An Anniversary Dance . . . Gift This Christmas

Eastern's annual formal Anniversary Dance will be held on Thursday, December 14. Music will be furnished this year by the nationally known orchestra of Ralph Marterie from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Recreational facilities will be made available in Walnut Hall for those who do not wish to dance. According to President Martin, . . . "this is Eastern's Christmas present to the student body".

Need For Hospital Is Evident

The critical over-occupancy of hospital space in the Pattie A. Clay Infirmary continues to exceed the safe percentage as the campaign to build a new hospital in Richmond is "put to bed" for a Christmas break, according to Colonel Alden O. Hatch, administrator of the PAC.

The fund, which reached $257,237.84 at the last report meeting last Monday night at Eastern's Keen Johnson Student Union Building, is well over half-way to its goal of $500,000.

Colonel Hatch said that campaign officials are optimistic about reaching their goal shortly after the holiday break, early in 1962. "We shall continue the campaign enthusiastically after the Christmas 'half-time' break," he said, "and we feel certain that the new year will bring good tidings to our hospital building fund campaign."

Colonel Hatch announced today that the request for matching funds totaling $500,000 in Hill-Burton money for the construction of the new hospital have been approved by the Kentucky Hospital Advisory Council. The federal government will match every dollar raised locally for the new hospital.

Meanwhile, officials at Eastern continue to make plans for a school of nursing to be established in conjunction with the new hospital. This will give the hospital a ready supply of trained nurses and will help the entire area in providing qualified nurses. The college board of regents approved the school of nursing at their last meeting.

The campaign headquarters will continue to be open. Office hours during the holiday period have been announced. The office will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Pledges reported at the last meeting were: the family of Dr. M. M. Robinson, Pergem Insurance Agency, Rainbo Baking Company, Richmond Women's Club, Coca-Cola Company, and Edwin Flannery.

Occupancy at the Pattie A. Clay during the month of November was almost 90 per cent, according to Col. Hatch. The American Hospital Association states that the safe level of occupancy is below 75 per cent.

Two Students On Probation

Two boys have been put on rigid probation and six boys have been put "on report" following a "carol session" Monday night, November 28.

The two boys are considered instrumental in the origin of the session. About four hundred boys took part in singing "Jingle Bells" in front of Burman Hall about midnight. After the arrival of state police, local police, and a fire truck, the boys went back to their dormitories.

According to Dr. Henry Martin, Dean of Students, these two boys had previous records of misdemeanors. One boy, a resident of Mattox Hall, is considered a leader in starting the session. The other, a resident of another dormitory, is a suspect in pulling the false fire alarm of that night. The false alarm was responsible for the Mattox Hall boys being outside their dormitory.

Boys Are Restricted. The boys will be restricted to their dormitory, library, cafeteria, and classrooms. Probation will be continued until the end of the semester.

Those six boys who are "on report" had taken part in the carol session.

These boys will be required to report to the office of the Dean of Students regularly for the rest of the school year, to show that they have tried to improve their scholarship and citizenship.

McCreary Hall Fire

The Richmond Fire Department was called to the Eastern Campus last night at 8:05 because of a fire in McCreary Hall. According to Assistant Fire Chief Harry Ballard, the fire started in the insulation behind the heating system in one of the rooms and was confined there. The damage was estimated at about $25.

The boys were out of McCreary for approximately 30 minutes.

SENATOR GREETS MAROONS—Senator Thuston B. Morton, assembly speaker at Eastern on Wednesday, greets the co-captains of the Maroons' basketball team, which opens its season Saturday night against Transylvania. ## Kentucky's Senator Morton Urges All College Students To Take Part In Politics

Senator Thuston B. Morton urged the students of Eastern to become aware of "a tremendous responsibility in making the representative form of government work by taking an active part in politics." The Senator was the principal speaker at the assembly program Wednesday morning in Brock Auditorium.

The native Kentuckian, who is national chairman of the Republican Party, said that the basis for this democratic form of government is freedom of choice. "On that basic freedom rests all of our other freedoms. This is the basis for our government. It is up to us to preserve this freedom by keeping ourselves informed, by registering and voting, and by being active in politics."

"Our system is on trial," he said. "It will succeed only if we realize that we have a political responsibility just as we do to our church and family." He said that the United States' form of government is unlike the Communist form practiced in the U.S.S.R., because we have more than one way to vote. "The Russians tell us that their system works better because more than 99 per cent of their people vote. 'They vote the only way they can,' he said, 'for the one party of the ballot.'"

Need Of Intelligent Election. "We need the interest of an intelligent election," he said. "If we are to have the most capable and best educated people in political offices," he said, "because if you do, our representative form of government will fail in its mission. In this time, where you've got a completely monolithic structure, headed up in the Soviet Union . . . then we in our system, as individual citizens, have to measure up, or that system will not prevail."

"We can only succeed if we, who have had the advantages of higher education, recognize the fact that we have this great responsibility to our family, our church, and our community," he concluded.

Assistant Coach Jim Baechtold introduced the eleven-man varsity basketball squad, who were stage guests during the program.

The purpose of the Commission was to compare the standards of the Southern colleges and universities to those of others of the nation and to take immediate steps to improve the standards of Southern colleges.

The 48 page report given at the meeting was titled "Within our Reach." It said that the opportunities that reach the height

The thirtieth annual presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30 in Hiram Brock Auditorium by the 225-member Messiah Chorus, James E. Van Peursem, head of the Eastern music department, will direct the chorus.

A later performance by the chorus will be presented at 7:30 at the Union Church in Berea, with Rolf E. Hovey, Berea College music head, directing.

Soloists at the Richmond presentation will be Thaise B. Honaker, soprano from Richmond; Evelyn Beal, contralto from New York City; Galand W. Pettys, tenor from Norwood, New York; and Donald Henrickson, bass from Eastern. Pettys is an Eastern student and Mrs. Honaker, the wife of an Eastern faculty member.

Miss Beal will perform at both the Richmond and Berea performances.

Chorus Numbers 225. The chorus will be composed of 225 college students, faculty, and citizens of Madison County, as well as some of Eastern's alumni who return each year for the performance.

Accompanying the chorus will be the Eastern orchestra, Dr. Robert Oppel directing, augmented by members of the Berea orchestra, and Miss Brown E. Telford at the organ.

Mrs. Blanche Seavers, of the music faculty, assisted with the training of the chorus.

The "Messiah," one of the annual highlights of the year at Eastern, has been a joint presentation with Berea since 1931. No admission will be charged for either performance.

Mrs. Honaker, a graduate of Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N.J., has been soprano soloist in presentation of the "Messiah" with the Asheville Symphony and Civic Chorus, Asheville, N.C. She has appeared as a recitalist, both sacred and secular, in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, and South Carolina, and sang with Westminster Choirs and the New York Philharmonic under Leopold Stokowski and Bruno Walter, and with the Little Orchestra Society, under Thomas Scherman. Mrs. Honaker was choral director and soloist for "Into These Hills," in Cherokee, N.C.

Beal Is Contralto. Miss Evelyn Beal, contralto, is a graduate of the School of Music, University of Michigan, and holds a master's degree in sacred music from the Union Theological Seminary in New York. A native of Wichita, Kansas, Miss Beal started her career in musical comedy, doing featured roles in road shows of such famous productions as "Carousel" and "Where's Charlie?"

Miss Beal has a unique interpretative ability and a magnificent stage personality, which has endeared her to concert audiences throughout the United States and Canada, according to critics. She has received an award from the National Federation of Music Clubs and has appeared with such well known organizations as the Metropolitan Opera Company, the Chicago, Kansas City, and El Paso Symphonies, the DeSaffo and Concert Choirs, and Robert Shaw.

Pettys Is Soloist. Tenor, Galand W. Pettys, a native of Norwood, N.Y., is an Eastern student presently studying voice under Donald Henrickson, of the music faculty, also a soloist for the presentation. He is a graduate of Norwood-Norfolk Central School, Norwood, N.Y., and has sung under these conductors: Robert Shaw, Thor Johnson, Leopold Stokowski, Nadia Boulanger, Advan Sagun, and Dr. Helen Hosmer.

Henrickson, bass, has been soloist for the past two years, and will appear this year, with the Messiah Choir, of Independence, Missouri, which is broadcast over more than 800 radio stations in the U.S., Canada, and Australia, as well as through the U.S.S.R. An active oratorical and concert artist throughout the eastern United States, he has been soloist under such figures as Sir Thomas Beecham, Boris Goldovsky, and Lukas Foss, and has had lead roles in several operas. He played the role of "Christy" in the Stephen Foster Story for 70 performances at Bardston last year and has soloed with the Lexington Symphony and the Saginaw, Mich., Symphony.

UK's Hern And Warren Win First Annual Pioneer Meet

A University of Kentucky negative debate team composed of Jo Hern and Warren Scoville compiled 174 total points out of a possible 200 to win the first annual Pioneer Debate Tournament last Friday and Saturday held in Donovan Building, Eastern's new training school. The second highest score was compiled by Walter Fleenor and Robert Polk, a negative team from Berea.

Other outstanding debaters for the two day affair were Toni Lennox and Betty Choate, an affirmative team from the University, and Tom Roberts and John Rogers, an affirmative team from Eastern.

Host Coaches. The entire tournament was directed by the host coaches, Mrs. Aimee Alexander and Mr. Gerald Honaker, two members of the Eastern English faculty. Registration began at 5 p.m. Friday, December

1, in the Donovan library. Dinner was served to the debaters, timekeepers, and judges in the cafeteria at 6 p.m. the same evening. After the judge assignments in Edwards Auditorium, the first round of debate was held on Friday evening, and the final three rounds of debate were held on Saturday beginning at 9:30 a.m. and ending at 2:30 p.m.

Be Placed Under Anti-trust Legislation. Each school brought judges. Eastern's representatives were Dr. Byno Rhodes, Miss Pearl Buchanan, and Mrs. Mary Baldwin.

Among the chairmen and timekeepers were members of the Discussion and Debate Class and volunteers from the Eastern student body.

This Pioneer Tournament now becomes history as Eastern debaters regroup their forces in preparation for the Bluegrass Tournament at Georgetown, January 5 and 6. This is the next major tournament on the schedule. Following it, however, are the Gavel Tournament at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Indiana, on January 12 and 13; and the Fourth Annual Miami Cross Examination Debate Tournament at Miami of Ohio on March 9 and 10.

TOURNEY WINNERS—Warren Scoville and Jo Hern, of the University of Kentucky debate team, winners of the first annual Pioneer Debate Tournament held over the weekend at Eastern, are shown as they are presented the championship trophy by Gerald Honaker of the Eastern English Department. The tournament was held Friday and Saturday at Eastern.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

A Master Calendar

A lack of communication seems to exist in the area of organization scheduling of activities. It has been a standing procedure on this campus to schedule all meeting dates of all approved clubs on a master calendar which is located presently in the office of Dean Henry Martin and which is directly under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Perry.

This habit is becoming a lost item in the lives of many clubs which are now in existence but which have neglected to let the world know the when and where of their activities. It is more than a courtesy for the organizations to place their meeting on the calendar. For one thing, this tiny task keeps meeting places free from conflicts. With the many clubs on this campus, it is necessary for someone to have an idea of the times and places. It would also serve as an aid for the clubs in having a majority of their members present if they could place their meetings wisely so as to avoid conflicts on a detrimental level.

All campus approved organizations are to schedule the time and place of their meetings on the calendar at the first of every school year. All special organization activities are to be scheduled at least in a week in advance so that they may be placed on the weekly calendar which is circulated over the campus and published in the Progress. Any changes are to be reported immediately to Mrs. Perry, room 26 of the Coates Administration Building.

All social activities which involve off-campus arrangements and dances on campus are to be approved first through the Dean of Women's Office. Approval cards are then brought from this office to Mrs. Perry's to be placed on the calendar.

Organizations are urged to cooperate with the master calendar keeper. If an organization has as yet failed to sign a card in the proper office, they are urged to schedule their meetings. If organizations continue to fail to meet this request, some move will be taken to insure that all existing clubs do cooperate.

Christmas Ball Or Basketball?

Next Thursday poses a problem for all Eastern students; whether to attend the Northwestern State College Basketball game or the President's Anniversary Dance or both. The problem is the time element, for to attend the game first means not getting to the dance until the outrageous hour of 11 p.m. or so.

Maybe it would be possible to move the game time up to 7 or 7:30 p.m. to enable the spectators and participants to attend the ball near its convening hour. Maybe this could be done by doing away with the Freshman game just for this occasion. It would certainly help; although it would not be an impossible thing to attend both under the present circumstances, it would be a little unfair since both events are so important. A plea goes out for the students who wish to do so. Can something be done?

Dear Editor, Since football season, it has suddenly occurred to me that something is wrong at Eastern. The subject of school spirit is an old topic around our campus; however, the situation has not improved, only gotten worse. The latter statement can be proven by pointing out the lack of spirit that was displayed at the homecoming game. Westerry's small crowd and their band actually outcheered us!

This dissertation thus far has centered around the yelling at ball-games, but the apathy held by the students on campus is carried over to all areas. For example, in one of our campus-wide elections, only 20 per cent of our student body bothered to vote. Wonder if the other 80 per cent were saying that they never had any opportunity to express their opinions? Also, I wonder what per cent of our student body received unsatisfactory grades for mid-term and what per cent of the people on our campus are truly active in at least one organization. Well, you may not care about what happens to this place, but I do!

The reason for the indifference on our campus is difficult to analyze. As a senior, however, I have observed that this campus has lost some of its uniqueness—its friendliness. Perhaps this can be explained by the rapid growth and sudden changes that have occurred. We are undergoing what the social scientists would call a "cultural lag"; we are speeding ahead in the material aspects of our college, but the sense of unity and the importance of the individual is slowly disintegrating. A college without the unity of the student body can never become great.

I am appealing to all students on campus to remedy this situation. Join an organization and become an active member. Make your grades. Vote in every election. Attend campus activities. Yell at the basketball games; the season is here. And—most of all show your pride in Eastern by giving some of your time and talent to it! Let's raise the spirit now!

Sincerely, Anne Stanley Johnson

Dear Editor, The time has come when all students on campus must come to the aid of the girls.

The telephone service between the boys and girls dorms is becoming progressively worse. Time was when it only took five minutes to get the girl, now one is lucky to get her at all.

Many examples of the circumstances have become known to me. The classic example is the one that happened to me recently. I phoned one of the girls dorms. I was informed that the girl was not in. I later found that she had been in the whole time.

Another example is one that was related to me by a friend. He stated that he called a certain young lady, asked for her, then waited, waited, and waited. Twenty minutes later the girl on duty returned and asked with whom he wanted to speak.

The list goes on and on, ranging from the no calls after 9 o'clock rule to "bussing" lines. In these not-so-sure things, anything which could be done if only to insure future domestic tranquility.

Sincerely, "The Aging Junior"

Dear Editor, May I have some of your space to discuss a matter of importance to all Eastern students?

We are finding salesmen on our campus, attempting to sell such things as insurance, books, new food products, and the like. Some of you have had the unhappy experience of paying for items which never arrived. It is a policy on our campus that salesmen not visit dormitories, and knock on the doors of all students. As of this date, the only sales persons having official permission on our campus, are the newspaper distributors for the Louisville and Lexington papers. If others attempt to conduct their business on campus, please ask them to show you an authorization card from the Dean of Students office.

Several companies and business establishments have asked for the names and addresses of all Eastern students. We do not distribute these lists. If you wish to make a business appointment with a salesman by mail or phone, you are privileged to do so. Please be aware of salesmen and strangers who make you get-rich-quick offers, and call our office when you find unauthorized personnel on campus.

Thank you, Henry G. Martin, Dean of Students

My Dear Editor, I would like to praise all the students living under crowded housing conditions on Eastern's campus, and still doing their required work.

In the dorms there are anywhere from three to five persons per room, the only advantage being that with five people in one room, there is always someone to talk to.

Of course, it has its disadvantages. It is hard for one person who has a great deal of studying, because his roommates may have little to do. The other two roommates may cause disturbances which try the patience of the studious soul. I, myself, have been jammed into my closet by an eager roommate who is trying to get from one side of the room to the other. It seems as if one roommate is always in the way. Under these trying conditions, I congratulate all the students who haven't been complaining.

With the new dorms under construction it may be suggested that the rooms may be built for three people, but on second thought there might be four people put in each room. Let's just keep it to a maximum of two people so there will be three to a room.

Love, X
Editor's note: Your story has touched our hearts. We question the lavish praise which you heap upon the residents however. Worse conditions have been known in history.)

Views On The News

By MARIAN BAZZY

The Katanga Province in the wilds of Africa means the future of American airlifts to the United Nations troops in that area of the world. Berlin is still a sore pin to the status of the Cold War between the Colonialists and the non-slaveholders. Kennedy is on his way in helicopters again... as the Saturday Evening Post continues to run the story of what made our President what he is.

First we must begin with an ode to the flowering Dominican Republic. For too long has this hemisphere been taking second place to the other regions of the world. Now we have stories of our own other than the warnings of nature. Castro is a real Communist who used the United States at the first of his regime because he felt his country too weak to back the power of the dominating force of the free world. Poor Castro; and to think that he had the Americas fooled at first... If all the new courts in the world begin to function soon, we may be able to try cases of some significance... soon... even at Eastern... with no individual effort... there are judges now who will keep the peace and order of our domain.

Berlin... if only something could be said about it which hasn't been said before... "Hail, noble bear! Onward, forward and out!"... In other words, there is nothing else to say. There could be a free election in which 90% of the inhabitants of the two Germanys could vote... that would really be a very interesting thing... it would also be interesting if nature could be the pure and unadorned world it was meant to be according to a noted poet... meaning free from the vices of the present existing men.

A noted source has stated, "The Democrats' solution to our problem is to kill all the Democrats; the Republicans' solution to our problem is to kill everyone"... the charm of it all is simply overwhelming. Since no one has been blessed by the fountain, the icebergs are now forming in the great waters of the North Seas... the big fish will be very unhappy... the newly installed fishing ships of Russia will also be dismayed... an ode to the fish which will be frozen in the icebergs... an ode to the present inhabitants of the Arizona... an ode to the coming birthday... an ode to the year which will soon leave us... "full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."

Maroons Open '61 - 62 Basketball Season Tomorrow

—EASTERN PROGRESS Friday, December 8, 1961

Doug's Sports Beat

with DOUG WHITLOCK
Progress Sports Editor

RALLY 'ROUND THE MAROONS

Well, tomorrow night the 1961-62 edition of the Eastern Kentucky Maroons basketball squad will open its 17 game card with the Transylvania Pioneers from Lexington. Not very many students are expected to "suitcase" this weekend and for good reason. Basketball is more than a sport at Eastern, it is a tradition. This coupled with the opening-home game attraction makes tomorrow night's game a must for every Eastern student.

The game with Transy could very well set the pace for the entire season and the student body can do its part in going to a victory by wholeheartedly supporting the Maroons in their opening role. Our cagers haven't lost a home game in 34 tilts in Weaver Gym and we don't intend to let them start now.

Weaver Gym should be packed for the encounter. Lexington is only 26 miles away and the Eastern game will give the basketball-hungry Pioneer fans one of few chances to see their team on the road.

WESTERN'S NICK DENES OVC COACH OF THE YEAR

Nick Denes, coach of the Western Hilltoppers, has been designated as the "Coach of the Year" in Ohio Valley Conference football this season. Denes polled four of the seven votes and the other three were split, one of them going to our own Glenn Presnell.

This situation brings up the question of what would have happened had Eastern beaten Western.

At the start of the season Eastern and Western were picked to repeat their cellar performances of 1960, but Western with a 5-4 slate and Eastern 4-5 finished third and fourth in the lop. If the Maroons had come out on top of the 16-15 loss to Western the records and spots in the conference would have been exactly reversed, and Presnell may have been "Coach of the Year" instead of Denes.

MOREHEAD, WESTERN ARE 1-2 PRE-SEASON PICKS, EASTERN THIRD

The Morehead Eagles of Coach Bobby Laughlin are the favorites in the 1961-62 Ohio Valley Conference race and Western, coached by Ed Diddle is picked to come in second, according to the voting of OVC coaches.

A recent poll of OVC coaches showed Morehead a solid choice to repeat as the conference's representative in the NCAA Tournament play next March. Six of seven coaches ranked the power-packed Eagles first and the other had Morehead second.

Western was a solid choice for second as the Hilltopper outfit drew six votes for second and one for first.

Our own Maroons edged out Tennessee Tech for third place while Murray nipped Middle Tennessee for fifth.

With seven points credited for 2 first place vote, six for second, five for third, etc., here's how the final tabulation shaped in the pre-season poll of head coaches.

1. Morehead (48 points); 2. Western (43); 3. Eastern (30½); 4. Tennessee Tech (27½); 5. Murray (20); 6. Middle Tennessee (18); 7. East Tennessee (9).

COACH PAUL S. McBRAYER

McBrayer Opens His Sixteenth Season Here

Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame member Paul S. McBrayer will open his sixteenth season as head basketball mentor of the Eastern Maroons tomorrow night with a 209 win, 138 loss career record.

"In recognition of fifteen years of dedicated guidance to his players, service to his college, and contributions to the game of basketball, Coach Paul S. McBrayer is hereby inducted into the Hall of Fame."

These words were spoken by President Robert R. Martin last March just after the Maroons had gained a share of the Ohio Valley Conference crown by defeating co-champion Morehead 67-54. Upon presentation of the coveted certificate, more than 3,000 standing fans gave "The Big Irishman" a rousing ovation that seemed to last for five minutes.

A master strategist, McBrayer is a basketball fundamentalist with a genius for developing his players into fundamentally sound teams. He gets as much out of the players as any other man in the business. This is evidenced by the "overlooked" players, passed up by larger universities, that are listed every year on his rosters.

One of the game's most expert teachers, McBrayer is a native of Anderson County, Kentucky, and a 1930 All-America guard at the University of Kentucky. He was born in the heart of the Blue Grass, in Lawrenceburg, and his loyalty to Kentucky and the Blue Grass is shown by his desire to remain here by turning down jobs at bigger schools.

Maroons Reach Major Status
After coming to Eastern in October, 1946, he needed but one year to lift the Maroons to a major status. In his first year, with practically an all-freshman team he won eleven straight games before a blemish went on the record. His team finished with a 21-4 record. Eastern finished 70th in the nation among the more than 800 college and university teams.

The following season, as sophomores, the Maroons were officially classified by the N.C.A.A. as a "major college" team and were ranked 49th from the top nationally. They climbed to 24th the next season, in only their second year of major classification, and finished with a 17-4 season.

His senior club of 1950 missed by a mere half point finished in (Continued on Page Five)

Wittenburg Swimmers Down Maroons, 71 - 23

The Eastern Eels swimming team lost its first match last Saturday to the powerful Wittenburg tankers, 71-23, in the worst beating the Maroons' swimmers have ever been dealt. The match was swum in Weaver Health Building pool.

Danny Morris, freshman diver, proved to be the only bright spot in the Eastern fan's eyes as the stocky youngster won the only Eastern victory in the long afternoon.

In the rest of the events Wittenburg monopolized the first place honors in all the team events and had boys placing 1-2 in four of the nine individual events.

Norby of Wittenburg turned in one of the more impressive individual showings of the meet as he turned in times of :24.7 and :57.8 in the 50 yard and 100 yard free style events.

Wittenburg is expected to be the strongest opponent the Maroons will face all year with the possible exception of the University of the South (Sewanee), which is always an annual national power as is Wittenburg.

Bowling And Volleyball Began Tuesday

Organized bowling and volleyball under the direction of Jess White, Intramural Director, began Tuesday as each sport boasts two leagues, the American and National in each case.

Two bowling leagues are in action on Tuesday and Thursday. The leagues are composed of ten teams each and Mr. White announced Wednesday that if enough interested students make applications for new teams that a third league will be organized. The deadline for these applications is Wednesday.

The volleyball action also got underway Tuesday and its leagues boast nine teams each for an 18 team total.

Freshmen Open Season With Cumberland Frosh

Preliminary To Varsity Tilt

The Eastern freshmen under the guidance of Jim Baechtold will open their 17 game card tomorrow night against the Cumberland College novices at 5:45 immediately preceding the Eastern, Transylvania tilt.

Coach Baechtold, working with limited material, has listed his probable starters for the game as: Warren Hull, 6-6 from Dayton, O., at the pivot spot; 6-5 Dennis Bradley, Lexington, at one forward; 6-3 Larry Lucas, Covington, at the other forward post; 6-1 Neville Pennington, Cincinnati, at one guard spot; and 6-1 Wayne Morris, Mercer County at the other. The other men on the team, and there are only three, are 6-6 center, Julius Fey from Cincinnati, 6-3 forward, Robert Vickers, of Richmond, and 6-8 forward, Clayton Gabbard from Berea.

Five of Eight on Scholarship
Of the eight men, left from fifteen, five are on scholarships and the other three are out on their own. Vickers, Gabbard, and Pennington are the three out on their own and Pennington is listed on the starting lineup.

Hull is one of the more versatile men on the team, being equally adept with the forward slot as center. Morris possesses good speed and quickness and should do a fine job at his guard position. Lucas, regardless of being the shortest man on the backline, shows great promise on his rebounding and defense, but needs a little work on his offensive game. Bradley and Pennington have also looked impressive in being named to the starting team.

Big men on the Cumberland squad are expected to be George LeForte, who graduated from LeForte High last year and participated in the Kentucky-Indiana All-Star games, and 6-7½ pivotman, James German from Batavia, N.Y.

This year's frosh play four straight home games with the University of Louisville, Southeastern Christian, and the Morehead frosh invading the campus in the following weeks.

Now is the time for all good students to come and start cheering the Maroons to victory.

More than 68% of the nation's population is within a day's drive of Kentucky.

With 14,000 miles of running water in its 31 rivers and 600 smaller streams, plus great groundwater reserves in most areas, Kentucky has adequate water for any kind of industry.

Host Transy Pioneers

Coach Paul McBrayer inaugurates his sixteenth basketball season at Eastern Kentucky State College tomorrow night when he sends one of his smallest and most inexperienced squads against the KIAC-toughie, Transylvania, in the curtain raiser at Weaver Gym.

A capacity crowd is expected to jam the 3,000-seat Weaver Health Building gymnasium for the 8 o'clock tip-off. Coach Jim Baechtold's freshman team will meet the Cumberland College freshmen in a 5:45 preliminary.

Co-Champs Last Year
Coach McBrayer, whose Maroons grabbed a three-way share of the Ohio Valley Conference crown last year, has named two seniors and three juniors to open against the Pioneers. They are seniors Larry Parks, 6-2 from Arlington, Indiana, at a guard, Ray Gardner, 6-3 from Mt. Eden, at a forward, and juniors Rupert Stevens, 6-1 from Russell Springs, at the other guard, Jim Werk, 6-5 from Camden, Ohio, the other forward, and 6-7 Ronald Pickett, Frankfort, at center.

The Maroons were, surprisingly, picked to finish third in the OVC this year, after speculation that no one would rate them higher than fourth in pre-season polls. The Eastern squad numbers just eleven men, including three seniors, four juniors and four sophomores. Only two lettermen are on hand, Parks and Gardner.

Sports Illustrated Picks Bearcats To Win NCAA Morehead Is O. V. C. Choice

The Sports Illustrated Special Basketball Issue is out this week. Again the magazine has produced detailed scouting reports on 183 U.S. college teams and evaluates them conference by conference. Cincinnati is rated a good choice to retain its National Championship and the forthcoming season is predicted to have the makings of the most exciting season the sport has known. The talents of seven men are one of the reasons Sports Illustrated gives for its optimistic attitudes about this year's possibilities. They are: Jerry Lucas, Paul Hogue, Billy McGill, John Rudometkin, Len Chappell, Dave DeBusschere and Terry Dischinger.

Included in the issue this year is a basketball "instructional" featuring Auburn's highly successful shuffle technique which Coach Joel Hayes developed out of the original idea of former Coach Bruce Drake of Oklahoma.

Conference Summaries
A brief summary of Sports Illustrated conclusions on each conference:

Yankee
For the first time in memory a genuine 3-team race for the title is seen. New top dog Rhode Island has the material to back up four of last year's starters. But the Huskies from Connecticut have no apparent weakness and Massachusetts has a towering front line.

Ivy
Championship race will be a 2-team affair. Princeton looks good for a third straight title. Pennsylvania has advantage of depth. Yale, Cornell, Brown, and Harvard will contend for the other 2 places in the first division.

Mid-Atlantic
Temple, La Salle, St. Joseph's will keep the first three places.

Southern
Not much chance to stop West Virginia, though George Washington, The Citadel and Furman will make stiff competition.

Mid-American
Bowling Green is given an excellent chance of rising from a 3-way tie for last place in 1961 to a championship in 1962.

Atlantic Coast
Wake Forest has few worries.

Southwest
Texas A & M given the best chance to make the top over slough Texas Tech this year—though each will fight with better outside shooting.

Ohio Valley
Morehead State "should be a repeat winner in this always close and frantic league."

Missouri Valley
Ed Jucker's National Champs at Cincinnati look strong enough to keep the title for another year. Long shot: Drake to finish second.

Border
Arizona State should win and may end up with high national ranking. Bad news for New Mexico State, and they'll be hard competitors.

Big Ten
Ohio State will make it three in a row—first time in this conference since Wisconsin did it in 1914. The team looks even stronger than the national championship Buckeyes of top ten of the nation as they compiled a 16-6 record.

Coach McBrayer and his teams have accomplished the enviable record of five championships and five runners-up titles in the twelve year history of the O.V.C.

Watches Overall Development
Along with his teaching of fundamentals and his strict insistence of training rules, McBrayer takes a deep personal interest in every player's scholastic progress and he keeps a watchful eye on their overall development. He has, in fact, been known to correct a boy's grammar before his shooting.

His teams are disciplined, skilled, respected, and the admiration and respect his players have for him is a strong factor in their successes on and off the basketball court.

A great outdoorsman, McBrayer is also well known for his skill with the fly and casting rods. He is as familiar with the lakes and streams of Kentucky as he is with his famous fast break. He is also renowned on the banquet circuit and is in constant demand as a speaker during the off-season.

Pickett May Be Finest Pivot Prospect In Recent Years At Eastern

One little three-letter word keeps descriptive adjectives such as "most outstanding," "best," "greatest," and similar other ways that newspapermen have to describe an athlete, from being too meaningful when they concern a basketball player such as Ronald Pickett.

That three-letter word is "may," and it may be the biggest three-letter word in Webster's great collection of words, in this particular case.

Pickett, a 6-7, 200 pound junior from Frankfort, who averaged 1.5 points in only four games last season while playing a total of 20 and one-half minutes on a veteran championship squad, "may be the finest center prospect ever to play at Eastern," in the words of Coach Paul McBrayer.

This takes in a lot of territory, including such outstanding centers as Chuck Mrazovich, Paul Hicks and Elmer Tolson.

Different Outlook
"Pickett returned to school this fall with a different outlook on basketball," says McBrayer. "He reported in excellent physical condition, and the determination he had was a surprise to everyone. In plain words, he came to play," McBrayer said.

Pickett has been impressive in a dozen pre-season scrimmages, rebounding with authority on both boards, hitting close to medium hook and jump shots extremely well, and passing off well, though he may need more improvement in this phase.

Pickett is one of three juniors named to start the open Saturday night against Transylvania. Two seniors, Larry Parks and Ray Gardner, the only two lettermen on the team, will open, along with juniors, Stephens, Werk and Pickett.

Pickett, who captained his Frankfort High team his senior year, and played in the East-West All-Star game following his graduation, earned four varsity letters in basketball and baseball there.

If this big man continues to improve, and if his performances in pre-season scrimmages are an indication of his success under fire, the Maroons may have their finest pivot man in recent years.

The only other center listed on the Eastern roster is 6-5 Russell Mueller, an Erlanger junior who probably will play forward, as well as center. A well-built 200-pounder, Mueller saw action in seven games as a sophomore last year. He scored four points for a 0.6 average.

Southpaw Mueller is a fine shot, from 25 feet and closer, and he has great moves from the pivot, where he played in high school.

If the Maroons are to challenge the seven-team Ohio Valley Conference seriously, Pickett and Mueller must accept their tremendous responsibility. McBrayer thinks they will.

Maroons—

Among the biggest questions that McBrayer hopes will be answered Saturday night are (1) can the squad continue to hit the torrid percentage under fire as they have in pre-season scrimmages; (2) can the young squad, consisting largely of untested sophomores and juniors, holding up once they begin to "play for keeps"; and (3) will Stephens, Werk, and Pickett, accept the tremendous responsibility asked of them?

Stephens Directs Attack

Stephens, a thin junior who was red-shirted last year, will direct the team, offensively. Werk is asked to fill the shoes of All-American Carl Cole at a forward, and Pickett is expected to develop into one of the outstanding pivot men ever to play at Eastern.

The sixth man on the Eastern team presently is 6-5 Junior Russell Mueller, Erlanger, who saw only brief action last year. A good southpaw shooter, Mueller will play both forward and center.

Next in line for heavy-duty performances are sophomore guards Kay Morris, 6-4 from Monticello, and Herman Smith, 6-3 from Maysville. Senior Carter Brandenburg, 5-10 guard from Richmond, also is expected to see considerable action.

A comparison of last year's statistics is all that is needed to get an idea of just how inexperienced the Maroons' squad is. Co-captains Gardner and Parks, the two lettermen back from last year's team, played combined total of 1,383 minutes and 40 seconds and scored 480 points between them. The next in line in playing time is Werk, who saw a total of 41 minutes and 29 seconds and scored 14 points as a sophomore.

McBrayer has been extremely high on this group, especially their attitude and physical condition. The shooting ability of the squad should compare favorably with the record-breaking 1960-61 team that set a new all-time field goal accuracy record.

Defense Strong
McBrayer has listed as his chief strength for this season a solid defense. His weaknesses are summed up by inexperience and lack of good speed. The Maroons led the conference last year in defense, allowing just 71 points per game.

The Maroons' starting lineup for the Transy opener will average 63½.

Following Saturday night's game, Eastern is at home for the next four games, meeting Northwestern (La.) State next Thursday, Phillips 66ers on December 18, New Mexico State on January 4, and Murray State in the OVC opener on January 8. Ten of the Maroons' 17 games are home encounters.

Career Cues:
"This age of specialization opens special opportunities for the well-rounded man!"

Robert Saudek, President
Robert Saudek Associates, Inc.

"The more specialists society creates to cope with its complexities, the easier it can be for a non-specialist to achieve success.
If that seems paradoxical, look at it this way: the more men who go out for specific positions on the ball club, the more chance you have to wind up as manager!
Today's world—in government, business, the arts, even science—needs the well-rounded man. He's the man who can see the entire picture...the man who can draw on a broad background of knowledge, evaluate the problem, then assign the details to specialists.

The world of entertainment may seem somewhat special, but it's a case in point. These days, it demands more of its people than ever before. Today's musical comedy score is often as sophisticated as grand opera. Drama draws heavily on psychology and history. Television productions are concerned with nuclear science and political science. If you've ever watched 'Omnibus' you may have seen how our productions have run the gamut of a wide range of man's interests.
So I suggest to you that even though you may concentrate on one special field of interest, keep your viewpoint broad. Keep your college curriculum as diversified as possible. Attend lectures and concerts, the theatres and museums. Above all, read and read, and listen and listen! But pay scant heed to the oracle who says there's no route to the top but that of specialization. I don't believe it!"

Robert Saudek is the creator of many of television's most famous programs—including the award-winning "Omnibus" series. Former network executive and head of the TV-Radio Workshop of the Ford Foundation, Bob enjoys a "Camel break." He's been a Camel fan since undergraduate days at Harvard.
