H. M. S. 'Pinafore' Presented

Brooks, Ketzner Lead Cast

Under the direction of Frances McPherson as director of production, Vasie Venettozzi as director of the chorus, and Thomas J. Stone as director of the orchestra, the music department's "Pinafore" turned out to be a very successful venture. Gilbert and Sullivan's comic operetta was presented on April 24 at 2:00 p. m. and on April 28 at 8:00 p. m. in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. Leading the cast were Huey Brooks and Hannah Ketzner. The ball character parts were particularly good and the chorus excellent.

The story is as follows: Some time before Act I opened, Ralph, played by Huey Brooks, has fallen in love with Josephine, played by Hannah Ketzner, the daughter of his commanding officer, Captain Corcoran, played by Henry Bowers. Likewise, Little Buttercup, played by Joan Scholle, a former peddler-woman, has fallen in love with the captain himself. As a result, however, stands in the way of the natural inclinations of both the Corcorans to reciprocate Ralph's and Buttercup's affections. The Captain has, in fact, been arranging a marriage between his daughter and Sir Joseph Porter, First Lord of the Admiralty, played by Martin Aronson, who is of the social class even above the Corcorans.

When Act I opens, the sailors are merrily preparing the ship for Joseph's inspection. The generally happy atmosphere on deck is marred by Little Buttercup's hints of a dark secret which is hiding, by the misanthropic jumbling of Dick Deadeye, played by Edmund Burke, and by the veiled laments of Ralph and Josephine. Sir Joseph appears, attended by a train of ladies (his ladies, who always follow him wherever he goes). He explains how he became Lord of the Admiralty and examines the crew, patronizingly encouraging them to feel that they are everyone's equal, except his. Like the captain in the if very punctilious, demanding polite fiction among the lords at all times.

Josephine finds him insufferable, and when Ralph pleads his love she finally threatens suicide, he agrees to elope. The act ends with the general rejoicing of the lords of Ralph's success; only Dick Deadeye croaks his warning that their hopes will be frustrated.

Act II opens with the Captain in despair at the demoralization of his crew and the coldness of his daughter toward Sir Joseph. Little Buttercup tries to comfort him, and prophesies a change in fortune. But, Sir Joseph, soon appears and tells the captain that Josephine is as thoroughly discouraged as he is in his suit; he wishes to end the match off. The Captain suggests that perhaps his daughter feels herself inferior in social rank to Sir Joseph, and urges him to assure her that inequality of social rank should not be considered a barrier to marriage. This Sir Joseph does, not realizing that his words are as applicable to Josephine in relation to Ralph as they are to himself in relation to Josephine. He thinks that she deceives him, whereas actually she is reaffirming her acceptance of Ralph; and they all join in a happy song.

Meanwhile Dick Deadeye has made his way to the Captain and informs him of the planned elopement of his daughter with Ralph. The Captain thereupon intercepts the elopers; and, when he learns that Josephine was actually run-

CLYDE WHITE

BLANCHE McCOUN

Clyde White, Blanche McCoun Chosen King, Queen of 1953 Prom

Clyde White and Blanche McCoun were recently chosen as King and Queen of the 1953 Junior Prom, which will be held in Walnut Hall of the Student Union on May 8, from 9:00 to 1:00. Music for the annual spring formal dance will be furnished by the Double-K orchestra. Seniors will be admitted free.

Crownbearers will be Patricia Whitaker and Harry Dean Whitaker, Jr., both of Richmond.

One-Act Plays To Start May 11

By THOM McELFRESH

The lights are brightening in Eastern's Little Theatre; the mask and dagger which have languished since the final performance of Twelfth Night are coming out of retirement; campus theatre is reviving.

The revival comes about each spring as Mr. Keith Brooks class in play direction prepares to present its spring series of one-act plays. The series this year will contain eleven productions, including two new scripts which will be performed here for the first time anywhere.

The play series will include such plays as Trifles, Portrait of a Madonna, Scenes from Romeo and Juliet, Escape by Moonlight, At Liberty, Night Falls on Spain, Planet X, The Boor, and Short Story.

The series will be given this year on May 11, 13, and 14. The evenings of May 11, and 13 will include the performances of four plays in The Little Theatre, SUB. The evening of the fourteenth, the plays will be given in Eastern's Arena Theatre on the stage in Hiram Brock Auditorium. These will be the first arena plays presented at Eastern in over four years.

The admission for each evening will be 25c per person.

Students Presented In Music Recital

Two students of the music department, Barbara Jane Ball, pianist, and Joan Neff, mezzo soprano, gave a joint recital Wednesday, April 22 in the Little Theatre. Miss Neff was accompanied by Peggy Chandler.

Miss Ball presented Sonata No. 1, in E Flat Major by Haydn, Spanish Dance by de Falla, Prelude No. 10 by Chavey, and other numbers by Brahms and Rachmaninoff.

Miss Neff's selections were: O Del Mio Dolce Ardor by Gluck, Se Tu Mami, Se Sospiri by Perfolesi, Be Still My Heart by Grannini, and other numbers by Thompson and Rich.

Club Holds Dinner Meeting In Louisville

The Louisville Eastern Club met for a dinner meeting on Tuesday, March 31, at the Mayflower Hotel in Louisville. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rehtin, Miss Florence Champlois, and Miss Minnie Gibbs were in charge of arrangements. Present from the campus in Richmond were Dr. and Mrs. N. B. Cuff, Mr. Virgil E. Burns, Miss Mary F. McKinney, Mr. William Tarwater, and Miss Mary Klug of the faculty and Miss Joan Scholl, Miss Phyllis Piper, Mr. James Winn, and Mr. Holly Chilton from the student body.

After an excellent dinner served in a private dining room, Miss Mattie Lou McKinney, Vice-President of the Eastern Club, presided over the program. Mr. J. D. Turley asked the invocation. Mr. Norbert Rehtin led the group in the singing of several familiar popular songs. Miss McKinney then introduced the faculty members from the campus, several of whom spoke briefly. Mr. Tarwater presented the students who gave a musical program. Miss Scholle sang three numbers, Messrs. Winn and Chilton sang three duet numbers and Miss Piper was accompanist for the group.

At a short business session the following officers were elected - President Joe Keller '48; 1st Vice-President Henry Baugh '35; Executive Secretary and Treasurer Mrs. Claude Harris '40. In addition to ten guests from the campus, the following Alumni, former students, and friends were present: Miss Reva Stamper, Miss Pauline Amburgey, Miss Betty J. Smith, Miss Christine Coppage, Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, Mr. Marvin Garrett, Miss Elizabeth Bennett, Mrs. Joyce S. Davis, Miss Mary Meccia, Mrs. Thelma Mullenix, Mrs. Geraldine S. Qualification Test Reminder Issued By Gen. Hershey

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, today reminded college students that applications for the May 21 Selective Service College Qualification Test must be submitted to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, not later than midnight May 11.

The May 21 test is primarily for students prevented by illness or other emergencies from taking the test April 25, but General Hershey emphasized that this did not bar any qualified student from taking the test if his application is mailed before the deadline. He also stressed that students who have a certificate of admission for April 23 test which they failed to use on the assigned date must submit new applications if they wish to take the May 21 test. The old certificates, he pointed out, will not admit a student to the May 21 test.

General Hershey said the May 21 test will be the last test this school year.

The student may obtain a new application from any Selective Service local board. The application blanks should be submitted as soon as possible to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, Administrators of the Test, who, in turn, will mail the admission certificate direct to the student.

To be eligible to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test an applicant on the testing date (1) must be a Selective Sergeant deferment as a student; (2) vice registrant who intends to re-enroll in a full-time college course undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree; (3) must not previously have taken the test.

The criteria for consideration for deferment as a student at the present time are either a score of 70 or better on the Selective Service College Qualifications Test or class standing among the male members in the upper half of the freshman class, upper two-thirds of the sophomore class, or upper three-fourths of the junior class. Seniors accepted for admission to a graduate school satisfy the criteria if they are among the upper half of the male members of their senior class or if they make a score of 75 or better.

These criteria are guides for the local boards. The local boards are not under compulsion to follow them, but any local board classification is subject to appeal. The appeal must be filed in writing with the local board within ten days of the date the local board mails the notice of I-A classification.

SEVEN INITIATED INTO KAPPA PI

Seven new members were initiated into the Alpha Alpha Psi chapter of Kappa Pi, national art fraternity, on the night of April 30. The new members are Jimmy Allender, Donnie Jett, Randolph Dozier, Jo Ann Goins, Pat Perkins, Martha Leeds, and Betty Maupin.

After the initiation ceremonies an informal reception was held in the Fine Arts Building.

Clyde White, president of Kappa Pi, officially swore the new members into the fraternity.

Dr. Fred P. Giles is the club sponsor.

Honors Day for Women of Eastern State College was observed at the assembly hour this morning in the Hiram Brock Auditorium.

Twelve junior women were tapped for membership into the Collegiate Pentacle, honorary society for senior women, and 19 women from the freshman class were tapped for CWens, national honorary society for sophomore women, in an impressive ceremony conducted by the officers of the two groups.

Dr. W. F. O'Donnell, Eastern president, spoke briefly on the subject, "Jewels" in recognition of the work of the young women on the campus as leaders in the different groups. He said, "As Alma Mater to those who are still on the campus, Eastern is deeply interested in all of her students. However much our hearts are lightened and made glad by the presence of those who merit and should have our praise and commendation here we are fully conscious of the fact that not all the deserving can be recognized by any one program. Many fine young people will not be recognized today."

"Life shapes us by the way we react to it. It can't help us in spite of ourselves and without the individual's concern for his own self-improvement. There is certainly no one present today who should despair of his her future if he has the will to train for his job. One always has his laboratory for self-improvement with him and no limits have yet been set upon the power of the human mind," Dr. O'Donnell concluded.

New officers for 1953-54 recognized were: Home Economics Club: president, Dixie Trapp, Butler; vice president, Shirley Dugger, Corbin; secretary, Denyse Campbell, Maysville; treasurer, Ileana Mayse, Sandy Hook; reporter, Frances Wilburn, Grayson; parliamentarian, Joy McCreary, Waco. Off-Campus Women's Club: president, Francis Todd, Richmond; vice president, Betty Jean Curry, Richmond; secretary, Freda Rennix, Richmond; treasurer, Joyce Hacker, Richmond. Drum and Sandal Club: president, Betty Ann Crank, Kenvir; vice president, Mary Elizabeth Kearns, Paris; secretary-treasurer, Joyce Blevins, Ashland. Women's Recreation Association: president, Beverly Wilson, Richmond; vice president, Sondra Burton, Ashland; secretary, Sandra Sharpe, Covington; treasurer, Dorothy Quisenberry, Winchester. Steland Hall: president, Kizzie Spradlin, Pine Knot; vice president, Faye Kaufman, Louisville; secretary, Leona Morris, McKee; treasurer, Geraldine Watson, Middleburg.

LOOKING BACK

What is it the graduate thinks about as the time for leaving Eastern draws near? Is it the thought of going out and finding his place in the world? Does he think of the time he has spent on campus?

As a graduate, I have been going over the past four years and find that there is more to it than that. When the surface thoughts have passed through my mind, I always end up picturing myself in the many different classes I have attended and the many teachers who have unselfishly contributed to my education.

The book learning is of secondary importance now. Knowing dates and happenings of the past may have their place in the scheme of things, but the conscientious devotion of Dr. Raper taught me how a teacher should feel about his work. Yes, I needed training in the art of oral communication. I do it well enough, too. But that isn't as important now as the privilege of knowing Lady Buck, taking part in her class, and receiving a full portion of the incentive which she wholeheartedly spread before us.

I have had my problems. Many of the solutions have been sought and attained while sitting on the front steps of Felford. Tom Stone was never too busy to listen and to lend his experience for the benefit of the student. Mr. Stone is Eastern. I have also felt my head grow out of proportion, too. This was a simple matter. A walk over to the library for a short discussion with Miss Floyd who took care of any undue self-importance I may have had. She'll call you a bonhead and you'll love her for it. Her pride in your accomplishments will show through no matter how hard she tries to hide it.

These are the things you think about when you have reached my rung on the ladder. I wonder what it would have been like not to have taken a course with Dr. Murbach, Dr. Ferrell and Mr. Burns? I'm glad I don't have to think about that now. They have had so much to do with preparing me for the future. I have covered the requirements. Boiled down they can be carried easily enough. The feeling of being qualified still rests with the spirit of doing which I have from Dr. Coates. In what other school will a professor applaud a student who has seen fit to disagree with a statement made by that professor?

The aims of education would still be printed words without the living examples of Mr. Mattox, Dr. Engle, Dr. Cuff and Dr. Ward. In what other school could a student say, "I think Thoreau was a nut," and have the professor answer, "Maybe you are right, Sir" and not hold your convictions against you? Yes, I did say it to Professor Keene. He is a part of the Utopia he wants Eastern to be.

I learned a lot of grammar at Eastern. I needed it, too. But to sit and listen to a man philosophize on the life good to live and know that he was practicing it was even more important to me in Dr. Grise's classes. Even more important than all the novels I have read. I know which side my appendix is on, Mr. Hopp. I also know how important it is to be prepared to teach a class. He only missed one class and that was because he was green all over.

I am proud of Eastern. I also feel proud and capable. It is a pride which comes from being able to think. Where was this ability developed? Those of you who have taken any classes with Mr. Brooks need not ask that question. He makes you feel as though you are on your own, but as soon as you stumble, he is there to see that you are not hurt and know better next time. He is Eastern.

Many students need someone with whom they can confide. All the teachers at Eastern are eager to help the student. The one that stands out in my mind is Dr. Clark. You will never leave the teaching profession, Sir. Your instruction will continue to cover more and more area.

I shall not receive a piece of parchment the end of May. I shall receive a meaningful degree. I am a graduate who has taken part in the classes of Dr. Houchell, Mr. Lewis, Dr. Barnhill, Mr. Adams, Dr. Herndon and Miss Campbell. Thank you Mr. Van. It is nice to see Mr. Tarwater back at Eastern. He belongs here.

My shortcomings are my own. My worth has been brought forth by instructors of the best institution of higher learning in this country. The time draws near for my departure. I do not go to test my wings. My fledgling days are over.

Thank you, Eastern.

THE ART OF HAPPINESS

The ingredients of happiness are so simple that they can be counted on one hand. Happiness comes from within and rests most securely on simple goodness and clear conscience. Religion must be essential to it, and no one is known to have gained it without a philosophy resting on ethical principles. Selfishness is its enemy; to make another happy is to be happy one's self. It is quiet, seldom found for long in crowds; most easily won in moments of solitude and reflection. It cannot be bought; indeed money has very little to do with it.

"There you go again, Henshaw, jumping to conclusions."

CLUB NEWS

By EDIE TAYLOR

Spring! Spring! Spring! A young man's fancy may turn to taking walks, holding hands or many nice things at this change of the seasons, but it seems as if nothing can stop the many clubs from having their yearly picnics, elections banquets, and the numerous other activities necessary at the end of the college year. Lots of happenings are on the agenda for these last 28 days!

Drum and Sandel plan their annual banquet for Tuesday, May 12, at Benault Inn. Betty Crank and Mary Elizabeth Kearns were elected president and vice-president respectively. Secretary-treasurer was announced this past Wednesday in the Women's Honor Day Program. The annual dance program was presented Wednesday May 6, in Hiram Brock Auditorium at 8 o'clock p. m.

KYMA club's new officers for 1953-54 are Ernie Dunham, president; Norma Trevis, vice-president; Betty Crank, secretary; and Juliane Wiedekamp, treasurer. Approximately eighteen new try-outs were taken into the club's membership at their yearly banquet held Wednesday, April 22, at Benault's. Four white letters were presented by the club to Pat Purkey, Betty Osborne, Betty Crank, and Clyde White all three year members.

Tuesday, May 5, the Home Ec club will journey to the home of member Eleanor Jones in Winchester to hold their annual picnic. All members and guests are urged to come. The initiation of nineteen new members and of-icers was held Tuesday evening, April 21, in Little Theater. Miss Mary Lois Williamson, head of the vocational Home Economic Department in Frankfort was guest speaker. After the initiation a social hour followed in Walnut Hall. The Home Ec club had as its guests the members of the high schools Home Ec clubs in the county.

Canterbury Club will hold its last get-together of the year Wednesday, May 13, when all members and friends are invited to attend the annual picnic. Newly elected officers are Marty Thornton, president; Janet Buschman, vice-president; Ada Ruth Taulbee, secretary; and Thom McElfresh, treasurer.

House Council of Burnam Hall nominated the following girls for officers of next year: Louise Gul-lady and Janice Treadway, president; Nancy Harris and Jean Turner vice-president; Orma Sims and Julaine Wiedekamp, secretary; and Peggy Kraus and Grace Reynolds for treasurer. Election was held last week with results not being announced until last Wednesday in assembly. At the same time, House Council also announced the winners of the prize awarded to the best-kept room in the dorm.

President Florence Hussung announces that Westminister Fellowship will have a boat-ride this coming Sunday afternoon and that all members are invited to come. Officers for next year are Doug Gaither, president; Peggy Kraus, 1st vice-president; Mary Lake McElroy, 2nd vice-president; Juli-

SPRINGTIME ON THE CAMPUS

The last vestiges of the dismal winter have left and once again Mother Nature is busy about the campus gilding the trees and shrubs with verdant foliage, placing the heretofore absent Old Sol back in the sky for the use of Burnam and Boonesboro beachites, kindling the spark of life anew in the hearts of the old and the spark of love in the hearts of the younger set. We will always be keenly aware of the scenes and activities of other springs suddenly returning, replacing those which only recently were in our midst occupying our full attention.

For untold ages mankind has been undergoing an annual renaissance both mentally and physically at the mere prospect of spring. Do we actually know why this is? It is because God's actions are more beautifully manifest at this time? Could it be the blooming of the first violets, the northward journey of the birds from their winter homes, the sight of the farmer turning under his winter cover crop or the pungent odor of nature's verdure springing of life all about us? No doubt each of these plays a key role in dispelling the lethargy which has been about us the past few months. Regardless of the varying degrees of effect it has upon us we should always be conscious of nature, even though at times it be silent as a fog or as tempestuous as a tornado, for it is a continuing miracle from above which gives us daily sustenance. So while we bask in the warmth and indescribable beauty of these spring days, let us at the same time capture the deeper meaning and spiritual inspiration it can inject into our lives.

ane Wiedekamp, secretary; and Paul Hager, treasurer.

Westminister Fellowship extended invitations to each member of the Baptist Student Union, Newman Club, Wesley Foundation, and the Christian Student Fellowship to attend the reception this past Wednesday evening from 8 o'clock until 10 o'clock in the new addition of the Presbyterian Church. The occasion was the opening of the Westminister's own student room with all new furniture and everything. Certainly W. F. is quite proud of it. The evening was enjoyed by all.

A truck load of YWCA girls left the campus last Friday to attend the annual spring retreat held at Camp Patterson in Lee County. Georgia Williams is the new president for the YW. Helping Georgia will be Shirley Pettit, 1st vice-president; Dorothy Thomas, 2nd vice-president; Blanche Rose McCoun, secretary; and Edie Taylor, treasurer. Members of next year's cabinet are: Martha Applegate, Magie Rasnick, Grace Reynolds, Jean Rubarts, Mary Jo Campbell, Judy Saunders, Dolores Samson, Wanda Smyth, Mary Alice Cartmill, Wanda Matthews, Sue Morehead, Betty Crank, Gayle O'Connell, Betty Jane Rinesmith, Colleen Wethington, and Jo Ann Blakely.

"Off to Boonesborough" cries members and their guests of Wesley Foundation who plan a picnic at the beach this coming Sunday afternoon. Betty Kegan is in charge of the food committee. The last meeting of the year will be Monday evening, May 11, as a cook-out supper at the Methodist Church. Following this will be installation of next year's officers and then recreation. The Council of this group met last night to nominate candidates for next year's officers and to plan their annual banquet.

"Come one, come all! A party is in the air!" shouts the Sophomore class to the whole college. The date is May 7; the time is 7:30 to 9:30; the place is the recreation room of B. Hall. Dancing and entertainment are the highlights of the evening of fun. Appearing on the program will be Charles Fair, Joyce Blevins, Joann Arnsburger, and Joan Scholle. All college students are invited to announce Dean Rubarts and Buddy Cury, co-chairmen of the sophomore social committee. See ya' next Wednesday at the party!

Attending the American Industrial Arts Association Convention in Detroit are Homer Davis, industrial arts teacher, Morris Webb, Virgil Cook, Lewis Engle, Chester Greynolds, and Franklin Elliston students. This group left Wednesday and plan to return to campus this Sunday.

Buddy Cury was one of the 250 representatives from Newman Clubs throughout Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan and West Virginia that attended the annual Ohio Valley Province Convention held at Butler University, Indianapolis, April 24-26. Buddy is president of the Newman Club on campus.

Scene and Herd: Many nice compliments from those attending the "Y" Faculty Tea a week ago Thursday evening. Congrats to Queen Blanche and King Clyde and their attendants. From date is May 8. Special movie sponsored by Freshman class this Monday evening. Tapping of new members yesterday for Owens and Collegiate Pentacle. Kappa Iota Epsilon will tap new members in the near future. Owens' banquet set for May 20. New officers of Phi Iota elected last night. Hannah Ketzner, Joan Scholle, Pat Spoonamore, Huey Brooks, Hank Romersa, Ed Burke, Martin Ambrose plus the rest of the cast singing the notes of "H. M. S. Pinafore" to success. Women students attending the annual tea given by Mrs. O'Donnell and Mrs. Case a few afternoons ago. Graduation is May 27. School officially closes the 23th. Kappa Kappa Sigma asked to present the water ballet, "School Daze," at Morehead. Student-directed plays soon to be presented. Congratulations to the many new officers!

 ning away to marry Ralph, he is so incensed that cries, "Damme!" Unfortunately, Sir Joseph and his relatives hear him, and are horrified at his swearing; Sir Joseph sends him to his cabin in disgrace. But when Sir Joseph also learns from Ralph that Josephine was eloping, he angrily orders Ralph put in irons.

Little Buttercup now comes out with her secret, which involves the whole difficulty: She confesses that many years ago she had charge of nursing up Ralph and the Captain when they were babies. Inadvertently she got them mixed up; so the one who now was Ralph really should be the Captain and the one now the Captain should be Ralph. The error is immediately rectified. The sudden reversal in the social status of Ralph and the Captain and his daughter removes Sir Joseph as a suitor for Josephine's hand and permits her to marry Ralph, and her father to marry Buttercup. Sir Joseph resigns himself to marry his cousin, Hebe, played by Pat Spoonamore.

Travel Council Lists Voyages For Students, Teachers

The Council on Student Travel (179 Broadway, New York) announced today two major round-trip sailings to Europe for students and teachers this summer.

The S. S. AROSA KULM, which made several trips last summer for the Council, will sail from Quebec for London, Le Havre and Bremenhaven June 9 and July 4; return sailings will leave Bremenhaven August 11 and September 2 for London, Le Havre and Quebec.

The Council also has reserved space for students and teachers on a number of other sailings of the AROSA KULM from May through September, and bookings are now being made on all these sailings.

One-way fares on the AROSA KULM are $150 for space in dormitories for six to 14, and $160 and $165 for space in cabins for two, three and four.

The AROSA KULM, which is an all-tourist class vessel, was used for several Council sailings last year. Since that time it has been remodeled, making the space more adaptable for student travel. The lounge space has been doubled and a sports deck has been added. The overall capacity of the ship has been reduced to 850 spaces. Dormitories have been reduced in size; they contain from four to 14 berths, with the average containing six to eight berths. There are some 60 cabins for two.

As in past years the Council will sponsor an educational and recreational program for student travelers. The educational program on the eastbound voyage is directed toward orienting students to Europe, and includes language classes, discussing European history, politics, art, and culture. On the return voyage students will discuss and evaluate their summer experiences.

The Council furnishes a library, a collection of records, both classical and popular, sports and game equipment, and a selection of movies. In addition to the traditional shipboard pastimes such as chess, checkers, bridge, ping-pong and shuffleboard, there will be movies, dancing, talent shows, and many other special programs.

The Council on Student Travel is composed of 37 national educational and religious organizations, and its purpose is to encourage and facilitate international student travel. Since 1947 the Council has provided special transportation to Europe for students and teachers during the summer when low-cost accommodations of regular transportation facilities were overcrowded. The member organizations of the Council, many of which sponsor educational programs abroad, believe that student exchange is a sound method of building international understanding.

Mrs. O'Donnell, Mrs. Case Hostesses, Honors Day Tea

Mrs. William F. O'Donnell, and Mrs. Robert P. M. Case were hostesses to a Honors Day Tea given on Wednesday, April 29, from three to six o'clock at the home of Mrs. O'Donnell honoring the women students and women faculty of Eastern and Madison High School.

Receiving with Mrs. Case and Mrs. O'Donnell were the following presidents-elect of women's organizations: Dixie Trapp, Butler, Home Economics; Beverly Wilson, Richmond; Women's Recreation Association; Georgia Williams, Harlan; Young Women's Christian Association; Patsy Spoonamore, Stanford; Music Council; Kizzie Spradlin, Pine Knot, Stateland Hall; Louise Gullady, Winchester; Burnam Hall; Francis Todd, Richmond; Off-Campus Women's Club; Betty Crank, Kenvin, Drum and Sandal Club; Mary Helen Collins, Maysville, Kappa Kappa Sigma; and Misses Laura Ellis and Virginia Durbin, presidents of the active chapters of the women's honoraries.

Those assisting with the entertaining were other retiring officers-elect of the women's organizations.

The singing of the Alma Mater, Mrs. Emma Y. Case, dean of Women, was in charge of arrangements for the program.

EASTERN THIN-CLADS DEFEAT WESTERN 70½-50½

Tracksters Win Three Straight Eagles, Tigers Also Beaten

By BILL VENDL

The fleet-footed men of the cinders seem to be on their way to giving their coach, Fred Darling, and Eastern another victorious season. With a very impressive win of 70½-51½ over powerful Western, the tracksters won their third straight meet of the season. The two previous victories were over Morehead, 81-36, and Georgetown, 64 1/3-56 2/3. This now runs the long range chain of meets to only one defeat in the last three years for Coach Darling.

A powerful team of Eastern determinates met a new Morehead team for the first meet of the year. Paced by Gordon Fleck and "Speedy" Ries, the Maroons romped to victory. Fleck won in the mile run, and the 880 yard run. Ries took first in the 120 yard high hurdles, the 220 yard low hurdles, and came in a close second in the 440 yard dash. Other first places were by Schmitt in the shot-put, Bradford in the pole-vault, Bond in the 100 yard dash, Bingham in the high jump, and Hanlon in the broad jump. No relay was run. Final score: Eastern 81, Morehead 36.

Traveling to Georgetown for their second meet of the season, the Maroon thinclads ran into an unexpected and powerful group of rivals bent on an upset. As a result some of the fastest times of the year were recorded. Fleck and Ries again were the spark-plugs of the team. Starting the scoring, Fleck swept the mile run in 5:00.9 won the 880 yard run in one of the most spectacular runs seen, and ran anchor on the victorious mile relay. He followed the scoring with a first in the 440 yard dash but in doing so injured his foot so as to make him unable to run the remainder of the day and also miss the POOL CAPER—A group of Eastern swimmers going through part of the water ballet routine of the water-cade, which was presented in the pool in the Weaver Health Building, April 8-9-10. The production was entitled "School Daze." Besides water ballet, spectators enjoyed aquatic stunts, comedy and exhibition swimming and diving. Kappa Kappa Sigma sponsored the event.

SCRATCH SHEET

By NICK DeSANTIS

Not that I'm not enjoying this warm spring weather, but I just can't wait till next fall and football season. The return to "antique" football ought to prove just as interesting as Eastern's 10 game schedule. Last year's short schedule never did give the Maroons a chance to show their stuff. Losing two games and tying one in a 8 game schedule doesn't seem impressive at all. Head Coach Tom Samuels is very pleased with the death of the two platoon system and the 10 game season. He is a firm believer in "A Bigger Schedule, Better Team."

Eastern owes a lot of credit to Coach Fred Darling and his track team. Not only for their fine showing so far this season, but for getting the track and field in the best condition in years. Last year a visiting trackster stated that there were so many bumps and holes in the track, it was like running cross country. This year the track has a new surface and compares favorably to any in the O. V. C.

Another welcomed sight was the cleaning up of the tennis courts for the Xavier University match. Captain Don Augsback, of the tennis team, tells me they also plan to clear away some of that jungle that surrounds the courts. But how about another lower court, Mr. Hughes? After all, everybody that's anybody is playing tennis these days.

Best wishes to the old officers and congratulations to the new officers of the Kyma Club. Not many people realize that the Kyma Club is a part of the athletic activities at Eastern as much as the teams actually participating. The Kyma is a pep club and athletic backers representing the student body. Anyone wishing to join the Kyma is welcomed. I'm sure the new

Greyhounds Win Net Intramurals

By BILL VENDL

In a thrilling championship game, the climax of many weeks of intramural basketball games and eliminations was reached. An upset victory over the heavily favored E. Rockets gave the Greyhounds the championship spotlight.

A record number of 20 teams played in competition, and by the president, Ernie Durham, will be glad to have you join the party.

The following item is for you folks from the "Deep South." Hanger Stadium has seats on only one side—the "South" side, that is. In fact it was once said they have difficulty selling tickets to the fans because they don't care to sit facing the North. Well, pass the corn bread and call me Suh!

I don't want to get tangled with Clyde's Progress With a Smile, but ran across a funny one I'd like to end this column with.

time the elimination rounds had begun 2 teams had already scatched themselves. In a rough estimate, approximately 200 men took in the actual playing. Under the guiding hand of Coach Fred Darling, Ed Miracle was responsible for the fine job and smooth running of such a complex arrangement. Both expressed their complete satisfaction of this year's intramurals, and hope that next year's will be as good if not better. Congratulations, Greyhounds.

amazing 6' 1" high jump, and Hanlon in the broad jump. The victorious mile relay of Miracle, Perry, Hanlon, and Fleck won their event in 3:33.2. Final score 64 1/3—56 2/3 in favor of Eastern.

With Bond having his best day of the season, and Fleck scoring 10 points, an inspired team met powerful and always dangerous Western on home cinders. Eastern won 8 of the 14 events, and made a clean sweep of the much needed points in the broadjump. This rolled up Eastern's second victory in the O. V. C. for the year. Sammons and Schmitt started the scoring in the shotput with a first and second, respectively. After Bradford's second in the polevault Fleck took the mile run. Schmitt and Bingham joined for a one-three punch in the discus.

Bingham took a second in the high jump as Moore tied for third in the event. Perry won the 440 yard dash in a runaway, as Bond and Miracle doubled for a first and third in the 100 yard dash. Little followed with a third in 120 yard high hurdles.

Fleck and Perry took second and third in the 889 yard run. This was the first defeat for Fleck in two years. Bond and Miracle copped the first two places in the 220 yard dash, as Hanlon, Bond, and Moore swept the broad jump event. Osborne and Smith held with a second and third. Daly added to the points with a second in the 220 yard low hurdles and the meet was climaxed by a 3:38.0 run in the mile relay by Miracle, Perry, Hanlon and Fleck. Final score Eastern 70 1/2, Western 51 1/2.

Tennis Fans, Take Notice

Tennis enthusiasts at the college are asked to follow the following rules when using the limited college courts.

1. Play the game for the fun of it. Don't beat on the nets everytime your backhand backfires. The nets are new, make them last.
2. Wait your turn to play.
3. Limit games when others are waiting to play.
4. Stay off courts when the college team has a match scheduled.
5. Courts are reserved on week days, from 3-5 for tennis team only.

Students are also asked not to cross the baseball field after a heavy rainfall. If you like to walk in mud, there's plenty behind the Ad Building.

"Why must we wait until we get home before you'll tell me whether you will marry me?"
 "You frighten me. This is the same place father proposed to mother!"
 "So what?"
 "On the way home, the horse ran away, the buggy turned over, and father was killed!"

"Greenie" Kinkaid Assists Hughes

NICK DE SANTIS

One of the reasons that Turkey Hughes can sit back and enjoy the ball games these days, is the fine coaching job being done by Shelby (Greenie) Kincaid, Jr. Greenie, whose bright red hair is a sharp contrast to his mild easy going manner, has already packed into his 22 years a good baseball background.

Back in 1948, while pitching for Lee County High School, he struck out 20 batters, in a 7 inning ball game, during the State Regional Tournaments. Later he struck out 17, in a 7 inning game, during the State Tournaments but lost the game.

That same year he entered Eastern Kentucky College, but after one semester he left school for Pro Ball. He played the 1949 season at Union City, Tenn. In 1950 he went north to play with Pittsfield, Mass. and after a half a season he was traded to the Topeka, Kansas club.

It was at Topeka that Greenie had his greatest thrill to date. At that time Micky Mantle, New York Yankee sensation, was playing with the Joplin, Miss. team and was leading the league in everything but, pitching pennies. Green struck Mantle out three straight times and the next year Mantle was starting in the Yankee outfield.

At the end of the 1950 season he entered Eastern again, but after another semester he left play for the Waterloo Team in school for the U. S. Marine Corp. the Three III league. During his hitch he played a good brand of service ball and upon his discharge he entered Eastern for the third time. This summer he is under contract to own.

AIRCRAFT OBSERVER

The Brains of the Team

Teamwork can work miracles. In a football game the man who sparks these miracles is the quarterback. He's the man who calls the signals. There's a man who calls the signals for an Air Force flying team, too! They call him an Aircraft Observer.

Do YOU have what it takes to become an Aircraft Observer? It isn't easy. It's tough. You have to be a MAN to qualify as an Aircraft Observer. But when you are one, brother, you're SOMEBODY! The success or failure of a mission involving over a million dollars worth of flight equipment depends on you.

THE AIRCRAFT OBSERVER IS THE SOMEBODY WHO:

- As Bombardment Officer, is number one man on a bombing run, the man who controls the plane in the target area!
- As Navigation Officer, is the pilot's guiding hand on every flight!
- As Radar Officer, is master of a new science and operator of the device that sees beyond human sight!
- As Aircraft Performance Engineer Officer, is the one who "keeps the plane flying", the man who knows his plane inside and out, who keeps it fit for the skies and sees that it stays there!

If YOU can accept a challenge like this, you'll take your place beside the best—you'll find your future in the clouds!

TO BE QUALIFIED you must be single, a citizen, between 19 and 26 1/2 years old, have had at least 2 years of college and be in tip top physical shape. If this describes you, then YOU, too, can qualify. Today!

HERE'S WHAT YOU'LL GET! The world's best training. Good food and plenty of it. Uniforms, flight clothes, equipment. Medical and dental care. Free insurance. Flight training in Uncle Sam's greatest aircraft.

AND THEN, AFTER GRADUATION, you'll win your silver wings, and earn more than $5000 a year as an Air Force Lieutenant. You'll enjoy an adventurous, exciting career with a hand-picked crew of real men. You'll be THE BRAINS OF THE TEAM, A TRIPLE THREAT MAN... as a Bombardment Officer, as a Navigation Officer, as a Radar Officer, as an Aircraft Performance Engineer.

PROGRESS WITH A SMILE

By CLYDE WHITE

I have come to the conclusion that life is not worth living. Now take teachers for instance. They're the most unpredictable creature on the face of the you-know-what. Why is it that during exams, a poor student practically wrecks himself getting ready for a test. When it comes, he is prime to the nth degree. After the test he thinks he has made an "A". But he is wrong, as you well know, he has made an "F." Now take the other kind of student (I will call no names.) He never studies and doesn't care what kind of grades he makes. The night before the test he goes down to the Rendezvous or one of the other local resorts and finishes off the night in a deep sleep. What happens? Next morning he takes the test and thinks he has failed. Your're right, he has failed. Like I said, life isn't worth living! Comes the revolution things will be much better.

Please don't put all the blame on me if the "jokes" aren't quite as good this time. Certain supposedly "broad minded" characters have complained that my recent offerings were much too bold for you innocent adolescents. It would be interesting to observe their reactions to an average conversatio ntaking place on our campus each day.

Oh, well, I'll make an attempt anyway to give you a few laughs without shocking anyone.

A young mother had just unburdened herself and told her son the facts of life. At the end she said, "Now, if you want to know anything else just ask me."

The boy appeared in serious though, then gravely turned to his mother and inquired: "How do they get the Saturday Evening Post out on Wednesday?"

"Do you take your troubles to bed with you?"
"Always, my wife won't sleep alone."

"Oh, dear!" she exclaimed, "I've missed you so much!" Then she raised her revolver and tried again.

An insurance salesman tells about a valuable wardrobe which his firm insured for a client during a European trip. Upon reaching London she wired: "Gown lifted in London."

After due deliberation he sent this reply: "What do you think our policy covers?"

A burlesque show is where all the actresses believe that all the men in the audience are from Missouri!

Our grandmothers believed there was a destiny that shaped our ends, but modern girls place more faith in girdles.

Little Three Year Old: "Mother, may I go out and play?"

Mother: "What! With those holes in your pants?"

Little Boy: "No, with the little girl next door."

Did you hear about the fellow who stayed up all night trying to figure out where the sun went when it went down? Finally, it dawned on him.

"Did you see the boy with the Tarzan eyes?"

"No. What do you mean, Tarzan eyes?"

"You know, they swing from limb to limb."

Hubby wandered in at 3:00 a. m. after a glorious evening. In a few minutes a series of unearthly squaks howled out of the radio loud speaker.

Wifie looked into the room and discovered him twisting the dial back and forth frantically.

"For heaven's sake! What in the world are you trying to do?" she exclaimed.

"G'way! G'way! Don't bother me," he yelled. "Somebody's locked in the safe and I've forgotten the combination!"

Mo: "Is my face dirty or is it my imagination?"

Bo: "Your face is clean, but I don't know about your imagination."

DEFINITION OF THE WEEK:
Jungle gentman—a monkey who doesn't monkey with another monkey's monkey.

The victory-mad horde swarmed onto the field intent on reducing the goal posts to a mass of souvenir kindling. Down went men and girls in the maelstrom of humanity, and chivalrous gentlemen rushed to the rescue. An elderly gentleman was acting as pilot for the rescuers who were carrying the injured girls out of the crowd. He halted one fellow carrying a limp form in his arms, shouting, "Give her to me. I'll carry her up to the stands!"

"Oh, yeah?" panted the fellow. "There's plenty more in there. Go get one of your own."

Visitor: "What happened to the fellow in this cell?"

Attendant: "He went crazy trying to untie a knot in a string."

Visitor: "Hmm—what caused this other fellow's trouble?"

Attendant "He went nuts trying to help the other fellow untie the knot."

Visitor: "Well, who is the raving maniac in this padded cell?"

Attendant: "He's the guy that tied the knot!"

Professor: "A fool can ask questions that a wise man can't answer."

Freshman: "No wonder I failed the examination."

"Hey," cried Satan to the new arrival, "you act as if you owned the place."

"I do," came the reply. "My wife gave it to me before I died."

Bus Driver: "All right back there?"

Feminine Voice: "No, wait until I get my clothes on."

Then, the driver led the stampe to the rear and watched the girl get on with a basket of laundry.

The Discovery Of Time

By BOB O'HARA

In the year 1066 there was born to Freida and Joaquim of Upper Boredom, twin sons, Chester and Lester.

The boys led a normal childhood and grew to manhood with a deep affection for one another. They were identical twins and the only way that their parents could tell them apart was that Chester's left eye was blue and his right eye was brown, while Lester's left eye was brown while his right eye was blue. Or was it Chester whose left eye was brown, well it isn't too important.

Chester and Lester were toying with some minor experiments in Physics in their back yard on a late summer morning when they hit on the idea of drawing a circle in the dirt and placing twelve sticks at equal distances on the circumference.

When they had done this they observed that the movement of the sun could be charted by the shadow of the sticks. This left them with the problem of what to name the sticks.

"It was my idea," said Chester, "so the right to name them should be mine."

"Thou art a bounder and a falsefier" screamed Lester. "The idea was mine, so I shall name them."

"They are mine," said Chester. "No," said Lester, "they are mine."

And so the argument went on, each claiming that the sticks were his. Chester called a halt to the argument and said, "Lester, we have never had an argument before. You claim that the sticks are yours and I say that they are mine. Let us both compromise and call them ours."

And so the hour was born.

SERVICE NEWS

Lt. Dawson Awarded Commendation Ribbon

First Lt. Alfred W. Dawson was recently awarded the Commendation Ribbon for meritorious achievement with the 40th Division Artillery in Korea.

His citation reads:

"Lt. Dawson, serving as artillery liaison officer, swiftly and efficiently organized the artillery observation posts in the battalion sector. Dawson concerned himself with not only his artillery responsibilities, but assisted materially whenever he could, and his willing cooperative attitude immensely increased the efficiency of the operation of the tactical command post of the battalion," the citation continues.

"Owing directly to the tireless efforts and astute knowledge of Lt. Dawson, all the officers of the battalion were trained and instructed in the proper method of integrating artillery fire with their needs in ground action against the enemy."

Lt. Dawson, who entered the Army in July, 1945, received his commission in the Reserve Officers Training Corps program at Eastern and was graduated from Eastern in the class of '51.

Pilot Killed in Training Crash

Aviation Cadet Ross D. Herron, 24, widely known Northern Kentucky athlete, was killed when his Air Force training plane crashed near Orlando, Oklahoma on April 3. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Herron, 543 Mason Road, Covington, Ky. have been informed Cadet Herron was on a routine training flight in an AT-6 when the accident occurred.

Cadet Herron joined the Air Force after graduation from Eastern in 1952, where he was a four-year letterman in football. He took his basic training at Greenville, Miss., and was scheduled to receive his wings in August at Vance Air Force Base, Enid, Okla. He was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Besides his parents, Cadet Herron is survived by four brothers, Raymond E. Herron, Summit Drive (Covington); Carl V. Herron, Louisville, and Robert C. and James G. Herron, both at home.

Camp Tortuguero, Puerto Rico—Army Pvt. Elmer F. Collins, whose wife, Ruth, lives in Whitesburg, Ky., is serving at Camp Tortuguero Puerto Rico, as an English instructor for Puerto Rican trainees.

While at the Antilles station, Private Collins is attached to the 7504th Army Unit.

Collins, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Collins of Isom, Ky., is a former student of Eastern Kentucky State College, Richmond, and was a school teacher before entering the Army.

With The 2d Infantry Div. In Korea—Army Cpl. Robert Keen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crit Keen, Buckhorn, Ky., recently graduated from the 2d Infantry Division's Non-Commissioned Officers Academy in Korea.

The school is operated to insure adequately trained replacements for personnel leaving the unit on rotation.

While in the school, the men are taught battle techniques by combat veterans.

Corporal Keen arrived in Korea last December and is assigned to Battery C of the 82d Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion as a gunner.

A former student at the Eastern Kentucky State College in Richmond, he entered the Army in September, 1951.

Miss Mable Kirkland, home-demonstration agent in Washington County, going to spend two weeks studying extension services work in Kansas and Oklahoma. The trip has been made possible through a Fellowship awarded her by the Kentucky Home Demonstration Agents Association. She will visit counties that have never been recommended as outstanding by state leaders of home-demonstration agents in those states. She will observe especially extension leadership training and 4-H Club work. Miss Kirkland is a graduate of Eastern in the class of 1933. She taught in Casey, Boyle, and Washington counties and was with the Farmers Home Administration before joining the home-economics staff.

THE CAT'S MEOW!

Well, here we are again without any news of interest for you but maybe you will find out something you didn't know. It looks like Mother Nature just isn't treating us right since the weather has been like winter instead of Boonesboro time. Let's just hope it turns warm real soon so I can have some news for you for the last issue of the Progress.

That gleam on Pat Rickey's face is just the brightness from that ring on her third finger left hand . . . Bob Zweigart and Mary Elizabeth Johnson never seem to tire of each other's company, do they? . . . Bob Muller seemed pretty glad to get back to Eastern after spring vacation. Could the main reason be Billie Davis? . . . I'm sure most of you saw and enjoyed the music department's "Pinafore" . . . Looking for an act for your new Broadway show? Why not try the impersonations of Tommy McAnallen and Karl Bays. The kids in the grill love them . . . Winona Baker and Sonny White seem to play an awful lot of tennis even in cold weather . . . Why all the trips to Nicholasville, Jake? . . . Jean Howard was seen down town with a certain attached male not long ago. What about it? . . . The space in the room of Nancy Rickey seems to be taken up largely by a large oil portrait of a U. C. boy. This must be serious . . . Bonnie and Lambert seem to be going as strong as ever . . . Ann and Jim Cunningham may be now addressed as Mom and Pop Cunningham . . . I hear Jimmy Birch is trying to become another Noel Coward by writing and directing his own plays . . . Chuck Bell seems to have had a visitor from Pineville not long ago and he didn't seem to mind at all . . . Things look pretty serious between Mary Helen Collins and Doug Hoffman, don't they? . . . I hear that Jap has found himself a "Yokahama Mama." He's now an engaged man . . . Pat Crawford and Suzanne Doyle seem to be making a habit of dating lately . . . I hear that Bob Thompson has been married for a couple of months. He seems to have caught the Mountain Laurel Festival Queen of 1952 . . . Jackie Ritter and Charles Moore can't seem to decide which of his cars they enjoy riding in the most . . . Charles Miller seems to be trying to make Joyce Noe forget about the army . . . Two couples that are still going strong are Joan Neff and Don Knowland and Patsy Ruby and Walker Park . . . Has Holly Chilton forgotten that girl in Harodsborg or are he and Imogene Daniels just good friends? . . . Phyllis Edmonds of Ashland seemed to brighten Tommy McAnallen's week-end considerably last week. All those smiles of his weren't for nothing . . . Ed Shemelya is back in the swing of things. I saw him with Blanche McCoun last Sunday night . . . Blanche McCoun and Clyde White are due congrats for being elected Prom king and queen for this year . . . Betsy Otis doesn't seem to find it hard to show a certain transfer from Vanderbilt around the campus and town . . . Don Boyer and Marianne Durrett seem to find an awful lot to talk about lately . . . Mary Ann Ogden and Bobby Snavelly seem to have had some trouble over friends of theirs but now everything seems to be o. k. . . I think that Charlie Hammons likes those brown eyes of Skippy Steil's. Wonder what happened to that blond haired boy she has had visiting her a couple of times . . . I hear that Greenie Kincaid has been dating Velma Cutler . . . Looks like Coach Darling has been getting pretty good attendance at his track meets of which all so far have been victories . . . Hey, Angle, how about showing off that boyfriend of yours? We never see you!

YEARS AHEAD OF THEM ALL!

Don't you want to try a cigarette with a record like this?

1. THE QUALITY CONTRAST between Chesterfield and other leading cigarettes is a revealing story. Recent chemical analyses give an index of good quality for the country's six leading cigarette brands.

The index of good quality table - a ratio of high sugar to low nicotine - shows Chesterfield quality highest

. . . 15% higher than its nearest competitor and Chesterfield quality 31% higher than the average of the five other leading brands.

2. First to Give You Premium Quality in Regular and King-size . . . much milder with an extraordinarily good taste - and for your pocketbook, Chesterfield is today's best cigarette buy.

3. A Report Never Before Made About a Cigarette.

For a full year a medical specialist has been giving a group of Chesterfield smokers regular examinations every two months. He reports . . . no adverse effects to nose, throat and sinuses from smoking Chesterfield.
