K. E. A. MEETS APRIL 13-16, LOUISVILLE

Reduced Transportation Rates Offered; General Butler Among Noted Speakers on Program

CLASSES TO CONTINUE

According to an announcement of R. E. Williams, secretary of the Kentucky Education Association, plans for the sixty-first annual convention are nearly complete, and this year's meeting of the Association will be held on April 13 to 16, in Louisville.

Railroads are granting a round-trip fare equal to the one-way fare plus one-half, based on the regular identification certificate plan. Motor bus companies are also offering reduced rates for teachers who desire to attend the convention this year. About 6,000 or 7,000 members and visitors are expected to be at this year's meeting.

The state spelling bee, sponsored by the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, will be the feature attraction of the convention. The champion speller will be decided in this contest.

A number of prominent men have been secured as speakers for the convention. Among the more prominent ones are the following:

Major Gen. Smedley D. Butler; Tom Skeyhill, noted Australian and public lecturer; Dr. William J. Cooper, U. S. Commissioner of Education; Miss Mattie Lee Thomas, Department of Education, Columbia, S. C.; Miss Florence Hale, president of the N. E. A., Augusta, Maine; Dr. Willis A. Sutton, Superintendent of Schools, Atlanta, Ga.; C. F. Hoban, Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, Penn.; J. C. Wright, Director of Federal Board of Vocational Education, Washington; Dr. L. A. Fehsteln, College of Education, University of Cincinnati; Dr. Mary Swartz Rose, Teachers College, Columbia University; and Dr. Laura Zirbes, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

A number of faculty members of Eastern and the Model High School will attend the K. E. A. this year. Also, several teachers from Madison High School are expected to go to Louisville, with the attendants from Eastern. Students will be excused from classes to attend the convention if they desire. No permits will be granted for students to go home. Classes and regular college work will continue as scheduled here throughout the entire week-end of the K. E. A. meeting.

Dr. W. C. Jones, director of research at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, has been appointed a member of an advisory group of educators representing the state of Kentucky in a national survey of school finance which is being conducted by the United States department of the interior, according to a letter received from W. C. Cooper, commissioner of education.

The state group of school leaders is to aid only in an advisory capacity the national research staff of the survey, being regularly informed as to the progress of the study and asked for advice from time to time, Commissioner Cooper said.

EASTER MUSIC AT EASTERN

Annual Presentation of Madrigal Club is Attended by Big Crowd

"STORY OF THE CROSS"

An audience of more than 800 attended the annual Easter services of the Madrigal Club of Eastern, held at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night, March 20, in Hiram Brock auditorium. James E. Van Puersem, head of the department of music, conducted the program.

Mrs. Russell I. Todd, regular director of the Women's Glee Club, was prevented from conducting this year's program because of sickness. She has not been actively engaged in music work here for over two months.

The exercises were in story form, presenting in three parts the epochal events in the life of Christ which led up to the ascension. The Triumphant Entry composed the first arrangement of the program, Calvary the second, and The Resurrection and Ascension the third.

Harold Prim opened the service with "Palm Branches," by Faure, and the processional for the Triumphant Entry was rendered by the group singing "When Morning Glides the Sky," by Teschner. Miss Pearl Buchanan read the passages of scripture that told the story of the cross and interspersed the group singing. Helena Park favored the vocal leads to all the group presentations, which included: "Ride On, Ride On," by Scott; "Jerusalem," by Parker; "Stabat Mater," from the old French; "Litany," by Hervey; "Andante," by Wieniawski; "End of the Sabbath," by Coerne, and "Peace I Leave with you," by Roberts. The program was brought to a close with the Recessional, "Christ the Lord," by Wesley, and the benediction, "Sevenfold Amen," by Stainer.

Violin and Harp selections were added to the services. These were given by Helen Hull and Brown E. Telford. Piano accompaniment was by Mabel Dudley. "Largo," by Zabel, was the harp selection, played by Miss Telford.

Members of the Madrigal Club who brought the Easter observance before the public were the following: Mary Frances Arnold, Helen Ashley, Irena Ashley, Mildred Baugh, Frances Blackwell, Mrs. C. Broderson, Elizabeth Champion, Betty Chenuit, Mary Jane Cole, Annabel Dixon, Iva Fay Egner, Hazel Evans, Geneva Ferrell, Geraldine Givens, Pauline Hill, Marguerite Hill, Florence Hamilton, Shirley Herron, Ruth Miller, Mildred Ann Mays, Maud McLaughlin, Helena Park, Dorothy Ross, Amanda Skidmore, Jean Stocker, Olive Shirmer, Mary Tension, Alice Marie Walters, and Opal Yarbber.

Music Teachers Go to Lexington

Helen Hull, instructor in the department of music here, was chosen as one of the judges for the violin and cello contests in the musical division of the State High School Scholastic and Music Tourney, which opened Thursday at the University of Kentucky.

Miss Hull went to Lexington Thursday afternoon to attend the violin and cello contests. She was accompanied by several students from her class in public school music here. Names of other judges assisting in determining the winners for the violin and cello contests were not revealed.

James E. Van Puersem, head of the Eastern music department, who was elected vice-president of the Kentucky Association of Music Teachers last fall, was also chosen as one of the judges in the tourney. Mr. Van Puersem is to act in determining the winners for the vocal contests.

Biology Majors Organize Club

Recently the majors and minors in biology met in room 30, Roark Building, in order to organize a biology club. Dr. D. W. Rumbold, as sponsor of the club, called the group to order.

Committees were appointed to write the constitution. A committee was also appointed to select a name for the club. The name-selecting committee is composed of Harvey Blanton, Alice Barnes, and John S. Osborne. The committee to write a constitution is composed of Paul Jett, New Lee, and Lorraine Chinn. At the close of the business session, thru the courtesy of Dr. Rumbold, "The Lost World" was shown to the club.

The following officers were selected: John S. Osborne, president; Mason Pope, vice-president; Lorraine Chinn, secretary-treasurer.

KY. ACADEMY MEETS HERE

Educators to Hold Session At Eastern on April 23

DR. ABEL WILL SPEAK

Dr. Anna A. Schnieb, psychology instructor here, released information from A. M. Peter, secretary of the Kentucky Academy of Science, stating that the annual meeting of the Academy is to be held on this campus Saturday, April 23, starting at 9:30 a. m. Miss Schnieb has recently been elected President of the Academy.

The Academy has invited a noted foreign psychologist as one of the principal speakers for the meeting. His name was not revealed, but he has been in this country studying for some time.

Dr. Irvin Abel, Louisville, will be the guest speaker of the meeting, and the Academy considered itself fortunate in securing a man of his type who is recognized as an outstanding authority in the field of surgery.

Members of the Academy are to be guests of Eastern during their stay here, and the meeting will offer them the opportunity of surveying the college.

Officers of the Kentucky Academy of Science are: Dr. Anna A. Schnieb, president; Dr. Charles Hire, vice-president; A. M. Peters, secretary; and W. S. Anderson, treasurer.

Rabbi Lectures on Goethe at Eastern

At the college assembly March 28 Rabbi Lawrence Broach-Kahn of Cincinnati and Lexington spoke to the student body on the subject of "Goethe As An International Figure." Dr. Anna Schnieb presided and introduced the speaker.

In his address the rabbi said, "Goethe was a product of two worlds. Nor does he belong to Germany alone; he belongs to the ages. He is a man who has lived and struggled—writing one hundred and fifty volumes. More than sixty of his poems were set to music by Schubert. Goethe said, 'I, too, have something to say; I am the prey of a demon creator.' He realized that necessity is a hard thing, but it is that which tries a man's worth. He bowed to destiny and from it emerged a man."

At the close of the address Mrs. Paul Burnam sang two songs which represented the personality of Goethe in that they expressed his youthfulness and maturity. The first was "The Violet" and the other "None but the Lonely Heart." She was accompanied by Miss Brown-Telford at the piano.

Commanders Play at Ravenna Dance

Playing their first out of town engagement, the Commanders, recently organized dance orchestra of students and boys of Richmond, furnished music for a dance in Greenwood Hall, Tuesday night, at Ravenna.

The boys also have prospects for a dance in the near future at Jackson, Ky.

Two engagements for dances have been filled here. The first dance the Commanders played for was the Alpha Zeta Kappa hop, held about two weeks ago, and the second was the Easter dance, given by the Eastern band last week-end. The Men's Glee Club of Eastern is also planning a dance in the near future, and it is probable that the Commanders will furnish the music for it.

TWO EASTERN BOARD NAMED

Laffoon Reappoints Cammack and Weaver as Regents of Local School

COMPLETES PERSONNEL

Governor Ruby Laffoon, Thursday, March 31, reappointed James W. Cammack, of Owenton, and Charles F. Weaver, of Ashland, to their present positions as members of the board of regents for Eastern.

These appointments complete the personnel of the board, Senator Hiram Brock, of Harlan, and R. E. Turley, of Richmond, having been appointed some weeks.

Spelling Bee Date Set for Saturday

The annual spelling bee for Madison county rural school children will be held Saturday morning, April 2, at 10 o'clock at the University building at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College. This spelling contest is a part of the state-wide contest conducted under the auspices of The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times.

Contests have already been held in the various county schools, the champion of each school to be the representative in the county tournament. Some 40 boys and girls are expected to participate. Miss Mabel H. Pollitt, of Eastern, will pronounce the words for the spelling bee.

The county board of education will pay the expenses of the county champion to the state contest to be held on April 13. Last year Nelson Burrus, of Newby High school, represented Madison county in the state meet. Mrs. Louella E. Abney, county superintendent, is in charge of the county contest.

SHOULD KNOW BRIDGE?

NEW HAVEN, Conn. —Ernest W. Butterfield, state commissioner of education, would make knowledge of bridge and ability to drive a car prerequisites for attending a teachers' training college. These traits, Butterfield says, are as necessary for prospective instructors as the ability to conjugate a Latin verb.

BECKLEY IS THIRD

Sam Beckley, freshman at Eastern, was awarded third place in the George Washington bicentennial oratorical contest for Kentucky colleges at University of Kentucky March 29. Nine colleges were represented, Asbury and Nazareth winning first and second places respectively.

STATE PRESS GROUP MEETS AT EASTERN

Eastern Progress to be Host to K. I. P. A. Session; Eight Schools be Represented

NEWSPAPER CONTEST

Plans for the spring meet of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association convention, which is to be held on Eastern's campus, are being formulated at the present by the Eastern Progress.

In a meeting last Thursday afternoon with Dr. D. W. Rumbold, staff sponsor, the editorial board appointed Harold Prim, secretary of the K. I. P. A., general manager of the press meet here. Plans for securing a committee to judge the papers submitted by the various colleges holding membership in the Association for the annual contest were discussed. Also plans for entertaining the delegates and formulating a program for the meet were taken up, but no definite action was completed.

The probable date for the convention will be the latter part of the second week in May. It was suggested that the convention be held on April 28, and 29, but due to the Dramatic Tournament for the high schools which is to be held here that week-end it became necessary to consider a later date for the press meet.

Delegates from the Eastern Progress secured this campus for the site of the spring K. I. P. A. convention, while they were attending the fall meeting at Western Teachers College, Bowling Green.

Eight schools are expected to send press delegates to the meeting of the Association in May. The eight presses which are expected to be represented here are: Transylvania, Georgetown, Western, Centre, Wesleyan, Kentucky, Murray and Eastern. Only five were represented in Bowling Green last fall.

Student Activities U. K. Pay Own Way

The Kentucky Kernel, student newspaper of the University of Kentucky, ran second to the Athletic Association in cash balances for the year 1930-31, according to an auditing report sent to President Frank L. McVey by the university auditing committee.

All the student activities at the university, which are under faculty supervision, turned in cash balances at the end of the past school year, with the Athletic Association handling the largest quota of the money.

According to the report the Athletic Association handled $157,286.64 during the year; the Kentucky Kernel, $20,538.14; the Kentuckian, $5,806.89; Y. M. C. A., $5,257.23; music committee, $3,987.96; and S. U. circle, $3,247.06. The audit also included quotas of class reports and a few smaller organizations.

TOURNAMENT IN DRAMATICS

High Schools of State Invited to Compete in Contest

18 SCHOOLS ENTERED

The annual High School Dramatic Tournament will be held April 28, 29 and 30, in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. This tourney is being sponsored by Miss Pearl Buchanan, head of the department of dramatics, and Mr. Kearney M. Adams, director of extension here.

Any class A high school in the state is eligible, but heretofore it has been confined to eastern Kentucky only, due to the distance and expense. It is hoped that in the near future that every high school in the state can be represented at this tournament. The preceding years never have had as many prospects for entrants as this year. Up to date sixteen high schools have accepted the invitation.

The following high schools have made definite plans to attend:

London, University High, Morehead, Frenchburg, Henry Clay, Berea, Lawrenceburg, Madison, Russell Cave, Williamsburg, Midway, Kavanaugh, Maysville, Newport, Lancaster, and Burgin.

DATE FOR A DIME

COLUMBIA, Missouri—A "dating bureau" is the newest money making scheme of enterprising students at the University of Missouri.

A dime is the "service charge" asked by "Cupid" in his announcements on campus bulletin boards. Within 48 hours after establishment of the bureau, "Cupid" reported applications, accompanied by dimes, from 22 young men and 17 co-eds. For the more fastidious who object to "blind" dates, "special requests" will be filled whenever possible.

Congratulations

The Eastern Progress wishes to congratulate the winners of the Milestone elections held two weeks ago, when student votes were cast to determine student opinion, this year, relative to the choice of Miss Eastern, her attendants, the most popular girl, and the most popular man.

Mrs. William Cheek, winner of this year's election for the most beautiful woman on the campus, deserves the compliments and congratulations of the entire student body. The students also deserve commendation for their selection of her, and the Progress prophesies that Mrs. Cheek will do credit to Eastern as the representative of this campus at this year's mountain laurel festival.

Last year Miss Betty Baxter honored Eastern at Pineville by being chosen Queen of the Mountain Laurel over the favored beauty from the University of Kentucky. This festival was the first the state ever held, and Miss Baxter, as Eastern's representative, brought her school a crown for which it could be doubly proud.

Miss Lois Hopkins and Miss Betty Baxter, who were chosen as attendants to Mrs. Cheek this year, are directly in line for much of the praise accorded the winner of the crown. Both girls are to be highly congratulated for the race which they ran in the election. It was indicative that the student body holds them in high esteem.

Perhaps the winners of the popularity feature should come in for an even greater number of compliments and congratulations than the beauty queens. They had a harder race to run in the election, and it required greater deliberation on the part of the students to select representatives for popularity honors. However, the Progress is of the opinion that the students made a wise and unbiased choice, and actually selected the two people who deserve their positions.

Miss Annie Laurie Forsythe, as the most popular girl, is really the leading student of her sex on the campus here. She is a member or officer of numerous activities, she has an unusual record in her work, she possesses one of the most pleasing personalities with which it has been our pleasure to acquaint ourselves, and she makes more contacts than any other student we have known.

Mr. Herschel McKinley, selected most popular man, is a collegian and a gentleman in every sense of the word. There is little that cannot be found in his favor. He is a good student. As an active worker for the school, Mr. McKinley has done more than his part in many instances for the support of Eastern, and he is a true friend of every man on the campus. He most certainly deserves the recognition which the students have given him, and we heartily congratulate him.

The Little Theater Club

Eastern has a play-producing organization on her campus in which she can take great pride. The club has a group of well-selected actors and actresses, and the training received by them under the talented direction of Miss Pearl Buchanan has made the Little Theater Club invaluable to this campus.

Comedies are perhaps the best played productions of the club. There have been a number of these put on here, and each time the casts have been exceptionally well selected. To say that the club reached its admirable goal in the production of the comedy "Laugh That Off" would be doing it an injustice. Don Mullally's New York success, as played by the Little Theater players here, scored a new high mark for the reputation of the local cast. It was exceptionally well played, and the natural style in which the cast of Little Theater players presented the comedy here merits the highest compliments that could possibly be paid to a group of their distinction.

Not only the cast but the production managers as well deserve recognition for the commendable manner in which this play was brought before the student body.

The Eastern Progress desires to give recognition to each member of the Little Theater Club, and particularly to the ones who made possible the production of "Laugh That Off." We wish to compliment the work of the club in general, and express our gratitude for its existence in this campus as a leader in the realm of progressive extra-curricular organizations at Eastern.

A Man Has Spoken

"Dad" Elliott has come to Eastern with a message, delivered it, and now has gone on to other college campuses bearing with him the admiration and appreciation of numerous undergraduates and faculty members. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are to be congratulated upon their efforts in bringing such a man before the student body of Eastern.

It is doubtful if during recent years there has been any public speaker on this campus who has been welcomed so unanimously, listened to so attentively, or appreciated as much. Eight talks in addition to numerous individual conferences, and all of them well attended by the students and faculty, bear witness to the interest which a man of power can arouse.

Although we cannot agree with all of the philosophy and modes of conduct endorsed by Dad, we can appreciate much of his advice, and even do more to the extent of changing our previously held views and customary actions. We can admire a man who says the things which every college man and woman should know; yet such important things are usually shifted by parents and faculty members to the elements of chance discovery. A series of speeches such as those given by Dad would merit a place in the curriculum of every school in the country. In dealing with our own situation, it appears safe to say that chapel speeches of the quality recently shown would do much to solve the problem of compulsory attendance at the college assembly.

The Progress, as the means of expression for the student body, again wishes to offer its gratitude to whoever had a part in bringing Dad Elliott to Eastern Teachers College.

Kentucky's Rating Educationally

The greatest percentage of illiteracy in the United States is found in those states which have weak compulsory school attendance laws, according to Ward W. Keesecker, of the federal department of education. It is obvious that unless children attend school they will inevitably reach the adult status in illiteracy. Only by rigid enforcement of laws which require that children of school age attend school is it possible to reduce illiteracy.

That fact which interested us most as we read the discussion of the problem is the fact that among the ten states which rank lowest in education in that they have the highest illiteracy rate, Kentucky is not included. The 10 low-rating states, according to this specialist of the federal department of education, are Alabama, Arizona, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Carolina, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia.

We repeatedly are told that Kentucky ranks near the bottom of states in the union in education. The rating usually accorded our state is that of 45th. We have always felt doubt in our mind as to the accuracy of such a rating, have wondered by what process of relative comparison such a conclusion is reached.

While there is no mention made of Kentucky in the discussion of illiteracy as related to school attendance by this authority on educational conditions, the fact that Kentucky is not included in the ten states with the lowest rating provides evidence that our state does not rate lower than 37th educationally. It at least is not 45th. Illiteracy is not so decidedly present in Kentucky as to place the state in that ten where it is most prevalent.
 (The Richmond Daily Register)

GLEANINGS

The "vandalism" which was manifested by some members of the student body when they tore from the bulletin boards the posters boosting various candidates in the Milestone contests is a regrettable example of the actions which prevent freedom of thought, speech, and expression among college undergraduates.

The "gleaning" of the last issue was an error. All contest posters suffered a similar fate.

Dear Lois:
 Scotchmen never become social successes because they never pay any compliments.

Dear Miss Carr:
 What is the reason for the modern saying, "Kiss and make-up?"

Dear Nancy:
 Well, kissing at this modern day and age takes all of the make-up off, so, therefore "Kiss and make-up."

Parse Me a Couple, Please
 AMSTERDAM, N. Y., (ABS)—
 What is the grammatical construction of a kiss? Quoting the Castle Heights Cavalier, the Item of Amsterdam High says:
 A kiss is a pronoun because she stands for it.
 It is masculine and feminine, therefore common.
 It is plural because one calls for another.
 It is singular because there is nothing else like it.
 Usually it is in apposition with a caress; at any rate, it is sure to follow.
 It can be conjugated, but never defined.
 However, it is not an adverb because it cannot be compared, but it is a phrase expressing feeling.
 "You should have been satisfied with Marion."
 "Yes, but I'm not the marrying kind."
 Awgwan.

You're Worth Just $1
 Los Angeles, Cal., (ABS)—The Rallsplitter of Lincoln High school says the average 140-pound high school boy is worth about $1, according to chemical analysis. He is composed of about ten gallons of water, enough fat for seven cakes of soap, carbon for 9,000 lead pencils, phosphorus for 22,000 match tips, one dose of gannesium salts, enough iron to make a medium-sized nail, enough lime to whiten-wash a hen coop, and enough sulphur to destroy the fleas of one dog.
 "Conductor, I've been robbed. The fellow sitting next to me stole my pocketbook while we were going thru the tunnel. I had it in my stocking."
 "Why didn't you holler when he was getting it?"
 "How was I to know what he was doing?"
 And the moral of this little story, kiddies, is merely that girls with wooden legs should fasten their money down with thumb tacks.

Marjory Mix

Dear Miss Mix:
I am deeply in love with one of the most adorable boys on Eastern's campus. What am I to do about it? My best girl friend has even tried beating my time. Now you know when one's best girl friend tries to rate one's best boy friend that he's bound to have IT personified. I know that he never gave any other girl a thought until I raved so much about him to my girl friends that they all became very much entertained and interested. The only logical result—they began to pay him attention and compliments, laughing at his witticisms and chatter, and telling him what a doll he really is. Of course, (what boy wouldn't) he let his conscience be his guide and decided to have a good time while it was available. He courted few, and he courts many now. Of course he still sees me, and he still sees my best girl friend. What should I do so that he'll just see me and forget the rest. Don't say that I should not forget to laugh at his jokes, and compliment him. I do all this, but what more will be necessitated?
Marie Harmon.

Keep up your laughter and compliments, and having pictures enlarged, and if you do it to the best of your ability and your ability proves best you'll win out. It takes lots of painstaking planning and efforts to win one's desirable attention, but when one wins, one finds out that after all it is worth it in the end. I can offer you no advice other than I have in our personal interviews, but I wish you luck in your undertaking.

Dear Miss Mix:
My heart is all a-flutter. She has at last given me a break. She finally condescended to allow me to take her to the last dance. She dances divinely, has a pleasing personality, in my estimation has the "it" for me, and is not bothered with any other saps. I don't think I am good enough for her. Please tell me how to improve my personality, my general appearance, and everything else that would make me more attractive to this divine creature.
—Insignificant.

Dear Sir:
Notice that by the heading of this letter I must surely consider you such. Anyone that could compliment a fair young thing in such a manner should be called at least a gentleman. If you consider yourself a sap I wouldn't go about bragging about it, or are you complaining? If you haven't read the latest edition on "How to Improve Your Personality" in three lessons, you have come to me too soon for advice.

MRS. EASTERN
The Eastern student body has discovered what Bill Cheek found out a long time ago. The students, by voting her most beautiful, and Mr. Cheek, by walking down that well-known aisle, have shown that when Nancy "Mrs. Eastern" Cheek smiles the rest are just girls. And so she gets into our hall of fame.
Since her advent on this campus (she came from Louisa) Nancy Cheek has been about as popular as a keg of beer at a German picnic. She is a model wife, and never leaves the cap off the tooth paste or chews gum in public, according to her husband. Since her election as possessing the most beautiful pan in school, Mrs. Cheek's picture has been plastered in the paper as much as those of Jane Adams, Almee MacPherson, or the Smith Brothers.
When asked for a statement, Mrs. Eastern blushed, giggled a bit, tittered, and finally managed to sputter, "You may tell my public that they have made me as happy as a fly in a Greek restaurant. I think that eventually everything will come in cellophane."

We were not at all surprised to learn that Josh Cosby had received one vote in the Central Press' straw vote held to see who the American people want for president in 1932. Josh's only worry is that he hasn't a hat to throw in the ring. Won't somebody please let Josh have a hat.
His only statement when he heard that his name had been placed before the public was, "They could go farther and do worse! and they probably will."

WE WONDER—how long the depression will last—who writes the Scandalette and why it is written? why we don't have potatoes and beans more often in the cafeteria?—why classes don't dismiss when the whistle blows?—how many of these girls who got flowers Easter sent them to themselves?—why spit is such a horrid word and why it is worse on one's cigar?—why people who don't like this column don't turn over a page?
Bosco Carrel is still laughing at Tightus Green's saying that he (Tightus) is a pessimist and thinks that all women are bad. Carrel says that anybody who thinks that is not a pessimist—hes' an optimist.

During an intense love scene in the movies, when the hero was doing his stuff, wife nudged hubby and said:
"Why is it that you never make love to me like that?"
"Say," he replied, "do you know the salary he gets for doing that?"
Old Lady—Why did you become a tramp?
Tramp—The doctor told me to take a walk after meals, and I've been walking after them ever since.

Have you noticed BILL MELTON'S black eye? It's funny that happened right after "Dad" Elliott talked to the girls.

SAM BECKLEY made an awful break down at the jail the other Sunday. He said he was awfully glad to see so many of the men there.

GILBERT CARTER gave CAPITOLA LONG a corsage for Easter. Thought farmers were suffering from the depression.

Saw MILDRED MAYES talking to LESTER MAHARGUE the other night. Mildred need not think AMANDO SKIDMORE is going to let her have Mack back again.

GILLIS MADDEN has hinted that he liked RUBY WATSON. Gillis hasn't fallen as yet this year, but it's just about time for him to start courtin'.

JUNE FORBES actually attended the Band Dance. But why wouldn't he, look who he took!

MIKE DENHAM is featuring a new type of picture for the annual. If you haven't seen it yet, just ask MARY ELLISTON to show it to you.

MARY FRANCES ARNOLD almost had a prostration the other day when TOMMY BENNETT asked her to go to the banquet with him. Saw her talking to one of her girl friends immediately afterward and was she thrilled!!!

We are undecided which is Uncle Sam's best customer at the College Postoffice, here of late. BETTY STEWART or LILLIAN COX. Perhaps DICK VANHOOSE could tell you.

CYRIL FIELDS had an engagement with LOUISE RUTLEDGE the other night to write a class history. Wonder if they made it historic or romantic? Guess the latter and perhaps hit it.

We overheard a rather interesting conversation the other night while we were passing a group of feminine students who were in a huddle holding a session of some kind. A remark passed by that MISS ROBERTS is really doing her duty when it comes to checking-up on the girls to see when they are in and out of the hall. MISS FAIRCHILD was heard to verify the statement by saying that she even got checked when she was in the bath tub.

It seems that AUTHUR EVERSOLE has found a mate to face him across the dining table. He has been seen lately paying more than usual attention to LILLIAN CASNER and has been eating every meal with her in the cafeteria.

"APRIL FOOL!"

By LILLIAN BOWER
"April Fool!"
"Oh yeah, who's an April Fool?"
"Beg Pardon". "Meant to call you an April Fish."

Anyway that's what you might get called in France today. However, Eastern has not been immune from such maledictions since the writer has been prowling around in the land of the Big Maroons. Easterners are more or less American about the matter. Rather than modify the thing they just come outright and say, "April Fool", and leave the assailant to crawl thru the nearest key hole.

Oh well, it's a great day if you don't waken, but so many do, so that is why the day is wide-spread and recognized thruout the country as being one of the times when an individual may get off a nasty joke on one of his friends or enemies, then call him an "April Fool", and not expect to get his block knocked off for it.

Another time in the year when such is permissible is on Valentine Day when we ceremoniously hand out those cute comic valentines. You know that affords us the great pleasure of telling people just what we think of them without our having to be so conventionally candid about it all.

You see this is the way it all got started—that is April Fool's Day.

Many years ago New Year's day was celebrated the last week of March and lasted until April the first.

However in 1564 the New Year was changed from March to January, and the following year the people were not content in letting the first of April go by without some sort of a celebration, so they had their fun by "making fools" of those who had forgotten the change of date.

The custom has been connected with the miracle plays of the Middle Ages, in which Christ was represented as having been sent at this season of the year from Annas to Caiaphas and from Pilate to Herod.

READ MORE MAGAZINES
Teaching English to eighth graders by means of current magazines only, is the plan being tried in the Roosevelt Intermediate School at Wichita, Kansas. Magazines offer ample information and ideas for the pupils to express in written and oral work. The correction of the composition work in turn gives the opportunity for training in technical grammar. The habit of clearly expressing new ideas such as are discovered in the magazines is invaluable. The practice work in this course consists in written reports on magazine selections oraf reports on reading, plays and dramatization of short stories.
The following is a list of magazines in order of readings. It is not an accurate indication of free choice of readings since some magazines were available in greater numbers than others, but the articles

NERVES CAN BE SWITCHED, OLD REPLACED WITH NEW, YALE MAN TELLS ANATOMISTS IN TALK

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 1—Zoological proof that living nerves can be switched like telegraph wires was presented to the American Association of Anatomists meeting here today.

If the nerve naturally controlling a muscle is destroyed, another nerve can be substituted by operation, and will operate the muscle very well. These switches have been made and their success verified at Yale University in the Osborn zoological laboratory. Donald H. Barron, who conducted the experiments, reported them to the anatomists.

The Yale operations go far toward settling a medical question of immediate human applications. Years ago, Dr. Harvey Cushing, of Harvard University, cured a man of twisted neck by an operation which switched control of the faulty neck muscles from a diseased nerve to a healthy one.

But since then some others have had difficulty in repeating Dr. Cushing's results, a circumstance that raised doubts whether the nerve switching was the real explanation.

In experiments on rats at Yale the nerves controlling the movements of the fore legs were disconnected. They were replaced by nerves from the hind legs. At first the disconnected front legs were virtually paralyzed—out of control. As the new nerve line strengthened the rat learned to use it to send signals to his fore legs. Some animals regained virtually full control of the legs.

The result of this course showed that the pupils ranked slightly lower in technical grammar than did the regular grammar students and that the vocabulary of the magazine course group ranked quite as high as did the other group. The result in the improved reading habits and the large fund of general information acquired by the pupils was very marked.

This experiment, which is now in progress of proving itself worthwhile, might be considered valuable as a part of our English, education, social science or science courses. Eastern's library subscribes to more than two hundred periodicals and these are full of current material of vast information and interest. A rare opportunity is offered each of us here to become acquainted with the best magazines of this and other countries, and it is to be hoped that no student will go away from Eastern without learning to know at least those periodicals pertaining to the field in which he is majoring.

BAND GIVES DANCE
About 75 or 80 couples attended the annual Easter dance Friday night March 25, sponsored by the members of the Eastern band in the small gymnasium of the Weaver Health Building.
The dance was the second of the year for the band members, and it ranked evenly with the one which last semester proved one of the big successes of the term.
While a number of students went home for Easter, the dance was well attended by those who remained on the campus and by a number of guests from Richmond and from other colleges in central Kentucky.
The Commanders, new dance orchestra composed of Richmond boys and students of Eastern, played for the dance. The hours were from 8 until 12 o'clock.

PLAN SPRING GRID WORK

Candidates for Football Teams to Report for Uniforms Monday

WILL PLAY BASEBALL

Spring football practice will open Monday afternoon here, when Coach Hughes will officially issue grid suits to all prospective men for the 1932 season.

The frosh squad of last season will contribute a number of players to the varsity delegation for '32, and there are several men from "A1" Portwood's team that promise to be of service to Coach Hughes.

Several grid stars are leaving the campus this spring, among whom is found Captain Canfield, who is a three-letter man.

The spring practice session was postponed last week on account of the mid-term examinations, but it is expected to be in full way before the close of next week.

It was officially announced yesterday that Eastern will have a baseball team this year.

40 Per Cent Cut in Eastern's Income

Anticipating a decrease of at least 40 per cent in appropriations for operating the Eastern State Teachers College here, Dr. H. L. Donovan, president, is quoted as having said "it will just about wreck our school," and set to work on an economy program which, he said, would affect all college expenditures "from telephone service to salaries."

Dr. Donovan said the exact status of the state colleges under the budget slashes of Gov. Ruby Laffoon, had not been determined when he left Frankfort. He said a meeting of the board of regents would be held as soon as definite word is received to consider the budget.

Every item in the operation of the college will be affected, he indicated.

PEAK TO SPEAK

Mr. Bart Peak, Y.M.C.A. secretary of the University of Kentucky, will speak to the local young peoples' organizations at six o'clock Sunday night in the high school auditorium of the University building. Beginning with Sunday, April 10, and continuing each Sunday thru May 1, the meetings will be devoted to a Bible study course under leadership of Dr. L. G. Kenner.

$265,000 FOR EASTERN SEEN

Anticipated Revenue if Richmond School Operates on Millage Tax Income

HAD $353,000 LAST YEAR

It is estimated that Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College will have an income of about $265,000 a year from the millage tax and inheritance tax, which are expected to be the sources of revenue for the school as result of veto action of Governor Laffoon.

In vetoing items within the budget in an effort to bring operating expenses of the state within available income Governor Laffoon indicated that instead of giving Eastern and the other state educational institutions the sums provided for them in the budget bill, it would be necessary that they continue to operate on revenues received from present tax sources.

A sum of $325,000 a year for operation of Eastern had been provided in the appropriations bill, which was framed on the assumption that the one cent sales tax would be passed.

Last year Eastern received from the millage tax, that is a specified portion of the tax collected from real estate, franchises and intangibles, the approximate sum of $238,000. From the inheritance tax, of which Eastern receives one-eighth, there was realized an income of $115,000, a total of $353,000.

It is estimated that there will be a reduction of about 20 per cent in the millage tax as result of lowered assessed values on real estate and depreciation of values of stocks and securities.

There will doubtless be a reduction in income from the inheritance tax in view of the fact that estates have shrunk largely in value.

CANDY PULLING

Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Engle will entertain the Baptist Student Union at the local church tonight from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Candy pulling will provide the entertainment for the evening.

Invitations have been sent to all Juniors and Seniors and faculty members that are in any way connected with the Club.

The evening is to be spent in dancing and games. Square dancing and the Virginia Reel are to be the main features. Music will be furnished by T. C. McDaniel and Cliff Rader's orchestra. Harold (Moon) Mullins will do the calling for the dancing.

Senior: I will give you a hundred dollars to do my worrying for me. Frosh: Great! Where's the hundred? Senior: That's your first worry.

COVERED WAGON DAYS, MINUS WAGONS, RETURN TO WEST AS NEW PIONEER TREK BEGINS

ST. PAUL, March 30 —Modern pioneers are bringing back the covered wagon days—but without the wagon.

Automobiles have replaced the old "prairie schooners;" automobiles threatening to collapse over every bump in the road while carrying families to cut-over northern Minnesota land from urban centers, whence they have been driven by lack of employment.

Already 71 families have settled in one county and hundreds more are expected this spring, there to scratch a livelihood from virgin soil, salable at as low as $10 an acre.

With little money and no experience, most of them traded their cars for a few head of stock, and are eking out a living in a semi-wilderness. It's no easy job, for, as W. A. Ford, Lengby, Minn., puts it:

"When a farmer goes to an eastern city some people call him a rube, but just put a city man out on a raw piece of land to earn his living, and what a dummock he is!"

Ford once was a bus driver in Buffalo, N. Y., enjoying the ordinary luxuries of city life. Now he and Mrs. Ford and their three children live in a three-room cabin heated by a steel barrel stove. They have 100 acres. Inexperienced, he lost a horse and five pigs when they died. Now he has a new heifer.

Two years ago that would have been unimportant, but now such an event is a happening of great magnitude.

John Hall, his wife, and his wife's sister landed in Minnesota with a few tools, meager household goods, and $740. Now they have five pigs, two horses, 10 cows and a calf, plenty to eat and plenty of fuel. "We're glad we came," said Hall.

But he is an experienced farmer from the Big Smoky mountains in North Carolina, which he left two years ago.

HAND BALL TOURNAMENT

Second Round Match

Z. Hale trounced L. Hale. The following men have yet to play in their first round matches: Hembree vs. Posten; Coates vs. Ackman; Bonner vs. Jett; Mason vs. H. Hale; Arnold vs. Rupard; Walters vs. Baker.

Seven teams are entered in the doubles matches with Baugh and Wiggins opposing Hughes and Portwood; L. Hale and Z. Hale against Jett and Drake; Rupard and Tudor vs. Walters and Baker, with Halcomb and Bonner drawing the bye.

Current Event Quiz Given College Girls

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., March 29 —Theodore Roosevelt came out of the history book to become a candidate for the presidency and Mussolini became a Russian statesman in answers of girls of Bethel Woman's College to a questionnaire on current events.

The test, conducted by newspapermen after Dr. J. W. Gaines, president, challenged their claim students were unfamiliar with current happenings, resulted in a general average of 80 per cent correct answers to 14 questions on state, national and international happenings. A large number answered all 14 questions without a mistake although some six or eight students scored less than 50 per cent.

Despite a few discrepancies that crept in, such as the one that shrank China to one-fourth the size of Japan, the girls made an unusually good showing.

One of the biggest stumbling blocks was the meaning of the term Sino-Japanese. One girl said that it was "Manchurian Japanese mixed with Chinese." Another defined the term as applying to any Jap in China not having any business there. A third said it was a warlike Jap.

The question "What campaign in the Far East recently engaged the largest armies since the World War?" also proved a tartar. One answer was the "capture of Chinese walls and cities." Another said, "The attempt to take Chapel in Manchuria." A third answer stated the "Uprising of the Indians against the salt tax."

Several new German situations were created. In one, Hindenburg was the emperor of the country and Hitler was his right-hand man. Another girl had Hindenburg running for president, with the ex-kaiser coming out of retirement in Holland to oppose him.

A few new presidential candidates in addition to Theodore Roosevelt were uncovered. One was Andrew Mellon. Garner was the best bet of the Republicans in a few answers.

One girl named James Breathitt, Jr., former lieutenant-governor, as the present holder of that office in answer to the question about state officers. Mayor L. M. Cayoe of Hopkinsville was named as one of the prominent state officials.

There were a number of questions no one missed. All identified Moon Mullins, Blm Gump, Henry Ford, and Jack Dempsey. Mussolini was named correctly in all but one paper, where he was given as an exponent of the Soviet theory. Aristide Briand was named 100 per cent correctly as the exponent of peace. So were Will Rogers and Lindbergh.

Editor: How did our jokes get across? Bill: Probably on the Mayflower.

ALPHA ZETA DEBATES

At the meeting of the Alpha Zeta Kappa last Tuesday night in the Administration building, an extemporaneous debate between Mrs. Miller and Mr. Richard Van Hoose initiated them into the fellowship of the public speaking organization.

The subject for debate was "Resolved, That the Student Body of Eastern Should Take a Greater Part in Self-Government."

Mr. Van Hoose upheld the affirmative side of the question and Mrs. Miller the negative. The judges returned a decision favoring the negative.

During the business session of the meeting it was voted to extend invitations to three possible candidates for membership in the organization.

DAD ELLIOTT VISITS HERE

Noted Christian Leader Gives Series of Address at Eastern

SPONSORED BY Y GROUP

Dad Elliott, world famous for his developing Christian personalities, was a visitor and lecturer on Eastern's campus for three days last week.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday morning he addressed the assembly in Hiram Brock auditorium at the regular chapel periods, and at other periods throughout his stay, he addressed groups of both men and women, the faculty, and one or two organizations.

Dad and Mrs. Elliott were entertained in Burnam Hall, and were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Donovan. Dad was brought to Eastern by the local Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

His set of lectures consisted of seven, in which he held a central motive of developing a real Christian attitude among the students here.

The theme for the seven lectures was, "A Good Offense is a Mighty Defense." It was a theme which could be applied to both the world of sports and the game of life.

Through his talks he urged students to assume the proper attitude toward life and the living, for he said, "What we are to be, we are now becoming."

Dad's golden rule for the development of the proper attitude as he stressed it is, "that which has been proven to be detrimental to society when universally practiced is wrong, while that which has been proven to be helpful to society when universally practiced is right."

He stated that under normal conditions, only 12 men and women out of our present student body will become world famous. Dad continued to say that this percentage will not be raised unless each and every student will develop a determination to become one of the twelve and eventually affect a raise.

"The basic requirement for such distinction is a strong Christian personality. This fundamental will provide for each other phase in its turn," he asserted.

The students gets the paper, The school gets the fame, The printer gets the money, The staff gets the blame.

Parent, Teachers Group to Meet

Jagers, department of education, Frankfort, second vice-president; Mrs. Warren Willett, Covington, third vice-president; Harper Gatton, superintendent of schools, Madisonville, fourth vice-president; Dr. Wellington Patrick, University of Kentucky, Lexington, fifth vice-president; Mrs. A. ## CANTERBURY CLUB

"Poets of New England" was the topic presented by Miss Verda Stamper and Miss Nannie Belle DeJarnette before the regular meeting of the Canterbury Club here Tuesday night.

Miss Stamper reviewed the life and works of Amy Lowell, who was during her later years, the most striking figure in contemporary American poetry.

Robert Frost, whose poems are true pastorals of the hill country of New England, was the poet chosen for discussion by Miss DeJarnette.

BOXING SHOW TO BE STAGED

Professional Pug Will Give Exhibition; Amateur Bouts On Card

NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

The public is to be given a chance to witness Eastern's pugilists in action when Coach "A1" Portwood's boxing class puts on its exhibition in the Weaver Health Building next Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Not only will the public be given a chance to see amateur bouts, but also, Frank Rose, Eastern's professional pugilist, will appear in an exhibition of shadow boxing, bag punching, rope skipping and a short bout with whomever elects to oppose him.

Drawings for opponents in the class bouts have not been announced yet, since information will not be had until the boxers weigh in sometime in the first part of the week before the exhibition.

Dykes and Canfield, the two heavyweights, are scheduled to fight a "grudge bout," and they should produce a good scrap. Altogether, there will be about twelve bouts run off in the program.

L. T. C. INITIATES

The Little Theatre Club met Monday night, March 28, in Room 38, Administration building, to initiate new members who were successful in the try-outs held last month.

The nine Neophytes taken into the club were: Betty Chenault, Lucille Case, George Greene, Marguerite Hill, Curtis Burnam, William Jett, Pauline Hill, Minor Clark and Charles Hood.

They laughed as I walked to the piano, but their laughter turned to amazement when I picked it up and threw it at them, for I had not been taking Strongfort's muscle building lessons for nothing.

Yellow Jacket.

A burglar entered the home of a Riverside heiress, upon surprising her, remarked, "I don't want your life, but money lady."

"Oh, go away," she replied petulantly, "you're just like the rest of them."
