'BUG' WARFARE

Secretary of War Patterson recently issued a directive forbidding any further mention of bacteriological warfare by those officers and chemists directly connected with the weird experiments now being conducted. A heavy curtain as thick as the one that still hides most of our atomic secrets has been drawn to cloak the work.

Many military circles have more respect for bacteriological warfare than for an atomic bomb war since the United States has spent $50 million on its bacteriological experiments and a mere $2 billions on the atomic program.

During these experiments important discoveries have been made in counteracting some of the deadliest diseases; knowledge of great benefit to the medical world. Washington's problem now should be how to control what is known and put it to work for the good of man, not for his destruction.

A SOCIAL QUANDARY

Figures released from the Registrar's office at South Dakota State College reveal that there are 1,523 men on campus and only 429 coeds. This constitutes a social problem, since 1,094 of the boys will have to bear up without dates.

As a solution, Jack Case, an editorial writer, feels that the student body should adopt a modified form of polyandry. Under such a system each coed would have three or four boy friends at each dance instead of the customary single escort. This would establish a cooperative, share-our-natural-resources attitude among the fellows and at the same time satisfy the coed's normal inclination to be surrounded by hordes of admirers, he feels.

It would also be an improvement from the economic standpoint, splitting the girls' expenses three or four ways. However, one problem connected with the proposal remains to be worked out. This controversy involves the procedure on the porch of Wenona hall. When that minor problem has been solved, the social difficulties at State College will be at an end.

ACTOR VANDENBURG

Some say that "he appears and acts just as Hollywood would have a senator appear and act." Others say that he "has stood squarely on both sides of every issue for the past ten years."

But when it comes to discussing his work at the UN meeting, nearly all agree that more than once it has been Sen. Arthur Vandenberg's coolness and level thinking that has saved the face of the United States. Whatever his vacillations in the past, the harness maker's son is directly responsible for a sizeable portion of the UN's points.

Y Delegates At Meet

A Leadership Training meeting for college Y. M. C. A.'s in Kentucky was held February 22 at Kentucky State College in Frankfort. Margaret Graham, Joyce Broyles, and Lula Thurman made up the Eastern delegation. There were also representatives from Berea, Morehead, University of Kentucky, and Kentucky State.

After the registration, the program began with introductions, singing, and a worship service led by Eastern students. From eleven o'clock until twelve-thirty delegates from the different colleges gave talks of student concern.

In the afternoon session, Professor E. G. Trimble of the University, and Dr. Atwood, President of Kentucky State College, spoke on "Kentucky—On the Way." Following this, those attending were divided into discussion groups to discuss various college problems. At four-fifteen there was a business meeting. After this meeting followed another period of worship, and then adjournment of the convention.

Those attending enjoyed being guests at Kentucky State and were complimentary of their campus and hospitality.

Mermen Swim Sat.

Eastern's Mermen will journey to Berea tomorrow night, in an attempt to outplish the Mountaineers. The meet will begin at 7:30 in the college natatorium.

Nine men will make the trip besides swimmer-coach, Paul Love, and trainer, Herb Millon.

Berea has already participated in an A.A.U. meet and gained valuable experience. Several of their swimmers have swum in good times and they will be a tough team to beat.

Tentative lineup is as follows: 300 yard Medley Relay—L. Gentry, L. Nickell, J. Kerley. 50 yard Freestyle—D. Bachmeyer and R. Scaif. 150 yard Backstroke—L. Gentry. 200 yard Breaststroke—L. Nickell. Diving—R. Robbins. 100 yard Freestyle—S. McHargue.

220 yard Freestyle—R. Sensel. 440 yard Freestyle—R. Elliot. 400 yard Freestyle Relay—R. Scaif, D. Bachmeyer, R. Sensel, J. Kerley.

New $450,000 Science Building For Eastern

Pictured above is the new $450,000 Science building to be constructed at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College. A contract for the foundation, underground services system and road construction will be awarded in the spring. The building is hoped to be completed by the fall of 1948. Plans for the building were approved at the last meeting of the Board of Regents. It will be located West of the Weaver Health building.

Western Regains Crown by 54-43

The Eastern Maroons of Paul McBrayer fought the Hilltoppers of Western on even terms for the first ten minutes Saturday night but then weakened and allowed Western to build up a 29-17 halftime lead and the Toppers held on to defeat the battling Maroons 54-43 at the Jefferson county Armory for their 12th KIAC championship.

Eastern, who had the harder trail to go in reaching the finals, fought Western on even terms for the greater portion of the first half but weakened when Lloyd "Stretch" Hudnall was forced to retire from the game with five personals.

Although the Maroons were conquered they put up a grand fight and with three reserves playing practically all the second half outscored Western 26 points to 25. Shortly after the start of the second half Paul Hicks, Eastern's long shot artist, committed his fifth personal and a short time later was followed by Ed Shemelya.

Hudnall, a senior, playing his last game for Eastern, kept the Maroons in the ball game along with "Chuck" Mrazovich and Ed Shemelya as they controlled the backboards and denied Western's giants control of the ball. Hudnall was guarded by Western's stellar "Duck" Ray, but the lanky Maroon forward continually broke away from Ray to score craps and completely outplay the Western ace.

Hudnall started things off for Eastern when he was fouled by Dee Gibson and made one of two free throws awarded him. Spears tallied with a jump shot from the side and Western led 2-1. Shemelya connected with a gratis toss to tie the ball game up at 2-2. Hudnall dropped in a foul shot and a few seconds later was fouled by Ray and made another gratis toss to send Eastern to the fore 4-2.

Again the rangy Maroon forward connected as he drove in for a crup to increase the Maroon margin to four points, 6-2. Joe Fryz made a foul toss and a short time later Hudnall again connected on a tip in and the Maroons led 9-2. Hudnall fouled Ray and the Western giant connected and followed a few seconds later on another jump shot to cut the Eastern lead to four points.

Eastern continued to play heads up ball and increased their margin to six points as Hudnall broke away from Ray and dropped in a crup shot and the Maroons were out in front 11-5. Chalmers Embry kept Western in the game with a medium bucket but this was nullified as "Chuck" Mrazovich sank a medium toss and Eastern had their second biggest lead of the contest, 13-7.

Western then began to rally and slowly crept up on the Maroons. Embry sank a short shot, Ray hit a crup and Eastern led by only two points. Ray sank a gratis toss and finally with six and one-half minutes to go Gibson fired away from far back in the court to connect and Western led, 14-13.

The Hilltoppers continued to bang away, while Eastern was unable to register and at half time Ed Diddle's charges were out in front 29-17.

The Maroons came back stronger in the second half and outscored the Hilltoppers but were unable to overcome the earlier Western lead and the Hilltoppers won 54-43.

Eastern placed two men on the all-tournament team. Those honored were Joe Fryz and Charlie "Chuck" Mrazovich who also walked off with scoring honors. Fryz led all scorers in the tournament as he garnered 48 points and was followed closely by Mrazovich with 45. Others listed on the all-tourney squad were "Duck" Ray, Odie Spears, Dee Gibson and Chalmers Embry, all of Western, Jack Coleman of Louisville, Johnny "The Red" Reagan of Murray, Fairce Woods of Kentucky Wesleyan, Bob Moore of Georgetown, and Sonny Allen of Morehead.

Tsi Hsing Wang Spoke On "China"

On Friday evening, February 21, a small group in the Little Theater had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Tsi Hsing Wang of Kunming, China, speak to them on the subject of China.

In his brief speech, Mr. Wang gave a history of China and pointed out places of interest on the map.

Speaking in interest of the World Student Service Fund Drive, he told of the heroic struggle of Chinese students in carrying on their work in their transplanted universities during the Japanese invasion. Their school buildings were of mud bricks with thatched roofs and their furniture and equipment very simple. There was an everlasting lack of books, food, medicine, and other necessities.

Mr. Wang received his Master's Degree from Bucknell University. He has traveled extensively in the United States, Europe, and Asia. He is a Y. M. C. A. secretary in Kunming and at the present is making a speaking tour of the United States on behalf of Chinese rehabilitation.

Officials To Attend Meets

Next week President W. F. O'Donnell and Dean W. J. Moore will journey to Atlantic City for a week's stay. This isn't at all a vacation, a chance to see the "boardwalk and bathing beauties" for which this scenic spot is so well known, but strictly for the furtherance of Eastern's high ideals in teacher education.

Thursday, February 28, and Friday, March 1, our delegates will attend the annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers' colleges, of which Eastern is a member. This meeting, which is under the guidance of President Paul V. Sangren, Western Michigan College of Education, Kalamazoo, will discuss such prominent topics as "Major Trends in Teacher Education," "Recent Innovations in the Education of Teachers," and "The Establishment of World Peace and International Good Will." Prominent speakers will be Dr. Florence Stratsmeyer, Columbia; Dr. Lloyd Allen Cook, Wayne; and many others. This meeting is of eminent importance to all teachers' colleges.

From March 1 to March 6, our delegates will attend the annual meeting of the National Education Association, an organization including most of the high schools and colleges of the U. S. The theme of this meeting will be "Education and the Development of Human and Natural Resources," which will be ably discussed by such prominent speakers as Former Governor Ellis G. Arnall of Georgia, Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug, Senator Robert A. Taft, and James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard University. Just to mix a little pleasure with the business, the delegates will be entertained by Phil Spitalny and his All-Girl Orchestra, Fred Waring, and other prominent bands during their sojourn at the Ambassador hotel.

These meetings are another of the steps toward better education for the American people and may be considered a prominent milestone in the progress of this vital necessity of our life.

"Naughty Marietta" Rehearsals Continue

Anyone passing the Hiram Brock Auditorium on Monday or Wednesday nights will know that the rehearsals for "Naughty Marietta" are reaching an advanced stage. The chorus principals and orchestra have combined their talents into a well regulated musical comedy.

Flats are laid out on the stage, awaiting the fierce administrations of would be painters—costumes have been ordered from a New York jobber—tickets are on sale at Eastern and down town—and the show is about to begin!

On March the 13th, Thursday night, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium, the curtain will go up on Victor Herbert's tuneful and gay musical comedy, "Naughty Marietta." What more could one ask for one evening's entertainment—clever dialogue, sparkling music, colorful costumes, and impressive stage sets. Imagine Bill Gravelly as a bold buccaneer, chased by Betty Perraut, who is a vicious and determined husband seeker! There can also be seen ten beautiful casquette maids, who do a kick routine that would put to shame the Rockettes. (I think!) Spanish dancers do a gay fandango, as beautiful quadroons sing their chorus. Gene Elder, as Marietta, sings the "Zizy-Zizy-Zing-Zing-Zing," Italian street song with all the abandon of Jeanette McDonald, and truer pitch!

Glenna Frisby has charge of the tickets—reserved seats are ninety cents, general admission is sixty cents, and grade school students (and younger) tickets are thirty cents. Buy your tickets early—now—and be sure of a good seat. This is another all-student production, so let's get back of it and give these talented performers a big audience.

Band To Give Concert

The college band, under the direction of Harold Rigby, will present a concert on Wednesday, March 5th, during the chapel period. The program is as follows: Barnum and Bailey's Favorite March; Merry Wives of Windsor; America, We March; Rose Marie Selections; Deep Purple; Little Brown Jug; The Aristocrat.

World Student Service Drive This Week

The Y sponsored drive for the World Student Service Fund began at Eastern last Wednesday, February 26.

During the first World War, this World Student Service Organization was formed for the purpose of aiding college students in war-torn countries to secure a college education. Today with the starving millions of people in Europe and Asia the need is greater than ever before. The story is told of a Polish professor who, in midwinter, sold his overcoat to buy food to keep from starving and the Chinese student who sold his bed in order to buy food. We here at Eastern are so far removed from all of this that we never think of our fellow students.

Now is our opportunity to think of our fellow student, to put ourselves in his place. This is a campaign for funds from students to students.

Each evening in the recreation room throughout the remainder of the drive, girls will solicit contributions.

On Thursday at 6:30 p. m., a program on the W. S. S. fund was given.

The greatest gifts are gifts wherein sacrifices are made. Could you not do without one day's desserts and give that money to a fellow student in a war-torn world? Give that they might live.

Earle Spicer Will Give Concert Here

Chapel speaker for March 12 will be Mr. Earle Spicer, prominent baritone singer and interpreter of American and English folk music. His distinctive entertainment has won him re-engagements at Vanderbilt, Cornell, New York University, Purdue, and many other large colleges. He is best described as possessing a manly voice, a captivating personality, and a great sense of humor. The New York Sun describes his voice as "full of rich quality and power"; The Cincinnati Times-Star says: "He brought down the house."

Mr. Spicer has studied in London and New York, and has sung with many of the leading Symphony orchestras. This should prove to be one of the most informative programs ever to be presented at Eastern's chapels, and should be one worth the attendance.

Representative Of Red Cross Here

Miss Helen Picking, a Red Cross representative, was a guest on Eastern's campus this past week.

Miss Picking spoke to several of the members Thursday evening in an after dinner discussion. Miss Dorothy Brandhorst, chairman, introduced Miss Picking and gave a general outline of her discussion. This consisted of work at the Veterans' Hospital, in Lexington, the March Drive, services we render to the local hospitals, the veteran and his family, and general work that could be done on our campus.

On Friday, chairman of the several committees meet Miss Picking for a general discussion and to raise any question concerning the committees.

ATTENTION!
W. A. A.'s vs. Nazareth tonight. Proceeds go to the World Student Service Fund. Please come and support your team. Admission 15c.

Miss Jackson And Miss McPherson To Present Recital

AS WE SEE IT

Quite a number of students have asked me recently to write an editorial on the breaking of "chow line." I had thought that this issue had been settled last September when we got to school and found that there were a few other hungry students on the campus who were having to wait in line just as long as the one who thinks he must break line. But it seems that a few have either forgotten or else they just have no scruples against committing such a social "crime."

It is supposed to be definitely understood that you just DON'T BREAK LINE. That's all there is to the question. You take your place at the end of the line and wait along with the others. There is no police force to patrol the lines and force you to keep in step, but there are certain understandings among people in a group which should be abided by.

If Johnny is saving you a place in line so he can eat lunch with you, it would probably be much safer if you very graciously declined his offer and took your place at the foot of the line. Remember that there are a lot of hungry people watching you.

Not that I expect anyone to read my editorials, but there was one a couple of issues ago concerning the way that a few people are absolutely mutilating the campus. I have noticed since then that there is still the utter disregard for the beauty of the campus. If you have ever seen Eastern in the spring, it would be impossible for you to cut down through the amphitheatre on your way to class or to take a short cut through that small plot of dirt by the library. If you have the first ounce of school spirit or even a small amount of love for nature, then won't YOU PLEASE USE THE SIDEWALKS?

It won't be long until those paths are going to really begin to show. I'm not appealing to you for myself nor for anyone else. The only way I can appeal is for Eastern and for the very sake of beauty itself.

Won't you please not cut across the campus and won't you please use the sidewalks?

"Oh, yes, Gus, and one home to me."

Womanless Wedding Performed

On the evening of February 14, 1947, the wedding of Miss (?) George Thornton Cowan, Jr., to Mr. John Cosby was uproariously solemnized at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. (?) Buell Mills using the lovely wedding ceremony from a Montgomery-Ward catalogue.

White candelabra stood on each side of the altar, improvised with a huge red and white heart on a white background. Miss Kathryn Jasper, pianist, played the traditional pre-nuptial music.

The proud father, Mr. Harold Harris, with his trusty shotgun under one arm, escorted the blushing bride up the wrong aisle to the strains of "Yessir, She's My Baby Now." Miss (?) Cowan was gowned in a lovely white dress imported from Richards of Burnam Hall. Her veil was a borrowed lace curtain held in place by "Jasper's Last Bobby-Pins." She carried a bouquet of orange carrots and kale greens tied with a large red ribbon.

The matron of honor, Mrs. (?) Edsel Vanderpoll, wore a blue and white striped-jersey dress and carried a nosegay of red radishes. The flower girl, one of the Graham twins, tripped gaily up the aisle, strewn rose-colored petals from the pages of a former issue of the B. S. U. Key.

The bride and her father were met at the altar by the trembling groom, breathless from his race to the church, and the best man, Mr. Winford Floyd. The usher, Mr. E. N. Perry, Jr., had already rushed the guests down the aisle to the best seats behind the posts. Master Gene Jones, with trousers nearly rolled, carried the pure rubber jar-ring on a blue sofa pillow.

The bride's mother, the other Graham twin, wearing a lovely yellow wool dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white onions, wept profusely and incessantly into her handkerchief of white toweling, donated by the forsaken suitor who soon passed out with laughter.

The wedding party marched out while the pianist played "The Fight Is On." (The preacher seemed to have an illuminated bright red spot on one cheek.)

Immediately after the ceremony, cokes and plate lunches were shoved out the kitchen window to the starving guests. After an extended wedding trip to Cornett's Drug Store, the happy couple will be at home at Beckham Hall.

ODDS AND ENDS

By JOHN MAYHALL

Now that basketball season is over, everyone can start concentrating on studies (the profs hope) or will everyone's thinking turn to dances or things to do this summer, such as that trip to Boonesboro beach or "I'll need a new gown for the military ball." Whatever it is we know it will happen the way we want it.

Some of you have been wondering where I get the brains to write this column of "corn." Well, I have a confession to make. This column is mostly copyright, sharing with you poetry, etc., that I like. Of course, some of the stuff is original. If you had two roommates like I have, that being Bromley and Hogue, you, too, would sound corny after a while.

BEWARE

The horse and mule live thirty years, And nothing know of wines and beers; The goat and sheep at twenty die And never taste of Scotch and Rye;

The cow drinks water by the ton And at 18 is mostly done; The dog at 15 cashes in, Without the aid of Rum and Gin.

The cat in milk and water soaks And then in 12 short years it croaks; The modest, sober, bone-dry hen Lays eggs for nogs, then dies at ten.

All animals are strictly dry, They sinless live and swiftly die. But sinful, ginful, rum-soaked MEN, Survive for three score years and ten!

MAROONED

with LESLIE NORMAN

The room is dimly lit. On the table sets an ash tray, a half-smoked cigarette sends a smoky screen through the dark shadows of the curtains. Outside the wind is howling and bangs the shutters against the walls with a rhythmic beat, and an occasional loud crashing. The house sets high on a hill and the town below is darkened, the townfolk sleeping. Shadows fall across the room. In a far corner stands three people. One is short, fat and his face is twisted in a look of intense cruelty. He holds a gun in his hand and faces the other two. The girl is young and beautiful. Her eyes are dark and full of fear. The man beside her is young and handsome. His stern features look penetratingly in the eyes of the short man. He speaks:

"Killing us won't help you any. You can't escape. Your crimes won't go unpunished for long. The forces of justice are against you, Mandyke, and you can't escape justice."

No, my friend, you're wrong. I shall not pay for what you term my crimes. I'm far too clever to ever let the decadent minds of those forces of justice catch me. You are one of the cleverest men in the FBI and you have failed to outsmart me. You fell into every trap I laid. I shall continue in my work until I die a natural death. Someday, I shall have the power to rule the world and after me will come those whom I have trained. This whole world, maybe even the universe, is mine, just for the taking. It's all a game. I take what I want when I want it. No man has ever been clever enough to accomplish what I shall accomplish."

"Oh, you're mad. Completely mad." The girl stared at him in a sort of awe. This man was more than a genius. He was a sort of evil force. She wondered if maybe he weren't the devil himself put on earth for the purpose of destroying mankind. You couldn't fight a force. People were human, you can deal with humans. They have their petty failings which always catch up with them and bring them to the eventual realization that they are only pawns in the hands of fate. But a force. "No, no," she thought, "I mustn't let myself think these things." Aloud she said:

"Never, never can you get away with your mad scheme."

Mandyke smiled at this young child. Years ago he could have felt a pity for her. She had done nothing. She was only the secretary to Phillips, the man before him. But she was in love with him and they worked as a sort of team and he must kill her as well as him. And he felt absolutely nothing that could be remotely described as pity. He only felt a deep contempt for these two who so firmly believed in their degenerate sense of justice. A man, brilliant though he may be, does a crime, and he must pay for it. His genius for power would let nothing stand in his way. He had killed, tortured, and known no remorse. He would have his power and nothing could stop him. He would kill those before him and leave them here in this remote cabin. Soon the others who were on his trail would find them and chalk up another crime against him. But they would never catch him and he would continue with his experiments and soon have the world at his mercy.

Suddenly a deafening crash is heard. Mandyke wheeled to stare out the window. Phillips seized the opportunity and with one swift blow knocked the gun out of Mandyke's hand. Mandyke reeled back stunned and Phillips landed a quick blow to his jaw. He reeled and the gun and pointed at him.

"Okay, Lora, you can call the police now and we'll have this man out of the way and I for one will be able to breathe more easily." He sneered at Mandyke. "Look at you, just an old broken man now. There are things more powerful than you. My FBI training has helped me, you see. I was prepared for that lightning bolt. I was quick enough and steady enough not to be frightened by it. But you were completely thrown off guard. Forces beyond our scope chose to help me instead of you, Mandyke. Maybe there is something to justice, after all."

Gee, Gloria, I wish I had a man as intelligent and well . . . wonderful as Heathcliff Phillips, FBI man. Goopo never says anything as intelligent as Heathcliff. Goopo's so young. All he ever does is to talk about the next basketball game and dancing and such. Gee, I don't know, such bourgeois things.

"Yeah, Mags, that's the way it is with Milton, too. Turn the radio off so we don't have to listen to the commercial. How can I get my trig now. Gosh, kid, just a memory till next week and another adventure of Heathcliff Phillips, FBI man. Sometimes I wish I hadn't brought this radio to Burnam. Well, kid, pass the crackers and a knife, I gotta get this trig or I'll be thrown out of class for sure."

BORROWED FOR A PURPOSE

One night in late October, When I was far from sober, Returning with my load with manly pride, My feet began to stutter, So I lay down in the gutter, And a pig came near and lay down by my side. A lady passing by was heard to say: "You can tell a man who boozes, By the company he chooses," And the pig got up and slowly walked away.

Good Fortune is a giddy maid, Fickle and dressless as a fawn; She smooths your hair, and then the jade Kisses you quickly, and is gone.

But Madam Sorrow scorns all this; She shows no eagerness for flitting, But with a long and fervent kiss Sits by your bed and brings her knitting.

Rhythm Ripples

Let's go All Through The Day with a typical "Ed" and "Coed," and just listen to them "talking in tune."

First of all, we find Ed begging for One More Tomorrow—how that guy loves school! (Or maybe it's Sunday.)

Then Ed assures Coed that I'd Be Lost Without You. Must be love, or does she write her reports and make carbon copies?

Well, Here It Is Monday—there goes the eight o'clock whistle and little miss coed slides into her seat trying to convince the profess with I Was Up With The Lark This Morning. He replied ever so sarcastically with Who Told You That Lie?

There's Ed now in Geography class Drifting In Dreamland, lost in thinking I'm In Love With Two Sweethearts and trying to decide between Georgia and Idaho.

On to Calculus class where the professor takes one look at the papers and moans It Couldn't Be True.

Let's wander into the grill and catch coed sighing over that latest letter and looking forward to Some Sunday Morning, and Ed wishing while he tries in vain to attract her attention, crying Boo-Hoo as he remembers The Things We Did Last Summer. Someone comes up and advises him don't believe Everything You Dream (as he relates his dream of Betty Grable flinging herself into his arms.)

For the First Time was their only comment when they found their names on the honor roll.

Then Zip-A-Dee-Do-Do, they're quarreling each in turn asking Why Don't You Do Right? The answer—You'll Never Know.

Back to afternoon classes waiting I'm Always Chasing Rainbows trying to find an "a" at the end!

When the Five O'Clock Whistle sounds, we find them evasively saying I Don't Know Why, when queried about their hasty departure—and at the close of a very hectic day—the inevitable Good Night, Sweetheart.

WEDDINGS

Goble - Gagle.
The marriage of Miss Naomi Goble, of Prestonsburg, and Lawrence H. Gagle, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, was solemnized Saturday, January 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Beavers, Frankfort, Indiana. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Allan Kohler, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Frankfort.

Attendants of the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stewart, of Ridgeville, Indiana, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Byrd B. Goble and the late W. C. Goble of Prestonsburg. She is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school and graduated from Eastern in 1937. She taught in the Prestonsburg high school and was employed with the Mingo Lime and Lumber Co., Grundy, Va., before accepting her present position as laboratory technician at Farnsworth Television and Radio Corporation in Fort Wayne.

Mr. Gagle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gagle, of Fortland, Indiana. He received his education in Portland and is now employed by the International Harvester Company in Fort Wayne, where they are making their home.

Engagement Announced

The Rev. and Mrs. Frederick D. Stevenson of Corbin have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Virginia Stevenson, to Frederick William Poos III, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Poos of Arlington, Va.

The wedding will be held on Saturday, March 22, at the First Presbyterian Church in Corbin at 11:30 a. m.

Miss Stevenson received her A. B. degree in the class of 1943 from Eastern, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, and was listed in "Who's Who Among College Students." She taught one year at Wallins high school in Harlan county and two years at Benham high school. She is at present doing graduate work at Duke University. Her father is pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Corbin.

Mr. Poos served in the army as a cavalry officer for four years, two of which were spent overseas. He is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute and is now studying at the graduate school of Duke University. His father is senior entomologist for the government.

Junior Alumni

A son, born February 5 to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Otto Brock of Russellville. He has been named Lawrence Otto Brock, Jr. Mr. Brock graduated from Eastern in 1935. He is bookkeeper with the Kentucky Stone Company in Russellville. They have a daughter, Marsha Lou, who will be three years old in June.

A son, David Remie Barton, born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barton January 7 in Cincinnati. Mr. Barton attended Eastern in 1940-41, then left to enter military service. He served with the Army Air Forces five years, three years of which were spent on duty in the Pacific. He is now employed in Cincinnati, traveling to Chicago, New York, and other cities in the course of his work. Their address is 3719 Boudinot Ave., Cincinnati 11.

News Items About Alumni

Miss Wilson Named Baptist Secretary

Miss Ollie Frances Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson of Richmond, has been elected state Baptist young people's secretary of South Carolina, it was recently announced.

Miss Wilson, a graduate of Eastern in the class of 1945, for the past two years has attended the Woman's Missionary Union Training School in Louisville where she will graduate in May. She will assume her new duties in June.

Resigns Position in Bellevue

Harold E. Prim, of Bellevue, has resigned his position at Center Street School in Bellevue to accept the post as instructor in accounting in the Detroit, Mich., public schools, according to C. S. Dale, superintendent. Mr. Prim assumed his duties in Detroit on February 3.

A graduate of Bellevue high school and of Eastern in the class of 1934, he received his master of arts degree from George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., in 1941.

He served with the U. S. Army from September, 1942, until May, 1946. Prior to entering the Army he taught bookkeeping and history at Bellevue high school.

Kentuckians in California

Mrs. Heloise Cox Marsee, '42, is credit office manager for the firm of Eaton and Berry, furniture manufacturers, in Vallejo, Calif. She writes that she has four other girls from Kentucky in her office. Mrs. Marsee is an active member of the Alumni Association. Her address is 403 Ohio St., Vallejo.

Funeral For Airman

Funeral services for Major George M. Lewis, Jr., son of Mrs. Beulah M. Lewis, of Vanceburg, and nephew of Mrs. W. Foster Adams of Berea, were held in Vanceburg Wednesday afternoon, February 19.

Major Lewis lost his life in an airplane crash on August 29, 1946, near Grenoble, France, on a flight from Frankfurt, Germany, to Casablanca.

He attended Eastern for two years, 1939-40 and 1940-41, prior to entering the Air Force and remained in Germany with the occupation forces after the close of the war in Europe.

Extra-Curricular

In an effort to stimulate interest among members, President Jule Miller of the Northern Kentucky Club announced this week that a committee has been appointed to conduct a Membership Drive here on the campus.

Ed Casebolt has been appointed chairman of this committee, which is presently making arrangements for a dinner meeting to be held at 1:45 p. m., Wednesday, March 5, 1947, in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building, as a climax to the drive. A short, but entertaining musical program and a brief business session have been scheduled to highlight the dinner.

All those persons living within a radius of 50 miles of Northern Kentucky have been invited to attend this meeting and become active in the club's program which has thus far on its agenda for the coming weeks, an informal dance, a party, picnics, hayrides, and other social events.

Mr. Miller stated that the club has as its advisor, Mr. Clyde Lewis of the History department. Other officers include, Clyde Craig, vice-president; Dorothy Brandhorst, secretary; and Stan Perry, treasurer.

The last meeting of the Caduceus Club was February 17. Because of the absence of the guest speaker engaged for the evening, the program underwent a slight change of plans.

In the absence of the guest speaker, the club had a commendable substitution in Dr. Cox, who spoke on the revised medical education to be presented at the University of Kentucky. A two-year medical course is planned, the object being to relieve the severe shortage of doctors in the rural areas of Kentucky. At the present there is not a state medical school in Kentucky.

Sandwiches, coffee, and cookies were served as refreshments in Walnut Hall.

Now that all the main athletic events of the year are over, the K. Y. M. A. Club members are taking a well-earned rest. During the past season Miss Allie Fowler and the members of the club sold cokes and candy at all the home games, and when enough students were interested in attending out-of-town games, the K. Y. M. A. Club sponsored buses to take them.

With all these activities, regular meetings were not held. Now, however, all members are urged to attend K. Y. M. A. Club on Friday evenings at 6:30 in the Little Theater.

The old members of the Home Ec Club have been sporting their new club pins recently. The pins have a Betty lamp symbol on them with the words "American Home Economics Association." A member of any club which is affiliated with the A. H. E. A. is eligible to wear an A. H. E. A. pin.

At the last two meetings there has been a discussion of the possibility of improving the appearance of the dormitory rooms. It was agreed that the first essential of an attractive room is cleanliness. However, it seems there is some disagreement on just how clean a room must be considered clean. We are hoping to continue working on this problem until some real results are obtained. The members of the Home Ec Club believe this would be a worthwhile project for all the girls in Burnam.

The Photo Club has been lagging in attendance recently, but on the last regular meeting, February 12, there were many of the original members present. The club members assembled in Walnut before going to the Blue Room for the dinner meeting. After dinner, Dr. LaFuze presented the rules and requirements of every club member entering the new Photo Club contest which expires February 28. Each member may submit two pictures taken on club film with the club camera, and he must do his own printing. The prints will be judged on the basis of interest of subject, composition, and quality of print. A professional photographer will be the final judge and the group winning the contest will be entertained by the other half at a spring picnic.

After the regular business, a flash picture was made of the Club to appear in the Milestone.

The next meeting is February 27 at 5:00 p. m.

VOX VETERANI

By ALLAN WHITE

It took a lot of time, patience, work, and moola, but one of the better things in life has come (and gone) to Eastern and most everybody seems fairly well pleased with the whole affair. To those people that took in the Ray McKinley dance and concert, a finer evening had never been seen on the Eastern campus in many a moon.

In spite of the fact that a lot of students were too fatigued to make the trip to Hiram Brock Auditorium, or Walnut Hall, there were many to take advantage of our first big name band since the Jimmie James ork in '41. However, we can still label it a great social success.

Perhaps we should have first stressed the point that McKinley was the drummer man for the immortal Glenn Miller band of prewar days, but then these same fatigued persons would want to know just who Glenn Miller was. Or perhaps it should have been more publicized that M. McKinley still has the nucleus of Miller's AAF band that made him still more famous. But, the only way to please everybody appears to be to schedule the Hoosier Hotshots, washboards and all.

Enough thanks just can't be said or written to express the appreciation of the Veterans' Club to the people who worked so hard to make the dance and concert a success. The first thanks goes to Mr. Cox, our sponsor, the volunteer work of Mrs. Griggs, then the time put in by Jack Stidham, Bert Baker and Doyle Bell. The last goes to our hard-working president, Jim Logsdon, who really sweated this thing out, and to the persons responsible for the use of Walnut Hall and the auditorium. Don't think we do not appreciate every little thing . . . we do.

IOTAS

Well, the last regular meeting of the organization surely did bring out a few more club members . . . the word got around that refreshments were to be served (they were). While we're still on the subject, you fellows who didn't get enough to eat that night might not have known that Dorothy Dunaway and Larry Grimaldi went back for fourths.

Besides making the final arrangements for the aforementioned dance and concert, the club unanimously voted to contribute a tidy sum toward the purchase of miniature gold footballs for Eastern's KIAC football champions. Along with the Vets' Club, the Richmond Business Men's Club and the Kyma Club are purchasing the footballs.

During the past several weeks it has come to light that some veterans on the campus are practically unaware of the presence of the Veteran's Club. It's a shame that the membership does not total any more men than it does considering the amount of vets. enrolled in school. A few of the non-producers think that they have to have a special invitation; a khaki-lined carpet leading from Sullivan Hall to the SUB. Try a meeting or two . . . it'll be good for you.

Maroons Top 'Toppers In Hard Fought Battle

The Eastern Maroons of Paul McBrayer scaled the heights of basketball glory on February 15 as they closed their regular season in a blazing finish, defeating Ed Diddle's Western Hilltoppers 49 to 46.

For the Maroons it not only gave them the distinction of winning the KIAC season crown for the second consecutive year and going undefeated on their home floor for two seasons, but avenged an earlier defeat by Western at Bowling Green 81 to 47.

Eastern was ready for the Hilltoppers and were not to be denied as they took the floor with a vengeance and completely outplayed the nation's sixth ranking team. The Maroons played a superb brand of basketball and thrilled the fans who packed Weaver Health building as they dominated play and swept the favored Hilltoppers into defeat.

For Paul McBrayer the game was a brilliant climax for his first year as Maroon cage coach. As the final whistle sounded the fans rushed onto the floor to mob the Eastern players and McBrayer and lifted the jovial Irish mentor to their shoulders and carried him off the floor.

Game Opened Fast

The game opened with a rush as Gibson fouled Fryz and the Maroon forward sank two free throws to give Eastern a 2-0 lead, which they never relinquished throughout the contest. Chalmers Embry tied the ball game up for the only time as he sank two Maroon tosses. "Chuck" Mrazovich sank a foul, Shemelya hit from the floor, Hicks received a gratis toss and Shemelya a free throw to send the Maroons to the fore 7-2 at the two and one-half minute mark.

With six and one-half minutes gone by the Maroons were sailing along 14-7, before Odie Spears sank a jump shot to give Western one of three field goals the Maroons allowed them in the first half.

Embry tallied on a jump shot to cut the Eastern lead to 14-11 but Ed Shemelya hit from the side to increase the Maroon lead to five points. Eastern continued to dominate the play as Mrazovich and Shemelya repeatedly soared into the air to give the Maroons control of the backboards. Eastern led at the half 27-16.

Western came back stronger in the second half but even with rejuvenated power, could not overtake the high-flying Maroons. Odie Spears opened the second frame with a tip-in to make it 27-13 Eastern, but Hicks connected from the side to maintain the nine-point Maroon advantage.

After seven and one-half minutes had slipped by the Maroons built up their biggest lead of the fray, 39-26. Then Mrazovich fouled out and for the first time in the game the Hilltoppers looked as if they were going to upset the applecart for Eastern.

Spears on a jump shot and a tip-in cut the Maroon lead to seven points 40-33 with nine minutes remaining. Shemelya sank a medium toss, Embry hit from the floor, Spears sank a foul shot and Coleman and Fryz gratis tosses for the Maroons and it was 44-38 with eight minutes remaining.

Subs Take Over

Then with "Stretch" Hudnall and Mrazovich out on fouls and subs taking over for Eastern, things began to look dark for the battling Maroons. Embry and Spears sank fouls with six minutes remaining in the game when Ed Shemelya was forced to retire with five personals. Spears sank two more gratis tosses and with three and one-half minutes to go, the score was 44-40 Eastern.

Things looked a little brighter for the Maroons when Hicks and Coleman sank foul shots and a few seconds later Reid hit for two free tosses to give the Maroons a 48-40 advantage. Gibson hit a crisp shot and Parsley a medium basket to cut the Maroon edge to four points with two and one-half minutes remaining.

Hicks sent the Maroons lead back to five points with a minute and forty-five seconds remaining and then committed his fifth personal and only Joe Fryz remained of the starting five. McKinney made a pivot shot and it was 49-46 Eastern, with a minute and twenty seconds to go. Spears was fouled, but missed his shot and the Maroons took the ball and were able to hold on to the oval for the few remaining seconds to score one of the biggest upsets in KIAC history.

Campus Personalities

Good evening, Ladies and Gentlemen. This week the Eastern Theater proudly presents to you that tantalizing lady, Miss Nancy Jane Henderson, who hails from Manchester, Ohio. Before Miss Henderson appears we would like to say a few things about her.

During her stay here at Eastern for this quarter, she can be found in room 343 of Burnam Hall. She also is active in the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet and the Social Service Committee. Nancy can always be seen with her best friend and roommate, Katherine Sizemore.

Nancy goes in for sweets in a big way due to her liking the sweet music of Guy Lombardo and the sweetness of hot fudge sundaes. Nancy is a regular—she dislikes getting up and taking tests. (Don't we all.) After eating all those sweet things the only thing we can say that keeps her trim is her swimming which is her favorite sport. Best of luck to you, Nancy, and may you always have friends.

The youngest man on the basketball squad and one of our most prominent players is Paul Hicks who comes from Cynthiana, Ky. In the Western game here at school we noticed that they wouldn't let Hicks shoot those long shots because they knew that he usually made them.

Paul is staying in Sullivan Hall, rooming with Jack Bahlman. He chums around quite a bit with Roberts and Becker, two other good men on the squad. Paul can usually be seen down in the grille begging for that extra dip of ice-cream, his favorite dessert.

He has no particular dislikes. He likes everyone and everything. There is no need to say what his favorite sport is. Everyone knows that it is basketball.

Good luck, Paul, and we know that you'll always be one of Eastern's best players.

Eastern Assembly Hears Miss Hockey

Miss Primrose Hockey, of Newport, Monmouthshire, England, an exchange teacher from England now teaching in New Albany, Indiana, high school, addressed the Eastern Teachers College assembly of students and faculty Wednesday, describing the school system in England.

She was accompanied to the campus by Miss Grace Champion and Ted Gilbert, both Eastern graduates and members of the New Albany schools faculty. President W. F. O'Donnell presided and introduced the speaker.

Members of the college basketball squad were introduced by President O'Donnell before the address by Miss Hockey. Those introduced included Ed Shemelya, Joe Fryz, Charles Mrazovich, Paul Hicks, Lloyd Hudnall, Bobby Coleman, Gerald Becker, Walter Reid, Bill Barnett, Russell Roberts, James Nichols, Paul Ritter, Lawrence Morris, and Don Hale, and Ralph Patterson, manager. Coach Paul McBrayer was unable to be present because of illness.

Miss Hockey, in her address, told of the new education bill passed in 1944 in England providing free education for all children from the age of 5 to 18, and discussed courses required in the schools, the method of selection by examinations for students to attend secondary schools or trade schools.

Subs Play Most Of First Round Game

The Eastern Maroons of Paul McBrayer advanced to the quarter finals of the KIAC basketball tournament at the Jefferson County Armory in Louisville Thursday night as they blasted Transylvania Pioneers, 68-38.

By virtue of their win the Maroons will meet the Murray Thornoughbreds, who edged past Union College 39-31 last night, tonight at 9 o'clock.

Eastern and Murray split during the regular season, the Maroons edging Murray five points at Richmond, and the 'Breds topping Eastern 45-43 at Murray. Murray was the first team to knock Eastern from the undefeated ranks.

Although the Maroons are picked to advance to the finals, a victory tonight by Murray would be no outstanding upset. Murray has a well balanced team and with such stars as Johnny "The Red" Reagan and "Monk" Oldham the 'Breds should give the Maroons of McBrayer a busy evening.

Eastern started off in a rush and ran the count to 5-0 before Buddy Adams racked up a free throw for the Pioneers. The Maroons continued to bombard the net and ran their margin to 13-1 before Maxwell James could connect for Transylvania with a field goal from the side of the court.

The starting five for Eastern was kept in the game for only five minutes when McBrayer started dispatching his reserves into the battle. Eastern led at the half 38-18.

With the start of the second half James and Coleman hit, James a field goal and Coleman a free throw, to make the count 39-20, Eastern.

The Pioneers then went on a scoring spree and chalked up eight points while holding Eastern scoreless, to narrow the count to 39-28.

McBrayer quickly sent his starting five back into the game, and thereafter the Maroons had an easy time of it and coasted to their 68-38 triumph.

Barring a Murray win tonight the Maroons will clash with the winner of the Kentucky Wesleyan-Morehead Teachers game in the semi-finals tomorrow afternoon.

Facing the Maroon attack last night were Joe Fryz and "Chuck" Mrazovich with 14 and 13 points respectively.

MOREHEAD BEATEN 60-35 IN SEMI-FINAL GAME

The Maroons advanced to the finals by downing the Eagles of Morehead 60-35 in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon. Earlier Eastern had toppled Transylvania and Murray before clashing with Morehead.

Although Eastern was picked to defeat the Eagles they surprised everyone with the ease in which they did it. Morehead tried to stop Eastern with a zone defense but the vicious Maroons, led by Paul Hicks with his long shots, solved the zone defense and quickly built up a commanding lead.

Hicks connected on six long tosses out of eleven attempted to run his total to 18 for the game. Ed Shemelya and "Chuck" Mrazovich played superb ball for the Maroons as they soared into the air to control the backboards and leave the Eagles behind completely outclassed.

Joe Fryz was all over Morehead's vaunted Sonny Allen and allowed the state's leading scorer only seven points. Eastern led at the halftime 34-14.

Funeral For Airman

Funeral services for Major George M. Lewis, Jr., nephew of Mrs. W. Foster Adams of Berea, were held in Vanceburg Wednesday afternoon.

Major Lewis lost his life in an airplane crash on August 29, 1946, near Grenoble, France, on a flight from Frankfurt, Germany, to Casablanca.

He attended Eastern State Teachers College for two years, prior to entering the Air Force. Mr. and Mrs. Adams attended the funeral.

Maroons Top Berea, 52-37

In a listless and very dull ball game, the Eastern Maroons of Coach Paul McBrayer, with subs going practically the entire route, defeated the Berea College Mountaineers Thursday night at the Weaver Health building, 52-37.

To anyone who watched the contest it was plainly apparent that McBrayer was holding his first stringers in preparation for Saturday night's all-important clash with Western's Hilltoppers. As a matter of fact the Western team worked out in the Eastern gym before the Berea encounter and Western Coach Ed Diddle watched the Maroons trample the Mountaineers. Western plays Morehead there tonight.

Berea jumped into the lead in the first 30 seconds of the game when Ed Shemelya fouled Jack Hale and Berea led 1-0. A short time later Monroe Hall hit a jump shot from the side and Berea was out in front 3-0. Hudnall opened the scoring for Eastern with a gratis toss and "Chuck" Mrazovich followed with a shot from the foul circle to tie the ball game up at 3-3.

The Maroons then opened up and at the seven-minute mark were out in front 11-3. At this point McBrayer began to throw in his subs but the score continued to mount for the Maroons. Eastern so completely bottled up the Mountaineers that they hit only two field goals in the first half. Eastern led at the intermission period 33-11.

Coast In Second Half

In the second half with an all sub team playing, the Maroons quickly ran the score to 40-13 and then settled back and coasted the rest of the way.

Pacing the Maroon attack was "Chuck" Mrazovich, who played only six minutes but hit for five field goals to take scoring honors with 10 points. Ed Shemelya was good for nine, and Gerald Becker and "Stretch" Hudnall hit the hoops for seven.

Saturday night the curtain will come down on the Maroons regular season play but before it does fireworks will pop at the Eastern gym. The Maroons will entertain Uncle Ed Diddle's vaunted Western Hilltoppers before what is expected to be one of the largest crowds ever to see a ball game at Eastern. The gym has been completely sold out for the past three weeks or more.

Although the 'Toppers blasted McBrayers team 81-47 last Wednesday and will undoubtedly go into the fray a decided favorite, the Maroons are expected to play a much improved brand of ball on their home floor.

Western and Eastern are picked to advance to the KIAC finals and nothing would please the Maroon netters more than to administer a defeat to the favored Hilltoppers. For "Stretch" Hudnall it will Maroon fans will have a treat in seeing "Dee" Gibson perform for the Hilltoppers. Recently Ed Diddle rated Gibson as the "best guard in the nation." Starting time for the contest Saturday night is 7:30.

Eastern Girls Defeat U. Of K. Net Team

The Woman's Athletic Association basketball team of Eastern defeated the University of Kentucky girls 22-20 in a game played yesterday afternoon in the Weaver Health building.

The Eastern girls have played several games this season and have shown marked improvement in recent contests. Tomorrow night at 7 o'clock they will play the Nazareth College team of Louisville in the college gym. A small admission will be charged and the proceeds will go to the World Student Service Fund.

Fryz First and Mrazovich Second In Individual Scoring

By BILL HUDSON

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Feb. 24 (AP)—Kentucky's collegiate basketball champions of Western State Teachers College, have put away their KIAC trophy and set out in quest of additional laurels.

Western won its 12th KIAC title in 20 starts Saturday night, conquering Eastern State Teachers 54-43 in the tournament finals at Louisville. The club's next obstacle is the University of Hawaii which plays here next Saturday. Then comes the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association tournament here March 6-8.

After that perhaps there'll be a bid to one of the major post-season tournaments. Official sources had little to say about a bid. But there were plenty of Western partisan supporters who thought, and said, the club likely would be asked to the NCAA or Madison Square Garden Invitational if the Toppers top the SIAA field.

A spokesman close to the team said Western was being considered for both events and was almost certain to receive a bid to one or both provided the squad comes through the SIAA unmarked. Ed Diddle, Western's veteran coach, had nothing to say on the subject. His policy is to "take them as they come."

But the greying, towel heaving coach had plenty of praise for his champions.

"It is a very fine ball club, all-around about as good as we ever had," he said.

While Western looks to more basketball, two other KIAC clubs also will be busy. The University of Louisville plays St. Louis University at Louisville and Georgetown College plays at Cedarville, Ohio, College Wednesday night.

Individual scoring honors for the tournament went to Joe Fryz, Eastern forward, with 48 points in four games while the best single game scoring performance was turned in by John Reagan of Murray who got 23 against Eastern.
