntarily keep their eyes open in class... James Mason, living proof that the gals like 'em mean... students coming out of the Ad. Building, mid-term reports in hand, and throwing themselves in the pond.

IN APPRECIATION

In closing, nothing could be more appropriate than to offer a big vote of thanks to the cast and crews of "Laugh and Sing," that swell variety show some of our more industrious students put on for us. These kids really put their hearts in that show and it was a job well done. The idea alone is worthy of praise. Putting forth effort and time to give Eastern a free show is quite a deed. We all laughed and in a big way, that was essentially all they asked. 'Tis rumored they're going to give us another show next quarter and judging from the last performance, that would be something none of us could afford to miss. So, to all of them from all of us—one big "Thanks!"

ODDS AND ENDS

By JOHN MAYHALL

Last week the Maroons suffered their second loss of the season. No matter what the critics say, we here at Eastern think we have one of the best basketball teams in the country. I'm sure we'll get revenge against Western when they come over on our floor. When they do come over here, let's get behind our boys 100 percent. Let's see if we can't have our band out there and the cheerleaders putting on their best and the student body yelling like

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

Reserve your kisses for the guy,
 Who is the apple of your eye,
 Don't hand them out to every beau.
 But learn politely to say "No."

NEVER THE TWAIN

When asked his opinion of Heaven and Hell, Mark Twain once remarked: "My dear lady, I can't say a word; I have friends in both places."

Man is a wonderful fellow, learning from the other animals the way he does. He studies the hawk and the vulture and flies through the air with the greatest of ease. He learns from the crab with its shell and the skunk with its tear gas. He considers the ways of the squirrel and becomes a hoarder; the ways of the snake and goes in for espionage. He observes the caterpillar and the hippopotamus, the shark and the crocodile, the mole and the hedgehog, and makes himself terrible on land and sea and underneath both... About the only creature left in nature for him to learn something useful from is the dove.

Slot machines are called one-armed bandits, but I "ain't" never heard of one of 'em searching into a feller's pockets.

COASTIN'

Hey, there, Skinny, you and Red!
 Come along and bring your sled,
 Snow is fallin' thick an' fast,
 The ol' hill's as slick as glass—
 Hurry up an' don't stay 'way,
 'Cause coastin' sure is swell today!

Golly, ain't this lots of fun!
 An' to think it's jes begun—
 Look out, Red, don't shove me so.
 On the sled an' down I go.
 'Cross the field an' fur away—
 Gosh, coastin' can't be beat today.

Blackie, he ain't got no sled—
 Let 'im ride a-top you, Red,
 At's the stuff, now down you go,
 Rah for winter, rah for snow!
 Lordie, who could stay away!
 When coastin's like it is today!

Phil saw a friend standing in the rain in front of a swank Hollywood night club. "What are you going to do?" he asked. "Stay outside and get wet or go in and get soaked?"

Rhythm Ripples

Sooner or later Eastern State is going to become virtually a "College of Musical Knowledge." With the glee clubs working overtime with "Naughty Marietta" and the campus simply buzzing with the proposed visit of Sammy Kaye and his band, everyone seems to be more music conscious than usual.

"Shall we say, Eastern boasts the presence of several probable celebrities of the future? It's common knowledge, I suppose, that Gene Elder and Betty Ann Blair make weekly air wave appearances, and generally speaking, everyone is rather proud of Burgoyne Moores and his band (acclaiming such potential artists as Bob Rush and Bill Allison.) But there may be those among us who are not aware that Herb Condon once served as pianist with a name band, and those who are familiar with his distinctively scintillating keyboard technique never stop to wonder why. Then, too, we have Jack Perciful, who once had his own band (knowing no more than just that, further remarks might only lead to bloodshed—my blood!)

Recent investigation has left me rather astonished at the surprising number of so-called popular tunes which have been taken directly from famous classics. Since these numbers, for example, "Full Moon and Empty Arms," taken from Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp" seems to have the edge over some of those just stuck together in such a hit-or-miss fashion, it would lead us to believe that the classics are first, last and always the best. This fact is upheld by the apparent popularity of such famous selections as Chopin's "Polonaise" and Addinsell's "Warsaw Concerto."

But in spite of the classical influence, the comparatively new and heart warming swing, with its catchy rhythm and snappy lyrics still holds the spotlight with the majority of the "grill-ologists." One of the newest and possibly the most popular right now is "Open the Door, Richard." Despite its failure to make much sense, and the almost complete lack of apparent harmony, at least in part, its ridiculously hilarious lyrics stick with us and it promises to keep climbing. Another newcomer, a South American tune, "Managua Nicaragua," has made its debut with considerable clamor.

In a more somber vein of thought we would place "Sonata" as an increasingly popular piece of rhythm. So, it all adds up to the same old story that music, in any and all shapes, forms, and fashions is excitingly interesting and educational—here's to more and better rippling rhythm.

The "Y's"

By ELIZABETH PENNINGTON

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet held a meeting on February 3d to discuss plans for sending delegates to the State Y. W. C. A. convention for college groups. The convention is to be held at Kentucky State College, February 22, at Frankfort.

The Y. W. is planning to sponsor a sandwich sale soon in the basement of Burnam Hall. It was decided that a portion of the proceeds from this sale would go to World Student Service Fund. The Y's will begin a drive before the quarter is over to add to this fund.

Nancy Henderson and Mary Wood Lee's social service committee helped to solicit donations in the recent Infantile Paralysis Campaign in downtown Richmond. Don't forget Vespers at 6:30 p. m. each Thursday night in the Little Theater.

A word from the Y's... It is forbidden to decry other sects, the true believer gives honor to whatever in them is worthy of honor.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR

By RUBY MONDAY

On February 1st the Baptist Student Union had a birthday party. Everyone had a wonderful time so it was chalked up as another success. It was learned that quite a few of the Baptist Students on the campus have birthdays this month, as well as does our faculty advisor, Dr. Engle. Those of you who missed that party, make a special note of this: the B.S.U. is entertaining with a Valentine Party on Friday night, February 14th at 7 p. m. at the First Baptist Church. Make it a point to come! Bring yourself, a friend, and a Valentine. You'll be sure to have a wonderful time.

Parties are not the main purpose of B.S.U., although it is a purpose to promote good clean fun and fellowship among its members. The main purpose of the B. S. U. is to enlist all the Baptist Students in active work in the local church, just as you worked in your church at home. There is a place for you in the church; you are welcome, and you are to feel at home. The programs in Sunday School and Training Union are very interesting and inspirational. There is a special department for college students and you have an opportunity to participate on these programs. Some programs are very unique as was Training Union Sunday night, February 9. The question to be discussed was "Do Science and Religion Conflict?" Each participant illustrated his particular topic with a chemistry experiment, these showing that there is really no conflict, that science is just another way to prove God's greatness. This really held the interest of all and there is a promise of more interesting programs, each time we meet.

For those of you who are in doubt as to the time for the various activities, here they are:

Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.; Morning worship, 10:45; B.T.U. at 6:30 p. m. and Evening service at 7:30.

Jones - Stoms
The marriage of Miss Madge Eaton Jones, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Jones, Covington, to James Tucker Stoms, son of Mrs. Horace G. Stoms and the late Mr. Stoms, of Ft. Thomas, was performed at 7:30 p. m. December 28 at the First Presbyterian Church in Covington by the Rev. Daniel Weeks, pastor, in the presence of the family and intimate friends.
Mrs. Edward Reinecke was matron-of-honor and Richard Stoms, brother of the groom, served as best man. Mrs. Harry May was soloist and Oscar Schmidt organist.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.
The bride graduated from Eastern in the class of 1942 and has been teaching in the Anderson, Indiana, high school. The groom, a graduate of Miami University, is stationed with the U. S. Marine Corps at the Science School, Washington, D. C., where the couple is residing.

Plessinger - Schulte
The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Lee Plessinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Plessinger, Ludlow, and Dr. William V. Schulte, Bellevue, was solemnized at 7:30 p. m. December 23 at the Bromley Christian Church. The double ring ceremony was used.
Prior to the ceremony, Miss Jessica Penn, sang "Always," "Because," and "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the organ by Miss Betty Still, '45.

Mrs. John Benham, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor, and Miss Bonnie Ayers, Miss Beverley, '46, Miss Nellie Anderson, and Mrs. Clifford W. Schulte, Jr. were bridesmaids. Clifford W. Schulte, Jr., '36, was the best man, and Lee Conradi, Richard Schulte, James Plessinger, and Dr. Edward Burkhardt, ushers. Miss Nancy Lee Plessinger, niece of the bride, was flower girl.
A reception following the ceremony was held at Landwehr's Lodge.

The bride, a graduate of Eastern in the class of 1946, taught in the Ludlow school system. While at Eastern she was chosen as a member of Who's Who Among American College and University Students. She is a noted voice soloist in churches in northern Kentucky. The groom, a member of Alpha Kappa fraternity, attended Eastern and graduated from the University of Louisville School of Medicine.
Dr. and Mrs. Schulte have an apartment at 810 E. 41st St., Baltimore, Md., where Dr. Schulte is associated with the Maryland General Hospital.

Fithian S. "Jack" Faries, '42, of Maysville, who is now working on his master's degree at the University of Kentucky in the College of Education, has been named graduate assistant to Dr. Hardford, professor of social sciences in the college. Mr. Faries also is assisting in research for Dr. Hardford in four educational projects that the latter has undertaken.

He served during the war thirty-six months as a captain in the Army Engineering Corps. Since his return to civilian life last spring, he has resumed his studies in the field of education and will be awarded his master's degree next August. Mr. Faries and Mrs. Faries (Olive Gabriel, '42) live at 404 Rose Lane, Lexington.
Harold S. Ward, '38, has been named manager of the Modern Home Equipment Company, newly created division of the Augusta Motor Co., Inc. The new store will be located in Augusta, Ky., at 222 Main Street and will feature latest design store equipment and brilliant lighting effects.

Mr. Ward is a native of Paint Lick, Garrard County, Ky. He went to Augusta in 1938 and taught commerce for four years at the Augusta High School. He also coached basketball during three of the four years. Following this he was principal of the Houle Day School, Department of Interior, Indian Affairs, at Belcourt, N. D.

Mr. Ward married Miss Helen Richey in 1941. They have two children, Coburn, four years old, and Carole, three. Mr. Ward was discharged from military service on December 31, 1945, after a 21-month tour of duty with the U. S. Marine Corps, Third Division, of Guadalcanal, Marshall Islands, Guam, and Iwo Jima fame. At present he is 1st V. Commander, American post 125 in Augusta.

Miss Virginia Wiglesworth, '43, of Cynthia, has been transferred from Lafayette, La., to Columbus, Ohio, on her request because of her mother's poor health. She is a chemist with Processed Products, 39 Old Federal Bldg., Columbus 15, Ohio.

A recent report in The Cincinnati Enquirer states that Representative Joe E. Bates, who graduated from Eastern in 1916 and who has represented the 20-county Eighth District of Kentucky in Congress since 1938, is being boomed by friends as a compromise choice for the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky. Bates, 53, was Greenup County clerk for 16 years before he went to Congress. He was a teacher and high school superintendent for years. He went to Congress as the successor to Fred M. Vinson, now Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, when Vinson resigned to accept a Federal judgeship.

Mrs. Franks is survived, in addition to Mrs. Harp, by one son, Morgan Franks, and four sisters: Miss Katherine Morgan, secretary to the president at Eastern; Miss Emma J. Morgan, Corinth; Mrs. O. W. Robinson, Florence; Mrs. C. C. Shields, of Aurora, Ind., and three grandchildren.

T. C. McDaniel Is Lion Club Guest Speaker
T. C. McDaniel, graduate student at Eastern and formerly Red Cross supervisor in the eastern area, spoke to the Lions Club last week on the work of the Red Cross.

Mr. McDaniel enumerated several personal experiences of disaster service during his serving with the Red Cross and stressed the disaster work as the greatest single peacetime service of the Red Cross.

He stated that the first concern in any disaster is food, clothing, shelter, and medical aid. These are the four "musts" and are planned for by all of the 3,800 local chapters in the United States.

A great amount of Red Cross work is volunteer service which makes the organization "My and Your Red Cross," he said.

Routine business relating to coming Lions conventions and the sponsoring of the Symphony Orchestra concert was discussed by the club.

Frank Schroeter of Eastern was introduced as the guest of J. C. Hart.

The Sporting Thing

By JACK TALBOT

"Open the door Richard" is the sound you will hear hundreds singing if they try to see the Eastern-Western clash and as yet have not purchased a ducat; for the report comes from Mr. Hughes' office that the game has been a sellout for weeks.

Three times Eastern has been defeated and three times the opposition has connected for better than fifty per cent of their shots. Murray hit for fifty-two per cent, Western for fifty-four, and Manhattan for fifty-two. This, my friends is dropping that old apple through the bucket and 'twould be my guess that this will not happen over once in every sixty-seven games. The general consensus of opinion is that if a team hits over thirty-four per cent of their shots it is performing way above the average.

This story is told on Coach Ed Diddle. . . Several years ago the colorful mentor took his Hilltoppers and his towel down to Murray. Coach Diddle was more than surprised when he discovered every time he tossed his towel more than a thousand other towels went skyward also. The story goes that some 1,000 students had also decided to take their towels to the game.

Some years back Uncle Ed conceived the idea that it would help his team if he would mark with chalk any particular spot one of his boys happened to get hot from during practice. So before one game in the tournament when one of his boys made several from a particular location he would go out with a piece of chalk and write the boys name on the floor. I don't know who did the complaining but this practice was rapidly brought to a halt. Although many stories are told on Mr. Diddle, do not receive the wrong impression, for he is a grand person and a great coach. After his team was defeated in the tournament last year Uncle Ed went all out for the Eastern team and was one of the Maroons biggest rooters. However, from 7:30 on tomorrow night he will be Eastern's number one enemy as Bowling Green has never quite gotten over the two defeats handed to them by last year's team.

Coach McBrayer is a man who believes in a team keeping in tip-top physical condition and he is an artist when it comes to arranging meals and the proper rest for his boys. For those of you who think the basketball team leaves early to see a show before a game in the Armory here is a sketch of a typical trip to Louisville:

8:10-8:25 AM—Packing of equipment.

8:30-11:45 Bus trip to Louisville.

11:45-12:00 Checking in to hotel.

12:00-12:45 Big meal of the day, usually a large steak, vegetables, etc. Meal has been arranged for days in advance and menu has been carefully checked.

1:00-1:55 Team takes a walk and usually goes shopping.

2:00-5:10 Boys are in bed and asleep.

5:30 Pre-game meal; light serving of roast beef, a baked potato, toast, and half a cup of tea, milk or coffee.

6:00 Boys go back to their rooms where they remain until they are called at 7:30.

8:00 Watch first half of double-header, then go to their dressing room, dress and await the call to battle.

11:40 After the game is over the boys eat again; some of the boys drink as much as a quart of milk.

12:10 Back to the hotel and to bed.

7:00 Up for breakfast.

8:00-11:45 Trip back to Richmond.

If Eastern goes to the finals of the tournament they will be able to look back and say they have played seven games in twelve days.

Eastern Stopped By Manhattan

After breezing by five previous intersectional foes in the Louisville Armory the Eastern Maroons were nosed out by a classy aggressive Manhattan College 62-56. The boys from the "city of the Skyscrapers" were dwarfed in size by their Kentucky hosts, but what they lacked in height they made up with speed as their fast break reminded one of a flock of city slickers rushing for the subway.

Eastern was in the lead four times and never trailed by more than five points as the first half ended 26-29. Paul Hicks turned in, without a doubt, his finest performance of the season as he swished the net for nine field goals and a single free throw for 19 points. Stretch Hudnall drove hard and jumped high as he turned in a good performance with 11 points. Bob Kelly and Sig Skronski along with little Johnny Cohane were the sparkplugs for the visitors. From the field Eastern chalked up one more field goal than the lads from Manhattan, but the thing that closed the victory door for the Maroons was their jinx at the foul line as they tallied but eight of their 18 chances of charity, while the New Yorkers towed the line 24 times and made good 16.

With the county 37-37 after seven minutes had gone by in the second half the Maroons went out front where they remained for the next nine minutes holding tightly to a six point lead. Coming into the home stretch with four minutes to go Eastern was in front 54-48. The next seventy-seven seconds were the ones that hurt as our Yankee visitors blazed the net to move out front 57-54 with three and a half minutes to go. The clever ball handling of the New Yorkers prevented the KIAC champs from ever regaining the lead and Manhattan became the first out of state team to defeat our high-stepping Maroons.

Western Defeats Eastern, 81-47

Bowling Green, Ky., Feb. 5 — Eastern held more than its own for the first eleven minutes; but after big Chuck Mrazovich had to be helped from the floor, after being hit hard by a Western player, and Stretch Hudnall was banished by the foul route Eastern could never control the bankboards and the towering Hilltoppers made basketball history in coming from behind to score 25 points in the last seven minutes of play in the first half, commanding a 41-22 lead at the half.

Eastern got off to a rolling start in the first half with two free throws by Hudnall, a long one by Hicks and a bat in by Mrazovich to make the score read Eastern 6, Western 0. Embry opened the scoring for Western on a bunny, but Joe Fryz came back with two beautiful baskets for the Maroons. Spears made a free throw and Ray dropped in a long one to make the count Eastern 10, Western 5 after five minutes had elapsed. Ray dropped in two charity tosses and Embry made a beauty from the side to cut Eastern's lead to one point 10-9. Bobby Coleman replaced Mrazovich and connected with a pivot to move the Maroons out front 12-9. McKinney added two points from the charity line and Coleman made good on a shot from the pivot and added a free toss to run the count to 15-11 after 10 minutes had gone by. Six-foot, five Ducky Ray made good on one of his famous jump shots and Hicks tallied with a long one to keep the Maroons on top 17 to 13 with eight minutes remaining in the half. At this point the Hilltoppers went wild and found it impossible to miss as they scored 28 points while Eastern went cold and found the hoop for only 5 more points the remainder of the half. After Ed Shemelya received his fifth personal foul early in the second half Western's height proved too much for the tiring Maroons and Western went on to trounce our young Maroons 81-47; for the Maroons it was the second defeat in 18 games. Ray was high point man for Western with 21 and Eastern's Bobby Coleman, who played an outstanding game was best for Eastern with 11.

Lone Star State Court Psychology

By BILL FLOYD

Coach Harry Hamilton of Thomas Jefferson High School, San Antonio, Texas, has found psychology a prominent ally in producing state cage powerhouses.

He uses psychology to the hilt, by employing such a device as small baskets for practice so the regular ones will look big and easy.

In practice, Coach Hamilton has his boys shoot at a small hoop fastened inside the regular basket. The hoop is three inches less in diameter and the boy has to be a real artist to make the ball go through.

"Boys who practice on the small hoops will find the larger basket much easier to hit," Coach Hamilton says. "It is the same principle as the baseball hitter swinging two or three bats before he steps to the plate. The bat he finally selects will seem much lighter."

Another advantage is that because of the size of the smaller hoop a ball must be thrown perfectly to go in; few bank shots ever go in the smaller hoops.

Whether or not his court philosophy is true, Coach Hamilton's Mustangs are ranked the team most likely to succeed in the Texas Interscholastic League, and have been since the conception of his idea became a reality.

Maroons. Virginia Strohmeier was just too much for the Nazareth guards. When the ball reached her hands, it was a sure point. During the second period, she chalked up five field goals and a foul shot. Betsy Tandy added two more points and Ruby Owen followed with another field goal. The guards for Eastern went on the floor at the halfway mark with the determination to hold Nazareth to their 8 points. Interceptions, rebounds, and accurate passing held Nazareth to a standstill in the last period. With the final whistle Eastern was far ahead with a score of 26 to 8.

With only a few minutes rest, the girls took on U. of K. for the final contest of the tournament. U. K. opened the game with a field goal. Eastern took the ball at center and attempted to invade the paydirt. U. K. intercepted an Eastern pass and made the score 4 to 0. After a few minutes play, U. K. was far ahead with four field goals to Eastern's none. Eastern took a time out and then went back with the Maroon spirit. At the half the game was tied 11-all. During the final period, Virginia Strohmeier and Jo Glover hit for two points each. However, U. K. raced on to defeat the Eastern team by a score of 19 to 15.

High pointer was Virginia Strohmeier with a total of 38 points for the day. Betsy Tandy followed with 18 points.

Girls making the trip were: forwards, Virginia Strohmeier, Betsy Tandy, Ruby Owen, Jo Glover, Marilee Maloney, Nina Hellard, Curtis Smith, and Gladys Noland; guards, Charlotte Taylor, Pauline Phillips, Dot Jansen, Kathryn Siphers, Jerry Mullins, and Flossie Johnson. Other schools represented at the playday were Murray, Transylvania, Nazareth, Ursaline, Georgetown, and Centre.

Campus Personalities

This week Station EKSTC brings to you that attractive brunette from Portsmouth, Ohio—Mary Alice Schisler. Mary Alice is now residing in Room 319, Burnam Hall. She is an active member of the Student Union Committee, representing the Freshman Class. You can see her at anytime strolling around the campus with Leonard or her best girl friends Betty Talbott and Dot Brandhorst. She may also be seen over in the pool as her favorite sport is swimming. Mary Alice has no dislikes, she likes everyone and everything, especially eating. As any fool can plainly see it was not hard for her high school band director to pick her to be a band sponsor. We want to commend you at this time, Mary Alice, on your pleasing smile that you are always wearing and you have the nicest personality.

If you can't see him you can hear that lad from Maysville, Ky. It's none other than Lew Kilgus who now rooms in McCreary Hall. When asked his favorite sport, Lew replied, "Smoochin' is favorite indoor or outdoor sport. He also enjoys golf and tennis. Kil, as he is known to some here on the campus, likes people, good food, plenty of sleep (who doesn't) and Eastern. (We agree with him there.)—His dislikes are people who question his actions, (He may be under the influence at times) and mince meat pies. Kilgus can be seen or heard at anytime in a bridge game down in the grill. We're all with you, Lew, and hope you get that job as radio announcer. (Any of you girls have a television set?) When Lew leaves Eastern, he leaves his loud voice in case the P. A. system breaks down. Kilgus has one of the many pleasing personalities here at Eastern and he is always willing to help anyone at anytime.

Eastern Seeded No. 2 in KIAC Tournament

Only six days remain before the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tournament gets underway in the Louisville Armory. Eastern will defend her crown at 8:30 Thursday night against a very weak Transylvania team which has lost all seven of its conference starts and is not expected to give the defending champs much trouble.

Western, Eastern, Louisville and Murray were seeded in that order. Louisville was the only seeded team that gained a first-round bye. Georgetown, Berea, Wesleyan and Morehead also will skip the first-round.

In order for the Maroons to reach the finals they will have to move over to Transy, then take on the winner of the Union-Murray game at 9:00 p. m. Friday. If our boys come through in the second round they will find themselves in the semi-finals at 3:00 p. m. Saturday with either Wesleyan or Morehead furnishing the competition.

According to many, Western received all the breaks of the tournament. Their first game will be with Centre, a team that has won only four of sixteen games this season. In their second game Western will meet the only stiff competition on their road to the finals when they come up against U. of L. which has a record of 13 wins against five defeats. In the semi-finals the "Hilltoppers" should have an easy time of it as they come up against the winner of the Georgetown-Berea game.

Thursday, February 20
7 p. m.—Western vs. Centre (upper bracket)

8:30 p. m.—Eastern vs. Transy (lower bracket)

10 p. m.—Union vs. Murray (lower bracket)

Friday, February 21
2:30 p. m.—Georgetown vs. Berea (upper bracket)
