Mildred Estes is Chosen Queen of Military Ball

The ninth annual Military Ball will be held in Walnut Hall of the Student Union building April 11th. An added feature this year will be a midnight buffet supper which will be served in the recreation room.

The Coronation will be a colorful affair. The Queen will reign from her throne which will be set on a background of a display of flags of all the Allied Nations. The Queen's attendants will be: Miss Francis Sparks, battalion sponsor, who will be accompanied by Cadet Lieutenant Colonel John Collins; Miss Marilee Maloney, Battery "A" sponsor, accompanied by Cadet Captain Ward C. Hodge; Miss Mary Alice Schlisler, Battery "B" sponsor, accompanied by Cadet Captain Wallace V. Smith. She will be crowned by the Queen of the 1946 Military Ball, Mrs. Ted Miller. Following the coronation will be the grand march which will be led by the Queen and her escort.

The Military Ball was started as an annual affair when ROTC was first introduced at Eastern. It has grown to be one of the outstanding events of the year. In the past guests have included Governors of the State of Kentucky and other state officials. This year invitations have been sent to the Governor of the state of Kentucky, the two U. S. Senators, A. B. (Happy) Chandler, and the representative in Congress of this Civil District and other high officials in the State and National Governments.

Music will be furnished by Burgoyne Moores and his Orchestra. Hours of entertainment are from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the ROTC or from Mrs. Griggs at the information booth.

Miss Mildred Estes will reign as queen of the ninth annual Military Ball of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps of Eastern.

She will be known as "Eastern Athena," deriving her name from the Greek Goddess of Counsel and Wisdom who was also known at times as the Goddess of War.

Miss Estes was chosen by cadets in competition Tuesday, March 25. She will be crowned by the queen of the eighth annual Military Ball, Mrs. Ted Miller.

The Military Ball and buffet supper will be held in the Student Union building April 11. The ball will be formal and former service men and women may wear uniforms if they so desire.

Conference on Rural Education in Session

Gives Demonstration Of Liquid Air

Eastern's students were uniquely entertained in chapel last week by the Liquid Air Demonstration of Mr. Elliott James. While Mr. James might be called "an old friend of the college," as he has been here for 8 past performances, his display of this scientific phenomena and his picturesque patter were attentively received by the students present.

His demonstrations of the coldness of liquid air impressed the audience. The "liquid" airplane, driving rubber "nails" with a mercury hammer, boiling liquid air on ice, the solder "spring" accompanied by its magic number "7" and Crooke's layer constituted some of his remarkable experiments.

A veteran at giving such programs, Mr. James has given over 6,000 all over the nation. He stayed two years at the Chicago World's Fair and has had hundreds of return engagements in high schools and colleges. It may be said of his demonstrations that it is educational, startling, and entertaining to the highest degree and a very timely program in the chemical age in which we live.

Educators from Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Texas will attend the Midsouth Conference on Rural Life and Education which meets on the campus April 3 and 4, according to a recent announcement by Dr. D. T. Ferrell who has served as chairman of the group to plan the program.

Attending the two-day session will be Dr. Howard A. Dawson, director of Rural Service of the National Education Association, Washington, D. C. He will be the keynote speaker for the first session which opens at 9:30 on Thursday morning, April 3. Other speakers will include Dr. P. E. Blackerby, State Health Commissioner for Kentucky; R. Lee Thomas, Tennessee State Department of Education; Dr. A. J. Walton, Methodist Board of Education, Nashville, Tenn.; and Mrs. Charles T. Shelton, president of the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers, Louisville, Ky.

The honorable Hugh L. White, former governor of Mississippi; Victor H. Schoffelmayer, agricultural science editor of the Dallas Morning News, Dallas, Texas, and Dr. L. S. Ellis, dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Arkansas, are scheduled for talks Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Mary Mims, rural sociologist of Louisiana State University, will speak at the banquet at 6:30 Thursday evening in the Student Union building.

Friday morning's session will include talks of Dr. J. W. R. Norton, associate director of health, Tennessee Valley Authority; Mary Jane Scott, nutrition consultant for the Arkansas State Board of Health, and Dr. E. Neige Todhunter, professor of foods and nutrition, University of Alabama.

The closing session on Friday afternoon will feature talks by Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, chief of the Training and Public Relations Staff, TVA; Dr. R. E. Jagers, chief of the Bureau of Instruction, Kentucky State Department of Education, and Dr. R. H. Woods, president of Murray State Teachers College.

Vox Veterani

By ALAN WHITE

The first meeting of the Eastern Veterans' Club for the last but not least spring quarter brought us snow balls and the usual nominations for a new administration. With a bit more than two months worth of class work to fulfill the boys went into the home stretch in mind of a loaded schedule. But, before all of these plans are to materialize, the constitutional clause for "new blood" (which should be practiced in larger organizations than Veteranses Clubs) took its initial move.

President Jim Logsdon, our winter quarter slave, conducted nominations for any new men thought worthy of filling the shoes of our present officers. In response to the appreciation for his fine leadership in the past, Jim Logsdon again headed the selections for the presidency. Following in this line were Pete Smith and Bill Collins. For vice president the nominees were Paul Bunton, Doyle Bell, and Lewis Kilgus.

It seemed to be the opinion that Ida Teater had served such a fine term that no other nominations were presented in her opposition as secretary. Considering the fact that she is a girl, she has indeed served us faithfully.

In search for an honest face, to fill the office of treasurer, three nominations were received. Naturally, this was the most difficult selection to make inasmuch as there was such a large field of that calibre from which to choose. So, it was only proper to re-nominate our past treasurer, Johnny Collins, to succeed himself. Frank Jones, another ex-officer of the Eastern Vets, and Virginia Blackburn were the remaining two choices.

A list of eight vets were nominated to serve on the steering committee. They were Bert Baker, Jack Stidham, Lewis Kilgus, Guy Fortney, Ray Giltner, James Baker, Dorothy Dunaway, and Joan Everling. From this group, four persons shall be elected to the board which acts with the officers in the decisions and plans of the organization.

With no other business on the menu, the meeting was adjourned in wait of the final casting of votes at the meeting of April 1... a very unlike date suitable to the occasion.

Exhibit Paintings Of Children At Eastern

An exhibit of paintings by some of the Harlan county elementary school children is being shown at Eastern Teachers College this week in Cammack Training School building.

This exhibit is the outgrowth of an extension class in Art taught by Dord Fitz of the Eastern art faculty to a class of Harlan elementary teachers the past quarter.

Regents' Medal To Be Awarded

The annual oratorical contest for the Regent's Medal will be held again this year at Eastern Kentucky Teachers College the latter part of April or the first part of May, it was announced today.

All students enrolled in college may participate in the contest. The contestants are allowed their own choice for a subject and must limit their speeches to ten or twelve minutes.

The winner of the oratorical contest will be presented the Regent's Medal. The English Department has recommended that if six or more persons enter the preliminaries, all those persons going to the finals will be given suitable awards. This rule will, of course, have to have the faculty approval.

It has been the customary practice of all those students who enter the finals of this contest, to present their speeches to the student body at some assembly period. It is at this time that the judges announce the winner.

The preliminary contest will be held about a week or ten days before the final contest. If you are interested in entering the contest, you should meet with Miss Buchanan Tuesday, April 8, at 4 p. m. in Room 37 of the Administration building.

Campus Personalities

JOAN EVERLING

"Jo," as she is better known, is the one who does a sweet job on the piano for us. She says playing the piano for us is her greatest pleasure, and she really is mellow.

A navy veteran, Jo takes part in several clubs which are as follows: Veterans' Club, World Affairs Club, Catholic Club, and Red Cross Safety Committee of which she is chairman. Her other interests are dancing, swimming, and tennis.

Here's wishing the best of luck, and that all your desires and wishes come true.

JULE MILLER

This 28 year old navy veteran possesses an exceptional personality, along with leadership qualifications. He is president of the Northern Kentucky Club.

Jule is what one would call a fashion plate because he can usually be seen in those sleek G. I. khakis, which he tells me served his brother-in-law in a Ft. Benning campaign.

Among other things, Jule likes those Fayette county excursions. Another one of his extra-curricular activities is Wanda, which takes up nearly all his spare hours.

A lot of luck to you, Jule, in whatever field of business you undertake.

Dr. Moore Attends NEA Convention

Dean W. J. Moore attended the National Conference on Higher Education, which was sponsored by the National Educational Association at the Stevens Hotel in Chicago, the early part of this week. Representatives from most of the colleges of the nation were in attendance. Nineteen study groups were organized. Doctor Moore was chairman of the group which studied College Finance and Public Taxation.

"Laugh And Sing" Given For Vets

A delightful show was presented at the Lexington Veterans' Hospital Friday, March 21, by the College Red Cross Unit. The actors and actresses of "Laugh and Sing" gave another performance of this show, which was received with much ardor and enthusiasm.

The group, which was composed of approximately 25 students, was taken to Lexington by Mrs. Cuff, Jimmy Cox, Mr. Blake, and others.

CONFERENCE DIGNITARIES

Dr. D. T. Ferrell, professor of education, head of the department of education and chairman of the division of education at Eastern, is chairman of the executive committee of the Midsouth Conference on Rural Life and Education and is in charge of the meeting to be held on the campus on April 3 and 4.

Dr. Ferrell received his A.B. and A.M. degrees from Duke University in 1921 and 1923, respectively, his M.A. degree from Columbia University in 1926, and the Ph.D. from George Peabody College for Teachers in 1936. He has done undergraduate work at Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland, and post graduate work at the University of Chicago. Most of his graduate work has been in the fields of school administration and rural education.

Dr. Ferrell has had wide teaching and administrative experience in public school and college systems in the south. He has been principal of public schools in North Carolina for seven years, was professor of education and psychology on the summer faculty of East Carolina Teachers College in 1926, and served for two years as assistant professor in the Department of Education at Duke University. He was acting dean of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College for several months in 1945.

He holds membership in many professional organizations and associations. He is a Horace Mann life member of National Education Association and belongs to the Department of Rural Education and the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development of the NEA. He is also a member of the Southern Regional Council, the Eugene Field Society, the American Legion, Central Kentucky Education Association and Kentucky Education Association, American Association of University Professors, and Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary education fraternities. He is a member of the Kentucky Commission on Secondary Schools, Kentucky Committee for the Education of Secondary Teachers, and membership director for the Department of Rural Education in Kentucky.

Since coming to Eastern in 1927, Dr. Ferrell has engaged in many activities on the campus. He organized and sponsored the Coates' Rural Life Club for many years and directed the ~~conduct~~ of rural education from 1939 to 1942. During the recent war he directed off-campus workshops in Adair, Bell, and Harlan counties. From 1943 to 1946 he served as coordinator of the Eastern-Bell-Lincoln cooperative study on teacher education and has represented Eastern at many teacher education conferences in recent years.

Dr. Ferrell also takes an active interest in civic and religious activities of the community. He is

DR. D. THOMAS FERRELL

Army Day To Be Observed April 7th

Observance of Army Day is taking on the status of an annual American folk event, response to the War Department's program indicates.

The American people—in the bustling cities, serene villages and calm countryside—is putting its heart in supporting the occasion dedicated to our veterans—in and out of uniform—those who gave their lives on the field of battle and the members of the Army that must carry on the multifold tasks devolving from the hard-won victory.

Every section of the people, from enthusiastic school children to world-wise veterans of the nation's wars, is prepared to join in recognition of Army Day which this year has been expanded into Army Week.

Traditionally falling on April 6, anniversary of America's entrance into World War I, and originally sponsored by the Military Order of the World Wars, Army Day has been set for April 7 this year by presidential proclamation as the preceding day is Easter Sunday. Army Week is April 6 to 12, inclusive.

The War Department will conduct many activities nationally in support of Army Week but commemoration of the event is primarily a project of the American people of which the Army, soon to be completely volunteer, is an integral part. The logic of the theme for Army Week this year—"A Strong America is a Peaceful America"—has been accepted by the "man in the street" known throughout our history for his good common-sense. It is generally recognized and accepted that an adequate defense establishment—coordinating the Regular Army, the National Guard, the Organized Reserve Corps and the Reserve Officers' Training Corps—is vital to American and world security. The victory was won and the peace must be earned. This cannot be done without the proper tools and the necessary trained manpower to work them.

Most of Army Week activity will be conducted locally, in the cities and towns of the country.

Army commanders throughout the United States, Hawaii and Alaska, commanders of all posts, camps and installations will stand ready to cooperate fully with local groups sponsoring the patriotic activities which will honor our veterans and the fallen of past wars.

Army posts and installations and National Guard armories will have "open house" on certain days which will be announced locally.

Many towns, including Washington and New York, will hold parades in which Army units will join with veterans' organizations, patriotic societies and youth units and other groups.

Both the AFL and the CIO representing organized labor are giving all-out support to the occasion.

Every element of the many-faceted American population is sharing in the activities this year—more than ever. Included is labor and industry, the churches, the schools and colleges, the movies, theaters, radio and the press, veterans' and women's organizations.

It is indicative of a unanimity of opinion among the American people on the spirit and significance behind Army Week—this year and the years to come.

There will be a parade on the football field, Friday, April 11, in the afternoon by the Eastern unit. The speaker will be Alex Smith of the American Legion in Richmond.

Sunrise Service In Amphitheatre

Sunrise service on Easter Sunday will be held at 6 a. m. in the amphitheater. This Easter sunrise service, which has become a tradition at Eastern, is planned by the Y's on the campus.

The program will include a vocal solo, "Ave Maria," by Mrs. John Ertel, "Were You There," by Ralph Anderson, and the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs giving "Beautiful Savior." There will be an instrumental by a quartet from the college band. The Easter message will be delivered by the Rev. Frank Tinder of the First Christian Church of Richmond.

Robbie Owen will play the chimes in the Little Theater for the professional. Members of the college YMCA will serve as ushers.

In case of rain the program will be held in the Little Theater.

Case And Cuff Attend Meeting

Mrs. Emma Y. Case, Dean of Women, and Dr. N. E. Cuff, Director of Personnel, have been attending a meeting of the American Council on Personnel, in Columbus, Ohio. The meeting began Friday morning, March 28th, and continued through Monday, March 31st. Dr. Cuff attended the meeting on Friday and Saturday, and Mrs. Case attended the meetings on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. Friday was Council Day with all groups meeting together. Saturday, Sunday and Monday were devoted to separate meetings of the different groups.

The American Council on Personnel is composed of several separate national organizations, including the National Deans of Women, the American College Personnel Association and the National Vocational Guidance Association.

W. A. A. Notes

An instructors course in life saving was started Tuesday, April 1. This course will give to all who complete it satisfactorily a certificate which will entitle them to teach swimming and junior and senior life saving.

Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the swimming pool. The prerequisite is senior life saving.

Softball practice started for the WAA at the beginning of this quarter. This spring a number of games will be played not only with surrounding schools, but with teams organized from girls on the campus.

If any girls are interested in playing, practice is from 4 to 5:30 o'clock on week days.

It seems as though some people will never learn the meaning of "fairness" or just plain "consideration" for other people. What I mean is that there are still a few social parasites who insist on either cutting line or saving places in line.

This is no great world shaking issue but it is a campus issue and one with which students must deal. It is a matter of nothing more than common decency to have enough consideration for your schoolmates to treat them fairly by waiting your place in line just as they must do.

Why don't you try to exercise your sense of justice and stop this uncitizenlike act?

MR. AVERAGE

The women's magazines and psychiatrists made him a criminal and a problem. But strangely enough, the veteran seems to be just average. In Detroit, the police department was determined to find out if the women's magazines were correct.

After 15 months of careful study and tabulation of arrests, the department came to the conclusion that the former serviceman is violent, but no more so than anyone else. The crimes committed by veterans in Detroit were in proportion to the number of veterans in that city.

Thinking in terms of the veteran as a special case should be stopped. He is just an average citizen and wishes to be considered as such. (Oklahoma Daily)

DOWN MEXICO WAY

When President Miguel Aleman of Mexico was inaugurated at a time when the people of Mexico were ready to back his ideas for advancement. The progressive republic of Mexico is a land of great potentialities in its ability to contribute to the material and cultural enrichment of the world.

No president of Mexico is eligible to succeed himself after the expiration of the single six-year term to which he may be elected. Thus, there is a restraint on political machines.

The progressive development of Mexico is of the greatest importance and the election of President Miguel Aleman was a matter of satisfaction to the United States. The people of Mexico have inaugurated a new and capable president, and the United States should take pride in being associated with them in working for a better world.

LET'S END BOTH WARS

Someone said that Japan and Germany are ruled by the military to test whether military government can demilitarize the minds of those militarily governed. Neither justice nor law of a democratic nature have replaced force in these countries. Russia's "Irkutsk Pravda" brags that five million prisoners of war are being used as penal laborers in Siberia and being held as hostages for a favorable development in Germany.

When the Moscow peace conference convenes, perhaps the true state of war to be concluded is not the war against Germany, but the war over Germany.

ODDS AND ENDS

By JOHN MAYHALL

Spring (brrrrr) is here, so is the snow, and a young man's fancy turns to love. (Any girl have an extra meal book?) Our new quarter is coming in like a lion and we hope will go out like a lamb. We want to extend a hearty welcome to our newcomers and welcome back all old Easternites. This spring quarter brings more social activity as well as academic study. There will be the Military Ball, Junior Prom, and even hay-rides if the weather will decide to warm up. Well—let's get on with Kaptain Korn.

When a woman says all men are alike, you know she isn't thinking very highly of them.

A woman has long hair and short reason.

The more you know, the more you want to know; the more you know, the harder you are to satisfy; the more you know, the easier it is for you to understand and evaluate new situations.

The wife of a well-known literary man, while reading one of his articles in the press, corrected it as she went along, and the errors were somewhat numerous. "Why dear," she exclaimed, "you don't know the first rules in grammar, or else you are very negligent."

"Well, well, my love," he exclaimed, looking up from his work, "what is the matter now?"

"Why, in three cases you speak of our sex in the plural, and write it in the singular number."

"I can't help it," was the retort. "Woman is a singular being."

A pedigree is a teacher in college.

Men, dying, make their wills, but wives Escape a work so sad; Why should they make what all their lives The gentle dames have had.

A man never realizes how much furniture he has in his house until he comes home about 2 a. m. and tries to rnu nis way upstairs without turning on the light.

TODAY IS OURS

Remember not the moments sad But those that made you gay And you will have a happy thought, For every yesterday.

Think not of some tomorrow when The clouds may hide the sky, Or of the possibility That we shall say good-bye.

But let me hold your hand in mine And draw you close to me, And let me touch the pinnacle Of perfect ecstasy.

The past can never come again The future is not here But we possess the present and We are together, dear.

So let us be content to put Our other thoughts away And let us live in happiness The hours of oday

Profits Fallacy

By GEORGE S. BENSON President of Harding College Secoy, Arkansas

THE PROFIT incentive is widely misunderstood and maligned. Many folks talk about profits as though they were injurious. These folks indulge in side-glances, as if profits were a vicious imposition upon the people. Profits, to some who are misled or misinformed, have assumed a negative sound. The fallacy is that industry arrives at selling prices by piling onto production costs as much profit as the traffic will bear. This is not the way profits are calculated.

Sales prices on the tags are the prime consideration. In a free competitive market, the price tag is not marked according to preconceived notions of what the profit ought to be. The consumer is king in a free market; the price tag is slave to the demands of a price conscious buying public. This is one game in which the consumer takes the sweepstakes.

Competition YOU AND I manufacture radios. Is Regulator We meet squarely in the market, where mine is priced at $100 and yours at $75. If the quality is the same, I must either lower my selling price to compete or give to the customer one-third greater value than you do. The lower the price and the more quality included the better off each of us will be—saleswise. Competition thus regulates the selling price regardless of my costs.

The cycle is just that simple. To keep factories running, the goal of our industries is to make a better product available to a larger number of people through mass production and lower selling costs. After deducting costs from the customer's price the result may or may not be a profit. When the margin is uncomfortably close, the next logical step will be toward more efficient production.

Consumer EFFICIENCY of operation means to industry the ability to keep down costs of making and selling a product. The object is a favorable position on the open market. This means that factories must be busy constantly taking up the unemployed, supplying products at lower cost to an ever increasing buying public.

Winner of this game is the buying public. Because of the profit incentive and free competition, the public reaps huge dividends in the form of better merchandise at fair prices. To the average citizen of socialistic and totalitarian countries, where I have observed that these things are never duplicated, these simple facts seem an unattainable dream. What American would wish to exchange this system for methods that have never succeeded half so well?

Profit is no parasite feeding on our economic system. Profit is the life blood of the industrial and business enterprises responsible for the highest level of civilization the world has known. Freedom to compete against skill and efficiency by using better skill and more efficiency means a progressive civilization—not a static economy that either withers away or makes spoilage for the spoilers.

Extra-Curricular Activities

By RUBY MONDAY

Members of the Prota Decca Sorority met in the listening room of the Student Union on March 27th for a program of recordings.

The records which the program chairman selected for the club to hear were representative of well known American and European composers and artists.

The Home Economics Club is planning to have a talent show and April Fool's party at the next meeting. Samples of the talent which we have scheduled include humorous readings and some musical numbers.

Jewell Dean Howard, club president, is back on the campus again after practice teaching in Lancaster for one quarter. Now our vice-president, Mary Smith is away in Northern Kentucky doing student teaching.

Eastern's club will send two delegates to Province 6 meeting of the American Home Economics Association which is to be held in Indianapolis, Indiana, on April 18-19. Ruby Maggard and Lula Thurman are the persons who have been chosen to go as representatives.

The Photo Club had its regular meeting in the blue room, March 27, after which, by special arrangement, Dr. La Fuze and the members of the club went to Mr. Bee's studio on an exploration tour.

Mr. Bee used members of the club as examples to pose while he showed the different lighting effects produced by each of his methods of lighting. He also showed how to best photograph people who wear glasses. Since the amateur photographers were not acquainted with portrait work, they eagerly grasped all the information. Whether it was to help them photograph others or to pose, is a matter of opinion. However, the whole visit—explanations, and pictures on display, and the refreshing cokes served by Mr. Bee was delightful.

CANTERBURY CLUB

A special treat was in store for the eighteen members of the Canterbury Club when they met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Clark for dinner and entertainment, Wednesday, March 26. The members were conveyed to the home of Dr. Clark by automobiles. Upon their arrival, they were greeted by the friendly voice of Mrs. Clark, as well as by the savory smell of her delicious cooking.

The evening began with a delicious dinner, served buffet style. No one failed to return for a second serving of the scalloped potatoes, the meat dish, or anything else for which they had a particular liking. The business meeting followed with Mrs. Talbot presiding.

Dr. Clark provided a delightful bit of entertainment through contests and guessing games. Norma Richards won a prize for her ability to list the greatest number of words, beginning with a certain letter, in a given length of time. John Deering captured the booby prize.

As the clock neared seven o'clock, the members extended their thanks to their hosts and hurried into the waiting cars in order that they might return to the campus in time for Glee Club or other appointments.

CADUCEUS CLUB

The guest speakers at the last meeting of the Caduceus Club were Mrs. Welley, a nurse, and Mrs. McIntyre, a medical technologist from Berea hospital.

In Mrs. Welley's very interesting talk, she told of the need for nurses, the many opportunities for nurses, and the education offered in the nursing field.

Mrs. McIntyre discussed the requirement of all medical technologists, the aims and ethics of the technologist, and some of the tests they make.

The next regular meeting of the Club will be Monday, March 31. All members are urged to come.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

May I request some small space in the Progress for a footnote to the recent production of Naughty Marietta. For the sake of the record it should be remarked that the successful presentation of such a work, far from representing the effort of but a single department of the college, must have enlisted the cooperative effort of many groups and many talents, so that all who have been working at it come to know the rewarding satisfaction of having participated with others in an undertaking that is bigger than any of us.

Among those whose contribution was so necessary to the success of the fine performance must be listed the following: Mr. Dord Fitz and his art class, who painted all of the scenery used in the first act; Miss Allie Fowler, for flower baskets, flowers, casquettes, and work on costumes; Miss Jane Oldham, who taught the dances used in the play; Mr. Howard Rowlette for his advertising posters; Miss Jeanne Murbach, Miss Margaret Culton, and Mr. Harold Rigny for their assistance in the orchestra; the Sixth Grade of the Training School, and their teacher, Miss Alvis, for the use of their puppet theater; Miss Pearl Buchanan and her staff of ushers; Miss Jane Thomas who acted as prompter through the long rehearsals, as well as at the performance; Ben and Bob Graham, who worked the spotlights; The Eastern Progress, for its cordial support; and The Richmond Daily Register for the news space allotted to announcements of the show, and for an appreciative and appreciated editorial.

Miss Dorothy Brandhorst Eastern State Teachers College Richmond, Kentucky Dear Miss Brandhorst:

The enthusiastic reception which was given your show sponsored by the collegiate Red Cross group at Eastern State Teachers College certainly asks for an early return engagement. I have heard many favorable comments from the patients on the show, and it is indeed the type of performance that we welcome here at the hospital.

The freshness and spontaneity of your group was delightful to watch and certainly carried over to the audience in a manner that was most pleasurable.

We cannot thank you enough for your efforts and please continue along in the same line and come back to see us soon. We shall keep in touch with you through Miss Spillman and arrange for an early date.

Very sincerely, Marcia E. Lampert Recreation Technician

YOUR CHURCH

Perhaps you were one of the enthusiastic B. S. U.ers who started the quarter with new zeal and interest at Sunday School Sunday morning and Training Union Sunday evening. A large number of new faces were present. To the new students we say that you are most welcome! In our College Department we have a place for you and we want you to feel at home. We would like to enlist all Baptist students in active B. S. U. work because we know that you will receive a blessing from the interesting and inspirational programs in Sunday School and Training Union.

Our Training Union has been divided into two groups and is progressing quite successfully. The attendance is increasing and good programs are always assured.

We're wondering if there is any unrevealed talent in the old or new students. The B. S. U. choir meets in the Little Theater every Thursday at 5 p. m. Any vocal contribution will be greatly appreciated. We are now practicing for a special program which is to be given soon.

But that's not all there is to the B. S. U. We have parties—gobs of them! They are parties that we all look forward to and enjoy so much.

Plans are being made for the annual Installation Banquet, so put a red check by May 2 on your calendar and plan to attend.

A couple of retreats are also coming up this quarter, so don't miss out on them!

MAROONED

With ED CASEBOLT

Those who witnessed the defeat of Eastern's mermen at the hands of Berea last Wednesday got their first and only glimpse of the 1947 squad, for the swimming season officially ends with the scheduled meet at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville on April 12.

The Berea men were victorious by a 44-31 score as Eastern captured first in three events. The loss was somewhat of a setback to the Maroon natators, for they were anxious to avenge an earlier loss to this same team as well as make an impressive showing in their only home appearance of the year. Nevertheless, the near capacity crowd of 300 rendered its approval of the entire show as they cheered the team through the final event.

First were scored by Jack Kerley in the 220-yard freestyle, Ray Robbins in the diving event, and by the Eastern 440-yard relay team. The superior Berea squad, however, garnered their points by sweeping the remaining events as they were sparked by Zimmerman and Buchwalter.

In order to better acquaint the student body with the team, this writer has gotten some background material on the squad. Eastern has not sponsored such a team since 1941, and there was considerable doubt as to possibilities for such a squad this year. However, Paul Love, captain of the '41 aggregation, contacted several fellows and held a practice session in mid-January. The following eleven men were chosen to represent the school: Paul Love, coach; Jack Kerley, Lee Gentry, Steeley McHargue, Ralph Elliott, Ralph Sensel, Stan Perry, Ray Robbins, Lynn Nickell, Russell Scaif, Dick Bachmeyer, and Herb Million, manager.

Practices have been held daily from 4:45 until 6 p. m. ever since then. The squad was handicapped, however, in that only two of the members—Coach Love and Kerley, a member of the 1946 State High School Swimming Champion team at Newport, Ky.—had ever before swum in competition.

In their first meet, the mermen were defeated at Berea by a score of 45-30. Next came an invitation to participate in the National Invitation AAU swimming meet at Louisville on March 22. Several of the squad were entered, and even though they failed to tally in any of the events, they gained valuable experience. Now, the boys are looking with eager eyes to the coming encounter with the University of Tennessee, always a power in any sport.

With this experience under their belts and the fact that only Love and Gentry will be lost from this year's squad, the fellows figure to be quite a prominent contender in aquatic circles next year. Already, they are making plans to avenge these two defeats by Berea.

In view of their fine showing, some credit should be given to these fellows. They have worked as a team all year. Thus, they should be rewarded as a team. The season has been long as far as practice sessions go, but lacking in number of competitors. If the athletic department should decide to award letters to this year's squad—which they rightly deserve—one should go to each and every member. Nice going, fellows!

HERE AND THERE: Inquiries have come to this writer's attention as to why we have no Dramatic Department or why the Little Theater Club is not revived. True, we do have talent on this campus as can be attested by the recent presentation of "Naughty Marietta" and the "Laugh and Sing" productions. Certainly interest is not dormant. Thank you for your inquiries. I promise to have some sort of report for you in the next issue. . . . Serenading to the girls in Burnam Hall has been at a minimum lately, but perhaps with warmer weather coming up soon, the fellows will be turned from the piano in Walnut Hall to the outdoors. Campus singing is an age-old college custom, and it shall not falter at Eastern.

ship had a fish fry at the Methodist church, Monday night, March 24th. There were twenty students present; also Dr. La Fuze and Reverend Johnson. The fish that Reverend and Mrs. Johnson fried were enjoyed by all. Ann Lee Davis, Joyce Broyles, Maurice Mitchell, and Minnie Kincaid, were cooks who were responsible for the remainder of the menu. Games such as ping-pong, badminton and shuffleboard were played. For a while the storm-attempted to create a blackout, but the party was saved by having plenty of candlelight.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship has its weekly meetings every Monday night. The members meet in the Student Union lobby at 4:45, go through the cafeteria line, and eat together in the Blue Room. If you are a student interested in the Methodist worship, why not make some effort to support your religious belief while you are in college by attending these meetings.

The Synod's Westminster Fellowship Conference in Louisville, February 3, was attended by Lois Reynolds, Eleanor Ralston, Bill Brewer, and Mary Thomas Stockton, student director. At this meeting, Bill Brewer was elected president of the Synod for the coming year.

We are planning great things for the Spring quarter. One of the outstanding features will be the spring retreat which will be at our cabin on the Kentucky river. Since the Westminster Fellowship students of U. of K. also use this cabin, we may plan a joint retreat.

Students who have been on retreat before say words cannot express the inspiration of the worship services, the enjoyment of fellowship together, and the desire for living a more abundant Christian life.

Spring Is Here

The Eastern Maroons will open their 1947 baseball season at 2:30 tomorrow on the Eastern field. Union College of Barbourville will be the first opposition or a thirteen game schedule that lies ahead for Coach Hughes and his Maroons.

Coach Hughes has been putting 53 boys through the paces of early practice; however, at this time he states it would be unfair to predict what boys will make up the squad, since practice time has been greatly hampered, due to the unfavorable weather.

When asked who his starting pitcher would be, Mr. Hughes said he planned to use his entire pitching staff if possible. Pitchers from last year's team are Ray Giltner, Bill De Venzio and Luther Wren. Veteran catchers are Dick Scherrbaum, Delmas Freeman and Pete Nonnemacker, who had a batting average of .500 last year. He was the first Kentucky college player to be picked on the College All-Star team that played in Boston last season and will be back on his old job on second base. Jimmy Cinnamon, another veteran infielder, from last year's team, may be out of uniform Saturday as he injured his hand Wednesday and it is doubtful if he will see action.

Rhythm Ripples

DOT HURT

From Louis Armstrong to Frank Sinatra, the month's output of jazz and popular discs feature small combinations. With Louis, it's a Dixieland Seven of Victor's label, with the trumpet maestro trying to recapture a jazzy past reflected in the song-plugger's typically maudlin and inappropriate title, "Where the Blues Were Born in New Orleans."

You're impatient to get to Sinatra? Well, Frankie's caught in this small-band epidemic, too. Forsaking the usual regiment of violins, he sings in front of the Page-Cavanaugh Trio for Columbia's "That's How Much I Love You." That's quite a lot, and so is Mr. Sinatra in this new mood.

The only big bands that are not breaking down into quartets are the symphonies—probably because it would be hard to replace the Boston Symphony with Koussivitzky's Sizzling Six, or the Dallas Orchestra with Dorati's Riders of the Purple Hiptet. The long-haired boys do have quartets of their own, however, and they can oblige with selections like Haydn's "Horseman" Quartet No. 30 in G Minor, Op. 74. The Budapest Four gallops through the Columbia recording with considerable verve.

An excellent companion piece to the "Horseman" is Beethoven's "Pastorale" Symphony No. 6 in F Major, Op. 68, as heard by the Philadelphia Orchestra, Bruno Walter conducting.

There's more keyboard music from Vox. Gaby Casadesus is responsible for two albums, one of Debussy, the other, entitled French Piano Music, with Shura Cherkassky at the keyboard. Performance is good in all three.

Concert Hall Society, besides issuing "limited" editions of classics to subscribers, has now entered the lists with three "unlimited" albums. Grieg's "Sonata" in A Minor, Op. 36 receives a good treatment in the hands of Roya Garbousava, cellist, and Arthur Balsam, pianist. Prokofiev's "Music For Children," Op. 65 is amusingly handled by Ray Lev, pianist and Beethoven's "Irish Songs" are little convincingly by Richmond Dyer-Bennett, tenor.

Two releases that fit in well with Easter-time are Victor's album of Bach Arias, sung by Marian Anderson, and Columbia's English recording of Handel's "Messiah," now available on domestic pressings.

The understatement of the month comes from Richard Rodgers, prefacing an album of his music as played by Andre Kostelanetz for Columbia. After stating that his main purpose in composing has been, "that of translating into musical terms the quality of the characters performing the music," he remarks "... let it never be said that I resist the idea of large sheet music and record sales. Mr. Kostelanetz and I have formed the habit of eating and we like it."

Tinnell Leaves Lancaster Job To Invade Greener Pastures
Coach Cliff Tinnell of the Lancaster High school resigned his position effective Monday, March 3, in order to sign a professional baseball contract with Oklahoma City in the Texas League. Word of the resignation was received late Sunday by Supt. Wilson Gregory in a letter from Tinnell.

On leave from his duties here since February 24th, Tinnell immediately caught the eye of Manager Roy Schalk at the initial training session of the Okies, according to a dispatch in an Oklahoma City newspaper.

It was reported that Tinnell signed a contract with the Cleveland Indian farm club at the conclusion of the long workout and was to accompany batterymates to Jacksonville, Texas, on March 5 for official opening of the Oklahoma City spring camp. He was said to be the first Tribal signee of the Oklahoma City club.

In his letter of resignation to the Lancaster school, Tinnell said, "This is a great moment in my life now that I am getting started into something that I've always wanted to do."

Supt. Gregory made no comment other than to say, "I wish him all of the success possible in his new venture."

A graduate of Holmes High school, Covington, and of Eastern State Teachers' College in the class of 1943, Tinnell earned three letters in baseball at Eastern. Last summer he performed as first string catcher for Richmond in the Blue Grass League.

Tinnell accepted football and basketball coaching chores at the beginning of this school year. In addition he served as physical education and manual training instructor at the school.

Stanley Marsee, a member of the Lancaster faculty, took over as head mentor for the Green Devils for the District Tournament in Danville.
