Selections for attendants to the Prom Queen were Miss Frances Little, Southgate, and Miss Peggy Denny, Richmond.

The Queen of this year's prom was the sophomore attendant to the prom queen of last year. She is a member of the Student Relationship Council and is active in many campus organizations.

Miss Frances Little was Miss Eastern of 1938 and is attendant to Miss Eastern for this year. She is a member of the Home Economics Club, Madrigal Club, Student Relationship Council, Northern Kentucky Club, and Little Theatre Club.

Miss Peggy Denny of Richmond is new to the college this year although she attended Model High School. She is a transfer student from Sullins College and a member of the Madrigal Club and the Little Theatre Club.

Members of the junior class who competed for the honor of "Queen of the Prom" were Marion Campbell, Frances Little, Peggy Denny, Dorothy Dorris, Ann Stiglitz, and Louise Holman.

R. W. Harrison, director of speech at Winchester high school, announced that the 12th District Speech Tournament on March 24 and 25 will be held this year at Winchester. This year is the first time that the tournament has not been held at Eastern Teachers College in Richmond upon the vote of the committee, according to the official notification received from Louis Clifton, University of Kentucky, and Sam Beckley, Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College.

Military Ball Is Complete Success Says Chairman

The third annual Military Ball held Saturday night, March 4, was a complete success, according to the report issued to the Progress by Len Stafford, chairman of the ball committee. "While the dance was not a big success in a monetary way, it was a splendid example of group endeavor," said the chairman.

The battery sponsors, Eula Mae Nunnery and Lois Mae Eich, presided in place of the queen and battalion sponsor, Louise Holman, who was ill. Miss Frances Little, queen of 1938, made the presentations.

Free Afternoon Tea Dance To Be Given By Social Committee

The social committee of Eastern will sponsor a semi-formal afternoon tea-dance Saturday afternoon, March 25, from 3 to 5:30 in the small gym of Weaver Health Building.

Music will be furnished by an orchestra and the program will be composed of twenty dances.

Admission to the tea-dance will be free, it was announced by the committee. Profits made from the annual home-coming dance will be used to sponsor this party. The only requirement is that students who plan to attend should register by 10 p. m. Thursday, March 23, at the Burnam Hall desk. This is done in order that the committee may make arrangements on refreshments and special features.

All students are urged to attend.

Architect's Drawing of New Student Union Building

One of the finest Student Union buildings in the nation and an important addition to Eastern's physical plant will be made when the new building, shown above, is completed. Construction work on the building, which will cost approximately $389,000, was begun last November and should be completed during next school year. The building will house the college cafeteria, a ballroom, student lounge, faculty clubroom, small theater, bookstore, college postoffice, soda fountain, sandwich shop, offices for student publications, and number of conference rooms. C. C. and S. K. Weber, of Cincinnati, are the architects for the building.

Bids Opened On Equipment For Union Building

Supplementary Grant Of $5,400 To Be Asked For Added Features

BY REGENTS

Bids on the equipment for the new Student Union building at Eastern were opened by the Board of Regents at a meeting here Saturday. No award was made in view of the fact that the low bidder, Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, had not submitted samples of materials to be furnished and the Board decided to defer the letting of contract for ten days to give the Chicago firm an opportunity to submit samples, plans and layouts for the equipment.

Other bidders were Morton Hales Co., Cincinnati, and Otto Fast & Son Co., Cincinnati.

Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of Eastern, was authorized to apply to the Public Works Administration for a supplementary grant of $5,400 in order to replace some of the necessary features of the Student Union building which it was necessary to deduct when the general contract was let to the A. L. Coupe Construction Co., of Louisville, because these items when added to the general contract exceeded the funds available for the project.

Miss L. Katherine Morgan, secretary to the president and for several years assistant secretary to the Board of Regents, was appointed secretary of the Board, succeeding the late J. W. Cammack, who was a member of the Board for thirty-three years and its secretary most of that period.

Resolutions on the death of Judge Cammack were passed by the Board. Jack Nelson, Richmond, contractor on the men's dormitory, was granted an extension of time to June 1 for the completion of the building, this approval being concurred in by the P.W.A. It is expected that one section of the building will be completed by the opening of the spring term. Members of the Board attending the meeting were Harry W. Peters, superintendent of public instruction; Lieut.-Gov. Keen Johnson, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Prestonsburg, and Jesse M. Alverson, Lexington.

Y's Name Committee To Aid Relationship Council On Handbook

At the cabinet meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. on Thursday, March 2, Elizabeth Flowers, Ann Stiglitz, James Stanfield, and Donald Stieger were appointed to work with the Student Relationship Council committee in publishing a handbook for incoming students.

The annual banquet of the "Y's" will be held at the Glyndon Hotel, March 16, with Emma Lindley, chairman of the social committee, in charge. All members of the "Y's" are invited. Tickets which are 65c may be purchased from Mary Helen Caywood, Doris Milon, Virginia Allen, George Powers, or in the "Y" room in Burnam Hall.

The cabinet members decided to have their annual camping trip the weekend of May 20 at Camp Daniel Boone.

Centre Wins In College Oratory Meet At Georgetown

Kenneth Phelfer, Centre College, Danville, won first place in the annual Kentucky intercollegiate contest held March 5 at Georgetown College. Prof. W. R. Sutherland of the University of Kentucky, secretary of the regional oratorical association, presided.

Phelfer, who had for his subject, "America's Slum," will represent Kentucky at a regional contest in April at Northwestern University. Second place was won by Zack Hill of Western State Teachers College, Bowling Green. Hill's subject was "Spared for What."

Eight colleges, Georgetown, University of Kentucky, Centre, Eastern State Teachers College of Richmond, Berea, Western State Teachers College of Bowling Green, Transylvania and Morehead State Teachers College had representatives in the contest.

Judges were the coaches of the various schools, each coach ranking all speakers except the one from his school. Local arrangements were supervised by Miss Rena Calhoun, teacher of speech at Georgetown College and director of speech activities on the campus.

Activities of the fraternity scheduled for the remainder of the semester are: Presentation of a medal at the end of the year to the highest ranking sophomore, and a chapel program on "Teaching as a Profession," scheduled for the middle of March. Recently, the club gave a party in honor of the freshmen with a "B" average. Over forty members and guests attended this gala affair.

Athletes Will Be Honored In Unique Informal Party

The athletes, men who get Eastern's fair name on the sports pages of the nation, will be honored with an informal party on Thursday evening, March 16, in the recreation room of Burnam Hall.

According to the social committee sponsoring the party, team members, coaches, their "gals" and wives, will be invited to attend this gala event.

A varied and unique program of entertainment has been planned by the group and games, excluding football, basketball, and tennis, will be played. Special music will be furnished for the occasion. The program is to be so informal that the only restrictions are that cleated shoes and swim trunks or football outfits will not be permitted.

Pearson Speaks To Eastern Science Club On Television

Presents Theory, Processes and Possible Applications of Science

ROBERTS NEXT

The Science Club held its regularly scheduled meeting at the home of Dr. T. C. Herndon on Wednesday, March 1. Following a brief discussion of old and new business, Eddie Pearson presented a detailed, scientific treatise on television, pertaining to its theory, the processes which make it possible, and the practical application of the science as it stands today. It was pointed out that because of the relatively short wave length necessarily used in the transmission of television signals, the present possible radius of television broadcasts is approximately 50 miles, and that for some years to come television will probably be available only to those persons living in the urban areas of the United States.

At the next meeting of the club, the program will be furnished by Elvey Roberts.

Alpha Zeta Kappa Gives Program At College Chapel

Varied Program Is Featured; Debates, Orations On Program

BY STUDENTS

Alpha Zeta Kappa, public speaking organization at Eastern Teachers College, presented a program February 27 at the college assembly hour, under the direction of Dr. Saul Houchell, member of the faculty and sponsor of the club. Miss Lucille Nunneley, Hustonville, president of the society, presided.

A debate between Doniphan Burrus, Richmond, and Lee Farris, Middlesboro, opened the program. Their subject was "Resolved: That the United States government should cease to use public funds for the purpose of stimulating business," with Burrus taking the affirmative and Farris the negative side. Miss Ruth Catlett, Lawrenceburg, defined the terms of the debate.

Burgin Benton, Richmond, gave the oration on world peace which won for Eastern second place in the Kentucky Peace Oratorical contest at Berea last fall.

Impersonations of leading public speakers and news commentators were given by Elmore Ryle, Burlington, concluding the program.

Former Eastern Student May Oppose Eastern Regent In Election

Kentuckians in Washington have received in the mail this week, printed circulars boosting Roscoe R. Dalton of Monticello for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the Kentucky primary next August. Mr. Dalton is the state director of the Federal Housing Administration. He is thirty-seven years old and a former student of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College and the University of Kentucky. He attended Eastern several years ago and since then has served as superintendent of Wayne county schools, county judge of Wayne county and member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Dalton's name has been mentioned frequently in Kentucky congressional circles as a possible candidate to oppose Lieutenant Governor Keen Johnson, member of the board of regents at Eastern, and Governor Chandler's announced choice for the governorship.

Folklore Society Presidents Will Visit Eastern

Dr. Stith Thompson, Dr. Sumas O'Duillearga Will Address Students

ON CAMPUS

Dr. Stith Thompson, president of the National Folklore Society, his wife and two daughters, and Mr. Seamus O'Duillearga, president of the Irish Folklore Commission, will be the guests of Eastern's Folklore Society and members of the English department at an informal dinner in the recreation room of Burnam Hall on Saturday evening, March 11, at six o'clock.

Members of the Canterbury Club and language department have received a special invitation to attend this function in addition to all persons who may be interested.

The Folklore Society, under the direction of Miss Bess Alice Owens, club sponsor, will act as hosts of the program featuring the addresses of Dr. Thompson and Mr. O'Duillearga and the songs and dances by club members.

Dr. Thompson, recognized authority on folklore and author of "Our Heritage of World Literature," current textbook of the survey of literature course in Eastern's curriculum, is president of our National Folklore Society. The current issue of The Journal of American Folklore, printed in Gluckstadt, Germany, carries two articles by Dr. Thompson. The July 1938 issue of this publication included an article and songs from the Cumberlands by Miss Owens, member of Eastern's faculty.

Stith Thompson, native-born Kentuckian, has never visited the eastern part of his state. He is a member of the faculty in the department of English at the Indiana State University in Bloomington, Indiana.

Mr. Seamus O'Duillearga is visiting America in pursuit of the folklore of Irish-speaking people of this continent as a member of the Irish Folklore Commission, and is visiting Eastern in connection with the folklore of our native mountains of which Miss Owens is an authority. In addition to her researches here, she has studied the various folklores in England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, and France. Under the direction of Mr. O'Duillearga, over one hundred tales of Gaelic peoples have been collected and recorded on Ediphone records.

The Irish authority arrived in this country on February 8th at the invitation of Dr. Thompson who had collected in Ireland under his guidance. During his brief visit in Richmond he will be taken on a tour of the Kentucky Room of the library, a survey of the collection of old books and papers of Dorris, member of Eastern's history department, and a short trip to locations of historic interest in Madison county.

Tickets for this informal dinner may be purchased for sixty cents at the college information office until noon Friday.

Colonel P. H. Callahan, Judge Boderich, and Barry Bingham, publisher of the Courier-Journal will journey from Louisville to attend this dinner in honor of Mr. O'Duillearga.

PROGRESS PLATFORM

A modified system of student government.
A weekly school publication.
A more active alumni association.
Continued expansion of college departments.
A greater Eastern.

THE RADIO

The radio in the rooms of college dormitories has been a weighty problem for authorities for several years.

One rather loses touch with the outside world when he comes to college. True, chapel speakers tend to keep up an interest in world affairs, but that means of contact alone cannot be trusted to keep the student informed on current events.

It is surprising how many students listen to news broadcasts. Teachers are often pleased to discover how much some students know about the latest news.

This is only one value of the radio for college students. It is a cultural, educational, and recreational agency.

Most college students have an innate appreciation of the good works. They listen to some trashy stuff for some time, but if there is a program that has quality and interest for them, they prefer it.

We have faith in the good taste of the student, and therefore we regard the radio as an almost necessary educational aid.

LEARN TO WRITE

It's surprising how many people in the outside world try to write. The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker—all of them try their hand at writing something some time or the other.

Writing furnishes an outlet for the emotions more effectively than any other means. Moods of black rebellion are not nearly so dangerous in writing as in open action.

But writing has a recreational as well as a social value. It provides an escape from the hum-drum of everyday life into the vivid lands and intriguing personalities of the imagination.

For these two purposes, writing does not necessarily need any set rules. It will serve its purpose without conformity to a standard as long as it serves only the individual need.

A member of the faculty recently remarked that it was a deplorable fact that Eastern has never produced a writer.

writers. The educational system in its very nature does not encourage too much originality. When academic and social needs are catered to, there is little time left for creative writing.

There is much, however, that the individual student can do to learn the technique of writing outside of the classroom. Increasing the vocabulary is of course the first requisite.

But, rules or no rules, encouragement or no encouragement, every student should write. There may be many a potential literary figure on the campus who needs but a little stimulus to emerge in full power.

R. O. T. C.

The new officers of the local R. O. T. C. unit were announced yesterday; but the announcement will not cause the usual recurrence of agitation against military training in colleges.

Not that he likes the compulsory feature of the corps. He doesn't like to be forced to do anything. And when that something is as controversial as learning how best to kill other humans, he is apt to rebel.

More over, for any young person of the masculine sex, there is a wealth of material available in Richmond and the surrounding vicinity for some very enjoyable dates, and it is not necessary to go running home with this central Kentucky pulchritude before ten or eleven o'clock.

It is foolish in the light of world conditions, he now feels, to think that peace is to be obtained by the disarmament of one country. Disarmament, unless mutual, would be folly.

The other alternative is a small standing army supplemented by a "citizen army" of reserves—a force composed of farmers, laborers, professional men, whose business is peace, not war.

The reserve officers' training corps and the civilians' military training corps are the means of creating such an army. One trains the undergraduates of state universities; the other trains less educated citizens.

The answer is the students. The answer is the men who have been somewhat trained in scientific methods of thought; men who would be least likely to follow the shrill calls of false and selfish emotionalism.

The answer is the R. O. T. C.

APPRECIATION

Several months ago, a visiting educator said in complimenting the beauty of our campus, "In my inspection of your buildings I did not observe a single architectural monstrosity."

Now we are in the midst of an extensive building program. Pyramids of brick and sand, the feverish activity of workmen, all bear mute evidence of three new and much needed additions to Eastern's plant.

We students should be appreciative of the fact that these additions to the campus are being made for our benefit. An opportunity for personal growth and cultural advancement is being presented to us and to the generations of students who will follow in later years.

It now becomes our responsibility to live up to the standards of achievement set forth by these buildings. Physical factors alone can never make a college great, the full and earnest cooperation of the entire student body is necessary in the attainment of this objective.

Progress Post Office

I should like to call attention to a thing which I believe is a hazard to the safety of the students. On the second street hill there is a fence which has two rows of barbed wire on top.

I do not believe that this wire is necessary, for the college seldom if ever has any stock in it.

You are right, my dear, about the dating on this campus. Most all of us females would appreciate it very much if something could be done, but I hardly think it possible.

From your letter which have appeared in the Progress, you apparently should be reminded of a few facts which you either have disregarded or overlooked.

And another thing, it seems that you girls don't realize that there are many more average good-looking boys around here than there are average good-looking girls.

More over, for any young person of the masculine sex, there is a wealth of material available in Richmond and the surrounding vicinity for some very enjoyable dates, and it is not necessary to go running home with this central Kentucky pulchritude before ten or eleven o'clock.

Signed: One who thought you should know.

I agree with you. How will you be able to find out if the person you're dating is the ideal of your heart if you don't have an opportunity to compare him with other hopefuls?

And I DO mean YOU. P. S. Try to date different ones? Yah—but the trying won't do any good because everyone goes steady at Eastern except you and me.

Dr. Kennamer Is Heard By Local Exchange Club

Speaker Tells of Advantages of This Present Age

AT MEETING

"We are lucky to be alive," declared Dr. L. G. Kennamer, member of the Eastern faculty, in an address before the Richmond Exchange Club at their meeting in the Glyndon hotel Monday night.

Every age had its problems, just as we have our problems now," Dr. Kennamer asserted. He cited the difficulties and problems of the various eras in history, naming specifically the times of Adam and Eve, of Noah, the pioneer days in America, the era in which Abraham Lincoln lived.

Dr. Kennamer expressed the need for a youth movement. He said that democracies will prosper only as they look toward their youth. Education, religion, and government has a tendency to forget its youth, he declared.

Christ was a young man when he taught his doctrines, and John Wesley was only twenty four years old at the time he founded the Methodist religion, he declared.

Dr. Kennamer was introduced by A. B. Carter, Eastern faculty member. Leon Elder, president of the club, presided.

DO YOU FEEL INFERIOR?

There is probably no one whose life is not influenced by inferiority feelings for good or ill. Furthermore, it is generally known that feelings of inferiority often become embedded in childhood.

To show that the sense of inferiority begins in childhood, attention is called to three facts:

1. The human infant has a longer and greater period of dependency than any other animal. Young turtles are barely hatched from their eggs when they unerringly "put out to sea" and begin an independent life.

Don't Be A Joy Killer Reporter Urges After Tour of Campus

Coming out of Roark building the other morning, we saw a young man come up to another, slap him on the back, and say, "Spring in the air!"

The incident started our piece of brain to thinking, "Why must some people take all the joy out of the lives of others by having an attitude of depression?"

We were truly startled at the number of "joy killers" (trite, but true) that wander about, week after week. Of course, they fall into one of two categories: the perusalities, (which is really the worse form) and the temporary ones.

The prize taking drama we observed occurred in the post office just after the 1:50 mail had come in. Two girls entered this popular rendezvous, each going her own way to inspect the contents of her box.

My brother-in-law worked there last fall, and his hours and pay were terrible. In fact, he quit."

The reader was so engrossed in the letter that she seemed not to hear and continued to impart her knowledge. "Mother has bought me that darling gold lami dress I wanted at Christmas!"

"Do you really like lami? It doesn't wear very well, but I guess it is pretty."

Too much is enough. The conversation didn't end there, it went on and on, one commenting, the other condemning. As the two disappeared, we silently paid tribute to the girl who so valiantly withstood discouragement.

It has just occurred to us (and certainly to you) that we're acting against the doctrine we're advocating. We've probably spread more than our share of gloom by this article, so... tally-ho.

Duds and Misfires

The senior in chemistry had had a scene with his fair co-ed, who finally burst into tears.

"Stop crying! Your tears have no effect on me. What are they? A small percentage of phosphorus salts, a little sodium chloride. All the rest—water. Bah!"

Ruthie made an angel cake for her darling Danny's sake. "Danny you a piece must take!" This she meant.

City Chap: "That cow over there—why hasn't she any horns?" Farm Chap: "Well, it's this way. Some cows are born without any horns, and never grow any; some shed their's; some we dehorn, and some breeds are not supposed to have horns at all.

community. But the human infant is weak, grows slowly, and develops feelings of inadequacy.

2. Physical disabilities may cause an inferiority complex. A boy had many pimples on his face; other boys cruelly commented on the fact and jokingly told him he had ancestors.

3. Social and economic factors cause people, even in America, to be preyed upon by inferiority feelings. I knew a boy who wore brogans—one pair were not mates. He drove a lame mare and peddled fruit.

There are, of course, many other sources of inferiority feelings. So if you have an inferiority complex, you are in good company.

Rabbi Rypins In Chapel Speaks On "Tolerance Today"

Represents National Council Of Jews and Christians

FAVORS DEMOCRACY

Preservation of individual freedom and promotion of racial and religious tolerance were announced as aims of the National Conference of Christians and Jews by Rabbi Fred I. Rypins, of Greensboro, N. C., speaking at Eastern Teachers College assembly hour as representative of the organization.

Among the founders of the conference as named by the speaker were Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the United States Supreme Court, the late Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, former president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America; Newton D. Baker, secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson, and Roger Straus, noted philanthropist.

Using the slogan, "Make America Safe for Differences," the conference sends out speakers of all religious denominations to assemblies in different parts of the country, have regional and national gatherings, roundtable meetings, and a brotherhood week to further its aims, according to the speaker.

Rabbi Rypins expressed the opinion that the center of conflict in the world today is the religious question, freedom of worship, and urged that all denominations work together to keep for each individual the right to worship as he pleases.

"Life in this country would be poor and weak indeed," he declared, "if it did not allow for differences and disagreements. These are the things which vitalize us and lead us on. Let us not take for granted the fine spirit of liberty in our country."

Berea Is Host To Academy Of Social Science

The south, says Dr. H. C. Nixon, Tulane University, is suffering from generation of "exportation of humanity."

This view was placed before the Kentucky Academy of Social Science at its annual meeting here yesterday.

Dr. Nixon, field secretary of the Southern Conference on Human Welfare, said economic and social problems of the southern states had been intensified by a "piling up of humanity and products," because the trend from "exportation" now has been changed by economic conditions.

Vance Armentrout of Louisville, associate editor of The Courier-Journal, said in an address that the south's problems were also those of the nation. He spoke in favor of uniform freight rates.

Other speakers were Earl Mayhew, state farm security administrator; Dr. J. B. Shannon of the University of Kentucky, Dr. A. G. Wielden of Berea College and Dr. W. J. Moore of Eastern State Teachers College.

SOCIETY

Opening the social functions for the second semester were two lovely teas given by the social committee Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of February 28, and March 1, from three to five o'clock in the Recreation Room.

Those receiving guests during the two afternoons were Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Misses Cora Lee, Ruth Dix, Elizabeth Cherry, Dorothy Dorris, Pearl Stephenson, Eldora Chamberlain, Mary Thomas Stockton; Mrs. Noel E. Cuff, Mrs. Ralph Whalin, Mrs. A. D. Hummel; Messrs. Unique Townsend Collection Has Autographed First Editions About Kentucky Or Kentuckians As Basis

By MARY AGNES FINNERAN

The rare Townsend Collection of early state histories, and autographed and first edition books by Kentuckians or about Kentucky, purchased a few years ago by Eastern from John Wilson Townsend, noted Kentucky author, is the only one of its kind in existence. It is kept in a special Kentucky room in the Crabbe Library at Eastern, which is not accessible at all times to all students, but is reserved for the use of those who are doing research work. The original purchase of seventeen hundred volumes was an accumulation made over a period of twenty-five years, which Eastern has added to from time to time. It now consists of approximately 3,500 books, innumerable letters, pictures, and pamphlets.

This collection grew out of the labor entailed in the publishing of Mr. Townsend's book "Kentucky in American Letters" which appeared in 1912. During its creation, it was necessary for him to contact many authors and review many books. Authors often sent complimentary copies of their books to him for reviews and it was often necessary to purchase many others not available in libraries. This collection afterwards became a hobby that occupied the best part of thirty years of his life. His ambition was to secure autographed first editions of all books by Kentucky authors or concerning the state, and insert a letter from the author as well as annotations, reviews, or other clippings in each volume. This unique practice not only developed a library of rare material of local interest, but one that will become more valuable thru the years. The opinion has been expressed by J. T. C. Noe, poet laureate of Kentucky, that the purchase may some day be valued at around $30,000.

A complete collection of early state histories, which form the nucleus upon which all Kentucky histories are based, is a part of the collection. One of the earliest histories, published in 1785, which is a French translation of the first Kentucky history by Filson (1784), used to publicize and attract French settlers to the new colony in lieu of newspapers and radio, is one of the prizes of the collection.

In the Kentucky room are autographed copies and first editions of some of the books of such famous authors and poets as J. T. Cotton Noe, poet laureate of the state, James Allen Lane, Jesse Stuart, Irvin S. Cobb, American humorist, the writings of Henry and Marcellus Cassius Clay, John Uri Lloyd, one of the two complete collections of the works of Madison Cawein in existence, and the books of Alice H. Rice, beloved authoress of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

A special book plate is used for was designed by Sudduth Gorr, a was designed by Sudduth Gorr, a native of Lexington, now connected with the Art Institute of Chicago. All additional books donated or "on loan" have special plates inserted with name, date, and address of donor.

It is the aim of Eastern to instill in all Kentuckians a just pride in this enterprise that the state may honor its many natives who have achieved the pinnacle of fame, and that an adequate collection may be built as an aid to research workers and publishers. Occasionally an alumni or interested individual will add a gift to this collection, such as the presentation by Josiah Lilly of Indiana, of the copies of all the songs of Stephen Collins Foster, each edition being an exact reproduction of the original. In this way the collection will steadily increase in value and size.

A catalogue of the Kentucky Room at Eastern is being completed at the present time as a project of the Works Progress Administration at Louisville. Thru the efforts of the present librarian, Miss Mary Floyd, Mr. Walter M. Hoefelman, state director of the Historical Records Survey, WPA, and Miss Wilder of that department, a two-volume supplementary catalogue of the Collection of Kentuckiana will be ready for distribution to the other libraries in the near future. A peculiar coincidence is the fact that Mr. Townsend, the original collector, is employed at the present time in this Historical Records Survey office. No information of the kind that will be contained in the catalogue has heretofore been available to the general public and the value of the Townsend Collection to the state has not been recognized. It is a depository of valuable material for research workers and publishers.

Hilltoppers Sweep Through K. I. A. C. Tournament for Eighth Consecutive Time; Morehead Downed in Final Tilt

Western Leads At Half by 20-14; Final Score is 37-33

ALL-STARS NAMED

The Hilltoppers from Western won their eighth straight K.I.A.C. tournament here, February 23-25, by downing Coach Ellis Johnson's men by a 37-33 count. Showing real strength, Ed Diddle's men managed to stay ahead of the inspired Morehead team throughout the close game. The largest margin was eight points, at 36-28.

The teams advanced to final battle by winning semi-final games earlier in the day. Morehead upset Murray 44-37 and Western won easily from Transylvania 53-40. Western went ahead in the opening minutes of the game and was never headed. The two quintas played on equal terms the first half, but experience of the Hilltoppers was responsible for the 20-14 lead the Diddlemen had at the half. The first half featured the close playing of Kirk of Morehead and Towery of Western. Both men, well over the 6' 6" mark, held each other to few scoring opportunities. Towery was one of the stars of the final game and also of the tournament.

The Hilltoppers came back after the half with plenty of confidence and while they never ran up a big lead, they played slow, consistent type of ball that assured them of victory. Saddler and Towery of Western were high scorers with eight points. Wiggers of Morehead set a new record for high-scoring in the tournament by making 20 points in the semi-final game against Murray.

At the conclusion of the game, Lieut. Gov. Keen Johnson presented trophies emblematic of the championship to Western. Morehead was presented with the runner-up trophy. Gold basketballs were presented to the members of the champion team and silver awards were given to the Morehead squad.

The all-tournament honor team, selected by coaches, officials, and newspapermen, was announced following the game. The squad was as follows: Saddler, Hackett, and Towery, all of Western; Panther of Louisville; Carneal of Murray; Shoupe of Union; Gant of Morehead, and Stopp of Transylvania.

This year was Western's eighth consecutive win in the fourteen years that the tournament has been held. It is also the third consecutive year that Western has placed at least three men on the honor team.

Oppor Of Kentucky Selected As Best Player In South

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 4—Olney (Bowser) Chest of Nashville, veteran Southeastern Conference basketball official, paid tribute tonight to Bernie Oppor. "In my opinion," said Chest, referee of the Kentucky-Tennessee game, "Oppor is one of the greatest guards the South has ever produced. I put him on a par with Bozie Berger."

Oppor, captain of the Wildcats, received more votes than any other member of the all-tournament team.

Hilltoppers Cop SIAA Title For Fourth Year

Saddler Scores 26 Points To Spark Toppers

HONOR TEAM

The veteran Coach Ed Diddle and his Western Teachers College Hilltoppers added another trophy to their already bulging collection of hardware by defeating Jacksonville Alabama Teachers 54-43 in the final game of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association basketball tournament held March 3-5 at Bowling Green. The victory marked the third time in succession and the fourth time in the last six years that a Diddle-coached team has won the championship. In 1935 and 1936 it lost in the finals.

The game despite the margin of victory, was one of the highlights of the tourney. Jacksonville opened the game with the hottest exhibition of goal shooting demonstrated during the meet, hitting approximately 75 per cent of its shots as it moved into an 11-6 lead in the first six minutes. It spectacular goal shooting gave Western followers buck ague as it appeared that the Alabama team was out to duplicate it inspired performance of the afternoon.

Western's fans lost their jitters when Harry Saddler, who scored 26 points, set off a spark that rushed the Hilltoppers into a 12-12 tie and from there to a 26-18 margin at the half. The Jacksonville team was at a complete loss to stop the spectacular Saddler, as the Summer Shade youth had his jump shot and push shot clicking to perfection.

The entire first team of the Western Hilltoppers was named on the all-S.I.A.A. honor squad of ten players after coaches, newspapermen and officials balloted for the outstanding players of the meet. It marked the first time in history that an entire team was so honored.

The Western players named to the team were Harry Saddler, Carlyle Towery, John Hackett, Herb Ball and Wilson Stemm.

Jacksonville, the team defeated in the final game, drew two berths on the team, Sam Bailey and Emmett Plunkett being elected to the squad.

Louisiana Normal, a semi-finalist, also had two nominated in Tandy Jackson and John Elkins. Bill Carneal of Murray was the other player to be honored.

Xavier Pistol Team Defeats Eastern In Close Match

In a shoulder-to-shoulder match last Saturday between the ROTC pistol teams of Xavier University of Cincinnati and Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College the former team gained revenge, by a score of 1256 to 1242, for the defeat which they received at the hands of the local team in an earlier match fired at Cincinnati. The high scorer for the day was Cadet Lieutenant J. B. Rees, of Xavier, who shot a score of 276. High scorers on the Eastern team were Chester Hill, 259; Richard Brown, 251; James Stocker, 248; Charles Floyd, 244, and David Anthony, 239.

Several matches of the postal variety have been fired this week with colleges in other parts of the states, results to date being: University of Florida, 1297; Eastern 1300; Michigan State 1366; Eastern 1300.

Sports INSIGHT

For three consecutive years Eastern has been the host school for the KIAC basketball tournament and during that period I've heard nothing but praises and compliments for the splendid manner in which all affairs have been handled. As to the tournament just passed, this was even more so, because of two years previous experience, Mr. McDonough, Eastern's Athletic Director, knew all the answers, when to say "no" and when to "yes." So to Mr. McDonough, the athletic department, and athletic assistants, congratulations.

Recently, Mike Jacobs, boxing promoter, announced officially that Louis and Galento had signed for a championship match to be held sometime in June. Tony today can boast of one of the ring's greatest "build ups," developed thru the efforts of Mr. Jacobs. However, in the face of all this ballhoop, I'm inclined to believe that Clem McCarthy of Eastern (Elmo Ryle) called the winning number in stating that Two-Ton Galento will see the beginning of the end about the fourth round. It's too bad Louis is always in a hurry to get home.

In the last game of the tournament between Western and Morehead, when the Eagles were making it rather hot for the Hilltoppers, Coach Diddle substituted his pet guard, Hackett. Immediately, someone near the top row of the bleachers yelled down to Western's coach, "Better watch him, Diddle, mama's boy will get hurt." This remark, I believe, was the result of a foul Hackett had committed previously on Jack Kirk. However, Coach Diddle in his usual, snappy manner replied in a loud voice, "Don't you wish you had one like him?" That statement, come to think of it, is certainly significant when one recalls the games Western displayed during the time this young man was out of play. They certainly weren't the team then to defeat Kentucky—although this may be disputed. Hackett, though not a score-crazy basketballer, exhibited to tournament fans that he was Western's key player, the type of athlete the late "Cack" Demoisey proved to be for Eastern.

For the past five years a certain gentleman from the University of Kansas has been making the headlines of every newspaper in the country because of his unequalled victories and records in the world of sports. That man is none other than Glenn Cunningham. It has been repeatedly disputed whether or not Glenn could win a race other than that in his own specialties, the 1500 meters, and the mile. But this has now been settled and also branded Cunningham as the world's greatest runner. Don Lash, international title holder of the two-mile run, challenged the "Kansas Flash" in a special race of the above-mentioned two-mile variety. Of course, most of the experts expected Lash to make a walkaway of the dual clash, held in Madison Square Garden, but means of a sensational quarter-mile sprint, Glenn edged out Lash by a mere four feet. Cunningham can't bear defeat—he has no reason to.

Spring Football Practice Is On At Eastern

About Forty Report For Month's Warm-Up and Preliminary Drill

LOST ONLY SIX

Basketball forgotten and the time not yet right for baseball, athletic activities at Eastern Teachers College have turned to spring football practice with a squad of about 40 reporting to Coach Rome Rankin and his assistants.

Uniforms and equipment were issued recently to the squad, but rain and the condition of the practice field has prevented much outside work. Chalk sessions and various muscle-loosening exercises were dished out to the boys in the gymnasium.

The Maroons lose only six men by graduation this year and only three of them were considered regulars. Coach Rankin is seeking replacements for Walter Hill and Bill Hagood, co-captains of the 1938 team, and Woodrow Lydey. Hill was an end, Hagood a tackle and Lydey a center.

Some dozen who will be sophomores next year and about six who had not previously been out for the team, will complete the squad.

Rankin lost no starting backs and barring injuries, the Maroons should be stronger in the backfield next year, as last year's ball carriers were mostly sophomores. A number of good backs are coming up from last year's frosh team.

Coach Rankin plans to continue spring practice for four weeks. Fundamentals will be stressed with some mapping of basic plays and polishing up on passing and kicking featured.
