IT'S CHRISTMAS TIME AT EASTERN—The Christmas season at Eastern Kentucky State College was formally opened Sunday with the impressive Hanging of the Greens ceremony in the Keen Johnson Student Union Building, followed by the 30th presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," in Brock Auditorium that evening. The Messiah chorus was composed of 225 college students, alumni, and friends of the college. James E. Van Pearsen, head of the music department, directed the performance that was attended by a standing-room audience of over 2,000. In the Hanging of the Greens picture, Sandra Nunnelle, Cynthia, and Antoinette Kelemen, Harlan, lead the colorful procession in the hanging of Christmas greenery.

Chorus And Soloists Present 'Messiah'

A powerful chorus numbering 225 accompanied four soloists in the 30th annual singing of George Frederick Handel's Messiah in Hiram Brock Auditorium, Sunday, at 7:30 p.m. A capacity crowd was on hand to see the two-hour presentation which was directed by Mr. James E. Van Pearsen, head of Eastern's music department.

Soloists were Thaise B. Honaker, soprano from Richmond; Evelyn Beal, contralto from New York City; Galand W. Pettys, tenor from Norwood, New York; and Donald Henrickson, bass from Eastern.

Mrs. Honaker, wife of Gerald Honaker, a member of Eastern's English department, has received many honors in the field of music. After her graduation from West-minister Choir College in Princeton, N.J., Mrs. Honaker appeared with choruses and orchestras all over the United States.

Beal Uses Ability
Miss Evelyn Beal used her unique interpretive ability and magnificent stage personality in the Messiah presentation. Miss Beal has appeared in many phases of musical presentations in the United States and Canada.

Galand W. Pettys sang in this presentation with his present teacher, Donald Henrickson of Eastern. Galand has sung over the United States under some of the world's greatest conductors.

Henrickson, the bass, is a member of Eastern's music faculty. He has sung in several Messiah presentations in many parts of the U.S. as well as other musical presentations.

Besides these soloists, other outstanding performances were cited. Jerry Riches' playing of the tympani and Gary Holdworth's trumpet were said to have given outstanding performances in the orchestra.

The entire chorus was composed of students, faculty, and citizens of Madison County as well as some alumni who return each year to sing in the annual presentation.

A later performance was presented at the Union Church in Berea on Wednesday, December 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Eastern May Have Courses In Jefferson County

Eastern will hold an organizational meeting next Tuesday at Louisville's Durrett High School to consider extension courses in the Jefferson County area for the spring semester.

Dr. W. J. Moore, college dean, and other officials will attend the meeting, to be held in room 207 of Durrett High School.

Graduate students may apply for as many as six semester hours by extension toward the M.A. degree. An additional six hours by extension may be applied toward the new 24-hour program above the master's for classification in Rank 1, stop pay-grade for teachers in Kentucky's public school system.

Other meetings are scheduled for other areas of the state. Eastern conducts extension centers during the regular school year in about 15 centers throughout Kentucky.

Mills Presents Christmas Message To Capacity Crowd

Dr. Robert Lee Mills, president of Georgetown College, gave the Christmas message to a capacity crowd last Sunday afternoon at the 32nd annual Hanging of the Greens in Walnut Hall.

He emphasized the uncertainty of our age and the certainty of Christmas. "We live in a world where we have the power to destroy ourselves," he said.

Dr. Mills went on to say that "As we look around, we see a struggle for the minds of men," such as that in advertising, but that Christ also was interested in capturing minds.

Joint Presentation
The program was a joint presentation of campus YWCA and YMCA groups. It was begun by the traditional candle procession and the hanging of ropes of greenery to the ceiling of Walnut

Nine Justices Inaugurate Newly Formed Student Court

Elkins Sr., To Serve As Chief

By Marian Bazy

Nine justices have been selected by the Student Council to inaugurate the newly forming Student Court, designed to serve the student body of Eastern.

Bill Elkins, senior from Jenkins, Kentucky, will serve in the capacity of Chief Justice of this organization which is to eventually function independently from the founding organization. He and his eight cohorts were selected December 3, after being nominated by Council president Jim Showalter and being approved by a two-thirds majority vote of the Council members.

Senior Judges

Chosen as Senior Judges were Earl Dean from Harrodsburg and Barbara Edwards, math-physics major from Prospect, Kentucky. Ronnie Wolfe, English major and present Managing Editor of the Eastern Progress from Falmouth, Kentucky, and Gary McBee, English-history major from Cynthiana, Kentucky, will serve as Junior Justices.

The Council selected as sophomore representatives Mary Jo LaFuze, chemistry major from Richmond, and Don Showalter, math major from Louisville.

A committee was established at the same meeting to organize the rules of the court. Council members appointed for this history-making task were Jim Stivers, chairman, Ronnie Elliott, Don Dix, and Evelyn Craft. As of this date, the committee has made no report of their progress to the Council.

Interview with Showalter

In an interview with Council President Showalter, the reporter was told that the Council believes that Eastern is ready for such an organization and for such responsibility. "We are using constitution provisions and patterns of organization of several colleges at which a Court of this kind has proved effective and successful. It will take time, but it will be worth the effort if we establish a workable court system for our students."

Although the Council has not yet approved the exact jurisdiction and functioning of the Court, Showalter released the following tentative categories of jurisdiction:

- (1) The Court will have the power to interpret the constitutionality and the legality of laws within the Council;
- (2) The Court will hear and make recommendations for discipline of student misconduct which will be referred by the Dean of Students;
- (3) The Court will be open to appeals from students who petition the Court after disciplinary action has been taken under other auspices.

Court of Appeals

Showalter expressed the idea that the Court would at first function as a court of appeals. Since no points have been placed in black and white as yet, "it is difficult to imagine the complete range which this Court will eventually have."

On last Wednesday evening's Voice of Eastern show on Richmond's WEKY, members of the Court were interviewed. At that time Earl Dean was not present for comment. Each justice displayed a genuine interest in the new organization and an enthusiasm "to work and learn" which will be the case of this Court said a junior member.

Peace Corps Presentation To Be Seen Friday on NBC

The first documentary television presentation on the Peace Corps in the field will be shown on December 15 over all NBC stations at 9:30 p.m. EST. Your local NBC station will tell you whether it is being carried in your locality. Eastern students can see this program over the NBC Station nearest their home. Watch for it.

By Order of the Gavel!

'Christmas Whispers' Highlights '61 Dinner

"At any given stage in history the world has its noises and its whispers. It is a part of wisdom to distinguish between the two and to realize that frequent truth is borne on the wings of the whispers, rather than on the din of the noise."

The preceding statements are excerpts from an address given at the Freshman Women's dinner at Eastern Wednesday evening. They were spoken by Dr. William H. Poore, Minister of the First Methodist Church of Richmond.

Dr. Poore's address, called "Christmas Whispers," was the highlight of the gala affair arranged by the MU chapter of CWENS, National Sophomore Women's Honorary, at Eastern.

Tree, Lights, Giant Wreath Adorn State Capitol

Visitors to the State Capitol grounds this Christmas season can see a 40-foot tree, red and green lights, the world's largest Christmas wreath and other decorations reflecting the spirit of the holiday season.

A committee of Frankfort citizens have planned the decorations. The 40-foot tree stands in front of the Capitol. Behind the building, the floral clock will be decorated as a huge Christmas wreath.

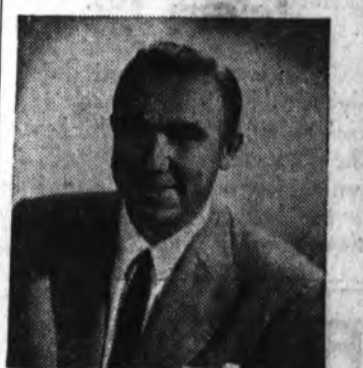

A tree-lighting ceremony was held Dec. 11 at 7 p.m., with Gov. Bert Combs throwing the switch to light the tree. Red and green bulbs have been placed in all the outdoor lighting fixtures at the Capitol.

Following this, a Community Christmas Sing was held with the 40-voice Georgetown College capella choir, directed by W. Wayne Johnson, furnishing music.

On several Sunday afternoons before Christmas Day, Santa Claus has been talking to visitors to the floral clock. Several groups of evergreen trees on the grounds have been sprayed with white snow-mix and spotlighted.

Marterie Is Featured At Formal Dance

RALPH MARTERIE

The Ralph Marterie Orchestra, a well-known name in popular dance bands, was the featured attraction at the President's Anniversary Dance last night in the Student Union Building.

Over one thousand students, plus many alumni, were on hand for the festivities. This dance continues President Robert R. Martin's practice of inviting a name band to the college each year for a free student dance. It was begun last year with the Inaugural Ball.

The dance last night was held in the colorfully decorated college dining room. Punch and coffee were served to the guests in Walnut Hall.

Special Guests

Included among those present were President Martin's special guests: Dr. and Mrs. W. F. O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Combs, and Dr. and Mrs. Russell Todd. Ralph Marterie has played colleges from coast to coast. He was voted the favorite college dance orchestra leader in a poll conducted by Downbeat magazine. Some of his hits are "Pretend," "Caravan," and "Crazy, Man, Crazy." In addition he has made several L.P. albums.

All arrangements for the dance were under the direction of the College Social Committee with Mrs. Emma Y. Case, chairman. Student representatives on the committee are Anne Stanley Johnson, Jim Montgomery, Mary Long Carpenter, David W. Brewer, Lois Scent, Frank Balin, Ann Maria Fogan, and Gary Morris.

Thruston Morton Comments On Fallout, Berlin, Congo

By Mary Ann Nelson

Senator Thruston B. Morton gave the Progress his thoughts on the world and Kentucky in an interview last Wednesday. Senator Morton, who is also national chairman of the Republican party, was on campus as assembly speaker.

Here's the gist of the conversation:

Fallout: Senator Morton has suggested to President Kennedy that community fallout shelters be built at cloverleaf junctions of highways under construction. What action is being taken on this?

"The Administration is studying it. When Congress convenes back, we may have a comprehensive plan on it," he said.

Readiness in Case Of Attack: "I think our weakness is in Civil Defense," he said. "Our military is well prepared. Even if a large portion of our striking capacity should be knocked out in the first attack, we'll still have enough left over to destroy Russia."

Berlin: "I'm afraid not in the near future will we see reunification in Germany. We'll maintain West Berlin and free access. I think we should have made it clearer when the wall was being constructed that it was a violation of a basic agreement."

The Congo: "The Congo is a terrible mess. I don't know what the answer is there. . . I think the answer is more U.N. strength against the Katanga forces."

The Republicans in 1962-64: He said that the Republican outlook for 1964 is still very much undetermined. Next year's elections will determine it to some extent.

"I think the Republicans will make gains (in 1962). I think we will make substantial gains in the House. In the Senate, I think we'll pick up three or four seats," he commented.

Kentucky: "I'm hopeful that the Laurel River project will really get going now. Of course, all the Ohio River industrialization that's going on now will help," Sen. Morton concluded.

Bowling Green was settled by Robert and George Moore, from Virginia, in 1780. The city derived its name from the games of bowls played by lawyers and court officials on the lawn of Robert Moore's house, used as a court-house.

Festive Cake Begins With A Mix

For holiday entertaining, this lovely cake is a perfect choice. Starting with a package of apple spice cake mix, nuts are added to the batter and the cake is baked in a tube pan. Finally, rum-flavored butter frosting covers the cake and decorations such as nut meats, candied fruits, candies, or dragees are added as desired.

Rum Frosted Nut Cake

1 package apple spice cake mix
2 eggs, unshaken
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1-1/4 cups water
Rum Butter Frosting
Prepare cake mix with water and eggs as directed on package. Mix in nuts. Pour batter into a greased and floured 10-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 45 to 50 minutes. Cool in pan for 15 minutes; then turn out on rack to finish cooling. Frost with Rum Butter Frosting.

Rum Butter Frosting

6 tablespoons butter
Dash of salt
1 pound (about 4 cups) sifted confectioners' sugar
3 tablespoons milk (about)
1/2 teaspoon rum extract
Cream butter; add salt and part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Add remaining sugar alternately with milk, until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Add rum extract and blend. Makes 2 cups frosting.

Can any living thing survive an atomic explosion?

Certainly! The farther away you are from the point of explosion the greater are your chances of surviving the blast, just as with a charge of dynamite.

Wouldn't it be certain death if one were, say 20 miles away? Not necessarily. Much depends on the size of the bomb. Much depends on where you happen to be. American soldiers stayed unharmed in shelters less than a mile from a test explosion in Nevada. Even if an explosion were to kill everyone within a radius of 100 miles, people beyond the lethal radius can and will survive.

How can you know if a distant explosion is atomic and what can you do if you should see one?

Nuclear explosions are characterized by a flash of unearthly brilliance, brighter than the sun. Such a flash will be unmistakable. It can blind you and you should look away instantly. Then seek cover—any cover is better than none. Even the small shelter afforded by a curbside could have saved many lives had Hiroshima been forewarned.

Is There Life In Other Worlds?

Though the picture is only make-believe, the possibility of contacting other worlds grows increasingly real. A scientist has already heard radio waves from other planets. At a recent conference sponsored by the Samuel Bronfman Foundation, leading scientists agreed that intelligent life probably does exist elsewhere in the universe. But as for those little green men from Mars, forget them; according to physical chemist George Kistiakowsky, the only life likely to thrive on Mars would be extremely primitive. ROTC NEWS

Sound Off

By Jim Ferris

"Wars may be fought with weapons, but they are won by men. It is the spirit of the men who follow and of the man who leads that gain the victory."
General George S. Patton, Jr.

Eastern's ROTC Rifle Team beat the University of Indiana in a postal match last week. Winning by a narrow margin of 3 points, Eastern fired a 1379 out of a possible 1500 to top U.I.'s score of 1376. So far this year, Eastern has won all of their postal matches and have a record of six wins and no losses.

The scheduled shoulder to shoulder match with the University of Kentucky was called off last Saturday.

Last Saturday night before the Transylvania basketball game, those present witnessed the ROTC Color Guard in action. Our guard has as one of its main functions participation at all athletic events. Being on the color guard is a very honored position in our corps. Members are chosen for their sharpness in military bearing, uniform and mind.

The ROTC Corps and Military Staff are very proud of the three cadets in the program who are members of this year's varsity basketball team. Rupert Stephens, senior guard, Jim DeForest junior forward, and Russ Mueller sophomore center, should see a lot of action for the Maroons. The Military Science Department encourages all Cadets to participate in only one learn teamwork and leadership, but he can keep himself mentally and physically in shape for his studies.

PARTY TIME: Following last Saturday night's basketball game the Pershing Rifles sponsored a Christmas Dance in the Little Gym of the Weaver Health Building.

Last Monday night at the Brigade Staff Meeting Cadet Col. Harvey Turner announced the Corps would have a Review Parade in January for those cadets being commissioned. Approximately ten men will receive their gold bars at the end of the first semester. The exact date will be announced later.

ATTENTION: The AUSA January meeting will be held Tuesday night, the second, in the Little Theater. At this time Farria, President, will present membership certificate and ribbons to the new members. Those receiving awards will be two seniors and 31 juniors. A regular monthly program will be included.

HUMOR IN UNIFORM: To install a 1400 pound radar antenna atop a tower more than 100 feet high, a USAF unit stationed in England used a "workhorse" helicopter to make the lift. An Air Force news release describing the operation said the copter had been called because there was no other equipment available in England capable of hoisting that weight to that height. The release was sent only to U. S. military press outlets. A copy fell into British hands.

Am irate Londoner promptly wrote to the local Air Force press bureau: "...and I suppose the pigeons put Lord Nelson at the top of the column in Trafalgar Square."

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Remember "The life you save may be your own."

Everyone be careful and return next year in good shape. DRIVE CAREFULLY.

The Kentucky Agriculture Department's full force of 30 weights and measures inspectors is policing the 30 burley tobacco auction markets in the state to assure accuracy in weighing.

Sanders Comments

For the past several years the Department of the Army has conducted a continuing quantitative evaluation of the product of its ROTC program, with performance at the various branch service schools by the newly commissioned officers providing the prime basis for this evaluation. Results of the study indicate a direct correlation between the success of these young officers in the service school orientation courses and their undergraduate record of academic achievement while in college, with some institutions consistently producing higher quality commissioned graduates than others.

It is not locally known what the scholastic average at other colleges and universities might be to presage success of their graduates at the service schools. Statistical analysis of Eastern's graduates, however, indicates that a grade point average of 1.8 or higher for all academic work is necessary to portend reasonably successful competition with graduates commissioned from other institutions. This is not an unusual situation, nor an unexpected finding. It is a generally accepted thesis that a record of successful academic achievement in college is a valid basis for prediction of success in most professions or adult-life avocations.

What is your academic average at this point? Are you satisfied with your performance to date? Have you achieved in proportion to your capacity or potential? Do you have good study habits? Do you budget your time and stick to that allocated for study? Do you prepare yourself adequately for each class? Have you done your best? If you can answer these questions favorably and in the affirmative, you are to be commended. If not, then it's time to make a self-inventory to determine why not and what you can do about it. With the current semester approximately four fifths gone there is still time to make amends with and for yourself, but time is rapidly running out. Don't delay—it'll soon be too late. Take self-inventory now; adjust your assets and make a sound investment in your own future.

European Summer Schools Make Offer To Americans

Four British and two Austrian summer schools are offering American students the opportunity to combine 1962 vacation travel abroad with six weeks of liberal arts study next July and August. Applications for study at all six summer schools are now being accepted by the Institute of International Education.

Under the British University, students can apply for study at one of four schools, each concentrating on a particular subject and period. At Stratford-upon-Avon the subject will be Shakespeare and Elizabethan drama; at the University of London the course will be the study of English literature, art and music of the 20th century; at Oxford the subject will be history, literature and the arts of 17th century England. The theme of the Edinburgh School will be British history, philosophy and literature from 1688 to 1832. Although the courses are designed for graduate students, undergraduates in their last two years at a university will be considered.

The British Summer School fee, including full room, board and tuition, is $254. A few scholarship expenses, but not travel, are available.

Both Austrian summer schools include in their programs the opportunity to attend performances at Salzburg's famed music festival. Salzburg Summer School, sponsored by the Austro-American Society, emphasizes German language study, but courses in art and music and foreign policy are taught in English. Also included, in addition to attendance at the music festival, are a variety of conducted tours of Salzburg. The fee for the entire program is $245. Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 40, and must have completed at least one year of college work. A few full scholarships are available.

Cadet Of Week

BOB NORDHEIM

Cadet Master Sergeant Bobby W. Nordheim, the 3rd Platoon leader for "E" Company has done exceptionally well in his ROTC duties and is this week's superior Cadet. Bob lives in Foster, Ky., and attended Butler High School graduating in 1959.

Bob has a great deal of energy and enthusiasm for the Cadet Brigade and does his best to produce work which his superiors are proud of. He works well with others and has fine leadership qualities.

Bob is a junior and is majoring in education. His activities include Pershing Rifles Drill Team, S-2 Officer for Company E-1, AUSA and intramural basketball. His hobbies include coin collecting and all sports. After graduation and a tour of Army duty, Bob plans on becoming a teacher. In his ROTC class, he stands in the top third and is improving constantly. Right now he is planning on doing his best at the Summer Camp Training and, with his attitude, he should do well.

Service Assists Employment

A unique locator service which will assist colleges and universities to find trained, able professional personnel will be developed by the AAUW Educational Foundation, according to an announcement by Dr. Anna L. Rose Hawkes, President.

A $20,000 grant from the Fund for the Advancement of Education is making possible a two-year expansion and development program for the Association's Roster of Women Holding Earned Doctorates. The project has been undertaken as a result of the response by educational administrators and of women holding doctorates to the limited service offered by the AAUW since 1958.

Updated roster files will contain more detailed information. In addition, institutions will be able to ask that files be checked for each opening. Copies of the records of women whose training and experience seem to qualify them for the positions available will be sent to the inquiring institution. Since the roster is not a placement service, no references will be kept nor recommendations made. The expanded roster will meet the critical faculty shortage in higher education and will help women advance within the educational profession.

Women To Get Questionnaires

Over 12,000 women holding earned doctorates will receive questionnaires this month asking if they are available for college faculty positions. The list of women was compiled with the cooperation of the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences and over 130 doctorate-granting institutions in the United States, which supplied addresses.

Women wishing to be included in the listing will pay a small registration fee, and there will be a fee for institutions using the service. The AAUW Foundation expects the roster to be a self-supporting service by the end of the development period.

Detailed information about the roster service may be had by writing to Mrs. Lorraine B. Torres, Roster of Women Holding Earned Doctorates, AAUW Educational Foundation, 2401 Virginia Avenue, N. W., Washington 7, D.C.

An all-time high of $37.7 million in construction and equipment contracts for Kentucky public schools was awarded during the 1960-61 school year.

BSU Holds Christmas Coffee ... Telford Party

The annual BSU Christmas Coffee was held last Monday evening. Approximately seventy-five guests from Richmond and Madison County visited the center between 8 and 10 p.m. The center was decorated in blue and silver with a theme of "Peace On Earth". Special music was provided by Mary Mackey, Ed Lyons, Arlene Calico, Terri Groves, Ruth Brown, Charles Wells, Debbie Murrell, Sharon Vater, Shirley Ellis, Carol Kelly, and Bill Reed.

Over one hundred children of Telford Community Center were entertained by the Baptist Student Union and the Young Women's Auxiliary at a Christmas party Friday evening.

Clara Mae Thomas, missions chairman of the YWA, directed the activities of the evening. The Telford children presented the traditional Christmas story in Scripture and carols, and Terri Groves, YWA president, read "The Night Before Christmas."

Ed Lyons as "Santa Claus" presented a gift to each child. Members of the YWA served refreshments.

Freshmen Sing Carols In Assembly

By Erma Ridge

The walls of Brock Auditorium resounded with the voices of the members of the Freshman class Wednesday morning as they sang the traditional Christmas carols together.

The atmosphere was one of warmth and enthusiasm during their last assembly before the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Van Pearsom, head of the music department led the singing, accompanied by Mr. Gus Franklin at the organ and Miss Francis McPherson at the piano.

The carols sang included, "The First Noel," "Joy to the World," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "Deck the Halls," "White Christmas," "Jingle Bells," "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," and "Silent Night."

One of the features of the program was the playing of "White Christmas" by Miss McPherson as her Christmas gift to the class. This was followed by group singing of the song, no doubt made a little merrier by the recent snowfall.

The program was ended on a very beautiful and spiritual note as they sang "Silent Night" then hummed the last verse.

The caroling was preceded by two compositions played by different dual pianists. Eileen Osborne and Shirley Hinkle played "If Thou Be Near Us..." "Jamaica Rhumba" was played by Nancy Rodgers and Mary Jo Lackey.

Pertinent announcements were made by President Robert R. Martin.

Vespers will feature Mrs. Ray Sawyer of Richmond as speaker.

DSF Goes Caroling
The D.S.F. held its annual Christmas caroling last Monday. The carolers went to the homes of several shut-ins and sang the traditional carols.

The evening was climaxed by a party at Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McGlasson's. Hot chocolate, popcorn, and candy were served, and gifts were distributed. These gifts will be redistributed to needy families.

Dr. Jones Speaks to Biology Club

Dr. Sanford Jones of the Biology Department was guest speaker to the Caduceus Club Monday evening. In his speech on "Iodine Metabolism" Dr. Jones explained how the level of radioactivity in an area can be determined by counting the activity of an iodine isotope in the thyroid gland of grazing animals in the area.

The next club meeting will be January 8, 7:30 p.m., Room 111 Science Building.

Science Foundation Begins Program For Equipment

To meet the critical need of many educational institutions, particularly smaller colleges, for modern scientific instructional equipment, the National Science Foundation recently announced a program to provide funds, on a carefully selective and matching basis, for the purchase of scientific equipment for undergraduate instruction.

Colleges and universities granting science bachelor's degrees may request funds to assist them in purchasing scientific equipment to be used in the laboratory or in lecture-demonstration sessions. Examples of equipment eligible for purchase under the program include microscopes, centrifuges, microtomes, test equipment and similar scientific apparatus.

Proposals Limited
Proposals may not exceed $25 thousand in order that the widest possible group of departments may benefit. All grants in this program are required to be on a matching basis with at least 50 per cent of the direct costs to be incurred derived from non-Federal sources.

Each institution offering the bachelor's degree in the sciences will be advised by a letter to its president of the maximum number of proposals which will be accepted for review. Each president will then select those disciplinary units of his school which may seek support.

In those cases where recognition of the need for improvement of the content and focus of undergraduate instruction is accompanied by adequate staffing and supported by detailed planning, the Undergraduate Instructional Scientific Equipment Program may assist by providing, on a matching basis, the necessary instructional equipment.

Marlboro

campus favorite in all 50 states!

...It's a top seller at colleges from U.S.C. to Yale
...and 1st in the Flip-Top box in every single state

If you think you're seeing more Marlboro men lately, you're right. More than 25,000 smokers all over the country are switching to Marlboro every month!

You'll know why when you try them.

Marlboro is the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. The secret of the flavor is the famous Marlboro recipe from Richmond, Virginia... and the pure white Selectrate filter that goes with it.

Try Marlboro and judge for yourself. On or off campus, you get a lot to like.
