Rechlin To Portray Leading Male Role; Barnes and Warner Given Leading Parts

DATE ANNOUNCED

By MARY AGNES FINNERAN The members of the Little Theatre Club of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College will present the fourth annual Shakespearean production, "Romeo and Juliet," in the Hiram Brock auditorium Tuesday evening, April 5.

It is the purpose of the club to bring to you an intelligent, as well as interesting, revival of the old classical drama.

The leading male role, Romeo, will be portrayed by Norbert G. Rechlin who is particularly adapted to this part, having appeared in all of the former Shakespearean presentations and in addition, assumed the part of Tullius in "The Late Christopher Bean."

The heads of the two warring factions will be taken by Edwin Barnes, as Montague, and by Charles Warner, who will appear as Capulet.

In the role of Benvolio, nephew of Montague, will appear Russell Childs, veteran of two of the former dramas and various plays, while Owen Gribbin will be Mercutio, friend to Romeo.

Other members of the masculine cast include: Leonard Stafford as Friar Lawrence, formerly appearing in the "Merchant of Venice," and having taken part in numerous radio programs throughout the year.

The leading female character, Juliet, will be portrayed by Margaret Hubbard, Junior Prom Queen of 1937, and known for her past performances in "Merchant of Venice," and "His Second Maid."

Shakespearean plays are known for the scarcity of female roles. The part of the nurse to Juliet will be played by Sue Toadvine, member of the cast in "Glee Plays the Game," a production of last semester.

The guests of Capulet's house who form the dance ensemble consist of Lois Elch, Bonnie Jean Applegate, Nelva Richardson, Annie Osbourne and Nita Creager.

The accompanying musical selections will be furnished by the college orchestra while the advertising and scenic designing are under the management of the Art and Manual Training Department of the institution.

Greatest care has been taken by the faculty director, Miss Pearl Buchanan, of the Speech Department of the college, in carrying out the ancient stage traditions and original version of the theme.

PROGRESS PLATFORM

A weekly school publication. A modified system of student government. A more active alumni association. Continued expansion of athletic department. Continued thoughtfulness in regard to college property. A greater Eastern.

Eastern's Alumni

The Alumni Association is "an organization of friends who have united in an effort to keep in touch with each other," as it was stated in the last issue of the Progress. We, the members of the class of 1938, have been at Eastern for four years. The college has come to mean a great deal to us; our college friends are dear to us. Soon a time of parting will come; perhaps we shall never see all of these friends again. If we do not wish this separation to be complete, so far as many friends are concerned, we should join the Alumni Association, the organization of friends. Also, we have been served well by our college. We should express our loyalty to our Alma Mater by joining the Alumni Association, an organization which exists solely for the benefit of those who do love the Alma Mater.

The members of the class of 1937 joined this association one hundred per cent. There was a good precedent, one that we should follow. Of the 1,175 alumni of Eastern, 246 are active members of the Alumni Association; that is, 246 have paid their dues of one dollar for the current year. Are we going to follow the example set by the 931, or are we going to follow that set by the 246 and by the class of 1937?

Loyalty and precedent are not the only things to be considered in deciding whether or not we shall join the Association. We ourselves are the ones who will be benefited by membership. The alumni secretary is interested in the Association and wishes to keep in touch with each member. Since the beginning of the semester last fall, he has sent over 9,000 pieces of literature and various communications to the members of the Alumni Association. But if we are not active members, we cannot expect to receive communications from the secretary, nor can we expect to receive the Progress, by means of which it will be possible for us to keep in touch with the alumni through the alumni news and with our friends who will still be in college.

Student Government

For several weeks there has been a great deal of discussion on the campus in favor of Student Government, but none except the Progress took enough interest to do anything about it.

However, in the past few weeks, the Student Relationship Council, under the direction of Mrs. Emma Y. Case, picked the problem of Student Government as a project to work upon for this year. Since deciding to do this, numerous letters have been written to colleges all over the country asking for information concerning the set-up of their respective forms of student participation in their school activities. Several letters and booklets, rich in material dealing with our question, were received in answer to our letters. In addition to this material, a complete bibliography of all magazines and books containing information on student government has been compiled. A thorough study of all this material has been made and formed into reports suitable for presentation to the student body.

We want the students of Eastern to understand that we are not attempting to force anything on them. It is merely our purpose to present our findings to the student body and faculty so that they might become just a little bit more educated as to the meaning of student government, its functions, and the various types open for us to adopt.

It is our earnest desire that no student make up his or her mind on the subject until they have heard what we have to say concerning the matter. Then, if they feel that student government of some form or other is not for us, then they can so express themselves.

At a future date, the Student Relationship Council will meet with the presidents of all the organizations on the campus and present our findings to them in an open forum meeting. They will in turn carry back to their respective organizations the material we have given them. They will offer us suggestions and we will use them. At a later date, we expect to present to the student body at large the results of all our research and meetings. We will do our best to acquaint each and every person on this campus with as many of the various aspects of student participation in the government of our school as we possibly can.

On March 23, a Dr. Baker, president of the Milwaukee State Teachers College of Wisconsin, will speak to us in chapel on student government. His school has a very successful form in operation at the present time and he is a qualified authority on the subject he is to discuss. What he has to say should be of interest to all loyal members of Eastern. We should be grateful to Dr. Donovan for bringing him to us.

In education, it is a question as to whether students are to live under one type of government or another. If the school represents a monarchy, the pupils should have the practice of being ruled. If it represents a democracy, then they should have practice in self-government.

Elmer Douglas, Acting Chairman, Student Relationship Council

Sportsmanship

In the recent tournament of the K. I. A. C. basketball wars, various degrees of that gentlemanly quality of true love of sportsman-like playing were displayed, not only by the players, but by those who spent their money to see the teams perform. It is a rare instance when you see ten boys battle their hearts out, with one team bound to come out on the losing end, and with the various supporters in the depths of chaos—seeing their team—the team they have pulled for during the regular season—lose the last and final game of the season in a tournament where the honor and glory of winning means everything to them and to those that they are hoping for, raise a round of applause when the winners walk off the floor with the trophy at the end of the contest. Not a boo or howl for the officiator, just a sense of being glad that it is Kentucky that is winning the games, that it makes no difference where the school is located, just believing that the best team won, won by the route of good, clean, hard playing, with the spectators winning too by playing just as hard as the teams on the floor.

On the other side of the floor the winners were in the last stages of complete ecstasy, paused in their revels to salute the losers as they leave the playing floor. A measure of sportsmanship that is seldom shown consideration by a winning aggregation.

Such measures of sportsmanship should be noted by every lover of fine athletics as they were practiced on the playing floor of the Weaver Health Building during the past week-end by the players, coaches, and spectators who came from the far-extended ends of the state to watch their teams perform in the acme of the Kentucky basketball, the K. I. A. C. tournament.

Journalistic Preparation

Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, told the Inland Daily Press Association "the shadiest educational ventures under respectable auspices are the schools of journalism."

Speaking on "What Education Cannot Do," the educator lumped journalism and public service with charm, personality and "how to get married and like it" as subjects which cannot be taught.

"What education cannot do," he asserted, "is to prepare men and women for specific jobs. All it can hope to do is to train their minds so that they can adjust themselves to any job."

He declared school of journalism "exist in defiance of the obvious fact that the best preparation for journalism is a good education. Journalism itself can be learned, if at all, only by being a journalist."

The first responsibility of the college, Dr. Hutchins said, was to help the student to understand the traditional wisdom of the race.

Book Lists Are To Students What Road Maps Are To Tourists, Says Miss Floyd, Eastern's Librarian

"With the stream-lined speed of modern life, it is easy to miss some of the scenery that would sink into our souls if it had a chance, some of the people we'd like to know if we had more time, and some of the books that would delight and enrich us," says an author in an article on "Old books worth remembering."

"Give me just one hour a day, and in four years I will make you a scholar and a philosopher," says Will Durant for introduction to an article he wrote concerning his list of "One Hundred Best Books" for an education.

And with spring just around the corner one needs be a philosopher to prevent that vagabonding urge from luring him entirely from the matter of getting an education. We hear much these days about self-direction, self-control, individual initiative, originality, and the like. To which the modern young man might answer, "So what?"

In this case the answer is: "Book lists, young man." For lists are to the students what good road maps, time tables and guide books are to tourists. With more than 20,000 new titles having been published in the English language during the good year, 1937, not to mention that more than 2,000 different magazines are available on news stands and by subscription, one is at a loss to know WHAT TO READ.

Add to that the modern advertising with high pressure salesmanship; the radio, the picture show; and the newspapers with streamlined captions entirely out of proportion to the real significance of the news and the need for some kind of guidance in reading seems imperative.

To deal in superlatives concerning book lists would weaken our cause. They are not to be considered a panacea for all ills. But for a self-starter, I know of nothing better than to read some of the books lists compiled by persons who have read widely enough to know the "old books worth remembering."

"Do not read good books—life is too short for that—only read the best. And of these only read what gives you the greatest pleasure," wrote Abbe Dimmet in "The Art of Thinking." Reading is so entirely a personal matter that a blanket recommendation would be more than absurd. But the fact remains that the world expects the twentieth century man and woman to be well informed.

Alumni News

By SAM BECKLEY, Alumni Secretary

The following article concerning Gordon Nash (class of 1937) was sent to your Alumni Secretary by Miss Lucille Miller, a member of and reporter for the faculty of Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, North Carolina.

Gordon Nash, a 1937 graduate of Eastern, is a valuable addition to the faculty of the training school of Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone, North Carolina. Besides being a critic teacher in mathematics and the director of the high school band, he directs a choir made up of college students at the First Methodist church. The Appalachian State Teachers College orchestra has recently been organized and is being directed by him.

Mr. Nash is the organizer of the high school band. The band started rehearsals in October with fifteen members, and since that time it has grown to thirty members. The band has been presented in six public appearances since December 18. Plans are developing now for the buying of uniforms, the training of drum majors, and the continuing of the organization in the summer months.

The college symphony orchestra gave its first appearance February 7, when the Playcrafters, college dramatic organization, gave the play, R. U. R. Another program was presented in the college assembly on February 10 at the request of the student body. The orchestra, with the glee club, presented the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, Pinafore, on February 26. A tour of junior colleges is planned for the orchestra this month.

Mr. Nash is receiving much praise from local and campus leaders for his successful work with these organizations.

Student Council Gives Reports On Self Government

Way back yonder somewhere, some old gentleman made a passing remark to the effect that "In the spring a young man's fancy turns lightly to thoughts of love." Now he wasn't being original by any means, for Mr. and Mrs. Adam probably knew that while strolling in their garden . . . he was merely stating a hunk of common knowledge.

Today that classic remark has been changed quite a bit. One version of it is "In the spring a young man's fancy turns lightly to what the woman has been thinking about all winter. Another version is "In the spring a young man's fancy . . . isn't he?" Be that as it may, they all mean one and the same thing and what your correspondent is trying to get around to is that Spring, for all practical purposes, is upon us. Outdoor classes in Campusology will be held every nite . . . all persons interested are requested to form a line at the Progress window last Tuesday and fill out application blanks.

To Lexington the other day and I found one of the minor curses of this modern age. Sitting in the back of a bus with the wind blowing up a nice spring breeze outside . . . and the window was stuck. After trying unsuccessfully to open the window with everything from kind words to a crowbar, I sat sweating and cursing the Greyhound Lines Inc. for the duration of the trip.

As Goon Bunny of the week, Jim Hart for starting out on a 120-mile hitch-hiking tour in the middle of a rain storm. Jim is still damp.

With apologies to Vernon Davis, author of the "Battle of the Belmont," that famous exhibition led by Admiral Paul DeMolsey, I now present "War Games at the Glympion."

The Orientals (Easterns, I mean) feeling that their naval (air mostly) base was secure from foreign attack launched most of their submarines (really sub-normals) at the strategic point on the eve of Maxium Absent day—last Saturday. The Orientals, being somewhat modest, however, flew only half of their colors—the White. The long rolls of white tissue decorated the scene beyond description and the celebration was in full swing. . . . When suddenly a small and heavily-armed cruiser bearing foreign colors roared into port. A controversy followed. "The Open Door Policy" was ignored but the Monroe Doctrine was defended. . . . An air raid followed (both sides furnishing the air, with the opposition using gas and black-worded torpedoes).

The Master of the Seas, those peacemaking G-B's wearing blue coats instead of what they used during the Revolutionary war, steamed in—this probably at the request of "The League of Sleepers." Their first maneuver was to isolate the foreign invader, strip her of ammunition, and smother the gas drum. . . . BUT to the disappointment of a throng of natives and spies the Oriental dwarf cruiser "The Phelix Holbrook" was rammed in the stern end and towed to a "back-seat" position on the G-B's flat boat. (Not flat feet). . . . During this bit of action the foreigner puffed out to sea, and thru, and only thru, the diplomacy of Gentleman-Statesman Limb, representing the Orientals, and Bauman, ambassador-at-large, was the Mighty Lion's tail twisted enough to secure a release for the "Holbrook." From here on we are not interested as the celebration took on renewed life and the invader was conquered. (By Maurer).

Group Making Exhaustive Study of Student Government

By Rebekah Vallandigham Council Reporter
The Student Relationship Council of Eastern at a special meeting held Tuesday evening, March 8, reviewed the results of their exhaustive research on Student Government.

DOUGLAS PRESIDES

Each of the members of the council had been assigned sources of research, and after they presented their information, questions were asked and suggestions were proposed.

It is the aim of the council to combine all the information gathered from these speeches and present it at a special meeting of the presidents of all the campus organizations on March 22.

On March 23, President Frank E. Baker of the State Teacher's College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, will speak in chapel. The title of his address will be "Student Participation in College Administration."

The council pointed out that the main purpose of student government is not disciplinary, but rather that it has the self-interest of the student body at heart. Mr. Douglas, acting chairman, emphasized the fact that it is not the desire of the council to force self-government upon the student body. Their main object is to acquaint the students with the advantages to be obtained from a democratic form of government. The student will decide for himself whether or not he wishes to participate in such a plan.

NORTHERN KY. CLUB TO SPONSOR EXCURSION

At a recent meeting of over 100 members, the Northern Kentucky Club of Eastern decided to sponsor a moonlight boat ride on the steamer Island Queen, at Cincinnati on April 16. Inasmuch as this will be during the Spring vacation, all members and alumni of the club will be there.

The club, with Norb Rehtin, president, presiding, also decided to have their pictures in the yearbook and planned their next party, to be held at Eastern in the near future.

Hilltoppers Sweep Through K.I.A.C. Tournament for Seventh Consecutive Time; Murray Swamped in Final Tilt

Thoroughbreds Lead At Half by 17-10; Final Score is 35-23

ALL-STARS NAMED

For the seventh time in a row the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers won the K. I. A. C. tournament, by defeating all comers regardless of pre-tournament dope. This year, being no exception, the Hilltoppers won the tourney by defeating the co-tournament favorites, Murray's Thoroughbreds, in the final game, 35-23.

Murray seemed to be on the way for an easy victory in the opening period when they ran the score to 17 to 2 with only six minutes of the half left. The Hilltoppers were able to cut the lead to 17 to 10 at the intermission period.

In the second half the Toppers came back to score 33 points while the Bluebloods were scoring 6, and held the Murray five to one field goal.

Western, which broke even with Murray in the two games during the regular season, has won more than half of the K. I. A. C. tournaments, not losing since 1931.

The Hilltoppers appeared to be much fresher than the Thoroughbreds after they had more or less coasted through the semi-finals by defeating the Morehead Eagles 46-25, while Murray was hard pushed all the way after barely defeating the Georgetown Tigers 26-24 in their semi-final game.

At the conclusion of the game Lieut. Gov. Keen Johnson presented the trophy emblematic of the championship to the Western team. Murray was awarded the runner-up trophy for the third time in four years.

Gold basketball charms were presented to the members of the champion team and silver awards were given to the Murray team.

Magruder scored a field goal to start the scoring in the championship contest. This was followed by a free throw by McKeel, McCrocklin then tallied the first points for Western with a crisp. With McKeel, Burdette and Hürley hitting from all angles, the Thoroughbreds piled up a 17-2 lead. Six minutes before the half Western started hitting and brought the score to 17-10 at the half.

In the first six minutes of the second period the Hilltoppers held the Murray team scoreless and came within two points of the Thoroughbreds with scores from the field by McCrocklin and a free toss by Hackett. McCrocklin then pushed through two fielders to put Western out in front for the first time. Commanding most of the scoring for the remainder of the game the Hilltoppers coasted on to the championship.

The all-tournament honor team, selected by coaches, officials and newspapermen, was announced following the game. The squad was as follows: McCrocklin, Saddle, and Dudgeon of Western; McKeel, Burdette and Magruder of Murray; King of Eastern, Sullivan of Union and Neale of Georgetown.

Second "Open House" Sponsored By Social Committee Of College

The second "open house" reception at Burnam Hall dormitory was given Saturday evening, March 10, from 7 to 10 o'clock. This even was under the auspices of the social committee of the college, comprising selected student representatives from each class and is under the sponsorship of Mrs. Emma Y. Case, dean of women.

A friendly atmosphere prevailed in the reception room while students and guests participated in a pleasant evening of amusement. Cards were provided those who wished to play and other recreational games also made their appearance. Refreshments were served later in the evening by the members of the social committee.

STUDENT IS HONORED BY MASONIC GROUP

Frazier B. Adams, student at Eastern, was made a Master Mason by the Richmond Masonic Lodge Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting. Mr. Adams took his first degree at Whitesburg before receiving his master's here.

Mr. Adams is a senior and will receive his degree in August.

CAPITOL CITY CLUB ORGANIZED BY STUDENTS

The Capitol City Club was organized by students from Franklin and Scott counties at a meeting held last week. Officers of the new social group are Wilburn Barber, president; Carl Moore, vice-president, and Mary Mitchell, secretary-treasurer.

Eleventh Regional Tournament Here This Week-End

Madison Plays University High; Georgetown Meets Lawrenceburg

FINALS SATURDAY

First round matches in the eleventh regional high school basketball tournament, being played in the Weaver gymnasium here, will be completed tonight when the results of the Madison-University High- and Georgetown-Lawrenceburg games are posted.

Coach Ralph Carlisle's Royal Purples will square off against Coach "Pete" Kemper's University High quintet in the first game tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

In the final game of the first round the Georgetown Buffaloes will meet Lawrenceburg. That game is scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Semi-final rounds, pitting the winner of the Wilmore-Oxford game against the winner of the Berea-Burgin game, will be played tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The winners of tonight's tilts will play each other in the other semi-final round at 3 o'clock.

The game, which will see the champion of this region crowned, will be called at 8:30 o'clock.

Gayle Mohny and "Frenchy" DeMoisey are the officials. The admission price of each session is 40 cents.

Thirty-Four Take Part In Initial Spring Grid Work

Baseball Players Be Released From Practice Next Week

SCRIMMAGES SLATED

Thirty-four huskies answered Coach Rome Rankin's call for spring football practice which began Monday afternoon, Feb. 28. Initial practice consisted mostly of fundamental work in body blocking, correct backfield stance, formation, passing, charging, linemen's stance and muscle-building drills.

Coach Rankin stated that he would keep the entire squad out for two weeks before releasing the baseball players. The remaining group will continue practice for four or five weeks. There will be a scrimmage every Saturday during the entire session.

Early dopsters are predicting that the shifting of "Doc" Lydey from guard to center and Walter Hill from the backfield to tackle will greatly strengthen the forward wall. Ed Harrell and Ora Tussey, burley freshmen who starred on last year's Baby Maroon team, are showing good form in the early practices. Many of the veterans are a bit stale but with the addition of plenty new material they are expected to hit their regular season stride in a few days.

R. O. T. C. PISTOL

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Cincinnati. Because of the proximity of the two schools, it was found financially practicable to abandon the "postal" system and actually bring the competing teams together. For this purpose, Xavier will visit Richmond on March 12, while Eastern will fire a return engagement in Cincinnati on March 26.

The pistol team of Eastern is composed of the following men: Bill Barnett, Robert Blair, Richard Brown, Luther Brumfield, Ernest Combs, Charles Eades, Roy Farmer, Walter Henry, who is team captain, Cecil Preece, Stephen Rich, and Frank Wilcox.

HOWARD PARKER RECEIVES WEST POINT APPOINTMENT

Howard Bryant Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Parker, Corbin, has received an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Mr. Parker, a sophomore at Eastern, is very prominent in the music department and R. O. T. C. He expects to complete the year's work here and will leave for West Point June 1.

Sports INSIGHT

By RAYMOND STIVERS

According to all reports the K. I. A. C. basketball tournament held here two weeks ago was one of the most successful in the history of the conference. Outstanding to me was the fine sportsmanship displayed by all the colleges represented. Not at any time was there displayed any ill feeling between the players or their supporters. Charles "Turkey" Hughes is to be commended on the manner in which he handled the whole affair. It is our hope that Eastern will be privileged to have the tournament many more times.

Last Thursday when the Maroons played Murray in the tournament marked the last game in the Maroon and White uniform for Roy King, Ray Fritts and Otwell Rankin. Eastern is not only losing three first-class hardwood performers when these boys graduate but they are losing three gentlemen of the highest ranking. We salute these three fellows and wish them the best of luck in whatever business or profession they enter.

"Any man that can make 20 points against any team is pretty good," said Carlisle Cutchin when asked about Roy King, who tallied that number against the Thoroughbreds. I agree with Mr. Cutchin and besides making 20 points in the contest, Roy showed leadership, sportsmanship and general all around ability during the contest.

Roy, one of the most popular students on the campus thruout his college life, will be missed from both the gridiron and the hardwood next season. It will be no easy job for Coach Rankin to find someone to replace "Big All" at either place.

Ed Hesser's swimming team, K. I. A. C. champions last year, appear to be in top form again this season. They defeated Berea at the local pool last Friday night by a score of 39-27. Bob Dickman, Eastern's flashy and spectacular springboard artist, was outstanding for Hesser's men. (Mark this one down—Eastern will be K. I. A. C. champs again this season).

With "Pinchy" King, mainstay of Coach Hembree's last year's pitching staff, and "Lefty" Shetler, freshman moundsman, showing great form, it appears that Eastern will again be tops in Kentucky collegiate baseball circles this year. King, it will be remembered, was formerly an infielder until Coach Hembree needed more pitching. Coach Hembree is also expecting much from Leslie "Snoot" Voshell, slugging outfielder, and Jim Caldwell, veteran catcher. Both Voshell and Caldwell have been consistent hitters for the past several seasons.

Baseball Nine To Open Season With Michigan State

Team To Be Built Around Veterans Of Last Season

SCHEDULE GIVEN

By RAYMOND STIVERS

With less than three weeks remaining before the Eastern baseballers go into action on an 18-game schedule, Coach George Hembree is putting his cohorts thru strenuous drills in order to hit upon the most efficient combination to put on the diamond when they open the season here March 26 against Michigan State.

The Maroons will face such teams as Oberlin, Indiana, Maryville, University of Cincinnati, and DeKalb University. During the spring vacation the Hembreemen will make a tour south, playing Lincoln Memorial, April 16, Maryville, 15, and L. M. U. again on the 16th. On this same tour last year the Easterners took all three games. The Teachers will close their season with a two-game series here May 23-24 against L. M. U.

According to Coach Hembree, the prospects for a crack team are bright. Hembree will build his team around the veterans of last season, namely, Lester King, Les Voshell, Roy King, Harry Bryant, Jim Caldwell and Rice. The main freshman addition to the baseballers seems to be "Lefty" Shetler, L. King, Rice, and Yeager. Captain Jim Caldwell will do most of the receiving, with Williams assisting.

The Maroons' schedule is as follows:

- Mar. 26—Michigan State, here.
- Apr. 1—Open.
- Apr. 8—Oberlin, here.
- Apr. 9—Indiana, here.
