Eastern Debate Team Making Impressive Wins

Two weekends of debate tournaments produced the same result: a winning team.

The first tournament held Saturday, October 30, at Kentucky Southern College resulted in a tie for first place among three teams, Morehead, Ursuline, and Eastern. The tie was broken by individual speaker points. The winning varsity team representing Eastern were for the affirmative team, Brent Cornelius and Eugene Gray. The negative team consisted of Jim Cottrell, and Charles Greenwell. Also winning best affirmative team composed of Brent Cornelius and Eugene Gray. They also respectively won best affirmative speaker and second best affirmative speaker in the entire tournament. The team was accompanied by Mrs. Almee Alexander, assistant professor of English and Mike Weatherly, instructor of English.

Two tournaments were attended the past week-end from November 4, to November 6. Attending the Peachtree Invitational al Tournament, Emory University, Atlanta Georgia were: An Barker and Donna Wolfe debating novice negative; and Charles Greenwell and Jim Cottrell novice affirmative.

The two-man team participating in varsity division was Gordon Camuel and Eugene Gray. Jim Cottrell and Charles Greenwell won the third best affirmative team in the tournament. These debaters were accompanied by Dr. Robert King and Mr. Michael Weatherly.

Attending the Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha Debate Tournament at the University of Cincinnati were affirmative novice Dennis Burrows, Misha Williams. Negative novice were Nancy Evans and Carolyn Webster. This team won 1st place novice trophy. Representing varsity affirmative were Mary Jo Rudi, and Brent Cornelius, and negative were Mary Walker and Daryl LeMaster. These debaters were accompanied by Mrs. Almee Alexander and John Welden.

Team Boasts Trophy

Boasting their first place novice trophy are Nancy Evans, Carolyn Webster, Misha Williams, and Dennis Burrows who compose the team which participated in the Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha Debate Tournament at the University of Cincinnati.

Little Theatre Production Set For November 15-20

"Look Homeward Angel," a comedy-drama which won both the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Critics' award as the best play of 1958, will be presented by the Little Theatre November 15-20 at 8 p.m. in the Pearl Buchanan Theatre.

The play by Ketil Frings, was adapted from Thomas Wolfe's novel and will be the first presentation by the Eastern Little Theatre this year.

Director of the Eastern theatrical group is Joe Johnson, director of drama.

The cast is headed by Miss Suzanne Ankrum, as Eliza, and Larry Meale, who plays W. O. Gant, her husband. Both are sophomores from Lexington. Their sons, Ben, Eugene, and Luke, are portrayed by Ron Statzer, a freshman from Whitesburg, Al Allison, a senior from Harrodsburg, and Gordon Jennings, a Covington sophomore.

A husband and wife team play the same role in the production. Mr. and Mrs. Gary May, Bardstown, are in the roles of Helen Gant and Hugh Barton.

Other members of the cast are Miss Judy Lawler, freshman from West Union, Ohio; Miss Betty Pennycook, senior from

American Education Week Observed

American Education Week was observed on campus Wednesday where the SNEA presented a program emphasizing this annual event.

Three Faculty Members Retiring With Over A Century Of Service

Over a century of service to Eastern is the combined total of years as faculty members accumulated by William L. Keene, R. R. Richards, and Mary F. McKinney Richards.

William L. Keene was a professor of English on campus from 1926 to September of this year, when he retired. Professor Keene received his B.S., and M.A., from George Peabody College for Teachers. He also did two years additional predoctoral study at Peabody and Vanderbilt.

Outside activities of Professor Keene included public speaking and writing assignments. A well remembered address of Professor Keene's is "Only Yesterday," given on the occasion of the fifty-sixth anniversary of the college during Founders Day observance in Hiram Brock Auditorium, March 21, 1962.

Retiring at the end of this semester are R. R. Richards and Mrs. Richards.

Professor Richards graduated from Eastern, was a graduate student at the University of Kentucky, received his M.B.A. from Boston University, and did additional graduate work at Boston University and the University of Southern California.

As a professor of business here since 1929, Professor Richards has trained all of the present accounting teachers on the staff except for one. Throughout his years on campus Mr. Richards has taught in many fields of the School of Business.

Mrs. Richards, an associate professor of geography, has a diploma from Eastern Normal School and a B.S., and M.A., from George Peabody.

Mrs. Richards has been here since September 1923, longer than any other staff member except Dean Park, who has been here since February 1923.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards have served individually and together on numerous Eastern projects. They recently served as Grand Marshalls of the Homecoming Parade. The Richards have also been sponsors of several classes.

Mrs. Richards was the Y.W.C.A. sponsors for 22 years. She was the Alumni secretary for 19 years from 1942-1961. During the war she sent out over 1000 issues of the Progress to soldiers.

Mrs. Richards taught 21 hours during the war; twelve of these were academic with the other nine as Army hours. Mrs. Richards is the only woman on the faculty who taught the army.

Retirement plans of the Richards are indefinite. They do plan to keep their home and continue living in Richmond. Experienced travelers they have been to 48 of the 50 states and hope to visit Alaska and Hawaii and revisit Europe.

Avid readers and sports enthusiasts the Richards will keep up with the current developments in both of these areas. Mr. Richards will also do some flower and vegetable gardening.

These retiring faculty members have witnessed the growth of the student body from a mere 400 to over six thousand. They have seen the faculty staff enlarge from about 35 or 40 to 300 or more. They saw the spread of the campus by the addition of many new buildings.

Mrs. Richards recalls when the auditorium, that seats 1800, was built during the administration of President Donovan. He was criticized for building one so big. Now the auditorium seats only half of the freshman class. Mrs. Richards said, "I can remember the days when I knew the name and face of every one on campus."

Orchestra To Make Tour

The 59-member Eastern Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of William Prescott, will perform in concert for five Louisville area high schools during a two-day tour that begins November 22.

Dr. Andrew J. Broekema, chairman of the Eastern music department, said that the tour will begin with a 9 a.m. performance at Shawnee High School; 10:30 a.m. at Hazlewood High School in New Albany, Indiana, and 1 p.m. at Waggener High School.

On Tuesday, Nov. 23, the Orchestra will appear at Valley High School at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. at Seneca High School. Featured selections will be Enesco's "Romanian Rhapsody," Hanson's "Romantic Symphony," and "Capriccio Espagnol" by Rimsky-Korsakoff.

Soloists being featured are trumpeter Robert Young, playing "Jota for Trumpet and Orchestra," and Ernie Sanders, clarinet soloist performing "Concertino" by Weber.

Three Department Chairmen Appointed To Business

Three new department chairmen have been appointed by Dr. Young, Dean of the School of Business.

The appointments for this of economics; and Claude Smith, acting chairman of the department of accounting.

Dr. Patrick is a native of Honaker, Virginia. He attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute where he received his B.S. and M.A. degrees. Further work was done at the University of Tennessee. Dr. Patrick joined the staff at Eastern during the summer of 1965. Prior to coming here he taught business education at Longwood College in Virginia. Dr. Shadoan is native of Science Hill, and attended the University of Kentucky where he received his B.S. and M.A. degrees.

He has been on the staff at Eastern since 1962. Prior to becoming department chairman, Dr. Shadoan taught economic classes.

Mr. Smith earned his B.S. from Southern Baptist Seminary. The next summer he attended summer school at University of Kentucky. He also holds a C.F.A. certificate from Indiana University.

Thirty-Seven Seniors Named To Who's Who Listing

Thirty-seven Eastern seniors have been selected for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, it was announced today by President Robert R. Martin.

Selections were made by a faculty committee and eligibility was based upon scholarship, leadership, extra curricular activities, citizenship, and future potential.

A national honorary for outstanding students, Who's Who was founded in 1934 and is one of the most familiar honor societies in the nation. Membership in the organization is considered one of the highest and most coveted honors a student can attain.

Students recognized by this organization are nominated from about 775 universities and colleges throughout the United States. Each member is awarded a certificate of membership by the society, and his name and activities are listed in the "Blue Book," which is published annually.

Eastern students honored this year, their college major area are: Albert Glenn Spencer, Industrial Arts, Beattyville; Karen Sue Krumm, English, Bellevue; Mary Jane Hammel, Political Science, Berea; Sue Carole Marshall, Math and Chemistry, and Max Vance Lyles, Math, both from Carrollton; John William Landrum, Political Science and Donna R. Gardner, Chemistry, both from Cynthiana; Sharon L. Teague, Biology, Elizabeth town; Neil Douglas Adams, Physics, Eubank; Carol Anne Sandy, Business, Falmouth; Patricia R. Swain, Accounting and Patricia A. Parr, Business, both from Frankfort; and Ennis Ray Griffith, Accounting, Greenup.

Leroy E. Kimmman, Physical Education, Highland Heights; Patricia C. Newton, Home Economics, Irvine; Dover Cornett, Industrial Arts, Linefork; Sharon Ann Zimmerman, History, Raymond T. Schaaf, Jr., Biology, Sondra Ann Tudor, Accounting, and William D. Bennett, Political Science, all from Louisville; William A. Raker, Math, Milton; Gary Ray Turner, History, Newport; Barbara R. Owens, Elementary Education, Park Hills; Daniel Lee Tribble, Math, Dores Ann Robb, English, Cindy E. Darling, English, Janice A. Carnes, Home Economics, Donald H. Smith, and Mings Kennamer Burkett, Chemistry, all of Richmond.

Linda L. Ward, English, River; Kyle Leslie Reagan, Business, Somerset; Misha A. Williams, English, Touristville; Joyce A. McQueen, Business, Waynesburg; Charlotte Faye Davis, French, Whitesburg; Robert E. Lewis, Math, Deer Park, Ohio; Ronald G. Pinsenschaum, Biology, Cincinnati, Ohio; and Jeannie Gail Ashe, Business, Rogerville, Tennessee.

Kenamer, College Choir Featured At Dinner

Dr. L. G. Kenamer, long-time professor of geography; and the college chamber choir will be featured at the annual Eastern dinner to be held Thursday at 6 p.m. in the main dining room of the Henry Clay Hotel.

The event is held annually during the fall meeting of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association which begins Thursday in Ashland. It is co-sponsored by the Tri-State Chapter of the Eastern Alumni Association.

J. W. "Spider" Thurman, director of alumni affairs, said that the Eastern booth would again be located in the main lobby of the hotel and that tickets for the dinner would be sold there.

Others from Eastern attending will be President Martin, John L. Vickers, executive assistant to the President, Dr. Clyde Orr, and Dr. George W. School, Don Felner, coordinator of public affairs, and other administrative officers and faculty members.

The chamber choir, directed by Thomas Lancaster, director of choirs at the college, will consist of 21 students. A varied program of old and contemporary selections will be sung by the choir.

Dr. Kenamer, who has served at Eastern since 1928, holds degrees from Simmons University and George Peabody College for Teachers. This past summer, he was director of the National Defense Education Institute (NDEI) in geography at Eastern. Eastern was one of 40 colleges and universities selected by the federal government for this institute in the field of geography and geology. He is also the author or co-author of several articles. Dr. Kenamer is also the sponsor of the World Affairs Club at Eastern. Officers of the Tri-State alumni association are Dr. Willis Potter, president, Mrs. Fannie Porter, vice president, Mrs. Sandra Conley, secretary, and Mrs. John Billings, treasurer.

Internationally-Known Count Basie Featured In Concert Next Tuesday

Internationally-known Count Basie and his Orchestra will be featured in concert at Alumni Coliseum Nov. 16, from 8 to 10 p.m., to commemorate the fifth anniversary of the inauguration of President Robert R. Martin.

The Concert, which replaces the annual anniversary dance, will be free to students, faculty, and staff of Eastern.

Dr. Martin was installed as the sixth president of Eastern Nov. 17, 1960.

The Basie Orchestra has dominated practically every jazz poll in America at one time or another. A versatile piano-organ player, the Count headlines most of the major jazz festivals, and features such musicians as, Eddie "Lockjaw" Davis, Al Grey, Marshall Royal, Freddie Green, and Leon Thomas.

Basie cherishes as the major highlight of his career the personal invitation from the late President John F. Kennedy to perform at his inauguration as 35th President of the United States.

Another highlight of his career was a command performance for The Queen of England in 1958.

Basie has appeared frequently on national television including the Ed Sullivan, Dinah Shore, and Steve Allen shows.

Now a Roulette Recording star, Count Basie and his orchestra have sold over 20 million records during his musical career.

Basie and his orchestra have appeared in a number of movies his latest, in 1960, "Cinderella," which starred Jerry Lewis.

Give Blood

Support U. S. Stand In South Viet Nam

In this time when it has become fashionable for college students to demonstrate against administrative action and policies, to burn selective service cards, and to plot maneuvers to dodge draft calls, it is becoming increasingly important for conscientious college students to show their support and loyalty not necessarily to the administration, but to the United States commitment, to the democratic way of life, and to members of our military forces who are fighting for these principles.

Eastern students and the Eastern community will have an opportunity to show their support of the American forces in South Viet Nam by pledging blood to be sent for this cause.

Special committees of the Student Council and the Caduceus Club are sponsoring the project with the aid of the Counterguerrilla R.O.T.C. unit. Representatives on the committee are Sharon Richardson and Fred Ballou for the Caduceus Club, and Kathy Colebrook and Mike Johnson for the Student Council.

They will also receive the aid of the publicity chairmen and their committees for each organization.

We pledge our support to these organizations and to their efforts to make this the biggest and most meaningful blood drive on the Eastern Campus.

We commend them for their outstanding display of leadership in this blood drive in an attempt to show our loyalty to our country and to our men who are stationed in South Viet Nam.

The blood drive for South Viet Nam is scheduled to take place December 9 in Barnum Hall Basement from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Dr. Henry G. Martin, Dean of students, in speaking of the blood drive said, "The Eastern students and community will have an opportunity to show their support of the American policy in Viet Nam. I am sure this support will be shown December 9 when an all time record of blood donations will be set on our Campus."

For some time, Eastern has held the Madison County quota of blood donations with each arrival of the Bloodmobile. We feel sure that the college community will want this record to maintain its position in this drive. The committee is asking for approximately 600 donations. It is our opinion that 600 pints of blood from a campus of 6900 students is not asking too much. We congratulate our student body for their past efforts in successful blood drives and are sure they will want to continue their support.

We are not in a position to go to South Viet Nam to pledge our support to the American forces by fighting with them, but we can pledge our support and loyalty to them by pledging our blood for our cause.

Representatives will be calling on each student within the next week with pledge sheets in order to estimate how many students are willing to give blood. It is our hope that all students who are able to give will sign these pledge sheets, and will be on hand when the Bloodmobile arrives on campus. This is the best, most effective and helpful way we have of showing our loyalty.

We urge support of the United States, stand through the donations of blood.

AN EASTERN LANDMARK

We Voted 'No!'

Progress Voices Stand On Censorship

"That newspaper is fortunate which has an editor to whom freedom means the right to stand for a better college in all respects and not licensed to air grudges or build ego by doing as he pleases regardless of consequences."

And, happy is the staff with a sympathetic, not over sensitive administration, which sees the college newspaper as a student publication, and not the official voice of the college. Not an alumni bulletin or a public relations piece, but as one campus paper puts it, a free voice in a free university...

Students have every right to expect a responsible campus paper in which they can place their trust, one which they can come to rely on as the student's free voice in a free society...

To make the student newspaper an educational instrument the university must be a committed participant. The administration should pledge: No censorship of the news or editorial columns...

These statements were made to a general assembly of college newspaper editors and advisors attending a meeting of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association by Mr. Donald R. Feltner, advisor to the Eastern Progress. Less than three hours later representatives of the same newspapers in an executive council meeting voted down a resolution containing a clause concerning the rights of prior censorship by administrative authorities.

The Eastern Progress was one of five newspapers throughout the state who returned a negative vote on the resolution. Voting with the Progress student delegation were representatives from Kentucky Southern, Georgetown, Berea, and Western.

It now appears necessary to explain the dissenting position held by the student delegation from Eastern.

The resolution was introduced by Walter Grant of the Kentucky Kernel, the University of Kentucky's student newspaper. It contained 10 points of principle for college newspapers. The dispute arose because of the wording of point No. 6 which stated: "The editor accepts the responsibility for the paper and its content. In no case can a representative of a university, whether a board or faculty member, have the implied or the expressed power of prior censorship."

An amendment to change the word "can" in the second sentence to "should" failed to pass. Later the entire resolution was voted down.

There are several reasons for the negative vote cast by the Progress.

First, this proposal concerns a matter to be decided by the individual newspapers and their respective institutions. How this freedom to publish is handled by the separate newspapers may be a matter determined by individual policies based primarily upon the canons of good journalism. The Eastern Progress, we feel, enjoys perhaps the most journalistic freedom of any student newspaper in the state.

As was stated in an editorial concerning the policy of the Progress which appeared in the September 17, 1965 issue, our journalistic freedom is coupled with responsibility. These policies are a matter of individual concern and must be decided by the individual newspapers based on their particular problems and campus situations. It is not a matter for the KIPA as an honorary organization to decide.

Second, this proposal, it was felt by the majority of the delegations present, could only lead to trouble and animosity between the college paper and the college administration. The KIPA is in no position to dictate to institutional presidents what they can and what they cannot do.

Third, this resolution brings out a rather ambiguous point which does not apply to this campus.

Our vote against the proposal does not prove that we are in favor of prior censorship. Quite the contrary. Speaking the firmest of anyone throughout the two-day meeting for a free, responsible press was the Progress advisor as illustrated by the quote introducing this editorial. Our vote simply proves that we are against this proposal for these reasons.

We hope that we have made our position clear on this point. We voted against it because we felt it to be wrong from all viewpoints, and our view has not changed. We will vote the same way should the resolution, in its present form, be considered again in the future.

Stand At Crossroads

College Students On Threshold Of Critical Period

By BILL RAKER
Progress Feature Editor

Today's American college students are young people on the threshold of a critical period in their lives. They stand, not by choice but by circumstance, at the crossroads of what to plan for, what to work for and of what to expect in the future, whether it be bright or dim.

The hands of these people will mold the society and the world of tomorrow. This requires that students know best how to plan and prepare for their futures and careers. In regard to this, there are some very strong and highly convincing points to be made in favor of education.

The mounting obligations and challenges of our time place an ever-increasing premium on excellence, on high performance, on better standards in all our work and living. This, viewed from all aspects, has a very significant meaning for students, teachers, and parents alike.

Must Gain Interest and Concern

We need to acquire and to utilize a keener and more probing interest and concern for matters of the mind and intellect. We ought to weed out and replace those things which do not make for better education and for excellence in all our performances.

While every young person must, at some point in his life, gain a sufficient grasp of some special field to earn a reasonable living, this is not nearly enough for a full, successful, and happy life. There is a definite need for a basic general education, too. This should supplant an over concentration on narrow vocational subjects. We must learn the necessity for intellectual qualities and genuine scholarship in all parts of our lives.

We stand in dire need of a change of values among the American people, especially the youth. Instead of looking down upon or contemptuously ignoring talented persons of intellectual pursuits and achievements, we should be people who respect good minds at work, who read good, serious books and magazines, and who discuss controversial and stimulating ideas and concepts.

Education should not be left only to the so-called "brains," "squares," and "eggheads," but each of us must work and strive sincerely to be worthy of admiration, respect, and acknowledgement. We should always be ready to give credit where credit is due, but most of all we should put ourselves in positions where we can also receive some of the credit and honor.

Depends on Contributions

Our progress and advancement in all fields will depend in large measure on the contributions the youth will be making in the next twenty-five years. A person who expects to live in this modern, complex world must be educated in as many phases of classified knowledge as possible.

There is another channel for education, too. In this world of limitless weapons, the Communists have turned education into a most effective weapon with which to destroy our structures of freedom and liberty and our way of life. We must retaliate with the same force — education. It rests upon the shoulders of each student to take this weapon and perfect it to the best of his ability for our defense.

We need doctors, lawyers, businessmen, clerks, mechanics, and housewives who understand and appreciate the best that man has thought and done. In our advanced society, we need scientists, artists, writers, philosophers, public servants, and most of all — teachers.

These needs, which are vital to our existence, are multiplying day by day. It is up to today's students as tomorrow's citizens and leaders to fill them properly and to see that no gap or hole is left unplugged.

Students Need Education

As future leaders, students must have the education, the experiences of life and every day situations, and the courage with which to meet and deal intelligently and successfully with the great issues, the public problems, and the international conflicts they will soon be called upon to face. The need of broad-minded, straight-thinking people who are willing to take an interest in these problems and who are willing to educate themselves to cope effectively with these menaces to our society is growing constantly.

The quality and enchantment of American life depend on the caliber of our leaders, thinkers, and educators. It is they who are the principal levers to life the total performance, opportunity and general welfare of all our people. More than any other kind of society, a democracy like ours requires talent and leadership to operate successfully.

And yet, because we need more and better leaders, we must never forget the importance of good, reliable followers at all levels. Throughout the entire spectrum of individual abilities and cultivated interests, our goal should be to achieve opportunity for the fullest possible growth of each individual. This is an obligation that falls on each of us alike. Our personal effort to reach excellence may well be our most important contribution to the world.

We should be warned not to be afraid to accept life and to face reality as we find it. We should prepare ourselves to receive defeats and setbacks, but we should not let failures derail us.

Whatever befalls us, success in the deepest and truest sense will be found in the poise and understanding with which we are able to meet both the failures and triumphs of life. It will be reflected in our perception and acceptance of high ideals and standards. Our success will be revealed in our relations with other people, the opinions we form, in our capacity to be compassionate as well as brilliant, tender as well as vigorous, creative as well as conforming.

Education, with its universal beauty and excellence, holds out to those who will take them the answers to these problems.

Francis Kepler, U.S. Commissioner of Education, has said: "We are still graduating functional illiterates from our public schools." This must be corrected, and it is up to today's teachers and students to make this vitally needed change.

Biology Club Ends Membership Drive

The Biology Club has conducted a membership drive during the past two weeks. The deadline for joining the club this semester is next Wednesday.

At the last meeting, Dr. Brantley Branson gave a lecture to the group. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual Biology Club Christmas Dance to be held before Christmas vacation.

Radiologist Speaks To Caduceus Club

Dr. Z. S. Gierlach, a specialist in Radiology at Lexington, spoke to the Caduceus Club last week. Through the use of color slides he gave an informative and humorous presentation of scanning techniques and procedures. Dr. Gierlach's slides illustrated the use of various radioactive isotopes to determine abnormalities of the thyroid, kidney, bone, and aneurysms of the aorta in normal and pathological states.

On Monday, November 15, Dr. Roy K. Jarecky, Associate Dean for Admissions and Student Personnel of the University of Kentucky School of Medicine, will speak on the mechanics of admission to the medical school. Dr. Albert Balows of the U. K. School of Medicine will also be present and will discuss cellular biology relative to medical practice. The meeting begins at 7 p.m. in Roark 208.

CSF Begins New Series

Sunday evening the Christian Student Fellowship began a new three-part series of "What We Believe," with Mr. Donald Graham as the speaker. The second part of the new series will be presented this Sunday evening at 6 after supper. Mr. Bert Smith from Transylvania College will speak to us about "What Our Church is Doing in Kentucky and Around the World." The third part will be led by the students: "Critical Evaluation of Our Beliefs."

Everyone is invited to attend Sunday morning coffee and donuts with devotion class led by Captain John R. Pipkin.

Behavioral Science Symposium Meets

The Behavioral Science Symposium will meet on Monday, November 15, at 7 in Roark 6. The topic of discussion is "Is There a Teenage Culture?" All members are strongly urged to attend this important business meeting.

Any organization wanting pictures taken at school functions should contact the Photo Club several days before the event so that proper arrangements can be made.

The last meeting was informative, with David Rains demonstrating the development of film. New members interested in working in the dark room with an assistant should report to the president, Fred Voigt, Combs Hall.

Newman Club Has Speaker

The guest speaker at the Newman Club meeting on November 4 was Father Harrington. His topic was "The New Morality." This meeting was attended by approximately 95 members.

Speaker Addresses YWCA

Mrs. James D. Wyker, a speaker on women's affairs and church unity for the National Council of Churches, spoke to the members of YWCA on the "Needs of Women in the World" at the November 2 meeting. Her lecture centered around the fact that life is like a horizon. We must keep setting a higher goal for ourselves—never reaching a definite end. The talk was arranged by the YWCA sponsor, Mrs. Mary Carroll.

Members are reminded that practice for "Hanging of the Greens" will be in Walnut Hall on November 17 at 6 p.m.

BSU Honors International Students

International students will be honored at a dinner on Saturday night at the Baptist Student Center.

Bonnie Bentley and Priscilla Roberts are in charge of arrangements. Plans will be discussed, following the meal, relative to the BSU-sponsored International Retreat during the Thanksgiving holidays at the Riverside Motor Hotel in Gatlinburg.

Thirty members of Eastern's BSU Choir will sing in the combined statewide Youth Choir to-night at Memorial Coliseum in Lexington. The rally will conclude the 1965 sessions of the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

Special guest speakers are scheduled for BSU Vespers next week. Vespers are held from 6:30 p.m. until 7 p.m.

Dr. Franklin Owen, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Lexington, will speak on Tuesday. Dr. Charles Roselle, secretary of the Department of Student Work of the Tennessee Baptist Convention, Nashville, will discuss summer mission opportunities on Wednesday evening.

Home Economics Club Meets

The regular meeting of the Home Economics Club was held Tuesday, November 9. The delegates to the Kentucky Home Economics Association Convention discussed the meeting.

While at the state meeting, Dorothy Walker, a junior from Junction City, was elected chairman of the college chapters. Miss Evelyn Slater was named to the college chapters within the state.

The Christmas Banquet will be held December 7 in the Student Union Building.

KYMA Plans Meetings

All pledges should come to the meeting next Wednesday at 6 p.m. "E" letters for the pledges have been ordered.

Westminster Invites Members

All students interested in joining should come Sunday night at 6 to the First Presbyterian Church. There will be a Thanksgiving banquet Tuesday Nov. 23.

Duszak Attends Conference

Dr. M. J. Duszak, an associate professor of history, took part in the Southern Conference on Slavic Studies at Vanderbilt University October 22-24. He is a professor of the history of Russian and is one of the new faculty members.

Foreign Language Department Shows Russian Films

This past week the Department of Foreign Languages has been presenting films dealing with Russian literature, drama, and education. "The Wedding," by Anton P. Chekhov, and "The Fish and the Fisherman," by Alexander S. Pushkin are plays of the nineteenth century, regarded as classics of the old Russian theater. Dr. Eugene Woronin, associate professor of Russian and German, brought these plays to Eastern.

Students Attend CCUN Conference

Four Eastern students attended the Ohio Valley Regional Conference of the Association of International Relations Clubs. Marvin Marcum, State Chairman of the State Collegiate Council for the United Nations spoke in the opening session.

Representing Eastern at the conference held November 5 and 6 were Kenny Jackson, George Karnis, Steve Wilborn, and Marvin Marcum.

Marcum spoke on the topic "How the Collegiate Council for the United Nations and the Association of International Relations Clubs serve the colleges of Kentucky and the Ohio Valley Region."

Marcum also served as Moderator of a Round Table discussion on Viet Nam and Southeast Asia. The keynote speaker on Saturday was Dr. George A. Lipsky on "American Friends of Viet Nam." The speaker at the banquet closing the two-day meeting was former congressman Frank Burke of Louisville.

The AIRC is a private, non-profit organization concerned with world affairs education. It is composed of more than 18,000 student members in clubs on some 600 college campuses. Through their programs reach out into the campus community to involve several times their membership in the study of international relations issues and in projects designed to improve relations between nations.

Former Professor Dies

Dr. A. J. Lawrence, 68, former Eastern faculty member, died suddenly at 4 a.m. last Tuesday in Oxford, Mississippi.

The late Dr. Lawrence established the College of Commerce at Eastern in 1926, and remained on the faculty for three years. He also served on the University of Kentucky faculty and the faculty of the University of Mississippi.

Services were held last Wednesday and he was buried in his hometown, Mayfield.

PROGRESS ON SPORTS

with Jim Wiehebrink

TEAM SHOWS TALENT, EFFORT

With the season drawing to a close, the Eastern Maroons have shown a lot of talent and individual effort. This is demonstrated every week, as they place many players in the top ten of the OVC leaders.

Fred Malins still holds down the number one spot in punting with an average of 42.4 yards a punt. He has punted 42 times and this tremendous average places him 14th in the nation.

Larry Marmie moved ahead of Dickie Moore of Western to take over the number two position in scoring. He has scored more touchdowns than any player in the OVC with eight. This total ties the old school record. Marmie has a total of 48 points. He is also tops in pass completion percentage as he has hit on 53 passes in 84 attempts for 63 per cent, and his total offense of 736 yards places him eight while he is fifth in passing.

Jim Guice is second in pass completion with 54 per cent and is right behind Marmie in passing and total offense.

Herman Carter has the best rushing average, 5.9 a carry, and is fourth in total yards gained with 553 in 94 carries. Carter also leads in kick-off returns with a 24.1 average.

Fred Malins set a school record on pass receptions with 32 for 390 yards and is fourth in the league. Jim Ratliff has pulled in 28 passes for 436 yards and 3 touchdowns and is seventh in the OVC.

Freshman Walter Murphy leads the kicking department with 18 extra points and 4 field goals for a total of 30 points. This total ties him for eighth place with five others.

SENIORS PLAY LAST GAME

There are seven seniors that will be playing their last game for the Maroon and White. These players have led the Maroon's record-breaking team all year and their outstanding efforts and plays will not be forgotten by Eastern fans. Many of them have erased old records which have been held by all time Eastern greats, while others have helped make this possible with hard and aggressive blocking.

Co-captain Dennis Bradford, center from Bellvue; Jim Conard, guard from Cashockton, Ohio; Roy Evans, tackle, Evans; Co-captain Larry Marmie, quarterback, from Barnesville, Ohio; Fred Malins, wingback, from South Heights, Pennsylvania; Dave Neff, end, Millersville, Pennsylvania and Roscoe Perkins, guard, from Middlesboro. We salute these players and wish them much success for the future.

Eastern will end their season with Morehead this Saturday in what looks like a toss-up. A victory for Eastern could clinch third place and a loss could drop them to fifth.

Morehead has a 3-3 conference record and are 3-5 overall. The Eagles will be led by Mike Gottfried who is number 14 in total offense in the country. Gottfried has a total of 1432 yards in 277 plays. If the Headhunters stop him, Morehead should be stopped.

The Tennessee Tech game last Saturday proved to many that the Maroons are one of the strongest teams in the conference. Tech was the number three team in the conference with a 3-1 record and had high hopes of taking the OVC crown but the loss to Eastern seems to make it almost impossible for them as they must play Middle Tennessee and Austin Peay.

Roscoe Perkins
Renegade of the Week

Roscoe Perkins blocked 74 per cent of his assignments and has earned the title of Renegade of the Week. Perkins is a senior from Middlesboro. Offensive line coach Carl Oakley said, "Perkins blocks the way we want our linemen to block and he is the type of lineman that we need in our offense. Perkins is an outstanding blocker to say the least. He has good quality leadership which has helped our offensive line to be dependable."

Harry Lenz
Headhunter of the Week

"Harry Lenz has been giving us 100 per cent every game; he has shown a great deal of leadership to our younger boys. Lenz is one of the best tacklers on the team. He really hits hard," said Coach Kidd of Harry Lenz, Head hunter of the week. Lenz made 14 individual tackles, had 6 assists, and intercepted a pass in the Tennessee Tech victory last Saturday. Lenz is a sophomore from Pittsburg.

Carter Gets Assistance From Malins

Herman Carter, freshman tailback, gets a block from senior wingback Fred Malins on one Tennessee Tech defender, but doesn't need any help in getting away from Andy Odum (20), Bill Castle (15) and Jim Broyles (43) enroute to a 57-yard touchdown run against the Golden Eagles Saturday. Carter carried the ball 23 times in the contest, tying an Eastern record, and gained 164 yards, just eight short of a new standard.

Maroons Score Conference Win Over Tennessee Tech In Cookeville

Eastern's Larry Marmie and Herman Carter-led Maroons kept their second place Ohio Valley Conference hopes alive Saturday with a sound 28-14 thumping of title contender Tennessee Tech at Cookeville.

The win moved Eastern, 3-2-1 in league play, right behind the Golden Eagles, who are 3-2-0 in the OVC, but Eastern has only one game remaining—at Morehead Saturday—and Tech still must play leaders Middle Tennessee, 5-0, and Austin Peay, 4-1.

Eastern displayed a balanced attack paced by Carter's near record-setting running performance and Marmie's first half running and passing.

Carter, who scored one touchdown on a 57-yard sprint, carried the ball 23 times for 164 yards, eight yards short of the Eastern all-time record.

Marmie ran for 48 yards, scoring two touchdowns to tie an eastern season record with a total of eight six-pointers, and passed for 108 first half yards.

In the first quarter the Maroons were unstoppable. Marmie's passing and Carter's running picking up first downs in rapid order. Marmie raced over on a pair of five yard runs to cap two sustained drives for the Maroons, and freshman Walter Murphy, the OVC's leading placement artist, added both conversions.

Stout defensive play and offensive errors marked the second quarter, in which Eastern and Tech played on even terms, and the Maroons took a 14-0 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

After taking an Eagle punt and being penalized to their own 35-yard-line, the Maroons were faced with a crucial first and 25 situation early in the third quarter. Carter picked up eight yards to the 43 for a second and 17.

Speed Merchant Scores Then Marmie pitched out to the freshman speed merchant, and Carter took off around left end, out-running three Tech defenders with his 9.6 speed for a 57-yard touchdown play. Murphy's kick put the Maroons ahead 21-0.

Tech finally reached the scoreboard in the third quarter after Jim Whaley intercepted a Marmie pass at the Eastern 31.

Five plays moved the ball to the Eastern seven, second down and six to go.

Option-running quarterback Tommy Van Tone rolled out to his right, faked the run, but fired into the end zone to end Sammy Scott for the score. Van Tone ran the option again for a two-point conversion, keeping it this time and diving into the end zone.

But, the Maroons still had offensive fireworks left to show. Taking the kickoff on their own 25, the Maroons started another sustained drive with Carter and fullback Bob Wester biting off the yardage in large chunks.

First and goal on the three, Wester dove head-first over the battling linemen for the score. Murphy's PAT moved the Maroons ahead 28-8.

Tech scored again following a pass interception by Andy Odum of a Jim Guice aerial on the Tech 27.

The Eagles moved the ball to the Maroon 17 in 14 plays, rolling up enough first downs to give them a 17-16 game edge on the Maroons, but also eating up the clock, as the Eastern "normal" defense allowed short yardage but prevented the long play.

From the 17, reserve quarterback Dale Swain hit end Jim Stamps for the score. But Swain failed on a two-point attempt and Eastern led 28-14, with just 2:41 to go.

Tech pulled a successful on-side kick on the ensuing kickoff, getting the ball at the Eastern 44, but Harry Lenz, Maroon safety, intercepted a Swain pass on the first play from scrimmage and Eastern ran out the clock.

The win gave the Maroons

Maroons End Season With Morehead Eagles

Eastern will have more than one incentive when it closes out their 1965 season tomorrow against Morehead's Eagles in Morehead.

The Maroons need the win to maintain their hopes of a second-place finish in the Ohio Valley Conference. Their league mark now stands at 3-2-1.

An Eastern win would indicate that the Maroons' 28-12 win over Western and their 28-14 thumping of Tennessee Tech in their last two outings were not flukes.

And, a victory is necessary to break even in Roy Kidd's second year as head coach with a 4-4-1 record after being 0-3-1 after the first four games.

Perhaps at their best in beating Tech Saturday, the Maroons set two new records, and several more could go against Morehead.

The new standards are senior wingback Fred Malins' 32 pass receptions, surpassing the old season record of 29, and Larry Marmie's eight season touchdowns, tying Jimmy Chittum's 1962 record.

Good Punting Average Malins, who is averaging 42.4 yards per punt, can break another mark against the Eagles simply by maintaining his average. The old mark of 40.2 was set by the Pennsylvania booter last year.

Also in danger against the Eagles are two rushing records set by Maroon Little All-American Don Daly in his senior season, 1964. Freshman tailback Herman Carter, who gained 164 yards in 23 carries against Tech, tying a record for attempts, has a total of 553 yards in 94 trips.

Daly gained 699 yards in 110 carries in '54, meaning Carter would need 147 yards in at least 17 carries to set new records. In his last two outings the Cincinnati speedster has gained 270 yards in 36 carries.

Eastern will take a balanced attack to Morehead that has seen the team's 2,427 total yards almost equally divided between the run and pass. The Maroons have gained 1,227 yards on the ground and 1,202 through the air.

Leading the Maroons in scoring is Marmie with 48 points, followed by Carter with 30 on five touchdowns, and the league's leading placement kicker, Walter Murphy with 30 on 18 conversions and four field goals.

Morehead will face the Maroons with the OVC's No. 1 pass defense, and with a dangerous aerial attack led by quarterback Mike Gottfried.

Rifle Team Places Second

The rifle team traveled to the University of Kentucky last Saturday only to fall short of another victory. They lost by a three point difference. Kentucky took first with 1298 points and Eastern followed with 1295 points out of a possible 1500 points.

Eastern's top five shooters were: Ralph Klaber, 266; William Rigby, 260; David Spratt, 260; Ronnie Jackson, 259; and Ed Shaffer, 250. The other varsity shooters not in the top five were Larry Akers, Don Bataille, John Elkins, Walton, and Munn. UK's top shooter was Edison with 270.

Tomorrow Eastern will host Murray's varsity team in the Jouve Range.

I-M Flag Football League Leaders

These are the teams that are leading the flag football leagues. The tournament will be played sometime this month.

League 1—1st Hedonists, 2nd Tigers, 3rd Rams.

League 2—1st Mets, 2nd Attics, 3rd Rejects.

League 3—1st Bullbogs, 2nd PEMM, 3rd Bearcats.

Intramural basketball will start the week after Thanksgiving. Entry blanks may be picked up in room 119 Alumni Coliseum. This basketball program is open to all students representing a dorm, a floor, religious group or any other club on campus.

X-Country In Action

Eastern's cross-country team continued their winning ways by defeating Kentucky State 33-20 for their eighth consecutive victory. Kentucky State was last year's N.C.A.A. champs and has lost only two meets in 33 contests, both of them being to Eastern.

X-Country Team Up-ends Ky. State

Eastern's red hot cross-country team proved too powerful for Kentucky State, the defending NCAA Champions, in a meet on Kentucky State's home course last Saturday. Eastern turned in the impressive tally of 20 points compared to the defeated champs' 41.

This loss was only the second in four years for Kentucky State, and each time the Maroons have turned the trick.

Coach Smith's men had five of the first six finishers and eight of the first ten places.

Don Knox of Kentucky State, certainly one of the finest runners in the country, was the individual winner, but he was pushed to the limit by Eastern's speedy freshman Grant Colehour. Other Maroon runners finishing in the top five were: John Woods, 3rd, a freshman; Larry Whalen, 4th, a senior; and Jimmy Nichols, 5th, a freshman.

The Kentucky State contest, the 8th meet for Eastern's team, marked the close of the dual-triangular-meet season.

This is the finest season in Eastern's cross-country history. The Maroons have captured complete victories for all eight contests in which they participated.

Saturday Eastern journeys to Louisville for the State Federation Meet. Western will be the favorite because of its last year dark horse looms as the team with best possibility of beating Western.

Vaughn Frey is a freshman pharmacy major. He represents Company L and is from Carlisle, Ky. After graduation he plans to pursue a career in pharmacy.

Freshman Ed Clancy is representing Company A. He is a physical education major from Salem, New Jersey. After graduation he hopes to be an Army officer. He is pledging the counter-guerrilla raiders.

John Wills, from Paris, Ky. is a social science major. He also plans on being an Army officer after graduation. This "Cadet of the Week" represents Company M and is currently pledging Pershing Rifles.

Business major Larry R. Maddox is also representing Band Company. He is a freshman from Louisville and is pledging counter-guerrillas. After graduation he wants to make the army his career.

Henrickson To Sing In Missouri City

Donald G. Henrickson, assistant professor of music at Eastern Kentucky State College, will be bass soloist for the 49th annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" by the Independence Messiah Choir in the Missouri city on November 13. He has appeared with the group for the past six seasons.

This will not conflict with Henrickson's appearance as bass soloist here when the Eastern music department presents its "Messiah" on Sunday, December 12.

YOU, TOO, CAN BE INFERIOR

The second gravest problem confronting college students today is inferiority feelings. (The first gravest problem is, of course, the recent outbreak of moul among sorority house canaries.) Let us today look into the causes of inferiority feelings and their possible cures.

Psychologists divide inferiority feelings into three principal categories:

1. Physical inferiority.
2. Mental inferiority.
3. Financial inferiority.

(A few say there is also a fourth category: ichthyological inferiority—a feeling that other people have prettier fish—but I believe this is common only along the coasts and in the Great Lakes area.)

Let us start with the feeling of physical inferiority, perhaps the easiest to understand. Naturally we are inclined to feel inferior to the brawny football captain or the beautiful homecoming queen. But we should not. Look at all the people, neither brawny nor beautiful, who have made their marks in the world. Look at Napoleon. Look at Socrates. Look at Caesar. Look at Lassie.

What I mean is you can't always tell what's inside a package by looking at the outside. (Sometimes, of course, you can. Take Personna Stainless Steel Blades, for example. Just one glance at that jolly blue and white package—so bright and pert, so neat but not gaudy—and you know it has to contain blades of absolute perfection. And you are right! Personna gives you so many shaves per blade it takes a math major to count them. And they are luxury shaves—smoother, comfortabler, kinder to the kisser. Moreover, Personna comes both in Double Edge and Injector style. And as if this weren't enough, Personna is now offering you a chance to grab a fistful of $100 bills from a $100,000 bowl! The Personna Stainless Steel Sweepstakes is off and running, and you're all eligible to enter. Visit your friendly Personna dealer today to get details and an entry blank.)

But I digress. Let us turn now to the second category—mental inferiority. A lot of people think they are dumber than other people. This is not so. It must be remembered that there are different kinds of intelligence. Take, for instance, the classic case of the Sigafos brothers, Claude and Sturbridge, students at a prominent Western university (Dartmouth). It was always assumed that Claude was the more intelligent just because he knew more than Sturbridge about the arts, the sciences, the social sciences, the humanities, and like that. Sturbridge, on the other hand, was ten times smarter than Claude when it came to tying granny knots. But no matter; everybody looked down on "Stupid Sturbridge," as they called him, and looked up to "Clever Claude," as they called him. But who do you think turned out to be the smart one when their granny almost got loose and ran away? You guessed it—good old Stupid Sturbridge.

We arrive now at the final category, financial inferiority. One way to deal with this condition is to increase your income. You can, for example, become a fence. Or you can pose for a life class, if your college is well heated.

But a better way to handle financial inferiority is to accept it philosophically. Look on the bright side of poverty. True, others may have more money than you have, but look at all the things you have that they don't—debts, for instance, and hunger cramps.

Always remember, dear friends, that poverty is no disgrace. It is an error, but it is no disgrace.

97 Cadets Participate In FTX

Ninety-seven cadets participated in a field exercise last weekend at the Blue Grass Army Depot.

Participating in the exercises were freshmen and sophomore members of the Pershing Rifles, the Counter Guerrilla Raiders, and cadets who are part of the ROTC advanced program.

The purpose of the exercise is to better prepare the cadets for the 1966 ROTC summer camp and to reinforce previous training proper to active duty.

The exercises were organized by senior ROTC cadets in conjunction with the military science department, under the direction of Col. Everett M. Smith. The exercises began at 6 Saturday morning with the trip to BGAP, before breakfast and the beginning of classes.

Classes included instruction in combat formations, battle drill, camouflage, map, and compass, patrolling, day compass course, night compass course, squad in attack, and squad in defense.

After classes on Saturday, the cadets remained in the field over-night and resumed classes the following day.

The cadets returned to Eastern at 2:30 Sunday and turned in the equipment that had been issued to them.

The cadet commanding officer for the exercise was Bill Thorpe. The company commander was Robert Long. Daryl Wesley commanded the first platoon and Don Rector, the second platoon.

Exhibit Opens Art Gallery

Philip Harris, instructor in art at Eastern, left, and Daniel Shindelbower, department head, help a student uncrate painting which will be hung in the department's new gallery.

Student is Ashley M. Sexton, Jr., of Saltville, Va. Exhibit opens Sunday, November 14.

November Birthday?

New Art Gallery To Open Sunday

The new art gallery at Eastern will be opened Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. with the Ashland Oil Purchase Prize Collection of Paintings. The collection will remain here through Saturday, December 11.

"The Ashland Collection," according to Daniel N. Shindelbower, head of the department of art at Eastern, "is one of the most significant groups of contemporary American paintings to be assembled in this part of the country, both because of the artists included and because it represents an historical section of midwestern paintings across a span of twenty years."

The exhibit here Sunday in the Art Department's new gallery Oil and Refining Company of Ashland, Kentucky, is maintained through a yearly purchase prize given at the Louisville Art Center annual exhibit.

The collection, loaned to the Art Department by the Ashland will begin with a reception by the Student Art Club, to which the public is invited. The gallery is on the first floor of the Cammack Building, and its daily hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

In addition the gallery will be opened by special arrangement as a service to individuals and groups on Saturdays and Sundays.

Draft Draws Criticism

By JOHN CRAFT
Progress Staff Writer
The quota for the draft has been set at the highest since the Korean War. The Pentagon has ordered 45,224 men drafted in December.

The Kentucky draft was announced as being "upwards of 1000".

The increased draft calls will mean that the nation's two million male students will no longer be automatically deferred, said Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, National Director of the Selective Service Commission.

The law provides that if a student is not showing satisfactory progress, he will be subject to the draft.

College students on academic probation or who drop out of school for a semester are prime targets. Local boards will check records at the end of the semester.

Gen. Hershey said 5 to 10 percent of the male students would be affected.

Draft Will Last
All military officials agree that the draft will last for at least a generation.

Last year there were reports that the draft would be replaced by voluntary enlistment.

The draft is expected to last because of the constantly increasing unrest in the world.

Though no correct figures are available, Selective Service officials suspect that draft dodging is worse now than any time since the Civil War.

Not only are more men neglecting to register, ignoring official correspondence, refusing to report for physicals, and tearing up draft cards, but the threat of military service has scared thousands into premature marriages, unplanned schooling, and unwanted jobs.

There are many ways to beat the draft. The FBI and Selective Service Commission are bearing down on these.

Leftist Groups Criticized
Several leftist student groups have come under serious criticism after officials discovered they were organizing "beat the draft" campaigns.

Senator John Stennis, D., Miss. denounced this campaign and said, "I urge the administration to immediately move to jerk this movement up by the roots and grind it to bits."

PREPARE FOR READING PROJECT... Dr. Dixon Barr, Dean of the School of Education, Dr. Robert Byrne, director of the reading clinic, at Eastern inspect materials to be used in a cooperative reading improvement project involving fourth grade children in Glendover, Stonewall, and Tates Creek elementary schools in the Fayette County School system. The project will begin Nov. 18.

Cooperative Reading Project Planned

Dixon A. Barr, Dean of the School of Education and Guy S. Potts, superintendent of Fayette County schools, announced plans for a cooperative reading improvement project, involving fourth grade children in Glendover, Stonewall, and Tates Creek elementary schools.

Some of the children will receive their instruction on groups of sixty by means of overhead projectors or programmed learning books in dictionary skills. Others will be taught by more standard procedures and will get their instruction in smaller groups.

The project will begin on Nov. 18 with a meeting at Tates Creek Elementary school involving Joseph Wise, director of instruction for Fayette county; Dr. Robert Byrne, director of the reading clinic at Eastern Kentucky State College; Imogene Ramsey, reading clinic instructor; Philip Sleeman, director of the film library at Boston University; and principals and teachers of the three elementary schools.

The school principals, Bess Roberts of Glendover, Nancy West of Stonewall, and William Allen of Tates Creek, have reported that their teachers are enthusiastic about the project. Since dictionary skills are taught in almost all fourth grades across the nation, it is always helpful to be able to evaluate new methods for teaching them, Dr. Byrne said.

Using an overhead projector, a teacher is able to present appropriate materials to large groups of children at one time. Transparent sheets may be prepared in advance of class time and projected on a screen or wall while the teacher discusses the skills to be learned, and she may write on the sheet as she teaches.

A programmed learning book, another device to be used in the project, is more of a self-teaching device allowing a child to work at his own rate and to know immediately whether or not his answers are correct.
