Regents' Medal To Be Awarded

Alpha Zeta Kappa, public speaking and debating club, which has been recently reorganized, has taken for one of its immediate projects the sponsoring of the annual oratorical contest for the Regent's Medal. This medal is awarded yearly to the best student orator at Eastern.

This year the elimination contest will be held near the first of April. The final contest will be two or three weeks later. The award is made at the commencement exercises. Any student enrolled at Eastern may enter this contest. Those who are interested should see the president of the club, Katherine Fossett, or its sponsor, Dr. P. M. Grise, at once.

This is the first time the contest has been held in a few years. The speech should be approximately ten minutes long and may be about any subject that the student may choose.

Alpha Zeta Kappa is open to any student enrolled at Eastern who is interested in public speaking and debating.

Deaths of Two Former Students

Miss Dorothy Jane Baxter, 24, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Baxter, in Richmond February 28 after a long illness. She was a junior at Eastern the summer of 1939. Fall-bearers were Dr. J. T. Dorris, G. M. Brock, T. J. Black, James Deatherage, William Hendren, and Bert E. Willis.

Mrs. Eleanor Best Azbill died at her home on Third Street in Richmond March 5 after several weeks' illness. She was a junior at Eastern the first semester of 1939-40. She is survived by her husband, David Pryse Azbill and a daughter, Dorothy Ann, three years old, besides her parents, three sisters and one brother.

Aline Dolan comes to Eastern from Rushville, Indiana. Her major is commerce, and to her has been given the title of "fastest typist on the campus."

She is five feet seven inches tall, and has blue eyes. She is a nominee for the title of "Miss Eastern." Aline has been a member of Sigma Tau Pi and the World Affairs Club.

Last quarter Aline did practice teaching in commerce at Ft. Thomas, Kentucky. This quarter is her last at Eastern, for she graduates tomorrow.

What after graduation? Only time will tell!

EASTERN WINS FROM LMU IN CHARITY GAME

The Eastern Maroon basketball team followed the tortuous course of the Cumberland River deep into the hill country of East Kentucky last week until they reached the mountain stronghold of Harlan. Here they disembarked and proceeded to beat Lincoln Memorial University 57 to 43 in the third meeting of the two teams this season.

The game was sponsored by the Lions Club of Harlan, and the proceeds went to charity. The Tennessee team was the only foe that could be secured for the contest, although Western and several other teams were sought. The LMU lads acquitted themselves in fine style, however, giving the Eastern team a very close call.

The Maroons started off with a bang and rolled up a comfortable lead in the early moments of play, but after that quick spurge the Easterners slowed up and things went along about evenly.

Eastern led by ten marks at the half-way point, and was not able to boost its advantage during the last stanza. Bryant, lanky LMU center gave the Easterners plenty of trouble throughout the contest, rolling up 20 points to press Eastern's Lewis for scoring honors. Lewis got 22 and Cecil Shryock hit for twelve to pace Eastern.

Sunrise Service To Be Given

The annual Easter Sunrise Service, presented by the YWCA and the YMCA of the campus will be given at 6:30 Easter morning in the amphitheater on the campus.

As yet the program has not been arranged in final form.

The program will be preceded by the playing of the chimes. This is the fifth annual Easter program to be held at Eastern. It is a student program given by the "Y" groups of the campus in cooperation with the ministers of the Richmond churches. It has been held each year in the amphitheater.

Two years ago the service was given in cooperation with a unit of the Women's Army Corps which was stationed on the campus at that time. One year the program was presented during the Easter vacation by the churches of the town and the few students remaining on the campus. This year the Sunrise Service will be presented by the student body cooperating with the churches.

The Easter Sunrise Service is one of the special programs that is presented by the YWCA and the YMCA each year. It is not as old as the Hanging of the Greens program or the "Y" Christmas party for underprivileged children, but it is older than the latest special service, the Thanksgiving program.

Misses Madeline Corman and Blanche Colyer, co-chairmen of the Special Programs Committee of the YWCA will be in charge of the service.

DR. DODD SPEAKS IN ASSEMBLY

Dr. Howard F. Dodd, former Berea College physician, until recently with the United Nations Relief Organization in Egypt, was the assembly speaker at Eastern Wednesday morning, February 28, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. He was introduced by President W. F. O'Donnell.

Dr. Dodd described briefly the work done by the relief organization with refugees from Greece, Yugoslavia, and European countries. Problems of sanitation in the camps for refugees were great, and at first hundreds of patients had to be cared for suffering from typhus, typhoid, smallpox, tuberculosis, and some cholera.

After the camps were established and doctors and nurses made available thru the United Relief fund, the cases of typhus disappeared completely; there was only one typhoid case and two cases of smallpox, he stated. Sanatoriums for the treatment of mental disease and tuberculosis were found in countries nearby and patients were transported with the help of the British and American armies.

Yugoslav girls were trained as nurses, and the Yugoslavs as a whole worked long hours each day to help in caring for the refugees. Dr. Dodd emphasized that none of the group was required to do such work to be cared for, but the people of that country realized the tremendous need in preparing food, helping in sanitation work, and caring for the sick, and worked for months from 6 in the morning until 10 at night.

The refugees are housed in tents placed on concrete slabs, with 18 to 20 persons to a tent. A cooking unit provided for each 1,200. The total number cared for at one time was between 25,000 and 30,000, the speaker said. The first nurse to come to the camp was from Berea College Hospital, Dr. Dodd stated, adding that both doctors and nurses are greatly needed at this time.

The Student Union Music Committee presented a musical program Sunday, March 11 at 4:00 p. m. in Walnut Hall.

Mrs. Guy Whitehead, Jr., was the vocalist and Miss Brown E. Telford, was the accompanist.

The program was as follows:

Members Named To Permanent Planning Group

President W. F. O'Donnell has announced the appointment of a number of faculty committees to work on problems affecting Eastern's immediate future.

A number of faculty members are working on Eastern's post war planning. The chairmen were chosen from the members of the permanent planning committee and are as follows:

Eastern's responsibility to the rural schools of Eastern Kentucky, Dr. D. T. Ferrell; It's field of service to returning veterans, M. E. Mattox; It's opportunities for adult education, Dr. Charles Keith and Dr. Roy B. Clark; The probable need for the enlargement of the educational plant, N. G. Deniston, Meredith J. Cox, James E. J. Moore, R. A. Edwards; Field service to the schools of the area served by Eastern, Dr. L. G. Kenamer.

Each chairman has selected the group of faculty members to work with him. Reports on the findings of the committee will be made some time this spring.

Ruth Kalb finishes her college career tomorrow. She is a math major from Brooksville.

As a sophomore she won the award offered by the Science Club to the sophomore having the highest average in mathematics, physics, and chemistry. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Kyma, the Madrigal Club, secretary-treasurer of the Physics Club, and was chosen a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

In a few days she will be employed as a chemist at the Ashland Refinery.

Lewis Leads Maroons To Victory Over Simpson

Led by Fred Lewis, high scoring forward who hit the hoops for 26 points, the Eastern Maroons won their first game in the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament, now being played at the Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, from the Simpson College five from Indianola, Iowa.

Eastern, following last night's win was established as one of the favorites to win the tourney, and their next appearance will be Wednesday night at 9:30 o'clock when they meet the undefeated Central Missouri team from Fayette, Mo.

Tom Samuels, assistant coach at Eastern, called C. T. Hughes, director of physical education, after the game last night and said the local boys played a great game, even though their train was five hours late in arriving in Kansas City, and they were forced to take the floor with only a short rest.

Mr. Samuels stated that the Simpson team was unusually tall, and had one player six feet eight inches tall and another that measured six feet six inches.

Central won from Eau Claire, Wisconsin, Teachers, 54-36; and Southern Illinois Normal defeated Washburn University of Topeka, Kan., 64-49, in the other first-round contests played last night.

Tonight's schedule pairs West Texas State with Wichita University in the opener at 7 o'clock; Eastern Washington vs. Doane College, Crete, Neb., at 1:15 o'clock, and Pepperdine of Los Angeles, Calif., and Peru, Neb., in the third game.

The finals of the tournament will be played Saturday night and will be broadcast.

New Quarter Begins Monday

Registration for the spring quarter will begin Monday, March 19, and classes will start on Tuesday. Schedules of classes can be obtained in the Dean's office.

Classes will be offered in agriculture, art, biology, chemistry, commerce, education, English, French, geography, government, health, history, home economics, industrial arts, Latin, library science, mathematics, military science, music, physical education, physics, science, sociology, and Spanish. Classes will be one hour in length beginning at 8:10 a. m. and ending at 5 p. m.

A Decade of Athletic Progress With Rankin

Rome Rankin, the man behind this year's most successful Maroons, completed ten years of outstanding football and basketball at Eastern. To add to his brilliant record of a decade Coach Rankin's team this year was invited to the National Tourney at Kansas City.

Rankin came to Eastern in February 1935, at a time when Eastern was a "breather" for most teams. The Maroons were quickly improved, and the 1938 grid season was called the "greatest that any Maroon team ever experienced." In five years the record of wins rose steadily until in 1940 he coached a team that was undefeated, untied, and unscored upon. They won national recognition, and the Maroons were now a "terror" of the gridiron.

During these years the football schedule was broadened to include colleges in Michigan, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, and Tennessee.

In 1940 the Milestone was dedicated to the grid mentor. It was said, "Coach Rankin has the ability to live with people in perfect harmony, and to inspire in those who know him something of his own cheerful philosophy."

The 1942 football season was the last at Eastern. For a year no basketball was played. During this time Coach Rankin assisted with coaching football at the University of Kentucky. When Ab Kirwin resigned a few weeks ago, Rome Rankin was one of the first mentioned as a choice as member of Shiveley's coaching staff.

Coach Rankin comes from Martins Ferry, Ohio. He received his A.B. degree from Wayneburg College in 1925; his M.A. from the University of Michigan in 1933, and upon writing his dissertation will receive the Ph.D. from the University of Kentucky.

He has been coaching basketball and football for twenty-one years. At Eastern, where he is Associate Professor of Physical Education and head coach of football and basketball, his teams have won eighty per cent of all games played.

Coach Rankin is a member of the National Educational Association, Kentucky Educational Association, Central Kentucky Educational Association, Phi Delta Kappa, and Sigma Delta Psi. He is a former president of the Kentucky Interscholastic Athletic Association; a former president and organizer of the Big Six Athletic Conference, Portsmouth, Ohio; for-

EASTERN TRADITIONS

Any college collects or accumulates certain traditions through the years, and the older the college the greater is the number of its traditions.

Eastern has gathered about it in the past years many traditions. Some of them were made in the forms of rules and laws; others were simply recognized and understood by everyone on the campus. Easterners abided by these traditions and respected them.

The force of tradition tends to preserve the worthless as well as the valuable through the years. Perhaps some of the traditions were bad; we are confident the greater majority were good. Through the years, however, many of the worthless traditions were discarded, and new traditions were formed.

There came a critical time in Eastern's career; perhaps we are still living in it. Suddenly because of the world conflict the whole routine at Eastern was changed. Many of the traditions were necessarily abandoned or modified to meet the changing times. Quite suddenly the student body was cut down to only a few hundred people, and very soon there were only a few students remaining who were here when Eastern had its standards and abided by them.

The majority of the students was and is in the freshman and sophomore classes. The only Eastern they have known is wartime Eastern. When the class of 1945 graduates, the last group to have attended Eastern before the war will be gone. They have attempted to hold up Eastern's standards against great odds. It is their duty to put Eastern's traditions before the other classes and leave them in written form.

It is the desire of every Easterner to keep Eastern as it was and only change it to make it greater. Perhaps many do not realize it, but traditions play a great part in upholding the standards of the college. Eastern must keep its worthwhile traditions, regain those that have been lost, add good ones to the list, for thus will it live and grow.

A SENIOR BOOKLET . . .

Last year was the first time in many years that a Milestone was not published at Eastern. "Life at Eastern" was published last year by the Phot Club. It was an outstanding bulletin and touched on every phase of campus life. It carried the senior section just as the Milestone has always done.

This year there is to be no Milestone and no "Life at Eastern." Unless the senior class can publish a senior bulletin in the spring quarter, the class of 1945 will have no yearbook of any type.

It is our opinion that should the senior class undertake this project it would receive the support of the Photo Club and the entire college.

The freshmen, sophomores, and juniors may have a Milestone next year, but for the seniors there is no next year at Eastern. The seniors should be the group predominantly interested in a year book. If Eastern is to have any sort of annual publication this year, the senior class must publish it.

Pfc. Harry Montavon In U. S. Hospital

Pfc. Harry F. Montavon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Montavon, 1501 Fourth St., Portsmouth, Ohio, has arrived in the States and is now at Valley Forge General Hospital, Phoenixville, Pa. He was wounded in France December 17 and has been in a hospital in England until being returned to this country. He entered the Army in April, 1944, and was sent overseas in October.

GRADUATES OVERSEAS

S/Sgt. Oliver T. Wilson (38) of Erlanger, is with a medical battalion somewhere in Luxembourg, APO 80, New York. He landed in France August 3 and has seen a fair-sized portion of France and Luxembourg, he writes. The people he has come in contact with give the impression of being sober and hard-working. He reports that Sgt. Jesse T. Baxter, of Richmond, a junior at Eastern in 1929-30 is in his outfit. Sgt. Wilson sent $3.00 to assist in the work of sending the news to men in the service.

Lt. (jg) Gordon Nash (37) of Trinity, and former teacher at Boms, N. C., before entering the Navy more than two years ago, is in Radar and recognition work on a battleship operating in the Pacific. He is also the orchestra director. Lt. Nash has been on overseas duty about 20 months. He recently gave $5.00 toward sending publications to servicemen and women with the statement that "this small contribution does not, by any means, express my appreciation."

Col. Adriel N. Williams (38), formerly of Shelbyville, has been in the European Theater of Operations for thirteen months as commanding officer of a troop carrier group, Army Air Forces, that he started with two years ago. He led the group in on three invasions, Normandy, southern France, and Holland, and supplied by air the 101st Airborne Division at Bastogne at Christmas time. He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Oak Leaf clusters, the Air Medal, and the French Croix de Guerre. He wears the American Defense ribbon with star, American Theater ribbon, and the ETO ribbon with five stars. Col. Williams recently gave $4.00 for the alumni work. He is based in England and the pound is worth $4.00 in American money. He pays high tribute to the men in the Army ground forces.

S/Sgt. Allen L. McManis (37) of Carrollton, is with the Rainbow Division somewhere in France, according to a letter written February 1 to his mother. He left the States in January with the 42nd, Rainbow Division to join the Seventh Army under General Hodges. Sgt. McManis entered the service in January, 1941, when the National Guard was activated. Two other Eastern graduates are known to be with the Rainbow Division, 1st Lt. Guy Whitehead (41) of Richmond, and Capt. Lawrence Kelly (42) of Everts.

Capt. Frank H. Wilcox (41) of Ft. Mitchell, pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress in the 351st Bombardment Group, has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement on six combat missions over Europe. Capt. Wilcox entered the service in July, 1940, completing the work for his degree by correspondence. He has been overseas since December, 1944. His wife (Dorothy Dorris, '40) and their two children live with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Dorris, in Richmond.

1st Lt. James E. Williams (42) of Newport, is with a signal depot company in the Philippines. He was with the first invasion boats and came within 75 yards of the beach before the Japs began firing. The damage was negligible and his men piled out on the beach and dug themselves in, the infantry moving inland. Lt. Williams suggests a "bundles for Filipinos," stating that the people are pathetically grateful to the American soldiers and were almost completely stripped of clothing, food, personal and household goods by the "super-runts." These people would be eternally grateful and the U. S. would never regret it, he added. "I was never much of an idealist but I believe this much: It is a privilege to fight for right and country after coming here," he writes.

1st/Sgt. Harold D. Mullen (35) of Georgetown, with the 9th Armored Division, European theater, APO 259, writes that his outfit "had rather a warm time Christmas and it wasn't the weather, either." He shares his Progress with about ten other Kentucky boys who have never attended Eastern but who enjoy the news very much. Sgt. Mullen has been in the Army over four years, most of the time in intelligence work.

Cpl. Robert M. Conley (42) of Paintsville, is radio repairman with a signal battalion in Germany. He recently wrote thanking the members of the Eastern Service Organization which mails the Progress-News Letter and the alumni staff for the work in preparing the news. Cpl. Conley has been overseas a year and in the service since July, 1942.

In a recent letter he mentioned seeing in the Progress an item about Bill Miller, a member of the Eastern basketball team who was one of Lt. Faulkner's high school basketball players from Williamsburg. Lt. Faulkner contributed toward the fund for mailing publications to men in the service and sent also ten yen in Japanese money. He has been overseas about a year.

Spring is beginning to peek from behind the skirts of Mother Winter, and everyone is thinking of pleasant memories and making plans for the future. To the "Y" spring means the Easter Program, the annual banquet, and the spring retreat.

The Easter Program will be held in the amphitheater at 6:30 a. m. on Easter. Music is to be furnished by the Girl's Glee Club. The speaker for the date will be announced at a later date.

The next important date will be April 14. At this time the "Y" organizations all over the nation will observe this program as a substitute for the National Convention. The program has been outlined by the National headquarters. The sessions will be from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. with a supper meeting from 5 p. m. to 7 p. m. followed by another session from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The annual "Y" banquet will be on May 4 at 6:15 p. m. in the Blue Room of the College Cafeteria. The theme and program of the banquet have not been completed.

The third traditional spring "Y" event is the retreat at Camp Daniel Boone on May 18, 19, and 20. Only old and new cabinet members are eligible to attend this event.

Further announcements will be made concerning each of these activities.

Since you won't have to see anymore such columns, do you mind if this one is a little sentimental? I'm leaving college tomorrow for good. Can you imagine not going to school anymore? Of course there are graduate schools but then they aren't the same at all. I've looked forward to finishing school for a long time but, just as I feared, now that the time has come, I don't wanta go.

Spring is beginning to peek around the corner, and those who haven't seen Eastern's campus in the Spring will know what I mean before long. Some bright sunny day after a rain you will suddenly realize that "Spring has sprung!" Yeah, that's the way she comes here, just overnight all the trees don their lacy fresh dresses of green and the flowers nod their saucy gay bonnets in the breeze.

There's a lot you miss about campus life that you aren't conscious of as one 24 hours follows another. Things such as—dusting out empty mailboxes or being one of the fortunate few and have them dusted for you with an occasional letter—yelling at the clerk to hurry and wondering why the postoffice hasn't sent the mail up—playin' cards in the rec—dashing madly from class as the 12 o'clock whistle blows to be first in line—the constant murmur of hello's, hi's, and howareyou's between the first and second whistles—pep rallies in the ravine and cafeteria—greeting the boys on their return from a successful basketball trip—the sight of a crowd swarming toward the SUB, someone yells "Where's the fire?" then promptly he's answered, "Fags in the grill."—reading the Alumni News Bulletin—the good news with the bad—maybe soon it'll all be good, let's hope so—plans being made for the postwar homecoming.

Then there's the dorm life—getting excited when the buzzer practically jumps off the wall—watching suitmates washing their faces the minute they hit the door—midnight snacks—bull sessions—cooking dinners with a gang in the kitchen—little fireside chats with Mama Case—parties in the rec room—doing washings in the laundry—making and selling sandwiches for the Red Cross—committee meetings—fifteen minute intermissions for Quiet Hour—shampoos, settings and haircuts—gripping cause the Coke machines won't work or are empty—dreadin' Friday mornings 'cause the bed has to be completely remade but eagerly falling between clean sheets after a full, hard day—bearing the battlecry, "Got anything to eat?"—the last minute cramming but finally deciding maybe the knowledge may be obtained by diffusion!

Of course there are a lot of big things, too—formal dances, teas, receptions—but those stick with us now and are topics of present discussion. Then last but not most certainly not least is the minor detail of attending classes and studying.

It really has been swell being in school here at Eastern these past four years. My class has slightly diminished since that Fall of 1941. I'm sure I'll never meet such a grand bunch of people when I venture forth into this wide, cruel world. You all be good and it won't be long until you'll be leavin', too—

If this is the end, then this is the end,
I never was one to complain.
The sun has shone for a long, long time
If it wants to rain, let it rain.
If you want to go your way, then go,
I know a new path, too,
Roads always cross somewhere,
sometime,
Well, I'll be seeing you.

He has made numerous public addresses and radio interviews, and has published a number of sports articles.

Rome Rankin has been the subject of several sports columns and editorials. He is referred to as "Dead Pan Rome" and "The Man with the Red Carnation." The first title was conferred upon him because he doesn't fight with the referee when his team is behind in scoring nor go into ecstasies when it is winning. The latter title comes from the traditional attire at games—a brown suit and on his lapel, a maroon carnation.

With no football this year Eastern concentrated entirely on basketball, and the Rankinmen chalked up a successful season to finish in third place in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and to play in the National Tournament.

The Milestone once printed these words about Coach Rankin: "Immediately after Rome Rankin took over the head coach position, a new spirit seemed to envelop the campus, and everyone began to take a new life as far as athletics were concerned." These words have been true through his ten years of athletic progress at Eastern, and they are just as true now as they were then.

The End of Two Bits

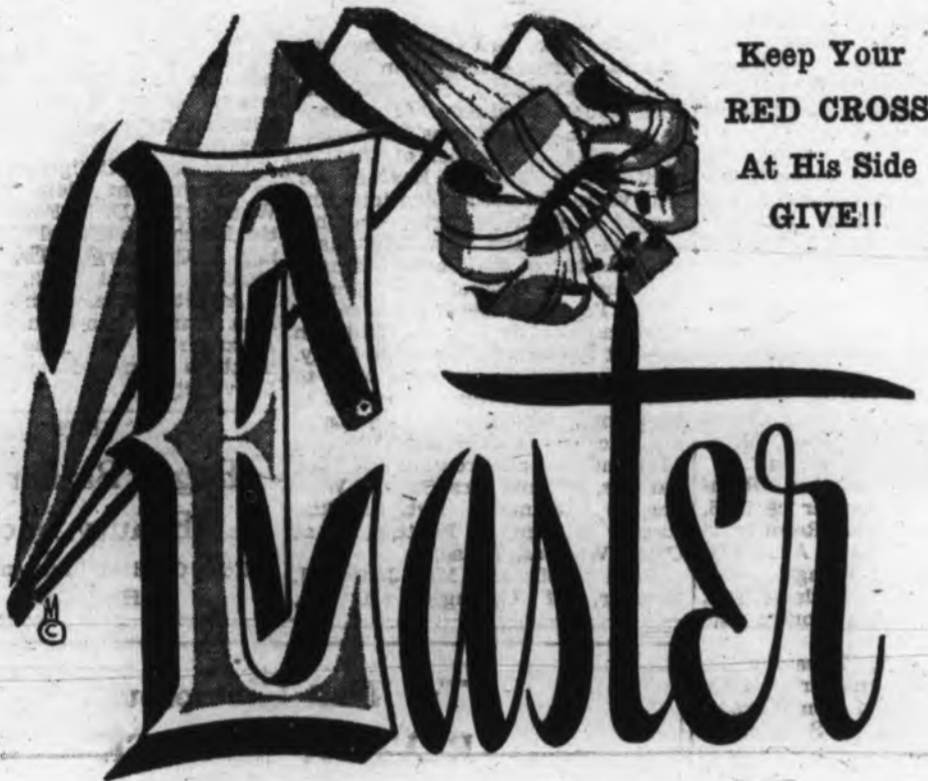

Since we realize that all the attempts of pebble are feeble, we do not consider our time as having been spent in vain. At least we have a complete understanding of the things that the faculty doesn't want us to know. There is such a great lapse of time between the two quarters we think we will have time to go down town for a hamburger.

No Rest for the Rest

Who never to himself hath said—
This is the last time I will cram!

And insomniating* himself with "smokes"
Preparing for a final exam.
If such there breathe, go reconnoiter
For he is surely a forty grade poet*.

He Got No Fangs For It

Back in the 5th century Ireland had become infested with hissnakes. The people tried to kill as many as possible. The merchants were buying the skins and using them in every feasible manner. They began to appear on many pieces of wearing apparel; hence the name garter snake was applied to one specie that possessed bright and gay colors. Babies were given one type to play and make noise with. This one was called the rattlesnake. These uses, however, were not complete enough to affect greatly the problem. Some one suggested appealing to Saint Patrick for aid, for, as he said, "He's got what it snakes." Well, Pat through the cooperation of the F.C.C. managed to get all the snakes assembled in an amphitheater. Here he began lengthy discussion on the ill effects of traveling on one's stomach. Seeing that he had one hand behind him, and being highly sensitive, they suspected he was concealing the Blarney Stone, with which he intended to kill them. They fled. If they had only looked behind him, they would have seen that the damrock was a shamrock.
