President Martin Endorses Exam Week Suggestions

Dr. Lit Speaks At Assembly

Dr. E.E. Litkenhouse, Executive Research Consultant of the Spindletop Research Institute at the University of Kentucky, was the guest speaker at the assembly, January 11.

Eastern was honored to have Dr. Litkenhouse, who was sponsored by the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education, to speak on "Opportunities in the Scientific Fields." "The Scientific Explosion affects You," said Dr. Litkenhouse as he beckoned the students of Eastern to enter some of the science fields.

Dr. Litkenhouse, who is listed in Who's Who in America, as well as in numerous other scientific and technical directories, is a chapter member and former president of the Nashville Chapter of Sigma Pi; member of Tau Beta Pi (Honorary Engineering), Phi Lambda Upsilon (Honorary Chemistry) and several other similar honorary fraternities.

Outside of his technical accomplishments, Dr. Litkenhouse is known for the Litkenhouse Difference-By-Score System of mathematically presenting sports activities. Litkenhouse probably became interested in this system while he was participating in such college sports as baseball, track, football and basketball.

Before coming to the University of Kentucky, Dr. Litkenhouse was head of the Department of Chemical Engineering at Vanderbilt, and Program Director of Engineering Sciences for the National Science Foundation. In addition, he has served as consultant to several national corporations, such as Standard Chemical Company, Tennessee Products and Chemical Corporation, Victor Chemical Company, and Pritchard Oil Company.

Dr. Litkenhouse, who received his Ph. D. in Chemical Engineering at the University of Minnesota, is married to the former Lenore Ingwolson of Minnesota, who is an accomplished artist. They have two sons.

Professionals Call For Increased Federal Aid To Education

WASHINGTON, D. C. (I. P.)—Federal financial aid is critically needed to help the nation's colleges and universities educate increasing numbers of young men and women, the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges and State Universities declared in a statement released here. The Association, in a series of resolutions passed by its governing Senate:

Asked Congress to enact legislation providing direct financial aid to states for college and university buildings under a plan requiring matching funds from the states; plus a direct "academic facilities loan" program for these unable or unwilling to join in the grants program.

Called for continuation of the present College Housing Loan Program, and asked that a long-range program would be set up under which new funds would become available.

Voted its opposition to establishment of new Federal degree-granting institutions, and to any national policy that might encourage the setting up of research centers apart from universities.

Also opposed proposals which would give parents or self-supporting students direct tax deductions for tuition and fees paid colleges. This is "unsound from the standpoint of fiscal aid," educators said.

Asked that more information as to possible benefits be secured and studied before possible establishment of a Federal scholarship program. The Association also called

SUMMER SCHOOL DATES CHANGED

Summer term this year will begin June 12 instead of the date in the catalog. It will finish on August 4. The reason for this is that the school is to be host to Ky. Boy's State as it was last year.

In response to the editorial in last week's Progress calling for a more serious approach to final exams, President Martin has decided to put four of the suggestions into effect.

As a result there will be no campus movie next Tuesday night; the library will remain open until 10 p.m.; the television sets in the dorms will be turned off; and there will be no organizational meetings during the week.

These regulations are only for exam week, Jan. 16-20. It is hoped that students will be able to study better if conditions are made more favorable for study.

Both the dean of women and of men have expressed their hope that the rules will have a favorable effect upon campus attitudes for exams.

Progress To Run Writing Contest

Beginning next semester the Progress will be running a contest for the best Letter to the Editor. Letters will be accepted on all subjects pertaining to the school. The letters to be printed will be selected on originality, current issues, and interest. Letters will be accepted from any person on campus who wishes to express an opinion, related to the paper on campus.

Each week a letter will be selected as the best of the week. At the close of the contest, the letters will be judged, and the winning letter will be reprinted with the picture of the writer.

There will be an additional reward of a loving cup and a portrait of the winner which will be presented on honors day.

Judging the contest letters will be a committee of four, made up of Keith Davis, English Dept.; Charles Klonek, Progress; Don Feltner, Director of Publicity; and Larry Stanley, Progress. No decisions will be made by the contest officials until the contest has been closed.

Gattis Resigns; Appointed To High State Position

Mr. Walter Gattis, Director of Student Personnel at Eastern, until last week, has assumed his duties as Commissioner of Personnel for the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Mr. Gattis served as a faculty member in the commerce department for three years before his appointment to the governor's staff. Before coming to Eastern, he served as Budget Analyst for the Commonwealth of Kentucky for three years and for the State of Ohio for two years. He was a member of the faculty at Centre College for three years before joining the staff here.

Mr. Gattis, formerly of Durham, North Carolina, received his A.B. from the University of North Carolina and his M.A. from the University of Kentucky. He has also done additional graduate work at the University of Illinois.

Mr. Gattis succeeds Mr. Felix Janner in the state personnel office. He will be a member of the governor's cabinet and will be responsible for the effecting of the merit exam system for state employees.

Mr. J. C. Powell, executive assistant to the president, will take over Mr. Gattis's duties as director of national student defense funds until a successor is appointed.

It is expected that a member of Mr. Gattis's former duties will be assumed by Dr. Henry Martin, recently appointed Dean of Students.

Eastern's All American Team

COLE'S WOVING 'EM—Carl Cole, the Maroon's chief All-American candidate, pictured with Coach McBrayer above, has impressed sports-writers and coaches everywhere the Maroons have played this season. Last week he was the nation's leading free-throw shooter. His 32 points against Murray enabled the Maroons to come from behind and stop the Racers 75-73.

EASTERN BEATS U. OF L.; LOSES GAME

by LARRY KNARR, SPORTS EDITOR

The Eastern Maroons journeyed to Freedom Hall in Louisville last Wednesday night to play the undefeated Louisville Cardinals, ranked fourth nationally. The Maroons did everything they were supposed to do and more. They led all the way, and lost the game after it was already technically over.

It was a game that could have been better officiated if the referees were coaches Peck Hickman and Paul McBrayer. "Both benches objected vigorously and frequently to the officiating," stated the partisan Courier-Journal.

The Maroons were just as great as a team can be, in victory or defeat. They connected on a sizzling 49 per cent of their shots and made very few mistakes. The biggest mistake was showing up for the game in the first place.

It was a great win for Louisville, but we wonder if they can fully appreciate it. Such a gift might cause them to be a little ashamed of the way things went.

Personally, we would much rather lose a game the way we lost it than win one the way they won it. Nothing else need be said on the matter. It is nauseating just to think about it.

The final statistics showed that Phil Esteppe paced all Maroon scorers with 20 points. Carl Cole tallied 15 and Ray Gardner added 12. The Maroons led 36-34 at intermission and on two occasions in the second half led by nine points.

We do not mean to discredit Louisville, who has a fine team and undoubtedly deserves to be ranked with the nation's best. But the 9,257 fans who witnessed the game last week are well aware that they were the second best team in the gym that night.

Ask them to bet you on the rematch at Richmond on February 8, and see how many takers you get!

Kappa Pi Sponsors Art Exhibit

The Alpha Psi chapter of Kappa Pi, the national honorary art fraternity, sponsored an art exhibit this week in the lobby of the student Union Building.

The exhibit included paintings by Bill Blankenship, Chester Buchanan, Libby Mullins, Jack Lovely, Charles Adams, Clyde Pack, Liz Shaw, Harold Wilder, and Kay Bowman. The subjects of the paintings, mostly oil and water color, ranged from landscapes and still lifes to symbolic abstracts.

The fraternity, whose aim is to promote interest and participation in the arts, elected officers for the year 1961 last week. Chester Buchanan, whose "Flower of Paradise" excited much comment in the exhibit, was elected president. Elizabeth Shaw was re-elected vice-president, and Bill Blankenship was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

Kappa Pi plans to hold another exhibit this winter in a Richmond store window. The date of the exhibit will be announced.

Messiah Pictures Available

Pictures of the Messiah Chorus and orchestra may be ordered through Mr. Van Peursem's office in the music building.

The 8x7 pictures will cost fifty cents and the 8x10 pictures will cost seventy-five cents. A long play record may also be purchased for five dollars.

All orders must be placed before the end of this semester and must be paid for in advance.

Student Council Joins Crusade; Asks Library To Extend Hours

Eastern Coeds In Beauty Contest

Eleven Eastern girls will take part in the local eliminations for the Miss Universe Contest. The contest will take place at the Madison High auditorium on January 17th at 8:00 and is sponsored by the Elks Club. The winner of the local contest will attend the Kentucky State finals held in Covington in June as Miss Madison County. The United States and International finals will be held in Miami Beach, Florida.

The following girls will be in the contest: Sally Crane Baker, Kay Bowman, Geri Dowd, Linda Lee Diamond, Ruth Diane Esteppe, Betty Jo Hancock, Lorna Grass, Jackie Overly, Judith Peters, Judy Sheehan, and Jeanne Spurlin.

Jimmy Kincer will be Master of Ceremonies at the contest and the amateur talent performers between elimination rounds. The Ladies Auxiliary of Richmond will produce these shows.

Tickets to the contest may be purchased from Jimmy Kincer or any of the Eastern contestants.

The Student Council has endorsed the Progress's call for the extension of library hours until 10 p.m. The resolution to Mr. Dick Allen, librarian, was signed by Student Council president Don Assom at last week's meeting.

Another resolution was also sent to the Richmond Board of Trade and it called for the creation of more recreational facilities by the community for use by Eastern students.

Alma Mater To Be Sung
In further action, Larry Wetenkamp announced that copies of the Alma Mater will be made available and the song will be sung before all of the home basketball games.

Revision of the Student Council constitution has proceeded to the judicial section. Charlie Klonek and Bob Spurlin have been appointed co-chairmen of the committee in charge of the writing of this section.

Parking Question
Student Council president Assom announced that a meeting will be held this week concerning the registration of cars on the campus. Tentative plans now call for having stickers placed on cars and having regular parking places assigned. Another parking lot is being planned for the area where the barracks are being torn down.

EUROPEAN TOURS OPEN FOR STUDENTS IN 1961

Few students are aware of the opportunities offered to them through educational tours. These tours not only provide courses in the literature, history, and art of various countries, but also give the opportunity to participate in the community life. Students engaging in these tours will be able to enjoy such activities as visiting world-famous landmarks, eating in celebrated restaurants, and shopping in the smartest shops and boutiques.

Four British and two Austrian summer schools are providing six week courses for American undergraduate and graduate students in July and August, 1961. The British University Summer schools program offers study in art, literature, history, and drama at one of four schools: Stratford-on-Avon, the University of London, Oxford University, and Edinburgh Summer School.

Both Austrian summer schools, the Salzburg Summer School and the University of Vienna campus near Salzburg, include courses in music, language, literature, and history. Some full scholarships are offered.

Scholarships are available to American graduate and undergraduate students for the fall semester of 1961 at the East-West Center of the University of Hawaii. The scholarships are offered in Asian Studies and related fields. The scholarship covers all expenses except personal spending. An expense-paid study tour of the Asian area pertinent to the individual's specialization is included in the program.

The School of Government and Public Administration of the American University is offering its Annual Comparative Government Workshop abroad for the summer of 1961. Six credit hours will be given for study of the study of the governments of 99 European countries. The workshop includes a tour of Holland, Denmark, Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, France, Great Britain, Yugoslavia, and Lichtenstein.

Playboy Magazine is providing specialized tours designed to include activities appealing to each individual. "Playboy Tours" features visits to France, Switzerland, and Great Britain, and a choice of entertainment in each country.

Students wishing further information on these tours may obtain it from the Progress office.

Basketball Team To Be Honored At Tonight's Dance

Eastern's basketball team and coaching staff will be honored at tonight's semi-formal Scholarship Ball.

The dance, sponsored by the Veterans' Club, will be held in Walnut Hall with dancing from 8 to 12 p.m. The Maroonliners will provide the music for the affair.

Charlie Mastin, who covers all the Maroon games for radio station WKY, will introduce the team and coaching staff.

Proceeds from the dance will go into a scholarship fund which is to be a living memorial in honor of the late F. D. "Don" Miller. The goal for the year-long scholarship drive is $1000.

Tickets can be purchased at the door or from any member of the Vet's Club. Cost is 50 cents per person, and you do not need a date to attend.

SELMA SIEKMAN PONDERs the age-old question, "The nature of art?" as she studies Chester Buchanan's "Flower of Paradise." The oil painting was one of those shown by the members of Kappa Pi, national art fraternity, in a display held this past week in the lobby of the Student Union.

Anything Worth While!

Let's play make-believe. Let's pretend that we are surrounded by thick walls. Behind these walls we live and are guarded by an understanding ruler. We have nothing to fear for we are free from fear and there will always be someone to protect us.

Wake-up! This isn't a make-believe world. It may be a world of make-believe characters, but it's as real as the bombing of Nagasaki or Hiroshima. For those of you that can't bring yourself to realize it, we suggest that you join the Army and see the Army. But wait four years and rest before you jeopardize yourselves and have to do some work.

It seems funny that some people work in the summer and vacation in school. The sad part is this vacation is only going to last a few short years.

Oh, you say it isn't sad, but look at all the wonderful movies we've seen, and those fruitful hours of sitting in the grill and of course don't forget those wonderful hours of frolicking in the ravine. And think of those two hours after dinner when we slept through a boring hour of English and math. See, those were the good old...

The only mistake was we used the past tense; we should have included the present and future also. But never fear; we have our castle walls to protect us.

We beg you, don't go out beyond these walls for the things there are real and cruel. Try and protect yourselves from those real things in life; and for goodness' sake, don't read your text books for there are just hundreds of lies about the outside world. Remember a book is only an object you sell back to the bookstore at the semester break. We beg you, only study when necessary and then just study enough to make a C. Everyone knows the world is looking for mediocre people.

TOUCHE'

By DAVE ADAMS

(Editor's note: The following is a transcript of a recent meeting of the Comma Club, now back to normal after an exciting ordeal. You recall the story of the disaster that befell them, due obviously to subversive communist influence. The proceedings of their latest meeting will prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that the club is now 100% American.)

"Will the meeting please come to order? Will the meeting please come to order. - - - SHUD-DUP - - - That's better." The president unclenched his fists, forced a smile on his face and continued. "Will the secretary please read the minutes?"

"I'm sorry, but I left the Minute Book at home," returned the secretary.

"That's what you said at the last meeting and the three meetings before that. Haven't you been taking minutes yet?"

"You mean, use my own paper?"

"The floor is now open for nominations for the office of secretary of the Comma Club Honorary."

"Okay, okay! You win! I'll take the minutes from now on."

"That's better, now where's the roll book? Don't tell me that's at home, too! You had it last week."

"I accidentally sent it home with my dirty laundry."

"To Melbourne, Australia!"

"Yep!"

"D-A-M-N," spelled the president—never one to curse in public.

His evasive tactics were to no avail, however. A quick witten club member whipped out a pen knife and scribbled the letters on the nearest desk top. Soon the whole club knew. Only the inspiring symbol of the club mace held aloft by the 7 foot 250 pound sergeant at arms prevented an exchange of blows.

After restoring order and providing the secretary with pencil and paper, the president called for the report of the "Tree in the Middle of the Parking Lot Committee" (a temporary sub-committee of the public service committee.)

"The committee hasn't been able to meet yet," was the report, "but the club sponsor has discussed it with me and we have decided that the tree should be one of those kind that doesn't lose its leaves in the winter. This would save gathering up leaves and would probably be cheaper to buy. Besides, the school won't let us put in any other kind."

"Would some one like to put the committee recommendation in the form of a motion," wondered the president.

Someone would. "I make a motion that - - -," began a member recognized by the president.

"The proper beginning is 'I move'," interrupted the club parliamentarian.

"- - - that the club purchase a cheap tree that doesn't lose its leaves in the winter and donate it to the school for the middle of the parking lot," finished the member.

"All in favor say, Aye; opposed by the same signal. The Ayes have it."

"How do you expect me to make a crummy motion like that sound impressive in the minutes?" asked the secretary.

"It would be okay if you knew what kind of tree doesn't lose its leaves in the winter," commented one member.

"Christmas tree?"

"Forest type tree?"

"Ask a biology major."

"I think the word is hernalphadite."

"A ugh! That's some kind of fruit stupid."

"Who's calling who stupid ya dern fool."

"Them's fightin' words!"

The guard stepped into the hay with a drawn billy and quickly restored order. At his suggestion, they settled on the word Evergreen.

"Why are we buying that tree?" asked a member awakened by the noise. "I thought that our service project was to take a basket of goodies to the poor."

"There's no law against having more than one service project. Besides, that one fell through. We decided that the people wouldn't really appreciate it, so the service committee had a beer bust instead."

"What do you mean Beerbust?" demanded an outraged English major. "The word as you well know is burst."

After an exchange of apologies and threats, the president called for new business.

"I have an idea for a new service project. In the lobby of the Student Union, there is a white statue of a girl riding a cat of some kind. Being white, the statue gets dirty easily, but it is cleaned only when school is not in session to prevent embarrassment to the janitor and the passersby. I think the club should get the poor girl some clothes in the interest of public decency. I would suggest a leopard skin bikini," suggested one student.

The idea, of course, wasn't too well received by the club president, but the sergeant at arms had conveniently stepped out of the room and the sponsor had skipped meeting as usual. The motion passed by a large majority.

Our sponsor has suggested that we join with the Question Mark Honery and invite a speaker to the campus to discuss "The Role of Marriage in the continuation of the Species," stated the president.

"Would some one like to make such a motion. - - - Bob."

"I move that the meeting adjourn!"

"That's not the motion I asked for!" exclaimed the president.

"Motion for adjournment takes precedence over all other business," shouted the parliamentarian.

With that fact established the members signified their approval of the motion with one of their own—toward the door.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

Last Tuesday night at the showing of "Porgy and Bess" at the campus movie the Eastern Students put on a display that was quite disgusting. "Porgy and Bess" is an opera, a movie not like "Sex Kittens Go to College" or "The Bride of Dracula," but one with great depths of art and feeling, one that should not evoke great gusts of laughter because the dramatic scenes were in the form of exceptionally fine music. Such a tremendous movie made from a long-famous story and including some of the most talented artists on Broadway and from Movieland, was not produced merely for kicks but from the respect it received here one would have never known it.

We as college students should be able to listen to all types of artistic expression with an open mind. If we are unable to enjoy it, we should have enough respect for the rights of others to act courteously rather than immaturely.

Respectfully,
Sharon Martin
Vicky Long

To the Editors:

PROG—I SALUTE THE EASTERN TEACHERS.

Recently there has been several criticism's voiced against Eastern's academic standards and some departments.

May I, as a Graduate student voice my opinion?

I believe that Eastern is the best college in the world.

I think our teachers at Eastern are excellent instructors and wonderful people.

and I beg of these so called self appointed critics, will you please be courteous enough to let qualified people make decisions, concerning what YOU are not at this point capable of doing.

Let's all appreciate and respect the one's who work hard to teach and help us.

I believe that any teacher at Eastern will help any student if they possibly can.

and Eastern most certainly does have a good reputation throughout the State and the nation.

and as to the person who has been calling Eastern students ignorant clods.

Remember! This is Eastern Ky. State College, a large part of Eastern's purpose is to help the students of Eastern Ky. Eastern has helped me as an undergraduate and as a Graduate student, I have the deepest appreciation and respect for The Eastern staff of teachers.

William Holmes Epperson

(Editor Note: The letter that appears above is completely unpurgated. It appears, verbatim, as it was received in our office. We ask that our readers carefully analyze Mr. Epperson's remarks and contrast them with our stand on academic standards.)

May I congratulate you on your excellent paper? It is interesting, timely and varied. I enjoy reading it very much.

I wish for all of you a happy and successful 1961.

Most sincerely,
Janet Murbach

Views On The News

by MARIAN BRAZZY

Scanning the world for truth and understanding, one finds great forces, natural and supernatural, affording history a means of being written. Emerging from the supernatural is a stout, bearded individual whose past, present and future will mold his country long after he departs (reliable sources say by Easter, 1961). Fidel Castro, a man of dominating personality, is both saint and sinner to his people—those still alive that is.

Being a college graduate with unforeseen abilities, Dr. Castro is given to having fits of vivid plays of imagination. The United States can't possibly by-pass a sting to its prestige; the United States will retaliate by aggression in Cuba—the U. S. will invade! When? Sociologists predict a mass occupation of Cuba the same day that the kitchen sugar canisters become empty. The world shudders at the prospective move of the capitalist nation known for plundering its surpluses far and wide. Castro has proved to be a shrewd judge of character; after all, he did send the rascal Batista into exile. Mr. B. had killed so many people and taken the wealth of his domain selfishly. Thusly, the inhabitants of Cuba may rest assured that Castro will take all measures to maintain a democracy for his people. "The U. S. will not succeed," is his promise to them. Soon, no doubt, he will be able to inform the country folk of his success in throwing off the intended oppressions; the press will ring the flash that Cuba has been saved by its devoted servant, Fidel Castro.

Horrors and crab grass to the aggressors of the Americas! It is obvious in everyone's mind (Castro's) that the world is behind Castro's cause. Everyone also knows that the Cubans over the world are proud of their heritage and master. The United States, supposedly, rationalizes its conspiracy by hoping to free the already free man and to liberate the artillery packed churches which no longer have seating space for their congregations. Surely the Capitalists know that only necessary measures have been taken to protect Cuba! Enough of this madness of separation of church and state; if the Cubans didn't want it that way... Why can't the U. S. understand that the Cubans might be happy in the depths and depression of prospective starvation; how naive can an educated nation be?

At this point one might conclude his serious thinking with:

So remember when the church bells ring

On Sunday morn at last,

That God surveys most everything—

Even Castro's future and his past.

—Original quotation

Of course, if one is a nonbeliever, this will be of no consolation; in fact, if one is a believer, it still doesn't help. But if one is both a believer and nonbeliever, I'm sure it will help.

Eastern Bows To Western 88-76; Come From Behind To Stop Murray

Cold First Half Proves Fatal

The Eastern Maroons had a disastrous first half at Bowling Green Saturday night from which it was impossible to recover. Eastern, fighting off the after-effects of the heart-breaking Louisville game, went to the dressing room at intermission trailing by 16 big points.

The Maroons, who hit a frigid 32.3 per cent in the first half, returned to the floor a very determined bunch. They outscored the Hilltoppers 34-20 in cutting the lead to two points.

However, the charges of eccentric Ed Diddle remained cool and collected during this inspired onslaught and managed to pull away since again after the Maroons played themselves out. Sixteen points is just too much to spot a team like Western.

Bobby Rascoe and Charlie Osborne were the chief thorns in the side of Eastern with 23 and 22 points respectively. Bobby Jackson hit some very crucial baskets in the second half.

Estep's Phil Estep was the game's leading scorer with 25 points. Most of Phil's baskets came in the second half surge.

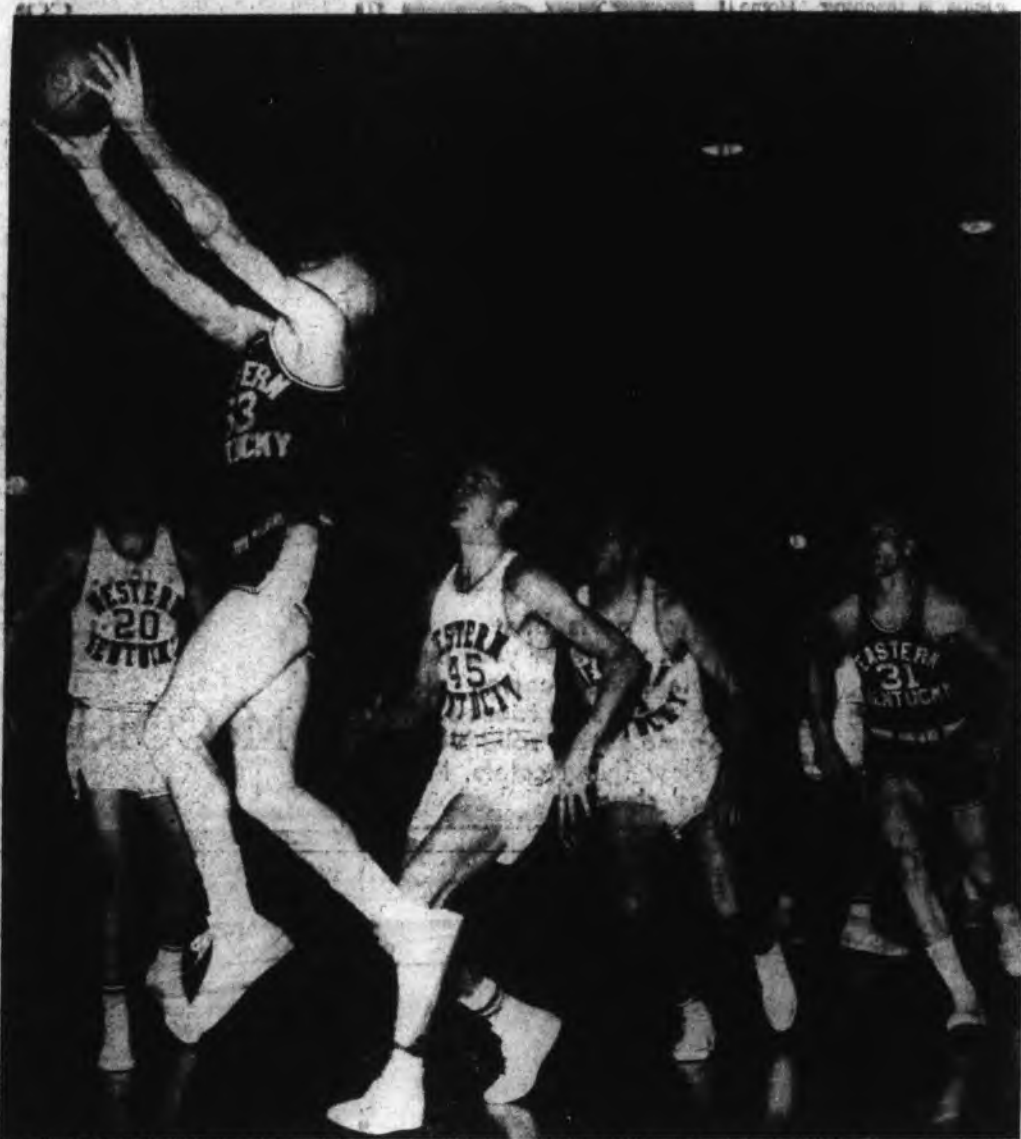

The Maroons lost the game in the first half. They lost it on the boards, at the free-throw line, and the officiating didn't exactly aid to their overall efficiency.

Carl Cole hit 19 points, but Ray Gardner was below par. Gardner, who tallied only two points, was called for four personal fouls in the first ten minutes and sat out the rest of the game.

Over Flowing Crowd The famous Red Barn was filled to overflowing. It is one of the few field-houses left where fans can hang from the rafters.

Western, although Diddle stated it was the best game they ever played, was not as impressive as Louisville. On any other night the Maroons would have emerged victorious.

The win left Western 4-0 in O.V.C. play and 8-2 on the season.

Second Half Surge Snares Win

The never-say-die Eastern Maroons won their most important game of the season by overcoming the strong Murray Thoroughbreds, 75-73.

The Maroons, although hitting on 47 per cent of their shots in the first half, were down by eight points, 41-36, Murray sunk 16 free throws while Eastern hit on only 4. Eastern was called for 12 personal fouls and Murray just 6. Eastern had a 16-15 edge in field goals and trailed by 8 points. This, to say the least, is an oddity.

Cole Scores 32 Thanks to Carl Cole, sharp-shooting, much-improved rebounding, and key baskets by Phil Estep and Jack Upchurch, the Maroons came fighting back to win. Cole tabbed 32 points, 16 in each half.

The Maroons, according to Coach McBrayer, were exhausted after their strenuous and disappointing road trip. Exhausted or not, the Maroons stuffed in 49 per cent of their shots, hitting better than half in the second half.

Roland Wierwille, who scored twelve points, grabbed nine rebounds before he fouled out with 11:39 remaining. Big Ralph Richardson entered the game at that point and cleared 6 rebounds. Jack Upchurch, who did not even start, picked off 10 rebounds.

3-Way Tie For Second Place

The win was a sweet one for the Maroons who lost to a weaker Murray team at Murray last year by 18 points. It left the two teams tied for the second position in the O.V.C. with idle Morehead. All have 2-1 records. The Maroons are 6-4 on the season. The next game is against Middle Tennessee Saturday night at Weaver "Square Garden." Game time: 8 p.m.

MAROON ROUND-UP

With LARRY KNARR

COACH PAUL McBRAYER's courageous Eastern Maroons completed a brutal road-trip Monday night by virtue of 75-73 uphill win at Murray. The win, McBrayer's 200th as Eastern's coach, saw the weary Maroons come through in the clutch to win the all-important O. V. C. contest.

The Maroons actually should have won the ball game by 10 to 15 points, but they were dogged again by home-court officiating. Eastern outscored Murray from the field 31-25 (a difference of 12 points). Eastern trailed 44-36 at intermission, but came on strong in the second twenty minutes of play.

COMING ON THE heels of losses to Louisville and Western, the game was a crucial one on every count. After the way victory was stolen from the Maroons at Freedom Hall, it is a tribute to a fine Maroon team that they had the fortitude to come back to beat a strong Murray five in such a manner. Although it makes the blood run cold just to discuss the Louisville robbery, it's a subject on which silence can hardly be maintained. The Maroons hit 49 per cent of their shots, outshooting the number four ranked Cardinals all the way, and yet ended up on the short end of the score, 70-69.

THE OFFICIALS (UGH!) set the stage perfectly for Louisville's Ron Rubenstein to break the Maroons' hearts with a 25-foot jump shot which was still in the air as the final gun sounded. The Maroons, coasting along with a 67-62 lead with 1:52 remaining, suddenly received a well-aimed knife in the back from the referees, who conveniently ignored several obvious Louisville fouls while creating Eastern violations out of nothingness.

With 15 seconds remaining and Eastern still desperately clinging to a 69-68 lead, the ball hit the shoulder of Louisville's Bud Olsen and bounced out of bounds. For some unknown reason Louisville was given possession.

THEN CAME THE clincher! Referee Max Macon again came to the rescue of the Cardinals when he mysteriously called a time-out after the ball bounced off Olsen and out of bounds. There were just two seconds remaining at the time!

This pause was vital to Louisville which had used up its quota of five time-outs and was unable to call for time. Macon said he stopped the clock because "there was too much confusion going on."

with both Eastern and Louisville players grabbing for the ball.

IT IS OBVIOUS that this is a misquote, because no one could possibly be stupid enough to make such an asinine remark. Regardless of his logic, it was sure nice of Mr. Macon to let Louisville win the game and stay undefeated. It really looks good to pick up the newspaper and see that a Kentucky team is ranked fourth in the nation.

Mr. Macon might conceivably, after reading this vicious assault on his character, wish to sue us for libel. If he does, it would be poetic justice. He's taken everything else from us; he might as well take our money too.

SO, WHEN YOU pick up the paper to read about the Louisville Cardinals, the number four team in the nation, remember this. Their record might be 13-0, but they are not undefeated!!!

The Maroons, still in a daze from the jobbing they took at Louisville, were beaten before the Western game started. Trailing by sixteen points at intermission, the Maroons suddenly seemed to realize where they were.

HITTING THE STUNNED Hilltoppers with everything they could muster, the gritty Maroons gamely fought back to within two points. Just as the Maroons seemed ready to overtake the Toppers, Roland Wierwille was called for his fifth personal foul. The courageous Maroons had given their all in the long, uphill struggle and just ran out of gas. Western went on to build up a 12 point lead and won the game 88-76. Maybe it was just as well that Eastern conked out when they did. Another loss like the one at Louisville could not have been taken. We're sure the insinuation is obvious.

The Maroons proved to us in the second half of the Western game that they never knew when they were licked. They never quit. For this reason, we went out on the limb to predict that the Maroons would not lose another O. V. C. game this season.

The crucial test at Murray makes our prediction look very, very good!

Here are the latest Eastern Maroons' scoring figures: Carl Cole (20.4), Phil Estep (14.1), Ray Gardner (9.5), Roland Wierwille (8.8), Larry Parks (8.1), Ralph Richardson (7.8), and Jack Upchurch (6.7).

WRA Sees Tournery Action

Eastern's WRA was represented Saturday, January 7, in a Volleyball Playday at Centre College. Eastern was runnerup to Georgetown in the tournament. Other schools participating in the tournament were Campbellsville, the University of Louisville, and the host school, Centre.

The girls representing Eastern were Wanda Davenport, Selma Selkman, Judy Burkes, Nefity Patis, Faye Gardner, Sue Marcum, Myrna Young, Sonnie Kemper, Sheila Gireath, Barbara Sammons, Jo Ferguson, and Shaon Muwsow.

Four girls, Dot Clark Kirby, Sonnie Kemper, Fram Stock, and Ginny Walker, represented WRA in a State Telegraphic Bowling Tournament, recently. Eastern was fourth in the tournament, which consisted of colleges all over Kentucky. The University of Kentucky sponsored the tournament.

San Francisco has had the National League's earned run leader the last three years—Stu Miller in 1958, Sam Jones in 1959 and Mike McCormick in 1960.

Swim Team Dunks Berea; Drop Two

The Eastern Eels took an easy 66-29 victory over Berea, Wednesday, January 10. It was Eastern's second victory in five meets.

Even though Eastern used all their freshmen many times, their high pointer was Josh Portmann with 11 1/4. He was strongly supported by John Vetter with 10, and Rhefus with 8. Bud Hatch with 6 1/4 and Steve Sheehan with 5.

The Eels of Eastern were handed two defeats on a weekend trip into Tennessee, January 6 and 7.

On Friday night, the Vanderbilt Tankers defeated Eastern 50-45. The meet was a hard one for Eastern to lose, since they maintained a lead throughout until Vanderbilt won the final relay. Josh Portmann led the scoring for Eastern with 11 1/4 points. Bob Goes contributed 6 1/4 points to the cause.

On Saturday night the Sewanee Tigers outclassed Eastern 65-30. Sewanee, strictly an aquatic-minded school, led throughout and used their second and third team members, mainly. High point man for Eastern was again Josh Portmann with 8 points.

Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves has pitched 51 National League shutouts during his career.

Jack Ardon of Lakewood, N.J., who averaged 15.1 points a game for Tulane's basketball team last season, is majoring in zoology.

Maroons Set For Tomorrow's OVC Tilt With Raiders

Happy to be back home, Eastern Kentucky's well-drilled Maroons set their sights now on Saturday night's Ohio Valley Conference foe, Middle Tennessee, in search of their third loop win and their seventh overall.

Saturday's contest will mark the Maroons' first home appearance since they bombarded East Tennessee 95-80 two weeks ago. Since that time, the road has been rocky, with more than their share of disappointments along the way, including an "impossible" last second 1-point loss to potent Louisville and a hard-fought loss to arch-rival Western in Bowling Green.

The Maroons are spirited, however, as they get set to meet the Tennesseans of Coach Eddie Diddle, Jr. In their last outing, the Maroons presented Coach Paul McBrayer with his 200th coaching triumph by edging Murray 75-73, after trailing by as much as 11 in the second half.

Diddle's Blue Raiders cannot be expected to "play dead," because they are a veteran club with a respectable won-lost slate. Their overall mark of 5-6 includes an impressive 100-90 win over East Tennessee and an 81-74 conquest of Northwestern Louisiana in the Gulf-South Classic, the same team that handed Eastern a one point loss in the finals of the same tourney last year.

Like Eastern, they have been impressive in losing. The Western Hilltoppers were pressed hard to come out with a 3 point, 70-67 win at Murfreesboro, while Ole Miss, of the Southeastern Conference, downed the Raiders 64-62 on a last second fielder in the Gulf-South Classic, and Morehead edged them 85-76 at Morehead.

This will be the 18th meeting between the two teams. Eastern holds a wide 15-2 lead since the series began in 1952 when Middle Tennessee joined the OVC. The only losses the Maroons have suffered to the Tennesseans were by a single point each time, 60-59 in 1953-54, and 77-76 in 1957-58.

Pacing the Raiders' attack is 6-5 Bob Burden, with a 17.7 average. He's followed by Ralph Bryant, 6-4, with a 13.1 mark. 6-7 Bennett Jent, with 12.9, and 6-1 Paul Holland, 10.6. The Raiders are scoring at a 72 point per game clip.

It will be "old home night" for the Raiders. Of their thirteen man squad, twelve are Kentuckians, with only seldom-used Phil Jones, of Shelbyville, Tennessee, being the lone "foreigner."

The Maroons, 6-4 for the season, and 2-1 in OVC play, seek their thirtieth consecutive home court win Saturday night.

McBrayer Proud Of Team
Only seconds after his fighting Maroons eased by a good Murray Monday night, McBrayer publicly praised his team's courage and character in coming back when the odds were against them. "I don't believe I've ever been as proud of a team before as much as I am right now," he remarked after the game.

He praised the individual performances of All-America candidate, Carl Cole, who poured through 32 points, including Eastern's last nine points, Roland Wierwille, who had 12 points and a fine rebounding and floor game to his credit before fouling out, Jack Upchurch, who returned to form with a brilliant performance, and Larry Parks.

Cole fans the Eastern scoring parade with a 20.4 average in ten contests. Estep follows with a 14.1 mark, while Ray Gardner is averaging 9.5 and Wierwille, 8.8 points per outing. Eastern, as a team, is scoring at a 77 point per game pace.

A Rest Then Revenge
After Saturday night's game, the Maroons will have a well-deserved twelve day period in which to recuperate from the torrid pace they have been setting and at the same time prep for the "killer" second half of their schedule, which finds eight OVC tilts on tap.

The return to action on January 26th with a return engagement with Middle Tennessee in Murfreesboro, and journey on to Cookeville the next day for an important clash with Tennessee Tech.

They then return home for an-
