RAMPANT NET TEAM CLOSES IN FINE FORM

Continue Vengeful Tactics Against Former Victors; Georgetown, University of Louisville Fall

SEASON SUCCESSFUL

The rampaging Eastern Maroons concluded their regular basketball schedule by triumphing over both the Georgetown Tigers and the University of Louisville Cardinals. These two victories extended the Maroons' winning streak to five straight games within the KIAC loop.

The Maroons journeyed to the Tigers' lair at Georgetown and proceeded to gain revenge for a 22 to 20 defeat suffered at the hands of the Bengals early in the season by trouncing Georgetown 38 to 24. The Tigers were never ahead in this game, although the score was tied three times, but the Maroons soon pulled away and at the half time held a 19 to 11 advantage. Continuing their onslaught in the second period the Maroons held a safe lead throughout to triumph impressively.

The Eastern eagles continued to gain sweet revenge the following night by beating the Cardinals, 38 to 31. Masterson, who has been U. of L.'s big scoring ace, was held without a field goal, although he made four gratis throws count. The entire Maroon team clicked in fine style and, after trailing by two points at the start of the game, the Eastern quintet soon erased this margin and proceeded to gain an advantage which was never relinquished, and the score at the half stood 13 to 12 in their favor.

The Cardinals rallied in the closing minutes of the struggle but it was too belated to overcome the lead rolled up by the Rankinmen earlier in the period and, when the final whistle sounded, the Maroons had wound up their regular season's play with a seven point victory.

LEADS RIVALS IN MILESTONE BEAUTY VOTE

Begley and Covington Are Attendants; Katherine Prather and Dick Greenwell Win Popularity Crowns

VOTING IS CLOSE

Miss Joy Bailey, of Richmond, was declared Miss Eastern of 1936 by a majority vote of the student body and faculty. During the entire voting, which took place last Thursday and Friday, Miss Bailey took a small lead and maintained it thruout the polling. Running close behind her was Glenna Begley, of Middlesboro, and Nancy Covington, of Richmond. Both Miss Begley and Miss Covington will serve as attendants of Miss Bailey in the annual laurel festival at Pineville this coming June.

The election this year found the largest field of candidates ever nominated for the beauty title. Along with the beauty queen and her attendants, Alma Best, Naomi Howard, Gretchlin Garriot, and Hugh Gibson received a surprising number of votes. The election authorities were reluctant to divulge the actual number of votes cast, but indicated that every one of the nominees received ample support.

The electorate were so divided on the Miss Popularity voting that only in the last score of ballots was the issue decided. Katherine Prather won over Bessie Henry by a scant dozen of votes. Miss Prather is a senior, and will receive her bachelor's degree in May. She is active in the Madrigal club, as well as being an accomplished pianist. The piano scholarship of 1934 was awarded to Miss Prather, but she did not return to school the following September to accept it. Her home is in Owenton.

"Puss" Greenwell was the overwhelming favorite in the Mr. Popularity contest, winning over Woodrow Hinkle, Otwell Rankin, and Roy Pille handily. "Puss" is also a senior, and expects to take his degree in Physical Education this August. Greenwell has been the outstanding tackle on the grid team for the past three years, being captain in the past season. Greenwell played a stellar game on the freshman team in 1932, after leaving behind him a brilliant scholastic gridiron career at Shelbyville.

Keith Dicken, Milestone editor, was quoted as being extremely pleased with the entire execution of the voting.

"Although we tried to keep the results a secret until the official announcement from the Progress was made, we could not prevent the news from leaking out," he said. Although the voting was very close in the Miss Eastern and Miss Popularity contest, the majority of the student body expressed satisfaction over the results.

In the past five years of the Mountain Laurel Festival, where each beauty queen of all the Kentucky colleges vie for the state beauty title, two Eastern girls have been awarded the diadem. In 1932, Miss Betty Baxter, then a sophomore at Eastern, won the crown, and in 1933, Marion Hagan (now Mrs. Henry Coates), then a freshman, repeated the feat of Miss Baxter. Much hope has been expressed over the chances of the present Eastern beauty queen rating high at the annual state-wide contest.

Eastern Invites KIAC Tournament

In a victory rally staged in the auditorium Monday, in honor of the varsity basketball team, which gained the finals of the K. I. A. C. tournament and played a brilliant game before falling before the powerful Western team, T. E. McDonough announced that the 1937 K. I. A. C. tournament would be invited here at Eastern in the Weaver Health Building. His announcement was a pleasant surprise to both students of Eastern and citizens of Richmond.

For the past two years the tournament has been held at Bowling Green, where large crowds have patronized the annual event.

Captain Woodrow Hinkle presented the handsome runner-up trophy to Dr. Donovan, who accepted it in behalf of the school. Each member of the varsity basketball team spoke for a few moments on the platform, and all of them expressed appreciation over the support of the school and their admiration and confidence in Coach Rankin and Mr. McDonough.

Every member of the varsity team will be back in uniform next year, and are expected to loom as great threats in K. I. A. C. circles.

AVON PLAYERS EASTERN AT TO PERFORM BAND CLINIC

Professional Shakespearean Company to Play "Othello" and "Romeo and Juliet"

HAVE BRIGHT RECORD

The Avon Players, noted professional Shakespearean company in their sixth annual southern tour will present "Othello" on March 9 and "Romeo and Juliet" on March 10 at 8:00 p. m. in the Hiram Brock auditorium.

These players are brought to Eastern under the auspices of the Fine Arts committee who recognize their worth to the cultural, educational and entertainment life of the city as a whole as well as to the student body of Eastern and other nearby schools, according to Dr. J. D. Farris, chairman of the Fine Arts committee.

Leading educators throughout the south have repeatedly stated that one performance of Shakespeare as presented by the Avon Players is worth six weeks of classroom study of the immortal bard. Students everywhere have been given credit in their English courses for attending these splendid productions, Dr. Farris said.

The company is headed by Joseph Selman, recognized as one of America's greatest classic actors. In addition to his Shakespearean work Mr. Selman was long a New York stage director, associated with Geo. M. Cohan and toured the country with the late Mrs. Fisk.

This is the sixth consecutive southern tour of the Avon Players, which has included engagements in leading colleges and universities. Leading educators throughout the country are unstinting in their praise for this group of professional New York actors in their presentations of the immortal works of Shakespeare.

In his productions he has recalled to mind a truth so often forgotten, and that is that after all, Shakespeare wrote for the stage and not for mere reading. Thus he proves that Shakespeare is crowded with moments of drama, comedy and real entertainment instead of only classroom rhetoric. Only the stage can do this.

In the supporting cast there is Eugenia DuBois, who toured the leading cities of the nation with the late Robert B. Mantell; Robert Selman, who has appeared in such modern productions as "Sailor Beware" and "The Road to Rome"; Florence Peyton, talented and lovely young actress, whose portrayal of "Desdemona" in "Othello" lends exquisite charm and vivacity intermingled with the abject pathos which marked the tragic end of the unhappy young consort of "The Moor of Venice."

VAN PEURSEM ELECTED

Several Eastern students and members of the music department attended the second annual clinic of the Kentucky Band and Orchestra Directors Association held at Louisville February 20-22 at Halleck Hall High School.

Mr. James Van Peursem, head of the music department at Eastern, was elected temporary chairman of the meeting. At the business session plans were discussed for the 1937 Clinic and compositions were selected for the state contest to be held in Lexington next April.

Meeting with the eighty band, orchestra and choral directors were approximately two hundred and thirty of the best high school musicians in the state.

A mixed chorus from Eastern, consisting of several members of the men's and women's Glee Clubs, presented a number of songs to the entire group.

Those that attended from Eastern were: Louise Hughes, Hilda Meyer, Betty Rice, Alma Reece, Hejen Shoreley, Gladys West, Carlos Hale, and Katelyn Wilkins of the Women's Glee Club; Walter Holden, Tom Bonnie, Richard Evans, Marshall Ney, Gordon Nash, Edwin Barnes, Ed Tuttle Hesser, and Donald Michelson of the Men's Glee Club; Miss Mary Murphy, Mr. James Van Peursem, and members of the Model High string quartet and Woodwind ensemble.

Art Club Stages Novel Carnival

The art club of Eastern sponsored a mammoth carnival last evening in the basement of Cammack Building from 7 to 9 o'clock. Numerous acts and side shows entertained royally the large crowd which attended.

Included in the acts and exhibits were the Dionne Quintuplets; Diego Rivera, the celebrated Mexican artist who cut silhouettes of persons for the meager sum of five cents; a ladies boxing match; hula hula dancers; world's greatest quartet; dancing by Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire.

Lilly Pons, the great soprano, was in attendance and Nelson Edvy sang favorite songs at the request of individuals in the crowd. Acrobats, clowns, and fortune tellers, and prophets were in abundance.

The king and queen, clad in the royal purple of the court, acted in a most majestic fashion.

Dr. Paul Clyde Addresses Club

Dr. Paul Clyde, of the University of Kentucky, spoke at the dinner meeting of the World Affairs Club in the recreation room at Burnam Hall Thursday, Feb. 27, at 5 p. m. His address was of Japan and her possessions. In addition to his address, he showed pictures of the different phases of life in Japan and her possessions, on 16 mm. film. Dr. Clyde brought with him some pictures on 35 mm. film but the large projector would not work and this interesting part was omitted.

Dr. Clyde made the statement that the developments in Japan were not as yet final, and that no one could state the exact conditions of the country. His subject was interesting and showed that he knew a great deal about it.

The World Affairs Club will meet at the home of Dr. Kennamer, who is sponsor of the club, on March 11, for a social and business meeting. The club is also looking forward to the occasion of its annual banquet, to be held in the near future. Daily Turner, president of the club, stated that during the year one or two very interesting speakers would be heard, either Dr. Vinache of the University of Cincinnati, or Dr. Peattie of Ohio State University.

SOPHOMORES MEET

The sophomore class held its regular monthly meeting in the University Building Auditorium on March 4, 1936.

March 21 was set as the definite date for their "leap year" dance.

Gives Recital

Miss Margaret Neale, of Richmond, gave a public voice recital in the Brock auditorium last week. Miss Neale is a junior at Eastern, and is working towards her bachelor's degree in music.

Congratulations, Favorites

The Progress wishes to extend congratulations to the newly elected Miss Eastern, and to the other popularity queens and kings. You may be justly proud of your titles because you are fortunate enough to attend a school where all elections of this kind are carried on in a decent, democratic manner.

Passing of Ritchie

In the death of Albert C. Ritchie the nation has lost an able statesman and a colorful political figure. As governor of Maryland for sixteen years Ritchie set a record for tenure of office that has not been equaled by any governor of any state.

As candidate for the Democratic nomination for President at several national conventions, Ritchie assailed prohibition and advocated states rights and government economy. After leaving the governorship of his state two years ago he attacked extension of government bureaucracy and advocated a balancing of the federal budget.

Men of Ritchie's type are becoming increasingly rare in American politics. He said what he thought regardless of minorities. It was never necessary to say of Albert Cabell Ritchie that he was sincere. His sincerity was never suspected.—(The Richmond Daily Register).

It Is Happening

In the heat of indignity Sinclair Lewis wrote the most pertinent book of his entire colorful career. Not assuming the role of the prophet but only using his keen sense of insight, Sinclair Lewis has given the world a startling picture of what could really happen here. "It Can't Happen Here" is an imaginary but no less accurate portrayal of what will happen in America if we continue to fall in line with the reactionary elements, who, under the star-spangled motives of purging the country of radicals, will usurp the reigns of government and rule in an outrageous Hitler fashion.

Lewis' book was not even cool from the press when a great howl ascended in protest of this "unfair" document. The flag-wavers and the stand-patters knitted anxious brows over the likelihood of offending the foreign fascist nations, these dismal states which are staging a constant attack against democracy both in word and in action. Italy and Germany mince no words in propagandizing their constituents against the concepts of government we hold dear and sacred. Why, then, should we spare redress to their inhuman conduct?

We cannot worry too much over foreign opinion of our literary expressions. We must be concerned with the extent of truth Sinclair Lewis has uttered. No enlightened person will deny "It" (fascism) is not already happening here. Can there be a more despotic system of the press than the yellow, lying journalism of William Randolph Hearst? Is our throttled radio broadcasting system a democratic one? Must Alexander Woolcott be ruled off the air because his opinions of freedom of the press might offend the consumers of his sponsor's product? Does the introduction of czaristic teachers' oath bills allow complete freedom of expression? Yes, "It" is happening here, and will continue to happen as long as we show apathy to our dearly bought freedom.

Storm Over Fujiama

The recent wholesale assassinations in Japan may point a moral to the rest of the world. In a few words: that a garbled, distorted super-patriotism may lead a rampant group to the direct action. These killings in Japan were perpetrated by a group of young army officers who believe that Japan's well-being is threatened by various hostile nations, and that those in high government positions were doing nothing to prevent attack from these imaginary antagonists. Their reasoning is fallacious. Their two likeliest opponents, Russia and China, are so deeply immersed in domestic affairs that they ask only to be let alone. It is needless to say that the United States will do her utmost to keep good will between Japan and herself (provided, of course, our bat-brained militarists are restrained from whipping up too much anti-Japanese fervor).

A distorted patriotism is always coincidental with a strong program of nationalism. Japan, one of the most nationalistic of nations, is inoculated with that dread germ, and before many months pass, now tranquil Fujiama will look down upon rapine and strife. What a price to pay for misguided patriotism. The pages of the world's history are filled with accounts of coups, assassinations, wars, depressions, moral deteriorations, and general chaos, all of which have been brought about in part or whole by the results of malignant extroversion, inaccurately called patriotism. Flag-waving, red-baiting, racial persecutions, religious discrimination and down right murder is often called patriotism, while the man who pleads for humanitarianism, peace, and brotherhood is crucified as a radical and a traitor.

It is natural that a nation becomes more patriotic when its security is endangered; it is the law of self-preservation. But what the militarists in Japan have done is exactly what other army men in various countries are doing today: instilling fear in the hearts of the masses on the grounds of threatened invasion by some foe. In the United States today we are launching the greatest peacetime military campaign in the history of the nation because our "patriotism," or more appropriately, our fear, is aroused. Let us teach the genuine brand of patriotism, that kind that calls for amity and understanding between nations, not the type that sends the youth of the world to Valhalla.

GLEANINGS

Says a Kansas newspaper: A Kansas wild-life society is being formed in Wichita. It is about time. We read yesterday about a farmer's faithful old Fido being caught in the pasture helping two coyotes eat the farmer's calf. With nothing fiercer than jack rabbits to hunt, and most of them clubbed to death by Sunday school classes. Kansas sportsmen have turned to crows and country house cats as predatory life that should be eliminated. With coyotes gone sissy and playing with our pups, the wildest species left in Kansas is the taxpayer.

We interviewed our official guardian and benefactor, Mr. Smith, the other night just after he had finished escorting seventeen girls to the filling station to get a late evening snack (if that was a snack that big red-haired one took, we would hate to take her to dinner). The good night-watch complains that the hamburger hungry damsels are getting him sore. "Every time they see me," scolded Mr. Smith, "they think of a hamburger and of course I have to escort them to the filling station."... And really to look at Mr. Smith one would hardly think of a hamburger; he rather reminds you of a rarely done steak, but hardly of an oily hamburger... But after all, a greasy hamburger, slipped between a soggy bun, seasoned with several generous cuts of odorous onion, dabbed with mustard, and deftly topped with a swab of ketchup is a tempting tidbit, even if devoured in the middle of the night. The dreams that follow the consuming of this delicacy (extravagant word) are sometimes surprising. We recall a dream we experienced one time after an excursion to the filling station, wherein we dreamed that we were eating a huge hamburger and were intermittently picking our teeth. We were awakened by a swift kick administered by our roommate's goodly leg, to find that we had been chewing on the sad roommate's ear, and had been picking our teeth with a fountain pen.... What wonders the gastronomic system will work upon the subconscious mind!

We were told of a frolicsome group who went to Bowling Green for the K. I. A. C. tournament and during the entire trip they graphically re-fought the Civil War. It all started from a discussion (those things usually do) on the superiority of Southern customs, etc. Yeah, but who won the war? interjected a Yankee upstart. Well, the Southern element in the assembly took to re-living the war, including the battle of Bull Run. The cuts and bruises the doughty lads bore on their return showed unquestionably that Grant took Richmond (at least Richmond looked as if a portion of his nose had been scratched away).

We are really having a difficult time keeping up with all of the Love Lyrics that are sent in. With spring apparently at hand and the M. I. (Mating Instinct) intensifying, we are literally swamped with Lyrics. Here are a few of them: I'm getting kind of grown-up now, No high school girls for me. I smoke, drink cokes, and stay out late— Oh what a shiek I'll be!

Soft breezes ruffle the hair of strolling couples. Stars twinkle in the sky overhead. Soft whispers fill the air with springtime murmurs, and hands held under cover of darkness are almost ignored. Spring is almost here, and once again we must turn our attention to love. As we walk across the campus whom should we meet but LULA SHEARER followed by the handsome BUD LIMB. They seem to have plenty to talk about on this happy occasion, and BUD bends his head very low so no one except LULA can hear. (Unconscious people! Anyone can tell what he is saying).

Some girls seem to be very, very selfish with their men. For instance, take KATHERINE McNUTT. One night it was WALTER HILL, the next night it was JOHNNY JOHNSON, and the next night poor KATHERINE found herself alone as the result of her previous actions. Another example of this same selfishness is ROBERTA CARRIER. Take her case. She goes to a basketball game alone, talks to GANO CAYWOOD as much as possible and comes home with WILSON GABBARD. For the rest of the week all she does is talk about CAYWOOD and GABBARD. Then the next thing we know she is having a rendezvous with RED STAMPER in the library, and before long she is stringing him along too. ROBERTA, we warn you to leave GABBARD alone, for if you don't BESSIE HENRY will see that you are sorry. He seems to have some sort of affection for BESSIE. We thought she had reformed and would not get her name in our column anymore, but she has disappointed us again.

Seems like WILLIS THROCKMORTON tried to cheat EDDIE EICHERS one night, and from the way REBECCA VALLANDINGHAM raved about WILLIS afterwards and said so nonchalantly, "I don't care if EDDIE dates DENOLA TOLLIVER," it seems that she is unscarred or unscared of losing her man. J. D. TOLBERT, MARSHALL NEY, JANE CASE and Jerry ALLEN are seen together quite often these days, especially in the vicinity of the cafeteria, but when outside, they look perfectly unsuspecting. There is, however, more than this to the case, but, as yet, no truth has been discovered. RONALD SHARP looks so lonesome these days. Really, girls, he is a pitiful figure. Seems like someone would or could rescue him. FAYE BENJEY did her part, and failed, so why not let someone else try?

HANNAH COCKERHAM and MICKEY WEIGSBERGER seem to be a nice little couple. And, oh, they are always talking so low when anyone approaches them, except when HANNAH is mad at him, and then, does she let him have it! And why, someone says, don't the Sullivan girls ever make the Scandalette. Gracious me! Am so sorry to have slighted them. Thought they had been holding a pretty good portion of the column, but here goes to atone for all past injuries. NAOMI GRITTON is very indifferent towards ED CONGLETON as long as she is with him, but if he misses a date night, or some such, she goes around with a sad look in her eyes and with tears just ready to roll out. LONA TURNER has strung along with JELOISE BALZ for so long that she really didn't know how to behave on a date all her own, but when JOE GILLEY asked her for one, she became so excited that she could scarcely keep still, and she was sitting in the lobby waiting for him half an hour before he called for her. LORINNE STIGALL seems not to mind the kind attentions of BOB SEEVERS. Anyway, she always smiles and smirks when he is around. What is this about DOROTHY CREWS and love. She has been telling all the young girls that they don't know what love really is. She said she didn't either until Manchester's heartbreaker, RED WALTERS, came along. We understand that ANNE EDWARDS is taking a law course in addition to a course in Home Ec. When will she pass the bar exam? Will JAMES LACKEY ask the questions? Someone asked ANNE ARRASMITH who her new boy friend was and she said, "Oh, that's brother." Who is this fellow GREASY that IMOGENE PRESTON always raves about? It must be nice to be ill and have the doctor send you to the hospital in the girls' dormitory. DEB PARTIN tells of the various experiences he had, such as the time two lovely damsels in the persons of LEO MOSS and DOROTHY THRONTON called upon him to tell him how to keep from having his heart broken; but lo! MISS WOODARD walked in and told them they must leave. We hear that ALMA BEST asked BESSIE HENRY-how she could take defeat so calmly? Is it that bad, ALMA?

HOMER GLASS came to the girls' dormitory last week inquiring for a special delivery letter. The letter wasn't found. Could there be a MRS. HOMER GLASS?

HOMER, don't hide your light under a bushel. Lancaster road is almost worn out. The only reason we can think of is that ERNEST CHOWNING forsakes Georgetown every week-end for DORRIS MILLION. Why don't HERBER TARTAR and JIMMIE CALDWELL get their women straightened out? JIMMIE is still taking SALLIE PETTY to church, then HEBER calls for her in the evening, and JIMMIE steps out with NAOMI HOWARD as usual. If for any reason SALLIE isn't in, HEBER gives himself permission to make a frantic search for DELONA HACKER. Blondes, you know, are blondes to HEBER. KATHERINE STEWART still debates whether she should date FRED DELAPP, or whether she should stand by and maybe MIKE CORNETT will date her. MIKE, from all appearances, is trying to make up his mind about his girl friends, but evidently KATHERINE STEWART isn't one of them. MARGARET LOWE is very anxious to deceive OAKLEY LANHAM about her sweetheart back home, but so far she has been unsuccessful. She says she does think OAKLEY is sweet, however. MR. STONE seems to prefer the campus beauties. At present it is GLENNA BEGLEY. Be careful, MR. STONE, GLENNA is not quite so simple you think RUTH PERRY may not miss CLARENCE SUTTER this year, but why does she look so pleased when he comes to see her? She even goes so far as to eat breakfast so she can be with him a few minutes longer, and that means a lot, so think I.

Ge, wasn't Sunday last a lovely afternoon for strolling along country roads. The couples who went out for a stroll were very tired when they returned, but they were also very happy. MIKE CORNETT and HELEN PENN were among the number. So also were DOROTHY CREWS and her before-mentioned RED WALTERS. Another couple was DELBERT PARTIN and ELOISE BALZ. By the way, DELBERT seems to be quite nutty about her. We waited a long time for GARNETT MCGINNIS and JIMMIE STANTON to make up, but since they haven't, we must brand them as a split-up couple. A sad story, so thinks GARNETT.

More dirt next time. Adieu.

Pike County Club Newly Organized

Students from Pike county have recently formed an organization which will attempt to make closer contact with present, former and future Eastern students of that locality. In their organization meeting, Alice Williams was elected president; James Allie, vice-president; Clarica Turner, secretary, and Otille Bond, treasurer. Miss Mary Burrier is the club sponsor. The Pike countians are planning to hold a special meeting and rally in the second week of the spring term, in an effort to mobilize all Pike county students. Students living in Pike county are urged to contact the club at once.

SPRING SPORT SHOW READY

Football, Track, and Baseball to Get Under Way Next Week

SIXTY GRIDDERS OUT

The Eastern Kentucky State Teacher's College football squad will start spring practice Monday, March 9, under Coaches Rome Rankin and Tom Samuels. Approximately 60 candidates are expected to report for uniforms Monday. This will be the largest turnout for spring football seen at Eastern.

One of the major problems facing Coach Rome Rankin will be that of filling the places of Richard Greenwell, Barney Wilson, Farris Long and Roy Pille, all varsity men who will graduate in June. Coach Rankin expects to fill these vacancies with material left from last fall and promising freshmen who will be eligible for varsity football by next season.

Equipment has been issued to varsity and freshmen men who played football last fall. All new men will receive their equipment Monday.

Spring Track will also start next week under the tutelage of Coach Rome Rankin and Coach Samuels. All men who are interested are requested to watch the bulletin boards in the gym for announcements for official date of practice.

Spring baseball practice is already under way with the pitchers and catchers working out every day in the gym. Baseball will be coached by Mr. Hembree, who has turned out a winning ball club every year. All of the regulars of the baseball team of last year will be on hand as well as several new prospects for the team. A definite schedule has not been announced for the team as yet. All men interested in baseball are asked to see Mr. Hembree as soon as possible.

STUDENT UNDERGOES KNIFE
Dan Rowland, student at Eastern during the 1933-34 school year, was operated on for appendicitis at the Edwards Hospital in Corbin, February 17. He has been released from the hospital and is said to be doing nicely.

DEBATE TEAM AT TOURNEY

Represent Eastern At Lexington Round Robin Tournament

TO MEET WESTERN

Four members of the Alpha Zeta Kappa represented Eastern in the Third Annual Round Robin Tournament conducted by the Pi Kappa Delta of Transylvania at Lexington, Saturday, February 29. James Neale and Kelly Clore entered as the number one team from Eastern and Lucien Wilcox and Lundy Adams entered as team number two.

Ten schools including two out-of-state colleges, were represented by a total of thirty-six teams in this non-decision tournament. Each team engaged in three debates during the afternoon. The number one team met teams from Georgetown, Alfred Holbrook, and the University of Kentucky, while the number two team engaged representatives from Kentucky Wesleyan, Morehead, and Berea.

This is the second year that Eastern has been represented by a debating team and it was the first time that they have participated in this type of tournament. These were also the first debates engaged in by the local team this season.

Next week Eastern will meet the teams from Western Teachers College and Illinois College here. It is possible that Eastern may meet Western there Saturday if present plans materialize. Don Michelson will be the representative of Alpha Zeta Kappa at Bowling Green in the state oratorical contest which will also be held Saturday.

The annual club dance, which was held last Saturday, was a success in every way. The music for the occasion was furnished by Gordon Nash and his Orchestra.

Toyohiko Kagawa At Lexington

Toyohiko Kagawa, the most famous Japanese Christian leader of the age, will speak in Lexington, Ky., at the Woodland auditorium next Wednesday, March 11, at both 4 p. m. and 7:45 p. m. Kagawa is brought to Lexington under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., the College of the Bible, and the Lexington Ministerial Association.

The great Japanese Christian has suffered untold privations in his homeland, but has been successful in organizing the Japanese Federation of Labor and the Farmers National Federation. He also started the first laborers' school, the first laborers' newspaper, and pushed thru the thing that had beaten the intellectuals for thirty years, the problem of universal suffrage.

All Eastern students and faculty members are invited to hear the Japanese speak. There will be no charge for admission, but tickets must be secured in advance. Miss M. F. McKinney is in charge of distribution of tickets.

Stage Is Set For Regional Tests

Since the various district high school basketball tournaments have not been completed at press time, it has been impossible to name the teams which will compete at the Weaver gymnasium next Friday and Saturday in the Regional tournament. Last year in the regional tests Frankfort High, Burgin, Waco, Berea, Barbourville, Sadieville, Lawrenceburg, Wilmore, and Henry Clay High schools competed. Frankfort won over Henry Clay in a surprising upset. The consolation trophy was won by Wilmore, with a victory over Sadieville.

Tournament programs will be issued by the Eastern Progress free of charge, so that tournament fans will be able to more accurately follow the progress of the competition.

Eastern to Enter Orator In Contest

Eastern's representative at the state intercollegiate oratorical contest to be held at the Western Teachers College tomorrow at Bowling Green will be Donald Michelson, winner of the 1935 Regents oratorical medal. Michelson will be the first Eastern student to take part in this contest, this being the first year Eastern has belonged to the National Oratorical Association.

According to Dr. Saul Houchell, varsity debate coach, Michelson will use the same oration that won him the Regents medal last year. Since that speech has not been used in any intercollegiate contest, it will be valid at tomorrow's competition. The title of the speech is: "Why the Jew Survives." Dr. Houchell will accompany Eastern's orator to the contest.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GIVEN
The program of the Junior class at its meeting March 4 consisted of a number of musical selections. The Harmonizers, campus male quartet, rendered several numbers including two negro spirituals, and Art Lund sang three popular songs. He was accompanied by Katharine Prather.

Sophs Push Plans For Leap Year Hop

Just two more weeks until the big "leap year" dance will be given by the sophs. They say these "leap year" dances are the real stuff. Everyone everywhere is attending them and they seem to have a whooping big time.

A few comments about a "leap year" dance. Are the boys allowed to go stag? No! Absolutely not! Are the girls allowed to go stag? Yes! That will be all the more fun. Are the boys allowed to break? Of course not. What would the girls want a "leap year" dance for if they weren't allowed to take the initiative in every way? Final warning! Girls, if you don't make your date soon you won't be able to find a man whom you want to go with you. And be sure to be saving your pennies, too.

R. O. T. C. HEAD REPORTS HERE

Captain W. W. Ford Becomes Head of New Eastern Field Artillery Unit

COMES FROM FT. HAYS

Capt. W. W. Ford, field artillery, United States army, reported for duty yesterday at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College to make all preparations for installing a field artillery unit of the R. O. T. C. at Eastern at the opening of the fall term in September.

Captain Ford, who comes here from Ft. Bragg, N. C., will be professor of military science and tactics for the unit. He states that equipment shortly to be issued for use at Eastern will be field artillery truck-drawn material of the very latest type, and initially this will include four 75 mm. guns on high speed axles and about twelve trucks of the latest design.

Captain Ford reported here yesterday from Ft. Hays, O., where he had been ordered to complete final arrangements for the organization of the field artillery unit of the R. O. T. C. here. His family, now living at Ft. Bragg, will join him here soon.

RELEASE LATEST RADIO PROGRAMS

The weekly radio programs of Eastern, broadcast from 4:00 to 4:30 p. m. each Wednesday from the studio on the campus over WHAS, radio station of the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, for the remainder of the month of March will be:

On March 11, President H. L. Donovan will continue his series of addresses on the Constitution, speaking on "The Constitutional Convention Completes Its Work," and Dr. L. G. Kennamer will feature Bourbon county in his "Kentucky Counties on Parade" series.

On March 18 a program of favorite songs of Stephen Collins Foster will be given by the entire student body. Solo parts will be sung by students and violin, harp, and piano music will be furnished. Mr. Van Pusem will present a short talk on Stephen Collins Foster.

On March 25 President Donovan will speak on "The Fight for the Adoption of the Constitution" and Dr. Kennamer will feature Clark county.

Musc will be included in both the programs on March 11 and March 25.

Model Debaters, Highlands Split

Model High School of Eastern Teachers College and the Highland High School of Fort Thomas divided a debating contest Friday at Fort Thomas.

Arguing on the question of "Socialized Medicine," the affirmative team of each school debated the negative team.

Doniphan Burrus, Mary K. Deatherage and Mary T. Stockton composed the winning team for Model High. Anna Lee White, Josephine Parks, and Edward Murphy represented Model High on the negative side. Phil Harrmann, Warner Wilson, and Charles Brandes, winners for Highland. Margie Allen, Lil Grossman, and Phil Herrmann, were Highland's negative team.

Professor W. H. Wilson, lecturer of English, University of Cincinnati, judged the contest won by Model High. W. B. Ward, Silver Grove, judged the other debate. Miss Eliza Hanson and R. V. Anderson were the respective debate coaches of Model High and Highlands.

Following the debates the two schools held a joint celebration at a dinner at the La Normandie, Cincinnati.

HOME EC CLUB INITIATES
The Home Economics Club held its initiation last night for new members. Several weeks ago the old members and new members were guests of the faculty adviser, Miss Dix. During the evening a very interesting talk on the selection of hosiery was given by Mr. Liland Race.

Governor Spotswood, of Virginia, at the request of Governor Eden, of North Carolina, in 1714 issued a proclamation ordering the arrest of all North Carolinians entering that province in order to keep colonists at home to fight the Indians.

DONOVAN IS CONSULTANT

National Policies Commission Makes E. T. C. Head Member Ex-Officio

PLAN AT LONG RANGE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2—The Educational Policies Commission announced at its headquarters offices here today that H. L. Donovan, president of Eastern Ky. State Teachers College, has been appointed as consultant ex officio for the commission.

The appointment of a group of educational leaders as consultants is an important item in the program of the Educational Policies Commission.

The Commission was appointed for a five-year term of office in December, 1935, by the joint action of the National Educational Association and the Department of Superintendence to develop long-range planning for the improvement of American schools.

The policies of the Commission will be developed from its contacts with educational and civic leaders serving as consultants in all parts of the country. It is an agency of leadership and service rather than an agency for bringing about standardization and uniformity.

The consultants will receive important materials prepared by the Educational Policies Commission and will be asked to assist the Commission by expressing opinions on issues submitted, by raising additional issues to be considered by the Commission, by disseminating its recommendations, and by reporting the conclusions of important committees of which the consultants are members.

A Word From the Y's

By LEMUEL STAMPER
Walter Mavity was elected president of the Y. M. C. A. for the second semester, succeeding Ruford Tipton, who withdrew from Eastern to enter the College of the Bible at Transylvania University, in Lexington.

On Monday, March 9, Mr. Charles T. Hughes and President Mavity will attend a convention of all state Y. M. C. A. presidents and sponsors at Lexington, Ky.

At the "Y" vesper services last Sunday night, Dr. Roy B. Clark, head of the department of English, delivered an interesting lecture on "Churches and Cathedrals in England." After an extended trip in England last summer, Dr. Clark made a collection of about four hundred pictures of places of interest in England, half of which he made in snapshots. These pictures, shown as lantern slides, made an enjoyable illustrated lecture. The lecture was well attended by students and townspeople alike.

The Y. M. C. A. extends a cordial invitation to all students to attend these vesper services.

DR. MOORE SPEAKS ON SOCIAL SECURITY

"The time has arrived when the people of the United States must give serious attention to a comprehensive, unified system of social insurance," said Dr. W. J. Moore, head of the commerce department at Eastern Teachers College, in an address last week at the college assembly hour on "Social Security."
