OPAL HANSHAW IS BEAUTY QUEEN

L. T. C. CAST IS AT WORK ON NEXT PLAY

Dramatic Club to Present "Merchant of Venice" As Its Annual Shakespearean Play

BUCHANAN DIRECTING

The Little Theatre Club of Eastern will present "The Merchant of Venice" on Tuesday evening, April 13, as its third annual Shakespearean production. This comedy belongs to the second group of Shakespearean plays, but besides the elements of comedy it introduces some serious problems. There is the warm romantic love of Bassanio for Portia, the difficulties to be overcome, and the triumph of true love. There is example of a real friend in the person of Antonio. There is the spectacular torchlight masquerade, the elopement of Jessica, the clownish fun of Launcelot, and the rollicking fun of the ring episodes. Besides all this there is a serious problem of race prejudice woven into the plot.

The part of Portia will be played by Marguerite Hensmann, a junior who came to Eastern this year from Virginia Intermont College of Bristol, Virginia, where she had considerable experience in dramatics, including the part of Rosalind in "As You Like It." Opposite Miss Hensmann, playing the part of Bassanio, will be Norbert Rechten, president of L. T. C. Mr. Rechten played in the two previous Shakespearean productions of the Little Theatre. He was Sebastian in "Twelfth Night" and Tranio in "Taming of the Shrew."

Jack McCord will portray the character of Shylock, the Jew. McCord was Gremio in "Taming of the Shrew" and gave an excellent interpretation as Malvolio in "Twelfth Night." Kelly Clore, another senior, will assume his most serious Shakespearean role as Gratiano. He previously has played the parts of Sir Andrew Aguecheek and Gremio in "Twelfth Night" and "Taming of the Shrew," respectively.

Nelva Richardson and James Hart who were the lovers, Blauco and Lucentio, in "Taming of the Shrew" will play opposite one another again as Jessica and Lorenzo. Miss Richardson was also Maria in "Twelfth Night." Hiram Brock who was the Lord in "Taming of the Shrew" will enact the part of Salario. Other members of the cast who have had minor roles in Shakespearean plays are Russell Childs as Salanio, Paul McGinnis as Tubal, and Charles Warner as Antonio. Other members of the cast will be making their first venture into the Shakespearean drama field.

Rehearsals, under the direction of Miss Pearl Buchanan, are being staged regularly and reports are to the effect that the work is progressing rapidly. Miss Eleanor Mehan of the Art department is assisting in planning the scenery and the color scheme of the costumes; Miss Mary Murphy is training the members of the cast who will sing solos; Mr. J. E. Van Fuessem and his orchestra are preparing their musical renditions, and other persons and departments of the college will no doubt add their aid before April 13 in order to make the production an even greater success than its two predecessors.

A complete cast of the characters in the play is as follows:

Duke of Venice, Logan Caywood; Prince of Morocco, Leonard Stafford; Prince of Arragon, Frank Wilcox; Antonio, Charles Warner; Bassanio, Norbert Rechten, Salanio, Russell Childs; Salario, Hiram Brock; Gratiano, Kelly Clore; Lorenzo, James Hart; Shylock, Jack McCord; Tubal, Paul McGinnis; Launcelot, Harold Dunn; Clerk, Ralph Pendry; Stephano, Frances Hensmann; Portia, Marguerite Hensmann; Nerissa, Margaret Hubbard; and Jessica, Nelva Richardson.

Eighth Annual Palm Sunday Program Given

The combined Glee Clubs of Eastern gave their eighth annual Palm Sunday program on Sunday evening, March 21. They sang for the third time the famous sacred Cantata, "Seven Last Words of Christ," by Theodore Dubois. For the first time the chorus was accompanied by the organ and the orchestra. This outstanding and beautiful program was enhanced by the candle opera, the choir investments and the able voices of Betty Sturn, soprano; Norbert Rechten, tenor; and Edwin Barnes, baritone. Miss Brown E. Telford was at the console of the Hammond organ, while James E. Van Fuessem conducted both the orchestra and chorus.

Students are urged to plan a visit home at this time rather than week-ends before April 15.

Students will be free to leave after their last class Wednesday, April 14. No student will, under any circumstances, be excused for an earlier departure.

Schnabl to Judge Ohio Band Tests

Henri Schnabl, director of the Eastern Teachers College band, will be one of the judges in the Eastern Ohio Contest for high school bands on April 29 and 30.

In accepting the invitation to the Ohio contest, which will be held at Bridgeport, Mr. Schnabl was forced to refuse an offer which was extended him to judge the Missouri state meet, scheduled for the same date. He is a member of the official list of judges for the mid-western states.

DEBATERS ARE QUITE ACTIVE

Eastern Teams Engage in Nine Contests During the Past Week

WESTERN HERE SAT.

The Eastern debating squad engaged in nine debates during the last week on the question: "Resolved, That Congress Should be Empowered to Fix Maximum Hours and Wages for Industry."

Tuesday afternoon Herman Maggard and Bertel Sparks, Eastern affirmative speakers, met Harold Wainscott and Leslie Ryehard of Georgetown College. That evening James Neale and Kelly Clore engaged the Georgetown affirmative team composed of Cecil Clifton and Roy Evans.

Friday night the local debaters met the two teams from Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Neale and Clore met a team of women in the first inter-collegiate co-ed debate ever held here. Misses Ola Kemmer and Cornelia Hobbs were the women debaters. Sparks and Maggard met the men's team from the Tennessee College composed of Robert Porter and James Woodard.

Saturday the two teams participated in the annual round robin non-decision debate tournament at Transylvania. Clore and Neale, as the No. 1 team, met the No. 1 team from Kentucky Wesleyan and Transylvania. Their other debate was cancelled when the No. 1 team from Georgetown failed to appear. Eastern's No. 2 team, made up of Sparks and Maggard engaged the No. 2 team from Transylvania, the No. 1 team from Ky. Wesleyan, and the No. 6 team from Berea.

Tomorrow Eastern will play host to the debaters from Western. In this forensic discussion, which begins at three o'clock, Eastern will uphold the affirmative view and Western will take the negative side of the issue.

M'DONOUGH TO HEAD PHY. ED. ASSOCIATION

Eastern Athletic Director to Take Office Next March; Has Served This Institution Since 1928

MEETING AT HOUSTON

Mr. Thomas E. McDonough, head of the physical education department of Eastern, was elected president of the Southern District of the American Physical Education Association at the Tenth Annual Convention which was held in the Rice Hotel, Houston, Texas, March 17-20. Mr. McDonough is a graduate of LaCrosse State Teachers College, LaCrosse, Wisconsin; studied at Columbia University; and holds B. S. and M. A. degrees from George Peabody College. He came to Eastern in 1928 and during his nine years of service here has been quite active in the work of the association.

The association is composed of colleges and universities from thirteen states—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia. Among the many outstanding speakers who addressed the delegates from these states at the convention were Ernest Thompson Seton, internationally known naturalist; Dr. C. L. Brownell, Columbia University; and Dr. James E. Rogers, representative from the National Recreational Association. The delegates to the convention had a large variety of section meetings from which to choose to attend. These included the following: Recreation, Health, Camping, Dancing, Women's Athletics, Men's Athletics, Therapeutics and Research.

Mr. McDonough will take office in March, 1938. Other officers who were elected at this convention—J. Lewis Cook, Atlanta, Georgia, vice-president; and G. L. Hermance, Houston, Texas—take office immediately and will serve along with Alfreda Moscrop of Alabama College, who was elected president at the convention last year. The president of the organization is always given a year after his election in which to prepare his program. The convention next year will be held in Atlanta, Ga.

Talmadge Dewitt, former graduate of Eastern was a nominee for vice-president and was defeated for the office by only one vote.

KIPA Convention Be Held At Centre

The annual spring meeting of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association will be held at Centre College, Danville on Friday and Saturday, April 9-10, according to an announcement from James P. Harratty, president of the group.

An outstanding program has been planned for the two-day convention. A number of leading journalists will address the body and short addresses will be given by members from the various college publications represented. "College Publicity and College Newspapers" will be discussed by Miss Agnes Edmunds, feature editor of the Progress.

Entries for the best stories in news, sports, and feature and best editorial will be submitted at the meet by the various colleges. Entries for the outstanding publications will also be judged.

JUNIOR PROM DATE IS SET

RANKIN IS CHAIRMAN

The crown social event of the season, the Junior Prom, will be held in the small gym of the Weaver Health building Friday night, May 21.

Norb Rechten, president of the class, announced that plans are already being made to make this Prom a grand finale to Eastern's social season.

Otwell Rankin, a prominent member of many campus organizations, has been selected as general chairman of the dance. Other committee chairmen are: Russell Childs, music; Beulah Clark, program; Naomi Gritton, refreshments; Elmer Douglas and Edgar McConnell, decorations; Agnes Edmunds, publicity and Mary Lillian Smith, flower and throne.

At the next meeting of the class the Prom Queen will be elected from nominees selected from the class. Representatives of the other classes will also be chosen from their respective classes. These will be announced in the near future.

PHYS. ED. CLUB GIVES DANCE

The Physical Education Club of Eastern held its annual dance in the small gym of the Weaver Health Building last Saturday night.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Arthur Lund and his "Londonaire." Although a small crowd attended the affair it was a social success.

The subject of Dr. Bentivoglio's address will be "Educational Adjustments to Life."

A high light for Easternites at the convention will be the Eastern breakfast, which is to be held in the Roof Garden of the Brown Hotel, on Friday morning, April 16, at 7:30.

The Eastern booth will be maintained, as usual, in the lobby of the Brown Hotel. Since this booth is for the service of Eastern friends, they are urged to go there and register.

Creative Attitude

It appears that students of American colleges of today have little interest in creative works. Beyond the regular routine of meeting classes, preparing assignments, and an occasional contribution to some campus periodical or social function, the student is only a follower—a believer in what is already believed, and admirer of what is already accomplished. True the system assignments to be completed, used in college courses detracts from the individual's power to create, but yet the individual should mold a creative attitude during his leisure hours.

Students have not become educated until above other things they form a desire to be original, self-accomplishing, and self-expanding. To complete a four year period in college by merely meeting classes, preparing assigned work, and responding with memorized answers without going into the work with a scholarly attitude, with an individual purpose and a direct reason is educational suicide. Do your work for your advantage, accomplish tasks for your satisfaction, and mold an attitude of creativeness.

Probably never before in the life of man has there been more opportunities for individuals to come forth with creative ideas and works. During this era of changing ideals the creative actions of college students should find only a welcoming hand. It should be an incentive to create. It should be a warning to create. Yet, however, we find thousands of college students moving in "ant formation" from entrance examinations to college degree without accomplishing one new thing. They have failed to become educated because besides failing to create something new they have even failed to mold a creative attitude.

Support Spring Sports

With the inauguration of the spring sports program practically every member of the student body should find some particular sport in which he is greatly interested. The passing of the basketball season, which always finds a large following, brings before us the warmer weather games, baseball, golf, tennis, swimming, and track.

It is true that these sports are less publicized on the college campus than are the major sports of football and basketball, but yet they are wholesale activities for the participants and the followers, and should be supported to the utmost. In the past few years Eastern has had one of the outstanding baseball teams in the South. They have played and defeated many of the larger colleges of this section, and they have developed some promising young players who are on the road to stardom. At present here are several players on the squad who have been offered professional contracts.

In the other branches of spring sports Eastern has probably been less successful, but with the addition of promising material and a cooperative spirit among the student body better things are expected for the coming season.

It is your duty as a part of the institution to support this program. Doubtless you have participated in some sport during your high school days and have felt the encouragement offered by an enthusiastic crowd. At least as one of the followers you have been able to sense the pleasure of backing your team. The spring sports program needs your support, it needs your interest, and it needs you.

Self-Expression

The ability to express oneself before a group is an essential for success in any public work. It is an art that is being sadly neglected in our current age, or at least one could draw that conclusion from remarks made by the students of Eastern—they don't want to speak in public.

For example, when one instructor asked members of a class, composed of juniors and seniors, if they would like to give oral reports on books they would read relating to the course, there was a decided reply that they would not. When they were asked why they did not care to share the books with their classmates, the majority of the dissenters replied that they didn't like to talk before a group.

At least ninety per cent of the members of this particular class are planning to enter the teaching profession. In this field of occupation they are going to be required to face not only the pupils in the classroom, but also the patrons and the public at large. If they cannot face a class in college, how can they expect to express themselves before the people whom they will attempt to serve.

Some students seem to be oblivious of the fact that college is the place to overcome such handicaps as the one mentioned; they do not seem to realize that college is the spring training camp for the game of life which follows. If one cannot express himself adequately, here is the place to practice in order that this operation may be done satisfactorily. In college one is with those of his own level who have the same troubles as he. In the classroom, in the club meetings, one finds ample opportunity for self-expression. Then there are many forms of public speaking being promoted on this campus with which one can affiliate and improve himself in this respect.

Learn the art of expressing ideas before an audience. Prepare to fulfill that teaching position in a better way.

GLEANINGS

Including colleges and universities, junior colleges, teachers' colleges, normal schools, and professional schools, there is a total of 1,706 institutions of higher learning in the United States.

Leading play publishers think well of WPA Federal Theatre plays. This fact is revealed by a recent announcement of the project's play Bureau that publishers have sought and acquired rights to several of the original scripts produced first by the New York Federal Theatre.

It is interesting to note the response given by student body concerning the "Stay Off of the Grass" movement. There are still a few who are tempted, but the grass will outdo them.

The Eastern flower gardens are flower gardens for all of the students—not for a few who insist on decorating their wearing apparel.

LIBRARY

This week I am happy to present to you Miss Ida Mae Hagin, from Peabody Library School, who is with us for two weeks doing practice work in our library. Miss Hagin—

"One of the nicest things about visiting another college is to realize that after all, and all in all, all college students and faculties are fundamentally alike. Quivering with quakes and qualms, I rushed up to the library building Monday morning to report to Miss Floyd that I was the student from Peabody Library School for two weeks' practice work in Eastern's library. As I walked in, two thoughts came to my mind—the clock said only 8:25, and I was not supposed to be there until nine, and the walls were done in two shades of bright green, so maybe I was in the wrong building after all. A library with green walls—was this an Alice in Wonderland place?"

"This entire week I have spent in this delightful library with the green walls. I have walked noiselessly on the checker-board floors. Best of all, I have become acquainted with the library staff and with the student assistants. That same spirit of friendliness and good will is here that I thought only my own college could have. Never again will I shiver and shake when I think of Eastern—unless it's snowing."

News from the Library

Miss Mary Alice Sayers, Librarian, Carnegie Library, Somerset, Kentucky, was a visitor on our campus Saturday, March 13, and spent most of her time in the college library.

James Drake, 1936 graduate of Eastern, who is now in the school of Library Service, Peabody, spent last week end on our college campus, radiating his happiness from visiting old scenes and from associating with friends. He was proudly carrying in inside pockets some handsome bits of news as to possible openings next year—a scholarship for study and several announcements concerning bona fide openings for regular positions, GOOD LUCK JIMMY.

Miss Ida Mae Hagin, of Peabody School of Library Service, arrived Monday, March 15, for a two-week practice period in our college library. It is a privilege to be selected as one of the college libraries which the Peabody sends students for practice work.

Dr. W. R. Jillson, formerly head of the Geological Survey for Kentucky, and author of many books, spent Monday and Tuesday of last week in our college library checking on rare Kentuckians for information necessary to complete his next book, which will be an annotated bibliography of rare Kentucky material. This book will supplement, or carry further the work begun in his "Kentucky History: A check and finding list of the principal published and manuscript sources of the General Regional and County History of the Comm. 1729-1936," published in 1936.

Mrs. Ellen Butler Stutsman and Mrs. Lysie Croft, of the University of Kentucky Library, spent Thursday, March 18, working on the survey of research materials for the A. L. A. Committee on Resources of Southern Libraries in the state of Kentucky. The main objectives of this survey are:

- 1) Inter-library loans;
- 2) aiding the research workers in finding the best collections in his field;
- 3) closer cooperation among libraries in dividing fields of collecting;
- 4) building up union catalogs;
- 5) discovering particular weaknesses in libraries of this area; and (6) a general stimulation in building research collections. The survey will be, not a mere listing of material, but rather a detailed description of available collections in every subject. It is expected that the results of the investigation will be published upon completion."

AAUW HOLDS NAT'L MEET

Murbach, Schneib, and Ford Attend Convention at Savannah, Georgia

EDUCATION IS THEME

Mrs. Janet Murbach, Dr. Anna Schneib, and Miss Edith Ford, members of the Eastern faculty, attended the tenth national convention of the American Association of University Women at Savannah, Ga., which was held March 15-18. Mrs. Murbach, president of the local branch of A. A. U. W., was one of the two official state delegates to the convention. Miss Ford was the delegate from the Richmond branch.

The general theme of the convention was "Education," and the local representatives took an active participation in the business that was centered around this theme. In a statement from the floor in which she urged that teachers colleges be placed on the accepted list of A. A. U. W. provided that they met the standards of the organization. Mrs. Murbach said, "It seems to us that no greater good can be done the cause of education by A. A. U. W. than in clearly defining standards to be met by the teachers colleges and making membership available to them after these standards have been met, for the teachers college is one of the great forces in modern education and cannot indefinitely be denied."

In trying to make articulate the viewpoint of the teachers college under the existing circumstances, Miss Ford made a motion that the teachers colleges studied under the plan adopted in 1935 be rated according to the findings and admitted immediately, without waiting until the entire survey is completed. It was impossible, however, to obtain immediate action on the question at this convention.

There was a large number of nationally known speakers who addressed the convention, and one of the most interesting to the local group was Dr. William Ernest Hocking, professor of philosophy at Harvard University, who spoke on "The Function of Philosophy in Adult Education." A panel discussion on "University Women in the Twentieth Century" was another feature quite pleasing to the Richmond delegates.

One of the most beautiful places that the group visited on their trip was Charleston, S. C., where they saw the scenic magnolia and cypress gardens. A three-hour tour of Savannah and environs was also thoroughly enjoyable, according to the delegates.

PISTOL TEAM ORGANIZED

About fifty young men have signified their intentions to try for a berth on Eastern's new pistol team.

Preliminary instructions have been given by Captain W. W. Ford, and actual firing is expected to begin before the end of the week. The pistol range, in the Hanger Stadium, is well equipped for its marksmen, and the officers hope to develop a good team by next year.

Campus

What is more distasteful than to see some unappreciative "nut," sophomore, juniors, and seniors included, walk out into the middle of one of the campus flower gardens and snap off the biggest and prettiest flower there and put it on his coat. The flower WILL ADD beauty to the campus.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Which of these pictures do you think is the best? Do we get a spring vacation? Are you going to K. E. A. When is he going to give that test AND, who do you say will win the Miss Eastern, Miss Popularity, and Mr. Popularity contests?

What would Webster say to this one? In a recent psychology vocabulary test conducted by one of Eastern's faculty members the word AUSPICES was included in the list which was put before the students. Much to prof's amazement this highly flavored answer was given by one of the group. "It is a mixture of spices—usually nutmeg, cinnamon and cloves."

We have it figured out. It will be easier on everyone concerned! Instead of being one these bird-brain fellows that spends all his time in searching for an already written theme, write it yourself. It will probably help your writing ability to say nothing of not boring the instructor with the same article for about the 7th time.

MORAL: Instructors knoweth not the feeling of spring fever.

THIS and THAT

By VERNON DAVIS

Out of the 637 girls that should have been Miss Eastern the name of the one that really was elected is made public in this issue. May we extend our congratulations to Beulah Clark upon her ability as a woman to be able to keep a secret for more than five days, also the same to Pal McGinnis for being able to stand the third degree without cracking; still more congratulations to Mr. Hesser for his social non-calcant, sphinx-like attitude about the whole affair.

MEN ONLY READ THIS!

Out of one thousand women, there will be nine hundred and ninety four who will read this. The other six will be blind.

MAYBE YOU DIDN'T SEE—

Mildred Richardson reading up the walk... Jesse Rivard down at the theatre counting the buttons on the usher's new jacket... Paul McGinnis getting the third degree... Harold Owen and Pop Warner "Lakesiding"... Heber Tarter sending his other pair of trousers to the cleaners (They dry cleaned Tarter as well as the trousers)... Anne Edwards mopping up a spring cold... Ed Eicher over at Burnam on a one man sit-down strike... Dorothy Crewsing around down town... Yours truly buying a "Home Ec" book... Hugh Gibson inducing Charles Brumback to pay his club dues... Mary Denny rushing into the library.

A Word from the Y's

The Reverend J. J. Davis, a missionary from Africa, was heard last Wednesday evening at the Y vesper service. Mr. Davis related some of the most interesting of his many experiences during his seventeen years of work in the Belgium Congo district.

Mr. Davis was first stationed at Wembo-Nyama where he worked for the first few years after his arrival in Africa. He then ventured some eighty odd miles from the home station and opened a new one. He has worked at this new station until his furlow of one year which allowed him to return to the States.

He expected to return to Minga, which is located a thousand miles from the west coast up one of the tributaries of the Belgium Congo River. His work deals with the At-tatela tribe, which is small in numbers. Cannibalism seems to have been discarded almost entirely. They are generally well built physically and seem to be anxious to learn.

When asked what the station needed most of all for future success Mr. Davis replied, "We need new blood and there is always a demand for a person who has knowledge of modern medical science."

Mr. Davis pointed out that a missionary doesn't only have to know the gospel but he must also be a teacher, doctor, adviser, and entertainer. The natives has such a profound confidence in the white man that he must not fall any of his undertakings.

COUNTY GROUP IS ORGANIZED

Pike Countians Formulate Club for Benefit of Student from That County

HOWARTON PRESIDENT

Students from Pike county assembled at Miss Burrier's apartment Monday evening, March 15, and organized the "Pike County Club." Miss Burrier, a former teacher of Pike county, is sponsor of the club. During the meeting they elected Layton Howarton as president; Emma Grace Blackburn, vice-president; and Clotel Bond, secretary and treasurer.

There will be two meetings each month, one devoted to the study of the county and one to a social gathering. Having completed their business transactions the meeting was converted into a party and several games were played. Later Miss Burrier served refreshments. Mr. Howarton stated that the idea of this organization is to reach more students of Pike county and to bring them to Eastern's campus. April 6 they are planning a Welcoming Party for the students entering at the nine weeks.

Pike county is the most eastern and largest county in Kentucky. It is almost the size of the state of Rhode Island, and is situated in the heart of the "billion dollar bituminous coal field."

College Night At Madison Theatre

Tonight is College Night! Once again Schine's Madison Theater will present a special program for the students of Eastern State College, second in a series of programs featuring novelties that are planned especially for the enjoyment of those who come and take part.

As an added inducement, students will be admitted for matinee prices until eight o'clock, by the use of the special coupon printed elsewhere. This price is only available when the coupon is presented. The deadline this week will be 8 o'clock sharp.

Last week a great number of college students enjoyed this program. This week the entertainment will be doubly interesting in that various students of the college will take part in the program activities.

Any club or organization who is interested in this night and the continuation of same please contact the Schine's Madison Theater as more talent and many different kinds of entertainment are desired.

TO EDIT MUSIC MAGAZINE

For many years the South has been backward in its music possibilities and opportunities. Today those who do not want to have this condition remain in our Dixieland have undertaken to print a music magazine, "The Southern Musician," published by the Kentucky Band and Orchestra Directors' Association. Henri Schnabl, director of Eastern's band, and Harold Rigby, director of Model High Band, were elected editor and secretary, respectively.

Since ROY KING doesn't seem to know she exists LILLIAN KELLNER is using her charms on TINY. The presence of that sunny smile on HELEN BECKNER'S face this week end can be attributed to the presence of 'STOVEWOOD' HERNDON on the campus. It seems that MISS FLOYD doesn't approve of library dates, least that's what two couples whom she asked to leave think. It looks as if she could be a little more sympathetic. RUTH BROCK and JIM HENNESSEY seem to like each other's company. JIM CALDWELL has been seen with DOROTHY WHITE recently. What about SLONE? MARGARET STEELE ZARING and WALTER MAVITY seem to have begun where they left off last year, that is when BILL McMILLAN isn't around.

ED EICHER has gone on a one man sit-down strike until REBEKAH says yes. What made JESSIE RIVARD and MARGARET BENTON spend the other evening counting the buttons on the ushers coat at the theatre? Why did VERNON DAVIS spend two hours in the Home Economics department the other day?

BILL WORTH was over to see MARJORY KIRBY during the high school tournament. J. Q. ANDERSON and MILDRED COLEY seem to have a very serious case of—shall we call it spring fever—no, it started before spring began. There seems to be another romance in the air as MARY PURDY and WOODROW LYDEY are seen together often. We wonder if JUANITA SCHINDLER isn't helping "HUNKY" BROCK forget NAYDIEN RAINEX? Anyway he seems to like her. JONNY JOHNSON and CHARLEY DEE CAMPBELL are another pair who are almost inseparable.

WILLIS THROCKMORTON and PAULINE RADER seem to have developed a great liking for each other. At least they spend most of their time together. We have given up hope of BILL BENNETT ever returning to NELVA RICHARDSON. He seems oblivious to everyone but BETTY STURM. Too bad NELVA! But NELVA isn't doing so bad with BOB DICKMAN.

JANE CASE and NEWMAN SHARP seem to have quarrelled again at least we have seen her with BOB RUBY. If you saw R. D. LACEY smiling for the first time this semester it was because WILIE TURPIN was on the campus this week. Who was the boy that works in the A. and P. that sent VIRGINIA WEDDLE the five pound box of candy for Valentine day? How is TONY SUZY getting along with PAULINE JASPER? RUSS CHILDS was right on the job as soon as JULIA WILLIAMS returned to school. Who was KITTY HOLCOMB and ELIZABETH ROBERTSON trying to fool with those ten cent store rings the past week end? Of course some people would believe that they are engaged to GEORGE MARTIN and SAM BECKLEY but some others said that after a few hours they started denying it.

Where does "God's Gift to the Girl's Dorm," GRACE CHAMPION, go on Monday nights when she checks out for church? Can't LOUISE KENDALL decide between DON DORRIS and GLEN NUNLEY? FRED DELAP and MARGUERITE O'MARA seem to be hitting it off pretty well. PAUL DEMOSEY and MARGARET HUBBARD have been getting along very well lately. Need a Taxi? Call Eastern Taxi. Phone 400.

MICHIGAN NINE OPENS SEASON TOMORROW

Clark or Sloan to Start on Mound for Hembree Outfit—Caldwell to Receive Slants

GAMES HERE APRIL 2-3

By RAYMOND STIVER
The University of Michigan baseball team will meet Eastern here tomorrow afternoon to officially open the season for both teams. Definite dates for the other scheduled games have not been announced but the Eastern nine will meet Western, University of Louisville, Morehead, and a number of other state teams. De Kalb Teachers of Illinois will be engaged twice, both games being played here next Friday and Saturday. Quite a few other out of state teams will be added to the schedule.

Only seven batterymen have reported this year. Of this number five are pitchers and two are catchers. The pitching corp is headed by Clark and Sloan, who will probably take the responsibility for most of the hill duty. The other mound candidates are Blevins, Fulkerson, and Lester King. King will probably see no service on the mound unless the hurling crew runs short, as he is one of the most capable infielders on the squad.

Both candidates for the receiving positions are veterans from last year's nine. Caldwell will most likely get the nod, since Williams performs in either the outfield or infield.

MILITARY UNIT GETS INSIGNIA

Design of Daniel Boone Standing at Foot-hills of Mountains Used

IN FORM OF SHIELD

The Military Department of Eastern today announced that the insignia to be used by Eastern's R. O. T. C. to distinguish it from other schools of the state, had been accepted by the necessary authorities. The insignia will be worn on the left arm of all persons connected with the R. O. T. C.

The insignia used by a group is supposed to be related to the group's history, and there, the insignia of Eastern is in the form of a shield. Upon the shield is a figure of Daniel Boone standing upon the foot-hills and looking into Kentucky. The name of Eastern is inscribed across the top of the shield.

The need for an insignia is twofold: First, it is needed as a mark of distinction for this particular field artillery unit; second, for use as a decoration. The insignia will be worn on the left shoulder of each uniform, and in addition it will be stenciled on the doors of all trucks, cars and on all guns. Small insignia will be stenciled on the field glasses, range finders, fuze setters, and all other equipment connected with and used by Eastern's R. O. T. C.

There is much to the history of the insignia in use today. During the Middle Ages various orders of Knighthood were distinguished by insignia worn to denote the order to which the individual belonged, as well as the position of influence and honor attained. These insignia were also carried as pylons on the lances of the knights.

One story has it that insignia got its start in the World War when night raiders tied handkerchiefs or pieces of bandages on their backs in order that they might be recognized by their fellow soldiers.

Midway Bluejays Win State Title

Midway's fast passing, fast breaking Blue Jays took every advantage that came their way and walked away with the championship of the eleventh regional tournament held at the Eastern gymnasium March 12-13. The Jays gained their trip to the state contests by defeating the Buffaloes of Georgetown, 47-20 in the final tilt.

In just as easy a manner the Midwayites marched thru the state meet which was held in Lexington last week.

MAROON SOPH BACK BREAKS LEG IN DRILL

Clinton Stanley, Promising Recruit from Frosh Ranks, Injured During Tackling Practice

SQUAD CUT TO THIRTY

The first major casualty in the Eastern Teachers College spring football camp occurred yesterday when Clinton Stanley, sophomore back, received a broken leg during tackling practice.

Stanley, a member of last year's freshman eleven, is a product of New Boston high school and is regarded as one of the most promising of the group of yearlings coming up from the Little Maroon ranks.

He was taken to the Pattle A. Clay infirmary immediately after the accident, and an examination disclosed that he had broken the right leg just above the ankle. He was reported resting well today.

The squad as a whole was given its first taste of blocking during Tuesday session, and Coach Rome Rankin, who has returned from an appendicitis operation and is personally directing the drills, indicated that the lads could expect plenty of that type of work during the remainder of the spring practice.

Rankin has indicated that he is "very well satisfied" with the manner in which the boys are working, and he is rather high on several boys who have been showing up to advantage.

Woodrow Noll, a freshman end who is a graduate of Crescent Springs high school, has been looking especially good as has Rudy Craig and Bob Rankin, two members of last year's freshman backfield.

The squad has been reduced to thirty, with Stanley out, and five of the boys playing with the baseball team.

GRIDIRON CARD IS ANNOUNCED

Coach Rankin Back on Job With Gridders After Stay in Hospital

OPENER WITH T. P. I.

Rome Rankin who has been convalescing from an appendicitis operation, conducted his first spring practice session last Wednesday. Some of the backfield candidates, after taking anywhere from thirty minutes to an hour and a half to get dressed were quite surprised to find the "big boss" in charge, instead of their genial pal "Art" Lund, who has been directing the work of next year's ball carriers. Rankin seemed in exceptional fine voice and despite the fact that he was compelled to shout his orders from a folding chair placed on the side lines, he made the tardy athletes wish they had moved just a little faster.

Monday the squad had its first bodily contact. If they hit their opponents as hard as they bounced each other around, the Maroon line should be even harder to penetrate than it was last year.

Of the yearling material Watt and Susie seem to be showing the best

To Present Program At Eastern

This group of thirty Oberlin College Women's Glee Club members will appear in the Hiram Brock auditorium Thursday evening, April 1, as the final in a series of fine art programs presented by the fine arts committee of Eastern. Classical, serious, and popular songs are in the repertory of songs which the group will render.

ACCOMPANIST

defensive form, while Bob Rankin and Stanley are carrying the ball exceptionally well. Kemp is also a lad who is likely to be heard from next year. Sloan and Henessey may turn out to be the pass-grabbing ends that the Rankinmen have been so badly in need of in the past. Rankin, captain of the freshman eleven, has also shown a passing arm that may keep Maroon fans from feeling the loss of Red Lund as keenly as most of them had expected.

It looks as if last season veterans, not to be out done by the youngsters, are going to be in there playing an improved brand of ball when the season rolls around next year. Maybe they see that they are going to have to put up a fight for their jobs. If they do K. I. A. C. foes may have something to worry about.

Eastern opens next year's season against a new opponent, Tennessee Poly, September twenty-fifth, with this exception the schedule is similar to that of last year.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB TO GIVE PERFORMANCE

Oberlin College Group To Appear On Fine Arts Program April 1—Club Is Making Tour

OUTSTANDING SOLOISTS

Oberlin College Women's Glee Club of thirty voices, which will appear in the Hiram Brock auditorium on April 1 at 8 o'clock p. m. recruits its membership from 14 states scattered from New Jersey to Montana.

Approximately one-third of the members are students in the Oberlin Conservatory of Music, known from coast to coast for its training of musicians. Among this group is Miss Virginia Pellington, junior from Sharon, Wis., who acts as accompanist for the glee club. Gifted with "absolute pitch" which she discovered when she was eight years old, Miss Pellington shows an exceptional skill in her command of the piano or organ, both when she accompanies or in her solo work.

Other soloists whom Director John E. Wirkler has selected for the trip include: Miss Nellie DeLay, cellist, and Miss Helen Strassburger, soprano vocalist. Both Miss DeLay and Miss Strassburger are students in the conservatory. Miss DeLay, a sophomore, comes from Neodesha, Kan., and is a member of the 81-piece Conservatory Symphony Orchestra. Miss Strassburger, a junior, hails from Sheboygan, Wis., and is prominent in women's athletics and sings in the Old First Church Choir.
